When ironing a suit we lay a damp cloth over the suit and then press it. Gasoline is good for cleaning the suit. Clothes such as waists, plain house dresses, underclothes and aprons may be ironed and folded carefully, then put in the bureau.

Shoes should be kept in a shoe box and blacked every week or two if worn very often. If we have button shoes, we should try and keep the buttons on. Once in a while one may fall off. Always keep buttons and laces on hand so if one breaks we have another to sew on quickly.

We shouldn't put our clothes and shoes anywhere, but keep them in their respective places.

Clean clothes win respect for the wearer in society.

MARTHA CHOWANCE, Age 12.
Columbia.

Likes Birds and Flowers

Dear Uncle Jed: This is my first letter to you. As I think nature one of Gods most lovely gifts I am telling you about it. Every morning I hear the birs singing up in the trees on the hillside beside my home. I live at the foot of Mt. Decatur, so you see I am situated where I can see as well as hear nature. Every night I hear the peep-frogs and the whip-poor-wills sing.

Almost all of our fruit trees are in blossom now. We have five kinds of fruit that grow in the summer time. All kinds of spring flowers are growing here in abundance. The fields are blue with for-get-me-nots and growfeet violets. Everything seems to stir as soon as spring comes, as if it had an instict to push through the ground and start to grow.

I have planted five different kinds of flowers this spring. I do wish some of the Wide-Awakes could come and live next door to me. I do not think I have a better home than any one else, for that is not the idea, but I am proud because I live so close to Mother Nature.

VIOLA RILEY, Age 14.
Gales Ferry.

About Fur.

Dear Uncle Jed: Fur is the short hair of animals growing next to the skin. Skins dressed with the fur on, and from which the long hair has been pulled are called furs. Before being dressed they are called pelts. Before the skins are fit for use they have to be thoroughly scoured in a bath of bran, alum and soap, then washed in salt and soda, cleansed and dried.

The alum tans the skin into a kind of kid leather. Some furs are [illegible] which is changed from a dirty yellow to a rich brown. All skins are of irregular shapes and differ much in color in different parts. They are therefore cut up into pieces and fitted together again to match color of hair.

A fur cloak made of valuable fur is often made up of a great number of odd shaped pieces.

The principal fur-bearing animals are the sable, marten, mink, beaver, otter, fox, seal, nutria, badger, rabbit, fisher, lynx, bear and wolf.

VICTORIA GOLOB, Age 13.
Columbia.

A Broken Vase.

Dear Uncle Jed: One day when Dora's mother went away she told Dora to go into the pantry for if she did she would be sorry later. Dora did all that her mother told her, except to make the beds. She happened to think of what her mother had said and could not get it off her mind. At last her curiosity got the best of her and she unlocked the pantry door and went in.

She looked around but did not see anything. Then she stood on her tiptoes and pulled on a paper that was on one of the shelves. Suddenly she heard a noise that startled her and she gave the paper a quick jerk, and crash! There on the floor lay a vase her mother had always thought so much of. Poor Dora! She could never put the vase together again. Then she burst into tears. Just then her mother came. "Why, Dora! What are you crying for?" she exclaimed. Finally after great efforts she persuaded Dora to tell what happened.

Her mother was sorry the vase was broken, but was glad Dora told the truth. The next day she said to Dora, "Here is what I had for you. It was on the top shelf and you could not reach it." She handed Dora a box. In it was a pretty dress. Dora was almost ashamed to take it, because she was so disobedient. You may be sure she never broke a promise or was so curious again.

ALICE ABRAHAMSON, Age 13.
Preston.

Good News and a Pleasant Visit.

Dear Uncle Jed: At the foot of a mountain in merry England sat a little girl in the doorway of a small white cottage. She was looking very sadly about her. In her lap was an apple unpeeled and a knife beside it. Her face was very thoughtful as she gazed sadly about.

It would be hard to tell what was the matter if no one asked her. Down the mountain a man was seen coming. When she saw him how quickly her face lighted up and she took up the apple and began to peel it. After having done this she rose quickly with light steps and went into the house. The man was quite a distance away, but she knew he was bringing good news for he was almost running and had a very happy appearance about him.

This little girl's name was Clara. Her best friend, a little girl, nine years of age, named Margaret, was very sick. The man coming down the road was Margaret's father. He was a kind looking man of about forty years. His eyes and hair were brown, his face like the oak leaves in autumn, a very dark brown.

Clara knew that he was going to tell her that Margaret was better. How happy she felt as she thought of it. As she went about doing her work she often jumped up and down and clapped her hands for joy.

As Margaret's father entered she ran over to him, sat in his lap when he sat down and told him how happy she was.

As Margaret's father was getting ready to go home, Clara put on her hat and coat and went home with him to see her friend. As she entered Margaret's room she saw her sitting up in bed and looking about her. As she saw Clara she smiled happily and asked her to come nearer the bed. What a pleasant afternoon she spent at Margaret's home that day, playing with her as much as she could without tiring her.

ESTELLA BRAND, Age 13.
Preston.

My Baby Brother.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to write to you about my baby brother. He is very fat and cute as can be. He creeps around and tries to climb up by things. He is 13 months old May 31st. I help take care of him when I am home from school. I go to school every day.

My teacher's name is Miss Gray and her home is in the state of Maine. She is a very nice teacher. I am in the second grade and am eight years old. I have one sister and two brothers, besides my baby brother. We all go to school, but my brother. His name is William Herman Bitgood. He is very glad to see us all come home from school as we all like to play with him. He likes to roll the ball for us to play with him.

This is the first letter I have written to you. I read the Jack Rabbit stories every day. They are nice stories. I hope to write again.

MARGARET L. BITGOOD, Age 8.
Voluntown.

Ostrich Farming.

Dear Uncle Jed: Ostrich farming is done mostly in South Africa. The full grown ostrich is larger than any man. The baby ostrich is as large as a Plymouth Rock hen and its eyes are as large as a boy's eyes and its body is covered with fuzzy, downy feathers. The ostrich egg is about as large as a child's head and weighs about three pounds, and is as thick as the pasteboard cover of a book, but they just taste like a hen's egg.

The ostrich yields many valuable feathers. The most valuable feathers are on its tail and on its wings. One yield of feathers often comes to the amount of one hundred dollars. The uses of feathers are for dusters, for trimmings of hats and boapets and for fans.

FRED WHITEHEAD, Age 12.
Baltic.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

The schools, factories and stores will be closed all day Wednesday, Memorial day. The banks and public library also will be closed, and the postoffice will observe the usual holiday hours.

The veterans of the Civil war, the American Legion, Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief corps attended the 10.30 morning service at Grace church Sunday, when a very able memorial sermon was preached by the rector, Rev. John W. Wilkins.

Alexander Baldi and Lino Campo have bought the Frank N. Fenton place on Stafford street.

William L. Tuthill, who was injured in an automobile accident several days ago, has returned to work at the electric light plant.

On account of the backward season, farmers in this section are more than two weeks behind with their spring work. Thus far there has been but little planting done, many farmers preferring to wait for warmer weather before putting the seed in the ground.

The young women who had charge of the poppy sale Saturday had a busy day, and as a result turned quite a sum of money over to the American Legion.

Frank's Junior band gave a concert at the Johnson Memorial hospital Sunday afternoon. The band, which is composed of 18 boys under the direction of Frank Cassbury of Gardner Hollow, had given a number of open [illegible] and is receiving [illegible]

THE LITTLE JACK RABBIT PICTURE FOR COLORING

"Mother dear," said Little Jack Rabbit one day to Lady Love, the pretty bunny rabbit lady, "Can I have a radio outfit for my very own?"

"Call the Three & One Cent Store and find out the cost of setting one up in our little bungalow," she answered.

It took the little rabbit bunny boy just a minute or three to call up "Rabbitville, 1, 2, 3

Hurry up! It's little me."

"Who's Little Me?" asked a voice, and then the little rabbit, of course had to explain who he was and whether it looked like rain and why the clover tops were not so red as last year. You see, the person in the Three & One Cent Store was a very curious bunny rabbit. He was always trying to find out what was going on in the Shady Forest and the Sunny Meadow. Maybe he had once been a country boy rabbit before going into business at Rabbitville, U. S. A.

By and by, he figured out what the cost of a radio outfit would be.

"When do you want it installed?" he asked, which means set up.

"Wait till I ask mother," answered the little bunny, and he hopped into the kitchen where the pretty lady bunny was making carrot cake and lollypop stew for supper.

"Dear, dear me!" she exclaimed when she learned that it would cost 330 carrot cents. "You'd better call up your Uncle Lucky. He's rich enough to put in a dozen. Maybe he'll order one for you. I wish I had the money," and sweet lady love picked up her little boy rabbit and kissed him three times, on the left cheek, once on the right cheek and the last and best on the mouth. "There, now, run along."

So, away he hopped back to the receiver and told the rabbit clerk at the Three & One Cent Store that unless Uncle Lucky supplied the money, there'd be no radio at the little white bungalow in the Old Bramble Patch.

Too bad, and yet, not so worse. Your Uncle Lucky is so fond of you that he might buy you a little Lucky-mobile some day pretty soon.

And after saying good-by, Little Jack Rabbit asked Central to give him:

"One, Two, Three
Ring Happy Dell,
Uncle Lucky in Clover Dell."

In another moment, Uncle Lucky shouted: "Hello, hello! Who's calling me?"

"Little Jack Rabbit," answered the bunny boy, quick as a wink. "I want a radio set, but I haven't enough money. All the other little boys are going to get one."

"I don't care if the radio set costs a million carrot cents," shouted dear Uncle Lucky over the telephone when the bunny salesman at the Three & One Cent Store suggested that a radio outfit was rather expensive, "nothing is too good for my little nephew, Little Jack Rabbit. Put it in right away, so that he can listen to David Cory's stories over the radio."

"All right, Mr. Lucky Leftinfoot," respectfully answered the Three & One Cent Store salesman, hanging up the receiver.

"Now, I'll hop over to the Old Bramble Patch," said the old gentleman rabbit to himself, and he put on his old wedding stovepipe hat and wound his gold watch and chain and after telling the old red rooster to weed the lettuce patch, he set out for Little Jack Rabbit's bungalow.

JEWETT CITY

A public Memorial service was held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Finn Opera house. Representatives of the G. A. R., the D. A. R., American Legion, American Legion auxiliary, U. of V., the clergy and borough officials, occupied seats on the platform. The decorations included the big town flag at the back of the stage and the five star service flag, belonging to Mrs. Azalda Menard, who had five sons in the World War. A fine display of white dogwood blossoms, with baskets of other flowers of the fields had words, were attractively arranged.

Dr. G. H. Jennings, commander of Orville LaFlamme Post, American Legion, was in charge. William Dealtry sang The Trumpeter, accompanied by James Olsen. Rev. Howard Stephenson read the 90th Psalm, followed by Rev. J. W. Bayne, offering prayer. After the singing of America by the company the chariman presented Hon. A. H. Brown, as the speaker of the day.

Mr. Brown said he was a sort of "pinch hitter", because after a number of distinguished and eloquent speakers had for good reasons failed, the committee had pounced upon him. No speaker could have been listened to with more attentive interest.

He recalled the past meetings in that place back in 1917 and 18, when every seat was filled with those whose hearts were pulsing with emotion, because America had entered the greatest war in history. Liberty and democracy were to be defended, and our own boys were even then, being called to the colors, and many were on their way to the training camps. Later, said he, the eyes of the world were turned to their deeds of wonderful valor, on the battle fields of France. He wondered, as he looked over the not very large audience, if we had forgotten so soon the deeds of heroism and self sacrifice.

The speaker drew the pictures for his audience of Washington at Valley Forge, Sherman's famous march to the sea, Dewey at Manila and Sampson at Cuba, and said it was hard for us now to visualize how brother fought against brother, in those great experiences of war, which were dread memories, best forgotten. He pointed out the growing interest in Memorial day, established as it was in 1868, it has become an institution, admonishing us, not to forget the duty that is ours, to educate the generations as they come up. He did not fail to see the rapidly thinning ranks of the G. A. R. and said it would not be many years when the last valiant one would have answered the final roll. Finally the speaker emphasized our present duty, not only in acts and deeds, which are suggested by memory, but in hanging together and organizing to stand in defence of all we hold most sacred.

For, said he, there are those today, who are preaching against our duty to God, our neighbors and ourselves, and who are against the church, and that foremost of all institutions, the sacred relations of the family and home.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Swift and Miss Catherine Swift of Providence, and Mr. and Mrs. Irving R. Lee of Weweantoket, were Sunday guests at E. H. Hiscox's.

There are seventy-five more wreaths to be made for Memorial Day, and everyone who can do so is asked to go to the Town Hall this (Monday) afternoon at two o'clock to help make them.

Homer L. Lee and Mrs. Lee of Webster, Mass., were the Sunday guests of Thomas E. and Miss Sarah A. Lee, at their home on Palmer Avenue.

The Memorial Day exercises on Wednesday commence at 9 o'clock daylight time, led by the Plainfield band. The line of march will start [illegible] hall, where wreaths are [illegible] cemeteries will be visited in tourn, and the exercises held at Fanning Park. Rev. J. J. Tyler will be the speaker of the day. Dinner will be served at the ex-service men, band and guests in the Congregational vestry. It is not possible on personally invite those who would participate in the march as all ex-service men of every war, as well as patrotic or other orders, all sons of veterans and town and borough officials, citizens and school children are expected to take part. This is not an American legion parade. It is for every ex-service man and citizen to do honor to the dead and the few remaining living of the civil war veterans. —"Lest We Forget".

Miss Mary Wheelock and Stanley Wheelock of Bridgeport were in town on Saturday.

Mrs. Mary H. Brightman of Hartford has been visiting at Mrs. Barnice Miner's home.

The officers elected at the annual meeting of the Baptist Ladies Aid Society are: President, Mrs. Francis Campbell; vice president, Mrs. G. H. Prior; secretary, Miss Alice A. Brown; treasurer, Mrs. C. F. Gardner; membership, Mrs. John Harris; collector, Mrs. E. M. Gray.

A. L. Stebbins, Dona Ballou and E. S. Hiscox of the Jewett City rifle team, opened the shooting at the new ranges here Friday evening. The shooting apartments are in the building at the corner of North Main and Green streets, and are largely the result of determined effort by Captain Palmer, Mr. Stebbins and Mr. Ballou. Three 50 foot and three 75 foot ranges have been established and are electric lighted in accordance with the best known plans.

The local team is affiliated with the National rifle association, and as such will be furnished with two government target carriers, then four others will be constructed locally. Some skill is evident, when it was learned that the practice last week was at a quarter inch bulls-eye. If the bullet was placed with sufficient precision, to go through the hole, the diameter of a lead pencil, a bell would announce it.

Special attention is attracted by the handsome wisteria vines that are now in their finest bloom at a considerable number of borough homes.

The carnival which has been taking place for three nights under the direction of the Ashland club closed Saturday night. In every way it was a success. The attendance was exceptionally large and there was the best of music for the dancing. The big feature was the Baby Show on Saturday night. There were 12 entries. There were two classes—one from one to two years of age, and the other up to one year. In the first class Alfred Roberts was the winner and in the class up to one year Estelle Roi was the winner.

Both babies were almost perfect according to specifications drawn from statistics by Dr. L. Emmet Holt, an authority. They each received five dollar gold pieces. The largest baby was Daniel F. Finn 3d, and the smallest, Phyllis Clement. They received a fuzzy dog and a doll respectively. The clubhouse was packed with an interested crowd.

WELL KNOWN JEWETT CITY MAN DEAD

(Special to the Bulletin.)

Jewett City, May 27.—Alfred A. Young, died at his home here Sunday afternoon after an illness of several months. Mr. Young was a native of Jewett City and was born here in 1844. He came of a well known family, his father being for years one of the city's leading citizens. His mother was Harriett Gauch Young.

Mr. Young's early education was received in the schools of Griswold, after which he attended the Highland Military Academy in Worcester, being graduated by that institution in 1867. Before becoming treasurer of the Wilcox & Gibbs [illegible] the manufacturing end, and the bookkeeping system, by means of actual contact with them in the several departments of the mills.

Mr. Young was of the progressive sort and backed by his skill and ability, matters in which he became interested advanced at his touch. He was treasurer of the Slater library in 1890. As the direct result of his incentive, the first macadam road in eastern Connecticut was built. Mr. Young was the first warden of the borough of Jewett City, having been elected in 1895, and re-elected in 1896 by a vote which was almost unanimous. His politics were republican.

The hose and ladder fire company, being formed a little later were honored to be named the A. A. Young, Jr., Hose and Ladder Co., No. 1.

He was the superintendent of the Jewett City Water Co., a member of Mt. Vernon Lodge, No. 76, F. & A. M., trustee of the Norwich Savings Society and an incorporator of the Jewett City Savings Bank.

For many years Mr. Young had devoted his attention to carnation growing, and he owned one of the largest greenhouses in the state.

He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Agnes Burr of New York, a daughter Marguerite, a son Alfred, a sister, Mrs. Harriett T. Young Wheelock, of western New York state, and a half sister Mrs. Grace Wetherbee of Hartford, Conn.

Maypole dance and operetta, Pachaug Town hall Tuesday evening.—adv.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES AT PACHAUG CEMETERY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Jewett City, May 27.—The Memorial day exercises at Pachaug cemetery were attended by a large number. The singing of America opened the exercises. Rev. J. F. Ricardson offered prayer and a male quartette, Albert Reynolds, W. B. Montgomery, Harold Grer and Elmo Karjolo, sang several selections. Francis Sweet recited Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The address was by Rev. Gurdon Bailey of Norwich Town. The graves were decorated with flowers under the direction of Marshal George A. Haskell. Taps was sounded by Mr. Kariale.

STAFFORD

William Black of New York has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Black.

Mrs. Frank Clark, who has been the guest of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Puffer, has returned to her home in Glastonbury.

Miss Maud Booth has returned home after visiting relatives in Monson and Needham, Mass.

Miss Annie Shippey of Hartford has been the guest of her aunt, Miss Hannah Black.

The Junior band has been engaged to play at Brimfield on Memorial day. They played at the Johnson hospital Sunday afternoon.

While playing, Florence Rew fell and broke two bones in her leg. Dr. Moore took her to the Johnson hospital, where the bones were set. She was then taken to her home.

An important automobile accessory, described in Popular Mechanics, is designed to reduce the hazards of speeding by flashing a signal light on the dial board as soon as the car exceeds any pre-determined speed limit. The instrument may also be adjusted to flash at a speed slightly under the ignition automatically when the limit is reached.

Bumsteads Worm Syrup

POETRY

THE RAINBOW AND THE ROSE.

I sometimes doubt there is a God,
When well I know that all who live must die.
And then at last my eyelids close,
But when I see the rainbow in the sky,
And behold the blossom of the rose,
'Tis then I know there is a God.

I sometimes doubt there is a God,
When winds of hate and clouds of sorrow draw nigh,
And fear my soulless soul betrays;
But when I see the rainbow in the sky,
And listen to the rustle of the rose,
'Tis then I know there is a God.

I sometimes doubt there is a God,
When friends forget and thoughtless pass me by,
And break my heart for passing shower;
But when I see the rainbow in the sky,
And sip the nectar of the rose,
'Tis then I know there is a God.

I sometimes doubt there is a God,
When all is lost in sloth and cross sorrow,
And I my tortured soul oppose!
But when I see the rainbow in the sky,
And pluck the petal from the rose,
'Tis then I know there is a God.

I sometimes doubt there is a God,
When hope withdraws and leaves my soul to sigh,
And doubt inshrafs me in its throes;
But when I see the rainbow in the sky,
And scent the perfume of the rose,
'Tis then I know there is a God.

—Henry Polk Lowenstein, in Hanna City Star.

THE ONLY WAY.

'Tis weary to be longing for the pleasures of the past!
The only way to win them is to travel in a dream,
Sometimes when I am sleeping, with but I win at last—
A wee bit while I clasp them in the Land of Happy-gleam.
Of all that earth embraces
What region owns its graces?
The dearest of all places
Is the Land of Happy-gleam.

Dreary is the day-time. Paleor in the dark,
The sunlight may be golden, but golden though it seem
A lack in all around me my lonely glances mark.
And stra ghtaway I am sighing for the Land of Happy-gleam.
Moments few in number
Without cares that cumber—
I seldom go in slumber
To the Land of Happy-gleam.

—Samuel Minturn Peck, in Boston Transcript.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Hub—If you keep on, you'll drive me to drink.

Wife—Now, John, have you got something in the house you are aching from me?—Exchange.

Police Officer (to actress)—So you got your pearls back, did you, miss?

Florette Footlight—Yes, isn't advertising wonderful?—here they are, real ones; my pearls were merely imitations.—Boston Transcript.

Walter found his mother talking to a very stout woman.

"Walter," said his mother, "this is your great aunt."

"Yes," said Walter, gazing at her ample proportions, "she looks it."—Buffalo Express.

My barber shaved my jowl, and as he shaved, He talked and talked, and talked, and talked, as was his wont.
"Do you speak French?" I asked.
"Ah, oui," he cried.
"I wish you would," I said, "because I don't."

Lawyer—You want to ask $5,000 a year alimony. How much is your husband making?

Lady—Five thousand, but I'm sure he could make more if he had to, and I'm willing he should keep the difference.—Boston Transcript.

"Edith," said a mother to her little daughter as the latter had finished saying her prayers, "you didn't tell God how naughty you had been today, did you?"

"No, mamma," replied Edith, "I don't believe in telling our family affairs to outsiders."—Chicago News.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Absence from church was a punishable offense in the seventeenth century.

Asparagus has the distinction of being the oldest of all plants used for food.

Among the natives in India the average duration of life is only twenty-four years.

The first sun dial was erected in Rome, and the day was first divided into hours in 293 B. C.

Louis Agassiz, the world famous zoologist and professor at Harvard, was a champion fencer.

So dense is the population in some parts of China that millions are forced to live on the water in boats.

Children have to acquire a taste for sweets; it is not one of their natural traits, says a scientist.

There are enough motor vehicles in the United States to take the entire population for a ride at one time.

People in olden time were the emerald in the belief that it prevented riddiness and strengthened the memory.

Women were first licensed to act women's parts on the stage by Charles II in 1662. Up to that time feminine roles had been played by men and boys.

At Creil, near Paris, there is a society of archers who hold an annual competition for the original trophy given at the first meet of the society, more than a thousand years ago.

WEAK AND RUN-DOWN
After Serious Operation
WINCARNIS
Restores Her Strength

"Not long ago my daughter was obliged to undergo a serious operation which left her in a dreadfully weak and run-down condition. She had no appetite and was as white as a sheet. She really looked as if she had no blood left in her. She was also very nervous.

The doctor had given her some medicine to build her up but this did not seem able to get her strength back. In fact her improvement was so very slow that I had me mighty worried.

I heard about Wincarnis and got her a bottle. It worked wonders. She began to improve right from the start. It was simply wonderful how quickly she regained her strength and put on weight and how the color came back to her cheeks."

WINCARNIS
Two Sizes, $1.10 and $1.98

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

SATURDAY'S MARKET.

New York, May 26.—Speculative sentiment was again decidedly bullish in today's brief and active session of the stock market, prices moving briskly to higher ground for the third successive day. Competition for stocks between bear traders who had sold heavily on the recent reaction and speculators for the advance resulted in substantial gains, particularly in the oil, steel, can and equipment groups.

Several recent constructive developments in the oil industry, such as higher gasoline prices in the mid-continent field and restricted output on the Pacific coast, attracted attention to those shares which had been depressed by a succession of price cuts and over-production of California crude oil. California Petroleum continued its sensational advance establishing a new high record price for all time at 116 1-4, or nearly 20 points above last week's close, and then easing to 115 3-8 on profit taking, a net gain of 1 point on the day. Houston Oil jumped 4 3-8 points and Mexican Seaboard 3 1-2, buying of the latter being predicted on a report that the company had blown in a 25,000 barrel well in the Toteco field.

American Can was another spectacular feature, rising 5 3-8 points on the day on transactions exceeding 50,000 shares. Other outstanding strong spots were American Zinc, Beechnut Packing, Coco Cola, South Porto Rican Sugar, Crucible Steel Pittsburgh Coal, Studebaker, Postum Cereal and International Paper, the net gains ranging from 2 to 4 points. One sale of Market Street Railway preferred was made 6 1-2 points above the previous sale.

Atlantic Gulf & West Indies was one of the week spots, being forced down to 15 1-8, a new low for the year, and then rallying to 15 7-8 where it was off 1 on the day.

Railroad shares did not appear to be affected by the Chicago conference of progressives on railroad revaluation, although trading in them was not very active.

The feature of the foreign exchange market was the establishment of a new low record for all time at .0016 7-8 cents by German marks, circulation of which already has passed the seven trillion mark. Demand sterling improved slightly to $4.62 11-16 and French francs held steady around 6.61 cents.

The weekly clearing house statement showed a decrease of $59,910,000 in loans, discounts and investments. Reserve of members banks in the federal reserve banks decreased by $1,972,000 and net demand deposits by $11,016,000. Time deposits were $5,919,000 over those of a week ago. Aggregate reserve totaled $310,277,000, leaving excess reserve of $10,065,770, a decrease of $654,640 under that of last week.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	High.	Low.	Close.
Allied Chem	72¾	72½	72⅞
Allis Chalmers	44	43¼	43½
Am Ag Chem	21¾	20¾	21¼
Am Ag Chem pr	45¾	42¾	44¾
Am Beet Sugar	41¾	41⅛	41⅛
Am Bosch Mag	41½	41	41½
Am Can	103⅝	98	103⅝
Am Car & F	117⅝	117⅝	117⅝
Am Cotton Oil	9	8¼	8⅞
Am Hide & L	10	10	10
Am H & L pr	50	49	49¾
Am Int Corp	26¼	25¼	25½
Am Tel & Tel	122⅝	122¼	122¼
Am Tobacco	146⅞	146¼	146⅞
Am Wool	92½	91¾	92½
Am Wool pr	102¼	101⅞	101⅞
Anaconda	46¼	45⅞	46⅛
Atchison	99¾	99⅛	99¼
Atchison pr	88⅝	88⅜	88⅝
Balt & Ohio	48⅞	48⅝	48⅝
Beth Steel	55⅞	54¼	54⅞
Brook Rp Tr it pd	16¼	16⅛	16⅛
Butte Cop & Z	7	7	7
Butte & Sup	25⅛	24⅜	25¼
Can Pacific	154⅝	154⅛	154⅝
Cent Leath	29	28½	29
Chand Mot	63¾	62⅝	63
Ches & Ohio	65⅛	65½	65½
Ches & Ohio pr	101	101	101
Chi Gt West	5¼	5¼	5¼
Chi Gt West pr	11	11	11
Chi Mil & S P	21	21	21
C M & St P pr	37	356⅞	37
Chi & N'west	79¼	79	79
Chi & North pr	115	115	115
Chi R I & P	29¾	29	29
Chile Cop	27¾	27⅜	27⅜
Chino Cop	23⅝	23¼	23⅝
Cosden	50	49½	50
Crucible Steel	70¾	69⅝	70⅜
Dome Mines	39	38¾	38⅝
Erie	11	10⅞	11
Erie 1 pr	17¼	16⅞	17¼
Gen Elec	171¼	171	171¼
Gen Elec spe	11¼	11⅛	11⅛
Gen Motors	15⅝	15	15
Gen Mot pr	84	84	84
Gen Mot db	83¼	83	83
Goodyear T pr	54½	54¼	54½
Great North	72½	72⅛	72⅜
Great Nor Ore	29⅛	29⅛	29⅛
Hudson Motor	26⅛	26	26
Inspiration C	34⅜	34⅛	34½
Int Har	85½	84⅞	84½
Int M Mar pr	32⅜	30⅞	31
Int Paper	46	44⅞	45
Int Pa pr stp	69¼	69¾	69
Kennecott	38	37⅛	37⅜
Lehigh Valley	62½	62¼	62½
Max Motor A	48	47⅜	47⅝
Mo K & T	12⅞	12½	12⅞
Mo Pacific	14¼	14⅜	14½
Mo Pac pr	39¾	38	39⅛
Nat En & St	65¾	64	65½
N Y Air Brake	36⅞	36⅛	36⅜
N Y Air B A	48⅜	48⅜	48⅝
N Y Central	97⅛	97	97⅛
N Y N H & H	17⅝	17⅛	17⅝
North Pacific	72	72	72
Pacific Oil	38⅜	37⅛	38⅛
Penn R R	44⅜	44⅛	44⅜
Pierce Oil	3⅜	3⅛	3⅜
Ray Con Cop	13⅜	13⅛	13⅜
Reading	75	74⅛	75
Reading 2 pr	51	51	51
Replogle Steel	21¼	19½	21¼
Rep I & St	52⅜	51	52⅜
Rep I & St pr	93⅜	93¼	93⅞
South Pacific	90	90	90
South Ry	23⅜	22⅞	23⅜
South Ry pr	66	66	66
Tobacco Prod	54¼	53⅝	53⅞
Tob Prod A	81	81	81
Tob Prod 1st	107	107	107
South Pacific	106⅞	106⅛	106⅝
U S Rubber	53⅝	53⅛	53⅜
U S Rub 1 pr	100⅛	100	100
U S Rubber 1 pr	100¾	101	100
U S Steel	99½	98	99⅜
U S Steel pr	118	118	118
West Un Tel	108	106¾	107
West Air Brk	51½	51½	51½
West E & M	73	72	72¾
Willys Overl	7	7	7
Willys Overl pr	71	65¼	65¼
Worth Pump	31½	31⅝	31⅝

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low	Close.
Wheat:
May	125¾	123¾	126¼
July			114⅜
Sept.			113
Corn—
May	70¾	67	67
July	71⅝	70⅜	70⅝
Sept.	74⅜	73⅛	73⅞
Oats—
May	42¾	41¼	41¾
July	42	41	41
Sept.	40	39½	39⅝

THUMMS

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST TRY OUR HOME-MADE SAUSAGE
THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

W. S. PAPPAS & CO.

Stock and Bond Brokers

28 Shetucket St., Norwich, Conn.

281 Washington Street, Boston — 86 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

ACCURATE EXECUTIONS ON NEW YORK AND BOSTON STOCKS
NEW YORK AND BOSTON CURB

Private Wires, New York, Boston, Providence, Norwich.

Our Suggestions for INVESTMENT and PROFIT broke all records for the last six months. Why not place your name on our list?

BROADWAY

Today, Tues., Wed.
Holiday Program—
Keith Vaudeville—

Fred Elkins, Joe Fay and Jack Elkins
"THE MINSTREL BOYS"
In Mirth, Melody, Syncopation

ARCHER & BELFORD
In "THE NEW JANITOR"

ETHEL THEODORE
"Kubilick in Petticoats"

European Novelty Shadowists
Stanley Gallini Co.
Presenting Their Own and Original Ideas. Shadowgraphs in Colors.

MANHATTAN COMEDY FOUR Old Timers With New Ideas

PHOTOPLAY SPECIAL
ONLY A SHOP GIRL
CHAS. BLANEY'S SUCCESS with
ESTELLE TAYLOR, MAE BUSCH, WALLACE BEERY.

CONTINUOUS SHOW WED.

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

Matinee 2:15
Evening 7-8:45
Prices, Mat. 25c
Eve. 25c-35c

Today, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday

CONTINUOUS SHOW WEDNESDAY

A shimmering stirring romance in a setting of silks and satins. Presenting Betty Compson in her greatest achievement. Story by Casmo Hamilton.

PRESENTED BY ADOLPH ZUKOR

The RUSTLE of SILK

WITH

BETTY COMPSON
CONWAY TEARLE

CONTINUOUS SHOW WEDNESDAY

Buster Keaton in "The Frozen North"

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Demonstration This Week

MIRRO

The Finest Aluminum

During the week of May 28th to June 2nd, inclusive, a demonstrator from the factory will be in our basement department to explain the merits of "Mirro" Aluminum, the finest Aluminum made.

Oblong Roaster
$4.48
VALUE $6.00

There are 566 "Mirro" items, all useful, durable, economical and beautiful—everything that the most particular housewife may need. We invite you to call during this demonstration and learn about this vast array of useful articles. You're welcome, and a visit incurs no obligation to buy.

THE MIRRO GUARANTEE

Mirro Aluminum is in a class by itself and every "Mirro" article bears the following guarantee. "Every Mirro article is designed to serve a definite household need. It is built to give absolute satisfaction and is guaranteed free from defects in material, construction and workmanship."

2-QUART PERCOLATOR—$1.69
VALUE $2.30

The special features of Mirro Roasters, Preserving Kettles, Colonial Tea Kettles and Double Boilers, besides many other practical items, will be explained by the demonstrator.

A LIST OF SPECIAL VALUES

In connection with the demonstration of Mirro Aluminum we offer the following special values in Mirro Aluminum Ware:—

1-quart Square Refrigerator Dish, regular value 50c—Demonstration Price	25c
1½-quart Covered Sauce Pan, regular value 75c — Demonstration Price	49c
2½-quart Pudding Pan, regular value 75c—Demonstration Price	49c
Mirro Omelet Pan, polished, has cool steel handles, regular value $1.35—Demonstration Special	95c
2-quart Mirro Aluminum Percolator, regular value $2.30 — Demonstration Price	$1.69
2-quart Mirro Aluminum Double Boiler, regular value $2.50 — Demonstration Price	$1.89
Triplicate Sauce Pan Set, consisting of 3 two-quart Covered Sauce Pans, enabling you to cook three kinds of food over one fire, regular value $3.00 — Demonstration Price	$1.98
Three-piece Preserving Set, consisting of a 10-quart Preserving Kettle, Ladle and Combination Fruit Funnel, if bought separately these articles would cost $2.85—Demonstration Price	$1.98
Oblong Roasters with tray, self-basting and with two vents—just the thing for your cold-pack canning, in two sizes—regular $6.50 size at $4.98, regular $6.00 size at	$4.48

REMEMBER—this demonstration will begin today and continue throughout the week. We extend a cordial invitation to every housewife to attend.

MYSTIC

On Friday afternoon there were moving picture executives here from New London, looking over the Pendleton Brothers shipyard, and also the three-masted schooner, F. C. Pendleton, was inspected as the craft is to figure in the staging of the picture which is being taken at New London. Paul Sloane, who was sent here to adapt the scenario to local conditions, accompanied by William Scully, and Arthur Cozine, took in a survey of the craft and the yard. The schooner is an old timer and has had more than thirty years on the seven seas. Captain Pendleton was on hand getting the boat in readiness, and if the weather permits, Mystic people will have a chance to see how a moving picture is made.

The parents and teachers gathered at the school on Friday and were most pleasantly entertained by the Parent-Teachers association in the kindergarten department. An excellent program was rendered, which was composed of musical selections and recitations. At the close the ladies were served ice cream and cake.

Memorial Sunday was observed [illegible] it being a union service [illegible] church where Rev. G. A. [illegible] an patriotic sermon were given by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Farnham. At the Methodist church on Sunday evening, there was a [illegible] service, and a special [illegible] pastor, Rev. J. G. Sellers. Many people visited the cemeteries of Mystic and spread the graves with flowers and other [illegible] flowers will [illegible] lots put in perfect order for [illegible].

A great deal of [illegible] was manifested by the [illegible] number who [illegible] enter [illegible] the [illegible] Rowley [illegible] Powers met York & [illegible] two preliminary [illegible] Kinnicutt and [illegible] Shipley Hartford [illegible] Abbey. The boys have not been in the ring very long and made a good showing for the first public affair.

An important meeting of the representatives of the athletic committees and school advisors will be held Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Community house, when the Broadway and Academy school committees have been invited to discuss plans for the track meet which will probably be held on June 12. Other matters will also be taken up concerning physical education in the schools and the awarding of athletic prizes, such as badge tests. The boys wishing to join the Bicycle club which has been started recently by the director of the community house, should register their names at the office by Tuesday noon. Trips have been already planned for Ocean Beach, Watch Hill and Norwich. During the summer months week trips through the New England states are contemplated.

Edwin George of West Main street has returned from a business trip to Hartford.

Miss Henrietta Pike is a patient at a hospital at New London, where she underwent an operation for the removal of a cataract on her eyes.

Miss Elizabeth Maizdorff has undergone an operation for appendicitis at a New London hospital, and is reported as resting comfortably.

Field workers of the State Bible society are making a religious survey of Mystic in the interest of all the Protestant churches. This is the first made here in many years.

STONINGTON

Work at the Atwood Machine Company, is reported good. A corload of pig iron has been unloaded, and there is more coming. It is understood that Eugene Atwood and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bradley who have been on a trip to the Orient, will return on June 12th.

Many are arriving at the summer resort, Lord's Point, and a number spent the week end there. Mr. and Mrs. William Salgster and son, of Danielson, were guests here. Mr. and Mrs. David R. Kinney have been entertaining at Edgewater. Dr. and Mrs. A. J. LaPierre of Norwich, spent the week end here. Mrs. Louis Cochrane of Norwich has contracted for a bungalow to be erected for the season. This week will no doubt bring many more to the resort.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stonington Poultry club will be held Tuesday afternoon. At this meeting a leading and pecking demonstration will be given by J. C. Taylor of the Connecticut Agricultural college and will be held at the farm of Harold D. Cutenden. Walter T. Clark, county agent will be present.

The tug Charles McWilliams towed some light barges to New York after they discharged their cargoes of coal at Westerly and Stonington.

A big day was enjoyed Saturday off shore, as the local fishermen were out in numbers and brought back a big haul of flounders. This was the first fair fishing they have had this month as the water has been so cold that the fish would not bite. This weather change should bring the sea food down in price, as it was said that the price held up on poggies, because they were scarce.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. York and family, of New York, arrived at their summer home, The Hill, on Saturday.

Word has been received from John Kilkars and party that they have arrived at Cleveland, Ohio, and on Monday will proceed on their way to California.

PENDLETON HILL

The funeral of Horace, F. Palmer, who died in Laurel Glen, Friday, May 18th, was held at the Pendleton Hill church, Tuesday morning, May 22. Rev. C. P. Mathewson conducted the service. Burial took place in the Robbins cemetery at Voluntown.

Mr. Palmer, who had been a member of the Pendleton Hill church for over fifty years, was highly respected by has friends and neighbors and will be greatly missed in the community.

Mother's Day was observed last Sunday and a most interesting sermon was preached by Rev. E. P. Mathewson. Communion was observed at the close of the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry and daughter and Mrs. Susie Chapman visited relatives in Jewett City last Sunday.

Deacon Coon and son, and Mrs. Kate Saunders were in Mystic on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrie and Mr. and Mrs. Ledyard Anthony of Ashaway were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Thompson.

Supervisor S. Hussey Reed and Mrs. Reuben Cook and Mrs. Tryon and Mrs. Partelo visited the school Wednesday.

Mrs. J. B. Totten is at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer were in Fitchville on Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid societw met Thursday and elected officers for the ensuing year.

CANTERBURY GREEN

Jacob Rodler of Hempstead, L. I., has been visiting this week at the home of his brother, Anton Rodler.

Mrs. George Goddard and little son, of Montreal, are at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lovell for a month's visit.

Both Mr. and Mrs. James Lathrop have been ill with tonsilitis, but are recovering.

[illegible] Kelley, Archie and daughter, Dorothy, were recent visitors at James Appley's.

Mr. Welch and his mother, who have been living in the home formerly occupied by Fred Safford, have sold the place to a family from Plainfield by the name of Brison, and have moved to Black Hill to Mrs. Graves' tenement.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Tobey and Mr. and Mrs. William Wright motored to Hartford one day last week.

Arthur Tracy with Mrs. Tracy and children were in Westbrook over Sunday. Mrs. Sager who had been visiting there, returned with them on the home trip.

Mrs. Thad Wilson is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. Reed and son, from [illegible]

BRIDGE, CARDS and DANCE,
WAUREGAN HOTEL,
MONDAY, MAY 28,
7.30 P. M.,
by C. C. of C. W., benefit of Sacred Heart Church. Everyone welcome. Tickets at Mara's Drug Store.

BREED THEATRE

TODAY — TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

WILLIAM FOX presents

The TOWN THAT FORGOT GOD

"A MASTERPIECE OF REALISM"
N Y Mail

DIRECTED BY Harry Millarde

The Most Tense Dramatic Story of American Small Town Life Ever Portrayed

PATHE NEWS—UP-TO-THE-MINUTE NEWS TOPICS

Matinee, Children 15 Cents—Adults 25 Cents
Evening, Children 20 Cents—Adults 35 Cents

OPENING

Ashland Casino, Jewett City

MAY 30th

AFTERNOON 2 TO 6—EVENING 8 TO 12

Dancing Every Wednesday and Friday

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

WHIST AND DANCE
Wauregan Hotel Ballroom
Under the Auspices of the L. O. O. M.
TUESDAY, MAY 29th
$35.00 IN GOLD GIVEN AWAY AS PRIZES
MUSIC BY THE ROYAL RADIONS
Whist 8 to 10 — Dancing 10 to 12
Admission 55 Cents — Cars After Dance

MANSFIELD CENTRE

At the morning worship Sunday Dr. H. K. Denlinger preached, taking for his subject Pentecost. At the evening service there was an illustrated lecture on Native Life in India, given by K. Appenaury of India, a student at the Hartford School of Pedagogy.

Echo grange was visited and inspected Tuesday evening by Deputy Inspector Haynes and wife of Wolf Den grange and by the master of that grange and his wife. A pleasing program was rendered, including orchestra selections, vocal solos by Mrs. Frank Grant and F. C. Littleworth and a piano solo by Miss Frances Crane. Mrs. A. E. Anthony gave a monologue, there were readings by Mrs. Carl Alford and an amusing sketch, Aunt Lucinda Stays, in which the parts were taken by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Littleworth, Mrs. Louise Walker and D. C. Flaherty. Mrs. Walker and Mr. Littleworth appearing as "blacks." This was followed by the song Old Black Joe, sung by Mr. Littleworth. A lunch was served.

The Ladies' Aid held a successful quilting party in the church parlors [illegible] attendance and four comfortables were tied and finished. Luncheon was served at noon.

Plans are being made for the usual celebration of Memorial day with exercises at the cemeteries at Atwoodville and Spring Hill in the morning, and services in the old and new cemeteries here about 11 o'clock, followed by an address at the church.

Thursday has been chosen as Bundle day for the Near East. The church will be open and a committee will be glad to receive contributions of warm clothing, sweaters, shoes, old sheets for bandages, etc., to supply the urgent need.

Graduation exercises for the grammar school of the town will be held on Thursday evening, June 8, at the armory at Storrs.

A class of six will be graduated from the Mansfield Center school on June 8. Each member of the class has written a graduation essay, one of which will be delivered at the commencement exercises une 8. On Tuesday, June 5, the Mansfield Center school will hold public exercises at the church at 2 p. m., when the essays of the graduating class will be read, the graduation music rendered and recitations given.

George C. Jenner of Rochester, N. Y., is spending the week end with his family.

Mrs. Mary Reed of Mamaroneck, N. Y., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. James.

STOPS HACKING COUGH

"Had a hacking cough for years, and Foley's Honey and Tar is the only remedy that reached my cough. I have not been troubled with it since," writes Mrs. E. M. Doby, Asbury Park, N. J. Coughs, colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble are quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Largest picked cough medicine in the

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

DIED

MEWITT—In Norwich, suddenly, May 27, 1923, Reginald C. Mewitt of Uncasville.

FUNERAL NOTICES

HOWARD—In Norwich, May 26, 1923, Elizabeth Howard, aged 74 years. Funeral services at 324 Calkins Hospital Chapel Tuesday, May 29, at 2.30 p. m., D. S. T. Burial in Mayflower Cemetery.

KRAFT—In Norwich, May 27, 1923, George Kraft, in his 62d year. Notice of funeral hereafter.

MCELVEY—Entered into rest in Norwich, May 27, 1923, Ella Rist, wife of William M. McElvey, aged 60 years. Notice of funeral hereafter.

YOUNG—Alfred Avery Young passed away at his home in his 69th year, on Sunday afternoon. Funeral service at his home in Jewett City on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, daylight time. It is kindly requested that there be no flowers.

SMITH—In Niantic, May 26, 1923, George S. Smith, formerly of Norwich. Funeral Sunday, May 29, at 2.30, Standard time, at Stone House farm. Interment in Stone Church cemetery.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
382 Main Street
Phone 382-3 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
30 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 610-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Tel. 1380. Providence St., Taftville.

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON

F. W. TILLINGHAST & SONS,
Successors to
F. H. & F. W. Tillinghast,
Central Village, Conn.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
and EMBALMERS.
Tel. Moosup 61-5. Night Call—Danielson 54-4.

LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Special Attention to Every Detail.

WILLIMANTIC

Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
30 Union St. Willimantic, Conn
Phone 290 (Lady Assistant)

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
214 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

FLORISTS

TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 602-4. Free delivery. apr13

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Floorings, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 602-12. jan16d

WILLIAM G. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, 202 Work and Jobbing, 26 West Main St. Phone 971. 5aug22

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS
THE TIME WILL COME
When You Will Need Ready Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not
BE PREPARED
Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed notes. Call, write or Phone 1472.
New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 206, THAYER BUILDING
10 FRANKLIN STREET

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Philippine Cigars are $70 per thousand. A-1, [illegible], 53, [illegible] St.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Three or four men in wood turning shop. Apply L. M. Hartson Co., Chestnut St. may31d

WANTED—Local manager for marvelous automobile invention; doubles power, mileage, efficiency; saves its cost first day; endorsed by thousands; a permanent position worth $100 weekly; sample outfit and Ford car furnished free. Write quick, Owen Company, Dept. 1225, Louisville, Ky. may25d

WANTED—Building laborers; open shop conditions; 60 cents per hour. Second floor, 103 Elm St., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED — Three or four Wooltex weavers, either men or women; both Crompton & Knowles and Crompton looms; one loom, four harness work, white warp. Apply to Regina Spinning Co., Hope Valley, R. I. may26d

WANTED—Teamsters and laborers at sawmill. Frank A. Phillips, 153 Church St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 846. may26d

WANTED—Position as chauffeur any make car or truck. Phone 657-12. may26d

WANTED—Woodchopper. John Miller, R. F. D. 1, Norwich. may24d2w

WANTED—Carpenter helpers and laborers. Turner Construction Co. American Woolen Mill, Thamesville. may26d

FIREMEN, brakemen, beginners $150-$250 (which position?). Railway, Institution. may24d2w

WANTED—A man on dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 18-4. may26d

WANTED—A man for general farm work; pay $60 a month and board, firewood and milk. George Wells & Son, between South Windham and Willimantic. Phone 377-12. may24d

WANTED—First class cook; good wages. Apply City Lunch, 16 Broadway. may23d

WANTED—Kitchenman; steady work and good pay. Mohegan Restaurant, 259 Main St. may22d

WANTED—A man in the wet wash department. Norwich Steam Laundry, 193 Franklin St. may22d

WANTED—Academy student, at Fagan's Smoke Shop. may19d

WANTED—Cornetman. Apply at Mohegan Headquarters, 325 Main St. may14d

WANTED
THREE MEN
AT ONCE
FOR ICE BUSINESS
JOHN H. FORD

Picker Room
Dye House and General
Department Labor
WANTED
AMERICAN WOOLEN CO.
NORWICH MILLS
Thamesville

ACCOUNTANT
We want a young man as an Assistant to our Accountant. Apply in own handwriting, stating experience and giving references.
THE ULMER LEATHER COMPANY
Norwich, Conn.

WANTED—Female

WANTED—A chambermaid, also a table girl. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 42-2. may24d

WANTED—Maid for general housework. Tel. 1768 or apply 113 Washington St. may16d

WANTED — Middle aged American woman as housekeeper. Box 84, Bulletin. may26d

WANTED—Girl to take care of baby and assist with housework. Apply Tanney Corp. 5-10-25c store. may23d

WANTED—Competent cook willing to go to Eastern Point this summer. Apply Mrs. J. Ralph Howe. Tel. 450. may22d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 65 Broadway. may19d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Sellas Spa. may9d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may9d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Sellas Lunch. may1d

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—A motorcycle plate, No. 2303, between Plainfield and Jewett City, Sunday. Finder return to 112 Dunham St. Phone 629-2. may23d

FOUND—Tuesday, gray cow and calf. Owner write I. S. Rathbund, Baltic, R. D. may22d

LOST—Pair of glasses, between West Side and Franklin Square, or in Self Service Shoe Store. Reward if returned to this office. may25d

LOST—Sum of money, between Plainfield and Moosup. Reward if left at this office. may25d

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Dry slab wood. Phone 1641-5. may24d

COAL, seasoned wood and kindlings, in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 504 or 1526-3. R. Shapiro, Willow St. may24d

FOR SALE—Well seasoned mixed slabs; nice for summer. H. E. Beard & Son. Tel. 615-4. apr19d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; beehive or cords; lowest prices. Phone 561. jan14d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 35 Franklin St. may1d

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 1-2 Allce Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. jan31d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—Country board, two weeks beginning about June 9; state terms, etc. W. S. Fiske, 1430 74th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. may24d

WANTED—A second hand basketball. Telephone 1542-5. may23d

WANTED—Shippers and general card room help. The E. E. Hilliard Co., Buckland, Conn. may23d

WANTED—Woolen weavers. Apply The E. E. Hilliard Co., Buckland, Conn. may23d

WANTED—Men and women to know the big riding months have begun. Eighty thousand men, women and children are going to be actually killed—fourteen million are going to be injured. Not one of these knows in advance! There are more chest thirty thousand persons in Greater Norwich. At least half of these take trips to some suburb, beach or other recreation place each summer week end by auto, train, car, etc. Have you arranged with the gods to protect you? Every time you leave home, or a friend gives you a lift in his car? Every time you mix with the crowd and expose yourself to disease? If not, you'd better arrange with L. G. Smith, 29 Mt. Pleasant St., to pay you from $25 to $50 a week. Phone 542. may28MThS

WANTED — Farm about 50 acres, around Willimantic or near South Windham, near trolley. Andrew Philcik, Eagleville, Conn. may23d

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, East 339, Norwich. jan5FMW

WANTED—At once, board for two boys, 5 1-2 and 7 1-2. Williams, 47 Penobscot. may26d

WONDERFUL new book for office men and women sent free; new plan helps increase your efficiency and pays you profit at the same time; read "The Brooder Hoyhoo" mailed you without obligation; don't miss it. Just address Desk 21, Baker-Goodyear Co., First National Bank Bldg., New Haven, Conn. may30d

WANTED—At once, by a reliable children's organization, a good Catholic boarding home for a 9 year old boy. Address P. O. Box 364, Willimantic.

DID you see that Jewett City adv. For Sale, 65 year old chickens? Jinks! I think I had a sandwich from one of 'em last week! Fine lot of 75c pipes; Manila cigars 5c, six for 25c, at Fagan's Smoke Shop, opp Woolworth's. may25d

WANTED—Two-ton, rack body, tarpaulin covered truck wants part or full load, furniture or merchandise, to Brooklyn, N. Y., from Plainfield, half price. M. A. Dooley, 693 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y. may23d

WANTED—Have you a boy from 2 to 7 years old that you wish to see in a regulation sailor uniform for 98c? You can get them for said price at The Pasmick Co. Chain Stores. apr27d

WANTED—Old automobiles for junk, also scrap iron and scrap metal; highest cash prices paid; we call anywhere and remove same promptly. Tel. 2275. National Waste and Metal Co., 319 West Main St.

WANTED—Waiter or waitress. Apply City Lunch. may24d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chenelli, Agt., 160 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar12d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 6 Bath St. Tel. 2162. feb21d

WANTED — Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. jan13d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 51 Market St. Phone 637-2. 1y6d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. E. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-2. jan21d

WANTED
EXPERIENCED DRESSER TENDER.
APPLY—
JOSEPH HALL & SON, INC.,
TRADING COVE MILL.

WANTED
SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE. BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

INSURANCE

Do Buildings Burn Up, or Burn Down?
FIRE INSURANCE
Does Not Discriminate.
Edwin V. Ross
MARGARET A. BARR, Associate
63 Broadway, Norwich
PHONE 2424

INSURANCE
OF ALL KINDS
LOUIS H. MAPLES
NORWICH, CONN.
PHONE 192

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money lost it affords. Take out a policy to day.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, sleighing, trucks for hire. 21 CHESTNUT ST. or Ocean. Tel. 617-12.

Est. 1914. Tel. 178.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing, Furniture and Piano Moving, Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLYN, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1523-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1741.

TEAMING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 343 Main St. Phone 792.

C. B. BROMLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 235.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

SHOE REPAIRING

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIRING CO., 36 Franklin St. Be wise and have your work done by hand, not machinary, as it is better and will last longer. Shoes made for all deformities. may9d mar19d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Parlor set. Call Monday afternoon at 6 Ward St. may24d

FOR SALE—At Crescent Beach, waterfront, 8-room house of eight rooms, including all furniture (two bedrooms), electric lights, running water, garage one car; price $4,000; will rent June 1 to Oct. 1, $200. Phone 576. may23d

FOR SALE—Farm in the town of Lebanon, 67 acres, 50 for plowing, best of land, no stones, also orchards, 500 bbls peach trees, apples, cherries; eight-room house, good barn, a good lake on the farm; the best farm in Lebanon; the price is a bargain for quick sale. Address 197 Pleasant St., Willimantic, Conn. may21d

FOR SALE—One Victor phonograph, with 194 records, almanack dated back to 1876, one antique waffle iron. Apply to D. E. West, Box 184, East Hampton, Conn. may16d

FOR SALE—Registered Ayrshire bull, Tarnbull, Wauwecus Hill, Norwich Town. may24d

FOR SALE—First class player-piano, Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 1554-4. may21d

FOR SALE—New milch Ayrshire cow. H. Socha, 370 Asylum St. may26d

FOR SALE—New milch cow. Call 20 Dunham St., or Phone 2324. may25d

FOR SALE—Two-family house, good location, near trolley and school, paying good income. For particulars, write Box 474, Bulletin. may25d

FOR SALE—Household goods, chairs, per sofa, furniture, etc., Monday, May 28, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., 117 Fourth St., Greeneville. may24d

FOR SALE—$1,000 terra cotta blocks. H. Wales Lines Co., Palace Theatre. may24d

FOR SALE — Seven-room bungalow, improvements, hardwood floors, built 1918 and occupied by owner; must be sold at once. Grover & Burdick, 2 Market St. Phone 1525-2. may18d

FOR SALE—The finest residential property in Thamesville, large house with all improvements and lots of land; a fine investment. Grover & Burdick, 2 Market St. Phone 1525-2. may18d

FOR SALE—Two-family house in Versailles, with large lot and garage; price $1,500. Grover & Burdick, 2 Market St. Phone 1525-2. may18d

FOR SALE—Some valuable property near Oswegatchie, with frontage on the Niantic river; can be developed to bring good returns. Grover & Burdick, 2 Market St. Phone 1525-2. may18d

FOR SALE — Furnished cottage at Ocean Beach. Grover & Burdick, 2 Market St. Phone 1525-2. may18d

FOR SALE—Furnished cottage near Lincoln Park. Grover & Burdick, 2 Market St. Phone 1525-2. may18d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $10.
A slightly used $135 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.
A $150 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.
A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $60, our price $30.
An upright Fischer piano, in fine condition, $75.
Talking Machine Shop, 24-34 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Upright piano in good playing condition; only $85, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Regular $425 Krieger slightly used upright piano in perfect playing condition; very special, $235, on easy weekly terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Mahogany cabinet model talking machine, with six double faced records, complete for $49.50; easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Beautiful mahogany upright piano, $135. Call afternoons, 26 Slater Ave. may15d

FOR SALE — Bakery in small town, doing good business. Write Bakery, care Bulletin. may2d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chenelli, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr16d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar2d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR SALE
Team Wagon — A good post-built team wagon, in first class condition—$175.00.
FRANK S. GARDNER, Est.
749 Ocean Avenue, New London

FOR SALE
ATTRACTIVE SUMMER COTTAGE, AT BEST VIEW
Ideal Summer Location
Immediate Possession
House has electric lights, running water, modern plumbing, hardwood floors, and is plastered, has heating system and may be occupied the entire year.
PRICE $7,000
JAMES L. CASE
Tel. 576 40 SHETUCKET ST.

OUR FINEST SERGES
Dark Navy Blue
$21.95 — $24.50
The well-dressed men of today realize the importance of acquiring that much desired atmosphere of originality, character, and refinement. You will find every one of these characteristics in these fine weave, Virgin Wool, Dark Navy Blue Serge Suits, made for the man who wants something better. It is hand tailored by men who know how.
L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
Opposite Post Office

FOR SALE
A choice farm, located within five miles of Norwich, consisting of about 400 acres of land, about one-half can be put under cultivation, balance pasture and woodland, will easily cut over 6,000 cords of wood, besides a huge lot of timber. This farm must be sold and priced low. Fine large house in fine shape, as are outbuildings. All tools and machinery included. A great opportunity for someone. For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

LESS THAN ONE SEASON'S RENT for summer cottage will make cash payment on this 30-acre state road farm, bordering on river, fish pond, fine old maple shade, old-fashioned six-room house, hardwood floors, open fireplace, all buildings in first class repair, for $3,300, $500 cash.
TEPONS' AGENCY,
may24d [illegible], Conn.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR QUICK SALE
7-room house, all improvements, near Backus hospital, bargain at $7,500.
4-tenement house, North Cliff St., $3,750.
A beautiful cottage on Williams St., also garage, lot 150x200.
Double house, Sachem St., large lot, 16 rooms, all improvements, garages, $12,000.
4-family brick house, High St., $7,000.
Beautiful home, Spring Garden Ave., $8,250.
3-apartment house, Spring Garden Ave., $8,000.
Many others, all sections.
270-acre farm, Jewett City, 8-room house, all necessary outbuildings, 11 head cattle, 100 hens, hay, tools wagons; etc.; for quick sale $6,500; attractive mortgage.
JAMES B. BOOTH,
Thayer Bldg.
Real Estate, Insurance, Investments.

FOR SALE
A tenement block, with improvements; always well rented, and centrally located; price right if sold at once.
Six-room cottage all improvements, including heat, in excellent condition, built about 10 years, will sell for $4,000; same is located 15 minutes' walk from Franklin Square.
Brick block on West Side, with two stores and two tenements; good investment; price $7,500; will arrange liberal loan.
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg., Phone Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE
Fine residence on Washington St., with over two acres land; a rare bargain.
New modern bungalow, Laurel Hill; the price is right.
New six-room house, with garage, for $4,250.
Two houses, with three acres land, Gales Ferry, $4,000; fine river view.
Archa W. Coit
127 Main St.
Phones 1288 and 1594. may16d

FOR SALE
$9,500 will buy five-apartment house, with one store, rent for $118 monthly, with gas and electric light, large lot, on Main St., five minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Tel. 1527-3. 196 Cliff St.

TO RENT

TO RENT—Desk room in Disco Bldg., reasonable. Z., care of Bulletin. may24d

TO RENT—One store, 22x46, on Main St., Plainfield. Inquire Theodore Rollins, Plainfield. may23d

TO RENT—Two five-room tenements on Franklin St. Call 180 Franklin St., or Tel. 1221-4. may26d

TO RENT—Unfurnished rooms. Inquire 34 Fairmount St. may24d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms, 5 North Main St. may24d

TO RENT — Apartment, lower floor, three rooms and bath, 176 Broadway. may23d

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement, upstairs, steam heat, bath, gas and electricity. Inquire 79 Hamilton Ave. may23d

FOR RENT—Private garage at 39 Otis St. Mrs. Foster. Phone 1532. may23d

TO RENT—Beautiful modern apartment at 50 Broad St., steam heat furnished and hot water supplied all year round. Inquire Talking Machine Shop, or your agent. may21d

COTTAGE for rent; Giants Neck, seven-room cottage, conveniences, near bathing beach, June to Sept., $500; large old house, near beach, boating fishing, garden and garage, long season, $150; shore lots overlooking sound, excellent bathing, boating and fishing, $200 up, easy payments. Box 384, Niantic, Conn. Tel. 33-5. may12d

TO RENT—Store on Main St., Moosup, Conn. Apply to Nathan Nutman, Moosup. may9d

FOR RENT
A very desirable eight-room house, with improvements, located on Broad St., near lower Warren St., with a very choice garden lot; an exceptional chance to secure a choice rent. For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
Real Estate Broker.
may23 WFM

FOR RENT
4-room flat and bath room, all modern convenience—No. 18 Hamlin Street, Telephone 752-3.

TO RENT
221 BROADWAY
15-ROOM RESIDENCE
AND 2-CAR GARAGE
Steam Heated.
Apply on the Premises.

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

AUTO PAINTING—L. H. Corey, 100 Laurel Hill Ave. Phone 567-14. may24SMWS

AUTO TOPS and painting; up-to-date shop and skilled help; if you need our services, come to see us. Norwich Auto Trimming and Paint Shop, Majestic Bldg., top floor. Tel. 2114. may4d

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop all work guaranteed. Joseph Furry, Fond St. Phone 1397. oct1d

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, side covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Jos. Abrarano, Fond St. Phone 1397. may26d

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles,
Carriages, Wagons,
Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
87 TO 93 NORTH MAIN STREET

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
Seven-room cottage, all improvements, all hardwood floors, one-car garage, ten minutes' walk from square, on car line.
GROVER & BURDICK,
Phone 1525-2. 2 Market St.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Horse, good farm worker, sell cheap, or trade for fall cow; young from Holstein, sell or trade for Jersey. Florence Davis, Canterbury, Westminster. may18d

JUST ARRIVED.
My Horses are here and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.
ELMER E. PIERSON.
Tel. 534-3.

POULTRY

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; gas proof feature; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewlet Co., Uncasville. Phone 758-14 New London. 24d2d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks. White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. E. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec29d

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Overland coupe. Call after 3 o'clock. Bachmann, 14 Carter Ave. may23d

FOR SALE or will trade for touring car, Overland roadster in best condition. Silvy's Tire Shop, 80 Franklin St. may26d

FOR SALE—One model N Hupmobile, good condition, new side curtains, good running order, reasonable price. M. A. Dooley, Box 137, Canterbury, Conn., may25d

FOR SALE—One-ton truck, looks and runs like new, at very low figure, or will trade for touring car. Inquire at Norwich Auto Trimming Shop, Majestic Bldg. Phone 2114. may23d

FOR SALE—'21 Ford coupe, '17 Dodge touring with winter top, '22 Gardner touring, '21 Paige 6-66 touring, '22 Hupmobile sedan, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. may19d

FOR SALE—1919 Cadillac coupe, fine condition, price reasonable. Phone 948. may5d

AUTO PARTS
A few of the many cars wrecked for the parts.

DODGE	MAXWELL
FORD	REO
OVERLAND	DORT
STUDEBAKER	G. M. C.
CHALMERS	AND OTHERS

NORWICH AUTO WRECKING COMPANY
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
PHONE 2170

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-13

TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE
FARE $3.38
Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:30 P. M.
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y. Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.
The New England Steamship Co.

ARCHITECTS

W. J. MEAZ, Architect, Room 5, May Bldg. Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb19d

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre; 15c, 13c, 10c, bought in combination; new, best of make. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. jan21d

LEGAL NOTICES

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss., Probate Court, May 24, 1923.
Estate of Joseph N. Adams, late of Colchester, in said District, deceased.
The Administrator having exhibited his final account with said estate to this Court for allowance, it is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Colchester, in said District, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1923, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and that public notice be given of the pendency of said application, and the time and place of hearing thereon, by publishing a copy of this order once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days before said day of hearing, and make return to this Court.
JOHN CONDRON,
may26d Judge.

VICTORIA WICKOWSKI NOVAK VS. Stephen Novak, alias. Supplemental Order of Notice.
State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., May 18th, 1923.
Upon the complaint of the said Victoria Wickowski Novak, claiming, for the reasons therein set forth, a divorce, now pending before this Court, having been returned thereto on the first Tuesday of January, 1923.
It appearing to and being found by this Court that Stephen Novak, alias Gus Lesur, the said defendant, is absent from this State and gone to parts unknown, and that notice of the pendency of the complaint was given as required by order of notice heretofore issued, and now the plaintiff asks for a further order of notice in the premises.
Therefore, Ordered, That notice of the pendency of said complaint be given by publishing this order in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper printed in Norwich, Conn., once a week for two weeks, successively, commencing on or before the 24th day of May, 1923.
By order of Court.
JOHN H. WALKER,
Temporary Clerk of the Superior Court for New London County. may21M

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUCTION

STANTON L. BRUCE.....Auctioneer
Telephone Willimantic 1020

AUCTION

I will sell at public auction at my farm, known as the King farm, in the Town of Franklin, on the road leading from Yantic to Lebanon, at what is known as Mason Hill, on

MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1923,
at 9 a. m., standard time,

the following property, without reserve or limit:

One 1918 Cadillac touring car, 4 cord tires, this car is just overhauled and in fine condition.

LIVESTOCK, TOOLS, ETC.

Eleven good cows, some new milkers, near springers, balance to freshen in early fall; 1 registered Jersey bull, 2 years old (tuberculin tested); 1 pung horse, 5 years old, weight 1100 lbs.; 1 horse, 8 years old, weight 1400 lbs.; 1 fox hound dog, a good bred one; 1 eight h. p. gasoline engine with saw attachment mounted; No. 11 Hilliard mower, nearly new; one-horse dump cart, 1 Ford truck body, new, mowing machine, horse rake, nearly new manure spreader, wagon, plows, logging chain, disc harrow, cultivator, double block, 40 ft. extension ladder, 2 R. I. hens, 1 set heavy team harness, new; new single heavy harness, several tons hay, forks, hoes, shovels, hay carriage, chains, and other articles for the most part too numerous to mention.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE

Dining room set, 5 bedroom sets, settee, top desk, black walnut center table, rocking chairs, kitchen range, 2 other stoves, tables, stands, carpets, pictures, dishes, lamps, and all other furniture of name and nature.

Owner's Statement: As I have sold my farm and am moving away, everything must be sold for the high dollar.
JAMES TERRINGTON.
Caterer in attendance. Terms cash. If stormy, sale next fair day. may24d2d

LEGAL NOTICE

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF NORWICH, CONN.

To either Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn., GREETING:

You are hereby directed to warn the electors of the City of Norwich to assemble in CITY MEETING in the several voting districts in said City as by law provided, to wit:

FIRST VOTING DISTRICT—At the Town Hall in the Court House Building.
SECOND VOTING DISTRICT—At 19 Thames Street, in the F. J. O'Connell Block.
THIRD VOTING DISTRICT—At 185 Central Avenue.
SIXTH VOTING DISTRICT—At No. 1 Hamilton Avenue.

on MONDAY, JUNE 4th, 1923, at 6 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6:30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), to choose by ballot two Aldermen, four Common Councilmen, a Clerk, a Collector, and two Water Commissioners for the term of two years each, and also a Treasurer and two Wardens for the term of one year each. Voting machines will be used under the provisions of the laws of the State of Connecticut.

Said meeting will be open in each of the districts at 6:30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6:30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), for the purpose of voting for said City officers, and shall continue open until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), for said purpose, when the polls in each of the several Districts shall be closed.

And at 8 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (8 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), in said Town Hall, the estimates of the City's expenses for the current fiscal year as made by the Court of Common Council will be read at a meeting held on May 21st, 1923, and submitted to said City Meeting for action thereon, and there will also be submitted to said meeting for action the estimates for special matters proposed by said Court of Common Council in the report of the Committee on Finance at said meeting held May 21st, 1923, viz.:

1—Equipment, street department	$9,000.00
2—Concrete gutter, base place	1,000.00
3—Macadamizing Central avenue	10,000.00
4—Macadamizing West Main street, Thames square to City line	10,000.00
5—Macadamizing Broadway avenue	4,000.00
6—Improvement Gas avenue	1,000.00
7—Sewer in Beach street from Cliff street to North Cliff street	2,700.00
8—Sewer in Brook street, North street from Hickory street to East Main street, Hickory street from Baltic street to North street, and from Hickory street to end of present sewer in Lake street playground	20,000.00
9—Extra street lighting (White Way)	1,000.00
10—Sewer in Burbin avenue from Mowry avenue to Smith avenue	1,000.00
	$60,000.00

Also at said time and place to lay a tax on the City Grand List last made and perfected to meet the expenses of the City upon the estimates approved and the appropriations authorized by said City Meeting to be made from the City Treasury; also to fix the compensation of the Collector of said tax; also to act upon the list of abatements of taxes made by the Mayor and Aldermen of said City to be presented at said meeting; also to authorize and sanction the temporary borrowing for the Gas and Electric Department of the City in anticipation of the ordinary revenue of such gas or electric not exceeding in the aggregate $75,000 as may be necessary from time to time to pay the running expenses of said department; said sum or sums so to be borrowed to be repaid, principal and interest, before the end of the present fiscal year from the revenues of said department; also to determine whether any of the assessments made by the Court of Common Council on the 4th day of December, 1922, for street improvements to be effected, also to authorize and sanction the borrowing by the City of said sum or sums of money not exceeding $100,000 as may be needed from time to time to make the improvements and complete the delayering and repaving authorized by said meeting, and to determine the time within which repayment shall be made of the sum or sums of money to be so borrowed.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 24th day of May, A. D. 1923.
MILO R. WATTERS,
Mayor of the City of Norwich, Conn.

State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., Norwich, May 24th, 1923.
I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is the warrant and return directed to me for service by registered mail.
Attest: ABRAHAM BRODY,
A Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn.
may21SMWTuFS

FISHING TACKLE
The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.
SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE.
SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS.
All Agate Guide Casting Reels. Excellent for Trout Fishing.
The HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET

FAIR TODAY AND PROBABLY TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., MONDAY, MAY 28, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin

Norwich, Monday, May 28, 1923.

THE WEATHER.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook: Gentle to moderate, variable, fair Monday. Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Moderate east and southeast, fair Monday.

Conditions.

Pressure was relatively low Sunday night from Hudson Bay southward over the lake region and the North Atlantic states and it was low over all other regions.

The weather has remained fair in the New England states.

The weather became cooler Sunday in the lower lake region and the North Atlantic states.

There will be little change in weather conditions in the Washington forecast district during the next two days. The weather will remain generally fair in the lower lake region and in the Atlantic states from North Carolina northward. The temperature will not change materially, but it will be slightly lower Monday in portions of the Middle Atlantic states.

Forecast.

For New England, east New York: Fair Monday and Tuesday, little change in temperature.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in barometer and thermometer Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday—

	Ther.	Bar.
7 p. m.	70	[illegible]
12 m.	86	29.80
6 p. m.	78	29.90

Highest 86, lowest 70.

Sunday—

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	66	[illegible]
12 m.	70	30.10
6 p. m.	64	30.10

Highest 76, lowest 64.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Saturday: Fair, Saturday's weather: Fair and warmer.

Predictions for Sunday: Cloudy, probably becoming unsettled, cooler. Sunday's weather: Fair, some cooler.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	(Standard Time.)
28	4.19 a. m.	7.11 p. m.	3.08 a. m.	3.23 a. m.
29	4.19	7.11	9.01	4.07
30	4.18	7.12	9.55	Rises.
1	4.17	7.13	10.40	5.44
2	4.17	7.14	11.41	9.38
3	4.16	7.15	12.37	10.24
4	4.15	7.15	12.50	11.05

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hindle and son, Edmund, jr., of North Third avenue, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Singleton of Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Smith and Miss Lillian Laramee of North B street and Mrs. Joseph Laramee of Plainfield, were Sunday visitors in Oakland, R. I.

Mrs. Joseph Paquin and Edmund Paquin have returned to their home on North B street after spending several days with Mrs. Thomas Crowe at her home at Ocean beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lufkin of Providence, R. I., spent the week end with Mrs. Theodore Goodrum of Norwich avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ince of North A street and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Greenhalgh, of Plainfield, have been recent visitors at Ocean beach.

Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, pastor of the First Congregational church, Norwich Town, and the members of the Christian Endeavor society of that church met with the Christian Endeavor society of the Taftville Congregational church Monday evening.

Arthur Benoit of Hunters avenue has returned from a short stay in Fishers Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby Grover of St Louis, Missouri, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Ricketson of North Third avenue.

Harold M. Pingree of North Third avenue has resigned his position as second hand in the No. 2 spinning room of the Ponemah Mills and has entered the employ of the Goodyear Cotton Mills, inc., of Goodyear as overseer.

Gustave Greenwood and Saul Breault spent Sunday at Ocean beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Hazelton and son, Kendall, of North B street spent the week end with relatives in Baltonville.

Just as she was about to start for San Pedro, California, to join her husband, Mrs. Theodore Goodrum of Norwich avenue, received word that Mr. Goodrum has sailed on a 4,300 mile cruise to Sitka, Alaska, and expects to be gone about three months. Mrs. Goodrum has been obliged to postpone her trip until fall.

E. M. Wood of North Third avenue and John E. Vaughn and Bernard W. Ryan of Norwich, were in Hartford Saturday attending a convention of the Connecticut League of Building and Loan association as delegates from the Norwich Building and Loan association.

Cut Husband's Head With Bottle

Enforcing her point in an argument with her husband Sunday night by hitting him in the head with a soda bottle, Mrs. William Davis of 13 North High street cut a deep gash in the man's head that sent him to Dr. H. E. Higgins' on Fairmount street for medical attention.

Report of the fracas reached the police and they visited the Davis house but made no arrests, as Mr. Davis declined to make any complaint against his wife.

Captain Donald M. MacMillan, who will sail from Wiscasset, Me., June 16 on the little schooner Bowdoin to resume his Arctic explorations announced yesterday that one purpose of the expedition is to determine whether there is beginning another ice age, as the advance of glaciers in the last 70 years would indicate.

YOU WALK IN COMFORT

If you shake into your shoes some Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder for shoes that pinch or feet that ache. It takes the friction from the shoe and gives instant relief to corns and bunions, hot, tired, aching swollen, sweating feet, blisters and callouses. Ladies can wear one size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease in each shoe. Sold everywhere. Trial package and a Foot-Ease Walking Doll sent post free. Address ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, Le Roy, N. Y.

UNIVERSALIST PASTOR PREACHES MEMORIAL SERMON FOR G. A. R. POST

REV. A. N. FOSTER

Sedgwick post, No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, with allied organizations which included Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps, Sedgwick camp, Sons of Veterans, and Clara Barton Tent, Daughters of Veterans, attended service Sunday morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Universalist, by invitation of the pastor, Rev. A. N. Foster, who preached the Memorial Sunday sermon.

Seventeen members of the post, under command of Commander Orrin M. Price, attended the service, marching from the Buckingham Memorial and having seats reserved for them. A section of seats was also reserved for the other organizations and the church was decorated with American flags and a profusion of flowers.

The vested choir, assisted by Henry Brynan, violinist, rendered the following music in the order of service: Fantasia, Dubois; Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee, Mark Andrews; O, God Who Hast Prepared, Gaul; Ave Maria, Gounod; Marche Romaine, Gounod.

Memorial Sermon

Rev. Mr. Foster spoke upon the theme "Our Heritage From the Days of '61, with the following text: 11 Tim. 4:7: I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course and I have kept the faith. In part he spoke as follows:

For over 50 years America has shown special honor to her patriotic dead and the memorial observance has become one of the established customs of our public life.

The observance comes in the month of May when the lillies of the valley are seen by the roadside; when the wisteria blossoms adorn the porchways of our New England homes and the fragrance of the lilac scents the door yard. The children anticipate the coming Memorial Day when they shall see the veterans, with blue coats and with "Grand Army" hats, march through the streets to cemeteries where they place flowers on the graves of their fallen comrades in arms. The observance is witnessed in every town and city of our broad land; it is witnessed also in the great National military cemeteries profected by their national government in this country and also, now, in countries across the sea where sleep our fallen heroes.

This American custom is marked by a pronounced religious element. The sportive appeal does violence to the traditions of the day and our veteran soldiers would feel the observance was incomplete without a Church service of worship and without the voice of religious devotion.

They kept the faith of the fathers and transmitted a precious heritage to the present.

In retrospect, we bear witness to the vision which inspired the youth of '61.

The call for volunteers is heard in the day of national peril and we witness the response as men leave home and dear ones to enter the public service. The scenes of camp and of battle ensue. And then the return to home and dear ones after the anxiety and sacrifice of separation and the tattered battle flags are furled in the State Capitols as objects of veneration and pride. But not all return to their homes! The fallen bivouac on distant fields but their names are ever sacredly remembered by a grateful people whose country has been saved through sacrifice.

The story of Antietam and Ner Orleans and Gettysburg and Appomattox is emblazoned on the records of our Nations life in letters of living light and glory and shall be treasured by the children's children of those who there died and sacrificed. Such an occasion as the present, not only displays the retrospective vision, it also portrays certain great principles which were involved in the struggle of the War for the Union. That war accomplished the freedom of an enslaved race and such accomplishment involved a great Constitutional change in the government, it involved the breaking of the mighty barrier racial prejudice and inheritance than which few things imply more of bitterness and contention. It involved the opening of high citizenship to the black man. In winning the great victory, the Union army was not without the help of the negro. Phoebe Cary has symbolized this in the story of the "Hero of Fort Wagner" who, in dying, said to the advancing white man, "I'se done gone, massa, step on me and you can scale de wall!"

The War of '61 also decided that the Federal Union should be preserved as a permanent governmental policy. It may seem strange to us, of this day, that such could ever have been a debatable question. Without the Federal Union confusion and chaos would have prevailed. It is the ligic of history, from the days of Alexander and Charlemange that the unit of co-operation should be enlarged after the dire experience of War.

It was inevitable that the Pequot and Saybrook and New Haven colonies should be united to form the Connecticut colony.

All surrendered something of their earlier freedom for sake of the advantages of cooperation. It was inevitable that Connecticut and Massachusetts and New Hampshire and New York should unite to cooperate and that South Carolina and Alabama and Louisiana should also be federalized in the making of a mighty nation.

The men of '61 decided that the Union of sovereign States could not be broken even by the violent protest of constituent members. Their fathers, in the Constitutional Convention of 1787 made the "Connecticut Idea" primary in the adoption of the United States Constitution and they themselves gave "the last full measure of devotion" that such might continue to live as the distinctive element of American government. Their efforts established the largest cooperating unit in history—inscope, great beyond compare with ancient Greece. They preserved the faith of the fathers and transmitted each, unimpaired, to their children. Before an enlightened world, America has little to apologize for and much in which to take pride through the heritage of '61, in history, that mighty conflict is forever hallowed by the memory of the tragedy of the great war president.

Better for America, had Lincoln's policy prevailed regarding reconstruction rather than that which involved the partisanship and the interference of congress.

This occasion should not pass without the professed application of the great principles of our heritage to present day affairs. A most flagrant danger appears in the disregard and defiance of law. The brutal lynchings are disgraceful to the last degree. Statistics report a startling increase in the number of burglaries and murders the country over and the proportion in New York, Chicago and San Francisco is worse than in London, Paris or Montreal. "Respectable society" encourages the evasion of the prohibition amendment of the Federal Government.

A very "wave of crime" has swept American society in gathering power for the last 6 years.

The present day demands a greater measure of international cooperation. The "American Idea" of 1787 and 1861, now embodied in the Federation of near 50 sovereign states, logically demands cooperation among the 50 odd nations of the world. Commercially, isolation is impossible. Politically, it is possible only by denying the logic of our history and by evading international police duty and so meriting the reproach of our war allies and burdening ourselves with the extravagant cost of excessive armament.

Our civic heritage is not without the influence of educational training and religious guidance and inspiration. The teachings of universal brotherhood and of the duty of the strong to the weak and unfortunate form an integral part of the faith which we prize as an inheritance from the fathers.

In confident assurance the great Apostle Paul, having kept the faith, declared in pride and joy, a crown of righteousness was awaiting him. History has justified his assurance.

"America, the Beautiful" may yet show renewed loyalty to the ideals of our inheritance and exemplify the righteousness which exalteth a nation.

HAD THREE FATALITIES AND 121 MAJOR ACCIDENTS

Three fatalities and one hundred and twenty-one other major accidents occurred in the seven principal cities of Connecticut last week according to the weekly report of the statistical bureau of the department of motor vehicles. New Britain and Meriden are pointed out as having extremely bad records for the week.

New Britain considering its size, car registration, and population, made the worst grade with 18 automobile accidents serious enough to require a report to the department. Three of these accidents resulted in personal injuries, ten were between two automobiles, three between automobiles and trolley cars and the other five between various other objects.

Meriden had ten major accidents, three of these resulted in injuries, five in serious damage, and one in a death. Four of the accidents were between two automobiles, one between an automobile and a pedestrian, one between two automobiles and a motorcycle, one between an automobile and a dog, one between an automobile and a pole and two between automobiles an dtrolley cars.

In comparison with the accidents for the same week last year and accidents for the past three or four weeks, New London and Bridgeport show the best record, New London having but three accidents in comparison with twelve last year, and Bridgeport eighteen in comparison with twenty-three.

Detailed Report for Last Week

New London	3	12
Waterbury	10	7
Bridgeport	18	23
Hartford	35	36
New Haven	27	36
Meriden	10	4
New Britain	18	11
Totals	121	130

There was one fatal case each in Waterbury, Hartford and Meriden this year.

MILESTONES TO PROSPERITY A CONNECTICUT MOVIE

Now that the trees are in leaf again, and the Connecticut woodlands are in the height of their beauty, plans have been completed for taking a forestry educational moving picture. Arrangements have been made with the U. S. Department of Agriculture by the state forester and the Connecticut Forestry association to have our forest need presented graphically. A scenario entitled Milestones of Prosperity written by government experts will be acted by Connecticut people in Conecticut woods and will later be shown throughout the state. The Hartford company of which Guy Hedlund is director will have charge of the acting.

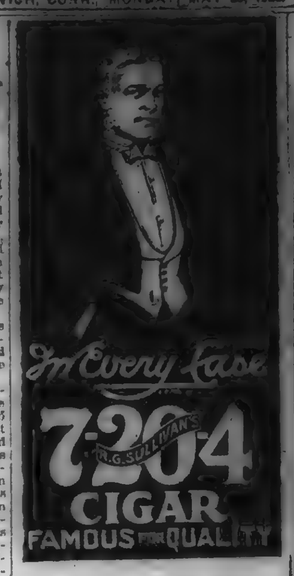
The scenes will be taken in various places. Picturesque Sage's Ravine in Salisbury will furnish an appropriate setting for some of the most delightful love scenes. Later the far famed Cathedral pines of Cornwall and the splendid forest plantations in Middlebury will be introduced. Suspense in the picture is furnished by a forest fire in which the lovely heroine is thrown from her horse and left senseless to be rescued at the proper moment by the hero. This scene will doubtless be taken in some forest which has been burned this spring. Real trees will be induced to fall in a most exciting way, and nothing will be omitted which will make the picture both educational and enjoyable.

The cast is made up of Connecticut people. Guy Hedlund who has had wide experience in the movies takes the part of the hero. Miss Sibyl Brewer of Glastonbury is the heroine. The other actors are Thomas Wainwright and Frank Mather, both of Hartford. The scenes in and about Salisbury including the beautiful Sage's Ravine have already been filmed.

Memorial Day Speaker

Rev. Charles H. Ricketts will give the Memorial Day address at Chelsea Parade this year. At 2 p. m. (standard time) he will speak in the Methodist church at Gales Ferry the same day. On June 6 he will give a patriotic speech at the conference of six churches that meets in Griswold.

Aztecs had a lunar calendar of unusual accuracy.



MAY FETE AND BRIDGE AIDS COLLEGE ENDOWMENT

The May festival and bridge held Saturday afternoon at the state armory by the Connecticut College alumnae and undergraduates was a marked success and will add a good sum to the endowment fund.

The feature attraction was the doll exhibit in charge of Miss Annie Ruggles, consisting of a collection of dolls of historical interest and foreign dolls loaned by Norwich people. In connection with the exhibit, dolls were placed on sale and the demand was great.

Tables with centerpieces of lollypop ladies were arranged for bridge and for the young people. Norwegian peasants sold candy and cake, Irish Colleens served punch. The ice cream was served by young women dressed in caps and aprons of pastel shades, while Mother Goose and her famous children had charge of the grab bag. Balloons were for sale by Chinese maidens.

The decorations were in blue and white, the college colors, with pastel shades at the various tables. The Connecticut College cook book and bed spreads by the Georgia mountain whites were features also.

In the program was dancing and music furnished by the Connecticut College girls, Academy orchestra, and pupils of Mrs. Penfield's dancing class, also sleight of hand features by Mr. Banfield.

The affair was in charge of Miss Dorothy Gregson, assisted by the following committees:

Dolls—Mary Coughlin.
Ice Cream—Louise Bailey.
Grabs—Helen Higgins, Catherine Dodd, Violet Disco, Helen Avery.
Balloons—Irma Graff.
Candy—Georgette Comeau.
Bridge—Marion Shea and Mary Higgins.
Cake—Constance Clapp.
Spreads—Mrs. B. F. Marshall, New London.
Punch—Pauline Mather.
Doll Exhibit—Miss Annie Ruggles, Miss Jane Bill, Miss Elizabeth Huntington.
Flowers—Louise Ernst.
Program—Clementine Jordan.
Dancing—Katherine Slayter, Edith Bender, Katherine Renwick, Letitia Parker, Deborah Parker, Lois Bussey, Patience Norman.
General Arrangements—Mrs. Marion Nelson.

About fifty Academy girls assisted as waitresses and attendants at the booths.

George Gifford of the Boston Store assisted in the purchasing and arrangements of the dolls.

BETSY ROSS PICTURE AT Y. M. C. A. SUNDAY SERVICE

A good sized audience assembled in the big gymnasium of the Norwich Young Men's Christian Association Sunday afternoon when the five reel moving picture feature on The Life of Betsy Ross was shown. After the singing of The New America, scripture reading and prayer the pictures were shown, Hugh Kinder furnishing very appropriate music on the piano. The pictures were interesting from the start, and at times there were thrilling incidents in the story. General Washington requested Betsy Ross to make the first Stars and Stripes, as she had demonstrated her ability in the upholstering business which she conducted after her husband had lost his life in the cause of liberty. The portrayal of the old colonial styles of dress, and the manner that seem peculiar to us now proved quite a distinct contrast to our dress and manners.

Betsy was shown as a real heroine, as she protected her brother-in-law who had been arrested as a spy from death by hiding him in her house, and afterward when he had been captured and sentenced to die, Betsy hurried to the place of execution and arrived in the nick of time with a pardon from General Washington.

The whole picture was filled with spirit of patriotism, and was fitting indeed for a Memorial Sunday service. The audience expressed pleasure for the privilege of seeing this patriotic feature picture.

STERLING IN CHARGE OF STATE POLICE BARRACKS

The state police department will open today (Monday) a new barracks at Groton, to be known as Station No. 6. M. R. Sterling, now assigned to the Norwich district, will be commanding officer in charge of the Groton barracks. As soon as the new law adding thirty men to the present state police force becomes effective it is hoped to have six officers regularly stationed at Groton.

The establishment of this station is in line with Superintendent Hurley's policy of giving the fullest possible protection to rural districts and of locating stations at points where the main highways can be patrolled in all directions. The new station is ideally located on the Eastern Point road and is expected to be of great benefit to New London county. The state police department now has barracks located in Hartford, Centerbrook, Ridgefield, Canaan, Stafford Springs and Danielson, in addition to the one at Groton.

Officer Sterling is to give instruction in motorcycle riding this week to the six men who will be assigned to this station.

JOHN J. SHEEHY HOME AFTER HOSPITAL TREATMENT

John J. Sheehy, who has been a patient in the Danbury hospital for a number of weeks, has recovered and on Saturday returned to his home at 211 Prospect street, delighted once again to be with his family.

Mr. Sheehy is superintendent in Danbury and while on a business trip to a nearby place his automobile became stalled in a snow drift. Mr. Sheehy used his foot endeavoring to get the car out of the snow bank and suddenly the wheel spun around injuring his foot so badly that amputation was necessary.

While in the Danbury hospital several Norwich friends have called on him and numerous letters or cards from relatives and friends here have made his stay more cheerful. Mr. Sheehy has been kindly treated by his company and his friends will be pleased to learn that as soon as health will permit he is again to return to his duties in the Danbury office.

ROQUE CLUB ELECTS, PREPARING FOR SEASON

President James L. Case presided over the annual meeting of the Norwich Roque and Tennis Club held last week in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Shetucket street. Reports of Secretary John J. O'Rourke and Treasurer A. G. Bliven were read and accepted showing the club to be in excellent standing.

Officers were elected as follows: President, James L. Case; vice president, A. L. Peale; secretary and treasurer, John J. O'Rourke; chairman of membership committee, Henry D. Johnson.

It was voted to put two of the tennis courts into condition immediately and the executive committee was given power to put others in shape as needed. The Academy boys have been using one of the courts for a week. One of the roque courts will be made ready for use at once and others later.

ELMER E. NEAL RETURNS TO STANDARD STEEL BEARINGS

Elmer E. Neal, widely known gun and ball bearing manufacturer has returned to the Marlin-Rockwell corporation, after a vacation of two years to assume his new duties as works manager of the Standard Steel and Bearings at Plainville.

Mr. Neal will be remembered as directing the manufacture of guns during the war for the Marlin-Rockwell corporation when this corporation captured all prizes offered for the greatest production of guns in a limited time.

RESIGNS AS SUPERINTENDENT AT ATLANTIC CARTON

Bernard Devlin of Laurel Hill, formerly of Greeneville, who for 3 1-2 years has been superintendent of the Atlantic Carton company, of Golden street, has resigned his position.

Mr. Devlin was much liked by his help who had attained such a warm feeling for him as that all the young men employed would call him "Barney". The help under him showed their great appreciation by making a little collection in the shop and on his departure on Friday evening presented him a $20 gold piece. They all bid him goodbye and expressed their regrets at losing such a great friend, as in many cases he would spend an hour at a time giving advice to the younger ones showing them the better and wiser ways.

Engagement Announced

At a bridge party given recently in Yonkers, N. Y., announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Jessica E. Pendleton of this city to Edgar S. Leland of Providence, R. I.

The Boston Store Reid & Hughes Co. conn

JUST ARRIVED!

Women's and Misses' Summer Dresses

SPECIALLY PRICED

A BEAUTIFUL SELECTION AT

$10.00

GENUINE NON-CRUSH LINENS — FRENCH VOILES
GENUINE NORMANDIE VOILES — FIGURED CREPES
SUMMER NOVELTIES

This first arrival is very complete in styles, in colorings, and the newness and crispness of these first summer frocks is very pleasing after the heavier garments of a cold winter and a backward spring.

COLORS ARE—NAVY, BLACK, BROWN, WHITE, PEACH, HARDING BLUE AND MANY NEW SHADES.

YOUR CHOICE ONLY $10.00

20% DISCOUNT ON ALL CHILDREN'S COATS

20% DISCOUNT WOMEN'S POIRET TWILL AND TRICOTINE SUITS

20% DISCOUNT ON WOMEN'S COATS FROM $39.50 UPWARD

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.

DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.

THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY

(Incorporated 1824)
Main Street, Corner Broadway

Norwich Bulletin.

1798 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 128 POPULATION 29,685 NORWICH, CONN., TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1923 TEN PAGES—70 COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

FIRE DAMAGE OF $250,000 IN THE CENTER OF ROCKVILLE

Monitor Block Was Entirely Wiped Out—Seven Large Stores Were Destroyed With Their Stocks—Two Other Stores Were Badly Burned and Damaged by Water—Flames Also Consumed a Lumber Yard—Rockville Fire Department Was Assisted by Equipment From Hartford and Manchester—Cause of the Fire Has Not Been Determined.

(Special to The Bulletin)

Rockville, May 28.—The worst fire in the history of the city swept through the business district here late today causing a loss estimated at $250,000, wiping out the Monitor block, practically the entire section known as the board walk, a neighboring lumber yard, and damaging many other buildings and business blocks.

The fire broke out at 3.20 o'clock either in the rear of the Cavanaugh & Burke furniture store on East Main street or in the five story wooden structure owned by that company situated in the rear of the store. For over three hours the fire was fought by the local department assisted by apparatus from Hartford and Manchester. It was under control about 6.40 o'clock after Fire Commissioner Dillon and Chief Moran of the Hartford fire department had directed the efforts of the departments to confining the fire to the block where it started, though neighboring structures at times seemed doomed.

Spectators claim to have heard an explosion in the rear of the Burke furniture store shortly before the fire broke out and then saw smoke issuing from the wooden building where hundreds of mattresses were stored. Within five minutes the building was a mass of flames and the fire spread quickly to other stores in the block, gutting them completely, and for a time threatened to cross over to buildings on Market street, seven of them being damaged to some extent.

The list of the buildings and stores wiped out by the fire and those suffering damage either by fire or water was given out after the fire including the board walk property owned by George P. Wendheisel, a long one story brick structure called the Monitor block, one of the chief business center of the city, the Seifert Tire shop, Cavanaugh & Burke furniture store, George W. Hills paint shop, two Woolworth stores, the Millinery store of Mrs. M. E. McCarthy, all in the Monitor block, and the Strickland Shoe store, the Metcalf drug store and McNeil grocery were both damaged by fire and water.

A two story structure nearby known as the Orcutt Homestead was badly burned and business houses in the block suffering losses as follows: City Fire company, $100; about $100, most of the good being saved by spectators who learned that he had no insurance. The Clara F. Seidel millinery store had water damage.

By far the heaviest loss came in the destruction of the lumber yard and lumber machinery of the Hills lumber yard, owned by the estate of George W. Hill. This was situated directly in the rear of the Monitor block and here the flames were caught in a pocket, making a roaring furnace that the firemen could not hold back.

The dentist shop of George W. Allen and the tailor shop of Wm. Van Ness were considerably damaged by water, and the blacksmith shop of O. W. Finley in the rear of the Frank W. Robertson property was totally destroyed.

Most of the goods of the Royal Dry Goods store were saved, but considerable water damage was suffered by the Economy Grocery company of Waterbury, located in the Robertson block. The hardware store of George W. Stats in the same block was also considerably damaged. Mr. Robertson estimated his loss at about $20,000 partly covered by insurance.

The building of the Rockville Leader was threatened for a time and early reports gave it that the newspaper building had been gutted, but fortunately this building was just outside the edge of the fire swept area.

George P. Wendheisel, owner of the boardwalk property, suffered the greatest loss and owing to the high cost of building materials it is doubtful if he will rebuild for some time. His loss was practically covered by insurance.

During the height of the fire the New Haven freight yard was threatened and two cars and a quantity of freight were destroyed before the spread of the fire in this direction could be checked. A small wooden bridge on Market street that stood in the path of the fire was quickly destroyed but fast work by the firemen prevented the flames spreading to any distance on Market street.

First figures given out after the fire began to spread out far beyond the control of the local department placed the loss as high as $500,000 but as individual store owners working with fire adjusters checking up on the losses the amount dropped until the revised figures by adjusters placed the loss at a quarter of a million dollars.

Lack of water pressure made it impossible for the firemen to hold the fire to the Monitor block and it was not until the department received aid from Hartford and Manchester that the fire was held back, preventing a more serious conflagration.

FIRST CARS SINCE STRIKE OPERATED IN SCHENECTADY

Schenectady, N. Y., May 28.—Operation today of Schenectady's first trolley cars since the walkout of trolley company employes nearly two weeks ago apparently was regarded with little but curiosity by Schenectady citizens, union and non-union men alike.

The first cars left the barn at 10 o'clock this morning. At 4.30 this afternoon the service was suspended until tomorrow. The feeling here among company officials and union leaders, as expressed tonight, was that today's operation of cars served as a demonstration on the part of the company to feel out the situation. The heavily screened cars attracted a few persons as passengers. Many more stopped to start at the impressive escort of police automobiles and motorcycles which paced the cars back and forth on State street. Here and there a few catcalls were flung at the car crews behind their steel wire guards. At no time was there anything approaching a demonstration.

The movement of cars today was officially ignored by the trolleymen's union. Strike leaders tonight had nothing to say regarding any change in the situation.

EXTENSION OF TIME IN WORLD ESSAY CONTEST

Boston, May 28.—The date for receiving foreign essays in the world essay contest of the American school citizenship league has been extended this year to Aug. 1, Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews, secretary of the league, announced today. Essays from the schools of the United States will be handed in on June 1 as originally planned.

A cablegram recently received from Spain asking for an extension to August prompted the league in its action in the interests of all foreign countries participating this year. These countries are England, Japan, Germany, Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, Spain, Denmark, Switzerland and Chile. The awards will be made next fall.

SPEED RECORD FOR NEW SCOUT CRUISER DETROIT

Quincy, Mass., May 28.—The new scout cruiser Detroit, returning late today from her trials on the Rockland, Maine, cruise, was greeted at the Fore River yards here as the holder of a new speed record. The vessel reached a speed of 33 knots over a measured mile on the Rockland course during her trial runs, setting a new marks in Atlantic waters.

In her run from Rockland today the Detroit was given her final test, a six hour run at 25 knots to test fuel consumption. Officers on board said the trial was satisfactory.

CONVICT BRINDELL SENT TO PRISON AT DANNEMORA

Ossining, N. Y., May 28.—Handcuffed to another prisoner, Robert P. Brindell, former head of the New York Building Trades Council, who is serving a sentence at Sing Sing for extortion, was sent under guard to the Clinton prison at Dannemora tonight. Brindell was placed in solitary confinement yesterday when he was discovered by Warden Lawes in a conference with his family outside Wilson walls.

WERE NO INDICTMENTS AGAINST E. MONT REILY

Washington, May 28 (By the A. P.).—In reporting the resignation of Governor E. Mont Reily of Porto Rico on Feb. 16, it was stated in these despatches that a grand jury at San Juan had indicted the governor. This was a mistake. There was a grand jury investigation concerning several officials there, but no indictments were ever returned.

Mr. Reily also has drawn attention to another statement, on April 7, 1922, contained in a despatch from San Juan, which refered to a grand jury presentment charging the then governor and two others with "misuse of public funds for private purposes." It is pointed out that what the grand jury criticized was that the "careless way the funds were handled might cause the government to lose a considerable sum," and that this was not a charge of "misuse of public funds for private purposes."

The statement as to the foregoing despatches is made in all fairness to former Governor Reily.

$1,000,000,000 BID FOR THE GOV'T MERCHANT FLEET

Washington, May 28.—A different but informal offer to purchase the entire active portion of the government merchant fleet has been received by the shipping board in the form of a single bid.

The proposal was delivered to members of the board late today by a representative of a group of financial interests whose identity was not disclosed. The envoy of the bidders offered to post a bond of $1,000,000 as a guarantee of sincerity. The aggregate amount suggested in the proposal was said to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000.

BOY FATALLY INJURED BY A PITCHED BALL

Salem, Mass., May 28.—Walter Hilenski, a grammar school pupil, was struck above the heart with a pitched ball during an elementary school league baseball game here today, and died a few minutes later. He was 13 years old and one of a family of eleven children.

OBITUARY.

Joseph W. Folk.

Washington, May 28.—Joseph W. Folk, former governor of Missouri, and once a leading figure in democratic party politics, died today in New York.

Information of his death was received at the law office he has maintained here for the past several years. He passed away at the home of his sister, Mrs. James A. Webb, after having been in ill health for some months.

The practice of his profession here soon after his retirement as chief counsel for the interstate commerce commission. He has taken part in several important international litigations, for which he had been particularly fitted by his experience during the first Wilson administration as solicitor of the state department. For several years he had been counsel here for the government of Peru. About a year ago he suffered a nervous breakdown, from which he never completely recovered. He was 53 years old. Funeral services will be held Thursday at his birthplace, Bronsville, Tennessee.

Rebels in Ireland to Cease Hostilities

Captured Documents Reveal That De Valera Has Realized the Futility of Armed Resistance to Free State.

Dublin, May 28.—(By The A. P.)—Captured documents made public today by the Free State government show that Eamonn De Valera and his chief of staff, Frank Aitken, have definitely ordered a cessation of active hostilities by the republicans, admitting that "the republic can no longer be defended successfully by your arms."

The statement emanating from De Valera comes as a quick change of attitude on the part of the republican leader and is regarded in Free State quarters as proving the effectiveness of the government's campaign. Scarcely more than a week ago, in a communication sent to The Associated Press, he declared that the "one-sided truce" could not continue indefinitely, but this brought no response from the government and the document now made public shows he has brought the fighting to a definite end.

There will be no formal surrender of arms, but the order by Aitken that they shall be dumped is almost the equivalent, for arms dumps are easily discovered by the Free State patrols. It is believed the republicans now are likely to concentrate their efforts upon the election campaign, believing that their chances of influencing the voters are greater with the cessation of the armed campaign and attacks on property.

Definite abandonment of the state of war is expected to prove embarrassing to the government, whose imprisonment and military measures have up to this time been legally justified by the decision of the courts that were necessary to the campaign against the irregulars. No immediate large releases of prisoners, however, are probable.

A BILL FOR ABOLITION OF THE LANDLORD SYSTEM

Dublin, May 28 (By the A. P.).—The government bill providing for abolition of the landlord system and the substitution of a peasant proprietorship was introduced in the Dail Eireann today. The operation will require $25,000,000 to complete and will affect 70,000 tenants now paying annual rentals of nearly 1,000,000 pounds.

The measure provides that, after a fixed date, all land shall be vested in land commission. The present landlords will be paid in 4 3-4 per cent. stock on a flat rate for fifteen years in purchase of their property. The tenants will pay 65 per cent. of their present rent in the form of purchase annuities, the government to bridge the difference with a 10 per cent. bonus.

All arrears in rent prior to 1920 are wiped out, and arrears since then are payable at a reduction of 25 per cent. The farmers' deputies are understood to favor the bill.

CORTONE IS WANTED FOR BURGLARY IN BRIDGEPORT

Bridgeport, Conn., May 28.—George Cortone, 18, of this city, who was shot in the arm while trying to escape from a policeman in New Haven Saturday night after he had been arrested on a charge of burglary, will be re-arrested by the local police, upon his release by the New Haven authorities, on a warrant charging him with burglary in connection with the Maxim Shirt company robbery here a few months ago, when shirts and silk goods valued at $1,800 was stolen. Cortone is being detained by the New Haven police under bonds of $3,500 on charges of burglary and resisting a policeman.

When first arrested, Cortone gave his name as "Frank Carsale, of New York," but later revealed his identity. Upon receipt of information from the New Haven authorities relative to the youth's arrest, Detective Daniel Brolley, of the local department left for New Haven today to question the prisoner.

20 PROPOSALS RECEIVED BY THE SHIPPING BOARD

Washington, May 28.—Twenty proposals have been received by the shipping board, it was announced late today, in response to the invitation for bids for the purchase of the government merchant marine. Of these, Chairman Lasker announced, "four or five appear to offer possibilities, and four more are in the twilight zone."

The chairman expressed the opinion that not more than eight of the proposals were sufficiently definite in form to warrant the board proceeding further in negotiating with the bidders. Telegrams have been sent to the eight inviting them to confer with the board concerning their proposals.

Until these conferences are concluded, it was said officially, the effort to dispose of the ships cannot be termed a failure. Mr. Lasker characterized as the best bid submitted one which came from a private individual for the Seattle-to-Orient route.

AN EAST INDIAN DENIED CITIZENSHIP BY COURT

New Haven, May 28.—Because he was held to be neither a member of the "black or white races," Vitchell Lallas, an East Indian, today was denied citizenship by Judge Edwin S. Thomas in the naturalization session of the United States federal court. This ruling is the first decision in Connecticut under the interpretation of the citizenship code recently handed down by the United States supreme court.

Lallas has lived here six years, learning the English language and working here. He had planned to bring his wife to America as soon as he had been naturalized.

CLERGYMAN GUILTY OF SHOOTING GIRL EMPLOYE

Buffalo, N. Y., May 28.—Dr. Samuel S. Kennedy was found guilty today of assault in connection with the shooting of Veronica Ward, an employe of his office, known as "The Girl With the Tissue Paper Heart." He will be sentenced on Friday.

Miss Ward testified that the physician, who is 64 years old, shot her because she refused to marry him. She also charged that he performed an illegal operation on her.

The bullet pierced the girl's chest near the heart and only a remarkable surgical operation saved her life.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

The Coca Cola company yesterday increased its quarterly dividend on common stock from $1.50 to $1.75.

If a change is to be made in Great Britain's diplomatic representation in Washington, no intimation of it has been received at the British embassy.

President Wojciechowski of Poland accepted the resignation of Premier Sikorski, who was given a vote of lack of confidence in the diet.

A young man was killed and two men were seriously injured when their automobile went over the bank of the Lackawanna trail at Nicholson, Pa.

J. H. Short, deputy U. S. marshal, was shot and mortally wounded near Maiden, Ky., by an alleged moonshiner, whom he was attempting to arrest.

Willis H. Crowe, Jr., the Colgate student who was injured in a fight at the college, is a son of Dr. William H. Crowe, of New Haven.

Six arrests were made and as many places raided over the week end in New Haven by police who have been conducting a campaign against the illicit sale of liquor.

Fishing without permission in the Great Ceasetown dam of the Springbarre, Pa., three men became trapped brook Water company, near Wilkesin the mud and drowned.

Henry Viette, 24, wanted by the officials of Hartford county jail on a charge of violating his parole, was arrested in Waterbury, ending a search for him which last two years.

An altitude record for women flyers was set at Los Angeles when Mlle. Andre Peyere, French aviatrix, reached a height of 15,000 feet above Rogers airport.

A perfectly preserved mummy believed to be that of an Inca chief, has been unearthed from a hill in the Province of Salta, Argentina, near the Chilean border.

The value of the rainfall in the Edmonton district, Albert, over the week end was placed at $25,000,000 by Professor Cutler of the agriculture department of the University of Alberta.

Henry Ford has been invited to present his views on finance to a group of well known economists at the convention of the National Monetary association in New York on June 7.

William Jennings Bryan will preside at the international economic conference at Gothenburg, July 19 and 13, it was announced by the Southern Commercial congress, which is organizing the meeting.

Damage amounting to $4,000 was caused in Waterbury when fire broke out in the balcony of the Scenic theatre on Bank street. All patrons had left the building an hour and a half previous to the discovery of the blaze.

John F. Harrigan, of Worcester, was re-elected president of the Massachusetts branch, American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic at its third annual convention in Faneuil hall in Boston.

Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Percora in New York, signed a recommendation that the larceny charges against the Poillion sisters, Katherine and Charlotte, formerly of Troy, N. Y., be dismissed.

Sugar has become such a precious commodity in Berlin that it is again being rationed out in a manner reminiscent of the "sweetless" days of the war.

Frederick Werner, 22 years old, was almost instantly killed Sunday afternoon when he was thrown from his motorcycle on the turnpike going into New Haven.

In a letter to his constituents Austen Chamberlain complains that no opportunity was afforded him or his colleagues in the last British government to make a contribution to conservative party unity.

A quantity of narcotics and a complete outfit of an addict were found in the automobile which carried John L. Whitfield, accused of slaying a Cleveland policeman, and Marie price, his 14 years old companion. In flight, from Cleveland to Madison.

While five persons were being rescued from Lake Erie, at Cleveland, the bodies of two unidentified men, believed to have been in the water for two or three months, were washed ashore in other sections of the city late Sunday.

Harry Downer, a farmer who recently moved to Byfied, Mass., with his family, attacked his wife with a razor and a hammer and then killed himself with the former weapon. The woman is said to be in a critical condition.

The state motor vehicle department will take steps to recover bonds amounting to $7,000 posted by Harold and Nathan Goldy and George S. Singer, confessed auto thieves, because of their violations governing state auto dealers.

The condition of Representative Claude Kitchin, former democratic leader of the house of representatives, who has been a patient in a hospital in Wilson, N. C., for several weeks, has been very serious the last two days but yesterday afternoon he showed some improvement.

A number of college presidents, governors, editors, lawyers and clergymen and other prominent persons were among the signers of a petition asking the release of 52 prisoners convicted under war time laws sent to President Harding, by the joint amnesty committee.

The passengers and crew of the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale, which sank Monday afternoon striking Cape Freels rock, off the southern coast of Newfoundland, were picked up at St. John's, N. F., by the liner Melita, of the Canadian Pacific line and continued their voyage to England.

The 45 Boston unions of telephone operators affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers will hold special meetings this week to vote upon the question of polling a strike vote to enforce their demands for increased wages and shorter working hours.

Deploring America's isolation from world affairs, Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell university, in an address at Trinity church, New York, at a service commemorating the 100th anniversary of Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., deplored the present "outbreak of intolerance" and "rein of prejudice" in the United States.

Leaders Unable to Restrain Bricklayers

Men in New York Have Defied Orders of the International Union Officials to Return to Work.

New York, May 28.—Defying orders of officials of the International Bricklayers' union to return to work on jobs of three contractors with whom the union has national agreements, striking members of that craft again walked out on two of the operations involved after they had resumed work today. The walk-out was said not to have been general.

As a result of the bricklayers' action, officers of the International Union summoned officers of the strike committee to a conference, the outcome of which was not announced.

The Mason Builders' association, in a statement issued tonight, declared that to grant the striking bricklayers' demand for an increase of $2 a day would result in general wage advances in other building crafts.

A wage agreement was reached between the Master Carpenters' association and representatives of the 26,000 unionized carpenters of this city, the union agreeing to continue the present scale. The Master Carpenters, under the agreement, will pay the workers a $1 bonus a day from June 1 for the rest of the year.

It was believed by employers that the present agreement would help offset the threatened general strike of building workers set for June 1.

VIRGINIA YARD INQUIRED INTO AT THE MORSE TRIAL

Washington, May 28.—Affairs of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation were inquired into today at the Morse trial with particular reference to the representations made to the emergency fleet corporation by the Morses prior to the awarding of a contract for the construction of twelve steel steamers at Alexandria, Va.

Negotiations for this contract were opened early in November, 1917, and it was signed on December 1, 1917. Benjamin W. Morse wrote to the fleet corporation under date of Nov. 15, 1917, that the Groton Iron Works, a Morse concern, had "ample financial resources" and that housing for the workmen at Alexandria could be had by using the steamer Berkshire.

The evidence was that later a proposal was made that the government permit the company to use half of the first payment on account of the ships for completing the plant. It did not appear what was done with this proposal, but minutes of a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Virginia plant on the day after the contract was signed showed that decision was reached to issue a bond for $750,000 to the emergency fleet corporation, the money to be used in discharging indebtedness of the company and making additions and betterments to the plant.

George S. Hadford, a former naval constructor, who was in charge of the contract division of the fleet corporation during part of 1917 and 1918 testified that Charles W. Morse began negotiations for a contract for the Virginia plant on November 11, 1917, being accompanied by former Representative Carlin of Virginia. On some later visits to the fleet corporation offices Morse was accompanied by some of his sons and Stuart G. Gibboney, counsel for Morse.

Varying proposals as to the number of ships to be built were made, Radford said, the totals running from thirty down to ten.

DIRIGIBLE EQUIPPED TO COMBAT INSECT PESTS

Hammondsport, N. Y., May 28.—The country's tiniest dirigible, the U. S. M.-B., specially equipped to war on gypsy moths, boll weevils and other insect pests from the air, will take off here Memorial day for Concord, N. H., on its first official flight, watched by members of the United States air service, the department of agriculture, and the aeronautical chamber of commerce.

The dirigible has a gas bag capacity of 50,000 cubic feet and is capable of maintaining itself in the air for fourteen hours with three passengers. It is equipped with two motors, placed on outriggers.

WORKING ON TREATY OF THE U. S. AND TURKEY

Lausanne, May 28 By the A. P.)—The informal conversations for revision of the treaties between the United States and Turkey progressed so favorably today that it is believed formal negotiations can begin at an early date. The conversations were between Joseph C. Grew and Ismet Pasha and the experts of the American and Turkish delegations; their object was to find a basis on which formal negotiations could be opened with the prospect of a favorable result.

Specifically it is the desire of the two delegations to replace the treaty of 1830 by new treaties.

SHIPS SUNK BY HUGE WAVES AT RIO JANEIRO

Rio Janeiro, May 28.—Driven by a strong south wind, heavy surf today pounded the shipping in the bay of Rio Janeiro, sinking several small boats, launches and tugs. The huge waves are giving a severe test to the ne wsea wall which defends the site of the International Exposition, but late this afternoon it was holding sturdily in the face of the still rising sea.

No loss of life has been reported.

SWINDLERS WORKING RELATIVES OF ALIENS

New York, May 28.—Charging that swindlers were operating under false pretensions to "influence" at Ellis Island to obtain money from friends and relatives of aliens, Harry H. Schlacht, president of the Downtown Chamber of Commerce and former U. S. welfare commissioner at Ellis Islands declared today he would seek a conference with Secretary of Labor Davis in an effort to curb the operations of the perpetrators.

LANDING OF RUM IN NEW JERSEY HAS GROWN LIGHT

Highlands, N. J., May 28.—Landing of rum from the liquor fleet off northern New Jersey recently has grown light. Occasionally runners have been able to dodge the coast guard patrol and land small cargoes, while fishermen land a few cases now and then.

STRIKE MOVEMENT IN THE RUHR BECOMING GENERAL

French Suppressed Communists at Wanne, Where Demonstrations Had Reached Threatening Proportions—German Authorities Have Prohibited the Sale of Alcoholic Liquors in the Entire Disturbed Area—The Strikers at Dusseldorf Are Endeavoring to Organize a General Strike in the City.

Essen, May 28 (By the A. P.)—The strike movement is spreading throughout the Ruhr and fresh walkouts among the metal workers and miners are reported in nearby unoccupied territory.

A general strike called at Hamborn is affecting the iron works there belonging to the Thyssen interests. Communist manifestants at Wanne became so threatening that the French intervened for the first time, as a result of which the demonstration collapsed.

The sale of alcoholic liquors has been prohibited in the entire disturbe darea by the German authorities, but the regulation is not being greatly observed.

The communists in Bochum extended their position today, but the city firemen and civilian volunteers, wearing white arm bands, still hold the firehouse. The communists for the third time stormed this position at daylight today, the fighting lasting more than an hour.

The shooting was heaviest since the siege began, but only a few casualties are reported. The main attack of the reds was from the railroad viaduct crossing the street car near the firehouse, where the reds took up their position at dawn, using rifles and revolvers. The defenders found refuge behind barricades and drove off the enemy.

Simultaneously the reds delivered attacks in the streets leading to Firehouse square. The firemen have an observation post in a small steel tower, where ordinary hose is stored. Attempts by the reds to pick off "white" lookouts failed. Further attacks are expected tonight, and in the meantime the reds are in control of the western part of the town, the factory district, the whiter holding the business quarter, where the banks and chief shops are located. Two shopkeepers in the working district were taken as hostages, and other shopkeepers will likely be seized unless food prices are reduced.

The communist efforts at Duesseldorf to reduce prices were blocked by the report that security police were proceeding to that place, in consequence of which the control commission disbanded.

The strikers at Duesseldorf will hold a meeting tonight and endeavor to organize a general strike in the city, which has a half a million inhabitants. The men now on strike include all gas employes, many of those employed in electrical plants and some of the street car workers.

Five hundred communists and strikers visited a factory to induce the men to strike. The director of the works summoned the security police, who arrived in a big auto truck. A fight ensued and one rioter was killed and four were wounded. A child was trampled to death.

GERMAN PAYMENT OF 30,000,000 GOLD MARKS

New York, May 28.—The fourth and final installment of Germany's payments to meet the treasury bills advanced to Belgium for settlement of Belgium's claims during the last half of 1922, 30,000,000 gold marks arrived here today on the steamship Mount Clay from Hamburg. The gold was consigned to the International Acceptance Bank of this city. The gold was protected during the voyage by an electric burglar alarm.

MORE COMPLICATIONS FROM SHIP LIQUOR DECISION

Washington, May 28.—The treasury's problem of applying the supreme court's recent ship liquor decision appeared today to be growing more involved as deeper study was given the views expressed to the state department by the diplomatic representatives of England, France, Spain, Italy and the Netherlands. In connection with the representations of France, Ambassador Jusserand conferred during the day with Secretary Mellon, but there was nothing to indicate that their conversation had eased the situation.

While those officials who hive been pondering over the regulations to be promulgated under the court decision continued to examine laws and legal precedents, some treasury officials were giving attention to what was described as "the disadvantages" that may accrue to America's international trade if a literal application of the decision is necessary. There were many informal discussions between treasury officials and representatives of other departments regarding this phase of the problem but nothing tangible appeared to have resulted from them.

Meanwhnile, renewed consideration was being given to the elasticity of the provisions in the dry law giving exemption to medicinal liquor. The treasury has not decided to employ those provisions as a way out of the maze, but in this connection it was hinted that the French ambassador had directed attention to the laws of his own country which required French ships to carry liquor as crew rations.

While M. Jusserand's suggestions to the treasury were reported to have been largely of general nature, it was indicated they had made clear the attitude of the French government which previously had been supplied the state department.

It also became known today that the "damage" which rigid enforcement of the law's new construction, barring liquor from territorial waters of the United States, might do to their trade, had been pointed out to the treasury by business interests of the Virgin Islands and Porto Rico. The islands, it was pointed out, enjoy profitable business from many ships that stop for bunkering and the belief was expressed that if there was no arrangement to meet the situation both Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands would suffer commercial losses.

NEW BRITISH CABINET BEGINS ACTIVE CAREER

London, May 28.—(By The A. P.)—The new governrment, completed by the appointment of Sir Laming Worthington Evans as postmaster-general with a seat in the cabinet, started its active career today in uneventful fashion.

Stanley Baldwin, the new prime minister, was elected leader of the conservative party in place of the retiring premier, Andrew Bonar Law, at a party meeting.

The new premier and his ministers met parliament without ceremony. The customary speeches of eulogy and sympathy for the retiring premier and the welcome for the new head of the government were delivered briefly by the leaders of the various parties. Mr. Baldwin made no direct declaration of policy, except for the very general statement that he would continue along the lines laid down by M. Bonar Law and by conservative tradition.

LAUSANNE CONFERENCE NEARS TREATY STAGE

Lausane, May 28.—(By The A. P.)—Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, informed the Allies late tonight that he desired to finish the conference quickly and go home. He asked the leaders to spend the next three days in concentrating on the problems not yet settled, so that everything may be disposed of within a week, the ensuing week could be devoted to drafting the final text of the treaty.

Ismet declared his conviction that the Near East conference could be completed within a fortnight.

HENRY FORD'S NAME HISSED BY BRITH ABRAHAMITES

Atlantic City, N. J., May 28.—After an exciting scene in which his name was hissed and hooted, delegates attending the annual session of the Independent Order, Brith Abraham, today adopted a resolution criticising Henry Ford for his alleged attacks on Jews of the nation, assailing his presidential candidacy and accusing him of being the financial backer of the Ku Klux Klan. The measure was passed without a dissenting vote after speakers sponsoring it had been loudly cheered.

The resolution declares: "Be it resolved, that the order of Brith Abraham, now in session go on record as follows:

"That the delegates assembled condemn Henry Ford for his attitude against the Jews as un-American, and that his candidacy for president is an insult to the fundamentals upon which this country is based.

"Further, be it resolved, that this convention accuses Ford of being the financial backer of the hooded Ku Klux Klan who approves of their unpatriotic exploitation against the Jews Catholics, negroes and foreigners."

Acting Grand master Morris M. Green, of New York discussing the measure declared: "We feel that Ford is behind the Ku Klux Klan—that he is their sponsor, and we are glad to join with our Catholic brethren in fighting him and it."

MOVEMENT TO PROTECT SHRINERS FROM GOUGING

Washington, May 28.—Special agent of the district attorney's office began an investigation today of complaints of price gouging by certain business men in Washington in connection with the Shrine convention here next week. The complaints were transmitted from Shrine headquarters and full co-operation of the machinery of the law in preventing profiteering so far as possible was promised.

District Attorney Gordon said the investigation was pointed particularly at certain restaurants which, it was asserted, were preparing to increase their prices next week from 100 to 150 per cent. The charge was made that the proprietors of these places were acting in concert.

Some increases in prices were regarded by municipal officials generally as justified in view of the extra expense in the way of additional help, increased costs of commodities and the like which many business houses must incur in meeting the convention rush of business but warnings were given that such increases should be held within reasonable bounds.

BRUSH FIRES THREATEN TOWN OF WHITE RIVER, ONT

Winnipeg, May 28.—Residents of White River, Ont., were preparing to flee for their lives tonight as brush fires spread in a semi-circle around the town, according to a dispatch to the Free Press.

The flames, which originated near Depew, are sweeping forward northeast of White River, the dispatch said, and only a stretch of rising ground intervenes between the walls of fire and the town itself. Change of wind is the sole hope of averting destruction of the town, the message said.

ON TRIAL FOR CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD GOVERNMENT

Los Angeles, May 28.—The trial of six Los Angeles business men and two army officers on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government of approximately $1,000,000 through manipulated bids in an auction of surplus army goods at Camp Kearney near San Diego, in February, 1922, began today in federal court.

The defendants are Bob Sugarman, Ike, Dan and Joe Greenberg, Allen Harris and Eugene Hirsch, of Los Angeles, and Major Max Elser and Captain Frank Tingley. The army officers appeared in uniform and their counsel stated they had been tried by court martial and exonerated.

It was extimated one month would be required to complete the trial.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
31 Church Street Telephone 1029

The heroes of the town of Windham, the soldiers and sailors who gave up their lives on grim and bloody battle fields that America might live will be remembered on Memorial Day with appropriate ceremonies. All business in the town, including the city of Willimantic, will be suspended on that day that all may join the commemoration exercises. The 445 graves of the deceased veterans in the town of Windham will be duly decorated, by military and semi-military organizations, with flags and flowers.

Wednesday will mark the fifty-fourth annual Memorial Daye exercises in the town and the programme for the day will be on a similar plan as carried out in previous years. At 9 a. m. delegates from the veterans' associations and of the auxiliaries will leave the G. A. R. headquarters at the town building on the solemn tour of Windham Center, North Windham and St. Joseph's cemetery where the various graves will be decorated and committal services read. Upon returning here the veterans will be served a dinner by the Women's Relief corps.

The afternoon procession will form on High street and at 2 o'clock will start on its way to the Willimantic cemetery with Captain Frank P. Fenton as marshal. The marchers will form as follows: Platoon of police, Chief D. J. Killourey, commanding; Marshal Frank P. Fenton and staff; H. P. O. E. band, Company C, 169th Connecticut Infantry, Captain J. R. Morrison; Garde Sacred Heart, Captain Alfred Vedtefeuille; Boy Scouts' band, St. Joseph's parish, Boy Scout troops of Willimantic, Girl Scouts, James J. Shea post, No. 19, American Legion, Willimantic Y. D. Association, World War Veterans, Augustus C. Tyler camp, No. 4, U. S. W. V. Francis S. Long post, No. 80, G. A. R., Woman's Relief corps, No 38; Mary Todd Lincoln tent, Daughters of Veterans.

Fred M. Waver and Laura L. Walker were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at Spring Hill, Mansfield by Rev. Leonard Smith at the latter's home. Sons and daughters-in-law of the bride acted as attendants. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Paulson. A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, No. 34 Walnut street, this city, followed the ceremony. Those present were members of the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are enjoying a brief honeymoon after which they will reside on Walnut street. Mr. Weaver is employed by the New Haven railroad and the bride has been an employe of the American Thread company.

Miss Bridget Gallivan, a former resident of Willimantic, died at her home in Cambridge, Mass., last Saturday. Surviving her is one brother, Timothy J. Gallivan of Cambridge.

The death of Miss Edith Hodsdon, age 60, occurred last Friday in Cliftondale, Mass. The deceased leaves a brother and a sister, Mis Emma Hodsdon and Eugene Hodsdon of Cliftondale and three cousins, Chauncey Macfarlane of this city, Charles Macfarlane of South Windham and Mrs. Matthew Millder of New London. The remains arrived in this city Monday evening.

The remains of John G. Peterson were removed from the receiving vault at the Willimantic cemetery on Saturday and taken to Bridgeport for burial. Rev. Mr. Okerblom officiated at the service at the grave in the Mountain Grove cemetery. Members of the lodge of Odd Fellows acted as bearers. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Avery and Van Zant.

Adelard Monast who conducts a grocery and tobacco store at No. 1255 Main street appears before the police tribunal Monday morning charged with displaying meats and groceries for sale on Sunday, May 20. Monast entered a plea of not guilty at a previous session of the court. Prosecuting Attorney Samuel B. Harvey took the witness stand and testified that on the Sunday in question he entered the Monast store and found groceries and meat exposed for sale and two young men were waiting on a line of customers.

The defendant testified that he at no time intended to violate the law. He had covers which he used to cover such goods as it was unlawful to sell on Sunday and when he personally came to the store later in the day he found everything covered over. The meat on display had been uncovered to cut a steak for his own personal use.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Frank P. Fenton stated that in his opinion it was a technical violation of the law, allowing that it was possible that the son of the accused, who worked in the store, had failed to cover up all of the groceries, although ordered to do so by his father.

Due to the excellent reputation of the accused in this city, a small fine was asked for. Judge Foss imposed a fine of $2 and costs, amounting to $5.15. Frank Melo and Napoleon Valliant, local store keepers, who are charged with similar violations of the law, were notified that their cases were continued until Monday, June 11.

Harold Storrs of South Windham was fined $3 and costs, totalling $8.15 after he had pleaded guilty to speeding and not having his automobile registration. Storrs was arrested on the Windham road by Motorcycle Officer Bombria who followed the accused at an estimated rate of 40 miles per hour.

Monday morning at eight o'clock in St. Mary's church, Otis Berard, son of Edward Berard of 50 Willowbrook street and Miss Yvonne Lussier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Lussier were married by Rev. H. C. Belec. Rev. A. J. Rivard sang the nuptial mass. The best man was Denat Lussier and the maid of honor was Miss Irene Jolie.

The bride was attired in a beautiful white pussywillow silk gown with a white veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore a pink canton crepe gown with a hat to match and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The music was rendered by the St. Cecelia choir of which the groom is a member. Mrs. Joseph F. Gaudreau presided at the organ.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served to members of the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Berard have gone to New Hampshire on their honeymoon after which they will make their home with Mrs. Berard's parents on Ash street. The couple, both employees at local manufacturing plants, are well known and popular here.

A Nash touring car, the property of John Girardine of Ellington sustained a damaged engine and body Sunday afternoon when it struck another machine at Hop River. Giradine was on his way to this city and was traveling in the rear of another car. Four automobiles were coming from the opposite direction and the driver of the last in line attempted to pass the other three with the result that he cut in in front of the car ahead of Giradine's, causing the former machine to stop suddenly. Giradine, however could not stop in time and a collision resulted.

A wedding Monday morning was that of Hildeage Bouley and Miss Olive Vertefeuille who were united at 7 o'clock in St. Mary's church by Rev. H. C. Belec who also sang the nuptial mass. They were attended by Arthur Hart of Putnam and Mis Rose Vertefeuille, a cousin of the bride.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white georgette, trimmed with lace and a veil. The maid of honor wore a grey canton crepe gown trimmed with lace with a picture hat to match. Both carried shower bouquets.

A reception and wedding breakfast were held at the home of the bride's parents, No. 18 Lafayette street and was attended by over 50 guests. A large number of handsome gifts were received by the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Bouley will make their home at No. 17 Main street, Putnam on their return from their honeymoon.

Impressive exercises were held at St. Mary's church Sunday evening when fifty girls were received into the Children of Mary society. An inspiring sermon was delivered by Rev. A. J. Rivard. A church procession was staged by about 500 members of the society, all being dressed in white. Rev. A. J. Rivard offered the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and he was assisted by Revs. H. C. Belec and E. A. Mathieu. The Notre Furch quartet, Miss Eva Dion, Mrs. L. Fortier, Joseph Aubin and Joseph F. Gaudreau rendered several selections.

Friends from Hartford, Norwich, Putnam, North Windham and Washington, D. C., were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Guay, Sr., of Chaplin recently and presented their son, Lewis Guay a large May basket.

Conseil St. Cecile, a military organization of this city, won first prize for drilling and in the popularity contest at a recent meet in Webster. The Garde Sacred Heart, also of this city won first prize in drilling for the ladies' contest.

Valmore Dumas og 21 Johnston avenue was tendered a delightful party recently in honor of his 38th birthday. Among some of the out of town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Euclide Pimpare, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pimpare Alphonse Delude and Harvey Graveline, of Three Rivers, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Ovila Pimpare of Ware, Mass., Miss Rosa Pimpare, Mrs. Della Desormier, Albeni Touchette, Miss Florina Desormier, Mr. and Mrs. Laurla Rondeau and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leclaire and Miss Rose Dumas of this city.

Rev. O. S. Beaumeister of St. Joseph's church recently attended the funeral of a relatives in New York, making the trip by auto.

Notice has been sent to the local police from R. B. Stoeckel, commissioner of the state motor vehicle department, stating that the automobile operator's license held by John Desrosier of No, 121 Main street, has been suspended from May 23.

San Jose Council, No. 14, Knights of Columbus will hold its Memorial day exercises Sunday afternoon, June 10. The oration at St. Joseph's cemetery will be delivered by Attorney John C. Woodall of Hartford, former secretary to Augustus R. Lonargan. The committee in charge comprises: Grand Knight William F. Grady, Deputy Grand Knight Gilbert P. Flynn, Chancellor Albert J. Piche and Financial Secretary John P. McQuillan.

Miss Florence Simpson of New York is staying at the Beal cottage in Windham for a few weeks.

Certificates filed with the town clerk show that there were 25 births in the town of Windham during the month of April. Seventeen were boys and eleven were girls. They are:

1, Clarence Louis, son of Leo and Alice Cote Pure.

1, Ludlle Maria, daughter of Olan E. and Blanche Cartier Badger.

1, John James, son of John James and Florence V. Herbert Collins.

2, Samuel Joseph, Jr., son of S. J. and Anice McManus Turcotte.

3, Walter, son of Michael and Katie Beinac Zusscsak.

4, Evelyn Walburga, daughter of Danie F. and Josephine Pauline Gagne Curran.

5, Donald Arthur, son of George Arthur and Gladys E. Brown Hicks.

6, Frances Eileen, daughter of Francis Whiting and Dorothy Margaret Hurley Brown.

7, Mary Frances, daughter of Homer V. and Florence M. Chadwick Beebe.

8, Pauline Marie, daughter of Leonard C. and Catherine Wood Jeffers.

9, Newman Edgar, son of Ralph Newman and Annie Balfour Bowen.

10, Israel Rubin, son of Abraham and Rose Jaffe Jaffe.

11, Robert, son of Walter Abrahams and Baptiste Ethel Marierty Symerton.

13, Anita Lucille, daughter of David and Melanie Marcotte Marcotte.

13, Ralph Joseph, son of Frank and Mary O'Hara Cahill.

14, John Frederick, Jr., son of John Frederick and Wilhelmina Elizabeth Bowers Costello.

16, Lorraine Dora, daughter of William and Irene LaChapelle Martin.

17, Marie Therese Pauline, daughter of Arthur and Margaret Larouex Lariviere.

18, Leo Joseph, son of Raymond and Ardina Martin Genereux.

19, Marie Rita Alexina, daughter of Romeo and Albertine St. Pierre Arvisais.

25, Joseph Roland Ovila, son of Ovila and Laura Herveux Chalifoux.

27, William, son of George M. and May Stevens Eichels.

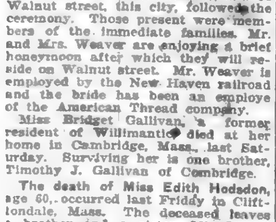
27, Selmore, son of Benjamin and Ruth Filler Zibulsky.

27, Sylvia, daughter of Benjamin and Ruth Filler Zibulsky.

28, Charles Howard Smith, son of Albert Bellware and Mamie Smith.

28, Earl William, son of Earl Waldo and Grace A. Sullivan Carter.

30, Harold, son of Arthur K. and Jessie McGrath McGrath.



Blue Ribbon Club Sandwich
Toast Chicken Bacon Lettuce and RICHARD HELLMANN'S
BLUE RIBBON MAYONNAISE

DENTIST
Dr. F. C. Jackson
SPECIALIZING IN PAINLESS EXTRACTING
718 MAIN STREET, WILLIMANTIC

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

Hiding a rash wont heal it
Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects.
Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment! It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.
Ask your druggist for Resinol.
Resinol

WESTERLY

Miss Marjorie D. Barbet, 91 High street, teacher in the public school of North Attleboro, is to be one of the members of the N. E. A. teachers' tour to California from Boston, leaving that city June 27th. This tour includes Grand Canyon, Yosemite, Riverside, Yellowstone, Royal Gorge, Colorado, New Mexico, returning by way of the Canadian Rockies, arriving in Boston July 27th.

New Haven railroad management announces that on Wednesday, May 30th, Memorial Day, the following freight trains have been cancelled: Midway to Providence and the local Midway to Bradford freights. Warning is also given to freight train crews as a result of complaints, that the Elm street crossing in Stonington should not be blocked for any long period of time by freight cars.

Every indication points to a record-breaking attendance at the baseball game which is to be held at Owen field on Cutler street, in Stonington, Wednesday afternoon, Memorial day. To cinch the pennant emblematic of the championship of the Eastern Connecticut Interscholastic Baseball League Westerly must not only win the Memorial Day game but also the Westerly-Chapman Technical game to be played in New London on the following Friday. In this league each team is to play six games. Norwich Free Academy has played her six and lost them all. Chapman has played five and lost one. Stonington has played five and lost one. Westerly has played four and lost one. There is a remote possibility that there may be a triple tie in which case the representatives of the various schools will have to meet and arrange for the playoff.

Recorded in the Westerly town clerk's office are the following:

Lease on May 11, store No. 4, new Bayside building by Watch Hill Beach assoc. Inc., to W. A. McLoughlin, New York.

Transfer on May 14, lot on the south side of Cross street, by Michael N. Murray of New Haven to Teresa Petrone.

On May 14, lot on west side of Sunset avenue, Watch Hill, by Harriet H. Babcock et als to Albert L. Young and wife.

May 16, two plots of land on east and west sides of Main street respectively by Mary W. Champion of Rome, N. Y., to Charles P. Champlon, borough of Manhattan, N. Y.

May 15th, lot No. 25, Pleasant View Beach, John P. Gallagher to Marie Malnatti, 4 Summer street.

May 16, "Spicing" lot, so called, south of Pawcatuck river, Katharina S. C. Rathbun to Rinaldo Susena et al.

May 16, lots Nos. 32, 33 and part of 32, Fairview Park, Frederick E. Boyington to Marchant and Mattie Sims.

May 19, Lot No. 144 Pleasant View Beach tract, south of Atlantic avenue, Emily M. Tillinghast to Theose E. Tillinghast.

May 21, an undivided half interest in two lots on Pearl street, east side of N. & W. Ry. Co., Guiseppe Giardino to Rosie D. Giardino.

May 21, two lots east side of Harrison street, by Mary A. Socier, admx., Concord, N. H., for John B. Socier to Santo Algiere.

May 22, lots Nos. 11 and 13 Clark avenue, Pleasant View to Susan Smith, South Manchester.

May 23, lot on south side of Pierce street, D. Everett Hoxie and wife to Luigi Luzzi and wife.

May 24, lot No. 88, Clark avenue, Pleasant View, Samuel H. Davis to John F. Gallagher.

The following births have been recently recorded in the Westerly town clerk's office:

A daughter, Erica Sophie Heyder, on May 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arthur Heyder, at Shelter Harbor, Westerly.

Stanley Joel Russell, a son, on May 15, to Mr. and Mrs. Joel Russell, Bradford, R. I.

Arglias James Koulbanis, a son, on May 18, to Mr. and Mrs. James Koulbanis, 24 Newton avenue.

Earl Raymond Passetti, a son, on May 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Passetti, 41 Tower street.

Michael Gencerella, a son, on May 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Biage Gencerella, 33 Oak street.

James Raymond Sherry, a son, on May 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sherry, Stillman avenue, Pawcatuck.

Maurice Franklin Sherry, a son, on May 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sherry, Stillman avenue, Pawcatuck.

Frank Genese, a son, on May 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Genese, 90 Oak street.

Arthur Gouvin, a son on May 22, to Mr. and Mrs. John Gouvin, Jr., 4 Main street.

On Thursday, May 24th, occurred the death of the three months' old infant son, Donald Morrow, at 8 Union street, the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael C. Morrow, formerly of Voluntown, Conn. Interment was in River Bend cemetery.

From the residence of his son, A. Eugene Saunders, in Rockville, R. I., on Monday took place the funeral of Charles H. Saunders, who died May 26th, in his 69th year. Burial was in Voluntown.

The funeral services of Albert Emil Jeanbret were held Monday forenoon at his late home, Washington avenue, interment being in River Bend cemetery.

It is expected that at least two hundred and fifty Harvard alumni with as many suit cases will be in Westerly and Watch Hill for three days previous to the 20th of June, the occasion being the 30th anniversary of the Harvard class of 1903.

Arthur Buffum of New London visited on Monday at the home of F. C. Buffum, 66 Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Martin and son, W. Elliott of Brattleboro, Vt., formerly of Westerly, were the guests on Monday of Miss Lizzie E. Martin, 21 Beach street, a sister of Mr. Martin.

From his late residence Saturday afternoon in Carolina was held the funeral of Henry E. Babcock, aged 51 years, who died May 23. Mr. Babcock was station agent at Carolina for a number of years. He was a member of Charity lodge, No. 23, F. and A. M., also of Franklin chapter, No. 7, R. A. M., Hope Valley, and of the American Mechanics, Shannock. Burial was in White Brook cemetery.

The funeral of Charles Henry Wilcox, who died in a Providence hospital, May 22, was held at his late home, 141 Broad street, May 25th. The interment was in Elm Grove cemetery, Mystic.

Requiem high mass at St. Michael's church, 9 a. m. Saturday, followed the funeral service of Richard Parkinson from his late home 11 Pawcatuck avenue. Interment was in St. Mry's cemetary, New Bedford, Mass.

J. Harold Kenyon of 104 Beach street was a visitor over Sunday in Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Nash and niece, Miss Ethel Mfilda Wilson, of 150 West Broad street, Pawcatuck, were Providence visitors on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Vaughn, of South Norwalk, have been the guests of Mr. Vaughn's mother, 7 William street. On Sunday Mr. Vaughn returned to tht city, his wife remaining in Pawcatuck.

As the Federal Express with its heavy train of ten Pullman cars was leaving the Westerly station at 6.44 Monday morning, east bound, the coupling between the first and second baggage cars parted. The severing of the air brake connection automatically set the brakes on the rear of the train which came to sudden stop. Recoupling the train proceedtd without further mishap.

Westerly trout fishermen on Sunday report good strings of fish. A party of two which fished in Voluntown returned with 14; another party of two returned from a visit to Charlestown brooks with 20.

Joseph F. Matthews and wife and Clarence Pinkham of John street were utomobile, visitors in Hartford on Sunday.

Erastus Binn and mother have returned to their Westerly summer home on Chestnut street. Mr. Binn is chauffeur for Daniel L. Lyon, who occupies Edge Cove cottage at Watch Hill, summers going to Florida in the winter.

Thomas D. Thatcher, E. D. Thatcher and E. B. Thatcher are expected to arrive at their Watch Hill cottage, Intermere, on Tuesdy.

Roller skating, Atlantic beach, Memorial day.—adv.

William McCarty, 21 years of age, son of Patrick McCarty of 54 Main street, sustained a bad and painful cut on his arm Monday afternoon, as he was closing a window on an upper floor of the Westerly Textile plant at 4.30. He fell through the window and the broken glass cut through the skin, and one-third way through the bicep muscle of the left arm. Dr. Michael H. Scanlon was called and dressed the wounds. Treatment will be given the injured youth at his home here.

In an effort to settle the strike at the plant of the Lorraine Manufacturing Company, John Keidley, agent of the board of conciliation and mediation, United States Department of Labor in Washington, came to Westerly last Friday and went over the situation of the Textile union. Saturday he went to Pawtucket and interviewed President McColl of the Lorraine Company, returning to Westerly on Sunday for a conference with the committee from the Textile union and management. Monday Mr. Keidley again went to Pawtucket in a continued effort for settlement. Upon being interviewed he stated that a proposition would be placed before the striking operators in Westerly on Tuesday morning. The nature of the proposition was not divulged. From Pawcatuck Mr. Keidley returned to his home in Ohio.

Harold T. Barber, son of Thomas Barber of Arcadia was cut on the head and rendered unconscious Sunday afternoon at about 6 o'clock on the road between Wyoming and Carolina, in an automobile collision with a car operated by Elisha Briggs of Hope Valley. Both machines were badly wrecked.

Both drivers were approaching the home of William LaFontaine when Mr. Briggs put out his hand to wave to two young women. Barber mistook the signal, thinking a turn was to be made, which resulted in the crash. Sheriff John R. Wilcox was called and Briggs was arrested on a charge of operating an automobile in an intoxicated condition. Bail was furnished and the case will be tried in the Hope Valley session of the Third district court June 14.

SOUTH GRISWOLD

Mrs. Maurice Chizzola has returned to Montreal Canada after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Luther.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Burdick and son, Mrs. G. Welch, Miss Lucy Culver and Joseph Culver motored to West Haven, May 27th and were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John Pinner and family.

Alex P. Culver of Howard Hill, R. I., was a recent visitor in this place.

Dr. H. T. Thurber of Stonington was a recent visitor at his summer cottage here.

A party of sixty surprised Elmer O. Burdick with a May basket Friday evening.

Patriotic services will be held at Rixtown cemetery, Memorial Day at 3 o'clock P. T.

Here's what you're looking for!
The Sparkling, Satisfying Drink that's—fun to make—great to taste.
Just get a bottle of Williams' Concentrated Root Beer Extract, some sugar and yeast—then add water and follow the simple directions plainly printed on the label of the extract bottle.
WILLIAMS' Root Beer Extract
Be sure and get Williams'—the genuine concentrated extract made in Hartford, Conn. For sale by all grocers.
THE WILLIAMS & CARLETON CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.
Williams' Famed Specialties
Williams' Redwood
Williams' Cream
Williams' Spices
Williams' Chamber Oak Coffee
Williams' Tag-Hanger Tea
Williams' Collection

STONINGTON

The death of John Kyley occurred at his home on Water street, Monday morning, after an illness of about two weeks. He was the proprietor of the restaurant on Water street. He is survived by his wife and one son of Stonington.

Mrs. James Trumbull has arrived from New York, where she spent the winter, and will open her home on Main street.

California is visited every year by many Stonington and Mystic people. Some go to make their home there while others go to spend the winter months, returning home in the early spring in time to open their summer homes here.

Among those who are about to visit California from here this summer are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stewart and John Bindloss. Mrs. J. E. Brown of Elm street, spent three months during the winter in sunny California, and John Killars and son and a party of friends are on their way by automobile.

A rapid change has taken place on Elm street, during the past year. The street which was termed out in the country by those who resided in the borough because of the few residences built on it above the borough line, which had acres and acres of open lots extending to Wequetequock, a distance of some three miles, has become one of the select residential sections of the town. During the year no less than five residences have been under construction, William P. Griffin's, Edmund P. Hyde's, J. G. Simmonson's, H. F. Freidman's, and Carl Weimmen's, Oliver Pendleton is getting the cellar work done on his place.

Sunday Alva Allen, of Wequetequock, celebrated his birthday. His friends remembered him with gifts, and a birthday cake was made by his wife in his honor. This was enjoyed by all who called to help him celebrate his natal day.

Manuel Andrews, met with a rather painful accident though not serious, while at work at his place of business on Elm street, painting the wheels of his automobile. A wheel suspended in a harness dropped to the floor and a rod hit him on the top of his head, inflicting a bad gash.

John McCormick, a clerk in the Arcade market obtained a severe cut on his left hand while sharpening a knife. It required two stitches to close the wound.

Rudolph Goyette, while at play, wrenched his leg, which necessitated hi sbeing taken to a hospital at New Haven, for treatment.

The Jolly Six, a young ladies' club, will enjoy a motor trip to New Haven on Memorial day. Several trips have been made to different cities, by the members of the club.

John J. Krisanek, has gone to West Hampton beach, L. I., where he has secured a position with a druggist.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook, of Mason's Island, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Burtch, on Bay View avenue Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Noyes, of Harbordale, have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Hunro of Boston.

John McDowell, of Hartford, was the guest of his father, S. T. McDowell over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bingham have returned from a trip to Brockton, Mass.

Joseph Marshall spent the week end in New York, with his son.

Mrs. C. E. Ingraham and daughter Catherine, of Bristol, Conn., spent Sunday with Judge and Mrs. L. D. Fairbrothers.

W. A. Pike and family of Pittsfield, Mass., have arrived at their summer place on Wamphassuc Point for the season.

Clarence Wimpfheimer, of New York an owner in the American velvet mill here, was in town Friday, looking over the plant.

Miss Florence Brown, of Westerly, was in town Sunday calling on friends.

Mrs. F. H. Peerley, of White Plains, N. Y., who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. Steffenson, has returned home.

Dr. Leslie T. Gager of New York, was a week end visitor, guest of his mother, Mrs. Luella Gager.

Plans have been completed for Memorial day. James Harvey post No. 58, American Legion will parade. They will leave headquarters at ten o'clock and will be headed by the Stonington band. Ex-service men not members of the post, St. Michael's society, and Welcome lodge, No. 11, Portuguese fraternity, will also take part. They will leave recreation pier and march to St. Mary's cemetery, thence to Stonington cemetery where the graves of deceased soldiers will be decorated. At the close of the ceremony they will march to the starting place where they will be dismissed.

A large delegation of members of Nina council, K. of C., journeyed to New London Sunday to witness six candidates from the council here take the third degree.

The Community house of Stonington was left $500 and the Stonington Cemetery association, the same amount by the will of Miss Sarah E. Palmer, daughter of Rev. Albert Gallatin Palmer, a former pastor of the First Baptist church of Stonington. Other bequests were made to Billings Burtch of Stonington and Mrs. Belle E. Trumbull. Mr. Burtch is to receive $1,500. Mrs. Trumbull receives personal property.

Shelton.—Col. Selah G. Blakeman, for many years a county deputy sheriff and a former state officer of the Odd Fellows and G. A. R. veteran, was tendered a birthday surprise at his home on Fairmount place by a number of friends. He received congratulations and a number of remembrances.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Holiday Program at the Broadway Theatre Refreshing.

A real holiday program was presented at the Broadway theatre yesterday to delighted audiences.

Stanley Gallini & Co., opened the bill with a shadowgraph novelty done in colors.

Ethel Theodore, called the Kubilick in Petticoats, is a captivating violinist of exceptional ability.

Archer & Belford n The New Janitor, is a comedy skit enhanced by song.

Manhattan Comedy Four are old timers with new ideas, presenting comedy and song.

Fred Ekins, Joe Fay, Jack Elkins, the minstrel boys closed the bill with an excellent act consisting of mirth, melody and syncopation.

Motion pictures may come and go, these days, but the reputation established by Charles E. Blaney remains forever.

Last night at the Broadway theatre the old Blaney stage success, "Only A Shop Girl, was presented in picture

An Entertaining Picture at the Strand

Proving itself to be a genuinely entertaining production, The Rustle of Silk, a Paramount picture production by Herbert Brenon, featuring Betty Compson and Conway Tearle was shown with flattering results at the Strand theatre last evening.

The story starts in England after the war. Mr. Tearle, as Arthur Fallaray, has a bitter enemy, Paul Chalfont, played by Cyril Chadwick, who secretly owns a newspaper and who is endeavoring to get something on Fallaray to prevent him from becoming prime minister. Chalfonte is an intimate friend of Lady Feo's, Fallaray's wife, and when the latter finds some love letters, written to her husband by Lola de Brese (Miss Compson), who never intended that any one, much less Fallaray, should see them, he takes them on the pretext of arranging for a divorce. Then comes a novel climax, which makes this production different from the average screen story.

The supporting cast of "The Rustle of Silk" includes Cyril Chadwick, Anna Q. Nilsson and many other prominent screen players. The story, written by Cosmo Hamilton, was adapted for the screen by Sada Cowan and Ouida Bergere.

Buster Keaton upheld his reputation as a screen comedian by his new comedy "The Frozen North," which proved to be very good. A news weekly closed the bill.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

Using the golden rule and the admonishment that it is best to remember the power of the Creator as a basis for a screen drama, William Fox has given to screen history a remarkable achievement according to the advance reports of the production, "The Town That Forgot God," which is the feature at the Breed theatre today and tomorrow.

In brief the story deals with the adventures of a widow and her boy, the boy finally becoming an orphan, in a small self-satisfied community. The so-called better element of the little town are possibly goodfolk at heart, but in their greed they forget the practice of the Golden Rule. As a result the town is the victim of a deluge which does away with those who ruled in their own way and awakens the remaining folk to a realization of their short-sightedness.

Bunny Grauer, the boy actor, has the leading role and it is said to contribute a bit of acting far superior to the work of many older screen players. The supporting cast selected by Harry Millarde, the director, is one that does each bit of character work in a finished manner.

The Pathe news completes the bill continuous show tomorrow, 1.30 to 10.15.

"Shuffle Along" is Full of Pep; Highly Praised Everywhere. Coming to the Broadway Theatre.

"Shuffle Along" is one of the latest day musical concoctions in solidity and cohesion of its story. The book and dialogue is from the prolific minds of Miller and Lyles. Without the musical coloring it could be one of the funniest farces ever written. The musical score of Sissle and Blake makes it one of the most charming offerings seen in many years. It is as clean as a hound's tooth; a delightful, wholesome show with the heartiest kind of laughter in its lines, racing along with its fun and lilting and tingling melodies that give an evening of real enjoyment.

Said Allen Dale, the prominent critic of the New York American, "Shuffle Along" is full of pep and real melody. At times it seemed as nothing could stop the chorus from singing and dancing except ringing down the curtain, and you did not mind how long they shuffled along; you even felt shuffling a bit with them, all of which I admit is not unusual for dear old 42nd street. As a matter of fact there is enough pep for two average musical shows.

"Shuffle Along" will be the attraction of the Broadway theatre on Wednesday night, June 6.

Mail orders are now being accepted. Prices: Orchestra $2.50 and $1.73; balcony, $1.73 and $1.15. Gallery 58c.

Get your order in early and do not be disappointed.

The Community Picnic

[illegible] and show the history of the Community picnics, which are now so successfully carried on in Lowthorpe Meadows, Norwich Town, by the Norwich Rural Association.

In 1920, with Miss Elizabeth Huntington as its sponsor, the first community picnic was held in Lowthorpe Meadows under the auspices of the Norwich Playground Association.

Those present came from all parts of the city and town, arriving with their picnic baskets by trolley, automobiles and on foot. A great number of children were present, boy scouts and campfire girls, and a large delegation of sailors from the submarine base attended this first picnic. It was estimated that between 300 and 400 people were on the grounds.

At 7.30 p. m. all were invited to out of doors singing, led by the Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, all joining heartily in the songs.

The song sheets were at this time provided by the Girls Community club.

1921 brought an equally successful picnic under the same auspices.

In 1922 when the Playground Association was taken over by the city, the community picnic found its natural home in the Norwich Rural Association, and has since been most successfully and enthusiastically conducted under its auspices. In the unexpected absence of Mr. Abbott last year the spirited singing was led by Mr. Grosvenor Ely, president of the association, assisted by a volunteer quartette.

In the original plan of the picnics it was suggested that anyone who wished might invite nine others, thus making a group of ten, each group to bring its own supper. Though not necessarily adhere to, some of the groups being larger and some smaller, the original plans is followed to a marked degree.

It seems fitting while speaking of our happy community picnics, which are so particularly a part of the Rural Association spirit and work, that we should remember that Lowthorpe Meadows where they are annually held, were given by Miss Emily S. Gilman and Miss Louisa G. Lane, as an expression of the love and good will that they had for the in habitants of Norwich, and in memory of their sisted, Maria Perit Gilman and their Lathrop ancestry, to be kept as a free and open space for the public good, unencumbered by dwellings, barns or any encumbrance whatever, that it may be a pleasant place of recreation for the people of Norwich.

This year the Norwich Rural association has arranged to hold the community picnic in Lowthorpe Meadows, from six to eight p. m., Friday evening, June 1st. All are welcome to come and make it a success.

Time's Changing Ways

We feared in 1917 that the Germans would come across. Now France is vainly trying to make them do it.—New York Tribune.

Naugatuck.—The 18th annual banquet of the Naugatuck lodge of Elks was held in the Elks' home and was attended by upwards of 200 members. The principal speaker was Gov. Charles A. Templeton of Waterbury.

Always Uniform in Quality
Delicious
"SALADA" TEA
HAS THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY PACKET TEA IN NORTH AMERICA

What is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Movies Pictures at Broadway Theatre.
Movies Pictures at Strand Theatre.
Movies Pictures at Breed Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

One hundred years are today died John Phillips, first mayor of the city of Boston.

Greetings to the state of Wisconsin, on the seventy-first anniversary of her admission to the Union.

The annual meeting of the American Railway Association opens at Montreal today for a three-day session.

Frederick, Md., is to be the meeting place today of the annual convention of the Potomac States Association of the Baking Industry, embracing Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware, North Carolina and the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Fred Frye, the mother of eight children, is to be tried on a first degree murder charge, resulting from the death of her husband, at the term of court opening today at Edenton, N. C.

NORWICH TO PLAY ROSEBUD TEAM HERE ON MEMORIAL DAY AFTERNOON

A last minute game has been scheduled for Memorial Day afternoon for the Norwich baseball club by Manager William O'Leary. The Sokol-Rosebud A. and G. Association team will be the attraction. This team was formerly the Rosebud A. C. team which has played here for several seasons. With the Rosebuds this season is Jimmy Biegriff who played the outfield for the Kaceys last season and with the State Hospital team.

The Rosebuds have in their lineup several players that have appeared on the local diamond with various teams from Bridgeport and New Haven. The lineup for the Rosebuds is as follows: Newbauer, catcher; Broad and Henkel, pitchers; Pjura, first base; Paige, second base; Shea, ss; Reilly, third base; Creevey, left field; Biagriff, center field; O'Connell, right field. Pjura is the boy who played with the Bridgeport team of the Eastern league for a time and is both a catcher and a first sacker. Out of 98 games played during the past four years the team has won 75 and lost 3, a good record for any semi-pro club. Manager Balky states that his club is even faster than in the previous years and has been going strong this season.

There will be several changes in the local lineup for Memorial Day. Instead of Bill Bergen, who has gone to York, Pa., for a short time, Joe Belair, a local boy, will do the back-stop work. Joe is faster this year than ever before and has been showing up well with the Taftville team and with the B. and A. team in New London.

Another change will be at short where Nap Liberty of Jewett City will replace Faulkner who will be shifted to third. Liberty performed well in the game last Saturday against the All-Insurance team of Hartford. Liberty is a fast fielder and a good sticker. There may be a change in the outfield positions for this game and a local boy may be given a chance.

Manager O'Leary is going to give some of the local or rather sub-local boys a chance with the team and if they make good will be kept here regularly. This will create more local interest in the team than bringing in so many imported players. Baseball has come forward with rapid strides during the past few years and the fans are anxious to see some of their home town talent perform.

CUBS WIN FROM PIRATES IN ELEVENTH INNING

Chicago, May 28.—Pinch hitters and substitutes enabled Chicago to tie Pittsburgh in the ninth and win 5 to 4 in the eleventh inning today. Doubles by Friberg, Kelleher and O'Farrell scored two runs. Weis then went to the outfield, and his single, following Miller's double, scored the winning run. The score:

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Morelle,m	4	1	2	0	0	Statz,cf	3	0	3	0	0
Carey,cf	5	2	4	0	0	Hollochor,ss	3	1	2	5	0
Bigbee,lf	5	1	1	0	0	Grimm,2b	4	0	4	3	0
Barnhart,rf	2	0	1	1	0	O'Farrell,lb	5	1	11	0	0
Miller,ss	5	2	3	5	0	O'Neil,c	5	2	5	1	0
Traynor,3b	4	1	0	4	0	Miller,rf	5	2	1	0	0
Comorosky,2b	5	0	2	4	0	Hemsley,ss	3	0	1	4	0
Kelleher,lb	4	1	7	2	0	Adkins	1	0	0	0	0
Aldridge,p	3	0	1	3	0	Alexander,p	4	1	0	2	0
Meadows,p	0	0	0	0	0	Weis,lf	4	1	2	0	0
Cooper,p	0	0	0	0	0	Blake,p	0	0	0	0	0
Glazner,p	0	0	0	0	0	Fussell,p	0	0	0	0	0
x Rapp	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	38	8	25	19	0	Totals	39	9	30	15	0

x Ran for Morelle in 9th.
One out when winning run scored.
(x) Batted for Aldridge in 9th.
(xx) Batted for Meadows in 10th.
(xxx) Batted for Cooper in 11th.
Two base hits, Bigbee, Grimm. Home run, Fussell.

PINKY MITCHELL TO FIGHT LEONARD TONIGHT FOR TITLE

Chicago, May 28 (By the A. P.)—Pinkey Mitchell, 24-year-old product of the amateur ranks, and brother of Ritchie Mitchell, will meet Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, in a ten-round match here tomorrow night, with indications that the gate receipts will reach the $85,000 to $100,000 mark.

The contest, sponsored by Chicago Society For Charity, will be staged in the Dexter Park pavilion, the scene of international horse and stock shows. All of the $5 seats, the cheapest in the arena, had been sold tonight, leaving only a few of the $10 and $15 seats available.

The match probably will be the last seen in Chicago for some time. As it will be staged to test the Illinois anti-prize fight law. As the result of an agreement reached between James G. Mullen, the promoter, and city officials, the bouts will be fought without interference, but Promoter Mullen will be arrested afterward. Contests heretofore have been staged under court injunctions preventing the police from interference.

Leonard's title will not be at stake for the reason that neither he nor the Milwaukee boxer are making 135 pounds. They will enter the ring at catch weights, but both will be under 140 pounds.

Leonard has not engaged in a contest since last September, while Mitchell has been in a steady campaign of preparation. His last bout resulted in a four-round knockout.

DODGERS TURN BACK GIANTS IN CLOSE GAME

New York, May 28.—Brooklyn today broke the winning streak of the New York Nationals, after the world's champions had won eight straight games, taking the first of a four-game series by a score of 8 to 7. Brooklyn drove out Bentley and won the game with four runs in the seventh, scored on three bases on balls, an error by Frisch and three hits, one a triple by Johnston.

O'Connell, New York's expensive outfield recruit, hit his second home run in successive games. Score:

Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	New York. (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Nels,rf	4	1	2	0	0	Bancroft,ss	5	3	1	3	0
Johnston,3b	4	1	1	3	1	Groh,3b	5	1	1	1	0
Bailey,rf	3	0	3	0	0	Frisch,2b	6	1	4	5	1
Wheat,lf	5	1	2	0	0	Meusel,lf	4	1	2	0	0
Fournier,2b	4	2	12	1	0	Young,rf	4	1	1	0	0
McCarren,3b	2	0	0	1	0	Kelly,1b	5	1	8	0	0
Gleon,3b	1	0	0	0	0	O'Connell,cf	3	2	3	0	0
Hich,ss	2	1	2	3	0	Snyder,c	3	0	4	0	0
Taylor,c	4	1	2	0	0	Bentley,p	3	1	1	4	0
Grimes,p	3	2	1	2	0	Blume,p	0	0	0	0	0
xx Gr'fith	1	0	0	0	0	xxSmith	1	0	0	0	0
						J. Barnes,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	10	27	10	2	Totals	37	11	27	14	1

(x) Batted for McCarren in 7th.
(xx) Batted for Blume in 8th.
Score by innings:
Brooklyn .. ..1 0 1 1 0 0 4 1 0—8
New York .. ..3 0 0 2 1 0 0 1 0—7
Two base hits, Grimes, Frisch. Three base hits, Meusel, Fournier, Johnston. Home run, O'Connell.

PHILLIES TAKE BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLE BILL

Boston, May 28.—Philadelphia took both games of a double header from Boston today, 6 to 4 and 11 to 2. Sloppy fielding behind McNamara, Fillingim and Genewich was mainly responsible for Philadelphia's avalanche of runs. The fielding of the visitors was steadily brilliant, a dropped foul ball by Wilson being their only miscue. Weinert held Boston to seven hits in the second game, Genewich, who went in as relief pitcher, getting three of them. The scores:

(First Game.)

Philadelphia (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mokan,lf	6	2	1	0	0	Powell,cf	5	1	4	0	1
Wristone,3b	5	1	2	1	0	Schworth,rf	5	2	1	0	0
Williams,cf	2	1	2	0	0	Boeckel,3b	4	1	2	3	0
Walker,rf	4	0	3	0	0	Melnlnk,2b	5	0	2	4	0
Tierney,2b	4	0	3	2	0	Cruise,lf	4	2	5	0	0
Hojbe,,1b	4	0	7	1	0	Kopf,ss	2	0	3	5	1
Sand,ss	4	1	2	2	0	O'Neil,c	3	0	5	1	0
Henline,c	4	2	4	0	0	Smith,2b	1	0	4	2	0
Ring,p	4	1	1	3	0	xGowdy	0	0	0	0	0
						xxNixon	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	9	27	11	0	McNamara,p	1	0	0	0	0
						xxxHagwell	1	0	0	0	0
						Geschger,p	0	0	0	0	0
						xGibson	1	0	0	0	0
						Totals	35	7	30	17	2

(x) Batted for Gowdy in 9th.
(xx) Ran for Gowdy in 9th.
(xxx) Batted for McNamara in 8th.
(x) Batted for Geschger in 9th.
Score by innings:
Philadelphia .. ..2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—6
Boston .. ..3 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—4
Two base hits, Cruise, Henline. Home run, Hojbe.

(Second Game.)

Philadelphia (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mokan,lf	4	2	2	0	0	Nixon,cf	4	2	3	0	0
Wristone,3b	3	1	1	4	0	Schworth,rf	3	1	1	1	0
Williams,cf	3	1	1	0	0	Boeckel,2b	3	0	2	4	1
Walker,rf	3	0	1	0	0	Melnlnk,1b	3	0	7	0	0
Tierney,2b	4	1	5	3	0	Felix,lf	4	1	3	0	0
Hojb,,1b	2	0	0	0	0	Kopf,ss	4	0	1	4	0
Sand,ss	3	0	1	5	0	O'Neil,c	3	0	4	0	0
Wilson,c	3	2	4	0	1	Smith,2b	2	0	5	3	0
Weinert,p	3	2	0	2	0	Fillinzim,p	1	0	0	2	0
						Genewich,p	2	1	0	0	0
Totals	4..16	27	3			Totals	32	7	27	14	2

Score by innings:
Philadelphia .. ..0 0 1 1 6 0 2 1 0 1—12
Boston .. ..0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2
Two base hits, Williams, Hojbe, Weinert, Genewich. Three base hit, Mokan.

RED SOX HUMBLE THE ATHLETICS, 8 TO 6

Philadelphia, May 28.—Boston had two big innings today while Philadelphia scored in only one frame, and the Red Sox captured the first game of the series 8 to 6.

After Boston had battered Byron Harris off the mound in the sixth, the Athletics garnered six runs in the seventh, only to have Rommel lose the game in the eighth when Shanks hit a home run with two on base.

Sammy Hale, third sacker of the home team, was carried off the field in the opening innings when he sprained his ankle rounding third on an attempt to score. He will be out of the game for several days. The score:

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mitchell,ss	3	0	4	2	0	Mathews,cf	5	2	2	0	0
Pinnick,c	4	2	0	0	0	Hale,3b	4	1	1	2	0
Reichle,lf	4	1	3	0	1	Rixeda,3b	4	1	0	0	0
Collins,rf	5	0	0	0	0	Perkins,c	4	1	3	1	0
Burns,1b	4	2	13	0	0	Hauser,1b	3	1	10	2	0
J Hale,cf,lf	3	2	1	0	0	Welch,lf	4	2	2	0	1
Fittead,cf	4	0	0	0	0	G'Mowan,ss	4	1	1	2	0
Shanks,2b	4	2	3	4	0	M'Gowan,rf	4	0	1	0	0
M'Millan,3b	4	0	1	1	0	B.Harris,p	2	0	0	2	0
Quinn,p	3	0	0	3	0	Dykes,1b	3	1	6	4	0
Ferguson,p	1	0	0	1	0	xWalker	1	1	0	0	0
						O'Neil,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	9	27	10	1	xxHelmach	1	0	0	0	0
						Rommel,p	0	0	0	0	0
						xxxBruggy	1	0	0	0	0
						Totals	37	10	27	14	1

(x) Batted for B. Harris in 6th.
(xx) Batted for Neal in 7th.
(xxx) Batted for Rommel in 9th.
Score by innings:
Philadelphia .. ..0 0 0 0 0 0 6 0 0—6
Boston .. ..0 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 x—4
Two base hits, J. Harris, Fittstead, Welch, Reconda. Home runs, Hauser, Fittstead and Shanks.

TAFTVILLE SCHOOL TRIMS ST. PATRICK TEAM, 7 TO 2

In the grammar school baseball league games, Taftville defeated the fast St. Patrick's team on the Academy field yesterday afternoon, 7-2. It was one of the best games played so far, and the boys worked hard to enable their school win. The St. Patrick's team made an excellent showing in their uniforms, and were handicapped by their inability to hit when necessary, also making several costly fumbles in fielding the ball. Physical Director Williams of the Academy acted as umpire. Physical Director Fritz of the Y. M. C. A. announces the following games for this week:

Tuesday (Norwich Town Green) Town Street vs Greeneville.
Thursday — (Taftville grounds) — Taftville vs Greeneville.
Thursday—(Academy field) Broadway vs Elizabeth street.

Standing.

	Won.	Lost.	P.C
Taftville	2	0	1.000
Greeneville	1	0	1.000
St. Patrick's	1	1	.500
Elizabeth Street ..	0	1	....
Broadway	0	2	....
Town Street	0	0	....

BASEBALL

Decoration Day Morning
10.30 D. S. T.
TAFTVILLE A. A.
vs. PLAINFIELD
FOR PLAINFIELD
Greenhouse p, McGinley c.
FOR TAFTVILLE
Morin p, Belair c.

Baseball

ACADEMY CAMPUS
TOMORROW
N. F. A. vs. Bulkeley
Admission 25 Cents
Game Called at 3 P. M.

BASEBALL

MEMORIAL DAY
Ashland Park, Jewett City
C. A. C. of Hartford vs. Ashland
Umpire Peloquin—Game Called 3 p. m. D. S. T.
Admission 35c Tax Included

TODAY'S SPORTS.

RACING.

Meeting of Westchester Racing association at Belmont Park.
Meeting of Kentucky Jockey club at Louisville.
Meeting at Thorncliffe Park, Toronto.
Meeting of Connaught Park Jockey club opens at Ottawa.

SHOOTING.

West Virginia State trapshooting tournament opens at Clarksburg.
Idaho State trapshooting tournament closes at Twin Falls.

GOLF.

National interscholastic championship tournament at Rye, N. Y.

POLO.

Annual tournament of Bryn Mawr Polo club, Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Annual tournament of Whippany River club, Morristown, N. J.

HORSE SHOW.

Annual show of Devon (Pa.) Horse Show association.

BOXING.

Frankie Genaro vs. Herbie Schaefer, 10 rounds at Indianapolis.
Wolf Larsen vs. Pat McCarthy, 10 rounds, at Waterville, Me.
Joe Lynch vs. Young Montreal, 10 rounds, at Providence.
Frank Carbone vs. Jimmy Darcy, 12 rounds, at Albany, N. Y.

STERLING OVERWHELMS THE BALTIC TEAM

The Sterling baseball team slaughtered Baltic on Sayles field at Baltic, Sunday, winning by the overwhelming score of 11 to 0. The Baltic team was unable to hit the Sterling moundsman hard and snappy fielding by the Sterling outfielders held the Baltic boys scoreless. Burton figured largely in the scoring with his triple. Massey of Baltic contributed the features for the home team. The score:

Sterling.	ab	h	po	a	e	Baltic.	ab	h	po	a	e
Murphy,2b	6	1	0	4	0	Shaw,2b	4	2	1	2	0
French,3b	4	1	3	2	0	Chance,cf	4	1	2	0	0
Kendall,ss	5	1	0	1	0	Tuft,1b	4	2	8	0	2
Frechette,1b	4	1	6	0	0	Burns,e,o	4	0	0	0	0
Brusdon,c	4	3	0	0	0	Scribner,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Kelly,rf	3	0	1	0	0	Massey,cf	2	0	4	1	0
Fa'nant,cf	3	0	2	0	0	Gosling,lf	4	0	4	0	0
Renton,lf	4	2	2	0	0	Ash'th,ss	3	0	1	3	0
Burke,cf	3	1	2	0	0	White,p	3	0	1	5	0
Fallon,p	4	2	3	3	0	xDempathy	1	0	0	0	0
						Totals	36	6	27	11	0
Totals	40	12	27	7	0

(x) Batted for Scribner in 9th.
Score by innings:
Sterling .. ..0 0 0 0 0 0 5 0 2—11
Baltic .. ..0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0
Two base hits, Shaw, Murphy, Braden, Kalon. Three base hits, Burton. Sacrifice hit, Farnham, Fallon, Massey. Stolen bases, Brusdon 2, Murphy, Burton. Struck out, by Fallon 9; by White 6. Bases on balls off White 2.

CARDINALS BEAT REDS IN THE TENTH INNING

St. Louis, May 28.—St. Louis won from Cincinnati today, 5 to 4, in the first game of the series, the contest going 10 innings. The score was tied in the eighth when Mann, running for Ainsmith, who had singled, reached third on Pinelli's wild throw and home on Smith's sacrifice. The visitors got two runs in the tenth, but the Cardinals ran up three with only one out. Score:

Cincinnati (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Burns,rf	4	1	2	0	0	Smith,lf	4	2	4	1	0
Daubert,1b	4	1	2	0	0	Flack,rf	5	3	2	0	0
Duncan,lf	5	0	1	0	0	Toporcer,2b	4	3	4	3	0
Roush,cf	5	1	6	0	0	Mann,rf	4	0	2	0	0
Bohne,3b	5	0	2	4	0	Stock,3b	4	1	2	2	0
Pinelli,ab	4	0	1	1	1	Myers,cf	4	1	2	0	0
Cheeves,ss	4	0	1	4	0	Ferguson,ss	4	1	3	3	0
Hargrave,c	3	3	4	3	0	Ainsmith,c	3	1	2	2	0
Whitg,c	0	0	0	0	0	Clemons,c	1	0	1	0	0
Couch,p	3	0	0	2	0	Pfeffer,p	0	0	0	0	0
xHimmich	0	0	0	0	0	Adams	0	0	0	0	0
						xxDyer	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	8	23	15	3	Totals	37	16	29	14	2

(a) Two out when winning run scored.
(x) Batted for Hamilton in 10th.
(z) Batted for Heathcote in 7th.
(zz) Batted for Gallaghan in 9th.
(zzz) Batted for Cheeves in 9th.
Score by innings:
Pittsburgh .. ..1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1
Chicago .. ..0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 2 0 0—5
Two base hits, Adams, Rigbee, Friberg 2, Kelleher, O'Farrell. Home runs, Rawlings, Miller.

TAFTVILLE BEATS ARCTIC TEAM IN CLOSE GAME

In a whirlwind game played at Arctic, R. I., Sunday, the Taftville A. A. swept the Arctic team off its feet and took the game by the score of 3 to 2. The game was racy throughout, the time of playing being only one hour and 15 minutes. The Taftville boys were at home from the start, Gaudette knocking in all the runs for Taftville in the first inning and getting two of them with a fast hit to deep center. Chip Dugas played a fast game at short, and Morin performed on third like an old timer. Jim Murphy played a star game, making some pretty catches. Pepin was in the box for Taftville and the way he catapaulted them over completely mystified the Arctic boys at times. Arctic played a snappy game but were outperformed at critical times, especially when Gaudette smashed out the ball and broke the Rhode Islanders' defense. They used a Providence pitcher, and the rest of their lineup were veterans on the diamond.

Manager Troland said Monday that he is out to attach the game with Plainfield on Memorial day, and is quite sure he has the material to spell success when the Taftville boys line up against the fast New London organization next Saturday, who, it will be remembered, were the champions last season of the Eastern Connecticut league.

BRIDGEPORT RALLIED IN SEVENTH AND WON

Bridgeport, May 28.—After holding Bridgeport scoreless for six innings, Lefty Anderson blew up in the seventh and the locals smothered him with six hits and coupled with three errors scored eight runs, winning over the Brasscos 8 to 1 here this afternoon.

Fisher, who led the Bridgeport attack with four hits, got two safeties in the seventh, while Smith, a pitch hitter, faced Anderson twice. Donahue starred at bat for the visitors. Score by innings:

Waterbury .. ....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1
Bridgeport .. ..0 0 0 0 0 0 8 0 x—8
Two base hits, Donahue 2, Fisher 2, Post 2, Rodriguez.

HEYDLER REFUSES TO ALLOW REDS' PROTEST

New York, May 28.—President Heydler of the National baseball league today disallowed Cincinnati's protest of the game with the New York Giants, played here May 19, in which Umpire Quigley refused to allow Bohne, the Cincinnati second baseman, to take his base after being hit by a pitched ball.

The Cincinnati club also charged that Pitcher McQuillan's delivery was illegal, but Quigley asserted that Bohne deliberately stepped into the ball.

Heydler ruled that the decision was solely of judgment, and therefore not subject to appeal.

PROFESSIONAL MEN TRIM FAST ATLANTICS IN TWILIGHT GAME

The Professional Men added another victory to their credit Monday evening whe nthey trimmed the Atlantic 6 to 1 in a well played and interesting game. Doc Goldie opposed Gene Fuller, the smoke artist of the Atlantics, and although he did not outpitch Fuller he received better support and kept the hits more scattered. Fuller fanned 12 of the Profs but his support at times was a little ragged and the hits off him were hard and for extra bases.

The hitting fiend of the game was Pop urphy who clouted out three hits in four trips to the plate, all bringing in runs. athewson was also well up in the hiting line, getting two hits in four trips. Mathewson also stood out above his teammates through his base-stealing ability, pilfering four sacks and bringing in one of the runs. The fielding features of the game wire supplied by Doc Sinay in left field and Doc Thompson at short. Sinay made a wonderful one hand catch of a line drive but his teammates refused to give him credit, claiming he caught it in self-defense. Thompson made some wonderful attempts to field impossible chances and although he was credited with two errors his playing was above his usual standard.

The Atlantics played a good game at times but with men on bases they made errors that proved costly. Fuller was the hard hitter of the game, connecting for a triple that was responsible for he one run made by the Atlantics. Donohue also hit well as did Leon, each getting two hits. The score:

Professional Men.	ab	h	po	a	e	Atlantics.	ab	h	po	a	e
Thomps'n,ss	4	0	2	1	2	Kane,rf	4	1	0	0	0
sler,2b	4	1	2	2	0	Donohue,ss	4	2	2	1	0
Ferguson,2b	4	1	0	1	0	Wall,1b	4	0	4	0	0
Murphy,c	4	3	7	1	0	Gillis,3b	3	0	0	0	1
M'hewson,rf	4	2	0	0	0	Brown,cf	3	1	1	0	0
Goldie,p	3	0	1	0	0	Leon,2b	3	2	1	3	1
Campbell,1b	3	0	6	0	0	Jackson,c	3	0	13	0	1
Kirby,cf	3	1	1	0	0	Lewis,lf	0	0	1	0	0
Sinay,lf	3	0	1	0	0	Fuller,p	3	1	2	3	0
Totals	32	8	21	4	3	Totals	27	7	21	4	3

Score by innings:
Professional Men .. ..2 0 0 2 1 1 0 0—6
Atlantics .. ..0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1
Two base hits, Murphy, Mathewson. Three base hits, Fuller. Struck out, by Fuller 12; by Goldie 7.

Tonight's Game.

The game tonight will be between the East Ends and the Hirlwinds. The East Ends, the youngest team in the league, is one that is making some of the older teams step to beat. They have a fast little team and will give the Whirlwinds a real battle. They held the Duwells to a tie score last week in the best game of the season.

THE STANDING

National League

	W	L	Pct.
New York	28	9	.757
Pittsburgh	21	15	.583
Chicago	18	17	.514
Brooklyn	18	17	.514
St. Louis	19	19	.500
Boston	14	20	.412
Cincinnati	14	20	.412
Philadelphia	11	25	.306

American League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	25	10	.714
Philadelphia	19	14	.576
Cleveland	19	16	.543
Detroit	18	18	.500
Washington	14	18	.438
St. Louis	14	19	.424
Chicago	13	19	.406
Boston	11	19	.367

Eastern League.

	W	L	Pct.
Hartford	19	9	.679
Springfield	16	10	.615
New Haven	17	11	.607
Waterbury	13	14	.481
Worcester	12	16	.429
Albany	12	16	.429
Bridgeport	10	16	.385
Pittsfield	10	16	.385

International League

	W.	L.	PC
Rochester	26	7	.794
Baltimore	24	12	.667
Buffalo	18	14	.562
Toronto	15	16	.484
Reading	16	18	.471
Jersey City	15	20	.429
Newark	12	20	.375
Syracuse	8	27	.229

GAMES TODAY.

National League.

Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Brooklyn at New York.
Philadelphia at Boston.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.

American League.

Boston at Philadelphia:.
Cleveland at Chicago.
New York at Washington.
St. Louis at Detroit.

Eastern League.

Albany at Waterbury.
Bridgeport at Springfield.
Pittsfield at Hartford.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

National League.

Brooklyn 8, New York 7.
Philadelphia 6, Boston 4 (1st game).
Philadelphia 11, Boston 2 (2d game).
Chicago 5, Pittsburgh 4 (11 innings).
Cincinnati 4, St. Louis 5.

American League.

Boston 8, Philadelphia 6.
Only game scheduled.

International League.

Jersey City 12, Reading 13.
Syracuse 2, Buffalo 10.
Toronto 6, Rochester 3.
Newark 1, Baltimore 9.

Eastern League.

Albany 14, New Haven 10 (11 innings).
Hartford 10, Worcester 3.
Pittsfield 5, Springfield 3.
Waterbury 1, Bridgeport 3.

American Association.

Louisville 1, Kansas City 5.
Toledo 6, St. Paul 0.
Columbus 5, Minneapolis 3.
Indianapolis at Milwaukee, played yesterday.

COLLEGE GAMES

At Newton, Mass.:
Boston College 19, St. Michaels 8.

EXHIBITION GAMES.

Annapolis, d., ay 26—
Washington Americans 15 17 0
Navy 1 5 4
Brillheart, Altrock and Hargrave; Kelly, Dyer, "Chief" Bender and Harris.

ALBANY WINS HECTIC BATTLE FROM NEW HAVEN

New Haven, May 28.—In a weird contest marked by poor pitching, Albany defeated New Haven 14 to 10 in 11 innings here today. New Haven had a good lead up to the eighth, when Albany jumped on Baumgartner and Muirennan, who relieved him, for five runs, going one ahead. The Profs tied the score in the ninth. A rally in the 11th, when they got four hits and took advantage of two passes and a wild pitch, netted Albany six runs. New Haven could count but two in their half of the inning. Bowman's hitting was a feature, the big fellow getting a home run, a triple, double and a single in six trips to the plate. Neher also got a home run. A back-hand catch by Mathog in the seventh off Emmer with a man on base was the fielding feature. Score by innings:

Albany .....0 1 0 0 1 0 1 5 0 0 6—14
New Haven .2 1 0 0 1 2 1 0 1 0 2—10

Two base hits, Esmond, Emmer, Goff, Bowman, Osborn; three base hits, Rodgers, Hughes, Gagnon, Bowman; home runs, Bowman, Neher.

PLAINFIELD PLAYS AT TAFTVILLE WEDNESDAY A. M.

Wednesday morning has been set for the clash between the Taftville A. A. and Plainfield on the Providence street grounds. Plainfield will use a Providence battery, Greenhouse and McGinley, who were responsible for inflicting the 5 to 4 defeat on Taftville in a 10 inning game. Manager Troland is quite sure that Plainfield will fare no better than did Arctic last Sunday. Morin and Belair will do the honors for Taftville. The balance of the lineup announced are Cardie 1b, J. Murphy 2b, Liberty ss, Bus Murphy 3b, Jarvis lf, Clabby cf, J. Murphy rf. There is no doubt that this contest will be one of the snappiest staged for the day.

HARTFORD HITS LINDSTROM HARD AND WINS EASILY

Worcester, Mass., May 28.—Hartford batted hard today and won easily, 10 to 3. Lindstrom was driven from the mound in the seventh. Betts pitched well, keeping Worcester's hits scattered. Schmehl's fielding was brilliant. Score by innings:

Hartford .. ..0 1 0 0 2 0 4 1 2—10
Worcester .. ..1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1— 3

Two base hits, Conway 2, Lindstrom; three base hits, Demoe, Hager, Orme.

PITTSFIELD TAKES ADVANTAGE OF DOUGHAN'S LOOSE PITCHING

Springfield, Mass., May 28.—Pittsfield, bunching hits with loose pitching by Doughan, beat Springfield 5 to 3 today. Tierney pitched steady ball. Gardella's base running and a catch by Bosse featured. Score by innings:

Pittsfield .. ..0 1 0 0 1 0 3 0 0—5
Springfield .. ..0 0 1 0 1 0 0 1 0—3

Two base hits, Simpson, Bosse.

Yantic Woolen Team Wins Two.

The American Woolen team of Yantic played two games over the week end on their home grounds, dropping the Saturday game to the fast Lebanon nine of Lebanon by the score of 12 to 9, and winning the Sunday game from the Yantic fire department, the score being 13 to 11, 10 innings. Lamphere and Morris pitched for the Woolen team Saturday and Sunday, respectively, and Lane was on the receiving end.

On Wednesday the Woolenites will journey to Lebanon, where they will play a return game with the local club.

Nuggets Lose to Martin Team.

In a practice game at the J. B Martin grounds on Monday evening the Nuggets lost to the newly organized Velvet Mill team by a score of 8 to 4. The Velvet team started off strong in the first inning and on five hits and an error scored four runs. After that they were held down by Kelly who fanned a large percentage of the batters. The Nuggets scored their runs in the second and seventh innings.

Bearcats Win.

The Taftville Bearcats defeated the Norwich Town Warriors on the Providence street grounds Sunday afternoon by the score 10 to 6. Dudek, the spitball artist, did the twirling for the Bearcats with Lemieux on the receiving end. The outfielders showed up well, especially Franaski, who contributed the fielding sensations.

Speed Boys Win.

The Jewett City Speed Boys defeated the Scalpers of Norwich at Mohegan park Saturday to the tune of 9 to 6. The game was snappy and well played all through, both teams showing up good. The Scalpers will play a return game with the Speed Boys Saturday, June 2, at Jewett City.

Bout Called Off.

Detroit, Mich., May 28.—The 10-round bout between Sailor Friedman, Chicago lightweight, and Johnny Mendelsohn of Milwaukee, which was to have been held here tonight, was called off late today. Friedman was seven pounds overweight and endelsohn refused to concede him the weight advantage.

Mystic Independents Want Games

The Mystic Independents have organized for the coming season and are desirous of booking games either in or out of town for the week ends. Albert Gley is

1766 1923

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday. Subscription price 50c a week; $2.00 a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls.
Bulletin Business Office, 486.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-2.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-5.

Willimantic Office, 21 Church St. Telephone 74-2.

Norwich, Tuesday, May 29, 1923

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MAY 26th, 1923
12,340

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

Aldermen,
E. LARUE BLIVEN,
EDWARD CROOKS.

Councilmen,
MARTIN ROZYCKI,
F. RUSSELL SMITH,
ALFRED G. LILLIBRIDGE,
LEE CLEGG.

City Treasurer,
STEPHEN H. REEVES.

City Clerk,
WESTON C. PULLEN.

Tax Collector,
HAROLD T. ROBINSON.

Sheriff,
CHARLES H. RAYNES,
MAURICE LOOBY.

Member of Water Board,
REUBEN S. BARTLETT.

NEGLECTED CEMETERIES.

At this season of the year cemeteries and cemetery lots come in for an increased amount of attention. Recognition is given to the need of getting the soldiers' lots marked and decorated for Memorial day and along with it more or less attention is given to the general improvement of burying grounds.

With such work underway it is impossible that there should not be emphasized the contrast that exists in the maintenance that is accorded cemeteries in general.

There is the cemetery where perpetual care is provided for. Its well kept avenues, regularly mowed lots and carefully trimmed trees and shrubbery all indicate the ideal treatment of the resting place of the dead. It reflects the attention that is no more than should be expected, and it is unfortunate that it does not serve as example to be followed in many more cemeteries.

There are numerous cemeteries where constant attention is not given but where neglect, except for fallen gravestones does not actually prevail. It can easily be seen where much improvement might be made in such burying grounds, but there are others where there is nothing but neglect. These are in all probability private burial grounds, but it is a sad spectacle when such places are permitted to grow up to a solid mass of underbrush.

Whether the descendants of those who rest in such cemeteries live elsewhere, or have died out, it is unfortunate that some provision has not been made to prevent such a state of neglect. Possibly those buried there had not anticipated such a situation, but to the living such conditions cannot fail to be an incentive for the adoption of the perpetual care idea.

The contrast is lamentable and indignation is mingled with surprise that such conditions would be tolerated by any who have even a long distance interest in the neglected cemeteries. There is plenty of opportunity for arousing a much needed interest in the neglected country cemeteries.

APPLYING RULE OF REASON.

While reason is being shown for the observance and enforcement of such rules and regulations as will ng about greater safety in the highways and efforts are being devoted in that direction by the motor vehicles department, it is not to be denied that there is opportunity for the exercise of the rule of reason when it comes to the rigid enforcement of certain minor traffic rules and this especially when it is a driver from another state who is involved.

Invariably it is for the purpose of avoiding the congestion of the streets with a view to eliminating accidents that many of the local rules are established. And every city had a different set of regulations. To expect a driver from other states or cities, who are not displaying unwarranted speed or recklessness, to know what every minor rule is out of the question, when it is probable that not every local driver or even every local policeman could give a full list of the regulations.

It is while enforcing parking rules and the like that the rule of reason may well be applied. It is to be expected that the stranger will make it a point to inquire whether he is right when it is possible to do so, or if he is in doubt. He is at least entitled to a warning unless it is apparent that he is intentionally disregarding the conduct of others and signs erected for his benefit.

It is not such drivers who by those acts contribute to the danger of the highways. They are the ones who can easily be caught for the infraction of regulations, whether intentional or not, but the real menace comes from those who insist upon speeding, cutting in, crowding and in other ways showing no consideration for the rights of others. Such acts are bound to be intentional and call for something more than a slap on the wrist.

It is only a few days to election. Norwich has been doing much talking and it will not be long now before it will be possible for action.

OUR RHINE BILL.

That an agreement has been reached and signed dealing with the question of reimbursing this country for the expense of maintaining its army on the Rhine, is gratifying, even though it was no more than ought to have been expected and no more than this country was given assurance it would receive at the time the armistice was signed.

It is a sizable bill that has been created by the keeping of some of our troops on the Rhine, but there was no reason why it should be sidetracked until all the allied countries had been paid or until other reparation matters had been adjusted. It could hardly fail to be regarded as a legitimate expense.

The United States has not undertaken to exact heavy penalties from Germany. It did not set out in a war of conquest to get all it could grab. It fought for the maintenance of its rights. There are claims which it has against Germany, including that for the support of the Rhine army, which will be passed upon by a commission to determine what are just and what are not. But they represent losses which were caused by Germany's war activities to property of Americans and for the loss of lives on torpedoed vessels.

The negotiations which have been carried on with the allied nations relative to the Rhine bill have obtained for this country just what was sought, and when Germany pays through the reparation commission this government's bill will gradually be reduced.

DISCRIMINATING.

Where much emphasis has been placed upon the efforts in behalf of equal rights and against special privileges because of sex there will probably be much objection on the part of many women against the law which has just been passed in the state of New York which provides the very discrimination against which they have been making an outcry.

The New York legislature has declared that henceforth it will not be necessary for a woman to tell her age when being made a voter. It will be enough if she simply swears that she is "over 21." That leaves the matter of age indefinite but may be sufficient to cover the situation. It is, however, a law of special consideration, a sop to the women who desire to become voters and yet who do not want to reveal their correct age.

Just why it should be considered desirable for requiring a man to tell his age and a woman to only make an admission that she is more than 21 is not disclosed. It cannot appeal to those who are seeking only equal rights. When the effort was made in this state to have the women excluded from payment of the poll tax where there was a great hue and cry from the women because they wanted no favors and only sought to be treated the same as the male voters.

Actuated by the same motives there ought to be a loud clamor on the part of the women voters in New York state to have such discriminating legislation removed from the statute books, even though it has just found its place therein. There is in fact no good reason why the definite age should be required in one case and the indefinite in the other.

THE SING SING DISCLOSURE.

One of those disclosures which come from time to time concerning loose practices in connection with penal institutions is that which has come to light at Sing Sing where Brindell, the head of the building trades council in New York city, was found meeting his family and possibly others clandestinely outside the prison walls.

Investigation may throw much light upon this particular case, for it is intimated that Brindell has not only been keeping in touch with organization leaders from the metropolis in this manner but has even made trips to the big city. With due allowance for any exaggeration that may be indulged in in the early reports, it is clear that being sent to Sing Sing for five years becomes a joke if prisoners are able to so handle the guards as to evade the rules of the prison.

If it is being done in one case there is no telling how generally it is being practiced at the institution. It is clearly established from the facts already disclosed that one keeper is unfaithful to his trust. He was party to the arrangement and considered his service to Brindell of greater importance than that to the institution.

Brindell was likewise conscious of the fact that he was disregarding prison discipline. Because he had been disregarding laws in his business practice he apparently felt that his powers ought not to be curtailed by institutional life.

The situation is one that calls for an immediate housecleaning and the institution of regulations that will make such practice impossible in the future.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The weatherman doesn't propose that the straw hat shall be sidetracked indefinitely.

Good use can be made of all the available flowers for purposes of decoration this week.

The man on the corner says: Think of leading a dog's life with no cats in the neighborhood.

When Florida levies a three cent gasoline tax it seems to be preparing for the visitors' trade next winter.

All Germany may be disturbed by the Krupp sentence but what probably bothers the baron most is that he invited it.

The Greek ministry will prboably throw out its chest. It called for a decision by Saturday, made threats, and got it.

Even though there is a settlement between Greece and Turkey there are certain to be those who will be disappointed.

Now that the mayor of New York has approved a salary increase of $10,000 for himself, he can probably afford to work in another vacation.

Every legislature has troubles of its own but happily there are few that do so much to discredit themselves as the one which Rhode Island saddled onto itself.

WITH A JOLT

"I never could make the mistake that most men do," began the tall and correctly handsome bachelor who was calling for the two hundredth time this year. "I mean that I would catch myself in time before I hypnotised myself into seeing all the characteristics I wanted in the girl I happened to want."

"This sounds terribly interesting!" declared the very beautiful young woman in an extra impressed tone, because she was entirely at sea for the moment and knew it was necessary to get her bearings. "You do have the most original ideas, Hemingway!"

"Perhaps I do think things out to their finish," modestly admitted the handsome bachelor, brushing a speck of dust from his coat sleeve. "I've observed a lot and it never fails that when a man I know falls in love, he is eternally raving about how wonderful the girl is, when as a matter of fact she isn't wonderful at all! If she's dighty and silly he says she has such an extraordinary poise and intellect, and if she hates housekeeping he insists that she is domestic to the soul! I cannot understand such blindness!"

"Well, but you're so different," explained the beautiful young woman with a nice little comprehending frown. "That's why stupid individuals like that amaze you! It certainly is ridiculous of them!"

"We always do agree, don't we?" he asked triumphantly. "Somehow from the very first day I met you I realized that our thoughts and tastes ran parallel, Verbena! I can sense cross currents immediately! I think that when two people are destined to—that is, it is easy to tell when people are in sympathy with one another! It would be more than upsetting to be married—that is, it is annoying to be contradicted at every turn, as for instance Arthur Oofer is! Mrs. Oofer would die before she would agree with him on anything from politics to a new gown!"

"I think a woman should at least respect a man's judgment," the beautiful young person told him sweetly. "His outlook is broader and all that!"

"I'm afraid it is," the handsome bachelor agreed. "What I liked about you from the start, Verbena, was your womanliness and the way you ignored all these modern fads—jazz and cigarettes and lipsticks—all that stuff!"

"It is just dreadful, the extremes some girls go to!" she declared, as she hastily slipped from her wrist the silver cigarette case and sat on it. "They—er—lose so much!"

"No man wants to marry a girl like that," the handsome bachelor frowned, shaking his head. "And one always can tell when a complexion is real, like yours!"

"Oh!" she laughed deprecatingly, shoving back into the chair corner the vanity case she had just reached for absent-mindedly. "I'm just ordinary looking, Hemingway, and you flatter one so!"

"That's just your modesty, Verbena," he told her fondly. "I don't think you ever think about yourself! If you did you could not fail to know how exceptionally beautiful you are! And it's natural beauty!"

She moved a trifle away from the rays of the lamp and smiled.

"And you like the higher things," pursued the handsome bachelor. "Look at the books on your library table! One can tell from them that the usual popular atrocity does not appeal to you—"

"Oh," she said hastily as he stared in some surprise at the vivid sheik novel which lay revealed when he had picked up the sedate "Mind in the Making" above it. "Where on earth did that come from?" she asked. "I never would have suspected mother of reading anything like that, but it simply must be hers!"

"Isn't this chapter on Grecian influence fine?" commented the handsome bachelor turning the pages of the serious book. "What did you think of the bouquets he handed Aristotle?"

"I guess I must be getting to that point," the beautiful young woman said, nervously. "Yes, isn't it a marvelous book! Dear me, I believe my head is aching! I think I'll have to open the front door a bit!"

"Let me help you!" he cried. As they jumped simultaneously to their feet the vanity case fell with a clatter but with rare presence of mind the beautiful young creature kicked it beneath the couch.

"Verbena," he said, taking her hands, "I can't wait any longer—you must know that I love you and want to marry you! From the very first I have realized that you were exactly the kind of girl I most admired—and then look at the way we always agree about everything! Will you!"

"No Hemingway," the beautiful young woman told him flatly. "I'm not one particle in love with you, and I don't see why you should have thought I was except that you wanted me to be!"

"Well, this is a jolt to me!" gasped the handsome bachelor. "When I understand you so well, too. I can't believe it!"—Exchange.

CHILD TRAINING

The Child Who Reads Too Much.
By Marion Brownfield.

The modern child reads more than ever before. On street cars even the young child puzzles over the advertisements, probably attracted by the colored pictures. Children on the way to school, music lessons, or the dentist's carry fiction to read during every unoccupied minute. Even children who dislike to study—because it is something they must do as well as something "uninteresting," will read every spare minute. They are the despair of parents and teachers, because thrillers with the same fascination as the movies, take the precious time and eyesight that should be used to prevent failure in school!

The most common type is the child who, a little delicate, develops into a book worm. Ill health causes this child to feel disinclined to exertion, and reading is easy entertainment. Of course the more he reads, the less he feels like playing. Reading thus constantly reacts against his health.

As reading is enjoyed as a diversion rather than as study, this should be borne in mind when trying to break the habit. Too often parents will say, "Don't read this fine day. Run outdoors and play!" But if there is "nothing to play" outdoors, other than to make up some imaginary playmate in a yard that seems commonplace by daily association, it is hardly a counter attraction for an enthralling fairy or adventure story. The only real cure is to provide some outdoor occupation equally as enjoyable as reading. At first especially, the counter attraction needs to be more fascinating than later when playing outdoors has become voluntary.

Outdoor amusement does not need to be expensive. Clever mothers devise errands that require a walk, for no child likes to take a walk just for the sake of walking. Shopping of all kinds can be done by children who need exercise in the fresh air. Both boys and girls can be provided with outdoor occupation, raising flowers, vegetables, chickens, rabbits and various other pets. They will be more enthusiastic if there is a definite aim, for instance, to cheer up the sick or aged friend. Children, too, enjoy financial profit from a garden. They should be encouraged to market their produce among strangers to test their initiative and courtesy. Such places as the Woman's exchange, the family grocer and restaurants may become regular customers. One boy developed a little nursery business by specializing with pine trees he had studied about in school. Another outdoor occupation that brought profit was gathering watercress in a brook and selling it to a railway dining car.

Young children need to have outdoor occupation that is purely entertaining. A swing, teeter-totter, and a sand pile are among these. Both croquet and tennis courts can be laid out by amateurs. Theodore Roosevelt was an example of a delicate child who became rugged because of outdoor interests.

Plants and animals should be observed. Contests to name the most birds or common weeds furnish incentive. Small bicycle and coasters are just as necessary for girls as for their brothers, and nearly all children love an outdoor "gym."

Today's Anniversaries

1765—Patrick Henry in the Virginia house of burgesses introduced the famous resolution against the stamp act.

1829—Sir Humphry Davy, inventor of the safety lamp for miners, died at Geneva, Switzerland. Born in England, Dec. 17, 1778.

1848—The army of Charles Albert, king of Sardinia, defeated the Austrians at Goito.

1856—England observed a day of thanksgiving and rejoicing for the return of peace, after the Crimean war.

1890—The Dominion government ordered the whole international boundary line from the Rocky mountains to Manitoba to be patrolled by mounted police in order to prevent smuggling.

1892—The first Bohemian soldiers' monument in the United States was dedicated at Chicago.

1893—The Ohio state board of arbitration was organized.

1918—Last unit of the United States army in Italy left Rome for Brindell, France.

1922—Southern Pacific railroad ordered by the supreme court of the United States to abandon ownership of the Central Pacific railway.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi, who is reported critically ill in Rome, is the last surviving son of the famous Italian patriot. He was but an infant when his father gained fame in the defense of Rome against the French, and he held a minor commission under his father in the war of 1860 for the liberation of Venice. Ricciotti also figured in the fighting against the papal army and its French allies. He won the battle of Monterotonde in 1867, but subsequently was taken prisoner and was confined in the fortress of Varignano. During the Franco-Prussian conflict Ricciotti fought with distinction on the French side. Later he was elected a deputy to the Italian parliament. In the Greco-Turkish war he raised a force of Italian volunteers to aid Greece, making this pronunciamento: "Wherever the cause of human liberty needs a leader, there is the place for a Garibandi."

Today's Birthdays

M. Leon Bouregois, celebrated French statesman and several times premier, born in Paris, 72 years ago today.

Gilbert F. Chesterton, noted English author and journalist, born at Kensington, 49 years ago today.

Rear Admiral Herbert O. Dunn, U. S. N. retired, born at Westerly, R. I., 66 years ago today.

Commander Alexander Ramsay, R. N., who married Princess Patricia of Connaught, born 42 years ago today.

Prof. W. Lee Lewis of Northwestern University, who lists kisses as the most deadly conveyers of dangerous bacteria, born at Gridley, Calif., 45 years ago today.

Wives of Famous Men

Dianthe Lusk, Wife of John Brown.

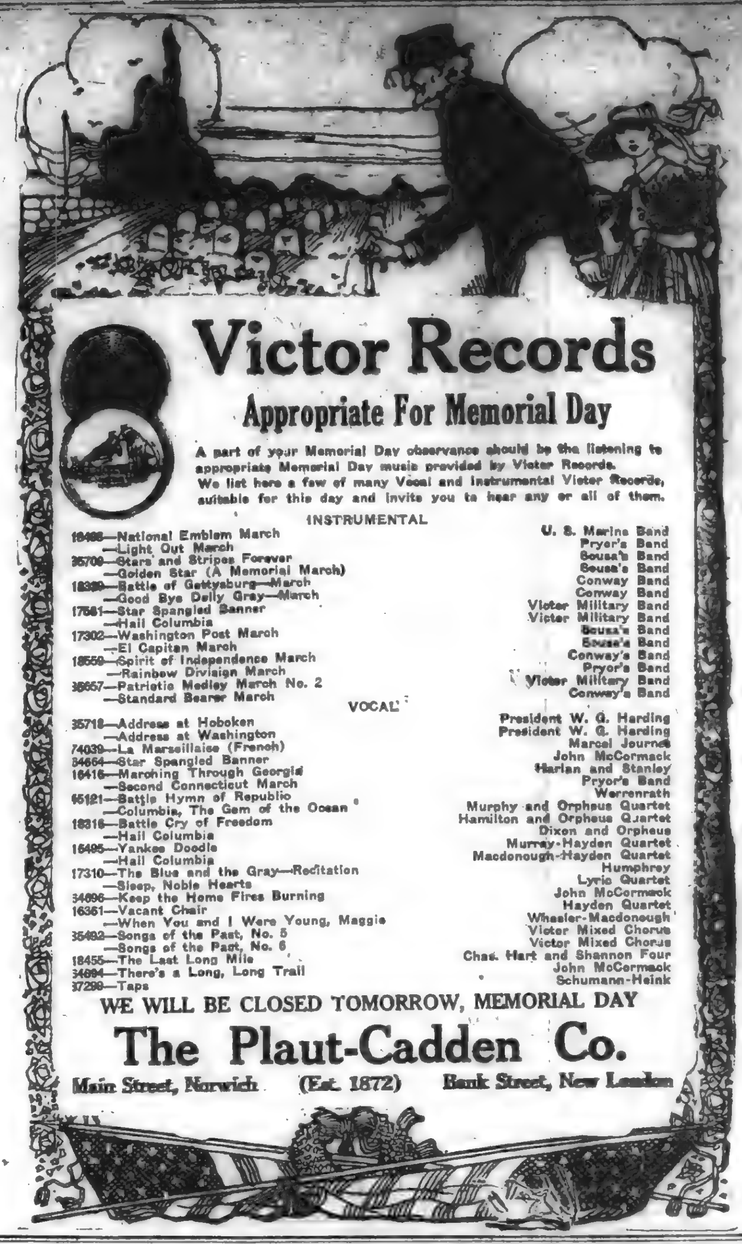
A remarkably plain but neat, industrious and economical girl." In these terms of dubious compliment did John Brown, who gave his life on the scaffold in a vain endeavor to aid the negro slaves, describe his wife, Dianthe Lusk. It appears from Brown's biography that Dianthe, who was but 19 years old when she married John, himself but 20 at the time, was possessed of most of the queer attributes one would expect of a woman who answered that description.

Dianthe Brown was a sensible, strong-minded although by no means disagreeable young woman. The union, unlike so many early marriages, was successful, and the years they spent together—only 12 when Mrs. Brown died—were most happy. John Brown is characterized as a man of decided and violent disposition, and commentators say that his wife had the remarkable faculty of making him do what she thought best without in the least ruffling his temper. She seemed to have learned the magic formula that so many wives seek for, the formula for getting a husband to do what she wishes him to do, even if he didn't wish to do it, and without having him realize that he was being swayed by her at all. She had a strong and a decidedly beneficial influence over him. When he followed her advice he was usually right. His hot temper and quick decision frequently led him into paths which would have proved dangerous had not her saner judgment come to the rescue. Mrs. Brown died in 1832, 12 years after her marriage, just after the birth of her seventh child.

Don't Worry England

The sea is slowly, but surely eating awaythe coast of Great Britain. However, the tight little isle has been there a long time and should last a good while yet. Also, England has several other fairly roomy places where her population can go if worst comes to worst.—Washington Star.

CROUP
Spasmodic Croup is frequently relieved by one application of—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly



Victor Records
Appropriate For Memorial Day

A part of your Memorial Day observance should be the listening to appropriate Memorial Day music provided by Victor Records. We list here a few of many Vocal and Instrumental Victor Records, suitable for this day and invite you to hear any or all of them.

INSTRUMENTAL

18408—National Emblem March — U. S. Marine Band
—Light Out March — Pryor's Band
35709—Stars and Stripes Forever — Sousa's Band
—Golden Star (A Memorial March) — Sousa's Band
18339—Battle of Gettysburg—March — Conway Band
—Good Bye Dolly Gray—March — Conway Band
17561—Star Spangled Banner — Victor Military Band
—Hail Columbia — Victor Military Band
17302—Washington Post March — Sousa's Band
—El Capitan March — Sousa's Band
18559—Spirit of Independence March — Conway's Band
—Rainbow Division March — Pryor's Band
35657—Patriotic Medley March No. 2 — Victor Military Band —Standard Bearer March — Conway's Band

VOCAL

35718—Address at Hoboken — President W. G. Harding
—Address at Washington — President W. G. Harding
74039—La Marseillaise (French) — Marcel Journet
34664—Star Spangled Banner — John McCormack
16416—Marching Through Georgia — Harlan and Stanley
—Second Connecticut March — Pryor's Band
65121—Battle Hymn of Republic — Werrenrath
—Columbia, The Gem of the Ocean — Murphy and Orpheus Quartet
18316—Battle Cry of Freedom — Hamilton and Orpheus Quartet
—Hail Columbia — Dixon and Orpheus
18495—Yankee Doodle — Murray-Hayden Quartet
—Hail Columbia — Macdonough-Hayden Quartet
17310—The Blue and the Gray—Recitation — Humphrey
—Sleep, Noble Hearts — Lyric Quartet
34696—Keep the Home Fires Burning — John McCormack
16361—Vacant Chair — Hayden Quartet
—When You and I Were Young, Maggie — Wheeler-Macdonough
35492—Songs of the Past, No. 5 — Victor Mixed Chorus
—Songs of the Past, No. 6 — Victor Mixed Chorus
18455—The Last Long Mile — Chas. Hart and Shannon Four 34694—There's a Long, Long Trail — John McCormack
37298—Taps — Schumann-Heink

WE WILL BE CLOSED TOMORROW, MEMORIAL DAY

The Plaut-Cadden Co.
Main Street, Norwich (Est. 1872) Bank Street, New London

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Thuringia.

International politics is bringing about the building up of a new industrial district in Germany, according to dispatches, which state that German factory owners, left in Poland by the division of upper Silesia, are moving their enterprises to Thuringia. The new factory region is the subject of the following bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society:

"The few Americans who can name the former kingdoms, grand duchies, duchies and principalities that make up the crazy-quilt map of Germany may be stumped by Thuringia, for officially it does not exist. It is a familiar term to the German, however, and is most comparable perhaps to our 'New England'; which name though not a political unit, has its historic reason for existence, and its definite group of officially labelled divisions.

"Thuringia is across the old kingdom of Saxony from Silesia and constitutes the very heart of Germany—a region safely away from frontiers, which in recent years in Europe have shown a disconcerting reluctance to 'stay put'. There, too, are large numbers of potential laborers, far from prosperous and anxious for work. More important still, large iron-ore deposits have recently been discovered in the region.

"Thuringia might be described, in so far as its political divisions are concerned, as Germany's bag of odds and ends. Here is the greatest concentration of the tiny and much-hyphenated duchies and principalities that have been the despair of generation after generation of geography classes, Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, Saxe-Altenburg, Saxe-Moiningen, Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt, Schwarzburg-Sondershausen, Reusa-Greiz and Reuss-Schleis are the independent divisions in Thuringia; and in addition the term covers a detached and nearby fragments of Prussia, Saxony and Bavaria, in the midst of which three former kingdoms Thuringia is set down. But despite its heavy barrage of nomenclature the entire Thuringian region is little, if any, larger than New Jersey, fourth smallest of our states.

"The Thuringian statelets, incidentally, are a shining negative example of why most monarchies long ago fixed on the principle of primogeniture, and turned the younger sons to shift for themselves. Had that principle been adopted at an early date by the Saxons, Saxony and not Prussia might have become the leading power in Germany, and led to a vastly different German empire. Thuringia and Saxony fell into one inheritance in 1482 but a division was made in 1485. While the present Saxony has remained practically at its strength at the time of the division, the Thuringian portion was divided and subdivided to afford patches of territory and titles to younger sons.

"Until primogeniture was adopted the division went merrily on until at times a dozen or more principalities existed. Through the dying out of some lines and the reuniting of properties, the number has been gradually reduced; but while one half of the old Saxony has retained its power the other half is negligible in German councils—a sort of exemplification of national fortunes of the American formula, 'shirt-sleeves to shirt-sleeves in three generations.'

"Luther was born on the border of Thuringia at Eisleben, went to school in the most Thuringian of Thuringian towns, Eisenach, and took his degree at the University of Erfurt. When his declaration at Worms had placed his life in danger, Frederick the Wise of Saxony hid Luther near Eisenach in the famous Thuringian castle of Wartburg where he remained about a year while his cause grew in popularity.

"That Thuringian traditions still make the region important socially was proved when after the world war a convention was called to frame a new German constitution. Weimer, in the very heart of Thuringia, was chosen as the place from which to launch this epoch-making document."

Stories That Recall Others

Getting Up Courage.

Several pupils got into a fuss one noonday because of marking each other's clothing with chalk. An older pupil directed them to appear before returning to school.

One was a seven year old boy who had never been sent to the principal. He was extremely uneasy and worried so over it that he could eat little lunch.

That evening he explained that he had approached the principal without fear because he had gone quietly to his room at home and read the Psalm before returning to tschool.

The principal had not scolded him but after a little talk directed his promotion at once into a grade higher.

Looking Forward.

It had been Teddy's first term at school and his mother had been telling the rich old uncle how well he was getting on and how dearly he loved his lessons. "Well, my little man," said the uncle as the child entered the room, "and what did you do in school all day?"

"I just sit around and wait until it's time to go home," was the reply.

Auckland, New Zealand, is 11,500 miles from Liverpool by way of the Panama Canal.

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.

DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.

THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY
(Incorporated 1824)
Main Street, Corner Broadway

Norwich Market Growers' Association

PLANT WEEK

The local plant growers have ample supply of vegetable plants—mid-season and late varieties of Tomatoes, late Lettuce, Cabbage and Peppers.

In flowering plants—Asters, Salvias, Zinnias, and Cosmos are offered.

GET 'EM AND SET 'EM NOW!

Pie Plant is now at its best—Use it freely on the table, and can a good supply for winter.

No Corns

1776 1923

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. Stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in clear liquid and in thin plasters. The action is the same.

At your druggist

Blue-jay

Memorial Day Pictures

KODAKS

Films and Film Packs

Fresh Stock—All Sizes, at

CRANSTON'S

Bring us your work for developing and printing.

Best Work—Quick Service

SEDGWICK CAMP, No. 4 SONS OF VETERANS

A cordial invitation is extended to all Sons of Civil War Veterans to take part in the Memorial Day exercises. Meet at Buckingham Memorial at 9:30 A. M. (Daylight Time).

JOHN H. BARNES, Commander.

ATTENTION

R. E. HOURIGAN POST, NO. 864, V. F. W. MEET AT VENICE HALL AT 1.15. MEMORIAL DAY MORNING FOR PARADE.

NO ARBITRARY ACTION ON TOTAL ABSTINENCE PLEDGE

Philadelphia, May 28.—Denial of newspaper reports that the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. took any action at the recent general assembly in Indianapolis, to compel its members to sign a total abstinence pledge, was made today by Lewis S. Mudge, stated clerk of the denomination.

"In view of widespread misrepresentation, the following statement is issued," said the announcement issued by Mr. Mudge. "The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., in session at Indianapolis took no action compelling the members of said church to sign a total abstinence pledge. The resolution adopted states 'It is the sense of this general assembly that our members should do so. The resolution is in no way mandatory. It is entirely advisory."

In a talk to a gathering of democrats in Nashville, Tenn., William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, said that the policy of the present administration in regard to the solution of the economic problems of the country was one of "wiggling and wobbling and floundering about." ra-oednoton w agains tig

FOR SALE BY

BAILEY GARAGE
J. J. HERBERT
LANOIE TIRE CO.
THAMES SQUARE GARAGE
BENDETT & TRASK
H. DORMAN
Marlboro, Conn.
WEST TOWN ST. GARAGE
Norwich Town, Conn.
DRESCHER'S GARAGE
Baltic
COLCHESTER GARAGE
Colchester, Conn.
SHAILOR'S GARAGE
North Westchester

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

Norwich, Tuesday, May 29, 1923

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7.41 o'clock tonight (s. t.)

The state road north of Fitchville is undergoing repairs by the state department of roads.

Rev. A. L. Davis of Ashaway, R. I., delivered the sermon at the Baptist church in Stonington Sunday evening.

Try a nice fresh mackerel for boiling or baking from Powers Bros.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Ahern of Hartford will open their summer cottage at Ocean Beach the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chaney, Jr., of South Manchester have taken a summer cottage at Old Lyme for the summer season.

Mrs. J. D. Rough of this city was elected a member of the executive committee of the Northern Baptist convention at Atlantic City.

The Hartford-New London road by the new road through Glastonbury is in good condition and is receiving its share of the automobile traffic.

Flounders have struck on in the waters of Long Island sound during the past few days. They are the usual indication of warm summer weather.

The state highway just south of Lebanon crossing is undergoing needed repairs. The repair work, however, is not holding up auto traffic.

The Harvard and Yale quarters at Gales Ferry are being put in readiness for the crews which are to take part in the Harvard-Yale boat races on the Thames river.

Company A, of the 170th Infantry, Connecticut National Guard will parade in Boston, June 4th, at the annual exercises of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company.

The White House restaurant will open Wednesday morning, May 30 at 92 Franklin street.—adv.

Professor L. B. Crandall of Connecticut Agricultural college was the speaker at the last meeting of the Hampton Bee club held at the home of the Misses Ruddy in Hampton.

The cellar work for the new dwelling to be erected on Lincoln avenue for W. E. Baldwin of Taftville has been completed and preparations are now being made to build the foundation.

The United States civil service commission has announced that the receipt of applications for medical officer, veterans' bureau will end on July 3. The entrance salary is given as $5,000.

The American Legion Auxiliary is having a heavy demand for poppies this year. Monday the auxiliary was requested to furnish a number of the large poppies for soldiers' graves in Stonington.

The five-masted schooner Asia was sold recently to a New York man for $9,000. She registers 1,900 tons and is equipped with a motor. She was built at Noank in 1917 at a cost of more than $160,000.

Papers from Tokyo, Japan, "The Japan Advertiser" in English and the "Chugai Shogyo Shimpo" in English and Japanese have been received in Stonington from Edward E. Bradley, who is in Japan.

The state road from Hartford to Providence by way of Willimantic, Hampton and Danielson is in good condition except at Coventry. This can be avoided by taking the north road at Bolton Notch.

All the shad sold at Powers Bros. are Conn. River fish, bought direct from the fishermen at the river.—adv.

Dr. W. H. Gray, medical examiner for the town of Stonington, who viewed the body of the unknown farmhand at the Warren Randall farm in Lower Pawcatuck Friday has pronounced death due to suicide.

Work is progressing on the new road through Laurel Hill. The street department men are at work on that part of the road near Laurel Hill bridge and the old road has been torn up for some distance south.

Adjutant General George M. Cole of this state has issued orders permitting the Massachusetts National Guard to pass through Connecticut this summer on their way to government reservations for the annual field duty.

A number of the members of Fletcher Post, American Legion Auxiliary, met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Fletcher, Lincoln avenue, to make poppies to supply the demand which is exceeding the supply.

Memorial Day has a double significance. Primarily it is the day set aside that we may stop in the rush of every day affairs to pay a tribute to the soldier dead. Secondly, it is the official closing of the spring social season.

The damaged sections of the Sacred Heart church at Norwich Town which was burned Easter Sunday are being removed. The greater part of the church walls are in good condition and can be used in the rebuilding of the church.

By the will of Sarah A. Palmer, who died May 10th, in New York city, bequests of $500 each were made to the Community house, Stonington, the Stonington Cemetery Association and the First Baptist church of North Stonington.

State police barracks No. 6 were formally opened Monday morning opposite the Groton Iron works on the Eastern Point road. M. R. Sterling, recently the only officer permanently stationed in this territory, has been placed in charge.

A heavily loaded truck went into the ditch on one of the side roads leading into the Willimantic highway just north of Yantic station on Monday morning. No damage resulted but the load had to be taken from the truck before it could be pulled back onto the road.

A movement is underway to protect the game of this section by enlisting the aid of sportsmen in shooting game destroying animals and birds before they have an opportunity to cause destruction during the nesting and mating season.

A number of people in Norwich and vicinity have motored to New London during the past few days to get a glimpse of the movie actors and actresses who are engaged in filming a picture at one of the shipyards near the City-By-the-Sea, for a well known producing concern.

When the Civil war veterans held their state encampment in Norwich recently the Meriden delegation was so pleased with the address given by Rev. Harlow J. Graham, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, this city, that they later extended him an invitation to deliver the Memorial Day address at Meriden. Rev. Mr. Graham has accepted the invitation.

Hamden.—Judge Charles E. Cuvrie has announced the appointment of Samuel A. Fight, August Schoenfer, Gilbert Peck and Mrs. Lillian Parker as probation officers for a term of two years beginning June 3.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Ida Williams of Mt. Pleasant St., is spending several days with friends in Groton.

Miss Henriette Gallup of Norwich Town left Saturday afternoon for several days' visit in New York.

William G. Ely of Schenectady, N. Y., is entertaining for a few days his sister, Miss Anna L. Ely, of 418 Washington street.

Having recently visited in Port Washington, L. I., and New York city, Mrs. Robert Robson and daughters, Jeanne and France, have returned to their home on East Town street.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Evans of Washington street leave today (Tuesday) to remain over Memorial day at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Major and Mrs. Lafayette E. Evans, of Bridgeport.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright of Medford, Mass., motored on Saturday to Worcester, where they met Mrs. Wright's mother, Mrs. Walter G. Hitchon, of Washington street, who is to be their guest for the next two weeks.

Merton L. Swan, a student at the Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., who has been spending a few weeks at the home of his mother, Mrs. Merton O. Swan, of this city, returned Monday morning to resume his study of electrical engineering.

Miss Kate Rudd of Woodside, Norwich Town, entertained informally one afternoon recently for Mrs. Elijah B. Lewis of Providence, R. I. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, who have been the guests for a number of days of the latter's sister, Mrs. Frank Robinson, of Spechem street, have returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wallen, who were in Norwich Town last Wednesday evening to participate in the reception given to Organist Herbert L. Yerrington, have returned to their home in Hartford. While en route they were callers at the home of Mr. Wallen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Wallen, of Willimantic.

OBITUARY.
Philip Rivers

The life of Philip Rivers came to a peaceful close Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Virtume Pelequin, in Occum after a few days illness with pneumonia. He was born in Canada Jan. 1851, the son of Louis and Julia Thibeault Rivers. He was 72 years of age.

He was widely known in the vicinity of Danielson, Wauregan and Attawaugan, having lived there a number of years. He was always a good and faithful husband and father fulfilling his duties as such. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, and two sons and also a son-in-law.

WEDDING.
Cruthers-Sandberg

A quiet wedding witnessed only by immediate relatives took place Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock at the First Baptist parsonage when Rev. E. C. Dunbar united in marriage Percy Gordan Cruthers of 130 Washington street and Miss Ida Viola Sandberg of 87 Mt. Pleasant street. The bride was dressed in a travelling suit of blue, wore a picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Lillian Sandberg, sister of the bride, who wore a travelling suit and carried sweet peas. The best man was C. L. Cruthers, brother of the groom. The groom is the son of Albert E. and Sadie Ladd Cruthers and was born in Sprague and is employed as an electrician. The bride was born in Norwich the daughter of Gustave and Amanda Nelson Sandberg and has been employed as a clerk by Porteous & Mitchell company.

After a wedding tour to Boston the couple will reside in this city. Their many friends wish them happiness in their married life.

PROGRAMME ARRANGED FOR SPECIAL MEMORIAL SERVICES

Following will be the program of the memorial exercises for James H. Perrin at the Falls avenue park following the disbanding of the parade on Memorial day morning.

America. by Wheeler's Band
Address—Scout Executive Benton.
Singing by assembly—Only An Armor Bearer.
Bugle call to Attention.
Reading—On Flanders Field, by Mrs. Fannie Thompson.
Address—Rev. E. E. Jackson.
Singing—Onward Christian Soldiers.
Closing—Star Spangled Banner.
Finale—Bugle and Taps.

Those assembled will kindly join in the singing.

I. J. Willis Recovering

Irving J. Willis who was injured Tuesday, May 22nd, when his Paige closed car and a one-man trolley car were in a collision at the corner of West Main and Asylum streets is once again able to be out. His many friends are pleased to learn that he has so quickly recovered from his injuries.

Wants To Abolish Capitalist System

Philip Snowden, M. P. for Blackburn and Leader of the Independent Labor Party of England, who has set all England, and much of the rest of the world, a-talking by his daring motion, in Commons, that legislation be directed towards the gradual supersession of the "capitalist system"—which he denounced as a failure—by an industrial and social order based upon public ownership and democratic control of the instruments of production and distribution. He declared that it was capitalism, not Socialism, which was on trial and said "92 per cent. of Britain's wealth is owned by two and one-half per cent. of Britain's population."

SCOTTISH RITE BODIES ELECT AND HAVE OFFICERS INSTALLED

Scottish rite bodies held their annual meetings with election and installation of officers Monday night at the Masonic temple.

King Solomon Lodge.

King Solomon Lodge of Perfection elected the following officers, who were installed by M. Albert S. Comstock, 33d:

Herbert B. Kind, T. P. master; Otto C. Mush, deputy master; John A. Ferguson, sen. warden; Harry B. Ford, jun. warden; E. Allen Bidwell, 32, orator; Frederick W. Lester, 32, treasurer; J. Frank Corey, secretary; Herman Steisner, M. of C.; W. Manley Eastwood, hosp.; Alex Finlayson, guard; James C. Fitzpatrick, tyler.

Van Rensselaer Council.

In Van Rensselaer council the officers were elected as follows:

Herbert R. Kind, sov. prince; Hilbert L. Darbie, high priest; Peter S. Wilson, sen. warden; Herman Stelsner, jun. warden; F. W. Lester, 33d, treasurer; J. Frank Corey, secretary; Otto C. Mush, M. of C.; W. Manley Eastwood, hosp.; W. Avery Gallup, M. of Ent.; James C. Fitzpatrick, tyler.

Norwich Chapter, Rose Croix

The following were the officers elected by Norwich Chapter, R. & S. Croix:

C. Hadlai Hull, M. W. Master; Guy B. Dolbeare, senior warden; Herbert E. Lawrence, junior warden; E. Allen Bidwell 33rd, orator; Frederick W. Lester, 33rd, treasurer; J. Frank Corey, secretary; Morris B. Payne, master of ceremony; W. Manley Eastwood, hospitality; Arad R. Manning, guard; James C. Fitzpatrick, tyler.

Connecticut Consistory

The triennial election of Connecticut consistory placed the following in office:

E. Allen Bidwell 33rd, commander in chief; Arthur M. Brown, 33rd, first lieutenant commander; Archibald Mitchell, Jr., 33rd, second lieutenant commander; Herbert R. Kind, orator; Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, chancellor; Frederick W. Lester, 33rd, treasurer; J. Frank Corey, secretary; Peter S. Wilson, master of ceremony; W. Manley Eastwood, hospitality; William A. Walls, Eng. of Sens.; Harry B. Ford, standard bearer; W. Avery Gallup, guard; James C. Fitzpatrick, sentinel.

The officers were installed by Albert S. Comstock, 33rd.

PRETTY THIRD BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR CHILDREN

In observance of the third birthday anniversary of her little son Herbert, Mrs. Edward Kendall pleasantly entertained a company of little folks Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Doyle, of West Main street.

Those present included six cousins of the little host as follows: Arthur Belden Bennett, Helena May Bennett, Arline Anna Doyle, Thomas Henry Doyle, 3d, Clyde Whitman and Norrine Marie Doyle, also Harry Chapman, Mary Chapman, Ethel Miller, Carleton Chester, Virginia Chester, Marion Murtha and Mildred Murtha, as well as several of the children's mothers.

The afternoon was devoted largely to games and music. For pinning the tail on the donkey, Carleton Chester won first prize, and the consolation award went to Norrine Doyle. In the peanut hunt, Marion Murtha won first prize, while Ethel Miller was awarded the consolation prize. During the afternoon Marion Murtha played several selections on a Victrola.

Refreshments of punch, assorted cookies, several kinds of cake and fruit were served by Mrs. Kendall, who was assisted by her mother and her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Doyle, Jr., and Mrs. John Doyle. An interesting feature which was enjoyed by the children was a birthday cake decorated with three lighted candles.

Each child upon leaving for home was presented a May basket filled with fancy cookies and candy. Master Herbert received a number of presents from his little friends, flowers and a sum of money.

HEARS TWO CASES IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

In the common pleas court at New London Monday, Judge C. B. Waller heard the case of Ethel Van Lynschoten of New London, executrix of the estate of the late Judge William B. Coit against Abraham J. Agranovitch of New London for the recovery of taxes on the property in Broad street, east of the Second Congregational church. The suit is for $250.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Thomas E. Troland and the defendant by Attorney Charles V. James of Norwich.

At the close of the case Judge Waller took the papers.

The court then started to try the case of Ralph Harris of New London against William J. Tryon, also of New London for $115 balance due on the purchase price of an automobile. The plaintiff claims that he sold the defendant a Ford car for $150 and that he only received $35 on account. The defendant alleges that he paid for the machine in full.

Judge Waller took the papers after hearing the evidence and the arguments.

RAISED OVER $200 FOR SACRED HEART CHURCH FUND

Over $200 was raised by the Connecticut Council of Catholic Women to be donated to the Sacred Heart church building fund, Norwich Town, at a whist and dance given Monday evening at the Wauregan hotel.

The affair was planned and directed by the executive board of the council everone giving their services without charge, the management loaning the use of the ball room, the music for the dancing which folowed the playing of bridge and whist being by the Royal Radion orchestra, Michael D'Atri, director.

The winners at bridge were as follows: Ladies, first, Miss Jane Russell; second, Mrs. J. E. Driscoll; third, Miss Kitty Corcoran; fourth, Mrs. Maurice Kelly. Gentlemen, first, James Purdon; second, John Corkery; third, Maurice Kelly; fourth, Joseph Burns.

At whist, first, Miss Irene Day; second, Miss Helen Twomey; third, Miss Mary White; fourth, Miss Blanche Richards. Gentlemen, first, Frederick Kingsley; second, Earl Lillibridge; third, C. F. McNally; fourth, Dr. F. J. Harper.

EX-GOVERNOR WEEKS HEADS COLONIAL WARS SOCIETY

New Haven, May 28.—Former Governor Frank B. Weeks of Middletown was elected governor of the Society of Colonial Wars in Connecticut at the 31st annual court at the country club here tonight. Howard Peil, honorary general givernor of the National Society; Augustus F. Moulton representing the Main society and Colonel Thaher Luquer, of the New York society were the guests of honor.

Professor Charles M. Andrews of Yale addressed the evening session on the influence of the early life in the colonies.

Other officers elected were: Edward Sargent, New Haven, deputy R. Sargent, New Haven, deputy governor; Russell W. Frost, Bridgeport, lieutenant governor; Arthur Adams, Hartford, secretary; Horace M. Merwin, Bridgeport, treasurer; Lucius B. Barmour, Hartford, registrar; Rev. Edward M. Chapman, historian, Hartford, registrar, Rev. Edward M. Chapman, New London, historian; Rev. John C. Goddard, Salisbury, Chaplain, and Frank B. Gay, Hartford genealogist.

STORK'S ARRIVAL HALTS BARGE AT NEW LONDON

The barge Ferdinand from Perth Amboy, N. J., with a load of soft coal consigned to John A. Morgan & Son of this city had its trip here interrupted by the stork on Monday morning. The bird came aboard at New London, leaving a boy baby for the wife of the captain and the boat tied up at New London while the captain's wife was taken to the hospital there.

The baby was named Sam Goldberg after the Norwich man of that name who is the owner and operator of the firm to which the cargo is consigned.

SUCCESSFUL MISSION CLOSES AT ST. MARY'S MEMORIAL

The Jesuit mission given for the past week at St. Mary's Memorial church came to an end with appropriate ceremonies Sunday evening.

The services Saturday evening consisted of the devotion of the holy hour and a sermon by Fr. Coveney, S. J., who preached on The Passion of Christ, after which he gave benediction of the blessed sacrament. On Sunday morning at the 7.30 mass the general holy communion of the men took place and here the great results of the mission were to be seen. Fr. Coveney, S. J., celebrated the mass, and he required the assistance of Fr. Keefe, the pastor, in the giving of the sacrament. The 9 o'clock mass was offered by Fr. Keefe, the pastor, which had many communicants also. The high mass at 10.30 was sung by Fr. Coholan and at this mass Fr. Keefe, the pastor, gave a general resume of the grand results of the mission, among which was mentioned the convert class, the largest class in the history of the parish. At 3.30 Sunday afternoon the fathers, mothers, babes in arms and children up to the age of 7, as well as many adults, crowded the handsome edifice for the special blessing conveyed on the children, in which all present had a share. Fr. Coveney, S. J., preached the sermon on The Dignity of Motherhood, and gave the special blessing, also the benediction. Fr. Keefe gave each child present a souvenir medal of the happy occasion.

In the evening at 7.30 came the solemn closing of the mission for the men only and the men were out in large numbers to close a week of much sacrifice—rising early and retiring late. The sermon by Fr. Coveney, S. J., on Sunday night was found in this text: "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life forever," in which the week's labor was gone over and the men were admonished to hold fast to their resolutions.

Fr. Coveney, S. J., then asked the men to arise and with the holding of a blessed candle, lighted, in their right hand, renew their baptismal vows, after which he gave them the apostolic blessing, granted only by His Holiness Pius XI to priests who carry the missionary faculties. There was a final blessing by Fr. Coveney, S. J., of religious articles, after which he bade the men an affectionate farewell, saying that he would hold the parish in fond remembrance, and asked for Fr. Walsh, S. J., his assistant, and self a share in their good prayers.

Fr. Coholan closed the memorable mission period with benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Both priests are under the Provincial Order of Jesuits at New York city, their training school being at Woodstock, Md. Fr. Walsh, S. J., left Friday at noon to conduct retreat work in Pennsylvania, while Fr. Coveney, S. J., leaves today to open a spiritual retreat at Boston.

The work of both choirs during the two weeks' retreat, assisted by the congregations and directed by the organist, Henry J. LaFontaine, was commending by both missionary priests. In the minds of the mission priests, the work of Catholicity in this city has not been allowed to lag, judging by their temples of worship in which the city has cause for just pride.

SAILOR HURT LEARNING TO RIDE A MOTORCYCLE

Richard Gardner, a sailor from the submarine base, was thrown from the motorcycle he was learning to ride Monday night about 9.30 when the wheel caught in the trolley track at Burnham square, Cline Stuckum, another sailor, who was riding behind Gardner as instructor, was also thrown and had the back of one hand skinned, but Gardner was injured enough to be taken to the Backus hospital for treatment.

He was thrown on his head and shoulders as he landed, receiving a badly lacerated left eyebrow and bruises and lacerations on the left side of his body.

Gardner was taken into the machine of a passing motorist who drove him to the hospital. While passing Chelsea bank corner, the motorist saw Officer Bert Lamphere there and had him notify police headquarters from which word was sent to the hospital by Capt. D. J. Twomey that the patient was on his way.

Sailor Stuckum mounted the motorcycle after the accident and attempted to follow the automobile to the hospital, but was spotted by State Policeman M. R. Sterling, who took him into custody and charged him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. After an examination by a doctor at police headquarters the sailor was summoned to be in court in the morning to answer the charge.

WILL GIVE DEMONSTRATION OF VOTING MACHINES

The voting machines will be demonstrated in the corridor of the court house Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 12.30 to 9 p. m. for the instruction of new voters or users who want to familiarize themselves with the operation of the machines before the city election next Monday.

This will be the only district in which the machines will be demonstrated. Registrars Tyler D. Guy and Cornelius J. Downes will be in charge.

TEXTILE OPERATIVES TO MEET IN THIS CITY

The annual convention of the American Federation of Textile operatives will be held in this city, June 27-30. This was decided at Monday's session of the executive council of the Federation in Fall River.

Waterbury.—Waterbury's high school students of Italian extraction have organized an Italian high school student club, the first of its kind ever to be organized in this city and it is believed in the state.

NORWICH SHRINERS TO MAKE WASHINGTON TRIP

A considerable party of Norwich Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is to make the Washington trip, June 4 to June 9, the prospectus promising the Nobles the time of their lives.

The following will be the programme:

Tuesday, June 5—Parade, uniform bodies escorting Imperial Potentate to the opening ceremonies of the Imperial council. Opening of Imperial Council at Poli's theatre. President's Welcome for the nation, Cuno H. Rudolph, chairman of citizen's committee. Welcome in behalf of the city, L. P. Steuart, welcome for Almas Temple. Reply by Imperial Potentate. Music by Almas Glee club. Luncheon to the Imperial Divan and members of the Imperial Council. Luncheon to the ladies of the Imperial Divan and the members of Imperial Council. Tea and reception to the Ladies of the Imperial Divan and members of the Imperial Council. Banquet to the Imperial Potentate, and the members of the Imperial Council. Banquet to the Ladies of the Imperial Divan and members of the Imperial Council. Banquet to officers of the Uniformed Bodies.

Wednesday, June 6—Session Imperial Council. Luncheon to the Imperial Divan and members of the Imperial Council. Tea to the Ladies of the Imperial Divan and members of the Imperial Council. The National Association of Amateur Oarsmen annual Southern Regatta. Sight seeing around Washington. Night parade Uniformed Bodies.

A massed band concert of all bands attending the session of the Imperial Council, led by John Philip Sousa, at the Washington baseball park. Band concerts by the different bands at places selected by the chairman of the bands and concert committee.

Concerts by the Chanters at places selected by the chairman of the committee on songs.

Thursday, June 7—Session of the Imperial Council. Luncheon to the Imperial Divan and members of Imperial council. Visit to Mt. Vernon by the Ladies of the Imperial Divan and members of Imperial Council. Banquet to the New Imperial Divan. Parade by all branches United States army, Masonic and historical pageant designed to be the spectacular climax of all the parades. Fireworks on the Monument grounds.

The dance of the states on historic Pennsylvania avenue. One hundred thousand people dancing to the best music in the world. The climax of a wonderful day.

Thursday evening, June 7—A picture beautiful and pathetic, not to say significant, will be presented on Pennsylvania avenue in the final tableau of the wonder week—the dance of the States. Representatives of all the principal tribes will participate in the rodeo.

Friday, June 8—Sight seeing. American League baseball, daily from June 2 to June 10, between the Washington American American League club and three other clubs of the American League, each of which has a Noble of the Mystic Shrine as manager.

During the days of the session, and throughout the week, the air service of the army and navy will stage unique aeroplane exhibitions, bombing contests, air battles, and many other features never before witnessed in this country.

NORWICH BUILDING LOAN ISSUING ANOTHER SERIES

A preliminary meeting to arrange for the opening of the next series of the Norwich Building and Loan association was held at the Wauregan House Monday evening and complete plans for the membership campaign which is to be held for one week commencing June 19 ending June 25th were announced:

This will be the seventeenth series for the local association and during the eight years that it has been in existence there has been a steady growth in membership, there being at the present time approximately 600 members and total assets of 107,000.

The committee which will have charge of the campaign is composed of the following members: President, E. O. Rodier; Hon. H. M. Lerou, Thomas H. Beckley, J. J. Brady, Albert Clayton, L. M. Crandall, Edward Crooks, W. E. Manning, William Noyes, John J. O'Rourke, H. J. Randall, Herman Stelsner, Charles I. Smith, John R. Tarrant, H. F. Topliff, John E. Vaughn, Earl Wood and John M. Lee.

Delegates from Norwich to the meeting of the Connecticut League of Local Building and Loan associations, which was held at Hartford last Saturday, gave a brief summary of the growth of these associations in Connecticut during recent years. There are 34 local building and loan associations in the state with a total membership of 30,000 and assets of 11,000. Although the local association is one of the youngest in the state it has kept pace with the growth of similar organizations in Connecticut. Those attending the Hartford meeting, representing the local association, were John E. Vaughn, Earl Wood, B. W. Ryan and John J. O'Rourke.

Returns From California

Captain G. Waldo Oat, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Oat of Cliff street is visiting at home having recently returned from California via the Panama Canal on one of the Standard Oil company tankers.

GALES FERRY

In the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday morning a special service was arranged by Rev. W. D. Woodward for the Sunday preceding Memorial day. A responsive service, In Memoriam, was read and the theme taken for his sermon by Rev. Mr. Woodward was from Numbers 13: 30, Let us go up at once, and possess it. At the offertory a selection, The Cross and the Flag, was sung by a quartet, Miss Grace A. Chapman, Mrs. Amos Main, C. E. Colver and D. R. Povey.

To the children Rev. Mr. Woodward spoke briefly, preceding his sermon, from the words, Give us this day our daily bread.

Special announcement for the week was that Rev. Charles H. Ricketts of Norwich would be the speaker of the afternoon at Memorial day services held at the church Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, standard time.

Other announcements included a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society for Thursday afternoon at the vestry of the church, and a meeting of the Stewardship class on Thursday evening.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Parker in this place Friday evening a miscellaneous shower was given Miss Fannie Gray of Ledyard in honor of her approaching marriage to Alton M. Stoddard of Gales Ferry. An informal program was arranged, opening with a bridal procession with the guests in costume, followed by a duet sung by Mrs. Monett A. Lawson and Miss Gertrude Allen. Mrs. C. H. Bartlett was at the piano. They kindly responded with an encore. Games were enjoyed. The closing number of the program was the presentation of a huge May basket to Miss Gray filled with beautiful gifts, among them pink and white wool blankets, pyrex dishes, luncheon set, handembroidered towels, cut glass, china, handkerchiefs and a gold piece.

The guests from Ledyard were Miss Gray's sister, Miss Florence Gray, Mrs. I. Deolittle and daughter, Miss Dorothy Deolittle, and Paul Wiemer, and among those from the Ferry, Mrs. Henry W. Hurlbutt, Mr. and Mrs. R. Irving Hurlbutt, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll S. Hurlbutt, Mrs. Rufus W. Hurlbutt, Mrs. Charles H. Bartlett, Mrs. Ellen Stoddard, Mrs. Monett A. Lawson, Winthrop Hurlbutt, Alton M. Stoddard, the Misses Laura A. Perkins, Jennie G. Perkins, Gertrude Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Parker. Refreshments of ice cream and cake, with fruitade, were served.

Rev. W. D. Woodward, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, received a check for $50 to be added to the new parsonage fund from a friends in this state on Satrday.

Miss Mabel Meech of Middletown motored here and was a week end guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Charles A. Satterlee, and her daughter, Miss Alice Satterlee.

Judge Allyn L. Brown and Mrs. Brown and children, with Judge Brown's mother, Mrs. Lucius Brown, all of Norwich, were a party that motored to the Ferry and were callers at the home of the latter's uncle, Noyes B. Allyn, on Saturday afternoon.

Elisha B. Squires and daughter, Miss Squires, with son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Squires, with the latter's mother, Mrs. Humanson, all of Hartford, motored here Sunday and spent the day with Noyes B. Allyn, Mr. Squires' long time friend.

Mrs. Richard Parker, who has been spending some time at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Doyle, at Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, Pa., arrived Monday at her home at Gales Ferry with her son, Nelson Parker, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Peerkins of Groton, with two young sons, Robert and Kenneth, were callers at the home of Mr. Perkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon L. Perkins Sunday afternoon.

The Queen Esther circle of girls met at the home of their superintendent, Mrs. R. Irving Hurlbutt, on Saturday afternoon, and from there went on a hike to the woods, where a picnic lunch of sandwiches and cake was served. A nominating committee was named for the officers to be elected for another year—the Misses Laura McGuire, Helen L. Colver and Marjorie Gates.

HOPKINTON

The citizens' caucus has put in nomination a full town ticket for most of the town officers. The same town clerk, town treasurer, overseer of the poor and superintendent of the town farm as were nominated by the republican caucus are named on this ticket.

Rev. A. L. Davis has been selected by the Memorial day committee to deliver the address at Ashaway Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles W. Jolley and her three children arrived in town Thursday morning after a winter spent in Seabreeze, Fla.

Mrs. Bertha Brooks of North Andover, Mass., and Mrs. Elwell of Boston were guests of Mrs. Mad O. Brown last week.

The annual meeting of the Ashaway free library was held Tuesday evening May 22. Dr. A. B. Briggs was elected president and A. Julian Crandall vice president. The other officers were elected the same as last year with the exception that Julian T. Crandall and John A. Slocum were elected trustees in place of Dr. Asa S. Briggs and Herbert C. Babcock, who have left town.

An effort is to be made to increase the number of stockholders, as many have died or removed from town. Some improvements in the library building are contemplated to render the library more convenient. The report of the librarian showed an increase of over 500 volumes in circulation over that of last year.

Wallingford.—The 6th annual meeting of the Harvard club of Connecticut was held at the Choate school Saturday.

Free to Asthma and Hay Fever Sufferers

Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Chronic Asthma or Hay Fever, you should send for a free Trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with Asthma or Hay Fever, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it Today—you even do not pay postage.

FREE TRIAL COUPON

FRONTIER ASTHMA CO.,
Room 31-Y Niagara and Hudson Streets, Buffalo, N. Y.

Send free trial of your method to:

.....

.....

.....

RHEUMATISM

Rheuma, the marvelous rheumatism remedy, sold and guaranteed by The Lee & Osgood Co. Acts quickly, safely, surely. It antagonizes and drives from the system the poisons that cause stiffness and pain in the joints and muscles.

ATTENTION

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION AND ALL EX-SERVICE MEN ARE INVITED TO MEET AT THE LEGION ROOMS, 90 MAIN ST., WEDNESDAY AT 9.30 A. M., TO TAKE PART IN MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES. IT IS THE DUTY OF ALL TO TURN OUT AND SHOW RESPECT TO THE VETERANS OF '61.

COOKS On All Subjects All Kinds

Subscription to all American and European Publications.

SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

FISHING TACKLE

The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.

SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE
SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS.

All Agate Guide Casting Rods. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

At the recent annual meeting of the Connecticut chamber of commerce at Hartford, Lester E. Shippee, deputy state bank commissioner, presided at the meeting of the banking and insurance committee. This meeting was addressed by the insurance commissioner of the state of New York. The room was crowded. Many people were turned away who had hoped to attend the meeting. Mr. Shippee, whose home is in this town and who formerly was assistant cashier at the Windham County National bank, presided very well and was congratulated for the manner in which the meeting was conducted.

The seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dalakois was knocked down Monday afternoon when she dashed out from between two cars parked at the side of Main street, near the Bohemian club, and ran against the side of the car of Herman M. Coulter. The child skinned an arm in the affair, but otherwise did not appear to be at all hurt. Mr. Coulter was not held accountable for the accident by the police.

Monday afternoon at his home in Plainfield funeral services for Adfer E. Hopkins were conducted by Rev. William A. Prentiss of the Plainfield Congregational church. Burial was in Brooklyn cemetery. The bearers were Charles Hopkins of Plainfield, Loren Hopkins and J. A. Hopkins of Washington, R. I., H. W. Howland of North Scituate. A. F. Wood was the funeral director.

Mr. Hopkins, a native of Foster, R. I., formerly was a resident in Brooklyn and was also known to many Danielson people. He had been a resident of Plainfield for about 15 years. He leaves his wife, and a son, Joseph E. Hopkins.

The Windham County National bank has all the modern facilities for handling the financial business of the community.

One depositing in the commercial department can thus pay all bills by check. An endorsed check offers one of the best forms of receipt possible.

The savings department takes care of one's surplus earnings.

The safe depository is located in the modern fire and burglar proof vault, and boxes can be rented at a very nominal sum, thus assuring safety of valuable papers, insurance policies, deeds, passbooks, etc.

There are many other facilities which they would be pleased to enumerate and describe to all those interested. The Windham County National Bank. —adv.

The death of Mrs. Catharine B. Young, 70, widow of Eugene B. Young, occurred early Sunday evening at her home on Main street, near Davis park. Mrs. Young had been in poor health, but her death came unexpectedly and after a sudden and severe attack of illness.

Mrs. Young was born in Brooklyn, a daughter of Willard and Catharine Brown Day, her father and mother's people having been prominently identified with the historic of that town for several generations. Mrs. Young leaves a sister, Miss Annie Day, with whom she made her home.

Both interesting and surprising is the thrift shown by the people of this locality—surprising as to the magnitude of it. During the past year the growth o fsaving accounts in Danielson's three banks has amounted to 760,000, it is shown by figures in the report of the state bank commissioner. Of this amount the gain in the savings department of the Windham County National bank has amounted to $320,000. This institution is just starting on its second century of business and has a surplus and undivided profits in excess of $100,00.

Auction sale at Witter's auction rooms, 42 Main street, Danielson, on Saturday of this week at 1 o'clock p. m. Refer to classified adv. page today for detailed account.—adv.

Numbers of Danielson people were at Putnam Monday to see the ruins of the Chickering hotel and hundreds of them were at Brooklyn either during or after the big fire of the afternoon in that village.

Howard A. Benton of Fall River was a visitor with friends in Danielson Monday.

Manufacturing plants throughout the town of Killingly will be closed tomorrow (Wednesday) in observance of Memorial day.

Miss Helen Cronin, student at St. Vincent's college on the Hudson, is expected to arrive here today to spend the summer vacation.

Very few minutes were consumed Monday afternoon by the Captain Put Engine company in making the run to the fire at Brooklyn. Remarkable, too, was the promptitude with which the company responded to the alarm for this fire.

Borough assessors will now engage upon the work of compiling the grand list of the borough, the time for filing returns having expired.

MANSFIELD DEPOT

Frances Bowers has accepted a position with the New Departure company in Bristol.

Rev. E. E. Gatts will preach in Dunham Memorial church next Sunday.

Mrs. E. B. Thompson spent the week end in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenelon McCollum and the Misses Young of South Coventry spent Friday in Westfield, Mass.

PIMPLES ON FACE AND HANDS

For Two Years. Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"Pimples broke out on my face and hands. They were hard, large, and red, and itched and burned so that I could not help scratching them. I could not put my hands in water, and my face was badly disfigured. At night I could not sleep. The trouble lasted for two years.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Mary C. Merrill, 510 Sound View Ave., Stratford, Conn.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for every-day toilet and nursery purposes.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

DANIELSON CASINO,
STARKWEATHER BLDG.
BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
FOUR ALLEYS THREE TABLES
WEDNESDAYS LADIES' DAY.
Bowling is the sport for all. Prizes given away every Saturday.

PUTNAM

Once more during the first hour of Monday morning the Chickering hotel block was gutted by fire, this being the third visitation of the kind within a few years. The structure still stands after as valiant and successful a fight as the Putnam fire department has waged against a bad fire in years. The loss is approximated at about $25,000 distributed between R. H. Bradley, owner of the building, and tenants occupying quarters in the block.

In this fire the Front street end of the big frame structure was damaged. The alarm came in just a few minutes before midnight Sunday while diners were still at the tables in the Colonial restaurant occupying quarters on the Front street side of the building. The blaze appeared to have had its inception in the bakery in the store adjoining the restaurant, but it spread quickly through the northerly end of the building and for a time the blazing block presented a spectacular sight, flames leaping up and glaring through the windows. It appeared as though the building was doomed and that the fire would be a repetition of the Donahue block disaster in February, but this happily did not prove to be the case.

Outwardly after the fire the Front street side of the building did not appear to be badly damaged, but the interior is more or less of a wreck and restoration costs will be heavy. Mr. Bradley said Monday morning that he had not definitely decided whether to restore the structure in the form it was prior to the fire or whether he tear down a badly damaged section fronting the railroad property on the level above Front street. He has been engaged for some time in heavy expenditures attendant upon rebuilding and remodeling a section of the hotel and business block as it was before a previous fire of about three years ago.

The structure has not been used for hotel purposes for a long time, and has been given over to stores, restaurants, bakeries, etc.

Oliver Christian, directing the efforts of former Manhasset company employes who have been away from attending in Fall River the executive committee meeting of the American Federation of Textile Operatives at which $2500 weekly was voted for the support of the families involved in the industrial battle now being waged in this city.

Mr. Christian said he found nothing new in the local situation. He stressed the fact that the strikers' pickets would be withdrawn at noon Monday and will be kept away from the mill company's plant for some time, as a demonstration that picketing is not required to hold the strength of the strikers, as he hears has been charged in some quarters.

He also announced that the strike committee has hired the Subway lunch room on South Main street and a large building in the rear, against the time as the strike grows older that quarters are needed for families evicted from mill company tenements. The lunch room will be used by strikers in preparing meals if they are left without homes and for distributing aid if that action becomes necessary. The building in the rear is reserved for the storage of the household goods of those who are to be put out of mill company tenements and have no place to go. Mr. Christian said that trucks were engaged Monday in removing the household goods of some families already obeying the summary process proceedings.

Strikers Monday expressed the same confidence in ultimate victory for their cause as they have since the strike started three weeks ago tomorrow. The financial backing they are now getting has encouraged them to hold out, it was said.

The mill continued to operate with its reduced force on Monday, when it was said by those who made a careful checkup that a few additional hands went to work.

Guards continue to maintain a day and night patrol about the mill, which will be obtaining ne wheip as soon as houses are made available for them, it is said.

With Edward Benoit sitting back of the steering wheel and a goodly company of members of the fire department aboard one of the trucks of the central station, a fast run was made from this city Monday afternoon to answer the emergency call that came from Brooklyn to the local fire department. The run from this city to Brooklyn, a distance of about 14 miles, was made in 35 minutes, the route followed being past the Putnam Country club and via Alexander's lake into Dayville and Danielson that the traffic on the main Putnam-Danielson route might be avoided. The local firemen were welcomed in Brooklyn and arrived in time to render some aid, though the fire was well advanced at the time and coming under control. Chief Ralph E. Thureton was with the local firemen.

A ton Ford truck left parked in Canal street Monday afternoon by Ernest Peterson of Pomfret, an employe of the state highway department, set off on his own account and after rolling across Pomfret street without hitting anyone crashed into E. L. Kelley's laundry in the Kent building, smashing out a plate glass window and doing other damage sufficient in all to amount to about $150. The emergency brake on the car was set when it was left by the drive, but some jar is believed to have caused the machine to start without a driver on a trip that was brief but attended by disaster.

William Travers, Aime Gagne, 19 and Joseph Bartello, 20, all of Fall River, were before Judge M. H. Geissler in the city court Monday to answer to a charge of stealing personal property valued at nearly $100 from occupants of the bunkhouses in the railroad yards. All the youths had been employed with a work crew of the railroad.

Travers, who only recently was released from probation after figuring in an unsavory episode in his home state, finally admitted responsibility for some of the thieving done at the bunkhouse here and account of his being honest and supplying officers with information required for conviction was let off by the court upon payment of $21 costs and $29 as his share of restitution money. Gagne was given a fine of $50 and costs and Bartello was sent to jail for 30 days.

Four other youths who were in the same group as the trio that appeared in court were unsuccessfully sought for Monday by city and railroad police that they might be presented in court to face charges of theft.

At an earlier session of the city court Monday Judge Geissler sent Patrick St. George of this city to jail for 30 days for having been intoxicated.

A flurry was caused around the headquarters of the Windham County Farmers' association here Monday when a telephone message brought the information to County Agent F. L. Davis that Boston afternoon editions were carrying a story of Windham county origin that milk from this territory to the Boston and Providence markets was going to drop a cent a quart June 1. Headquarters of the New England Milk Producers' association in Boston set up an immediate inquiry to determine the source of the despatch, which was declared to be without foundation, though it was carried by two press associations. County Agent Davis denies that there has been any announcement of a cut for June 1, or that an agreement for such a reduction as is mentioned has been entered into. The despatch gained widespread circulation before press associations were informed of its unreliability and took steps to correct it.

Students of the machine department of the State Trade School visited the Putnam Foundry on Wednesday, the management of the foundry having kindly offered to show and explain the various processes to the students.

They received considerable knowledge of the manner in which castings are made and the visit brought out quite a number of questions which will be made the subject of shop talks, discussions and writeups on general shop methods and procedure.

The object of these visits is to enable the boy to visualize in what manner his particular work is related to the work of others as well as making him a better mechanic by the proper use of that knowledge.

Mrs. Chester Emerson of Webster visited at her home here over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Emerson were visitors with friends in New London Sunday.

William Anis Welch and Isabelle A. Burzas, both of Worcester, were married here Monday by Judge M. H. Geissler, acting as a justice of the peace.

Robert C. Sands is a medical patient at the Day Kimball hospital.

Corpus Christi will be observed at St. Mary's church next Sunday. If the weather is pleasant there will be a procession of the Blessed Sacrament.

Wallace M. Aldrich made the trout fishermen envious Monday when he displayed a string of eight trout the beauty of the lot weighing one and three quarter pounds and being 16 inches in length. H. A. Johnson, who accompanied Mr. Aldrich on the fishing trip also caught eight trout. The fish were taken from a brook that runs close by where Mr. Aldrich lived as a boy in the neighboring town of Pomfret.

Judge Milton A. Shumway of Danielson, acting in his capacity as state referee, came to Putnam Monday morning for the taking of evidence in two divorce cases. The hearing was held in the superior court room and the referee's finding will be given to a judge of the superior court.

The first case was that of Lucy Troening vs. Moosup against her husband, August Troening of Woodhaven, L. I. The allegation was desertion since June 16, 1916. The couple were married in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 26th, 1909. Mrs. Thoening seeks the custody of her two minor children.

The second case was that of Carrie L. Cady of Dayville vs. Harrison H. Cady fo Woodstock. The grounds alleged were intolerable cruelty. They were married, April 13th, 1919. The petitioner asks the custody of the one minor child.

BOLTON

Exercises for field day for the Bolton school were held at Bolton Center last Friday afternoon. The following program was successfully carried out under the direction of School Supervisor W. S. Dakin and the teachers. March by schools with banners as follows: Center, North, Birch Mountain and South; march from school house to North end of green; salute to flag; song, America; song and folk dance by North school; 75 yard dash, boys, winner, North pupil; 50 yard dash, girls, won by Birch Mountain pupil; 25 years dash, primary boys and girls, winner, North school; running broad jump, boys, winner, North pupil; basketball throw, girls, winner, North pupil; skipping rope primary girls, winner, Center pupil; folk dance, Center won; potato race, boys, winner North pupil; sack race, girls, winner, Birch Mountain pupil; song and folk dance, South school won; folk dance, Birch Mountain; massing of pupils; song; announcing of result, North school won, 109 points; Center, 66; Birch Mt., 56; South school, 33.

A silver cup which is to be owned by the school winning it for three successive years was won last year and this year by the North school members.

Attendance for the Bolton schools for April was as follows: North 98; Center, 97; South, 97 ;Birch Mt., 89.

Drake post, G. A. R., of South Manchester, gathered at the Bolton cemeteries Sunday afternoon where exercises were held and the soldiers graves decorated.

Arthur A. Rockwell has purchased a sedan.

Misses Elisabeth M. Daley and Margaret H. Daly of South Manchester were at their Boston home over Sunday.

Charles N. Loomis, Jr., of Pawtucket, R. I., has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Loomis.

Mrs. Charles F. Sumner entertained the Ladies' Aid society at her home last Thursday afternoon.

Miss Helen Mathien of Hartford was a recent visitor at her home in town.

MANHASSET TENANTS MUST VACATE IN 48 HOURS

(Special to the Bulletin)

Putnam, May 28—The first eight eviction cases of former employes of the Manhassett Manufacturing Company, warned a week ago to vacate their homes in the company's houses were heard before Archibald Macdonald, Jr., justice of the peace, Monday afternoon. No defence was made to the complaints and judgment was entered in each case that the defendants vacate.

It was agreed that they remove from their homes within forty eight hours. Those appearing were: Edward Benoit, Joseph Beribe, Romeo Breault, Frederick Diotte, Louis Glagg, George Gaci, Eli LaRose and Henry Belisle. Fortyeight notices to quit have been served since the strike began and these are the first to be brought to court.

Every Minute Counts in the fight against constipation!

Once let constipation get a grip on you, and your system is wide open to 90% of human ailments. Statistics show that to be the proportion of illness that has constipation for a starting point. Pills and cathartics are as dangerous to the system as constipation!

Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran, because it is nature's own relief from constipation. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do what no other food can do! It will give every sufferer permanent relief if it is eaten regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases!

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its natural, positive action. It sweeps and cleanses and purifies the bowel tract; it scours out the dangerous toxic poisons; it puts you back on schedule time without irritation or discomfort!

Don't delay eating Kellogg's Bran each day in some form! Try it as a cereal sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal or cook it with hot cereals. In the latter case, add two tablespoonfuls for each person and mix with the regular cereal and cook as usual.

Kellogg's Bran is simply delicious made into muffins, popovers, raisin bread, macaroons, pancakes, etc. Recipes are on every package! For health's sake get some Kellogg's Bran immediately. All grocers.

First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant.

FLAMES CAUSE $20,000 LOSS IN BUSINESS SECTION OF BROOKLYN

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Danielson, May 28.—Fire department forces from Danielson, Putnam, Wauregan and Plainfield rushed to Brooklyn Monday afternoon just before 3 o'clock to battle a blaze that was threatening to wipe out the entire central section of the pretty village and there were minutes when it appeared likely this would happen. At one period eight buildings were afire and men with buckets on the roofs of other buildings were keeping down incipient fires until fire fighters rushing from nearby towns could lend their aid to the Brooklyn firemen and residents of the village in checking the flames.

The total damage was estimated at $20,000.

A checkup after the fire had raged for an hour and a half and was fully under control showed that the Frank A. Spalding garage, where the fire originated, the large adjoining stables of Mr. Spalding, the residence of Sherwood Potter nearby, two barns on the William T. Isaac estate, now occupied by Rev. John R. Pratt and the clubhouse of the golf club had been totally destroyed; The old hotel now used for homes and occupied by Mrs. A. B. Cummings, the owner, by Elliott E. Allen and family and Frank A. Spalding, was quite badly damaged. Grange hall roof also was afire at times, as was the roof of Trinity church and the roof of the Congregational rectory, formerly the Isaacs residence and one of the finest in the village. Roofs of other buildings in the vicinity also blazed at times as flying sparks lighted on dry shingles, but vigilant men acting as a bucket brigade remained stationed on these roofs and promptly squelched fires that would have doubled the total of destroyed structures had they gotten out of control.

Something that went wrong with Mr. Spalding's motor bus is believed to have been the cause of the fire. The machine had been run into the garage only a few minutes after making one of its daily trips with pupils when E. E. Allen, looking over from his store toward the garage, which for the time being was unattended, saw smoke rolling out of the building and upon going over to investigate found the bus a mass of flames. In an amazingly short time thereafter the garage, the adjoining stables of the Potter residence were a raging mass of flames and all of these structures were completely consumed as the Brooklyn fire department with their limited equipment could do nothing to check the fire.

In the meantime telephone messages were summoning aid from nearby towns. The Captain Put Engine company of Danielson was the first to arrive after a high speed run from their station four miles away. The Danielson firemen immediately directed their attention to checking the spread of the fire by making their fight against the flames that were bent on to lap up the roof and rear of the old hotel. They used chemicals while their heavy hose was being run to the town pump well, which it may be said is a wonderful well with an amazing supply of water—the only available supply for the big pumper, and by careful husbanding and operating at a reduced pressure this well of water held out throughout the fire and was a big factor in saving the village from a disaster many times more serious than the one experienced. How remarkable the well is may be indicated by stating that the pumper of the Danielson department sucking water from it has a capacity of 800 gallons a minute, though not as much as that was being taken out at any one time.

The Danielson firemen, with the willing assistance of many bystanders in handling hose, succeeded in stopping the fire in its sweep southward at the old hotel and toward the adjoining town house, once a county seat. But in the meantime the terrific heat from the roaring furnaces that the garage, stable and Potter house had become was sweeping blazing embers high over the tops of the elms bordering the Main street and across the dep lawns of the Isaac estate and the adjoining Trinity church property, several hundred feet distant from the original fire.

The fine barn that could not be replaced at today's costs for $15,000 was among the first of the buildings to flame in the new danger zone and within another five minutes another barn to the north of the Isaac residence was burning, as was the golf club house. All of these buildings were consumed. Firemen of various groups were meanwhile battling to save the Isaacs residence and Trinity church, both of which were constantly threatened and at times were ablaze on the roofs.

In saving the church and the Isaacs residence the Wauregan firemen lent valuable assistance with their chemical outfit. Putnam firemen, who arrived after a run of 25 minutes from Putnam, went into action at the scene of the original fire, and did good wrk in cleaning up the situation there. The Lawton Mills Chemical company of Plainfield, the last out of town company called, arrived toward the close of the danger period and did not go into action.

Estimates of the total losses and other damage run as high as $20,000 though this figure would not nearly cover replacement costs. Mr. Spalding, unfortunatly, is without insurance. The other properties were covered against fire loss.

As news of the fire spread through this end of the county a regular traffic jam was created and toward the end of the fire several hundred cars stretching away for a mile in each direction on all three state highways out of Brooklyn almost blocked the roads. State Officers Albert S. Field and Merrill Keith from the Danielson barracks were on duty almost at the outbreak of the fire and directed traffic until late in the afternoon and the situation had been cleared up. Their aid was of immense value in keeping the crowds under control.

There were many expressions of thanksgiving after the fire that the catastrophe had proved no greater. For a time the situation really was terrifying, but the good work of the firemen and the fact that there is a remarkable well of water under the old town pump area saved the situation. Credit, too, is due scores of men who gathered and worked like trojans, bringing water and climbing roofs that were ablaze or threatened and without doubt saving various other buildings from destruction.

Brooklyn people were deeply grateful for the assistance given by the visiting firemen and to all others from out of town who came and lent a hand.

The damage to Trinity church is no more than can be covered by the replacement of a few shingles, but there was a period of the fire when church members started clearing the chancel of its furnishings, believing that the church was doomed, but this was not the case.

COLCHESTER

There were two good games of baseball played on the park Saturday afternoon. The first game was called at 2 o'clock between the Bacon Academy team and a team from Norwich. The Academy team defeated the Norwich team by the score of 8 to 6. Siegel and Kamis were the battery for the Norwich team and Hankin, Mintz and Solomon for the Academy team.

The second game was called at 4 o'clock between a team from New London and the Colchester team. The Colchesters defeated the visiting team by the score of 7 to 2. The battery for New London was Brewer and D. McDonald, and the locals, S. Slavkin and F. B. Clark. The New London team was unable to connect with Slavkin's curves.

Leo White of New Haven was at his home on Hayward avenue over Sunday.

Attorney Edward M. Day of Hartford, was the guest of his sisters, Misses Elizabeth and Susan Day on Norwich avenue over Sunday.

Fred and William Getchell and families of Hartford, formerly of this place were callers in town Sunday.

Mrs. Hattie Reynolds and daughter, Miss Martha, of Norwich, and Mr. and Mrs. William Tracy and children of Mansfield, were guests of Mrs. William E. Strong on Hayward avenue over Sunday.

Walter B. Lombard of Hartford was the guest of his mother on Norwich avenue over Sunday.

We will open up our old store, (opposite R. R. depot) with a full line of meats, groceries, etc. Daniel Goldberg, Colchester, Conn.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Chapman and daughter, of Salem, were guests of Mr. Chapman's brother, A. H. Chapman, Sunday.

Rev. Otto Baumeister of Willimantic, formerly curate of St. Andrew's church, of this place, was a caller here Sunday.

There was an unusually large number of cars passed through the village Sunday over the Hartford-New London turnpike and the Norwich and Colchester turnpike.

Miss Alice Brown, who is teaching school in East Hampton was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Brown on Norwich avenue over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Clark of Norwich were visitors in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Williams and children of Wallingford were the guests of Mr. Williams' mother, Mrs. Martha Williams on Broadway, Sunday.

Mrs. Katie Talcott and Mrs. Julia Smith were visitors in Norwich Saturday.

Mrs. A. T. Van Cleve was a visitor in Hartford, Sunday.

SPRING HILL

On Monday evening, the 21st about 60 neighbors and friends of Judge nad Mrs. L. J. Storrs surprised them at their home in observance of the anniversary of their marriage. A musical programme, refreshments and a general good time made the evening a very enjoyable one. Mr. and Mrs. Storrs were presented with a slight token of remembrance of the occasion.

On Friday evening the Ladies Aid Society served a baked bean supper to about 75, about a third of them coming from the C. A. C.

The farm house owned by William Bischoff is receiving new shingles. The house is a large, two story, and is said to have been raised independence day. It is in good state of preservation and was formerly owned by Jared Freeman who died in 1906 at the age of 86 years.

The agerage age of the 18 old Spring Hill residents who died in the 15 years from July 1st, 1906 was 73 1-2 years. Mrs. Eunice Freeman, the oldest, 89 years and 5 months; Mrs. Sarah Freeman, the youngest, 63 years.

Six members of the fraternity from here attended a Masonic meeting at Merrow Saturday evening.

The choir assisted in the service at the church on Sunday.

Mrs. Babcock and Harriet are here for three or four days getting their summer home ready for occupancy later.

Mildred Cummings is here for the summer.

There was no service at the church Sunday evening, and several attended the union service at Mansfield Centre.

Services will be held here on Memorial Day at 9 o'clock in the morning and will be conducted by Prof. Danlinger.

Wayne Storrs is able to be out again but is not fully recovered from his illness.

In extending the electric lighting system over the hill new poles were set which were larger and higher than the old telephone poles, so as to accommodate both systems and necessitated cutting of many and quite large limbs from the maple trees along the road and makes them one-sided.

The visitors at the Gillette home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isham and Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Little of Columbia, and Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Manwaring and daughter of Clinton.

Ellsworth Weeks and family of Dayville were at the Nichols home Saturday night.

COLUMBIA

Mrs. Mary B. Yeomans accompanied by her maid arrived at her home on the Green on Tuesday last. She came from Hartford with her son Howard, at whose home she has been recently, having passed the winter in the south.

Rev. T. Newton Owen was in Rockville on Tuesday, attending a conference of the Congregational churches and ministers of Tolland county of which he was the moderator.

Mrs. John Lewis left St. Joseph's hospital, where she has been under treatment for sometime past, on Saturday last, spending the week end at her home in Columbia, and going from there to the residence of her son, Clement Lewis in Hartford.

Mrs. Juna Belle Squier of the Mansfield Training School and Hospital has been enjoying a vacation during the past week, and has been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Utley on the green.

Over fifty decorative plants have been planted by a public spirited citizen around the base of the monument placed on the green in honor of the young men of Columbia who went to the world war.

The field meet of the children of the Columbia schools, was held in front of the Town Hall at 2.30 p. m. on Friday, at which about 125 children with their teachers were present besides many visitors. Much credit is due E. S. Russell, the school supervisor, and the teachers for the success of the meet. The exercises began with a flag salute, and the singing of "America." The children, many of them of foreign parentage, looked bright, happy and healthy, appearing to be well nourished.

There were folk dances, an old fashioned Virginia Reel, and singing games in which little Mollie Robertson and Esther Kresewitz were particularly charming.

The athletic sports were a 25 yard dash, broad jump, simple relay, baseball throw for boys, basketball throw for girls, sack race, potato race, tug of war and demonstration of stunts.

Five teams took part in the sports, one from Hop River, two from the Center school, one from West street, two from Pine street; one from Chestnut Hill and two from Old Hop River.

The winners in all the games according to the greatest number of total points were team 2 Center, team 6, Pine street and team 6 Pine street, all tied for the first place. Team 8, Old Hop River, 4th place, and team 4 West street, 5th place.

There was also an exhibition in the school room, of the work of the pupils, in penmanship, drawing, folders, containing notes on many subjects written by the pupils, sewing and embroidery by the girls, and other exhibitions of interest. The teachers deserve to be highly commended for the proficiency shown by the pupils.

MYSTIC

Sunday brought out a large crowd to witness the baseball game played at the Rossie field, between the Mystic team and a nine from Fort Wright. The game was an exciting one, as both teams were evenly matched. The visitors won by a score of 16 to 13 in favor of Fort Wright. Marchand and Tedford were on the mound for Mystic, and Fehging and Perry, for Fort Wright, Albert Giley umpired.

The summer people are beginning to arrive for the season.

Week end visitors here were Mrs. H. B. Kingman, of Leominster, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miner of Hartford. Miss Edith Morrell of New York, William Koalick of Boston; J. E. Enneking of Hyde Park, Mass., A. George, E. T. Robinson, and Mr and Mrs. Moore.

Word has been received in the village of the death of Mrs. Edward Lasch which occurred in Bayonne, N. J. Mrs. Lasch was a former Mystic young lady and before her marriage was Miss Lila Holloway.

Mrs. Hannah Tedford and son, have arrived for the summer.

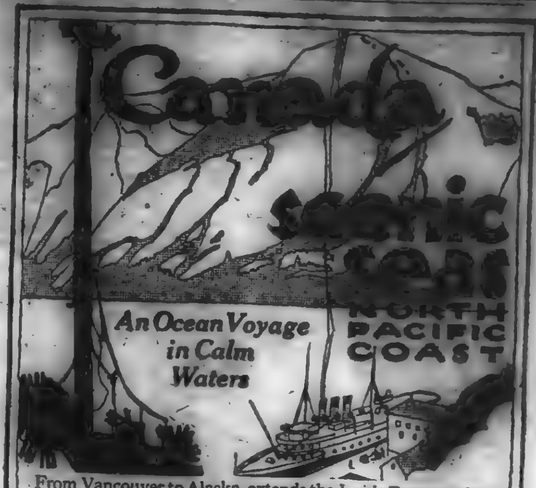
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tatro, of Greenmanville avenue, motored to Narragansett Pier Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boylan, are visiting in Boston, Mass.

Frank Karl, is spending th eweek in New York.

KIDNEY TROUBLE BECOMES SERIOUS

"Suffered with severe headache, backache and pains in my legs and under my shoulder blade. My kidneys and bladder were in bad condition. I was weak and nervous and felt tired and worn out. Walking made me short of breath. Every morning my face and hands were bloated. Medicines failed to help my condition and doctors advised an operation," writes Maggie Nelson, Mossdale, Fla. "Fortunately I read about Foley Kidney Pills, tried them and got relief." Lee & Osgood Co.



From Vancouver to Alaska, extends the Inside Passage, the most beautiful water trip in America—a sea voyage of over 600 miles, in calm waters protected by islands. Wondrous seascapes and mountain views of the snow-capped coast range. Canadian National Ocean Steamships, fastest and largest in North Pacific waters—all outside staterooms. This is the water trip of the Triangle Tour. The two land sides of the Triangle Tour from Prince Rupert to Jasper National Park and from Vancouver to Jasper National Park lie through a part of Canada that for charm and grandeur of scenery is unsurpassed.

Stop at the Dominion's Finest Hotels

Fort Garry, Winnipeg, Man.; MacDonald, Edmonton, Alta.; Jasper Park Lodge, Jasper National Park, Alta.; Minaki Inn, Minaki, Ont.; Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, Ont.; Highland Inn, Algonquin Park, Ont.; The Prince Arthur, Port Arthur, Ont.; Prince Edward, Brandon, Man.

For full information, write W. J. Gilkerson, 294 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Canada Welcomes United States Tourists—No Passports Required.

The Canadian National route through the Rockies skirts Canada's highest peaks, at the easiest gradient and lowest altitude of any transcontinental route.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM

YOU can always offer the happy drink of the little Eskimo to all your guests—men, women, youngsters. Its tang and freshness appeal to them, and they all like it. And you couldn't give them a purer drink.

Ginger Ale
Sarsaparilla
Birch Beer
Root Beer

Order by the case from your grocer or druggist

The Clicquot Club Company, Millis, Mass., U. S. A.

Clicquot Club Ginger Ale

HUGE CRANE FALLS ON MILL EMPLOYEE AT MONTVILLE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, May 28.—Paul Bolles, aged 24 years, of No. 3 Home street and employed as foreman at the plant of the Robert Gair Company at Montville, was perhaps fatally injured this noon when a huge crane collapsed and fell upon him. Bolles was given emergency treatment after which he was transferred to the Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, where it was stated this evening that the victim's condition is critical.

Bolles sustained among other injuries, wounds to his head, face, arms and chest and possibly internal injuries.

Bolles received his terrible injuries while engaged in the superintending of the operation of the crane, which is used as a transporter of material used in the manufacture of paper supplies. Without any warning, whatever, the crane collapsed and before Bolles could leap out of the path of the falling machine, it fell upon him, pinning him a prisoner. Fellow employes rushed to Bolles' assistance and the massive transporter was lifted from the victim. It was apparent that Bolles was seriously injured and hurry calls were sent for a physician and the hospital ambulance. As soon as first aid treatment had been administered, Bolles was rushed to the hospital.

Ira Watson, a well known machinist in New London today was in court charged with a breach of the peace in attacking his wife and a woman companion on Riverside avenue. The attack was made Saturday night after the women had been shopping. Watson tore a necklace from the friend of Mrs. Watson, named Saunders, and struck both women. The Watsons are living apart and have been for some time. Mrs. Watson declares that her husband does not support her and asks that she be allowed to live apart from him and to earn her living by work. This she has done for a considerable time and she expresses a desire to continue.

When the disturbance occurred Saturday night Mrs. Saunders called her husband and it is said he and Watson had a battle.

Ida Staplins, aged 3 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Staplins of No. 13 Shaw street, suffered a fractured skull this morning by falling from a porch while playing with companions at No. 434 Bank street, the lot landing on her head. She was removed to Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, where, although the child is suffering from hemorrhages of the ear, her condition is not considered critical.

The child went to the home of playmates during the early forenoon and in the course of enjoying pastimes they went to the porch. In some unexplained manner the Saplins child lost her balance and was precipitated to the ground.

Dr. Frank S. Norkett, a well known dentist, is critically ill of heart trouble at his home, No. 296 Williams street, he having suffered the attack late Saturday. Dr. Norkett's condition this evening was reported as being unchanged.

An automobile in being operated in the Swan garage on Main street late Saturday, crashed through the window, smashing the big expanse of glass and inflicting a loss of about $200.

Mrs. Albert Maynard of Mystic, Miss Rose Burman of Waterford, Paul Banta of Tilley street, Miss Pauline Ferrin of Burlington, Vt., a sister of Dr. Carlisle F. Ferrin; Edward Bergen of Groton and Mrs. Carl Stafford and baby son of Groton, were patients discharged at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital today.

The funeral of Mrs. Rose Hayes, widow of Morris Hayes, was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at No. 48 Shapley street, the services being conducted by Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth. Interment was in Jordan cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Elizabeth M. Rorke, occurred this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Star of the Sea church and was attended by a large gathering of mourners. A mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Alexander Wolischlaeger. The bearers were Thomas Gragan, David P. Hoare, John A. McInnis, Michael Corcoran, Joseph A. Cranker and David P. Hoare, Jr., Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss Anna L. Steward died this morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. N. M. Sherman of No. 278 Williams street, death ending a lingering illness. Miss Steward was a native of New London and was well known.

E. M. Frazier complained to the police Sunday night that a spare tire was stolen from his automobile while the machine was parked on Brainard street.

James M. Graves has sold a building lot on Nameaug avenue to James H. and Annie A. Bahnon.

Phoebe Silvia, guardian of Mary and Anna Avillar, has sold a house and lot on Rosemary street to Ernest and Mary A. Geer.

The four new fire alarm boxes that it was predicted would be installed at important points about the city, were located and placed in working order

FINED FOR NOT HAVING DRIVERS' LICENSE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, May 28.—Lieut. R. P. Erdman, stationed at the submarine base, was fined $10 in the police court this forenoon because he was found operating an automobile without having a license. Lieut. Erdman drove from Bank street to Howard street Saturday. Officer Hill was stationed there to direct traffic and Lieut. Erdman paid little attention to him. Then Officer Hill sought to rebuke the lieutenant, asking to see his operating license. He had no license to show so the officer ordered him to be in court this morning. His only excuse was that the state's representative was here only Monday morning and that it was not convenient for him (Erdman) to get away at that time.

Daniel Stahler, Jr., was sent to the state farm for inebriates by the court. He has been arrested several times for intoxication and has many times been shown leniency because he was a young railroad workers and the court did not desire to deprive him of his opportunity to get along in the world if he was disposed to help himself. Saturday night he was found down and out in an alley and was arrested. He was sent to the inebriate farm to stay six months under a new law that provides that when a person has been convicted three times he may be considered an inebriate in that he is an addict to intoxicating liquor or to narcotics.

Sunday afternoon by Fire Chief John Stanners. There are now fifty-seven fire alarm boxes and the city is protected better than ever against fire hazards.

One of the boxes installed yesterday was placed on Ocean avenue, opposite Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital and is No. 53. Another box was located in front of the Nameaug school house on Montauk avenue and is No. 47. A third box, No. 55, was placed at the corner of Riverview avenue and Algert street where a new school house is under construction and the fourth box was set at the corner of Green and Golden street, in the heart of the business section and but a block west of State street

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Macomber have returned to their apartments on Broad street, after having spent several days in New York, where they bade bon voyage to their son, Henry F. Macomber Jr., who departed for Paris where he will remain indefinitely and complete his studies of architecture and interior decorating.

Cross street is the latest highway to receive attention from the street department and it is believed that the repairs being made will mark the first expenditure of money for the upkeep of that highway in a score of years. The street is not traveled upon but little, but it has a steep incline and with every heavy rain and during the winter season, its surface dirt is washed to Green street.

Ralph Staplins, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Staplins of No. 13 Shaw street, and brother of little Ida Staplins who sustained a fracture of the skull this morning while at play and who is now under treatment at the Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, was taken to the state reform school at Meriden Saturday by an officer of that institution. The boy has been on parole several months, but his behavior of late became such that it was deemed advisable to cause him recommitted.

The climax to the young man's latest display of incorrigibility developed last Friday night when he abused his father, whose health is badly impaired. He was taken charge of by Probation Officer Richard W. Mansfield and the latter notified the reformatory officials to send an attendant to New London to take the boy back to Meriden.

Letter Carrier Herman F. Staab attended the conference of the State Association of Letter Carriers, which was held at Bridgeport Sunday. Mr. Staab was a delegate from the local branch of letter carriers' association.

William Lingner was arrested Saturday upon complaint of his wife, Mrs. Catherine Lingner and he was arraigned in the Groton town court today charged with non-support. Lingner was not disciplined, but both the accused and his wife were given some advise by Judge Cornelius C. Costello, as it was apparent an estrangement existed that might be remedied if the couple would return and reside together. Lingner informed the court that he did not want his wife to return home, but that she could do so if she desired.

Mrs. Lingner told the court that she had been compelled to support herself since the couple's separation and had been sick. She also stated that she had received but $2 from her husband since she lived alone. Last Thursday she went to Lingner and requested to be taken back in their home, but Lingner refused and it was then that the wife sought and obtained her husband's arrest and prosecution.

Harold W. Long and Miss Grace Fox, both residents of New London, were joined in wedlock at two o'clock this afternoon, the nuptial ceremony being performed by Justice of the Peace Daniel M. Cronin.

Mrs. Thomas Jones of Belden street, Mrs. Michael Zahridnick of East Lyme, Miss Imogene Draper of Mather court, Miss Nina Good of New street and Peter Shimento of Westerly, were patients discharged today at Home Memorial hospital.

A refuse fire on the city's dumping ground blazed up today and a still alarm caused the Ockford Hose company to be dispatched to the scene. The blaze was extinguished by the application of chemicals.

About twenty-five tables were occupied by whist players this evening when the event was conducted by Catholics of the city for the benefit of the Polish place of worship, Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help on Main street.

Former Alderman Henry C. Chappell, whose activity during the World war in raising funds in New London, gain for him much prominance has accepted the chairmanship of the Salvation Army appeal for $4,000, which will start June 11th.

All arrangements have been completed for the Memorial day parade which this year, will be in the forenoon instead of the afternoon as in years past. A detachment of two military companies from the island forts, together with the Fort Wright band and two companies of the local Coast Artillery corps and detachments of sailors from the submarine base and U. S. S. Camden, which is in port, will provide the military feature of the procession. If the U. S. S. Savannah, which is headed for New London and is expected to arrive in port daily, reaches the harbor in time, a squad of sailors and the ship's band will also take part in theparade.

Besides the military marchers there will be several civic organizations, together fith representations of members of Perkins post, G. A. R., and Spanish War veterans. The parade will form on State street at ten o'clock

DID MORE THAN SHE THOUGHT POSSIBLE

Taniac Far Exceeded Fondest Hopes In Restoring Strength, Declares Mrs. Lavery.

"Last spring Taniac accomplished more for me than I thought possible, and has been the chief factor in keeping me well for almost a year," says Mrs. Rose Lavery, of 43 Pleasant St., Fitchburg, Mass.

"When I began taking Taniac, I was weak and nervous from indigestion, and had no appetite. I was worried so dreadfully with gas I could hardly breathe, and had awful pains in my left side that just seemed to penetrate to my back. My liver was sluggish, I would become nauseated, and simply felt miserable.

"But after taking four or five bottles of the Taniac treatment I was well, eating in my normal way, and feeling fine, so I discontinued the medicine.

"This spring I decided it would be better to build myself up and run no risk of getting down sick, so I am taking Taniac again and adding to the strength and good it did me last year. Taniac is just grand."

Taniac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Taniac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

LACO OLIVE OIL CASTILE SOAP FOIL WRAPPED

Be sure only LACO is used for shampooing your hair.

IMPORTED FROM SPAIN

New Einstein Theory Said To Surpass First One

COPYRIGHT KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK

Prof. Albert Einstein, eminent German scientist, who claims to have discovered a new theory which is said to surpass that of relativity. Although he withholds the details of the discovery, he states that it concerns the connection between the earth's power of attraction and terrestrial magnetism. Prof. Einstein is now visiting Kantara, Egypt, after having spent some time in Japan. He has also announced his resignation as a member of the League of Nations Commission on Intellectual co-operation, in Zurich.

(daylight saving time), pass down State street and counter march, then going through Broad street to Cedar Grove cemetery, where brief exercises will be held and the graves in that cemetery as well as those in St. Mary's cemetery decorated and the customary marker of a small American flag placed at the head of the mound of the soldier or sailor who is buried there.

The cemeteries in Groton, Waterford, Jordan and Groton and the Gardner and West Neck cemeteries in London have already been decorated as it would be impossible to decorate all of the burial places Wednesday.

The city council held a very short meeting this evening with every member present. Little business transacted. One thing the council did was to give the Yellow Cab company the privilege to park two cabs at the railway station alongside the stairs leading to the overhead bridge across the tracks.

The work of improving Mitchell court has commenced for the trench for the laying of sewers is well along toward completion. The work will cost a considerable sum of which the property owners must pay one-half. Sidewalks are to be laid and other improvements made in the court.

The fifth commencement of the Connecticut college will take place June 10 to 12. On Friday, June 8th, the annual art exhibit will occur to be followed by the senior banquet at the Mohican hotel. On the 9th a reception will be tendered to the faculty and students by the D. A. R. at Shaw Mansion.

On the 10th at 4 o'clock President Marshall will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the Second Congregational church, and in the evening there will be a musical service in St. James' church.

The annual meeting of the alumnae association, the class reunions and the class day exercises will be held on the 11th, with the president's reception in the gymnasium followed by the seniors sinbe at the stone wall. On the 12th the commencement exercises will be held in the gymnasium where President Rogers of Columbia university will deliver the address.

JEWETT CITY

Miss Lida Guillotte of Jewett City and J. Edward Duhily of Taftville were married at St. Mary's church on Monday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. McCabe. The bridesmaid was Miss Regina Harper of Baltic. The best man was Edward Harper of Jewett City. The bride wore a blue suit with sand colored hat and wore a corsage bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a blue suit with corsage bouquet of pink carnations and a black hat.

After a wedding breakfast at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Duhily left for a trip to Canada, where they will spend three weeks visiting Granby, Marineville, St. Hyacinthe and St. Thomas, P. Q. On their return they will reside in Taftville.

Misses Theresa Raney and Eva LaFlamme are in Malden, Mass., to spend Memorial day.

Andrew Smith was arrested by Officer Viegard and appeared before the town court charged with intoxication. He was fined $7 and costs, amounting to $19.87, which he paid.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher N. Read of Rockville are at R. J. Guy's for a few days' visit.

Harry Paul gave a bachelor party Saturday night for Rev. Howard Stephenson at Camp Monte Carlo. Mr. Stephenson leaves Friday for his home in Kentucky and is to be married on June 11th. A beefsteak supper was served, the party including Rev. Mr. Stephenson, Harry Paul, Gerald Wolf, E. H. Hiscox, Jr., and Hugh Davis.

The Children's day committee for the Congregational Sunday school are Mrs. L. G. Buckingham and Mrs. Carle Munn.

The Baptist Sunday school committee are Mrs. E. M. Swift, Miss Ida Foster and Mrs. G. H. Prior.

The teachers of the classes in the Methodist Sunday school have charge of their concert.

Speaking of the recent stories about the redoubtable Lovells Obey, who ran a barber shop in the Liberty hall block more than half a century ago, W. H. Brown takes the blue ribbon for accurate date reports. Mr. Brown told some of his friends the other day that 49 years ago last Tuesday he was shaved and had his hair cut in Obey's shop. Some wondered, and finally inquired, how he remembered so well. He had the proof right with him. It was the evening preceding his marriage.

A party of Jewett City and Plainfield people paid a visit last week to the old cemetery in Hanover nearly opposite the Congregational church. Data was being taken by one of the party to aid in completing state records. It was a surprising fact that in this yard, marking the graves of people who died in 1798, are to be found a number of stones of rare cutting, in an exceptional state of preservation. There are some of palm and head, the palm and urn, and the weeping willow style of that century, showing several different models. The stones marking long departed members of the Perkins, Peck and Bushnell families, the latter of the date of 1798, are original medals of a long past age, with the cuttings showing little effects from the ruthless hand of time.

Less than a week ago, on two days, the mercury rose to 90. During the early hours of Monday morning it dropped to 38, 40, 41.

The following scores were made on the Voluntown Rifle club range, Fred Stebbins making high score for the Edmond medal, 93 out of a possible 100:

Fifty shots at 50 yards: John Kaufmann 493, Fred Stebbins 480, James F. Hall 475, Sidney Melvin 471, Lionel Boucher 470.

Fifty shots at 100 yards: John Kaufmann 475, Fred Stebbins 447, James F. Hall 431.

Edmond medal, 10 shots: Fred Stebbins 92, Sidney Melvin 91, James F. Hall 90, Lionel Boucher 81.

NOANK

Monday evening a whist was held at the home of Mrs. John Daboll on Pearl street. The proceeds are to go to the Home Memorial hospital in New London. The ladies are to have a miscellaneous booth at the bazaar which will be held in New London this summer.

A ferryboat has been brought to the local shipyard to undergo a thorough overhauling. Two dredgers have arrived from Bridgeport to be repaired. The power boat Wanderer was launched the last of the week.

Rev. and Mrs E. E. Knapp are spending two weeks in the village. Mr. Knapp is pastor of the Poquonnoc Baptist church.

O. C. Stanton of Brooklyn, N. Y., was a week end visitor with relatives here.

Dr. Taylor, of Willimantic has opened his summer home at Groton Long Point.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hewitt of New York who have purchased a residence here, have arrived for the summer.

NORWICH TOWN

Sunday morning at the First Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor Rev. James B. Aldrich preached from Isaiah 43-26. Put me in remembrance; let us plead together; declare thou, that thou mayest be justified. At the Young People's Christian Endeavor meeting in the evening, Mrs. Walter P. Butts of New London, gave a very interesting address, confining her subject chiefly to Methodist Hospitals. Mrs. Butts who is engaged in deaconess work being a gifted speaker, explained the work of the hospitals and told how they had increased.

The meeting was under the direction of the Missionary committee, with Mrs. James B. Aldrich, chairman, in full charge.

For many years, Mrs. Butts was connected with the Home Missionary of the Southern New England conference, holding the presidency for a long period. Her husband Rev. Mr. Butts, is a retired Methodist minister.

Last Friday evening in the vestry of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. L. D. Howe of Jewett City gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on The Battlefields of the Civil War, confining his talk mostly to the battlefield of Gettysburg. His speech was illustrated by a number of stereoptican lantern slides.

Mr. Howe made the trip from Jewett City to Norwich Town by automobile accompanied by his family. Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, G. H. Thornton and son Edward Thornton all from Jewett city.

Rev. Edward P. Ayers of Montville, preached at the First Congregational church on Sunday morning in exchange with the pastor, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey. In his very inspiring sermon, Rev. Mr. Ayers used as his theme: Build Up his Church. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ayers who very kindly gave her services in the choir. Accompanied by Organist Yerrington. Rev. and Mrs. Ayers in most pleasing voice gave as a duet, Abide With Me during the service.

Under the auspices of the Soldiers' Memorial association, Rev. Mr. Bailey conducted a Memorial service in Pachaug cemetery, Sunday afternoon. Accompanied by Miss Mable Corrigeux Ralph H. Marsh and Miss Jean Cram from the Young People's Christian Endeavor society of this church. Rev. Mr. Bailey paid a visit to the C. E. society of Taftville Congregational church on Sunday evening.

At the C. E. meeting of the chapel, the topic was Something in the Bible That Has Helped Me, Ps. 19:7-14. The meeting was conducted by the Misses Rose Durr, Elizabeth Avery and Ethel Whaley, from the Intermediate C. E. society.

This (Tuesday) afternoon the annual Cradle Roll party of this church will be held on the parsonage grounds. The membership of 60, includes children under 8 years of age.

The church night service of the Congregational church, will have for its topic on Thursday evening Paul's sermons.

Having motored to Hartford for a few days stay, returning to Colchester on Friday, where they were over night guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Curgenven, Mr. and Mrs Charles L. Strong returned Saturday to their home on Town street.

John C. Hinrichs, D. C., Ph. C., accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Frederick I. Wyant, also his daughter, little Miss Phyllis Rosalyn Hinrichs of Town street, motored to Danielson on Monday. That evening Dr. Hinrichs motored to Westerly.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Andrew Rosko was fined $10 and costs, a total of $21.03 by Judge Healy in the borough court Monday for neglecting to send his 14 year old son Paul to school. The Roskos are residents of Village Hill in the town of Willington and Paul has not attended school since March 23rd. L. T. Garrison who is the regional supervison of schools and Daniel T. Nolan attendance officer of the state board of education testified of the difficulty that had been experienced in trying to get Mr. Rosko to send the boy to school.

The services at St. Edward's church will be an hour early then usual next Sunday and this schedule will be continued during the summer. The early service will be at 7.15 and last mass will be at 9.15 a. m.

The regular monthly meeting of the town school committee was held at the library Monday evening.

To Stop Falling Hair

You can easily clean your head of dandruff, stop itching scalp, prevent the hair falling out, make it grow and beautify it, if you use Parisian Sage—the best hair tonic and scalp treatment. It's guaranteed. The Lee & Osgood Co. and all druggists sell it. Ask for it by name—Parisian Sage.

Norwich The Boston Store Reid & Hughes Co. Conn

JUST ARRIVED!

Women's and Misses' Summer Dresses

SPECIALLY PRICED

A BEAUTIFUL SELECTION AT

$10.00

GENUINE NON-CRUSH LINENS — FRENCH VOILES
GENUINE NORMANDIE VOILES — FIGURED CREPES
SUMMER NOVELTIES

This first arrival is very complete in styles, in colorings, and the newness and crispness of these first summer frocks is very pleasing after the heavier garments of a cold winter and a backward spring.

COLORS ARE—NAVY, BLACK, BROWN, WHITE, PEACH, HARDING BLUE AND MANY NEW SHADES.

YOUR CHOICE ONLY $10.00

20% DISCOUNT ON ALL CHILDREN'S COATS

20% DISCOUNT WOMEN'S POIRET TWILL AND TRICOTINE SUITS

20% DISCOUNT ON WOMEN'S COATS FROM $39.50 UPWARD

A Memorial Day Special

WHITE HATS

$5.50 and $10.00

An occasion like Memorial Day has always called for strict attention to appropriate dress, and these exceedingly dainty white hats fill all the requirements. All shapes, all sizes, and many simply exquisite models ready for your choosing.

$5.50 and $10.00

THE NEW PETER PAN COLLARS SPECIAL 50c

Dainty new collars and sets, made of Linen, Organdie and Cross-barred Muslin—some of them embroidered in colors. Made specially for wear with the summer sweaters.

FOR THE BOYS PALM BEACH SUITS $8.50

Genuine Palm Beach Suits, the same grade and quality that Father wears. Gray and sand color, and all carefully tailored. Sizes 8 to 18.

NORFOLK SUITS OF OXFORD LINEN CRASH—Sizes 8 to 18 ONLY $6.95

In The Men's Shop

English Broadcloth Shirts ONLY $3.00

A tailored shirt with a permanent lustre that withstands the tub. White, gray or tan in color, all being made with center pleat. Sizes 14 to 17.

HOLIDAY HOSIERY For Women, Misses and Children

White Silk Stockings $1.50 to $3.50

Various grades and qualities all of which have been most moderately priced.

Socks for Boys and Girls 59c to 75c

The 3-4 and 7-8 lengths in all of the season's novelty styles as well as the staples.

Infants' Footwear

Socks in many colors and color combinations.

35c and 40c

Infants' Silk Socks 75c and 85c

Two different styles at these two popular prices. Best quality and very dainty.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales, 1,016,800 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 97.23. Net loss .32. High 1923, 105.38; low 92.77.

Twenty railroads averaged 83.16. Net gain .58. High 1923, 90.63; low 80.13.

MARKET WAS ACTIVE.

New York, May 28.—Railroad and equipment stocks were bid up sharply in today's active stock market while profit-taking and bear selling were conducted in the steels, oils, motors and other speculative industrials.

Strength of the rails was the result of the unusually favorable showing made by some of the large systems in the April earnings statements now being published. While there was some switching of speculative interest from the industrials to the rails, heavy investment buying was generally regarded as the principal factor in the rise of the carrier stocks which, with few exceptions, have occupied a secondary position in the market for many weeks.

A comparison of the income of some of the large systems last month as reported April of last year follows:

	1923	1922
New York Cent.	$7,838,524	$4,273,988
[illegible]	1,066,294	216,635
[illegible]	3,214,966	1,740,441
[illegible] & Ohio	4,011,437	2,734,034

The outstanding strong spots in the railroad list were Atlantic Coast Line, Baltimore, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, New York Central, Lehigh Valley, Chesapeake & Ohio, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, the net gains running from 1 to 3 points.

Much of the short selling of the industrial stocks was based on the theory that a technical reaction, at least, was due after four successive days of rising prices. California Petroleum, which was pushed up nearly 3 points last week, fell back 2 3-4, recovering 1 to 3 points were registered by such recent favorites as Studebaker, Du Pont, American Can, American Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Stromberg Carburetor, Martin Parry, Inter American A, Corn Products, Chandler, Republic and Replogle Steels. Lousiana and Cuba Cane Sugar preferred. Atlantic Gulf touched a new low for the year at 14 5-8.

American Locomotive was pushed up 1 or 2 points and Baldwin, 2 1-8. Continental Can also was heavily bought on reports of increased earnings, rising 4 points.

Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent and has been increased to 5. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. The bulk of the business in each being done at 5 per cent.

Establishment of another new low record for German marks at .0016 1-4 cents was the feature of the quiet trading in foreign exchange. Demand sterling and French francs held fairly steady at $4.62 1-4 and 6.62 cents, respectively. Norwegian exchange showed marked improvement, rallying 16 points to 16.42 cents. Argentine paper pesos were extremely weak, being quoted at 35.37 cents, a week end loss of 53 cents and a new low for the year.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	High.	Low.	Close.
Al Chem & D pr	109¾	109¾	109¾
Allis Chalmers	43¾	42¾	42¾
Alloy Steel p	93	93	93
Am Ag Chem	21¾	20¾	20⅝
Am Ag Chem pr	46½	45	45¾
Am Beet Sugar	40½	40	40
Am Bosch Mag	40⅞	40⅞	40¾
Am Can	104⅜	101½	101¾
Am Car & F	172½	171½	172½
Am Cot Oil pr	18½	18½	18½
Am H & L pr	49¾	49¾	49¾
Am Int Corp	25½	25	25
Am Tel & Tel	124⅝	122¼	122¾
Am Tob	147¾	147	147¾
Am Wool	92⅞	91¼	92
Am Wool pr	103¼	101⅝	102¼
Anaconda	118¾	118	118
Atchison	101	99⅝	100¾
Atlantic pr	89	89	89
Balt & Ohio	50½	48¾	49¼
Balt & Ohio pr	57½	57⅜	57¾
Beth Steel	54⅞	54⅜	54¾
Brooklyn Man pr	104⅝	104⅝	104⅝
Brooklyn Un Gas	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Brown Shoe pr	1⅜	1½	1⅜
Buff & Sus Pet	16⅞	16⅜	16⅜
Burns Bros Z	7½	7½	7½
Butte & Sup Cop	25¼	25¼	25½
Canada Pac	156¾	154½	155⅝
Cent Leather	29⅛	28⅞	28⅞
Cent Leather pr	69¼	68¾	69¼
Chandler	63	62	62
Chile Copper	67⅜	66	67
Chi Mil & St P pr	12⅝	11¾	11⅝
Chi R I & Pac	21¾	21	21½
Chi R I & Pac pr	37⅜	36⅞	37¼
Chino Copper	80¾	78¾	80
Colo Fuel & Iron pr	115	115	115
Col Gas & Elec	30½	29¾	29¾
Columbian Carbon	27½	27½	27⅝
Comwlth Edison	23⅞	23⅜	23½
Consol Gas	50¾	48¾	49⅛
Consol Steel	70¾	68⅝	69
Corn Products	113	112	112
Crucible Steel	37⅝	37	37
Cuba Cane	11¾	11⅛	11⅜
Cuba Cane pr	18	17⅜	17⅝
Del & Hud	114	113	113
Del Lack & W	118½	117½	118
Denver & Rio G pr	93	93	93
Distillers Sec	174½	173⅛	172⅝
Dom Textile	12¾	11¼	11⅛
Gen Motors	15½	14⅜	14⅞
Gen Motors 6 pr cd	83	83	83
Goodyear T & R pr	55	55	55
Great North pr	72¾	72¼	72¼
Great West Sug Co	104¾	104¾	104¾
Hudson Motor	25¾	25¼	25⅞
Hupp Motor	22½	22¼	22½
Illinois Cent	110¾	110	110
Inspir Copper	34⅝	34	34
Int Harv Co	84½	84⅛	84½
Int Mer Mar pr	31¾	31	31¼
Int Paper	46¾	45½	45⅝
Kennecott Cop	38⅛	37¾	37¾
Kenstone Tire	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Lehigh Valley	63⅞	62¾	63⅜
Max Motor A	42⅜	47⅞	48
Max Motor B new	13¾	12⅜	13¾
Mex Pet & Tr new	86¾	85 35½	85½
Mo Pacific	15¼	14½	15
Mo Pac pr	39⅞	39¼	39⅝
Nat Enam & St	66¾	65⅝	65⅝
N Y Air Brake	36⅞	36¾	36⅞
N Y Air Br A	48½	47⅞	48
N Y Central	99¾	97¼	98¾
N Y N H & H	18¾	17¾	17¾
Norf South	109¾	108¾	109¾
North Pacific	73⅝	72⅝	73⅝
Pacific Oil	39	37½	37½
Penn R R	44⅝	43⅜	43⅞
Pierce Oil	3⅝	3⅜	3⅜
Pierce Oil pr	33¼	33⅛	33⅛
Ray Con Cop	13	13	13
Reading	76⅛	75¼	75¾
Replogle Steel	21	20¼	20¼
Rep I & St	52⅝	50⅝	51¼
South Pacific	91⅜	90¼	90¼
South Ry	34⅝	33⅝	34
South Ry pr	66¾	66¼	66½
Tobacco Prod	54⅛	53	53
Tobacco Pro A	81¼	81⅛	81⅛
Union Pacific	138⅝	136⅝	137⅛
Un Pacific pr	73¼	73⅛	73⅛
U S Rubber	53⅛	52¼	52⅝
U S Rubber 1 pr	100	100	100
U S Steel	99⅛	98⅝	98⅞
U S Steel pr	118	117⅝	118
West El pr	113⅛	113⅛	113⅛
West Un Tel	107¼	107¼	107¼
West Air B	84½	84⅛	84⅛
West El & Mfg	55⅝	54⅜	55
Willys O'land	7¼	7⅛	7⅛
Willys O'land pr	65	65	65
Worth Pump & M	31⅛	31¼	31⅛
Worth P & M pr B	65	65	65

BOND MARKET.

New York, May 28.—Bond prices continued to point upward in today's relatively dull trading. Railroad mortgages again came in for a great deal of attention and prices improved, reflecting in a degree the influence of the favorable earnings reports of several large railroads for April.

United States government bonds were slightly reactionary but losses were small. These bonds have held their recent gains well and small recessions were not unexpected. Serbian 8's jumped nearly four points at one time and closed 3 7-8 points higher than Saturday final figures. Mexican issues also were in fair demand but gains were not large.

More than a score of railroad mortgages however, closed fractionally higher and gains of a point or more were recorded by Denver & Rio Grande consolidadted 4's and Atchison convertible 4's.

Industrial bonds were relatively quiet with the trend upward. Net changes, however, were unimportant.

Total sales (par value) were $11,442,000.

Bankers report a good market for new issues with the offerings continuing relatively light.

Liberty Bonds.

	High.	Low.	Close
3½s, 47	100-30	100-24	100-25
2d 4s, '42	98-13	98-13	98-13
1st 4¼s, '47	98-14	98-7	98-7
2d 4¼s, '42	98-15	98-4	98-6
3d 4¼s, '28	98-26	98-17	98-20
4th 4¼s, '38	98-18	98-5	98-10
Treas 4¼s	99-29	99-23	99-23

Quoted in thirty-seconds of a point. For example, read 98-3 as 98 3-32.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Year Ago.
Demand	$4.62 5-16	$4.44 13-16
Cables	4.62 7-16	4.45
Francs	6.63	9.13
Guilders	$9.10	$8.95
Marks	.0016%	.36%
Lire	4.80	5.27
Swiss francs	18.03	10.10
Pesetas	15.22	15.79
Belgian francs	5.70¾	8.44½
Kronen	.0014½	.010
Sweden	26.56	15.10
Denmark	18.47	21.78
Norway	16.35	17.92
Greece	1.92	4.15
Argentina	$1.00	$1.09
Brazil	10.30	13.70

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, May 27.—Weakness developed in the wheat market today owing more or less to better weather conditions and to buyers holding off on account of persistent notice of bearish aspects of the grain futures law and of the government attack on sugar speculation. Wheat closed unsettled at 1-3c to 1c net decline, with July 1.14 1-8 to 1.14 1-4 and September 1.12 3-4 to 1.13 7-8. Corn finished at 1-4c off to 1-4c gain. Oats 3-8c to 5-8c down, and provisions at losses ranging from 7c to 20c.

Sentiment among the wheat traders which of late was very bullish appeared today to have become decidedly bearish. According to one authority, the bulls for the most part had sold out, and were disinclined to take hold again until there was a material change in existing conditions. Rains which were regarded as likely to benefit the winter crop started prices downward at the opening, and gave emphasis to lack of confidence which was said to have grown out of efforts to alter long established business customs. Besides, the project of a governor's meeting to help solve the question of disposing of surplus wheat was construed in some quarters as bearish.

On the extreme fall in prices today July wheat was down 13 7-8 from recent top figures. Rallies due to coverings by shorts took place near the end of the exchange session but the market was again sagging at the last, bulls being handicaped by the fact that export demand was disappointing and that although the U. S. visible supply total showed a substantial falling off the decrease was far from equal to the big cut which was announced a week ago.

Corn and oats averaged lower with wheat, but corn was steadied somewhat by reports of a better cash demand from the east and at Kansas City.

Heavy arrivals of hogs here and in the west pulled down provisions.

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat:
May	116¾	115	115½
July	114⅝	113	114¼
Sept.	113¼	111⅝	112⅝
Corn—
May	77	75½	77
July	77¼	75⅝	77
Sept.	75⅝	74	75⅛
Oats—
May	40⅝	40⅛	40⅝
July	41	40	40⅛
Sept.	39⅛	38¾	39

METAL MARKET.

New York, May 28.—Copper weak. Electrolytic spot and futures 15@15 3-8. Tin easier. Spot and nearby 41.87; futures 42.00. Iron steady. No. 1 Northern $30.00@32.00. No 2, Northern 29.00@31.00. No. 2 Southern, 27.00. Lead steady. Spot 7.25. Zinc easier. East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 6.40@6.45. Antimony spot 7.15@7.25.

COTTON.

New York, May 28.—Spot cotton quiet; middling 23.75.

MONEY.

New York, May 28.—Call money firmer; high 5; low 4 1-2; ruling rate 4 1-2; closing bid 5; offered at 5 1-4; last loan 5; call loans against acceptances 4. Time loans, steady.

Derby.—Only $55,000 has been collected to date on the first installment of city taxes by Tax Collector Frank J. Buckley, and only a week remains in which the tax can be paid without incurring the penalty of interest for nonpayment. The amount that must be taken in is $155,000.

CORNS
Safe relief in one minute

For that painful corn here's safe, speedy relief—Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction-pressure, and heal the irritation. Thus you avoid infection from cutting your corns or using corrosive acids. Thin; antiseptic; waterproof. Sizes for corns, callouses, bunions. Get a box today at your druggist's or shoe dealer's.

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads

Put one on—the pain is gone!

Pure Food Specials
FOR YOUR HOLIDAY NEEDS

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

SUGAR CURED
BACON, lb.... 19c

Sugar Cured Smoked
Shoulders, lb 12½c

FRESH CUT
Pork Chops, lb. 26c

FRESH CHOPPED
STEAK, 3 lbs.. 29c

FRESH LITTLE PIG
Shoulders, lb.. 15c

LEAN CHUCK
Roast Beef, lb. 15c

LEAN POT
Roast Beef, lb. 13c

FRESH CUTS lb.
Beef for Soup. 10c

NICELY MIXED
Salt Pork, lb... 15c

NICELY CURED
Corned Beef, lb. 7c

ARMOUR'S STAR
HAMS, lb..... 25c

FRESH MYSTIC
EELS, lb..... 30c

SMALL
CLAMS, 3 qts.. 25c
FOR STEAMING

PURE
LARD, 2 lbs... 25c

Finest Mohican Creamery
BUTTER, 2 lbs. 89c

FRESH
EGGS, 2 doz.. 61c
Direct From Farms

FANCY RIPE
Tomatoes, lb.. 19c

CELERY
HEARTS, 2 bu. 25c

FINE EVAPORATED
APPLES, 2 lbs. 35c

CHOICE HEAD
Lettuce, 2 for.. 25c

SUNBRITE 5 pkgs.
Cleanser 23c

BAKER'S
COCOA, ½ lb. 20c

Philadelphia Cream
CHEESE, 2 for 25c

RED KIDNEY
BEANS, lb.... 10c

Special This Week
MOHICAN POUND
CAKE, lb..... 25c

Store Closed All Day Wednesday (Memorial Day)

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN NORWICH

Continued fair weather during the latter part of last week has been productive of good progress along building lines in Norwich and vicinity. There have been many permits granted during the past week bringing the total to close on to 40 for the month of May putting this month far ahead of the normal average for the month. During the past week sixteen permits were issued for new buildings and alterations and additions to present buildings. The permits issued by Fire Marshal Howard L. Stanton for the past week are as follows:

To James F. Reed to erect a frame garage at 40 Maple street. The garage will be 20x22 feet and have a cement foundation and floor.

To Frank O. Dahl to build an addition to the present frame garage located on Boswell avenue. The addition will conform to the construction of the present building.

To Samuel Kadish to build an addition to the present frame building at 24 Elizabeth street. The addition will be 16x26 feet and will be of frame construction.

To William H. Allen et al, to make alterations to the present brick building on Church street. The alterations will include the remodeling of the building so as to have an additional flat.

To Mell and Barry, contractors, to erect a frame garage for Maria Brogno, at 172 North Main street. The garage will be 40x50 feet with a concrete foundation, novelty siding and a slate surfaced roof.

To the Peck-McWilliams Co. to alter the old Main street fire house for Abraham Ableman. The building will be made over into two stores with a partition running through the center of the building. The building will also be reinforced with steel girders and a new front with plate glass and brick will also be put in. Work has already been started on the building.

To the Peck-McWilliams Co., to alter the building at 130 Main street for Mathew Thune. A new entrance is to be built in with a plate glass front and display windows. The work has already been started.

To Anna Gordan to erect a frame garage on Maple street. The garage will be 20x26 feet.

To Otto Musch to erect a frame garage at 30 Connell street. The garage will be 12x20 feet and will have a cement foundation and floor.

To Stanley Walendo to build a frame verands on his house at 562 North Main street.

To Hugh A. Coughlin to erect a frame dwelling house on Boswell avenue. The house will be 24x30 feet and will be finished on the interior in hardwood and plaster. The exterior finish will be in clapboards and shingles and the roof will be covered in composition shingles.

To Joseph H. Roy to build a frame shed at 259 North Main street. The shed will be 12x18 feet.

To Healy and Washburn, contractors, to erect on the house of Max Rabinovitch on West Main street. The porch will be 8x8 feet.

To Henry Pukallus to erect a frame bungalow on land off Smith avenue. The building will be 28x40 and of a balloon frame type. The foundation will be of stone and cement. The interior finish will be in hardwood and plaster. The exterior will be shingled. There will be six rooms and a bath.

To Rose Siegal to build an addition to the present frame barn at 96 Mechanic street. The addition will be 6x12 1-2 feet.

To R. G. Hinckley to erect a frame garage for Maurice Fitzgerald at 76 Peck street. The garage will be 20x22 feet

NEW LONDON

The permit for a bungalow and garage to be erected at 27 Colman street has been issued to John Mondelci. The house will be 31x45 feet, and will cost about $4,000, and the garage will be 18x18 feet, to cost about $400. The owner will do the carpenter work.

A local architect has prepared plans for extensive alterations and an addition to the dwelling of Robert L. Tate, 50 Federal street. The two-story brick addition will provide 16 new rooms. The altered house will be 52x44 feet, arranged for three families. There will be new plumbing and wiring and other improvements.

Plans for an extension to the cottage of M. Sutera, 333 Huntington street, have been prepared. An eight-foot extension to the house will allow for an arrangement for 12 rooms. The owner will have the work done by the day.

Frank Kalka has plans for a frame bungalow which he will build on Cape Ann court. The proposed house will be 20x24 feet, and will have the usual improvements.

Applications for Buildings Permits

L. Cardella, frame alterations, 3 Elizabeth street. $300.

E. H. Fitzgerald, alterations, Main street. $500.

C. R. Macauley, garage, 504 Ocean ave. $350.

C. Rogoff, alterations, 77 Bentley street. $500.

Harry Wolf, store addition, Connecticut avenue. $300.

Joseph Glater, garage, 80 Colman street. $300.

Sam Ruthberg, storage shed, 111 Shore street. $300.

W. F. Reeves, garage, 47 Riverview. $200.

F. Sawyeskay, alterations, 119 Crystal avenue. $700.

John Gula, frame store, Jefferson avenue. $500.

Mary E. Reagan, frame house, 312 Montauk avenue. $6,000.

Anna S. Jacsinski, garage, 128 Colman street. $500.

Wm. Hill, garage, 25 Mahan street. $200.

John Mondelci, frame house and garage, 27 Colman street. $4,400.

Edward Bloom Co., addition, Garfield avenue. $1,000.

Edwin Crulse, garage, 59 Morgan street. $200.

S. M. Saunders, frame addition, 81 Bayonet street. $300.

Frank Kaika, frame dwelling, Cape Ann court. $1,500.

Number of permits issued for the week, 16; estimated cost of buildings, $18,275.

REAL ESTATE SALES AND MORTGAGE LOANS

In Norwich during the past week there were 24 sales of real estate as compared to 10 sales for the corresponding week in 1922. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $57,750 and $1,016,500.

There were 16 sales of real estate in New London during the past week as compared to six sales for the same week a year ago. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $36,300 and $30,800.

The State Situation

Building permits granted in the leading cities of the state show a slight falling off in the volume of building business, according to the Commercial Record, due probably to the continued high cost of building. This past week 322 permits were issued for construction work costing $625,488. In the corresponding week of last year 313 permits were issued for work to cost $374,603, while in 1921 there were 343 permits for buildings with a total cost of $810,410.

BROADWAY

Today and Wednesday
CONTINUOUS SHOW WED.
KEITH VAUDEVILLE

ELKINS, FAY, ELKINS
THE MINSTREL BOYS

STANLEY GALLENI CO.
ETHEL THEODORE
ARCHER and BELFORD
Manhattan Comedy 4

PHOTOPLAY FEATURE
Only a Shop Girl
WITH A STAR CAST

COMING, JUNE 6th
The World's Record-Breaking Musical-Comedy Success
Shuffle Along

MAIL ORDERS NOW
PRICES $2.30—$1.73—$1.15—58c

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

Matinee 2:15
Evening 7-9:45
Prices, Mat. 25c
Eve. 25c-35c

TODAY — WEDNESDAY — THURSDAY

A HUMBLE DAUGHTER OF THE COMMON PEOPLE—LIFTED BY THE LURE OF SILK, INTO THE HEART OF A NOBLEMAN. A MAGNIFICENT PICTURIZATION OF COSMO HAMILTON'S STORY.

BUSTER KEATON, in "THE FROZEN NORTH"

Coming Soon — Maurice Tourneur's Masterpiece
"ISLE OF LOST SHIPS"

NOTE:—CONTINUOUS SHOW WEDNESDAY

Moose Anniversary Whist and Dance
TONIGHT
Wauregan Hotel Ballroom
$35.00 In Gold Given Away
Whist 8 to 10 — Dancing 10 to 12
Admission 35c Cars After Dance

DANCE TONIGHT
AT HILLTOP CASINO
MUSIC BY
CHICK'S HILLTOP ORCHESTRA
8:30 TO 12:00 P. M. (D. S. T.)
GENTS 60c — LADIES 40c
LATE CARS TO TAFTVILLE AND CITY

THE BEAUTIFUL, NEW
VENICE HALL FOR RENT
To first-class Organizations, or Individuals, with spacious grounds, suitable for Bazaars, Fairs and Dancing. For Particulars, The Pasnik Company.

BRIDGE, CARDS and DANCE, WAUREGAN HOTEL, MONDAY, MAY 28, 7.30 P. M., by C. C. of C. W., benefit of Sacred Heart Church. Everyone welcome. Tickets at Mara's Drug Store.

BREED THEATRE
TODAY AND WEDNESDAY
Continuous Show Tomorrow, 1:30 to 10:15
WILLIAM FOX presents
The TOWN THAT FORGOT GOD

"A MASTERPIECE OF REALISM"
DIRECTED BY Harry Millarde
The Most Tense Dramatic Story of American Small Town Life Ever Portrayed

PATHE NEWS—UP-TO-THE-MINUTE NEWS TOPICS
Matinee, Children 15 Cents—Adults 25 Cents
Evening, Children 20 Cents—Adults 35 Cents

OPENING
Ashland Casino, Jewett City
MAY 30th
AFTERNOON 2 TO 6—EVENING 8 TO 12
Dancing Every Wednesday and Friday
UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

RADIO PROGRAMS

KDKA Pittsburgh (326 meters)

10 a. m.—Music.
12.30 p. m.—Music, weather forecast, United States Bureau of Market reports.
3.15 p. m.—Ball scores.
5.05 p. m.—Organ recital.
7.00 p. m.—Ball scores, Current events.
7.15 p. m.—Addresses.
7.45 p. m.—The Visit to the Little Folks by the Dreamtime Lady.
8.00 p. m.—Ball scores. Market reports.
8.15 p. m.—Address by J. L. Roy of the Vacuum Oil Company.
8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Dormont Ladies' Trio, Elizabeth Florin Ewens, piano and director; Mrs. Donald Maxwell, violin; Mrs. Ruby Dunn MacCurdy, cello; Mrs. Ruby Dunn MacCurdy, contralto soloist.

WJZ Central New York (455 meters)

6 p. m.—Adventure stories for boys and girls by Silvio Villa.
7.30 p. m.—Batting High School Orchestra of Elizabeth, N. J., Clarence Wells, director.
7.45 p. m.—Baritone solos by Edward Bishop.
8.15 p. m.—"How to Raise Money for Your Business," by John T. Madden.
9.30 p. m.—Concert by the Liederkranz Society, male chorus and orchestra.
10.30 p. m.—Joint concert by Ralph Grosvenor, baritone, and Samuel Klischke, cellist.

WBZ Springfield (377 meters)

7.30 p. m.—Baseball scores. Fairy Tales.
7.46 p. m.—World market survey.
7.55 p. m.—News of the day.
8.00 p. m.—Baseball scores.
8.05 p. m.—Impersonations by Tine L. Jacquot of Hartford, Conn. Concert by Percy B. Wallace, baritone; Robert Wallace, pianist; Florence Baily, violinist.
8.25 p. m.—Laughs from Life.
8.30 p. m.—Continuation of musical program.
8.50 p. m.—Bedtime story for grownups prepared by Orison S. Marden.
8.56 p. m.—A few minutes with Benjamin Franklin. Baseball scores.

WGY Schenectady, N. Y. (380 Meters).

2.00 p. m.—Music and address "Safe Milk", Grace Sickler Babcock.
6.00 p. m.—Produce and stock market quotations; news bulletins; baseball results.
8.35 p. m.—Address, "Oysters, America's Greatest Sea Crop", by Russel Suter, New York State Conservation Commission.
8.40 p. m.—Baseball scores.
8.45 p. m.—Boy Scout program, furnished by the Schenectady Boy Scouts of America. This program will consist of a series of events given in their natural sequence and founded on actual happenings at the summer camp of the scouts. The presentation represents a lapse of time from reveille at 6.55 a. m. to taps at 9.45 p. m.

KYW Chicago (447 meters)
(Central time.)

6.30 p. m.—News, financial and final market and sport summary.
6.50 p. m.—Children's Bedtime Story.
8.50 p. m.—Naval Observatory time signals.
9.00 p. m.—News and weather reports.
9.05 p. m.—Special features as announced by radiophone.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 Meters.)

6.00 p. m.—Late News flashes, early sports news.
6.15 p. m.—Weekly Review of Conditions in the Iron and Steel Industry
6.30 p. m.—Boston Police reports.
6.45 p. m.—Code Practice, Amrad Bulletin board.
8.30 p. m.—Evening program. Weekly business report compiled by Roger W. Babson, selections by the Samuel Adams School Orchestra, Miss Esther Ryan, director, ninety-third Tufts College lecture, continuation of concert by the Samuel Adams School Orchestra.

Wilson Wants Him As Senator

Hunter Thompson, ultra progressive Democrat, who has been urged by former President Wilson as Senator to take the place left vacant by the death of Senator Nicholson. Wilson has requested Gov. Sweet of Colorado to make the appointment of Thompson. It shows conclusively that the former President is preparing to stage a comeback and emerge from his political seclusion. Thompson has been Assistant Attorney of the United States, member and later chairman of the Federal Trade Commission during Wilson's administration, and in addition Thompson is a family friend of the Wilsons.

STOPS HACKING COUGH

"Had a hacking cough for years, and Foley's Honey and Tar is the only remedy that reached my cough. I have not been troubled with it since," writes Mrs. E. M. Doby, Asbury Park, N. J. Coughs, colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble are quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Largest selling cough medicine in the world. Lee & Osgood Co.

LEGAL NOTICE

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 28th day of May, A. D. 1923.

Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

Estate of Mary Ella Green, late of Griswold, in said District, deceased.

Arthur A. Green of Griswold, Conn., appeared in Court and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that administration be granted upon the estate of said deceased, alleged to be intestate.

Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.

NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest: HELEN M. DEBECKER, may29d.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

MARRIED

GRUTBERG—SANDBERG—In Norwich, May 23, 1923, by Rev. H. C. Dunbar, Percy Gordon Grutberg of 130 Washington street and Miss Ida Viola Sandberg of 87 Mt. Pleasant street.

DIED

RIVERS—In Occum, May 28, 1923, Philip Rivers, aged 72 years.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

FUNERAL NOTICES

YOUNG—At his home in Jewett City, May 27, 1923, Alfred Avery Young, in the 59th year of his age.
Funeral service at his home in Jewett City on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, daylight time. It is kindly requested that there be no flowers.

STELVEY—Entered into rest, in Norwich, May 27, 1923, Ella Rist, wife of William H. McKelvey, aged 50 years.
Funeral services at St. James' Episcopal church, Poquetanuck, Wednesday, May 30, at 3 p. m. (D. S. T.) Burial in Poquetanuck cemetery.

KRAFT—In Norwich, May 27, 1923, George Kraft, in his 65d year.
Funeral services at his late home, 25 Perkins avenue, Thursday, May 31, at 2.30 p. m. (D. S. T.) Burial in Yantic cemetery.

HOWARD—In Norwich, May 26, 1923, Elizabeth Howard, aged 74 years.
Funeral services at Mt. Calvary Baptist church Tuesday, May 29, at 2.30 p. m., D. S. T. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

YOUNG—In Danielson, May 27, 1923, Mrs. Catharine B. Young, widow of Eugene B. Young, aged 70 years.
Funeral services at Old Trinity church, Church street, Brooklyn, Wednesday, May 30, at 1.30 o'clock, standard time. Kindly omit flowers.

Church & Allen
45 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
FREIGHT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
319 Main Street
Phone: 319-2 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
88 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 419-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON
LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Special Attention to Every Detail.

WILLIMANTIC
Avery & Van Zandt
Successors
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
86 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 (Lady Assistant)

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
814 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 841-2

FLORISTS

TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 986-2. Free delivery. aprl4

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

AUTO TOPS and painting; up-to-date shop and skilled help; if you need our services, come to see us. Norwich Auto Trimming and Paint Shop, Majestic Bldg., top floor. Tel. 2114. may4d

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct13

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, side covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Joe Angarano, Fond St. Phone 1397. mar16d

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
167 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 31 Willow St., near Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of designs. A. B. McClanathan, Mgr. jan14

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Good reliable man on dairy farm. W. C. Terry, R. D. No. 1, Norwich, Conn. Tel. 105-1 Jewett City. may29d

WANTED—Man to help putting up awnings. J. W. Mallett, 30 Market St. may29d

WANTED—Man to drive ice wagon in Plainfield; married man preferred; have tenement and good wages for right party. Frank A. Evans. may29d

WANTED—Lawns to clean up, floors waxed, gardening, etc. C. H. Graves, H. Walmsley, 153 Franklin St. Tel. 2347. may29d

WANTED—Position as chauffeur; experienced. Write Box 309, Bulletin. may29d

WANTED—Three or four men in wood turning shop. Apply L. M. Hartson Co., Chestnut St. may28d

WANTED—Building laborers; open shop conditions; 40 cents per hour. Second floor, 103 Elm St., New Haven, Conn. may28d

WANTED — Three or four woolen weavers, either men or women; both Crompton & Knowles and Crompton looms; one loom, four harness work, white warp. Apply to Regina Spinning Co., Hope Valley, R. I. may26d

WANTED—Teamsters and laborers at sawmill. Frank A. Phillips, 145 Church St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 805. may26d

WANTED—Position as chauffeur any make car or truck. Phone 687-12. may26d

WANTED—Carpenter helpers and laborers. Turner Construction Co., American Woolen Mill, Thamesville. may26d

WANTED—A man on dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 18-4. may24d

WANTED—A man for general farm work; pay $60 a month and house rent, firewood and milk. George Wells & Son, between South Windham and Willimantic. Phone 377-12. may14d

WANTED—Kitchenman; steady work and good pay. Mohegan Restaurant, 252 Main St. may23d

WANTED—Academy student, at Fagan's Smoke Shop. may19d

WANTED—Counterman. Apply at Mohegan Restaurant, 252 Main St. may14d

WANTED
NIGHT HELP
FOR DYE HOUSE
American Woolen Company
NORWICH MILL

WANTED
Boys To Carry Bulletin Routes.
INQUIRE AT
The Bulletin Office

ACCOUNTANT

We want a young man as an Assistant to our Accountant. Apply in own handwriting, stating experience and giving references.
THE ULMER LEATHER COMPANY
Norwich, Conn.

WANTED—Female

WANTED—At once, competent second girl; also a laundress; good wages. Apply Matron, 99 Washington St. may29d

WANTED—Young lady over 18 to work in store. Apply in person. Ye Chocolate Shoppe. may29d

WANTED—A chambermaid, also a table girl. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 42-2. may28d

WANTED—Maid for general housework. Tel. 1764 or apply 113 Washington St. may28d

WANTED—Competent cook willing to go to Eastern Point this summer. Apply Mrs. J. Ralph Howe. Tel. 480. may22d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 95 Broadway. may19d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Sellas Spa. may9d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may9d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Sellas Lunch. may3d

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS
THE TIME WILL COME
When You Will Need Ready Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not
BE PREPARED
Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed note. Call, write or Phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 206, THAYER BUILDING
10 FRANKLIN STREET

INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand. J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

KIN YA BEET IT—A seat from Fitchville top, me he crossed a rubber plant with the regular grass 'n' it made it rainproof, but by gimka, say ha, one of our cows fell down t'other day 'n' she bounded all over the meda. Sum pipes for 75c, Manilla cigars six for 25c, After Dinner cigar, sold by straight, Fagan's Smoke Shop. may29d

WANTED—A six-room cottage, with small garden, in a village or near a trolley line. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

WANTED—A two-tenement dwelling on easy payment plan. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

WANTED—Couple to run mill boarding house. Write Box 600, Bulletin. may29d

WANTED—To buy a flat-top desk. Call Phone 1597-12. may29d

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, etc., and antiques. Ward Bros., 45 Jackson St., Willimantic. Tel. 635-3. mar14TuThS

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 399, Norwich. jy13TuThS

WANTED—Country board, two weeks beginning about June 9; state terms, etc. W. S. Pitts, 1420 74th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. may28d

WANTED—A second hand basketball. Telephone 1542-6. may28d

WANTED—Strippers and general card room help. The E. S. Hilliard Co., Buckland, Conn. may28d

WANTED—Woolen weavers. Apply The E. S. Hilliard Co., Buckland, Conn. may28d

WANTED — Farm about 50 acres, around Willimantic or near South Windham, near a trolley. Andrew Philcik, Eagleville, Conn. may28d

WONDERFUL new book for office men and women sent free; new plan helps increase your efficiency and pays you profit at the same time; read "The Broader Horizon," mailed you without obligation; don't miss it. Just address Desk 31, Baker-Goodyear Co., First National Bank Bldg., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED—At once, by a reliable children's organization, a good Catholic boarding home for a 9 year old boy. Address P. O. Box 364, Willimantic.

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chenesid, Agt., 180 North Main St., Fulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 8 Bath St. Tel. 2163. feb21d

WANTED — Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. jan11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. M. Weisinger, 52 Market St. Phone 527-3. jy6d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-2. jan31d

IF IT'S JUNK

sell it to the Mutual Waste and Metal Co., where you get the most for Scrap Iron, Scrap Metal, Rags, Paper, Magazines, etc. We call and remove same promptly. 319 West Main Street, Telephone 2275.

WANTED

EXPERIENCED DRESSER TENDER.
APPLY—
JOSEPH HALL & SON, INC.,
TRADING COVE MILL.

WANTED

SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE; BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Four-room tenement, gas and electric light. A. V. Covello, 198 Cliff St. Tel. 1527-3. may29d

TO RENT—Large furnished room, suitable for one or two gentlemen. 49 Church St. may29d

TO RENT—Tenement, five rooms, 30 Cliff St. Apply 9 Elm St. may29d

TO RENT—Desk room in Disco Bldg., reasonable. Z., care of Bulletin. may28d

TO RENT—One store, 22x40, on Main St., Plainfield. Inquire Theodore Rollins, Plainfield. may28d

TO RENT—Unfurnished rooms. Inquire 34 Fairmount St. may26d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms, 5 North Main St. may24d

TO RENT — Apartment, lower floor, three rooms and bath, 176 Broadway. may23d

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement, upstairs, steam heat, bath, gas and electricity. Inquire 79 Hamilton Ave. may22d

FOR RENT—Private garage at 39 Otis St. Mrs. Foster. Phone 1538. may22d

TO RENT—Beautiful modern apartment at 50 Broad St., steam heat furnished and hot water supplied all year round. Inquire Talking Machine Shop, or your agent. may21d

COTTAGE for rent; Giants Neck, seven-room cottage, conveniences, near bathing beach, June to Sept., $500; large old house, near beach, boating, fishing, garden and garage, long season, $150; shore lots overlooking sound, excellent bathing, boating and fishing, $230 up, easy payments. Box 304, Niantic, Conn. Tel. 38-5. may12d

TO RENT—Store on Main St., Moosup, Conn. Apply to Nathan Nuhan, Moosup. may5d

FOR RENT

Store now occupied by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., for past six years, at No. 202-204 Franklin St.; can have possession from June 1st, 1923. For further particulars, see JOHN A. MORAN, Agent.

FOR RENT

4-room flat and bath room, all modern convenience—No. 18 Hamlin Street, Telephone 752-3.

TO RENT

221 BROADWAY.
15-ROOM RESIDENCE
AND 2-CAR GARAGE
Steam Heated.
Apply on the Premises.

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 74 Franklin St. may18d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Pier glass 26x36, with gilt frame. Can be seen by appointment. Phone 75. may29d

FOR SALE—A small business, paying excellent returns. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

FOR SALE—Several small farms on easy payment plans. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

FOR SALE—35 loads of native stone; could be delivered at once. George Peck, Norwich Town. Tel. 1367-3. may29d

BARGAIN in a small house; small amount of cash required; five minutes' walk from center of city. Coates, Broker, 63 Broadway.

YOU will make no mistake buying this seven-room cottage, with six building lots, on car line; price reasonable. See Coates, Broker, 63 Broadway. Phone 1349. may28 WThFTu

FOR SALE—Two new milch cows, 22 quarts a day, calves by side. Phone 1704. may28d

FOR SALE—At Crescent Beach, waterfront, stucco house of eight rooms, including all furniture (five bedrooms), electric lights, running water, garage one car; price $8,600; will rent June 1 to Oct. 1, $500. Phone 876. may25d

FOR SALE—Farm in the town of Lebanon, 67 acres; 50 for plowing, best of land, no stones, nice orchards, 500 nice peach trees, apples, cherries; eight-room house, good barn, a good lake on the farm; the best farm in Lebanon; the price is a bargain for quick sale. Address 297 Pleasant St., Willimantic, Conn. may25d

FOR SALE—One Victor phonograph, with 100 records, almanacs dated back to 1875, one antique waffle iron. Apply to D. E. West, Box 135, East Hampton, Conn. may25d

FOR SALE—First class player-piano, Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 963-4. may25d

FOR SALE—2,000 terra cotta blocks, at Wales Lines Co., Palace Theatre. may24d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $10.
A slightly used $185 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.
A $150 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.
A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $60, our price $30.
An upright Fischer piano, in fine condition, $75.
Talking Machine Shop, 24-34 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Upright piano in good playing condition; only $35, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Regular $625 Kroeger slightly used upright piano in perfect playing condition; very special, $235, on easy weekly terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Mahogany cabinet model talking machine, with six double faced records, complete for $69.50; easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Beautiful mahogany upright piano, $135. Call afternoons, 26 Slater Ave. may15d

FOR SALE — Bakery in small town, doing good business. Write Bakery, care Bulletin. may3d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of Interandional Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chenesid, Agt., 180 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr10d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. dec4d

FOR SALE

6-room cottage, all improvements, 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. Today, $3,800.
7-room bungalow, new. An expensive house for less than cost.
10-room bungalow. No better built in Norwich. Located central. Price right.
2-apartment house near Chelsea Parade. First class condition. Large lot and garage. Good investment at price. $8,000.
Beautiful estate with large grounds. First class condition. Fine residential property. Price $20,000.
GROVER & BURDICK
2 MARKET STREET Phone 1525-2

FOR SALE

No. 56 Spruce Street, 9 rooms and 2 baths. Price reasonable. Can be arranged for 2 apartments. Possession given immediately. Inquire of owner
J. J. CORKERY

FOR SALE

Team Wagon — A good post-built team wagon, in first class condition—$175.00.
FRANK S. GARDNER, Est.
749 Ocean Avenue, New London

FOR SALE

ATTRACTIVE SUMMER COTTAGE, AT BEST VIEW
Ideal Summer Location
Immediate Possession
House has electric lights, running water, modern plumbing, hardwood floors, and is plastered, has heating system and may be occupied the entire year.
PRICE $7,000
JAMES L. CASE
Tel. 876 40 SHETUCKET ST.

FOR SALE

A choice farm, located within five miles of Norwich, consisting of about 400 acres of land, about one-half can be put under cultivation, balance pasture and woodland, will easily cut over 6,000 cords of wood, besides a huge lot of timber. This farm must be sold and priced low. Fine large house in fine shape, as are outbuildings. All tools and machinery included. A great opportunity for someone. For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

LESS THAN ONE SEASON'S RENT for summer cottage will make cash payment on this 10-acre state road farm, bordering on river, fish pond, fine old maple shade, old-fashioned six-room house, hardwood floors, open fireplace, all buildings in first class repair, for $3,200, $500 cash.
THYONS' AGENCY,
may24d Willimantic, Conn.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
AT CRESCENT BEACH
Eight-room furnished modern cottage, with one-car garage and three bathing houses, in one of the choicest locations on the waterfront; house has recently been finished in stucco and is a great chance for someone to get a choice summer home at a very reasonable price.
For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
NORWICH.

OUR FINEST SERGES
Dark Navy Blue
$4.45 — $5.89

Our very finest quality, 100 per cent. Virgin Wool, Fine Weave Serge Trousers. Every young fellow should have a pair of Blue Serge Trousers in his wardrobe. Here's your opportunity to secure a good pair that are carefully tailored to fit comfortably, with cuffs and bell bottoms.
L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
Opposite Post Office

FOR SALE

A modern house of two 6-room apartments, with garage for two cars, all nearly new. Hardwood floors throughout, cemented cellar, large level lot, finely located—all in perfect order. Immediate possession.
THOS. H. BECKLEY
278 MAIN STREET
PHONES

FOR SALE

ROSE HILL FARM — between Pomfret and Brooklyn in Windham County, Connecticut. An excellent Colonial house and 140 acres of land. A superb view. Part of the land is suitable for orchards of apples, peaches and other fruits; the balance is woodland and pasture. Price $15,000. Inquire of
THE WINDHAM COUNTY NATIONAL BANK
DANIELSON, CONN.

FOR QUICK SALE
7-room house, all improvements, near Backus hospital, bargain at $7,500.
3-tenement house, North Cliff St., $3,750.
A beautiful cottage on Williams St., also garage, lot 150x200.
Double house, Sachem St., large lot, 16 rooms, all improvements, garage, $12,000.
4-family brick house, High St., $7,000.
Beautiful home, Spring Garden Ave., $8,250.
2-apartment house, Spring Garden Ave., $8,000.
Many others, all sections.
210-acre farm, Jewett City, 8-room house, all necessary outbuildings, 11 head cattle, 100 hens, hay, tools, wagons, etc.; for quick sale $6,500; attractive mortgage.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Thayer Bldg.
Real Estate, Insurance, Investments.

FOR SALE

A tenement block, with improvements; always well rented, and centrally located; price right if sold at once.
Six-room cottage, all improvements, including heat, in excellent condition, built about 10 years, will sell for $4,000; same is located 15 minutes' walk from Franklin Square.
Brick block on West Side, with two stores and two tenements; good investment; price $7,500; will arrange liberal loan.
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones. Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE

Fine residence on Washington St., with over two acres land; a rare bargain.
New modern bungalow, Laurel Hill; the price is right.
New six-room house, with garage, for $4,200.
Two houses, with three acres land, Gales Ferry, $4,000; fine river view.
Archa W. Coit
327 Main St.
Phones 2288 and 1596. may26d

FOR SALE
$9,500 will buy five-apartment house, with one store, rent for $118 monthly, with gas and electric light, large lot, on Main St., five minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Tel. 1527-3. 198 Cliff St.

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping, trucks for hire. 31 Cliff St. or Occum. Tel. 617-13.

Est. 1874. Tel. 175.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving.
Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLYN, 232 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1583-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1361.

TEAMING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 263 Main St. Phone 792.

C. R. BROMLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 314.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 197 Maple St. Phone 669-12. jan14d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Jobbing. 30 West Main St. Phone 891. dec6d

CHIROPODIST

A. S. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8 Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. jan11d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
Seven-room cottage, all improvements, all hardwood floors, one-car garage, ten minutes' walk from square, on car line.
GROVER & BURDICK,
Phone 1525-2. 2 Market St.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—One pair of team horses, weight 2800. Inquire of Thomas Mellen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-13 Jewett City. may29d

JUST ARRIVED.
My Horses are here, and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.
ELMER M. PIERSON.
Tel. 836-3. apr26d

POULTRY

FOR SALE—Mammoth Pekin ducklings and hatching eggs. Cumpstone, Norwich Road, Waterford. Tel. 935-3 New London. may29d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; gas proof feature; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. Phone 958-14 New London. feb1d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. B. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec29d

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Brick roadster in good condition. Tel. 1642-4. may29d

FOR SALE—$225, 1920 Ford coupe; must be sold by May 30; cash or terms. Phone 1642-4. may29d

FOR SALE—A new 1923 five-passenger Chevrolet sedan. Phone 1658. may29d

FOR SALE—Two-ton Indiana truck. Inquire of Thomas Mellen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-13 Jewett City may29d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your cars; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 375 Main St. Phone 1449-4. Night phones, 1465-4 or 1807-13. apr17d

FOR SALE—Overland coupe. Call after 3 o'clock. Baohmann, 14 Carter Ave. may28d

FOR SALE—One model N Hupmobile, good condition, new side curtains, good running order, reasonable price. M. A. Dooley, Box 137, Canterbury, Conn. may25d

FOR SALE—'21 Ford coupe, '17 Dodge touring with winter top, '23 Gardner touring, '31 Paige 6-66 touring, '22 Hupmobile sedan, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. may18d

FOR SALE—1919 Cadillac coupe, fine condition, price reasonable. Phone 965. may8d

AUTO PARTS

A few of the many cars wrecked for the parts.

DODGE	MAXWELL
FORD	REO
OVERLAND	DORT
STUDEBAKER	G. M. C.
CHALMERS	AND OTHERS

NORWICH AUTO WRECKING COMPANY
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
PHONE 2110

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-13

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAE, Architect, Room 1, May Bldg. Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb19d

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Dry slab wood. Phone 1341-5. may14d

COAL, seasoned wood and kindlings, in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 604 or 1325-2. R. Shapiro, Willow St. may14d

FOR SALE—Well seasoned mixed slabs; nice for summer. H. E. Beard & Son. Tel. 615-4. apr19d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; baskets or cords; lowest prices. Phone 542. jan16d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—The dead body of our pet dog Surrey, shot and killed on the Schults farm, near Gardner Lake, Friday evening. I want to thank all friends who aided me in my search of last week. G. F. Bailey. 955-2. may29d

FOUND—On Broadway, Monday afternoon, squirrel neckpiece. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Phone 1189. may29d

LOST—Friday, gold cross, between Thames Square and City line; reward. Clarence Simpson, Am. Woolen Co., Thamesville. may29d

LOST—A brown cow, with white and red calf, since May 20. George Dugas, Versailles. may29d

LOST—A motorcycle plate, No. 2202, between Plainfield and Jewett City, Sunday. Finder return to 113 Dunham St. Phone 629-2. may28d

LOST—Sum of money, between Plainfield and Moosup. Reward if left at this office. may25d

$300 REWARD OFFERED
There has been collected by public subscription the above sum of money, to be paid to the person or persons who will produce the body of William M. Tibbitts, late of the Town of Bozrah, and for information leading to the conviction of the person or persons who committed the crime.
Dated at Yantic, Conn., May 21st, 1923.
may22Tu GEORGE A. KAHN.

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 127-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Outfits to Lend.

HELEN L. PERKINS
TEACHER OF SINGING
Phone 562-2 Studio, Alice Bldg.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUCTIONS

AUCTION NOTICE
—BY—
WITTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS,
Office and Salesrooms, No. 42 Main Street, Danielson, Conn.

We have received a choice consignment of high grade furniture, carpets, pictures and fancy crockery from Mrs. Josephine Love of Anthony, R. I., to be sold on SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1923,
at 1 o'clock p. m., standard time.

We will also sell for Mrs. H. McConnell, Attawaugan, Conn., a consignment of all kinds. A beautiful large sized Brunswick phonograph in a mahogany case will be included in this sale; likewise a beautiful seven-piece mahogany parlor set.

FRANK T. MAPLES.....Auctioneer

AUCTION
FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923,
at 9.30, standard time,
at Captain Maples' farm, at East Great Plain, 1 1-2 miles from Norwich, 4 sheep, 1 dry cow, geese and goslings, two-horse spring harrow, 1 hay cutter, platform scale, 1 swivel plow, 1 horse plow, several pairs wagon wheels and axles, small tools, shovels, forks, crowbars, 2 crosscut saws, etc.
Bureaus, sewing machine, dishes, beds, tables, stands, screen doors, pictures, jugs and others too numerous to mention.
Antiques: Chairs, tables, stands, highboy, pewter, brass, corner cupboard, mirrors, pictures, etc. may29d

PHOTOGRAPHY

PHOTOGRAPHER

Wanted, the public to know that we make first class pictures at the lowest prices in the city. Our work is guaranteed. We pay special attention to babies and weddings. We take pictures of anything, anywhere we are called.
ANTOOFIAN STUDIO,
335 Main St., opp. Postoffice.

MACHINISTS

M. A. BARBER
Machinist and Engineer
Steam Engine Repairs

SHOE REPAIRING

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIRING CO., 24 Franklin St. Be wise and have your work done by hand, not machinery, as it is better and will last longer. Shoes made for all deformities. may5d apr19d

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Ledyard, within and for the District of Ledyard, on the 14th day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—BILLINGS F. S. CRANDALL, Judge.
Estate of Frank G. Maynard, late of Ledyard, in said District, deceased.
Ordered, That the Executrix cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order, on the signpost nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt, and in the same Town, and by publishing the same once in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and make return to this Court.
BILLINGS F. S. CRANDALL,
Judge.

NOTICE.—All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at Norwich, Conn., R. D. 6, within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.
M. ANGELINE MAYNARD, may29d Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of Alice C. Dyer, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.
Ordered, That the Administrator c. t. a. cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order, on the signpost nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt, and in the same Town, and by publishing the same once in a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and make return to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER,
Clerk.

NOTICE.—All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at No. 62 Broadway, Norwich, Conn., within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.
ARTHUR F. LIBBY, may29d Admr. c. t. a.

DISTRICT OF LEDYARD, ss. Court of Probate, May 26th, 1923.
Estate of Mary E. Lewis, late of Ledyard, in said District, deceased.
The Administratrix having exhibited her administration account with said estate to this Court for allowance, it is Ordered, That the 2d day of June, 1923, at 7 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Probate Court in Ledyard, be, and the same is, assigned for a hearing on the allowance of said administration account with said estate, and this Court directs the Administratrix to cite all persons interested therein to appear at said time and place, by publishing this order in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, and by posting a copy on the public signpost in the Town where the deceased last dwelt.
BILLINGS F. S. CRANDALL, may29d Judge.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 28th day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of Agolonya Misk, late of Lisbon, in said District, deceased.
Thomas Misk of Lisbon, Conn., appeared in Court and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that administration be granted upon the estate of said deceased, alleged to be intestate.
Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1923, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER,
may29d Clerk.

FAIR TODAY AND PROBABLY TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

1799 1923

NORWICH, CONN., TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1923

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin

Norwich, Tuesday, May 29, 1923

WEATHER

Conditions

Pressure remained relatively high Monday over Ontario and in the vicinity of Bermuda and it was lower over practically all other regions. There were centers of minimum pressure Monday night over western Texas, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and off the north Pacific coast. During the last 24 hours the weather has remained fair in the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states. The temperature was higher Monday in New England. There will be little change in weather conditions in the Washington forecast district during the next two days. The weather will remain generaly fair in the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states. Little change in temperature is probable except that cooler weather will overspread portions of New England Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook—Moderate southeast and south and weather generally fair Tuesday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Moderate southeast and south and weather generally fair Tuesday.

Forecast

Southern New England—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday, cooler in eastern Massachusetts Wednesday.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in thermometer and barometer Monday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	56	30.00
12 m.	72	30.00
6 p. m.	66	30.00

Highest 72; lowest 56.

Comparisons

Predictions for Monday—Fair.
Monday's weather—As predicted.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises. (Standard Time.)	Sun Sets. (Standard Time.)	High Water. (Standard Time.)	Moon Rises. (Standard Time.)
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	a. m.
28	4.19	7.11	8.08	3.32
29	4.19	7.11	9.01	4.07
30	4.18	7.12	9.55	Rises.
1	4.17	7.13	10.49	5.44
2	4.17	7.14	11.41	9.32
3	4.17	7.15	12.37	10.24
4	4.16	7.15	12.50	11.05

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by good tide.

TAFTVILLE

Miss Lillian J. O'Brien of Providence street spent the week-end in Providence, R. I.

The Community Sewing Class met Monday evening in the Red Cross rooms in the Ponemah building.

The Dolor Roque club defeated the Baltic Roque club in an exciting game Sunday afternoon on the Baltic courts, by the score of 6 to 2. Beaudry, one of the Taftville players when leaving the trolley left his mallet in the seat, and the game was unable to be called until an automobile was commandeered and sent to Willimantic to head off the car. When the mallet was rescued, Beaudry was able to enter the game and help his team to victory.

Troop 4, Boy Scouts, met Monday evening in their rooms in the Sacred Heart School building under the direction of Scoutmaster Rev. Henri F. Chagnon.

Mrs. E. J. Tryon, Mrs. Henry White, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jonas and children Evelyn and Raymond of Middletown, Conn., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Tryon of South A street, making the trip in Mr. Jonas' car.

Miss Norah Murphy of Merchants avenue spent the week-end in Hartford, Conn., with friends.

Thomas Greenwood, Jr., has returned to Springfield, Mass., after spending a few days with his father, Thomas Greenwood of South Second avenue.

Twilight baseball will start on the Providence street grounds this (Tuesday) evening when the Army & Navy club will clash with the K. of C. In former seasons, these twilight games became very popular and it is expected that the fans will turn out in large numbers to encourage the sport.

Miss Margaret Slater of Unionville, Conn., was the guest over the week-end of Miss Hildegarde Crowe of South A street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Britton and son Raymond of South Third avenue have moved to New Bedford, Mass.

William J. Smith of Merchants avenue has purchased a new touring car.

No Pawcatuck Examinations This Week.

Because of the Memorial Day holiday on Wednesday the usual examinations for motor vehicle operator's licenses that are held weekly on Wednesday at Pawcatuck, Westerly, are suspended this week.

Criminal Common Pleas Session.

The criminal court of common pleas which opened in this city last Tuesday, will hold an adjoined session here today (Tuesday).

New Haven.—Miss Marion Hendrickson of New Haven, a junior at Smith, is the leader of the delegation of Smith students who will attend the Eastern Student conference to be held from June 22 to July 2 at Lake George.

The Great Danger of High Blood Pressure

Thousands of men and women have high blood pressure and do not realize it. Dizziness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness are some of the tell-tale signs. It is usually caused by some functional derangement of the vital organs such as the liver or kidneys or a habitual clogging of the intestines. When this happens, as it usually does, in middle life, Nature calls for help and the heart tries to answer by doing double work; by pumping more blood to the attacked part of the body.

This creates a terrific pressure and often results in apoplexy, of which we read so often.

A simple, safe remedy for high blood pressure and the conditions that cause it, is now offered in scientific Bialin. Bialin will relieve your high blood pressure by acting quickly and effectively at the seat of the trouble. It will stimulate your liver and cleanse the system of the impurities that interfere with the regular functioning of the vital organs.

Bialin will make you feel better in a few days. It is put up in convenient tablet form and can be had at all good druggists such as The Lee & Osgood Company.

NORWICH SCHOOLS WIN SECOND PLACE IN NAT'L THRIFT CONTEST

In a nation wide thrift contest in which schools in all parts of the country took part, the Norwich schools, using the system of automatic tellers installed by The Norwich Savings Society were awarded second place in their class.

The competitors included schools from Louisiana to Wisconsin and from Connecticut to Oklahoma. They were divided into four classes according to number of pupils enrolled in the schools in which automatic tellers were placed.

In each of these classes the corporation making the machines selling thrift stamps offered a prize of $200 to the schools reporting at the close of National Thrift Week, January 22, 1923, the largest percentage of savers. The result of the contest has just been received.

Norwich was in Class C. The winners in this class were the schools of Bay City, Michigan, with 80 per cent. of the pupils savers and 52 per cent. with bank accounts. Norwich was second with 75 per cent. of its pupils savers and 44 per cent. with bank accounts.

The use made of thrift stamp machines by the pupils since they were placed in the different buildings last year, is evidence that there was a real demand for a school savings system in Norwich. The number participating has been large and the amount saved much more than anticipated. The officers of The Norwich Savings Society highly appreciate the hearty co-operation of the teachers, which has made this very satisfactory result possible.

FINGER AMPUTATION IN WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

Twelve workmen's compensation agreements, including one for the amputation of three fingers and another for a broken collar bone, both Norwich cases, have been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue.

The following is the list:

J. E. Fitzgerald Co., New London, employer, and William Laura, employe, finger infected, at rate of $16.20.

Connecticut Co., New Haven, employes, and P. McGuiness, 366 Central avenue, Norwich, employe, back wrenched and knee bruised, at rate of $15.

American Woolen Co., Yantic Mills, employer, and Charles Holod, Yantic, employe, finger infected, at rate of $11.32.

W. W. Backus hospital, Norwich, employer, and Dorothy C. Peckham, 326 Washington street, employe, hand injured while chopping ice for patient, at rate of $6.

Patrick F. Sweeney, Norwich, employer, and Joseph J. Sherry, 66 Union street, employe, amputation of three fingers of right hand, 2-3 loss of each finger, 50 weeks, at $8.50.

Max Gordon & Son corporation, Norwich, employer, and Edward Thompson, 104 High street, employe, left arm broken by gear handle hitting it, at rate of $12.06.

New England Collapsible Tube Co., New London, employer, and Albert Christian, Groton, employe, finger injured, at rate of $7.50.

Ring Bros., Norwich, employer, and William Dynon, 29 Dunham street, employe, fracture of left clavicle and bruises, at rate of $15.

The Gilbert Auto Co., Jewett City, employer, and Frank Burr, Jewett City, employe, infected thumb, at rate of $10.

American Woolen Co., Norwich Mills, employer, and Thomas Mosely, 257 Main street, employe, finger lacerated, at rate of $10.45.

Atwood Machine Co., Stonington, employer, and K. H. Taylor, Stonington, employe, right forearm broken, at rate of $10.35.

H. Wales Lines Co., Meriden, employer, and Ben Cowles, New London, employe, finger infected, at rate of $8.61.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED FOR PERFECT ATTENDANCE

At the final meeting for the season of the Christ Church Junior auxiliary, prizes were awarded to the following girls for perfect attendance: May Vallin, Mabel Bjorn, Ebbo Pierson, Annie Lambert, Doris Kennedy, Isabel Kennedy, Grace Corey, Dorothy Malcolm. For being absent only once: Anna Taft, Winifred Fitzgerald.

The yearly report was read by the secretary, Dorothy Malcolm.

Interesting papers were read by Anna Taft, entitled, To the Future of Mexico, by Mabel Bjorn and May Vallin, entitled Liberia, and by Ebba Pierson, entitled Our Point Hope Mission in Alaska.

Rev. Robert B. Day of Grace church, Yantic, gave a most interesting talk on "The Seaman's Church Institute, New York." The Juniors have been doing work for the missions, community and the parish. Scrap books, marble bags, hospital shoes, dressing sacques and quilts have been made, some of which were sent to the Seaman's Church Institute, New York, and the School for Homeless Boys, Covington, Va.

During this service violin solos were rendered by Miss Mae Guile and her brother, George A. Guile.

The collection taken up at the service is to be sent to the Seaman's Church Institute.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR THE FRENCH SOLDIERS

Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R, is to hold an outdoor service at the Norwich Town cemetery this (Tuesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, daylight time, in honor of the 20 French soldiers buried in the cemetery. The exercises will be held at the Memorial Boulder.

The Children of the Revolution, (C. A. R.) will have an interesting part in the exercises. J. O. Tellier, tenor of Taftville, will sing the French National hymn. Rev. G. F. Bailey of Norwich Town church will offer prayer and an address will be delivered by Judge Arthur F. Libby. The public is cordially invited.

The D. A. R. Museum will be opened Tuesday from 3 to 6 for the first time this year with Mrs. Orrin S. Lemingwell as hostess. It will also be open at the same hours Wednesday with Miss Eliza Avery as hostess.

FORECLOSURE SUIT ON CENTRAL PARK LOTS

Foreclosure of a mortgage for $1,000 upon 33 lots in Central Park, Norwich, is sought by Gilbert S. Raymond of this city in a suit brought against John P. Huntington, administrator of the estate of Joseph A. Cloran, late of Boston, deceased, and others. Stanley Capteina, Stanislaw Gelembiewski, and William Smurkowski, all of Norwich, are named as party defendants as claiming an interest in the real estate. The mortgage was given April 16, 1914 by Samuel Lebowich and by him assigned to Raymond on April 30, 1923. One payment of $100 has been made on the mortgage on June 15, 1917. The suit is returnable before the superior court in June.

WIFE SUES FOR DIVORCE ON GROUND OF CRUELTY

Nettie Counyers Frankford of New London has brought suit for divorce from Leroy Frankford, formerly of Groton, now of parts unknown, alleging intolerable cruelty since Jan. 17, 1921. They were married Feb. 5, 1920. She asks to have her name changed to Nettie M. Counyers. The suit is returnable before the superior court in June.

Nearly 4,000 sacred murders were ordered by Louis XI.

HEBREW LADIES AUXILIARY RAISE MONEY FOR CHARITY

The Hebrew Ladies Auxiliary gave a benefit whist Sunday evening at the Roseland Casino when nearly $150 was raised to be used in the benefit work of the auxiliary which includes considerable charity work among the many hospitals and institutions in Norwich.

The affair was planner by Mrs. Blumenthal, Mrs. Diana Polsky, Mrs. Elsie Sternlieb, Miss Dora Sternlieb and Mrs. Harry Salomon and proved one of the most successful of the year.

During the evening Max Hanover was called upon for an address and responded, his message being in part as follows:

I was almost tempted to call you sisters and brothers. I am tied with such a close bond with all the community of Norwich that I feel that you are all my sisters and brothers.

After all if we trace our geneology far enough we come to Adam from whom we are all descendants, and hence we are all sisters and brothers.

The time will come, and it is coming fast, when the whole human family will live in friendship and in harmony, when each man and woman will overlook his or her neighbor's shortcoming, and when they will overlook their neighbor's faults, because there are faults in all of us—the perfect man and woman have never been born. The time will come when petty jealousies and petty differences will be banished out of the human character and that men and women will love their neighbors for the good quality which they possess—and there is some good in every one of us.

There are hopeful times ahead of us. We live in a greater era of education, a time which is permeated with great moral force. The late war taught mankind that human relations are not to be adjusted with war, and that injustice can only be redressed by the application of justice. We are beginning to learn that by appealing to the sentimental part of the human character we have the only chance to make this world a tolerable and friendly habitation for all mankind. At last humanity is beginning to see a vision of hope, a hope of a more friendly co-operation and real brotherhood.

Our great school system, our modern religious organizations, our ethical culture societies, our social organizations, our charitable organizations, our social conventionalities, and social interrelations are all forces for the betterment of the human family—all having an eye upon the ideal how to better arrange and to harmonize human relations; how to bring about a better understanding among all people in order to establish a universal brotherhood of men.

Having justified my premises for calling you sisters and brothers I will now proceed to set forth the object of my address.

I was invited to take up about five minutes of this evening by a talk upon the work of the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary. I know that you expect me to say something worthy of listening to, but I am going to talk to you about a beaded bag—a very peculiar subject, isn't it? The question will naturally occurred to your mind, what is there to be said about a beaded bag? It would have occurred to my mind were I in your place. But I assure you that there is a lot to be said about any subject provided we put enough sentimentality into it.

Sentiment is the most beautiful part of our character. It includes the fine feelings which we bear toward other people, it includes the love which we bear toward what is right and just and kind and benevolent.

We can go on doing lots of good things to ourselves without giving a thought to anyone else, but we accomplish nothing worthy thereby. We only feed our animal instinct for self indulgence and become selfish gluttons for personal pleasure and not human. But when we employ our sentiments in the love of our fellowmen and women, we elevate our character, enrich our morals, ennoble our hearts and become good, loving and exalted beings; we begin to feel glorified by our larger and broader sympathies towards others, and we begin to feel happier because we can make others happy.

You will deduct from the above that if we put enough sentiment in the beaded bag which I mentioned there is a lot to be said about it.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, look at this beautiful beaded bag. In the first place it is a valuable bag because it is a work of art, because it is beautifully made, because it represents fine technique and dexterity and it is both useful and ornamental. Above all in everyone of the threads, is woven in the spirit of the ladies who made it, who put their souls, their love, their charitable feelings, their noble human sympathies into this bag. Every one of these beads were strung with the ostensible purpose that with the proceeds of this bag a little sunshine, a little happiness, a little pleasure and a little comfort might be brought into the life of some unfortunate human being—a human being, even as you and I, but not so fortunate in the possession of God's greatest munificence—good health.

Friends, this bag is valuable because it will bring, and must bring, good luck to the purchaser of it. It is valuable because the money realized on it will go toward such a worthy cause; and to my mind this bag ought to bring at least one hundred dollars.

Think, my friends, what this money would mean in the hands of the ladies of the hospital auxiliary. Think of the beautiful and noble charity in which they are enlisted. To soften, to assuage and to alleviate the sorrow of sick people, to make their suffering a little more bearable is the noblest of human kindness.

This community of ours consists of as fine a class of fine human beings as I have ever met. You are ever ready to give a helping hand, to show you kindness and good heart whenever urgent need is brought to your attention. Your coming here signifies that you are vitally in sympathy with the work of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary.

We want you not to feel that every time you gather to have a good time it is marred by a demand for money for some kind of charity. To the contrary, we want you to feel that to give for such noble purpose is the greatest joy to which a human being can aspire. You give and the Lord will repay you a hundredfold for your kind heart.

To a good heart there is a great satisfaction in giving; just because giving away to others, somehow, is against human nature; because we still are assailed by the animal instinct to get everything for ourselves, to fight for it every day of our life. To hold what we possess is rooted into us by the struggle for existence, for we all crave for the sense of security which the possession of wealth assures. Hence, when we appease this part of our nature, when we answer to the nobler spiritual urge which the Lord has implanted in every human being, when our humanity predominates over our animal tendencies, then, and only then, we become real human beings, noble human beings; we then show ourselves in the image of God who created us.

Now, friends, we are going to fill this bag and I hope that you will fill it with your kind sentimentality, and I thank you for your kind attention.

PARADE ORDERS ISSUED FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Parade orders for Memorial Day on Wednesday have been issued by Major Charles A. Hagberg, marshal for the parade, which is to start from the Buckingham Memorial at 10.02 a. m., daylight time.

Major Hagberg's orders are as follows:

Norwich, Conn.,
May 25, 1922.

Memorial Day Orders No. 1.

Organizations will report to the marshal at Buckingham Memorial not later than 9.45, daylight saving time, for assignment to position in line. Parade will start promptly at 10.02 (daylight saving time) and the line of march follows:

To Preston bridge, countermarch to Washington square, Washington street to Chelsea parade. After exercises at the monument the parade will be re-formed, right resting at the south end of the park. March will be resumed as follows: Across park to monument to Broadway, down Broadway to Union square where the parade will be dismissed. The parade will be reviewed by His Honor, Milo R. Waters, mayor, at Chelsea parade when return march is resumed.

The organizations will form as follows:

Grand Marshal, Maj. Charles A. Hagberg, and his aides, Major H. Russell Smith, Lieut. F. B. Craven, Lieut. H. S. Ives, Lieut. J. Johnson, Lieut. T. R. Burdick
Platoon of Police, Captain Twomey
Tubbs' Military Band
Battery B, 192nd Field Artillery
Captain Burdick
Columbus Band
Richard E. Hourigan Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Graham
Robert O. Fletcher Post, American Legion, Commander Cunningham
R. S. Griswold Camp, Spanish War Veterans, Commander Rathbun
Sons of Veterans
Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls
Daughters of Veterans Float
Boy Scout Drum and Buzie Corps
Boy Scouts, Scout Executive Benton Commanding
G. A. R. and Disabled Veterans in Automobiles
The Mayor, City and Town Officials.

CHARLES HAGBERG,
Marshal.

REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS BURIED IN LEBANON

Seventy-two Revolutionary soldiers are buried in the town of Lebanon and will have their graves decorated on Memorial Day. The following is the list: Eliphalet Abell, Oliver Bill Lieut. Daniel Clark, Thomas Loomis, Laten Porter, Israel Williams, Charles Williams, Pelatiah Marsh, Rufus Lamb, William Williams, Jonathan Trumbull, Jonathan Trumbull, Jr., Joseph Trumbull, David Trumbull, Andrew Fitch, Joseph Leech, Capt. Stephen Payne, Elijah Phelps, John Alden, James Bailey, Daniel Hyde, Ichabod Fitch, Jonathan Goodwin, Simeon Gay, Isaac Gillitt, Major Elijah Hyde, Zina Hyde, Samuel Clark, Caleb Abel, William Lyman, Capt. Andrew Huntington, Col. Isaiah Loomis, James Clark, Walter Hyde, Eliphalet Tisdale, Ebenezer Tilden, Nathaniel Raymond, Simon Gross, Capt. William Huntington, Joseph Throop, Isaiah Tiffany, Nathaniel Williams, William Goodwin, Timothy Kingsley, Simon Abel, Andrew Waterman, Amos Thomas, Jared Hinckley, Josiah Bartlett, Jabez West, Jabez Metcalf, Eliphalet Barker, George Williams, David Avery, Amasa Dutton, Asahel Gay, Simon Fitch, Capt. Daniel Dewey, Simon Babcock, William Beaumont, Capt. Samuel Fuller, Asa Bolles, Otis Bigelow, Capt. James Fitch, Adijah Fowler, Peleg Thomas, William Morgan, Elihu Thomas, Amos Thomas, Avery Morgan, Ebenezer West, Benjamin Bissell.

CITY BIBLE CLASS TO HAVE SUPPER GUESTS

The City Bible Class of the Central Baptist school has invited the Men's Forum of the First Baptist church of New London to come to this city on Tuesday evening, June 5, as guests at a supper. The forum has accepted the invitation and has sent word that there will be about 100 men who will make the trip to enjoy the hospitality of the Norwich men.

Mayor Milo R. Waters has accepted an invitation to extend a welcome and the freedom of the city to the visitors. Edward Y. Messinger, Charles W. Burton and Carl W. Brown have been appointed the committee of arrangements.

MACHINE NEARLY LANDED IN WITCH HAZEL POND

A Ford automobile owned by Peter O'Neil, Jr., a fireman on Engine No. 6, in Thamesville, nearly landed in the pond at the witch hazel mill on Sunday night, finally bringing up with two wheels over the rail, the weight of the rear end keeping it from completing the fall into the pond below.

Mr. O'Neil was not driving the car but had loaned it to a friend, who went driving with his father. No one was injured and the car was hauled back into the road Monday, coming to this city under its own power, none the worse for its thrilling experience.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

Demonstration This Week

MIRRO

The Finest Aluminum

This 3-Piece Preserving Set

Exceptionally Priced

A very pleasant find! Just what you need now — a 3-piece Mirro preserving set. And only $1.98 — a saving of 87c, for separately these articles would cost $2.85. Every piece is genuine Mirror—thick, hard aluminum that lasts for years.

The 10-qt. preserving kettle you will use not only for preserving, but every day. The ladle is a beauty. The funnel is a most ingenious combination affair for use either as a fruit or spout funnel—with or without strainer—or as a cup or dipper.

We can't prophesy how long we will have these sets at this special price. But today yours is waiting.

In addition to the foregoing there are a number of other special values in Mirro Aluminum specially priced for demonstration week. Make it a point to visit our House Furnishing Department this week and meet the demonstrator from the factory who will explain the merits of Mirro Aluminum, the finest Aluminum made.

QUICK COURT ACTION AFTER LIQUOR ARREST

Joseph Cooper, alleged to be the proprietor of the place at 8-10 Market street, was before Judge H. H. Pettis in the police court Monday morning on the charge of having violated the liquor law. He had been arrested a short time before the court session and the evidence against him in court was of an actual sale of a half pint of whiskey which was witnessed by Officer Daniel J. O'Neil from a point of observation he had. He arrested Coopel and brought him to police headquarters with the half pint bottle.

Cooper was fined $200 and costs and was given a sentence of 30 days in jail. He took an appeal.

Cooper already has one appealed liquor case which is to come up at the session of the criminal common pleas court in this city today (Tuesday).

Seven men were before police court on intoxication charges and were fined.

TO UNVEIL TABLET TO SARA THOMPSON KINNEY

Members of Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R., from this city are expecting to attend a meeting in Windsor next Friday at the Ellsworth homestead when the Ellsworth Memorial Association will hold a meeting open to all Connecticut chapters.

At this meeting there will be committee reports, election of officers and other routine business transacted. The Sara Thomson Kinney Memorial tablet will be unveiled. The meeting will be opened promptly at 1.30 o'clock, daylight saving time, and there is also to be a basket luncheon at 12.30 o'clock.

SAVED HARVARD VARSITY QUARTERS FROM FIRE

Steward Thomas J. Phelps and the assistant stewards arrived Saturday at the Harvard quarters at Red Top on the Thames and were just in time to save the varsity crew quarters from probable destruction by fire. A grass fire threatened the building, but was held back after a hard fight by the steward and his assistants who used 300 pails of water from the new water system that had just been turned on the day before.

The crews are to arrive next Saturday.

SHERWOOD POTTED'S HOME BURNED AT BROOKLYN

Norwich friends of Sherwood Potter felt sympathy for him Monday when they learned of his loss by the disastrous fire at Brooklyn that afternoon. Mr. Potter's attractive residence in the village was the second place to be burned after the fire started in a barn that was close by. The Potter home was a total loss.

SEDGWICK POST NEEDS FLOWERS FOR GRAVES

Flowers which can be used for the decoration of soldiers' graves are to be received at the Buckingham Memorial today (Tuesday) afternoon and evening, when the committee of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps will prepare them for use in the usual way on the graves for Memorial Day.

A special appeal is issued this year for everyone who can to bring flowers to the Buckingham Memorial as the backward season has caused a great scarcity of the blooms that can usually be depended upon at this time of the year. If all who have flowers that they can contribute will see that they are delivered today at the Buckingham Memorial, it is believed Sedgwick post will have enough to make the necessary number of bouquets for the graves.

LEAVES BOULDER IN STREET EVERY NIGHT

A local man who recently acquired a bill of expense in the shape of an automobile evidently has but little faith in the efficiency of his brakes. Each time he parks the machine in front of his house, which by the way is on a hill, he places a 25 pound boulder and then leaves the boulder in the middle of the road, when he departs on a joy ride each evening.

It has been suggested that a hitching post would answer the purpose as well with less danger to drivers who find the boulder a menace.

Post Office Hours For Memorial Day.

The office will be open from 7 till 10 a. m. daylight saving time.

The money order, postal savings and carriers' windows will be closed all day. Outgoing mails will close as usual, the last mail for New York and Boston will close at 7 p. m., standard time. A collection from the same street letter boxes as collected on Sundays will be made at 4 p. m. standard time. No deliveries will be made by city or rural carriers.

No money order business will be transacted at any of the sub stations.

ARE YOU THE WOMAN YOU WERE MEANT TO BE?

Every woman was meant to be healthy, happy, and fill her sphere in life to the best of her ability; but, alas, how few have the health or physical endurance to live up to their ideals! Over-ambitious, many of them develop nervousness, irritability, headaches, backaches, irregularities, and often more serious ailments which retard their progress in life. Women in this condition should turn to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a root and herb medicine which has been proven to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who try it. Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound make you well and strong, and the woman you were meant to be.

Honest Tea is the Best Policy

LIPTON'S TEA

Largest Sale in the World

POETRY

IN LEANDERS FIELDS.

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved; and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you, from failing hands, we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow

—Lieut. Col. John McCrae, Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

An answer to Lieut. Col. John McCrae's poem, entitled "In Flanders Fields."

Sleep on, brave soldiers, sleep, sleep
where the poppies grow.
Sleep on, brave soldiers, in your places,
row on row.
The larks still soaring in the sky,
Still bravely singing, soaring high.
Away above the cannon's roar,
Scarce heard amid the guns as yore,
Before you slept in Flanders Fields.

The faith with you we've kept and battled with the foe:
On crimson fields by you we've slept
where poppies blow.
The torch you flung to us we caught,
With blistring hands we've bravely fought
To hold it high to guard you through the Night,
And at the Dawn to guide you to the Light.
When you awake from Flanders Fields.

—Henry Polk Lowenstein.

SOUTH WINDS BLOWING.

Where would you be in lilac time—
With south winds blowing?
I would be where bird songs chime
And an old road's going;

Passing slow—by familiar places—
A white cot shining;
Everywhere bright mem'ry's traces
And green vines twining.

Where would I be in lilac time?
By the old stream flowing;
Watching glorioda cloud ships climb—
And the orchard glowing.

—Seabury Lawrence, in New York Herald.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"I played Hamlet once."

"Indeed! Did you have much of a run?"

"About six miles, as I remember it."—Selected.

She—you raised your hat to that girl who passed. You don't know her, do you?

He—No, but my brother does, and this is his hat.—Phoenix.

The man was up for bigamy. The judge, with heavy sarcasm, asked him which wife he expected to claim.

"Whichever one you say, Judge," responded the culprit."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"What complaint have you against your husband," asked the new magistrate.

And when he adjourned court for the day she was still talking.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Miss Hunter: "They say Hunter had to propose to Miss Riche six times before she accepted him."

Cattle: "She certainly gave him a run for her money."—Exchange.

The new office boy was dawdling over his work.

"See here, you!" shouted the manager, "I advertised for a strong boy."

"Well, ain't I a strong boy?"

"You don't show it. Why, you make a four-round contest out of licking a postage stamp."—Boston Transcript.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Montreal is planning a new hotel to cost $9,000,000.

A blow fish can inflate itself to twice its natural size.

A real star radiates heat and as it cools it shrinks.

Glue and varnish are made from certain seaweeds.

Potatoes grow only to the line of walnuts in Iceland.

Nutmeg is the kernel of the fruit of a tropical tree.

The mud baths of today were popular in the seventeenth century.

Beirut, Syria, has one American soda fountain and it is prospering.

The human eye is only capable of receiving ten impressions a second.

The plow is generally regarded as the most important tool used by civilized man.

The Japanese beetle is a dangerous insect that came to this country in a shipment of iris.

Artificial silk is made by treating cotton or wood pulp with caustic soda and carbon disulphide.

Out of 12,607 women students who have passed out of Oxford University, England, only 657 have married.

In the largest city of Cuba, Havana, living is very high, a good room in a hotel costing from $8 to $10 a day.

Returning tourists from Cuba and Jamaica must have three vaccination marks before they can re-enter New York.

The state budget of California was drafted by a woman—Mrs. Nellie B. Pierce—who runs it as she'd run a home.

The banana produces more food to the acre than any other plant. Its yield is about fifty times more than the potato and about 150 times more than wheat.

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST
TRY OUR HOME-MADE
SAUSAGE
THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

Norwich Bulletin.

1786 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 129 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH, CONN., WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1923 | EIGHT PAGES—64 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

CHINESE CAPTIVES THROWN FROM A MOUNTAIN CLIFF

Father William Lenfers, a German Priest, Reports That Eighty Were Thrown to Death Before the Kidnapping of Foreigners—Says There Was a Shortage of Food in the Band't Stronghold—The Priest Denies That Troops Are in League With the Bandits—Outlaws Issue Terms for the Release of Foreigners.

Shanghai, May 29 (By the A. P.).—Shortage of food in the bandit stronghold at Paotzuku before the kidnapping of a number of foreigners from the Shanghai-Peking express May 6 caused the brigands to throw eighty Chinese prisoners to death from one of the mountain cliffs, according to information received today from Father William Lenfers, German priest, who has made several trips to the outlaw headquarters.

The information from Father Lenfers, which came in a letter from the prelate at Lincheng, declared that the prisoners' feet were bound and each was labeled with his name and identification before being hurled to death. One of the prisoners, a woman, was thrown over with her child in her [illegible].

Later the bandits notified the families of the massacred captives, and relatives were permitted to remove the bodies, identification being facilitated by the tags.

"One Christian Chinese, who already had paid $1,800 for the release of his son, today took delivery of the corpse," Father Lenfers wrote, adding "Many pallbearers still are climbing the mountain.

"The only way to maintain peace here is to enlist the bandits and keep them in this territory a few years as a police force, since they alone are familiar with the inaccessible mountain fastnesses and trails. If they are withdrawn, lesser bandits will band together and cause a similar situation in the future."

Father Lenfers denies that troops were in league with the outlaws. He declares that the soldiers have been besieging the brigands for months near Paotzuku, resulting in an acute shortage of water and food at Paotzuku. The raid on the train at Suchow, the priest says, was in the nature of a diversion to force the troops to withdraw from Paotzuku.

BANDITS ISSUE TERMS FOR RELEASE OF FOREIGNERS

Washington, May 29.—Specific terms of the Chinese bandits for the release of Americans and other foreigners still held captive were cabled to the state department today by Minister Schurman at Peking who said that the bandit leaders had reiterated their five demands to the Chinese officials on the night of May 26. The terms were as follows:

1—Withdrawal of soldiers.

2—Central government to furnish the bandits regularly with food and clothing.

3—Ten thousand bandits in the southwestern district to be formed into four mixed brigades under the direct control of the central government which should furnish arms and ammunition.

4—The central government to give six months pay in advance also arrears of pay not to exceed a total of six months pay.

5—Upon consent of the central government to the above terms, an agreement to be drawn up between the central government and the bandit chief to be signed in the presence of a representative of the diplomatic corps who is to act as guarantor of the proper execution of the agreement."

The announcement issued by the state department made no comment upon these terms.

MISS LARRIMORE RECEIVES THREATENING LETTERS

New York, May 29.—Louis B. Brodusky, counsel for Miss Stella Larrimore today announced that the young actress, who was exonerated yesterday of charges brought against her by Geraldine Farrar in her suit for divorce from Lou Tellegen, had received four letters threatening her with death if she did not "withdraw" from the case.

Miss Larrimore had been waging a bitter court fight to force a jury trial of the case, which had been heard in part by a referee, so that she might clear her name before the world. A jury trial was denied by Supreme Court Justice Lehman yesterday, the court holding that admission by Mrs. Farrar's lawyers that she was innocent of any wrong doing, contained in a request for permission to drop the charges against her, was as full vindication as the possibly could obtain.

One of the threatening letters, Mr. Brodsky said, told Miss Larrimore that unless she got out of the case she "would never live to see it go totrial" and that her body would "be found in the Hudson river." The others were of similar tenor.

WESTERLY NATIONAL GUARD PRESENTED SILK COLORS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Westerly, May 29.—The women of Hancock Relief corps, No. 20, department of Connecticut, presented the 149th company with silk colors at the state armory on Dixon street Tuesday evening at 8.30. The flag, edged with gold fringe, with gold cord and tastels, was mounted on a staff, surmounted by an eagle. When the company formed in the large drill shed the ladies entered in a body and the following program was rendered: Old Glory's Birthday, Mrs. Grace Smith; Up With the Flag, Mrs. Walter Eccleston; Salute Old Glory, Mrs. Vredenburg; Our Flag, Mrs. Mary Noyes.

Following this program, Mrs. Frank I. Dawley presented the colors with the following remarks: As my sister officers have told you so much in regard to the flag, it becomes my duty to present it. Captain McConnell, officers and members of the 349th company, it gives me great pleasure in behalf of Hancock Woman's Relief corps, No. 20, department of Connecticut, to present you this flag.

Following the presentation, a company drill in charge of First Lieutenant John Datson was given for the benefit of the visitors.

ASK 21 U. S. CAVALRY HORSES FOR CONN. CAVALRY TROOPS

Hartford, Conn., May 29.—Requisition for twenty-one United States cavalry horses for the use of two Connecticut cavalry troops has been made to the war department by Adjutant General George M. Cole. Sixteen horses for Troop C have been practically assured and army officials at Washington have informed the Connecticut authorities that five more are likely to be available for the headquarters troop at New Haven.

The mounts to be sent here are among 2,445 surplus cavalry horses that are to be distributed among the National Guard of various states after July 1.

QUESTIONABLE RATES FOR BURGLARY INSURANCE

New York, May 29.—Recent sweeping reductions in burglary insurance rates made in connection with an alleged insurance war here were solely the result of highly competitive conditions and not based on sound experience or statistics, according to a statement issued following a secret hearing conducted today by W. A. Bellingham of the state department of insurance and underwriters.

Representatives of 25 insurance companies, present at the hearing, were informed they would be required to furnish the state department with statistical data to enable it to determine whether rate reductions were justified or not.

ARRANGEMENT FOR AUSTRIAN GOV'T LOAN IS COMPLETED

Paris, May 29 (By the A. P.).—Preliminary arrangements for the American share of the proposed $130,000,000 Austrian government loan were completed today at a meeting between the Austrian loan commission and Thomas W. Lamont, of J. P. Morgan & Co., who has had numerous discussions with the commissioners since his arrival here three weeks ago. Baron Franck stein, Pierre L. Bark and F. H. Nixon represented Austria.

Mr. Lamont said today that details as to price and interest of the offering of $25,000,000 in America had not yet been fully determined, but would probably be made public in New York within a week or ten days. It is understood the American bonds will bear 7 per cent. coupons. The American banker left for London this afternoon, and any further conferences that may be necessary between him and the loan commission will take place there.

"We have now completed our preliminary arrangements with all the national banking groups planning to offer the new loan, with the exception of the Italian, with whom we expect to discuss the matter this week," said Baron Franckenstein tonight.

"In Paris the amount has been fixed at 150,000,000 francs, and I am permitted to say that the French minister of finance has officially requested the largest French banks to form a syndicate.

"The French offering will, owing to the imminence of the national credit issue, be postponed until July.

"The guarantees upon the loan, as now arranged, are: Great Britain 24 1-2 per cent., France 24 1-2, Czechoslovakia 24 1-2, Italy 20 1-2, Belgium 2, Sweden 2, Denmark 1 and Holland 1. Aside from the guarantees, I may point out that, while the service of the proposed loan calls annually for not more than $15,000,000, the actual revenues upon the customs and tobacco monopoly are already showing at a rate of practically $30,000,000."

TELEPHONE FORKERS HAVE VOTED TO TAKE STRIKE VOTE

Boston, May 29.—Three of the largest unions of telephone workers in New England—those at Springfield, Providence and Fitchburg—have voted unanimously in favor of holding a strike vote should arbitration ow wage and other demands made on the New England Telephone and Telegraph company fail, Miss Julia O'Connor, president of the Telephone Operators' department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, announced today.

The conference committee will meet here Monday next to tabulate the votes of the various local unions throughout New England and to plan for further action.

FOUND BOY ASLEEP ON THE CORNICE OF A ROOF

New Britain, May 29.—Two policemen were strolling along Main street this morning when they saw what appeared to be a bag hanging over the cornice of a four-story building. They borrowed field glasses in a nearby jewelry store and inspected the object. They then sprinted to the roof of the building and awoke Joseph Stanionis, aged 16, who was asleep on the cornice. The boy stayed out late last night, feared parental wrath if he went home, climbed to the roof of the building where he was employed as a tinner, lay down on the cornice and fell asleep.

MARLIN RECEIVERSHIP ORDER HAS BEEN VACATED

New Haven, May 29.—An order vacating the appointment of a receiver for the Marlin Fire Arms company of this city was issued yesterday by Judge Edwin S. Thomas in the United States district court it was learned today. Judge Thomas appointed a receiver for the company on May 22 on application of two stockholders, George Ramsey, and Louis E. Carstenson. On a further hearing of the case Judge Thomas vacated the first order.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Third Lecture by Butler

Cardiff, Wales, May 29.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, delivered the third of his series of lectures on American history under the Watson foundation at the University of Cardiff today. His subject was "Alexander Hamilton and James Madison."

Morocco Tribesmen Repulsed

Madrid, May 29.—An attack by Beni Urriagel tribesmen on the position held by the Spanish forces at Tizziazza, Moracco, has been repulsed with heavy losses to the rebels, according to an official statement issued today. The Spanish casualties were three officers killed, including two lieutenant in the air service, and four men wounded.

Famous French Aviator Killed

Paris, May 29.—Former Captain Deuillin, one of France's leading aviators in the World war, was killed today in the fall of a new machine which he was testing at Villa Coublay. During the war Deullin achieved 24 victories over German planes. In 1918 the Aero club of America awarded him a medal.

PRISONERS ATE SOAP TO MAKE THEMSELVES ILL

Trenton, N. J., May 29.—Testimony that prisoners in the New Jersey state prison here frequently ate soap and swallowed nicotine to render themselves ill, so that they would be placed on special diet, was given by two physicians at today's session of the inquiry by the state board of control, institutions and agencies, into conduct of prison affairs.

The physicians were Dr. Martin W. Reddan and Dr. J. Wellington Crane, both of whom said they frequently had been summoned to attend prisoners whom they found either to be shamming or to have deliberately made themselves ill. Dr. Reddan praised the management of the prison, declaring investigation officers always had been shown great courtesy.

Several prisoners testified, however, that Fred Wilson, an inmate of the prison since 1913, when he was convicted of stealing jewelry at Princeton university, had been beaten unconscious with clubs during the so-called "peach riots" last August when the institution was thrown into disorder after the management had refused to meet demands of prisoners. Other witnesses testified that on the same occasion a guard had fired at John Winquist, another prisoner.

Several prison attendants denied the stories of cruelty to Wilson and Winquist. Wilson was declared to have shammed being badly hurt and Dr. Crane read reports on his condition after the alleged beating indicating that Wilson was one of those who had taken soap to make himself ill.

POLICE ARRIVE IN STRIKE ZONES IN THE RUHR

Essen, May 29 (By the A. P.).—The arrival of trained police at Bochum and at other strike zones in the Ruhr today was welcomed by the German officials as being certain to liquidate the unrest among the large numbers of workmen now on strike. The officials predicted that there now would be little more trouble from the "reds."

Sixty-five police from Duesseldorf were sent into Bochum to reinforce the firemen and white guards who since Friday night had been besieged in the headquarters of the firemen. On the arrival of the policemen there was a rapid disappearance of all the red armlet wearers.

The local guards and firemen at several towns in the Ruhr have been reinforced by police from the Rhineland under an agreement with the various French commanders. The German official expressed the belief that the situation will now take on the aspect of an ordinary strike and that the reign of terror attributed to the communist element, in which nearly 50 persons have been killed will come to an end. The casualties in Bochum, according to the Germans, have been 18 persons killed and many wounded in the three days of fighting.

CUT OFF WIFE AND SON FROM $3,000,000 ESTATE

Elizabeth, N. J., May 29. — Orville T. Waring, at one time a director of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and an early associate of John D. Rockefeller, cut off his widow and one son, Lewis E. Waring, from sharing in his estate, estimated at $3,000,000, it was learned today when his will was filed for probate in the surrogate's court. Mr. Waring died in Plainfield May 18 last. The will was admitted to probate without contest.

Mrs. Waring was the testator's second wife. At the time of their marriage in 1916, it was said, she entered into an agreement with members of the Waring family that she would not seek to share in the estate after Mr. Waring's death. She was reputed to be wealthy in her own right.

The younger Waring agreed that he would not seek a share in his father's estate three years ago, it was said, when a New York brokerage firm, of which he was a member, obtained money from his father to avert financial difficulties.

Two other sons, Orville G. and Edward J. Waring, both of Plainfield, each get one-seventh of the estate outright. The remaining five-sevenths will be left in trust for 10 years and will then be divided among five other children.

FOREST FIRES WIDESPREAD IN NORTHERN MINNESOTA

Washington, May 29.—Forest fires in the Superior national forest, located in northeastern Minnesota, are "spreading beyond control," according to reports received late today by the forest service, which said that "if high winds spring up it will be difficult to prevent a widespread and destructive conflagration."

The forest service said it had been informed sixty men were fighting the fire raging in the Superior national forest and that many more were hurrying to the scene to lend assistance. Many fires, it was stated, have been reported "outside the forests." Conditions, it was added, are "dry and extremely hazardous."

GOVERNMENT SUSPENDS PURCHASES OF SILVER

Washington, May 29.—Announcement was made by the treasury tonight of a suspension of silver purchases under the Pittman act until it can be determined definitely whether the estimates of offers already accepted exceed the 280,000,000 ounces which the law authorized the government to buy, but were found to contain water. A warrant was issued for Clifton's arrest but after a week's search, he surrendered to authorities and was released in $5,000 bail.

Others indicted, in addition to Craven and Clifton, were Emily R. Levy, Edward N. Fries, Frank Keller, Frank Dorion, Joseph Cadina, John Lazarus and John Mortimer. The Cumberland Chemical company also was indicted.

Craven is at liberty in $20,000 bail, Miss Levy in $10,000 bail, Keller and Dorion in $5,000 bail each. Fries, Cadina, Lazarus and Mortimer are still at liberty and bench warrants were issued for their arrest today. Those under bail will be arraigned in United States district court Monday.

Clifton was alleged to have used his influence in Washington to obtain withdrawal permits for liquor in warehouses. When withdrawn, the liquor was alleged to have gone into bootleg channels.

Papers and telegrams seized during the raids two months ago indicated, officials said, that Craven and Clifton carried on a vast liquor smuggling business from Canada and Cuba. One telegram was alleged to have been a report from Montreal regarding five carloads of liquor, which were en route to Halifax, bound for New York.

Craven, who was said to be president of the chemical company, with Clifton, was alleged to have been interested in the $1,000,000 worth of liquors seized several weeks ago at the Dominion warehouse. The stock was said to have been part of the quantity authorities charged had been smuggled into the country.

FRENCH CHAMBER VOTES CONFIDENCE IN POINCARE

Paris, May 29.—(By The A. P.)—Any doubts as to the solidity of Premier Poincare's position were set at rest tonight when the chamber of deputies by a majority of 438 expressed confidence in him and his government and voted him the money needed to carry out his policy in the Ruhr.

Only the extreme left voted against the premier. His other critics did not even resort to the common practice of abstaining, but added their vote to the premier's triumphant majority.

BUILDING STRIKE IN NEW YORK DEFERRED

New York, May 29.—Satisfactory progress in the negotiations for a $1 a day increase in wages of 22 crafts of the 34 in the old building trades council today caused the general strike scheduled for one 1 of the 80,000 workers included in the council, to be deferred until June 8. Delegates of the council voted to give more time to the trade boards of the building trades employers association to consider the demands.

BOY DROWNED IN A POND IN WALLINGFORD

Wallingford, May 29.—Woodrow Bunnell, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bunnell, of South Cherry street, was drowned in Simpson's pond this afternoon. The boy was sitting on the bank fishing and in some manner fell into the water. The body was recovered.

REPRESENTATIVE KITCHEN'S GROWING WORSE

Wilon, N. C., May 29.—Representative Claude Kitchen, who is critically ill here, was reported growing worse this afternoon and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

Had $100,000 as He Sank With Rum Ship

Money Was Missing When Mutilated Body Was Washed Upon Beach.

New York, May 29.—Investigation into the mysterious sinking of the rum lugger John Dwight at Vineyard Haven, Mass., with a loss of nine lives several weeks ago has revealed that James A. Craven, of Lyndhurst, N. J., one of the victims, had $100,000 in his possession when the ship sank, federal authorities said tonight. The money was missing when Craven's mutilated body was washed up on the beach.

Craven was said by federal authorities to have been implicated in a $1,000,000 rum plot with his brother, Thomas A. Craven, who was indicted today on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. He was in charge of the rum lugger, it was said, which was barrying a cargo of Canadian ale.

The money, federal officials said, was carried by Craven in a leather bag which he was known to have had in his possession when the vessel sailed from Newport on April 4. The funds, it was asserted, were to have been used for the purchase of additional liquor which it was alleged, was to have been smuggled into the country.

Several days before the John Dwight sailed from Newport, the vessel was reported to have capsized, due to her heavy cargo, and the bodies of members of the crew were washed ashore. Craven's leather bag was found on the beach, near his body, it was said, but was empty.

Captain Malcolm J. Carmichael of Jersey City, who commanded the lugger, was reported to have been seen in Havana, Cuba, ten days after the ship sank, although at the time it was believed that all hands had perished. One or two others of the crew also were reported to have been seen in Cuba.

Authorities expressed the belief that rum pirates, knowing that Craven was carrying the large sum of money, attacked the cutter after she left Newport, killed several members of the crew and scuttled the ship.

FIVE MORE FULL DAYS FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Hartford, May 29.—Pressure of business which has piled up in the general assembly during the light days of the last two weeks has made it necessary for the legislature to meet this Friday and probably next Monday, it was announced by leaders in both branches today. This will give the assembly five full days to consider business before it must adjourn, finally, under the statutes.

Today's session in the senate lasted long enough for Chaplain Campbell to offer a Memorial Day prayer and then recessed for an hour when adjournment followed. By agreement no business whatever was considered.

In the house there was no agreement to refrain from business and a few matters were considered. No bill of controverbial nature, however, was considered. There were approximately 75 members present and but one bill was passed, the others being tabled until Thursday when a full session will be held.

GAIR PLANT EMPLOYE DIES FROM INJURIES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, May 29.—Paul Bolles, aged 28 years, and residing at No. 8 Home street, who sustained terrible injuries yesterday noon when a huge crane collapsed and fell upon him at the plant of the Robert Gair company at Montville, where he had been employed three years as superintendent, succumbed to his injuries this morning at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, to which institution he was removed immediately following the accident. Every possible aid was administered the victim. Besides extensive wounds about the head, face, arms and chest, Bolles sustained internal injuries, and it was these wounds that produce this demise. Besides his father, Charles H. Bolles, also of No. 8 Home street, the victim is survived by a sister.

CRISIS RELIEVED IN CITY OF LIMA, PERU

Lima, Peru, May 26.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—A decree issued at midnight by the archbishop suspending a religious ceremony immediately relieved the crisis which had been impending. The city now is normal and the crisis over.

The foregoing dispatch filed last Saturday, apparently has been subjected to censorship. No previous advices had indicated a crisis in Lima or elsewhere in Peru.

New Liquor Scandal in The National Capital

John W. Clifton, Prominent Attorney of Washington, and Eight Others Indicted.

New York, May 29.—John W. Clifton, prominent Washington attorney, Thomas C. Craven, warehouse proprietor, and seven other persons were indicted by the federal grand jury late today for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

The indictments were returned as the result of an alleged $1,000,000 rum conspiracy of which Craven and Clifton were charged with perpetrating. All were arrested in April following a raid on the Cumberland Chemical Company, a Tennessee corporation, in which 300 cases of whiskey and a quantity of alcohol were seized. A few days later, prohibition agents raided a house in the Bronx where liquor valued at nearly $1,000,000 also was taken.

Craven and five of the defendants were first arrested by special prohibition agents who said he had negotiated with them for the sale of liquor imported from Cuba. Ten drums supposed to contain alcohol from Cuba, were seized at the time

MEMORIAL DAY!

Listen, men under the grasses lying,
Who fought for the flag on the land and the sea;
Do you hear the bugles wailing and sighing?
Do you hear the fife, insistent and crying?
Do you hear the drum calling, "follow me"?
O, ye who died where bullets were singing,
Do you hear the marching feet at your head?
Do you smell the flowers slowly swinging,
Do you see the banners slowly swinging,
Do you live today, though we call you dead?
Listen, O, men in your graves, attended
By love and Honor wherever you lie;
Because you have lived, life has grown more splendid
And we mark where you stood when your brief lives ended;
That our country may measure its heroes thereby.
Rest, O, ye dead who shall live on for ages,
Live anew in each breast which valor has known;
Your deeds shall shine out upon earth's whitest pages,
Shall be sung by the poets and taught by the sages,
Till the world-heart is raised to the heighth of your own.

Ninette M. Lowater

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Oklahoma City is in the grip of one of the worst floods in its history. Water covers miles of lowlands in the southern section of the city.

Charles Oraffee became the 35th victim of Birmingham's mysterious axe murderer" when his body was found behind a counter in his store in an outlying residential section.

J. G. Von Herberg, Seattle theatrical man, has offered former Empress Zita of Austria the use of the 60,000 acre hunting preserve of the late Emperor Franz Josef.

Three Americans are among eight passengers undertaking an experimental air trip inaugurating one of the world's longest commercial flights from Moscow to Tiflis, 2,000 miles.

Radio chess as a pastime for ship passengers has been inaugurated by the steamships Western World and American Legion, in the South American service.

Of the 1,100 pictures hung at this year's Academy in London, it is said that only 100 have so far been sold, most of these realizing between ten and twenty pounds.

Orders to seize the steamship Mohave if she comes within the three mile limit have been issued to coast guard cutters now patrolling the Virginia capes against rum runners.

Means of strengthening the border patrol against "bootlegging of immigrants" from Canada were discussed with President Harding by Secretary Davis.

Mrs. Marie Jackson, who during her stage career of 45 years appeared with many prominent actors and actresses, died at the Actors' home, in New York, at the age of 54.

One-fourth of all the Belgian passenger trains have been taken off and freight traffic is almost at a standstill because of the strike of the transport workers.

An urgent appeal to Governor Templeton to join in a plea to President Harding for the release of 53 I. W. W. agitators sent to the federal penitentiary during the war, met a flat refusal.

The partly restored skull of the famed dinosaur, bafuchitherium, which was found in the Tesagan-Nor district of Mongolia, was placed on exhibition at the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

Nation-wide observance annually of the discovery of North America by Norsemen in the year 1,000 was sought in a movement launched by the New York chapter of the American Scandinavian foundation.

The league of women voters of West Chester county (N. Y.) at their annual convention in Rye, N. Y., adopted a resolution indorsing America's entry into the world court as proposed by President Harding.

Postal officials announced that beginning next Saturday letter carriers in the Boston postal district would begiven a half-holiday each Saturday by omitted what is now the last delivery of the day.

Charles Blamfield, who was arrested in Boston on April 26 on a charge of having explosives in his possession, was turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation to England.

U. S. Internal Revenue Collector Eaton issued a statement calling attention to the taxpayers that their reports and remittances for April taxes must be in his office by the end of May that they will be liable to a penalty of 25 per cent., and five per cent.

The Minneapolis council of the Ku Klux Klan will be given an opportunity to banish by its own action the members responsible for the attack on Mayor George E. Leach before the national klan acts to revoke the charter of the Minneapolis organization.

United States District Attorney Benson W. Hough refused to recommend to the department of justice that the 13 Cincinnati socialists convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government by defeating the draft law, be granted a pardon.

Jacob Tannenbaum, 28 and Sam Hirsch, 23, both of New York city, were taken into custody and are held pending investigation of the theft, either Saturday or Sunday night, of furs valued at $75,000 from the Mau, Inc., store in Detroit.

Dr. Albert Pfeiffer of the Massachusetts state department of health was granted a divorce in the probate court in Boston from his wife, who is known on the stage as Alexandra Carlisle. The actress did not contest the case.

The Palestine development council tabled resolutions of thanks to the British high commissioner of Palestine and to Great Britain for the Balfour declaration for a mandate from the League of nations at the closing session of its annupal meeting in New York.

A Collie dog save the life of Clarence U. Booth when he was attacked by a bull in his pasture near Bristol, R. I. The bull's first rush threw the farmer seven feet and it was about to renew the attack when its attention was diverted to the dog which fastened its teeth in the bull's hind leg.

Delegates to the quadrennial convention of the women's benefit association of the Macabees, a fraternal insurance organization said to number 270,000 members, met in business session in Los Angeles, Calif., with Miss Bina West, founder, and supreme commander, presiding.

Reports of a revolutionary outbreak in Bulgaria are emphatically denied in a semi-official statement which asserts that no such movement has occurred anywhere in the country.

The old police headquarters building on Waldo street, Worcester was destroyed by fire.

A dispute between the treasury shipment and A. Schumacher and company, Baltimore, consignees of the cargo of dyestuffs brought to America by the German submarine Deutschland on the first under-sea trans-Atlantic voyage, was settled when the sum of $10,000 was mutually agreed upon.

An audience of Salvation Army workers saw themselves so realistically that they laughed and sobbed at a play in New York mimicking their work which cadets of this year's class of their national training school gave in commemoration of the fortieth anniversary of the army in the United States.

ADMIRAL BOWLES DIDN'T LIKE CONVERSATIONS WITH MORSE

Denied at the Morse Trial That He Ever Had Proposed to Charles W. Morse That the Latter Use His Influence to Have Bowles Appointed General Manager of the Fleet Corporation—Recollection of Witness Was That Morse Introduced the Subject—Never Threatened to Undertake to Hold Up Payment to the Groton Iron Works.

Washington, May 29.—Former Rear Admiral F. T. Bowles, who had charge of ship construction for the emergency fleet corporation during the early days of the war denied today at the Morse trial that he ever had proposed to Charles W. Morse that the latter use his influence with William G. McAdoo to have Bowles appointed general manager of the fleet corporation.

Mr. Bowles said he had a conference with Mr. Morse late in 1917 when the latter was seeking steel ship contracts for his then proposed Alexandria, Va., plant and that it was his recollection that Morse had introduced the subject of the general managership.

"I did not like the conversation at all," declared the witness.

"Did you tell Charles W. Morse that because he had not so used his influence you entertained a feeling of resentment against him?" asked Attorney Nash Rockwood of defense counsel.

"I never did," was the response. Mr. Bowles added that in recommending against the awarding of a contract to the Alexandria plant, he was influenced only by his "duty to the government."

The witness also denied that he had told Morse that because of Morse's failure to answer a letter sent by Rear Admiral Capps, then general manager of the fleet corporation, he would undertake to hold up payment to the Groton Iron Works on account of steel ships building at Groton, Conn.

"Will you swear that you did not?" asked Mr. Rockwood.

"No," was the answer, "but it would be absurd to think that I had because my department had nothing to do with the financial affairs of the corporation."

"Will you swear that you did not?" reiterated Mr. Rockwood.

"I decline to swear," snapped the witness.

It developed from Mr. Bowles' testimony that he had sought to dissuade Morse from starting a plant at Alexandria because the difficulties of getting competent workmen there and for other reasons. He added later that his original impression that it would be "disadvantageous" both to Morse and the government to build a plant at Alexandria had not been altered by the fact that the plant was built and ships constructed there.

Government counsel had planned to examine also today Charles Piez of Chicago, former vice president and general manager of the fleet corporation. Attorney Allison announced, however that Mr. Piez had not arrived and that he had received a telegram today saying rather peremptorily" that he could not come to Washington at this time.

Justice Stafford wanted to know if Mr. Piez was within jurisdiction of the court so a subpoena could be served but Mr. Allisan said he was in Chicago. Government counsel added that it was hoped to have him here when the trial is resumed after the Memorial day recess tomorrow.

MURDERESS CLARA PHILLIPS TELLS OF HER MOVEMENTS

New Orleans, La., May 29.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, Los Angeles "hammer murderess" who was returned to the United States today from Honduras, whence she fled after her escape from jail, said she had not communicated with her husband, Armour L. Phillips, during her months of freedom. She left the impression with newspapermen that Phillips knew nothing of her escape.

A man known as Jesse Carsen, who has been her companion during her flight, sawed the bars to her cell, she declared, but further than that she was disinclined to discuss many of the details. Even refusing to answer a question as to whether she "slid down" the rope from the prison or came down hand over hand."

Mrs. Phillips said she remained in concealment in the outskirts of Los Angeles five weeks after her escape and during that time made frequent visits to the business district disguised only by a pair of shell-rimmed glasses.

When she left Los Angeles, she went to St. Louis, she said, coming to New Orleans from there. She remained here ten days, using the name Mrs. Jesse Carsen, and said she moved about the city without fear. Carsen was here at the time, she said.

Mrs. Phillips and Carsen went by boat to Vera Crux and then to Mexico City, she said. Her sister, Miss Etta May Jackson, joined her there. Because Carsen's drinking and other escapades began to attract attention, she continued, they moved south, finally landing in Honduras, where her arrest ended her flight.

A large crowd collected at the dock to obtain a glimpse of the woman who was convicted of beating Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer. Special details of police mingled with the crowd to prevent possibilities of the woman again attempting to escape.

Clara Phillips and her guard consisting of Under-Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz and Deputy Walter Hunter, will leave here for the Pacific coast on the Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited tomorrow at noon. The prisoner declared that she was innocent of the crime and that she was returning to California of her own free will to prove it. Peggy Caffee, alleged witness to the killing, was the actual slayer, she stated.

Mrs. Phillips declared herself the victim of a virtual "frame-up" and added that she had enough evidence to send to jail certain people who conspired to convict her.

She declared her conviction resulted from her maintaining silence at her trial an advice of her counsel.

MEMORIAL DAY EVENTS IN AND ABOUT WESTERLY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Westerly, May 29.—Memorial day events in and about Westerly will be as follows: 5 a. m., decoration of veterans' graves in outlying cemeteries by delegates from veterans' societies and Boy Scouts; 5.18 a. m., raising national colors; 9.30 a. m., veterans and military organizations report to their headquarters; 10 a. m., Memorial day parade forms head of Broad street; 10 a. m., 18-hole golf handicap, Winipaug Golf club; 10 a. m., Budlong and Hancock Relief corps, Pawcatuck river bridge, for sailors who died in the service; 11 a. m. to 12, services in St. Michael's and River Bend cemeteries; 12 m. to 12.06 p. m., flag half masted and tolling of bells; 3 p. m., Westerly High school vs. Stonington High school, baseball, Owen field, Stonington.

SENTENCED FOR RAISING RESERVE BANK NOTES

Boston, May 29.—Filip Salenick, of Worcester, was sentenced in federal court here today to three years imprisonment at Atlanta and a fine of $100 for passing raised notes of the federal reserve bank. Salenick was convicted by a jury after 20 minutes' deliberation.

FALL RIVER MILLS CLOSE FOR REMAINDER OF WEEK

Fall River, Mass., 29.—The American Printing company and the Cornell, Chace and Pilgrim mills announced today that they would shut down tonight for the remainder of the week.

ELOQUENCE CAUSED NEGROES TO INVEST MONEY

New York, May 29.—The eloquence of Marcus Garvey, self-styled provisional president of Africa," caused negroes to invest their money in the stock of the Black Star Line, witnesses testified today at Garvey's trial on charges of using the mail to defraud.

Louis H. Schenck, a laborer in the government printing office in Washington, said he was so impressed by Garvey's eloquence in an address in a Baptist church in Washington that he purchased stock by mail. Edward Orr, a music writer, said Garvey's oratory induced him to buy $100 worth of stock. He declared he later obtained a judgment against Garvey but had not collected on it.

All but 40 pe cent of the money obtained from stockholders of the Black Star line went to pay the expenses of the luxe sales expeditions, Harry R. Watkins, salesman-in-chief of the line, testified.

The witness said Garvey, accompanied by a staff of speakers, a band and a corps of minstrels made trips to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and other points in nearby states.

Expenses for the trips, Watkins declared, were paid from money handed to Garvey's secretary by stock salesmen. He said he knew of no accounting made by Garvey.

CIVIC FEDERATION MERGES WITH LOYALTY LEAGUE

New York, May 29.—The Allied Loyalty League and the National Civic Federation, whose common aim is the teaching and preservation of Americanism, today announced a merged effective Memorial day, by which members of the Allied Loyalty League will be enrolled in the ranks of the Civic Federation, and the work of the two organizations will be carried out under the latter's name.

The Allied Loyalty League was formed shortly after the war to aid in promoting among the allies a greater international amity, and to keep alive in the United States the principles of which the war was fought.

Among the original organizers of the league in addition to its founder, Mrs. Charle H. Ditson, were Cardinal Gibbons, Elihu Root, Gen. Pershing, Governor Smith, Miss Agnes Repplier, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, and Rabbi Joseph Silverman.

Members of the league were welcomed by letter into the National Civic Federation by Alton B. Parker, president.

DEATH OF BANKER WHO NEVER MADE A "BAD LOAN"

New York, May 29.—Horace K. Kilborn, retired senior vice president of the National City Bank with a Wall Street reputation for never having made a "bad loan," died at his home today of heart disease. For fifteen years he had been in charge of loans for the bank.

In the financial panic of 1907, Mr. Kilborn was said to have been virtually the working head of the group of financiers who cooperated in bringing relief to the country and allaying the effect of the upheaval.

Mr. Kilborn was credited with having raised $10,000,000 in 36 hours during one Liberty loan campaign.

The banker, who was 67, came to New York from Newburyport, Mass., at the age of 16 and became a runner for the old First avenue bank. Two years later he entered the employ of the National City Bank as a clerk, rising steadily to senior vice president and his place among the country's leading financiers.

Mr. Kilborn had been in failing health for the last two years. He became seriously ill last Sunday.

A widow, Mrs. Clara J. Kilborn, a son, Orson, and two brothers, Edward C. and Harry M. Kilborn, survive him.

NOT ENAMORED BY THE SPLENDORS OF OLD WORLD

New York, May 29.—The splendors of the old world did not appeal to Bishop H. T. Benoit of Newfoundland, who returned today from a Vatican on the Majestic. He avowed he was glad to return to the simple God-fearing ways of the fisherfolk of the barren northern sea-

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
31 Church Street Telephone 1068

The members of the Willimantic Rotary club were addressed by Colonel W. A. McIntyre at their regular weekly luncheon and meeting held Tuesday noon.

The meeting was called to order by President James P. Mustard and the guests of the club were introduced. They were: Thomas Stanton of the New London club, Henry Lyons of the Putnam club, Rusl Gray of the New London club, Cabell Carrington of New London, E. C. Ford of New London, Colonel W. A. McIntyre of Boston, Adjutant Robert Klepsig of Providence and Captain Floyd Ingersal of Willimantic. The latter four guests are connected with the Salvation Army.

Amos Fowler of this city and a guest of James P. Bath made a few remarks concerning the purchasing of an honor roll which the town had authorized. He asked the Rotary club to take advantage of the opportunity in assisting in the procuring of the honor roll.

Birthday cakes and roses were presented Augustus E. Greene and Charles W. Hill, who celebrated their birthdays during the month of May. They were told that they must offer some appreciation for the gifts received and were given a choice of singing or talking before the club. The men chose the latter course and wee applauded.

Colonel William A. McIntyre of Boston gave a talk on The World Conditions Today, touching to some extent the work of the Salvation Army during the days of distress. The colonel was given a rising vote of thanks, upon the conclusion of his address. The meeting was then adjourned in the usual manner.

Judge James H. Webb rendered his decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Nellie Annie Dorous, appeal from probate, which was taken up at the session of the Windham county superior court held in this city Tuesday afternoon. The plaintiff asked for the removal of John H. Fitts of Hampton as administrator of the estate.

Emeline Vickers of Hampton died on Feb. 16, 1913, intestate, and at a hearing on March 2, 1923, Judge Ray P. Fuller appointed John H. Fitts as administrator of her estate. There were nine heirs present in court and the plaintiff, Nellie Annie Dorous, testified that they had all agreed that she should be appointed administratrix. Other heirs who were not present at the court session had written that they would be satisfied with the appointment of the plaintiff.

Mrs. Dorous stated that she was capable of performing the duties of the office and in answer to a question she denied having used harsh words to Judge Fuller at the hearing in March.

Samuel Vickers and Mrs. Hattie Chambers, both heirs of the estate, stated that they wished to have Mrs. Dorous receive the appointment as administratrix.

Henry Platt and George Nichols, both business men of Hampton, stated that the plaintiff was honest, always paid her bills and had received sufficient education.

Judge of Probate Fuller was called to the stand and he testified to the arrangements of the plans for a hearing in probate court. At that time a number of the heirs were present and announced that they wished to have Mrs. Dorous appointed administratrix of the estate. Judge Fuller informed them that it would be advisable to appoint an outsider in order to avoid any friction that might arise among the heirs. He then appointed John H. Fitts. The total of the inventory of the estate was $487 and consisted of an eight-room house, a barn and about one acre of land.

At the conclusion of the hearing of the evidence in the case a recess was called and the judge and attorneys in the case retired.

At 3.35 o'clock court was resumed and Judge Webb announced his decision, sustaining the appeal from probate and appointing Nellie Annie Dorous as administratrix of the estate, under bonds of $1,000.

Court was then adjourned until next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock when nine members of the jury will answer the roll call and the Armitage of als. Victor Bissonette case will be resumed.

It developed Tuesday that the giant dynamite cap which exploded prematurely in the yard of the Kegler home in Windham road Sunday afternoon and caused injuries to six boys who were standing nearby, was not found on the railroad property at the time, but was part of a quantity of stolen explosives taken from a shanty in Hosmer Mountain. The dynamite had been stored in a small shack on the property of Lucius A. Stewart, known as Eagle's Nest on the Mountain and was used in mining operations at the feldspar mine situated there. The caretaker of the Stewart property read the account of the accident in the newspapers and arriving at a conclusion he visited his shanty which he found in a very much upset condition with a large quantity of the explosives missing.

The police were then notified of the break and an investigation followed.

One of the lads admitted his guilt and mentioned the name of another boy in his neighborhood who was implicated in the theft. Both youngsters were taken to police headquarquarters Tuesday morning and questioned. They admitted taking the dynamite and the police are endeavoring to locate the remainder of the stolen explosives in order to avoid further accidents.

All but one of the injured lads have practically recovered from their injuries. The Kegler boy, however is still confined at the hospital where an X-ray disclosed the fact that there was no hemorrhage back of th eeye as had been feared. The attending physician does not believe that the accident will in any way injure the youth's eyesight.

The funeral of Eleanor Rose Timmins was held from the late home, No. 16 Ann street, Tuesday morning. A requiem high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church by Rev. John E. Clark, the pastor. The choir sang during the services, following which burial took place in the family plot at St. Joseph's cemetery. An impressive committal service was read by Rev. Father Clark, assisted by Rev. Charles M. Kelly.

The bearers were John and Thomas Costello, Thomas O'Rourke, John Banore, Gerard Ahern and Harold Letter. Many friends and relatives attended the funeral services and there were many flowers. Killourey Brothers were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

The remains of Miss Bridget Gallivan arrived in this city Tuesday afternoon at 2.45 o'clock from Cambridge, Mass., and burial followed in the family plot at St. Joseph's cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Killourey Brothers.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the funeral services of Miss Edith K. Hodson were held at the grave in the Willington Hill cemetery. Rev. William V. Allen officiated. Avery & VanZandt were in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Lewis Beebe died Tuesday morning at her home, No. 108 Oakland street, Manchester, after a brief illness. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Miss Ruby Beebe; a son, Percy Beebe; two brothers, Robert Evans of Hartford and Myron Evans of Manchester; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Pratt of Hyde Park, Mass.; and Miss Emma Evans of this city.

Miss Alexina Couchon, daughter of Docithe Couchon of Main street, this city, and Alfred Maynard of Providence were married Monday in St. Charles church, Providence. The bride was attended by her father. She was attired in a gown of white satin with pearls and her veil was caught up in a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. Edward Gauthier, stepfather of the groom, was the groom's attendant.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents, 247 Charles street, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Maynard are guests of the bride's father on Main street for two weeks before leaving for Fall River. Attending the nuptials were friends from Pawtucket, Fall River, Willimantic and Boston.

A well stocked shed in the rear of the Windham pharmacy at No. 780 Main street, of which Fred J. Williams is manager, has taken on a mysterious appearance recently. Practically every day Mr. Williams found various articles missing from the building. The missing articles are of minor value but the repeated disappearance of lamps, paper dolls, books, etc., became annoying.

Recently a lighted lantern was found in the place and later on that day a small boy was seen to enter the building. He was apprehended and his confession implicated three other small boys betwen the ages of 8 and 12. The adventurers were taken to the police station. They returned much of the loot. Chief Daniel J. Killourey severely reprimanded the youngsters and they were promised a visit to the reform school upon further misbehavior.

Mrs. M. L. Stearns and Miss Frances Stearns of Willimantic with Miss Ethel Brainerd and Miss Rose Porter of South Manchester and Miss Mary Sullivan of Norwich Commercial school and Miss Isabell Shearer of Norwich leave this (Wednesday) on a two weeks' automobile tour.

A Dodge truck driven by Joseph Fitzgerald and owned by Augustus Johnson of 113 Bridge street of this city mounted the sidewalk on Main street about 6.45 o'clock Tuesday evening and crashed into a doorway leading upstairs into the office of Dr. Owen O'Neill. Johnson was riding with Fitzgerald at the time as the latter does not have a driver's license. The matter was reported to police headquarters. Mr. Johnson said that several small children started to run across the intersection of North and Main streets just as Fitzgerald, who was coming down the main thoroughfare, swung around to turn up North street. In order to avoid striking any of the children he swung the machine over onto the sidewalk. Slight damage was done to the truck and the glass in the door was broken. Mr. Johnson was notified to appear in police court this (Wednesday) morning when it is expected that a charge of reckless driving will be preferred against him.

Raymond Desrosier of Lower Main street and Charles Milhomme, who conducts a lunch cart on Union street, were ordered to appear in police court this (Wednesday) morning to answer to the charge of violation of the liquor law. The facts leading up to the arrest could not be learned but it is thought they will be made public at the court session this morning.

PILLS
ON A PULLMAN

WHO put the "sleep" in Sleeping Car?
Nobody!
It was a PILL.

A pill made it possible to sleep restfully in a Pullman, and leave the train next morning with clear head, bright eyes—full of enthusiasm for breakfast and "pep" for the new day.

Here's how: Just before you peel down the sheets, take two Beecham's Pills. This is the pleasant, sure way to attune the organs of digestion and elimination to normalcy, and thus assure a night of tranquil repose.

At All Druggists—25c and 50c

Your Home Can Now Have Electrical Refrigeration

FRIGIDAIRE, the electrical home refrigerator, maintains a constant, dry, cold without the use of ice. It has no slimy drain, no drip pan to empty. It is self-contained and automatic. It not only keeps food in perfect condition, but it freezes your favorite drinking water into ice cubes for table use. It chills salads and dainty desserts. And yet, it will probably cost you less to operate than you now pay for ice.

Let us demonstrate Frigidaire to you. Booklet will be mailed on request.

CARL W. BROWN
Uncas National Bank Building Rooms 3 and 4

Frigidaire
CLEAN DRY ELECTRICAL REFRIGERATION

WESTERLY

It has been the practice of the American Velvet Co., in Stonington, to ship the selvege cut from the manufactured velvet to the states institutions at Wethersfield, where it has been woven into rugs by the inmates. Recently there has been a decreased amount received at the institution which has paid 16 cents a pound for the material and this was the reason that an inquiry was received as to the cause of the lessening supply received. Investigation was made by the mill management and a watch set. As a result Manuel Roderick, Jr., wife and sister, Mary Roderick, were arrested on being found in possession of selvege for which they had neglected to ask permission to take. Their residence at 13 Hancock street was searched and there was found two or three rugs woven from the material.

On being presented in Stonington town court by Prosecuting Attorney William A. Wilcox before Judge L. D. Fairbrother Monday afternoon they pleaded guilty to larceny and were fined $15, $20 and $20 respectively and with costs the amount paid was $66.98. It is said that there are other homes in Stonington and Westerly where the material can be found.

The surname of the farmhand found dead on the Warren Randall farm in Lower Pawcatuck is said to be Carituni, the full name being Mike Carituni.

The funeral services of Mrs. John (Margaret) Grant who died May 26, were held at her late home, 40 Spruce street, Tuesday at 2 p. m. in charge of Rev. B. U. Hatfield, pastor of the First Baptist church. The bearers were Archie Fraser, William Grant, John Scott, Gardiner Eccleston, Frank Boss and Thomas Broadfoot. Interment was in River Bend cemeter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grant of Norwich were in Westerly on Tuesday in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. John Grant of 40 Spruce street.

Miss Irene M. Curtin, supervisor of Newport hospital, returned to that city Wednesday, after a ten day vacation passed in Westerly at the home of her parents, 12 John street.

Judge E. B. Hinckley was in Westerly but a short time Tuesday as he was a witness in the Cottrell will cases, being tried before Judge Hinmann in the superior court in Norwich.

C. Eal Lihme, son Edward, maid and chauffeur were at their Watch Hill cottage, Norman Hall, on Tuesday. Mr. Lihme's home is in Chicago.

Among the stores burned in the $250,000 Rockville fire Monday was the millinery store of Mrs. M. E. McCarthy. Mrs. McCarthy has operated a millinery store on Bay street, Watch Hill, in the summer. This year she had taken over the Bishop building on Bay street. Mrs. McCarthy's Rockville store was in the burned Monitor block, one of the chief business centers of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Myers and Mis Persis Cleave Myers arrived in Westerly Tuesday morning from Washington, D. C., en route to the Myers cottage at Watch Hill.

Sidney B. Alling of Norwich was a business caller in Westerly Tuesday.

Admiral and Mrs. H. O. Dunn of Washington, D. C., are at Niniqret farm, Haversham Point, Westerly.

Mrs. Clarence Pinkham of John street is enjoying an automobile trip to Maine.

The ambulance of the Westerly San-Kary corps returned from a Providence hospital with a Westerly case on Tuesday.

Roller skating at Atlantic Beach, Memorial day.—adv.

To Prevent Baldness

Baldness can be prevented easier than cured. Stop falling hair and itching scalp, banish all dandruff and make the hair grow by using Parisian Sage—the best tonic and scalp treatment. It's guaranteed. Sold by The Lee & Osgood Co. and at all drug and toilet counters.

STONINGTON

That the railroad crossing at Elm street, is not to be blocked for more than five minutes at one time, on Memorial day, will be very gratifying to residents who are obliged to use this crossing. This crossing has been blocked quite frequently, from fifteen minutes to half an hour, holding up traffic. This is also true of all railroad crossings in Stonington. If these orders can apply to one day, the people believe they can apply for all times.

Stonington High school baseball team, ranks near the top, in the Scholastic league. A good game is to be played here at Owen's field, this (Wednesday) afternoon, with Westerly High school. Both schools have the same standing and it is estimated that there will be at least 1500 people here to witness the game.

The World Wide Guild, of the First Baptist church will meet with Miss Elizabeth Browning at her home on Water street, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Prentice of Norwich were callers here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hopkins of Springfield, Mass., are spending a week at Lord's Point.

Miss Jennie Barker of Uncasville was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weeks on Sunday.

Mrs. E. F. Darrell and son of New York are at their summer home here. Mr. Darrell is in England.

Mrs. C. B. Crandall, accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Syrett, to her home in Springfield, for a visit.

MYSTIC

The Young Married people's dancing club, will enjoy a picnic, in the woods at the James Lathrop camp. The ten couples will make th etrip by automobile. A clam chowder will be enjoyed. This is the first picnic of the season.

Delegations of the Sons of Veterans will decorate the graves of the soldiers in the outlying cemeteries, this morning (Memorial day). In the afternoon the different societies and the school children will meet at the Grand Army hall, and march to the lodge where a halt will be made and flowers will be strewn on the water in memory of the deceased sailors. The parade will then go to the monment where the exercises will be held. Busses will be taken to Elm Grove cemetery where the graves of the soldiers will be decorated. Any one having flowers to donate should send them to the G. A. R. hall as early as possible this morning.

Constable James Johnson, is having his troubles, in watching the large number of autoists who speed up their machines before making Baptist hill when leaving Mystic. He wishes to warn drivers to cease this practice, and avoid going to the town court.

Postmaster George H. Foley has been commended for his work at the local office by the postmaster general, for keeping down the expenses.

Movie stage settings have arrived and today Mystic people will have an opportunity to see a seafaring film made. The Pendleton yard is ready for the setting.

Mrs. Gerald Bliss, returned to her home in Providence Tuesday, having been the guest of Mrs. Dickinson.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Dickinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kelly, of Providence are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dickinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holmes and son have returned to Cedarhurst, L. I., having been the guests of her parents here.

Mrs. Max Bendett, of West Main street, is the guest of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg, in New York.

Fred Ketchum of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is at his home here over the holiday.

NOANK

The Ladies branch of the Home Memorial hospital, held a most successful whist at the home of Mrs. Daboll Monday evening. Fifteen tables were played. Mrs Edith Palmer captured ladies' first prize and Mrs. Packer of Mystic captured second. The consolation was taken by Mrs. August Johnson. Gentlemen winning prizes were Lewis Lamb, ugust Johnson, and Keith Ebbetts. A goodly sum was made.

The thank offering service of the Women's Missionary society was well attended and $35 has been added to the treasury.

Miss Rice of Norwich addressed them on their work among the foreigners.

Noank has a most remarkable woman in her midst, Mrs. Abbie Merritt of Fort Hill, who is over 80 years of age and who takes a great interest in current affairs. Visiting the schools and giving interesting talks to the students has been one of her pleasures. She has been the guest of Mrs. Hattie Chester of Pearl street this week.

CLEVELAND SIX

The Smartest Car of Its Size

The Greatest Value of Its Class

Bodies by Fisher

W. R. FRISBIE
118 FRANKLIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.
PHONE 1812

CLEVELAND AUTOMOBILE COMPANY, CLEVELAND

COLCHESTER

It is reported that the London block on Merchants' Row will be remodeled over for a pants manufactory. Work is to start at once.

Fitch Jones of Hebron was a caller in town Monday.

The Old Guard band held a rehearsal in the parlor of the engine house on Monday evening. Three new members have been taken in.

Clayton D. Barton and brother of East Hampton were callers here Monday.

We will open up our old store opposite the R. R. depot with a full line of meats, groceries, etc. Daniel Goldberg, Colchester, Conn.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Raudenbush of this place and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Abby of New London left town Monday for a motor trip to Newark, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Baker are guests of their son George in Meriden.

James Johnson visited friends in Ekonk Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elgart and children of New London were guests of Mr. Elgart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Elgart, a few days the past week.

Jacob Elgart of New York is at his home on Linwood avenue for a few days' vacation.

Jesse Bailey of Hartford is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, over Memorial day.

MOHEGAN

Miss Gladys Quidgeon called on friends in Groton recently.

Miss Trumbull of New London called on friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nonsuch of Lyme were callers here Sunday.

COLUMBIA

A dance which was arranged by the young people on Chestnut Hill and attended by 20 persons was held at Yeomans hall on Saturday evening.

At the church service on Sunday morning James Johnson sang as a solo the sacred song Teach Me to Pray.

About 20 members of the Liberty Hill church attended the service, their church being closed for the day. The pastor preached on the text Acts 10: 34, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons." He said that the people of old became liberal-minded and the opinions of Athens and Rome went down in spreading the gospel. Also that opinions are converted when we become Christians. People are led out of their narrow ideas into a larger idea of what constitutes religion, as with Peter. It is not easy to lay down our convictions and take up new ones, but we should not be blown about by every wind of doctrine. He said there is no such thing as a special dispensation of Providence, but success and faith work together for good. He said also that the Bible is a progressive book and has guided multitudes out of darkness and that we should not be afraid to have our opinions converted.

Chilean dwarf sweet orange tree when about two and a half feet high sometimes yields 3000 oranges in a season.

DANCE TONIGHT
AT HILLTOP CASINO
MUSIC BY
CHICK'S HILLTOP ORCHESTRA
8:30 TO 12:00 P. M. (D. S. T.)
GENTS 60c — LADIES 40c
LATE CARS TO TAFTVILLE AND CITY

DANCE The Holiday Through
—AT—
MOOSUP POND CASINO
MOOSUP, CONN.
MUSIC BY
GOYETTE BROTHERS' NOVELTY ORCHESTRA
Dancing Afternoon and Evening
Dancing Wednesday and Saturday Evenings

Benefit Whist and Dance
Under the Auspices of
BRUNELLE'S BAND
FARISH HALL, TAFTVILLE
TUESDAY, MAY 29TH, 1923
ADMISSION 27c, Tax 3c

DANCE
YANTIC FIRE ENGINE HOUSE
FRIDAY NIGHT.
DANCING 8.30 TO 12.
MUSIC BY ROYAL RADIONS.

BROADWAY

TODAY—CONTINUOUS SHOW
MATINEE, CHILDREN 15c
KEITH VAUDEVILLE
5—ACTS—5
— PHOTOPLAY —
'Only a Shop Girl'
WITH A STAR CAST

THURS., FRI. AND SAT.
Vaudeville — Pictures

JUNE 6th—JUNE 6th
N. Y. CAST OF OVER FIFTY IN
"Shuffle Along"
GREATEST MUSICAL COMEDY
MAIL ORDERS NOW
PRICES: ORCH. $2.20—$1.73
BAL. $1.73—$1.15—Gal. 57c
ALL TAXES PAID

STRAND

TODAY AND THURSDAY
CONTINUOUS SHOW TODAY
MATINEE, CHILDREN 10c
Betty Compson
—AND—
Conway Tearle
IN COSMO HAMILTON'S
THE RUSTLE OF SILK

BUSTER KEATON, in
THE FROZEN NORTH
NEWS WEEKLY

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
WESLEY BARRY, in
HEROES of the STREET
Coming—Isle of Lost Ships

BREED
THEATRE

Today — Continuous Show, 1:30 to 10:15
— LAST TIMES —
The Greatest Production Norwich Has Ever Witnessed
"THE TOWN THAT FORGOT GOD"
Direct From 10 Weeks' Run At The Astor Theatre, New York

Matinee 25 Cents — Evening 35 Cents — Tax Paid
CHILDREN AT MATINEE, TODAY 15 CENTS

Coming — Thursday, Friday and Saturday
TOM MIX, in "ARABIA"

What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Breed Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

General observance of Memorial day.

Centenary of the birth of William J. Crittenden, noted American soldier and adventurer.

President Harding and other notables will attend the Memorial day exercises today at Arlington National cemetery.

The little tailor shop in Greeneville, Tenn., where Andrew Johnson began his career, is to be dedicated today as a permanent memorial to the seventeenth president.

Six hundred delegates, from forty or more nations, are to participat ein the Second World's Conference of Y. M. C. A. Workers Among Boys, which assembles today in the city of Pertschach am See, Austria.

Today has been fixed by the American Legion and the Overseas Memorial Day Association for the final consecration of the graves of the 30,587 American soldiers whose bodies will rest forever in foreign soil.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Broadway Theatre

There are five fine acts of B. F. Keith vaudeville at the Broadway today which makes a very good holiday program.

"There with the wallop," as the ringsters say, "Only A Shop Girl" is certainly a winner among screen plays.

The audience at the Broadway theatre last night registered complete approval of the picturized version of Charles E. Blaney's old stage success, "Only a Shop Girl."

If thrills, laughter, heart interest and suspense make for success this picture is due for a long run.

The mystery which runs through to the final scene is well sustained and the all-star cast of nine screen headliners are all perfectly cast for their parts.

Estelle Taylor and Mae Busch carry the leading feminine roles while Wallace Berry and Willard Louis eat the burden of the male-leads. Each of the other member of the cast is perfect and the whole effect is, as the producers intended, entirely convincing.

Baby Josephine Adair who made such a hit as the child in "More To Be Pitied Than Scorned," registers another triumph in "Only A Shop Girl."

This entire program will be seen for the last time today. Continuous show.

Strand Theatre

Received with great satisfaction by a large audience, the Paramount picture, "The Rustle of Silk" had its premiere at the Strand theatre last night. This is Herbert Brenon's first Paramount production and is an adaptation by Sada Cowan and Guida Bergere of the Cosmo Hamilton novel. Charming dramatic, containing a strong vein of comedy and directed by a master hand, this proved to be a wholly delightful production. The love of a lady's maid for a great statesman and her final sacrifice of that love at the altar of national pride and respect for the potentialities of a great man, constitute a powerful theme, decorated with dainty bits of wholesome humor and pathos.

Betty Compson and Conway Tearle are featured players in the principal roles. Others in the strong supporting cast are Cyril Chadwick, Anna Q. Nilsson, Leo White, Charles Stevenson and Tempe Piggot.

Buster Keaton's latest comedy "The Frozen North" and a news weekly finished the program.

Shuffle Along Coming to the Broadway Theatre

The sensational all-colored musical comedy "Shuffle Along," which took New York by storm, and registered an emphatic hit during its two years' engagement at the George M. Cohan theatre, will be the attraction at the Broadway theatre on Wednesday night, June 6.

The book is by Miller and Lyles, and it contains a real plot, and amazingly funny comedy in the story, while the score and lyrics by Sissie and Blake contains a wealth of melody and charm that promises to rival in popularity all the music written in years. There are more delightful song numbers and alluring music in "Shuffle Along" than in any other production of its kind ever presented, and they are given so fast and furious by the most dazzling, dashing "bronze chorus" that you don't get time to think and the audience simply rise to their feet in a craving for more. America's most beautiful colored prima-donna has the title role, and her beautiful voice ranging from soprano to alto, is heard to advantage, with unusual pleasure.

S. T. Whitney and J. Homer Tutt who have done more to idealize the southern darkey than any other players in the country, will be seen in the principal comedy roles and keep the laugh waves rolling in shore as long as they are on the stage. "Dixieland" seems to be in every joke they tell, every song they sing, and every step they dance. Their presentation and delineation of quaintness will live long. If you are a tired business man seeking to forget your troubles see Shuffle Along, take your wife, mother or sweetheart with you, and you will find it to be the most enjoyable evening you've spent in a long time.

New York Evening Sun said: "Shuffle Along," is a delightful novelty, and it possesses the liveliest colored company that has been seen here in years."

Breed Theatre

Last showings of The Town That Forgot God today. Something new under the sun.

That aptly describes the latest special production of William Fox, The Town That Forgot God, which will be shown for the last time at the Breed theatre today. We have had love stories, stories of mother love, puppy love, father love and clandestine love, but never before has the supreme devotion of a child for his mother been the basis of a theme for a photo drama.

"The Town That Forgot God," is the story of David a youngster living in a small merican town, whose parents are taken away from him while he was in his early 'teens. How his all-powerful love for his mother resulted in his being treated with innumerable unkindnesses by the people of the village and how in the end a terrific storm and flood sweeps the entire town away provides the basis of a story more powerful than anything seen on the screen in a long, long time.

The flood and storm scene alone is enough to make anyone want to go and see the picture over again, for never before has such a thrill been offered the lovers of the silent drama. As one New York critic who reviewed the picture at its first presentation in Amica said, "Not since I stood up on my seat and started to scream for someone to rescue the girl caught in the the ice floe in 'Way Down East' have I seen anything in motion pictures that will even rival this terrific deluge as presented by William Fox in this superlative photodrama."

"The Town That Forgot God," was directed by Harry Millards, who will be remembered as the creator of the other William Fox masterpiece, Over the Hill.

Babbitt metal was invented by Isaac Babbitt, a goldsmith of Boston.

SUB-BASE BEATS GEORGETOWN WITH OLD HIDDEN-BALL TRICK

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Submarine Base, New London, May 29.—With the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth inning, Flavin, the third baseman of the Georgetown university team, was caught by the time-worn hidden ball trick by Albertson of the Sub-base team, ending the game with the score 2 to 1 in favor of the sailors. The trick was so old and moss-grown that it made the collegians appear foolish and made a ridiculous ending to what had been an exceptionally good game.

The game was close and tight from start to finish with some very snappy plays and exceptionally good fielding on the part of both outfields. Murphy was the star in the outer garden for Georgetown, while Dinty Moore shone brightly for the base. Davis, pitching for the Sub-base, pitched a good game and had the edge on his college opponent, Tabor. Davis fanned six of the collegians, while the big left-hander for the collegians was credited with only one strikeout. Both pitchers gave two free passes and Davis hit two players.

The first inning started off as though the collegians were going to clean up, getting two men on bases with only one out. Davis fanned the next man and then came a play that eventually presented the collegians with their one tally. Flavin was on second and Cunningham on first when Sheridan hit to Albertson, who made an attempt to field the ball, but Flavin ran into him, delaying the play so that Sheridan was safe. Flavin went to third when he should have been rightly called out for interference, but no protest was made and the game continued. Flavin was trapped by a snap throw to third and Albertson chased Flavin home with the first and what proved to be the only Georgetown run.

The game then developed into a pitchers' battle until the last half of the eighth inning, when the Sub-base filled the bases with no one out. Tabor weakened for a minute and his support wobbled, allowing two of the sailors to cross the plate with the tying and winning runs. A third attempt was nipped at the plate when Flavin recovered a wild heave and caught the runner.

Then came the ninth inning and Georgetown's chance to tie the score and win. Tabor, the first man up, hit safely. Jenkins was sent in to bat for Murphy and fanned. Flavin hit, advancing Tabor to second, while Davis, the Sub-base pitcher, held the ball. Sheedy, the long and lank Georgetown first sacker, hit sharply to left field and Tabor tried to score from second. A beautiful peg to the plate caught Tabor by 10 feet and Flavin tore into third. Harkey shot the ball to Albertson at third. Davis, the pitcher, walked toward the box, and Flavin, not knowing where the ball was, walked off the base and was taxged out by Albertson.

The score:

Georgetown.	ab	h	po	a	e
Murphy, l	4	0	2	0	0
Flavin, 3b	4	1	1	3	0
Sheedy, 2b	3	0	1	3	0
Cunningham, c	4	1	8	1	0
Sheridan, rf	3	0	2	0	0
Tabor, s	3	0	1	4	0
Jenkins, a	1	0	0	0	0
Mallery, 1b	3	0	7	1	0
Wade, cf	3	0	2	0	0
Fabey, p	3	0	0	4	0
Jenkins	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	30	2	24	13	0

(a) Batted for Murphy in 9th.

Georgetown	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2
Sub Base	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	x—3

Two base hit, Cunningham. Bases on balls, off Tabor 2, off Davis 2. Hit by pitcher, Mallery and Tabor by Davis. Struck out, by Tabor 1, by Davis, Albertson to Lathers. Burns to Lathers, Urann to Mallery to Shady.

RECRUIT PITCHER HURLS BROOKLYN TO SHUTOUT VICTOR

New York, May 29—Frank Henry, recruit southpaw, pitched Brooklyn to a 5 to 0 shutout over the world's champion New York Giants today in his first start as a major leaguer. Henry was obtained recently by the Dodgers from the St. Louis Americans in a deal by which Fred Schliebner, first sacker, went to the westerners. The rookie held the Giants to five singles, three of which were of the scratch variety, while the Dodgers batted McQuillan hard. It was Brooklyn's second straight victory over the champions. Score:

Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Nels, cf	4	0	1	0	0
Johnston, 3b	4	1	2	2	0
T. O'Farrell, c	3	2	3	0	0
Wheat, lf	3	0	4	0	0
Fournier, 1b	3	1	1	1	0
McCarren, 2b	4	0	4	5	0
Higbe, ss	4	1	2	2	1
DeBerry, c	3	2	4	1	0
Henry, p	4	1	1	2	0
Totals	32	8	22	12	1

New York (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Barnes, rf, m	4	0	2	1	0
Groh, 3b	4	1	1	2	0
Frisch, 2b	4	1	0	5	0
Meusel, cf	4	0	3	0	0
Young, rf	2	0	2	0	0
Kelly, 1b	3	1	8	0	1
Cunningham, cf	3	1	4	0	0
Snyder, c	3	0	4	0	0
McQuillan, p	2	0	0	1	0
xSchauer	1	0	0	0	0
Jonnard, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	30	3	27	9	1

(x) Batted for McQuillan in 8th.

Brooklyn	0	0	0	1	1	0	1	0	0	5
New York	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Two base hits, Johnston, Wheat, Groh. Three base hits, T. Griffith and Fournier.

BOSTON TAKES BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLEHEADER

Boston, May 29—Boston took both games from Philadelphia today. The first was loosely played, 10 to 7, but the second was won, 3 to 2, by Powell's double with the bases full in the last of the ninth. Miller made his first start of the season in the second game. The first three men who faced him singled and two of them scored with the only Philadelphia runs of the game. Winters was effective until the eighth when a single by pinch hitter Bagwell and Powell's double gave Boston a run. Winters passed O'Neil and Smith in the ninth and had two balls on Felix, pinch hitting for Oeschger, when Behan began pitching for the visitors. Felix walked and then Powell's double settled the outcome. Score:

(First Game.)

	ab	h	po	a	e
Mokan, lf	3	3	4	1	0
Watson, 3b	3	1	0	3	1
Williams, cf	2	0	0	0	0
Leach, cf	1	0	0	0	0
Walker, rf	0	0	2	0	0
Tierney, 2b	3	3	3	5	2
Hoke, 1b	3	0	12	1	0
Sandberg, ss	3	0	1	2	0
Smith, c	3	0	5	0	0
Winters, p	2	0	0	2	0
Bain, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	25	7	27	14	3

Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Powell, cf	4	2	2	0	0
Southworth, rf	3	2	4	0	0
Boeckel, 3b	4	1	1	2	0
Mellilo, 3b	4	0	1	3	0
Kelly, 1b	3	1	8	0	1
Cruise, lf	4	0	1	0	0
Boley, ss	4	0	1	6	0
McNeil, c	3	0	5	0	0
Smith, 2b	3	0	1	3	0
Miller, p	1	0	0	1	0
xBagwell	1	0	0	0	0
O'Neil, c	0	0	0	0	0
Oeschger, p	0	0	0	0	0
xxFelix	1	0	0	0	0
Behan, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	6	24	15	1

(x) One out when winning run scored.
(xx) Batted for Miller in 8th.
(xxx) Batted for Oeschger in 9th.
(xxxx) Ran for Bagwell in 8th.

Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1

Two base hits, Powell 2, Boeckel.

ST. LOUIS TAKES CLOSE GAME FROM TIGERS

Detroit, Mich., May 29—Detroit's inability to solve Bayne's pitching cost them today's game with St. Louis, 6 to 5. Shocker and Holloway, who started the game were driven from the box early, Shocker remaining through part of the second, while Holloway was withdrawn before two were out in the first. Francis, whose suspension was lifted today, pitched well until relieved by a pinch hitter in the eighth. The score:

St. Louis. (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Tobin, rf	5	1	1	0	0
Gerber, ss	4	1	1	3	0
Jacobson, cf	3	2	1	0	0
Williams, l	4	1	2	0	0
McManus, 1b	3	1	7	0	1
Severeid, c	4	0	3	1	0
Rapson, 2b	3	0	0	4	0
Kerber, 2b	4	1	0	1	0
Schlueter, lb	0	0	1	0	0
Shocker, p	1	0	0	2	0
Bayne, p	3	0	2	1	0
Totals	38	7	18	12	1

Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Manion, p	0	0	0	0	0
Holloway, p	0	0	0	0	0
Francis, p	0	0	0	0	0
Woodall, rf	4	0	2	0	0
Blue, ss	4	0	1	3	0
Heilmann, lf	4	1	2	0	0
Veach, cf	4	2	3	0	0
Bassler, c	4	0	5	0	0
Young, 3b	4	1	1	2	0
Ainsmith, c	0	0	0	0	0
Ward, 2b	4	0	2	3	0
Totals	34	4	16	8	0

(a) Batted for Francis in 8th.

St. Louis	4	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	6
Detroit	3	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	5

Two base hits, Gerber, McManus, Severeid, Blue. Three base hits, Williams, Heilmann.

REDS TAKE ST. LOUIS' MEASURE IN CLOSE GAME

St. Louis, May 29—Cincinnati defeated St. Louis today, 3 to 2. The visitors scored the winning run in the seventh when Donohue singled, went to second on Burns' base hit and home on Daubert's safety. In the fourth, Roush hit a home run, scoring behind Duncan. The score:

Cincinnati (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Burns, rf	4	2	0	0	0
Daubert, 1b	3	1	11	1	0
Duncan, lf	4	1	1	0	0
Roush, cf	4	1	2	0	0
Rousch, s	4	0	1	0	0
Pinelli, 3b	3	0	0	3	0
Gonzales, c	3	0	4	0	0
Hargrave, c	0	0	1	0	0
Donohue, p	4	1	0	1	0
Totals	31	6	24	5	0

St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Smith, lf	3	0	4	0	0
Tompkins, 2b	4	0	2	4	0
Mann, rf	4	0	2	0	0
Bottomley, 1b	4	1	10	0	0
Stock, 3b	4	2	1	2	0
Mueller, c	4	0	7	1	0
Lindsey, ss	4	0	1	3	0
Sherdel, p	3	0	0	3	0
Schmidt, p	1	0	0	0	0
Ainsmith, c	1	0	0	0	0
Haines, p	0	0	0	0	0
McKechnie	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	3	27	13	0

(a) Batted for Sherdel in 9th.
(b) Batted for Freigau in 9th.

Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	3
St. Louis	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	2

Two base hits, Bohne and Stock. Home run, Roush.

SENSATIONAL FIELDING SAVES YANKS FROM DEFEAT

Washington, May 29—Sensational support accorded Hoyt who was hit hard enabled New York to take the second game of the series from Washington, 4 to 2. Successive singles by Meusel, Schang, Ward and Scott off Zachary, and Witt's hit off Russell, who relieved Zachary gave the Yankees sufficient runs to win the second inning. Peckinpaugh, Meusel and Ward made spectacular plays. The score:

New York (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Witt, cf	5	2	3	0	0
Dugan, 3b	5	2	1	2	0
Ruether, 2	2	0	1	3	0
Pipp, 1b	5	2	6	1	0
Meusel, lf	3	2	3	0	0
Schang, c	4	1	5	0	0
Ward, 2b	4	1	2	6	0
Scott, s	4	1	4	0	0
Hoyt, p	4	0	0	2	0
Total	36	11	27	14	0

Washington (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Rice, rf	5	2	2	0	0
Judge, 1b	5	0	11	0	0
Rice, cf	4	0	2	0	0
Goslin, lf	4	0	2	0	0
Judge, 2b	3	0	2	6	0
Peckinpaugh, ss	4	0	1	3	0
Picinich, c	4	0	6	0	0
Zachary, p	0	0	0	0	0
Russell, p	0	0	0	0	0
Ruether, p	0	0	0	0	0
Mogridge, p	0	0	0	0	0
Total	35	2	26	9	0

(a) Batted for Russell in 8th.

New York	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	4
Washington	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2

Two base hits, Rice, Dugan, Meusel, Ward, Scott. Three base hit, Rice. Home run, Scott. Bases on balls, off Hoyt 1, Zachary 1, Ruether 1. Struck out, by Hoyt 3, by Zachary 1, by Ruether 1, by Mogridge 1. Sacrifice hits, Ruether, Witt. Stolen bases, Witt, Dugan, Meusel, Ruether. Left on bases, New York 6, Washington 5. Double plays, Peckinpaugh, Ruether and Pipp; Peckinpaugh and Judge. Umpires, Dineen and Connolly. Time, 2:00.

PIRATES TAKE UPHILL BATTLE FROM CUBS

Pittsburgh, May 29—Pittsburgh won an uphill game today, defeating Chicago 7 to 6. The Pirates took the lead in the fifth inning by driving in five runs. Chicago tied the score in the seventh but the pirates added another in their half of the inning. Chicago used four pitchers and Pittsburgh three. Hamm missed his first game of the season owing to slight injuries received in an automobile accident on his way home after arriving from Chicago. Score:

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Statz, rf	4	2	1	0	0
Hornsby, ss	5	2	1	3	0
Grimm, 2b	4	2	2	2	0
Williams, 1b	4	0	11	0	0
Hartnett, c	4	0	6	0	0
Fabrique, lf	4	0	2	0	0
Mueller, cf	4	0	2	0	0
Carlson, 3b	4	0	0	2	0
Hollingsworth, p	2	0	0	0	0
Bigbee, p	0	0	0	0	0
Cooper, p	0	0	0	0	0
Blake, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	6	25	7	0

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Carey, cf	4	1	2	0	0
Bigbee, rf	4	2	2	0	0
Rapp, 2b	4	2	3	3	0
Traynor, 3b	4	0	2	4	0
Meusel, lf	4	0	2	0	0
Smith, c	3	0	5	0	0
Adams, p	3	0	0	3	0
Bowler, p	0	0	0	0	0
Barry, p	1	0	0	2	0
Totals	32	5	27	12	0

(a) Batted for Hollingsworth in 8th.
(b) Batted for Cooper in 9th.
(c) Batted for Blake in 9th.
(d) Batted for Barry in 9th.

Chicago	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	6
Pittsburgh	0	0	0	0	0	5	0	0	2	7

Two base hits, Hollocher, Fabrique, Traynor. Three base hits, Grantham, Bigbee, Russell.

INDIANS HIT ROBERTSON HARD AND WIN EASILY

Chicago, May 29—Cleveland concentrated its attack in the third and sixth innings and piled up a safe lead for Coveleskie, who won, 6 to 4, from Chicago. Brower's homer with two on netted the visitors their first runs, and Mostil's error followed by three hits, gave them the others and forced the retirement of Robertson. Score:

Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Hooper, rf	5	2	2	0	0
Mostil, cf	4	1	1	0	1
Collins, 2b	3	1	0	3	0
Mostil, cf	4	1	2	0	0
Sheely, 1b	4	1	10	1	0
Falk, lf	4	0	0	0	0
Kamm, 3b	4	0	0	2	0
Schalk, c	4	2	5	1	0
Robertson, p	2	1	1	2	0
Cheney, p	2	0	0	0	0
xStruck	1	0	0	0	0
xxFelsch	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	38	9	27	9	1

Cleveland (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Jamieson, lf	3	2	1	0	0
Wambsganss, 2b	3	1	2	3	0
Speaker, cf	4	0	4	0	0
Brower, rf	4	1	1	0	0
Summa, rf	3	0	2	0	0
J. Sewell, ss	3	1	4	3	0
Lutzke, 3b	2	0	1	1	0
Myatt, c	4	2	3	0	0
Coveleskie, p	4	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	6	27	8	0

(x) Batted for T. Blankenship in 8th.
(xx) Batted for Cheney in 8th.

Cleveland	0	0	3	0	0	2	0	0	1	6
Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	2	4

Two base hits, Lutzke 2, McClellan. Three base hit, Peckinpaugh. Home run, Brower.

NAYLOR WINS HIS SIXTH STRAIGHT BY TRIMMING BOSTON

Philadelphia, May 29—Rollie Taylor won his sixth straight game of the season today when he twirled Philadelphia to a three to one victory over Boston. Naylor blanked the Red Sox until the ninth when a double by Walters and an error by Dykes counted a run. Picinich was removed from the game in the fifth for disputing a decision by Umpire Rowland. Score:

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mitchell, ss	4	0	3	2	0
Picinich, c	1	0	0	2	0
Walters, c	3	1	6	0	0
Menosky, cf	3	0	1	0	0
Burns, 3b	4	1	2	1	0
Harris, lf	3	1	3	0	1
Fingstad, rf	3	0	4	0	0
Shanks, 2b	3	0	1	3	0
McNulty, 2b	3	0	1	3	0
xNichols	1	0	0	0	0
Fewster, 2b	0	0	0	0	0
Piercy, p	2	0	0	1	0
O'Dowd, p	1	0	0	1	0
Totals	29	3	24	13	1

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Matthews, rf	4	1	2	0	0
Ricondo, 2b	4	2	3	3	0
Perkins, c	4	0	3	1	0
Heuser, lf	4	1	2	0	0
Welch, lf	3	1	1	0	0
Galloway, m	4	1	3	0	0
M'Gowan, cf	3	2	3	0	0
Dykes, 3b	3	0	2	2	1
Naylor, p	4	1	1	3	0
Totals	31	9	27	11	1

(x) Batted for McMillan in 8th.

Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1
Philadelphia	0	1	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	x—3

Two base hits, McGowan and Walters.

TODAY'S SPORTS.

RACING.

Meeting of Westchester Racing association at Belmont Park.

Meeting of Kentucky Jockey club at Louisville.

Meeting at Thorncliffe Park, Toronto.

Meeting of Connaught Park Jockey club opens at Ottawa.

ROWING

Harvard vs. Yale, 150-pound freshman crews, at Derby, Conn.

SHOOTING.

West Virginia State trapshooting tournament closes at Clarksburg.

GOLF.

National interscholastic championship tournament at Rye, N. Y.

AUTOMOBILE

International 500-mile sweepstakes race, at Indianapolis.

TENNIS

Anglo-Belgian Davis Cup match, at Brussels.

Central New York championship tournament, at Manlius, N. Y.

Harvard interscholastic tournament, at Cambridge, Mass.

POLO.

Annual tournament of Bryn Mawr Polo club, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Annual tournament of Whippany River club, Morristown, N. J.

BOXING.

Johnny Dundee vs. Jack Bernstein, 15 rounds, at New York.

Andy Chaney vs. Red Cap Wilson, 12 rounds, at New York.

Joey Schwartz vs. Georgia Vanderbilt, 6 rounds, at New York.

Georgie Bender vs. Tony Vicarelli, 4 rounds, at New York.

WHIRLWINDS TAKE LOOSE GAME FROM THE EAST END TWILIGHT TEAM

In a good game at the Fairgrounds Tuesday night the Whirlwinds defeated the fast East Ends 7 to 3. Failure to hit in the pinches together with costly errors at critical moments were the chief reasons for the defeat of the boys from Preston. Several times on account of the wildness of Peterson, the Whirlwind pitcher, the East End boys had the pillows crowded but their lack of ability to hit prevented them from scoring.

Harris, the star hurler of the East Side, outpitched Peterson but for the rally of the Whirlwinds in the sixth inning. In this frame after the bases had been filled a long fly to the outfield was muffed and three runs scored winning the game for the Whirlwinds. The East Siders made a fight for the game in the last half of the sixth but were able to score only one run. The score:

East Ends.	ab	h	po	a	e
Rourke, ss	3	0	1	0	1
Taylor, s, 2b	3	0	2	1	1
Dion, 2b	3	2	2	0	0
Waid, lf	3	1	1	0	1
Spalding, cf	3	0	0	0	0
Baker, c	3	1	9	2	0
Bacorn, rf	2	0	0	0	0
Scouli, 1b	3	0	4	1	0
Harris, p	2	0	0	4	0
Totals	28	3	18	7	4

Whirlwinds.	ab	h	po	a	e
Micahas, 1b	4	2	9	0	0
Sharf, s	4	0	2	0	1
E. Lesum, m, s	3	0	2	2	0
Pilmore, c	3	2	7	1	0
Hechner, 3b	3	0	1	1	0
Lynch, 2b	3	1	0	0	0
Lynch, lb	3	0	1	0	0
Peterson, p	3	0	0	0	0
H. Les'm'n, rf	3	0	1	0	0
Totals	31	5	23	4	1

East Ends	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1—3
Whirlwinds	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	1—5

Two base hits, Barber, Tilmore. Three base hits, Micahas, Hechner. Bases on balls off Harris 2, off Peterson 6. Hit by pitcher, Spalding, Schalk out, by Harris 0; by Peterson 5.

The game which was scheduled for tonight between the Nuggets and the Duwells has been postponed owing to the holiday and will be played at a later date.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

National League.

Brooklyn 3, New York 0.
Philadelphia 7-2, Boston 10-3.
Chicago 6, Pittsburgh 7.
Cincinnati 3, St. Louis 2.

American League.

Boston 1, Philadelphia 3.
New York 4, Washington 2.
St. Louis 6, Detroit 5.
Cleveland 6, Chicago 4.

International League.

Jersey City 10, Reading 17.
Syracuse 8, Buffalo 4.
Toronto 8, Rochester 0.
Newark 4, Baltimore 24.

Eastern League.

Albany 1, Waterbury 10.
Pittsfield 6, Hartford 7.
Only games scheduled.

American Association.

Kansas City 13, Milwaukee 3.
Minneapolis 5, St. Paul 6.
Only games scheduled.

College Games.

New London, May 29—
Georgetown 1; New London Submarine base 2.

Northfield, Vt. May 29—
Middlebury 10, Norwich 7.

THE STANDING

National League

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	28	10	.737
Pittsburgh	22	15	.595
Chicago	18	18	.500
Brooklyn	19	17	.528
St. Louis	18	20	.487
Boston	16	23	.444
Cincinnati	15	20	.429
Philadelphia	11	27	.289

American League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	26	10	.722
Philadelphia	20	14	.588
Cleveland	20	16	.556
Detroit	18	19	.486
Washington	14	19	.424
St. Louis	15	20	.441
Chicago	13	20	.381
Boston	11	20	.355

Eastern League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Hartford	20	9	.690
Springfield	16	10	.615
New Haven	17	11	.607
Waterbury	14	15	.483
Worcester	12	16	.429
Bridgeport	10	16	.385
Albany	12	17	.414
Pittsfield	10	17	.370

International League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Rochester	26	8	.765
Baltimore	25	12	.676
Buffalo	18	15	.545
Toronto	16	16	.500
Reading	17	18	.486
Jersey City	15	21	.417
Newark	12	21	.364
Syracuse	9	27	.250

GAMES TODAY.

National League.

Morning

Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Brooklyn at New York.
Philadelphia at Boston.
Chicago at Pittsburgh.

Afternoon

Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Brooklyn at New York.
Philadelphia at Boston.
Chicago at Pittsburgh.

American League.

Morning

Cleveland at Chicago.
St. Louis at Detroit.
Boston at New York.

Afternoon

Boston at New York.
Cleveland at Chicago.
St. Louis at Detroit.

Eastern League.

Morning

Albany at Pittsfield.
New Haven at Bridgeport.
Hartford at Waterbury.
Springfield at Worcester.

Afternoon

Pittsfield at Albany.
Bridgeport at New Haven.
Waterbury at Hartford.
Worcester at Springfield.

DEMPSEY ON TROUT FISHING EXPEDITION

Great Falls, Mont., May 29—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion and several friends left here today for a couple of days trout fishing.

The party will stop at Wolf Creek, 45 miles west of Great Falls and later will go to a Hot Springs resort where they will remain until Thursday, returning to devote the rest of the week to loafing in camp. No work will be done by the champion until next Monday.

Tom Gibbons, challenger, who will meet Dempsey at Shelby, July 4, left Great Falls this morning for Shelby where he will give a boxing exhibition. He will go to St. Paul Wednesday to return with Mrs. Gibbons and his family and will begin training at Shelby early next week.

Gibbons was greeted by several hundred persons last night at a local theatre in his boxing exhibition. Going four rounds with a couple of sparring partners, he gave the spectators a lineup on his shifty boxing methods and lightning footwork.

Dempsey's trainer and sparring partners were present, and noted the challenger's every move.

AMERICAN GOLFERS WARMLY WELCOMED ON ARRIVAL

New York, May 29—(By the A. P.)—Ten members of the victorious American Walker cup golf team, which defeated a British team at St. Andrews, Scotland, in defense of the international trophy May 18 and 19, returned today on the Majestic.

The team was welcomed by a delegation headed by Wynant D. Vanderpool, vice president of the United States Golf association; Howard F. Whitney, former president; and George H. Walker, donor of the trophy bearing his name, but due to the desire of the players to return to their homes as quickly as possible, plans for a reception here tonight were cancelled.

J. F. Byers, of Pittsburgh, president of the U. S. G. A., who accompanied the invaders, and Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, team captain, were enthusiastic over the American victory, which was scored by the narrow margin of six matches to five with one match tied, after an uphill struggle on the final day of the two-day international series.

Particular praise was accorded the achievements of Francis Ouimet, veteran Boston star, and Dr. O. F. Willing, the Portland, Ore., Dentist, whose playing was a sensation of the invasion. Ouimet brought back a silver replica of the St. George's challenge cup the trophy at stake in a preliminary tournament which he won by defeating Dr. Willing in a play-off.

Ouimet and Willing were the last members of the invading team to be eliminated in the British amateur championship, which preceded the team contest, the Bostonian going down in the semi-finals before Roger Wethered, the new champion, while the westerner was put out in the fifth round. It was also Dr. Willing's victory in the Walker cup singles that turned the tide in America's favor.

Discussing their future plans, Ouimet announced he intended to compete both the national amateur championship at Flossmoor, Ill., and the national open title event at Inwood, Long Island, while Jess Sweetser, national amateur king, declared that scholastic duties at Yale would keep him from defending his laurels in the Metropolitan amateur championship at Siwanoy in June.

Reginald M. Lewis, of Greenwich, Conn., who played in the British title event, will return later.

FIRPO-WHITE BOUT IS CALLED OFF

Havana, May 29—(By the A. P.)—The boxing bout between Luis Angel Firpo, the South American heavyweight and Joe White of New York, which had been arranged for next Sunday, has been called off.

This afternoon during a sparring match with Estanislao Frias, a Cuban colored welterweight, White was twice knocked out by the lighter man with 12-ounce gloves.

The crowd which was witnessing the training bout made a noisy demonstration and it was necessary for the police to take charge of the situation. The Cuban boxing commission, three members of which were at the ringside, immediately convened and reached a decision disqualifying White as an unfit opponent for Firpo.

Later groups of fight enthusiasts congregated outside of the arena colon, where the boxers have been training, and demanded that the promoters of the bout substitute Antolin Fierro, Cuban heavyweight champion, as Firpo's opponent Sunday afternoon.

Fierro, who weighs about 220 pounds, knocked out Sailor Martin of New York in the first round of a bout here last Sunday. Firpo who was a spectator characterized Fierro as "a veritable cyclone."

TWENTY-THREE RACERS GET AWAY TODAY

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29—The list of certain starters in tomorrow's 500 miles automobile race here was increased to twenty-three when a French car, driven by Raoul Riganti, qualified by turning ten miles in 6:18:72, an average speed of 95.3 miles an hour. Three other machines, built by a local manufacturer, will take their qualifying trials at 4:30 tomorrow morning, according to official announcement. They must average 80 miles an hour or better to earn the right.

Three German cars and five French machines also are entered. They are heavier than the American speedsters, and while they have not shown as much speed, give every indication of being sturdy and enduring. The drivers of all the machines—American, French and German—for the most part are veteran race

1791 1923

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday. Subscription price 12c a week; $6 a month; $3.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls.
Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-2.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-3.
Willimantic Office, 21 Church St. Telephone 210.

Norwich, Wednesday, May 30, 1923.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MAY 26th, 1923
12,340

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

Aldermen
E. LARUE BLIVEN,
EDWARD CROOKS.

Councilmen,
MARTIN ROZYCKI,
F. RUSSELL SMITH,
ALFRED G. LILLIBRIDGE,
LEE CLEGG.

City Treasurer,
STEPHEN H. REEVES.

City Clerk,
WESTON C. PULLEN.

Tax Collector,
HAROLD T. ROBINSON.

Sheriff,
CHARLES H. RAYNES.
MAURICE LOOBY.

Member of Water Board,
REUBEN S. BARTLETT.

MEMORIAL DAY.

This is the day when the Grand Army of the Republic and its auxiliaries throughout the country decorate the graves of their deceased comrades and hold exercises to keep green the memory of The Boys of '61 and the great sacrifices that they made for their country.

There were the days when the veterans were able to turn out in large numbers to march behind the flag to the big plains for the day's programme. There are still with us those who have participated for a half century in such observances, but the number is small. They are men who have gone beyond the three score and ten mark and they are no longer able to follow behind the colors with measured tread. Their loyalty and spirit are the same, but the few that remain must leave the marching to others, quite the same as they must much of the real work of carrying out the Memorial day programme.

The depleted ranks of the veterans must not mean any negligence of the day's observance. It logically falls upon the shoulders of others, their descendants and quite as properly the veterans of more recent wars.

Memorial day no longer concerns just the participants in the Civil war. It is a day when the graves of those who have fallen in any and all of the wars in which this country has been involved should be decorated and the valiant services of the millions of veterans brought vividly to mind.

Memorial day has taken on a new meaning within the past few years. It makes a decidedly different appeal to those who know of later wars but not of the Civil war. It is a day in which there should be a general participation in the opportunity for paying tribute to the soldier and sailor dead and the perpetuation of the memory of the noble service rendered by the dead and the living. There can be no thought of neglecting such a day.

RELEASING WAR PRISONERS.

In connection with the appeals which have been made for signatures to a petition to be presented to President Harding seeking the release of the prisoners who were convicted and sentenced for the deliberate violation of the war laws of the country, it is to be realized that those who signed such a plea represent only a part of those whose signatures were sought.

Governor Templeton is one among those who declined to support any such effort for amnesty and he hits the nail on the head when he declares that they were not sent to prison for holding certain views regarding war, but because of the fact that they were doing their best to break down the laws and embarrass this government in the conduct of war after it had been decided that war was necessary.

There was a studied purpose in their actions. They were deliberately and actively urging disrespect for the law and by their very attitude giving aid and comfort to the enemy. Their course was set for the purpose of obstructing the nation. Their efforts were directed to handicapping our war activities and well does the governor point out that there is no telling how many of our boys lost their lives overseas as the direct result of their work.

The war laws have been repealed because the emergency has passed, but that does not mitigate the offense of which these so called political prisoners were guilty. In fact there is no reason to believe but what they would repeat their conduct should another such emergency arise. If there have been unjustified sentences reviews of such may be warranted, but the wholesale pardoning of such prisoners because it was a war law that was violated deserves widespread opposition.

DISREGARD FOR SAFETY.

Just how the failure to take precautions and that frequent display of lack of patience, even when it calls for a wait of only a fraction of a minute, serve to contribute to the number of automobile accidents as well as fatalities is well illustrated by the instance in Detroit where seven persons were killed and a score hurt when an electric car crashed into an automobile.

The driver of the auto had been forced to stop because of a stalled car ahead of him. He fretted at every second that was lost and instead of being willing to wait until the street ahead of him was cleared he decided to pull out and proceed. There was nothing unusual about such a decision except for the fact that in going around the stalled car it was necessary for him to drive his car from the rear of the stalled one onto the car track. This he did but without regard for his own protection, for he turned his car directly in the path of an oncoming electric in such a way that a collision was unavoidable and the lives of seven people were snuffed out.

Such a crash, like many a crossing horror, might easily have been avoided had there been due regard for the fact that a car track was being crossed and a bit of precaution exercised in seeing that such a turn was not going into the path of great danger.

Unfortunately there are too many accidents, fatal and otherwise, which are caused by just that same failure to properly safeguard the human lives that are at stake. Neglecting to stop, look and listen or to take the necessary minute or two that would insure safety causes a loss of life every day that is lamentable.

THE COMING ELECTION.

Those who are conscious of the importance of good government are not overlooking the fact that the city election comes next Monday.

That it is the so-called off year does not warrant disinterestedness. It is a time when the voters of the city, women as well as men, should recognize their responsibility as electors and taxpayers and cast their votes for those who are best fitted to aid in giving the community a sound, businesslike administration, who are prepared at all times to stand for the best interests of the community and whose efforts will be devoted to the welfare of the many rather than that of the few.

The republicans have named a ticket that cannot fail to command the support of the party. At the same time it is a ticket that is bound to get the support of that body of independent voters, or even democrats, who are seeking able and conscientious administrators of a public trust.

It is none too early to give thought to the importance of getting to the polls on election day. There are important offices to be filled and it is the duty of the voters to see that they are filled with men that can be relied upon, men of ability and business experience.

It is no time for apathy. It is an election when the votes should be gotten out and when the practice of staying at home should be frowned upon. Let every voter do his duty by the city and if, as is believed, it is a time for a change there are available on the republican ticket men who can be relied upon to meet the requirements of the community an dstand steadfastly for its best interests.

BELATED ACTION.

It has taken a long time much longer than many have believed necessary, to convince Eamonn De Valera that he was supporting a lost cause. Many a life has been lost and much blood needlessly spilled because of his unwillingness to acknowledge the facts and throw up the sponge. Long ago were those beaten who have been standing for a republic in Ireland. They have required that it be doubly proven to them and even that has been accomplished if the proclamation by De Valera and his staff is accepted.

Ireland has been harmed by the efforts to overthrow the Irish Free State government. There was no reason to believe that there would be any other outcome than that which is now indicated. It was inevitable. It has meant that the Irish were fighting the Irish and doing so against the known expression of a great majority. Prolonging the turmoil would only make bad conditions worse and stand in the way of the realization of the much desired peace after long years of strife and destruction.

De Valera has displayed good judgment for the first time in a long period. He might still continue to fight, even till they trampled his dead body, but it would gain nothing. Delaying the burying of the hatchet until now has only postponed those advantages which Ireland should now be enjoying in greater measure.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The day when the flags are half masted for the soldier and sailor dead.

Cool May nights fail to create the impression that we are on the threshold of summer.

More and more is it being realized that reckless driving does not encourage wreckless highways.

The man on the corner says: It is usually easy to throw off the troubles that the other fellow has.

Memorial day has a purpose that ought not to be disregarded. Help to make it what it was intended to be.

It is a good thing to know our Rhine bill has been approved. The real struggle now comes in getting the money.

The appearance of the open cars adds to the belief that summer is coming even though it hasn't registered as yet.

Possibly if we stop fussing about the weather it will recover its stride more quickly. At least our likes and dislikes make no difference.

The way in which cars are allowed to park in the narrowest street of the city and patrons of the trolleys are made to walk does much to make a dissatisfied public much more so.

"Abolish flogging in Connecticut prison." Such a headline is a bit misleading since floggings are not practiced in the state prison. An old law giving the warden authority to flog was never removed from the statutes but floggings haven't been resorted to for many a year. Nevertheless the killing of the ancient law was sensible action.

HER BAD ANGEL

"Spread out your newspaper, Madge, and cover us both up!" whispered the girl in the fur toque. "Mr. Parliament just got on this train, and I don't want him to see me!"

"But he's so nice!" protested the girl in the chinchilla coat, obediently opening the newspaper, and peering around its edge. "There; he's gone by. Why didn't you want to speak to him?"

"I never speak to him if I can help it. That man is my bad angel. Of course he's nice, that's why I mind."

"Tell me all about it." The girl in the chinchilla coat snuggled comfortably into her seat as the train pulled out of the station; but her friend was in no mood for confidences.

"I bought this book in the station to read on the train," she stated, "and I'm going to read it."

"If you take my advice," Madge observed, after glancing at the title and the author's name, "you'll not only read it on the train but leave it on the train. Don't take it home with you. Your mother would faint."

After she had turned a dozen pages the girl in the fur toque agreed with her.

"Cheap and trashy, as well as immoral," was her comment. "I'll leave it in the train as you suggest. Another $2 absolutely ruined. And now, since you're so curious, I'll tell you why I won't speak to Mr. Parliament. He has a genius for catching me in undignified situations. I can be as prim as anybody when I try, but I have my moments of reaction. In one of them I borrowed the grocerwman's Ford truck and took half the children in town for a ride. I'd been working in the garden and had on my khaki overalls. We turned into a private roadway to avoid hitting a hayrack and I tried to go around the curved drive and out at the other side. Of course I killed my engine squarely in front of the house. There's no starter on the truck and I was trying to crank it when Mr. Parliament drove up in his new sixteen-cylinder thing, and insisted on helping me."

Madge giggled.

"Yes, laugh, you heartless minx! A week or two after that I was out in the machine with my little brother and he wheedled me into letting him try to drive. He crept along for about a mile, see-sawing from one curb to the other like a sailboat taking into the wind, until I heard a horn behind us and knew a car wanted to get by. Then I changed seats with Benny as quickly as I could and drew over to the side of the road. Mr. Parliament drove past us, smiling politely. I know what he thought."

"Pooh!"

"I'm not through. One day last month father telephoned that he was on his way from Chicago to Madison on urgent business, and that his train went through Lake Heights. He told me to come down to the station with some desperately important papers that he needed on the trip and give them to him. He said not to fail him on any account—he'd have just enough time to hop off the train and on again. I went, of course. But I never thought about the through trains using that west track. When it pulled in I found I was on the wrong side of the platform, and that every door and window on my side was locked. The thing looked a mile long, and I knew I'd never have had time to go clear to the end and up the other side. I thought of poor Dad looking everywhere for me, and about how much he needed the papers, and—why, here's our station!"

"I want to hear the rest," said Madge as they began the long climb up the station hill. "What did you do?"

"I crawled under the train."

"Marie! You might have been killed!"

"I might have, but I wasn't. I picked myself up on the other side and dusted off my knees and looked around for father. He wasn't there. He'd missed the train. But Mr. Parliament was, and his eyes just popped out of his head when he saw me come wriggling out from under those cars. I suppose he thinks I was just doing it for fun. I never, never see that man without being embarrassed."

"Nonsense! You saw him tonight. And what happened?"

"I beg your pardon," said a courteous voice, as a figure loomed out of the dark behind them. "I believe this is your book. You left it in your seat."

A passing motor swept them with its lights and the girl in the fur toque caught a flicker of amusement in Mr. Parliament's gray eyes before he lifted his hat and passed on over the brow of the hill.—Chicago News.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Farmers and Immigration

Mr. Editor: The argument that we must have a greater quantity of immigration such as is now coming, which is mainly from the south and east of Europe, and contains a large proportion of undesirables—in order to help American farmers, has appeared from time to time in certain newspapers, but is founded on a groundless asumption that these immigrants will work on farms. The U. S. census of 1920, shows that 1,610,109 persons born in Italy, which is 11.7 per cent. of our foreign born, but only 18,367 of them carrying on farms; from Russia, 1,400,489, or 10.2 per cent.; from Poland 139,978 or 3.3 per cent. of our foreign born, but only 17,352 operating farms; Ireland-born 1,037,283, or 7.6 per cent. of our foreign-born operating farms. Those are the only contributors to our foreign-born which exceed a million, except Germany, 1,686,102, or 12.3 per cent. of our foreign-born; but of these 140,667 are operating farms, chiefly in the North Central states. Comparing the previous census records of Italy, Russia, Poland and Ireland, it becomes evident that the farmers need not look for help from them; and if they come at all, what is the character of the immigrants from the south and east of Europe which have furnished 70 to 75 per cent. of our total immigration for more than 30 years past? Said President Cutten of Colgate University, N. Y., May 14, 1923, in an address in N. Y. city: "In regard to feeble-mindedness, against which our laws are so stringent, it is found that 31 per cent. of the immigrant quota in proportion to population are in institutions; when if the laws were enforced, it would be zero. In insanity the foreign born exceed their quota 93 per cent. In all types of social inadequacy the foreign-born exceed their quota by 40 per cent.

Since 1901 almost 10,000,000 Alpines and Mediterraneans have come here, and allowing for returns to their native lands, would give us 2,000,000 immigrants below the average negro in intelligence, actually about 35 per cent of these types are below the average negro. These social inadequates have cost the people of the United States $100,000,000 annually, beside economic and social drag and racial degeneration. We have spent more to keep the nation stupid than to make it intelligent. A nation's strength is tested not by numbers, but by the proportion of people of ability which it contains."

We have not exhausted our own resources of farm help or of unskilled labor in general, especially from the southern border stateh. The Continental U. S. has at least 110,000,0000 people, or some twenty millions more than the most populous country in Europe (Soviet Russia with the Ukraine.) Moreover Canada furnished 48,668 of our foreign-born farm operators, out of 307,175 born in French Canada, and 807,092 other than French Canadians. Of 625,580 men, women and children born in Sweden, a supply of 60,461 were farm operators, next in numbers to Germany, and considerably higher in proportion to the number of Sweden-born. Norway, 363,867, of which 51,699 farm operators. Of 199,154 born in Denmark, 25,565 navian immigrants are the best we re were farm operators. These Scandiceived. Of 575,625 born in Austria, 30,172 were farm operators; and surely that poverty-stricken people, starving after being cut off from fertile Hungary, should be glad if its farmers could raise crops in a better market here. Belgium, the most densely populated country in Europe, 670 to the square mile, could spare to us some of its farm workers and iron workers. It is our right to select the workers we need and to exclude those which other lands want to get rid of.

J. N. ENO.

New Haven, May 28, 1923.

Today's Anniversaries

1800—Connecticut surrendered to the United States its claims to the Western Reserve territory.

1835—Alfred Austin, English poet laureate, born near Leeds, England. Died June 2, 1913.

1850—Gen. Frederick D. Grant, eldest son of the famous Civil war commander, born in St. Louis. Died in New York city April 12, 1912.

1854—Act of congress organizing the Territory of Kansas.

1857—Relics of Sir John Franklin's expedition found on King William Island.

1866—Customs officers seized 1,000 stand of Fenian arms at St. Albans, Vt.

1873—A fire in Boston destroyed property to the amount of $1,500,000.

1894—A monument to the soldiers and sailors of the Confederacy was unveiled at Richmond, Va.

1923—Dedication of the Lincoln Memorial temple in Washington, D. C.

—The Earl of Balfour took his seat in the British house of lords.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Dr. John R. Mott, who heads the American delegation to the second world's conference of Y. M. C. A. workers among boys, which meets today in Austria, is one of the best known leaders of the missionary and Y. M. C. A. forces of the world. For more than 30 years he has been engaged in social, religious and educational work. Not only in connection with student and Y. M. C. A. activities, with which his name has been most closely linked, but also through public services of a political and general nature he has won recognition as one of the brilliant men and powerful forces in international affairs. He was a member of the special mission to negotiate with the Carranza government in 1916 and a year later he accompanied Elihu Root on his mission to Russia. In 1918 he served as director-general of the campaign to raise $170,500,000 for the seven war work organizations of the United States. He has received the highest academic honors from Yale, Princeton, and the University of Edinburgh.

Today's Birthdays

Duke of Norfolk, Hereditary Earl Marshal and Premier Duke of England, born 15 years ago today.

Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, born in Boston 73 years ago today.

Dr. John C. Acheson, president of the Pennsylvania College for Women, born at Fairfield, Iowa, 53 years ago today.

Rupert Blue, former surgeon-general of the United States public health service, born in Richmond county, N. C., 56 years ago today.

Mark Hambourg, celebrated pianist and composer, born in South Russia 44 years ago today.

Wives of Famous Men

Margaret Tyndal, Wife of John Winthrop

The rigors of early colonial life and the knowledge that her future husband was twice a widower, acted in no way as deterrents to Margaret Tyndal, who against the will of her parents, became the wife of John Winthrop, early governor of Massachusetts. Compared with the fortune of Sir John Tyndal, Margaret's father, Winthrop had little to offer. But Margaret loved him for himself alone. She won the grudging consent of her father, and as time proved the union a happy one, parental opposition weakened.

Margaret Winthrop was a Puritan maid possessed of every Puritan virtue. The immense fortitude so fundamentally necessary to those women who braved the savage life of the New World during its infancy, was hers in a great measure. She had wisdom, courage, spirit. In addition, historians say she was fair to look upon. She was an ideal mother and wife and she was no less attached to her step-children than to the eight which she herself bore.

From their marriage in 1618 until her death in 1649, she bore the vicissitudes of early colonial life wisely and cheerfully.

"His incomparable benefactor," writes a biographer of Margaret Winthrop, "a woman of singular virtue, prudence, modesty and piety and specially beloved and honored of all the country."

Stories That Recall Others

What's In a Name?

A motorist was stopped by a policeman on account of defective lights. "I'll have to take your name, sir," said the bluecoat.

"John Smith," was the reply.

"Don't try that on me, sir," warned the policeman. "I want your proper name and address."

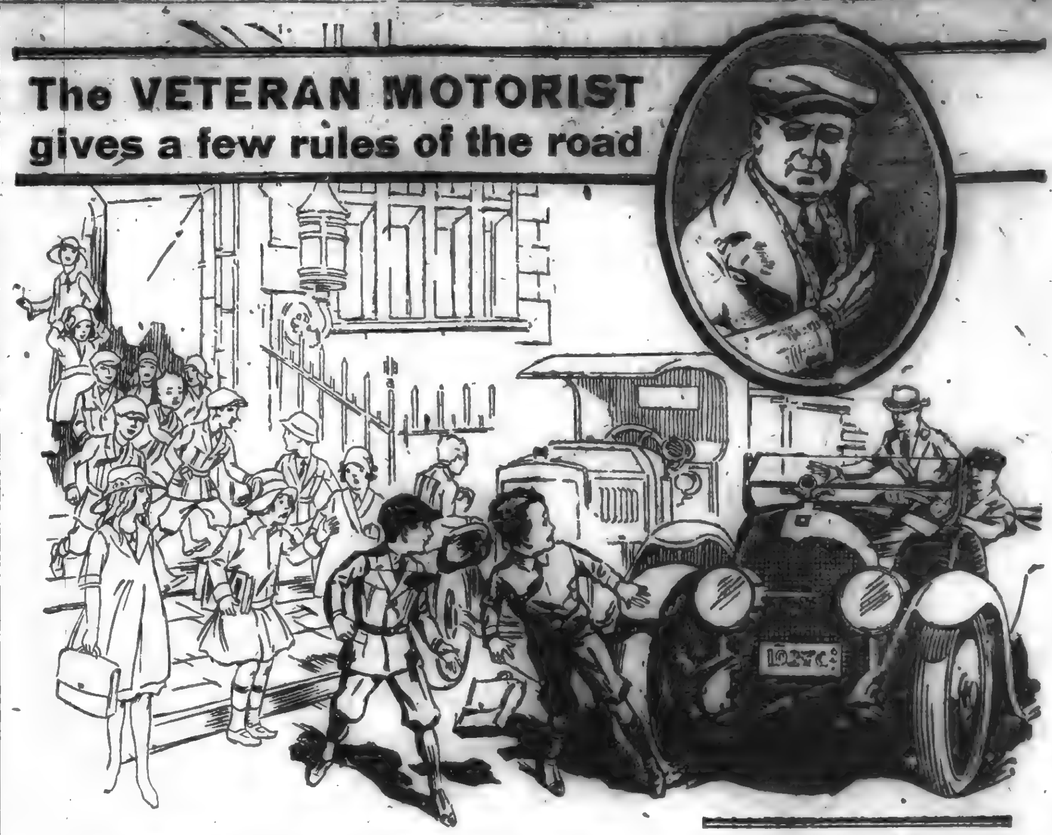
"Then if you must know it, it's William Penn, Philadelphia."

"Thank you, sir," said the policeman, jotting it down. "Sorry to have troubled you."

"Don't mention it," said the motorist, driving on.

Commercial production of tomato seed in 1922 totaled 338,000 pounds, an increase of 200 per cent. over 1921 and 10 per cent. over the five-year average, according to the United States department of agriculture.

The VETERAN MOTORIST gives a few rules of the road



"SOMEONE HAS SAID THAT 'IF' is the biggest little word in the language. If a very close friend of mine had used his head on a certain day, he wouldn't have knocked a school boy down and come within an ace of crippling him for life.

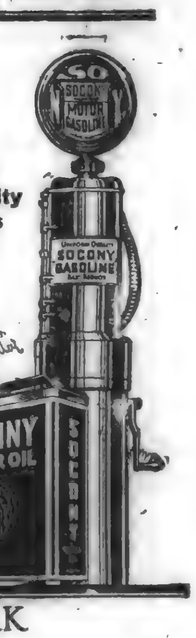
"It was queer, that day, about Jerry. Usually, a good, cool, level-headed driver. But, somehow, his attention must have been wandering, and as the kid ran out in front of him—he did the wrong thing. And he was upset about it for months after.

"His insurance company settled up the case in due time. But Jerry said something to me after it was all over that set me to thinking and I'll never forget it. Said he: 'My liability insurance protected me, but it didn't protect that boy. It paid the doctor's bills but it didn't help that youngster's suffering one iota.'

"I'd never thought of it in just that way before, but I have ever since. Youngsters are careless at times and it's up to us motorists to make up for what they lack by using more than ordinary care when they're around."

"More than ordinary care shall be exercised by the driver of a motor vehicle when nearing a school from any direction. A 'school zone', is that section of a highway directly in front of and usually 100 feet to the left and right of the school."

(The Veteran Motorist)



Uniform Quality
Best Results

SOCONY
GASOLINE & MOTOR OIL

STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW YORK
26 Broadway

HOLIDAYS DURING MONTH OF JUNE

The following calendar of bank and public holidays which will be celebrated in June in the states and countries and on the dates enumerated below is furnished by the Guaranty Trust company of New York:

Friday, June 1—Brazil (commemorating notable event in state or municipal history.)

Sunday, June 3.—Bahamas, Bermuda (observed by military, naval and government offices only), British Guiana, British Honduras, China (Canton, Hankow and Hong Kong), Cyprus, Federated Malay States, Gambia, Gold Coast, Leeward Islands, Malta, Mauritius, Morocco (observed by English community; half day), Newfoundland, New ealand, Nyasaland, Rhodesia Sierra Leone, Tasmania, Togoland, Trinidad and Tobago, Turks and Caicos Island, Western Australia and Windward Island (Birthday of King George V.), Greece (St. Constantine O. S.), and Rumania (St. Constantine and St. Elena, O. S.) In the United States: Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia (Birthday of Jefferson Davis), Louisiana and Tennessee (Confederate Memorial day.)

Monday, June 4.—Dominion of Canada, Caymen Island, Jamaica, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, Straits Settlements, Swaziland, Yukon Territory (celebration of King George's Birthday) and Rumania, Siberia (Whit Monday O. S.). In the United States: Florida and Georgia (celebration of the birthday of Jefferson Davis.)

Tuesday, June 5—Denmark Constitution day.)

Wednesday, June 6.—Newfoundland (Bank holiday; half day.)

Sunday, June 10.—Brazil (state of Amazonas; commemorating notable events in state or municipal history) and Portugal (Lisbon; municipal holiday.)

Monday, June 11, (states of Alagoas and Santa Catharina; commemorating nothble event in state or municipal history) and Hawaii (Kamehameha day).

Tuesday, June 12—Brazil (states of Espirito Santo and Rio Grande do Norte; commemorating notable event in state of municipal history.)

Wednesday, June 13.—Brazil (state of Piauhy; commemorating notable event in state or municipal history) and Newfoundland (bank holiday; half day.)

Friday, June 15—Brazil (state of Minas Geraes; commemorating notable event in state or municipal history.) In the United States: Idaho (Pioneer day.)

Sunday, June 17—Brazil (State of Pernambuco; commemorating notable event in state or municipal history), India (Zarthost-no-Diso,) Japan (Shisei-kinembi; especially observed in Formosa.) In the United States: Massachusetts (Boston and vicinity; Bunker Hill day.)

Monday, June 18—China (Shanghai dragon boat festival.)

Tuesday, June 19.—Uruguay (Artigas Day.)

Friday, June 22.—Brazil (State of Paras; commemorating notable event in state or municipal history), Latvia (victory of Zehsis), Palestine (Pentecost), Salvador (Bank holiday), Newfoundland and Western Australia (Coronation Day).

Saturday, June 23.—Bahamas, British Honduras, Leeward Islands, Mauritiuis (Prince of Wales' Birthday), India (Calcutta; Dasaraha), Latvia (Mid-summer Day), Turkey (Krikor Loussavoritch; Armenian).

Sunday, June 24.—Canary Islands, Esthonia, Lithuania, Malta, Spain (half holiday; St. John the Baptist) Finland (Midsummer day and St. John's day), Sweden (Mid-summer day), Portugal (Oporto; municipal holiday), Venzuela (Battle of Carabobo.)

Monday, June 25.—New South Wales and South Australia (Celebration of Prince of Wales' birthday.)

Tuesday, June 26.—Persia (Birthday of Inman Reza), Queensland and Western Australia (observed by the commonwealth but not by the state department of Prince of Wales' birthday.)

Wednesday, June 27.—Newfoundland (Bank holiday; half day.)

Thursday, June 28—Colombia (bank holiday), Jugoslavia (Kosovo Day) and Salvador (peace with Germany at Versailles.)

Friday, June 29.—Argentine, Austria, Brazil, Canary Island, Chile, Germany, Guatemala, Hungary, Lithuania, Malta, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Poland, Venzuela (St. Peter and St. Paul), Costa Rica, Fernando Po and Spain (St. Peter), Colombia (bank holiday.)

Saturday, June 30.—Colombia (bank holiday), Federated Malay States, (public holiday), Guatemala (Revolutionary triumph in 1871), Siam (Bangkok; half year.)

Pumpkin seed to the amount of 119,800 pounds was raised commercially on 772 acres in 1923, according to reports reaching the United States department of agriculture.

SUITS ON FIVE NOTES FOR TOTAL OF $45,500

Suits on five notes for an aggregate of $45,500 in which the plaintiffs are Frederick H. Gavitt and Jeremiah Toomey of New London, while Walter T. Murphy and Charles J. Ducy of the same place are the defendants, jointly or individually, were shown Tuesday by papers that were filed here at the office of Judge George E. Parsons, clerk of the superior court. Attachments have been made against real estate in East Lyme and eleven parcels of property in New London.

Gavitt sues Murphy and Ducy on two notes, one date June 1, 1921, for $20,000 and the other dated Nov. 10, 1921 for $7,500.

Gavitt also sues Ducy on a note for $1,000, dated June 21, 1921.

Toomey sues Ducy on a note for $5,000, dated Sept. 13, 1921, and sues Murphy and Ducy together on a note for $12,000, dated Aug. 17, 1921.

There is an old superstition in the English royal family that it is unlucky for a royal lover to send presents of flowers to his bride-to-be.

CURED HER RHEUMATISM

Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. J. K. Hurst, who lives at 608 E. Douglass St., C-97, Bloomington, Ill., is so thankful at having cured herself that out of pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other sufferers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home.

Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell. Merely mail your own name and address and she will kindly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

Every Week
2 Million
Charles Denby Cigars
smoked
2 for 15¢
Merrimac Cigar Co., Distributors
161 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

Cuticura Soap
IS IDEAL
For the Hands
Soap, Ointment, Talcum, 25c everywhere. For samples address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden, Mass.

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.
DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.
THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY
(Incorporated 1824)
Main Street, Corner Broadway

For Indigestion

Mi-O-Na Is Guaranteed To Promptly Relieve Stomach Distress.

People go on suffering from little stomach troubles for years and imagine they have a serious disease.

They over-eat and force on the stomach a lot of extra work.

But they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do extra work.

If these people would take a Mi-O-Na Tablet with or after meals it would be a great big help to the stomach in its strain of overwork.

Mi-O-Na helps your tired out stomach to do its work and banishes the cause.

No matter what you eat or drink Mi-O-Na will sweeten your sour stomach and stop gas belching in five minutes. The heaviness disappears and the stomach is greatly aided in its work of digestion.

And Mi-O-Na not only promptly relieves all distress but if taken regularly will banish indigestion.

Druggists everywhere and The Lee & Osgood Co. sell Mi-O-Na on the money back plan.

WATCHES

7 Jewels — Nickel or Gun Metal Case — Fully Guaranteed—

$5.00

AS A SPECIAL FOR JUNE

Large Assortment of Ladies' Wrist Watches—Gents' New Thin Models.

SILVERWARE

26-PIECE SET

Century Pattern

Jamestown Pattern

Newport Pattern

$35.00

Silverware Department Second Floor

FERGUSON'S

FRANKLIN SQUARE

Where All Cars Stop

MOOSE WHIST AND DANCE WERE LARGELY ATTENDED

Over 300 people attended the whist and dance given Tuesday evening at the Wauregan, by Norwich lodge, No. 950, Loyal Order of Moose, enjoying themselves until midnight. The entertainment of the evening began with whist, sixty tables being played, and was followed by dancing, with music by the Royal Radiona, round and square dances being on the program.

For whist the prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies—First, Mrs. Joseph A. George; 2nd, Miss Marion Hunter; 3rd, Mrs. L. C. Mountcastel; Gentlemen—First, Harry Salomon; 2nd, E. J. Mullins; 3rd, David Trachtenberg.

The committee in charge of the affair comprised Henry Jarvis, chairman; J. L. Gendron and Alex Kaminski, Mrs. A. E. Andrews and Mrs. John Carter.

GENEROUS RESPONSE WITH MEMORIAL DAY FLOWERS

Norwich people have responded generously to the call of Sedgwick Post, No. 1, G. A. R., and Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps for flowers to be used to decorate graves of veterans, today, Memorial day. The school children of the city came in large numbers to Buckingham Memorial Tuesday, and brought large bouquets of flowers. Many other people also visited the Buckingham during the day and left flowers. By night there was a large supply and these with flowers that had already been distributed to decorate the graves will be sufficient for the work this year.

The response of the citizens of the city to the call for flowers was greatly appreciated by the post and relief corps as it seemed at one time as though there would be a scarcity of flowers this year.

ELECT JAMES L. CASE G. & E. COMMISSION PRESIDENT

James L. Case was elected president of the board of the Electrical commissioners at a meeting held Monday night, succeeding Daniel T. Shea, who recently declined reappointment at expiration of his term.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, James L. Case; vice president, Fred A. Fox; secretary, Martin E. Jensen. The full board was present and regular business was transacted, plans being discussed for the coming year.

President Case has been a member for the past six years during the whole of the reconstruction period. He was first appointed by Mayor Allyn L. Brown and again last year by Mayor H. M. Lucas.

Taftville Twilight League.

The first twilight game of the season was played on the Providence street grounds Tuesday evening between the Army and Navy club and the Knights of Columbus and resulted in a tie, 11 to 11. The game was called on account of darkness. Jack Murphy pitched for the Army and Navy and Cormier caught and Jim Murphy and Belair was the battery for the K. of C. The next twilight game will be played Thursday evening between J. E. Martin Co. and Black Rock.

SEDGWICK CAMP, No. 4 SONS OF VETERANS

A cordial invitation is extended to all Sons of Civil War Veterans to take part in the Memorial Day exercises.

Meet at Buckingham Memorial at 9:30 A. M. (Daylight Time).

JOHN H. BARNES,
Commander.

1776 1923

Norwich, Wednesday, May 30, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle laps at 7.45 o'clock tonight (s. t.)

Charles Usher is the only surviving veteran of the Civil war in Tolland.

Don't forget the Girls' Glee club concert, tonight at Slater hall, 8 o'clock, d. s. t.—adv.

Lyme post, No. 41, American Legion, held a holiday dance Tuesday evening in Memorial hall at Old Lyme.

There were 76 cases of chicken pox last week and thirty-six new cases of German measles and four cases of influenza were reported.

Mrs. Frederick D. Ballou of Jewett City was a patroness for the sophomore ball at Sayles hall, Brown university, on Friday evening.

On the whole the health of the state at the close of the past week shows an improvement over the condition of the previous week.

Governor Templeton will address the Fairfield County Convention of the League of Women Voters to be held in Ridgefield on Thursday, June 21.

Troop 2 of Westerly scored the only points for South county in the great rally in Providence by the Greater Providence council on Saturday afternoon.

Cornelius B. Prior of Plainfield is a member of the Holy Cross college senior debating team which Monday defeated the juniors at the annual debate at the college.

Dodging another car on Poquonoc road at 4 o'clock Monday Ernest Post was struck and felled by a Ford sedan operated by Herbert S. Colt of 38 Pearl street, Mystic.

A certificate of increase of capital stocks of The Watertown Mfg. Co., Inc., Watertown from $75,000 to $150,000 has been filed at the office of the secretary of the state.

The White House restaurant will open Wednesday morning, May 30 at 93 Franklin street.—adv.

Former Governor Frank B. Weeks of Middletown was elected governor of the Society of Colonial Wars in Connecticut at the thirty-first annual court at New Haven, Monday.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for silviculturist, forest service, department of agriculture, on June 5. Entrance salary is $3,000-$3,800.

Governor Charles A. Templeton has refused to sign a petition for the release of fifty-three political prisoners now serving sentences in federal prisons for violation of the wartime espionage act.

Governor Charles A. Templeton faces a grist of about fifty bills some of which he must sign or veto Thursday or they will become laws automatically. Others must receive gubernatorial action Friday.

The funeral services for George Simon Smith were held Tuesday afternoon at the Stone House farm at Niantic where he had made his home nearly all his life. Burial was in the Old Stone church burial ground.

Today is not only Memorial Day for Hope Valley but is also Old Home day and as usual will no doubt be a big day for the village. It is the day when the "latch strings" are on the outside for all old home visitors.

The U. S. Naval Reserve flotilla, comprising Eagle boats Nos. 19, 42 and 46, bound from Boston to Washington, put into New London Monday when the first named craft, flagship of the fleet, ran short of water.

"Let's go"—to the Girls Glee club concert tonight, Wednesday at Slater hall, 8 o'clock, d. s. t.—adv.

The Pinney Memorial Arch at Ellington Center cemetery is to be dedicated this (Wednesday) morning. At the dedication Rev. Dr. Nichols will give a historical review of the town of which Samuel Pinney was the first settler.

Barbara, aged 8 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Sherman of Wyoming, near Westerly, is still a patient at the Rhode Island hospital, but is making fine progress by way of recovery from an operation for appendicitis.

On Thursday afternoon, Lieut. Commander and Mrs. H. D. Hinckley of the Coast Guard Academy will entertain at tea on board the Coast Guard practice cruiser Alexander Hamilton, docked at the Fort Trumbull wharf.

In a special order from the adjutant-general's office Captain Allen L. Dexter, Officers' Reserve Corps, is appointed captain of infantry and recruiting officer for the new unit of the National Guard to be organized in Manchester.

A meeting of the Connecticut society of Coloradoans was held recently in the drawing room of the Brown Palace hotel, Denver, Col. About twenty members were present. Ben Fairbrother, formerly of Meriden, acted as chairman.

Open until noon, order your fresh caught fish, lobsters and clams as usual at Powers Bros.—adv.

A meeting of the Northfield seminary girls residing in this section of the state, was held Monday evening in the parlors of the First Baptist church at New London. Twenty attended, with Miss Maude E. Allen of Norwich presiding.

W. Cameron Forbes, former governor general of the Philippine Islands, who was voted an honorary degree by Trinity college in 1922, will not receive it until 1924, President Remsen B. Ogilby, friend of Colonel Forbes, said Mnnday.

The Noank Valley cemetery makes a pretty appearance at this time of the year. Men have been at work for several weeks cutting the grass and regrading some of the lots. Nearly every one who owns a lot in the cemetery has it taken care of for Memorial Day.

A progressive party was held on Monday evening by the past members of the guard team of Home Rebekah lodge of Groton. The first meeting was at the society rooms where the first course of a dinner was served. The party then progressed from house to house.

Superintendent Cornelius P. Barry of the Groton post office announced Tuesday that the mail service for the Eastern Point summer residents would begin on June 1. To replace the motorcycle used in former seasons the post office department has supplied an automobile.

The Connecticut Humane society announces it will pay a reward for information to prosecute and convice any person of cruelty abandoning an animal. It is the opinion of the agents of the society that many of the suffering animals picked up are left behind by people moving away.

Daughters of Veterans' Float.

Clara Barton tent, No. 7, Daughters of Veterans, is to have a float in the Memorial Day parade. All members wishing to ride on the float are to report at the Buckingham Memorial at 9.30 sharp, dressed in white.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Ella Jatkouska, is spending a few days in New Bedford, Mass., visiting her brother and sister-in-law.

Mrs. M. Greenwood and Mrs. Frank Cook of Boston, formerly of Norwich, are visiting friends here for the holiday.

Warren Lee Goss of Rutherford, N. J., is visiting with friends in Norwich for over Memorial Day. Mr. Goss has not missed observing Memorial Day in Norwich for a great many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dell S. La Fre and son, Robert D., of 35 Dunham street, left Tuesday for a motor trip to Massachusetts. They will visit friends and relatives in Springfield, Holyoke and Ware returning Thursday.

FUNERALS.

R. G. Hewitt.

Funeral services for Reginald G. Hewitt, who died of injuries sustained when he was thrown from a motorcycle Sunday, were held at the Quaker Hill Baptist church at 1.30 Tuesday afternoon. Rev. G. W. Borden was the officiating clergyman. Burial was in Elm Grove cemetery, Mystic.

Mrs. Frederick W. Harvey.

The funeral of Mrs. Florence E. Harvey, wife of Frederick W. Harvey of East Lyme, was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Flanders. Rev. Frederick S. Leathers officiated. The bearers were Dr. Tracy Farnam, Frederick A. Beckwith, Julius T. Rogers, Charles E. Beebe, John E. Sharp and Winfield W. Hanney. Interment was in the Flanders cemetery.

Mrs. Peter Depinto

Funeral services for Marie Barbarossa, wife of Peter Depinto, were held Tuesday morning from the late home at 10 Pond street, relatives and friends attending. Services were held in St. Patrick's church, Rev. Myles P. Galvin officiating. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery where a committal service was held. The bearers were Andrew Calderola, C. Quarto, P. Pelogrine, John Depinto, Michael Santocroce and Numncio dePalma.

Arrangements were by Shea & Burke.

George S. Smith.

Funeral services for George S. Smith were held Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late home at Stone House farm, Niantic, with a large attendance of relatives and friends from out of town, and many neighbors from around Niantic. The floral tributes surrounding the casket were beautiful, a silent tribute to the esteem in which Mr. Smith had been held by his many friends.

The service at the house was conducted by Brother Herbert Starr of the Seventh Day Adventist church of New London. Attending the service was a delegation representing Sedgwick Post, No. 1, G. A. R., of Norwich, comprising Commander Orrin M. Price, Chaplain James McKee, Frank E. Beckwith, John Service and John Irish who served with Mr. Smith in the First Cavalry regiment in the Civil war. Henry H. Gallup and Edwin Miner of Norwich also attended representing the Norwich Belt Manufacturing Co.

Burial was in the old Stone Church cemetery, founded by the forefathers of Mr. Smith, and here the burial service was in charge of the members of Sedgwick Post. The following relatives and friends filled the places of bearers: Charles I. Smith and C. Edward Smith of Norwich, nephews; Harry Smith of Groton and Lester Leighton of Niantic, cousins, and V. G. Thompson and Philip Beers of Niantic, intimate friends.

Mrs. Elizabeth Howard.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Howard were held Tuesday afternoon from the Mt. Calvary Baptist church following a prayer service at her late home on Thames street. The service was conducted by Rev. E. E. Jackson and David A. Brown, during which the choir rendered several hymns. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery where a committal service was held.

Arrangements were by Church & Allen.

Mr. Howard died at her home at 91 Thames street Saturday afternoon being in poor health for some time. She was a widow of Simon B. Howard and was born in Richmond, Vt., January 1, 1848, the daughter of James and Lucy Anderson. She is survived by a son, Delaware Howard, a daughter and other relatives.

WEDDING.

Hyde—Rekoski.

Miss Mary Barbara Rekoski, daughter of Mrs. Augusta Rekoski, 19 Spring street, Webster, and Lawrence Joseph Hyde, son of Mrs. George W. Hyde, 54 Shetucket street, Norwich, Conn., were married in St. Joseph's church at Webster Monday morning at 7.30 by Rev. Anthony A. Cyran, pastor.

Miss Eva M. Hyde, a sister of the groom was bridesmaid and William O. Sargent of New London was best man.

The bride was attired in a gray georgette gown with hat to match and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid wore a blue robinegg gown with hat to match and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride with a large number of friends and relatives of the couple present. The gift of the bride to the bridesmaid was a silver mesh bag and the gift of the groom to the best man was a blue sapphire stickpin. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde left Webster following the reception for a two weeks' wedding trip. During the trip they will visit New York, Buffalo, Washington, Chicago and Albany. On their return they will live at 19 Spring street, Webster.

Guests from New London, Norwich and Worcester attended the wedding.

Miss Rekoski was employed in the South Village weaving department of the American Woolen Co. Mr. Hyde was formerly of Norwich, and is a World War veteran having served in France with the 12th Regiment Artillery Corps. He is employed by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in Webster.

BACKUS HOSPITAL WILL GRADUATE CLASS OF 1923

Invitations have been issued for the graduation exercises of the 1923 class of the W. W. Backus hospital training school. The exercises are to be held on the evening of June 5th at the H. H. Osgood Memorial Parish House at 8 o'clock. The class will hold its reception from 9 to 12 at the Wauregan hotel. There will be dancing and refreshments.

The annual class dinner will be held at the Wauregan hotel Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

Boy Scout Memorial Day Orders.

The following Memorial Day order has been issued by Scout Executive F. A. Benton: Scouts will report at 9.30 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning on Shetucket street in the following order: Scout Bugle and Drum corps, Troop No. 1, Troop No. 5, Troop No. 4, Troop No. 8, Troop No. 6, Troop No. 7, Troop No. 3, Troop No. 10, Troop No. 12, Troop No. 20. Scoutmaster John Harris, Wheeler's band, Troop No. 17, automobiles.

LAFAYETTE MAIN ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF GAME LAWS

Lafayette Main of North Stonington, whose farm there covers several hundred acres of wooded hill and dale, was tried in the criminal common pleas court here Tuesday afternoon before Judge C. B. Waller and a jury on four counts charging violation of the game laws last December.

Mr. Main, dressed in a new suit of farm clothes, jumper and overalls, had a seat at the table next to his counsel. Attorney Thomas M. Shields, into whose ear he poured a stream of whispered instructions and hints on how to conduct the examination of witnesses, as he has had an extensive experience in court litigation before this.

There were four counts against Main to all of which he pleaded not guilty. The case came to the common pleas court on an appeal from a justice in which he had been fined $848.76 and costs and given a 30 day jail sentence.

Clerk Lewis Crandall read the information in the complaint against Main, charging him with having two deer in his possession on Dec. 4, 1922, with having unlawfully set traps for deer, and for partridge or ruffed grouse and with having killed on Dec. 7, which is the closed season, one quail, one woodcock and two partridges.

The following jury was selected: Norwich, Harlan P. Dolbeare, Samuel S. Greenman, Franklin Rumford, S. Clinton Rogers, Clinton E. Lane, Jabez W. Sterry, Gilbert S. Raymond; Preston, Willis Spicer, Frank R. Ayer; Lebanon, Charles A. Perkins, Charles L. Hinckley; Franklin, Thomas Newman.

Prosecuting Attorney C. B. Whittlesey, who is assisted in this case by Attorney Roach, called as the first witness George H. Chaffee of Middlebury, Vt.

Mr. Chaffee testified that he was called to Connecticut to do special work by Superintendent Titcomb of the fish and game commission and that he went to the Main farm with three Connecticut game wardens, Palmer, Ross and Ramistella.

They arrived at 11 in the morning, having met Main and his wife and little girl in a Ford car about half a mile from the house. All went back to the house. Main told of killing a deer by shooting it and the warden asked to see the head and feet. Main said they had been thrown out and probably the dogs had carried them away. Three of the legs were found outside the barn. The witness told of Main going into a dark room in the barn where the witness watched him and saw him get a bag in which were a squirrel and a partridge. Both showed trap marks.

The witness told of arresting Main, taking him before a justice, getting a search warrant and returning to the house at night. This time he found the parts of two deer in the cellar and also a partridge. There were two fresh deer pelts in the barn. Chaffee also told of seeing traps set on the Main farm, one of them set in a path and of size large enough to catch a deer or a man. The trap was covered with grass. It was a No. 3 1-2 or 4 wolf trap.

On cross examination by Attorney Shields, Mr. Chaffee said he saw no evidence of any deer having been caught in these two traps. The partridges had broken legs, crushed, but no shot marks in them. He thought the birds had been killed inside of two weeks. All the birds, the witness said, had similar injuries on the legs, indicating that they had been squeezed between two hard objects, the jaws of a trap.

At this point the court session for the day adjourned. The trial will be resumed next Tuesday morning.

SHOP MEETING TALK ON ANCIENT POLITICAL HERO

Under the auspices of the Norwich young Men's Christian Association another noon meeting was conducted Tuesday at the plant of the Richmond Radiator Company. The audience of employes greatly enjoyed the very practical address on the topic, An Ancient Political Hero, by Rev C. H. Ricketts who spoke in part as follows:

There will be no memorial services held in Jerusalem on May 30, and there is no reason why there should be—in the American sense. Jerusalem has been particularly unfortunate in its civil liberties. In fact it has never had any since the Jews lost their nationhood. When Christ was on the earth, Palestine was a Roman province. When Caesar went the Turk came and Jerusalem's last estate was worse than the first.

But if such services were to be held I would like to be there, if for no other purpose than to put a wreath of flowers on the resting place of John the Baptist. You may smile at the idea of decorating the tomb of a man who has been dead for nearly 2000 years. Still, the tomb of the disciples, in which the mutilated body of the old hero was reverently placed exists, because it was hewn out of the solid rock.

But why decorate his tomb? Because he tried to reform a nation that was past redemption. Here is a side of John the Baptist's character that is apt to be overlooked because stress is put upon him as a preacher of righteousness, but must not forget that there is such a thing as civic righteousness, and even if he was "the forerunner of Jesus," he also played the part of a national reformer, and upon this the speaker put emphasis, making an analysis of the following words: "And now also the axe is laid unto the roots of the trees; therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire."

The framework of the address was as follows: 1. The personality of John the Baptist himself. His miraculous birth; the force of the priestly instincts through both parents; his dedication to the Nazarite vow; his mild training in the desert, and personal characteristics; his meteoric life as the prototype of Peter the Hermit. 2. The theater of his operations which seemed to be a part of his own physical geography. It was only the wild region of the Dead Sea that could have nourished such a volcanic character. 3. The application of his remarkable teachings. Stress was laid on their political nationhood that had the growth of a tree; how the Jews through idolatry and security had allowed this national tree to be attacked by dry rot. The speaker closed by holding up this nation as a warning to modern states that commit the same blunders. Nations, like trees, die all the earlier if neglected.

WINDHAM COUNTY W. C. T. U. IN 37TH ANNUAL MEETING

The 37th annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Windham county is to be held at the Congregational church at Danielson on Thursday of this week.

The following will be the programme:

10.15 a. m., devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Miller; 10.30, convention called to order. Greeting, Mrs. Helen F. Pellett; response, Mrs. Minnie L. Bixby; minutes of last convention; appointment of committees; report of county treasurer; What Have We Done This Year? local presidents 11.53 a. m., solo, Mrs. Harold Atwood. 12 m., noontide prayer, Mrs. Fuller; basket lunch. 1.15 p. m., prayer and praise service, led by Miss Mary Macomber; election of officers and delegate to the national convention; duet, Miss Helen Keech, Miss Ruth Clark; address, Miss Mary B. Wilson, state president; hymn; address, Our Boys and Girls, Mrs Lucy Fields; recitation; awarding of county banner; unfinished business; adjournment.

For Two-Week Auto Trip.

Miss Mary Sullivan and Miss Isabel Shearer of this city, with Mrs. M. L. Stearns and Miss Frances Stearns of Willimantic and Miss Ethel Brainerd and Miss Rose Porter of South Manchester, left Tuesday morning for a two weeks' automobile trip through the Shenandoah valley. En route they will visit Philadelphia, Gettysburg, Winchester, Endless Caverns, National Bridge, Richmond, Washington, Baltimore, Wilmington, Atlantic City and New York. They will make the trip in Ovilia Martin's car.

Ninth Birthday Pary

A party for her ninth birthday was given Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 7 for Lucille Hayden of 78 Chestnut street. Eight little friends were present: Marion and Helen Pendleton, Mary and Dina Ludina, Nora and Mary Aidi, Francis Chapman and Clyde Hayden. Many games were played and refreshments were served.

WINS SUIT BROUGHT TO COLLECT COMMISSION

Judgment for the plaintiff, John A. Moran, the real estate agent, of this city, to recover $247.20 from Frank P. Church of this city, has been handed down by Judge C. B. Waller of the common pleas court before whom the suit was recently tried.

Mr. Moran sued Mr. Church for finding a customer to buy his house at the corner of Pearl and Ann streets last November. Mr. Church declined to sell after Mr. Moran had found the customer who was willing to buy. Brown & James were attorneys for Mr. Moran.

In his memorandum of decision Judge Waller says:

I find that the plaintiff was authorized by the defendant to sell his house for the price of $8,000.

The plaintiff procured a customer who was ready, willing and able to conclude the purchase at that price. The plaintiff is clearly entitled to his commission unless there was some condition attached to the authority given to the plaintiff.

The defendant claims that he did not authorize the immediate sale of the house but that he told the plaintiff that he was considering the sale and that possibly he would make a sale in the spring as soon as he found a suitable house in Lynn, Mass. It is admitted that the defendant said that the price for the house in case he made the sale would be $8,000. On the other hand the plaintiff denies that there was any condition attached to his authority to sell the house at $8,000.

The plaintiff went at least twice with his prospective purchaser to the defendant's house and he claims that nothing was said by the defendant about any condition, either at the time he was authorized to procure a customer or at any subsequent time until the plaintiff offered to the defendant the sum of $500 on account of the agreed purchase price. The defendant refused to accept this payment and said he had consulted with his wife and would have to wait until his son returned before he would decide whether he would make the sale.

The question of delivery of possession of the house and other incidental questions were left, as is usual in such cases, to arrangements between the parties. So far as appears there was no discussion of these details and consequently no disagreement concerning them.

I find that the sale was not concluded because the defendant decided to do nothing definitely until he had seen his son, and so far as appears after he had seen his son he still refused to carry out the sale.

Judgment may be entered for the plaintiff to recover of the defendant the sum of $247.20.

WIDOW ASKES COURT FOR $100 A DAY ALLOWANCE

The superior court, with Judge George E. Hinman presiding, was in session here all day Tuesday hearing the testimony regarding guardianship of children and allowance for the widow of Edgar H. Cottrell of Westerly who left an estate of over a million dollars. Mrs. Leone Balfe Cottrell, the widow, was on the stand all the afternoon, giving details of her expense accounts. She was formerly granted $250 a week by the Stonington probate court. This was later raised to $400 a week, and she is now asking for $700 a week and the guardianship of the five children. Two brothers of Mr. Cottrell are administrators of his estate.

Before Mrs. Cottrell went on the stand, testimony had been given by Nicholas Cottrell, Charles P Cottrell and Judge Frank H. Hinckley of the Stonington probate court.

The case will be continued Thursday morning.

Judge Gardiner Greene and Attorney Frank L. McGuire are counsel for the petitioner and Judge H. I. Rathbun for the administrators.

BROADWAY PROPERTY IS BOUGHT BY HARRY LAND

The property on Broadway known as the Brown property, now occupied by the City Lunch, Carl Graff and the Chinese Laundry, has been sold to Harry M. Land by Gilbert S. Raymond, trustee for the property. Mr. Land makes the purchase as an investment and is planning to make extensive alterations in the future.

By purchasing this property Mr. Land now owns the property from the bank corner to the Del-Hoff hotel. His new purchase comprises four stores and about 26 rooms upstairs used as a boarding house.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY GIVEN BY MACCABEES

Members of the W. B. A. of Maccabees gave a double birthday party for two of their members last week, Mrs. Marie Prodell and Mrs. Maud Linnehan, at the home of Mrs. Prodell on Fouth street. Clam chowder with crackers, pickles, cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Ruth Moran, Mrs. Prodell and Mrs. Linnehan were presented silver bread trays. Piano and violin selections closed a very enjoyable evening.

COUNTY HOME SCHOOL MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAMME

Before a large and attentive audience the following programme was given Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the county home under the direction of the teachers. Miss M. J. Leach and Miss Gladys Newbury. Mrs. Frank A. Mitchell, member of the board of charity, was one of the interested visitors present.

The programme was as follows:

Song, America, the Beautiful, by school; exercise, The Origin of Memorial Day, five boys; recitation, Why They March, Azel Buck; recitation, May Thirtieth, first grade children; song, Our Nation's Flag, by school; song, A Vow, school; recitation, The Blue and the Gray, Oliver Martin; exercise, Our Tribute, four boys; solo, Come With the Flowers, Ethel Wilson; recitation, My Country, Phillip Tarnowski; recitation, Memorial Day 1869, upper room; song, 'Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, school; exercise, Memorial Day, class of six; exercise, Memorial Flowers, four girls; Harmonica solos, Earl Cunningham; exercise, What Can Children Do, four children; exercise, Song of the Twentieth Century, four children; song, What Makes a Nation, Great? school; recitation, His Choice, Tony Papa; exercise, Emblems of Decoration Day, three girls; harmonica solos, Oliver Martin; recitation, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, upper room; recitation, The Soldiers Are Coming, Edwina Travis; song, This Day We Remember, school; recitation, Memorial Day, Lottie Bolton; solo, Memorial Day, Adella Goduska; recitation, The American Flag, upper room; hoop drill, eight girls; exercise, One Country, One Flag, fourteen children; song, Memorial Song, school; Patriotic quotations, upper room; playlet, Grandpa's Memorial Day, seven children; salute to the flag, school; Star Spangled Banner, school.

NORWICH NEW YORKERS ARE TO COME HOME

The Norwich Society of New York city has sent word to this city that they will come base Ruthing to their old home town on Saturday, June 2nd, and it is expected that one of the best of times will be had renewing old acquaintances and enjoying one another's companionship when the special arrives here at 6.30 o'clock in the evening.

The big idea has been sent out to all the members of the Norwich society and from all indications the boys from the big city are planning to keep things on the jump after their arrival in the home city.

A postal sent out to all members carries the following information: At the dinner of the Norwich Society of New York it was decided to arrange for a visit to the old home town. The Norwich society wants every former Norwichite to join the party, whether a member or not. We want to show the old town that her sons have made good in the world—and the representative men who have already promised to go are worthy of their birthplace. Make every effort to come. Try to bring along a Norwich friend or two, to show them again the place that influenced whatever good might still be in all of us. This is probably the first time in the history of Norwich that a "back home" visit has been made by such a splendid coterie of her "old boys."

The notice sent on from New York says that the boys will leave by special Pullman at 3 o'clock from Grand Central depot and arrive at Norwich at 6.35 o'clock, to go immediately to the Wauregan hotel, where at 8 o'clock a banquet will be served. There will be eats, talks, meets, renewing old friendships, and the niftiest, bestest, most altogetherish get-next-to-each-other you ever attended.

The New York boys expect as their guests the mayor and other prominent citizens, and from all accounts will do things up in grand old style.

The Norwich Chamber of Commerce and the Norwich Rotary club have already sent greetings to the Norwich Society of New York and will put forth their best efforts to welcome home and provide entertainment for the sons of old Norwich, and have extended a thousand welcomes home to the Norwich sons of a goodly city, a city with a glorious history.

Although many of the former Norwich boys will come on the special from the metropolis, there will be many who will arrive before Saturday night. The Yale vs. Harvard annual regatta takes place on the Thames on Friday, the 22d, and as usual hundreds of the boys will be there to cheer on the crew of their alma mater. These boys will be in Norwich to aid in the reception of their pals of New York in the evening Saturday.

N. F. A. GLEE QUARTET ENTERTAINED ROTARIANS

At the weekly noonday luncheon of the Norwich Rotary club, held Tuesday at the Wauregan hotel, an attractive program by the double quartet of the Norwich Free Academy Glee club was given, assisted by Robert Otis, as pianist and Henry Brynan as violinist. The quartet—Lucius Davis, Raymond Woods, Grosvenor Ely, Jr., Thomas Sharples, Louis Sears, Robert Johnson, Lawrence Browning and George Fairbanks—sang several selections and were recalled a number of times by insistent applause. The boys were under the direction of Charles D. Geer.

Two delightful violin solos, Serenata Medioevale (Silvestri) and Gavotte (Gossec), were given by Henry Brynan, who played with much feeling and expression. Louis Sears was the accompanist. During the luncheon an orchestra, Henry LaFontaine, piano, Theodore Sterry, violin, John Kukla, clarinet, and John M. Swahn, cornet, rendered a number of selections. George W. Carroll was the song leader.

At the business session, at which President Charles A. Saxton presided, it was voted to send Joseph N. Weymouth, secretary of the club, to the international convention at St. Louis next month as a delegate from the local club.

An invitation from the Norwich Rural society to attend the picnic at Lowthorpe Meadows was read and heartily accepted by the club, as was an invitation to the graduating exercises of the Backus hospital training school for nurses.

Russell A. Clapp, chairman of the program committee, announced the following song leaders for next month: Eben Learned, Adelard Morin, Louis Porteous and George Ingalls.

It was also voted to challenge the Norwich, England, club to an attendance contest next fall, the loser to present the winning club with a flag of its country.

A challenge from the Wauregan hotel baseball team was accepted with the greatest of pleasure and will be played some time next week. The team of the local club will pactice at the Academy on Thursday evening.

In closing the meeting a touching tribute was paid to the late Dr. John S. Blackmar by President Saxton. Leonard Partridge sounded Taps and the meeting closed with the singing of The Star Spangled Banner.

Voting Machine Demonstration.

Registrars Tyler D. Guy and Cornelius J. Downes will be in charge of demonstrations of the voting machines which will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 12.30 to 9 p. m. in the corridor of the court house.

JAIL SENTENCE AND FINE FOR JEWETT CITY MAN

When George Godek of Jewett City was presented before the common pleas court in this city Tuesday afternoon on the charge of violation of the liquor law, to which he pleaded guilty on two counts, Prosecuting Attorney C. B. Whittlesey moved for sentence in the case at once and gave a word picture of the extensive layout for the liquor business that was found at Godek's place on March 24, 1923.

Judge C. B. Waller sustained the sentence of the Jewett City court, giving Godek a fine of $200 on the first count and a fine of $100 and 30 days in jail on the second count. Jailer Oscar Main took the man to jail shortly before court adjourned for the day.

Prosecutor Whittlesey told the court that this place had been a persistent violator of the law. It had formerly been conducted by John Godek, a brother of this accused, who had been fined once in April, 1921 and once in December, 1921. The officers found at the place 36 quarters of bonded liquor, three 5-gallon cans of grain alcohol, four kegs of whiskey and other liquor. This was all concealed in a sort of loft, with a rubber tube running from a whiskey barrel to a copper tube that ran down the side of the wall, under the floor and up under a table where a faucet was concealed from which the liquor was drawn.

Attorney T. M. Shields spoke for leniency for Godek, saying that he stood before the court as a first offender and Godek was willing to make the promise to the court that if he could escape a jail sentence he would sell out within two weeks and leave Jewett City.

Attorney J. T. Barry opposed the plea for leniency, saying that he thought the jail sentence ought to be imposed for the sake of sustaining the authority and influence of the town court.

Judge Waller said he could see no reason for making any change in the sentence that had been given in the lower court.

In the case of John Godek, a nolle was entered on the recommendation of Prosecutor Whittlesey.

CAUGHT CRAP SHOOTERS IN PUBLIC SERVICE CAR

Five men "rolling the bones" in a public service car parked at the jitney stand along the curb by the side of the United Congregational church were surprised and arrested by the police early Tuesday evening.

Five $1 bills that were in the pot and the set of dice that were in use were seized by the police and were taken to police headquarters when the quintette was marched across the street to have their names added to the blotter. Sergeant Thomas Murphy with Officers Ryan and Allen made the arrest and the men will appear in the police court in the morning. The car in which the game was going on belonged to a Norwich Town man.

For Driving Under Suspension.

Henry T. Couchman, 25, of Ledyard, who was found driving his automobile in this city Tuesday night, was taken into custody by State Policeman M. R. Sterling and is accused of operating a machine while under suspension. He was released upon his promise to appear in police court in the morning. A short time ago Couchman had his license suspended for an alleged violation of the motor vehicle law and it is charged that he is still under suspension.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Wednesday, May 30.

WBZ Springfield (377 meters)

7.30 p. m.—Baseball scores. Fairy tales.

7.45 p. m.—"Hay Fever," by Wolsert C. Weber, M. D.

7.50 p. m.—"The Legion's Message of Americanism on Memorial Day," by James M. Healy, judge-advocate of the Springfield post, American Legion.

8 p. m.—Baseball scores. Talk by James H. Foran, past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

8.15 p. m.—Concert by Fred W. Davis, Hawaiian guitar; Frederick H. Fritz, baritone; Mrs. Flockton, accompanist.

8.25 p. m.—Laughs from Life.

8.30 p. m.—Continuation of musical programme.

8.50 p. m.—Bedtime story for grownups prepared by Grison S. Marden.

8.55 p. m.—A few minutes with Benjamin Franklin. Baseball scores.

WJZ Central New York (455 meters)

6 p. m.—Adventures of Peter, by Florence Smith Vincent.

7.30 p. m.—Piano solos by Lucille Oliver.

7.45 p. m.—"The Lap Order," by F. A. Starger.

7.45 p. m.—Joint recital by Signe Hagen, soprano and S. Walter Krebs, composer-pianist.

KDKA Pittsburgh (326 meters)

10 a. m.—Music.

12.30 p. m.—Music. Weather forecast. United States Bureau of Market reports.

3.15 p. m.—Scores, inning by inning of the baseball games being played today.

4 p. m.—Ball scores.

6.15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the KDKA Little Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Victor Saudek.

7 p. m.—Ball scores. Current events.

7.15 p. m.—"Fung Chow."

7.30 p. m.—"Carnegie Museum," by Douglas Stewart, director.

7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8 p. m.—Ball scores. Market reports.

8.15 p. m.—Address.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the KDKA Little Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Victor Saudek, and mixed quartet of the Westinghouse Electric Company Chorus under the direction of Alfred Bartlett.

KYW Chicago (447 meters)

(Central time.)

6.30 p. m.—News, financial and final market and sport summary.

4.50 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.

8 to 8.58 p. m.—Musical programme will be given by the following artists: Nathalie Gilmartin, soprano, and the Salvation Army Staff band, Adjutant Arthur Flynn, conductor.

Russell A. Clapp, chairman of the program committee, announced the following song leaders for next month: Eben Learned, Adelard Morin, Louis Porteous and George Ingalls.

Programme will be announced by radiophone.

8.58 p. m.—Naval observatory time signals.

9 p. m.—News and weather reports.

9.05 p. m.—Special features as announced by radiophone.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 Meters.)

6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports, Boston police headquarters. Amrad Bulletin Board.

6.45 p. m.—Evening programme. 1 Girls' Hour for Camp Fire Girls, by 'Big Smoke." 2 "The Conjuror," presented by Amrad Players, directed by W. Eugene Hamnett.

Death of Opalmal Beaussejour.

The death of Opalmal Beaussejour, daughter of Joseph and Margaret

ATTENTION

R. E. HOURIGAN POST, NO. 594, V. F. W. MEET AT VENICE HALL AT 9.15. MEMORIAL DAY MORNING FOR PARADE.

—THE— Porteous & Mitchell COMPANY

STORE CLOSED TODAY in Observance of Memorial

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Hundreds visited Brooklyn Tuesday to inspect the fire ruins. Excepting on a fair day Brooklyn has not had as many visitors in any one month as crowded into the village in the 24 hours following the fire, excepting at the dedication of the Putnam monument. The state highways about the fire zone were practically choked with traffic for many hours after the fire and the sightseers continued to put in an appearance during all of Tuesday.

Brooklyn is recovering from the shock of the experience and on taking stock of the situation during Tuesday decided that the situation might have been very much worse—as threatened to be the case for nearly an hour after the fire first broke out. The loss of the Sherwood B. Potter home is a severe blow and entails a heavy loss above the insurance on the Potter family. The fact that no lives were lost and no one seriously injured at the fire is a consolation. Restoration of the other buildings destroyed will be quickly carried out if there is a desire to rebuild, although it is not likely that such an elaborate stable as was consumed at the Isaac estate likely will be replaced in this age of motor cars and garages.

Mr. Potter said Tuesday that he has not definately decided whether he will rebuild. Excepting for the piano, some furniture that was on the lower floor of his commodious home and a small amount of silverware practically nothing was saved from the Potter house, which the flames licked up to the last sliver. All members of the family were away when the fire started and Mr. and Mrs. Potter learned nothing of it until about 5.30 when they stopped at Wauregan and were told by a friend what had happened. At that time nothing remained of their home but smoking ruins. They lost every shred of the clothing of all members of the family except such as the were wearing when the fire broke out. The barn on the Potter place was not damaged by the fire and Mr. Potter's automobile was in use by him in covering his territory when the fire occurred.

Wells that were drained in fighting the fire by bucket brigades were filling up again Tuesday. At the place of Sheriff Edwin Bennett, just across the street from the destroyed Potter house and the Spalding stables and garage, a well with 20 feet of water was drawn dry in fighting the fire. The Bennett place escaped injury, though right in the danger zone, through the efforts of the bucket brigade working like mad to check little fires that were breaking out on the roof. A giant elm standing in the back yard acted as a valuable shield for the Bennett place as did other elms in the immediate vicinity for other properties.

No praise was too liberal for Brooklyn people to bestow Tuesday on those who befriended them in their hour of need and brought invaluable assistance and many and generous were the things they said in appreciation of the aid rendered.

After having been successfully engaged in business here for the past 22 years John B. Lacas is to retire as soon as he can dispose of his interests, he stated Tuesday. Mr. Lacas has given such close and constant attention to his business that he has been advised that it is imperative that he retire from active work temporarily in the interest of his health. He said Tuesday that he is going to dispose of or close out his business as soon as may be possible and devote the summer period to rest and recuperation. His retirement from his present business will be permanent, but he will continue to make his home in Danielson, where he is numbered among the successful business men.

Memorial day observance will claim the attention of the great percentage of the populations of this and surrounding towns today. At Brooklyn this morning, at East Killingly this morning and in Danielson this afternoon the day will be marked by the impressive ceremonials that are a real mark of respect to those who have served as members of the armed forces of the nation, and are now numbered among the honored dead. The spirit of the early Memorial days is preserved in this territory and has not given place to the holiday frivolity that seems to be favored in many sections of the country.

Members of the Danielson fire department who were at Brooklyn found interest Tuesday in reviewing their experiences. Only one of them suffered any injury—Gurdon E. Withey, veteran fire fighter, who has a blistered arm from getting in too close while directing a steam that was chiefly effective in checking the fire as it started to lap up the old hotel property now occupied as residences. The firemen were glad of being able to help in Brooklyn in such a trying hour and perfectly willing to assume all the attendant risks of injury in a good cause. They found the afternoon's battle a good workout and of value as testing out their equipment and keeping their organization up to fighting pitch.

Presidents and secretaries hereabouts of Windham county locals of the N. E. M. P. A.—the milk producers' organization—have a meeting scheduled to be held Thursday of this week at Putnam, when matters of importance will be discussed.

Those who have business to transact at the postoffice will do well to arrive there before 10 a. m. today, as after that hour the office will be closed for the day, although the lobby will remain open in order that mail will have boxes may get their mail as usual, the carrier and rural services will be suspended for the day.

Be on hand this afternoon and all day for the [illegible] at Sacred Heart grove, West Wauregan. A [illegible] 6-cylinder [illegible] as to be given away.—adv.

Members of the Danielson local of the American Federation of Textile Operatives are regularly aiding in the financial support of the strikers who are out at the plant of the Manhasset Manufacturing company in Putnam.

Many Danielson people who will attend the Memorial exercises at East Killingly this morning will be there at 10 a. m. There is to be a service at the church, an address, procession and decoration of graves in cemeteries in the vicinity.

There will be a careful patrol of state highways all through this territory today by state officers charged with seeing that the motor vehicle laws are complied with and that the heavy traffic expected moves in an orderly manner. Incidentally, it will be a good day to practice moderation as to speed and as to passing cars ahead.

Excepting as to strawberries and some other small plants, the recent frosts do not appear to have caused any widespread damage in this territory and during the past few days crops have shown good gains.

In Danielson today the Memorial observance will follow the customary plan. Exercises are to be held at the town hall this afternoon, at the soldiers' monument at Davis park and graves in local cemeteries will be decorated. The Service battery, 192nd Field Artillery, Captain F. O. Armington, commanding, will do escort duty.

Instances are again being noted of spooning couples parking cars without lights along state highways—a dangerous indulgence and strictly forbidden by the motor vehicle laws of the state.

Railroad police have been investigating a recent robbery from a freight car in the local yards.

Henry C. Norris of Providence was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Tuesday.

There is interest here in the fact that Attorney E. L. Darbie at a meeting of the Scottish Rite bodies in Norwich Monday evening was elected high priest of Van Rensselear council.

Today Mrs. L. E. Kennedy, Mrs. Clara Nado, Mrs. Hugh Carragher, Misses Katherine Brennan, Elizabeth Grennap, Cecelia Regis, Mayme Dunn and Alice Caron, Dyer street, will motor to Lakeville to attend the dedication of the vacation home of the Connecticut Catholic Welfare association. The dedecation will be presided over by Rt. Rev. J. J. Nilan and will attract women from every part of the state.

PUTNAM

For the first time since the strike at the plant of the Manhasset Manufacturing company became effective there were no pickets at or near the mill Tuesday morning. Since the arrests made of strikers on the charge of intimidation the parade of pickets has been abandoned but the strikers had maintained a picket line that they construed to be in accordance with the agreement reached [illegible] before the superior court breaking the terms of the injunction issued early in the strike. From what can be gathered from the strikers, the picketing will be resumed again, but it is intimated that this will possibly not be until Friday, as certain undisclosed plans are said to be under consideration.

Several of the families against whom judgment was obtained Monday removed their household effects Tuesday. Preparations were being made to remove others, but as no vacant tenements were available it may be necessary to store the furniture for the present.

The situation remains practically unchanged. There is little or nothing doing in the weave room where what is termed "flat weaving," in distinction to weaving cord fabric, is carried on, according to the strikers. The strikers seem as determined as ever and not in the least discouraged. On the contrary, they feel that they are holding their own 100 per cent. and that no one is suffering for the necessaries of life through remaining loyal to the union. Meetings of the strikers are held daily and are well attended.

On the side of the employer, it is still maintained that the mill is operating about 70 per cent. of normal and that new help is gradually coming in and that when the tenements now occupied by strikers are vacated there will be those to fill them and to take their places in the mill. In the meantime, the controversy is deplored by all people in the city and in all probability the merchants are feeling to some extent the withdrawal of a considerable amount of money formerly finding its way into circulation through the medium of Manhasset pay envelopes.

William H. Vanderbilt and his fiancee, Miss Emily O'Neil Davies, whose engagement was announced at the home of Miss Davies' mother, 19 East 52d street, New York, Friday evening, have been in Putnam the past two days. They are the guests of C. Lawrence Perkins of Pomfret, and will leave Pomfret for Newport soon.

Robert C. Sands, an overseer in the mill of the H. K. H. Silk Co., is at the Day Kimball hospital with one side paralyzed following two shocks. Mr. Sands drove his car to the hospital Sunday to call on Alvan Parsons. While at the hospital, Mr. Sands sustained a slight shock and was taken to his home. Soon after a more serious attack came on and he was returned to the hospital. Mr. Sands lives on School street. He came to Putnam nearly 20 years ago, when the Eureka Silk company's plant was removed to this city from Canton, Mass.

Miss Irene Champeau of Hartford is the guest of her father, Isaac Champeau, for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Miron are spending the day with relatives of Mr. Miron in Millbury, Mass.

Insurance adjusters were in Putnam Tuesday to adjust insurance losses occasioned by the fire in the north end of the Chickering house block.

Hundreds of automobiles rushed to Brooklyn Monday afternoon following the news of the fire there. The stories were greatly exaggerated, one being that eight houses were in flames and another that the county jail was burning. The last story caused two prisoners sentenced to jail from the city court in the morning to be held for several hours until the exact situation in Brooklyn was authenticated.

An important meeting of the N. E. M. P. A. presidents and secretaries has been called by John R. Stromberg, president, and John E. Tanner, secretary, of the Windham county locals. The meeting will be held at the Windham County Farmers' association rooms Thursday at 10.30 a. m., standard time. W. P. Davis, assistant manager of the N. E. M. P. A., will address the meeting on the observations he has made in regard to conditions of shipping milk from Windham county to Boston.

The matter of a joint field meeting of the N. E. M. P. A. and the Windham County Farmers' association cooperating will be taken up. The annual Windham County Farmers' association field trip has been a very successful affair ever since its inauguration and this year it promises to be the most sizeable get-together thus far. Speakers of wide reputation will be secured. It is possible that Mr. Pattee, director of the N. E. M. P. A., will be one of the speakers.

PUSHED THROUGH GARAGE BY HIS OWN MACHINE

Putnam, May 29.—Charles Brzuch, who owns a meat market on Main street near what is known as the "Twenty Foot," was pushed through the rear of his garage, which overhangs the Quinebaug river, at an early hour Tuesday morning, and the fire department had to be called out to rescue him. He was taken to the Day Kimball hospital, where it was found that he had a broken leg, a serious gash in his back, and he is under observation for internal injuries, although it is believed that he will recover.

Brzuch took his family to West Thompson Monday evening to attend a Polish wedding reception. He returned home shortly after 1 o'clock and drove into the garage and his wife and two children got out of the car and went into the house near by. Brzuch had discovered that his roll of about $150 was missing and decided that he would return to West Thompson to see if he could find it.

The self-starter on the large touring car being out of order, Brzuch went to the front of the car to crank it. The rear of the garage is built upon two stone piers and overhangs the river about 20 feet above the riverbed. When Brzuch cranked the car and the engine started the car plunged forward, apparently having been left in low gear, and Brzuch was pushed through the end of the garage. The front end of the car and the front wheels became wedged in the broken boards of the end of the garage and there it hung.

Brzuch clung to the front of the car and pulled himself up on the hood. It was nearly half an hour later that his cries for help attracted his wife and neighbors. When the neighbors arrived it was found impossible to rescue the man from his position by any way than reaching him from the riverbed, and no ladder was available. Police Officer William Durand came on the scene and when he saw the difficulties of the situation pulled in a fire alarm from Box 22, at the corner of Main and Bridge streets. When the firemen arrived they put up ladders from the riverbed and carried Brzuch down and then up again to the street level. The man was unconscious by this time and had lost considerable blood. He was taken in a truck to the hospital, where the seriousness of his injuries was disclosed when examination was made.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

At the meeting of the Town school committee held at the library Monday evening the resignations of Miss Christel Hitchcock, Miss Gladys Jordan and Miss Edith Fletcher, teachers in the high school were accepted to take effect at the close of the present school year. A letter of resignation from Miss Helena Garvey, supervisor of music, was also read and accepted.

The following teachers were elected for the coming school year:

High school, Miss Florence Uncles, Miss Dorothy Wheeler, Miss Laura Hodges. Mr. Dow was reelected principal.

At the April meeting of the committees:

Borough schools, Mrs. Marjorie Snow, Mrs. Agnest W. Cox, Miss Genevieve Murphy, Miss Gertrude Bruce, Miss Mildred Germanco, Miss Wilhelmina Muclinda, Mrs. Charles Cox, Mrs. Janet Towne, Miss Esther Broderson, Miss Genevieve Hewitt, Miss Isabelle Jackson, Mrs. Josephine Abbot, Miss Edith Cushman; Pinney school, Miss Isadore Dunham, Miss Blanche Soule, Mrs. Ruth Gary; Staffordville, Miss Dorothy Roberts, Mrs. Elizabeth Cook; West Stafford, Mrs. Sadie Chaffee, and Mrs. Edith Sullivan; Stafford street, Mrs. Henrietta Webster; Orcuttville, Miss Mary Pease; Cow Hill, Mrs. Edith Davis.

Several Stafford people went to Rockville Monday afternoon to see the big fire.

SOUTH COVENTRY

Memorial Day exercises will be held Decoration Day morning, to start at 10 a. m. from the school house. The G. A. R., World War veterans, and the school children will leave the school and march to the Nathan Hale cemetery and have the following program: Singing by the school children; prayer; salute to the flag; Gettysburg address; song by the school children; address by Rev. Charles G. Johnson.

After decorating the graves of the soldiers they will go to St. Mary's cemetery, hold services and decorate the graves.

Following this, there will be a ball game between the married and single men of the Men's Social club, across from the cemetery on the plains.

All those who can have been requested to send bouquets for the school children to decorate the graves.

Have You Piles?

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID will relieve any form of Piles—quick action in even old stubborn cases. No cutting—no greasy salves—a harmless tablet that removes the cause. Money back if not satisfied. Lee & Osgood.

UNABLE TO SLEEP—DEPRESSED AND NERVOUS

Quickly Relieved by Wincarnis

"For several years I had been in a weak and run-down condition. I had frequent fainting spells which always left me almost completely exhausted. I suffered so with nervousness that the least little thing would make me jump and it got to be almost impossible for me to get a good night's sleep. I would get terrible fits of depression which would last for days. I had taken doctors' medicines and tonics without number, but nothing seemed to do me much good.

I saw Wincarnis advertised and decided to try a bottle. In an incredibly short time I got back my strength, my nervousness disappeared and I could sleep as peacefully as a child. I really believe Wincarnis is the greatest of all tonics.

(Mrs. W. A. Smith, 1027 N. Van Pelt St., Philadelphia, Pa.)

WINCARNIS

At all good Druggists.

Two Sizes, $1.10 and $1.95

WRITE FOR FREE INTERESTING BOOKLET, to EDWARD LASSERE, INC., 46, West 23rd Street, NEW YORK.

Resinol

helps to bring out the real beauty of the skin

Cosmetics only hide skin trouble, but Resinol Ointment, aided by Resinol Soap in most cases, clears away blotches, roughness, and similar defects, keeping the skin soft and smooth, with the natural color of health.

Give the Resinol products a trial. For sale by all druggists.

COST OF ERECTING PROPOSED PIER AT OCEAN BEACH PROHIBITIVE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, May 29.—There seems to be small chance that the proposed wharf at Ocean Beach to accommodate the big steamers that come to this port at frequent intervals will be erected now. The cost of it makes the undertaking out of all question. It is estimated that the expense of building a wharf so far into the harbor that it would give vessels lying at a berth alongside 22 feet of water would be in the neighborhood of $80,000. It will be recalled that the project started with the intention of erecting a pier that would cost $8,000. Estimates that showed the expense of what was wanted were obtained. Then the members of the council wanted some other minor improvements made there and the cost was raised to $10,000.

As the scheme developed it was decided that a pier some 500 feet long was desired, so that the largest vessels that came to the harbor could be accommodated, and figures as to the cost were sought.

The condition of little Ida Staplins, the 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Staplins of No. 18 Shaw street, who suffered a fracture of the skull while at play at the home of a companion on Bank street yesterday, by falling from a porch, is reported this evening as being more favorable

Fred Villano of Gallows lane complained to the police today that an automobile bearing Connecticut registration No. 97-600, struck his team on Bank street, near Pearl, this morning, the crash resulting in the demolition of the shafts. Villano was unable to determine the identity of the owner of the automobile.

The condition of Dr. Frank S. Norkett of No. 296 Williams street, who suffered an attack of the heart at his home last Saturday night, is reported today as being somewhat improved, the victim having gained considerable strength. His condition, however, is still considered serious.

Arthur H. Gager of the firm of Gager-Crawford Co. complained to the police late this afternoon that youths were stealing building material from his property on Water street. Mr. Gager acquired a section of the former C. D. Boss & Son factory and recently started alterations to he commenced at the place. The material stolen is some of that which was intended to use in the perfection of the alterations.

Following the transaction of routine business last night, the city council convened as a committee and discussed several matters that will shortly claim the attention of the councilors. Among these matters was the contemplated acquisition of the Hammond property in Waterford and opposite the western end of Ocean Beach. The city has considered the acquisition of the property some time for the purpose of enlarging the beach, which is rapidly becoming congested.

Another matter discussed was the feasibility of acquiring land at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Bank street for the purpose of removing an element of danger that exists at the intersecting streets, and a third proposition to receive the attention of the committee was the recommendation of City Manager Barlow that State street between Meridian and Broad streets be paved.

The recommendation was made to endeavor to obtain a complete paved highway from the state road in Waterford on the Hartford turnpike to the union station. No definite action was taken but will be at a meeting of the council in the near future, it is understood.

The condition of James O'Neill, son of the late actor, James O'Neill, who has been ill, is considerably improved.

There is slight improvement reported in the condition of Thomas F. Robertson, who has long been ill. Mr. Robertson has been transferred from his residence on Huntington street to Ocean Beach, where it is believed additional beneficial health conditions will be obtained.

The property owners of New London will receive their tax bills next week, it is understood. The bills will call for an increase in the payment of taxes in the case of at least two-thirds of the property owners, and in many instances the increased taxes will run from $25 to several hundred dollars.

A force of clerks in the office of Tax Collector Allen C. Richards is engaged on the preparation of the bills, and the task will be completed within a few days.

When the present form of government was advocated its sponsors predicted that by the adoption of the city manager form of government a lower rate of taxes would result. The tax rate has been reduced about three mills from that of a year ago, but the valuation of the property has been increased double and in some cases the valuation has been tripled, which will mean that these taxpayers will be compelled to hand out several hundreds of dollars more than they ever did before.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Pierce, formerly located in New London, now residing in Greenwich, are spending a few days with friends here.

Letter Carrier John A. Blake is enjoying his annual vacation of two weeks.

A large crowd of young people attended the first dance of the season under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus this evening at Ocean Beach. The weather was ideal for dancing at the shore and the diversion seekers enjoyed the affair immensely.

Trains of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, both east and west bound, were late in arriving in New London this afternoon and this evening because of the holiday travel. In several instances trains were run in two sections in order to handle the vast number of passengers.

Winslow W. Lucas stage manager for "Lightning" returned to his home on Starr street today, where he will spend a week with his family. Mr. Lucas was stage manager at the Lyceum and Capitol theatres until he accepted his present position about a year ago.

The Midway Shopmen's baseball team will play the New Haven shopteam in this city Saturday. Midway defeated the New Haven team when they last met, 20 to 5.

New London will have one of the most pretentious Memorial days it has had in recent years insofar as a parade makes that occasion pretentious tomorrow. The procession will be made up of representatives of the army, the navy, the state coast artillery, the local American Legion, Foreign Wars veterans, disabled World war veterans, Spanish war Veterans, Sons of Veterans and the Grand Army veterans. The procession will form at the head of State street at 10 o'clock, daylight saving time, and will move promptly, going down State street to the soldiers' and sailors' monument, where the column will countermarch, and then proceed direct to the cemeteries.

No one could say this evening whether the marching hosts would be reviewed by the executive authorities of the city, though in past years the members of the council and the mayor have witnessed the passing of the regiments from the balcony of the city hall. There will be a police escort for the troops and good music for the marchers. The graves of the soldier and sailor dead in the cemeteries have all been marked with flags so that they can be easily found. At Cedar Grove cemetery Rev. J. E. Lee will deliver an oration. Colonel Henry S. Dorsey will be the marshal and he has appointed Dr. Joseph M. Ganey as chief of staff with William L. Davies, Gordon Bishop and Robert A. Keefe as aides. Good weather will make the day a memorable one.

The railroad companies are again making an effort to stop the theft of coal from their premises, as every year the roads lose a large quantity of coal through thefts. Today a half dozen men were taken into custody by special officers of the Central Vermont road, but there was no evidence to convict them and they were discharged. Coal dealers claim that they are habitually in receipt of less coal than they buy and that they have no redress from the railroad companies. The roads claim that the dealers get all the coal that is shipped in the cars.

Ernest R. Hasse of Meridian street is visiting relatives at his former home in Barre, Vt. It is Mr. Hasse's first visit to the place of his birth in ten years.

One automobile truck located at the submarine base and an unidentified automobile were in collision this morning on Bank street. The damage was of little consequence.

Mrs. John Vogeltanz of Oakdale, Robert Brigham of Waterford, Mrs. John McMahon and baby of Niantic, Mrs. Edward Roder and baby of Groton, Mrs. Charles Sizer and baby of Moore avenue and Fred Jensen of Ashaway, R. I., patients at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, were discharged today.

Sidney H. Miner has sold a tract of land on Bayonet street to Alexander and Anella Damanowaski.

JEWETT CITY

The musicale and patriotic entertainment for the benefit of St. Mary's church, given by the pupils of the Sisters of the Holy Ghost, St. Mary's school at Finn Opera House Wednesday evening was the best ever given by the scholars. The children in the drill were trained to were to perfection, every motion being done in such unison that it was as if done by one person. With anywhere from 24 to more than 30 in each drill, painstaking and continuous work could only produce such perfect results, and it was the same with the music and recitations. It was quite an unusual sight to see ten youthful violinists handle their instruments so well, and without a discord. In the drill, Our Youthful Patriots, as 24 girls in Red Cross nurse costumes and boys in khaki knelt before Columbia and Uncle Sam and Peace, and recited with such earnest expression the verses all closing with Lest We Forget, it was a lesson that came close to the hearts of everyone present. The programme was as follows:

Overture, Caliph of Bagdad, piano trio, Vivian McLaughlin, Helen Kilbosa, Teresa Foley; Chant Francais, piano, Sophie Ambot; dialogue, The New Baby, Gerard Masse, Helen Shea; motion song, Follow Me; The Fairy Waltz, violin, John McKenna, John Oropello, Edmund Arasim, Lena Howeson; piano, Irene and Louise Cadieux; drill, Our Youthful Patriots, piano, Eva Brisson; Tyrolean dance, duet, John Jacobs, Elsie Jacobs; dialogue, I am Good, I am Bad, Claire Potts, Catherine Brisson; Chanta Francais, Leosa Cyr, accompanied by Nathalie Harpin; Le Reve Passe, violin, Stanley, Miss Alice Cadieux, Olivine Cadieux, Lauretta Alley; piano, Vivian McLaughlin; recitation, My Son, Claire Shea; Bewitching Fairy, piano trio, Stella Glovacki, Catherine Jodoin, Ellen Dawley; drill, Revel of the Naiads, first party, Morning Praises to the Sun; second part, groups, liberty group, good fellowship group, benediction group; third part, The Muses: Epics, history, tragedy, lyrics, love songs, dancing, astronomy, comedy, sacred things, all muses; fourth part, Hoop dance; fifth part, Evening Praises to the Sun, Farewell dance, piano by Vivian McLaughlin; violin, Stanley Miss; Clayton's Grand March, violin, Tadeaus Arabic, Laurence Otoson, Theodore Morey, Joseph Ruszinas, Bertha Ruszinas, Paul Ambot; piano by Teresa Foley; recitation, The Last Hymn, Eileen Walsh; comedy in one act, Train to Mauro; Mr. Knight, railway clerk, Linwood Mort; Mrs. Buttermilk, country lady, Alice Sullivan; Johnnie Buttermilk, terrible child, Thomas Wakely.

Floating Water Lilies, piano trio, Violet Harris, Laura Sadowski, Mary Cholewa; recitation, One of the Heroes, Helen McLaughlin; Martha, violin, Stanley Miss, Alice Cadieux, Olivine Cadieux, Lauretta Allen, piano, Helen Kilbosa; Valley Forge, play in one act: Characters, George Washington, general of the army, Linwood Mort; Jim, Francis McLaughlin; Allen, John McCarthy; Frank, John Driscoll; Uly, James Foley, soldier quartet; Mike, sick Irish soldier, Geo. Ritchie; Sambo, faithful negro camp follower, Roy Ritchie; Little Mag, angel of Valley Forge, Eva Brisson; sentinel, Eugene Gutnecht; British spy, Armand Gilbert; soldiers.

Miss Nellie Connell has as her guests at the St. Mary's school entertainment eight girls from the Baltic Academy. They were Verna Raill, Josephine Ruszenas, May Barry, Arlene Healy, Rose Depathy, Lucy Lapenta, Rose Monnesela and Helen Neidermeyer.

Alexander Powers went to Boston on Tuesday where he has entered the employ of R. H. White Co.

The body of John Burdick has arrived from the Veterans' hospital in Greeneville, North Carolina and will be given a military burial in the Jewett City cemetery during the exercises there this (Wednesday) morning.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Browning of New Bedford, Mass., are enjoying a visit at the Browning farm in Pachaug. Dr. Browning was pleased to visit Mt. Vernon lodge Monday evening. Dr. F. D. Browning of this place was acting master and conferred the fellowshaft degree. Both Dr. Brownings are dentists.

The Jewett City Greenhouses will be closed all day Thursday.—adv.

A regulation ring squad will perform military service at the memorial ceremony at each cemetery and at the Lisbon bridge when flowers are cast upon the waters of the Quinebaug.

The many friends of Mrs. Anna Cummins who has been a frequent visitors at Miss M. A. Burdick's were very sorry to read in Tuesday's Bulletin of her loss caused by the fire in Brooklyn, Conn., Monday afternoon. Many went from here to view the ruins.

Miss Sarah Romaine is confined to her bed, ill with pneumonia.

The hostesses for the year for the Baptist Ladies Aid society are Mrs. Francis Campbell, Miss Ruby Thornton, Mrs. Samuel Cathcart, Mrs. N. J. Babcock, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Mrs. Benj. Gardner, Miss Alice A. Brown, Mrs. E. E. Scates and Mrs. Harvey Kennedy. The flowers committee is Miss Alice Brown and works committee, Mrs. Emma Raney, Mrs. Kennedy and Miss Thornton.

Mrs. James Brooks of Andover, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milne and two children of Boston., were callers in town Tuesday. Old friends were recalling with pleasure the Thompson girls, Elmina and Bertha, both teachers in the Riverside Grammar school a few years ago.

A large audience attended the interesting and impressive ceremonies at St. Mary's church Sunday evening, which included the reception of the new candidates into the senior and junior Sodalites of the Blessed Virgin. The hymn Mother, Dear, Oh Pray for Me, by the children's choir, was preceded by the Entree, grand chorus. The candidates were then received by Rev. John J. McCabe, pastor of the church, followed by Veni Sancte Spiritus. The impressive sermon of the evening to the Blessed Virgin was delivered by Rev. Fr. Shelley, M. S., after which there was a solo, Ave Maria. The solemn benediction was given by Rev. John Roux, M. S., of Danielson, as celebrant, Father Shelley, M. S., deacon, and Rev. James J. Tyler, subdeacon. The program closed with the Recessional March, Romaine.

The new senior members are Catherine Moriarty, Mary Moriarty, Ida Marion, Aurore Nadeau, Grace McElligott, Kathleen Shugrue, Elizabeth McGovern, Regina Gutknecht, Dorilda Lafleche, Anna Walsh, Cleo Couture, Leoza Cyr, Lillian Pepin, Vivian McLaughlin, Thedosa Foley, Genevieve Favola, Nathalie Harpin, Irene Casavant, Rosana Gobiel, Agnes McGovern, Louisiana Menard.

The junior members: Alice Sullivan, Claire Gerard, Eileen McNally, Theresa McNally, Blanche Nichols, Bertha Ruszinas, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Helen McLaughlin; Helen Minski, Elleen Walsh, Lillian Dugas, Margaret Labonte, Mary Cholewa, Mary Blake, Mary McDermott, Alice Gagnon, Aldea Chretien, Leda Pariseau, Helen Dumbrowski, Lillian Lachapelle, Elsie Jacobs, Emma Couture, Lena Howeson, Eva Brisson, Florida Cormier, Anna Shea, Rose Marinello, Florence Marinello, Antenella Marinello, Sophia Ambot, Cecilia Zavestoska, Helen Baldyga, Deling Lefevre, Irene Cadieux, Louise Cadieux, Rena Vachon, Emily Miss, Josephine Kargul, Irene Morancey, Arlene Stamand, Eva Duff, Frances Kolbusz, Mary Roe Marion, Doris Couture, Annie Graska.

SOUTH KILLINGLY

George Pierce and family of North Sterling called on E. J. Hall Sunday.

Felix Lefleur of Danielson called on local friends Thursday. Mr. Lefleur lived on the Pike place several years before going to Danielson.

The Camp Fire Girls of Danielson gave an entertainment in Grange hall Friday evening. The evening was made most enjoyable by a short play, music and a social hour. There was also an ice cream sale. The proceeds will be added to the Community house fund.

The usual Memorial day exercises were held in the church Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. B. Williams gave the address. A. P. Burne of Danielson sang, and there was also music by East Killingly band. Many former residents were in town for the exercises and to greet friends of former days.

Misses Ada and Myra Spaulding of Auburn, R. I., spent the week end at Spaulding cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Forcier entertained relatives from Providence Sunday.

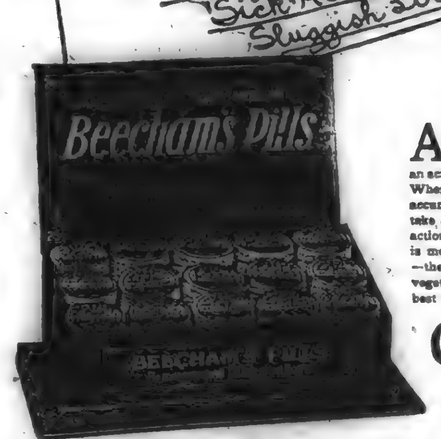
Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Kent of Manchester, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. John Crowley of Valley Falls were Sunday visitors at A. E. Phillips'.

"Worth a Dollar a Dose"

HAVE FILLED AT ANY DRUG STORE

℞ Beecham's Pills as directed for Constipation Indigestion Sick Headache Sluggish Liver

40 pills - 25cts.
90 pills - 50cts.



The RELIABLE Family Medicine for 80 Years

A CLEAR BRAIN, keen appetite, clear complexion, pure blood, and a strong, active body, are outward and inward evidence of a good digestion, an active liver, and regular and thorough bowel function. When the system becomes impaired and sluggish with accumulated waste matter, the first thing to do is to take a corrective that brings about natural but prompt action of the digestive and eliminative organs. Nothing is more effective for this purpose than Beecham's Pills—the RELIABLE family medicine for 80 years. Purely vegetable, tasteless, easy and pleasant to take—safe and best for children, as well as adults.

Come to Us for Beecham's Pills

—the VERY BEST Cathartic

NORWICH	CHARLES C. TREAT Franklin Street near Willow	H. C. MURRAY CO. Willimantic, Conn.	GEORGE FARLEY'S PHARMACY 171 Providence St.
JAMES H. DUNN 50 Main Street	UTLEY & JONES 149 Main Street	CHAS. DE VILLERS 873 Main Street	PROVIDENCE STREET PHARMACY Putnam, Conn.
ENGLER'S BROADWAY PHARMACY Cor. Broadway and Main Street	WILLIMANTIC	THE WILSON DRUG CO. 723 Main Street	DANIELSON
LEROU'S PHARMACY 289 Main St. Opp. Chelsea Bank	BAY STATE DRUG CO. Willimantic, Conn.	WILSON'S WINDHAM PHARMACY 730 Main Street	THE M. H. BERTHIAUME PHARMACY Opp. Post Office
RATHBONE'S DRUG STORE 133 West Main St.	CURRAN & FLYNN Cor. Main and Railroad Sts.	PUTNAM	A. A. BONEVILLE Car Building
WILLIAM D. RICKER 276 West Main St.	THE J. J. HICKEY DRUG CO. 84 Union Street	EDWARD H. BURT 81 Main Street	BURROUGHS DRUG STORE 92 Main Street
SISK'S DRUG STORE Franklin Square	J. W. LAVALLIE & CO. 700 Main Street	JAMES F. DONAHUE 134 Main Street	WOODWARD'S DRUG STORE Danielson, Conn.
THE SMITH PHARMACY, Inc. 205 Main St.		GEO. E. DRESSER Main Street

After Every Meal

WRIGLEY'S

The Great American Sweetmeat

Top off your meals with WRIGLEY'S and give your stomach a lift.

It aids digestion—it provides the "bit of sweet" in beneficial form.

Helps to cleanse the teeth and keep them healthy.

WRIGLEY'S pays very big dividends on a very small investment.

It's the best chewing gum that can be made and it comes wax-wrapped to keep it in good condition.

D2

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

MARRIED.

HAY—HIGGINS—In Occum, May 29, 1923, by Rev. Frederic DesSureault, Earl Ray of Taftville and Miss Mabel Agnes Higgins of Occum.

HYDE—REKOSKI—In Webster, Mass., May 23, 1923, by Rev. Anthony A. Cyran, Lawrence Joseph Hyde, formerly of Norwich, and Miss Mary Barbara Rekoski of Webster.

DIED

BEAUSEJOUR—In Taftville, May 29, 1923, Opalmai, daughter of Joseph and Hermine Beausejour, aged 7 months.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MYERS—In Occum, May 29, 1923, Philip Myers aged 73 years.
Funeral at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Virtunne Peloquin, in Occum, Thursday, May 31, at 8.30 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. Joseph's church at 9 a. m. Burial in Danielson.

YOUNG—At his home in Jewett City, May 27, 1923, Alfred Avery Young, in the 63d year of his age.
Funeral service at his home in Jewett City on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, daylight time. It is kindly requested that there be no flowers.

MALVEY—Entered into rest, in Norwich, May 27, 1923, Ella Rist, wife of William H. McKelvey, aged 50 years.
Funeral services at St. James' Episcopal church, Poquetanuck, Wednesday, May 30, at 3 p. m. (D. S. T.) Burial in Poquetanuck cemetery.

Church & Allen
18 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
323 Main Street
Phone 186-3 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
68 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 419-3
DAVID M. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Est. 1866. Providence St., Taftville.

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON
ALBERTUS F. WOOD
Funeral Director and Embalmer
PHONE 147 DANIELSON

WILLIMANTIC
Avery & Van Zandt
Successing
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
30 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 230 (Lady Assistant)

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
814 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 141-2

FLORISTS

FERNS, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 334-2. Free delivery. apr14

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAD, Architect, Room 5, May Building, buildings, supervisions, appraisals. Tel. 1454

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Dry slab wood. Phone 1541-5. may21d

COAL, seasoned wood and kindlings, in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 586 or 1328-2. R. Shapiro, Willow St. may19d

FOR SALE—Wht enameled mixed flake; also for summer. H. H. Beard & Son. Tel. 616-4. apr19d

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—A bankbook with $10 bill. Finder kindly leave at Norwich Savings Society Bank. may30d

FOUND—Sunday, sum of money. Owner call at 472 Main St. may30d

FOUND—On Broadway, Monday afternoon, squirrel necklace. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Phone 1139. may29d

LOST—Friday, gold brass, between Chapel Square and City line; name'd. Clarence Simpson, Am. Woolen Co., Thamesville. may29d

LOST—A brown cow, with white and red calf, since May 26. George Dugas, Versailles. may29d

LOST—Sum of money, between Plainfield and Moosup. Reward if left at this office. may29d

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St. rear Broadway. Papering, 10c. Ins. 9c; borders, furniture, 5c per foot. Mrs. T. B. McClenahan, Mgr. jan14d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Shirt manufacturer wants agents to sell shirts, direct to wearer; earn big money; be your own boss; no experience or capital required. Write for free samples. Madison Mills, 507 Broadway, New York. jan25MWF

WANTED—Young married man for a selling proposition; salary and commission. Mr. Lynch, 37 Broadway, second floor. Call between 8-9 and 5-6. may30d

WANTED—Good reliable man on dairy farm. W. C. Terry, R. D. No. 3, Norwich, Conn. Tel. 109-2 Jewett City. may30d

WANTED—Man to help putting up awnings. J. W. Mallett, 30 Market St. may29d

WANTED—Man to drive ice wagon in Plainfield; married man preferred; have tenement and good wages for right party. Frank A. Evans. may29d

WANTED—Lawns to clean up, floors waxed, gardening, etc. C. H. Graves, H. Walmsley, 165 Franklin St. Tel. 2347. may30d

WANTED—Position as chauffeur; experienced. Write Box 309, Bulletin. may29d

WANTED—Three or four men in wood turning shop. Apply L. M. Hartson Co., Chestnut St. may29d

WANTED—Building laborers; open shop conditions; 50 cents per hour. Second floor, 103 Elm St., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED—Teamsters and laborers at sawmill. Frank A. Phillips, 165 Church St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 805. may24d

WANTED—Carpenter helpers and laborers. Turner Construction Co., American Woolen Mill, Thamesville. may24d

WANTED—A man on dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 14-4.

WANTED—A man for general farm work; pay $60 a month and home rent, firewood and milk. George Wells & Son, between South Windham and Willimantic. Phone 377-12. may24d

WANTED—Academy student, at Fagan's Smoke Shop.

WANTED
NIGHT HELP
FOR DYE HOUSE
American Woolen Company
NORWICH MILL

WANTED
Boys To Carry
Bulletin Routes.
INQUIRE AT
The Bulletin Office

WANTED—Female

WANTED—At once, helping housekeeper; must be good cook; good position; Canadian preferred. Apply 50 Golden St. may19d

WANTED—Fancy ironer; good wages to right party. Gregson's Cleaning and Dyeing. may30d

WANTED—Chambermaid. Apply to Wauregan Hotel. may30d

WANTED—Woman or girl for plain cooking by the day or by the week. Telephone 1435. may30d

WANTED—At once, competent second girl; also a laundress; good wages. Apply Matron, 99 Washington St. may29d

WANTED—Young lady over 18 to work in store. Apply in person. Ye Chocolate Shoppe. may29d

WANTED—A chambermaid, also a table girl. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 43-2. may28d

WANTED—Maid for general housework. Tel. 1763 or apply 118 Washington St. may26d

WANTED—Competent cook willing to go to Eastern Point this summer. Apply Mrs. J. Ralph Howe. Tel. 450. may22d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 65 Broadway. may19d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Bellas Spa. may9d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may9d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Bellas Lunch. may3d

WANTED
TWO GIRLS
For Light, Clean Work
TROY STEAM LAUNDRY

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS
THE TIME WILL COME
When You Will Need Ready Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not
BE PREPARED
Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed note. Call, write or Phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 206, THAYER BUILDING
16 FRANKLIN STREET

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 509-12. jan10d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Jobbing, 56 West Main St. Phone 481. jan31d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—A good second hand sewing machine, a good second hand three-burner oil stove. Box 696, Bulletin. may30d

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, Box 389, Norwich. jan25MWF

KIN-YA BEET ET?—A gent from Fitchville told me he crossed a rubber plant with the regular grass 'n' it made it rainproof, but by ginks, see he, one of our cows fell down t'other day an' she bounded all over the meds. Sum pipe for 75c, Manila cigars six for 25c, After Dinner cigar, mild, 5c straight. Fagan's Smoke Shop. may29d

WANTED—A six-room cottage, with small garden, in a village or near a trolley line. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

WANTED—A two-tenement dwelling on easy payment plan. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

WANTED—Country board, two weeks beginning about June 9; state terms, etc. W. S. Pitts, 1420 74th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. may28d

WANTED—Strippers and general card room help. The E. E. Hilliard Co., Buckland, Conn. may28d

WANTED—Woolen weavers. Apply The E. E. Hilliard Co., Buckland, Conn. may28d

WONDERFUL new book for office men and women sent free; new plan helps increase your efficiency and pays you profit at the same time; read "The Broader Horizon," mailed you without obligation; don't miss it. Just address Desk 21, Baker-Goodyear Co., First National Bank Bldg., New Haven, Conn. may28d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chenelli, Agt., 100 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2168. feb21d

WANTED—Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-5. jan11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and second try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 21 Market St. Phone 587-2. 17d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 66 Franklin St. Phone 717-2. jan31d

IF IT'S JUNK
sell it to the Mutual Waste and Metal Co., where you get the most for Scrap Iron, Scrap Metal, Rags, Paper, Magazines, etc. We call and remove same promptly. 319 West Main Street, Telephone 2275.

WANTED
EXPERIENCED DRESSER TENDER. APPLY—
JOSEPH HALL & SON, INC.,
TRADING COVE MILL.

WANTED
SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE. BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

TO RENT

TO RENT—Seven-room cottage at Groton Long Point; all improvements; $350 for season. A. H. Disco, 11 Oak St., Norwich, Conn. may30d

FOR RENT—Four-room tenement, gas and electric light. A. V. Covello, 198 Clio St. Tel. 1527-3. may29d

TO RENT—Large furnished room, suitable for one or two gentlemen. 49 Church St. may28d

TO RENT—Tenement, five rooms, 86 Cliff St. Apply 9 Elm St. may29d

TO RENT—Desk room in Disco Bldg., reasonable. Z., care of Bulletin. may28d

TO RENT—One store, 22x40, 90 Main St., Plainfield. Inquire Theodore Rollins, Plainfield. may28d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms, 5 North Main St. may24d

TO RENT — Apartment, lower floor, three rooms and bath, 175 Broadway. may23d

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement, upstairs, steam heat, bath, gas and electricity. Inquire 79 Hamilton Ave. may22d

TO RENT—Beautiful modern apartment at 50 Broad St., steam heat furnished and hot water supplied all year round. Inquire Talking Machine Shop, or your agent. may21d

COTTAGE for rent; Giants Neck, seven-room cottage, conveniences, near bathing beach, June to Sept., $500; large old house, near beach, boating, fishing, garden and garage, long season, $150; shore lots overlooking sound, excellent bathing, boating and fishing, $200 up, easy payments. Box 304, Niantic, Conn. Tel. 38-5. may12d

TO RENT—Store on Main St., Moosup, Conn. Apply to Nathan Nulman, Moosup. may6d

TO RENT
221 BROADWAY
15-ROOM RESIDENCE
AND 2-CAR GARAGE
Steam Heated.
Apply on the Premises.

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping, trucks for hire, 25 Cliff St. or Occum. Tel. 617-12.

Est. 1874. Tel. 178.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving.
Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLYN, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1538-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1341.

TEAMING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 263 Main St. Phone 792.

C. B. BROMLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 335.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet), Suite 7-8 Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1386-4. jan31d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—New milch cow, with calf. D. J. Connelly. Phone 897-14. may30d

FOR SALE—One Richmond kitchen range, also one Detroit vapor stove, which burns either kerosene, gasoline or alcohol. Phone 412-4. may30d

FOR SALE—50 clumps of choice dahlias; having lost their tags, I will sell while they last 15 tubers for $1. Write Mrs. Daniel C. Brown, R. D., Mystic. may23WSWS

FOR SALE—A small business, paying excellent returns. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

FOR SALE—Several small farms on easy payment plans. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. may29d

FOR SALE—25 loads of native stone; could be delivered at once. George Peck, Norwich Town. Tel. 1267-3. may29d

BARGAIN in a small house; small amount of cash required; five minutes' walk from center of city. Coates, Broker, 68 Broadway. may25TuW

FOR SALE—Two new milch cows, 32 quarts a day, calves by side. Phone 1704. may26d

FOR SALE—At Crescent Beach, waterfront, stucco house of eight rooms, including all furniture (five bedrooms), electric lights, running water, garage one car; price $8,000; will rent June 1 to Oct. 1, $800. Phone 876. may23d

FOR SALE—Farm in the town of Lebanon, 87 acres, 50 for plowing, best of land, no stones, nice orchards, 200 nice peach trees, apples, cherries; eight-room house, good barn, a good lake on the farm; the best farm in Lebanon; the price is a bargain for quick sale. Address 297 Pleasant St., Willimantic, Conn. may28d

FOR SALE—First class player-piano. Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 963-4. may26d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $10.
A slightly used $135 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.
A $150 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.
A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $40, our price $30.
An upright Fischer piano, in fine condition, $75.
Talking Machine Shop, 51-54 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Upright piano in good playing condition; only $35, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Regular $625 Kroeger slightly used upright piano in perfect playing condition; very special, $235, on easy weekly terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Mahogany cabinet model talking machine, with six double faced records, complete for $69.50; easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chenelli, Agt., 100 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr16d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer. $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR SALE
6-room cottage, all improvements, 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. Today, $3,800.
7-room bungalow, new. An expensive house for less than cost.
10-room bungalow. No better built in Norwich. Located central. Price right.
2-apartment house near Chelsea Parade. First class condition. Large lot and garage. Good investment at price, $8,000.
Beautiful estate with large grounds. First class condition. Fine residential property. Price $20,000.
GROVER & BURDICK
2 MARKET STREET Phone 1525-2

FOR SALE
No. 56 Spruce Street, 9 rooms and 2 baths. Price reasonable. Can be arranged for 2 apartments. Possession given immediately. Inquire of owner
J. J. CORKERY

FOR SALE
Team Wagon — A good post-built team wagon, in first class condition—$175.00.
FRANK S. GARDNER, Est.
749 Ocean Avenue, New London

FOR SALE
ATTRACTIVE SUMMER COTTAGE, AT BEST VIEW
Ideal Summer Location
Immediate Possession
House has electric lights, running water, modern plumbing, hardwood floors, and is plastered, has heating system and may be occupied the entire year.
PRICE $7,000
JAMES L. CASE
Tel. 876 40 SHETUCKET ST.

FOR SALE
A choice farm, located within five miles of Norwich, consisting of about 400 acres of land, about one-half can be put under cultivation, balance pasture and woodland, will easily cut over 6,000 cords of wood, besides a huge lot of timber. This farm must be sold and priced low. Fine large house in fine shape, as are outbuildings. All tools and machinery included. A great opportunity for someone. For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

FOR SALE
Fine residence on Washington St., with over two acres land; a rare bargain.
New modern bungalow, Laurel Hill; the price is right.
New six-room house, with garage, for $4,200.
Two houses, with three acres land, Gales Ferry, $4,000; fine river view.
Archa W. Coit
287 Main St.
Phones 2288 and 1596. may26d

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
AT CRESCENT BEACH
Eight-room furnished modern cottage, with one-car garage and three bathing houses, in one of the choicest locations on the waterfront; house has recently been finished in stucco and is a great chance for someone to get a choice summer home at a very reasonable price.
For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
NORWICH.

FOR QUICK SALE
7-room house, all improvements, near Backus hospital, bargain at $7,500.
2-tenement house, North Cliff St., $3,750.
A beautiful cottage on Williams St., also garage, lot 150x200.
Double house, Sachem St., large lot, 14 rooms, all improvements, garage, $12,000.
4-family brick house, High St., $7,000.
Beautiful home, Spring Garden Ave., $8,250.
2-apartment house, Spring Garden Ave., $8,000.
Many others, all sections.
210-acre farm, Jewett City, 8-room house, all necessary outbuildings, 11 head cattle, 100 hens, hay, tools, wagons, etc.; for quick sale $6,500; attractive mortgage.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Thayer Bldg.
Real Estate, Insurance, Investments.

FOR SALE
A tenement block, with improvements; always well rented, and centrally located; price right if sold at once.
Six-room cottage, all improvements, including heat, in excellent condition, built about 10 years, will sell for $4,000; same is located 15 minutes' walk from Franklin Square.
Brick block on West Side, with two stores and two tenements; good investment; price $7,500; will arrange liberal loan.
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones. Norwich, Conn.

LESS THAN ONE SEASON'S RENT
for summer cottage will make cash payment on this 30-acre state road farm, bordering on river, fish pond, fine old maple shade, old-fashioned six-room house, hardwood floors, open fireplace, all buildings in first class repair, for $3,300, $500 cash.
TRYONS' AGENCY,
may26d Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
$9,500 will buy five-apartment house, with one store, rent for $118 monthly, with gas and electric light large lot, on Main St., five minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO.
Tel. 1527-3. 198 Cliff St.

AUCTIONS

FRANK T. MAPLES.....Auctioneer
AUCTION
FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923,
at 9.30, standard time,
at Captain Maples' farm, at East Great Plain, 1 1-2 miles from Norwich, 4 sheep, 1 dry cow, geese and gowlings, two-horse spring harrow, 1 hay cutter, platform scale, 1 swivel plow, 1 horse plow, several pairs wagon wheels and axles, small tools, shovels, forks, crowbars, 2 crosscut saws, etc.
Bureaus, sewing machine, dishes, beds, tables, stands, screen doors, pictures, jugs and others too numerous to mention.
Antiques: Chairs, tables, stands, high-boy, pewter, brass, corner cupboard, mirrors, pictures, etc. may29d

STANTON L. BRIGGS.....Auctioneer
Telephone Willimantic 1269.
AUCTION
I will sell at public auction at my farm, known as the King farm, in the Town of Franklin, on the road leading from Yantic to Lebanon, at what is known as Mason Hill, on MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1923,
at 9 a. m., standard time,
the following property, without reserve or limit:
One 1915 Cadillac touring car, 4 new cord tires, this car is just overhauled and in fine condition.
LIVESTOCK, TOOLS, ETC.
Eleven good cows, some new milch and near springers, balance to freshen in early fall; 1 registered Jersey bull, 2 years old (tuberculin tested); 1 good horse, 8 years old, weight 1450 lbs.; 1 horse, weight 1400 lbs.; 1 six months old bird dog, a good bred one; 1 eight h. p. gasoline engine with saw attachment mounted; No. 11 Blizzard blower, nearly new team wagon, new dump cart body, 1 one-horse dump cart, 1 Ford truck body, new, mowing machine, horse rake, nearly new manure spreader, weeder, plows, logging boat, disc harrow, cultivators, tackle block, 40 ft. extension ladder, 40 R. I. hens, 1 set heavy team harness, new; new single heavy harness, several tons hay, forks, hoes, shovels, iron bars, chains, and other articles far too numerous to mention.
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE
Dining room set, 5 bedroom sets, roller top desk, black walnut center table, rocking chairs, kitchen range, 3 other stoves, tables, stands, carpets, pictures, dishes, lamps, and all other furniture of name and nature.
Owner's Statement: As I have sold my farm and am moving away, everything must be sold for the high dollar.
JAMES YERRINGTON.
Caterer in attendance. Terms cash. If stormy, sale next fair day. may8MWS

SHOE REPAIRING

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIRING CO., 36 Franklin St. Be wise and have your work done by hand, not machinery, as it is better and will last longer. Shoes made for all deformities. may5d apr19d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 65 Franklin St. may19d

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand. J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

COOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Small pony, two years old; will sell cheap. 83 Pratt St. may30d

FOR SALE—One pair of team horses, weight 2800. Inquire of Thomas Mellen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-12 Jewett City. may29d

JUST ARRIVED.
My Horses are here, and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.
ELMER R. PIERSON,
Tel. 636-5. apr14d

POULTRY

FOR SALE—Mammoth Pekin ducklings and hatching eggs. Cumpstone, Norwich Road, Waterford. Tel. 835-3 New London. may29d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; gas proof fasteners; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. Phone 758-14 New London. feb3d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. S. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec29d

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Ford touring car, 1916, first class condition, paint, tires, $175 cash; private party. P. W. Pelham, Central Village, Conn. may30d

FOR SALE—Buick four touring, good condition, $250. R. Lambert, Baltic. may30d

FOR SALE—Velie roadster in O. K. mechanical condition. Inquire Con's Garage, Falls Ave. may30d

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in good condition. Tel. 1642-4. may29d

FOR SALE—A new 1923 five-passenger Chevrolet sedan. Phone 1655. may29d

FOR SALE—Two-ton Indiana truck. Inquire of Thomas Mellen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-12 Jewett City may29d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your cars; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 376 Main St. Phone 1449-4. Night phone, 1006-13. apr17d

FOR SALE—Overland coupe. Call after 2 o'clock. Bachmann, 14 Carter Ave. may28d

FOR SALE—'21 Ford coupe, '17 Dodge touring with winter top, '22 Gardner touring, '21 Paige 6-66 touring, '22 Hupmobile sedan, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. may18d

FOR SALE—1919 Cadillac coupe, fine condition, price reasonable. Phone 865. may8d

AUTO PARTS
A few of the many cars wrecked for the parts.

DODGE	MAXWELL
FORD	REO
OVERLAND	DORT
STUDEBAKER	G. M. C.
CHALMERS	AND OTHERS

NORWICH AUTO WRECKING COMPANY
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
PHONE 2110

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-13

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

AUTO PAINTING—L. H. Corey, 366 Laurel Hill Ave. Phone 567-14. may26SMWS

AUTO TOPS and painting; up-to-date shop and skilled help; if you need our services, come to see us. Norwich Auto Trimming and Paint Shop, Majestic Bldg., top floor. Tel. 2114. may4d

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct13

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Joe Agrarian, Fond St. Phone 1397. mar16d

This is the time to have us put the radiator in A-1 shape for the coming season. Have us clean the radiator, stop all leaks, strengthen where vibration is affecting it, remove dents and other injuries.
Skilled service in every phase of radiator service, at moderate cost.
WILLIAM E. SHANLEY

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

BEAUTY PARLOR

HAIR DYED
It is no obligation to us if you come in and ask about our Hair Dyeing in any shade, and is guaranteed.
MME. LACKENBACH'S
BEAUTY SALON
3 WASHINGTON SQUARE

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

LEGAL NOTICE

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF NORWICH, CONN.

To either Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn., GREETING:
You are hereby directed to warn the electors of the City of Norwich to assemble in CITY MEETING in the several voting districts in said City as by law provided to wit:
FIRST VOTING DISTRICT—At the Town Hall in the Court House Building.
SECOND VOTING DISTRICT—At 12 Thames Street, in the P. J. O'Connor Block.
THIRD VOTING DISTRICT—At 325 Central Avenue.
SIXTH VOTING DISTRICT—At No. 1 Hamilton Avenue.
on MONDAY, JUNE 4th, 1923, at 5.30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (5.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), to choose by ballot two Aldermen, four Common Councilmen, a Clerk, a Collector, and two Water Commissioners for the term of two years each, and also a Treasurer and two Sheriffs for the term of one year each. Voting machines will be used under the provisions of the laws of the State of Connecticut.
Said meeting will be open in each of the districts at 5.30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (5.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), for the purpose of voting for said City Officers, and shall continue open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), for said purpose, when the polls in each of the several Districts shall be closed.
And at 8 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), in said Town Hall the estimates of the City's expenses for the current fiscal year as made by the Court of Common Council of said City at a meeting held on May 21st, 1923, will be submitted to said City Meeting for action thereon, and there will also be submitted to said meeting for action the estimates for special matters presented to said Court of Common Council in the report of the Committee on Finance at said meeting held May 21st, 1923, viz.:

1—Equipment, street department	$5,000.00
2—Concrete paving, Rose place	1,400.00
3—Macadamizing Central avenue	10,000.00
4—Macadamizing West Main street, Thames square to City line	10,000.00
5—Macadamizing Elmwood avenue	4,000.00
6—Improvement Geer avenue	1,500.00
7—Sewer in Booth street from Cliff street to North Cliff street	2,500.00
8—Sewer in Brook street, North street from Hickory street to East Baltic street, Hickory street from Baltic street to North street, and from Hickory street to end of present sewer in Lake street playground	27,000.00
9—Extra street lighting (White Way)	2,000.00
10—Sewer in Burton avenue from Mowry avenue to Smith avenue	1,000.00
	$64,600.00

Also at said time and place to lay a tax on the City Grand List last made and perfected to meet the expenses of the City upon the estimates approved and the appropriations authorized by said City Meeting to be made from the City Treasury; also to fix the compensation of the Collector of said tax; also to act upon the list of abatements of taxes made by the Mayor and Aldermen of said City to be presented at said meeting; also to authorize and sanction the temporary borrowing for the Gas and Electric Department of the City in anticipation of its ordinary revenue of such gas or sums not exceeding in the aggregate $25,000 as may be necessary from time to time to pay the running expenses of said department; said sum or sums so to be borrowed to be repaid, principal and interest, before the end of the present fiscal year from the revenues of said department; also to determine whether or not the assessments made by the Court of Common Council on the 4th day of December, 1922, for street sprinkling shall be abated; also to authorize and sanction the borrowing by the City of such sum or sums of money not exceeding $225,000 as may be needed from time to time to make the improvements and discharge the obligations and expenses authorized by said meeting, and to determine the time within which repayment shall be made of the sum or sums of money so to be borrowed.
Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 24th day of May, A. D. 1923.
MILO R. WATERS,
Mayor of the City of Norwich, Conn.

State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., Norwich, May 24th, 1923.
I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is the warrant and warning directed to me for service by publication.
Attest: ABRAHAM SIEGEL,
A Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn.
may25MWThFS

NOTICE TO BUILDERS

Sealed proposals to build a wooden addition to the Ogeco School Building, 24x14, one story, will be received until Saturday, June 9th, 1923. Plans and specifications may be seen by applying to A. J. Dixon, Oneco, Conn. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.
Address all bids to A. J. DIXON,
Chairman, Oneco, Conn. may30d

SARAH H. MIGKINS VS. WILLIAM H. MIGKINS. Order of Notice.
State of Connecticut, County of New London, May 22, 1923.
Upo nthe complaint of the said Sarah H. Migkins, claiming, for the reasons therein set forth, a divorce, returnable on the first Tuesday of June, 1923, before the Superior Court in and for said County.
It appearing to and being found by the subscribing authority that the said defendant, William H. Migkins, is absent from this State—gone to parts unknown.
It Is Therefore Ordered, That notice of the pendency of said complaint be given said defendant by publishing this order in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper printed in Norwich, Conn., two days, successively, commencing on or before the 24th day of May, 1923.
JOHN R. WALKER,
Temporary Clerk of the Superior Court for New London County. may23d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Montville, within and for the District of Montville, on the 28th day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—DAN D. HOME, Judge.
Estate of Charles Masurkowitz, late of Montville, in said District, deceased.
William Masurkowitz of Montville appeared in Court and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that administration upon said estate, alleged to be intestate, may be granted.
Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in Montville, in said District, on the 4th day of June, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least five days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.
DAN D. HOME, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: SUSAN F. PLOUFFE,
may30d Clerk.

DISTRICT OF MONTVILLE, ss. Court of Probate, May 28th, 1923.
Estate of John Mahoney, late of Montville, in said District, deceased.
The Administrator having exhibited his administration account with said estate to this Court for allowance, It Is Ordered, That the 4th day of June, A. D. 1923, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Probate Office in Montville, be, and the same is, assigned for a hearing on the allowance of said administration account with said estate, and this Court directs the administrator to cite all persons interested therein to appear at said time and place, by publishing this order in some newspaper having a circulation in said District. may30d DAN D. HOME, Judge.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

INSURANCE

SH-H-H-H!
"I KNOW WHERE YOU CAN GET IT—
Good Insurance!
Edwin V. Ross
MARGARET A. BARR, Associate
63 Broadway, Norwich
PHONE 2424

ALL KINDS OF
INSURANCE
HAROLD S. BURT
120½ LAUREL HILL AVENUE
PHONE 598-3

INSURANCE
OF ALL KINDS
LOUIS H. MAPLES
NORWICH, CONN.
PHONE 192

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy to day.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

TRANSPORTATION

NORWICH-WESTERLY BUS LINE.
NICK MOONEY, Prop.
Telephone Westerly 2467.
Leave Westerly 8 a. m., 11 a. m., 1 p. m., 5 p. m., 7 p. m., 9 p. m.
Arrive North Stonington 8.20 a. m., 11.20 a. m., 2.20 p. m., 5.20 p. m., 7.20 p. m., 9.20 p. m.
Leave Norwich 8 a. m., 9.30 a. m., 12.30 p. m., 3.30 p. m., 6.30 p. m., 9 p. m.
Arrive North Stonington 8.45 a. m., 10.15 a. m., 1.15 p. m., 4.15 p. m., 7.15 p. m., 9.45 p. m.
FARES: Westerly-Norwich 70c; Westerly-North Stonington 45c; Norwich-North Stonington 45c. may30d

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE
FARE $3.38 Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:30 P. M.
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y., Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.
The New England Steamship Co.

PLAINFIELD

Saturday afternoon the funeral of Edward A. Pratt was held from his late residence. The service was conducted by Rev. William C. Prentiss, pastor of the church of which Mr. Pratt was a member. James

FAIR AND COOL TODAY AND TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday, May 30, 1923.

WEATHER

Conditions

Weather conditions over the United States and southern Canada have changed very little during the last three days. The weather remaining fair in the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states. Pressure was high Tuesday night over the northern lake region and new England, and it was lower over practically all other regions.

There are no indications of any material change in weather conditions in the Washington forecast district during the next two days, except that cooler weather will overspread the middle Atlantic states Wednesday.

The weather will remain generally fair in the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook—Moderate to fresh northwest and east and weather fair Wednesday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Fresh northeast and east and weather generally fair Wednesday.

Forecast

New England, east New York—Fair and continued cool Wednesday and Thursday.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in thermometer and barometer Tuesday.

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	67	29.90
12 m.	73	29.90
6 p. m.	64	29.90

Highest 73; lowest 64.

Comparisons

Predictions for Tuesday—Fair. Tuesday's weather—Fair and continued warm.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	(Standard Time.)
28 ...	4.19 a. m.	7.11 p. m.	8.08 a. m.	3.23
29 ...	4.19	7.11	9.01	4.07
30 ...	4.18	7.12	9.55	Rises.
31 ...	4.17	7.13	10.49	5.44
1 ...	4.17	7.14	11.41	9.38
2 ...	4.17	7.14	12.37	10.24
3 ...	4.17	7.15	12.37	11.06
4 ...	4.16	7.15	12.50

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

The annual ceremony of the crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary took place Sunday evening at the Sacred Heart church, and was participated in by both the English speaking and French speaking Children of Mary society. The service opened with a procession of the members of the societies dressed in white and wearing the veils of their order, the statue being borne by the Misses Maria Reine Bellerose, Anna Gaucher, Armande Savard and Jeanne Auger. The young communicants at the morning mass also participated in the procession. Miss Maxilliene Jeanotte who had the honor of placing the crown upon the statue was attended by Miss Alma Frechette, Miss Coranna Paradis, Miss Marguerite Benoit, Miss Alice Rondeau, Miss Marie Savard, Miss Lea Ducharme, Miss Viola Michon, Miss Edenia Troie, Miss Irene Girard and Miss Diana Ducharme, who carried flowers and ribbons. The crown was of lilies of the valley and was made by Sister Marie Josephat of the Sisters of Charity of the Sacred Heart convent The sermon was by the pastor, Rev. U. O. Bellerose, and following the enrollment of the children in the scapbiar, the impressive service ended with the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Earl Ray, son of Fred Ray of South C street and Miss Mabel Agnes Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith of Occum were married at eight o'clock Tuesday morning at a nuptial high mass at St. Joseph church by the pastor, Rev. Frederick DesSureault. The bride was becomingly gowned in light blue chiffon with picture hat and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Alexina Case of Occum, who also wore blue chiffon with picture hat and carried roses. The best man was Lyman Higgins. There was a reception and breakfast for fifty guests at the home of Mr. Ray on South C street. Following an extensive wedding trip the young couple will reside in Taftville, where the groom is employed in the No. 2 spinning room of the Ponemah mills.

Brunelle's band gave a largely attended whist followed by a dance in Parish hall, Tuesday evening. The band furnished the music for the dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sharples, and Warren and Clayton Sharples are in Fall River, Mass., for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pollard and son moved Tuesday from their home in Lisbon to a house on South B street. William Burgess who has been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Pollard will reside with his other brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Drew of Lisbon.

Postmaster Dennis C. Murphy calls attention to the schedule of hours which will be in force at the local postoffice on Memorial day, 7 to 8 a. m.; 12 m. to 12.20 p m.; 7 to 7.20 p. m.

The flowers at the Taftville Congregational church last Sunday were furnished by the Camp Fire Girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzmaurice have received word of the death of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Fitzmaurice at St. Joseph's hospital, Willimantic on May 28th.

Mr and Mrs. Edward Duphily who were married Monday morning in Jewett City are spending their wedding trip visiting points of interest in Canada. Upon their return they will reside in a newly furnished home on Norwich avenue. Mrs. Duphily was before her mariage Miss Ida Guillotte of Jewett City. Mr. Duphily is employed by the Ponemah company.

NEW POLLING PLACES FOR WEST SIDE AND GREENEVILLE

Two new polling places in two of the districts are to be used this year for the annual city election which takes place next Monday.

On the West Side, where for years the polling place has been in the engine house on West Main street, the store in O'Connor block, 12 Thames street, has been secured while in Greeneville the polling place for the third district will be in a store in the Bray block on Central avenue.

The polls will open in the morning at 6:30 standard time, and will close in the afternoon at 5 o'clock standard time.

Preparing Voting Machines

Machinists Ashley T. Boon and S. Jeffrey Coit were busy Tuesday at the court house preparing the voting machines for use in the city election next Monday.

Will Instruct Election Officials.

Officials for the city election on Monday, June 4, are to receive their instructions at the court house on Friday evening.

D. A. R. CHAPTER HONORS MEMORY OF FRENCH SOLDIERS OF REVOLUTION

JUDGE ARTHUR F. LIBBY

Impressive exercises were held at the Boulder, Norwich Town, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Faith Trumbull chapter, N. S. D. A. R., in memory of the 20 French soldiers who lie buried in the Norwich Town cemetery.

The exercises were opened by Mrs. A. N. H. Vaughn, regent of the chapter, who spoke briefly on the purpose of the gathering and requested everyone to join in singing America. Prayer was then offered by Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, pastor of the First Congregational church, after which the Children of the American Revolution joined in the salute to the flag.

The Ode to the Flag, composed by Mrs. Daniel Lawthrop, founder of the N. S. G. A. R., was read by Miss Elizabeth Durie. An impressive part of the service followed when Miss Emily Bidwell read the roll call of the soldier dead of the cemetery. As each name was called a member of the G. A. R. dropped a flower. At the close of the roll call the children gathered about the boulder and as Miss Bidwell repeated "In Memory of the 20 French soldiers who lie buried here," flowers were droppd at the foot of the tricolor flags of France of which there were twenty. At each marker was a large red Flanders poppy donated by Mrs. William L. Fletcher on behalf of Robert O. Fletcher post, No. 4, American Legion.

The address of the afternoon was by Judge Arthur F. Libby who spoke in part as follows:

We who are gathered here today in observance of this day are not alone, for millions throughout the country are gathered in solemn observance of a great day. It is not the joy of Christmas, the feasting of Thanksgiving or the splendor of Independence Day that we gather for, but for the purpose of scattering sweet flowers on the graves of those who died in the service of their country. It is a useful and beautiful custom, beautiful on account of its being a token of perpetual appreciation of those who gave their lives for our country, useful also for the younger generation that they may realize and appreciate the importance of the day.

It is a day for consecration and dedication, for consecration because these men left a comfortable home and profitable business for the welfare of their country, and because they gave of their years and blood in battle that our nation might endure; a day of gratification because we love to cherish those men for the service they have rendered and because we now live in an indisolvable union brought about by the founders of our country.

Our forefathers were a liberty loving people and it is easy to see what they stood for, the simple undeniable right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That is the basis on which our nation was founded and this occasion is made the more significant because one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence lived not far from where we are now standing.

Our neighbor across the seas saw the work of our forefathers and sent her young men to fight for a cause which she believed to be just, and holy. The two nations thereby have much in common, they have shed blood in common for worthy causes, their ideals and accomplishments were pure and they were steadfast in purpose. Out of this came the red, white and blue, the colors alike in both flags, symbolic of bloodshed, purety and steadfastness and fixity of purpose.

Nearly 100 years later France was fighting for the same principles and American boys went to her rescue and today many of them lie buried in France. In the Holy Land are two seas, one a dead sea that keeps everything to itself, the second one that gives life to everything about it. France and America are like this last sea, they have not taken power unto themselves, but have fought for the purpose of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Other nations have been like the dead sea, Germany, Persia, Rome, and these have all become dead; dead to themselves and to everything else. American influence is felt from Cuba to the Philippines. On St. Paul's Cathedral is inscribed a phrase in Latin which means, if you wish to see his monument look about you.

It is the same with our forefathers, if you wish to see their monument, look about you. Do not look with a small vision, however; look north to Bunker Hill, south to Gettysburg, and east to France, it is their monument, a monument of a world democracy has been established by these two nations.

Following the address of Judge Libby which was listened to with close attention by his large audience, J. O Tellier of Taftville sang one verse of the Marseillies, the national anthem of France.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. A. N. Foster, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Universalist, after which taps were sounded by Scout F. A. Benton, Jr., and Mrs. Vaughn announced that the D. A. R. museum was opened for the first time this year in charge of Mrs. Orrin S. Leffingwell.

The members of the Children of the American Revolution who took part in the exercises were as follows: Sherrod and Eunice Ingalls, Emma Thompson, Emily Bidwell, Charles Prentice, Dorothy Prentice, Grace Covey, Elizabeth Durie, Eleanor Smith, Mary Stewart, Marion Gibbs, Rose Standish and Marion Wichtman.

The Boy Scout troop of the Norwich Town Congregational church was invited to attend the services, but through some misunderstanding they rejoined at Yantic cemetery instead of where the exercises were held.

COMMON PLEAS CASES ASSIGNED FOR NORWICH

In the court of common pleas in New London Monday afternoon, Judge Charles B. Waller assigned civil cases for trial by jury at the close of the May criminal term in Norwich. The assignments follow.

Tuesday, June 5 — Yasakutis vs. Shulman; Green, et al. vs. Shulman; Gilbert vs. Bailey; Joubert vs. Bailey; Gates vs. Topliff; Perry vs. Ferrino; Andevich vs. The City of Norwich; The Macular-Park Co. vs. Murphy, et al.

Wednesday, June 6 — The J. B. Colt Co. vs. Hansen; Landolt vs. Sullivan; Sisk vs. The Norwich Motor Car Co.; The Joseph Fine Co. vs. Kosakow; Davis vs. York; Clendinnin vs. Clendinnin; Lucian Karpena vs. Webber, et al.; Rose Karpena vs. Webber, et al.; Rose Karpena vs. Webber, et al.

Thursday, June 7—The White Star Clothing House Co., Inc., vs. Greene, et al.; Hull vs. the Franklin-Marshall Motor Car Co.; Longo vs. Moskowski; Marx vs. Lopoto, et al.; Brook Iron Works, Inc., vs. The P. Schwartz Co., Inc.; John W. Nolan vs. The Norwich Motor Car Co.; Lawrence E. Nolan vs. The Norwich Motor Car Co.; Rosenberg vs. the Western Grain Co.

Tuesday, June 15—Taylor vs. Elster; The Home Pattern Co. vs. Dearnley & Clarke; Mosesian vs. Bendett; Adamson, Jr. vs. Delagrange; Desendorf vs. Tubs.

The following court cases were also assigned:

Saturday, June at New London—Perrino vs. Luce, Admr., et al.; Modern Electric Co. vs. Raymond, et ux., Murphy vs. Raymond, et ux.

Monday, June 18 at Norwich—Blaisdell vs. Seretna.

PROGRAM FOR COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT COLLEGE

Commencement week at Connecticut college at New London is to begin on Friday, June 8, and close on Tuesday, June 12. All the events will be on daylight saving time as follows:

Friday, June 8: 4 to 6 p. m. annual art exhibit opens in the gymnasium. 7.30 p. m. senior banquet at the Mohican hotel.

Saturday, June 9: 4 to 6 p. m. reception to faculty and students by the D. A. R., in the Shaw Mansion. 8.15 p. m. dramatic club play, "You Never Can Tell," by Bernard Shaw, in the gymnasium.

Sunday, June 10: 4 p. m. Baccalaureate sermon by the president, in the Second Congregational church. 8 p. m. musical service, in St. James' Episcopal church.

Monday, June 11: 9 to 11 a. m., annual meeting of the Alumnae Association; class reunions. 2 p. m. class day exercises on Plant-Blackstone Quadrangle. 4 to 6 p. m. president's reception in the gymnasium. 9.30 p. m. Senior Stone Wall Sing.

Tuesday, June 12: 9.30 a. m. commencement exercises in the gymnasium. Address by Professor Lindsay Rogers, Ph. D. LL. B., of Columbia university. 12 m. trustees' luncheon for Alumnae and Faculty. 4 p. m. art exhibit closes. 8.30 p. m. Senior promenade.

Attar of roses is made chiefly in Syria, Persia, India, Turkey and Bulgaria.

COMMON PLEAS COURT FINES IN LIQUOR CASES

Fines in several cases before the common pleas court were given here Tuesday morning by Judge C. B. Waller when the court came in to continue the business that had been adjourned from last week. Several cases that came from the lower courts on appeals for violation of the liquor law were disposed of by giving fines.

William E. Wilcox of Providence had his case nolled on a payment of $25 on charge of reckless driving in East Lyme one night last January. Prosecuting Attorney Whittlesey stated that the Wilcox car slid into another on an icy road and that it was traveling at the rate of 20 miles an hour, which under other road conditions would not have been reckless operation.

The bond of $500 was called in the case of A. E. Lazaro, accused of keeping a house of assignation in New London. Hugo Munn was bondsman.

Lafayette Main of North Stonington pleaded not guilty to four counts of violation of the game law. He was accused of killing two deer on Dec. 4, 1922, setting steel traps for deer on the same date, setting trap for partridge and of having in his possession unlawfully on Dec. 7, one quail one woodcock, an dtwo partridges.

Nolle on payment of $10 was entered in the case of Charles McGrath on the charge of violation of the game law and a nolle absolute in the case of his father, Patrick McGrath, on the same charge.

Medos Eusignan pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle in Norwich, May 26, 1922, while under the influence of liquor and was fined $100 and costs, amounting to $143.07. Judge Barnes was his attorney.

On the charge of reckless driving of an automobile in Norwich on March 10, 1923, Dr. Harry McLaughlin of Jewett City pleaded guilty and was fined $400 and costs. Attorney T. M. Shields, who represented him, told the court that he had nothing to add to the statement of the case that was made to the court by the prosecuting attorney.

A nolle was entered on the motion of the prosecuting attorney in the case of Nick Kinash, accused of assault and breach of the peace.

In the case of Henry T. Couchman, accused of violation of the motor vehicle law in Norwich, Prosecuting Attorney Whittlesey told the court there were some peculiar features. The accused had been fined and had paid $200 in the Norwich police court but then changed his mind and wanted to appeal. The case had been reopened and now Mr. Couchman was trying to get his money back from the motor vehicle department. If Couchman does not get his money back, having already paid one fine it would seem that he had been punished sufficiently. Mr. Whittlesey moved a continuance which was ordered.

Tony Desario of Norwich, accused of violation of the liquor law, pleaded guilty and was fined $200 and costs, with a 30 day jail sentence which was suspended. This was the same sentence from which he had appealed in the Norwich police court.

Francis J. McManus pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law in New London on Feb. 17, 1923 in keeping liquor with intent to sell. Attorney Morgan pleaded for leniency for McManus who had been given a jail sentence and a $200 fine in the lower court. The lawyer said McManus would give up the business and get out of the place on Winthrop street and would see that it was not used for a similar line of business hereafter. Judge Waller took the case under consideration and later in the court session made the sentence a fine of $200 and costs, with a 60 day jail sentence, which is suspended under the condition that McManus keeps his promise.

Steve Malake of Norwich pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law. He was fined $50 and costs on the first count and a nolle was entered on the second count.

A nolle absolute was entered in the case of his wife, Mary, on the charge of resisting an officer.

SAFETY ESSAY PRIZE IS ON WAY TO NORWICH GIRL

Six prizes for Connecticut pupils won in the last national safety compaign were sent from Washington Monday to Dr. A. B. Meredith, state commissioner of education, for presentation to the winners, it was announced by the highway education board.

An essay by Grace M. Corey, Broadway grammar school, Norwich, won first honors, entitling her to a gold medal and check for fifteen dollars. Next to her essay ranked the paper by Annie Burns, Eighth District school, South Manchester, who received a silver medal and ten dollars.

Four pupils to win bronze medals and five dollar checks, third Connecticut state honors, are Ellen Duffy, Middlesex County Home, Haddam; Clare Hargrove, Humiston school, Cheshire; Rose Boccalette, South Ghastonbury, and Elizabeth Malcolm, Willard school, Stamford, Connecticut.

In the lesson contest conducted simultaneously with the essay contest, a safety project by Miss Dorothea A. McElroy, Franklin school, Bridgeport, was selected to represent her state in the competition for the national prizes. Honorable mention wen to the lesson by Miss Ellen C. Lindell, North Canaan Centre school, Canaan.

Both the essay by the pupil and the lesson by Miss McElroy will represent Connecticut in the respective contests.

NORWICH TOWN

Tuesday afternoon from 3.30 to 5 o'clock on the parsonage grounds on Elm avenue, the annual Cradle Roll party of the First Congregational church, was held, with an attendance of about seventy-five. The children numbering 48, included several from the Rock Nook Children's Home, their ages ranging from eight months to eight years. Included in the attention were 20 mothers.

Because of illness, the leader, Miss Marion L. Bailey was unable to be present, she having the capable assistance of her sisters, Miss Louise P. Bailey and Miss Lucile D. Bailey who were in full chrage of the programme.

The older children participated in all kinds of out of door games, and during the afternoon there were selections on a victrola.

When the mite boxes were opened there was a sum of $12.14. This however is not the full total anticipated, as all boxes were not turned in. The money will be forwarded to the Eastern Connecticut Branch, which is in charge of the distributions, and it is expected that it will later be sent to foreign lands to be used for work among the children, mostly kindergarten and Sunday school work.

Refreshments of fancy wafers, animal crackers and ice cream were served on the lawn at the rear of the parsonage, where the festivities took place. Assisting the Misses Bailey were the following young women: Doris Brownling, Esther Durr, Grace Wheeler and Bessie Whaley.

The Boston Store Norwich Reid Hughes & Conn

We Close All Day Today Memorial Day

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Panther Stuck in His Own Glue.

Now let me think a minute. We left Little Jack Rabbit and Uncle Lucky in the last story with that dreadful wild panther, didn't we? Well, by and by, the panther grew tired of playing blind-man's bluff in the old gentleman's stovepipe hat, so he shouted in a muffy kind of a voice:

"If you'll pull me out of your hat, I'll promise not to bite you."

"First, get out of the Luckymobile," answered Uncle Lucky, for he didn't trust that wicked beast one bit, and

A swarm of hornets flew out—

neither would I if I had been there.

When the panther had crawled out on to the road, brave Uncle Lucky pulled the hat off his head and at the same time the quick-witted little bunny started up the Luckymobile and before the wicked panther could jump in again the two little rabbits were far away, but, best of all, when that wicked beast tried to walk away the glue, which you remember in the last story he had spread all over the ground, stuck so fast to his feet that he had to hobble home.

"Goodness me," exclaimed Uncle Lucky after maybe a mile, "we're no sooner out of one fix than we're in another," and no sooner were these words out of his mouth than the Luckymobile ran into a big ball that was hanging from a tree. The ball looked just as if it was made of gray colored paper, and from it came a queer buzzing noise, like a spinning top, and oh, dear me, the next minute a swarm of hornets flew out all around the two little rabbits, and one great big ugly one stung Uncle Lucky's dear old wedding stovepipe hat.

"Don't stop!" cried the old gentleman rabbit, not to the hornet of course but to the little bunny, and pretty soon the Luckymobile was far away from those horrid hornets.

"Thunder and lightning!" exclaimed the old gentleman rabbit, "now what next, I wonder?"

All of a sudden, just like that, a voice began to sing:

"Now I am free to sing in the trees,
Tra, la, la, tra, la, la, la, la!
Yes, I'm as free as the sweet smelling breeze,
Free as the butterflies; free as the bees,
Tra, la, la, la, tra, la, la, la, la!"

and a pretty bird, carrying a gold cage in her bill, perched on the brim of dear Uncle Lucky's wedding stovepipe hat, and, bending over, looked into his eyes—I mean his goggles, for the old gentleman rabbit always wore goggles when automobiling.

"That's a very sweet song," he said with a smile, "but what are you doing with your cage?"

"If you promise not to tell, I'll explain," she answered. "Tonight I'm going to hide it away so that no one can ever get another bird in it. Cages are prisons."

"I think so, too," said Uncle Lucky, and hopping out of the Luckymobile he dug a hole in the ground and buried the cage, which so pleased the little bird that she told it to me this morning when I opened my window.

(Copyright 1923 David Cory.)

TOWN TAXES ARE NOW DUE
ARE YOU ABLE TO PAY THEM WITHOUT A GROAN?
THE CHELSEA SAVINGS BANK
NORWICH, CONN.
Has established a SPECIAL DEPARTMENT to aid in meeting TAX BILLS, COAL BILLS, REPAIRS and FIRE or LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUMS.
Call and let us explain or on receipt of coupon we will gladly send details.
Please send me details of how you can aid me in meeting my Tax Bills, etc.
Name.....
Address.....

"Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers"
"Roses and lilies and violets blue
Bloom in our hearts for the brave and the true.
Cover them over—yes, cover them over—
Parent, and husband, and brother and lover;
Crown in your hearts these dead heroes of ours.
And cover them over with beautiful flowers."
—Will Carleton.
THE PLAUT-CADDEN COMPANY
(Established 1872)
MAIN ST., NORWICH
BANK ST., NEW LONDON

MENDS WALL AND CEILING HOLES CHEAPLY
HARDWARE & WALL PAPER STORES
WILLIAMS STOVE LINING CO., Mfrs.
TAUNTON, MASS.

One Good Turn Deserves Another.

LARGE scale operation effects economies which enable the people to buy good clothing at fair prices. It provides employment for thousands of men and women and it stimulates activities in almost every industry.

Supplying raw material to sixty mills, directing more than 35,000 employees and producing millions of yards of woolen and worsted fabrics annually, is a schedule of such magnitude that millions of people contribute to its maintenance and are affected by its success.

Its benefits extend to wool growers, railroads, shipping lines, and to manufacturers of building materials, mill machinery and countless other commodities which are bought and used by the American Woolen Company.

American Woolen Company
Wm. M. Wood, President.

W. S. PAPPAS & CO.
Stock and Bond Brokers
28 Shetucket St., Norwich, Conn.
281 Washington Street Boston
86 Weybosset Street Providence, R. I.
ACCURATE EXECUTIONS ON NEW YORK AND BOSTON STOCKS NEW YORK AND BOSTON CURB
Private Wires, New York, Boston, Providence, Norwich.
Our Suggestions for INVESTMENT and PROFIT broke all records for the last six months. Why not place your name on our list?

POETRY

THE VETERANS.

Their battle flags have gathered dust,
Their bugles are no longer blown,
Their guns are covered deep with rust,
The youthful hopes they had are flown;
'Neath many a mound their comrades lie,
Their heads are bent, their step is slow,
And e'en perchance you wonder why
They fought so madly long ago;
But, though the cannon has been stilled
And foolish prejudice has died,
His soul is small who is not thrilled
To see them marching side by side.

For worldwide peace we may appeal
And scorn the belted soldier's train,
Or speak the deep contempt we feel
For mimic warriors on parade,
But these old men, whose heads are bowed,
Are worthy still of our applause;
Their valor still may make us proud,
Though Time has cleared away their cause.
Peace reigns, and shall through all the years,
Yet, mean at heart, his blood is cold
Who feels no thrill and sheds no tears
As their brave story is retold.
—S. H. Kiser.

THE FLAG GOES BY.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped lines.
Hats off!
The colors before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the state;
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips.

Days of plenty and years of peace,
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honor and reverend awe.

Sign of a nation, great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong;
Pride and glory and honor—all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums!
And loyal hearts are beating high:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!
—Henry Holcomb Bennett.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Small floor."

"Um."

"Not enough here to swing a cat."

"We haven't invited any cats to this dance."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Friend (speaking of portrait): Don't you think the artist has done you justice?

Victim—Me? Say, I don't want justice; I want mercy.—Life.

"Poor Mildred's husband died from poisoning."

"Well, Mildred can't say her chem course wasn't of value."—Boston Beanpot.

Wife—How many fish was it you caught Saturday, George?

Husband—Six, darling. All beauties.

Wife—I thought so. That fishmonger has made a mistake. He's charged us for eight.—London Answers.

Famous Tenor (at 3 o'clock in the morning)—Isn't baby wonderful, dear? What wouderful range of expression and what tone! He held that last note two minutes without weakening—he's going to be a sensation.—Kansas City Star.

"Jimmy, I want you to help me make Tom jealous—awfully, wildly jealous."

"Right-o! Let's get married!"—London Mail.

"What is the dear little boy going to be when he grows up?"

"I don't know," replied the weary mother. "Judging from the wall paper and everything else he touches I think maybe he'll be a fingerprint expert."—Washington Star.

KALEIDOSCOPE

There are about 10,000 species of fish known.

It is believed at one time man was without fire.

Lima (Peru) has ordered the establishment of municipal markets.

The Sieur de Brez of Paris is said to have invented candle molds.

Queen Alexander established the first model dairy form in England.

The art of moulding and casting in bronze was invented about 700 B. C.

More than 750,000 men are employed in industries based on Edison's inventions.

The total length of the great wall of China, including its branches, is 2,930 miles.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growth.

A candle weighing 1,000 pounds and that will burn 120,000 hours is the largest known.

The "reject" coal from Pennsylvania coal mines amounts to some 300,000,000 tons a year.

It is estimated there will be 15,000,000 motor vehicles on the highways in the next decade.

Tracing migratory birds by attaching bands to their legs has been practiced since 1710.

In 1919, 1,586,000 tons of coal were pumped and dredged from Pennsylvania river bottoms.

Pudget Sound Indians recently launched a seventy-five-foot canoe hollowed from a cedar log.

An Illinois girl who was voted the prettiest young woman in her country fainted away three times in succession when the joyful news was brought to her.

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST TRY OUR HOME-MADE SAUSAGE
THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

Date for Memorial Day.

Norwich Bulletin.

1796 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 130 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH, CONN., THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1923 | EIGHT PAGES—64 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

WAR IS THE GAME OF OLD MEN; STAKES ARE LIVES OF YOUTH

Truism Uttered by Former Justice John H. Clarke During a Memorial Address in Youngstown, Ohio—President Harding Voicd Similar Sentiment at Arlington Cemetery—The President Declared Should War Come Again "We Will Not Alone Call the Youth of the Land, But We Will Draft Every Resource, Every Activity, All of Wealth, and Make Common Cause of the Nation's Preservation"—Prayer That the United States "Do Its Full Part Toward Making War Unlikely if Not Impossible".

Youngstown, Ohio, May 30 (By the A. P.)—Ostracize the world for peace and the appeal of former Justice John H. Clarke of the United States supreme court, in a Memorial Day address today before the American Legion "A plea to our young soldiers to organize the country for peace," was the subject.

Another world war confronts the people, according to the utterances of military leaders and others, who estimate that it may come in three years or ten years but that it is inevitable, the former justice said. "It is the truth of history," said the speaker "and the lesson of yesterday, that the battles of the world are fought by boys sent to premature graves by ambitious, proud old men without a chance to serve mankind or to taste the joys of life. Yes, war is the game of old men in which the stakes are the lives of the youth of the world.

"But I am not here to counsel a revolt of youth against its elders, much as the manner in which the affairs of the world have been conducted during the past nine years might justify such discussion, but I have come to urge you young soldiers the importance to our country and to yourselves of your joining in a united demand upon your government that it take some kind of action in an attempt at least, to rganize the world for peace. I am not going to discuss what the form for such organization should be. I think I know what it should be, but this is not the time nor place for expression of my personal views upon that subject. What I wish to urge is that in your local, state and national organizations you younger soldiers shall formulate some definite program for preventing the coming of another world war in which so many of you must perish—in which your country may perish—and that you shall insist upon its recognition by your government as the subject of your chief concern."

Competent observers, some say in two or three years and others allow ten years, "springing and it must from the misery and despair of Germany and Russia," declare another World war inevitable and that it will be vastly more destructive than the last one was, Mr. Clarke said.

International alliances, coalitions, ententes, four-power and other treaties have served to promote rather than prevent wars, he continued:

"If there can honestly be but three or four millions of young men can compel an organization of our country for peace such as never has been seen in any nation in the wold," he concluded.

PRESIDENT HARDING VOICES HIS ABHORRENCE OF WAR

Washington, May 30—Standing in Arlington memorial ampitheatre and facing the wooden slopes where rest thousands of the war dead of the nation, President Harding today uttered a prayer that the United States "do its full part toward making war unlikely if not impossible."

"We have already proven that we can have less of armament," the president declared. "Let us strive for the assurance that we shall have none of war."

Scarcely had the applause from those assembled in the great national cemetery for the annual Memorial day exercises died away when the chief executive coupled with his prayer the hope that should war again come to America, "we will not alone call to service the youth of the land • • • but we will draft every resource, every activity, all of wealth, and make common cause of the nation's preservation."

Several minutes passed before the applause which greeted this pronouncement allowed Mr. Harding to continue and then he asserted:

"It will be a more grateful nation which consecrates all to a common cause, and there will be more to share the gratitude bestowed. More, there will be a finer conscience in our war commitments and that sublimity of spirit which makes a people invincible."

The prayer and the hope were the high points in the president's address, delivered at exercises which in their impressiveness and spirit had a similarity to ceremonies today in many parts of the land.

The president was accompanied to Arlington by Mrs. Harding who sat in a box to his left during the exercises. Gathered in the marble amphitheatre were a scattering of survivors of the Civil war, hundreds of veterans of the war with Spain, and many more of those who participated in the World war, including their commander-in-chief, General Pershing.

The setting was as impressive as the exercises. The amphitheatre was draped in flags and the hills of Arlington under an overcast sky were in the deep green of spring. Just outside the amphitheatre the tomb of the unknown soldier was buried beneath a mound of flowers, and the president before returning to the White House placed a wreath upon it and stood for a minute at salute.

Mrs. Harding visited the cemetery an hour before the exercises in the amphitheatre and at services held under the auspices of the disabled American veterans assisted in the planting of an American elm, turning over the earth around the tree with a trench shovel which had been used in France. At the request of Mrs. Harding no advance notice had been given of this ceremony and only a few were present.

The president in voicing the prayer that the United States do its part to make war impossible recalled how two years ago he had stood "at Hoboken pier among five thousand dead in their flag-draped coffins." There "was death in war's unheeding allotment, corridors of sorrow and sacrifice so far as the eye could see, and grief that no human soul could appraise," he said, and added:

"Under the spell of the great sorrow which gripped my heart, I said then and repeat now, 'It must not be again! It must not be again!'"

Amplifying the prayer with a declaration which may be interpreted as referring to the proposal for American membership in the world court, he said:

"I believe it to be a God-given duty to give of our influence to establish the ways of peace throughout the world. We cannot guarantee, but we can promote the peaceful adjustment of disputes, we can aid in the establishment of the agencies of peace, we can be influential in committing the world to the triumphs of peace, and make hateful to human kind the spoils of war."

LINER PATRIA'S STEWARD IDENTIFIED AS A COUNT

New York, May 30.—The log of the Fabre liner Patria, docking today, contained the terse entry "Ship's steward identified as count."

In that brief note was contained the story, told by passengers to the captain in mid-ocean, of Count Georges Boldour of Roumania, son of Prince Alexander and descendant of Catherine the Great of Russia.

The count is 40 years old. He had money and an ancestral estate—once. But, as he told passengers who pierced his identity, he was found of roulette and of the Casino at Monte Carlo, and he suddenly found himself a pauper.

"When a noble has money," he explained in his odd mixture of English and Russian, "he a count. But when he's broke——" He shrugged his shoulders.

So he had disappeared from his little world. One day there was a new porter in the galley of the Patria. Soon the new man became cook, then assistant steward and finally chief steward.

That is how he will be listed on the payroll when the Patria sails again: "Count Georges Boldour, chief steward."

TO PROTECT SHRINERS FROM BOOTLEGGERS

Washington, May 30 — President Harding has given his personal backing to the efforts of the Washington police to prevent an influx of bootleg liquor during the convention of the Shriners here early in June.

In a letter to Commissioner James F. Oyster, in charge of police operations, Mr. Harding called attention to reports of a bootlegger invasion incident to the presence here of unusually large crowds during convention week and asked that every precaution be taken to curtail liquor selling.

For several weeks, according to police and prohibition authorities, bootleggers have been particularly active in their efforts to establish here a large reserve stock of intoxicants. It was said today that vigilance against Volstead law violators would be redoubled as a result of the president's admonition.

PRESERVING LITTLE TAILOR SHOP OF ANDREW JOHNSON

Greenville, Tenn., May 30.—Beneath sunny skies, thousands assembled here today for the dedication of the handsome brick building erected by the state of Tennessee for preservation of the weather beaten, little tailor shop of Andrew Johnson, seventeenth president of the United States. Counterpart of Abraham Lincoln's cabin, the tailor shop is expected to be another shrine of American patriots, symbolic of the opportunity of every boy despite poverty.

Miss Margaret Johnson Patterson, great grand daughter of Andrew Johnson, formally presented the tailor shop to the state. Governor Austin Peay accepted it and presented the shop to the Mothers' club, legal custodians.

"FLAPPER IN INDUSTRY" LEGISLATIVE BULLETIN

Hartford, May 30—Under the heading, "The Flapper in Industry", statement that 15,000 girls between 16 and 18 years old work in Connecticut factories is made in the legislative edition of a bulletin issued by the Connecticut League of Women Voters.

John J. Burke, deputy commissioner of labor and factory inspection, when asked today for confirmation of the statement, said that, while the department does not classify the girls as "flappers," it was altogether probable that there are that many girls between the ages stated in the shops of the state. His records were not at hand when the inquiry was made, rendering a definite check of the figures impossible at the time.

INTERRUPTED OPENING OF ITALIAN PARLIAMENT

Rome, May 30.—While Premier Mussolini was about to open the sitting of parliament today, a man shouted from the visitors' gallery, "I will open the sitting." At the same time the man threw in the direction of Mussolini a packet of pamphlets, entitled "Capitalism and Liberty." The pamphlet began with the words: "I come as the herald of a storm."

The man was Cicco Cocozza, a Neapolitan anarchist, who for many years resided in New York. He had been responsible for many similar interruptions in the past, and was today placed under arrest.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Strike at Barcelona.

Barcelona, Spain, May 30.—The port was completely tied up today in consequence of the strike of the transport workers.

Daughter for Princess of Bavaria

Munich, Bavaria, May 30.—A daughter was born tdoday to the former Crown Princess of Bavaria. Before her marriage to former Crown Prince Rupprecht she was Princess Antoinette of Luxembourg and Nassau.

Calm Day in Dresden.

Berlin, May 30.—(By the A. P.)—Today was one of calm in Dresden, where demonstrations of the unemployed had caused disquietude recently, with the exception of one minor collision this morning between the police and demonstrating laborers.

FIGHTING FOR SAFEGUARDS OF FOREIGNERS IN TURKEY

Lausanne, May 30.—(By the A. P.)—The fight for judicial safeguards for foreign residents in Turkey, which was lost by the allies, who accepted Ismet Pasha's proposal, is being continued by Joseph C. Grew, the American minister, is seeking additional Turkish assurances for the protection of foreigners, among whom are many Americans.

The allies had long contended that foreign legal advisers should have a veto power over arrests and domiciliary searches in connection with foreign residents, and this point came near connection with foreign residents, and this point came near disrupting the conference today although everyone seems disposed to conceal that fact.

The allies, pending the approval of their respective governments, refuse to make public the text of the agreement; they insist that while they may have lost their main point, Turkey has agreed to compensation safeguards, which makes the settlement a compromise." The Turks say their only concession was agreement to notify the advisers of arrests, but they remark that there is a distinct provision that the advisers must not seek to interfere with trials.

COUPLE INJURED IN NOSE DIVE OF AIRPLANE

Danbury, May 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Stroop, of Woodbridge, N. J., were severely injured near here this afternoon when their airplane went into a nose dive about 200 feet from the ground as they were taking off from Tucked aviation field. Both were taken to the Danbury hospital where it was reported that Mr. Stroop had sustained a broken leg and head injuries which have not yet been determined. Mrs. Stroop received a possible skull fracture. Their condition is regarded as serious.

A crowd of about 25 spectators had gathered to watch the flight and fled over the field as the plane crashed. When the plane settled Mr. and Mrs. Stroop were dragged from the wreckage. Mr. Stroop had been hurled from the cockpit when his safety belt broke and was caught in the struts. His wife's belt did not break.

Mr. Stroop is a professional aviator and saw service in the aviation corps during the war. The couple arrived here last night on a flight and made several short flights this morning. It is believed that engine trouble developed, causing the fall.

NURSE FOUND DEAD HAD SUFFERED FROM ALCOHOLISM

Bridgeport, May 30.—Investigation of the death of Mrs. Mary Kerrigan, 39, a professional nurse whose body was found in the home of Dr. Melville A. Ewing, has shown that the woman was suffering from alcoholism, medical authorities said tonight. Dr. Ewing, who had been held without bail for seven hours, was remanded to jail in default of $2,000 bond

Dr. Ewing, a graduate of Oxford university, England, told police that he and Mrs. Kerrigan were married in Newark, N. J., ten years ago but had kept the fact secret, even from Mrs. Kerrigan's children. She was known as his housekeeper.

Mrs. Kerrigan's body was found in bed early this morning. The physician was immediately arrested and was said to have told police he had given Mrs. Kerrigan some strychnine in an effort to arouse her from a stupor. Investigation showed, however, death was from natural causes. Police charged the couple had been drinking in their home.

The physician has lived here 30 years.

CHARGED WITH FLOGGING; IS PROVING AN ALIBI

Birmingham, Ala., May 30.—Ernest G. Jacks, on trial on a charge of participating in the flogging of Dr. J. D. Dowling, health officer on May 17, last year, was a member of a theatre party at the hour the state charged the whipping took place, according to testimony today of A. H. Walker, merchant of Ketona.

R. Garvick testified that he was a member of the theatre party among whom was the defendant.

Cross-examined, the witness testified he did not remember the naure of any of the acts on the programme.

BUILDING WORKERS LAID OFF IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, May 30.—Fifty thousand members of the building crafts will be out of work within the next three days unless the striking bricklayers, who are demanding a wage increase of $2 a day for two years, return to work, Christian C. Norman, head of the Building Trades Employers' association, asserted today.

Mr. Norman said other crafts had reached a point where they could no longer proceed with their work and thousands already had been laid off.

FIRST PUBLIC INITIATION BY KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

New York, May 30.—For the first time in the history of the Knights of Pythias, according to officials of the order, a public initiation was held today. The first degree—the junk of page—was conferred upon 500 candidates on the steps of Grant's Tomb, overlooking the Hudson while a crowd of curious persons looked on.

WREATH FROM WHITE HOUSE 46 FEET IN CIRCUMFERENCE

Tuckahoe, N. Y., May 30.—A wreath 46 feet in circumference, made of shrubbery from the White House grounds and from the grounds of the capitals of the 48 states was placed on the grave of an unknown soldier of the Revolution today.

It contained sprays sent by President and Mrs. Harding, and was tied by a ribbon from General Pershing.

Man High in Official Washington Suicides

Jesse W. Smith Shot Himself—Intimate Associate of Attorney General Daugherty.

Washington, May 30.—Jesse W. Smith, well known in the inner circle of official Washington as the intimate associate and trusted political lieutenant of Attorney General Daugherty, shot and killed himself today in the hotel apartment occupied by him and the attorney general in common for the last two years.

The dead man left behind no word of explanation, but his friends expressed the belief that it was worried over ill health which led him to end his life. For some time he had suffered from a kidney disorder, and although outwardly he had appeared active and cheerful, he had told his physicians that he feared there was no cure for him.

Attorney General Daugherty, who had spent last night at the White House, was not told of the tragedy at once because of a fear that the shock might react seriously on his health. When he learned of his friend's death, Mr. Daugherty expressed surprise. His grief was evident.

Mr. Smith played golf yesterday with the attorney general and several other friends. Later he complained of fatigue but gave no other indication of physical distress. After dinner, in his apartment with Warren F. Martin, special assistant to the attorney general, he retired at 9 p. m.

Mr. Martin who remained in the apartment for the night, was awakened early this morning by the sound of a revolver shot. He passed into Mr. Smith's bedroom and found him on the floor, with a bullet wound in his temple and a revolver by his side. Death was instantaneous. A verdict of suicide was returned by the coroner.

Mr. Smith's home was in Washington Court House, Ohio, where for some years he had been proprietor of a department store. A will, written Monday on hotel stationery, found among his personal effects, left his estate to a nephew and several others.

A friend of Mr. Daugherty for years, Mr. Smith also was an intimate acquaintance of President and Mrs. Harding. He frequently was a White House guest at informal social affairs, and on several occasions was among those accompanying the president on trips. He was in the party that traveled to Panama with Mr. Harding shortly before his inauguration.

During Mr. Daugherty's recent illness, Mr. Smith was constantly with him, not only while the attorney general was confined to his quarters here, but also in Florida and North Carolina, where he spent some time recuperating. Intimates said Mr. Smith had not appeared despondent and had given no indication that he contemplated suicide.

EXCAVATING IN TOMB OF PRINCESS POCAHONTAS

Gravesend, May 30 (By the A. P.)—Excavations were carried out today in St. George's churchyard here, in which tradition says the Indian Princess Pocahontas was buried, and early this evening a tomb was found in which a considerable quantity of human remains were buried. The search for further remains was continued.

It was explained before the operations began that if any remains were found they would have to be submitted to expert examination before it could be definitely learned whether the bones of the Indian princess had actually been located.

The excavation was made on instructions from the home office and the opening of the tomb was in the presence of the rector of the church, Canon Gedge, representatives of the English speaking union and of the anthropological department of the British museum.

RUHR VALLEY STRIKERS ARE TO RESUME WORK

Dusseldorf, May 30. (By the A. P.)—The Ruhr valley industries which were closed down by the strike of nearly 500,000 workers are expecter all to be running again next week. Thousands of men resumed work today operating the pumps in the mines and getting the boilers and furnaces ready and the machinery running in the metal works. The bulk of the workers, it is understood, will be ready to resume their labors when the plants are in running order again.

FOUND THREE CHILDREN KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Colquitt, Ga., May 30.—When Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis, of Near Jakin, returned from Donaldsonville yesterday to the home of a neighbor where they had left their four children, they found three of the children dead, the other unconscious and the neighbor, Mrs. John, also unconscious. They had been struck by lightning.

Mrs. Widner and the injured child may recover.

CHINESE BANDITS RELEASE TWO FOREIGN CAPTIVES

Shanghai, May 30.—(By the A. P.)—Major Robert A. Allen, of the United States army, and W. Smith, of Manchester, England, who were captured by bandits May 6, have been released, according to advices received here today.

OBITUARY.

Rudolph Hering.

New York, May 30.—Rudolph Hering, one of the first sanitary engineers in the country to introduce the present municipal system of aerated water supply, died at his home today.

Mr. Hering acted as consulting engineer to 110 cities in the United States and Canada in conection with installation of water and sewerage systems.

Cornelius Sowle Sweetland.

Providence, R. I., May 30.—Cornelius Sowle Sweetland, president of the Rumford Chemical Works, died at the Jane Brown Memorial hospital in this city this morning. He was in his 78th year.

Mr. Sweetland was nationally known in financial circles, particularly through his connection with the now defunct Providence Banking company and the Union Trust company of this city. He was also trustee of the large Sprague estate, litigation over which attracted country-wide interest in the 1880's.

Family Wiped Out At Grade Crossing

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Timmerman and 18-Months Old Daughter of New Britain.

Hartford, May 30.—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Timmerman and their eighteen months old daughter of New Britain, were instantly killed this morning at Elm Hill crossing, between here and New Brotain when their automobile was struck by a south bound train speeding to make up lost time.

The family were starting on a Memorial Day picnic and apparently did not hear the warning gong at the crossing. The car was demolished. Mr. Timmerman, who was driving, was carried 200 yards by the train.

Mr. Timmerman was 34 years old and was a traveling salesman for a glove concern in Gloversville, N. Y. He was a native of Yonkers, N. Y., and had formerly been a stock broker in New York. His wife was 30 years old.

The accident occurred at a grade crossing which is not protected by a gate although there is an electric gong which rings as a warning at the approach of trains. According to Medical Examiner Waterman Lyon, of New Britain, this gong was ringing when the crash occurred. There is a steep hill to the east of the crossing and it is believed that the automobile was coming at a faster rate of speed than usual in order to make the grade.

The Timmerman's live but a short distance from the crossing and were starting on a holiday trip. Mr. Timmerman having returned Monday night from a business trip.

The locomotive struck the automobile squarely completely wrecking it and carrying Mr Timmerman's body fully 200 yards. Mrs. Timmerman and the child were found in the wreckage 20 feet from the crossing. All three had been instantly killed.

Lucius F. Sloman of Hartford, engineer, brought the train to a stop with the emergency brakes and there was a delay of 45 minutes before the train continued to New Haven.

Mrs. Timmerman was a graduate nurse of the Bridgeport training hospital.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT ON THE MERIDEN ROAD

Waterbury, May 30—George Snow, 12, of Stillson road, died at St. Mary's hospital early this morning from injuries sustained shortly before midnight when an automobile struck him, his mother, two brothers and three sisters while they were walking on the Meriden road.

Thomas J. O'Reilly of 970 Cooke street, this city, was arrested after the accident on the charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He is being held for the coroner.

After the machine had struck the family, O'Reilly swerved sharply to the right and plunged through the state road fence. He was uninjured. A man who sat in the driver's seat with him disappeared after the accident and the police did not learn his name

AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

Waterbury, May 30—Augustus Daz of 147 Baldwin street, this city, was probably fatally injured late tonight in a head-on collision between a motorcycle which he was riding and an automobile driven by Herbert Bertilson, also of this city. The accident happened on the state highway near Seymour.

Daz is in Griffin hospital, Seymour, not expected to live. Bertilson sustained two broken ribs and several cuts. He was taken to his home. The motorcycle was crumpled up. The car windshield was broken when Daz was hurled against it. He is said to have tried to cut in to pass another machine when he struck the auto.

AUTO KILLED CHILD IN STREET IN HARTFORD

Hartford, May 30—Ruth Margolis, 3 years old, of this city, was killed near her home today when she ran into the street and was struck by an automobile driven by Leroy W. Bennett of 23 Winchester street.

The child toddled into the street from the rera of an automobile parked at the curb and according to witnesses, walked into the front wheel of the Bennett car which was going slowly.

THREE MEN WERE DROWNED IN TALCOTTVILLE

Hartford, May 30—Three men were drowned late today when they mistook the trolley bridge in Talcottville for the road, and plunged from the bridge to death in the waters. The identity of the men has not yet been learned.

PICNIC PARTY IN AUTO PLUNGED INTO DITCH

Detroit, May 30—Three persons were killed and two seriously injured when an automobile carrying the party to a picnic plunged into a ditch on the Ann Arbor-Saline road, near Saline today.

A NEW SUSPECT IN HALL MURDER CASE

New Brunswick, N. J., May 30—County officials have unearthed a new suspect in their investigation into the murder last September of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, it was learned today.

Officials admitted that a man previously questioned and who had presented an alibi, now was the subject of investigation.

Recent investigations, officials said, had further convinced them that the story of Mrs. Jane Gibson, a nearby farmer woman was without foundation. Mrs. Gibson maintained she had been a man and woman, unidentified by her, commit the murders.

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN DROWNED

Yarmouth, N. S., May 30—Mrs. Edward Hatfield and three of her children, the oldest seven, were drowned in Tusket river at Forks Quinan, Yarmouth county, today when a boat in which they were crossing the stream was overturned. The body of Mrs. Hatfield, closely clasping one of the children in her arms, was found a mile downstream.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Busses are to take the place of trolley cars in Brattleboro, Vt.

American girls last year used 160,143,136 nets made out of Chinese pigtails to hold in their hair.

Fire at the Lafayette Mill and Lumber company caused loss estimated at $200,000.

Oklahoma City is emerging from the most disastrous flood of its history.

Mrs. Henrietta Farrar, mother of Geraldine Farrar, opera singer, left an estate of $6,051.

The Azore Islands are threatened with famine, due to failure of the Tide Water Trading company to deliver $10,000 worth of corn.

The funeral of Joseph Wingate Folk, former governor of Missouri will be held at three o'clock today at his birthplace, Brownsville, Tenn.

George Gordon King, of Newport, R. I., who died recently, left a total estate of $1,252,887 of which $270,318 was in New York.

The title of the city of New York to filled-in and formerly submerged land in Graves End bay now valued at millions of dollars was upheld by the court of appeals.

Greetings from Trinity college, Cambridge, Eggland, will be extended to Trinity college, Hartford, on the occasion of the American institution's anniversary June 8 to June 11.

Detective Sergeant James Heffernan, of the Stamford police force, was named chief of police by Mayor Alfred N. Phillips and confirmed by the common council.

Frank A. Rolf, 67, who concocted a headache preparation which made him a fortune, died in St. Louis from a complication of ailments resulting from rheumatism.

Stephen Puleo was arrested in Boston on a charge of manslaughter after the death of John Bell, whose skull was fractured when Puleo knocked him to the sidewalk.

Twelve men from Louisville, Ky., and several small cities of Southern Indiana, were found guilty of conspiring to violate the federal motor vehicle act.

Prof. Jacobovicci, noting rector of the University of Klausenberg in Bucharest, had a narrow escape from death when a bullet was fired at him by one of a crowd of fascisti students.

The court of appeals affirmed the conviction of the merican cotton exchange, of New York, of a felony in that the exchange maintained a bucket shop.

Ten thousand musicians comprising the orchestras in practically every New York theatre have prepared plans for a strike for pay increases on September 1.

A supreme court of the theatre composed of twelve judges, four from the managers, four from the actors and four from the Dramatic Writers' Guild of the uthors' league of America.

Dr. William T. Barger, who as a Red Cross workers took 900 orphans around the world, to get them from destitute Vladivostok, Siberia, back to their homes in Petrograd, Russia, during the World war, died in Cleveland.

The four masted British schooner Ada Tower, which went aground at Fire Island beach two weks ago while bound from Philadelphia to Hillsboro, N. B., was floated during an unusually heavy tide.

World-wide cooperation of Jews of all shades of opinion will be sought to aid in the development of Palestine Samuel Untermeyer declared tonight at a rally in New York held by the Palestine foundation fund.

Six British first cabin passengers were not permitted to disembark from the President Monroe when it docked at Hoboken, N. J., because the immigration quota for England has been filled.

The body of Francis Dangieri, aged 11, strangled to death with two necktiies, was found by his six-year-old sister, Helen, when she opened the door of their home in Brooklyn. Police believe the boy was murdered.

A Santiago dispatch says that the German steamer Rapot, which arrived at Arica Monday, from Callas, Peru, reports several persons killed or wounded at Lima in religious riots between students and workmen.

While Mrs. Emma Kopple is awaiting trial in Lansing, Mich., in connection with the death by poisoning of her 12 years old foster son, Harry, police are seeking to learn the cause of at least seven deaths in her household within a decade.

The youngest automobile thief in annals of Louisville, Ky., police history was captured yesterday when William Nuckols, nine years old, was caught touring the city in an automobile which the police say he had "borrowed" Sunday night.

A message of congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of Greater New York's silver jubilee was received by Mayor Hylan of New York from Axel Carlander, president of the town council of Gothenburg, Sweden, now celebrating its 300th anniversary.

An urgent call for the United States to enter some form of international league for peace and endorsement of the federal enforcement of the prohibition law featured the closing sessions in Atlantic City of the Northern Baptist convention.

An aerial "flivver" flight from New York to Chicago at a fuel cost of $5 will be undertaken within a few weeks by Georges Barbot, the French aeronaut who won 25,000 francs by gliding across the English channel in his 400 poud mooplae.

"The world is on wheels and will never get off," declared Henry Ford in a message from Detroit to the Wall Street Journal, asserting that the Ford Motor company would maintain its present record output not only through the summer, but through next winter.

Charles W. De Lyon Nicholls, 69, author, theologian and magazine contributor, whose article on the ultra-fashionable set in the United States which appeared in the Independent, January, 1902, stirred up a national controversy, died at Bridgeport hospital, after four days' illness.

NEW YORK PARADE REVIEWED BY DRUMMER BOY OF SHILOH

Only a Scant 150 Veterans of the Civil War Passed in Review Before Major General John E. Clem—Following the "Boys in Blue" Came the Young and Strong Veterans of the Last War—Generous Applause Was Given to Eighteen Negro Soldiers Who Fought for the Union—There Were Three Parades in Greater New York—Boy Scouts and Red Cross Nurses Participated.

New York, May 30.—Of the hundreds of thousands of stalwart young soldiers who marched from New York at the call of war in '61, only a scant 150, wrinkled and bent with years, passed bravely in review today before Major General John E. Clem, retired, "The Drummer Boy of Shiloh," in New York's Memorial day parade.

Led by Grand Marshal Henry J. Kearney, who at the age of 12 served with Farragut at the battle of New Orleans, the aged veterans passed the reviewing stand under their tattered and battle scarred colors to the cheers of the scores of thousands who crowded the line of march on Riverside Drive skirting the sparkling Hudson.

Following the "boys in blue," marched veterans of the Seventy-seventh and other divisions in the last war. These men, young and strong, made a striking contrast to the slow-stepping blue-coated Civil war veterans as the snapped past the reviewing stand in strict formation, but their salute was no more military, their bearing no more alert.

The soldiers of the Spanish-American war, wearing the brown trousers and leggings and the blue shirts of that day, followed, among them a battalion of 500 New York city police and firemen who had seen service in the war with Spain.

These men and the soldiers of the World war received almost continuous applause from the crowds, but the favorites of the day were the men who had fought in the war of the Union.

The largest number representing any Grand Army post was twenty-one, and under most of the old banners there were only three or four men, the last proud remnants of a once great army. Many of these were over 90 and were forced by infirmity to ride in automobiles, but they all managed, a stiff salute as they passed the stand, several attempting valiantly to stand as they reached the colors.

The greatest cheer of the day was raised for Robert Stackpole, James Worth and William Jones, all well in the 80s, survivors of the famous Anderson's Zouaves, who fought at Fort Sumter at the opening of the war. They all saluted smartly. Generous applause was also given to eighteen negro soldiers who fought for the Union, members of the Thaddeus Stevens post.

Memorial parades were also held in Brooklyn and the Bronx.

In all three parades were companies of Boy Scouts, Red Cross nurses who served overseas, and various other military and naval organizations.

HOMAGE IN FRANCE FOR SOLDIERS FROM OVERSEAS

Paris, May 30 (By the A. P.)—The emblems of France and America were entwined today as throughout the nation homage was paid the soldiers from overseas who lie in the soil of the land in which they fell during the great war. Whether sleeping their last sleep in the burial grounds of northern France, surrounded by shell-torn fields from which the sambre vestiges of war have not yet completely disappeared, or resting in the luxuriant garden of roses called Suresnes cemetery on the slopes of Mount Valerien, overlooking Paris, not one of the khaki-clad lads who gave up their lives in France was forgotten. Flowers bloom today over their mortal remains after the prayers said for the repose of their souls.

Premier Poincare's head was bowed in tribute to the American dead at the dedication of a battle memorial in the American Church of the Holy Trinity here, and the eyes of Marshal Fayolle were dimmed with tears as he eulogized his former "Dough Boys" during the services in Suresnes cemetery. At Le Mans, Tours, Romagne—all the cemeteries in which American dead are buried—Memorial day exercises also were held.

Standing on a little mound in Suresnes cemetery, between the two plain wooden crosses which mark the graves of Howard Burchard Sines of the American field service and Barton Morrison of the American Red Cross, Marshal Fayolle, with suppressed emotion, paid tribute "to the brave American boys who reposed within sight of the city they assisted in keeping outside the reach of the enemy."

Following the old soldier of France with his evidently heartfelt praise of the gallant American troops, Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, paid the tribute of America to her fallen sons.

"We are assembled here," he said, "as we were last year and in the years before, and as will others be in all the years to come, to do honor to the men who died in France and in defense of our honor and the world's liberty.

"The rain and the sunshine have done their annual kindly work which loving hearts and hands have completed. These flowers of France tell the dead of our remembrance. They ask the living to be ever mindful of the cause which impelled these brave men to cross the ocean in all the flush of hope and youth and lay down their lives in a distant land. They were intelligent and of the flower of our nation, and they knew why they came.

"This anniversary brings vividly home to us the fact that the first phase of this war was won on the battlefields by the men whose memory we honor today and by their comrades who now are the vital force of the allied nations. That phase of their work was finished on Armistice day, and simultaneously there began the second phase, the struggle for peace, the wining of which has become through their death, our sacred charge.

"In the name of the government of the United States I thank the French government for its sympathetic participation in this ceremony in the person of our heroic marshal. • • • In the name of my beloved country I tell you, dear people of France, how touched, how appreciative we are of your spontaneous acts of homage to our dead. It is precisely this thought of yours in the midst of tens of thousands overseas today that eases the heartaches of this day."

KU KLUX KLAN WREATH REMOVED FROM MEMORIAL

Lynbrook, N. Y., May 30.—A wreath bearing the inscription "In Memoriam, from the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," was today removed from a war memorial tablet here by a man said to be a member of the Knights of Columbus delegation in the Memorial day parade.

Considerable excitement was caused among the crowd when it gathered at the monument here upon the placing of the wreath at the base of the statue. To end the affair, the K. K. K. officers had been placed some time before marching, it was said.

"Never in the history of this country have we followed a horse, and I pray them to come out in the open," said Surrogate Howell, the principal speaker, in an address following the incident.

K. K. K. Wreath Replaced.

Rockville Center, N. Y., May 30.—A wreath from "the Knights of Ku Klux Klan" which was removed from the tablet bearing the names of World War U. S. Army, American Legion members, by Village President G. Peter Latimer, followed numerous protests to telephone calls protesting against its disappearance.

The wreath was replaced despite vigorous protests of legion members and officers.

STORY OF RUM RUNNING ON THE DETROIT RIVER

Chicago, May 30.—Rum running is going on on the Detroit river and virtually is immune, according to an interview published today in the Chicago Daily News and obtained by a staff writer from C. L. Porterfield, prohibition director for the Tenth district, including Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. Under a Toledo dateline, the writer asserted that Director Porterfield said his forces had only one boat fit for service, that co-operation between municipal, county, state and government officials had been only sporadic, and prohibition law violations have seemed to find sympathy from those in authority.

An armed boat and possibly the sinking of a rum craft by gunfire might have some wholesome effect, the director was quoted as saying.

Once the prohibition forces with their only available boat cruised past Ecorse, Mich., the village where smugglers operate on a wholesale scale, according to recent published statements, but the boat broke down amid the derisive laughter of the rum crowd, and there was reason to believe that the craft which towed in the disabled "dry" boat was itself a law violating vessel.

MISSING SALVATION ARMY LASSIE LOCATED

Springfield, May 30.—The 15 year old Salvation Army lassie who has been missing from Winsted, Conn., for a week was found in this city today with Robert Perry, 21 years old, to whom she was married two days ago. The girl was Miss Mamie Cushman and she and Perry were married Monday in Ansonia, N. Y., by Rev. J. J. Coles. They left Ansonia Tuesday, going to Westfield, and then to this city, where they were arrested today.

The couple were kept locked up in police headquarters throughout the day, while outside the building crowds of persons were cheering the Memorial day parade.

The girl's father, a Salvation Army captain, stationed in Winsted, came to this city this afternoon and took the couple back home. He said he would not have the marriage annulled because the couple appeared to be strongly in love with one another and the man has a good job in a Winsted factory.

MAN KILLER LEO ROGERS SHOT DEAD BY A POSSE

North Bay, Ont., May 30.—Leo Rogers, fugitive man killer, was shot and killed by a posse tonight.

The killing of Rogers came as the climax to one of the most dramatic man hunts that this territory has ever experienced. "Bad Leo" brought down two of his pursuers and wounded another before he himself was dropped by a bullet. He shot Detective Fred Lefebvre shortly after six sensational escape and today sent a bullet through the heart of Sergeant John Urquhart of the provincial police, a member of a party that surprised the gunman in his father's home.

The escaped desperado emerged from the bush about eight miles from Nipissing late this afternoon long enough to be brought down by a bullet from a member of Inspector Storey's party, which with several other groups had been hunting Rogers since his escape from a crowded court room with a flourish of a card board pistol.

SERIOUS DEFEAT FOR SUN YAT SEN'S FORCES

Canton, May 30.—(By the A. P.)—Sun Yat Sen's forces of the Eastern Kwangtung front have suffered a serious defeat and his strongest general, Hsu Sung Chi, leading them, has been dangerously wounded, according to advices received here. One of Sun's active supporters has gone over to his enemies and another is reported wavering. Sun himself has left for the east front, from which an attack on Canton is expected.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
81 Church Street Telephone 1049

The cemeteries of the town of Windham were visited Memorial Day and the graves of 445 dead veterans of the five American wars were decorated with impressive ceremonies. The delegations from the ranks of the various veterans' associations on the pilgrimage to the Windham Center, North Windham and St. Joseph's cemeteries in the morning were the remnant of the Civil War veterans, the Spanish War soldiers and a few of the World War warriors. They were accompanied by members of Company C, 169th Infantry, C. N. G., headed by Captain Joseph R. Morrison, the St. Joseph's Boy Scouts' band and members of the auxiliaries of the veteran associations. Solemn music was rendered by the B. P. O. E. band.

The pilgrims stopped at the entrance to South Windham where they were escorted through the village by the Girl Scouts and successively the grames at the Windham Center, North and St. Joseph's cemeteries were decorated with flowers and flags.

Rev. Arthur W. Clifford of Windham was in charge of the services at the first two cemeteries and at St. Joseph's cemetery Rev. Charles M. Kelley of St. Joseph's church, read the rituals for the dead. James Haggerty, representing the G. A. R., then delivered a few brief remarks touching upon the heroism of the dead soldiers. A short talk was also given by Captain Frank P. Fenton, representing the Spanish War veterans.

Upon returning from the tour of the "Windhams" the veterans' associations repaired to the G. A. R. hall in the town building where they were served an excellent dinner by the Women's Relief corps.

The afternoon procession to the Willimantic cemetery got under way at 2 o'clock, starting from High street, up Main to the cemetery. The formation of the procession was as follows:

Platoon of police, Chief Daniel J. Kilbourey, commanding; Marshal Frank P. Fenton and staff; B. P. O. E. band, C. N. G. Wheeler, director; Company C, 169th Connecticut Infantry, C. N. G., Captain J. R. Morrison; Garde Sacred Heart, Captain Alfred Vertefeuille; Boy Scouts' band, St. Joseph's parish; Boy Scout troops of Willimantic; Girl Scouts, James J. Shea post, No. 19, American Legion, Willimantic Y. D. Association, World War Veterans, Augustus C. Tyler camp, No. 8, U. S. W. V., Francis S. Long post, No. 30, G. A. R., Women's Relief corps, No. 28; Mary Todd Lincoln tent, Daughters of Veterans.

Bugler Lewyse N. Gerry of Company C, sounded taps in most pleasing tones during the exercises at the various cemeteries. James Haggerty was also heard in a few remarks at the Willimantic cemetery.

The session of police court on Memorial Day was brief, although there were four cases on the docket. Judge Foss was on the bench. Raymond Desrosier and Rosaire Milhomme, both of this city, were charged with the sale of intoxicating liquors. Desrosier did not plead, asking for a continuance of the case to allow him time to secure counsel. Milhomme pleaded not guilty. Both cases were continued until Saturday morning, June 2.

Fred Brewer of this city was charged with cruelty to animals and upon his plea of guilty he was fined $3 and costs, amounting to $7.15. Prosecuting Attorney Samuel B. Harvey testified that he saw Brewer lashing his horse with uncalled for violence and at first believed that Brewer must have been intoxicated but this was denied by the accused at the time of arrest.

Clifford Bailey of Windham was charged with assault on Mrs. Elisa Palmer also of Windham. His case was granted a continuance until Saturday, June 2.

From what could be learned, Bailey and Mrs. Palmer were engaged in a heated argument and the accused threw a pail of water at the woman, ruining a dress which she were at the time.

Figures compiled by William S. Congdon, federal prohibition officer, giving total arrests on liquor charges in the towns of Plainfield, Killingly, Griswold and Windham from January 1, 1920 to January 1, 1923, show that during the three years Windham leads in the arrests of intoxicants with a total of 183. The others are, Putnam 127, Griswold 89, Killingly 69 and Plainfield 6. Windham is in the lead in the number of arrests for violation of the liquor law, having a total of 41 for the three years, Putnam is second with 27 arrests, Griswold 24, Plainfield 20, and Killingly with a clean slate.

On the charges of intoxication, Putnam collected the largest amount in fines and committed 33 to jail on that charge. The town of Griswold collected the largest amount of fines for violation of the liquor law, the total being $4,520 for the three consecutive years. Griswold also leads on the number committed to jail on that charge. The town of Plainfield and Killingly did not commit any of the violators of the law to jail, on either of the two charges listed. The town of Windham also shows the largest number of violators of the liquor law placed under arrest and the total of fines imposed stands just a shade under the amount listed under Griswold, on that charge.

The decrease in saloons in this part of the state tend to show some of the benefits derived from the Volstead act as well as the creditable work accomplished by the federal prohibition officers working in this section. A glance back will disclose the fact that practically all of the arrests for violation of the liquor law were made directly by the federal agents and that in only a few instances they received aid from local police departments. Following is the list:

Town of Plainfield.

Saloons in 1920, 7. At present time, 2: 1920, arrested for intoxication, 1; fine $15. Arrested for violation of law, 1; fine $25. 1921, arrested for intoxication, 3; fines $58. Arrested for violation of law, 7; fines $725. 1922, arrested for intoxication, 4; fines, $70. Arrested for violation of law, 12; fines $1,175.

Town of Killingly.

Saloons in 120, 8; at present time, 1. 1920, arrested for intoxication, 21; fines $310. 1921, arrested for intoxication, 22; fines $400. 1922, arrested for intoxication, 24; fines $320.

Town of Griswold.

Saloons in 1920, 6; at present time, 3. 1920, arrested for intoxication, 21; fines $377; to jail, 1. Arrested for violation of law, 3; fines $865. 1921, arrested for intoxication, 16; fines, $287; to jail, 4. Arrested for violation of law, 17; fines, $2,385; to jail, 1. 122, arrested for intoxication, 32; fines, $588; to jail, 7. Arrested for violation of law, 5; fines, $1,270; to jail, 2.

Town of Putnam.

Saloons in 1920, 18; at present time, 4. 1920, arrested for intoxication, 49; fines, $1,049; to jail, 11. Arrested for violation of law, 3; fines $250. 1921, arrested for intoxication, 46; fines, $716; to jail, 17. Arrested for violation of law, 15; fines, $1,860. 122, arrested for intoxication, 32; fines, $802; to jail, 21. Arrested for violation of law, 9; fines, $1,525.

Town of Windham.

Saloons in 1920, 39; present time, 5. 120, arrests for intoxication, 65; fines, $930; to jail, 13. Arested for violation of law, 7; fines, $655. 1921, arrested for intoxication, 61; fines, $535; to jail, 18. Arrested for violation of law, 28; fines, $2,865. 1922, arrested for intoxication, 57; fines, $783; to jail, 7. Arrested for violation of law, 8; fines, $875; to jail, 1.

Russell Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Norton of 24 Turner street is spending the month of June at his home, coming from Boston University. Previous to his leaving college he was elected to the junior honorary society of Sigma Delta and editor-in-chief of the university humorous magazine, The Bean Pot. On July 1 Mr. Norton will take up his duties as head councilor in the junior camp at Camp Wonalanset.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Weick of Windham road are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Weick and daughter, Gertrude, of Newark, N. J., for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Harroun have as guests their son, Kenneth, Miss Anna Beadrow and George Beardow of Taftville.

The I. X. L. circle of the Sorority of the Methodist Episcopal church recently met at the home of Miss Eunice Camp, Mrs. Vivian Ide and Miss Marian Muirhead were guests.

Given fair weather, Recreation park this city will present a lively appearance this (Thursday) afternoon when the Windham High aggregation will meet up against the Norwich Free Academy pill tossers, who will arrive here with Coach "Eddie" McKay.

Thursday's game is what is known as the big game of the season for Windham, and much confidence has been heard expressed locally because rumors have it that Norwich does not boast as powerful a combination this year as previously.

The Willimantic Country club members had an enjoyable time Memorial Day. On the programme at the club house, was dancing, Victrola selections and a luncheon. The links are in excellent shape and were in constant use throughout the day.

Arthur Clark of Oak street is spending a few days in New Haven.

Miss Dola Liberty, of New Haven, and Miss Jeanette Liberty of Meriden spent Memorial Day with their mother on Quereius avenue.

Miss Alice Liberty of New Haven spent the holiday at her home in this city.

Marcal Obernesser of New Haven spent Wednesday visiting his mother on John street.

Walter Day, formerly of Storrs and a graduate of Windham High school arrived from New York city Wednesday for a few days' visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sadd of Jackson street spent Decoration Day with Mr. Sadd's sister, Mrs. Alice Daggett of Ellington.

Dr. and Mrs. I. Zipfel and daughter, Helen, of North street, and Miss Mary Burgoyne of South Coventry, left on Wednesday for an automobile trip to Stamford and New York, returning here Sunday.

Miss L. M. Kingsley of West Main street, who has been confined to the house for several months was pleasantly surprised when a number of her friends presented her a beautiful May basket.

Mrs. John H. Gray who has been in Uxbridge, Mass., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George C. Moon of Lewiston avenue.

Mrs. J. M. Morse and son, Emerson, of Turner street are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Badie of Brookline, Mass., for one week.

The Misses Irene Cartier and Leona Rivers of Hope street spent the holiday with Mrs. V. Lemieux of Hartford.

Charles Downing of Phoenixville is visiting his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Downing of Summit street.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Buckingham of Jackson street have as a guest the latter's mother, Mrs. Bishop of Auburn, N. Y.

Miss Roma Hicks, a registered nurse of New London, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hicks, of Jackson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Parker of Church street had as a holiday guest Mrs. Edward Beard of Flushing, N. Y.

A holiday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willet of Lewiston avenue was John Powell of Hyde Park, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Vaughn of Worcester, Mass., were Memorial Day visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Bowen of Prospect street.

Alfred Laffey of Patterson, N. J., is spending a number of days with Mr. and Mrs. F. Louis Hall of Chestnut street.

Mrs. David Cudworth of Oak street was a holiday visitor with friends in Mystic.

A pretty wedding Memorial day morning at St. Mary's church was that of Alice Duchesneau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odilion Duchesneau of Willimantic, and Henry Maheu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Maheu of 148 Main street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Mathieu, who also sang the nuptial mass at 9 o'clock.

The attendants were Miss Lillian Walsh and Wilfred Chalifoux, both of this city. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white canton crepe with veil to match and carried a shower bouquet of roses. Following the nuptials, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents on Main street and was attended by guests from New York, Putnam and Willimantic.

Francis W. Chapman, aged 42, died early Wednesday morning at his home on Putnam road, following an illness of several weeks' duration. The deceased leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chapman, his wife, two sisters, Miss Grace Chapman of this city and Mrs. F. E. Gilbert of Pittsfield, Mass., and one brother, Fred Chapman of Willimantic.

TRUCK DRIVER INJURED WHEN MACHINE OVERTURNS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Willimantic, May 30.—Thomas Foley, a member of the trucking firm of Foley & Henry of this city, is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, where he is suffering from lacerations and bruises sustained when a large truck he was driving backed down a steep hill and rolled to a ten-foot ditch shortly before noon Wednesday.

The accident occurred on the east end of Lake Waupaumpaug at South Coventy on a sharp grade leading to the roadway, around the lake. Mr. Foley was engaged in delivering a piano to one of the cottages at the time. The truck turned completely over and was damaged to a considerable extent, as was also the piano.

It could not be determined just what caused the heavy machine to roll backwards and down the embankment but a view of the wreck shows plainly that Mr. Foley had a very narrow escape from being seriously injured. The injured man was resting comfortably Wednesday evening and there is every cause to believe that he will soon recover.

COLCHESTER

We will open up our old store opposite the R. R. depot with a full line of meats, groceries, etc. Daniel Goldberg, Colchester, Conn.—adv.

WINDHAM

At a meeting of the Center district held in the new school building recently the question of better fire protection was discussed. The clerk, Mrs. John M. Potter, called the meeting to order and Rev. A. W. Clifford was chosen moderator. Charles Larrabee made a report of investigations authorized at a previous meeting and it was voted to purchase a 40 gallon chemical tank at a cost of about $263, several pails and firemen's axes. The committee was given power to borrow money if necessary to meet the expense. Guy Richmond, Paul Hopkins and Harold Leffingwell were appointed to organize a volunteer fire department. The use of tank and services of the men will not be confined to the Center district but will be for the benefit of the entire community.

Miss Mary Tracy of Wauregan was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Pegrum, over the week end.

Mrs. W. S. Kelsey of Boston was in town several days last week.

The entertainment given under the auspices of the Congregational Sunday school in charge of Mrs. H. C. Lathrop included a fine musical program furnished by the Mathieu family of Willimantic. There were solos and duets by Mrs. Henry Mathieu and her sister, Mrs. Doyle, and instrumental and vocal numbers by the little Mathieu twins, Claire and Ethel, one of whom plays the violin and the other the saxophone. Mrs. Doyle was the accompanist and also rendered a piano solo. Cake and ice cream were sold after the program. The proceeds go the Northfield delegates' fund.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Guild entertained a number of friends at an auction bridge party Saturday evening in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Johnson, of Putnam. Ice cream and cake were served. The guests were Mrs. H. C. Hatch, the Misses Clara and Sarah Johnson, Miss Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Woods, Miss Marie Rizzo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larrabee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, Mrs. Ada Larrabee, Miss Emma Neal, Miss Gertrude Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Dr. and Mrs. Guild.

Mrs. Jessie Gilbler and DeWitt Lockman of New York are at the Lockman house.

An interesting lecture, with beautiful pictures, was given on Africa, in the Congregational church Sunday evening.

Mrs. Roland Utley and little daughter of Illinois are guests of Mrs. C. R. Utley.

Miss Julia Burnham is spending the week in Hartford and Wallingford.

Dan Chappell of West Point spent Sunday with his grandfather, W. S. Chappell.

Miss Florence Truell, principal of the grammar school, is to be maid of honor at a wedding in New Hampshire next week.

SOUTH KILLINGLY

Eva Davis has returned home from Malden, Mass.

Arthur Jacques of Manchester is visiting local relatives.

Ralph Bradford of Putnam was a business caller at The Oaks Saturday.

War, capitalism, millionaires, General Pershing, international courts and the press were attacked by Eugene V. Debs, in an address to about 1,000 people in Providence.

WESTERLY

Westerly people were shocked and Stonington, Norwich and New London friends were saddened to learn of the sudden death of Dr. John L. May, which occurred Wednesday morning. Dr. May was making a professional call at the home of Angelo Turo, 113 Canal street. He had just said "Good morning," when he fell unconscious. Dr. Michael H. Scanlon was called but Dr. May expired from heart trouble just a minute after Dr. Scanlon's arrival.

Dr. John Lawrence May was born in New London July 25, 1873, being in his 51st year. He was educated in the public schools of New London, graduating from Bulkeley High school. Following his graduation, he entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore, graduating in 1901. He became an interne in the Backus hospital, Norwich, for a year, following which for another year he followed the medical practice in Stonington. Early in 1903 he came to Westerly and began practice on High street, later moving to his late residence, 19 Canal street. In 1903 he was married to Elisabeth L. McNamara of Pawcatuck, by whom he is survived.

During the World war he was medical examiner for the Westerly district, dividing his time between East Greenwich and Westerly. The doctor's health suffered from an attack of influenza during the epidemic. Later he was in an automobile accident on the Stonington road.

He is survived by one sister, Nellie A. May, residing in New London, four brothers, Rev. Francis E. May, pastor at Mt. Carmel, Conn., James R. May, real estate dealer, William E. May, retired clothier, both of New London, and Rev. Michael H. May, pastor of St. Patrick's church in Norwich. Another brother, Edward, died about 25 years ago.

Dr. May was a member of the local, county and state medical societies. He was a member of Seaside council, No. 17, K. of C., at New London for more than 30 years, being one of its oldest members. He was also a member of Westerly lodge, No. 678, Order of Elks, and a charter member of the Colonial club, Westerly.

At about 4.30 Tuesday afternoon at the junction of Westerly road and Niniqret avenue, Watch Hill, occurred an automobile collision between a Ford car, owned by the Westerly Light and Power company, and the auto truck of Lewis McNeil. The McNeil truck was turning out of Niniqret avenue bound for Westerly and The Light and Power car headed for Watch Hill. The forward end of the Ford struck the hub cap of the front wheel of the McNeil truck jamming it in, twisting both forward wheels and bending the fender. The truck had to be towed to the garage while the Ford proceeded on its way.

The June outing of Palestine Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of Mystic Shrine will be held at Block Island, Monday, June 25th. Steamer Mount Hope has been chartered to leave Providence at nine o'clock arriving at Newport at approximately 11 o'clock to pick up such members as desire to accompany the nobles from the southern part of Rhode Island. Returning, Block Island will be left at six o'clock in the evening.

Five men from the highway department of the Rhode Island state board of public roads recently went over the Bradford road, which is to be rebuilt from the junction of Oak and and Tower street to the river bridge in Bradford.

STONINGTON

Byron E. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wilcox of Pawcatuck, is the employ of the Western Electric Co. appeared in a large group picture in the May issue of the Western Euectric News. The picture shows the installation force which "cut in" the Main central building at Atlantic City, N. J.

The young collie pup named Laddie belonging to William Griffin, Jr., of Elm street, was hit by a passing automobile, while running across the street on Wednesday morning, and was badly injured. The dog got loose, and wandered out into the street.

Funeral services were held for John G. Kiley, at his home on Water street, Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. D. C. Stone, pastor of the Second Congregational church, officiated. The bearers were James Staplin, Cornelius Coughlin, Frank Staplin and Charles Grimstead. Interment was in Stonington cemetery.

William S. Lucker of this town a sophomore in the electrical engineering course at the Rhode Island State College, was awarded the Zita Pi Alpha fraternity scholarship cup at the annual banquet of the fraternity held in East hall. This is the second consecutive year that Mr. Lucker, has led his fraternity in scholastic standing, last year obtaining scholarship honors at the college, and his average this year being over 90 per cent.

The Stonington band, and members of James Harvey post, World War veterans, school children, members of Grand Army, and many other organizations of the town marched to both cemeteries on Memorial day, and held services for the deceased soldiers and decorated the graves of their comrades.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hobart and son Harold visited their home town a Hope Valley, on Memorial day. They visited the Baptist church where they enjoyed the hospitality of the ladies who served dinned, this custom has been followed for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Griffin, and family, spent Memorial day at their cottage at Wampassue Point.

Dr. and Mrs. Owen Dennehey, moved this week to their newly purchased home on North Water street.

William Noyes, a former principal of the Stonington High school, who has been principal of the senior high school in Norwalk since leaving here, has resigned that position and accepted the superintendency of schools at East Haven.

At Owens field Wednesday afternoon tonington High school was defeated by Westerly High by a score of 16 to 3. The star catcher for the local boys was not in the box, but Coach Tweedel had the vacancy filled. Walsh and Mooney, both pitchers, were on hand and took part in the game. The lineup for the game was as follows:

Stonington—Walsh c, Chesebro cf, Pupillo 2b, Mooney c, Edwards ss, Morgan 3b, Nichols 1b, Ballestracci lf, Barrett rf.

Westerly—Mitchell 3b, Blake ss, Meikle cf, Turco or Barber rf, Stenhouse p, Smith 1b, Lenihan c, Bamford lf, Mellow 2b.

The game started at 3 o'clock, with one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed the games here present. In the league Westerly is second, having defeated Norwich twice, Stonington once and lost to Chapman Tech once, while Stonington has lost to both Westerly and Chapman Tech once and won two and one, respectively, from Norwich and Chapman Tech. Each school was well represented and the rooters for both teams were out in force.

Canton.—The man killed on Berlin turnpike Saturday night was a nephew of William Kingsley of this village.

MYSTIC

Memorial day, the Sons of Veterans went to the cemetery and decorated the graves of the soldiers, and in the afternoon societies and the school children met at Grand Army hall, where they marched to the bridge. A halt was made there and flowers were strewn upon the water in memory of deceased sailors. The Williams Post, G. A. R., the A. C. Latham camp, Sons of Veterans, the Phebe Packer Rathbun Tent, Daughters of Veterans, Fanny Ledward chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Williams Woman's Relief corps, and the Daughters of America, World war veterans, and members of other patriotic societies and school children, headed by a band, marched to the monument, and a short service was held there. Buses were provided to carry those who took part to the cemetery.

The members of the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. B. L. Davis, at her home, it being the honor of Mrs. Davis 72nd birthday, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Davis was presented a handsome birthday cake, decorated with candles, and a May basket was presented her by her Sunday school class. The members of the W. C. T. U. presented a dainty basket which contained a bright and shining five dollar gold piece. An excellent program was provided. There were 33 in attendance.

After the exercises and parade on Memorial day, all those who assisted were invited to Grand Army hall where the ladies had provided sandwiches, cake and coffee. A general holiday was observed here.

Miss Geneva Wills, of West Mystic, on Thursday, entered the Home hospital at New London to train for a nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moore who have been spending some time in California, have returned home.

Fred Ketchum of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., who has been the guest of his mother has returned home.

Paul E. Chesebro of Mystic has been elected a member of the reorganized Amherst college, chapter of Sigma Delta Rho.

On Monday, June 4, The Visiting Nurse Association will start a canvass for membership, which will end June 16.

A large crowd went over to Stonington Wednesday to see the ball game between the Stonington High school boys and the Westely High. Many of the young people woe the colors of the Stonington school and cheered the boys on with their school yells.

Hary H. Anderson, of West Mystic, has a most beautiful display of over a thousand tulips in bloom at his home on Packer Hill, which have attracted many visitors to see them.

The village was practically deserted on Memorial day for all those who could went to the seashore for the day, while others motored out into the country. The Young Married people's dancing club enjoyed a clam chowder dinner, at a picnic at Mr. and Mrs. James Lathrop's camp, near Lantern Hill.

JEWETT CITY

If it had been accorded the committee in charge, the power to order the weather conditions for Memorial day, there could have been no improvement on that presented by the weather department. Cloudless skies, moderate temperature and bright sunlight added much to the beautiful ceremonies and exercises of the day.

The big town flag was out, and people were stirring at an early hour. The parade was ready to move at a little after nine. At the hall Misses Jean Burleson, Priscilla Scates, Alice Barnett and Eleanor Stetson, pinned handsome bouquets on those who were to enter the lines.

Headed by the automobiles were representatives of the town and borough and the clergy, together with members from the G. A. R., D. A. R., D. of V., Woman's Auxiliary and Red Cross. Commander G. H. Jennings was in charge and G. A. Haskell, marshal of the day. George Comager, filling a position long occupied by his father, carried the flag.

The firing squad, under command of Carl Benjamin was Napoleon Cyr and E. H. Hiscox, Jr., navy men of the late war, and Alec and Jean Desjardines for the army. Gilbert Miner was Legion color bearer, accompanied by two armed guards, Edward Knox and Walter Benjamin, with Bugler William Menard. P. W. Chase was in charge of the soldiers and sailors, followed by Scoutmaster Lemuel Green with his Boy Scouts. Their color bearer was Theodore Davis with Ralph Arnold and Arthur Millard acting as guards. Director Kraus and the Plainfield band of 25 pieces, were fine from start to finish and their music all through the day was of the best.

Not Within the history of this town has there been recorded any ceremony as impressive as that which took place at the Jewett City cemetery, for there, over a thousand people stood with bowed heads, while John Burdick, 23, a Jewett City boy, and a United States soldier, was laid to rest, with full military honors. As the white casket was lowered into the grave, impressive silence reigned, only to be broken by the sharp crack of the rifles, as the firing squad paid their last honors to the dead, followed by the clear notes of the bugle, as the officer soundad "Taps."

The open grave was approached to the low beat of the muffled drum, and the retarded tread of the soldiers. The casket covered with the Stars and Stripes was under guard, Adelbert Babcock and Irving Thornton performing that office.

Here, after prayer, as well as in St. Mary's and the Baptist cemeteries the graves of the honored dead of all wars were decorated in accordance with the custom of the day.

At the Lisbon bridge, the parade was halted, while baskets of flowers were strewn upon the swiftly moving waters of the Quinebaug by Thomas Gray and John Smith, lest we forget the unknown sailor who sleeps in the deep.

A few parts of the day's duties, appear in clear relief, above the usual ceremonies, mentioning two, the firing squad and the rites at the bridge, are outstanding. At David Hale Fanning park the nal orders of the day were completed. A handsome wreath was placed on Griswold's beautiful monument. A dozen girls were there to add their part, there were flowers everywhere, and patriotic songs by the pupils from the borough's schools. The devotional parts so ably taken by the clergymen of the town did not fall in their reverential effect.

The address of the day was most ably delivered by Rev. James J. Tyler, assistant to Rev. John J. McCabe, pastor of St. Mary's. Seldom in this town does such a large audience listen to such an impressive and stirring address. Father Tyler in his, his first public speech here, gave proof throughout his remarks, that his oratory is as clearly defined on the platform as from the altar.

He spoke of standing within the shadow of the church of God. He knew full well the different peoples whom he addressed, and classified them all from the veterans of the wars of '61 to the flower of our young manhood, who fought in the last great struggle.

He said, we are here to pay honor to our heroic dead, who sleep all over this great land on the hillside or in the silent valley. He was alive to the accepted trend of the teachings of the day, and adjured his hearers "not to forget our sacred and patriotic duties."

A country who forgets its soldiers is planting its own seeds of degeneracy and decay. We honor our dead today, with eloquent oratory and monuments of chiselled marble, but, said he, the marble lips cannot be made to speak, so, then, let us see that a living monument exists in the heart of every loyal citizen.

Today there is no north and no south. The graves of Lee and Davis are decorated the same as those of Lincoln and Grant. Yet the horrible notes of war and dissension are stilled, and the same great flag, with its red of blood, its white of purity, and its blue of courage floats over all.

He said Memorial day was at once a day of joy and sorrow, pointing out the great victories that had been won for liberty and right. Then there was to be seen the broken home with its vacant chair.

Finally the speaker told of the days of '76, '61 and 1917. He knew his subject well saying, let us teach his lesson of loyalty. Let us keep our eyes on the symbols of immortality, and the new birth of tomorrow. We shall stand together now as always for liberty, freedom and peace—never forgetting our duty to our country and our God, with the silent prayer, Lest we forget.

After the exercises at the park, dinner was served in the Congregational church vestry. This dinner was provided, as is always the custom, by the generosity of the townspeople, and supervised by a committee of three from the four churches, appointed by the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion post.

That the men appreciated the dinner of baked beans, boiled ham, brown bread, rolls, pickles, cake and coffee was shown by the very hearty applause and rising vote of thanks. The room was decorated with hunting. Rev. J. W. Payne said grace. The committee were Mrs. E. H. Hiscox, Mrs. J. T. Stewart, Miss M. A. Burdick, Mrs. E. M. Gray, Miss Susie Morgan, Miss Ruby Thornton, Mrs. John Oakes, Miss Rosanna DeJardines, Josephine Russenas, Mrs. G. H. Thornton, Mrs. Ella Geer and Mrs. E. M. Anthony.

The waitresses were Madeline Dutkowski, Claire Berard, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Bertha Russenas, Mrs. Irving Thornton, Bertha, Frances Bugbee, Christine Burdick, May Blake, Mrs. Jennie Wild, Mrs. E. E. Scates, Doris Bliss, Flora Littlefield, Doris Johnson and Irene Stewart.

Mrs. G. A. Haskell had charge of the decoration of the soldiers' monument. She was assisted by Rose Crumb, Ellen Prior, Frances Sweet, Arlene Burdick, Margery and Eunice Webster, Harriett McCluggage, Susan Terry, Annie Gobeil, Elsie Jacobs, Myrtle Stetson, Ruby Gray and Arlene Sullivan.

The committee in charge of the day's arrangements were George A. Haskell, George H. Jennings, Irving Thornton, Gilbert Miner, John Barry and Wallace H. Payne.

Cold, Bubbling, Satisfying!

The delicious summer drink you can make tonight.

Make your own Root Beer with

WILLIAMS' Root Beer Extract

You can have five gallons of the best Root Beer you ever tasted from a 25 cent bottle of extract.

Just get a bottle of Williams' Root Beer Extract and follow the simple directions on the label.

Don't experiment—be sure to get WILLIAMS—the genuine concentrated extract made in Hartford, Connecticut. For sale by all grocers.

THE WILLIAMS & CARLETON CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.

WILLIAMS Since 1839 Flavoring Extracts

Williams' Famed Specialties
Williams' Extracts
Williams' Cocoa
Williams' Spices
Williams' Charter Oak Coffee
Williams' Tea House Tea
Williams' Gelatine

Prima Donna To Spend Summer Abroad

COPYRIGHT, KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK

Frieda Hempel, well known singer who leaves New York on the S. S. Majestic, to spend the summer abroad. She will give a Jenny Lind concert in Albert Hall, London, upon her arrival there; later will come a brief stay in Paris, and then a few months at her home in Sils Maria, Engadine, Switzerland. She will return in October for the opening of the musical season.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

"Shuffle Along"

The sensational all colored record-breaking musical success, "Shuffle Along," is the first show of its kind to reach Broadway since the days of Williams and Walker over ten years ago. This wonderful musical production registered an emphatic hit and record run of two years at the Sixty-third Street Music Hall, New York city, during which time it called forth such a wealth of unstinted praise from all the famous New York dramatic critics, that there came a heavy demand for it from all parts of the country from the prominent theatres and yielding to these many requests, the management has arranged to play a limited number of engagements, and will be seen at the Broadway theatre on Wednesday, June 6.

One of the best known colored primadonnas has the title role, and never before has she had a part that suits her personality so perfectly. Her beautiful voice is heard to unusual advantage in several melodies allotted her. The performance sparkles like champagne, and is guaranteed to rejuvenate the most tired business man.

Mail orders are now being accepted. Seat sale will start Monday. Prices: Orchestra, $1.73 and $2.30; balcony, $1.73, $1.15; gallery 58c.

DR. SANFORD H. HOLMES DEAD AT JEWETT CITY

(Special to The Bulletin)

Jewett City, May 30.—Dr. Sanford Harrison Holmes, 82, died early Wednesday evening, after an illness of six weeks. Dr. Holmes was born in Frankfort, Me., August 21, 1841. He was the son of Dr. Marshall H. and Lucy Field Holmes. In his youth he was a bookkeeper in Providence, and for several years he was with Thomas Low, an architect in New Haven. He decided to enter the medical profession and studied at a New York medical school. He was graduated from the Eclectic Medical college in Cincinnati in 1884. For a year he practiced with his father in Waterville, Maine, and nearly forty years ago he located in Jewett City.

He married Marietta Parrish of Griswold in 1872. She died in 1906. In 1907 he married Louis M. Holmes of Lisbon. She survived him, with a nephew, Ralph Nickerson of College Point, L. I., and two nieces, Mrs. Myra Gleason of New Hampshire and Mrs. Lucy Bracken of New Haven. Dr. Holmes was one of the oldest Masons and Odd Fellows in the state. He is a member of Trumbull lodge, F. and A. M., of New Haven, joining in 1880.

He joined Quinnipiac lodge, I. O. O. F., in New Haven in 1870. He was a charter member of Reliance lodge, No. 29, I. O. O. F., in Jewett City and served as its noble grand more than once.

He was the father of Ruthie Rebekah lodge, and its first noble grand. Dr. Holmes is the third member of that lodge to die since its organization in 1908. He had been a district deputy grand master of this Odd Fellows district, was a member of Thames Past Noble Grands association, of the Veteran Odd Fellows' association, a member of Undaunted lodge, No. 34, K. of P., and the Pachaug grange.

For 25 years Dr. Holmes was the humane agent for this section and had served as a burgess of the borough when Ira F. Lewis was warden. Dr. Holmes was a great admirer of antiques, and had a large collection of many articles of varied sorts.

Dr. Holmes was possessed many fine traits of character, which were interwoven with his profession as a doctor, that were learned at a better school than the university could furnish.

The doctor's courage and inborn determination not to give up, even in a losing fight became a valuable asset and prolonged his life for months. His cheerful disposition was always outstanding, making meetings and talks with him a real pleasure to his host of friends, and as life narrowed down this characteristic was evident, even to the extent that he could face the inevitable with his accustomed smile.

Hamden.—On account of the small attendance at the meeting of the Whitneyville Improvement association in Putnam avenue school, it was decided to defer the talk on town manager until a later date.

What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Bread Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Thirty-fourth anniversary of the Johnstown flood.

Sixty-sixth birthday of Pius XI, the present occupant of the pontifical throne.

Observance of the festival of Corpus Christi, kept by the Roman Catholic church in honor of transubstantiation.

The final effort of the city administration of Detroit to drive the jitneys off the streets will be made at a court hearing scheduled for today.

Governor Smith of New York has fixed this as the date for holding a public hearing at Albany on the bill to repeal the state prohibition enforcement act.

Dr. Joseph Sweetman Ames, professor of physics in Johns Hopkins University, is to deliver the Wilbur Wright lecture before the Royal Aeronautical Society of England today.

A delegation of 100 British newspapermen, advertising executives and business men is due to arrive in New York today to attend the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which will open next Monday at Atlantic City.

Conventions Today.

Springfield, Mass.—International Association of Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents.

French Lick, Ind.—American Pediatric Society.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Chelsea Vacation Club Checks (Now) Sent Out

Checks will be sent out this week to the Chelsea Savings bank to all members of the Chelsea Vacation club. Interest will be added at the rate of 2 per cent. to all vacation club accounts on which payments have been kept up to date.

Now that summer is here and everyone is making plans for their vacation—where they will go—what they will do and wondering where the money will come from to pay for the long looked for change, these checks will be a great help.

Vacation clubs and Christmas clubs are becoming more and more popular each year. There is no better illustration of the fruits of systematic handling of money than is demonstrated by these two methods.

The 1924 Vacation club will again be in charge of Miss May L. Bushnell, and will enroll new members from June 1st until October 1st. There will be the same classes as last year; namely, 25c, 50c, $1, $2 and $5 weekly payments.

Bread Theatre

"Tom Mix in Arabia," title of the latest Fox production, starring the vigorous Tom Mix, which is due at the Bread theatre today, Friday and Saturday is characterized by many surprising incidents that will please the most blase picture-goers.

It is doubtful whether any photoplay ever exhibited on the local screen possessed more thrilling situations which were actually enacted by the star of the picture who refused the assistance of a double.

Without revealing in detail the elements of new and surprising action and atmosphere that "Tom Mix in Arabia" contains, it may be said that Mix practically steps out of his old character entirely and reveals a new power of versatility as an actor—becomes a reckless and romantic adventurer amid tense scenes and dynamic action in the Arabian desert.

With a colorful and romantic story of this type, Mix has a greater opportunity than ever to show his capabilities as an actor—and he does it in a manner that establishes him more strongly in fame and favor than ever before. With bold, broad strokes, as well as the very finest shading of character delineation, Mix plays upon every motion mixing delightfully light moments of comedy with heavy, tense and thrilling dramatic action.

Supporting him is the usual sterling cast of players, including Claire Adams, as female lead.

Movie Chats and a Sunshine comedy make up the remainder of the bill.

Vaudeville at the Broadway Theatre

The B. F. Keith vaudeville scheduled for the last half of this week at the Broadway theatre staging today is as follows:

Three Black Diamonds in a Half Ton of Harmony is the feature attraction.

Ed and Ida Tindell appear in a snappy variety of vaudeville doings.

Hon Dave Manley follows as The Major of the U. S. A.

Seena & Weber are comedians.

Chas. Leland & Co. offer variety entertainment.

Picturegoers who delight in Rupert Hughes pictures written and directed for Goldwyn—and who does not?—will be particularly delighted with his latest film Look Your Best, which will be shown at the Broadway theatre today. Look Your Best possesses the usual Rupert Hughes earmarks; it is simple human and heart-warming, with its little humorous characterizing touches that make the appeal of his pictures universal. It has a romantic tinge that makes it especially alluring. The cast is a most capable one, Colleen Moore and Antonio Moreno, the featured players, acting to the top of their bent. They are ably assisted by William Orlamond, Francis McDonald, Orpha Alba and Martha Mattox. The story concerns a little girl of Italian parentage who has to struggle against her love of food—and the love of the man who looks after the mechanics end of her vaudeville act—or suffer her career to

TOM MILTON WINS 500-MILE MOTOR CLASSIC AT INDIANAPOLIS TRACK

Indianapolis, May 30—(By the A. P.)—Tommy Milton of St. Paul, Minn., achieved the ambition of his brilliant racing career today, when for the second time he won the 500 mile automobile race over the Indianapolis motor speedway, repeating his victory of 1921 before a crowd of 150,000 spectators. It was the greatest throng that ever witnessed a sporting event in America.

Milton's time for the 500 miles was 5.28:06:27, giving him an average speed of 91.4 miles an hour, as compared with the record breaking speed of 94.48 miles a year ago, Harry Hartz of Los Angeles who finished second in the 1922 race, thundered across the finishing line five miles behind Milton, while Jimmy Murphy, winner of the 1922 race, was third about 13 miles behind Hartz. Hartz' time was 5.33:05:90 for an average of 90.06 miles per hour. Murphy finished in 5 40:36:64 for an average speed of 88.08 miles an hour.

Fourth place honors went to the veteran Earl Cooper, while L. L. Corum of Indianapolis furnished one of the mechanical surprises of the race by piloting a specially built "flivver" into fifth place. Frank Elliott, a California driver, finished sixth and Eddie Hearne seventh. Max Sailer, one of the three German entries, was eighth. Prince de Crystra, a French entry, was ninth. Phil Shafer, driving an Indianapolis machine was tenth. Christian Werner, another of the German entries, finished eleventh, just outside of the prize money.

Of the 24 cars that roared away in a belching of smoke at the start of the race, only eleven survived the grueling test of speed and endurance. Eight of the survivors were American creations, two were German and one was French. Four of the French machines were eliminated because of motor trouble and the third German entry was wrecked in a smash up.

Milton, who collected about $35,000 as his reward for victory gave a wonderful exhibition of gameness, skill and daring, as he was pushed every mile of the race by the thundering speed marvels attempting to defeat him. Howard Wilcox, an Indianapolis driver, shared in Milton's triumps for after his own car was eliminated, he relieved Milton, whose hands were painfully blistered as a result of gripping the wheel. Wilcox drove 115 miles of the race, taking the wheel at the 260 mile mark to enable Milton to have his hands treated and bandaged. Milton went back into the race at the 375 mile mark, two laps in the lead.

Milton's champion car showed its class in the first mile of the race. its eight cylinders being in perfect tune as the machine thundered past the stands. The first 50 miles of the grind was a see-saw affair between Milton, Murphy and Hartz, first one going into the lead and then the other. When Milton had covered 150 miles, however, he was firmly entrenched in first place and held it until the finish except for a few minutes around the 275 mile mark when he lost to Hartz by stopping at the pits for fuel. Werner, the German, worried the leaders by his grim lead on third place until nearly the finish of the race. Wilcox also made things interesting until he was forced to quit with a broken clutch casing, one 100 mile mark. He was ending at the "hundred miles."

Milton delighted the race fans with his faster mile after mile, first, holding first place, sometimes second, and fourth and fifth. He showed rare speed, which undoubtedly on the speedway were better than 100 miles an hour.

The veteran Californian, however, suffered some motor trouble and at one time was forced to drop back to ninth place. He gained steadily as he neared the miles finally pushing his car into third place, retaining this position to the finish.

The race resulted in two serious accidents, in which three school boy spectators from Lafayette, Ind., were injured one perhaps gravely. Christian Lautenschlager, a German entry, ran into a concrete retaining wall on his 15th lap, but miraculously escaped death although his machine was wrecked. Jacob Krauss, his mechanician, was taken to the field hospital, but his injuries were not as serious as first reported. Krauss was the only mechanician in the race, as all other racers drove alone.

Tom Alley of Indianapolis, a veteran racer, was in the second smash up of the day, in attempting to pass a car on the southwest turn of the track while speeding near 100 miles an hour, Alley's car skidded, overturned and crashed through a fence, seriously injuring Herbert Schoup of Lafayette, Ind., with a skull fracture at the base of the brain. Schoupp's two companions, Charles Elliott and William Gosin also were so badly injured that they were taken to a hospital. Alley, who was driving as relief for Earl Cooper at the time of the accident, suffered a broken arm, cuts about the head and body, and a possible skull fracture. He was thrown some distance from the speeding car after it turned over. When Alley regained consciousness, he said his accelerator stuck and he was unable to control the machine.

ASHLAND LOSES CLOSE GAME IN THE NINTH

For the second time in the two games played by the Ashland Club of Jewett City they were defeated in the ninth inning, and as in the opening game it was one run that did the trick in the Memorial Day game. The visitors came well recommended and proved to be all that was claimed they would be.

In the first inning both teams went scoreless, but the visitors broke the ice in the second when with two out Huband hit to N. Liberty who threw wild. Heband going to second, and Keith followed with a homer to left, the ball being lost in the grass.

Ashland scored one in their half when Bill Liberty hit a long double to left and scored on an error by Leonard.

Both teams went scoreless until the seventh when Ashland scored three runs on good hitting. In the eighth both went scoreless and it looked like a victory for the home club, but in the ninth after two were gone Kelly of the visitors hit safe and Riley followed suit sending Kelly to third on a poor relay by Noel. Pop Blesso hitting in place of Huband who had hurt his ankle in the previous inning then singled driving in one run and leaving a man on second and third. and Keith scored both with a line single to left putting the visitors in the lead by one run. Dutch Leonard took up the pitching burden for the visitors in the last half of the ninth and retired the home club in order.

The home club outhit the visitors but their errors were costly coming at critical times.

The crowd was small, and unless there is a big increase in the attendance at the next game it will be necessary to cancel some of the big games that are booked ahead. The score:

Columbias.	ab	h	po	a	e	Ashland.	ab	h	po	a	e
Mackinaw cf	4	0	2	0	0	Noel,2b	4	1	2	1	0
Murray cf	4	1	5	0	0	Nickolass	3	0	2	3	0
Saxon,rf	4	1	1	0	0	Varin,3b	3	0	1	0	0
Leonard,ss,p	4	0	0	2	1	N.Liberty,ss	4	0	1	2	0
Keith,2b	4	1	2	3	0	W.Liberty,c	4	0	6	1	0
Riley,3b	4	1	1	1	0	Bailie,cf	4	0	2	0	0
Hurband,c	4	1	8	1	0	Jarvis,rf	2	0	1	0	0
Keith,1b	4	2	7	0	0	Benjamin,lf	0	0	1	0	0
McDonough,p	4	0	1	4	0	Zurick,p	2	0	0	1	0
xBrindo	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	8	27	12	1	Totals	32	1	24	8	0

x Batted for Hurband in 9th.

Runs by innings:

Columbias	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—3
Ashland	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0—1

Two base hits, Benjamin, W. Liberty. Home run, Keith. Stolen base, Zurick. Sacrifice hits, McDermott 2, by Leonard 1.

TIGERS DIVIDE HOLIDAY BILL WITH BROWNS

Detroit, May 30—Detroit divided a doubleheader with St. Louis today, the Browns winning the morning affair, 10 to 2 by hard hitting, and the Tigers taking the afternoon, 4 to 3, when Elam Van Gilder was unable to hold the two run advantage he had at the start of the last half of the ninth. George Dauss won his game in the ninth by driving the ball over Jacobson's head, scoring Cutshaw with the winning run. Robertson's interference on an easy roller to Gerber paved the way for the Tiger victory. With one out in the ninth Heilmann walked. Manush batted for Dauss and hit to short but Robertson and Gerber both tried to make the play, and as a result Heilmann and Manush were safe. Cutshaw was passed, filling the bases. Bassler's single through third scored two runs, tying the score The score:

St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Tobin,rf	4	2	2	0	0	Harris,ss	5	1	2	3	0
Gerber,ss	3	0	4	7	0	Bush,c	3	0	7	0	0
Jacobson,cf	4	1	2	3	0	Cobb,cf	4	1	3	0	0
Williams,1b	4	2	7	0	0	Veach,lf	4	1	2	0	0
McMan'n,c,lb	3	0	4	1	0	Heilmann,rf	2	1	1	0	0
Collins,lf	3	0	1	0	0	Manush,lf	3	0	1	0	0
Robert'n,2b	3	1	0	2	0	Robertson,2b	3	1	2	3	0
Stidham,c	3	0	2	1	0	Rigney,3b	3	0	1	2	0
VanGilder,p	3	0	0	0	0	Dauss,p	3	0	0	1	0
						Martin,c	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	30	6	25	7	2	Totals	34	5	27	7	0

(x) One out when winning run scored.

Runs by innings:

St. Louis	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	2
Detroit	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	x	3

Batted for Pratt in 9th.

Two base hits, Tobin, Roberts, W. Williams. Three base hits, Jacobson, Cobb.

GIANTS WIN AND LOSE TO DODGERS

New York, May 30—Before a crowd of 45,000, a new record for National league attendance, the New York Giants this afternoon broke their losing streak and defeated Brooklyn, 9 to 6, after losing the morning game of the Memorial Day double bill to the Dodgers, 5 to 2. Vance pitched airtight ball for the Dodgers in the morning, striking out eight of the Giants batters, but in the second game, Dickerman, who had won five straight previously, was knocked out of the box by the Giants in the fourth inning of a see-saw battle. O'Connell, outfielder for whom the Giants paid $75,000, hit his third home run of the week in the afternoon game.

Before the morning game, the New York club placed a wreath at the monument in centerfield to Captain Eddie Grant, former Giant star, who was killed in action in the war. The 307th infantry American legion post paid similar tribute to Grant's memory in the afternoon, Major General Robert Alexander, commander of the division with which Grant fought, laying the wreath. The score:

Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	New York (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Neis,cf	5	3	2	0	0	Bancroft,ss	5	2	1	3	1
Johnston,2b	5	0	6	2	0	Groh,3b	5	1	1	2	0
T.Griffith,rf	5	2	3	0	0	Frisch,2b	5	1	2	3	0
Wheat,lf	4	2	1	0	0	Meusel,lf	5	2	2	0	0
Fournier,1b	5	2	9	1	0	Young,rf	5	2	3	0	0
McGrew,3b	5	0	2	3	0	Kelly,1b	5	2	9	2	0
Higbe,ss	3	0	4	3	0	O'Connell,cf	3	2	4	1	0
DeBerry,c	4	0	5	2	0	Snyder,c	3	0	5	2	0
Dickerm'n,p	2	1	0	0	0	J.Barnes,p	1	0	0	0	0
Decatur,p	0	0	0	0	0	Johnson,p	0	0	0	0	0
xB.Griffith	1	0	0	0	0	xxSmith	0	0	0	0	0
Cadore,p	1	0	0	0	0	Ryan,p	0	0	0	0	0
xxHenline	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	43	10	36	14	0	Totals	42	12	27	13	1

(x) Batted for Decatur in 9th.
(xx) Ran for Fournier in 9th.
(xxx) Batted for Johnson in 9th.

Score by innings:

Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	x—2
New York	0	0	0	5	2	0	1	1	x	—9

Two base hits, Harper 2. Three base hit, Griffith. Home runs, O'Connell and Groh.

RED SOX HALT ATHLETICS BY WINNING TWICE

Philadelphia, May 30—The rush of the Athletics towards the top of the American league was halted abruptly today when Boston took both the morning and afternoon games. The first was an exciting contest won by a 6 to 5 score but in the afternoon Boston outclassed the Athletics and won 6 to 2.

Jimmy Dykes, star second baseman of the Athletics, injured his leg in the morning game but tried to play in the afternoon only to retire in the second inning. He will be out of the game for a week, according to the club officials.

About 45,000 fans witnessed the two games, it being necessary to rope off the field for the afternoon contest. Score:

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mac'ollas,s	4	3	2	3	1	Mathews,rf	4	2	1	0	0
Wa'ace,c	4	1	7	0	0	Ricenda,ss	4	1	2	3	0
Mesnsky,cf	3	0	2	0	0	Peckinp'h	1	0	0	0	0
Burns,1b	4	3	10	0	0	Hauser,1b	3	2	12	1	0
Harris,lf	3	1	4	0	0	Miller,lf	4	1	0	0	0
Fingleton,rf	3	1	3	0	0	Galloway,ss	3	2	5	3	0
Sharp,2b	4	0	2	3	0	Welch,c	4	0	4	0	0
McMillan,2b	4	1	2	2	0	Dykes,2b	3	0	1	0	0
Ferguson,p	2	0	0	2	0	Scheer,2b	0	0	0	2	0
						Hommel,p	2	0	0	3	0
Totals	31	10	27	12	2	Totals	32	9	27	9	0

Score by innings:

Boston	0	0	0	2	0	3	1	0	0	—6
Philadelphia	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2

Two base hits, Burns 2, Harris, Matthews, McWilliams, Walters, Ricenda. Home run, Fingleton. Stolen bases, Benjamin, Wheat, Leonard, Mackinaw, Saxon, Keith 2, Riley, Hurband, Ferguson, Sharp, Burns, Harris, Fingleton, Galloway, Welch, Dykes, Hauser, Miller. Sacrifice hits, Sharp, Ferguson, Hauser, Galloway. Double plays, Sharp to Burns; Galloway to Hauser. Left on bases, Boston 8, Philadelphia 7. Bases on balls, off Ferguson 1, off Hommel 1. Struck out, by Ferguson 2, by Hommel 1. Hit by pitcher, by Ferguson, Welch. Umpires, Messrs. Connolly and Nallin. Time, 2.00. Attendance, 45,000.

WILLING AND NEVILLE TO ENTER BALTIMORE TOURNEY

Baltimore, May 30—Dr. O. F. Willing, of Portland, Ore., and Jack Neville, of San Francisco, members of the American amateur golf team which recently competed in England, will take part tomorrow in the annual spring golf tournament of the Baltimore Country club. Dr. Willing reached the sixth round in the British amateur championship at Deal.

PIRATES HAND DOUBLE BEATING TO CUBS

Pittsburgh, May 30—Pittsburgh took both games from Chicago today, winning the morning game 5 to 4 and the afternoon game 10 to 2. The Pirates hit Kaufmann hard in the first inning of the morning game, scoring all their runs in that period. Cooper was master of the situation throughout the afternoon game, Aldridge started for Chicago but was put off the field by Umpire McCormick in the first inning for disputing a decision. Carey knocked a home run into the right field bleachers in the afternoon game. Miller, Chicago left fielder, was hit on the head by a batted ball in the morning game and forced to retire. The scores:

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
[illegible]

Batted for Beck in 8th.

Batted for Kaufmann in 8th.

Batted for Bigbee in 9th.

Batted for Bassler in 9th.

Batted for Hollingsworth in 9th.

Batted for Bailey in 9th.

Batted for Bentley in 9th.

Batted for Blake in 9th.

Batted for Barnes in 9th.

Batted for Ruether in 9th.

Batted for Rixey in 9th.

Batted for Hubbell in 9th.

Batted for Ryan in 9th.

Batted for Decatur in 9th.

Batted for Cadore in 9th.

Batted for Ryan in 9th.

Batted for Hollingsworth

1791 1923

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday. Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls.
Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-2.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-3.

Willimantic Office, 51 Church St. Telephone 1002.

Norwich, Thursday, May 31, 1923.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

CIRCULATION

WEEK ENDING MAY 26th, 1923

12,340

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

Aldermen,
E. LARUE BLIVEN,
EDWARD CROOKS.

Councilmen,
MARTIN ROZYCKI,
F. RUSSELL SMITH,
ALFRED G. LILLIBRIDGE,
LEE CLEGG.

City Treasurer,
STEPHEN H. REEVES.

City Clerk,
WESTON C. PULLEN.

Tax Collector,
HAROLD T. ROBINSON.

Sheriff,
CHARLES H. RAYNES,
MAURICE LOOBY.

Member of Water Board,
REUBEN S. BARTLETT.

BAD LEGISLATION.

Concerning the action of the judiciary committee of the general assembly in putting forth a bill of its own penalizing a compensation commissioner for tendering or using his professional services in behalf of an injured workman or his employe, the New Haven Journal-Courier says, "We take it that somebody has done something unethical, or appeared to do so, which warrants invoking the strong arm of the law."

The committee bill is unquestionably the outcome of the attempt that was previously made during this session of the legislature to get unwarranted legislation regarding the commission. It was legislation that fails das it deserved to, and it is surprising that the committee, knowing the situation as it does and what prompted the original measure, should have taken upon itself the responsibility of sponsoring such a bill.

It isn't a case where anything unethical has been done by the commission but where one member of the commission, and possibly others, has stood in the way of unjustified fee exactions on the part of certain physicians. This was all brought out at the time of the hearing on the original bill and would have been repeated again and possibly added to had there been an opportunity accorded for a hearing.

Had the commissioner given his approval to fees which were not warranted no legislation of the kind would ever have been heard of and it will be surprising if the general assembly gives its approval to such kind of legislation even though the judiciary committee has seen fit to slide it through with its approval.

The New Haven Journal-Courier regards it as intemperate legislation. It appears to be worse than that.

INVITED NEW PUNISHMENT.

Is Brindell, the convicted labor leader of New York, figured that as long as he was in prison and could get no worse he might as well disregard the discipline of the institution and get what advantages he could, just the same as he apparently justified in his own mind his method of controlling the building trades situation, he probably realizes now that he made a mistake.

Those in prison learn by experience, if they do not realize it before, that there are some who cannot be bribed and that there are some who respect and uphold the law. Brindell seems to have used his influence and possibly cash to get special favors at Sing Sing. Like the pitcher that went to the well once too often he got caught and he is now learning that he will get no more such opportunities, no more privileges like he had been allowed and no more work in the nature of a trusty but he has wrecked his good behavior record and brought about his transfer to another prison, where the type of criminals is different and less consideration is shown to the inmates.

Shifted to Dannemora prison he is classed with the more desperate and he is watched in accord therewith. This he has brought upon himself, as he must realize. He has shown that he could no more be trusted inside prison than he could before he was sent there. Perhaps the most serious feature of his case lies in the fact that he faces the probability of being required to serve a much longer part of his indeterminate sentence. But even so the blame rests, as in other cases, upon no one but himself. He invited and is getting additional punishment.

THOSE RUSSIAN REFUGEES.

When the idea was first advanced of bringing several hundred Russian refugees from the Philippines to this country there was opposition. There was the natural fear that they were reds and therefore not wanted here. That view was set at rest by the declaration to the effect that they were not reds but actually opponents of the soviet government who had refused to support such a government and had been forced out of the country for that reason. They were declared to be supporters of the old Romonoff government, which gave it entirely different aspect to the situation.

And yet there were many who could not understand why the Philippines was not as good a place for them as this country. Some of the group are to remain in the Philippines but three hundred or so are being brought to this country on the government transport Merritt.

That at least indicated that they were not such as should be classed among the undesirables. When, however, they failed to stoke the boilers of the ship in a manner to insure proper navigation and went on a strike, it didn't exactly display what might be considered a proper display of gratitude. Those who guided a fleet of Russian warships ought to have been able to fire a transport but there may have been conditions of which we know nothing and therefore it is necessary to withhold opinions until such facts are revealed. But the impression prevails, however, that what the country needs is not more strikers, but workers, and if they have displayed their real nature in the apparent favor that is being shown them it would be far better to turn them back where they came from.

VOTING MACHINE DEMONSTRATION.

Are you thoroughly informed regarding the use of the voting machines?

If you are the demonstration which has been arranged by the registrars of voters in the corridor of the court house to continue afternoons and evenings of today, tomorrow and Saturday will not interest you.

If you are not there is provided an opportunity of which you should take full advantage in order to be prepared for the city election June 4.

If, for any reason you feel that you desire a chance to look the machine over and refresh your recollections of the method of voting by machine the chance to do so, and to ask any questions desired, has been arranged.

It is a simple operation and it requires but a brief examination or explanation to clear up any misunderstandings, and yet it is desirable that such should be done before election day in order to eliminate all confusion possible and to avoid the holding up of other voters.

It is well to remember that this is the only district in which the demonstration will take place. Those who will explain the working of the machine are thoroughly qualified to inform those who have questions to ask or have gotten the idea that there is something intricate about the use of the machines.

It will be possible to see the machine in operation between 12.30 and 5 p. m. and from past experiences it can be assured that the instructions will be cheerfully furnished and the operations thoroughly explained.

The opportunity exists. Go, see and conquer.

MOTORISTS AND FIRES.

Because of the danger to lives and the loss of property that are involved attention is attracted by the forest fires that have been menacing a number of towns in Minnesota and Wisconsin. It is deplorable that such great waste cannot be greatly curtailed.

One significant statement in connection with the cause of some of the fires at least in that region is that fire wardens say that nearly all fires were started by motorists who dropped lighted matches or cigarette stubs from their cars.

That is not only a serious matter but one that could easily be overcome. Many are the instances where those in automobiles have been seen to throw matches, which they have been using to light their smokes, out of the car or to snap cigarette stubs out at a distance sufficient to reach the underbrush of the roadside. Probably, with attention being called to it, there will be many who motor who will recall having done that same thing many times themselves. Whether or not fires have come from such dropping of firebrands is not known and yet in wooded regions or where leaves and underbrush fill the roadside it can be readily realized that all that is needed to kindle a destructive fire is just such a firebrand.

There is no reason to believe that there is any such result aimed at. It is due to just that thoughtlessness which is responsible for many a woodland fire. Losses that have been suffered and the knowledge of the danger that exists in such acts should be sufficient however to bring about the elimination of a very large proportion of fires from such causes. The act of prevention is certainly easy enough.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The man on the corner says: The weatherman was certainly in sympathy with Memorial day plans.

A New York saleswoman has been given $50,000 by a customer to whom she showed attention. It pays to be courteous.

As the session of the legislature draws to a close interest is increased in those measures which are being left for the last.

From time to time new substitutes for gasoline are reported but little is ever heard from them after the initial announcement.

Even those who stand for peace are not disappointed at the performances of American aviators or some of the new naval vessels.

Fire works havoc wherever it gets a good start and encounters encouraging conditions. Fire prevention is less costly and more desirable.

If De Valera has decided to throw up the sponge he must be kicking himself to think he didn't know good advice when he heard it long ago.

When Tammany says Governor Smith of New York state will sign the Mullan-Gage repeal bill it may well be considered inside dope. They know Al.

Though some of the foreign steamship lines are accepting the decision on the Volstead act, European countries are not so inclined. It doesn't set well.

If there is fear that the railroads will not be able to handle all business offered them in the fall why not insist on moving just as big a volume as possible of that business now and thus prepare against a condition long known in advance?

LETTING IN THE LIGHT

"Well, how goes it?" asked the interested uncle when he succeeded in cornering his extremely pretty niece for a moment. "How do you like the job of being a debutante and everything? All my life I have wondered and wondered what a debutante really thought about the whole affair and now I've got a chance to find out!"

"I should just love to talk with you," the extremely pretty niece murmured plaintively, one eye on her platinum wrist watch and one eye on the spot where the family limousine was expected any second. 'But I've got to be on time at the McWhiffers' luncheon. If the other girls don't see me there they'll think I'm not popular and left out of things and of course that is plain suicide! And if I go to the McWhiffers I simply can't get to that 2 o'clock subscription musicale in the Lemonsticks' picture gallery and everybody who attends that is going to be perfectly horrid and snippy to every one who dosn't. And I was asked and everything!"

"Couldn't you sort of drop the invitation card out of your handbag at the luncheon?" worried her uncle. "If the girls there saw it they would tell the others and it would be all right."

"It was one of those huge engraved invitations on heavy paper that you couldn't double up unless you used a hammer," explained the pretty neice sadly. "So that won't do! I'll just have to say casually to somebody that I wouldn't have dreamed of ditching old friends like the McWiffers for anything, not even the Lemonsticks' musicale, the way Regina Boots did! I think I'll leave early enough to put in an appearance at the bazaar for—well really, I've forgotten what it's for, but it is a good cause and everybody will be there—and then I can't get home in time for the dinner-dance at the club!"

I've had no idea being a debutante was so serious," the interested uncle commented. "I gather that the most important trick is to be seen everywhere! Do the bystanders keep tab on you as strictly as that?"

"My goodness!" the pretty niece burst out in heartfelt tones, "you can't imagine! All the mothers of the other girls and their aunts and grandmothers and the rest of the people who clutter up affairs and sit in all the chairs positively carry around typewritten lists of us, I guess. They are just riotous when their debutante scores and somebody else's doesn't. Why, if there is aparty for debs and I should not be there eleventy-three women would get out their pencils and put a tick after my name.

"'H'm!' they would say. 'That Carbona Twitter isn't here, I notice! H'm! Of course, she is included in the big splashy affairs, but when it comes to something exclusive like this you don't see her! Only the girls of unquestioned position and of the real old families are here—a complete test of popularity! How charming our little Rosamund looks this evening, to be sure! No question of her fitness for gilded scenes like this! How sorry I am for poor Carbona's mother, who, they say, spent an absolutely scandalous amount on a wardrobe for her! But clothes will not make a girl shine if she has nothing to back them up! I hope the Twitters will realize how hopeless it all is and let her take up stenography or something useful!'

"It is perfectly terrible trying to decide which of three invitations for the same will impress your presence on the most people and my head frequently aches from the continued strain! And I'm worried to pieces because Dudley Whooser seems to be picking me out and he's not right at all! This year unless Allemand Larke rushes a girl she might just as well let the background envelop her and call it a day!"

"Didn't I read that there were about a hundred debutantes this season?" gasped the interested uncle. "I suppose this Allemand person has to earn a living and it just breaks my heart to think of seventy or eighty girls crying themselves sick over their total failure because Allemand simply hasn't time to make the circuit! Couldn't they be tagged 'Approved. Signed, A. L.'? It would give so much happiness and relieve the rush. I had no idea that young men nowadays were so kind-hearted and such philanthropists, and it must be hard on this Allemand to realize that, work as fast as he may, he cannot stamp with approval all the debs that deserve the decoration! Didn't I see him here the other night?"

"Yes," admitted the extremely pretty niece, who had just seen the chauffeur drive up and so was rushing for the door. "He is exceptionally tiresome, and I can't stand him, but I never was so glad to see anybody in my life! How I wish I could stay home and eat candy and read a magazine this afternoon!"

"I'm going to leave all my money to found a retreat for debutantes!" declared the sympathetic uncle. "Poor, suffering things! They deserve it!"—Chicago News.

Today's Anniversaries

1818—John A. Andrew, governor of Massachusetts during the Civil war, born at Windham, Me. Died in Boston, Oct. 30, 1867.

1848—Congress appropriated $25,000 to buy the unpublished papers of James Madison.

1855—A third expedition left New York in search of Dr. Kane and his companions in the Arctic regions.

1878—Opening of the Tay bridge, the longest girder bridge in the world, across the Tay river, at Dundee, Scotland.

1884—The King of the Maoris arrived in England to claim the protection of Queen Victoria.

1891—Ten thousand persons visited the Metropolitan Museum in New York city on the occasion of its first Sunday opening.

1918—Twenty-eight lives lost when the U. S. transport President Lincoln was torpedoed off the French coast.

1919—U. S. naval seaplane completed transatlantic flight by arrival at Plymouth England

1922—Captain Tufe, at 10 to 1, won the English Derby at Epsom Downs. Price of Southern spot (soft) coal fixed at $3.50 a ton at the mines.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Dr. Joseph Sweetman Ames, who has been selected to deliver the Wilbur Wright lecture before the Royal Aeronautical Society of England today, has been professor of physics at Johns Hopkins University since 1899, and director of its physical laboratory since 1901. Dr. Ames has an international reputation, and is a member of the Royal Institution of Great Britain and the French Physics Society. His textbooks are widely used, and his more technical books on the theory of physics, on the free expansion of gases, the induction of electric currents, and on matter, have been highly valued by specialists. He is a Vermonter, who got his A. B. and his Ph. D., degrees at Johns Hopkins University, specializing in physics. He joined the faculty in 1888, and steadily rose to his present place of influence. In 1917 he served on the commission of experts sent to Europe on the most effective form of aid that the United States could give to the allied nations.

Today's Birthdays

His Holiness Pope Pius XI, born in the town of Desio, Italy, 66 years ago today.

Duke of Devonshire, former governor-general of Canada and Secretary for the Colonies in the Bonar Law cabinet, born 55 years ago today.

Lord Pirrie, the great Irish shipbuilder and capitalist, born at Quebec, 76 years ago today.

Maj. Gen. Merrit W. Ireland, surgeon-general of the U. S. army, born in Indiana, 56 years ago today.

Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, born at Wilton, N. H., 51 years ago today.

Frances Alda, celebrated operatic soprano, born at Christ church, New Zealand 40 years ago today.

Stories That Recall Others

Critical

Mary has a very precocious little three year old sister. Mary is attending college. Recently when she came home for the week end her little sister made the surprising remark.

"I don't like that slap on your face." It developed that she meant the "bang" on her sister's forehead.

Would be Absolutely Useless

Martha's immediate family consists of mother, daddy, Aunt Mat and five yougster, in addition to the six year old Martha. Recently a new car, a five passenger touring, was bought and in talking it over with a neighbor about her own age, Martha was asked whether the car was one seat or two seat, meaning roadster or touring.

"I'd like to know what we'd do with a one-seat car," came the prompt rejoinder. "We can't all get in the car we did get."

Wives of Famous Men

Isabella of Angouleme, Wife of King John.

A real "knights of old" story is that of the marriage of Isabella of Angouleme, a fair and beautiful maiden, to King John, the wicked and plotting brother of Richard the Lion Heart. The opinion of historians seems to be divided on the matter of Isabella's character, some declaring that she was an innocent puppet in the hands of her family, others insisting she was as much a part of the plottings and intrigues as John himself.

Nobody would have believed that Isabella was destined to become the future queen of England, because, just before she was married to John, not yet king, she was betrothed to one Hugh de Lusignan, heir to the province of Poitou. More than that, she had already, according to the feudal custom, been assigned to her affianced lord's family for purposes of education. It was upon a visit of state to the feudal castle of Hugh's uncle that John first saw the beautiful girl. Tradition says that his first sight of her was in the forest during a hunting party and "that meeting her in the glades of the chase he carried her off, screaming with terror, to the stronghold of his sovereignty, Bordeaux."

The abduction, however, according to the best authorities, was practically arranged by the parents of Isabella, who preferred the material advantages of the future king to the more romantic but less practical characteristics of Hugh. So they arranged the "chance" meeting in the forest, and it is at this point that historians disagree, some clinging to the belief that it was done against the girl's will, others declaring that it was done with her collusion, the triple crown of England, Normandy and Aquitaine being of greater lure than the love of her faithful betrothed.

A Little Talk on Thrift

Thrift Means Thriving.

While there still is much unrest in the world and economic conditions generally have not become stabilized it is well to keep in mind at all times the part thrift must play in bringing about more propitious circumstances everywhere.

It is natural that the man who owns a home, who possesses a savings account or who has the products of his thrift judiciously invested, should be an avowed supporter of the orderly forms of law and government. His every instinct is toward progress and upbuilding. He is against destructive tendencies because he recognizes in them a danger to his patiently obtained possession. Therefore, his influence may be counted upon as a force against any trend of thought or movement that is contrary to the proper safeguarding of the prevailing social order.

The possession of savings, investments or a home foster proprietary sentiments and awaken all the instincts for the preservation of property rights.

It also is to be borne in mind that the man who is thrifty is prosperous for the real meaning of thrift is thriving. And the man who realizes that he is getting on in the world, that he has something back of him for the days of emergency and who sees his possessions, small though they may be, slowly increasing, is most apt to judge social and economic problems on a basis of fairness to all. His mental outlook is normal and healthy because his life is right. He is not biased in his views because he is under no undue pressure of any kind.

In all the efforts that are being made to bring about more settled conditions, the very important part which must be assumed by thrift should not be overlooked. Anyone who is encouraging these practices is helping solve the grave problems of the world in a most practical manner.—American Society for Thrift.

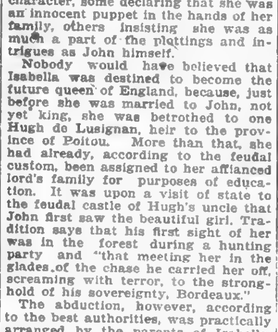
American Indian's Origin.

When conversation turns to the subject of American Indians a number of questions lurk in our minds. One of these is likely to be "How many centuries had Indians been in the United States when the first explorer of record came? Another question is ant to be "Did the Indian race or races come into being on our continent or did they migrate from some other continent, and if so, from where?" There is no answer to these questions which is beyond dispute.

One of the favorite explanations of the presence of the Indian in this country is that he was a Mongolian and came from Asia, crossing from Siberia by way of the Aleutian Islands and Bering Straits and then journeying south and east into his land of promise. There are many men of science who hold that the Indian never had any connection with Asia and is not descended from the Mongols, Tartars, Chinese or Aleutians. They contend that the Indian was an Egyptian or a Carthagenian or one of the races occupying the lands of the Egyptians, Assyrians, Babylonians, Phoenicians, or Carthagenians and came to America when a continent called Atlantis, mentioned by the classic writers of Greece, lay between Africa and America. That is, the Indians came here before 3,000 or more miles of sea separated Africa and America.

There are other grave and learned men who believe that the Indians came neither from Asia or Africa, but from Europe, and these men contend that he was a Greek or a Gaul and that he was the original man, that is that he was the first man to appear on earth. Among geologists are those who believe that the land we call the New World is the oldest land in the world.

Considered One Of The Greatest Twelve



Some time ago Senorita Mandujano, a Chilean delegate to the Pan-American Conference of Women at Baltimore, asked the National League of Women Voters to pick twelve of the greatest American women, whose wonders she could tell when she reached her country. Miss Anna Botsford Comstock (above) was one of the dozen chosen. She has made a reputation as a wizard in Natural History, having held the position of Assistant Instructor in Cornell and Leland Stanford University. She studied art at Cooper Union, New York and has had her wood engravings exhibited at the Chicago World Fair in 1893 and at the Paris Exposition in 1900.

GAMBLING IN INDIA

Although the natives of India do not operate on the stock market, they have adopted a unique form of gambling for which the cotton market reports are responsible Every day five quotations are cabled from New York announcing the cotton situation. The natives look upon this as a direct invitation to them to establish a simple but none the less absorbing form of gambling. The gambling is said to consist simply in guessing what the five figures will amount to, and the man getting nearest to the right amount takes the stakes.

Average weight of a hen's egg is 60 grams, of which the shell weighs about 6, the white 36 and the yoke 18.

WOMEN FROM FORTY TO FIFTY

Will Be Interested in Mrs. Hooker's Recovery by Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I was going through the Change of Life and suffered from a run-down condition and the troubles a woman has to go through at that time, hot flashes, nervousness and headaches. At times I was not able to do my work, but since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am gaining every day and can do my work with more ease than I have for five or six years. I owe it all to your great medicine." —MARTHA HOOKER, 114 College Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

When women who are between the ages of forty-five and fifty-five are beset with such annoying symptoms as nervousness, irritability, melancholia and heat flashes, which produce headaches, dizziness, or a sense of suffocation, they should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It is prepared from roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book for Women.

Don't Lose Your Hair Try Cuticura

If your scalp is irritated, itching and burning and your hair dry and falling out in combfuls try the following treatment. Touch spots of dandruff and itching with Cuticura Ointment and follow with hot shampoo of Cuticura Soap.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 49T, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

The Boston Store Norwich Reid Hughes Co. Conn

The Graduation Gown

IT MEANS MUCH TO THE YOUNG LADY

White of course—simple in design, as befits youth—fine in weave — with lines and ornamentation suitable to adolescence—all of these the graduation dress must be and have.

These dainty models in fine Imported Organdie, soft Canton Crepe or filmy Georgette fill every requirement. They are pretty and dainty in every way and are most moderately priced.

FROM $10.95 TO $25.00

When The Frock Is To Be Made At Home These Weaves Suggest Themselves

IMPORTED SWISS ORGANDIE
Permanent in finish and 45 inches wide. A wide variety of values in stock—
69c—79c to $1.25

WHITE DOTTED SWISS
Width 30 inches—
69c a Yard

IMPORTED DOTTED SWISS
Very fine in quality and 30 inches wide—
$1.25 a Yard

PLAIN WHITE VOILES
There are voiles and voiles, but these Boston Store fabrics are the best you will find for the money. Widths from 40 to 44 inches—
69c—79c—89c to $1.25

FANCY WHITE VOILES
Lacy weaves which make the prettiest dresses imaginable. All are a yard wide—
50c—79c—98c a Yard

EXQUISITE NAINSOOKS
Truly delightful, so soft and so fine. No other weave can take its place—
29c—39c—45c—55c a Yd.

DIMITY
White dimity in stripes or checked weaves. For summer dresses there is none better—
49c and 59c a Yard

SHERETTE
A very popular cloth which resembles organdie, but with more body. Possibly better for junior clothes as it does not wrinkle so readily. It is 36 inches wide—
35c and 49c a Yard

40-INCH CREPE DE CHINE
Ivory white, all-silk crepe which is proving very popular this year—
$2.00 a Yard

40-INCH CREPE DE CHINE
A heavier weight in ivory white which will prove a lasting delight—
$3.00 a Yard

MALLINSON'S PUSSY WILLOW TAFFETA
The softness of finish, the all-around wearability and the quality make this a superb weave. For the graduation frock you will want the ivory white. It is washable—
$3.50 a Yard

INDIA SILK
An old friend which has qualities to be appreciated. Light in weight but durable. We have it in ivory, and it is a yard wide—
$1.50

40-INCH GEORGETTE
Like a bit of ivory cobweb, but with the strength that only pure silk possesses—
$2.00 a Yard

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Another Visit From Danny Fox

Well, here we all are again, waiting to hear about Uncle Lucky and Little Jack Rabbit, who, you remember, we left in the wood with a little bird.

As soon as the dear old gentleman rabbit had buried the little bird's cage, the two little rabbits drove away in the luckymobile and after a while, Mr. Merry Sun went to bed behind the purple hills, so the two little bunnies

He set to work to make a little house looked about for a place in which to sleep, but there wasn't any nice hollow stumps in sight nor a comfortable warm cave, not even a bush and so they didn't know what to do.

"We'll have to cuddle up on the seat cushions," sighed little Jack Rabbit.

"No," answered Uncle Lucky, "I'd rather not be out in the open," and at once he set to work to make a little house out of the wood. By and by he had finished the little log cabin, only of course it had no windows, only a little door and a hole in the roof for a chimney, but oh, dear me, when Little Jack Rabbit made a little fire, the smoke wouldn't go out through the hole in the roof until Uncle Lucky replaced the luckmobile horn over it for a chimney. Then the smoke blew out as nicely as you please, making a sound just like a fog horn on a light house, only softer.

By and by, when the turnip tea was made and the lollypop stew brown, the two little rabbits sat down for supper at a tiny log table which the little bunny had made. After that, they brought in the luckymobile cushions and laid down to sleep, but, oh dear me, in the middle of the night, about thirteen o'clock they were awakened by a pounding of the door.

"What's that?" asked the old gentleman rabbit.

"S-s-s-sh!" whispered Little Jack Rabbit, peeping out through a crack in the logs. "Oh, oh, oh!" he cried in a frightened voice. "I wish you'd made a back door. Danny Fox is outside."

"Goodness, gracious, meebus!" exclaimed Uncle Lucky and then the knocking came again, rat-a-tat-tat, louder and louder and Oh my! how those two poor frightened little bunnies wished they were safe at home. They knew that pretty soon the sly old fox would break in the door for Uncle Lucky hadn't taken much time to make it strong and tight.

"Better open that door!" shouted Danny Fox, all of a sudden, just like the crack of a pistol:

"Open the door
Or I'll break off the knob,
And I'll pull off the hinges
To finish the job."

And when those two little rabbits heard that they nearly fell over backwards, but just then someone grabbed the old fox by the tail and in the next story you'll find out who it was.

(Copyright, 1923, by David Cory)

No Chance at All

The sugar market is said to be breaking under the strain of the women's attack. That is perfectly natural, as any husband will testify.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

X-rays may prove of great value in the treatment of whooping cough, according to recent experiments.

The Original Food-Drink for All Ages. Quick Lunch at Home, Office & Fountains. Rich Milk, Malted Grain Extract in Powder & Tablet forms. Nourishing—Refreshing. Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

Do Your Feet Hurt?

When shoes pinch or corns and bunions ache, get a package of Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder to be shaken into the shoes. It takes the sting out of corns, bunions and calluses, and gives instant relief to Smarting, Aching, Swollen feet. At night when your feet ache and burn from excessive dancing or walking, sprinkle some Allen's Foot-Ease in the foot-bath and you will solve your foot troubles. Over 1,500,000 pounds of powder for the feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war. Sold everywhere. Trial Package and a Foot-Ease Walking Doll sent Free.

ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, Le Roy, N. Y.

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.

DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.

THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY

(Incorporated 1824)
Main Street, Corner Broadway

NOBLE

IN TWO STYLES
BROADLEAF BRANDED
SUMATRA INVINCIBLE BANDED
CIGARS

SHIRTS
CONGRESS
DE LUXE

CONGRESS SHIRTS
HAVE MAINTAINED
A Leadership for Over 60 Years
Such leadership demands
REAL EXCELLENCE
LASTING QUALITY
Your dealer can tell you about the goodness of Congress.
Jacob Dreyfus & Sons
Boston New York

MR. AND MRS GOOD CITIZEN
Are you interested in the Salvation Army?
Do you want to help in its great task?
READ THE WAR CRY!
Sincerely,
Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

EATON GIVES WARNING OF TAX TIME LIMIT

U. S Internal Revenue Collector Eaton yesterday issued the following statement:

"The collector of internal revenue, District of Connecticut, desires to call to the attention of the taxpayers that their reports and remittances for April taxes, must be in this office May 31st, 1923, or they will become liable to a penalty of 25 per cent. and ½ per cent., and a specific penalty of $1,000 in each case, with interest at the rate of 1 per cent. monthly applicable on both tax and penalities.

"Manufacturers, theatres, cabarets, all places of amusements, dealers in soft drinks, jewelers, and dealers in automobile accessories are among the taxpayers affected.

"The collector does not wish to make a record on collecting penalties. In order to avoid them, I especially urge sales and excise taxpayers to promptly make their reports and remit their tax as above."

Broken Axle Tied Up Traffic

An Overland touring car owned by a New London man lost a rear wheel Wednesday night in front of the Buckingham Memorial when the axle broke as the wheel was caught in the car tracks. The accident happened just as four trolleys were leaving Franklin square and tied up traffic for a time until the car could be packed up and pushed to the gutter.

USE MOBO AUTO SOAP
Won't hurt the finish of your car
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR FREE BOOKLET

COOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

FISHING TACKLE
The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.
SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE
SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS
All Agate Glide Casting Reels. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium like through the advertising columns of The Bulletin

1786 1923
Norwich, Thursday, May 31, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7.48 o'clock tonight (s. t.)

Today is Corpus Christi day on the church calendar.

The best moonlight nights in June will be from the 27th to the 29th.

A number of local weddings are scheduled for the first week in June.

Fresh mackerel and porgies, many other native fish, at Osgood wharf.—adv.

The moon became full Wednesday morning. It will be in its last quarter June 6th.

Wednesday marked the opening of the hotels and cottages at many of the shore resorts.

Traffic on the New Haven road was unusually heavy Wednesday, owing to the holiday travel.

Stores, banks, business houses and schools were closed Wednesday in observance of Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Knox of Philadelphia have arrived at Watch Hill for the summer. They have leased the Riverview cottage.

There was a general display of flags in Norwich Memorial day, especially along the line of march followed by the Memorial day parade.

The smoke from the Max Gordon storehouse fire could be plainly seen from hills in a number of nearby towns Wednesday afternoon.

Many people visited Mohegan park Wednesday afternoon. The swings and seesaws were in constant demand as were the several rowboats.

Several automobile parties of Faith Trumbull chapter members are planning to attend the meeting of the Ellsworth Memorial association at Windsor on Friday.

Ashaway celebrated Memorial day with a parade in the afternoon following a dinner for veterans of all wars served in the Business Men's club rooms at noon.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for junior technologist, bureau of standards, on June 6. Entrance salary is $1200 to $1500.

A number of Norwich people motored to the beaches Memorial day. Auto traffic on the New London road and Westerly highway was unusually heavy throughout the day.

The Wequetequock chapel association met at the chapel recently to elect officers and discuss needed repairs of the chapel. Seven members were present and three new members were added.

A number of members of Christian Endeavor societies throughout Connecticut have enrolled for the sessions of the 29th international convention of that organization in Des Moines, Ia., from July 4 to 9.

The date for the joint celebration of the 200 anniversary of the Tolland Congregational church and the 120th anniversary of the Lee Methodist church will be held July 1 in the Congregational church.

Over 7,800,000 tent caterpillars were killed by the Bristol Boy Scouts in a civic work carried out by that organization under the direction of Scout Executive Ralph E. Woodbury. The scouts undertook the work at the instigation of the park commissioners.

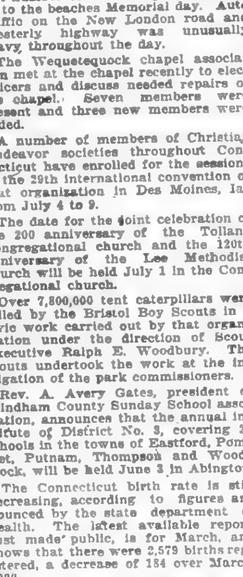
Rev. A. Avery Gates, president of Windham County Sunday School association, announces that the annual institute of District No. 3, covering 25 schools in the towns of Eastford, Pomfret, Putnam, Thompson and Woodstock, will be held June 3 in Abington.

The Connecticut birth rate is still decreasing, according to figures announced by the state department of health. The latest available report, just made public, is for March, and shows that there were 2,579 births registered, a decrease of 184 over March, 1922.

Greetings from Trinity college, Cambridge, England, will be extended to Trinity college, Hartford, on the occasion of the American institution's centennial anniversary by Prof. Charles Harold Herford, Litt. D., professor of English literature at Trinity college, England.

Mrs. John Blackburn of Church street is recovering from a very serious case of blood poisoning about the face. During her illness she was faithfully cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Doyle, who with her children remained a week with Mrs. Blackburn.

Bulletin's Pattern Service



4362
A STYLISH GOWN FOR A MATURE FIGURE

This is very smart in the new figured silks, or in printed crepe or voile. The blouse and skirt are finished separately, but may be joined together under the belt of the blouse. The sleeve is new and distinctive and the lines of the model are altogether slenderizing and pleasing.

The pattern is cut in seven sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches, bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 6 1-8 yards of 36-inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 3 1-3 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Send your order to The Bulletin Pattern Dept., 1268 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Must Be a "Red"

A Louisiannan has prefected an onion-flavored strawberry. He announced it under his breath.—Dallas News.

Fig coffee has been used in central Europe for several centuries.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Hugh McComb and daughter, Margery, of Springfield, are visiting friends in this city.

John J. Corkery and family moved on Wednesday from Spruce street, in the Laurel Hill section, to the modern bungalow on Fowler avenue lately purchased by Mr. Corkery.

Charles H. Smith of Brewster, N. Y., recently motored to Norwich and was a week end guest at the home of his mother, Mrs. Agnes Smith, of Broadway. Mrs. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Arthur G. Lord, of New York state, was also her guest recently.

OBITUARY

William A. Buckingham 2nd

The long and peaceful life of William A. Buckingham 2nd, of this city came to a close Wednesday afternoon at 2.45 o'clock after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Buckingham had recently suffered several shocks and death was due to hardening of the arteries.

William A. Buckingham 2nd was born in Norwich May 4, 1847, and was the son of Israel Matson Buckingham and Lydia Austin Carew, and the nephew of War-Governor William A. Buckingham for whom he was named. He passed his youth in the Israel Buckingham mansion on Washington street, which was built by his father, and at the age of 16 he attended the military school of General Russell in New Haven, then one of the most prominent schools in New England. For several years he also attended the Free Academy. After leaving school Mr. Buckingham was for a time in the Thames National bank.

On Nov. 18th, 1868 at Christ Episcopal church he was united in marriage with the beautiful Mary Day Reynolds, the service being conducted by Rev. D. F. Banks, rector of the church. They lived for many years on the large Washington street house where six children were born to them, one son dying an infant.

For some years Mr. Buckingham held a position of trust in the Haywood Rubber company. Later circumstances took him to New York city where he was in the employ of the New York Life Insurance company, and afterwards was connected with the United States Finishing company. Mr. Buckingham retired from active business about sixteen years ago and since that time has resided in Norwich. He was one of the corporators of the Norwich Free Academy serving in the capacity from 1888 until his death, and was also a member of the Knights of Pythias but in recent years had not been active.

Though a business man for many years, Mr. Buckingham had strong outside interests. He was a great lover of dogs and horses, and an expert judge of them. In his late years he was a constant reader, interested in politics, and the news of the day.

Mr. Buckingham was a very loyal friend, and in his increasing feebleness he showed much courage, patience and fortitude. He is survived by five children, Walter Matson Buckingham of Norwich, Helen Reynolds Buckingham of New York city, Maud Carew Buckingham of Norwich, William Alfred Buckingham, Jr., of Norwich and Lloyd Greene Buckingham of Jewett City; also one grandchild, Donald Young Buckingham of Jewett City.

Mr. Buckingham came of an old Connecticut family whose name is written into the history of the state, also in the city of Norwich. He was always a member of Christ Episcopal church for many years and at one time was a member of the choir of the church, for several years directing the singing. The news of his death will come as a shock to his many friends in the city, and their sympathies are extended to the family in their sad bereavement.

Valentine Pierson.

The life of Valentine Pierson of 82 Fifth street came to a peaceful ending early Wednesday morning after a short illness. He was born in Gothenburg, Sweden, February 14th, 1875, the son of Carl and Christine Pierson. He came to this country 27 years ago, most of this time having been spent in Norwich where for many years he was a tailor by trade. The last few years he had been employed by the United States Finishing company.

He was a member of the Swedish Lutheran church of this city and was married in that church February 2, 1901, to Miss Olga Anderson, by Rev. Mr. Brodien, pastor.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Walter and Elmer, all of this city, also four sisters and one brother in Sweden. His many friends grieve his loss and sympathize with the family.

FUNERAL

Mrs. William H. McKelvey, Jr.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends present Wednesday afternoon when prayers were held for Mrs. William H. McKelvey, Jr., at her late home in Poquetanuck and the floral tributes were many and beautiful, testimony to the esteem in which the deceased had been held by her many friends.

The funeral service was held at 3 o'clock from St. James' Episcopal church, Rev. T. M. M. Ockford, rector of the church officiating. Burial was in the family plot in the Poquetanuck cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Ockford read a committal service. The bearers were Walter Tarbox, Albert Rist, Charles Campbell and Howard Fuller. Arrangements were by Church & Allen.

STOEKLE GIVES WARNING OF RECKLESS MOTORCYCLISTS

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Stoekel has sent the following letter to court officials and chiefs of police:

"The last week-end was a very bad one for serious personal injury accidents and fatalities. In the analysis of these it appears that there have been six fatal accidents in which motorcycles were concerned in the last month and three over the last week end. Now there are only about 1,800 motorcycles registered as against 2,800 last year. This makes it quite apparent that there must be an unusual amount of reckless driving by the owners of these vehicles and I am writing you this letter to ask you to please do what you can to impress upon the operators of motorcycles that speed must be kept down.

This department will proceed to suspend the operator's license of any motorcycle operator who is convicted of speeding or who is complained of, with sufficient evidence to prove the offense. Please take what action you can."

MANY MORE GRAVES THAN USUAL WERE DECORATED

Hundreds of local people visited the various cemeteries of the city Wednesday to decorate them. Officials at the cemeteries reported that the annual custom of decorating the graves showed a large increase over previous years, in spite of the reports that flowers were scarce.

Second Arrest in Two Days.

Henry T. Couchman of Ledyard, who was fined in the police court here Wednesday morning for operating an automobile while his license is suspended, left the court room shortly after 10 o'clock but was again under arrest by noon ,this time on an intoxication charge. He was arrested by Officer D. J. O'Neil on Water street where he was found intoxicated and trying to force his way into a place where he claimed he could get a drink.

STOREHOUSE FIRE WITH $25,000 LOSS IS BELIEVED INCENDIARY

Damage estimated between $20,000 and $25,000 resulted from a fire which broke out shortly before 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the large frame storehouse of the Max Gordon & Son Corporation in the rear of the Industrial building on Central Wharf, fully $15,000 of the loss being in the stock and the building used for storage, according to the estimate of an official of the corporation.

The fire gained rapid headway and the firemen, handicapped in the fight owing to hazardous conditions surrounding the building, were compelled to give most of their attention to saving buildings nearby with their stock, the large frame storehouse filled to the roof with about a thousand bales of cotton waste and burlap bagging was totally destroyed.

Twelve Lines of Hose.

Owing to the location of the storehouse the fire could be reached only from three sides but the department had twelve lines of hose playing on the building and quick work prevented a more serious fire. The origin of the fire was evidently in the northern corner of the large storehouse and the old wooden structure soon disappeared as the fire spread among the hundreds of bales of cotton waste piled high within the building. At one time the fire jumped to a large brick structure directly to the north of the burning building, and got into bales of burlap stored inside but the firemen quickly had the water on the building and held the fire to the south entrance, the loss here being mostly by water which was poured into the bales to soak them down and prevent the flames spreading throughout the structure.

Pumped From the River.

Engine No. 6 of Thamesville was among the first at the fire and soon had its load off and hose connected and immediately upon the arrival of the rest of the apparatus Chief Stanton sent the pumper to the river bank and within a short time four streams of water were being pumped into the fire. This pumper, the Seagrave, bought last year, worked continuously for five hours without a miss, using over 45 gallons of gasoline and without a doubt was a big factor in stopping the spread of the flames. The remainder of the engine crews coupled onto hydrants and by Y-ing in eight more streams were available for use.

From shortly after 3 o'clock until nearly 9 o'clock the firemen kept at the work. At 6.30 o'clock the recall was sounded and several of the companies were allowed to return to headquarters. One engine crew remained at the fire all night and four lines of hose were left connected in case the fire threatened to break out again.

The work ahead for today (Thursday) will require the pulling apart of over a thousand bales of waste, many of which are still burning but it is expected that employes of the Max Gordon & Sons corporation will do this work, the firemen aiding them.

Greeneville Co. Answers Call.

The bell alarm was sent in by Angelo Nicholas of Thames street, who saw flames issuing from the storehouse, a building about 130 feet long and 40 feet deep, and he sent the bell in through the private box, No. 114, at the Industrial building, calling out all the apparatus. To safeguard the city in case of emergency a call was sent to Greeneville for Engine No. 2 to go to Central Station and at 4.30 o'clock a call came in for a fire under the Laurel Hill bridge of the New Haven railroad, this having been caused by sparks from a locomotive. This had all the apparatus of the city working, but the company made quick work of the fire at the bridge and was back in the station within 20 minutes.

Believes Fire Set by Boys.

As far as could be learned Wednesday the fire at the storehouse had been set by a gang of boys who have been breaking into buildings on Central Wharf in recent weeks. The watchman for the Max Gordon corporation reported Tuesday that the door of an office shed had been forced and a desk within ransacked and a box of matches stolen, along with a master key that would open the door of the warehouse. This key was missing Wednesday and caused Chief Stanton to believe that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Speaking of the conditions at the wharf Wednesday, Chief Stanton said that the piles of junk and waste around the river wharf were a dangerous fire hazard. There are, he said, supposed to be reservations at the wharf to allow three pumpers to work from the river, but on Wednesday only one could be run to the river, the remainder of the space being filled and used for storage. Another handicap for the firemen was the tons of junk, iron scraps of all kinds piled and scattered about the ground, blocking the passage of fire apparatus, it being impossible to get within 150 feet of the burning building. Had there been a need for using the other pumpers of the department the thing would have been impossible owing to conditions prevailing along the wharf.

Whether of not the Max Gordon corporation is to rebuild the burned structure was not stated Wednesday night, but the fire marshal gave notice that the new building would not be of wood, but of a fireproof material, safeguarding the other buildings on Central Wharf.

POLICE COURT FINES FIVE MEN FOR GAMBLING

In the police court Wednesday morning the five men arrested the night before in a public service automobile in which a crap game was in progress at the Chestnut street parking space were presented on the charge of gambling. Two of them, Raymond Geer and Thomas Keely, pleaded guilty and exonerated the others. These two were each fined $5 and costs, amounting to $9.75 which they paid. Nolles were entered in the cases of the others.

Benjamin Gromko, Joseph Zacher and Stanley Chicofski, who were arrested Tuesday night in a place on North Main street, were also before the court on a gambling charge. The police seized $14 and the dice at the time of the arrest. Gromko was found guilty of being the proprietor of a gambling place and the other two as frequenters. Each of the three was fined $15 and costs. Gromko paying $24.50 and the other two each $19.75.

Henry T. Couchman of Ledyard, accused of operating his automobile while under supension of his driver's license was fined $100 and costs, amounting to $110.06. This was the minimum fine under the statute.

AUTO GAVE OFFICER RIDE ON THE FENDER

Officer William Ryan was picked up on the fender of an automobile in Franklin square Wednesday evening about 10 o'clock and given a ride of about ten feet before the machine was brought to a stop. He preferred a charge of careless driving against the operator of the machine, Miss Ruth Morgan of Waterford. The car is owned by Frank Saunders of New London with whom Miss Morgan was riding and who said that they had come here to see Officer Sterling about Miss Morgan taking an examination for a driver's license.

The officer was in the street near the Chelsea bank corner, having just warned another car that had only one headlight burning. The driver of the Saunders car was turning around at the corner, when the car got out of control and hit the officer who grabbed the fender and clunb to it to save himself from falling. Mr. Saunders brought the car to a stop with the emergency brake and the officer directed the man and woman to police headquarters, where he made his charges and they were summoned to appear in court in the morning.

STRIKES MAN WALKING BY SIDE OF ROAD

Diodonne Donais of Norwich avenue, Taftville, reported at police headquarters Wednesday night that while driving his automobile from Baltic to Taftville about 9.25 p. m., he had struck a man who was walking by the side of the road. The man gave the name of Fred Houle of Baltic and said he was not hurt, according to Mr. Donais.

The Taftville man reported that as he came to the crest of a hill, a car approached him from the opposite direction and as soon as it had passed he saw a man and a woman walking at the right of the road ahead of him. He swerved his car as sharply to the left as he could but the frame of the top near the rear wheel struck the man on the arm or shoulder he thought. He stopped the car and went back to inquire if the man was injured and was told that he was all right.

Police Did Good Wrk.

During the busy traffic hours of Memorial Day, Chief Linton had officers specially assigned to congested points before and after the parade and the parade was handled so well that there were no accidents reported during the day.

The police platoon in the parade was under the command of Capt. D. J. Twomey, making the usual fine appearance which the Norwich officers present when on parade duty. In the platoon were officers T. Driscoll, H. Fenton, J. T. Casey, P. Murphy, M. Carroll, P. Driscoll, J. Farrell and J. Dombroski, with Officers C. Elberts and C. Perry clearing the way ahead of the line.

ACADEMY GIRLS' GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT

An audience of over 300 enjoyed the Academy Girls' Glee club concert Wednesday evening at Slater hall, giving generous applause that called for many encore numbers. Soloists on the programme, Miss Lucile Davis, Miss Margaret Shugrue, Miss Eunice Taft and Miss Maida Wright, received beautiful bouquets, while there were flowers also for Miss Mae Guile, violinist, who assisted in a duet with her brother, and for Miss Gertrude Fontaine, accompanist for Miss Wright.

The following was the programme:

Spring-Tide	Reinhold Becker
Glee Club
Welcome Pretty Primrose	Pinsuti
Canoe Song	Pestalozza
Glee Club
A Little Day of Long Ago	Smith
Lucile Davis
Forget-Me-Not	Woodmansee
Margaret Shugrue
If God Left Only You	Densmore
Eunice Taft
Blossom Land	Elliott
Maida Wright
Gertrude Fointaine, accompanist
Lend Me Your Aid (from Queen of Sheba)	Gounod
Invectus	Bruno Hahn
Glee Club
Song at Sunrise	Manney
Solo—Polly Mitchell
Glee Club
Salut D'Amour	Edgar
Violin duet, Mae Gufle, Georgie Guile
Olive D. Linton, accompanist
Amaryllis (Air du Roi Louis XIII.)	Ghys
Glee Club
To a Wild Rose	MacDowell
Glee Club
Medley of Popular Songs
Arranged by Getrude Platt
Alma Mater
Glee Club

The following are the members of the club:

Polly Mitchell, leader; Nola Leffingwell, business manager; Alma M. Bowman, director; Dorothy Bennett, Teresa Bielecki, Alice Bogue, Justine Briggs, Helen Brophy, Elizabeth Collins, Eleanor Counihan, Marie Cross, Lucile Davis, Milicent Disco, Margaret Driscoll, Katherine Farrell, Gertrude Fontaine, Dorothea Gamber, Dorothy Gildersleeve, Una Belle Harbeck, Marguerite Kilkenny, Althea Lewis, Nola Leffingwell, Mabel McKinley, Susan McNeely, Amy March, Marjorie Merry, Polly Mitchell, Dorothy Pasnik, Gertrude Platt, Winnifred Quidgeon, Helen Rist, Isabelle Rodier, Iola Shaw, Margaret Shugrue, Eunice Taft, Irene Werth, Dorothy Wood, Maida Wright; Gertrude Platt, accompanist.

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE TO GRADUATE CLASS OF 85

Connecticut College at New London will hold its fifth commencement from June 8 to 12, and about 85 seniors will be graduated, constituting the largest class to receive degrees at the institution which opened its doors only in 1915. Prof. Lindsay Rogers, Ph. D., L. L. B., of Columbia University, will give the commencement address, Tuesday, June 12, while President B. T. Marshall will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, the 10th.

Among the important events on the program will be the final report of the "Ten-ten-ten" campaign for $80,000 additional endowment which has been conducted this spring by alumnae, students and faculty of the college. Plans will also be announced at commencement for carrying on efforts to raise the rest of the sum of $350,000 which must be on hand by Jan. 1, 1924, if the college is to qualify for a conditional gift of $150,000 from the general education board.

Contributed Use of Automobiles.

Those contributing automobiles for the veterans in the Memorial Day parade were Mrs. C. W. Gale, John McWilliams, Mrs. A. J. Dawley, Harry M. Land, E. O. Rodier, C. V. James, Robert McBurney, A. C. Swan Co., Norwich Buick Co., Hudson-Essex Co., George H. Loring and Clarence E. Carpenter.

In 1922 Russia imported 264 automobiles.

REV. E. E. JACKSON CLAIMS BLACK RACE SUPERIOR

Under the direction of Captain John Harris of Wheeler's band, a Memorial service was held Wednesday afternoon at the Falls avenue park in memory of James H. Perrin who died overseas of pneumonia during the World war.

The services opened with the singing of America after which the address was made by Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of Mt. Calvary Baptist church. At the close of the address the reading, On Flanders Field was given by Mrs. Fannie Thompson and the corps played the Star Spangled Banner.

In his address Rev. Jackson extolled the merits of the black race, holding them to be superior to any race in the world, intellectually, morally and physically. The black man, he said, was ready to fight for his country. In every war the negro was there ready to fight for the ideals of the white man and what has it gained him? All them to be superior to any race in the world, intellectually, morally and physically. The black man, he said, was ready to fight for his country. In every war the negro was there ready to fight for the ideals of the white man and what has it gained him? All he negro asks is the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Compare the progress of the negro race during the last 39 years and you will see that physically, intellectually, and morally, the negro has progressed, and today no race on earth can compare with them.

"As a race we have always taken a humble place and that is why we are here today in this humble spot. Next year I expect to see the mayor extend to Captain Harris an invitation to occupy a prominent place in the town. I want next year to speak from the platform where Rev. Ricketts spoke today.

"Norwich is not a city of prejudice, the white folks are not prejudiced, our greatest opposition comes from the element that came from foreign soil, made money, and now looks down upon us, I tell you here. There is no hotel in Norwich too good for our race, our young people morally are as good, and in fact better than many white people. My people, my race has died, not for themselves, but for the white race, we had no battles of our own, but if it had not been for the negro soldiers fighting the white man's battles the white man would be lost.

"We ask for justice, the justice given to the foreigners. We don't ask for social equality, but do want equality by law. God never made the white man the superior of the negro, it is by using the God-given powers that a man becomes superior to another.

"Our race fought in the Civil war and in the World war, they have always fought the white man's battles and history tells you that if it had not been for the negroes the war would not be over yet.

"We don't demand the impossible all we want is the right of life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness."

COLLEGE'S RAPID GROWTH CALLS FOR MORE ENDOWMENT

Connecticut college at New London, the only college for women in Connecticut, has experienced more rapid growth perhaps than any other college of like purpose and situation ever had. Its doors were opened first to the public in 1915, and last fall, with a freshman class limited to 125 of some 400 or more applicants, it had an enrollment of about 425.

Such unprecedented growth was made possible only because the new college was for new institution heavingly endowed. The late Morton F. Plant took a keen interest in the idea of establishing a college for women at New London, and gave $1,000,000 outright to it to be used strictly for endowment—the paying of running expenses and the salaries of teachers. To this sum he added enough money at the start to build two fine dormitories, and the people of New London raised $100,000 which was used to erect the first class room and administration building, besides contributing $50,000 as a city to the venture.

Thus it was that Connecticut college was not forced to pass many years of trial and poverty. There was money enough at hand to employ a competent faculty, and no pains were spared in the effort to do this. A testamonntary gift from Mr. Plant at his death added the sum available for dormitories by $250,000, bringing his total contributions to $1,396,000. Other gifts to the college, including $109,000 from Mr. and Mrs. George S. Palmer of New London, have increased the amount of major gifts for endowment and buildings to the college to $1,785,983.96.

Present Endowment Not Enough.

This material backing for the college, so strong for a comparatively new educational enterprise, is nevertheless insufficient to provide an adequate teaching force of high grade instructors, adequate accommodations in dormitories and class rooms and college buildings, and adequate care of college grounds and equipment for a college with high ideals, seeking to do equally praiseworthy work with such older institutions as Smith, Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, Wellesley and others, each with several times more endowment. The college at New London lacks equipment with which to grow and while it could without lowering its standards increase its enrollment to 800 or even 1,000 in a few years, provided that its endowment were increased, it is now seeking increased endowment purely with the idea of adequately caring for the 400 or so girls now there. The college needs imperatively more money for its instructing force, and it also needs imperatively a new chapel, several more dormitories, and at east one more class room building, in order to get along without increasing the number of its students.

Trustees Set Goal.

Facing this situation, the trustees of the college almost two years ago decided that an effort must be made to obtain more funds. Business conditions have served for some time to postpone a general, organized campaign, but last year the students, faculty and alumnae raised a sum which with interest, now amounts to $21,022.75. This spring the same loyal group of about 800 persons decided to undertake, without outside help, to go after some $80,000 more, and President Benjamin T. Marshall agreed, with such help as would be forthcoming from the trustees and the same group to try to raise $250,000 more by Jan. 1, 1924, in order to qualify for a conditional gift of $150,000 from the General Education Board.

Campaign For $80,000.

The campaign this sprig for $80,000 has been going on all over Connecticut, and in many other states, organized into 16 districts with district chairmen. An ingeniously minded member of the faculty, noting that $80,000 was needed, and that there were available about 800 persons to raise it, suggested that each undergraduate, alumnae, and faculty member agree to raise at least $10 a week for 10 weeks, obtaining the money from ten different persons. This was the origin of the "Ten-ten-ten" plan, which has been proving remarkably sucessful.

Above stated concisely as possible, is the financial condition of Connecticut college. It is now entirely fitting that the reasons for its growth, and its desire for increased funds with which to continue its work, should be as plainly stated.

Furnishes Distinctive Education.

Connecticut college has grown because, among other reasons it has sensed and expressed and taught the fact that a woman's education should be distinctive. The college aims to provide college work of the highest grade, technical work worthy of college credit, and preparation for vocational work in all branches where women are needed. The records of its alumnae in the fields for which they have prepared at college is strikingly illustrative of the success with which the college is performing its task.

These three aims do not constitute, however, the essential difference between Connecticut college and other women's colleges. In other women's colleges these same aims exist. Roughly they were copied from the men's colleges in the pioneer days of women's education. The difference that is vital is the recognition, in courses and in the whole scheme of the college, of women's need for special training for the special duties which are hers.

President Marshall's Words.

This was well expressed in the opening chapel of the college year this fall by President Marshall. "Under no circumstances," he said, "is a college for women justified in presenting or conducting a curriculum, or making an emphasis or setting up a theory of philosophy of women's sphere of activity that shall miseducate young women or divert them from assuming ultimately, in the great majority of cases, their true function of homemakers and mothers.

"But within the curriculum of a college for women may well appear, indeed, imperatively shoud appear, those subjects, and that training, which bear upon the creation of beauty and atmosphere in all the home; that shall make women cultured, resourceful and adequate for all normal domestic and social requirements; yes, that shall equip her with resources of mind and heart that shall comfort her and enrich her when she must be alone; resources, I mean, in a love of good books, a joy in subjects of art, an instinct and faculty toward the creation, with her own hand and skill, of things beautiful, worthy and satisfying, from things culinary and economic upward to things that reveal her thought, her genius in words or ideals in color, music, or other art; not forgetting that the art of home making is still awaiting for higher development and for most of us, after all, is second to none, so comprehensive it is, so necessary, so fascinating, so rewarding. No less must that training and experience be afforded that shall equip students for their prospective exalted duties in the state, in the use of the franchise, and their share in government."

Regular Connecticut College.

Although the college is now drawing students from more than 20 states and several foreign countries, it is still essentially Connecticut's college. Of 378 students regularly enrolled last year, 205 were from Connecticut.

Twenty-six states are now represented at the college.

Although the "Ten-ten-ten" campaign is for the special purpose of raising $80,000 before commencement, as suggested before it the only part of a larger effort that will probably take several years for completion. If $80,000 is obtained, it will be the first $100,000, with money raised last year, of $350,000 that must be raised by Jan. 1, 1924 if the college is to obtain $150,000 from the General Education Board. This money, $500,000 in all, is to be devoted entirely toward endowment, and thereby enabling the college to spend more for teaching.

The college needs, however, at least $2,000,000, as set forth by the trustees two years ago this June, when it was announced that the college would soon make and appeal for funds. As stated at that time, the major needs were $100,000 for a chapel; $30 000 for infirmary, two dormitories at least, to cost $250,000; a college hall, to best $200,000; $100,000 for a general maintenance fund, and $1,000 000 for endowment. In this list at that time was incuded $150,000 for a library, which has since been given and is now being used, the gift of Chairman George S. Palmer of the board of trustees and Mrs. Palmer. Mrs. C. G. R. Vinal of Middletown has also given a fine domestic science laboratory and dormitory, which is also in use. These gifts are applied to the total of $1,000,000 which is being sought for maintenance, building and equipment.

FORT WRIGHT WILL TRAIN COAST ARTILLERY STUDENTS

Developments have been announced by General Brewster, commander of the First corps area, for the 3,000 students who are to take the training course at the 1923 citizens' military training camps at Camp Devens in August. Among them official notification which was received Wednesday from the war department that all young men making application for the training whose 17th birthday occurs during the present calendar year of 1923 will be accepted for attendance, providing they pass the physical tests.

Also official authorization has been received at corps headquarters for the expenditure of $3,000 for the purchase of athletic equipment to be used at the camp. Captain Charles Huggins, who has been in charge of athletics and swimming at the two previous camps, has been assigned to take charge of these courses at the coming camp.

The purchase of the latest design radion amplifiers has also been authorized. They will be installed in the recreation hall and will provide radio concerts every evening for the students. A feature of the signal corps will be a course in radio under the instruction of a specially selected officer. A complete radio set of the very latest design will be pesented by General James G. Harbord, retired, president of the American Radio corporation, to the student having the best record in radio at the end of the course of instruction. This offer has been accepted by General Brewster and will be presented by him on the day of the final review.

Rev. Walter J. Donoghue of the Fifth infantry has reported for duty at corp headquarters. Chaplain Donoghue will make a speaking tour at the various colleges and preparatory schools in New England.

Another announcement of interest is that students enrolled for the coast artillery course will be trained at Fort H. G. Wright, Long Island, N. Y., going direct from their homes to that point. The quota for this camp is 300. At the fort the students will have the benefit of all the high powered, heavy guns, with a special corps of officers who will conduct the training. The graduation of the students will be held at the fort.

Impetus has been given to the recruiting campaign throughout New England by the co-operation of the various state commanders of the American Legion, who have requested from the various post commanders that they nominate as candidate one young man from their immediate vicinity.

A letter has also been sent by Major Joseph W. Bartlett, commander of the Boston chapter of the Military Order of the World War, to all members of the organization to co-operate with the Military Training Camps association in procuring candidates from among their members.

Colonel Frank C. Bolles, 1923 camp commander, is now located at Camp Devens, supervising the preparation of the camp, the renovation of the barracks and grounds, and the planning of the schedule of training.

A special feature of the recruiting camp will be given on Dillboy field, Somerville, off June 2, at the celebration of the anniversary of Somerville, by Captain John C. Macdonald, officer in charge of the citizens' military training camps' affairs. Captain Macdonald will fly to the field in an army airplane, piloted by Lieutenant H. C. Moffatt, and will present an attractive feature for the entertainment of the spectators.

Application blanks and full information may be obtained from the headquarters, Military Training Camps' association, Room 316, 84 State street, Boston, Mass.

REVENUE MAN SENTENCED FOR SOLICITING A BRIBE

New York, May 29. — David A. Cowles, formerly an internal revenue inspector, who was convicted Friday of soliciting a bribe from Charles Harris, a glass dealer of Norwalk, Conn., in connection with the latter's income tax return, was sentenced today to serve 18 months in Atlanta penitentiary by Federal Judge A. N. Hand. He was released on a bond of $10,000, pending an appeal.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Cheshire.—Crescent chapter, O. E. S. held a special meeting and entertained eight grand officers of the state.

New Haven.—Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Minott Thompson Wallace of Sound Beach for the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Welch Wallace, to Gerald William Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sloper Walker of Hartford, on Saturday evening, June 9.

Derby.—Word has been received here that Frank Burwell, of many aliases, was arrested in Norfolk, Va., in connection with alleged violation of liquor laws. Burwell formerly lived here and was the state's witness against Frank Williams and Dennis Chapman, who blew the safe in Howard & Barber's store several years ago.

—THE—
Porteous & Mitchell
COMPANY

Extraordinary Offering of SILK RATINE
36-inch Silk Ratine, one of the most desirable of this season's fabrics, in the following plain colors — natural, Venice, old rose, oyster white, light gray, Copenhagen, tile, brown, tan and orchid—
Special Price 59c a Yard
Regular Value $1.00
(Wash Goods Dep't)

THREE MORE DAYS OF THE DEMONSTRATION OF Mirro Aluminum
The finest Aluminum made. During the next three days a demonstrator from the factory will be in our House Furnishing Department to explain the merits of Mirro Aluminum. We extend a cordial invitation to every housewife to attend this demonstration — You are also invited to take advantage of the special values we are offering in Mirro Aluminum during demonstration week.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

New Strength and Energy For the Weak and Aged
To be strong, vigorous and active you must have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It quickly helps make rich red blood, revitalize wornout, exhausted nerves and give new strength and energy. At all druggists. Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine
NUXATED IRON
For Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

EAGLE BRAND PLASTER
MENDS CRACKED WALLS AND CEILINGS CHEAPLY
HARDWARE & WALL-PAPER STORES
WILLIAMS STOVE LINING CO., Mfrs.
TAUNTON, MASS.

"Had a hacking cough for years, and Foley's Honey and Tar is the only remedy that reached my cough. I have not been troubled with it since," writes Mrs. E. M. Doby, Asbury Park, N. J. Coughs colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble are quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Largest selling cough medicine in the world. Lee & Osgood Co.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A beautiful Memorial day, bright and cool, made possible Wednesday not only a reverent, but also a comfortable observance of the period set aside each year for paying tribute to those of the nation's armed forces who are sleeping their last sleep.

Everywhere in this territory there were large crowds participating in or witnessing the exercises and ceremonies of the day. As is usual each year, exercises at Brooklyn were held in the morning and there was a representation of ex-service men and patriotic societies from Danielson. East Killingly also held its observance in the morning and a very large crowd was in attendance, many former residents of that place coming from points in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Lines of motor cars stretched away for long distances from the church, where the services were held. The address was by John Richard W. Jennings of Providence, and was one of the finest given in East Killingly on Memorial day in many years. Mr. Jennings stressed the distinguished service rendered by the boys in blue during the Civil war and gave them credit for preserving the Union and making it possible for the nation to achieve its present greatness. School children, who have been under the instruction of Mrs. J. L. Spalding, sang remarkably well. The procession formed after the church service proceeded to the cemeteries to decorate the graves of those honored in the exercises of the day.

In Danielson the exercises were impressive. The Memorial day procession formed in lower Main street in the early afternoon and marched to the town hall where the formal program following the lines of other years was carried out. After these exercises the procession was again formed and proceeded to the soldiers' monument, where brief exercises were held before taking up the march to Westfield and thence to St. James' cemeteries to lay floral tributes on the graves of soldiers and sailors.

Auction sale at Witter's auction rooms, 42 Main street, on Saturday of this week at 1 o'clock p. m., standard time. Refer to classified page today for detailed account.—adv.

From shortly after nine o'clock until well into the afternoon devotees of trap shooting were busy Memorial day on the range of the Danielson Rod and Gun club in the Allen Hill section of Brooklyn and these were nearly a break at any time as the steady bark of shot guns as team after team lined up on the platform and shot two strings.

Improvement already is being shown by various members of the club in the art of trapshooting and some good scores were made, special enthusiasm being shown over the work of two experts at the game—W. A. Barstow, now a resident here and the champion trap shot of Rhode Island, and E. H. Morse, president of the Connecticut Trap Shooters' Association.

As many as 50 members were on the ground during the forenoon in addition to spectators and more came during the afternoon hours. Many hundreds of clay birds were used up during the shoot, which was very successful and aroused enthusiasm for more such events.

The members were treated incidentally to a little talk by Mr. Morse, who gave some expert advice as to trap shooting and how to overcome some of the little faults that he had noted among those participating in the event. Mr. Morse invited the members to the registered shoot to be held in Hartford on Friday and Saturday of next week and promised them as special features an old-fashioned Rhode Island clambake on one day and a sheep roast the next day. He also urged the members to participate in the registered shoots to be held throughout the summer in preparation for the event to be held here in October.

All of the nearly 200 tenements of the Quinebaug company are being wired for electric lights. The contract is being advanced as rapidly as possible and when completed all the houses in the lower village and all of those in the Tiffany, Elm and Main street sections will have the new service. Underground cables are being run about the large territory to be served and there will be no poles or wires showing anywhere in the company's village. Lights will be furnished at a nominal price. The tenants are delighted with the improvement that is in store for them and hundreds of kerosene lamps will go into the discard as soon as the electricity is made available.

Memorial afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Catharine Young was held from her home on Main street with services conducted by Rev Albert Jepson at Old Trinity church, Church street, Brooklyn, and attended by relatives and many friends. Burial was in Old Trinity church yard.

The bearers were William P. Perkins, Sidney P. Marland, Alfred L. Reed, John Ashworth, Earl F. Winslow and Charles S. Francis. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Wesley Mitchell, 61, is dead at the home of his brother, Adelbert Mitchell, in the town of Foster. Mr. Mitchell was a native of East Killingly and the early years of his life were spent in that place. Later he went to Ohio and remained there for years before coming east again about three years ago to locate in Providence. He has been at his brother's home since he became seriously ill.

The newly opened public comfort station at the town hall became a prison for a small boy who tampered with the lock and then could not release it. His cries eventually attracted attention and he was released after having been held a prisoner for about an hour and a half.

There appears to be a crying need for road direction signs showing the way off Reynolds street from Providence to Putnam. Daily motorists unfamiliar with this territory drive down town to inquire the way to Putnam and then have to turn about and go back to the right route. Signs at the junction of Broad and Reynolds and at the junction of Main and Reynolds street would relieve this situation.

Up to the present time this season there appears to be a lack of enthusiasm over organizing a semi-professional baseball team to play here. Like other things, the services of baseball players come high in these kiting days and few care to accept the financial risks of putting a team on the field.

Strawberries hit the season's low level of 19 cents a basket in Danielson Memorial day and hundreds of baskets were disposed of at that figure, it was stated. Special low quotations on this variety of berries is promised for the remainder of the season.

State police kept a vigilant watch of state highways hereabouts on Memorial day, as was promised would be done. There were few speeders, however, and really little chance to speed, for the state roads were so crowded with traffic that a pace well within the limitations set by the law had to be maintained unless by the "take a chance" type of drivers.

George S. Brown was reported Memorial day as seriously ill at his home on Broad street.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Wood of Cambridge, Mass., are visiting with Mr. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reece of Norwich were Memorial day visitors with relatives in Danielson.

Joseph Lapelle is visiting here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lapelle.

Mrs. Charles T. Thayer and son Aylward, of Putnam were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Witter of Cottage street.

Several followers of the light harness racing game were at Willimantic Memorial day to attend the races held there.

Benjamin Brown of Brown university is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Brown of Broad street.

Rev. E. T. Ledwith, M. S. is at St. James' rectory for a brief visit after arduous mission work.

Large numbers who love to dance were at Wildwood park Memorial day and enjoyed themselves at the pavilion, where there was dancing afternoon and evening. The attendance was attracted from a wide range of territory.

Persisting to the last, May turned in another unusually low temperature for so late in the season when the mercury was down to 38 degrees in the borough Wednesday morning.

Funeral services for John Tanguay were held from his home Tuesday morning with services at St. James church at 9 o'clock, Rev. John Roux, M. S., Rev. E. J. Shelley, M. S., and Rev. Joseph Moussier, M. S., being officers of the solemn high mass. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. The bearers were Thomas Lajeunesse, Arthur Breault, Hector Bernier, Romieo Bernier, Frank Reynaud and Edmund Reyneaud. Louis E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Adelard Jarvis, 44, is dead at his home in Wauregan. He is survived by his wife.

Blue Ribbon Fish Salad

Beets Lettuce Pepper Eggs Fish and

RICHARD HELLMANN'S BLUE RIBBON MAYONNAISE

DANIELSON CASINO, STARKWEATHER BLDG. BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS FOUR ALLEYS THREE TABLES WEDNESDAYS LADIES' DAY. Bowling is the sport for all. Prizes given away every saturday.

PUTNAM

The program for the observance of Memorial day was carried out in accord with previously announced arrangements. The procession was formed in Union square at 10 a. m. and proceeded through Main, Front and Grove streets to the soldiers' monument, where an address was given by Rev. W. B. Olmsted, D. D., of Pomfret school. Francis Metcalf was in charge of the parade as marshal and Archibald Macdonald, Jr., was president of the day. Members of patriotic organizations in the city participated in the parade, in which numbers of members of the American Legion appeared. This year the graves of the soldier and sailor dead in the cemeteries in the city and at Putnam Heights, Pomfret and Woodstock were decorated on Sunday.

Aside from the morning tribute to the memories of those who have served the nation as members of its armed forces and have now gone beyond, there was little activity in Putnam on Memorial day. Theaters offered attractions that appealed to many and large numbers were at Wildwood park for the dancing or away on motoring trips. The streets during the greater part of the day had much the same appearance as is the rule on Sundays. It was a real day of rest for large numbers as well as the occasion for various family reunions. A number from this city motored to East Killingly to attend the Memorial services in that place.

Wednesday being a holiday the situation in which former employes of the Manhasset Manufacturing company are involved changed little one way or the other. The day, however, marked the opening of the fourth week of the strike, which appears to be no nearer settlement than when it first began. Vacating of tenements will continue during the week, it was stated Wednesday, but even this does not seem to bend the determination of the strikers to hold out for a further advance in pay.

Disturbing to some of the striking workers, however, were the published notices in Wednesday's papers of the beginning of curtailing in cotton mills in Fall River, where some plants are closed for the remainder of the week. The market for the sale of cotton goods is extremely weak just now and the falling off in buying is largely attributed to prevailing high prices for finished goods. However, there are others who hold that concerns like the Manhasset, engaged in manufacturing automobile tire duck, have an active market for their goods just now.

The strikers will resume their usual routine of meetings today and probably the matter of picketing, which has been temporarily discontinued, will be discussed.

Pomfret will lend additional aid to increasing the fund for the Nurses' home for the Day Kimball hospital when what is termed a salvage sale is conducted at the home of Mrs. Van der Lann during the coming week. Clothing and other articles have been in process of collection for several weeks and have been carefully repaired, cleaned and freshened for the sale day when, it is promised there will be a great array of offerings.

It develops that the fine new furnishings that are to be installed in the First National bank, now in process of extensive remodeling at a cost of approximately $100,000, were only saved from being destroyed or badly damaged in the recent fire at the Chickering block by a change of plans as to storing them. They arrived here some time since and were to have been stored in the damaged building, but plans to place them elsewhere were made, so they have escaped injury. These furnishings are insured, but damage to them would have delayed the work of completing the contract at the bank.

At this time, immediately following the falling of the apple blossoms, the Windham County Farmers' association is advising the use of calyx spray this being the most important spray applied by fruit growers against funguss diseases and insects. There is promise of a heavy apple crop throughout the county this year and it can be protected by the spraying process advised by the Farmers' association, which has issued a bulletin on the subject.

Comment was made late Wednesday afternoon that traffic had been unusually light through this city for a holiday. This was attributed in a measure to the fact that many have become fearful of holiday motoring because of the large number of accidents. A great many cars did move through the city during the day, but not in such great numbers as is often the case on a Sunday or on a busy week day. Up to five o'clock but an automobile accident had been reported here. There had been no arrests or no disturbances of any kind. This excellent record stands out as a holiday record that can be approved.

State police officers patrolled the highways in this section during the day, as in other parts of the county, keeping a careful watch to see that all traffic regulations were obeyed.

In quite an extensive undertaking the approach to the Day Kimball hospital will be made much safer than it is at present, by closing the present entrance to the grounds and creating two entrances one at the east side and one at the west. The state highway, which winds over the steep hill and about a sharp curve near the present entrance is to be widened in the interest of safety and some piece of property regarded as a danger in the present position are to be placed in new locations.

Fathers' day will be observed at the Baptist church Sunday, June 17, and men will furnish music at the evening service when a dramatic sermon, The Home, will be presented.

It now seems quite certain that no captain of police to succeed the late Captain Delage will be elected until January. The police department is functioning satisfactorily and aside from the placing of a traffic officer on duty during the summer is likely to go on as it is at present, it is said.

Among those who have contributed units of $10 to the Nurses Home fund of the Day Kimball hospital is Samuel Smith of South Main street.

There will be a delegation from Putnam today to the annual county convention of the W. C. T. U. to be held at the Congregational church in Danielson.

Only five more session days for the members of the legislature and those who have been making trips to Hartford for sessions since January are pleased that final adjournment is so near at hand.

The $5500 made available at the recent city meeting for the rebuilding of Marshall street between Woodstock avenue and Providence street will allow of putting that thoroughfare in first class condition and will greatly improve the appearance of that section of the city.

NORTH LYME

Charles Sisson of Deep River was a caller here Sunday.

Mrs. Katie Jewett died at the home of her son, C. F. Jewett, of Old Lyme, last Saturday morning after a week's illness, the result of a shock. Her age was about 63 years. Mrs. Jewett was the daughter of Deacon Frederick Fosdick and was married to Charles S. Jewett in 1880. Mr. Jewett died in 1911. She is survived by one son, Carleton F. Jewett, of Old Lyme, and a daughter, Mrs. Ray Harding, of Lyme, also eight grandchildren. Mrs. Jewett made her home here for many years and her passing is sincerely regretted by many friends. The funeral was held at her late home Monday, with burial in the Pleasant View cemetery.

Mrs. G. H. Strong is recovering from an attack of mumps.

Alpheus Nye and family of Fitchville visited at George Babcock's over the week end.

Hungary's population is 7,480,000.

Keep Resinol handy

There is nothing better to relieve that miserable little burn, cut or scratch—that bruise, insect sting, or any of the many other minor hurts that occur daily. Apply freely but gently to the affected surface so as not to disturb the injured skin, then bandage lightly.

This cool, gentle ointment will not smart or sting even when applied to the most irritated skin. It usually stops the burning, throbbing sensation at once and allays the inflammation in an amazingly short time.

Resinol Soap is not only a valuable aid to Resinol Ointment, but it is the ideal toilet and bath soap for every member of the family. Try it and see! Ask your druggist today for Resinol.

"A soon end a blessing as an injury dressing"

MUNYON'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY

When Prof. Munyon said that his Dyspepsia Remedy would relieve indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble he simply told the truth. It will relieve a stomach that has been abused by over-eating. It will relieve a stomach that has been weakened by old-style drugs. It will do much toward making an old stomach act like a sound one. At all druggists, 25 cents.

MUNYON'S, Scranton, Pa.

TWO NEW LONDON STORES ARE RANSACKED BY THIEVES

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, May 30.—Thieves picked out last night to perpetrate burglaries and in a way they were successful, for two stores were entered, and an attempt was made to burglarize a third store. The thieves were rewarded for their work by obtaining only $4.50 in plunder.

The places entered were those of Essaick Gramn ladies' apparel shop at No. 45 Bank street and Bishop's music store at No. 47 Bank street, both located in the Lawrence Shea block. Entrance to both stores was made by a duplicate key being used.

Both stores were thoroughly ransacked by the thieves in their search for plunder and it was evident that they sought only money, for none of the stock in either place was disturbed. From the cash register of the Grann establishment $4 was taken and from the register of the Bishop store 50 cents in pennies was obtained.

The store where the thieves were unsuccessful in gaining entrance was in the Gaxitt block, next south of the Shea block, and in which is located Hirsch & Co., clothiers. A key was also used there by the thieves, but because of the store entrance having two locks, and both different, the key would only fit one of the locks, and this condition made the third break futile. It is believed that the breaks were committed by the same thieves and that the crooks are of the youthful type.

New London had one of the most impressive Memorial day parades in many years today. The weather was perfect, a light northeast wind prevailing that kept the temperature down. Eight squads from Fort Wright made up the military contingent with the troops of the local national guard. There were sailors from the government ships in the harbor, the Sons of Veterans, the Spanish war veterans and those of foreign wars, the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief corps. The marching was something commendable, for the alignment was well nigh perfect and the troops stepped to the time of the band with precision. It may not be known, but the government would not pay the expense of conveyance for the soldiers from the fort to New London, and that expense was borne by the committee that arranged the parade. It amounted to more than $50, but it was cheerfully provided.

The government has no funds with which it can operate the launches from the forts on Sundays or holidays so the committee in charge of the parade was generous enough to supply the funds to meet this expense. A feature of the parade was two army tanks such as were used for the first time during the World war. They are power driven and they carry guns that would be most effectual in actual war.

The Intercity league bowling teams had their annual supper at the Elks' home last evening, where they enjoyed a couple of hours.

When the court of common pleas comes in Tuesday the case of the state vs. Lafayette Main will be put on trial. Main is charged with violation of the game laws and with having game in his possession that was taken out of season. He persists in a trial, though he will, it is predicted, be convicted of the offense alleged.

The permission granted to the Yellow Taxicab company to park taxicabs at the union railway station near the stairway leading to and from the overhead bridge that crosses the railroad tracks has not yet been exercised.

There were some score or more of bathers in the water at Ocean Beach today, notwithstanding the fact that the temperature was about 60 degrees. That is what might be called cold comfort, but the bathers seemed to enjoy it during the brief time they were in the water.

Traffic in the streets of this city today was not as heavy as was expected. There have been many Sundays when there were many more automobiles in use than were operated here today. The police had no trouble in directing the autoists so that accidents were avoided.

Today was observed as "Poppy" day when that flower was sold in the streets for the benefit of disabled soldiers of the World war. Home Memorial hospital took advantage of the occasion and had women and girls in public places disposing of the flowers, from the sale of which they realized a very large sum of money.

Miss Bath Keeney, assistant city clerk, spent the holiday with friends in Branford.

Bernard Elgart of Colchester was ordered to appear in the police court tomorrow morning and answer a charge of violation of traffic laws this morning when he parked his team on the east side of North Bank street. The violation was observed by Detective Sergeant Charles Hammond, who was passing through the street.

Sidney Burack of No. 780 Farmington avenue, West Hartford, will be arraigned in the police court Saturday morning, charged with the reckless operation of his automobile. Burack was detected operating his car at a fast rate of speed by Motorcycle Officer William Babcock, who put chase after the speeder and summoned him into court.

Alex Kapewski, an inmate at the state hospital for the insane at Preston, escaped from the institution recently, but he did not enjoy his liberty a great while, for this morning Patrolman Augustus Ray noticed Kapewski acting strangely on State street and took him into custody.

The officer did not know that Kapewski had escaped from the institution, but that fact was revealed at the station house when Kapewski was questioned. The hospital authorities were notified of Kapewski's aprehension and a guard from the institution came to New London this afternoon and escorted the victim back to the asylum.

Patrolman Walter Rehn in making his rounds on State street late last night discovered the jewelry store of Strauss & Macomber of easy access for thieves, for the front entrance was unfastened. Mr. Macomber was notified and made the store secure for the balance of the night.

Herbert Roth of No. 656 First avenue, New York, today reported to the police that on the 12th inst., while on the union station platform a traveling bag was stolen from him, the bag containing clothing principally. Mr. Roth placed the bag on the platform while he absented himself a few minutes and on his return discovered that it had been stolen, but he failed to notify the police until today.

Mrs. Henry E. Russell of No. 1001 Ocean avenue complained to the police today that the dogs owned by L. Tracy Sheffield, a neighbor, created a nuisance frequently by barking throughout the night, much to the annoyance of the complainant.

The city council by its action Monday night in granting the petition of the Yellow Taxicab company to maintain an individual stand at the south end of the union station and parallel with State street, granted the petitioners to violate the law, it is claimed by critics, for by taking favorable action on the petition that two automobiles be allowed to stand there and their drivers solicit patronage the council's action is conflicting with a city ordinance now in effect and if the police enforce the ordinance, which, they probably will do, the drivers of such autos as park at the south end of the depot will be arrested and prosecuted.

It is pointed out that about a year ago an ordinance was adopted by the council providing a space on the west side of the depot between the main entrance and ten feet from the southwest corner of the building, where public service cars could park, and with a provision that the operators of such cars should not solicit trade unless they stood within ten feet of the rear of their machines. All other parking places for the soliciting of patronage at the depot were prohibited, and this ordinance is in effect yet.

The operators of the other public service cars declare that if the Yellow Taxicab company park any of their cars at the point where the city council has granted it permission to do so, that they will do likewise. If they are arrested they further declare that they will take the matter to court, and have retained counsel already to look after their interests.

Nathan Hochman of No. 20 Belden street complained to the police today that a youth by the name of Fernandi, aged about 19 years of age had been beating Hochman's son, who is but ten years of age. An officer was assigned to the complaint and it developed that while Fernandi had used the Hochman youth roughly, there was no need of action other than administering a reprimand to the older boy.

Two New York girls and who claim to be sisters of about 22 years of age, would not heed advise they received from the police yesterday and as a result of their indifference to sound advice they will probably be presented in the police court tomorrow morning charged with soliciting for they are now locked up at the police station.

The girls arrived in New London about a week ago and about the same time that the U. S. S. Bushnell, and U. S. S. Camden reached port and it is reported that the girls made a habit of following the two ships to whatever port the government craft proceeded. Yesterday Detective Sergeant Charles Hammond picked up the two girls after he had observed them for several days in company with different sailors.

They were not looked up at that time but were given their choice of being put before the court or leaving the city. The girls stated that they could get out of town at once, but instead of doing so they remained in New London. They spent the afternoon at Ocean Beach and when Capt. Charles Pinney was informed that the girls were at the shore resort he issued orders to Sergeant Samuel Hick to arrest the pair. A visit was made to the beach, but the girls were not found there. Later the girls were found on Bank street by Sergeant Hick and Patrolmen James McKenna and William Graham and were arrested.

James Butka was arrested this afternoon by Patrolman Edward Daniels charged with breach of the peace. He will be in police court tomorrow morning and pending his hearing he is at liberty on a bond of $100, surety being furnished in James Kuvalanka.

Butcka went to the restaurant of S Wisely of No. 137 North Bank street about 4 o'clock and engaged in a fight with Wisely. Patrolman Daniels was notified of the battle, but when the officer reached the restaurant no fight was in progress, but Butcka showed evidence of one for his face was cut.

The officer had departed from the place but a few minutes when he was informed by youths that a fight was in progress at the restaurant and returning there he found Butcka and Wisely mixing up in real style. The officer separated the combatants and as he did so he was attacked by Butcka who aimed a blow at the officer's head. The blow did not reach its mark.

Abraham Bronstein, a former resident of New London, now residing in New York, spent today in this city.

When hot weather prevails the officers assigned to traffic duty in the heart of the city will not be compelled to direct traffic from the hot pavements for today a furniture firm presented three manila mats to the department for the officers to stand on. The mats will be placed at State and Main street, State and Bank and Bank and Howard street. During the most severe summer weather the mats will be saturated with water as an additional relief to the officers.

An automobile, owned and operated by Nestor Dreyfus of No. 23 Charming street and a machine, owned and operated by James Virga of No. 51 Jefferson avenue, were in collision at the corner of Jefferson and Lincoln avenues this morning. Virga was arrested charged with reckless driving and evading responsibility on complaint of came together Virga drove away with Dreyfus, and will be presented on those charges in the police court tomorrow morning. Dreyfus informed the police that when the automobiles out stopping to ascertain the extent of the damage occasioned. Dreyfus, however, obtained the registration of the colliding car and furnished that information to the police that the owner might be apprehended.

Motorcycle Officers William Babcock was assigned to the case and a short time later located Virga in a garage. Virga was ordered to the police station, where he made a report of the accident and then was ordered to present himself in court.

A man named Chapel, and residing at No. 321 Vauxhal street, was struck and knocked down by an automobile, owned and driven by Frank DeWolf of Waterford this morning at the corner of State and Huntington streets. Chapel was taken to the office of Thomas J. Murray where it was revealed that the only injury sustained by Chapel was the wrenching of his shoulder. The injury was treated after which Chapel went to his home. The accident occurred when Chapel was in the act of crossing the street when the car operated by DeWolf came along. When DeWolf observed Chapel he endeavored to bring the car to a stop but was unable to do so until after Chapel had been run down.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt of East Greenwich, R. I., spent today with relatives in New London, being en route to New York for a brief visit.

Daniel H. Tyoland of Franklin street is spending a few days with friends in Springfield, Mass.

SOUTH WINDHAM

Guilford Smith hall was filled to capacity Friday evening by the audience who witnessed the performance of the comedy Lost, a Chaperon, by the Girl Scouts. Following is the cast of characters:

George Higgins, Miss Annie Merritt; Jack Abbott, Alberta Wallen; Tom Crosby, Minnie Lewis; Dick Norton, Lorna Maynard; Raymond Fitzhenry, Louise Potter; Fred Lawton, Madeline Healy; Blanche Westcott, Doris Lewis; Alice Bennett, Birdie Stanton; Marjorie Tyndall, Catherine Adams; Ruth French, Catherine Holden; Agnes Bates, Sarah Beckwith; Mrs. Higgins, Avis Cobb; Mrs. Sparrow, Elizabeth Date; Mandy Sparrow, Muriel Smith.

Home made candy was on sale during the evening. Between the acts, Miss Sarah Beckwith sang most acceptably. Miss Merritt coached the girls for the play and the Boy Scouts assisted in various ways.

The boys and girls of the village were interested in the speed contest that took place Saturday morning. Alberta Wallen and Catherine Holden were tied in the girls race and the prize box of candy was divided between them. Harlon Smith proved to be the fastest runner among the boys and won a baseball bat. In the shot laying contest Edward Card was the winner, receiving a baseball. The prizes were given by Byron Baker.

The stock and furnishings of the Dwight Ives farm found ready purchases at the auction which was held there Monday.

Cassius Barstow and family are settled in their new home at Windham and Charles Backus and family have moved into the house recently occupied by the Barstows.

Mrs. E. W. Avery, Clarence Avery and Rev. and Mrs. Mrs. Joseph F. Cobb were in Norwich last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Avery's cousin, Chauncey B. Woodworth.

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine Putoz, a former resident of South Windham, were held Thursday afternoon at the rooms of Avery and Van Zandt. Rev. J. F. Cobb officiated and also read a committal service at the cemetery.

Frank Murdock entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murdock of Norwich, and other relatives, who came to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Catherine Putoz.

Mrs. Joseph F. Cobb and Miss Avis Cobb spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Donovan of Pawtucket Hill, Sprague.

The regular missionary meeting of the Christian Endeavor society was led Sunday evening by Mrs. J. F. Cobb. An invitation was read and accepted to attend a social to be given Friday evening, June 8, by the C. E. society of the Baptist church in Willimantic.

The Good Will circle will meet Thursday afternoon in the church parlors.

NORTH STONINGTON

A number of local people visited Norwich on Suburban day.

Rev. and Mrs. Lucian Drury spent last week in Mount Hermon, Mass., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Drury.

Mrs. C. A. Thompson, who recently underwent an operation in a New Haven hospital, is getting along finely.

Six candidates received the third and fourth degrees at the grange meeting Friday evening. Following the ceremonies, supper was served under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Capman, chairman of the woman's work committee. Many visiting patrons were present.

The women of the Baptist church will hold a sewing meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry L. Avery.

HANOVER

Miss Caroline Gallup was the leader of the May meeting of the Woman's Missionary society, which was held in the parish house Thursday afternoon, the 24th. The hostesses were Mrs. Frank Doyle and Mrs. Charles Rood. Following an interesting program on the fourth chapter of the study book, refreshments were served by the hostesses during a social hour. Mention was made of the annual meeting of the Eastern Connecticut branch at New London First church parish house on Wednesday, June 6th, when Mrs. Theodore S. Lee and Mrs. R. M. S. Emrich will be speakers.

On Thursday evening of last week a reception was given by the Congregational church to the 15 new members who joined the church in May. A pleasant evening was spent by the members and friends. During the evening fine stereopticon slides were shown, taken from the play The Fool. Ice cream was served by the young people of the church.

The young men of the village are enoying volleyball on the green in front of the parish house.

GOODYEAR Service Station

GOODYEAR believes there are two factors to low-cost mileage—a quality tire and conscientious dealer service to back it up. Goodyear makes that kind of tire, and we have pledged ourselves, as the Goodyear Dealers in this town, to give you that kind of service.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend the new Goodyear Cords with the beveled All-Weather Tread and back them up with standard Goodyear Service.

THE A. C. SWAN CO., 2 Cliff Street
T. J. HEALEY, 372 Main Street

GOODYEAR

Faces Schwab Fraud Charges

Mrs. Myrtle Bowman Hayes, the Boston business woman who has been indicted for second degree forgery in signing the name of Charles M. Schwab as endorsement to notes.

BREED THEATRE

TODAY — FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

William Fox presents "Tom Mix in ARIZONA"

Directed by Lynn Reynolds

MOVIE CHATS — SUNSHINE COMEDY

THE VENICE
OPEN AIR DANCING PAVILION
FOR RENT—Reasonable
To First Class Organizations
Big Open Air Space for Bazaars, etc. connected with hall. Inquire of
THE PASNIK COMPANY

DANCE TONIGHT
AT HILLTOP CASINO
MUSIC BY
CHICK'S HILLTOP ORCHESTRA
8:30 TO 12:00 P. M. (D. S. T.)
GENTS 60c — LADIES 40c
LATE CARS TO TAFTVILLE AND CITY

DANCE
YANTIC FIRE ENGINE HOUSE
FRIDAY NIGHT.
DANCING 8.30 TO 12.
MUSIC BY ROYAL RADIONS.

BENEFIT WHIST
K. of P.
—AT—
BUCKINGHAM MEMORIAL,
MAY 31, 8 P. M., D. S. T.
JOSEPH MACKEY, Chairman.

ROCKVILLE

Mrs. Harry Orndorff and Mr. and Mrs. Mooney and Mr. Giles of Providence were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Greene recently.

The funeral of Charles Henry Saunders, who died at the home of his granddaughter Saturday morning, May 26, was held Monday at 1 p. m. at the home of his son, Eugene Saunders. Interment was at Voluntown.

The death of Mr. Saunders makes three aged residents of this place who have died the past month.

Charles Boss is reported seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lanphear and daughter of Bradford were recent callers on their aunts, Miss Olivia Chester and Mrs. Mattie Greene.

EAST WOODSTOCK

Alden Adams and family of New London spent Sunday with E. E. Eddy and family.

George Moore and wife of Worcester called on relatives Saturday.

Miss Carrie Lewis of Danielson, a former resident, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. May.

The annual meeting of the woman's board of the Day Kimball hospital was held with Mrs. J. E. Aldrich last week Wednesday, the attendance being 41. Reports of committees were given, followed by the election of officers. Miss Nellie Bloxham, matron of the hospital, was present, also eight other ladies from Putnam. The hostess served refreshments.

Rev. Henry Baker preached a memorial sermon Sunday morning from John 15: 13, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." The West parish united in the service.

HEBRON

Sherwood Raymond and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Kibbee of New Britain were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bissell of East Hampton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Seyms and family Sunday.

A memorial service was held in the Congregational church Sunday evening. Mrs. C. E. Pendleton, Miss Janet Pendleton and Mr. Gillette of Colchester assisted in the singing. Prof. Purdy of Hartford was the speaker.

Memorial day will be observed as usual by the American Legion and the Colchester band, with the school children assisting in decorating the graves.

The Children's day exercises will be held next Sunday in the Congregational church.

The resignation of Rev. Howard C. Champe, pastor of the Congregational church, was read Sunday. While the people regret very much to have him leave, all wish him success in his new field.

BLACK HILL

Horace Brown of Worcester spent the week end with H. Beecher Brown.

Mrs. Mary Medbury and daughters spent Saturday at Attawaugan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown called on Amasa Pierce of Squaw Rocks farm Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Central Village called Sunday on Miss Abbie Medbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore of Birchwood farms were at Storrs Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hopton spent Sunday evening with the Medbury family.

BROADWAY

Today, Friday, Saturday
KEITH VAUDEVILLE
Three Black Diamonds
—IN—
A HALF TON OF HARMONY

ED & IDA TINDELL
In a Snappy Variety of Vaudeville Doings

HON. DAVE MANLEY
"The Mayor of the U. S. A."

SEENA & WEBER
COMEDIANS

CHAS. LELAND & CO.
Variety Entertainers

Photoplay Feature
RUPERT HUGHES PRESENTS
COLLEEN MOORE AND ANTONIO MORENO
—IN—
"LOOK YOUR BEST"
A Fun Fest for the Whole Family

WED. JUNE 6
Shuffle Along
The Great Musical Comedy With Original N. Y. Cast. Prices 5$, $1.15, $1.73, 2.30.
MAIL ORDERS NOW

STRAND

TODAY—LAST TIMES
2:15 — 7:00 — 8:45
Betty Compson
AND
Conway Tearle
—IN—
"The Rustle of Silk"

BUSTER KEATON
in "The Frozen North"

NEWS WEEKLY

Friday and Saturday
Wesley Barry
AND STAR CAST IN
"Heroes of the Street"
Action, Thrills, Pathos, Adventure and Sparkling Comedy, Skillfully Interwoven in a Delightful Screen Entertainment.

Coming — Coming
Isle of Lost Ships

A Reputation—
for unvarying Quality is the Greatest Mark of Distinction.
"SALADA"
TEA
has given Matchless Quality for 31 years.
So Delicious! Just Try It.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

DIED

HOLMES—In Jewett City, May 30, 1923, Dr. Sanford H. Holmes, aged 41 years. Notice of funeral hereafter.

BUCKINGHAM—Entered into rest, in this city, May 30, 1923, William Alfred Buckingham, aged 76 years. Notice of funeral hereafter. Kindly omit flowers.

FUNERAL NOTICES

KRAFT — In Norwich, May 27, 1923, George Kraft, in his 62d year. Funeral services at his late home, 85 Perkins avenue, Thursday, May 31, at 2.30 p. m., D. S. T. Burial in Yantic cemetery.

HERSON—In this city, May 30, 1923, William B. Herson, aged 73 years. Services at Gager's funeral parlors, 70 Franklin street, Friday afternoon, June 1, at 2 o'clock, D. S. T. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

PIERSON—In Norwich, May 30, 1923, Oscar Valentine Pierson. Funeral services at his late home, 82 Fitch street, Friday, June 1, at 2.30, D. S. T. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

FITZMAURICE—In Willimantic, May 28, 1923, Mrs. Mary A. Fitzmaurice, wife of John Fitzmaurice. Funeral at the home of John Fanning, in Moosup, at 8.30 Friday morning, with services at All Hallows' church, Moosup, at 9 a. m. standard time.

MAY—In Westerly, R. I., May 30, 1923, Dr. John L. May. Funeral at his late home, 19 Canal street, Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Solemn high mass of requiem at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 10.30. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery, New London. Automobile cortege.

YOUNG—At his home in Jewett City, May 27, 1923, Alfred Avery Young, in the 59th year of his age. Funeral service at his home in Jewett City on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, daylight time. It is kindly requested that there be no flowers.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 238-2 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
68 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 416-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

WILLIMANTIC
Avery & Van Zandt
Successors
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
56 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 Lady Assistant

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
814 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

FLORISTS

TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 858-5. Free delivery. apr14

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

AUTO TOPS and painting; up-to-date shop and skilled help; if you need our services, come to see us. Norwich Auto Trimming and Paint Shop, Majestic Bldg., top floor. Tel. 2114. may4d

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. James Perry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct15

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Joe Agganis, Pond St. Phone 1397. mar16d

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches

Tirrell & Clark Corp.
TO 58 NORTH MAIN STREET

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 669-12. jan16d

C. S. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder and Jobber in Wood. Phone 972. dec6d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

YOUNG MAN wants position in office by June 11th; experienced and have good reference; good worker. Write Box 1920, Bulletin. may31d

WANTED—Woodchopper. John Miller, R. F. D. 1, Norwich. may24thSM

WANTED—Young married men for a selling proposition; salary and commission. Mr. Lynch, 67 Broadway, second floor. Call between 5-6 and 6-8. may30d

WANTED—Good reliable man on dairy farm. W. C. Terry, R. D. No. 4, Norwich, Conn. Tel. 109-2 Jewett City. may29d

WANTED—Man to help putting up awnings. J. W. Mallett, 80 Market St. may29d

WANTED—Man to drive ice wagon in Plainfield; married man preferred; have tenement and good wages for right party. Frank A. Evans. may28d

WANTED—Lawns to clean up, floors waxed, gardening, etc. C. H. Graves, H. Walmsley, 153 Franklin St. Tel. 2347. may29d

WANTED—Position as chauffeur; experienced. Write Box 309, Bulletin. may29d

WANTED—Three or four man in wood turning shop. Apply L. M. Hartson Co., Chestnut St. may28d

WANTED—Building laborers; open shop conditions; 60 cents per hour. Second floor, 103 Elm St., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED—Teamsters and laborers at sawmill. Frank A. Phillips, 153 Church St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 805. may26d

WANTED—Carpenter helpers and laborers. Turner Construction Co. American Woolen Mill, Thamesville. may26d

WANTED—A man on dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 18-4. may24d

WANTED—Academy student, at Fagan's Smoke Shop. may19d

WANTED
Boys To Carry Bulletin Routes.
INQUIRE AT
The Bulletin Office

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Girl to assist with housework; no cooking; also to go to the beach for summer. Apply 23 Maple St. Phone 915-4. may31d

WANTED—At once, helping housekeeper; must be good cook; good position; Canadian preferred. Apply 50 Golden St. may30d

WANTED—Fancy ironer; good wages to right party. Gregson's Cleaning and Dyeing. may30d

WANTED—Chambermaid. Apply to Wauregan Hotel. may30d

WANTED—Woman or girl for plain cooking by the day or by the week. Telephone 1438. may30d

WANTED—At once, competent second girl; also a laundress; good wages. Apply Matron, 39 Washington St. may29d

WANTED—Young lady over 18 to work in store. Apply in person. Ye Chocolate Shoppe. may29d

WANTED—A chambermaid, also a table girl. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 42-2. may28d

WANTED—Competent cook willing to go to Eastern Point this summer. Apply Mrs. J. Ralph Howe. Tel. 450. may22d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 65 Broadway. may19d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Sellas Spa. may9d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may9d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Sellas Lunch. may3d

WANTED
TWO GIRLS
For Light, Clean Work
TROY STEAM LAUNDRY

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Ford coupe in good condition. Box 125, Bulletin. may31d

FOR SALE—Ford touring car 1916, first class condition, paint, tires, $175 cash; private party. P. W. Pelham, Central Village, Conn. may30d

FOR SALE—Buick four touring, good condition, $250. R. Lambert, Baltic. may30d

FOR SALE—Velie roadster in O. K. mechanical condition. Inquire Con's Garage, Falls Ave. may30d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your cars; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 375 Main St, Phone 1449-4. Night phones, 1445-4 or 1007-13. apr17d

FOR SALE—Overland coupe. Call after 3 o'clock. Bachmann, 14 Carter Ave. may28d

FOR SALE—1919 Cadillac coupe, fine condition, price reasonable. Phone 965. may8d

AUTO PARTS
A few of the many cars wrecked for the parts.

DODGE	MAXWELL
FORD	REO
OVERLAND	DORT
STUDEBAKER	G. M. C.
CHALMERS	AND OTHERS

NORWICH AUTO WRECKING COMPANY
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
PHONE 2110

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-13

POULTRY

FOR SALE—Mammoth Pekin ducklings and hatching eggs. Cumpstone, Norwich Road, Waterford. Tel. 336-3 New London. may29d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks. White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. B. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec28d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—A good attendance at the Parent-Teacher entertainment and supper Friday evening, June 1st, at the Parish House in Poquetanuck. may31d

HANDSOME lady of means, would marry if suited (stamp). Violet, Box 787, Dennison, Ohio. may17tn

WANTED—Men and women to know the big riding months have begun. Eighty thousand men, women and children are going to be actually killed—fourteen million are going to be injured. Not one of these knows in advance! There are more than thirty thousand persons in Greater Norwich. At least half of these take trips to some suburb, beach or other recreation place each summer week end, by auto, train, car, etc. Have you arranged with the gods to protect you? Every time you leave home, or a friend gives you a lift in his car? Every time you mix with the crowd and expose yourself to disease? If not, you'd better arrange with L. G. Smith, 29 Mt. Pleasant St., to pay you from $25 to $50 a week. Phone 542. may28MThS

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, etc., and antiques. Ward Bros., 45 Jackson St., Willimantic. Tel. 632-3. mar14TuThS

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 389, Norwich. jy13TpThS

WANTED—A good second hand sewing machine, a good second hand three-burner oil stove. Box 526, Bulletin. may30d

KIN YA BEET IT?—A gent from Fitchville told me he crossed a rubber plant with the regular grass 'n' it made it rainproof, but by ginks, sez he, one of our cows fell down tother day 'n' she bounded all over the meds. Sum pipes for 75c, Manila cigars six for 25c, After Dinner cigar, mild, 5c straight. Fagan's Smoke Shop. may29d

WANTED—Couple to run mill boarding house. Write Box 600, Bulletin. may29d

WANTED—To buy a flat-top desk. Call Phone 1897-12. may29d

WANTED—Country board, two weeks beginning about June 9; state terms, etc. W. S. Pitts, 1420 74th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. may28d

WONDERFUL new book for office men and women sent free; new plan helps increase your efficiency and pays you profit at the same time; read "The Broader Horizon," mailed you without obligation; don't miss it. Just address Desk 31, Baker-Goodyear Co., First National Bank Bldg., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chenaski Agt., 160 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2163. feb21d

WANTED — Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. jan11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 32 Market St. Phone 537-3. jy6d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-2. jan31d

IF IT'S JUNK
sell it to the Mutual Waste and Metal Co., where you get the most for Scrap Iron, Scrap Metal, Rags, Paper, Magazines, etc. We call and remove same promptly. 319 West Main Street, Telephone 2275.

WANTED
EXPERIENCED DRESSER TENDER. APPLY—
JOSEPH HALL & SON, INC.,
TRADING COVE MILL.

WANTED
SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE. BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

TO RENT

TO RENT—Furnished apartment of five rooms, centrally located, with heat and all modern improvements; garage if needed. Phone 930. may31d

TO LET—Pasture in Canterbury. Apply Box 193, Willimantic, Conn. James Kane. may31d

TO RENT—Seven-room cottage at Groton Long Point; all improvements; $350 for season. A. H. Disco, 11 Oak St., Norwich, Conn. may30d

FOR RENT—Four-room tenement, gas and electric light. A. V. Covello, 198 Clic St. Tel. 1527-3. may29d

TO RENT—Large furnished room, suitable for one or two gentlemen, 49 Church St. may29d

TO RENT—Tenement, five rooms, 36 Cliff St. Apply 9 Elm St. may29d

TO RENT—One store, 22x40, on Main St., Plainfield. Inquire Theodore Rollins, Plainfield. may28d

TO RENT — Apartment, lower floor, three rooms and bath, 175 Broadway. may22d

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement, upstairs, steam heat, bath, gas and electricity. Inquire 79 Hamilton Ave. may22d

TO RENT—Beautiful modern apartment at 50 Broad St., steam heat furnished and hot water supplied all year round. Inquire Talking Machine Shop, or your agent. may21d

COTTAGE for rent; Giants Neck, seven-room cottage, conveniences, near bathing beach, June to Sept., $500; large old house, near beach, boating, fishing, garden and garage, long season, $150; shore lots overlooking sound, excellent bathing, boating and fishing, $390 up, easy payments. Box 304, Niantic, Conn. Tel. 23-5. may12d

TO RENT—Store on Main St., Moosup, Conn. Apply to Nathan Nulman, Moosup. may5d

TO RENT
221 BROADWAY
15-ROOM RESIDENCE
AND 2-CAR GARAGE
Steam Heated.
Apply on the Premises.

INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 31 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of make. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. jan11d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE or to rent, a new six-room house with two enclosed porches, all oak floors, all modern improvements, two-car garage. Inquire E. E. Prunier, at Julian Terrace. Phone 739-2. may31d

FOR SALE—Several building lots, a quantity of second hand bricks, lumber, timbers, 8x12, 20 feet long or over, doors, blinds, lavatories, toilet bowls, hot water tanks, piping, etc. Inquire E. E. Prunier, at Julian Terrace. Phone 739-2. may31d

FOR SALE—Ten rolls 3 ft. 2 inch mesh poultry wire at $3.25 per roll, f. o. b. farm. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. may31d

FOR SALE—New milch cow, with calf. D. J. Connelly. Phone 897-14. may30d

FOR SALE—One Richmond kitchen range, also one Detroit vapor stove, which burns either kerosene, gasoline or alcohol. Phone 412-4. may30d

FOR SALE—35 loads of native stone; could be delivered at once. George Peck, Norwich Town. Tel. 1267-3. may29d

FOR SALE—At Crescent Beach, waterfront, stucco house of eight rooms, including all furniture (five bedrooms), electric lights, running water, garage one car; price $8,000; will rent June 1 to Oct. 1, $800. Phone 876. may28d

FOR SALE—First class player-piano, Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 963-4. may26d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $10.
A slightly used $135 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.
A $150 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.
A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $60, our price $20.
An upright Fischer piano, in fine condition, $75.
Talking Machine Shop, 24-34 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Upright piano in good playing condition; only $55, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Regular $625 Kroeger slightly used upright piano in perfect playing condition; very special, $235, on easy weekly terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Mahogany cabinet model talking machine, with six double faced records, complete for $69.50; easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chenaski, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr10d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer. $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. may8d

FOR SALE — Herring - Hall - Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR QUICK SALE
7-room house, all improvements, near Backus hospital, bargain at $7,500.
3-tenement house, North Cliff St., $3,750.
A beautiful cottage on Williams St., also garage, lot 150x200.
Double house, Sachem St., large lot, 16 rooms, all improvements, garage, $12,000.
4-family brick house, High St., $7,000.
Beautiful home, Spring Garden Ave., $8,250.
2-apartment house, Spring Garden Ave., $8,000.
Many others, all sections.
310-acre farm, Jewett City, 8-room house, all necessary outbuildings, 11 head cattle, 100 hens, hay, tools wagons, etc.; for quick sale $6,500; attractive mortgage.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Thayer Bldg.
Real Estate, Insurance, Investments.

FOR SALE
6-room cottage, all improvements, 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. Today, $3,800.
7-room bungalow, new. An expensive house for less than cost.
10-room bungalow. No better built in Norwich. Located central. Price right.
2-apartment house near Chelsea Parade. First class condition. Large lot and garage. Good investment at price, $8,000.
Beautiful estate with large grounds. First class condition. Fine residential property. Price $20,000.
GROVER & BURDICK
2 MARKET STREET Phone 1525-2

FOR SALE
No. 56 Spruce Street, 9 rooms and 2 baths. Price reasonable. Can be arranged for 2 apartments. Possession given immediately. Inquire of owner
J. J. CORKERY

FOR SALE
ATTRACTIVE SUMMER COTTAGE, AT BEST VIEW
Ideal Summer Location
Immediate Possession
House has electric lights, running water, modern plumbing, hardwood floors, and is plastered, has heating system and may be occupied the entire year.
PRICE $7,000
JAMES L. CASE
Tel. 876 40 SHETUCKET ST.

FOR SALE
A choice farm, located within five miles of Norwich, consisting of about 400 acres of land, about one-half can be put under cultivation, balance pasture and woodland, will easily cut over 6,000 cords of wood, besides a huge lot of timber. This farm must be sold and priced low. Fine large house in fine shape, as are outbuildings. All tools and machinery included. A great opportunity for someone. For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

FOR SALE
Fine residence on Washington St., with over two acres land; a rare bargain.
New modern bungalow, Laurel Hill; the price is right.
New six-room house, with garage, for $4,200.
Two houses, with three acres land, Gales Ferry, $4,000; fine river view.
Archa W. Coit
287 Main St.
Phones 2288 and 1596. may26d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
A modern house of two 6-room apartments, with garage for two cars, all nearly new. Hardwood floors throughout, cemented cellar, large level lot, finely located—all in perfect order. Immediate possession.
THOS. H. BECKLEY
278 MAIN STREET
PHONES

FOR SALE
AT CRESCENT BEACH
Eight-room furnished modern cottage, with one-car garage and three bathing houses, in one of the choicest locations on the waterfront; house has recently been finished in stucco and is a great chance for someone to get a choice summer home at a very reasonable price.
For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
NORWICH.

FOR SALE
A tenement block, with improvements; always well rented, and centrally located; price right if sold at once.
Six-room cottage, all improvements, including heat, in excellent condition, built about 10 years, will sell for $4,000; same is located 15 minutes' walk from Franklin Square.
Brick block on West Side, with two stores and two tenements; good investment; price $7,500; will arrange liberal loan.
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones, Norwich, Conn.

LESS THAN ONE SEASON'S RENT for summer cottage will make cash payment on this 30-acre state road farm, bordering on river, fish pond, fine old maple shade, old-fashioned six-room house, hardwood floors, open fireplace, all buildings in first class repair, for $3,200, $500 cash.
TRYONS' AGENCY,
may26d Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
$9,500 will buy five-apartment house, with one store, rent for $118 monthly, with gas and electric light large lot on Main St., five minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Tel. 1527-3. 198 Cliff St.

AUCTIONS

AUCTION NOTICE
—BY—
WITTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS,
Office and Salesrooms, No. 42 Main Street, Danielson, Conn.

We have received a choice consignment of high grade furniture, carpets, pictures and fancy crockery from Mrs. Josephine Love of Anthony, R. I., to be sold on SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1923,
at 1 o'clock p. m., standard time.
We will also sell for Mrs. H. McConnell, Attawaugan, Conn., a consignment of all kinds. A beautiful large sized Brunswick phonograph in a mahogany case will be included in this sale; likewise a beautiful seven-piece mahogany parlor set.

C. E. MACFARLANE.....Auctioneer

AUCTION
I will sell at public auction on
TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1923,
at 9 o'clock a. m., standard time
LATHAM & CRANE'S YARD,
159 Valley St., Willimantic,
LUMBER AS FOLLOWS:
3150 ft. 2x5 Oak, 680 ft. 2 in. Oak, 1333 ft. 1 in. Shop Cypress, old grading, 1772 ft. 2 in. R. E. Pine, Maine bird cuts, 2058 ft. 3 in. Ash R. E., 2981 ft. 3 in. Oak R. E. clear, 2404 ft. 3 in. Oak R. E. clear, 1408 ft. 2 in. Ash R. E., 1341 ft. 1 1-4 in. Select Cypress Strip, 195 ft. 1 in. N. C. Pine, 1837 ft. 1 in. S. E. Pine, 742 ft. 2 in. S. E. Pine, 623 ft. 1 in. Chestnut, 1605 ft. 1 1-4 in. Oak S. E., 5849 ft. 2 in. S. E. Pine, 1200 ft. 4x4 Chestnut, 400 lin. ft. Chestnut Frame Stock, 2250 ft. No. 2 Common, 575 ft. 1 in. Eastern Pine, 425 ft. 1 1-4 in. R. E. Pine, 300 ft. Ash, 250 ft. Cyp. D. 2 S., Engine and Boiler, Reo Truck, two set Chain Falls, one Heavy Winch, one Wagon, Miscellaneous Machinery, Tools, too numerous to mention. may31d

FRANK T. MAPLES.....Auctioneer

AUCTION
FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923,
at 9.30, standard time,
at Captain Maples' farm, at East Great Plain, 1 1-2 miles from Norwich, 4 sheep, 1 dry cow, geese and goslings, two-horse spring harrow, 1 hay cutter, platform scale, 1 swivel plow, 1 horse plow, several pairs wagon wheels and axles, small tools, shovels, forks, crowbars, 3 crosscut saws, etc.
Bureaus, sewing machine, dishes, beds, tables, stands, screen doors, pictures, jugs and others too numerous to mention.
Antiques: Chairs, tables, stands, highboy, pewter, brass, corner cupboard, mirrors, plotures, etc. may29d

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Two keys on ring. Return to Bulletin Office. Reward. may31d

FOUND—Sunday, sum of money. Owner call at 372 Main St. may30d

FOUND—On Broadway, Monday afternoon, squirrel neckpiece. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Phone 1183. may29d

LOST—A brown cow, with white and red calf, since May 20. George Dugua, Versailles. may29d

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Dry slab wood. Phone 1341-3. may24d

COAL, seasoned wood and kindlings, in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 304 or 1526-2. H. Shapiro, Willow St. may26d

FOR SALE—Well seasoned mixed slabs; nice for summer. H. E. Beard & Son. Tel. 815-4. apr18d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

LEGAL NOTICE

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF NORWICH, CONN.

To either Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn., GREETING:

You are hereby directed to warn the electors of the City of Norwich to assemble in CITY MEETING in the several voting districts in said City as by law provided, to wit:

FIRST VOTING DISTRICT—At the Town Hall in the Court House Building, Thames Street, in the F. J. O'Connor Block.

SECOND VOTING DISTRICT—At 12 Central Avenue.

THIRD VOTING DISTRICT—At 225 Hamilton Avenue.

SIXTH VOTING DISTRICT—At No. 1 Hamilton Avenue.

on MONDAY, June 4th, 1923, at 5.30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), to choose by ballot two Aldermen, four Common Councilmen, a Clerk, a Collector, and two Water Commissioners for the term of two years each, and also a Treasurer and two Sheriffs for the term of one year each. Voting machines will be used under the provisions of the laws of the State of Connecticut.

Said meeting will be open in each of the districts at 5.30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), for the purpose of voting for said City Officers, and shall continue open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), for said purpose when the polls in each of the several Districts shall be closed.

And at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), in said Town Hall the estimates of the City's expenses for the current fiscal year as made by the Court of Common Council of said City at a meeting held on May 21st, 1923, will be submitted to said City Meeting for action thereon, and there will also be submitted to said meeting for action the estimates for special matters presented to said Court of Common Council in the report of the Committee on Finance at said meeting held May 21st, 1923, viz.:

1—Equipment, street department	$5 000.00
2—Concrete paving, Rose place	1,600.00
3—Macadamizing Central avenue	10,000.00
4—Macadamizing West Main street, Thames square to City line	10,000.00
5—Macadamizing Elmwood avenue	4,000.00
6—Improvement Geer avenue	1,500.00
7—Sewer in Routh street from Cliff street to North Cliff street	2,500.00
8—Sewer in Brook street, North street from Hickory street to East Hallia street, Hickory street from Baltic street to North street, and from Hickory street to end of present sewer in Lake street playground	27 000.00
9—Extra street lighting (White Way)	2.000.00
10—Sewer in Burton avenue from Mowry avenue to Smith avenue	1 000.00
	$64 600.00

Also at said time and place to lay a tax on the City Grand List last made and perfected to meet the expenses of the City upon the estimates approved and the appropriations authorized by said City Meeting to be made from the City Treasury; also to fix the compensation of the Collector of said tax; also to act upon the list of abatements of taxes made by the Mayor and Aldermen of said City to be presented at said meeting; also to authorize and sanction the temporary borrowing for the Gas and Electric Department of the City in anticipation of its ordinary revenue of such sum or sums not exceeding in the aggregate $25,000 as may be necessary from time to time to pay the running expenses of said department; said sum or sums so to be borrowed to be repaid, principal and interest, before the end of the present fiscal year from the revenues of said department; also to determine whether or not the assessments made by the Court of Common Council on the 4th day of December, 1922, for street sprinkling shall be abated; also to authorize and sanction the borrowing by the City of such sum or sums of money not exceeding $225,000 as may be needed from time to time to make the improvements and discharge the obligations and expenses authorized by said meeting, and to determine the time within which repayment shall be made of the sum or sums of money so to be borrowed.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 24th day of May, A. D. 1923.

MILO R. WATERS,
Mayor of the City of Norwich, Conn.

State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., Norwich, May 24th, 1923.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is the warrant and warning directed to me for service by publication.
Attest: ABRAHAM SIEGEL,
A Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn.
may28MWThFS

NOTICE TO BUILDERS

Sealed proposals to build a wooden addition to the Oneco School Building, 24x24, one story, will be received until Saturday, June 9th, 1923. Plans and specifications may be seen by applying to A. J. Dixon, Oneco, Conn. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.
Address all bids to A. J. DIXON, Chairman, Oneco, Conn. may30d

SHOE REPAIRING

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIRING CO., 36 Franklin St. Be wise and have your work done by hand, not machinery, as it is better and will last longer. Shoes made for all deformities. may5d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO ARCHITECTS
Plans and specifications invited for the erection of buildings at Norwich State Hospital, Norwich, Conn., general design to be in harmony with existing buildings.
In conformity with the provisions of Section 64 of the General Statutes, Revision of 1918, "An Act Regulating the Employment of Architects on Public Buildings," architects are hereby invited to submit competitive plans as follows:
General Requirements:
(A). A Ward building for about 125 patients; brick, fire resistive two stories with unfinished attic, partial basement, concrete slabs, first and second floors, slate roof, room for hydrotherapy, separate continuous baths, employes' quarters, patients' rooms with baths. Cost complete, not to exceed $212,500.
(B). Home for Nurses; brick fire resistive, two stories, slate roof, cellar in middle of building. First floor, lobby, rooms for married couples. Second floor, single rooms for girls. Cost, including furnishings, not to exceed $145,000.
The architect of the plans selected by the committee in charge will be employed to prepare the working drawings and specifications and to superintend the construction of the buildings. For his compensation he will receive the commission authorized by the American Institute of Architects. No compensation will be paid for plans not finally accepted.
An estimate of cost from some reliable contractor will be required to be submitted with each plan. All plans must be signed by the architect and deposited with the Comptroller of the State at his office in the Capitol, City of Hartford not later than July 3d, 1923, at 11 o'clock a. m., standard time.
The committee in charge, in accordance with law, will give a public hearing on said plans at the Norwich State Hospital on July 10th, 1923, at 11 o'clock a. m., standard time.
The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.
Dated at Hartford, Conn., this 29th day of May, 1923.
FREDERICK M. SALMON,
may31d Comptroller.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Small pony, two years old; will sell cheap. 33 Pratt St. may30d

FOR SALE—One pair of team horses, weight 2800. Inquire of Thomas Mellen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-12 Jewett City. may29d

JUST ARRIVED.
My Horses are here, and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.
ELMER R. PIERSON.
Tel. 836-3. apr23d

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS
THE TIME WILL COME
When You Will Need Ready Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not
BE PREPARED
Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed note. Call, write or Phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 206, THAYER BUILDING
16 FRANKLIN STREET

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping, trucks for hire. 21 Cliff St. or Occum. Tel. 617-12.

Est. 1874. Tel. 175.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing, Furniture and Piano Moving.
Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLYN, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1582-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing.
Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1341.

TEAMING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 263 Main St. Phone 752.

C. B. BROMLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 326.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet) Suite 7-8 Allce Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn Phone 1366-2. jan31d

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAZ, Architect, Room 5, May Bldg. Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb10d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

TRANSPORTATION

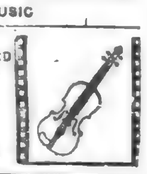
CUNARD-ANCHOR

Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool
SAMARIA.....June 9, July 13
SCYTHIA.....June 23, July 28
New York, Cherbourg, Southampton
BERENGARIA
June 5, June 28, July 17
AQUITANIA. June 12, July 3, July 24
MAURETANIA
June 19, July 10, Aug. 7
New York, Queenstown, Liverpool
CARONIA.....June 2
FRANCONIA.....July 7
CARMANIA
June 16, July 14, Aug. 18
New York, Londonderry, Glasgow
COLUMBIA....June 9, July 7, Aug. 4
ASSYRIA...June 16, July 14, Aug. 25
CAMERONIA
June 23, July 21, Aug. 18
N. Y., Plymouth, Cherbourg, Hamburg
LACONIA...June 7, July 12, Aug. 23
TYRRHENIA
June 28, Aug. 8, Sept. 13
CUNARD & ANCHOR S. S. LINES,
126 State St., Boston 1, or Local Agents.

NORWICH-WESTERLY BUS LINE.
NICK MOONEY, Prop.
Telephone Westerly 2467.
Leave Westerly 8 a. m., 11 a. m., 1 p. m., 5 p. m., 7 p. m., 8 p. m.
Arrive North Stonington 8.20 a. m. 11.20 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 5.20 p. m., 7.30 p. m., 9.20 p. m.
Leave Norwich 8 a. m., 9.30 a. m., 12.30 p. m., 3.30 p. m., 6.30 p. m., 9 p. m.
Arrive North Stonington 8.45 a. m. 10.15 a. m., 1.15 p. m., 4.15 p. m., 7.15 p. m., 9.45 p. m.
FARES: Westerly-Norwich 70c; Westerly-North Stonington 25c; Norwich-North Stonington 45c. may30d

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 127-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Scholars to Lend.



PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 74 Franklin St. may14d

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand. J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

CLARK'S FALLS

Horace F. Palmer died at his home in Clark's Fall May 25, aged 75 years and 6 months. He was the last of six children born to Stephen and Harriet and his wife, Sally Slocum Palmer. He was a member of the Free Baptist church, this town, and a strong advocate of temperance. At one time he owned a sawmill and furnished lumber for houses and railroad ties. In 1876 he married Nellie L. Eccleston. Two sons were born to them—William E. Palmer, who died several years ago and Stephen F. Palmer, who was in the World war about two years. Mr. Palmer was seriously hurt in November last while loading a neighbor's cow along the road.

Elisha Stern Chesebrough died at his home May 26, aged 76 years. In 1876 he was married to Miss Ella Babcock, who died in 1895, leaving one son, Orville, who has cared for his father in his declining years. Mr. and Mrs. Chesebrough joined the Third Baptist church soon after they were married and resided in this village. Mr. Chesebrough was employed by the Briggs Mfg. Co. for many years in the finishing department.

His funeral was held at his late home Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. B. U. Hatfield conducted the services. There were beautiful flowers. Brother Masons were in attendance and were bearers. He was laid to rest in Oak Grove cemetery. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. He leaves his son and a sister, Mrs. Frances Maine, to mourn his loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maine have been entertaining relatives from Taunton, Mass.

Miss Flora Burdick of Boston, Isaac T. Hopkins of West Kingston and Mrs. John Hopkins of Shannock were in town Tuesday to attend the funeral of their uncle, Horace F. Palmer.

The funeral services for Horace F. Palmer were a pr

FAIR AND COOL TODAY AND TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

NORWICH, CONN., THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1923.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Thursday, May 31, 1923.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

Pressure remained high Wednesday over the North Atlantic states.

There are no indications of any material change in weather conditions in the Washington forecast district during the next two days. The weather will remain generally fair in the North Atlantic states and there will be scattered thunder showers in that region.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook: Moderate northeast and east and weather fair Thursday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Moderate, mostly easterly, and weather fair Thursday.

Forecast.

For Southern New England: Fair Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in thermometer and barometer Wednesday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	62	29.90
12 m.	70	29.90
6 p. m.	59	30.00

Highest 70, lowest 59.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Wednesday: Fair and continued cool.

Wednesday's weather: Fair and warm; north to northeast wind.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises	Sun Sets	High Water	High Water	Moon Rises.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
	(Standard Time.)
28	4.19	7.11	5.03	5.22	3.52
29	4.19	7.11	5.48	6.07	4.07
30	4.18	7.12	6.31	6.50	Rises.
31	4.17	7.13	7.12	7.31	9.14
1	4.17	7.14	7.51	8.10	10.24
2	4.16	7.15	8.29	8.48	11.34
3	4.15	7.16	9.07	9.26	12.45
4	4.15	7.17	9.46	10.06	1.55

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

NORWICH TOWN

In behalf of Robert O. Fletcher post, No. 4, American Legion, Mrs. George Fraser paid a visit on Memorial day to the memorial tree planted on the First Congregational church grounds for Private William Durr and there placed a flag and a large red Flanders poppy. This tree, a Colorado spruce, was set out April 26, 1919, by the W. L. T.'s, an organized club to which Private Durr belonged, being its first president. Members of this club also placed a flag at the tree in memory of their comrade, which custom is carried out each year.

Private Durr, who was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Durr of Lathrop avenue, was the first Norwich Town boy to die on the battlefield, being killed in action July 23, 1918. He enlisted in February of that year, went to France the following April, and after only five months in the service gave his life for his country. He was a member of Company B, Fourth infantry.

The memory of Private Durr is still cherished by his friends here, as he was a young man of estimable qualities.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dupuis of Central Park, Long Island, N. Y., who are on a several days' motor trip, passed through Norwich Tuesday, and while en route were callers at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lamb of Town street. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Lamb, who are first cousins, had not met before in over 16 years.

The tourists left Central Park last Sunday morning, reaching Palenville, N. Y., late in the afternoon, and remained there over night. Monday morning the journey was continued to Albany, over a part of the Mohawk trail to Springfield, where they were guests over that night. Leaving Springfield Tuesday morning, they motored to Hartford, thence to Norwich, where several brief calls were made on relatives. From the latter place the tourists proceeded to New Haven, reaching there Tuesday evening, remaining over Memorial day at the home of relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis. They expect to return to Central Park today (Thursday).

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wood of Springfield and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tague of Westeld motored to Norwich Town recently and spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Wood's and Mr. Tague's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Tague, of McClellan avenue.

Former Norwich Town residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Golkowsky, and little son, William (Bill) Graham Golkowske, who for the past 11 months have resided on Fowler avenue, East Norwich, having sold their home, moved Memorial day to New Haven. About two months ago Mr. Golkowske changed his position and resumed work with the firm he formerly represented. The family will occupy their new home recently purchased.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR NORWICH CHAUTAUQUA SEASON

Committee organization for the coming Chautauqua season in Norwich has been effected and a preliminary meeting was held this week at the Y. M. C. A. building, with President William H. Collins presiding, which was attended by Miss Lilah Gilbert, first advance agent, who explained to the guarantors the programme that Chautauqua will present here. The programme that will occupy the Chautauqua week was received with commendation and enthusiasm by the guarantors who felt that it ensured a line of entertaining and instructive attractions that will inspire a great desire on the part of the public not to miss any of the evenings and afternoons on the Academy campus where the Chautauqua tent will be pitched.

Norwich and the territory round about has been divided into districts for the ticket sale and all parts of the town and the contributing territory will be reached.

The following are the committee chairmen appointed by President Collins: Transportation, John McWilliams; publicity and advertising, Tyler D. Guy; lighting, Charles J. Twist; tickets, Carence E. Carpenter; junior, Miss Bernice Willey; Sunday meeting, Rev. A. N. Foster.

Miss Gilbert is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Collins while in this city.

Cubans prefer American neckties, those from Italy being the only outside competitors.

Helpful Hair Hints

A leading hair dresser says—"I have found nothing as good as Parisian Sage to make the hair wavy, soft and lustrous and to make it grow abundant and beautiful." Remember the name—Parisian Sage — best for the hair and scalp. It's guaranteed. The Lee & Osgood Co. and all drug and toilet counters sell it.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES GIVE HONOR TO THE NATION'S HEROES

An eloquent address by Rev. C. H. Ricketts upon the theme "Preserving What Sacrifice Has Bought", the best parade in years, and weather that could not have been better made the Memorial Day observance Wednesday under the auspices of Sedgwick Post, No. 1, G. A. R., a complete success.

The innovation of having the parade in the morning was hailed as a desirable change from the custom of other years and the exercises were all concluded by 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The city made a generous display of the national colors in honor of the nation's heroes and crowds of spectators lined the streets along the line of march and attended the exercises at Chelsea Parade where the stand was erected and decorated in the national colors.

Three bands and a Boy Scout drum corps furnished the music for the parade with the popular Tubbs' Military band appearing at the head of the line, the Columbus band coming later and Wheeler's Colored Band farther down the line, while the St. Patrick's Boy Scouts had their own drum corps.

The two local Field Artillery companies furnished features by turning out with their tractors and army motor trucks and Clara Barton Tent, Daughters of Veterans, provided a pretty feature in the decorated float, In Memory of Our Daddies, which was carried out in the national colors with a dozen of the Daughters, dressed in white, riding upon the float.

Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls carrying banners with the names of their groups made an attractive appearance and the troops of Boy Scouts turned out in good numbers.

Major C. A. Hagberg, chief marshal, gave the word at 10:02 and the parade moved off from the Buckingham Memorial over the designated line of march to the Chelsea Parade where the exercises were held.

The parade formation was as follows.

Grand Marshal, Major Charles A. Hagberg, and his aides, Major F. Russell Smith, Lieut. F. B. Craven, Lieut. H. S. Ives, Lieut. J. Johnson, Lieut. T. R. Burdick.
Platoon of Police, Captain Twomey
Tubbs Military Band
Battery B 192nd, Field Artillery
Capt. W. R. Denison
First Bn. H. Q. Combat Train, 192nd Artillery
Capt. H. F. Burdick
Columbus Band
Richard E. Hourigan Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Graham
Robert O. Fletcher Post, American Legion, Commander Cunningham
R. S. Griswold Camp, Spanish War Veterans, Commander Ruthbun
Sons of Veterans, Commander John H Barnes
Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls
Daughters of Veterans' Float
Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps
Boy Scouts, Scout Executive Benton Commanding
G. A. R. and Disabled Veterans in Automobiles
The Mayor, City and Town Officials

Memorial Exercises.

Commander Orrin M. Price presided at the exercises, which opened with the bugle assembly call, following which Commander Price addressed the gathering as follows:

To His Honor, Mile R. Waters, mayor of the city of Norwich, court of common council, selectmen, and other officers of the city government:

As commander of Sedgwick post and in behalf of my comrades, I again welcome you all to this memorial service; also the officers and members of R. S. Griswold Camp No. 6, Spanish War Veterans; Battery B, 192nd F. A.; First Battalion H. Q. Combat Train; Robert O. Fletcher post, American Legion; Richard E. Hourigan post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Boy Scouts; Camp Fire Girls, and all who this day have gathered with us to pay honor to our patriotic dead who freely gave their lives for their country. Their memorable deeds will never be forgotten and will serve not only to make American citizenship in these days more reputable, but also to maintain and perpetuate through all generations the Union and authority of the United States of America.

For more than fifty years, one leading purpose of the Grand Army of the Republic has been the perpetuation of the same spirit of devotion that actuated us in our struggle for the preservation of the Union. This spirit has manifested itself in particular on the days when we have memorialized our heroic dead; and now, as the average age of our comrades has come close to four score years, and we find our physical strength leaving us, we are made glad that our brave young comrades out of the great World war have accepted our Memorial Day as theirs.

Prayer by the post chaplain, James McKee, was followed by the selection, Hear My Prayer, given by Tubbs' band, and the rendering of The Star Spangled Banner by Hugh Kinder. The Memorial Day orders were read by George A. Turner, past commander of Spanish War Veterans.

Obituary Record.

The obituary record of Sedgwick post for the year was read as follows by John Irish, junior vice commander and adjutant:

Frank W. Pitcher, Company H, 7th Conn. Vol. Died October 26, 1922 age 80 years.

Leander Brown, Company D, 3rd Conn. Vol., Died February 10, 1923, age 85 years.

Henry Hovey, commissary sergeant 18th Conn. Vol. Died April 26, 1923, age 83 years.

George S. Smith, Company C, 1st Conn. Cavalry. Died May 26, 1923, age 79 years.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address was recited by George A. Keppler, followed by the decorating of the soldiers' monument by George A. Turbee with response by John H. Barnes, commander of the Sons of Veterans.

The address of the day was delivered by Rev. C. H. Ricketts and the exercises came to a close with the singing of America and taps on the bugle.

Mayor Waters reviewed the parade as the line of march was taken up again to return down Broadway to Union square where the parade was dismissed.

The members of the post proceeded in automobiles to the Buckingham Memorial, where a fine dinner was served for them by Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps under the direction of the executive committee of that organization. Members of the city and town governments were also guests at dinner, about 125 being served. The menu was baked beans, potato salad, pickles, rolls, apple pie, cheese, coffee and cigars.

After dinner the veterans spent the afternoon at the Buckingham Memorial in pleasant informal reminiscences of the days of '61 to '65.

CALLS ON PEOPLE TO PRESERVE THE REPUBLIC

In his address upon Preserving What Sacrifice Has Bought, Rev. Mr. Ricketts spoke as follows:

History has shown us very clearly that the practice of sacrifice is a greater asset to any nation than the possession of luxury. The heroism that stands back of sacrifice tends to strengthen, while the love of ease engendered by luxury weakens. Where a man is willing to undergo any amount of personal privation that wife and children may be properly fed, clothed and sheltered you have the real basis of strong, united family life, and such a family is the rock basis of a real nation. It is not the man whose income is one thousand dollars a week and upward, who is divorced three times a year on the average, and who does not necessarily live in Hollywood—this is not the man who makes for national strength, unity or happiness, but quite the contrary he is the nation's greatest danger point, and when he supercedes the patriot the nation, however strong it is at present, is doomed.

Now the same unselfish, sacrificing spirit that touches the home life with the light of heaven is that which makes for political strength and immortality. The man who will march into the very jaws of death to protect his beloved land from foes that assail it from without or even from foes within, is not only a great unifying force, he is an inspirer of hope, he makes the people feel that if this is the dominating national spirit the very "gates of hell shall not prevail" against this republic. It is hardly necessary for me to state in this presence that such a spirit has actuated our American life ever since the Mayflower anchored in Plymouth harbor three hundred and three years ago. And it certainly made our hearts leap for joy to see that the same spirit that the early Pilgrims displayed on the then wild shores of New England was still a living, energizing force in the hearts of our American doughboys at Verdun and the Argonne forest in the late war. The three hundred years that had intervened had not in the least succeeded in dimming that splendid fire of patriotism which is the greatest thing that has come down from the fathers.

The history of our land has shown that however widely differing have been the foes that have from time to time assailed us, it has always been met with the same defensive spirit of patriotism. Perplexing questions came to the early settlers for adjustment and it is not strange that they made some mistakes because self government was a new experiment with them. We cannot indorse everything they did to their enemies. At times the manner in which the white man treated the Indian is open to severe criticism. But the real wonder is not that they made so many mistakes but so few considering their inexperience in political affairs. However, no criticism is to be made of their heroism, whether they were contending with the Indians or with the ravages of pestilential diseases they were always the same strong brave men who always faced danger with the lion's courage. There was only one thing under heaven that they were afraid of and that was that they might disregard the will of God.

When it came to the revolutionary struggle sacrifice was everywhere in evidence. The thirteen colonies were poor. They had no political prestige. France was the only nation that dared to show us any sympathy and that was largely due to her inveterate hatred of England, and also to help along the principle of democracy, which was soon to burst forth into flame in her own revolution. While Toryism was rampant throughout the colonies still the rank and file believed that the hour had come to throw off the yoke of bondage. It was a bold undertaking and nothing but unity inspired by a patriotic spirit gave it a ghost of a chance of succeeding. The period was fortunate in the number of great souls that it possessed. For the size of the population it has no parallel in human history. It was not only great in individual men but in families, like that of the Adamses, Lowells, Faneuils, and notibly others in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Virginia. Throughout the colonies suffering was great, but the people, as a whole, neither whined nor whimpered. They were fighting for a mighty cause. Here we find sacrifice as it had been was the one great impelling factor which was bound to culminate in Lord Cornwallis giving up his sword to Washington.

Three-quarters of a century go by in which "a little one becomes a thousand, and a small one a strong nation." It is big enough to lift up its head with political assurance among the nations of the world. But it is not yet one great political entity. It would seem as though the God of nations was saying "one thing thou lackest," and that was national solidarity. For many years the institution of slavery was a "bone of contention" between the north and the south, as the great speeches in and out of congress testify. The abolitionist for many years had been stirring up the people against the iniquity of the slave system, and the abolition party claimed some of the greatest popular orators in the whole history of mankind. No great cause ever had more powerful advocates than Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison on the platform, Henry Ward Beecher in the pulpit and on the platform, and his mighty sister, Harriet Beecher Stowe with her pen, and John Greenleaf Whittier through his poems. We of this generation little realize the great excitement these great spirits aroused. Wendell Phillips on one occasion went so far as to say that "with the toleration of slavery the Constitution of the United States was in league with hell."

But while this commotion was going on in the north, the south was not sleeping. It was wise to the power it commanded in the federal congress. The western states that have since grown to be so colossal were then in their infancy. Their mighty future of political influence was scarcely dreamed of. The south not only felt its power but insolently expressed it. And thus the line of cleavage between these two civilizations was growing constantly farther and farther apart until the clash came like a bolt out of a clear sky in the assault upon Fort Sumpter, on April 12, 1861. One can hardly imagine the sensation which this act of disloyalty caused throughout the north.

In recalling the events of sixty years ago in this country one must carefully guard against confusing the issues. The firing upon Fort Sumpter was clearly an act of treason. The roar of that cannon had but one interpretation, and that was the act of rebellion against the Union. For the time being there was but one thought that filled the mind and saddened the heart of the noble Lincoln and his associates in the cabinet, and that was the suppression of the rebellion. The first great idea was the preservation of the Union, and not the emancipation of the slaves, although the act of protecting the integrity of the Union logically led up to the abolition of slavery. It will be remembered that it was two years after Fort Sumpter had been fired upon that President Lincoln gave to the world his immortal emancipation proclamation.

Many now living can distinctly remember the profound sensation that surged through the northern states because of the events in the spring of 1861. It aroused a spirit of patriotism unlike anything that had been seen at least for two generations. I will not say that it was unparalleled enthusiasm, for I remember the heroic blood from which this generation of men sprang. It was the same iron fiber of soul that urged their forefathers to leave the tyranny of old ngland for Holland, and subsequently migrate to the icy shores of a new world in the interests of liberty and humanity. In these men I see the same sturdy elements of manhood that their fathers had who came largely from northern Europe when this country was new and weak, and with their brawn and brain made it the leading republic of the world. The men who put down the war of the rebellion preserved what their fathers had bought with the price of sacrifice. And how these men came to the front in response to the call of honor is one of the lasting impressions of my boyhood days. Many of them did not dilly-daily about the call for weeks. The farmer boy left his plow in the furrow, as old Israel Putnam did when he heard of the battle of Lexington. Men left their machines in the workshop at short notice. The counting room gave up its hosts by the thousands, and the boys in college from freshmen to senior, laid aside their Latin and Greek, turned aside from mathematics and put their political economy to a practical test. The call to arms in 1861 was the only real "melting pot" this country ever saw. There they stood, shoulder to shoulder, the representatives of every nation under heaven to fight for liberty, equality and common human rights.

This army of racial variants were molded into military unity by sacrifice. Today we think of them as soldiers who fought for a worthy cause, not as native Americans or Germans or Englishmen or any other nationality. The idea of manhood is more lasting than that of nationality because it is more important. Many of them perished on the field of battle; many of them died from natural causes; many of them were wounded from which they afterward succumbed, but the greater number have passed on since the war closed, but on that account we do not propose to make this service either a requiem or a dirge. We are not here to analyse them as men, but to honor them as soldiers for what they did in the hour of peril. We are not here to throw bouquets at personalities, for today we do not think of major, general or even sergeant, but simply the soldier, whether officer or private who did his duty, paying the price as so many did with their precious lives, to save their country. It is well that we put the wreath upon the marble or the granite shaft, and on the green mound in our cemeteries to perpetuate the memories of those who fought to make our political heritage secure.

As the Revolutionary war reproduced its spirit as seen in the Grand Army of the Republic, so also has this latter organization left its heroic imprint on its own progeny, The Sons of Veterans. Here we certainly see that like has produced like, for the work that the political sons of the Civil war did in Cuba, in paralyzing the cruel hand of Spain, was similar to what their fathers did in breaking the cruel shackles from the southern negro. And a grateful nation has bestowed upon them the same measure of praise that their fathers received thirty years earlier. But a generation later the political integrity of the nation was threatened by the greed and insolence of a mighty foreign power, and once again a great army of young men was raised, far and away the greatest that the nation ever attempted, and one cause we added was at last victorious, and the time will never come when we shall forget the American Legion, although in some individual cases there has been suffering through regretable failure of proper care.

Fully enough has been said thus far to establish the fact that patriotism has been a prominent feature of our American life from the beginning. The Pilgrim Fathers brought it with them when they came here in 1620. Our doughboys carried it back to the old world in their hearts when they saved Europe from despotism in 1917. There has not been one hour between these two dates when it would not have flamed forth into activity had the occasion demanded. Enough has also been said to show that this glorious heritage of the past was saved from wreckage in the Civil war, and the price paid was the sacrifice of precious human life. Therefore there logically comes to our minds today a question of supreme importance that we must not ignore. It will be fatal to us as a nation to rest satisfied with any past sacrifices. Must we not move heaven and earth, if necessary to preserve what our fathers and elder brothers "sailed through bloody seas" to save? If it is true that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" you and I cannot sleep under the impending dangers to our democracy.

We are reminded in that remarkable Gettysburgh speech that the patriots of the Civil war "gave the last full measure of devotion . . . . that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth." Is our democracy so thoroughly intrenched as to defy destruction? is a question that is giving some alarm in thoughtful quarters. Nobody for a single moment supposes that we stand in the least danger from external attack. It will be many years before any European nation will be strong enough to carry on a foreign war three thousand miles away from home. The foes we need to fear are within our own borders. This fear is not in the form of any conspiracy, organized or unorganized. Against the government, but consists rather in certain practices, that are un-American in thought and deed. Wherever there is an individual, or a group of unauthorized individuals, who arrogate to themselves the legislation and execution of the laws, or what they think ought to be the laws, there you will find the seeds of anarchy, and when this custom becomes widespread it brings in a reign of terror. It matters not under what name this spirit masquerades it spells disunity, and is utterly un-democratic in principle and purpose.

Today America is menaced by class selfishness. Where an individual either by himself, or in a group, lives and moves and has his being for himself only, no matter what becomes of the other fellow he brings in disunity, and disunity is a weakness in the organic structure of society. The plasterers of New York, receiving twelve dollars a day, striking for fourteen, is an example of class selfishness. It is the widest possible remove from the sacrificial spirit. It is the spirit of getting all that is possible no matter how seriously it may hurt others. If this shortsighted policy works it will paralyze all building operations, simply because the people cannot stand any greater cost in building. No candid and intelligent person can study the trend of the industrial order today without feeling that it is threatening to undo the great work of unity that sacrifice accomplished in the Civil war.

There is a disposition in some parts of the country at present to restore the cruelties of the old slave system, which is enough to make the dead martyrs in 1861 writhe in their graves. Instead of a slave being tied to a stake and whipped—in some cases to death—it is a convict. By this time we ought to have arrived at that high state of civilization to realize that even convicts ought not to be treated in modern Christian America as they once were in ancient paran Rome. This whole whipping post business gives a black eye to our national reputation for justice and humanity. It is a back current driving us into the blackness of the Middle Ages. It has all the foul savor of the inhuman days of thumb screw and rack. But more than this, as long as a per capita price is put on convicts hustled to these lumber camps, it makes capital out of unjust and illegal arrests, and there are officials contemptible enough to play their part in the game. Fellow citizens, if we hold our peace in the face of such outrages, can it truly be said that we of the living are preserving that heritage of liberty which our honored dead won or bought for us at such a costly sacrifice?

There is an unfortunate tendency today to deny the right of independent thought, speech and action even within the bounds of statute law. This is the most dangerous of all because it is subversive of the very foundation principles of democracy. The following illustrates what I mean: A dozen or more men, under the cover of darkness, clad in white robes, with carefully concealed faces, force a man from the sanctity of his home to some secluded spot, either whip him into insensibility, or treat him to a coat of tar and feathers. Now, why is this done? 1. Because they disbelieve in their victim's code of morals; 2. because they disagree with his religious views; 3. because they dislike his nationality. If their victim is a lawbreaker do they mend matters in breaking the law themselves? Their action is an insult to the judiciary. In matters of religion does not the Constitution guarantee to every man the privilege to worship the God of his fathers according to the dictates of his own conscience whether he is Protestant, Roman Catholic or Jew? America ought to speak loud enough on this question to be heard from Maine to California "no interference whatever in religion." Was it not from this sort of tyranny that the Pilgrims fled when they left England for Holland? It is our duty to see that this dead nightmare of long ago shall not be revived on American soil.

Now it is quite possible that our democracy will follow the fate or other dead republics if we commit the same blunders. The old Roman republic rotted at the heart and on its ruins the empire was built. Venice had a representative form of government for more than a thousand years but it went down. So did Athens and Carthage. In more recent times the little Dutch republic that was such a shining mark in the days of the Pilgrims has long since been only a memory. Shall we be warned by the past, and save our land from everything that is un-American? If the brave men of 1861 "gave the last full measure of their devotion" to save for us a glorious heritage, is it not clearly our duty to preserve them for our children? To do this we must destroy every canker worm that gnaw at the national heart. For this is the only way in which a "government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Red lead is the pigment that is used in making red paint for coating iron and steel.

BumsteadsWormSyrup

"To children an 'angel of mercy.' Where directions are followed. IT NEVER FAILS. Despite scarcity and enormous cost of SANTONIN, it contains full dose. Stood sixty years' test. Sold everywhere or by mail, 50c a bottle.
Ed. C. A. Voorhees, M. D., Philadelphia

PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW WITH

JOHN A. MORGAN & SON

FOR YOUR WINTER'S SUPPLY

OF LEHIGH WELL SCREENED COAL

CAN MAKE PROMPT DELIVERY

EGG
STOVE
NUT

$15.25

PER TON

50c EXTRA IF CARRIED IN

FRANK DENNISON, Manager

TELEPHONE 884 CENTRAL WHARF

RADIO PROGRAMS

Thursday, May 31.

WBZ, Springfield (337 Meters)

7.30 p. m.—Baseball scores. Fairy tales.

7.45 p. m.—The Necessity of Keeping Good Records, by Thomas McGarry, tax consultant.

7.55 p. m.—News of the day.

8 p. m.—Baseball scores.

8.05 p. m.—Concert by W. H. Ludden, tenor; Mrs. H. Ludden, accompanist.

8.25 p. m.—Laughs from Life.

8.30 p. m.—Continuation of musical program.

8.50 p. m.—Bedtime story for grown-ups prepared by Orison S. Marden.

8.55 p. m.—A few minutes with Benjamin Franklin. Baseball scores.

WGY, Schenectady (380 Meters)

2 p. m.—Music and address, Foods for Growth—Vegetables and Fruits, by Mary G. McCormick, supervisor of nutrition, New York state department of health.

6 p. m.—Produce and stock market quotations; news bulletins; baseball results.

8.40 p. m.—Baseball scores.

8.45 p. m.—Radio drama, The Copperhead, by Augustus Thomas, produced by WGY players. First epoch, 1861-1863; Act I.—The dooryard of Milton Shank's home. Act II.—The same as Act I. Two years later. Second epoch—40 years later; Act. III.—The dooryard of Milton Shank's home. Act IV.—The living room of Milton Shank's home.

KDKA Pittsburgh (326 meters)

10 a. m.—Music.

12.30 p. m.—Music. Weather forecast. United States Bureau of Market Reports.

3.15 p. m.—Scores, inning by inning of ball games played today.

6 p. m.—Ball scores.

6.05 p. m.—Ball scores. Current events.

7.30 p. m.—Ft. Duquesne—The Block House, by Julia M. Harding.

7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8 p. m.—Ball scores. Market reports.

8.15 p. m.—Address.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Edgar Thompson Male Quartet, Charles V. Price, first tenor; James A. Ferguson, second tenor; Evan H. Lloyd, baritone; Charles Loomis, bass; Esther Mullen, violin Dueul, accompanist.

KYW Chicago (447 meters)

(Central time.)

6.50 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.

8.00 to 8.58 p. m.—Musical program will be given by the following artists: Elizabeth Jenks, soprano; Raymond A. Maroney, baritone; Ned F. Dunn, pianist; The Roseland Trio, vocal; Jennie Gross; contralto; Adolph Gross, baritone; Thos. Liddle, tenor; Adale Wahlberg, accompanist.

Program will be announced by radiophone.

8.58—Naval Observatory time signals.

9.00 p. m.—News and weather reports.

9.05 to 9.25 p. m.—Twenty Minutes of Good Reading by Rev. C. J. Pernin, S. J., head of department of English, Loyola University.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 Meters.)

6.00 p. m.—Late news flashes. Early sports news.

6.15 p. m.—General Conditions in the Shoe and Leather Industry.

6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports. Amrad Bulletin board.

6.45 p. m.—Code practice.

9.30 p. m.—Evening program. 1, Romance of the Shoe, Harry M. Wood. 2, Concert by the Amrad Choral and Glee Clubs, W. Eugene Hammett, director.

SEDGWICK RELIEF CORPS CONDUCTS MEMORIAL SERVICE

A Memorial day service was conducted by Sedgwick Woman's Relief Corps Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Buckingham Memorial, members of the Relief Corps and of Sedgwick Post No. 1, G. A. R., being present. The meeting was in charge of Patriotic Instructor Mrs. M. Florence Dean and was opened by a few introductory remarks by Mrs. Jayne E. Seed, president of the relief corps.

The memorial programme was as follows: Solos, The Lost Chord and The Vacant Chair, Mrs. Clara Burke; reading of General Logan's First Memorial day address, by Mrs. H. C. Wright; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Mrs. F. Florence Dean; tribute to the World war heroes, by Mrs. Laura Hutchins.

The services were closed with the singing of America, followed by the benediction.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Miss Evelyn L. MacMillan to Edwin J. Shipman of Gladstone, Mich., was announced at a birthday dinner on Tuesday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret E. MacMillan, at which the Alpha Sigmas were present.

RHEUMATIC PAINS GO SWOLLEN JOINTS VANISH

Thousands of sufferers have freed themselves from the bondage of rheumatism; rid themselves of the torturing pain; reduced the swollen joints; thrown away canes and crutches, and from helpless beings became able to work and be of use to themselves and their families.

They took Rheuma; the modern enemy of rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, arthritis, gout and chronic neuralgia.

Don't be skeptical about Rheuma. You will know in a few hours after beginning the treatment that the poisonous uric acid is leaving your system through the natural channels. You will feel better in a day; you will know you are going to be helped in less than a week.

There is no guess work about Rheuma bringing you back to health. That's why The Lee & Osgood Co. and good druggists everywhere sell it with guarantee of money back if it does not give quick and blessed relief almost at once.

PAINT YOUR HOUSE

For $2.35 per gallon

Yes, you can do it—

And with first class paint, too.

A Hundred Pounds of

MASURY'S

Celebrated Railroad Colors

and six to seven gallons of pure Linseed Oil at market prices today, will give you ten to eleven gallons of the best paint in the world at a cost of $2.35 per gallon.

Let our Agents—

THE F. E. SPENCER CO., NEW HAVEN, CONN.
THE BRIGGS PAINT CO., HARTFORD, CONN.
THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., NORWICH, CONN.
HUBBELL & WADE, BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

send you full particulars, color charts and prices.

JOHN W. MASURY & SON

New York, Chicago, Boston, Minneapolis, Kansas City, San Francisco

POETRY

PEACE—OR WAR.

'Tis well to keep the trace of Peace
And leave the sword undrawn,
For well we know that woe must come
When red War walks at dawn.

Tarry before ye sound the drum
To wake the call to arms,
For in War's train shall evil breed
And work a thousand harms.

But mark ye this—till time shall cease
The hand in hand shall be
The keeper of the Nation's rights
And wages of liberty.

And when oppression stalks abroad
Earth's best beloved is he
Who bares his sword and stakes his life
To keep his country free.

—Minnie M. Lowater.

THE SONG THE ORIOLE SINGS.

There is a bird that sings and sings
In a pear tree's giant arbutus;
I pon the limb it makes the swings
And tilts and tosses in the breeze

I know his name, I know his note,
That go with picture takes my soul;
Like flame the gold beneath his throat,
His glossy cap is black as coal.

O oriole, it is the song
You sang me from the cottonwood,
Too young to feel the I was young,
Too glad to guess it were good.

And while I hark, before my door
Adown the dusty Connecticut road
The blue Miami flows once more
As by the cottonwood it flowed.

And on the bank that rises steep
And pours a thousand tiny rills
From death and slumber laugh and leap
My schoolmates to their hunter-mills

The blackbirds tussle in the tops
Of hoary-antlered sycamores;
The timorous killdee starts and stops
Among the drift-wood on the shores.

Below the bridge—a noonday fear
Of dust and shadow shot with sun—
Stretches its gloom from pier to pier,
Far unto alien coasts unknown.

And on those alien coasts, above,
Where silver ripples break the stream
Long blue from some roof-sheltering grove
A hidden parrot scolds and screams.

Ah, nothing, nothing! Commonest things
A touch, a glimpse, a sound, a breath—
It is a song the oriole sings—
And all the rest belongs to death.

But oriole, my oriole
Were some bright seraph sent from bliss
With songs of heaven to win my soul
From simple memories such as this

What could he tell to tempt my ear
From you? What high things could there be
So tenderly and sweetly dear
As my lost childhood is to me?

—William Dean Howells.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Thomson—Don't you and your wife ever agree about anything?

Jackson—Well, we both seem to agree that she made the mistake of her life in marrying me.—Ottawa Citizen.

Smith: "Dennis claims not to have heard the horn. What's the matter with his hearing?"

Smithers: "Nothing, it's to be held Saturday."—American Legion Weekly.

"I'm so glad we're having such good golf weather," said Mrs. Torkins.

"Why I didn't know you played golf."

"I don't; but I'm glad to have Richard out playing the game instead of staying home talking about it."—Boston Transcript.

A man went into a Chicago library recently a columnist says, and asked for a copy of "A Kempsky Cardinal." The librarian said: "Look under 'Religious Books' in the catalogue." "But this cardinal was a bird!" remonstrated the applicant. "I have no interest in his personal habits," said the librarian coldly.—Outlook.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Two Atlantic liners, crossing from South America to Southampton, kept together for a distance of 7,000 miles.

Copper derives its name from Cyprus, large supplies coming from this island in the old Greek and Roman times.

Knitting mills, 5 and 10-cent stores and clothing factories in Kentucky report more than three-fourths of their workers to be women.

Georgia Graham, of Toronto, Canada, is the first woman hotel food controller. She holds that position in a New York hotel, the largest in the world.

Nathaniel Hawthorne, the great novelist, spelled his name "Hathorn" when he was a student in Bowdoin college. It is so printed in the college catalogues.

Native "postmen" in such parts of the British empire as British West Africa may have to travel for three weeks through the jungle to deliver one mail, although, where roads permit, motor vans are now being introduced.

Over 8,000,000 pounds of sweet corn for seed was produced commercially in 1922, which is an increase of 100 per cent. over 1921, but still 20 per cent. less than the five-year average, according to the United States department of agriculture.

Commercial production of garden peas for seed in 1922 totaled 46,600,000 pounds, an increase of 75 per cent over the production of 1921, according to the United States department of agriculture. The average production for the last five years was 54,000,000 pounds.

THUMMS

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST TRY OUR HOME-MADE SAUSAGE

THUMM'S DELICATESSEN

40 Franklin Street

JUN

1923

Norwich Bulletin.

1795 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 131 POPULATION 29,000 NORWICH, CONN., FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923 12 PAGES—92 COLS PRICE TWO CENTS

GOV. AL. SMITH SPHINX-LIKE AT HEARING ON REPEAL OF NEW YORK STATE "DRY" LAW

Gave No Betrayal by Gesture or Word of Whether He Will Sign or Veto the Repealer of the Mullan-Gage Prohibition Enforcement Act—Walked Silently From the Room After Listening for Four Hours and 30 Minutes to a Flood of Oratory for and Against His Signing the Repealer—Decision is to be Announced Before Midnight Sunday, at Which Hour the Bill Will Automatically Die if the Governor Fails to Act.

Albany, N. Y., May 31.—(By The A. P.)—Governor Smith today listened to a flood of oratory for and against his signing of the legislative repealer of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act that flowed on—with one five-minute interlude—for four hours and thirty-four minutes.

When both sides had talked their fill and weighted him down with briefs, he walked silently from the room without having betrayed by a single gesture or a word the answer to the momentous question: "Will he sign or veto?" His decision will be announced some time between tonight and midnight Sunday, at which hour the repeal bill would automatically die if he had not acted.

The principal arguments of the repealer's enemies, who numbered in all about 30 speakers, were that to make the repeal law by signature would be to turn loose on the state a rapacious gang of bootleggers, bandits and crooks of every description; to "nullify" the eighteenth amendment; to "secede" from the Union and to deprive the federal government of the most powerful instrument now being used to enforce prohibition.

The principal arguments of the proponents of repeal, whose speaking strength about matched that of their opponents, were that the Mullan-Gage act ought to be repealed because it subjected persons accused of violating the dry law to "double jeopardy" in the courts; that it was excessively the government's function to enforce prohibition and that should ring part of the burden on the state entailed an unnecessary and useless expense.

Several of the pro-repeal speakers went even further and denounced the Volstead act and the eighteenth amendment as iniquitous and subversive of state rights, urging the governor to approve the repeal as the first step in a campaign to wipe the federal enforcement law and the amendment off the books.

Opponents of the repeal, marshalled by their floor-leader, Mrs. Ida B. Sammis Woodruff, used the first two hours, opening in good battle technique with their heavy, shock guns, and closing with a charge of one minute speakers.

After a five minute interval, Governor Smith gave the signal to Assemblyman Louis A. Gulliver, author of the repeal bill and floor leader of the forces supporting it and the pros, used two hours with the same strategy. Each side then was given fifteen minutes for rebuttal.

James P. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, who also represented Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was the first sledge gun trained on Governor Smith by advocates of the repeal. He devoted most of his time to reading a letter sent by Mr. Gompers, who was unable to attend. Both Holland and Gompers urged him to sign the repealer as the first gun in a campaign for modification of the national prohibition enforcement act so as to "give the working man his wine and beer."

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, then took up the burden and in an address liberally sprinkled with epigrams that kept his adherents cheering at frequent intervals, denounced the forces that brought the eighteenth amendment into being as "ignorant and illiterate" persons, over imbued with zeal to regulate their fellows who have foisted on the country an "iniquitous piece of sumptuary legislation, subversive of state rights."

"There is no ferocity," he exclaimed, "like an ignorant enthusiast and that which wrote the 18th amendment is ignorant and illiterate, so far as history is concerned."

The high spot of his address, as far as his supporters were concerned came when he attacked United States Attorney Hayward of New York, one of the principal anti-repeal speakers, who, implying that most of the support of the repeal came from New York city had urged the governor to "choose between the sidewalks of New York" and "the Star-Spangled Banner."

"If the 'sidewalks of New York are entitled to something that you can give them—you give it to them," he urged.

"Two great fallacies have been killed in the last century," Mr. Thomas said. "One is that 'the king can do no wrong;' another is that the state can do no wrong." Now we are confronted with the proposition that a majority can do no wrong.

"We are told that the majority makes our laws and it is our duty to obey them. It is—unless the laws are an invasion of our inherent rights. Then it becomes our duty to resist them."

Declaring the governor had been elected by a huge majority primarily because they knew he was a man that never neglected "any right that required personal courage," he said:

"Governor, I would be ungenerous enough to believe that for promise for support you never had, you will veto it. I do not believe it."

"You can't give the people back anything by signing this repealer, but you can at least keep them from getting punished twice for what they have the luck to get once."

Ransom H. Gillett, general counsel for the association opposed to the prohibition amendment, made a lengthy attack on the alleged "double jeopardy" feature of the Mullan-Gage act, after William H. Brady, of New York, representing the Manufacturers and Dealers' League, had spoken briefly.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Withholding British Note

London, May 31.—A foreign office statement says that it agreed with Leonid Krassin, the soviet representative, not to publish the British note until the Moscow government has had time to reply; hence if what appears to be an imperfect and inaccurate summary was published, it could only have been through a breach of this understanding on the part of the Russian delegation.

COURT ASSUMES CONTROL OF KNIGHTS OF KU KLUX KLAN

Atlanta, Ga., May 31 (By the A. P.)—The Fulton county superior court today assumed temporary control of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, ordered temporary discontinuance of the expenditure of its funds and set June 7 to hear a motion for a receiver.

This action followed the filing of a petition by David M. Rittenhouse of Philadelphia, and others alleging gross mismanagement of the klan's funds by Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans and his associates, charged that he and Emperor William Joseph Simmons had turned the klan into a "personal machine for the enrichment and personal aggrandisement" of themselves and declared that the organization was breaking up through threats of "some of the realms" to secede and establish independent orders.

The petition alleged also that Dr. Evans had called a meeting in Washington tomorrow and Saturday "of his personal henchmen throughout the invisible empire." It was charged that Mr. Evans and others intended to spend between $100,000 and $150,000 of the klan's funds to pay the expenses of the meeting. They were temporarily enjoined from such expenditure.

Employes of the imperial palace, headquarters of the klan here, said that all of the imperial officers were in Washington.

The imperial kloncilium appointed by Imperial Wizard Evans in April were named defendants in the petition for a receiver, together with certain employes of the imperial palace. One member of the kloncilium, according to the petition, is Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor who is to carve the Confederate memorial on Stone Mountain. The membership of this body, the petition stated, are: Dr. Evans, Emperor Simmons, Fred L. Savage, H. Ramsey, H. C. Montgomery, Brown Haywood, Gutzon Borglum, P. S. Ethridge, E. H. Sullivan, N. B. Forrest, C. A. Lidley, all of Atlanta; T. J. Shirley, Birmingham; A. B. Booth, New Orleans; D. C. Stephenson, Columbus, Ohio; Charles J. Gebhson, of Indianapolis; J. A. Comer, Little Rock; Henry A. Grady, Clinton, N. C., and Delarue of Oklahoma City, Okla. These, with Tom Kers, T. J. McKinnon and N. N. Forney, of Atlanta, constitute the defendants.

The petitions described themselves as members in good standing of the klan, "and occupy in law as such to ward said corporation the relation of stockholders." The petition said that the klan has 1,500,000 members with branches in every state.

CLOSE OF CONVENTION OF LUTHERAN SYNOD

New York, May 31.—Between 50,000 and 100,000 Armenian girls and women are held prisoners in Turkish harems and 97 per cent. of the Armenian population in Turkey has been wiped out, Rev. Dr. G. B. Young of the Near East relief declared in an address to the Evangelical Lutheran synod of New York and New England at the close of its annual convention today. 000 refugees remained of the former millions of Armenians and that the greater portion of these were children cared for in orphanages maintained by his organization.

"The Near East relief has rescued thousands of these women in Turkish harems," he said, "and are continuing efforts to free all of them. The Armenian race has been virtually wiped out by the Turks in the last seven years."

The following were elected members of the executive committee: Rev. William Horn, Ithaca; Rev. Dr. S. A. Kaller, Buffalo; Rev. Herman S. Miller, Buffalo; Rev. Dr. A. Steinle, New York; James Gear, New York; Frederick Henrich, Buffalo; William H. Stackel, Rochester, and Robert S. Bowe, New York.

The executive committee will select the city in which the next convention will be held.

CLARA PHILLIPS STILL MAINTAINS INNOCENCE

Alpine, Tex., May 31.—Clara Phillips, alleged slayer of Mrs. Alberta Meadows last summer, is not a "tiger woman," she declared to an Associated Press correspondent, on the Sunset Special, bound for the Pacific coast tonight.

"I have been pictured black, a hammer slayer—a tiger woman," she protested. "I never used a hammer one time. I am innocent and will prove it to the world.

"I have proof to show that Peggy Caffee is the person who bought the hammer. There are things that I have not told anyone that will come out when my counsel advise."

The travel-tired prisoner is not feeling well. She has suffered two nervous breakdowns since last night, the first occurring when she was met by her mother-in-law and sister-in-law.

Many friends and relatives at Houston, San Antonio, Del Rio and Sanderson, have cheered the Waco, Texas, woman with bouquets and boxes of candy and cards, Mrs. Phillips remarked.

GRANDSON OF PAUL KRUGER ARRESTED IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, May 31.—Paul Krueger, Jr., of Doylestown, Pa., who said that he was a great grandson of the late Paul Krueger, of South African fame, was held in $800 bail for court here today charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was arrested after a collision with a city water wagon.

Krueger's counsel said he was one of the direct Kruger descendants who have a claim for the former Boer president's $8,000,000 estate pending in London.

Empowered to Sign Treaties With Turkey

Joseph C. Grew, American Minister to Switzerland, Has Been Given Full Power by Cable.

Washington, May 31.—Full powers to negotiate and sign a treaty or treaties of amity and commerce with Turkey, the state department announced today, have been cabled to Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, now conducting conversations with Turkish delegates at Lausanne.

"Informal conversations," the department said, in a formal statement, "have been proceeding between Mr. Grew and Ismet Pasha at Lausanne with a view to ascertaining whether a suitable basis could be found for tween the United States and Turkey, the revision of existing treaties between these conversations have reached a point where the department considered it opportune to authorize Mr. Grew to initiate more formal negotiations and to this end full powers to negotiate and sign a treaty or treaties of amity and commerce with Turkey were telegraphed to Mr. Grew on May 9."

SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS MADE TO ISMET PASHA

Lausanne, May 31 (By the A. P.).—Joseph C. Grew, the American minister to Switzerland, had a lengthy conference with Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, late tonight and impressed upon him the desirability of building up in the United States an atmosphere of confidence in Turkey. He advanced several suggestions relative to the powers of the foreign legal advisers.

Should Mr. Grew's representations bring about any widening in the scope of the authority of the advisers, other countries would benefit, as well as the United States.

TRIAL OF THE CROKER WILL CASE OPENS IN DUBLIN

Dublin, May 31.—(By the A. P.)—An action designed to upset the will of the late Richard Croker, once Tammany chieftain, was opened today in what formerly was the throne room of Dublin castle. The most prominent Irish lawyers appear on one side or the other, and Sergeant Sullivan, who abandoned his Irish practice for the English bar, has been brought back to aid in the impeachment of the will. The main feature of the case is expected to be his cross-examination of Mr. Croker's widow.

In his address to the jury, Sergeant Hanna, counsel for Mrs. Bula Croker, said the case would turn on whether the jury believed Mrs. Croker's account of herself, or accepted the allegation that she was a bigamist.

Mrs. Croker, Richard Croker, Jr., Howard Croker and his wife, instituted the action, attended the trial. During the adjournment several parties of Americans formed obviously antagonist groups.

Christopher Tierney, manager of the Hibernian bank, and Sir Thomas Moyles, a surgeon, gave testimony purporting to show Croker's perfect mental capacity. The chief point brought out in today's evidence was that Mr. Croker had really no property to leave, having transferred it all to his wife, and that the will was drawn up mainly to insure that the transfer was complete.

The trial is before Lord Chief Justice Maloney and a special jury composed of well to do Dublin citizens. When the jurors were being empanelled Richard Croker, Jr., and Mrs. Ethel C. White, Mrs. Croker's daughter, each challenged three jurors, and Mrs. Bula Croker challenged one.

FAILURE OF PROMINENT CURB MARKET BROKERS

New York, May 31.—One of the oldest and largest stock brokerage firms trading on the New York curb market, Jones & Baker, was plunged into financial difficulties today when three creditors filed a petition in bankruptcy and shortly afterwards the curb suspended the firm. The curb had been secretly investigating its affairs for a week.

While the assets and liabilities were not given in the petition, unofficial estimates of the liabilities ranged from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The company had nearly 10,000 customers' accounts here and in nine large branch offices in other cities. Officials of the company declared their belief that the firm was solvent.

Counsel for the petitioners, whose claims totaled $3,500, said the action was taken as a result of newspaper notoriety, to prevent disorderly liquidation of assets which would have meant ruin to the firm's customers.

The firm had a weekly payroll of about $25,000 and was said to have had extensive bank loans. The banks carrying the loans stated today, however, that they were amply secured with high grade collateral. The firm was said to have loans also with banks in several of the cities where branch offices are located.

John W. Dixon of counsel for Jones & Baker said after a conference with Mr. Jones that he had been informed that all stocks held for customers would be found intact.

INDIANS OF IROQUOIS CONFEDERACY ASSEMBLING

Syracuse, N. Y., May 31.—Members of the Six Nations, the Iroquois Confederacy, are gathering from far and near at the Indian reservation today for one of the most vital conference in recent years.

Most of the problems are those of clan government.

COUNCIL OF CHUURCHES FAVORS WORLD COURT

Washington, May 31.—A call of 135,000 congregations in America to rally to the support of President Harding's proposal that the United States enter the permanent court of international justice was issued here today by the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America.

OBITUARY

T. Edmund Krumbholz

Troy, N. Y., May 31.—T. Edmund Krumbholz, one of the best known hostelmen in resort circles in the United States, died yesterday morning at the Kirkwood hotel, Camden, S. C. He built the hotel 20 years ago and had been its managing director ever since. He was well known throughout the Adirondacks and was one of the first presidents of the Adirondacks Hotel Men's Association.

Dr. S. J. Maher Has Been Reappointed

Chairman of State Tuberculosis Commission—Other Reappointments by Governor Templeton.

Hartford, May 31.—Dr. Stephen J. Maher of New Haven, chairman of the state tuberculosis commission since 1913, and pioneer in state legislation for the control of the white plague, was today reappointed to the commission by Governor Templeton.

The appointment is for six years, beginning July 1, and is not subject to confirmation by the senate. The commission was signed by the governor at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and was promptly sent to the office of the secretary of state.

Three members of the state board of education whose terms expired today were also reappointed for a six-year term. They are Walter D. Hood of Winsted, John G. Talcott of Vernon and Charles L. Torrey of Putnam.

BODY OF JAMES A. CRAVEN WAS TERRIBLY MUTILATED

Boston, May 31.—Without the knowledge of District Attorney Frank K. Reading of Middlesex county, who had been conducting an investigation in regard to its alleged mutilation after death, a body recovered in Vineyard sound after the sinking April 6 of the rum runner John Dwight, was buried Tuesday in Old Calvary cemetery, Boston, it became known today. The body, identified as that of James A. Craven of Lyndhurst, N. J., had been kept in a tomb at the Cambridge cemetery for six weeks pending the outcome of the district attorney's inquiry.

Indictments against Thomas C. Craven of New York and others in connection with an alleged million dollar rum plot were returned in that city Tuesday. On Monday a man who gave the name of Thomas C. Craven visited the offices of the assistant district attorney in Cambridge. On the same day a man giving the name of Morton R. Craven went to the office of the Cambridge city clerk, had the original record of death changed, and was given a permit to remove the body from the tomb.

The change in the record of death was made necessary by the fact that the body originally had been identified as that of James A. Cronan of Cambridge. When the bodies of the eight known dead from the John Dwight's sinking were laid out in the mortuary at Vineyard Haven, a man who said he was Martin R. Cronan of Cambridge identified one as that of his brother. The body was shipped to a Cambridge undertaker. On the day set for burial a Cambridge police officer went to the undertaking rooms to take fingerprints and a general description. They found, they reported, that the body had been charred, making it impossible to tell, unless the eye sockets had been filled with a white plaster, and the face had been painted over. Later Martin R. Cronan went to Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, admitted that he had made a false identification and requested a new death certificate. He said his real name was Martin R. Craven and that the body was that of his brother, James A. Craven. He said his reason for seeking a new certificate was to enable his brother's widow to collect $5,000 life insurance.

DISCUSS NEW WORKING AGREEMENT FOR TROLLEYMEN

New Haven, May 31.—A discussion of terms of a new working agreement was completed today between officials of the Connecticut company and a committee representing all of its conductors, motormen and shop employes in the state. After the conference the executive committee of the unions went into session to map out a program under which the trolleymen's unions in the state are to hold meetings next week, hear the report of the general committee, and vote whether to approve or reject the terms.

The conference between John K. Punderford, general manager of the company, and the union committee were opened a week ago and completed late today. It is understood that the working conditions were agreed to by both sides but on the wage question the men split. The company offered to pay the same wage that prevailed last year, while the men made a request for an increase.

Today both sides reached a deadlock on the wage question, the committee going back to the unions for further instruction. The result of the voting will be communicated to the company in a week, when another meeting with Mr. Punderford will be held. In case a compromise cannot be effected the entire question will go to arbitration.

The old contract between the company and its employes expires tonight. In view of this situation it was agreed that final agreement will be retroactive to June.

CHANGE IN WIND LESSENS DANGER FROM FOREST FIRE

Port Arthur, Ont., May 31.—Reports this afternoon from White River, which was said to be in imminent danger of destruction from forest fires, told of a change in the wind which was helping every able-bodied man to drive back the flames. Residents, however are prepared to get aboard a waiting train if the situation develops unfavorably.

DRIVER OF DEATH AUTO HELD IN DEFAULT OF $5,000

Waterbury, May 31.—Thomas J. O'Reilly, driver of the automobile which struck and killed George Snow, 13, and injured his mother and five brothers and sisters, late last night, is held in jail in default of $5,000 bond. Mrs. Snow's condition is critical, hospital authorities at St. Mary's said tonight.

SARANAC LAKE FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Saranac Lake, N. Y., May 31.—Forest fires, which early today were burning over more than 400 acres at East Pond, tonight were under control, according to District Forest Ranger James H. Hopkins, who with hundreds of men has been contending with eight separate blazes.

A plea to "keep the faith with gallant France and Belgium" no propaganda or politician destroy the love for her which was one of the compelling causes which took us into the World war," was voiced by Major General James G. Harbord, U. S. A., retired, speaking at Memorial day exercises in Bridgton, N. J.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

The body of an unidentified man about 35 years old was found on top of the Plainville pond dam.

Fire sweeping millions of dollars of timberland threatened the destruction of White River and Chapelain, says a dispatch received at Toronto, Ont.

The American Memorial day was observed in Copenhagen by exercises in the cemetery where American soldier killed in the war are buried.

Jesse W. Carson, arrested in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, with Clara Phillips, escaped hammer murderess, will not be extradited.

Mrs. Mary Kerrigan, who died in the office of Dr. Andrew M. Ewing, in Bridgeport, was not Ewing's legal wife, according to the story told the police by the physician.

Further publication of Zwingli's books were ordered by the synod of the Reformed church in the United States at its concluding session in Hickory, N. C.

Imprisoned in the back seat of an automobile which backed through an iron railing and plunged into Lake Manetta, near Lakewood, N. J., Mrs. Tottie Morris and Miss Gertrude Justice of Philadelphia were killed.

Rev. Carl W. Becker, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, and Dr. Alice Fasold, both of Pittsburgh, were killed when their automobile went over an embankment near Fairview, W. Va. yesterday.

The caricatures of royalty by Max Beerbohm, part of a collection of his cartoons, on exhibition in London, have been withdrawn because of the storm of criticism which they aroused.

Mistaken by police for escaped convicts, two members of the Yountakar country club, Nutley, N. J., attired in prison garb for a masquerade ball, were pursued for half a mile across golf links this afternoon and captured.

Fifty persons were injured, three seriously, when the supports of a dance pavilion at Lake Winola near Scranton, Pa., gave way and more than a hundred dancers slid or fell to the grout fifteen feet.

A serious shortage in farm labor in the Connecticut valley exists at this time, according to an announcement made by the Springfield office of the state free employment bureau.

Moody Staten, of Spokane, Washington negro, who held rank of captain in the American expeditionary forces in France, has received appointment from the secretary of state to the Liberian army.

Edmund F. Arras of Columbus, O., was elected international president of the Kiwanis club International at the closing session of the convention in Atlanta, Ga. Denver, Colo., was selected for the 1924 convention.

The Washington Syrian League, representing 600 Syrian residents of Torrington and vicinity, forwarded to the president of France an appeal for the protection of Christians in the Mount Lebanon district of Syria.

The spreading disregard for law is a more serious menace to the welfare of the United States than "any raddical assault thus far" declared President James R. Angell of Yale university in the court of Memorial day exercises at Yale university.

Numerous reports of the purpose of an approaching trip to China by Governor-General Wood of the Philippine islands, brought from the war department a reiteration that the proposed visit was in no way connected with the present Bandit situation.

The old army transport Buford, refitted as a passenger and cargo carrier, steamed from San Francisco to reestablish a service that the western rim of the continent has not known since the subsidence of the gold rush to Alaska.

Bidders for government ships conferred with a special committee appointed by Chairman Lasker regarding the sale of vessels for the shipping board fleet, but no decisions were announced.

Because Great Britain's immigration quota was exhausted six days ago, Mrs. Elsie Demitron, British bride of an American citizen, who arrived in New York on the President Monroe this week, must be excluded.

Georges Barbot, French aviator who recently won a 25,000 franc prize by gliding his tiny seven horsepower monoplane over the English channel twice in one day, will attempt his first American flight today. He will take off from Roosevelt field.

A resolution denouncing Henry Ford as a "menace to the peace and prosperity of the inhabitants of the land," and pleading for his elimination from the presidential race was adopted at the annual convention of the federation of Hungarian Jews in America in New York.

Indication that Rodman Wanamaker, deputy police commissioner of New York, and son of the late John Wanamaker, the "Merchant Prince," was seriously ill was given when five policemen were stationed in front of his Washington square home to preserve quiet.

A horse was killed, grass fire started, and more than 1,000 lives endangered at Martinez, Calif., when a firing squad, using ball ammunition, fired over the graves of the soldier dead in a Memorial day ceremony and cut down two electric power wires, each carrying 11,000 volts.

Passenger steamers flying the Swiss flag are now operating twice daily between Cologne and Wiesbaden, and American tourists are in this way enabled to visit the picturesque section of the Rhine without delay or annoyance incidental to French occupation.

William Gerry of Schenectady, was instantly killed, and Charles McKeown and Sarges Grevell, both of Schenectady were seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a Boston and Maine passenger train at an unguarded grade crossing near Saratoga lake, N. Y.

Kiwanis members were pledged to support any constructive movement toward permanent peace, the observance of Mothers' day and to give aid to disabled veterans of the World war in resolutions adopted today by the convention of Kiwanis clubs international in Atlanta, Ga.

FEARS REACTION TO BOOM IN THE BUILDING TRADES

Chairman Haggson of the American Construction Council Predicts General Unemployment Next Winter in Building Crafts Unless Congestion is Avoided—Believes Building of an Unnecessary Nature Should be Retarded for a Short Time so Home Building Could Proceed at Reasonable Cost.

New York, May 31.—General unemployment can be looked for next winter in the building trades unless some settlement of the present crisis is reached within a short time, Chairman N. F. Hodgson of the American Construction council said today, following a meeting between the executive committee and Secretary of Commerce Hoover at which plans for a solution were discussed.

The conference was called to plan means for keeping before the public general construction conditions throughout the country and a forecast of probable conditions for several months ahead.

The present congested conditions, it was said, could be avoided if supply and demand of building materials and labor and others matters affecting construction could be widely and constantly broadcast throughout the country. With this information, persons contemplating building could delay work when there was danger of congestion, or take advantage of plentiful supplies of materials and labor if building was slow.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the construction council said the council's plans had been entirely approved by Secretary Hoover. The plan, according to Mr. Roosevelt was:

"A special department of the construction council to gather a great amount of data from contractors and manufacturers, which together with statistics supplied by the department of commerce, analyzed and simplified by experts, would form the basis of a weekly forecast of construction conditions in regard to demand and availability of material and labor. The forecast would cover the entire country, giving national conditions, and also would give forecasts for specific areas, similar to weather reports now given. With that information people would know whether to build or to wait.

"In other words, an attempt would be made to iron out the 'peaks and valleys' in the construction industry. The council believed that building of an unnecessary nature should be retarded for a short time so home building could proceed at reasonable cost."

The work of gathering and preparing statistics had already begun, Mr. Roosevelt said.

In speaking of the possibility of banks shutting down on speculative builders Mr. Hoggson said that he was informed all federal reserve banks had been warned by the federal board to watch carefully their loans to builders paying exorbitant wages. He said that there was a delayed building program of $15,000,000,000 in the country which was $11,000,000,000 above normal. He declared that labor supply was 16 per cent. short as compared to last year, with demand 40 per cent. increased.

EIGHT RACE HORSES BURNED AT OHIO TRACK

Cleveland, O., May 31.—Eight thoroughbred race horses and a pony were burned to death in a fire which destroyed five barns at the Ohio State Jockey club's race track at Maple Heights near Bedford, Ohio, late today. Nearly 150 racers were trapped in the barns and that not more were lost was due to the heroism of scores of race goers and attendants who cut the animals loose and let them run at large. Several were so badly burned they may have to be destroyed.

Those killed were well known to followers of the running race horse. They were Sustina, a three-year-old winner of two events at the present meeting; Huron H (7) and Shortstop (8) owned by J. A. Parsons of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Lone Island (4), Portligh (10), Mambi (5) and Tom Ulster (3) in the stables of A. S. Eastman of Toledo. All have been winners on various tracks of America. The eighth horse was unidentified.

Portlight lost his life when, after being cut loose, he ran back into the flames.

Starting in one of the barns when an oil stove is said to have exploded the fire, fed by hay and straw, spread quickly and in a few moments the entire back stretch was a mass of flames. The horses were just entering the home stretch in the fifth event, when the fire was discovered, but a majority of the fans did not wait for the finish and headed for the barns, a quarter of a mile from the grandstand.

The loss to the stables was placed at $12,500 by General Manager F. F. Holman. The loss on the animals could not be learned but it may run as high as $100,000.

PROTEST EXCAVATING FOR BODY OF POCOHONTAS

Gravesend, England, May 31.—(By the A. P.)—Another storm of protest over the exhumation of long-forgotten dead, reminiscent of that which attended the efforts of Lord Carnarvon and Howard Carter to resurrect King Tutankhamun, have greeted the attempts of scientists seeking to recover the remains of the Indian princess Pocohontas, believed to be interred in the graveyard of the parish church of this little town on the Thames.

Edward Page Gaston, of Chicago, the Archaeologist who led the modern excavating party which attempted secretly to uneath the bones of the Indian princess, was threatened for his pains by indignant persons whose forbears lie buried with the legendary savior of Captain John Smith. Some of them declared that, if Gaston violated their dead, he would be cursed by evil spirits and would "meet the same fate as Carnarvon."

GIRL HELD AT ELLIS ISLAND FOR TWO YEARS

New York, May 31.—Virtually held in pawn at Ellis Island immigration station for two years due to her father's inability to pay a bill for medical treatment Concetta Dellacioppa, 10 year old Italian girl was released today by order of the department of labor to join her family at Natick, R. I.

She was pronounced cured a few weeks ago but authorities refused to release her until her father paid $825 for medical expenses. He was able to pay $650 and friends at Fall River, Mass., put up a bond for the remainder.

MRS. LORETTA THOMPSON GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

New York, May 31.—Mrs. Loretta Thompson was found guilty of second degree manslaughter by a jury in general sessions in Brooklyn today at her trial for the death of a ten-year old boy in an automobile accident several months ago. A recommendation for clemency was made by the jury. She was held without bail for sentence Monday.

WAS ACQUITTED OF THE CHARGE OF KIDNAPPING

Birmingham, Ala., May 31.—Ernest G. Jacks, Ketona dairyman, was acquitted of the charge of kidnapping in connection with the flogging of Dr. J. D. Dowling, city and county health officer, by jury verict brought into court late today. A demonstration in the courtroom followed the jury's decision.

SEARCHING FORESTS FOR WIFE MURDERER

Bridgeport, May 31.—Beating the dense forests in the vicinity of Easton, which are said to extend into the New York state line, posses of state police and deputy sheriffs were tonight continuing their search for trace of Robert Edwards, 37 year-old Easton farmer and woodsman, who Wednesday night murdered his pretty 19 year old wife, Ruby Wells Edwards, on a lonely stretch of road on the outskirts of that town, as she was on her way home from a visit to a neighbor's house with a woman friend and her family.

Consumed by jealousy, Edwards, who has been estranged from his wife for the past two weeks, stepped out of bushes by the roadside, and when his efforts to bring about a reconciliation failed, deliberately raised a shotgun to his shoulder and fired, the charge entering the woman's body between the shoulder blades. The husband then walked to where his wife lay writhing in the roadway, reloaded the gun and fired another charge into her prostrate form, while her companions stood by in paralyzed fright. The murderer then fled down the road and disappeared into the forest.

Shots heard about twenty minutes after Edwards fled lead to the theory he may have committed suicide. A report that the murderer had been seen hurrying through "Blanket meadow," a short distance from the scene of the crime, about 6.30 o'clock this morning, leads to the belief that the slayer is alive.

Domestic difficulties brought about by the pretty young wife's desire for a home of her own instead of remaining under the roof of Edwards' crippled father and aged mother, together with Edward's extreme jealousy of his young wife, is believed to have resulted in the crime.

Edwards was previously married, having divorced Mame Williams of Woodbury a few years ago.

RUHR BANKS ARE PREPARED AGAINST FRENCH SEIZURE

Berlin, May 31.—(By the A. P.)—That the Ruhr banks are now operating in a state of tense preparedness to guard against French seizure of their funds is revealed in a statement issued by Vice President Von Glasenapp of the reichsbank. He explains the precautionary measures were in effect at the Essen branch of the reichsbank when ninety-two billion marks seized recently.

Learning that a seizure might be attempted, the bank had installed a sort of burglar alarm running from the main entrance to the interior. An employe was constantly stationed at the entrance during banking hours to set the alarm in action the moment he detected anything suspicious outside. It was arranged that when the alarm was sounded all the vaults were to be locked and the keys hidden.

On the day of the recent seizure, according to Von Glasenapp, the watchman was on guard as usual, but the moment the bank opened in the morning the two French detectives in civilian clothes sprang through the door-way and overpowered the guard before he could give the alarm. By this time a number of persons had entered the bank, among them five Frenchmen, who held up the bank employes at the point of revolvers. They then proceeded to complete the seizure.

Herr Von Glasenapp's statement reveals that the Ruhr payrolls for a period of ten days now amount to 100,000,000,000 marks, those for Essen alone being 50,000,000,000.

NO ONE AT HEARING ON COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

Hartford, May 31.—The federal relations committee today called a hearing on a resolution passed in the Wisconsin senate and sent to Governor Templeton by the governor of Wisconsin, memorializing congress to submit for ratification an amendment to the constition of the United States guaranteeing all working people the right to form associations and to bargain collectively. The Wisconsin resolution suggests that there is danger of this right being abridged.

No one appeared at the hearing and after a few minutes the committee adjourned. No report will be made to the legislature on the resolution, it was announced. A letter informing the Wisconsin senate of the inaction of the resolution and of the subsequent action will be sent.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
41 Church Street Telephone 1048

The case of J. W. Armitage et als vs Victor J. Bissonette constituting a suit for $2,500 came to a conclusion on Thursday afternoon at 5.50 o'clock when the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The plaintiff was awarded $100 and the costs. The first three days of the trial in the Windham county superior court were taken up in hearing the evidence. On Thursday the various attorneys presented their arguments.

Shortly before 4 o'clock the attorney for the defense had concluded his argument which was followed by a concluding address by the attorney for the plaintiff. At 4.15 Judge James H. Webb began his charge to the jury and it lasted one hour and four minutes. The jury was out from 4.50 to 5.50 o'clock.

Following the reading of the verdict court was adjourned for the term.

William Matthews, 9 years old, of South Windham, is confined at St. Joseph's hospital as the result of a compound fracture of the left leg, compound above the ankle and severe bruises on the body, sustained when he was struck and knocked down by an automobile owned and driven by Christopher Mannick of Holdbrook avenue, this city, about noon Thursday. The injured boy and several other children were playing in the road opposite the Smith and Winchester Manufacturing company mill in South Windham. The boy started across the road and hesitated as the Mannick car came along. He then took a step to cross the roadway and ran directly in the path of the oncoming machine. Mr. Mannick lifted the child into his car and rushed him to the hospital, after which he notified the local police of the accident.

Frank Jackson of West Willington was severely injured and two automobiles were considerably damaged when the two cars collided on the North Windham road, in the vicinity of the Willimantic Country club grounds, late Wednesday night. Jackson was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and was discharged Thursday morning having received treatment for a number of deep cuts about the face and head.

The machines which figured in the collision were a Studebaker owned and driven by Jackson and a Cadillac owned and driven by Diedore Delage of this city. Delage was on his way to Willimantic and Jackson was headed in the opposite direction. The impact forced Jackson's head through the windshield, causing his injuries.

Walter W. Butler of 23 Ash street, this city, reported to the police department that about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon he had struck one of a number of children coming from the school house in Windham Center. The child was knocked down and a hurried trip to St. Joseph's hospital disclosed the fact that his injuries were slight. The little boy was then returned to his home on Bellshack road, Windham.

Louis Genereux died at the home of his grandson, Raymond Genereux, No. 1196 Main street, Thursday morning. Death occurred after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Genereux was born in St. Guillaume, Canada, March 15, 1847, the son of Baptiste and Melodie (Blanvenue) Genereux.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lena Genereux, four sons, Louis of Hartford, Henry of North Windham, Willis roof New Britain and Robert of Plainfield; three sisters, Mrs. Zoel Russelle of Norwich, Mrs. Henry Blanchette of New Bedford, Mass., and Mrs. Maxime Lambert of this city, and one brother, Peter Genereux of Occum. He also leaves fifteen grandchildren. The deceased was a devoted member of St. Mary's parish.

Thomas Lyman, who was one of Lebanon's best known and highly respected residents, died at his home on Lebanon Green, Thursday morning after a short illness. He leaves several cousins and was a native of Lebanon, being born there on Jan 29, 1851, the son of Albert and Lucinda (Segar) Lyman. Mr. Lyman was a farmer by occupation and was widely known in this city.

District Fire Warden Alfred F. Abbe of South Windham and Deputy Fire Warden Wilbur G. Stevens of North Windham announce that laws prohibiting the starting of fires of any sort will be strictly enforced from now on. The announcement is the result of a forest fire Wednesday evening and Thursday forenoon on the G. J. Kirby property, west of North Windham road and Mansfield Hollow.

The flames had spread over a large area and were well into a pine grove on the Kirby property before they were gotten under control by Deputy Fire Warden Stevens and a number of volunteers who fought the fire from 5 p. m. well into the night. Thursday forenoon the fire broke out again on the land and in another section calling again for hard fire-fighting until late Thursday afternoon. Fifty acres of land were burned over in all.

It is the opinion of the fire wardens that the conflagrations were started by the careless throwing of lighted cigars and cigarettes into the dry leaves.

Thursday, June 7, a six-man team representing the Willimantic Country club will meet the Putnam club's sextet at Putnam in a match leading up to the state championship contest which will be held at Eastern Point. The contest is under the elimination system and the winners will oppose the Stafford Springs' team for the next match.

The swimming campaign for members will start Monday at the Y. M. C. A. and continue during the month of June. The campaign for members will be held during July. Special classes will be formed and instructions will be given by Physical Instructor Brown.

June brides will be very much in evidence in Willimantic, if recent announcements hold good. According to plans there will be over ten weddings celebrated at St. Mary's church. The total of marriages for the month is expected to eclipse any record made in previous years.

The Willimantic fire department will hold the second of a series of fire drills next Tuesday evening, according to orders by Chief James J. Tighe.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Calnen of Summit street have as guests, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dwyer of Anaheim, California. Mr. Dwyer is Mrs. Calnen's brother.

Isaac Little of Newark, N. J., a veteran of the Civil war and a member of the Ninth New Jersey Volunteers, was in this city Memorial Day visiting relatives. He was the guest of Francis S. Long Post, No. 3, G. A. R., in the afternoon.

Mrs. Ruth Weatherbee of Windham was presented a large May basket recently at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Knapp of High street. Those present were: Mrs. R. Weatherbee, Mrs S. Knapp, Mrs. M. Potter, Mrs. M. Dutton, Mrs. L. Nichols, Mrs. Parker and son Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Gates of Hartford announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Welch Gates, to Francis B. Creamer of Williamsport, Pa.

The family of E. H. Hall of North Windham removed to 65 High street, Thursday.

The finishing department of the American Thread company closed on Tuesday for two days and will reopen this (Friday) morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dickie of Oak street are spending two weeks in New York city.

Allen B. Lincoln of Hartford has opened his summer cottage at Westford.

The Misses Aslida and Helen Dumaine and Mrs. Arthur LaVallee of North street spend the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thebeault of Danielson.

Worn Out With a Bad Back?

DOES summer find you miserable with a dull, never-ceasing backache? Do sharp, stabbing pains torture you at every sudden move? Are you tired and weak, "blue," nervous and discouraged? Then why continue in this unhappy condition? You want to be well and the way to get well is to find out what is making you feel so badly and correct it. More than likely it's weak kidneys. That dull, constant backache is often the first warning. Headaches and dizzy spells quickly follow, with rheumatic pains, lameness, soreness and annoying bladder irregularities. Don't wait for more serious trouble! Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Norwich Folks Found Relief:

MRS. JENNIE L. SPAULDING, 21 Tanners Ave., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills which I purchased at Utley's Drug Store cured me of an attack of kidney complaint. Another member of the family recommended Doan's to me for the weakness across my back and kidneys. Exertion of any kind seemed to make my back tired and weak and I felt all worn out. Dizzy spells and headaches were frequent. I have not felt any need of a kidney medicine since Doan's cured me."

CALVIN L. BRIGGS, Carpenter, 37 Penobscot St., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for pains across my kidneys. I couldn't rest at all as twinges of pain would catch me and I could hardly straighten up. It didn't take long to get to the bottom of the trouble as Doan's Kidney Pills gave me great relief." (Statement given May 17, 1916.)

On February 15, 1921, Mr. Briggs said: "It has been some years since I have used Doan's. I know they are a reliable remedy for weakened kidneys for they cured me."

MRS. LUCY HARVEY, R. F. D. No. 1, says: "I will never forget the trouble I had several years ago with my back and kidneys. I think it was lumbago. For two weeks I was in bed with this dreadful ailment and I couldn't turn over without help as I had such pains. By chance a friend called upon me and told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's helped me from the first and finally cured me. I haven't used them since."

Doan's Kidney Pills

Every druggist has Doan's, 60c a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Manufacturing Chemists, Buffalo, N. Y.

Why High Blood Pressure Victims Cannot Get Insurance

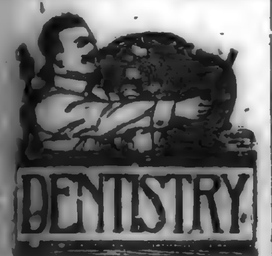
It is significant that in the examinations conducted by insurance companies and by the Life Extension Institute and other similar bodies, the greatest attention is given to the readings of blood pressure. The very presence of high blood pressure indicates that without immediate treatment, an incurable condition is certain to arise that must eventually end in early death.

High Blood Pressure is generally brought on by the absorption of poisons from the wastes retained too long in the intestines. These poisons act upon the muscles of the arteries, causing them to contract and forcing the heart to pump harder to force the blood through the body. To reduce high blood pressure these poisons must be made harmless and the wastes quickly eliminated from the body.

A well-known physician has made a valuable discovery of a new preparation that quickly and effectively does these two important things.

This new preparation has been so universally successful in thousands of cases treated by physicians that it was recently decided to put it up in convenient tablet form and authorize druggists everywhere to dispense it under the name Bi-a-lin.

If you suffer from headaches, are constipated, have dizzy spells, do not sleep well, have ringing in the ears, are nervous, inclined to worry, you have symptoms of high blood pressure. Do not run the risk of worse things to come by neglecting these danger signals. Get a bottle of Bi-a-lin from your druggist today. He is authorized to dispense it with a guarantee to return your money if you do not experience wonderful relief from the very first bottle. The Lee & Osgood Co.



DENTISTRY

GOOD TEETH

not only improve your looks but they improve your health. Decayed teeth impair digestion and if long neglected cause suffering and serious stomach troubles. Our Expert Dentistry will keep your teeth in good condition. Why not let us fix them up now, then come to us regularly every few months for examination? Attention at the right time will save you money and perhaps suffering.

Painless Dentistry—Examination Free.
Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.
Sundays by Appointment

Dr. T. J. Keegan
"Keegandent"
Telephone 1271 Willimantic, Conn.
Over M. S. Quinlan's Drug Store

WESTERLY.

The pleasant though trifle cool weather of Memorial Day was one of the contributing reasons for both the streets and sidewalks in the business center of Westerly to be well filled along the line of march of the Memorial day parade, which this year had more local participants than has been the case for several years past. An addition to the music was the George C. Moore Co. band which was most creditable in consideration of the short time the organization has been together. The program as previously announced was carried out in an impressive and dignified manner, the tribute to the boys who fell in the navy on the Pawcatuck river bridge, and the ceremony in the cemeteries. Especially well spoken of was the address of Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, D. D., pastor of the United Congregational church, Norwich. At the conclusion of the parade dinner was provided for the veterans by the auxiliary veteran organizations in Mechanics hall on Broad street.

Welcome H. Foster, long a resident of Woodville, R. I., died on Wednesday at his home on the North Stonington road, aged 73 years 6 months. He is survived by a wife.

At the Lawrence Memorial hospital, in New London, Mrs. Sarah K. Crandall died on Wednesday, aged 57 years 4 months. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. George Richards, 3 Cogan avenue, Industrial place, Mystic; and two brothers, George Sprague, Post road and Frederick B. Sprague, State street, both of Westerly.

Armed with a search warrant on Wednesday Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown, Sergeant Donald Ferguson and Officers George H. Champlin and Michael Curtin visited and searched the premises of Wocław Dabrowski on the west side of the White school house road to Varietyville. In the writ it was charged that men had been seen coming from said place in and about it in an intoxicated condition. In the search for liquor a copper still was found but no liquor.

Complaint has been made to the police authorities on the West Side that a nuisance existed opposite 88 Stillman Avenue. It is said that annoyance was caused, especially at night time by loud, abusive and profane language, unnecessary noise and also men in an intoxicated condition, had been noticed in that neighborhood for the past week. The matter is receiving proper attention from Stonington officials and that if there is a continuance the parties concerned will be arrested and brought to trial. It is said also that matters had progressed so far it was next to impossible for residents of that section to sleep at night.

The police officials of Westerly will shortly appear with new caps. Chief of Police Brown's cap will be of white enameled fabric with white leather visor and large gold insignia in front with the word "Chief" thereon. Sergeants Ferguson will wear a blue cap with gold braid band and black visor with a silver insignia in front with word "sergeant". The new caps of the other policemen will be of blue with black leather visor and blue cord. It was expected that the caps would be worn for the first time on Memorial day but as they had not been received it was not possible.

The new traffic signs to be erected in the restricted parking areas for automobiles are expected to arrive in Westerly any day now. When they are received these signs will be placed in position. It will then be advisable for the motorist to obey the letter and spirit of the town parking ordinance.

The opening day for the Winnapaug Golf club on the Shore road was featured by a Kickers' handicap eighteen hole golf tournament and was participated in by 34 members, beginning at 9 o'clock Memorial day morning. The tournament was in charge of Louis Tetlow, chairman of the greens committee. When the cards were turned in some of the less fortunate or expect players are reported as having torn up their cards, J. Hunter with a score of 81 was declared the winner and for the second place there were tied Addison S. Archie, J. Stanley Dow and Thomas Hope with a score of 86.

The Westerly Light and Power Co., have replaced a pole which stood in front of one of the large show windows in the new Tuscano building in Canal street, on the curb line. The new pole has been located nearer Railroad avenue on the curb and at the corner of the building. Workmen were busy Thursday in replacing the light and power wires. Workmen from the gas department are busy in laying a new gas main on Railroad to replace one in which a leak developed last winter, which was remedied at that time by placing a temporary pipe on the surface and in the gutter. An adjacent proprietor, forgetting the open trench, backed his automobile into it, but no serious results followed.

A police case to come before the regular Friday morning session of the Third district court in the court rooms on Union street is the case against Frank Vitirito, charged with breach of the peace. In this case last Friday Patsy Salemano acted as interpreter. It was stated that Attorney John Dunn was to appear for the defendant and as it was found that the attorney would be unable to appear Judge Michael J. Turano directed the case continued.

James R. May of New London was in Westerly Wednesday evening called here by the sudden death of his brother, Dr. John J. May.

Mrs. Edward W. Doty of Stonington is visiting her sister Mrs. Frank Coy, 58 Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kenyon of Holyoke visited relatives in Westerly Memorial Day.

Mrs. Eunice Clark of Wakefield is visiting hr cousins, the Misses Nichols of Dixon Street.

Miss Georgia True of Providence was a caller in Westerly Tuesday.

Traffic on Memorial Day at the junction of West Broad street and Liberty Street, was well cared for by onstable Frank D. Smith.

Mothers and teachers club of the Pawcatuck Seventh Day Baptist church are to be entertained at the home of one of its members, Mrs. Clayton A. Burdick, 118 Main street. A talk will be given by Mrs. Samuel H. Davis.

Mrs. George Browning of Green Hill has been the guest of Mrs. Harry B. Agard, 1 Crescent Street.

Miss Cora M. Chapman removed on Tuesday from 5 Jay street to the Baker bungalow on the Post road near Dunn's Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Langworthy and son Donald left Westerly Tuesday night for Alfred, N. Y., where they will be present at the commencement exercises of Alfred college. Miss Dorothy Langworthy, daughtr of Mr. and Mrs. Langworthy, is a member of the senior class.

Tuesday evening the tug Westerly brought the Keeler barge up the Pawcatuck river from New London, loaded with hard coal.

Mrs. Francis C. Lathrop of Wayne, Pa., is visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Champlin, 9 Granite street.

Herbert C. Babcock, formerly of Ashaway, is now in Westerly after passing the winter in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams, formerly of Bradford, now of Lewiston, Me., were Memorial day visitors in Westerly.

Norman C. Church of Hartford was a visitor on Memorial day with relatives in Pawcatuck.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. B. James of Beaver River were the guests of Mrs. James' mother, Mrs. William H. Greene, 87 Main street, on Wednesday. Mrs. James was accompanied by her daughters, the Misses Mary Helen and Norma Elizabeth James and son, George James.

Mrs. A. T. Wall of Providence is at her Watch Hill cottage, Green Blinds.

John Whitehead of 1 Newton avenue is booked as a passenger on the White Star line ship Cedric, sailing from New York for Southampton, Saturday noon.

L. E. Kenniff of Boston was a business caller in Westerly on Thursday.

Miss Ruth V. Davis of the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., is expected in Westerly on Saturday, the guest of her parents, Representatives and Mrs. Samuel H. Davis, 8 Spring street.

Henry M. Tarr and wife of Providence were the guests over Memorial Day of Mr. Tarr's sister, Mrs. Fayette F. Freeman, 8 Crescent St. Mr. Tarr is traffic manager of the cotton piece goods manufacturers association.

William V. Currier of Bridgeport visited relatives and friends in Westerly on Memorial Day.

MYSTIC

Revere Church of Old Mystic was severely hurt while at work at the boiler room of the Packer tar soap factory Tuesday. An explosion occurred which caused an injury to his leg. It is not definitely known whether he will be able to save the leg or whether it will have to be amputated.

Two automobiles came together on West Main street at the corner of Gravel street Wednesday afternoon. The car owned by William Spicer of Noank and driven by Edward Dewey, as it was going to the westward, was hit by a man driving a Buick roadster which was coming out of Gravel street into West Main street.

Miss Mildred Barrowclough, daughter of William Barrowclough of Philadelphia, a former resident here, is ill at her home with scarlet fever.

Miss Eleanor Bliven, who has been enjoying a two weeks' vacation from her duties at the Lawrence hospital, New London, returned to the hospital Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Joyce of Dover, N. J., who have been guests of Mrs. Fifer and James McCune of Mystic, have returned home.

Benjamin Mull and John Flynn were in Gardner, Mass., Thursday.

NOANK

The Memorial day services and parade were held Wednesday at 10.45 a. m. The Noank Drum corps, members of the G. A. R., Camp Fire Girls, school children and Daughters of America marched to Noank Valley cemetery, where the graves of deceased soldiers were decorated. At the public dinner 150 people were served at the fire rooms.

The 25 members of the Baracca class of the Baptist church enjoyed a straw ride to Westerly and Norwich Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Orrin Olen of Winsted is the guest of her son Orrin on Elm street.

Roland Hill of Philadelphia, Norman Hill of Springfield, Mass., and Kenneth Hill of Middletown are guests of Dr. and Mrs. William Hill of the village.

Peninsula of Lower California is almost as large as the mainland of Italy to the heel of the boot.

An Accurate Corn Planter Is One of Your Best Friends

There is a big difference between the yield of crops planted with an inaccurate planter and one that is accurate. You use the same amount of seed—but the difference in the crop often amounts to as much as five, six or seven—yes, and more bushels per acre.

JOHN DEERE
No. 999 CORN PLANTER

Here is a point we want you to think over: If a planter misses only fifteen hernels in every 100 hills, there is a loss of five bushels per acre in the yield.

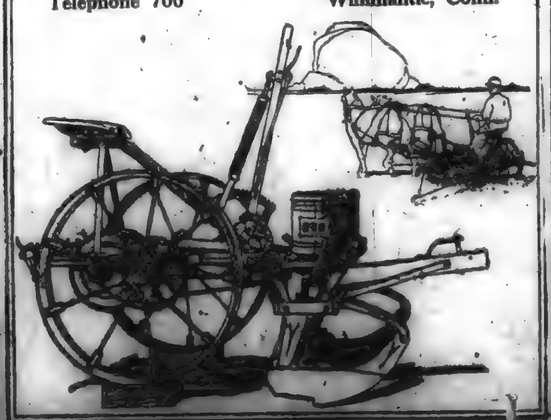
The accurate planter avoids that loss—it proves to be one of your best friends because it does faithful work and saves your money.

We want to show you the John Deere No. 999 Corn Planter—a planter that has built a first-class reputation because of its accuracy. It is just as accurate as the human hand.

You can plant two, three or four kernels without changing seed plates or stopping the team. You can change from hilling to drilling instantly. You get nine different drilling distances without changing the plates.

We will be glad to have you call and see why this planter has been termed the accurate planter. Putting it into your field this year may save you a lot of money when you gather your crop. Let us show it to you at any rate. We'll be glad to see you, even though you aren't ready to buy now.

THE JORDAN HARDWARE CO.
Telephone 700 Willimantic, Conn.



PORCH FURNITURE

THE VERANDA WILL BE THE FAVORITE SPOT IN THE HOME FOR THE NEXT FEW MONTHS. JUST NOW WE HAVE EVERYTHING TO MAKE IT A COMFORTABLE PLACE.

A COMPLETE LINE OF COUCH HAMMOCKS, VERANDA SCREENS, AND PORCH FURNITURE MAY BE FOUND HERE AT REASONABLE PRICES.

MAY WE SHOW YOU THESE?

The J. C. Lincoln Co.
HOME FURNISHERS UNDERTAKING
Phone 705-3 Main and Union Sts. Phone 705-2

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

Tom Mix in Arabia, starring the popular William Fox player, appeared yesterday at the Breed theatre, where he entertained one hundred per cent. of his audience. The picture is a rollicking speed vehicle, with just a wee touch of burlesque, that takes every hill on high. It has a damsel in it that is worth walking two miles to see, and an automobile chase that is worth a whole flock of camels.

Mix and Lynn Reynolds, his director, are responsible for the story, which is interesting enough to be the thousand and second tale of the Arabian Nights. It opens with Mix as bodi of a ranch, to which scribe, in search of atmosphere, Professor Arthur Edmund Terhune, an authority on things Oriental, his son, Waldmar, and his daughter, Janice—especially Janice.

The Terhune stay is only temporary, and they are soon off for Arabia. Then Tom is left behind brooding. But the opportunity offers itself to him later to impersonate the heir apparent to the throne of Arabia, and at first voluntarily, and then willy-nilly, he is swept into the mystic land of sheiks and harems, of rebound and smoke. How he emerges safe and sound with the girl of his heart makes an intriguing story.

Arabia will be the feature at the Breed again today and Saturday and other pictures on the bill include Pearl White in Plunder and a Sunshine comedy.

Coming to The Breed

Could Longfellow see the William Fox motion picture adapted from the Cambridge poet's immortal "Village Blacksmith, he would be as pleased as a three-year-old child with a lollypop. Little could the master poet realize, when he wrote the immortal lines, which have come down to this age, that the wonderful adaptation could have been made.

Paul H. Sloane, who wrote the scenario from the poem, has compiled a screen masterpiece. All through the scenes the photoplay the sterling qualities of Longfellow's hero are preserved. The picture has been proclaimed by Broadway critics as a screen masterpiece.

One of the critics has aptly described the picture as "doing for father what 'Over the Hill' did for mother. Throughout the trials and tribulations of a lifetime the father stands out as the heroic figure in a story about a typical American family. "Toiling, rejoicing, sorro wing, onward through life he goes," sang the poet and so has Paul Sloane depicted the central figure of the story.

In every way "The Village Blacksmith" is a screen masterpiece and it is destined to be one of the greatest film attractions of a year replete with photoplay successes. It will be shown at the Breed theatre for three days starting Sunday.

"Shuffle Along" at the Arlington" Reported from the Boston Traveler April 2, 1923.

"Shuffle Along" pranced into town last evening for a two weeks' engagement at the Arlington theatre. The same lilting melodies and snappy dancing that featured this production when it made its first Boston appearance was much in evidence last evening. The comedy was clean cut and put over in clever style by S. T. Whitney and Dink Stewart, who, as partners in the grocery store and later political rivals for the office of mayor of Jimtown, have the leading comedy roles. The old favorites: "Love Will Find A Way," "Shuffle Along," "Wild About Harry," and "Bandanna Days" were will received by an enthusiastic audience.

Miss Bessie Allison, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Miss Pauline Peyton, Paul Bass and J. Homer Tutt put the songs "over" and were generous with their encores. While it is not the same company that was here earlier in the season, it is capable in every way and the Arlington should experience a new era of prosperity for the next fortnight.

The work of the chorus was meritorious and came in for its share of glory. One of the big comedy hits of the evening was the burlesque boxing bout between the rival candidates for mayor in which the issue was "If a job is any good it's worth fightin' for," where at the two go to it like real knights of the squared circle. Ira Green, as the traffic cop was the feature dancer and when it came to "struttin' his stuff he set the audience frantic and was compelled to quit it in a near state of exhaustion. "Onion," the light fingered clerk in the grocery store, played by Joe Purnell, was one of the best comedy bits of the show.

The same company will be seen at the Broadway theatre next Wednesday, June 6. Mail orders are now taken with sale starting Monday, June 4.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Miss Betty Cunningham and her sister, Miss Annie Cunningham, of Hartford were the guests of Miss Mary Hanley in Orcuitville over Memorial day.

Percy Parkhurst has resigned as clerk at the Central Vermont freight office and will go into the steam laundry business.

Charles B. Phaney and son Robert have gone to Maine on a fishing trip.

Miss Nellie Cooney of Willimantic and Mrs. John McCarthy of Boston are guests of Mrs. George Flannigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mullins of Hartford visited friends in town on Memorial day.

Mrs. Henry Wheeler has returned to Stafford Springs after spending the winter with relatives in California.

The commissioner of motor vehicles has notified Chief Hayes that the operators' licenses of Carl Brighenti, Joseph Lavine, Allen McLagan and William Wynings have been suspended.

Mrs. Wallace Morse and her son, Harold Crane, of Northampton, have been visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson are visiting relatives in Somerville, N. H.

The honor roll at the Stafford High school for the months of April and May has been announced as follows:

90 to 100 per cent.: Seniors, Francis Adams, Frieda Turschman; juniors, Claude Barlow; sophomores, Nancy Fisk, Harold Neff, Martha Rieg; freshmen, Helen Cusick, Allyn Dimock, Helen Fermier, Dorothy Fisk, May McGeehan, Mary O'Connell, George Senechah.

85 to 90 per cent.: Seniors, Elinor Bissonnette, Athena Bowler, Elizabeth Fraser, Harriet Wilder; juniors, Ruth Burwell, Josephine Gilligan, Grace Grennan, Ruth Mullen, Marjorie Partelo, Mildred Slawick, Irene Winton; sophomores, Helen Avery, Josephine Towne, Francis Zigmund; freshmen, Stella Bartek, Maurice Murray, Helen Redge, Velo Semmel.

80 to 85 per cent.: Seniors, Eva Atchinson; juniors, Donald Fisk, Edward Gillies, Francis Murray, Elizabeth Pinney, Paul Schmidt, Peter Wargo; sophomores, Mary Baker, Caroline Janowski, Meyer Kaplan, Harrison Moseley, Jack Rumbelow, Jillian Turschman; freshmen, Josephine Fraser, George Greendonner, Wilfred Hale, Frieda Kabe, Schmuel Kollar, Marian Lord, Beatrice Mason, Dixie Naderna, Allison Anger, James Senechal, Edward Silk.

John Quinn, Jr., formerly of Stafford Springs, has been appointed general manager of the Daniel Boone woolen mills at Chicago, Ill.

What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.

Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.

Moving Pictures at Breed Theatre.

Robert O. Tansley Post, No. 6, A. L., meets in Richards Building.

Hugh H. Osgood Lodge, No. 1920, I. O. O. F., M. U., meets in Eagle Hall.

Uncas Council, No. 2, I. O. O. F., meets in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Ledge Court, No. 16, F. C. of A., meets at 31 Shetucket Street.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Centenary of the birth of Cardinal Gilman Jervey, noted Southern prelate of juvenile stories.

One hundred years ago today Marshal Davoust, one of the ablest and most faithful of Napoleon's generals.

Manitoba will vote today on a referendum asking for the establishment of government stores for the sale of liquor for beverage purposes.

First in a long series of medical gatherings to be held in Boston during the month of June will be the annual meeting of the American Otological Association, which opens today.

The much-discussed war memorial for Leeds University, Eng., a piece of sculpture depicting [illegible] among the money lenders, is scheduled to be unveiled today by the Bishop of Ripon.

A call has been sent to all the Indians of the Six Nations throughout the American continent to meet today at the Onondaga reservation, New York, for a three day conference on plans for recovering the money which the Indians claim is still owing them by the United States government.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Well Baby Conferences

Well baby conferences will be held by the bureau of child hygiene of the state department of health in the following towns, in June; each at 2.45 p. m.

Wauregan, Company hill, Friday, June 1; Plainfield, Community hall, Saturday, June 2; Eagleville, Company hall, Wednesday, June 6; East Brooklyn, School hall, Friday, June 8.

The conference in Plainfield originated and will be conducted by the Lawton Mills Corp., with whom the department of health is cooperating by furnishing exhibition material and posters, the use of scales and measuring board and the services of a physician and nurse from the bureau of child hygiene.

At the well baby conference last week in East Haddam all of the physicians residing in the town in which the conference was held were present at the conference. One brought his children to the conference and they were weighed, measured and examined.

Reports are now being received of children whose physical defect has been corrected after visiting the conference.

Broadway Theatre

A decided hit was scored yesterday at the Broadway theatre by the following five B. F. Keith vaudeville acts being shown for the last half of this week.

Ed and Ida Tendell in acrobatic novelty; Sena & Weber, variety entertainers; Three Black Diamonds in Half Ton of Harmony; Dave Manley in songs and stories; and Chas. Leland & Co. in a novelty act.

Scene another clever comedy-drama to Rupert Hughes and Goldwyn. It is called Look Your Best, and was screened last night at the Broadway theatre. It is permeated with those qualities which the public has grown to expect from Mr. Hughes, simplicity, charm naturalness, a strong heart appeal, much humor and good substantial drama, plus a fomantic tinge that Mr. Hughes seldom employs.

It is a picture which we can cheerfully recommend to every member of the family. You will feel better for having seen it no matter what the state of your feelings. The Goldwyn company gave Mr. Hughes just the right players for the various roles, from the two featured players, Colleen Moore and Antonio Moreno, to those in subsidiary roles—Earle Metcalf, Francis McDonald, Orpha Alba, Martha Mattox. The photography by Norbert Broden is excellent.

Strand Theatre

An event bound to arouse unusual interest centers in the coming of another Wesley Barry attraction. This is "Heroes of the Street," produced by Warner Brothers and scheduled to play at the Strand theatre for two days beginning today.

The reason for this interest is that "Freckles" Wesley has won a large following by his bubbling personality on the screen and the good fun and clean comedy that go with his pictures, notably in "School Days" and "Rags to Riches," both Warner Brothers productions. His inimitable characterizations of boys out for adventure and getting into mischief every minute of the day have gained him an enviable reputation.

Great pains have been taken in the scenes of this picture, some of them elaborate and on a lavish scale such as the reproductions of the "Midnight Frolics," and the transformation of a city block in Los Angeles into a New York winter scene, for which 350 tons of salt were necessary.

In Heroes of the Street, young Wesley fights his way through to the exciting end, sometimes with fist and muscle, at other times with brain, but always with plenty of nerve and pluck. The story is about Mickey Callahan, son of a police officer. Mickey is busy licking all the bullies of his neighborhood and keeping his kid brother and sister disciplined, when tragedy stalks into his house with the sinister murder of his father by a mysterious gang of crooks.

From a happy-go-lucky boy Mickey becomes a lad touched with the pathos in his home and leaving no stone unturned to find the person responsible for the tragedy. An unusual love story of the stage is blended with the mystery element.

William Beaudine directed this picture, adapted from Lem Parker's play. In the supporting cast are Mare Prevost, Jack Mulhall, Wilfred Lucas, Aggie Herron, Al Walling, Philo McCullough, "Peaches" Jackson, Joe Butterworth, Phil Ford, Wedgewood Nowell, Lillian Leeds and Billie Beaudine, Jr. A comedy and news are the other subjects.

Furniture Gift for the June Bride! Choice of Desirable Gifts Made Easy at Schwartz Bros., Inc.

One of the very first considerations that should receive the attention of those contemplating gifts for the June bride, is furniture for her home, and the store to be had at Schwartz Bros., is one that displays many articles which will aid in making the home comfortable.

The many friends of the bride, who delight in having a hand in the creation of her new home, will play an important part in selecting as a choice for a present, a piece of furniture. Each one has her own ideas as to how a home should be furnished, but there are many articles of standard design and make which can be placed to advantage in the home.

For that reason, it is unwise to hesitate to make a gift of this nature. Furnishings for every room are essential—for the bedroom—everything from cellar to attic, is available at this store, at reasonable prices.

June beetles have nearly 50,000 pits or cavities of smell on their antennae.

1784 1923

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Norwich, Friday, June 1, 1923.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

CIRCULATION

WEEK ENDING MAY 29th, 1923

12,340

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

Aldermen,
B. LARUE BLIVEN,
EDWARD CROOKS.

Councilmen,
MARTIN ROZYCKI,
F. RUSSELL SMITH,
ALFRED G. LILLIBRIDGE,
LEE CLEGG.

City Treasurer.
STEPHEN H. REEVES.

City Clerk,
WESTON C. PULLEN.

Tax Collector.
HAROLD T. ROBINSON.

Sheriffs,
CHARLES H. RAYNES.
MAURICE LOOBY.

Member of Water Board,
REUBEN S. BARTLETT.

NEXT MONDAY'S ELECTION.

Good government through an economical and efficient administration of city affairs is what the citizens of Norwich should demand. It is a matter in which each and every one is directly concerned. It is only proper therefore that the men and women who have the right of suffrage should make it their duty to get to the polls next Monday, June 4, and see that those who are qualified to give such an administration are put into office.

In view of the test to which the present administration has been put and in view of the caliber of the men who have been nominated by the republican caucus, there is no hesitancy in advocating the selection of the candidates whose names appear above. They are men who can be relied upon to give their attention to the responsibilities that rests upon them if chosen as representatives of the people. They represent a united, rather than a divided party, and have been admirably chosen to satisfy the demands of those who have been insisting for some time that there should be a change.

It is not possible to disregard the best interests of the community and take action that is against the wishes and convenience of those directly concerned without arousing opposition against such a method of directing the affairs of a city.

The voters of Norwich, women as well as men, have the opportunity to give expression to their views at Monday's election as to the manner in which the city government should be conducted.

It cannot be done by staying at home, it cannot be done by leaving it to the other fellow. It is not an election when control of the council can be obtained but it is possible to let it be known by those elected what the city demands in the way of good government.

Much responsibility rests upon the city officials, but it is on election day that the responsibility is squarely upon the shoulders of the man and woman with the ballot. Norwich wants a city government that will do something and do it right.

ENFORCING PROHIBITION ON SHIPS.

That the government is encountering obstacles in putting the dry law into operation covering the transportation of liquor within the three mile limit doesn't cause surprise inasmuch as it was realized at the time the supreme court rendered its decision that other countries would probably be heard from.

It is a case that seems to run afoul of international law if the convention of other governments is to be accepted. Enforced, the law prevents foreign ships from bringing liquor within the three mile limit in any form. It isn't contended that they have the right to bring liquor as part of the cargo, but they hold to the view that it should not be restricted as part of a ship's stores and especially so when the laws of other nations require that a certain amount of wines must be served daily to the crews.

The United States supreme court has declared what the law means as it was passed. The court hasn't undertaken to say what it interferes with in the way of international law and by its decision it has not attempted to change the law or to make it fit in with international law. The supreme court is not a legislative body.

Having received the protests of other countries it must be determined whether they are justified. If the treasury department finds that the Volstead act violates international law it at once encounters a difficult problem in connection with enforcement. It is not improbable that it will result in the application of the rule of reason when it comes to taking action that undertakes to upset international law, and in that case it will either mean the general approval of such a policy without further legislative action or else efforts to change the law so that it will take into consideration those points over which trouble is threatened.

WHERE THE BEST IS NEEDED.

Those who have passed lightships in making excursions to the shore have remarked time and again about the loneliness of such a life, and those who have read of such ships being torn from their moorings in storms have realized the danger of such a job, especially when those vessels have no motive power.

Perhaps one of the worst locations for a lightship is far off the Nantucket shoals. There is the diversion of seeing the ocean liners go by at times but otherwise there is nothing but water, the daily routine and the storms. Exposed as is the position someone must do duty there. It calls for the best of lightships and there a small amount of power is provided, submarine bells have been added to the equipment in addition to the fog signals and gradually has the safety of the lightshipmen, as well as of those whose lives they are there to protect, been increased.

But when the new lightship that is now under construction is completed the situation will be still further improved. In addition to having sufficient power to propel itself it will be electrically equipped, fitted out with a radio fog signal, electric lights, an oscillator instead of the marine bells and a streng radio equipment that will permit sending as well as receiving.

It may not add what many people would regard as real attractions at such a lonesome spot, but the improvement is so marked over the present or previous ships that it will be joyfully received. It will be possible for the crew to keep in closer touch with the world than ever before. Isolation is being driven farther away, but it is of course the very place where the best is required.

PROMOTING PEACE.

Sentiment that is bound to appeal to the entire country is that which was expressed by President Harding at Arlington when it was declared to be his wish to have this country do its full part in making war unlikely, if not impossible and made the statement that it was the God-given duty of the country to work for the outlawing of war.

Though it can hardly be considered as necessary, President Harding took occasion to emphatically state that he was not taking the position of a pacifist but his desire would be to see this the foremost peace promoting nation in the world, and there is no question but what he expresses the sentiment of the nation.

This nation has not wanted wars. It has been forced into them and it has given an excellent account of itself when it became necessary to do so. It is not a nation that stands for peace at any price. Nevertheless its preference is for peace and whatever action can be taken that will serve to promote peace, that will bring about the adjustment of difficulties in other ways than through the recourse to wars and that will prevent the immeasureable waste that comes from conflict cannot be regarded as other than desirable.

That the president made reference to the bicking of profiteers should there be another war was highly commendable. It is through the promotion of peace, however, that the first steps for the prevention of such conditions can be taken.

HOLIDAY ACCIDENTS.

Perhaps you were prepared to read the long list of accidents, with many fatalities, on the morning after Memorial day. It is safe to say, however, that those who participated in them had not planned to thus figure in the day's news.

The wiping out of the New Britain family when an automobile was driven in front of a train was lamentable, quite the same as was the triple fatality at Talcottville, three more deaths at Detroit and the longer list of those accidents that resulted in single deaths or serious injuries.

It may have been entirely the result of the holiday traffic, the large number in the highways and the efforts to spend the day in pleasure, but in most of the instances there is discernible the large element of carelessness that contributes to the increasing danger of the highways.

Strange indeed is it that those who live near a railroad crossing should be so negligent of the danger as to fail to have the automobile in such control as to be able to stop it. The possibility that the driver failed to hear the gong at such a point directs attention to the merits of strong light signals at such points or gongs that are sufficiently loud to attract attention over the noise of a car.

Even though those who figured in the holiday accidents had not contemplated such a part, there cannot be ignored the powerful lesson that exists in just such cases. There is pointed out all too strongly the importance of being careful even though it means curtailment of speed and a serious regard for the responsibility that is involved in driving an automobile.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Germany is going to make a new proposition; possibly the Chinese bandits will take the cue.

Hearst has come out in support of Ford. Some boosts have the opposite from the desired effect.

Something to worry about: It is now claimed that the coal supply will last for only 6033 more years.

The decision of the Irish rebels to throw down their arms gives some a chance to say "I told you so."

The man on the corner says: If nothing else about it impresses you there is more cheerfulness in optimism than some other isms.

Friends of others with greater political followings than Henry Ford have figured that third party efforts would surely win only to be disillusioned.

While other countries are protesting our court decision on the Volstead law it might be a good time to press our protest against the ram fleet which comes from some of those countries.

It will be relief for those who thought it would not go through last winter to learn that one estimator figures that coal will last till 7956. But that doesn't reduce the worry [illegible]

PUPPY STUFFY

The young man who was endeavoring to induce hair to grow down in front of his ears settled down on the divan, his pink cheeks still slightly intensified in color from the nervous strain he recently had been under. "Well, then," he observed on a long breath, "it's all settled now, then, and we're whatyoucallit—er—hum," he cleared his throat—"now engaged!"

"Yes—ah—ess," breathed the 16-year old girl in the big chair slowly, nodding her elaborate headdress which she wore with some difficulty over her growing put bob. "Yes, Victor."

"Now you can't go out with any other fellows any more," continued the 17-year old fiance with satisfaction. "Gee, that's slick!"

"Well," the newly engaged girl looked a trifle doubtful. "I've got several dates with Frank and he'd probably get sore if I ditched him."

The pink cheeks of the boy merged into the swift color that flooded his face. "Say, just let me catch him getting sore. It's a lot of nerve for a fellow to pull this Bluebeard stuff on another fellow's girl that he's engaged to and everything like that.

"Well, but look here, now, Victor; he promised to trot me out to the Young Er Saints informal Friday night and after mother said I could go and everything——".

The pink-cheeked boy arose and began walking up and down the room like a 50-year-old business man with 51 per cent of the stock.

"That's not quite the clean potato," he said, shaking his head. "When a fellow's engaged then he's got a right, yessir, he's got some right, I guess, to tell another fellow to keep off the grass."

"Well, but Victor, if I should give up going to the informal and the game——"

"The game," exclaimed the pink-cheeked boy. "Well, of all the nerve of Frank Parsons! You mean to tell me he's gone and dated you up for the game, too. After I went and bought tickets."

"Oh, well," said the girl, "course if you went and bought tickets maybe I wouldn't have to go with him. He'd prob'ly never ask me to go to another place, though, if I turned him down, though."

"My goodness! He better not. Say, why don't you call him up on the telephone right now and tell him you're engaged to me and you gotta go every place there is to go to now with the bird you're engaged to, see?"

"He's probably made all his arrangements by now to take me to the movies tonight and—"

"Take you to the movies tonight!" the young man almost shouted. "Say, how does he get that way, having three dates a week with my girl? It's a mighty good thing I proposed to you this afternoon or you might still be going out with him all the time. Gosh, will he be sore when he finds out! Gee, I'd like to see his face when he hears the news. I'll look up his number right away for you."

"Oh, gee, I better not call him yet, he probably isn't home from school yet; and, anyway, his mother might not like it having me call him up like that all the time."

"Say, but lookit; he's liable to come right over here tonight, the fresh boob, if you don't let him know he hasn't got a right to call on you. Maybe I better go right over to his house and tell him myself."

"Oh, no, oh, no! Don't you do that. See, Victor, I gotta go out with different boys sometimes, or the first thing you know I'd be staying in every night in the week."

"I could come over and see you every night," said the pink-cheeked boy.

"Why, Victor, you know your mother wont let you go out more than two nights a week and since mother said I could go to the movies on Wednesday if I got in my 9, and go out on Friday and Saturday, too, why, what good does it do me if I don't have anybody to take me out?"

The pink-cheeked boy buried his face in his hands and groaned after the manner of Rodolph Valentina. "Well," he said finally, raising his face hopefully, "Maybe when our mothers find out that everything's so serious they'll change their minds."

"Maybe," agreed the girl. "Tell you what! You go and tell mother about it now, and ask her if you can come over every night."

"Oh, say," protested the boy. "You better tell her."

"Oh, Victor," called the girl's mother from the doorway, "your mother just telephone that dinner's nearly ready—"

"Go one tell her," urged the girl in an undertone.

Thus encouraged the boy stammered out the glad news.

"Well, children! No you can't be engaged. Now run along home Victor and wash your hands and face for dinner."

Victor protested. "Say now, you gotta admit it's serious, and we might do something awful like elopin' or sumpin'. We're not just kids no more, and—"

"Be careful of your grammar, Victor, dear. I'm sure your mother would be horrified to hear you going on in that way. Now you just wait until you're through high school, that's a sweet little fellow, and if Violet really loves you she'll wait, I'm sure."

"Oh, yes Victor, I'll wait," said Violet with some relief in her tones. "Maybe we better wait a little while."

"Meanwhile you'll go chasing out with Frank, I suppose." He picked up his cap and his schoolbooks. "Say, I tell you one thing, young lady, I'm through with girls and you'll never get me to marry you."

He went out angrily.

"Oh dear, now he's mad!" sighed the girl.—Chicago News.

Today's Anniversaries

1832—John M. Harlan, member of the Supreme Court of the U. S., and for many years a conspicuous figure in Kentucky politics, was born in Boyle County, Ky. Died in Washington, D. D., Oct. 14, 1911.

1866—After having crossed into Canada from Buffalo the Fenian army of invasion took possession of Fort Erie, an old work then unoccupied.

1868—James Buchanan, fifteenth President of the U. S., died at Wheatland, Pa. Born at Cove Gap, Pa., April 23, 1791.

1873—Joseph Howe was appointed lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia.

1879—The Prince Imperial, son of Napoleon III., killed while fighting with the British in Zululand.

1898—Thomas W. Keene, celebrated Shakesperian actor, died in New York City. Born there, Oct. 26, 1840.

1891—Orient express raided by brigands near Constantinople, five passengers seized and held for ransom.

1917—Workmen and soldiers seized Kronstadt, the fortress defending Petrograd, and repudiated the provisional government.

1922—Gen Li Yuan Hung became President of China.

Several lives lost in forest fires in Washington and Oregon.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Although Bishop Joseph C. Hartzell is eighty-one years old today he is planning to go back to Africa, where he spent twenty years as missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church. During these twenty years, by his ability and service, the Bishop was one of the most conspicuous and potential factors in the mental and moral transformation of the Dark Continent. He was reared on a farm in Illinois, received his academic training at Illinois Wesleyan University, and was graduated from the Garrett Biblical Institute in 1868. For a dozen years after his graduation he devoted himself to the founding and development of Methodist churches and colleges in the South and West. In 1892 he became executive officer of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society. This position he continued to fill until 1896, when he was elected missionary bishop for Africa.

Today's Birthdays

Princess Yolanda of Italy, who recently became the bride of Count Calvi di Bergolo, born in Rome, 22 years ago today.

Rev. Joseph C. Hartzell, for 20 years Methodist missionary bishop for Africa, born at Moline, Ill., 81 years ago today.

Mme Margarete Matsenaeuer, celebrated operatic mezzo-soprano, born in Hungary, 42 years ago today.

Rt. Rev. Patrick R. Heffron, Catholic bishop of Winona, born in New York City, 68 years ago today.

Prof. Leon G. Cole, the new chief of the animal husbandry division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, born at Allegany, N. Y., 46 years ago today.

Wives of Famous Men

Eleanor Kaunitz, Wife of Clemens Metternich

The marriage of Prince Metternich, Austrian diplomat, ruling power of the Congress of Vienna, although not one of ideal happiness and thrilling romance, was entirely satisfactory to all concerned, and for 30 years they lived together in harmonious friendship, interrupted only occasionally by the little disturbances.

At the time of their marriage Metternich was 22 and his bride two years his junior, was a spoiled young lady, much accustomed to flattery, although she was by no means a beautiful woman. From infancy she had been surrounded by luxury and society, and out of her own sphere she would have been like a fish out of water. At social functions she was perfectly at ease, but she was utterly unfit as a housewife or as the manager of her estate, and she had no intention of adapting herself to these occupations. After her marriage, as before, she spent her time amusing herself in the highest realms of society.

It was this quality, however, that made her the ideal wife for Metternich. For this man, who swayed the destinies of Europe after the capture of Napoleon it was necessary to have a wife of assured social standing and poise. Metternich was as pleasure loving as his wife, and thus, enjoying the same things, they enjoyed each other.

She had brought not only herself and her understanding, but also a big estate as a dowry, which helped her husband considerably. And the high social standing of her family brought him a prestige which was of great value.

Boy Week

Perhaps the Cricago youth who stole $1500 of his employer's money and came to New York to spend it was merely trying to show that there may be more than one kind of Boy Week.—New York Herald.

Mother: "How many times have I told you not to play with that horrid Baxter boy?"

Aggrieved Willie: "What do you think I am anyway, ma—an adding machine?"—American Legion Weekly.

A METICULOUS MEMORY

"I remember, I remember," said Alonzo Hiram Lee,
"The house where I was born among the oats-and timothy,
The shingle roof that always leaked, the grimy windowpanes,
The crazy stoop all mottled green and gray with weather stains,
The oaken bucket in the well—it weighed at least a ton—
The heat and cold in which I toiled, alas! from sun to sun,
The corncob mattress on my bed that tortured me all night,
The roosters that commenced to crow long hours before the light.

"There wasn't any radio or any phonograph,
Or colored Sunday supplements to make a fellow laugh—
We didn't have a telephone and so we had to bring
Our plows and tea and calico and every little thing.
We didn't have a handy car in which to swiftly go,
But had to hitch old Dobbin up and gee!—but he was slow,
We had no rural mail, nor did we have a parcel post,
And schooling was a theory that few of us could boast.

"I remember, I remember, the house where I was born,
The carpet in the sitting room in holes and tatters worn,
The ancient lounge with broken springs and colonies of moths,
The thick white china cups and plates and greasy tablecloths,
The messes that I had to eat of pork and beans and greens,
The fact I had no second suit or nickel in my jeans,
The straight hard-bottomed kitchen chairs—I ache all over yet.
I remember, I remember, but I wish I could forget."

—Minna Irving, in New York Herald.

The Boston Store
Norwich Reid & Hughes Co. Conn

The Graduation Gown

IT MEANS MUCH TO THE YOUNG LADY

White of course—simple in design, as befits youth—fine in weave — with lines and ornamentation suitable to adolescence—all of these the graduation dress must be and have.

These dainty models in fine Imported Organdie, soft Canton Crepe or filmy Georgette fill every requirement. They are pretty and dainty in every way and are most moderately priced.

FROM $10.95 TO $25.00

When The Frock Is To Be Made At Home These Weaves Suggest Themselves

IMPORTED SWISS ORGANDIE
Permanent in finish and 45 inches wide. A wide variety of values in stock—
69c—79c to $1.25

WHITE DOTTED SWISS
Width 30 inches—
69c a Yard

IMPORTED DOTTED SWISS
Very fine in quality and 30 inches wide—
$1.25 a Yard

PLAIN WHITE VOILES
There are voiles and voiles, but these Boston Store fabrics are the best you will find for the money. Widths from 40 to 44 inches—
69c—79c—89c to $1.25

FANCY WHITE VOILES
Lacy weaves which make the prettiest dresses imaginable. All are a yard wide—
50c—79c—98c a Yard

EXQUISITE NAINSOOKS
Truly delightful, so soft and so fine. No other weave can take its place—
29c—39c—45c—55c a Yd.

DIMITY
White dimity in stripes or checked weaves. For summer dresses there is none better—
49c and 59c a Yard

SHERETTE
A very popular cloth which resembles organdie, but with more body. Possibly better for junior clothes as it does not wrinkle so readily. It is 36 inches wide—
35c and 49c a Yard

40-INCH CREPE DE CHINE
Ivory white, all-silk crepe which is proving very popular this year—
$2.00 a Yard

40-INCH CREPE DE CHINE
A heavier weight in ivory white which will prove a lasting delight—
$3.00 a Yard

MALLINSON'S PUSSY WILLOW TAFFETA
The softness of finish, the all-around wearability and the quality make this a superb weave. For the graduation frock you will want the ivory white. It is washable—
$3.50 a Yard

INDIA SILK
An old friend which has qualities to be appreciated. Light in weight but durable. We have it in ivory, and it is a yard wide—
$1.50

40-INCH GEORGETTE
Like a bit of ivory cobweb, but with the strength that only pure silk possesses—
$2.00 a Yard

The Loyalty Class of the Trinity Methodist Church will hold a FOOD SALE, Friday, June 1st, from 12 to 4 o'clock, in our Downstairs Store.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Rescued By Big Brown Bear.

Now, who do you suppose grabbed wicked Danny Fox's tail as he was breaking in the door to get at the two little rabbits? You'll never guess, so I'll tell you right away. It was the Big Brown Bear. Yes, sir, he came by just in time let me tell you.

"Ouch, ouch!" cried Danny Fox,

"Oh please let go of my tail, Mr. Bear!"

turning around with a snarl but when he saw it was the Big Brown Bear, he sang another tune:

"Oh, please let go of my tail, Mr. Bear,
In a minute, it won't have a single hair
If you pull on it so, so please let it go
And I'll go straight home to my lair."

"Look here, Danny Fox," said the Big Brown Bear, giving the old fox's tail another pinch that made his eyes wink, "your promises are worth nothing. I'll let you go this time but if ever I catch you again bothering Uncle Lucky and Little Jack Rabbit, I'll cut off your tail with my big jack knife!" and, with another pinch, the Big Bear loosened his hold on the old fox.

"Now, you come out of your little log cabin," said the Big Brown Bear and the next minute out hopped the two little rabbits.

"How did you know we were inside?" asked little bunny.

"Because I saw the Luckymobile," said the Big Bear, "and, besides, I guessed that Danny Fox was after you."

Well, by this time it was morning and Mr. Merry Sun was shining down from the big blue sky.

"Don't you want to come too?" asked Uncle Lucky as he and the little rabbit hopped into the Luckymobile, but the Big Brown Bear shook his head and said that he had to go to the Three & One Cent Store to buy his wife a new bonnet.

By and by, the little rabbits came to a big hay stack belonging to a long legged grasshopper. He had raked up the hay with his mind legs and then piled it up with his front ones. On the top he had placed a sign on which was written in big red letters,

"Grasshopper Hay House."

"Let's make a call," said the little bunny, being a curious little rabbit, and, besides, never having been inside a hay house.

"What can I do for you?" asked the grasshopper when he opened his front door.

"We'd like to see your house," answered the little bunny.

"Yes, Mr. Grasshopper," laughed Uncle Lucky, with a bow, taking off his old wedding stovepipe hat, "we think you've made a mighty nice sort of a bungalow."

"Very well, come in," said the grasshopper.

So in hopped the two little rabbits and sat down in a big room where Mrs. Grasshopper was rocking her baby to sleep in a little cradle of straw, and, in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

Copyright 1923, David Cory

Stories That Recall Others

Songs and Smiles

He is one of those good natured conductors occasionally found on the back platform of a street car. In a recent rush hour he was whistling cheerily as the straphangers piled on in almost unbroken procession. The more they jammed the louder he whistled. Presently he looked up and saw peculiar smiles on the faces of his patrons. Then he grinned sheepishly and ceased his song.

He was whistling, "Feather Your Nest."

Most of Us Do

Fashion experts say a man should have three straw hats. Most men have every three years.

One seed of the double white lilac will produce a plant that eventually will bear thousands of flowers.

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.

DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.

THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY
(Incorporated 1824)
Main Street, Corner Broadway

HUMOR OF THE DAY

He—I have a presentiment that our engagement won't last. She—Oh, Harry, don't say that; I hope it will last forever.—London Opinion.

No. 1—I am sure Millie paints.
No. 2—And she certainly can draw men.—Exchange.

White: "You don't gain anything by arguing."

Gray: "Don't you? I gained this black eye by it last week."—Ottawa Citizen.

"Cousin Henry," gasped his country relative whom he was driving home, "you just missed that man."

"I know it!" returned her city host, speeding up a bit, "but I haven't got time to go back and try again."—Boston Transcript.

"Bill the Bolls-Boast auto Dealer guarantee their car for life," objected a prospective motor purchaser to a salesman for the Flivver Five.

"I know they do," he replied coolly. "But our car is guaranteed for a whole year."—American Legion Weekly.

Kind Old Gentleman: "What is your little brother crying about, my lad?"

Youngster: "Cause, I won't give him a bite of my apple."

"Didn't he have one?"

"Yes; and he cried while I ate that, too."—Exchange.

Ethel—Funny thing about Fred; he might be called a conversational fossle.

Tom—How's that?

Ethel—He makes love when he ought to play golf and he talks golf when he ought to make love."—Boston Transcript.

First Tramp (musingly)—Do you know, pard, they say dreams never come true?

Second Tramp—They do sometimes. When I was a kid I used to dream of the time when I could wear long pants. I wear them now all right, and nobody ever wore them any longer.—Pathfinder.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Mexico City and Moscow are about the same size in population.

The Majestic burns about 5,700 tons of oil in crossing the Atlantic.

Hawaiian tree ferns have been found to be a source of starch.

The American Bible society last year distributed 4,956,464 Bibles.

Synchronization of voices and picture on film reels has been achieved.

A Swedish concern will deliver 200 locomotives to Russia this year.

The United States and Great Britain lead the world in the manufacture of rubber sport goods.

King George has personally compiled one of the finest stamp collections in existence.

London has thirty places of worship where the services are conducted in the Welsh language.

In recent tests of the various gases for filling car tires, it was found that nitrogen will keep a tire inflated.

The largest flower in the world grows in Sumatra. It measures a yard across and weighs fifteen pounds.

The fortieth anniversary of the opening of the first central station electric generating plant by Thomas A. Edison, celebrated recently, has recalled the skepticism that greeted Edison's proposal to provide an electric light of convenient size and to supply electric heat and power as well. One doubter exclaimed: "Neither Mr. Edison nor anyone else can over-ride the well-known laws of nature, and when he is made to say that the same wire that brings you light will also bring you power and heat, there is no difficulty in seeing that more is promised than can possibly be performed. The talk about cooking by heat derived from electricity is absurd."

THUMMS

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST
TRY OUR
HOME-MADE SAUSAGE
THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

MR. AND MRS GOOD CITIZEN

Are you interested in the Salvation Army?
Do you want to help in its great task?
READ THE WAR CRY!
Sincerely,
Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

FISHING TACKLE
The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.
SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE
SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS
All Agate Guide Casting Rods. Excellent for Trout Fishing.
The HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium as better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin

FORSYTHE TEAM OF NEW HAVEN WILL BE BASEBALL ATTRACTION FOR SUNDAY

The fast Forsythe team of New Haven will be the attraction at the Fairgrounds on Sunday against the Norwich baseball club. The Forsythe team has the distinction of being the only semi-pro team to beat the New Haven Eastern League club this season. This was done in the early part of the season.

Last year the Forsythe team played here and lost out 6 to 4 with Canavan in the box for the local team. Stanley, who will pitch for the Forsythe team allowed only seven hits and struck out ten men and all that beat him was the four costly errors of his teammates. This year the team is just as strong and has been winning practically every game.

In the Forsythe lineup will be Bill Kelleher and Cavadini, both of whom are favorites with the local fans. The lineup will be Gordon ss, Gitlitz rf, Raffile 3b, Kelleher lf, O'Brien 2b, Cavadini cf, Nisto c, Stanley p.

The local lineup will be the same as last Wednesday when the local team took a loose game from the Rosebuds. Freddie Reiger will do the pitching and will be forced to extend himself more than he did earlier in the week. Joe Belair, local boy, who caught a splendid game on Memorial Day will do the backstop work. Joe also hit well getting three hits out of five trips to the plate. Eddie Hart willwl be on first. Massey and Faulkner will work around the keystone sack. This pair is a smooth working combination that protects the center of the infield in great style. Jack Murphy will play third. In the outfield will be Johnny Reiger, Edgar and Clabby. Lester Lee may also be brought down for the game as Jack Clabby's foot is bothering him a great deal.

It is hoped that the fans will be out in numbers for there is some talk that unless the attendance is larger than it was on Memorial Day that Sunday baseball in Norwich will be discontinued.

SPEAKER'S HOMER GIVES INDIANS CLOSE VICTORY

Chicago, Ill., May 31.—Tris Speaker's home rin with a man on base in the sixth inning gave Cleveland the winning margin of a 5 to 3 score against Chicago in the final game of the series. The locals had several opportunities to forge ahead, but lacked the punch. Score:

Cleveland (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Jamieson,lf	4	1	3	0	0
Wambs,2b	2	1	3	2	0
Speaker,cf	4	2	2	0	0
Bagby,p	3	0	1	4	0
Rapman,rf	3	0	1	0	0
Connolly,rf	1	0	0	0	0
J.Sewell,ss	4	1	2	1	0
Lalang,3b	4	0	1	2	0
Myatt,c	4	1	5	0	1
Metzler,p	2	0	0	0	0
Uhle,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	10	27	8	1

Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Hooper,rf	4	0	3	1	0
McClellan,m	0	0	3	1	0
Collins,h	2	2	5	8	0
Mostil,cf	5	3	3	0	0
Shreve,1b	4	1	12	2	0
Falk,f	3	1	0	0	0
Kamm,3b	4	1	0	1	0
Schalk,c	3	1	7	0	0
Thomas,p	2	0	0	2	0
Cvengros,p	1	0	1	0	0
xMaisel	1	0	0	0	0
T.Wmship,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	9	34	15	0

(x) Batted for Cvengros in 9th.
Score by innings:

Cleveland	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	3	0	5
Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	3

Two base hits, Speaker. Three base hit, Jamieson. Home run, Speaker.

YANKS TAKE EASY VICTORY OVER RED SOX

New York, May 31.—The New York Americans celebrated their return from a successful road trip with an easy victory over Boston, the score being 8 to 1. The Yankees piled up six runs on Murray and O'Doul in the fourth inning by bunching seven hits with Red Sox misplays. Pipp tied Hallmann's American league record for the season by hitting in his 21st consecutive game.

Score:

Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mitchell,rf	5	0	2	1	0
Walters,c	3	0	5	2	0
xRuth,lf	0	0	0	0	0
Pschal,e	4	0	0	0	0
Menosky,cf	2	1	3	1	0
Bums, b	4	0	6	1	0
Harris,lf	4	0	4	0	1
Vitmsend,rf	3	1	3	0	0
Shanks,2b	4	1	3	1	2
Mold'kan,3b	3	0	1	2	1
Murray,p	3	0	0	1	0
O'Doul,p	3	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	3	26	10	4

New York (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Witt,cf	5	0	2	1	0
Dugan,2b	5	2	1	3	0
Ruth,rf	3	1	4	0	0
Pipp,1b	3	1	6	0	0
Mosiel,lf	4	2	0	0	0
Bengough,c	4	0	5	1	0
Ward,3b	5	2	1	1	0
Scott,ss	4	1	1	4	1
McNally,rs	4	0	1	3	0
Quinn,ss	0	0	0	0	0
Shawkey,p	3	2	0	0	0
Totals	39	8	27	13	1

(x) Batted for Johnson in 9th.
Score by innings:

Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0—1
New York	0	0	0	6	2	0	0	0	x	—8

Two base hits, Ruth 2. Three base hit, Scott.

GRIMES HOLDS BRAVES AS DODGERS WIN

Boston, May 31.—Grimes held Boston to five hits today and his batting helped materially in Brooklyn's 5 to 3 victory over the local club. In the ninth with the score tied at two all, Grimes singled. He scored when Marquard threw wild on Neis' sacrifice bunt. Johnston's double scored Neis and the former scored on successive sacrifices by Bailey and Wheat. Boston used Felix at second base for the first time. The release of left handed pitcher Harry Hullihan of Boston was announced. He formerly pitched for Middlebury college. The score:

Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Wheat,lf	4	0	2	0	0
Johnston,2b	3	2	3	5	0
Bailey,cf	3	0	0	0	0
Wheat,rf	4	0	2	0	0
Fournier,1b	3	1	9	1	0
M'Carren,3b	2	1	0	2	0
Right,ss	4	0	2	4	0
Taylor,	4	1	4	1	0
Grimes,p	4	2	1	3	0
Totals	31	10	27	16	0

Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mizon,lf	3	1	2	0	0
Powell,cf	2	0	0	0	0
Bo'worth,rf	3	2	1	0	0
Mel'nis,1b	3	0	7	1	0
Boeckel,3b	2	0	2	1	0
Fels,2b	3	0	5	2	0
O'Neil,c	3	0	4	0	0
Smith,ss	3	1	0	2	0
Marquard,p	2	1	0	2	0
Totals	29	5	27	10	0

(x) Batted for Wheat in 9th.
Score by innings:

Brooklyn	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	3	—5
Boston	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	—3

Two base hits, Johnston, Mizon, Southworth.

BROWNS TROUNCE TIGERS IN HARD HITTING GAME

Detroit, May 31.—The tumbling Tigers took an 8 to 3 beating from St. Louis today when the Browns batted three Detroit pitchers hard, while Wright was holding the locals at a safe distance. Severoid hit safely five times out of five, twice for two bases. Every Brown hit safely. Johnson, who finished for Detroit, was the only one of the trio of Tiger pitchers who was able to puzzle the visitors. In the ninth he struck out the side. The score:

St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Pratt,ss	5	3	2	0	0
Sorhov,rf	4	1	1	1	0
Jacobs,cf	5	2	3	0	0
Williams,lf	5	2	2	0	0
McMan'n,2b	5	1	5	0	0
Severoid,c	5	5	2	1	0
Fisher,3b	5	1	0	3	0
Wortho,1b	5	1	3	7	0
Wright,p	3	1	0	0	0
Totals	45	17	27	12	1

Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Haney,m	4	0	2	5	0
Blue,1b	5	2	9	2	0
Cobb,cf	5	2	3	0	0
Veach,lf	4	1	1	0	0
Heffner,rf	4	1	3	0	1
Pratt,3b	4	2	0	1	0
Dugan,ss	4	0	2	3	0
McNeely,2b	4	0	2	4	0
Ehmke,p	2	0	0	1	0
Johnson,p	2	0	0	0	0
xKamm	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	8	24	16	1

(x) Batted for Johnson in 9th.
Score by innings:

St. Louis	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	5	x	—8
Detroit	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	—3

Two base hits, Severoid, 2, McManus, Pratt. Three base hits, Tobin and Williams.

REDS CONTINUE TO WIN BY BEATING CUBS

Cincinnati, May 31.—The Reds continued their winning streak today, by beating the Cubs 3 to 2 in the first game of the series. Luque pitched well, scoring his fifth victory in six starts this season. The Reds scored a run in the first inning on an error by Grantham and hits by Duncan and Bohne. Cheeves then blanked them until the seventh when a pass, a triple by Burns and a single by Duncan earned two runs. It was the third straight errorless game for the locals. The score:

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Statz,rf	4	1	3	0	0
Hollocher,m	1	0	2	3	0
Grantham,2b	4	0	1	1	1
O'Farrell,c	4	3	2	1	0
Fridley,3b	3	2	2	1	1
Weis,f	4	0	3	0	0
Gallagher,cf	3	0	2	0	0
Hartnett,1b	3	0	6	1	0
Cheeves,p	2	0	0	1	0
xHeathcote	0	0	0	0	0
Osborne,p	0	0	0	0	0
Total	34	6	24	8	2

(x) Batted for Cheeves in 8th.
Score by innings:

Chicago	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0—2
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	x	—3

Two base hit, Fridley. Three base hit, Burns. Double.

HOME RUNS FEATURE GIANTS-PHILLIES GAME

Philadelphia, May 31.—Three home runs, by Meusel, Groh and Kelly, enabled New York to win the first game of the series from Philadelphia today, 4 to 1. These three blows accounted for all the Giants tallies, one man being on base when Meusel hit for the circuit. Tierney, the new second baseman of the locals, made his first appearance on the home field and played good ball. Score:

New York (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Bancroft,ss	4	0	2	3	1
Groh,2b	3	2	0	3	0
Young,3b	4	1	2	4	0
Meusel,lf	4	1	2	0	0
Young,rf	4	0	1	1	0
Kelly,1b	4	0	11	1	0
Snyder,c	3	0	4	0	0
Ryan,p	3	0	0	1	0
Barnes,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	4	27	13	1

Philadelphia (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mokan,lf	2	1	3	0	0
Wrightstone,3b	3	0	0	5	0
Cox,rf	3	0	0	0	0
Williams,rf	1	0	3	0	0
Ike,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Walker,cf	0	0	0	0	0
Tierney,2b	3	1	2	3	0
Hoch,1b	3	2	13	0	0
Sand,c	2	0	1	3	0
Weinert,c	1	0	0	0	0
Mitchell,p	2	0	0	2	0
xHendrix	1	0	0	0	0
Hubbell,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	25	5	27	14	0

(x) Batted for Mitchell in 8th.
(xx) Batted for Walker in 9th.
(xxx) Batted for Weinert in 9th.
Score by innings:

New York	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	—4
Philadelphia	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

Two base hit, Groh. Home runs, Meusel, Groh and Kelly.

CARDINALS HIT MEADOWS HARD AND BEAT PIRATES

St. Louis, May 31.—St. Louis took the first game of the series with Pittsburgh today, 4 to 1. The Cardinals pounded Meadows for five hits in the fourth for three tallies. It was Meadows' first appearance here against his former team mates in a Pittsburgh uniform. Score:

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Miller,ss	4	0	1	6	0
Carey,cf	4	0	2	0	0
Bigbee,lf	3	1	1	0	0
Rose,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Traynor,3b	4	1	1	3	0
Grimm,1b	4	1	11	1	0
Rawlings,2b	3	0	2	2	0
Schmidt,c	3	0	3	0	0
Meadows,p	3	0	1	3	0
Totals	32	5	21	15	0

St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Smith,lf	2	0	1	0	0
Dyer,lf	1	0	3	0	0
Flack,rf	3	2	3	0	0
Toporcer,2b	4	1	2	3	0
Blueberg,1b	4	2	8	2	0
Stock,3b	4	1	1	1	0
Myers,cf	4	0	2	0	0
Freigau,ss	3	2	1	2	0
McGrady,c	3	1	1	0	0
Tom,p	3	0	2	1	0
Totals	31	9	27	9	0

Score by innings:

Pittsburgh	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1
St. Louis	0	0	0	3	1	0	0	0	x	—4

Two base hits, Freigau, Flack.

WINDHAM HIGH BEATS ACADEMY TEAM, 8 TO 4

Windham High hung another defeat on the already downtrodden Academy team at Recreation Park in Willimantic on Thursday afternoon taking a loosely played game by a score of 8 to 4. Both teams played ragged ball but the breaks of the game went to the home team. There was considerable comment on the decisions of the umpire who seemingly favored the home club. Burr starred for Windham with a homer, a triple and a single. Hollander and McNamara did the heavy hitting for the Academy. Miela and Walz pitched good ball but were poorly supported. The score:

Windham High	ab	h	po	a	e
Z'ukoff,2b	4	2	2	3	0
Hosier,cf	4	2	1	0	0
Read,lf	3	0	2	0	0
Burr,c	3	2	7	0	0
Tourtellotte,rf	3	0	0	0	0
Kelley,ss	3	0	0	2	0
Wilmarth,1b	4	1	5	1	0
DeMarco,as	4	1	1	2	0
Stevens,p	3	0	0	0	0
Mella,p	1	0	0	3	0
Totals	40	8	27	12	1

N. F. A.	ab	h	po	a	e
Spalding,rf	4	0	0	1	0
Sella,rf	0	0	2	0	0
Richards,lf	4	0	3	0	0
Miller,c	4	0	6	2	0
McNara,3b	3	2	1	2	0
Wa.x,p	3	0	0	1	0
Kinzer,cf	4	0	2	0	0
Hollander,lf	4	2	1	0	0
Scrousos,ss	3	1	2	2	0
Tomicek,2b	3	0	1	2	0
McGowan,2b	2	0	2	2	0
Totals	40	5	24	12	3

Score by innings:

N. F. A.	2	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	—4
Windham	1	2	0	3	1	0	1	0	x	—8

Three base hit, Burr. Home run, Burr. Hit by pitcher, Spalding, Israel. Struck out, by Mella 3, by Walz 4.

HAGEN TURNS IN LOW SCORE AT LYNTHAM

Lytham, Lancashire, England, May 31.—(By the A. P.)—Walter Hagen, American golfer who holds the British open title, today repeated his performance of yesterday in the northern professional golf championship by turning in a card of 72. Frank Ball, of Langley Park, however, went around in one less and is tied with the American star for the lead with an aggregate of 144 for the 72 holes.

Jim Barnes had a 75, bringing his total to 148; Gene Sarazen also took 75 for a total of 149, and Johnny Farrell 78, making his total 151. Edward Ray, the British star and Tom Walton, the home professional, also aggregated 148, while James Ockenden of Raynes Park and J. Brews of South Africa are tied with Sarazen at 149. Jangle, another South African, was among the three who drew level with Farrell.

MITCHELL STILL RETAINS HIS TITLE DESPITE DEFEAT

Milwaukee, Wis., May 31. — Pinkie Mitchell, Milwaukee boxer, still retains the junior welterweight championship belt despite the outcome of the contest with Benny Leonard in Chicago Tuesday night, according to Judge A. J. Hedding, chairman of the commission in charge of the junior welterweight emblem.

The commission has ruled, Judge Hedding stated, that inasmuch as the legality of holding the contest in Illinois was in question and further that Leonard, having refused to weigh in preceding the contest, compels the commission to make its ruling definite.

Pinkie Mitchell is anxious for a return match with the lightweight champion, either as a lightweight or in the junior welter class.

BRASCCOS GO ON BATTING RAMPAGE AND BEAT WORCESTER

Worcester, Mass., May 31.—Waterbury enjoyed a batting fest at the expense of Stryker and Roberts today and defeated Worcester, 14 to 3. McCorry, Long and King each made four hits the third baseman getting two doubles and a triple. McCorry made a home run over the right field fence. King made four singles in five times at bat, his other effort being a long fly to right. Fuller pitched finely. Score by innings:

Waterbury	4	0	0	0	3	0	3	1	—	14
Worcester	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	—	1

Two base hits, Long (2), Bronkie, Kane. Three base hits, Long, Gallagher Home run, McCorry.

Clovers Win.

The Hallville Clovers beat the Baltic All-Stars by a score of 3 to 7 at Hallville Park on Memorial Day. Mansfield, the Clover pitcher, was the star of the game fanning ten batters and getting two homers.

TODAY'S SPORTS.

RACING.

Meeting of Westchester Racing association at Belmont Park.

Meeting of Kentucky Jockey club at Louisville.

Meeting at Thorncliffe Park, Toronto.

Meeting of Connaught Park Jockey club opens at Ottawa.

TENNIS

Anglo-Belgian Davis Cup match, conclude at Brussels.

Indian-Irish Davis Cup matches begin at Dublin.

GOLF.

New Jersey amateur championship, at West Orange.

POLO.

Annual tournament of Bryn Mawr Polo club, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Annual tournament of Whippany River club, Morristown, N. J.

TRACK

Western Intercollege Conference championships, at Ann Arbor.

North Central Intercollegiate conference championships at Sioux City.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

National League.

New York 4, Philadelphia 1.
Brooklyn 5, Boston 2.
Chicago 2, Cincinnati 3.
Pittsburgh 1, St. Louis 4.

American League.

Cleveland 5, Chicago 4.
St. Louis 8, Detroit 3.
Boston 1, New York 8.

American Association

Louisville 8, Indianapolis 1.
Columbus 2, Toledo 7.
Kansas City 8, Milwaukee 3.

International League.

Newark 1, Jersey City 8.
Toronto 17, Buffalo 9.
Baltimore 5, Reading 10.
Rochester 9, Syracuse 4.

Eastern League

Albany 2, Bridgeport 3.
Waterbury 14, Worcester 1.
Hartford 5, Pittsfield 3.
Springfield 3, New Haven 11.

COLLEGE GAMES

At New York—
Colgate 6, City College of New York 5.
At Northfield, Vt.—
Tufts 10, Norwich 5.
At Providence, R. I.:
Georgetown 5; Providence College 0.

THE STANDING

National League

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	30	11	.732
Pittsburgh	24	16	.600
Brooklyn	21	18	.538
Chicago	18	21	.462
St. Louis	20	22	.476
Cincinnati	18	20	.474
Boston	16	23	.410
Philadelphia	12	28	.300

American League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	29	10	.744
Philadelphia	20	16	.556
Cleveland	22	17	.564
Detroit	19	21	.475
St. Louis	17	20	.459
Washington	14	21	.400
Chicago	14	22	.389
Boston	13	21	.382

Eastern League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Hartford	23	10	.657
New Haven	20	11	.645
Springfield	17	12	.586
Waterbury	16	16	.500
Albany	14	18	.438
Worcester	13	18	.419
Bridgeport	11	18	.379
Pittsfield	10	20	.333

International League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Rochester	27	10	.730
Baltimore	25	15	.625
Reading	24	17	.585
Toronto	19	16	.543
Buffalo	18	18	.500
Jersey City	16	23	.410
Newark	13	23	.361
Syracuse	11	28	.282

GAMES TODAY.

National League.

New York at Philadelphia.
Brooklyn at Boston.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

American League.

Boston at New York.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Cleveland at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Washington.

Eastern League.

Albany at New Haven.
Bridgeport at Springfield.
Waterbury at Worcester.
Hartford at Pittsfield.

GREENEVILLE HEADS GRAMMAR SCHOOL BALL LEAGUE

To the score of 16 to 14, Greeneville defeated the Taftville Grammar school on the Taftville diamond yesterday afternoon. The game proved to be a real tussle all the way through and was a good one, except for the actions of some of the fans who insisted upon explaining to the umpire how the game was played in Taftville.

Broadway also came in for a win by defeating the Elizabeth Street school 10 to 6.

The standings.

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Greeneville	3	0	1.000
Taftville	2	1	.667
St. Patrick's	1	1	.500
Broadway	1	2	.333
Elizabeth Street	0	2	.000
Norwich Town	0	1	.000

NEW HAVEN TEAM WANTS GAMES IN NORWICH

The Italian-American baseball team, New Haven's leading semi-pro club, have a few more open dates on the road and would like nothing better than a crack at Mr. O'Leary's Norwich club. Last year our club trimmed the best clubs in the western part of the state, namely, Yale & Towne, Stamford, South Norwalk & C., Sound Beach club, Nash Engineering club, Norwalk, Wilton Town team, Middletown Town team, Portland Town team and other clubs of the same class.

The same challenge goes for Taftville, Jewett City, Baltic and other clubs of the same class.

Frank Ferrenno, manager, New Haven. Telephone 8915.

CANAVAN ALLOWS HILLIES ONLY THREE SCATTERED HITS

Pittsfield, Mass., May 31.—Hartford defeated Pittsfield 5 to 3 today. Canavan allowed only three scattered hits but he passed three men in a row before Gardella singled for two runs in the fourth inning. Score:

Hartford	1	1	0	1	0	0	1	1	0	—5
Pittsfield	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	—3

Two base hits, Schmehl, Belanger, Bosse. Three base hits, Belanger. Home runs, Conway.

A Challenge.

The Sterling Speed Boys would like to hear from teams in this vicinity for a game for Saturday or for the following aturdays. The Speed Boys average from 16 to 18 years of age. Wilfred Thibeau is manager of the team and his address is Box 72, Sterling, Conn.

SWANEES TURN BACK SPENCER'S CORNETS IN TWILIGHT GAME

The Swanees trampled all over the Cornets Thursday evening at the Fairgrounds when they took a six inning game by the score of 9 to 3. The Swanees were on a batting bee and clouted Tommy Simcox's offering without mercy or regard to his feelings. In the first inning the Swanees landed on Simcox for three runs and in the second added for two more.

The Cornets big inning was the first when they scored two runs off Tennant's delivery on hits and errors. They scored again in the third inning but after that they were unable to cross the plate although there were men on bases in every inning. The Swanees scored two runs in the fifth inning and two in the sixth. The score:

Swanees.

McInnes,2b	1
Boyd,	1
Mc	1
Hoffner,lf	1	0	1	0	0
	1
St. Jo	1
	1
Sweeney,c	1
Tolland	1
Sanford	1
Totals

Cornets.

Swanees										—9
										—3

Three base hit, Gagnon.

FIRST PAYMENT MADE BY COL. RUPPERT

New York, May 31.—A first installment of $500,000 in cash was paid by Colonel Jacob Ruppert today when sole ownership of the New York Yankees passed formally into his hands. It was reported tonight. The last legal knots were tied today by which Ruppert agreed to pay Colonel T. L. Huston $1,500,000 for his first interest.

The terms of the transaction as understood in baseball circles, were $500,000 cash and ten annual installments of $75,000 each, representing a profit of between $1,000,000 and $1,250,000 at least to Colonel Huston for nine years in baseball.

WHITEBECK WINS HARVARD INTERSCHOLASTIC TITLE

Cambridge, Mass., May 31.—John F. Whitbeck of Bronxville, N. Y., captain of the Lincoln School tennis team of Windsor, Conn., won the annual Harvard interscholastic tennis championship today, defeating Charles Watson, of Philadelphia, captain of the Andover team 3-6, 6-3, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

By winning this match Whitbeck brought his team into a tie with Andover, each having won 14 points in the tournament. Newton High stands third with 8 points. Exeter Academy and Woonsocket High each took one point.

NEW HAVEN SLAUGHTERS SPRINGFIELD PITCHERS

New Haven, May 31.—New Haven hit Springfield pitchers hard here this afternoon winning, 11 to 3. Fried pitched good ball for the Profs. Bowman Attread, each got four hits. Gagnon got a home run in the fourth. It was Fried's fourth consecutive win of the season without a defeat. Score by innings:

Springfield	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	1	—3
New Haven	1	0	0	2	1	4	0	1	3	x—11

Two base hits, Attread, Bowman. Three base hit, Neher. Home run, Gagnon.

FINALS IN EASTERN STATES TENNIS TODAY

Philadelphia, May 31.—Miss Anne E. Townsend, of Merion, and Miss Molly D. Thayer, of the Philadelphia cricket club, will meet tomorrow in the final round of the Pennsylvania and Eastern States women's tennis championship. Both advanced from the semi-finals today by close victories over opponents. Miss Townsend defeated Miss Virginia Carpenter, Philadelphia by 7-5, 6-3, while Miss Thayer eliminated Mrs. H. B. Coxe, Jr., Philadelphia, 6-2, 7-5.

BRIDGEPORT TAKES EASY GAME FROM AIBANY

Bridgeport May 31.—Bridgeport hit opportunely behind Brown and coupled with the visitors' errors defeated Albany 5 to 2 here today. The batting of Emmerich featured. Score by innings:

Albany	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	—2
Bridgeport	2	0	1	0	5	0	0	0	x	—5

Two base hits, Emmerich 2, Fisher. Three base hit, Rosenthal.

JOHNSON IS SOLD BY WHITE SOX TO YANKS

New York, May 31.—Ernest Johnson, a shortstop of the Chicago American League baseball club has been acquired by the New York Yankees, it was announced today. He will be used as a utility infielder, it was said. Several American league club had claimed Johnson, but he was awarded to the Yankees at the waiver price of $4,000.

Bearcat Juniors Win Again.

The Bearcat Juniors of Taftville defeated the Taggart's All-Stars on the J. E. Martin grounds Wednesday afternoon in a loosely played game by the score of 23 to 13. The Bearcats would like to hear from the Union Street Yankees or the Laurel Hill Giants for a game this coming Sunday or any team in the 16-year-old class. Any team desiring a game for Sunday please call up Ponemah Wheel Club, 1933-3, between 5 and 6 p. m.

Tonight's Game.

The game tonight will be between the Harddigs and the Jail Hill A. C., both teams have had a long lay off and are anxious to get going tonight. There is much rivalry between the Jail Hill section of the city and the West Side and many hard battles have been fought between teams from these sections both on the diamond and on the football field.

Scalpers Trim A. C. C.

On Wednesday morning at Mohegan Park the Scalpers beat a team from the Atlantic Carton Co., by a score of 20 to 19. Both teams hit hard and often. The Scalpers have an open date for Sunday and would like a game with the Daredivils or some other local team. H. Whitehead, 183 Boswell avenue is the manager.

Davis Cup Play in Switzerland

Territet, Switzerland, May 31.—(By the A. P.)—Czecho-Slovakia won the doubles match in today's Davis cup competition with Switzerland's lawn tennis experts by a score of 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, 8-6. The Swiss won both of the singles matches yesterday, making the score thus far two to one in their favor.

Mangham Forced to Quit

San Antonio, Tex., May 31.—Clarence Mangham, local golf professional, was forced to quit his attempt to establish a new golf marathon record after driving off the eighth tee at Brackenridge Park today, having completed 97 holes, because of an injured knee.

Bowman Wins Interscholastic Golf

Rye, N. Y., May 31.—D. Bowmann of Plainfield, N. J., representing Tome, Md., won the national interscholastic golf tournament today, defeating M. Byrne of Brooklyn Polytechnic High school in 36 holes, 8 and 6.

Rosedales Win and Lose.

The Greeneville Rosedales split even in their Memorial Day games, winning from the Union Street Greens in the morning by a score of 16 to 9 and losing to the All-Stars, 13 to 12, in the afternoon.

Yale Tennis Team Wins

New Haven, May 31.—The Yale tennis team defeated Carnegie Tech, nine matches to none here today.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Collinsville—Special memorial services were held in the Trinity Episcopal church. It was the 30th anniversary of the ordination service of their pastor, Rev. Harry W. Perkins.

New Hartford—Rev. Grace I. Edwards, who completed 20 years of service as pastor of the church in Nepaug, was given a purse of $

The F. A. Wells Co.

Are Making a Special Price On

Top Coats

For Saturday

About 15

Top Coats

—AT—

$26.75

Regular Price $35.00

Straws Are Here

$1.75 — $2.00 — $2.50 and $3.00

It's Time For Blue Serge Suits

These Here—One Good Kind

$25.00, $27.50, $30.00, $35.00 and $50.00

The F. A. Wells Co.

"Good Clothes Store"

1728 1923

Norwich, Friday, June 1, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7.47 o'clock tonight (s. t.)

Many improvements and much construction has been going on at Ocean Beach during this winter and spring.

Forty graves, of which 16 were those of Civil war veterans, were decorated Memorial day at the East Hampton cemetery.

The State Library has received from the consulate general of Finland a complimentary copy of Trade and Industry of Finland.

Strawberry supper at Scotland Road hall tonight.—adv.

Today being the first Friday of the month masses for the League of Sacred Heart members will be offered at St. Mary's Memorial church.

After having undergone a serious operation in Hartford J. T. McKnight has returned to his home in Ellington much improved in health.

John C. Ellis, Americanization director, is back in New London after an enforced absence of about ten weeks due to illness in Philadelphia.

The U. S. bureau of public roads produces figures based on a survey of traffic in Connecticut to prove that a good road soon repays all it cost.

Nine members of the Ickoyaka Camp Fire Circle of Groton spent Tuesday night and Wednesday at the Uncas lodge, Camp Mohegan at Twin lakes.

The Hartford police have been asked to locate two students at the Mansfield Training School who have been missing since noon Wednesday.

Mrs. Agnes Bowers of Waterford, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Beatrice, to John C. Cook of New London. The wedding will take place Sunday, June 10.

That the town of Groton is assessing taxable property in the town at 51.32 per cent of the selling value is an assertion of State Tax Commissioner William H. Blodgett.

At Coventry Wednesday morning a memorial address was delivered at the Second Congregational church by Rev. Raymond A. Beardsley of Manchester Congregational church.

Whist given by Mrs. Ora Spencer, Buckingham Memorial tonight, 8 o'clock.—adv.

Listed in recent real estate transfers at Hartford is the following: George K. Schieldge to Emma L. Lamphere of Westerly, R. I., land and buildings, Irving street, $3,480.

Robert W. Young of New London has been commissioned a first lieutenant, Field Artillery, in the Officers' Reserve corps according to an announcement of the war department.

At St. Mary's church Sunday evening there is to be a profession of new members into the Young Ladies' Sodality, Maidens of the Sacred Heart and Immaculate Conception societies.

Registrars Tyler D. Guy and C. J. Downes were busy Thursday demonstrating the use of the voting machines at the court house. Demonstrations will be held today (Friday) and Saturday.

Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs, will be one of the first eastern colleges to inaugurate the Little Theatre movement if plans now being completed at the Connecticut Agricultural college mature.

June 12 a record breaking fleet of American yachts, manned by doughty crews of enthusiasts, will set off at 10 a. m. from the starting line in New London harbor in a race to Bermuda, 662 miles away.

Official notification has been received that men making application for military training whose 17th birthday is in 1923 will be accepted at camps this summer providing they can pass the physical tests.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Danz of West Mystic have announced that their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Ann Danz, and Joseph Harrington of New London will be married at St. Patrick's church in Mystic June 11.

Remember "Patty Makes Things Hum" at the Universalist church tonight at 8 o'clock. Tickets 50 cents. —adv.

Uncle Sam is taking an automatic permanent record of the economic worth of all highways which he is helping the individual states to build, which will also show the development of highway transportation.

Mrs. Alfred King of Groton gave a party Tuesday afternoon in honor of the twelfth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Charlotte. Games and music were enjoyed and baked beans, sandwiches, cocoa, cake and ice cream were served.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Minott Thompson Wallace of Branford, for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Welch Wallace, to Gerald William Walker, of Hartford on Saturday, June 9, at Trinity church, Branford.

At Hebron a union memorial service was held in the Congregational church. The address was given by Professor Purdy of Hartford. The choir was assisted by Mrs. C. E. Pendleton, Miss Janet Pendleton, E. A. Gillette of Colchester.

With but three veterans of the Civil war in line the borough of Groton observed Memorial day with the usual parade and services at the Grey memorial monument. The three veterans were Elon Stebbins, Samuel Stevens and Herbert F. Taft.

Graduates, who, when in college were members of the staff of The Tripod, the Trinity College student publication, will take over the alumni issue of the paper which is to be published in connection with the centennial commencement of the college.

United States Senator William E. Borah will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stoeckel at Norfolk over the week-end. Senator Borah will address the annual gathering of the Litchfield County University club which meets at Whitehouse Friday evening.

The search is still going on for the recovery of the bodies of John E. Devens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bartlett of Fishers Island, and Peter P. Uckus, son of Mrs. Constance Uckus, of Seymour, who disappeared on May 5, after leaving the Hay Harbor club in a canoe.

SPEAKERS FOR EASTERN CONN. BRANCH MEETING

Mrs. Theodore S. Lee of the Woman's Board and Mrs. Richard H. Emrich, national director of the Near East Relief, are to be the speakers in New London on Wednesday, June 6, at the 48th annual meeting of the Eastern Connecticut Branch, W. B. F. M., when annual reports and election of officers will be on the programme with other business. The sessions will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m., daylight saving time, at the First church parish house and there will be a basket luncheon.

Only 3 per cent. of the population of Kingston, Jamaica, is white.

PERSONALS

Miss Lone C. Disco has returned home after spending Memorial Day with relatives on Long Island.

Gordon Miller has returned to New Haven after visiting his mother Mrs. F. A. Miller of Penobscot street.

Mrs. George T. Lowman of Columbus, Neb., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Henschel of Main street.

Miss Anna Rourke of New Haven, who has been the guest of Mrs. F. A. Miller of Penobscot street, has returned home.

Rev. D. A. Pitt, Miss Alit Stephens, Mrs. J. D. Rouge and Charles H. Brown attended the Northern Baptist convention annual meeting at Atlantic City this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Gale and children of Portland, Me., have returned home by automobile after visiting with Mr. Gale's aunt, Mrs. Walter C. Foster of 16 Union street.

A party including George Amburn, Mrs. Minnie Amburn, Miss Ione Breckenridge, Mrs. Effie House and Mr. and Mrs. William Amburn motored to Saugus, Mass., and spent Memorial Day with Mr. and Mrs. Fenno Johnson.

OBITUARY.

Patrick Danahy

After an illness of about one month during which he was tenderly cared for by his daughters the long and peaceful life of Patrick Danahy came to a close Memorial Day at his home on Berkley street, Providence.

Mr. Danahy came to Norwich when a boy with his parents from Ireland and was educated here. He learned the carpentering trade here with the firm of Willoughy & Crowell and was an expert workman. He was later married to Miss Catherine McGillicuddy in this city and about 37 years ago moved to Providence. His wife died April 8, 1920, aged 73 years and was buried in Norwich.

He is survived by two daughters, Mary, who lives at home, and Mrs. John J. Devine, wife of John J. Devine of Norwich. There is also a son John Danahy of Norwich.

Mr. Danahy was 74 years of age and was a member of the Holy Name society. News of his death was received with sorrow by his many friends.

FUNERALS.

George J. Kraft

Funeral services for George J. Kraft were held Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence at 35 Perkins avenue, relatives and friends attending. There were many beautiful floral tributes, testimony to the esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

The service was conducted by Rev. David A. Pitt, pastor of the Central Baptist church, of which Mr. Kraft had been sexton for 30 years. During the service two selections were rendered by Mrs. Helena M. T. Church. Burial was in Yantic cemetery where a committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Pitt. The bearers were Lewis R. Church, Emery Davis, C. Edward Smith, Eugene Smith, Harold S. Burt and James L. Case.

Arrangements were by Church and Allen.

WEDDING.

Gale-Dugas

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church when Rev. M. H. May, the pastor, united in marriage Miss Alice Laura Dugas of 80 Shetucket St., and Julius Bartwell Gale of 16 Union street. The couple were attended by Miss Marie Dugas, sister of the bride as maid and Albert Cloutier as best man.

The bride was beautifully gowned in brocaded satin with satin slippers to match and her veil was of tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was gowned in canton crepe with picture hat to match and her bouquet was of pink roses.

Following the wedding a reception was held and wedding breakfast served at the home of the parents of the bride at 80 Shetucket street, about 50 guests being present among them relatives from New Bedford, Taftville and Portland, Me.

The bride received many beautiful gifts of silverware, linen, cut glass, china and household articles. The bride's gift to the maid was a silver bracelet and the groom's gift to his best man a gold chain and comb.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale left shortly after noon on their wedding tour to New Bedford and upon their return will reside at 80 Shetucket street where on Saturday evening a reception will be tendered them by relatives and friends.

The groom was born in Montpelier, Vt., the son of Burton B. Gale and Julia Wheat Gale, but has lived in this city many years at 16 Union St., and is employed as a fireman in the city department. The bride was born in Canada, the daughter of Odilon Dugas and Emma Fontaine Dugas, and has spent most of her life in Taftville and Norwich.

The couple have many friends who wish them joy in their married life.

Johnson-Wuttkey

Miss Florence Wuttkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wuttkey of this city and Arthur Raymond Johnson, estates manager with the Western Trust Company, Saskatchewan, Regina, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Johnson, were united in marriage Thursday evening, May 17 at 7.30 o'clock at St. Paul's church, Regina by Ven. Archdeacon Davidson.

The bride, who wore a suit of navy blue poiret twill, with smart model hat to match and corsage bouquet of roses, was given in marriage by the groom's father. Miss Cherry Gorrell acted as bridesmaid, and Fred Harding was best man.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rideout, 2109 Lorne street. A buffet luncheon was served at which Mrs. Johnson, Sr., poured tea. Mrs. J. Patterson Shaw cut ices, and the Misses Cherry Gorrell, Edythe Christie and Marion Grassick assisted in serving. The toast to the bride was proposed by Major M. A. Macpherson.

During the evening the young couple were presented a Chesterfield lamp by Mr. Dideout on behalf of the office staff of the Western Trust Company. Dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home in Regina.

ARGUMENTS CLOSE CASE OVER COTTRELL WILL

The suit of Mrs. Leona Baite Cottrell for an allowance of $100 per day from the estate of her husband, the late Edgar H. Cottrell, who left an estate of over a million, was on trial all day Thursday in the superior court here before Judge George E. Hinman. She is also asking to be appointed guardian of her five children.

Those to testify were the petitioner, Arthur M. Cottrell, one of the executors of the will, and former Probate Judge Elias B. Hinckley.

Both sides concluded their evidence and the arguments were made by Attorney Frank L. McGuire and Judge Gardiner Greene for Mrs. Cottrell and by Attorney H. I. Rathbun for the executors. Judge Hinman took the case

VARIETY OF LITIGATION CAUSES IN NEW SUITS FOR SUPERIOR COURT

Two suits because of automobile collisions are among new cases for June in the superior court that have just been filed with the clerk of the court, Judge George E. Parsons, at his office in this city.

Attorneys in the litigations have had the following suits filed:

Motorcycle and Auto.

Damages of $3,000 are sought by George E. Bradford of New London from Thomas De Pois of Westerly for injuries Bradford received and for damages to his motorcycle. Bradford claims the motorcycle was run into by the defendant's automobile at Fort Hill, on October 1, 1922, when the two cars were traveling in opposite directions. The motorcycle was damaged to the extent of $100 and Bradford received injuries to his left leg and knee, his back was sprained and his nervous system shocked.

Two Autos Collided.

Donald S. McDonald of Montville sues John Hoeick of Pawcatuck for $1,500 damages to McDonald's automobile in a collision with Hoeick's car on the night of April 24, 1923 on the Norwich turnpike in the town of Waterford. The McDonald car, it is claimed, had rim and tire, two fenders, running board, rear end housing, torque rod, rear axle broken, and transmission and emergency brake lever completely destroyed. The cars met while traveling in opposite directions and the plaintiff alleges that the damage to his car was caused by the dangerous rate of speed of Hoeick's car, that Hoeick was on the wrong side of the road, failed to keep a proper lookout for approaching vehicles and failed to give warning on approaching a curve, or to slow down his car.

Alleges Fraud in Transfer.

Claims of intent to defraud creditors by the transfer of real estate are made in a suit brought by the Middletown Trust Co., administrator of the estate of John Morgan late of Lyme, deceased, against Nathan M. Morgan of Lyme. It is alleged that John Morgan, who died Aug. 28, 1920, conveyed to Nathan M. Morgan on July 7, 1917, the 200 acre "Dawley" farm, but the deed was not being recorded until Feb. 21, 1918. On July 14, 1919, Nathan M. Morgan, action under direction of John Morgan, according to the claim made, conveyed 100 acres of the farm to Henry L. Merry, who paid John Morgan $4,000. There are claims of $9,500 against the John Morgan estate, which is insolvent and the conveyed property will be needed to pay the creditors. It is alleged that a large amount of the claims accrued prior to the execution of the purported deed and the creditors trusted John Morgan upon the strength of his ownership of the property.

Damages of $2,000, judgment canceling and setting aside the deed and judgment directing Nathan Morgan to recover the property and so much thereof as the title to which now stands in his name are sought in the suit.

For Lost Household Goods.

LeRoy C. Potter of New London sues T. J. Horrigan of Meriden, a warehouse proprietor, for $1,500 damages for the value of household furniture and other merchandise, which were delivered for storage on April 4, 1917 and were lost to the plaintiff through the alleged negligence of the defendant.

On $7,000 Mortgage.

Alice T. Barlow of New London sues for foreclosure of a $7,000 mortgage on property on the corner of Bayonet and Whittlesey streets, New London. The mortgage was given by Paul Gager on Nov. 24, 1920. William R. Friable, Lena Cinquergrine, each claiming attachment liens of $800, William Wilson claiming a lien of $800, and George Baier, the tenant of the property, are named as party defendants.

To Get Her Alimony.

In two suits brought against her divorced husband, David Esiahan, of New London, and his sister, Katherine Esiahan of the same place, Annie Clark Esiahan of East Lyme, asks foreclosure of a judgment for $1,300 alimony against him, that a conveyance of four tracts of real estate in New London from David Esiahan to Katherine Esiahan be declared void and that Katherine Esiahan be enjoined from making any conveyance or placing any encumbrance on the property. The plaintiff obtained a divorce decree in the superior court on July 5, 1921 on the grounds of desertion, with a judgment for $1,300 alimony. It is claimed that Esiahan made the conveyance of real estate, which was his sole assets at the time, with intent to avoid his marital duty of support of his wife and minor child, and to avoid the payment of any alimony which might thereafter be decreed to the plaintiff. It is alleged that the alimony has never been paid and that the sister knew that the transfer was made for the purpose as claimed. The time set for payment of the alimony was on or before Sept. 1, 1921.

Against Mohegan Cotton Mills.

Charles E. Rogers of New London, employed as manager from Feb. 10, 1923 of the New London factory of the Mohegan Cotton Mills Co., sues the company for his salary for the whole period to the present time. He claims there is $1,125 due which has not been paid.

Frank L. McGuire of New London sues the Mohegan Cotton Mills Co., for a note for $4,000, dated Jan. 1, 1922, payable in four months, which is unpaid.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED IN LORRAINE MILLS STRIKE

(Special to the Bulletin)

Westerly, May 31—Agreement was reached Thursday night between the Lorraine Mill operators who had been out on strike since May 1st and the management as the result of a close vote taken before the meeting, held in Caledonian hall on Main street, which adjourned at 11 o'clock. As a result the operators will return to work Monday morning June 4th.

It was voted to accept the terms as offered by the company. The proposition of the company is that they are going to take up the agreements and adjust them, through committees in the department where the agreements exist. The textile organization has also voted full moral and financial assistance to those who do not go to work immediately. These committees are to meet in the mill office and go thoroughly into the merits of the questions involved. Much credit is given for the getting together of operators and management to John Keidley, agent of the board of conciliation and mediation, United States department of labor, who came from Washington and showed his ability to confer with both sides of the labor dispute. "Fair, equitable and satisfactory in every way" is the characterization given his handling of the questions involved by the textile operatives and also by the mill management.

CHARLES COIT CANDIDATE FOR THE POSTMASTERSHIP

Another name has been added to the list of candidates for the postmastership of Norwich through the announcement that Charles Coit of 135 Broadway has entered the field at the solicitation of a number of his friends. Three other well known citizens, First Selectman Casper K. Bailey, Charles W. Burton and Edwin L. Burnap, had previously been announced as out for the appointment when the term of Postmaster John P. Murphy expires on the first of September.

Mr. Coit is a native of Norwich where his father was postmaster for a number of years after his honorable discharge from the army after the civil war. He is a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and of Yale University and attended the graduate school at Harvard until entering the service. During the European war he was a commissioned officer in the air service and was finally in charge of the material from all aircraft contracts in New England. His family has always been prominent in the civic and social affairs of Norwich and his entering the field of candidates for postmastership in his home city will be learned with a great deal of satisfaction by a wide circle of friends.

ARRESTS IN MAY WERE MOST FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

The Norwich police had a total of 128 arrests in May, which was the largest number for a number of months. Fifty-nine of these were for intoxication, 20 for breach of the peace and 14 for violations of the motor vehicle law.

Other causes of arrest were as follows: violation of game law 3; vagrancy 1; violating city ordinance 3; violating pure food law 1; passing worthless check 1; theft 5; keeping gambling house 3; frequenting gambling house 5; non-support 1; violation of liquor law 2; driving team without permission of owner 3; begging 2; keeping disorderly house 2; frequenting disorderly house 9; parole violator 1; indecent assault 1; failure to send child to school 1; gambling 5; trespass; refusing to obey officer 1.

Notes in Police Court

In the police court Thursday morning nolles were entered in the cases of Frank Saunders of New London and Miss Ruth Morgan of Waterford who was operating an automobile that struck officer William Ryan a slight blow and carried him along on the fender for a short distance on Wednesday night in Franklin Square. There was also a nolle in the case of Henry T. Couchman on an intoxication charge.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LETTER SHOWS ACTIVITIES

Improved street lighting, the Thames river channel deepening, the Colchester bus line, the building and loan association and the playgrounds are all discussed in the May membership letter of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce, which has just been issued.

The following is the letter which describes important activities of the chamber in the past month:

Thames River.

As a final effort to secure a deeper channel from Allyn's Point to Norwich a delegation from the chamber went to Washington to attend a hearing before the board of army engineers, which was held on May 8.

The purpose of the hearing was to have the board review the conclusions of Colonel Newcomber, a member of the board, and to answer his objections, if possible.

The conclusions of Colonel Newcomber's report were based on the following reasons: that the typical box barges used in the coal trade do not draw over twelve feet of water, consequently the present depth of fourteen feet was sufficient; that an increase to sixteen feet would not be sufficient for the large coal and lumber barges from southern ports; that the tonnage of general merchandise carried on the river from New York did not warrant the expenditure.

In answer to the first reason convincing statements were made that the tendency of the day is to increase the size of the box barges because of the advantage gained in operation cost by the owners of this type of barge. Conversely the type of barge mentioned by Colonel Newcomber cost more to the shipper for freightage which in turn increases the cost to the consumer.

Regarding the second reason facts were presented showing the tendancy to increase the capacity of this type of vessel for the same purpose, i. e., reduced operating expense. The number of these vessels that can navigate the river above Allyn's Point is very limited. Consequently the freight charges are prohibitive. Practically all the boats of this type have a minimum draft of sixteen feet.

As to the third reason, that of decreased general merchandise tonnage, the board was apprised that this condition was due to the intermittent, unsatisfactory service maintained by the boat line carrying general merchandise to and from New York. The fault was not wholly theirs, because of the insufficient depth of channel and the scarcity of boats capable of navigating the river to Norwich.

Our delegation had the active support of Senator Brandegee at the hearing.

A typewritten report of the hearing covering fifty-six pages, is on file at the office.

The project now rests before the board of engineers. Its ultimate success is confidently hoped for. Your organization has done its best to secure this improvement for the community. This is one of the big things our city needs for its welfare and growth.

Improved Street Lighting.

Your attention is called to the effort to have a modern system of street lighting installed in our city. Naturally the installation of a modern system must be gradual.

The proposed initial installation is on Main street from Burnham square to Washington square and Lower Broadway, including Union square.

The estimated cost of installation and equipment is approximately $16,000. The annual increased maintenance cost is $4,000. The gas and electric commissioners have agreed to take care of the installation cost in their budget for the coming year. Inasmuch as the new system would not be ready, if adopted, until about December or January the maintenance cost for this year would not exceed $2,000.

Your officers approved the recommendation of the street lighting committee. They believe that inasmuch as Norwich maintains a municipal gas and electric plant which furnishes street lighting to the city at actual cost, that we are more favored in this respect than the average city.

The only effect on the tax rate will be the maintenance expense, which this year will be $2,000., It does seem that Norwich can afford, in view of the fact that it secures street lighting at actual cost, to have modern street lighting. It is a progressive step. It deserves the support of all who want to see our city keep abreast of modern ideas.

Colchester Bus Line.

A delegation from the chamber and the merchants' association attended a hearing in Colchester May 1 regarding the operation of a motor bus line from Colchester to Norwich. Commissioner Charles C. Elwell, of the public utilities commission, conducted the hearing.

The Norwich delegation put forth their efforts to convince Commissioner Elwell that the proposed bus line was necessary for the general welfare of the two communities. He was reminded that it was through the efforts of our organization covering a period of years, that the new road between the two towns was built.

The second question that the commissioner was interested in was the type of bus line that would meet public approval. Our delegation supported the Connecticut Motor Transportation company which now operate a line, dependable and entirely satisfactory, from New London to Hartford. There were two other lines looking for the license to operate. It has since come to our attention that the New London company has secured the license.

Colchester people formerly traded in Norwich as a general rule but since the building of the Hartford-New London road, Norwich has suffered through the loss of a large part of this trade. We are nearer Colchester than either Hartford or New London and with a good road our former trade relations with Colchester should be resumed.

Building and Loan Association.

A new series of the building and loan association commences in July. A campaign for new shareholders is getting under way for June. This campaign differs entirely from the usual campaign because it is an effort to help the subscribers and the community. This association exerts a powerful stimulus for savings, by means of monthly deposits for a term of 12 1-2 years. The interest paid on savings for the past three years has been 5 1-2 per cent. The outstanding feature of this association is home ownership and it is peculiarly designed to render every possible reasonable assistance to those who aspire to own their homes. Because of its cooperative feature it is able to pay 5 1-2 per cent.

Playgrounds.

The recreation commission asks for an appropriation of $4,000 to carry on the playground movement for the coming year. In these days of swiftly moving vehicles, cities are providing adequate playgrounds and supervision for children. This is not a fetish idea but sound reasoning. Certainly in these days of rapid transit the street is not the place for children to play. The commission's budget merits support. Norwich, geographically, is a city of sections. The need for playgrounds in every section is apparent. In passing one can truthfully state that Norwich has exceptional possibilities for as beautiful a park system as is enjoyed by any city in the country.

STORRS HENS PRODUCING AT 60 PER CEN. RATE

The total production for the thirtieth week for the 100 pens in the laying contest at Storrs was 4,057 eggs or a yield of 60 per cent. This is 157 less than last week, 107 eggs less than last year and 373 eggs less than the eight year average. It was nip and tuck among a number of pens to see who would be in the lead for the week. Two pens of White Leghorns entered by Hollywood Farm, Hollywood, Wash., and F. M. Johnson, Waldboro, Maine, tied for first place with scores of 55 eggs each. A pen of Barred Rocks entered by Jasper E. Guptill of Berwich, Maine, tied with three pens of Leghorns entered by Piney Willow Egg Farm, East Moriches, L. I., White Springs Farm, Geneva, N. Y., and Emory H. Bartlett, Enfield, Mass. These four pens laid a total of 54 eggs each. Albert T. Lesemsen's pen of White Rocks from North Attleboro, Mass., was in third place with a production of 53 eggs. Two pens of Rhode Island Reds entered by Fellows Brothers of Norwich Town, Conn., and Deer Brook Poultry Farm of Short Falls, N. H., tied for fourth place with a pen of White Rocks owned by George E. Ferris of Grand Rapids, Mich. Each of these three pens made a score of 53 eggs.

Macrodactylus Subspinosus is the scientific name for Rose Chafers, known in some communities as rose bugs, and also as rose beetles. They feed on grapevines, roses, daisies and many other flowers, shrubs and trees. The chafers come out of the ground in the adult stage during the latter part of June and the first two weeks of July. Chickens feed ravenously on these insects and are poisoned by them. Chicks up to ten weeks of age may be killed by eating rose chafers though somewhat younger chicks are perhaps more susceptible to the poisonous principle in the bodies of these beetles. To remedy this keep the chicks away from roses, dahlias and all flowering shrubs during the rose chafer season, and feed beef scraps liberally to at least partially lessen their craving for insects.

The four leading pens in each of the principal breeds are as follows:

Plymouth Rocks.

Davidson Brothers (White) Upton, Mass. 1169
Edgar Stoughton (Barred) Wapping, Conn. 1096
W. H. B. Kent (Barred) Casanovia, N. Y. 1092
Jules F. Francis (Barred) Westhampton Beach, L. I. 1089

White Wyandottes.

Lady Anderson, Harrold, England 1199
Woodbridge Orchards, Woodbridge, Conn. 1141

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength.

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion, that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

GRADUATION SPECIALS

HAMILTON, ELGIN, WALTHAM, ILLINOIS WATCHES

in gold and gold filled cases. All the new shapes and new style dials—Prices

$12.00 to $50.00

Bracelet Watches

in white, yellow and green gold. We make a specialty of American Watches, and these watches will run and give results.

La Tausca and Delta Pearl Beads

$4.00 to $50.00

The Wm. Friswell Co.

25 and 27 Franklin Street

Rhode Island Reds.

Fernside Farm, Foxboro, Mass. 1139
Hall Farm, North Bennington, Vt. 1213
Pinecrest Orchards, Groton, Mass. 1181
E. Newton Searles, Pomfret Center, Conn. 1171

White Leghorns.

Piney Willow Egg Farm, East Moriches, L. I. 1213
Roy H. Waite, College Park, Md. 1225
Hollywood Farm, Hollywood, Washington 1201
Hilltop Farm, Suffield, Conn. ... 1160

CHIEF STANTON SPOKE AT PLAINFIELD BANQUET

Chief Howard L. Stanton was in Plainfield Thursday night where he spoke at a banquet of the Lawton Mills Corporation held at the Lawton Inn. Chief Stanton's talk was greatly appreciated by the banqueters. The trip home was made late in the evening.

Water Street Cement Highway Laid.

The street department has completed laying the cement in Water street in the block between Market street and Commerce street. There is a little finishing work to be done and the cement must be allowed to dry out before the street can be opened to traffic.

KIMBALL'S TEXTILE SHOP

Phone 700 44-46 Broadway Hours 9 to 6

For The Exceptional Gift To The Bride

Our stocks offer a wealth of suggestion in small articles at very moderate prices as well as

HOUSEHOLD LINENS OF WHOLESOME QUALITY

HAND WOVEN TABLE DAMASK OF EXQUISITE FINENESS AND BEAUTY

FANCY LINENS NOW IN VOGUE

HANDKERCHIEFS FOR MEN OR WOMEN

Embroidery of Initials or Monograms executed in the finest manner.

For The Bride, No Gift Carries Such Depth of Thoughtfulness and Remembrance as Linen.

THE SCIENCE OF OPTOMETRY

Skill and experience in the profession of optometry cannot be acquired in a month or a year.

Modern optometry is the result of long and exhaustive study.

Such experience is our bid for your patronage and good will.

C. A. SPEAR

OPTOMETRIST

Franklin Square, Norwich, Conn.

ADDRESS TO NURSES BY REV. A. H. ABBOTT

The class of 1923 of the W. W. Backus hospital training school for nurses is to have its graduation exercises Tuesday evening, June 5th, at 8 o'clock at the Hugh Henry Osgood Memorial Parish House. The exercises are to be in charge of Henry A. Tirrell, principal of the Norwich Free Academy, and will be as follows: Processional, alumnae, graduating class of 1923 and student nurses; invocation, Rev. J. Harlow Graham; solo, Henry LaFontaine; address, Rev. Alexander H. Abbott; presentation of diplomas, Henry A. Tirrell; solo, Henry LaFontaine; presentation of class pins, Dr. Franklin S. Wilcox; presentation of companion cases.

The members of the graduating class are Miss Anna May Gorton, Miss Alice E. Baker and Miss Cora Mae Disco of Norwich, Miss Julia A. Crowley of Westerly, R. I., and Miss Dorothy M. Tracy of Wauregan, Conn.

The motto selected by the class is "Ubi Possimus," which translated means That We May Be of Service.

Following the graduating exercises a reception and dance is to be held at the Wauregan hotel ball room and it is expected that there will be a large number present and an enjoyable evening spent.

VAIL MEDAL PRESENTED TO J. ALBERT CLARK

J. Albert Clark of this city, who is in the employ of the American Telegraph and Telephone company in New York, has just had presented to him the Theodore N. Vail medal for heroism in saving the life of a fellow workman in Boston last April. It is the first Vail medal to be received in the New York division and was presented at a banquet last Monday night at the Telephone club, 353 West 17th street.

The certificate with the medal describes Clark's act of heroism as follows:

"On the morning of April 11, 1922, while Splicer's Helper Clark was assisting a fellow employe in drying out a splice at manhole 3185, Boston, Worcester cable, a pot of hot paramin caught fire. After his fellow worker had been burned in trying to extinguish the fire, Splicer's Helper Clark pulled him out of the manhole to safety. He then entered the manhole, which was filling with smoke, covered the cable, got out the burning paraffin, and put out the fire.

"In performing these acts, Clark was almost overcome by smoke and had his hands and face burned and blistered."

Mr. Clark came here Wednesday to visit his mother over Memorial day. He was formerly in the employ of The Bulletin as assistant to the pressman.

Valuable Petroleum.

It has been said that every possible necessity of a man's life, except the water he drinks and the air he breathes, may be supplied either directly or indirectly through the use of petroleum products, and even water may be pumped by a gasoline engine.

One's Limitations.

A man's real limitations are not the things he wants to do but can't; they're the things he ought to do but doesn't.

BORN

SKELLY—In this city, May 30, 1923, a daughter, Barbara Mary, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Skelly of West Thames street.

AMATO—In Norwich, May 29, 1923, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Amato of 306 Franklin street.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Courts here and hereabouts were busy Thursday clearing up cases that developed late Wednesday night and that were among the legacies of the holiday. In the Killingly town court Ben Martel, Thomas Davis and Fred Ouhetre, all of Attawaugan, were fined $5 each and costs, a total of $16.09 for having been intoxicated. Each paid the amount assessed him to Judge W. Fenner Woodward. The trio were arrested late Wednesday night by State Officer A. W. Williams after a complaint had been telephoned to the police barracks here that they were staggering about the road near Attawaugan and in imminent danger of being killed by passing motor traffic.

During Thursday a boy who was charged with having broken into a freight car in the local railroad yards was ordered by Judge Woodward to the state school for boys at Meriden and was taken to the institution during the afternoon to remain until he is 21, unless sooner released.

At Central Village Thursday morning James Brindell, a sailor from the Submarine Base, was fined for having driven an automobile while under the influence of liquor. His arrest followed a collision in which his automobile was damaged when it struck a machine driven by Wilfred Blain of Danielson, the accident occurring between Central Village and Moosup about 11.30 Wednesday night. Brindell's machine was most damaged in the accident, which was investigated by State Officer Merrill Keith of the Danielson barracks.

During Thursday a Velie touring car owned by Francis X. Cote of Putnam was being held at the police barracks while state officers were investigating why it was left, without lights and unattended, on the Danielson-Wauregan state highway late Wednesday night. State officers ran the machine in from where it was found.

Don't forget that deposits made in the savings department of the Windham County National Bank on or before June 5th will draw interest from June 1st. The Windham County National Bank.—adv.

After a day during which he worked in his garden and appeared as well as normal, Frank B. Morse, 74, died suddenly at his home in East Killingly Wednesday evening upon suffering an attack of apoplexy. He was a native of Wayne, Maine.

Mr. Morse was on the stage for 46 years of his life and during that long period he appeared in an infinite number of theatres throughout the United States and was a member of many theatrical companies. He came to East Killingly in 1911, bought some land and built himself a home in the pretty village, which since has been his home, though up to three or four years ago he was away much of the time filling theatrical engagements, appearing in comedy roles. His talent was made familiar to many Killingly people through appearances he made at various entertainments in this town. Mr. Morse is survived by his wife.

Events of interest scheduled for this afternoon are a joint meeting of the Civic federation and the Good Samaritan association, to be held at the office of Attorney A. G. Bill and the annual meeting of the Civic federation to be held later at the home of Mrs. E. H. Keach Broad street. These meetings are of special importance and all who are identified with the organizations are being urged to attend. Both organizations have done a great amount of good here.

As a human interest tale an incident in which two local men tried their hand at catching one of a brood of baby pheasants that were trooping across the state highway above Attawaugan on the Putnam route (trailing the hen pheasant is amusing as well as a bit alluring. At the outset it may be stated that they did not get one of the little pheasants, which are described as even smaller than one day chicks.

An hour was spent by the men on what at first appeared as an easy task, but it proved anything but that —take their word for it. Apparently almost within reach the brood of woodland creatures would vanish somehow before the sun when a near approach was made to them—scurrying under leaves and twigs that afforded perfect protection from pursuit. In the meantime the hen pheasant was operating with all her skill to save the little pheasants from harm that was not intended and her wiles and strategy were a revelation to the men who watched her and finally noted her satisfaction as her brood was safely rounded up and led away from contact with human society.

Brooklyn women who are enlisted in the drive to raise $30,000 for the building of a nurses' home at the Day Kimball hospital here adopted a novel expedient for today as one feature of their activities in the interest of the fund. They are going to cater at an auction and add all their profits to the nurses' home fund. Given good weather and a large attendance, they hope the sum will be considerable.

It is remarkable how few people are willing to give up their safe deposit boxes after owning one. There is a fine sense of security that goes with the possession of one. May we suggest that you examine one of our boxes today? We will be glad to show them. And do not forget to bring in your savings deposit this month. All deposits made on or before June 5th draw interest from June 1st, at 4 1-2 per cent. The Danielson Trust Company.—adv.

Though the comment about it is constant, nothin ghas been done by the New Haven road to replace the planking on the Main street crossing. The planking is now in a deplorable condition, broken, loose, spikes sticking up and really a menace to the heavy traffic that passes over it each day.

Miss Lucile Caron, who has been ill at her home on Hawkins street the past few weeks, was admitted Thursday as a patient at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam, where her sister, Miss Alice Caron is on the nursing staff.

Only thirty days of the trout fishing season remain. Norman Ross—with his entry of a trout weighing two pounds two and one-half ounces—still leads the membership of the Danielson Rod and Gun club in the competition for the fine trout rod offered as a first prize for the largest trout caught during the present season by a member of the club.

There was another slight—but not killing—frost Thursday morning, the very last of May, a month that has been remarkable for its low temperatures, including one that touched the freezing point.

George S. Brown remained very seriously ill at his home on Broad street during Thursday.

Societies of the church will participate in the Corpus Christi procession to be held after the high mass at St. James' church next Sunday.

Collector George A. Williams said that tax collections have been very good up to the present time, although there is the usual list of delinquents.

John C. Vendette of New Bedford was a visitor with friends in Danielson Thursday.

About 60 women representing W. C. T. U. chapters in various towns in this part of the state assembled on Thursday at the Westfield Congregational church for the pator, Rev. Walter B. Williams, who laughingly said that the organization members had proved themselves so trustworthy that he had unlocked every door in the church, all of which was available their use with the best wishes of the congregation and its pastor.

Mrs. Maude L. Potter of Lowell, formerly of Scotland, the president, presided over the convention. During the morning session reports were made by both county organization and local organizations officers. The banner for the largest membership gain in the county during the year was awarded to Danielson. At the noon hour a dinner was served to the visiting delegates by the church.

The principal address of the day was by Mrs. Mary D. Wilson, state president of the W. C. T. U. and dealt as a general theme with the desirability of women paying strict heed to the type of candidates for which they vote, selecting men because of their merit rather than because of their political affiliations. Mrs. Wilson paid a tribute to the excellent work being done by the state police in combatting the illicit liquor traffic.

Entertainment features of the convention, which re-elected Mrs. Potter president, were solos by Mrs. Esther Brown. An address of interest to the young people was made by Mrs. J. J. Fields of Norwich.

Thursday morning the funeral of Adelard Jarvis was held from his home in Wauregan with funeral services at Sacred Heart church, Rev. J. C. Mathieu being celebrant of the requiem mass, attended by relatives and many friends. Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery. Louis E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

After paying a visit to the grave of his wife in the Sacred Heart cemetery at Wauregan Memorial afternoon, Joseph Barriere returned to his home in Moosup, became seriously ill and died during the evening. He was 78 years of age, a native of Canada and for years resident of Moosup. He is survived by several children.

Mrs. Esther Boucher, 79, long a resident of Wauregan, died Thursday morning at her home in Wauregan, where she had been a resident for years.

Records at the office of Town Clerk Frank T. Preston show that a bond for a deed has been given to Irving W. Davis by Abraham Herman, owner of the Exchange block and a resident of California. This filing indicates an impending transfer of the ownership of this three-story brick building in the heart of Danielson's business section, but Mr. Davis said Wednesday evening that he is not prepared as yet to give out any information concerning the matter.

All Byzantine enamels are on gold.

PUTNAM

En route to his home in Eastford from Birmingham, Ala., where he has been spending the winter, Kenneth B. Kennedy, 11 year old son of Supervisor N. Waldo Kennedy of Birmingham lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, was signally honored a few days ago when he received a formal introduction to President Warren G. Harding. Master Kennedy on his way home from the south when he was introduced to the president by James J. Davis secretary of labor in President Hardings cabinet. Secretary Davis is director general of the order and a personal friend of N. Waldo Kennedy, who has spent several months in Birmingham working to build up the order in that territory. Mr. Kennedy formerly published a weekly newspaper in this city, but now makes his home in Eastford.

Announcement was made Thursday of the sale of his drug store by James F. Donohue to Willis Carroll, who has been in Mr. Donahue's employ for the past twelve years. Mr. Carroll is to take possession today, June 1. Mr. Donahue's plans for the future are not announced.

Elks from all the jurisdiction of Putnam lodge came here Thursday evening for the annual ladies' night entertainment. As is made the invariable rule, the ladies' night is one of the events of the year at the Elks' home. This year there was a splendid program of vaudeville by professional entertainers and a lunch up to the high standard of excellence set by Putnam lodge. The entertainment was practically continuous throughout the evening. There were pretty favors for the ladies.

Edgar Champeau, who left here over three and a half years ago for service as a musician in the United States army has returned from Panama, where he has been stationed during the entire period. Mr. Champeau is visiting for a week with his father, Isaac Champeau.

After being discharged from the army after three years of service he played as a member of the orchestra at the Balboa club in Panama for six months. After his visit here he is going to New York, where he will be a member of the orchestra at Gypsy Land, one of the well known restaurants and cabarets of the big town.

Ralph C. Jenkins, superintendent of schools, has presented the following report for the month of May to the town school committee.

Teachers: The following teachers have been secured to take the places of teachers resigned and to have charge of new rooms caused by the present over crowding.

To Smith Street school grades 4 and 5, Miss Marguerite Leigey of New Britain, Conn., graduate of New Britain High school, member of senior class of New Britain normal school.

To Israel Putnam school, grades 5 and 6, Miss Margaret Anna White, present address, 38 Lexington avenue, Greenwich, Conn., permanent address, 146 Main street, Danielson, Conn., graduate of Killingly High school and Willimantic Normal school. His taught in East Putnam school. His taught in East Putnam school, Putnam, Goodyear school, Killingly, Danielson Graded school, Danielson. For the past two years teacher of the fifth grade and departmental teacher of geography in 8th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades of the Glenville school, Greenwich, Conn.

To Sawyer school, grade 1, morning session, Mrs. Gladys Louise Packard, Putnam, Conn. Graduate of Putnam High school. Graduate of Willimantic Normal school. Has taught in Pomfret, Conn.

Rooms yet unfilled are, Grades 2 and 3, Smith street school; sub-master High school. I expect to be able to report of these two vacancies within a few days.

Repairs to school houses: The chairman of the committee on building and myself visited all of the schools in the city last week to look over repairs requested by the various principals and teachers. We expect to present at the next meeting a list of repairs recommended to be made during the summer.

Commencement program:

Spring term closes for the year, Friday, June 22.

Commencement week of Putnam High school:

Sunday, June 17, Baccalaureate, Second Congregational church 7.30. Address by Principal E. H. Snow.

Monday, June 18, Final classes.

Tuesday, June 19, school picnic.

Wednesday, June 20, class day, High School auditorium. Alumni reunion, gymnasium and auditorium.

Thursday, June 21, graduation, Bradley theatre. Address, The Magical Chance, by Dallas Sharp.

Friday, June 22, senior reception and prom at Union hall.

Final examinations in all subjects will be held in the High school on Wednesday, June 13., Thursday, June 14, and Friday, June 15.

Miscellaneous: Miss Daisy Tipton, traveling instructor of the A. N. Palmer Co., will visit the Putnam schools for the purpose of visiting penmanship classes, giving model lessons, and holding a teachers' conference to improve the work in penmanship. Miss Maude Keator, supervisor of the department of special education and standards of the state board of education will also be at the Israel Putnam school Thursday to assist teachers in selecting candidates for the opportunity room next fall.

At St. Mary's church Miss Leona Garceau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garceau of Bullock street, and Frank Provost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Provost of Church street, were united in marriage by Rev. W. Arthur Routhier. Leon Provost, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Clara Hering of Holyoke was bridesmaid. Miss Florence and Helen Garceau, sisters of the bride, were flowers girls. Following the marriage there was a wedding reception at Red Men's hall. The guests including visitors from Worcester, Springfield, Danielson and other places. Mr. and Mrs. Provost will go to Canada for their wedding trip, making their home here upon their return.

Attorney Raymond Fletcher of Worcester known to many here as a friend of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Pease, is dead of injuries received when he was thrown from a buggy. Attorney Fletcher died last Saturday of injuries received when he was thrown out while driving a young and spirited horse that became restive, stopped and backed, upsetting the light buggy and throwing Attorney Fletcher out, fracturing his skull.

Attorney Fletcher leaves a widow who was Miss Anna Harlow of Shrewsbury before her marriage, two years ago. She and her sister were witnesses of the accident in which Attorney Fletcher was fatally injured. The dead attorney, a son of a former mayor of Worcester, was making rapid progress in his profession.

Attorney Charles L. Torrey was in Willimantic Thursday on a business.

Secretary John O'Connell of the A. F. T. O. addressed a meeting of former employes of the Manhasset Manufacturing company when they held one of their regular meetings here Thursday afternoon. There was little change in the strike situation Thursday.

The detour on the Chepachet route to Providence from this city is the means of diverting traffic to other routes between this city and the Rhode Island capital.

Exterior finish now being applied to the First National bank building gives a suggestion of the structure will appear when the remodeling operations are completed.

Mrs. Carrie B. Gascoigne recently visited with friends in Norwich.

Not an arrest was made nor an accident reported in Putnam over the holiday, a record of which the may be proud.

John A. Howard of Worcester visited with friends in Putnam on Thursday.

Brooklyn women have a plan under which they will raise money today for the Nurses' home fund of the Day Kimball hospital.

LISBON

Ernest Blake and family of Coventry, R. I., visited friends in town Sunday.

Mrs. Leo Miner of North Windham was the guest of Mrs. C. A. Mail for several days the past week.

Edmund Weeks, a noble of the Mystic Shrine, with his family, and Mrs. Harry [illegible]

Instant relief from CORNS without risk of infection

Safety! You can end the pain of corns, in one minute. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads will do it, for they remove the cause—friction-pressure—and heal the irritation. Then you avoid infection from cutting your corns or using corrosive acids. Thin, antiseptic, waterproof. Sizes for corns, callouses, bunions. Get a box today at your druggist's or direct from us.

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads

Made in the laboratories of The Scholl Mfg. Co., makers of Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances, Arch Supports, etc.

Put one on—the pain is gone!

DANIELSON CASINO, STARKWEATHER BLDG.
BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
FOUR ALLEYS THREE TABLES
WEDNESDAYS LADIES' DAY.
Bowling is the sport for all. Prizes given away every Saturday.

Babbee and Bull DEPARTMENT STORE
PUTNAM, CONN.

READY-TO-WEAR SPECIALS

MISSES' $22.50 BEADED CREPE DRESSES NOW $14.75

LADIES' SILK CREPE DRESSES
Black and Colors—Special Values at—
$19.50 — $22.50 — $25.00

LADIES' TRICO-SHAM SILK DRESSES
Black and Navy—Sizes 38 to 46
SPECIAL $15.75

LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S COATS ALL REDUCED

LADIES' AND MISSES' SUITS — ALL REDUCED

SPECIAL VALUES IN SILK BLOUSES
$2.98 — $4.95 — $5.50

Ladies' Slip-on Sweaters
All-Wool and Silk and Wool
Were $6.25 ... Now $4.50
Were $5.50 ... Now $3.95
Were $5.00 ... Now $3.75
Were $3.75 ... Now $2.75
Were $2.98 ... Now $1.98

Ladies' $2.50 Cotton Voile Overblouses, white and colors
SPECIAL $1.95

Ladies' $9.75 Pleated Wool Skirts
SPECIAL $8.75

MILLINERY AT HALF PRICE
THURSDAY — FRIDAY — SATURDAY
Hats in Navy Blue, Black, Brown, Fallow, Almond-Green, Harding Blue, Rose and Clover.
In Silk, Milan, Hemp, Timbo, Hair-Cloth and Crepe.
A FEW CHILDREN'S HATS LEFT ALSO AT HALF PRICE

Celebration Sale
FOR FOUR DAYS
BEGINNING WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6th
TO CELEBRATE THE OPENING OF THE NEWLY PAVED SECTION OF WATER STREET TO TRAFFIC
WE ARE OFFERING
THE BIGGEST SALE
—OF—
FARM MACHINERY
EVER HELD IN THIS SECTION OF NEW ENGLAND!

Moline Lime Sowers $62.00
Moline Disc Harrows $36.00
Moline Peg Tooth Harrows ..... $ 9.25
Moline Spring Tooth Harrow (Sled Type) $28.00
Moline Spring Tooth Harrow (Wheel Type) $16.50
Moline One Horse Planter $22.50
Moline Two Row Planter $53.00

LARGE CASH DISCOUNT ALSO GIVEN
We Are Trying to Help the Farmers Buy Right — It Is Your Chance.
Connecticut Machinery & Sales Co., Inc.
93-95 WATER STREET NORWICH, CONN.
NEXT TO STRAND THEATRE

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And, to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Recipes on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

Compare Our Prices

Compare our prices for merchandise sold here, with other stores, and see the saving you make.
Remember — We are wholesale manufacturers, and by trading here you pay but one profit.
We are headquarters for Men's, Young Men's and Boys' Suits, Pants and Furnishings.

WE QUOTE A FEW OF OUR PRICES

Men's and Young Men's Suits which comprise mostly sample lines, in serge, tweed, worsted and cassemere cloth. Priced $10.00 to $25.00.

Boys' Suits—This department needs no introduction to the public—we carry the largest and most complete assortment of Boys' Clothing in the city. Priced $2.75 to $10.00.
Many of these Suits with two pairs of pants.

LADIES' KNICKERS, in tweed and khaki — all sizes.
Khaki — $1.75 and $2.00 Tweeds — $3.00 and $3.50
Made full cut and good material.

Boys' Khaki Knee Pants, made of heavy khaki cloth. Sizes 8 to 17 years—75c, value $1.25. Others at 50c.

TRADE DIRECT FROM THE FACTORY AND SAVE THE MIDDLEMAN'S PROFIT
"ALWAYS MORE FOR LESS"

The Norwich Bargain House
WASHINGTON SQUARE NORWICH, CONN.

PLAINFIELD

The Plainfield school held its second annual field day on the school playground Tuesday afternoon. George White of the Community house, Mrs. Walter Lathrop and Principal Cecil L. Butler acted as officials. Quite a number of parents and others watched the young athletes run off the following events:

Gymnastic drill, group A—First, room 1; second, room 4; third, room 2. Gymnastic drill, group B—First, room 5; second, room 6; tohird, room 8. 50 yard dash, boys, group A—First, Allen Royle, grade 4, time 7 2-5 seconds; second, Henry Burby; third, no selection. 50 yard dash, girls, group A—First, Beatrice Blais, room 2, academy, time 7 4-5 seconds; second, Juliette Sevigay, room 2, academy; third, Delia Dion, room . 50 yard dash, boys, group B—First, Francis Normandin, grade 6, time 7 2-5 seconds; second, Clinton Peterson, grade 5; third, Francis Sullivan, grade 6. 50 yard dash, girls, group B—First, Yvette Noel, grade 5, time 7 2-5 seconds; second, Beatrice Colburn, grade 6; third, Irene Generous, grade 6. Games (ring), group A—First, room 1, academy; second, room 1; third, room 2. Running broad jump, boys, B—First, Francis Normandie, distance 13 feet, 4 inches; second, Clinton Peterson, 13 feet, 10 inches; third, Tom Less, grade 8, 12 feet, 7 inches.

Running bread jump, girls, group B—First, Freda Walsh, grade 7, distance 11 feet, 10 inches; second, Yvette Noel, grade 8, 11 feet, 9 inches; third, Mildred Heap, grade 8, 10 feet, 8 inches. Singing game or folk dance, group A—First, room 4; second, room 1; third, room 3. All-up relay, girls, B—First, room 7; second, room 5; third, room 8. High jump, boys, group B—First, Clinton Peterson, distance 4 feet, 1 inch; second, Napoleon Gagne, grade 5, 3 feet, 9 inches; third, Francis Normandie, 3 feet, 3 inches. Baseball throw, boys, B—First, Napoleon Gagne, distance 199 feet, 6 inches; second, Edward Knight, grade 8, 178 feet, 9 inches; third, Joe Bassin, grade 8, 177 feet. Baseball throw, girls, B—First, Mildred Heap, grade 8, distance 113 feet, 4 inches; second, Irene Mandfield, grade 8, 102 feet, 6 inches; third, Geneva Kelly, grade 7, 102 feet, 3 inches. Obstacle race (free for all)—First, Ora Treadeau, grade 4; second, Amy Wilcox, grade 6; third, Lillian Sevigay, grade 5.

First place, 5 points; second place, 3 points; third place, 1 point.

Memorial day was well observed in the town of Plainfield by brief services in the four cemeteries and by the decoration of the soldier and sailor graves of the different wars by the national emblem, flowers and evergreen wreaths. The services and decorations were in charge of Charles Bragg of the G. A. R., Commander Otto Opperman of the American Legion assisting. The Boy Scouts of the Congregational church in Plainfield also marched and assisted in decorating the graves and were under the command of Richard Hetherston, who was in the New London overseas company. Prayer was offered at Central Village and Moosup by Rev. Mary F. Macumber, in Packer by Rev. James W. Higgins and in Plainfield by Rev. David Cemba. Music was furnished by the Eagle Fife and Drum corps.

Rev. William C. Prentiss of the Congregational church offered the prayer and gave the address at the Memorial day exercises in Brooklyn.

Gilbert Harrington and family visited their sister, Miss Effie I. Jenks, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Graves and daughters were callers on Judge and Mrs. Arthur H. Mathewson on Memorial day.

The graves of the ministers who have served in the Congregational church and who are buried in Plainfield cemetery are decorated each year by a special committee from the church This year the committee consisted of the following: Henry Dorrence, chairman; Deacon Walter Kingsley, Deacon Benjamin R. Briggs and Jason Lathrop, with the minister.

The Boy Scouts have organized a new ball team and last week played the grammar school team, playing 12 innings, and winning by a score of 26 to 18. Samuel Dorrence and Edward Knight pitched for the winning team.

BOLTON NOTCH

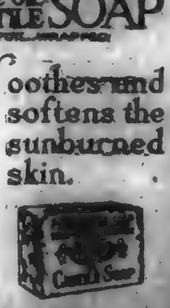
The Grand Army post from Manchester decorated the graves of the old soldiers in the Bolton cemetery Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Maine and son Theodore from Willimantic and C. L. Meloney and wife and son Russell from Hartford were visitors at Mrs. Minnie Howard's Sunday.

Loren Maine was in Rockville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rose, their son George, his wife and daughter from Springfield called on Mrs. M. E. Howard Wednesday.

LACO OLIVE OIL CASTILE SOAP



Soothes and softens the sunburned skin.

IMPORTED FROM SPAIN

HAD NERVOUS INDIGESTION
COULD NOT SLEEP—LOST WEIGHT
ONLY WINCARNIS HELPED HER

"Let anyone who may question the truth of your claims for Wincarnis come to me and I will soon dispel their doubts.

A year ago I had a very bad spell of nervous indigestion and although my doctor did all he could for me, nothing he gave me relieved me of the dreadful attacks.

I lost my appetite, I could not sleep, my nerves got worse and I rapidly lost weight.

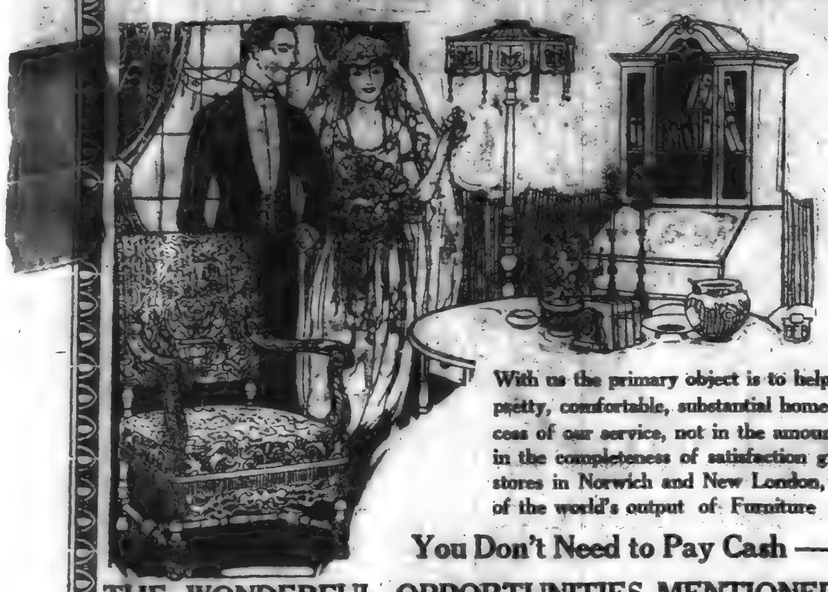
I had read about your wonderful tonic Wincarnis and decided to give it a trial. Almost immediately my appetite came back and soon I was able to get a refreshing night's sleep. My nerves grew steady, my indigestion disappeared and I began to put on flesh. In fact, I gained 8 pounds while taking Wincarnis."

(Miss Helen Bailey, 33 Thompson St., Philadelphia, Pa.)

WINCARNIS
At all good Druggists.
Two Sizes, $1.10 and $1.98

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

You June Brides and Grooms---Let Us Help You Furnish Your New Home



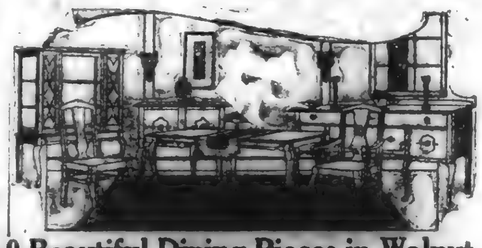
The Plaut-Cadden Co. Is Headquarters for Everything You Need and Our Wonderful Home Outfitting Plan Will Save You Money and Guarantee Satisfaction.

With us the primary object is to help our patrons in making of pretty, comfortable, substantial homes and we measure the success of our service, not in the amount of the sale involved but in the completeness of satisfaction given. In our two great stores in Norwich and New London, we offer you the choicest of the world's output of Furniture and Musical Instruments.

Our assortments are so diversified and representative as to meet the preferences and purchasing powers of practically every individual. Come in and get acquainted and learn why Plaut-Cadden's is the logical store at which to outfit your home; why the June Brides and Grooms of 1923, like those of past years, will come here. You'll find a real desire here to help you solve your outfitting problem easily, economically and satisfactorily.

You Don't Need to Pay Cash — Our Easy Payment Plan Is At Your Service At No Extra Cost.

THE WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITIES MENTIONED HERE WILL INTEREST ALL HOME MAKERS. THEY ARE BUT A FEW SELECTIONS FROM OUR IMMENSE WELL SELECTED STOCK.



9 Beautiful Dining Pieces in Walnut

Here is an exceptional value in a high grade walnut suite, consisting of round or oblong extension table, 64-inch china closet, 48-inch buffet, five side chairs and one host's chair with genuine leather upholstered seats. In the Queen Anne design, of the best construction and finished handsomely $231

4-Piece Walnut Suite With Full Vanity

If you want a genuinely good value in a fine looking bedroom suite, you should see this offer. The design is appealing and the workmanship and finish are exceptionally good. Comprises full size wing-foot bed, full vanity dressing table, large dresser and roomy chiffonette. In the Queen Anne design..... $197

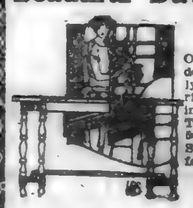
Bohn Syphon

The Best Refrigerator Made Is Here In Many Sizes

If you want the best refrigeration it is possible to get, you want a Bohn Syphon. Let us show you its advantages. We have many sizes, finished in Golden Oak or White Enamel and at all prices.

McKee Refrigerators In All Styles From $15 Up

Beautiful Davenport Tables



Of attractive design, strongly built and richly finished in mahogany. Tops measure 36-in. x 20-in. Splendid value for— $36.00

THESE WROUGHT IRON BRIDGE LAMPS With Parchment Shades. Regularly priced $9.00 — Reduced to— $5.45

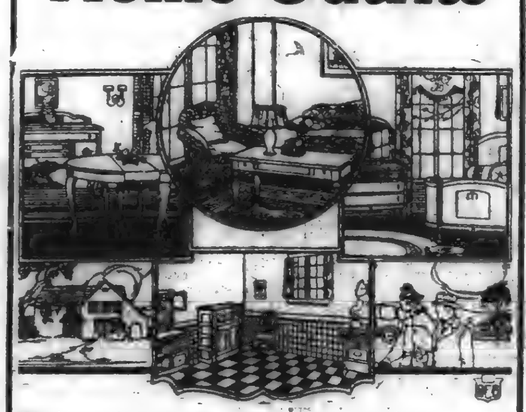
We Specialize In Complete Home Outfits



We have given very careful consideration to the complete furnishing of the home and have studied the art from every angle. We know how your home should look and can give you expert advice on its proper furnishing. We offer you what you want — dependable merchandise reasonably priced and easily available through our credit service.

Whether you desire to furnish three, four or five rooms or a larger home, complete with music, we have a distinct service to offer you—a service that will interest you greatly as it has thousands of others.

SEE THE 4-ROOM OUTFIT

We Are Offering At The Modest Price of Only

$395 On Very Easy Terms

THIS OUTFIT CONSISTS OF THE COMPLETE FURNISHINGS FOR THE PARLOR, DINING ROOM, BEDROOM AND KITCHEN.

We Can Make You Up An Outfit For Less or For More, But At Whatever The Price, You Will Find That The Utmost Value Is Represented.

Overstuffed Suites RADICALLY REDUCED

This Opportunity Is Made Possible Because We Need Room For Incoming Merchandise. It Is a Wonderful Chance For You To Get That Overstuffed Suite At An Exceptional Saving. Here Are Three Typical Offerings:

FINEST QUALITY MOHAIR SUITES

Regular $400 to $500 Values Reduced to $295

For luxurious comfort, distinction and quality, you could wish for nothing better than these magnificent suites. Consist of large davenport, arm chair and high wing-back chair of the finest spring construction. Upholstered in the best quality mohair or blue velour. Loose spring cushions.

LUXURIOUS SUITES IN VELOUR, TAPESTRY OR GENUINE LEATHER

Reg. $250 to $375 Values Now.... $189

Each suite consists of large davenport, arm chair and high wing-back arm chair or rocker with wide spring arms or roll arms and loose spring cushions. These suites are of the best all spring construction and the highest grade upholstering, guaranteeing the utmost comfort and service.

BEAUTIFUL TAPESTRY SUITES

Regular $2.00 Values—Now Reduced to $121

These splendid suites consist of large sofa, arm chair and arm rocker, as shown, with removable spring cushions, roll arms and with seats, edges and backs of fine spring construction. Good values at their regular price, these suites are extraordinary values at this sale price.

The Best Place To Buy Your Victrola and Records Is Here

The best service, the largest variety of Victrolas, the largest selection of Victor Records and the easiest terms make buying here safe, easy and satisfactory. We will deliver a complete Victrola Outfit to your home for as little as $1.00 Down and $1.00 Weekly.

We Have All Victrolas from $25 Up

New Victor Records For June On Sale Today

Complete Assortment of SMALL MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS At Money-Saving Prices

See Our Jewelry and Grafonola Ads. on Another Page

Choose Your Piano or Player-Piano Here From the World's Best Makes

Be sure of permanent satisfaction by selecting your piano here, where quality applies to everything. The Plaut-Cadden Co. has stood for high standards of quality for over 50 years, which explains why so many people select their pianos here. Nowhere will you find a finer assortment of guaranteed instruments than we have on our floors and nowhere will you find such instruments at such low prices and purchasable on such easy terms.

New Players	New Uprights	Used Pianos
AS LOW AS	AS LOW AS	AS LOW AS
$395	$235	$50

The Plaut-Cadden Co.

Main St., Norwich — "KNOWN FOR QUALITY AND SERVICE — SINCE 1872" — Bank St., New London

OUR PIANO ROLL OF HONOR

THE AMPICO ELECTRIC REPRODUCING PIANO
In The Chickering, Franklin, Haines Bros. and Fischer
CHICKERING — HAINES BROS.
WASSERMANN—HALLET & DAVIS
CRAWFORD — AUTOPIANO
BEHR BROS. — NORRIS & HYDE
And Many Other Standard Makes.

RADIO PROGRAMS

WBZ, Springfield (337 Meters)

7.30 p. m.—Baseball scores. Fairy tales.
7.45 p. m.—"Farm Help From the Birds" from the Department of Agriculture.
7.55 p. m.—Baseball scores.
8.05 p. m.—Concert by Mlle Cecile Bourbeheia, cellist; Jean Bourbeheia, violinist; Mme. Bourbeheia, pianist; Mme. Reopell, soprano.

WGY, Schenectady, (380 Meters)

2.00 p. m.—Music and talk, "Graduate School of Homemaking."
4.00 p. m.—Produce and stock market quotations; news bulletins; baseball results.
6.30 p. m.—Special children's program; "The Kewpie Doll," by Anita and Jean Williams, ages 12 and 9 years; Katherine Chamberlayne, accompanist.
6.35 p. m.—Health talk, State Department of Health.
6.40 p. m.—Baseball scores.
6.45 p. m.—Musical program, MacGregor Male Chorus; Albert Platt, director.
11.30 p. m.—Concert program.

WJZ Central New York 455 Meters

3.15 p. m.—"A Little Law for the Ladies," by Bessie Isabel Giles, LL. B.
3.45 p. m.—Pung Chow talk.
6.15 p. m.—Musical stories for children, by Mary Plowden Kenrea.
7.30 p. m.—"Looseleaf" current topics.
8.00 p. m. Concert.

KDKA Pittsburgh (326 meters)

10 a. m.—Music.
12.30 p. m.—Music. Weather forecast. United States Bureau of Market Reports.
3.15 p. m.—Scores, inning by inning, of the ball games being played today.
6.00 p. m.—Ball scores.
6.15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Trio of the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra.
7 p. m.—Ball scores. Current Events, by Marjory Stewart.
7.30 p. m.—Farm program.
7.45 p. m.—The visit to the Little Folks by the Dreamtime Lady.
8 p. m.—Ball scores. Market reports.
8.15 p. m.—Farm program continued.
8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Trio of the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra, and Genevieve Elliot Marshall, soprano; Annie Hagameier Woestehoff contralto; George Kirk, baritone; Warren Kinder, tenor, students of Mrs. James Steven Martin.

KYW Chicago (447 meters)

(Central time.)

6.30 p. m.—News, financial and final market and sport summary.
6.50 p. m.—Children's Bedtime Story.
8.00 to 8.58 p. m.—Musical program will be given by the following artists: The Inland Electric Company, also Wendell W. Hall, KYW's Music Maker.
8.58 p. m.—Naval Observatory time signals.
9.00 p. m.—News and weather reports.
9.05 to 9.35 p. m.—Reviews of the latest books given by Llewellyn Jones.
10.00 to 1.00 a. m.—Midnight Revue.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 Meters.)

4.00 p. m.—Late news flashes, early sports news.
6.15 p. m.—Code practice.
6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports, Amrad bulletin board
9.30 p. m.—Evening Program. Silversmith series by David M. Cheney. Concert by the Rogeff Quartet. Concert by Strenz's Orchestra.

Points for Community Pionickers

The Rural Association announces the following pointers for the Community Picnic to be held in Lowthorp Meadows this (Friday) evening from 6 to 8 p. m. Boy Scouts will be ready to answer any questions or render any necessary assistance. It is desired that we do as little injure the long grass.

Rubbish barrels will be placed for the convenience of all so that the grounds may be left in good order.

All are welcome, come, bring your supper and join in the snappy community singing that follows.

Camera Proves Existence Of Underscript On Ancient Vellum

Dr. H. S. Buchanan, internationally famous scholar whose sensational declarations regarding an ancient vellum palimpsest from the Cathedral of Tarragona, now in the Huntington collection of the Hispanic Museum in New York, have aroused a tempest of discussion. Dr. Buchanan charged he discovered and deciphered an undescript on the vellum, a Bible text which furnishes no basis for belief in the Day of Judgment, the end of the world, baptism, of hell, that Jewish and Roman Catholic influences have been at work to hide this "world's treasury" because it upsets current versions of the Old Testament, and that he had been forbidden to use the script for publication. Another M. Batchelor, president of the Hispanic Society, says that Dr. Buchanan may study the manuscript as much as he likes; but that he may not publish a book about it under the auspices of the Society — as the paleographer had planned to do and the Society originally was going to permit, until other experts attacked Dr. Buchanan's find.

THE BACKWARDNESS OF SPRINGS.

(Written Specially For The Bulletin.)

When Phineas Farmer, Pioneer, broke over the bastion of the eastern hills, one faraway day in 1770, and started a new homestead in this Happy Hollow, he brought with him from his Connecticut Valley birthplace considerable impedimenta.

He was my great-grandfather and family tradition has preserved some details of how he came, what he brought and how he started his new log-house capital.

For instance, he had two yoke of sturdy long-horned oxen. They drew a various load, including, among other things not scheduled to later generations, a loom, a cheese-press, a spinning-wheel, a set of blacksmith-wrought fire-irons, the parts for a wooden mouldboard plow, and seven hand-made axes from the best forge in Old Hadley.

There also came in the cortege, a couple of heifers, half-a-dozen sheep, a coop of Brahma fowls—at least that's what his grandson called them—a wife, six stalwart sons and one stalwart superstition—I beg to note right here that "superstition" is what some of the neighbors of his descendants call it, not what I call it. My own name for it is more respectful and a little longer-winded. I call it "a tradition of the family."

This "tradition" or "superstition," you may call it what you please, so long as you're out of my telephone circuit, was to the effect that it was safe to plant corn any time after hearing the first whippoorwill sing.

Phineas followed that tradition; his son Joam followed it; his son's son John followed it; and his son's grandson has likewise followed it.

Something over a hundred and fifty years of corn-planting in the wake of the whippoorwill's song, you'll observe. And only once in that century and a half has the Farmer corn been killed by frost. We have regularly planted earlier than most of our farming neighbors who boasted of no alliance with the whippoorwill family. While the usual rule with those neighbors used to be and still is, "any time after the middle of May," the whippoorwill has egged us on to planting anywhere from the 3rd to the 5th. He seldom comes into our backyard earlier than the first-named date, and rarely does he delay beyond the last.

I shall not attempt to estimate how many times incredulous neighbors, seeing us planting corn pay the third or fourth of May, have warned us that the seed would rot in the ground, or the late frosts would nip the tender shoots. Yet we have never lost a crop by rotting seed, nor, as already said, more than one crop by frost in more than a hundred and fifty years. And that frost killed not only our corn but all the corn within a reasonable radius. It came about mid-July, early in the 1830's, after not only our corn but that planted a month later had grown big enough to be hoed. I was too small a baby then to appreciate it, but I have often heard my father tell of how he had to cut the frozen hills before he could re-plow the land for a possible crop of buckwheat.

Considering the sort of weather we've had, thus far this spring, dye s'pose we're in for a repetition of that experience this coming summer? Thinking of it, lately, I've naturally come to recall memories and traditions of other cold seasons.

There have been various recent publications in the newspapers about the cold summer of 1816—of "eighteen hundred and freeze-to-death," as some called it. Most of these publications have spoken of that as "the" cold summer, quite as if there had never been any other. This gives a wrong impression. There have been cold summers and untimely frosts many times besides 1816. This instance I have just rehearsed, of a killing freeze in mid-July somewhere about 1850, is one case. Why it shouldn't have got into print and been preserved as history I can't quite see. It must have been a rather general disaster, because practically all the farmers of this part of the country had to depend, the following spring, on imported seed to plant. There was none to be had in any of the New England or New York seed-stores.

Another cold era is preserved to me by family traditions. My father and mother were married in January, 1836. Neither during the summer of that year nor during the summers of 1837 and 1838 was it possible to ripen tomatoes in this neighborhood. Repeated frosts either killed the plants or nipped them so viciously as to prevent their flowering. The cold was not severe enough, evidently, to kill corn and potatoes, for there is no tradition of a shortage in those essential crops. But tomatoes were then a somewhat new adventure in gardening, and may, perhaps, have been a bit more sensitive than they are now.

When I was a school boy, working my way through [a preparatory school in Pittsfield, Mass., we woke up one 10th of May to find the landscape buried in snow and the air full of it. The fall ceased about breakfast time, and the kindly principal gave us a half-holiday to enjoy the unusual sport of a snowball battle May 10th. Tiring of this, after a while, a few of us strolled down town to watch the sleighs dashing up and down North street quite as numerously as ever in mid-winter. After the sun came out, the snow rapidly melted away and, by noon traffic was back on wheels again. But I shall carry to the end of my life a mental vision of that broad, open street, free in those days from all car tracks or poles—a swiftly shifting show of dashing horses, gaudy cutters and robes, fluttering ribbons and foot-deep snow—all under the brilliant sunshine of an otherwise typical tenth of May. This would have been in either 1867 or 1868, I am uncertain which.

During the last thirty years, when I have been specially engaged in gardening for market, I have known two years with killing freezes—not mere hoar frosts—on the 13th and 14th of June respectively. And there have been two years which silvered my gardens with a hoar frost every month in the year—July and August as well as June and September. These frosts, while blackening the tips of bean leaves and killing the taller squash-vine foliage, did not seem to injure corn or potato tops or even tomatoes and peppers, though the upper leaves of these last named plants were glistening white with the frost crystals when I first saw them at sun-up.

So, you see, cold springs and backward summers and July frosts are not such unheard-of and panic-breeding possibilities. What goes up must come down, they say. What has been shall be and there is nothing new under the sun. "Is there a thing whereof men say, See, this is new? It hath been already in the ages which were before us." Not so very long a while before us, either, in many cases.

It is very common for us to say to each other, Did you ever see such a hard winter? Did you ever know so backward a spring? Did you ever hear of so cold a summer? Did you ever know it to be so dry, or so hot, or so wet, or so something else?

The chances are that you yourself have known all these things, and have forgotten them. If you haven't, your dads or granddads have. It seems to be an almost impossible thing to make people, even farmer people, remember about the weather from one year to another. Lots of us can remember things over night. But that's the apparent limit for too many.

For more than forty years my father used to keep what he called a diary. Really, it was a weather-record, as any farm diary has to be. But it afforded him the basis for many an I-told-ye-so" triumph over some complaining neighbor. Such a one would come in, sore with disappointment over delayed work, weary with waiting for useable weather, blue with fears for the future. "Didje ever see such daunged weather?" he'd blurt out. Dad would reach out for his spectacles with one hand and for that diary with the other. Three times out of four he would find, sometimes only the previous year, a closely corresponding record of delays, disappointments and fears. His eyes would sparkle with unsuppressed triumph as he pointed to the incontestable record in black and white, set down at the time, and he would say, "Ye see it was 'bout 's bad then as 't is now." To which the usual answer would be something to the effect: "Brum, I guess you're right, but I'd forgotten it."

Which brings us back again to the wise king's three thousand years old conclusion: ("That which hath been is that which shall be; and that which hath been done is that which shall be done."

I was out on my small corn-patch, yesterday. It was planted just four weeks before, and not one hill in ten was yet up. I was, in one sense glad, for there had been an ice-making frost that morning, and the few hills that were up had been slightly nipped. My first thought, as I glanced over the gray ground was: "Whoever heard of yellow flint corn taking four weeks to come up?" I didn't say it. Not right out loud, anyway. Moreover, there was no one in hearing distance to say it to. And before anyone came within shouting distance, I had recovered my philosophy. "Oh, well," I said to myself, "it sure does seem like a cold, backward season; but I'll bet all my old shoes—and that would include all I've got—that there have been years just as cold, and just as backward and just as dispiriting. The other fellows lived through them, somehow, and managed to have a fairly good time, off and on. I guess we shall pull through, too."

So, also, when some younger farmer, anxious to have what benefit he may from my longer experience, asks me, plaintively: "Uncle John, Do you remember ever seeing such a spring?" I answer as soothingly as I can: "Well, no, I can't say I really remember one just exactly like it: I'm a leetle forgetful, like other folks, and"—here's where I spill the soothing syrup right on the ground—"and yet I kin remember a whole lot of springs that were just as bad and perhaps a good deal worse, one way or another."

As a cold matter of fact, looking back over rather more than three score years and ten, I can't now seem to recall a single spring in all the recurrent processions which wasn't about as full of vexations and botherations and weather cantankerousness as an egg is of meat. I never knew one which fully pleased everybody. Indeed, I'm not sure there ever was one which exactly suited anybody.

Under which circumstances, while it is the tritest sort of platitude to say "What can't be cured must be endured," the fact remains that we must endure whatever comes, weather-wise, and make either the best of it or the worst of it.

Being confined to a choice between those two methods, I put it to you, as a sensible sort of feller, if it isn't more comfortable and, in the end, wiser to make the best of it than to make the worst of it?

Did my corn come up exasperatingly slow? Perhaps. That very fact saved it from being nipped by yesterday morning's freeze. Score one for me.

Are the few crops which have come up standing still instead of growing? Well, very likely their roots are thickening under ground so they'll be able to jump along like scared rabbits when the real summer finally arrives.

One man puts on a long face and predicts that the worst is yet to come. Another, driven in by the rain, lays down his hoe, grins up at the dripping skies and whistles, "Oh, there's a good time coming!"

You pays your money and you takes your choice.

THE FARMER.

LEFFINGWELL

Mrs. Royal Choquette and son Benjamin spent last week in Danielson visiting relatives.

Twelve from Leffingwell attended the dance Saturday evening in the Odd Fellows' hall, Norwich. It was the last dance there of the season.

Jules Merchant of Waterbury is staying here with his nephew, Harry Bedat.

The nominating committee of the B. Y. P. U. to elect officers for the following six months was appointed on Sunday evening as follows: Mrs. Jesse E. Rogers, C. Thomas Leffingwell and Mrs. C. Emile Geoffray.

Memorial day callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Rose were Frank Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Getchell and son Elton, all of Palmertown, Mr. and Mrs. LeGrande Chappell and daughter Barbara of Thames View and Mrs. Carrie Park of Leffingwell.

Tuesday evening about 20 young people hung a May basket for Miss Ida Leffingwell. The May basket contained cooking recipes from each member of the party. All were invited in and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all with music and games. Refreshments were served.

Miss S. Alice Gadbois of Willimantic Normal school spent Memorial day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gadbois, of East Great Plain.

Mrs. Harry Bedat and daughters, Margaret and Louise, spent Monday with Mrs. Harold Bartlett of New London.

Joseph Elliott is working for Scott & Clark.

Frank Warrender was in Willimantic on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Leffingwell and family were at Lord's Point this week.

BALTIC

The Misses Salois of Arctic, R. I. were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Douville.

Members of Post St. Germain were at Pautipaug cemetery Memorial Day, decorating soldiers' graves.

A. P. Cote and family motored to Springfield Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Allard attended the Holy Cross-Boston College game Memorial Day.

Simsbury—A large tobacco shed on the American Sumatra Tobacco company plantation at Weatogue was burned to the ground with a loss of $5,000.

THE SEASON'S NEWEST
COTTON DRESS MATERIALS

32-inch Dress Ginghams, 28c a Yard

Very fine quality, made by one of the best American mills. The assortment includes smart plaids and checks, in beautiful color combinations.

FINE WOVEN TISSUES

This lovely, sheer fabric, woven like gingham, in dainty checks of the most wanted colors—

Yard-Wide—58c Yard

IMPORTED GINGHAMS

All the newest and most desirable size checks and newest colors. Imported to sell at 58c a yard—

Special 44c Yard

PRINTED VOILES AND BATISTES

Smart fabrics that will fashion into dainty and pretty summer dresses. A variety of patterns and color combinations—

40-in. Wide—58c Yard

IMPORTED ORGANDIES FOR THE PARTY FROCK

Imported Swiss Organdie, will make a Bouffant Frock with great charm. Exquisite shades of all most wanted colors—

40-in. Wide—48c Yard

RATINE CREPES

In solid colors with cross-bar checks, also plain crepes—just the kind of dress material for hot summer days; wear—green, gray, blue, peach—

58c a Yard

Ideal Cotton Stores

119 MAIN ST., COR. MARKET ST.
NORWICH, CONN.

SCHWARTZ BROS., Inc.

Attractive Offerings In Fine Furniture

FOR THE NEWLYWED'S HOME

COMING JUNE BRIDES — You really owe it to yourself to pay us a visit. Come in and look through our fine stock — compare our prices, learn about our "Deferred Payment Accounts." You will not be made to feel obligated to buy, and we assure you of courteous and painstaking service. We will be complimented by your call. Be sure and see our four-room love nest, completely furnished for $595.00. The greatest sensation of the season.

Baby Carriages
$22.50

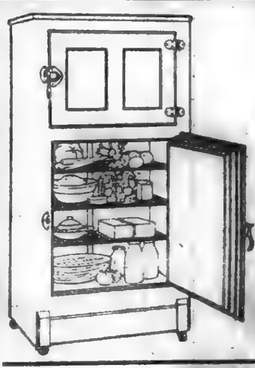
An exceptionally beautiful new design made with a closely woven genuine reed body and hood and a full roll edge. Take your choice of blue or ivory finish. Reversible body and rubber tires. Extra special at this low price.

Couch Hammocks
$11.45

Strong steel stand and canopy extra. Note adjustable head rest and comfortable spring construction.

Fibre Rockers
$12.75

The acme of comfort and attractiveness! Comfortable coil spring seat and beautiful cretonne upholstering. See it tomorrow.



Last week of our free ice offer on these wonderful refrigerators. Your last chance to get a month's free ice with a purchase of an Alaska..

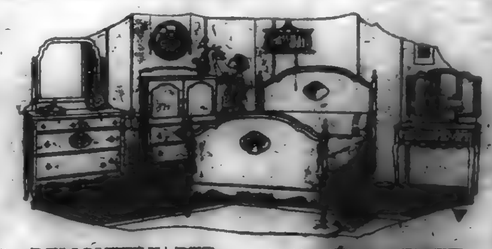
$15.00 UP

NEWEST STYLES IN DINING SUITES $139

Oblong or round extension, buffet, five side chairs and one arm chair with genuine leather upholstered seats. An attractive, well made suite beautifully finished. In the Queen Anne design.

THREE-PIECE LIVING ROOM SUITES $165

This splendid suite offers an unusual combination of comfort and beauty. The rich tapestry or velour in an exquisite new design draws immediate admiration and the deep, soft, removable cushions provide unusual comfort. And the price is low!



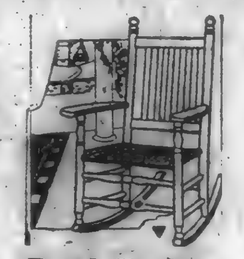
DELIGHTFUL BED-ROOM SUITES $145

The favorite Queen Anne period design is followed throughout this suite, which includes a full size bow end bed, large dresser, beautiful chiffonette and a dainty dressing table. See it tomorrow at this surprisingly low price.

A Charming Cedar Chest

Makes a practical wedding gift for the June Bride. Why not choose now from a most complete line?

PRICES FROM $19.50 UP



Porch Rockers
$4.95

When you see them, you'll be very much impressed with the sturdy construction, comfortable woven seats and attractive design. Selected maple frames in natural finish. Special for one day only! A real bargain!

OIL STOVES

We are showing a complete line of New Perfection and the New Superflex Oil Stoves, at lowest prices. Buy Now!

COLUMBIA and POOLEY TALKING MACHINES ON EASY TERMS

WHERE YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD
SCHWARTZ BROS.
The BIG STORE with the LITTLE PRICES
76-78-80-82 MAIN ST.

BALDWIN PIANOS and PLAYERS ON EASY TERMS

TWO SMALL BOYS CONFESS THEY ROBBED NEW LONDON STORE

(Special to the Bulletin)

New London, May 31—Two boys of about 12 years of age were taken in custody this evening, charged with burglarizing the store of Concassio Mariani of No. 25 Shaw street. The boys, who were arrested following complaint being made to Patrolman [illegible] Clifford by Mariani, admitted [illegible] and were turned over to [illegible] Officer Richard W. Mansfield.

The boys obtained about $2.25 and with the money one of the pair purchased an air rifle, paying $1 for the [illegible]. One of the youths resides in the same house with Mariani and had knowledge of the movements of the store keeper and where he left the key to the store when he absented himself from his place of business.

Today Mariani did not open the store and the youthful resident of the house secured the key and with his companion, unlocked the store and [illegible] the place located and took the money and then lodged complaint with the police.

The journeymen plumbers of the city will undoubtedly obtain an increase in wages beginning tomorrow morning for the master plumbers have practically agreed to give the employes the compensation which has been asked and which is $1 an hour for an eight hour day. The increase will be, if granted, a raise of twenty cents an hour and will be the same rate of wages that was given the journeymen carpenters a month ago. A conference was held this evening at the Crocker House between a committee representing the masters and a committee from the journeymen's union and it is understood that the increase was acted favorably upon. There are about fifty journeymen plumbers now employed in the dozen or more shops of the city.

The Yellow Cab Company, which received permission of the city council to violate the existing ordinance prohibiting the parking of public service automobiles other than in front of the union station, by granting the petition of the company to park two cars at the southwest corner of the depot and on State street for the purpose of soliciting patronage, will cause the action of the council to be thrashed out in court whenever the cab company decides to start parking its cars at the depot for the other public service operators have retained counsel to represent them and protect their interests.

As the cab company intends to place its cars at the depot Saturday or Sunday an injunction will probably be sought and obtained restraining the cab company from operating its cars from the stand granted them by the council. The present ordinance specifically prescribes that no public service machine shall park only in front of one half of the depot and that its operators shall not solicit patronage unless standing within ten feet of the rear of their respective cars.

The commencement exercises attending the graduation of the 1923 class of students at the Williams Memorial Institute will occur during the week beginning June 10th. The class is one of the largest to be graduated from the institute. The graduation exercises will take place at the school Thursday afternoon, June 14th, at 4.30 o'clock. Miss Margaret Battles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Battles of Perry street, will deliver the valedictory address. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. Myron E. Genter at the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday, June 10th at 10.45 o'clock. Special music will be provided and besides the students, the sermon will be listened to by the students of the senior class of Bulkeley High school and parents and friends of the class.

During the remainder of the week a playlet will be presented by the students in Bulkeley school auditorium and a dance at the Hotel Mohican and a class picnic will be other features. Following the graduating exercises the class will go to the Hotel Mohican where the annual graduating class banquet will be served.

James Andrews, a second class painter at the United States Coast Guard academy, having been in the service about 30 years and located at the reservation ever since it was established here, died at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital Wednesday, death resulting from infirmities attending old age. Andrews was about 50 years of age.

Mrs. Sarah Batimer of Gales Ferry and Mrs. Edward Zoudreau of Groton, patients at Home Memorial hospital, were able to go to their respective homes today.

Augustus Olsen, employed as engineer of the steam yacht Cynthia being gotten ready for service at her berth in Shaw's Cove, suffered the crushing of his index finger of the right hand this morning when the finger was caught in the maghinery of the engine room. Olsen was removed to Home Memorial hospital where the finger was partially amputated.

Yesterday was "Pappy Day" in New London and the force of young ladies who solicited sales on State and Bank streets throughout the day were most successful in obtaining funds for disabled soldiers of the world war. It is understood that the sales will net the cause $500.

R. Olivierie and his wife Mary, residing in the Fort Neck section of the city, started to enjoy themselves this afternoon by indulging in strong drink. Some time after the couple tried to reach their home, but they found the navigating extremely rough, so much so that they got stranded on Howard street.

Patrolman Dennis Cavanaugh came upon the couple who were helpless and summoning the police patrol, the man and his wife were locked up. Towards evening Olivierie and his wife were liberated upon procuring a surety on their bond of $35 for their appearance in court of Guisseppi Filipitti, an acquaintance of the couple.

Theodore Baker of No. 14 Blydenburg avenue will be presented in the police court tomorrow morning on a charge of violation of the city ordinance prohibiting parking on the east side of Bank street. He was ordered into court this afternoon by Traffic Officer John Courtney when the officer detected the car parked in the restricted territory over a half hour.

No trace has been found of John E. Devens and Peter Uckas, the former a resident of Fisher's Island, who have never been seen since the night they started from Hay Harbor club in a canoe to go to the opposite end of the island and it is now believed that the two young men met the fate that was feared, drowning from the overturning of the canoe.

Ever since the searchers gave up the task of endeavoring to find the bodies should they appear in the waters in this vicinity, but the bodies have not been sighted and it is over a month since the missing men started on the trip. The only trace of the canoe to be found was the finding of one of the paddles, which was picked up the following day by searchers off the island.

John Richards, an East Lyme mill hand, was arraigned in the police court for intoxication on Memorial day. He came to this city to see the parade. It is said he drank some wine before he started for New London, and he declared that he did not feel any effect from it till he had been in New London several hours. Then it threw him. He fell into a store doorway on North Bank street and in falling broke a window in the door. The crash was heard at the police station and Richards was arrested. He told his story in the police court and it impressed the judge so that he allowed Richards to go back to his work.

Captain John Hough of the barge Quincy Adams, a Chappel company craft, was found dead from heart disease on the vessel at Providence Wednesday. It is not known where Hough had a home if indeed he did have one other than on whatever craft he was employed upon.

Leon P. Davis, a resident of this city for two years or more and who has long been the operator of an auto here, had an idea that he could park his car in front of his own home an indefinite time. So he attempted to carry out his notion as to leaving his car at the curbing on State street. An officer tagged the car and warned Davis into court.

There he was fined $5 and paid the fine.

James Butcha, a Russian, is to come to trial in the police court Saturday for a breach of the peace. He looked as if he had been under a railroad train when he appeared in the court today charged with that offense. He had visited a Russian restaurant on North Bank street and there he became involved in a row. The police department was notified that there was trouble there and Officer Daniels was sent to quell the disturbance. He found James there, but the trouble was not of a serious nature and the officer put an end to it with good advice.

He was soon called on again. He tried to take Butcha from the place, but he would not go. As soon as the officer took hold of him he struck at the man in uniform it is said. Officer Daniels replied in kind and Butcha went to the street. The officer took his man to the police station. Butcha secured a bond of $100 and was released. Today he was in court with a lawyer to defend him in his contention that the officer attacked him without cause and beat him to a degree that a surgeon was called. It is believed the hearing Saturday, to which the case has been continued to get witnesses and an interpreter, will be a session of some length.

Elizabeth Weber and Sophie Beyer who came to New London after the naval ships that reached port a week ago were in the police court this forenoon as street walkers.

Their cases were continued till Saturday with the understanding that they should get out of town. They were turned over to Mr. Mansfield and left for New York during the evening.

Edna S. Bodenwein has sold a house and lot on Lincoln avenue to Carrie M. Vickery.

William P. Gaynor of Brooklyn, N. Y., has returned to his home after having visited Miss Mary Holmes of No. 147 Winchop street.

Cadet Henry Perkins of the United States Coast Guard Academy, James McGuire of Westerly, William Wentworth of Nameaug Engine Company, No. 2, Mrs. Howard Rowland and twin daughters of Lincoln avenue, Theodore Richards of New York, Fred Jensen of Ashaway, R. I., Miss Alice Newbury of Howard street, and Ralph Tuscardo of Westerly, patients at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, were able to return to their respective homes today.

The funeral of Miss Annie L. Steward was held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. M. N. Sherman of No. 278 Williams street, the services being conducted by Rev. Myron E. Genter, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Interment was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

An automobile, owned by a man named Neuhousen, of New York, and with his wife as the only passenger with him, was overturned late last night on Plant Hill, East Lyme, a grade where there have been many automobile accidents the past three years. Mr. and Mrs. Neuhousen were thrown from the car and sustained cuts and abrasions. They were removed to Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital where the patients received treatment, after which they departed for Norwich, to which city Mr. and Mrs. Neuhousen were en route when the machine overturned. The automobile was wrecked and was towed to a New London garage.

Frank Stevens, aged 30 years and a sailor, is under treatment at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg sustained Tuesday night when he was run down by an unidentified automobile near Mystic Stevens, who resides at No. 87 Oak street, Westerly, was brought to the hospital by Hubert Watson of East Main street, Westerly, who found Stevens lying helpless in the road. The accident occurred when Stevens alighted from his motorcycle and took up a position alongside his car.

The automobile came along at a rapid rate of speed and was driven so close to Stevens that he was struck by the mudguard and knocked down.

Watson came along in his machine and seeing that Stevens was in need of medical treatment, placed him in the automobile and made a hurried trip to New London.

Mrs. Alice Hunt of East Lyme, who was appointed police woman by a vote of the city council about a month ago, has concluded her duties as attendant at the State Farm for Women and will assume the duties of her new position tomorrow morning. Mrs. Hunt was in New London this afternoon and conferred with City Manager James E. Barlow as to her duties.

She will report to the city manager and will be provided with desk space in the office of the charity department in the municipal building. Mrs. Hunt's principal duties will be in the way of suppression of vice, directing her attention to the conduct of young men and girls and visiting such places as dance halls, restaurants, Ocean beach and other places where young people congregate.

An automobile, owned and driven by Warren A. Hanson, of No. 130 Cedar Grove avenue, and a machine, owned and operated by Wilson Beebe of No. 11 Home street, were in collision this morning on Washington street, near Methodist street. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Police Sergeant Nelson Smith will start tomorrow on his annual vacation of two weeks.

James Virga of No. 81 Jefferson avenue, was not prosecuted on the charge of reckless driving and evading responsibility, in the police court this morning for the man that complained against Virga, Nestor Dreyfus, of No. 20 Channing street, withdrew the complaint just before court convened. Virga was arrested yesterday following his automobile and that of Dreyfus colliding at the corner of Jefferson and Lincoln avenues. Both cars were damaged.

Following the accident Dreyfus appeared at the police station and lodged a complaint against Virga, stating that the latter drove away without stopping to ascertain the extent of the damage occasioned by the collision. Motorcycle Officer William Babcock was furnished with the registration of Virga's car by Dreyfus and a short time later the officer located the missing auto and its driver in a garage. It was then that Virga was ordered to appear in court.

A still alarm caused the Nameaug Engine company to be summoned to the wharf of the Fishers Island Navigation Company, foob of State street, this afternoon, when a section of the planking became afire, presumably from a cigar stump falling between the crevices. The fire was subdued by the application of chemicals and without damage of consequence.

Included among the places decorated Memorial Day was the honor roll tablet in the corridor of the municipal building, where a large wreath was attached to the bronze tablet by Veterans of Foreign Wars. The wreath was of white and pink roses.

Attorney Arthur T. Keefe of Bentley avenue, Ocean beach, and junior member of the law firm of Geary, Davis and Keefe, was taken suddenly ill at his home last night and early this morning he was removed to Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, where an operation for appendicitis was performed. This afternoon it was reported at the hospital that the patient was resting comfortably.

Mr. Keefe was about the city yesterday, but complained of feeling ill. During the evening his condition became worse and physicians were summoned. A diagnosis of the case revealed appendicitis and an immediate operation was deemed necessary.

Ruth Gardner, 8 years of age and residing at No. 62 Colt street, sustained numerous bruises and contusions Tuesday night while riding her bicycle in Waterford, near Station 7. There was no light displayed from the cycle and an automobile, owned and operated by a New London man named Kennedy ran down the cyclist.

Kennedy caused the girl to be taken to the home of a physician where the wounds were dressed after which the girl was transferred to her home. Kennedy agreed to pay the costs of repairing the bicycle and the physician's fees.

DROP LIQUOR CHARGE AGAINST NORWICH BARBER

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, May 31.—Joseph Basile, a Norwich barber, who was prosecuted for violation of the liquor law after his arrest in this city some two months ago, has been found not to have been an offender. Prosecutor Whittlesey sent Police Sergeant Hick to Hartford with the can of alcohol that was taken from Basile when the latter stopped at the Firemen's Lunch in this city, on the 16th of March last and obtained something to eat. Basil appealed and his case went up to common pleas for a decision. Now it turns out that the stuff seized from Basile was denatured alcohol and that Basile had the right to have it as he intended to use it in his business of making tonics for barbers. Basile was in New London today and a mightily pleased man he was. He will now seek and obtain the alcohol that was taken from him.

MONTVILLE

On May 23 and 24 Miss Annan of Storrs college held an all-day session at the Uncasville Methodist chapel, conducting a millinery class, with an attendance of about 20, coming from Oakdale, Trading Cove, Norwich and Uncasville. Dinner was served both days, consisting of baked beans, potato salad, coffee, rolls, sandwiches and cake. Those who served the winner on Wednesday were Mrs. Gesner, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Spiers; on Thursday, Mrs. George Dart and Mrs. Spiers. There were 15 hats made.

Much remodeling is being done to the buildings recently purchased by the Palmer Brothers' company, formerly known as the Brainard estate. The original dwelling is being made into a two-tenement house, the office and shop are being made into another tenement, and the barn across the street is also being remodeled into a two-tenement house.

The meeting of the Visiting Nurse association was held at the Uncasville schoolhouse on Friday evening. It was voted to ask one of the applicants for a district nurse to accept the position. Plans were also made for a play to be given some time in June, the proceeds to be used toward paying the expenses of the nurse.

The motion picture hall at Oakdale has been enlarged by tearing out the kitchen, thus making the main hall about 20 feet longer.

Mrs. Ralph Meleer of Uncasville received two May baskets, one a market basket of rainbow colors, hung by the boys of her Sunday school class on Saturday evening. The boys enjoyed athletic games and also indoor games. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

On Monday evening Elace Dart, Dana Dart, Alice Potter, Lewellyn Potter and Elizabeth Kellogg hung a light pink May basket for Mrs. Meleer. The young people were invited in and games were played and ice cream and cake served. Both baskets were a complete surprise to Mrs. Meleer.

Mrs. Margaret Jeffers spent Sunday with Miss Maude Williams of New London.

Mrs. M. Webster has returned from a few days' visit with relatives in New London.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burr of Montville Center motored to New Milford and spent the week end.

Theodore Richards of Honolulu, Huwaii, is spending a few days at his farm in Montville Center.

Ruth Kennerson, who has been seriously ill with measles and pneumonia, is slowly improving.

Robertson Paper company is remodeling the upper section of their office building for a tenement house.

William Rice and family have moved from the Pequot to Palmertown.

Mrs. Edwin Henry of Hartford called on friends in the village on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Allen and son Percy and daughter Norma were callers at Pleasure Beach on Sunday.

C. M. Williams, chemist for the Massasoit company at Oakdale, is spending a few days in Fall River.

Mr. and Mrs. John Watt of New London visited Mr. Watt's mother, Mrs. Almira Watt, on Sunday.

Miss Jenevra Smith was a caller in New London on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Glendennion and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Bonville were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lousignan in Pequot on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Copeland and Miss Edna Ganung of Norwich have returned to their home after a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Church.

Henry Tyler has moved from Fitch's Corner to one of the Massasoit company's houses at Oakdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Furber and Justine Chapel and Lloyd Chapel were visitors in New London on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Finn and son Robert of Noank were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Walsh of Pequot on Sunday.

Thomas Latimer of Oakdale was a week end visitor in New London.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brooks and granddaughter, Jennie Tripp, of Oakdale, motored to Middletown, New Britain and Meriden on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Seymour motored to Scituate, R. I., on Sunday.

Mrs. Angie Vickery was a week end visitor with Miss Josephine Collins in Rhode Island.

Miss Rose Hickey spent the week end in Taftville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stone, Frances Kennedy and Rose Kennedy of Moosup were the guests of Rose Hickey on Sunday.

Little two year old Priscilla Francis of Oakdale was severely burned recently when she tipped over a kettle of hot fat on to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Church and Miss Lyla Chapman visited Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Hanney at Flanders on Sunday.

Mrs. Rosamond Smith and daughters, the Misses Jeneva and Georgabell, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith motored to Pleasure Beach on Sunday.

Free to Asthma and Hay Fever Sufferers

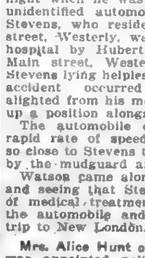
Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Chronic Asthma or Hay Fever, you should send for a free Trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with Asthma or Hay Fever, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it Today—you even do not pay postage.

FREE TRIAL COUPON
FRONTIER ASTHMA CO.
Room 21-Y Niagara and Hudson Streets, Buffalo, N. Y.
Send free trial of your method to:
.....
.....
.....



WATER DIRECT FROM THE -WELL- FOR YOUR COUNTRY HOME or FARM

For over thirty years we have been planning and installing water systems of all kinds and we have thousands of satisfied customers. Our field of operation is and always has been the New England States.

Our facilities for manufacturing and obtaining supplies and equipment for water systems is unexcelled making it possible for us to offer you maximum value at minimum cost. We offer you advice and estimates gratis.

Our printed matter is well illustrated and interesting.

Nothing pays better or gives greater satisfaction than running water under pressure. Our services are yours for the asking.

Send for Catalog N-3
BRACKETT, SHAW & LUNT COMPANY
1 Washington St., Boston, Mass
Branches:
Manchester, Conn.; Rutland, Vt.

SELLING OUT

All Our Odds and Ends, Broken Lots and Odd Sizes

In a General Spring Clearance

SALE STARTS JUNE 1st

Some Great Bargains — Come Early and Get the Pick

Every Garment In Stock Sacrificed

BEAUTIFUL NEW OVERBLOUSES
NEW SPORT COATS
LUXURIOUS BOLIVIA COATS
POIRET TWILL WRAPS
OVERPLAID COATS
LATEST STYLE CREPE DRESSES
NEWEST OF SKIRTS
SUITS OF FINE QUALITY

NO PRICES MENTIONED, BUT
BEST AND BIGGEST BARGAINS OF THE SEASON

EVERYBODY INVITED

GATELY & BRENNAN

29 SHETUCKET STREET — NORWICH

Cuticura Soap Complexions Are Healthy

Soap, Ointment, Talcum, 25c everywhere. For samples address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden, Mass.

Norwich Market Growers' Association

SPINACH

This popular vegetable is very rich in iron, lime and the healthful vitamins, and has been aptly called "the broom of the stomach." Wise people appreciate it; weak people need it; doctors prescribe it; and WE GROW IT!

SPINACH—Ask for Native—SPINACH

The Woodstock Dairy

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

BEST QUALITY BUTTER, lb... 48c

WOODSTOCK CREAMERY BUTTER, pound 45c

Otto Stahl's BOILED HAM, lb..... 55c

COOKED CORNED BEEF, lb..... 65c

Stahl's ROAST PORK, lb..... 70c

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Holt Power-Light

GENERATES 110-VOLT CURRENT
OPERATES 30-25 WATT LAMPS
HAS NO STORAGE BATTERIES
HAS A 3-INCH PULLEY FOR POWER
WAS THE MOST ECONOMICAL PLANT ON MARKET TO OPERATE.
PRICE $285.00, F. O. B. DETROIT.

F. O. PLUMMER, Agent
STERLING, CONN.

"Head-hop-and-shoulders" above any other brand of malt —that's "MALTOP"—the richest, creamiest and purest malt product in America.

"MALTOP WURZBURGER"—Extra dark with rare Wurzburger flavor.
"MALTOP BLEND"—Medium dark; also light.
"MALTOP REDEMIXT"—Quickly prepared, no boiling; rich and creamy
"MALTOP DUBLIN STOUT"—A rich, creamy beverage; highly nourishing and a splendid tonic. Used with double quantity hops.
"MALTOP BOHEMIAN"—Golden brown, delicately flavored.
The freshest, snappiest and best flavored hops are used with "MALTOP" malts.
For genuine "100% enjoyment" and malt satisfaction, you should get acquainted with "MALTOP." Any of the above brands are waiting for you at—

THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
Telephone 1309 — 40 Franklin Street

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales, 688,600 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged $7.53, net loss .13. High 1923, 105.38; low 93.77.

Twenty railroads averaged $2.04, net loss .05. High 1923, 90.63; low, 89.12.

MARKET WAS IRREGULAR.

New York, May 31.—Erratic price movements took place in today's stock market with closing prices decidedly irregular.

The upward movement, which has been in progress for the last week, was resumed at the opening but trading became dull on the rally. Some selling then came into the oil shares, despite the announcement of another increase in the wholesale price of gasoline in the western Pennsylvania and mid-continent fields. This was accentuated later by selling said to be indirectly connected with the bankruptcy proceedings against the largest curb market house. Just before the close selling pressure was exerted against the equipment share which previously had shown impressive strength.

California Petroleum was again one of the most outstanding individual features, establishing a new top for all time at 117 3-8 and then slipping back to 116, where it was up 3 3-4 points on the day. Weakness on Marlin Oil, which closed 2 3-4 lower at 45 3-8, was attributed in some quarters to the liquidation of stock purchased for supporting purposes in the recent reaction. Phillips Petroleum also was heavy.

Rails offered good resistence to selling pressure. Reports of the first 56 class one roads to report show combined net income of $61,200,000 in April as compared with $60,600 000 in March and $30,200,000 in April a year ago.

American Locomotive touched a new top at 143 3-4 but slumped to 140 1-2, where it was off 1-2 on the day, in the final reaction. Baldwin dropped from its early high of 136 1-4 to 133 3-4, off 3-4 on the day. General Electric touched 180 1-4 and then fell back about two points. American Can, another early favorite, also sold off at the close.

Underwood Typewriter advanced 5 points on announcement of a recapitilization involving a change in the par value of the stock from $100 to $25 a share. Other strong spots were Kinney Company, Maxwell Motors A and Manhattan Electrical Supply.

End-of-the-month requirements resulted in a stiffening of the call money rate, which opened at 5 per cent. and then advanced to 5 1-2. Little time money was offered, the rate remaining at 5 per cent. for all maturities up to four points. The commercial paper rate was unchanged.

The further collapse of the German mark to .0014 1-4 cents was the feature of the irregular foreign exchange market. Demand sterling advanced 3-8 of a cent to $4.62 3-8 and French francs dropped 8 points to 6.52 cents. Greek exchange jumped 60 points to 2.51 cents in response to heavy speculative purchases. South American rates were unchanged because of the holiday.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	High.	Low.	Close
Al Chem & D	74	71	71
Allis Chalmers	43	43	43
Allis Chalm pr	93	93	93
Am Ac Chem	20	19½	19½
Am Beet Sugar	39	38	39
Am Bosch Mag	42½	41½	41½
Am Can	103⅝	101⅝	101¾
Am Car & Fy	173	172½	173½
Am Cotton Oil	8⅞	8⅝	8⅝
Am Cot Oil pr	18	17½	17½
Am Hide & L	9	9	9
Am Int Corp	25⅛	25	25
Am Tel & Tel	123	122⅝	122
Am Tobacco	148	147½	148
Am Wool	93⅝	92½	92½
Am Wool pr	102	101⅝	101½
Am Wool ful pal	103⅜	102½	102⅝
Anaconda	46⅛	45	45⅜
Asso Oil	117	117	117
Atchison	101¾	101⅛	101½
Atchison pr	88½	88⅛	88½
Balt & Ohio	50⅝	49⅞	4⅞
Balt & Ohi pr	56⅝	56⅜	56⅝
Beth Steel	55⅛	53⅞	54⅛
Brook R T	3⅝	2⅞	3
Brook Rap Tr ctf	3	3	3
Brook R T 1 pr	18¾	17¾	17⅝
But Cop & Z	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜
But & Sup Corp	24⅞	24⅜	24⅞
Canadian Pacific	155½	154¼	154¼
Cent Leather	28½	28½	28½
Cent Leath pr	69½	68¾	68¾
Chand Motor	63	62	63
Ches & Ohio	66¾	66¼	66¼
Ch & Gt West	6	5	5
Chi & Gt West pr	11½	11½	11¾
Chi M & St P	21⅞	21¾	21¾
C M & St P pr	38	37⅛	37½
Chi & N W	79½	79½	79⅜
C R I & P	30	29½	29½
Chile Cop	27½	27	27⅛
Chino Cop	22⅞	22½	22½
Coaden	48⅝	47½	48¼
Dome Mines	37½	34¼	35½
Erie	13⅝	12	12
Erie 1 pr	19⅞	19	19
Erie 2 pr	13⅜	13⅜	13⅜
Gen Elec spl	11	11	11
Gen Electric	180¾	176½	179
Gen Motors	14⅞	14⅞	14⅞
Gen Mot pr	84	83½	83¾
Gen Mot 6 p c db	83¾	83½	83¾
Gdyr T & R pr	54¾	54¾	54¾
Great North pr	72	72	72
Great North Or	30	29¾	30
Hupp Motor	22¼	22¼	22¼
Hudson Motor	26⅞	26⅝	26¾
Illinois Cent pr	110¾	110½	110¾
Inspir Cop	33	32½	32½
Int Har Co	8	8	8
Int Mer Mar pr	30½	30½	30½
Kennecott	37⅞	37½	37½
Keystone Tire	7¼	7	7
Lehigh Valley	63¾	63⅞	63¾
Max Mot A	50¾	48⅝	49⅜
Miami Cop	26¾	26	26⅜
M K & T new	13⅜	13⅛	13⅜
Mo K & T pr new	35⅜	35⅛	35⅛
Mo Pacific	14¼	14⅛	14⅛
Mo Pac pr	39⅞	38⅛	38⅛
Nt Enam & St	66⅜	65¼	65¼
N Y Air Bk	37½	37½	37½
N Y Air B A	48⅝	48⅝	48⅝
N Y Central	99⅝	99½	99½
N Y N H & H	17⅝	17⅜	17⅜
Nor & W ex-di	109	108⅝	109
Nor & W pr	77	77	77
North Pacific	73½	72¼	73¼
Pacific Oil	37⅝	37½	37½
Penn R R	44⅝	44⅜	44⅝
Pierce Oil	3⅜	3⅛	3⅛
Pierce Oil pr	31½	31½	31⅝
Ray Con Cop	13⅜	13⅛	13⅛
Reading	75⅝	75	75
Replogle Steel	20⅞	20	20
Rep I & St	53¼	51¾	51⅝
South Ry	34½	34	34
So Ry pr	67½	67	67
Tobacco Prod	53⅝	52⅞	52⅝
Tobacco Pro A	82¾	82	82
Union Pacific	138⅝	137⅞	138
Un Pacific pr	73⅜	73	73
U S Rubber	52¼	52	52⅛
U S Rub 1 pr	100⅛	100	100⅛
U S Steel	98½	97⅜	98⅜
U S Steel pr	117⅝	117⅛	117½
West Un Tel	108⅞	108	108⅞
West Air Bk	87	87¼	87⅞
West El & Mfg	57⅝	55⅞	56⅛
Wt El & Mfg pr	74⅞	74⅜	74⅝
Willys Oland	7	6⅞	6⅝
Willys Oland pr	64	62	62¾

BOND MARKET.

New York, May 31.—Trading in bonds today on the New York Stock Exchange centered chiefly in foreign division with some activity in the railroad group. Industrial bonds were dull and U. S. government issues moved irregularly within a narrow limit.

Gains of a point or more were recorded by Belgian 7 1-2's, and the 8's Serbian 8's, and Regio Grande Do Sul 8's, Jurgen 6's, fell off 1 1-4. Fluctuations in U. S. government bonds were confined to 4-32s of a point.

Speculatice railroad funds pointed upward during a greater part of the day but many of them were unable to hold their gains and closed within fractions of closing quotations Tuesday.

Atchison general 4's showed a net loss of 1 1-8 points. Buying of New England Telephone & Telegraph 5's carried them up 1 1-4. Virginia Carolina Chemical 7 1-2's, with warrants, dropped 1 3-4, and Mariand Oil 8's, with warrants, receded 1 3-8.

Total sales (par value) were $8,985,000.

Liberty Bonds.

	High.	Low.	Close
3½s, 1947	100-28	100-23	100-23
1st 4¼s, '47	98-21	98-15	98-16
2d 4¼s, '42	98-18	98-13	98-15
3d 4¼s, '28	98-31	98-23	98-26
4th 4¼s, '28	98-24	98-17	98-19
Treas 4¼s	99-25	99-21	99-23

Quoted in thirty-seconds of a point. For example, read 98-3 as 98 7-32.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Year Ago.
Demand	$4.62½	$4.45½
Cables	4.62⅝	4.45⅝
Francs	6.51½	9.11½
Guilders	39.15	38.80
Marks	.0014⅛	.87⅛
Lire	4.72½	5.21½
Swiss francs	18.03	19.12
Pesetas	15.18	15.80
Belgian francs	5.63	8.40
Kronen	.0014⅛	.010
Sweden	26.60	25.90
Denmark	18.49	21.80
Norway	16.85	17.80
Greece	2.84	4.18
Arkentina	81.60	82.40
Brazil	10.20	13.75

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Ill., May 31.—Indications that France and Germany were near to a settlement had a general bullish effect on the grain markets today, and the corn pit was further enlivened by belated shorts who ran up the price of May corn at a rapid rate in the last few minutes of the board of trade session. Corn finished strong at 1 cent to 5 3-8 cents gain, May 82 1-2 cents, the top price of the day, with July 78 5-8 to 78 3-4. Wheat closed unsettled at a range varying from 1-2 cent decline to 1 1-2 cents advance, July 1.13 7-8 to 1.14 and September 1.13 1-4 to 1.13 5-8. In Oats, the outcome was 1-8 cent off to 5-8@3-4 cent up, and in provisions unchanged to 7 cents higher.

The brief flurry in the corn market was confined to the May delivery, and appeared to result chiefly from the fact that a greater number of traders than usual waited until their time limit had almost expired before effecting month-end settlement of contracts. Aside from the circumstances that all the grain markets showed an upward tendency today, the corn market reflected continued scantiness of receipts. Besides, gossip was current that the after-the-planting movement of corn to market was already over.

In addition to optimism as to a prospective agreement between France and Germany, bullish reports about crop conditions in western Europe tended to lift the price of wheat. Scattered liquidation here, however, on the part of holders of May wheat made the market nervous and irregular, especially as offerings of July and September were scarce at times, and shorts in those months who wished to cover found it difficult to do so except at a material advance.

Oats were helped upward by the strength of corn. With the crop reports good, though, as to oats, advances failed to hold well.

The provision market showed sympathy with the firmness of hog values.

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat:
May	113⅝	111½	112⅛
July	114⅝	113⅛	114
Sept.	113⅝	112	112⅝
Corn—
May	82½	77⅝	82½
July	79	77½	78⅝
Sept.	77	75⅝	76½
Oats—
May	42¼	40	41
July	42¼	40	41
July	41⅛	49⅝	41⅛
Sept.	38⅝	37⅞	39⅛

METAL MARKET.

New York, May 31.—Copper weak. Electrolytic spot and futures 14 7-8@15. Tin firm. Spot and nearby 42.62@42.75; futures, 42.37@42.50. Iron steady; prices unchanged. Lead steady. Spot 7.25@7.37. Zinc firm. East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 6.40@6.45. Antimony spot 7.10@7.15.

MONEY.

New York, May 31.—Call money firmer; high 5 1-2; low 5; ruling rate 5; closing bid 5 1-2; offered at 5 3-4; last loan 5 1-2; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

COTTON.

New York, May 31.—Cotton spot, quiet. Middling 28.60.

JEWETT CITY

The funeral service for Alfred Avery Young was held at his home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Richard R. Graham, rector of Christ church, Norwich, read the Episcopal service, and also the committal service at the cemetery. The burial was in the Jewett City cemetery.

The bearers were the master and past masters of Mt. Vernon lodge, No. 75, F. and A. M., Norman B. Parkhurst, Dr. G. H. Jennings, E. M. Gray, W. T. Crumb, B. R. Gardner and G. H. Prior. A delegation from A. A. Young, Jr., Hose and Ladder Co. No. 1, attended the services. Among the relatives were Mrs. George Wheelock, Mrs. Grace Weatherby, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Weatherby, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Burr.

Charles F. Campbell spent Memorial Day in Worcester.

Misses Margaret and Bertha McCarthy of Niantic were guests at Mrs. Timothy Driscoll's on Wednesday.

Michael Wozniak has bought the Grenier property at the corner of Brown avenue and North Main street.

Miss Margaret Read, an instructor in the Pongaloo school, Mississippi, is visiting Miss S. K. Adams.

Miss Helen Hull is in Waterville, Maine, for three weeks.

Mrs. Joseph Viegard of Danielson has been a guest at the home of her son, Henry Viegard.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Finn entertained Misses Elsie and Minnie Foster of Providence on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Culley of East Killingly were guests at N. J. Babcock's on Wednesday.

George Rathbun of Providence is spending a few days at Charles Rathburn's.

Mrs. Eugene LeClaire of Springfield was a Memorial day guest at her sister's, Mrs. W. T. Crumb's.

Richmond Gardner of this place, who has been studying the opera under Mlle. Marcelle Demougeot in Paris, the past year, sang Sunday night, May 20, for the Concerts Padiola, which broadcasts throughout Europe. His selection was Air de la Jolie Fille de Perth (Bizet). Mlle. Demougeot was his accompanist.

Walter Damrosch, conductor of the New York Symphony orchestra and vice president of the French-American Conservatory at Fontainebleau, France, and M. Maurice Fragnaud, founder of the school, were listening in.

The announcement over the radio preceding the performance gave a short history of the conservatory at Fontainebleau and Mr. Gardner's connection with it. Mr. Gardner attended the school last summer, receiving honorable mention at the annual concours. He will be a student there again this season.

Chief Thomas Wakely of the fire department has a new equipment of shut-off nossles, received last week. Now if two streams are being used from one hydrant, and one is found to be sufficient there is no delay in making the change. Heretofore there was a needless waste of pressure, if two lines were in operation from the same hydrant, and only one being used.

Local Shriners who are planning to visit the big convention in Washington early this month will be interested in the following bulletin received Thursday by Postmaster D. E Finn:

Mail for visiting Shriners and others should be addressed to the hotel, the street address of the house where they are stopping, or in care of the temple with which they are connected, or should be marked "Shriner." Mail bearing a specific address, such as a hotel or street number, will be delivered accordingly. Mail addressed in care of a temple will be delivered from the station at the headquarters of that temple. All other mail bearing the word "Shriner" will be delivered from the Shrine post office. Unless mail is specifically addressed by one of these methods, Shriners may fail to receive it during their brief stay in Washington.

For the convenience of visitors to the Shrine convention, the department has arranged to provide special postal facilities at Shrine Park, near Duke street, Alexandria, Va., from June 3 to 8, inclusive.

Several marksmen from the Jewett City and Voluntown Rifle clubs attended the opening shoot of the Taftville, Germania Schutzen-Verin, one of the oldest rifle clubs in New England. The Jewett City and Voluntown boys did very creditable work, equaling some of the best scores ever made over the 100-yard range of the Taftville club. It must be borne in mind that twice during the history of the Taftville club two big matches have been held there, in which marksmen all ocer the country competed. The targets are 8-inch black with 3-4-inch rings running to the center ring or bullseye which is only an inch in diameter. Some valuable prizes were carried home and the local boys wee highly pleased with the courtesy extended them by the Taftville club. Another big shoot will be held there July 4th and an effort is to be made to have the Voluntown, Plainfield, Jewett City and Norwich clubs attend in a body.

Following are the scores of the local shooters:

	1st	2nd	Total.
John Kaufman	70	73	143
Charles B. Palmer	71	71	142
Fred Stebbins	70	71	141
John Hall	73	63	136
Dona Ballou	64	67	131
Otto Gilbert	62	65	127
Doc Wallace	65	55	120

The first five men had the highest scores and received the following prizes in order: John Kaufmann, silver dish; Charles B. Palmer, electric flat iron; Fred Stebbins, electric table lamp; John Hall, carving set; Dona Ballou, portable electric lamp.

The Pachaug Community club held its meeting Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beardwood and daughters, Elizabeth and Bessie, of Pawtucket were in town on Wednesday.

Miss Gladys Raymond of Meriden spent Wednesday with her cousin, Miss Irene Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn and sons, William, George and Ernest Dunn, of Clinton, Mass., were guests Wednesday at James McCluggage's, and with Miss Bessie McCluggage spent the day in Westerly.

Harold Fields and Miss Esther Harris were married on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wheelock of New London were callers at E. F. Burleson's on Wednesday.

Charles Tyler of Bridgeport was a Memorial day visit in Lisbon and Jewett City.

Miss Jennie Wild of Mansfield is a guest of Mrs. Jennie Wild.

James Blair, John H. Tracy, John P. Gorman, Arthur M. Brown, John N. Lewis and Lewis M. Carpenter attended the Hartford day celebration Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan and two daughters, Helen and Harriett, of Boston were Memorial day guests at Daniel Morgan's.

John Kelly was sent to jail for 30 days by Judge F. E. Robinson in the town court Tuesday on a charge of breach of the peace. He was taken to the Norwich jail.

Wallace H. Payne of Jewett City and Miss Dorothy Tillinghast of Plainfield were married in Plainfield on Thursday evening, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's father, Arthur Tillinghast. The best man was Edward F. Blake of Jewett City, and the bridesmaid was Miss Helen Tillinghast of Central Village.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Payne, the groom's father. Mr. and Mrs. Payne drove through Jewett City at 9 o'clock, accompanied by the Plainfield band, who ersenated them from Main street to Lisbon.

GGrage space to let. Inquire Finn Bros.—adv.

DESERTION AND CRUELTY STARTS EIGHT DIVORCE SUITS

Eight suits for divorce, all for desertion or intolerable cruelty, have been filed with the clerk of the superior court and are returnable in June. They are the following:

Edward C. Gibson of Griswold seeks divorce from Mary Keeney Gibson of Groton on the ground of desertion since April 15, 1902. They were married May 26, 1882.

Elizabeth Ostrow Meyer of New London asks divorce from Abraham Meyer of New London, whom she married Oct. 16, 1918. She claims desertion since March 20, 1920.

Desertion since Nov. 7, 1919 is claimed by Edward Goudy Morgan of Groton in suit for divorce from Jennie Viola Maynard Morgan of New London. They were married at Killingly Sept. 25, 1912. He asks the custody of three children.

Mattie E. Beckwith of New London asks divorce from James A. Beckwith of the same place, alleging intolerable cruelty since April 1, 1921. They were married on the 12th of March of that year.

Desertion since March 2, 1920, is alleged by Frank Beatrice of New London in a suit for divorce from Frances Custer Beatrice of that place. They were married April 25, 1908.

Elvenia Daniels Kelsey of Montville was married Howard W. Kelsey of Montville on July 6, 1922, seeks divorce from him on the ground of intolerable cruelty since Sept. 1, 1922.

Cruelty since Jan. 1, 1920, is alleged by Martha Wright Williams of Norwich against Clifford Williams of Norwich. They were married July 1, 1918. She asks the custody of three minor sons.

On the ground of desertion since March 25, 1919, Fred B. Huntley of Groton asks divorce from Lucy L. Huntley of Old Lyme. They were married Jan. 18, 1914. He asks the custody of a minor son and a daughter.

FIREMEN FINISH WORK ON BALES OF COTTON

The thousand or more bales of cotton waste in the store house of the Max Gordon & Son Corporation destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon burned all night and on Thursday men in the employ of the company, assisted by the firemen pulled them apart, and by night the fire was out. The department had taken every precaution Wednesday night to prevent the fire breaking out again and four lines of hose were kept connected ready for an emergency but were not needed. The fire was one of the hardest the men of the department have had for some time and they deserve credit for the manner in which they fought and conquered the blaze.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

Columbia Grafonola

Our Entire Stock Of New Genuine

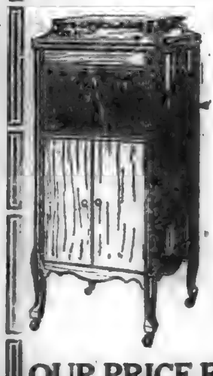
Columbia Grafonolas

NOW ON SALE AT

1-3 OFF

Reduced Prices

An Opportunity Without Equal Anywhere and One You Should Not Fail to Take Advantage of. These Grafonolas Are All New—They Contain All the Modern Features and Are Absolutely Perfect In Every Way.



OUR PRICE FOR THIS G-2 COLUMBIA GRAFONOLA IS

$83.33

ELSEWHERE IT IS $125
FORMER PRICE WAS $150

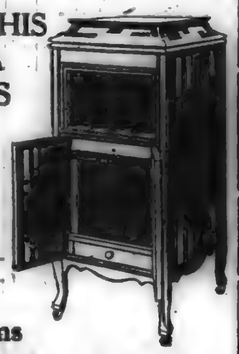
Finished in Mahogany, Walnut or Fumed Oak. Shelves Hold Seven Record Albums.

Easy Weekly Terms

OUR PRICE FOR THIS H-2 COLUMBIA GRAFONOLA IS

$93.33

Elsewhere It Is $140
Former Price Was $165



Finished in Mahogany or Walnut and equipped with patented record racks.

Easy Weekly Terms

SAVINGS ON SOME MODELS AS HIGH AS $50.00 — TERMS AS LOW AS $1.00 WEEKLY

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

VICTROLAS, PIANOS FURNITURE, MUSIC

135-143 Main Street Norwich (Est. 1872) 224-236 Bank Street New London

Gifts for June Brides

During the month of June, nearly everyone has the pleasant task of picking out an attractive gift for a bride. For over 50 years The Plaut-Cadden Co. has been helping to make this task easy and economical, and we are ready again with a remarkable variety of just the kind of gifts the June Bride wants at the price you would like to pay.

Here Are a Few Appropriate Suggestions:

26-piece sets guaranteed silver plated Tableware, in chests or attractively boxed ..... $12.75 to $47.50
12-piece sets guaranteed silver plated Tableware, in attractive boxes ..... $ 6.50
6 Gorham Sterling Silver Tea Spoons ..... $ 6.00
OTHER GORHAM FLATWARE, PRICED IN PROPORTION.
4-piece Rogers' Silver Plated Tea Sets ..... $12.50 Up
4-piece Rogers' Silver Plated Coffee Sets ..... $14.50 Up
Silver Plated Cake or Bon Bon Baskets ..... $5.00 Up
Sterling Silver Salts and Peppers, pair $3.50
Beautiful Dependable Mahogany Boudoir Clocks ..... $4.50 Up
Reliable 8-Day Mahogany Mantel Clocks ..... $9.00 Up
Indestructible Pearl Necklaces, in all lengths $2.90 Up
Genuine Elephant Ivory, Hand Carved Beads, in various lengths up to 42 inches, at moderate prices.
Libbey (best in the world) Cut Glass Bowls $5.00
OTHER LIBBEY CUT GLASS PIECES, ATTRACTIVELY PRICED.
Beautiful, Dependable, Fine Gold Filled Wrist Watches in a wonderful variety of styles—$15.00 Up.
Ivory Pyralin Toilet Ware, in complete sets and single pieces at very moderate prices.

LET US HELP YOU SELECT AN ATTRACTIVE GIFT—YOU WILL FIND AN ANSWER HERE TO EVERY GIFT PROBLEM.

The Plaut-Cadden Co.

Everything in Jewelry and Everything for the Home

135-143 Main Street Norwich (Est. 1872) 224-236 Bank Street New London

JEWELRY IN NORWICH STORE ONLY.

ASHLAND CASINO

DANCE TONIGHT

Chip Stred's Band

DANCING 8 TO 12, D. S. T.

DANCING EVERY WEDNESDAY and FRIDAY

THE VENICE

OPEN AIR DANCING PAVILION FOR RENT—Reasonable

To First Class Organizations

Big Open Air Space for Bazaars, etc. connected with hall. Inquire of THE PASNIK COMPANY

BROADWAY

TODAY AND SATURDAY
CONTINUOUS SHOW SAT.
B. F. KEITH
5—ACTS—5
VAUDEVILLE
PHOTOPLAY FEATURE
RUPERT HUGHES COMEDY-DRAMA
Look Your Best
—WITH—COLLEEN MOORE
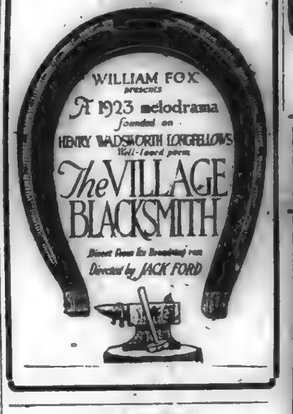
ANTONIO MORENO
SUN., MON. AND TUES.
GEORGE MELFORD'S
You Can't Fool Your Wife
—WITH—
LEATRICE JOY
NITA NALDI
LEWIS STONE
ADDED ATTRACTION
EINSTEIN'S THEORY OF RELATIVITY
The Most Startling of All Scientific Discoveries, Made So You Can Understand It.

BREED THEATRE

Sun., Mon. and Tues.



DANCE

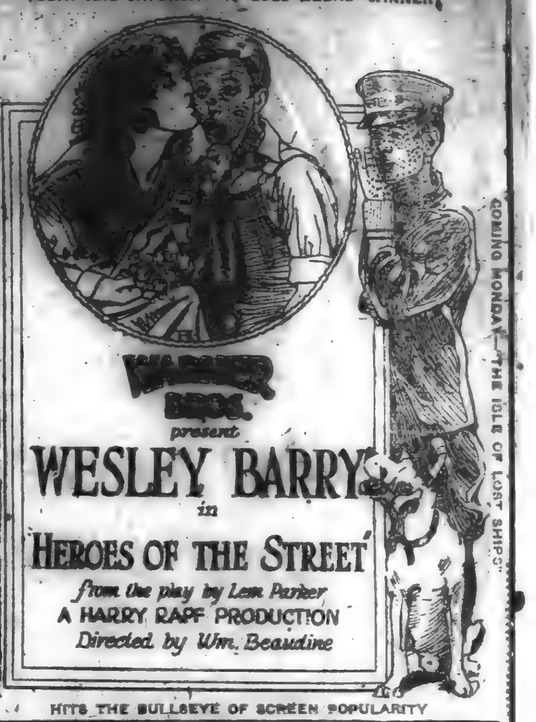
YANTIC FIRE ENGINE HOUSE
TONIGHT
DANCING 8.30 TO 12.
MUSIC BY ROYAL RADIONS.

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

Matinee 2:15
Evening 7-8:45
Prices, Mat. 10c
Eve. 20c-25c

TODAY AND SATURDAY—A "GOLD MEDAL" WINNER



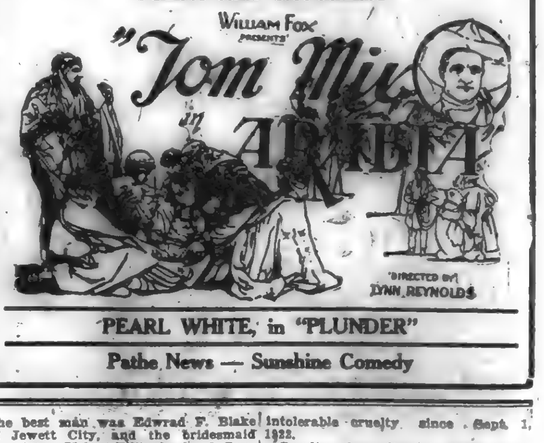
FEDERATED COMEDY — NEWS

BROADWAY WEDNESDAY NIGHT JUNE 6th

Prices: Orch. 2:30, $1.73—Bal. $1.73, $1.15—Gal. 55c
MAIL ORDERS NOW — SEAT SALE MONDAY

BREED THEATRE

TODAY AND SATURDAY



PEARL WHITE, in "PLUNDER"

Pathe News — Sunshine Comedy

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR

There is hardly a neighborhood in the United States where women cannot be found who have derived benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For nearly fifty years this botanic medicine has been overcoming some of the worst forms of female ills. As one woman has been benefited by its use, she has told others who have used it with the same good results; so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good. Therefore, ask your neighbor, let her tell you from experience the benefit which ailing women derive from its use.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

MARRIED

...ALE—DUGAS—In Norwich, May 29, 1923, by Rev. E. H. May, Julius Bartwell Gale of 16 Union street and Miss Alice Laura Dugas of 80 Sherman street. jeld

...OHNSON—WUTTKEY—In Regina, Saskatchewan, May 17, 1923, by Archdeacon Davidson, Arthur R. Johnson of Regina and Miss Florence Wuttkey of Norwich, Conn.

...—STAFFORD—In Baltic, May ..., by Rev. C. W. Ruoff, Gustave ... and Miss Lillian Stafford, ... Baltic.

...CHARRON—In Baltic, May 29, ... by Rev. William T. O'Brien, Era... and Miss Alda Charron, ... Baltic.

...THINGHOAST—In Plainfield, ..., 1923, by Rev. J. W. Payne, ... H Payne of Jewett City and ...orothy Tillinghast of Plainfield.

FUNERAL NOTICES

...IAM—Raised into rest, in ... May 30, 1923, William Alfred ..., aged 18 years.

... at Christ Episcopal church Saturday, June 2, at 2:30 o'clock, D. S. T. Kindly omit flowers.

...LACK—In Jewett City, May 30, 1923, Dr. Sanford H. Holmes, aged 51 years. Funeral services at his home on Tracy avenue on Sunday afternoon at 3.30, D. S. T. Burial in Jewett City cemetery.

...ERSON—In this city, May 30, 1923, William B. Merson, aged 73 years. Services at Gager's funeral parlors, 76 Franklin street, Friday afternoon, June 1, at 2 o'clock, D. S. T. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

...MMONS—In Norwich, May 30, 1923, Oscar Valentine Pierson. Funeral services at his late home, 81 Fifth street, Friday, June 1, at 2.30, D. S. T. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

Church & Allen
16 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 326-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
389 Main Street
Phone 322-3 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
62 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 686-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

GEORGE C. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Tel. 1836. Providence St., Taftville.

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON

F. W. TILLINGHAST & SONS, Successors to F. H. & F. W. Tillinghast, Central Village, Conn. FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS. Tel. Moosup 61-2. Night Call—Danielson 51-4.

LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Specialist Attention to Every Detail

WILLIMANTIC

Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
10 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 339 (Lady Assistant)

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
866 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

FLORISTS

...lowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 834-3. Free delivery. ...pr14

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping, trucks for hire. 31 High St. or Ocoum. Tel. 617-23.

...Tel. 1278. Tel. 1278.
ARTHUR M. LATHROP, ... Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving. 25 Batcheller St.

...S. BOLTON, 293 West Main St. We ... anything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1168-4.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Phone 1244. 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1244.

TRUCKING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 363 Main St. Phone 794.

G. B. BROMLEY & SON, Shetucket St. Phone 316. LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THEMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8 Allen Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. jan23d

ARCHITECTS

W. P. MEAD, Architect, Room 5, May Bldg., Buildings, supervisions, appraisals, ...

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Kitchenman; also night waiter. O'Leary's Restaurant, New London. jeld

WANTED—Farmer, experienced, by day, week or month; good pay. S. Gould. Tel. 1446-4. jeld

WANTED—Position for large, strong boy, 15 years old, to work on farm through school vacation, with Protestant family. Address Box 101, care Bulletin Office. jeld

WANTED—Young man wants position in office by June 11th; experienced and have good reference; good worker. Write Box 1020, Bulletin. may31d

WANTED—Young married man for a selling proposition; salary and commission. Mr. Lynch, 57 Broadway, second floor. Call between 8-9 and 5-6. may30d

WANTED — Good reliable man on dairy farm. W. C. Terry, R. D. No. 3, Norwich, Conn. Tel. 1095-2 Jewett City. may29d

WANTED—Man to drive ice wagon in Plainfield; married man preferred; have basement and good wages for right party. Frank A. Evans. may19d

WANTED—Lawns to clean up, floors waxed, gardening, etc. C. H. Greene, R. Walmsley, 153 Franklin St. Tel. 2247. may26d

WANTED—Building laborers; open shop conditions; 60 cents per hour. Second floor, 104 Elm St., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED—Teamsters and laborers at sewer. Frank A. Phillips, 153 Church St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 586. may26d

WANTED—Carpenter helpers and laborers. Turner Construction Co. American Woolen Mill, Thamesville. may24d

WANTED—A man on dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 12-4. may16d

WANTED—Academy student, at Fagan's Smoke Shop. may19d

WANTED
Boys To Carry Bulletin Routes.
INQUIRE AT
The Bulletin Office

WANTED—Female

WANTED—First class cook. Brown Betty Tea Room, Westerly, R. I. jeld

WANTED—Middle aged woman to do cooking and cleaning; must be experienced, strong and able. Apply Mystic Coal School, Mystic, Conn. Tel. Mystic 320. jeld

WANTED—Girl to assist with housework; no cooking; also to go to the beach for summer. Apply 23 Main St. Phone 915-4. may31d

WANTED—Pantry-woman; good wages to right party. Gregson's Cleaning and Dyeing. may30d

WANTED—Chambermaid. Apply to Wauregan Hotel. may30d

WANTED—Woman or girl for plain cooking by the day or by the week. Telephone 1438. may30d

WANTED—At once, competent second girl; also a laundress; good wages. Apply Matron, 99 Washington St. may29d

WANTED—A chambermaid, also a table girl. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 42-2. may12d

WANTED—Competent cook willing to go to Eastern Point this summer. Apply Mrs. J. Ralph Howe. Tel. 450. may22d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 65 Broadway. may19d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Bellas Spa. may9d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may9d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Bellas Lunch. may3d

GIRL WANTED
General Kitchen Work. Small Summer Hotel. Easy Work. Short Hours. Board and Room Furnished. Address
GRISWOLD HOUSE
ESSEX, CONN.

WANTED
TWO GIRLS
For Light, Clean Work
TROY STEAM LAUNDRY

INSURANCE

INSURANCE
OF ALL KINDS
LOUIS H. MAPLES
NORWICH, CONN.
PHONE 192

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm, protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy to day.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
61 MAIN STREET

Many a Man's Dignity Has Succumbed to a Banana Peel.
AN ACCIDENT POLICY IS A SOOTHING BALM.
Edwin V. Ross
MARGARET A. BARR, Associate
63 Broadway, Norwich
PHONE 2024

POULTRY

FOR SALE—Mammoth Pekin ducklings and hatching eggs. Cunningham, Norwich Road, Waterford. Tel. 836-3 New London. may29d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. S. Hall, Waitsfield, Conn. dec9

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—A dog that will hunt woodchuck. Phone 49-12 Lebanon at 7 p. m. jeld

WANTED—Wall tent with fly, 9x13 or 11x14 preferred; state price desired. Write W. L., Bulletin. jeld

WANTED—Have you a boy from 3 to 7 years old that you wish to see in a regulation baseball uniform for 1923? You can get them for said price at The Pasmick Co. Chain Stores. apr27d

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, Box 189, Norwich. jan6MW

WANTED—A good second hand sewing machine, a good second hand threeburner oil stove. Box 536, Bulletin. may24d

KIN YA BEET IT?—A scout from Fitchville took me for crossed a rubber plant with the regular grass 'n' it made it rainproof, but by ginks, sez he, one of our cows fell down tother day 'n' she bounced all over the media. Sam pipes for 75c, Manilla cigars six for 25c, After Dinner clear, mild, 5c straight, Pagan's Smoke Shop. may29d

WONDERFUL new book for office men and women sent free; new plan helps increase your efficiency and pays you profit at the same time; read "The Broader Horizon," mailed you without obligation; don't miss it. Just address Desk 31, Baker-Goodyear Co., First National Bank Bldg., New Haven, Conn. may26d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Cheseski, Agt., 160 North Main St., Palaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar29d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2163. feb21d

WANTED — Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1314-3. jan1d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weissner, 23 Market St. Phone 537-2. jy6d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 65 Franklin St. Phone 717-2. jan5d

IF IT'S JUNK
sell it to the Mutual Waste and Metal Co., where you get the most for Scrap Iron, Scrap Metal, Rags, Paper, Magazines, etc. We call and remove same promptly. 319 West Main Street, Telephone 2275.

WANTED
SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE. BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

TO RENT

TO RENT — Flat, modern improvements, pleasant location. 23 Hedge Ave. jeld

TO RENT—Store, good location. Inquire Joseph Cooper, 58 Thames St. Tel. 1963. jeld

TO RENT—Tenement at No. 61 Fountain St. jeld

TO RENT—Cottage house, six rooms, all improvements. Inquire 19 High St. jeld

TO RENT—Five-room tenement, all modern conveniences. Inquire at 69 Mt. Pleasant St. jeld

TO RENT—Tenement with modern improvements. Inquire 18 West Town St., Norwich Town. jeld

FOR RENT—Furnished, for season, at Pleasant View, west end of beach, a five-room bungalow, fireplace, wide veranda. For particulars apply to M. S. Dannerel, 56 Elm St., Westerly, R. I. jeld

FOR RENT—Front room, reasonable, 106 School St. jeld

TO RENT—Furnished apartment of five rooms, centrally located, with heat and all modern improvements; garage if needed. Phone 930. may21d

TO LET—Pasture in Canterbury. Apply Box 193, Willimantic, Conn. James Kane. may31d

TO RENT—Seven-room cottage at Groton Long Point; all improvements; $360 for season. A. H. Disco, 11 Oak St., Norwich, Conn. may30d

TO RENT—Tenement, five rooms, 36 Cliff St. Apply 9 Elm St. may29d

TO RENT—One store, 32x40, on Main St., Plainfield. Inquire Theodore Rollins, Plainfield. may28d

TO RENT — Apartment, lower floor, three rooms and bath, 175 Broadway. may23d

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement, upstairs, steam heat, bath, gas and electricity. Inquire 79 Hamilton Ave. may23d

TO RENT—Beautiful modern apartment at 50 Broad St., steam heat furnished and hot water supplied all year round. Inquire Talking Machine Shop, or your agent. may31d

COTTAGE for rent; Giants Neck, seven-room cottage, conveniences; near bathing beach, June to Sept., $500; large old house, near beach, boating fishing, garden and garage, long season, $150; shore lots overlooking sound, excellent bathing, boating and fishing, $390 up, easy payments. Box 304, Niantic, Conn. Tel. 28-5. may12d

TO RENT—Store on Main St., Moosup, Conn. Apply to Nathan Nuhan, Moosup. may5d

TO RENT
221 BROADWAY.
15-ROOM RESIDENCE AND 2-CAR GARAGE
Steam Heated.
Apply on the Premises.

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS
THE TIME WILL COME
When You Will Need Ready Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not
BE PREPARED
Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed note. Call, write or Phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 205, THAYER BUILDING
16 FRANKLIN STREET

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A small good refrigerator. Call Phone 1394-4. jeld

FOR SALE—Kitchen stove in good condition. 40 Oakridge St. jeld

FOR SALE—Hay from Tibbets barn; low price. P. A. Nawrocki. jelFMW

FOR SALE—Four-row iron Ajo barrel sprayer, good condition. Phone 1851-4. jelFM

FOR SALE—New Wilcomian talking machine, cost $100, will sell for $45. John W. Eaton, 551 Boswell Ave. jeld

FOR SALE—One 10-room house, with store, including fixtures and stock, good will, good location, house has all modern improvements, a rare bargain; one six-room house, with improvements, in excellent condition, price $3,500; one two-tenement house, five-six rooms, all modern improvements, large lot and two-car garage, on East Side, priced for quick sale. W. F. Hill Agency, 108 Thayer Bldg. jeld

FOR SALE—Solid oak store wall case, at bargain price. Perkins' Candy Store. jeld

FOR SALE—One shore front lot at Pleasant View. Address D. E. Hoxie, Westerly, R. I. jeld

FOR SALE—Thirty tons of hay, in barn or delivered, at right price. Call 1484. jelFMW

FOR SALE—Hay, good quality, reasonable. Telephone 1708. jeld

FOR SALE—Ten rolls 3 ft. 2 inch mesh poultry wire at $2.25 per roll, f. o. b. farm. C. C. Hewlitt Co., Uncasville. may31d

FOR SALE—New milch cow, with calf. D. J. Connelly. Phone 397-14. may30d

FOR SALE—One Richmond kitchen range, also one Detroit vapor stove, which burns either kerosene, gasoline or alcohol. Phone 412-4. may30d

FOR SALE—At Crescent Beach, waterfront, stucco house of eight rooms; including all furniture (five bedrooms), electric lights, running water, garage one car; price $8,000; will rent June 1 to Oct. 1, $300. Phone 876. may28d

FOR SALE—First class player-piano. Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 963-4. may26d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $10.
A slightly used $135 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.
A $150 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.
A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $60, our price $30.
An upright Fischer piano in fine condition, $75.
Talking Machine Shop, 24-34 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Upright piano in good playing condition; only $85, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Regular $625 Kroeger slightly used upright piano in perfect playing condition; very special, $235, on easy weekly terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich.

FOR SALE—Mahogany cabinet model talking machine, with six double faced records, complete for $69.80; easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. may19d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. Ask for further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Cheseski, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr10d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR QUICK SALE
7-room house, all improvements, near Backus hospital, bargain at $7,500.
2-tenement house, North Cliff St., $2,750.
A beautiful cottage on Williams St., also garage, lot 150x200.
Double house, Sachem St., large lot, 16 rooms, all improvements, garage, $12,000.
4-family brick house, High St., $7,000.
Beautiful home, Spring Garden Ave., $8,250.
2-apartment house, Spring Garden Ave., $8,000.
Many others, all sections.
210-acre farm, Jewett City, 8-room house, all necessary outbuildings, 11 head cattle, 100 hens, hay, tools wagons, etc.; for quick sale $6,500; attractive mortgage.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Thayer Bldg.
Real Estate, Insurance, Investments.

FOR SALE
8-room cottage, all improvements, 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. Today, $6,800.
7-room bungalow, new. An expensive house for less than cost.
10-room bungalow. No better built in Norwich. Located central. Price right.
2-apartment house near Chelsea Parade. First class condition. Large lot and garage. Good investment at price, $6,000.
Beautiful estate with large grounds. First class condition. Fine residential property. Price $20,000.
GROVER & BURDICK
2 MARKET STREET Phone 1525-2

FOR SALE
No. 56 Spruce Street, 9 rooms and 2 baths. Price reasonable. Can be arranged for 2 apartments. Possession given immediately. Inquire of owner
J. J. CORKERY

FOR SALE
ATTRACTIVE SUMMER COTTAGE, AT BEST VIEW
Ideal Summer Location
Immediate Possession
House has electric lights, running water, modern plumbing, hardwood floors, and is plastered, has heating system and may be occupied the entire year.
PRICE $7,000
JAMES L. CASE
Tel. 878. 40 SHETUCKET ST.

FOR SALE
A choice farm, located within five miles of Norwich, consisting of about 160 acres of land, about one-half can be put under cultivation, balance pasture and woodland, will easily cut over 4,000 cords of wood, besides a heavy lot of timber. This farm must be sold and priced low. Fine large house in fine shape, as are outbuildings. All tools and machinery included. A great opportunity for someone.
For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

MEAT MARKET FOR SALE.
Long established business of John B. Lucas, Main St., Danielson. I am retiring on account of my health and am prepared to sell my fine and profitable business at a sacrifice. Business established 35 years in fine location. Inquire of JOHN B. LUCAS.
jeld Danielson, Conn.

REMOVAL
Archa W. Coit
Formerly of 227 MAIN STREET
Will open his office in the Disco Building, June first.
Desirable residential property in all sections of Norwich.
New 5-room Bungalow, near business district at reasonable price.
TELEPHONES 2286 AND 1896

OUR FINEST SERGES
Dark Navy Blue
$21.95 — $24.50
The well-dressed man of today realizes the importance of acquiring that much desired atmosphere of originality, character, and refinement. You will find every one of these characteristics in these fine weave, Virgin Wool, Dark Navy Blue Serge Suits, made for the man who wants something better. It is hand tailored by men who know how.
L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
Opposite Post Office

FOR SALE
AT CRESCENT BEACH
Eight-room furnished modern cottage, with one-car garage and three bathing houses, in one of the choicest locations on the waterfront; house has recently been finished in stucco and is a great chance for someone to get a choice summer home at a very reasonable price.
For further particulars, see
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
NORWICH.

FOR SALE
A tenement block, with improvements; always well rented, and centrally located; price right if sold at once.
Six-room cottage, all improvements, including heat, in excellent condition, built about 10 years, will sell for $4,000; same is located 15 minutes' walk from Franklin Square.
Brick block on West Side, with two stores and two tenements; good investment; price $7,500; will arrange liberal loan.
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones, Norwich, Conn.

LESS THAN ONE SEASON'S RENT
for summer cottage will make cash payment on this 30-acre state road farm, bordering on river, fish pond, fine old maple shade, old-fashioned six-room house, hardwood floors, open fireplace, all buildings in first class repair, for $3,300, $500 cash.
TRYONS' AGENCY,
may26d Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
$9,500 will buy five-apartment house, with one store, rent for $118 monthly, with gas and electric light, large lot, on Main St., five minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Tel. 1527-3. 198 Cliff St.

TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE
FARE $3.38 Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:30 P. M.
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y. Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.
The New England Steamship Co.

NORWICH-WESTERLY BUS LINE.
NICK MOONEY, Prop.
Telephone Westerly 2447.
Leave Westerly 8 a. m., 11 a. m., 2 p. m., 5 p. m., 7 p. m., 9 p. m.
Arrive North Stonington 8.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 5.30 p. m., 7.30 p. m., 9.30 p. m.
Leave Norwich 8 a. m., 9.30 a. m., 12.30 p. m., 3.30 p. m., 6.30 p. m., 9 p. m.
Arrive North Stonington 8.45 a. m., 10.15 a. m., 1.15 p. m., 4.15 p. m., 7.15 p. m., 9.45 p. m.
FARES: Westerly-Norwich 70c; Westerly-North Stonington 25c; Norwich-North Stonington 45c. may30d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Wednesday, collie-dog. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. 10 Summer St. jeld

LOST—Two keys on ring. Return to Bulletin Office. Reward. may31d

FOUND—Sunday, sum of money. Owner call at 372 Main St. may30d

FOUND—On Broadway, Monday afternoon, squirrel neckpiece. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Phone 1119. may29d

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Dry slab wood. Phone 1841-5. may24d

COAL, seasoned wood and kindlings, in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 604 or 1235-2. R. Shapiro, Willow St. may26d

FOR SALE—Well seasoned mixed slabs; nice for summer. H. E. Beard & Son. Tel. 615-4. apr19d

PHOTOGRAPHY

PHOTOGRAPHER
Wanted, the public to know that we make first class pictures at the lowest prices in the city. Our work is guaranteed. We pay special attention to babies and weddings. We take pictures of anything, anywhere we are called.
ARTOGRIAN STUDIO,
825 Main St., opp. Postoffice.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

LEGAL NOTICE

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF NORWICH, CONN.

To either Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn., GREETING:

You are hereby directed to warn the electors of the City of Norwich to assemble in CITY MEETING in the several voting districts in said City as by law provided, to wit:

FIRST VOTING DISTRICT—At the Town Hall in the Court House Building.

SECOND VOTING DISTRICT—At 12 Thames Street, in the P. J. O'Connor Block.

THIRD VOTING DISTRICT—At 225 Central Avenue.

SIXTH VOTING DISTRICT—At No. 1 Hamilton Avenue.

on MONDAY, JUNE 4th, 1923, at 6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), to choose by ballot two Aldermen, four Common Councilmen, a Clerk, a Collector, and two Water Commissioners for the term of two years each, and also a Treasurer and two Sheriffs for the term of one year each. Voting machines will be used under the provisions of the laws of the State of Connecticut.

Said meeting will be open in each of the districts at 6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), for the purpose of voting for said City Officers, and shall continue open until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time, (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), for said purpose, when the polls in each of the several Districts shall be closed.

And at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), in said Town Hall the estimates of the City's expenses for the current fiscal year as made by the Court of Common Council of said City at a meeting held on May 21st, 1923, will be submitted to said City Meeting for action thereon, and there will also be submitted to said meeting for action the estimates for special matters presented to said Court of Common Council in the report of the Committee on Finance at said meeting held May 21st, 1923, viz.:

1—Equipment, street department	$5 000.00
2—Concrete paving, Rose place	1,600.00
3—Macadamizing Central avenue	10,000.00
4—Macadamizing West Main street, Thames square to City line	10,000.00
5—Macadamizing Elmwood avenue	4,000.00
6—Improvement Geer avenue	1,500.00
7—Sewer in Heath street from Cliff street to North Cliff street	2,500.00
8—Sewer in Brook street, North street from Hickory street to East Baltic street, Hickory street from Baltic street to North street, and from Hickory street to end of present sewer in Lake street playground	27,000.00
9—Extra street lighting (White Way)	2,000.00
10—Sewer in Hunton avenue from Mowry avenue to Smith avenue	1,000.00
	$64,600.00

Also at said time and place to lay a tax on the City Grand List last made and perfected to meet the expenses of the City upon the estimates approved and the appropriations authorized by said City Meeting to be made from the City Treasury; also to fix the compensation of the Collector of said tax; also to act upon the list of abatements of taxes made by the Mayor and Aldermen of said City to be presented at said meeting; also to authorize and sanction the temporary borrowing for the Gas and Electric Department of the City in anticipation of its ordinary revenue of such sum or sums not exceeding in the aggregate $25,000 as may be necessary from time to time to pay the running expenses of said department; said sum or sums so to be borrowed to be repaid, principal and interest, before the end of the present fiscal year from the revenues of said department; also to determine whether or not the assessments made by the Court of Common Council on the 4th day of December, 1922, for street sprinkling shall be abated; also to authorize and sanction the borrowing by the City of such sum or sums of money not exceeding $225,000 as may be needed from time to time to make the improvements and discharge the obligations and expenses authorized by said meeting, and to determine the time within which repayment shall be made of the sum of sums of money so to be borrowed.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 24th day of May, A. D. 1923.

MILO R. WATERS,
Mayor of the City of Norwich, Conn.

State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., Norwich, May 24th, 1923.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is the warrant and warning directed to me for service by publication.

Attest: ABRAHAM STEGEL,
A Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn.
may28M WThFS

NOTICE TO BUILDERS
Sealed proposals to build a wooden addition to the Oneco School Building, 24x34, one story, will be received until Saturday, June 9th, 1923. Plans and specifications may be seen by applying to A. J. Dixon, Oneco, Conn. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.
Address all bids to A. J. DIXON, Chairman, Oneco, Conn. may30d

BESSIE H. GILCHRIST, VS. THOMAS W. Gilchrist. Supplemental Order of Notice.
State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., May 19, 1923.
Upon the complaint of the said Bessie H. Gilchrist, claiming, for the reasons therein set forth, a divorce, now pending before this Court, having been returned thereto on the first Tuesday of February, 1923.
It appearing to and being found by this Court that Thomas W. Gilchrist, the said defendant, is absent from this State and gone to parts unknown, and that notice of the pendency of the complaint was given as required by order of notice heretofore issued, and now the plaintiff asks for a further order of notice in the premises.
Therefore, Ordered, That notice of the pendency of said complaint be given by publishing this order in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper printed in Norwich, Conn., once a week for two weeks, successively, commencing on or before the 25th day of May, 1923.
By order of Court.
JOHN H. WALSH,
Temporary Clerk of the Superior Court for New London County. may26F

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HOLDEN at Colchester, within and for the District of Colchester, on the 14th day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—JOHN CONDREN, Judge.
On motion of J. Frank Clark, Executor on the estate of Adelaide E. Hunt, late of Colchester, within said District, deceased, this Court doth decree that six months be allowed and limited for the creditors of said estate to exhibit their claims against the same to the Executor and directs that public notice be given of this order by advertising in a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and by posting a copy thereof on the public signpost in said Town of Colchester nearest the place where the deceased last dwelt.
Certified from Record.
jeld JOHN CONDREN, Judge.

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss. Court of Probate, May 28th, A. D. 1923.
Estate of Charles J. Ryan, late of Colchester, deceased.
The Administrator having exhibited his administration account with said estate to this Court for allowance, it is Ordered, That the 6th day of June, A. D. 1923, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Probate Office in Colchester, be, and the same is assigned for a hearing on the allowance of said administration account with said estate, and this Court directs the Administrator to cite all persons interested therein to appear at said time and place by publishing this order in some newspaper having a circulation in said District.
jeld JOHN CONDREN, Judge.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO ARCHITECTS
Plans and specifications invited for the erection of buildings at Norwich State Hospital, Norwich, Conn., general design to be in harmony with existing buildings.
In conformity with the provisions of Section 64 of the General Statutes, Revision of 1918, "An Act Regulating the Employment of Architects on Public Buildings," architects are hereby invited to submit competitive plans as follows:
General Requirements:
(A). A Ward building for about 125 patients; brick, fire resistive, two stories with unfinished attic, partial basement, concrete slabs, first and second floors, slate roof; room for hydrotherapy, separate continuous baths, employes' quarters, patients' rooms with baths. Cost complete with furniture, not to exceed $213,500.
(B). Home for Nurses; brick fire resistive, two stories, slate roof, cellar in middle of building. First floor, lobby, rooms for married couples. Second floor, single rooms for girls. Cost, including furnishings, not to exceed $148,000.
The Architect of the plans selected by the committee in charge will be employed to prepare the working drawings and specifications and to superintend the construction of the buildings. For his compensation he will receive the commission authorized by the American Institute of Architects. No compensation will be paid for plans not finally accepted.
An estimate of cost from some reliable contractor will be required to be submitted with each plan. All plans must be signed by the architect and deposited with the Comptroller of the State at his office in the Capitol, City of Hartford, not later than July 3d, 1923, at 11 o'clock a. m., standard time.
The committee in charge, in accordance with law, will give a public hearing on said plans at the Norwich State Hospital on July 10th, 1923, at 11 o'clock a. m., standard time.
The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.
Dated at Hartford, Conn., this 29th day of May, 1923.
FREDERICK M. SALMON,
may31d Comptroller.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 31st day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of William B. Merson, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.
Casper K. Bailey of Norwich, Conn., appeared in Court and filed a petition praying for the reasons therein set forth, that administration be granted upon the estate of said deceased, alleged to be intestate.
Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 4th day of June, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.
jeld

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1923.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of Joseph Brown, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.
Ordered, That the Administrator cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order, on a signpost nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt, and in the same Town, and by publishing the same once in a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and make return to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.

NOTICE.—All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at 740 Boswell Ave., Norwich, Conn., within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.
HENRY J. BROWN, Administrator.
jeld

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

AUTO TOPS and painting; up-to-date shop and skilled help. If you need our services, come to see us. Norwich Auto Trimming and Paint Shop, Majestic Bldg., top floor. Tel. 2114. may4d

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct13

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering all kinds of autos. Jos. Agranas, Pond St. Phone 1397. mar19d

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Small pony, two years old; will sell cheap. 23 Pratt St. may30d

FOR SALE—One pair of team horses, weight 3200. Inquire of Thomas Mellen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-12 Jewett City. may29d

JUST ARRIVED,
My Horses are here, and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.
ELMER B. PIERSON.
Tel. 536-2. apr28d

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 602-12. jan16d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Repairing, 40 West Main St. Phone 971.

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates cheerfully and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 74 Franklin St. may19d

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand. A. F. COMANT, 11 Franklin St.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—1921 Ford touring car, in A-1 condition, new tires, now tuned; will demonstrate. Call 35-2 Lebanon Dist. after 6.30 p. m, standard time. jeld

FOR SALE—Buick roadster, A-1 condition all new cord tires. Phone 1064-6. jeld

FOR SALE—A new 1923 five-passenger Chevrolet sedan. Phone 1058. jeld

FOR SALE—1921 Paige touring, reasonable. Tel. 1510. jeld

FOR SALE—Ford coupe in good condition. Box 1020, Bulletin. may31d

FOR SALE—Ford touring car 1916, first class condition, paint, tires, $175 cash; private party. F. W. Pelham, Central Village, Conn. may30d

FOR SALE—Buick four touring, good condition, $250. R. Lambert, Baltic. may30d

FOR SALE—Velie roadster in O. K. mechanical condition. Inquire Con't Garage, Falls Ave. may30d

FOR SALE—Overland coupe. Call after 3 o'clock. Bachmann, 14 Carter Ave. may28d

FOR SALE—1919 Cadillac coupe, fine condition, price reasonable. Phone 965. may8d

FOR SALE
MAXWELL
1922 MODEL.
FIVE PASSENG

FAIR TODAY; FAIR, WARMER TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

1795 1923

NORWICH, CONN., FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin,

Norwich, Friday, June 1, 1923.

WEATHER

Conditions

A disturbance of wide extent and of considerable intensity was central over eastern Colorado and eastern Wyoming Thursday night and moving slowly eastward, and another disturbance was centered south of Newfoundland, moving northeastward and still another was over Ontario and moving eastward. Pressure was relatively high over the north Atlantic states. The temperature has not changed materially in any part of the country.

The indications are for generally fair weather in the Atlantic states from North Carolina northward. The temperature will be somewhat higher Friday in the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook—Moderate to fresh south and southwest, and weather fair Friday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Moderate to fresh southeast and south and weather fair Friday.

Forecast

New England, eastern New York—Fair Friday and Saturday, warmer Friday.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Thursday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	56	30.10
12 m	64	30.20
6 p. m.	60	30.20

Highest 64; lowest 56.

Comparisons

Predictions for Thursday—Fair, not much change in temperature.

Thursday's weather—Fair, south wind, cool nights.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

	Sun		High Water	Moon
	Rises.	Sets.		Rises.
Day.	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	a. m.
	(Standard Time.)
1	4.19	7.11	5.08	3.52
2	4.19	7.11	9.01	4.07
3	4.18	7.12	9.52	Rise
1	4.17	7.13	10.49	8.44
2	4.17	7.14	11.41	9.38
3	4.17	7.15	12.37	10.24
4	4.16	7.15	12.50	11.05

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee of Portland, Ore., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gaskell of South Third avenue. Mrs. Lee was formerly Miss Ada Oates of this village and Plainfield and Mr. Lee was also a former resident of the village. They will leave shortly to spend the summer in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Meyer of Los Angeles, Cal., are visiting relatives in town. Mr. Meyer has served 20 years in the U. S. navy and had only been transferred a few days from the F-1 when the craft sank and all hands on board were lost.

James McSheffery is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McSheffery, of North Third avenue.

Robert Brown has returned to his home in Hartford after passing the holidays with his father, William Brown, of South Fifth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sharples and family have returned from a short stay in Fall River, Mass., with relatives.

On Thursday a committee of nine members of the Taftville Congregational church visited a large church in West Hartford to see a pipe organ that has recently been installed there, which may be suitable for the local church. Next week the committee will visit a church in Mystic. The members of the committee who went were Mrs. James Graham, Mrs. Geo. R. Weller, Jr., Mrs. Walter S. Sharples, Miss Gertrude M. Young, Miss Nellie Howie, Frederick W. Lester, George H. Young, Rev. Edwin G. Crowdis and George N. Beardow. They made the trip in the automobiles of George H. Young and George N. Beardow.

William Weller has returned to his home in New York after passing a few days in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Grant of the Canterbury turnpike.

Mr. and Mrs. John Daley and family of Providence street were in Westerly, R. I., on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaspard Rondeau and family of Providence street are moving to their new home in Lisbon.

Mrs. Arthur L. Atkins and Miss Evelyn Atkins of South Second avenue spent a short time this week in Mansfield.

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor and family of South C street will move soon to a house on North Fourth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Lavacsoeure have taken a house on Terrace avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Irenee Laroche, who have been residing with Mrs. Laroche's mother, Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, of South B street, have moved to the house at 29 South B street.

The Thursday evening basketry class met this week in the Red Cross rooms in the Ponemah building.

The members of the local troops of Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls participated in the Memorial day parade in Norwich Wednesday.

The Misses Rose and Anna Robitaille have vacated their house on South Third avenue and it has been leased by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Witt of North Third avenue.

Arthur Plante of South A street has resigned his position in the spinning room of the Ponemah mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Bauer of Attleboro, Mass., were guests over the holiday of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Traeger of North Third avenue.

Mrs. Albert Leathers and Miss Constance M. Leathers of Plainfield were visitors in town Thursday.

John Thoma of Lisbon spent Wednesday at Savin Rock, New Haven.

Miss Antoinette Caron of Putnam spent a short time this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Caron, of School street.

Fire company No. 2 was called out Wednesday evening by a bad chimney fire in Lower Occum.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Harroun of Willimantic have been recent guests of George N. Beardow and Miss Anna M. Beardow of Providence street.

Mr. and Mrs. Osten Ferguson of Holyoke, Mass., spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bogle of Providence street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reeves of Portland, Me., have returned to their home in that city after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Reeves of Providence street.

In the Twilight league baseball game played Thursday evening on the Providence street grounds the J. B. Martin Co. team defeated the Blackbirds by the score of 6 to 1. The battery for the J. B. Martin team was Shaw and Pilling, and the Pepin brothers were the battery for the Blackbirds. During the game Adolphe Leopold, who was playing first base for the Blackbirds, was spiked on the knee. Dr. David Sussler attended him and two stitches were required to close the wound. The next game will be played Tuesday evening between the Knights of Columbus and the Clerks.

POLLUTION BILL IS WAVERING BETWEEN HOUSE AND SENATE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, May 31.—A pollution bill to protect the waters of the state was passed in the house today and was at once transmitted to the senate. It creates a commission consisting of Lafayette B. Mendell of New Haven, Frederick H. Walcott of Norfolk, and E. Allen Moore of New Britain.

On receiving the house report the senate was on the point of voting to adhere to its former action when an effort to save the bill resulted in a request for a committee in conference to attempt some sort of compromise. As things stand now, there is a possibility that a compromise may be affected, although neither branch is in a mood to concede very much.

Senator Brooks for the senate and House Leader Buckley and Representative Wheeler from Stratford, for the house, were appointed a committee in conference. Senator Brooks has already expressed himself as favoring a pollution bill that would not be too drastic and was one of the leaders in passing the senate bill. Mr. Buckley and Mr. Wheeler have both declared that a bill "without teeth" would be worse than nothing.

IN THE HOUSE.

The house was called to order at 10.15 by Speaker Nickerson and prayer was offered by the chaplain.

Representatives From Orange.

The resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution was taken from the calendar and as it was apparent that there was not a quorum present it was temporarily tabled. Afterward on motion of Leader Buckley it was taken up and explained by Mr. Thompson of New Haven. He was not sure that this was the proper way of adjusting the difficulty that exists in Orange and West Haven over the question of representatives.

Objections were also offered by Southwick of Cromwell. Leader Buckley said that the existing condition was that the old town of Orange with a population of 1,500 has two representatives and the new town of West Haven with a population of 15,000 has none. The law as it now stands, is that any town having a population of 2,500, or less shall have at least one representative and that towns having a population of 5,000 or more shall have two. While Orange is technically represented by two members in this assembly, both are residents of the new town. The matter was again tabled.

Medical Practice Act.

"An act providing for a commission and a preliminary board concerning the healing arts."

Such is the caption of a bill that was before the house today. It was introduced by the committee on the judiciary as a result of the refusal by the state medical examining board to allow Doctor Moriarty of Rockville to take an examination for a certificate to practice medicine in this state. The matter has been before the assembly and a bill was favorably reported that would provide for the issuance of a special certificate by the state. This brought the state board to terms and on their promise that Doctor Moriarty would be given a fair and impartial examination, the bill was indefinitely postponed. It has been felt that the same trouble may occur again and this bill is to meet such contingency. In part the bill provides that on or before June 6, 1923, the president of the senate shall appoint two senators, and the speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint three representatives, who shall constitute a commission on the regulation of the healing arts. On or before July 1, 1923, the governor shall appoint six persons as an advisory board to said commission. One member of said board shall be recommended by the Connecticut Medical Society, one by the Connecticut Homeopathic Medical Society, one by the Connecticut Osteophatic Society, one by the Connecticut Chiropractic Association and one by the Connecticut Eclectic Medical Society, and one shall be a naturopathic physician resident in this state. This shall be the examining board.

House Leader Buckley stated that the bill would prevent any discrimination against any particular school of medicine. At the present time there were practicing in the state persons who had taken examinations from one school when they were graduates of another. The attorney general had declared this illegal. The bill will require an applicant to take the examination of the school which he intends to practice. The lay commission will have nothing to do with the medical examination. That will be done entirely by the medical board. The action of the lay board will be determined by their report of the medical board. Dr. Eddy of Canton (an old school physician) said that he considered the bill eminently fair to all schools. It made it necessary that an applicant should be morally and intellectually fitted. It made obligatory that he should also have a thorough knowledge of the action of his school. He considered that the committee had submitted a bill that should be adopted.

An amendment offered by Meech of West Hartford provided that no member of the lay commission should be a practitioner of the healing arts.

Leader Buckley said that he had no objections to the amendment but it was not necessary as the bill provided for a commission of laymen from the assembly.

The bill was temporarily tabled.

Warehouse Point Bridge.

A resolution received from the senate provided that the county commissioners of Hartford county and the highway commissioner be authorized to adjust the costs of building the bridge between Warehouse Point and Windsor Locks. As this was new business it was voted to receive it. On motion of Mr. Buckley the bill was tabled for printing in the journal.

The bill providing for a codification of the school laws which has been recalled from the office of the governor, was replaced by a substitute bill which appoints a commission to prepare a report of what changes in their opinion should be made. The bill names Senators Charles M. Bakewell of New Haven and Herman J. Gibbs of Norwich, Representatives Sturgess of Woodbury, Mrs. Lewis of Stratford, Fenton of Windham, Holbrook of Thompston and Allen C. Baldwin of Derby as members of the commission.

The bill that provided that a license should be issued to Dr. Moriarty and had been indefinitely postponed by the house and passed by the senate was taken up and the house then voted to adhere to its former action of indefinite postponement.

The validating act recalled, was amended in matters concerning New Haven and was repassed. The medical practice act was again taken up and the amendment offered by Mr. Meich was withdrawn.

Pollution Bill.

The pollution bill was taken from the table and was discussed by Leader Buckley. He traced the history of the movement to prevent the pollution of waters in the state with its attendant costs. He was of the opinion that the present bill would not accomplish the object sought. He then offered an amendment that more nearly approaches the original bill. It creates the commission consisting of three.

In part the bill provides as followsi

Any person, firm or corporation causing the pollution of any water, or alleged to be causing the pollution of any water, may be cited to appear not less than twelve nor more than thirty days from the service of such citation, before said commission at a place designated by it, then and there to show cause, if any exist, why said commission should not issue an order regulating such pollution. Such citation shall be issued, served and returned in the same manner as process in any civil action.

If, upon hearing, the commission shall find that any person is polluting the waters of the state, it may make an order directing such person to adopt or use or to operate properly as the case may be, some practicable and reasonably available system or means to prevent such pollution, having due regard for the rights and interests of all persons concerned. Provided, however, that where there is more than one such practicable and reasonably available system or means, such order shall give to the person complained of the right to adopt or use such one of said systems or means as he may choose. Such order shall specify the time within which such system or means shall be adopted or used or such operation thereof shall be commenced. Such time may be extended by the board in its discretion from time to time upon application being made to it by such person, and any such order may upon like application from time to time be modified by the board in any other particular, not inconsistent with the provisions hereof. Where any such order of the board does not specify the system or means to be adopted, the person against whom such order is entered shall, before proceeding to install such system or means, submit to the board a plan or statement describing the system or means which he proposes to adopt. In case such person subsequently desires to make any substantial change in such system or means so adopted, he shall, before proceeding to do so, file with the board a plan or statement describing such change.

Any person aggrieved by any such order may, within twelve days after notice thereof, appeal from such order to the superior court.

The bill as amended was passed and under suspension of rules was transmitted to the senate. Mr. Buckley said that he expected the bill would be returned to the house.

Adjournment Times

On motion of Leader Buckley it was voted that when the house adjourns today it be till Friday at 10.15; and when it adjourns on Friday it be till Monday next at 10.15. He stated that there would be no business transacted on that day and that any one could remain at home that desired to do so. The Monday session was for the purpose of creating a legislative day.

At 12.30 a recess was taken. After recess the pollution bill was returned by the senate on disagreeing action as they had voted to adhere to their former action and asked for a committee of conference. Wheeler of Stratford and Buckley of Union were appointed on the part of the house.

Fairfield Common Pleas Judge

The appointment by the governor of Frederick M. Huxford of Stamford as judge of the court of common pleas in the Fairfield was confirmed.

Representative Bell said that in view of the efficient and fair way in which Judge Huxford had acted as speaker of the house in 1921, he hoped that the vote might be unanimous. Fenton of Windham, democratic leader, said that he endorsed all that Mr. Bell had said. The ballot resulted in 163 yeas and no nays.

Adjournment at 12.53 (s. t.)

IN THE SENATE

When the senate was called to order at 10:45 (standard time), this forenoon Senator Trumbull obtained permission under suspension of rules to introduce the following bill:

"The highway commissioner is authorized to adjust and apportion with the county commissioners of Hartford county the portion of the cost of building the bridge between Warehouse Point and Windsor Locks for which said county shall be reimbursed by the state; such portion to be paid by the highway commissioner from funds appropriated or highway purposes and such adjustment to be made on or before January 1, 1924."

The bill was passed under suspension of rules, and transmitted to the house.

The bill relating to congressional and senatorial districts was continued to the next session of the general assembly in concurrence with the house.

By a unanimous vote—thirty-two senators voting—the senate confirmed the governor's appointment of Fred W. Huxford as judge of the court of common pleas for Fairfield county.

On the motion of Senator Ells the bill concerning the employment of compensation commissioners by employes and insurance commissioners was tabled.

On the motion of Senator Bakewell the bill from the house creating a commission to codify the school law of the state was tabled until Friday.

After a recess Senator Bakewell called from the table the bill for the creation of a commission to codify the laws of the state and moved its passage. The motion was carried.

The senate adjourned to Friday at 10:15 (standard).

Boy Scouts Did Good Work

Chief Howard L. Stanton praised the work of the Boy Scouts at the fire Wednesday at the store house of the Max Gordon & Son corporation on Central Wharf. The scouts, directed by Scoutmaster Johnathan L. Johnson furnished ice water and ran a great many errands for the firemen and assisted greatly whenever called upon. Their work was appreciated by the men of the department.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE AT ASHFORD

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Ashford, May 31.—The old church on the hill in Ashford town, unused in recent years, but for Wednesday's event very attractively decorated by a graceful blending of spring flowers and the national colors, was the scene of a Memorial day service attended by a concourse of the people from this and neighboring towns which filled the building to overflowing, while others seated in their cars and on the church steps listened to the exercises through the open windows.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the school children arrived in gaily decorated trucks from the several districts of the town. On their way they had visited the respective cemeteries of each parish to place flowers on the graves of fallen heroes.

The Babcock Cornet band (an institution endowed more than 60 years ago by Archibald Babcock, who at the same time endowed the Babcock public library of his native town) was early on hand in accordance with the original provision that it shall play on all patriotic occasions, and just before the lunch hour gave a delightful concert of national airs. The women of the Hill parish, under the lead of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Brown, provided a bountiful poonday meal, this also by the grace of the town fathers, in accordance with time-honored custom.

Soon after 1 o'clock a program of songs, recitations and patriotic exercises was presented by the children of the Hill school under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. B. C. Bugbee, and as follows:

Song by the school, America the Beautiful; recitations, Memorial Day, Leola Lynch; Our Debt, Walter Bates; History Drill by the school, naming briefly leaders in American history, with the significance of each; recitations, The Last March, Esther Kosa; In Flanders Fields, Josephine Fitts; exercise, Makers of the Flag, nine pupils; recitations, What We Can Do, Esther Koss; A Mother's Thought, Julia Winski.

The chairman of the day, Allen B. Lincoln, then spoke briefly of the significance of Memorial day. He called upon the one Civil war veteran who was present, Orrin Cushman of Westford, who went out from Tolland with the Twenty-second Connecticut, to rise and receive the greetings of the audience, especially of the children present, that they might recall in their own elder years the day when they had been privileged to greet one of the last surviving veterans of the Civil war. It was noted that one other veteran of the Civil war is living at Westfield, Charles Chism, who was unable to be present. One veteran of the Spanish war, Herbert S. Brown, was present, and two veterans of the World war, Robert M. Balch and Harvey Colburn, both of them members of the band.

Mr. Lincoln called attention to the passing of practically two generations since the Civil war, with remarkable changes in population, and the coming of the "new" America which now confronts us with its problems. He then spoke of the rise of the new Catholic parish at Warrenville in recent years, and introduced their popular young pastor, Rev. William Dunn, as the orator of the day.

Father Dunn was cordially greeted by the audience and delivered an eloquent and impressive address. He paid tribute to the service and sacrifice of soldiers, and what this means in times of crisis, for the protection and saving of civilization, and all that the order and service of government and society mean to each of us in the privileges of citizenship and its institutions in times of peace.

Chairman Lincoln then spoke briefly of the gift of the Ashford town house to be built this summer.

The exercises closed by the singing of Onward, Christian Soldiers, by the children, and of America by the audience under the lead of the Babcock Cornet band. Many lingered after the close of the meeting to enjoy a social hour and the wonderful view from the Ashford hill. And an object of special interest was little Richard Delos-Reyes, aged seven months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cerito Delos-Reyes, the father being a native of the Philippine Islands, born near Manila, and now serving in the American navy, and the mother, an American girl, a native of Phoenixville, where she now resides.

Health in Eastern Connecticut

According to the report of the state department of health for the week ending, May 26th the following cases of communicable diseases were reported from towns in eastern Connecticut: Diphtheria, Jewett City 1, Groton (B) 1, Groton (T) 1, Norwich (C) 2; Scarlet fever, Lebanon 1, Norwich (C) 2, Somers 5, Stafford 1; whooping cough, New London 2; measles, Lebanon 1, Montville 1, New London 3, Norwich (C) 11, Norwich (T) 4, Preston 3, Brooklyn 4, Plainfield 12; typhoid fever, Groton (T) 1, Plainfield 1.

The report for the state for the past week as compared with the week previous is as follows: Diphtheria 51 to 53; scarlet fever 77 to 108, whooping cough 48 to 63; measles 263 to 240; typhoid fever 4 to 1.

Seventy cases of chicken pox were reported in the state. 21 cases of German measles, 4 cases of influenza, and 20 cases of pneumonia.

Was Not a Fire

The fire department was called out at 6.17 o'clock Thursday evening for what was supposed to be a chimney fire at 61 Warren street in a house owned by C. Edward Smith. It was discovered that sparks issuing from the chimney came from the fireplace

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting and operations fail? and danger of an operation.

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Lee S. Osgood and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.

ZIONISTS ARE READY TO PAY OVER $5,000

At a meeting of the Keren Hayesod Thursday evening in the Hebrew institute with Rabbi J. N. Rosenberg presiding final arrangements were made for the mass meeting Sunday night at the Community house and the report was made that the collectors had met with such success this week that the local organization would be able to pay $5,000 as the second instalment of the $18,000 pledge for the city of Norwich.

The organization is anticipating with much interest the addresses to be made by the two speakers at the coming meeting. They will be Louis Lipsky of New York and Dr. Jacob Sunderling of Hamburg, Germany. The latter is head rabbi of that city and a prominent orator and Zionist leader. Mr. Lipsky is president of the Zionists of America, a graduate of Rochester University, a former editor of The American Hebrew, and the present editor of The New Palestine.

Plainville—There was a good attendance at the special town meeting. It was voted to purchase three acres of the Callen property on Linden street for $5,000 for the purpose of a site for the erection of a much-needed school building.

A Real Hair Saver

Found at last. Parisian Sage shows results at once or money refunded. Thousands testify to its excellence. Some fearing baldness now have abundant hair—others annoyed with dandruff and itching head got a clean, cool scalp after a few days' use of this wonderful hair saver and beautifier. The Lee & Osgood Co. and all druggists sell it. Remember the name—Parisian Sage—best for the hair and scalp.

SILVERWARE

Do not fail to visit our silver display rooms. We have a wonderful assortment of solid silver and quadruple plate.

Display on Second Floor

A Hot Dish Mat Free with each silver purchase.

FERGUSON'S

FRANKLIN SQUARE

Where All Cars Stop

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

This Is Demonstration Week For

MIRRO

The Finest Aluminum

Roaster, $4.48 — value $6.00

Two more days of the demonstration of Mirro Aluminum. We extend a cordial invitation to every housewife to visit our House Furnishing Department and have the merits of Mirro Aluminum explained by the demonstrator from the factory.

A LIST OF SPECIAL VALUES

In connection with the demonstration of Mirro Aluminum we offer the following special values in Mirro Aluminum Ware:—

1-quart Square Refrigerator Dish, regular value 50c—Demonstration Price	25c
1½-quart Covered Sauce Pan, regular value 75c — Demonstration Price	49c
2½-quart Pudding Pan, regular value 75c—Demonstration Price	49c
Mirro Omelet Pan, polished, has cool steel handles, regular value $1.35—Demonstration Special	95c
2-quart Mirro Aluminum Percolator, regular value $2.30 — Demonstration Price	$1.69
2-quart Mirro Aluminum Double Boiler, regular value $2.50 — Demonstration Price	$1.89
Triplicate Sauce Pan Set, consisting of 3 two-quart Covered Sauce Pans, enabling you to cook three kinds of food over one fire, regular value $3.00 — Demonstration Price	$1.98
Three-piece Preserving Set, consisting of a 10-quart Preserving Kettle, Ladle and Combination Fruit Funnel, if bought separately these articles would cost $2.85—Demonstration Price	$1.98
Oblong Roasters with tray, self-basting and with two vents—just the thing for your cold-pack canning, in two sizes—regular $6.50 size at $4.98, regular $6.00 size at	$4.48

Yes, Every One of These Styles at $1.97

Ladies' Gingham Street Dresses

Made of the best Ginghams—full sizes, excellent range of colors—Sizes 36 to 52—

$1.97

WONDERFUL PERCALE DRESSES AT $1.19

WE ALSO HAVE SOME GINGHAM DRESSES AT $1.39

LADIES' TAFFETA SILK DRESSES AT $1.97

Worth up to $15.00

These three models in extra size only 46 to 54

THE PASNIK CO. Sell for Less.

FIVE STORES

ONE AT NORWICH, OPPOSITE WOOLWORTH'S 5c AND 10c

Norwich Bulletin.

1798 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 132 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH, CONN., SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1923 | 12 PAGES 96 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

GOV. SMITH HAS SIGNED BILL REPEALING STATE PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT LAWS; EXPECTS VOLSTEAD ACT TO BE ENFORCED

Had Served Notice That His Action Should Not Alter the Effectiveness of Volstead Act in Its Present Form as Long as It Stands Unmodified—All Peace Officers of the State Will be Expected to "Enforce the Volstead Act in Its Strictest Letter"—Denounced the One-Half Per Cent Provision as "the Work of Fanatical Drys"—Would Have Congress Designate a Common Sense Maximum, Leaving to Each State the Right to Fix a Figure Below That Maximum if It so Desires.

Albany, N. Y., June 1.—(By The A. P.)—Governor Smith this evening signed the legislature's bill wiping the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act off the statute books.

And he went further. Acceding to the urging of his friends that he strike a note in a campaign for the return of light wines and beer, he denounced the one-half of one per cent. alcoholic beverage content provided in the Volstead act as "the work of fanatical drys," calling on congress to modify it to a "common sense" maximum, and then leave each state free to set a figure below that maximum if it so desires.

Differs With President Harding.

"I yield to no man in my reverence and respect for the constitution of the United States and I advocate nothing which will infringe upon the provisions of the eighteenth amendment," the governor said. "It is nevertheless a fact that the definition of an intoxicating beverage contained in the Volstead act is not an honest or a common sense one. It is impossible to divorce from the public mind the impression that the definition of an intoxicating beverage as containing more that one half of one per cent. of alcohol was written by the fanatical drys in defiance of the general experience of mankind and of actual fact. It seems to me that common sense, backed up by good medical opinion can find a more scientific definition of what constitutes an intoxicating beverage.

"Such a definition should be adopted by congress as a proper and responsible amendment of the Volstead act and a maximum alcoholic content should be prescribed by congress which would limit all state to the traffic in liquors which are in fact non-intoxicating within the meaning of the eighteenth amendment. Subject to that limitation each state should thereafter be left free to determine for itself what should constitute an intoxicating beverage. States which then wished to limit traffic to beverages containing not more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol would be free to do so and those which desired to extend the traffic to the maximum limitation allowed by federal statute would be equally free to do so."

The governor emphasized, however, that the mere repeal of the Mullan-Gage act, accomplished by its signature, did not alter the effectiveness of the Volstead act in its present form as long as it stands unmodified, and served notice on all peace officers of the state that they would be expected to "enforce the Volstead act in its strictest letter."

The governor's action on the Mullan-Gage repealer, which had been heralded as the most momentous matter affecting prohibition since the adoption of the Volstead act, was dramatic in its simplicity.

Summoning late his office at six o'clock, daylight saving time, the army of newspaper men who had fumed about the state house all day, he smilingly lifted a blotter from his wet signature and said:

"Boys, I have just approved the bill."

Some of the "boys" made a break for the door, but he called them back to hand out copies of a 2,700 word memorandum which he had prepared to go with the announcement.

The governor asked that his memorandum be given the fullest possible circulation.

The document disposed of all the arguments against the repealer which had been given him at the mammoth public hearing yesterday, as well as arguments that had been presented to him from time to time in writing, elaborated on the arguments which had led him to the decision to approve the repeal and retorted to President Harding's now famous letter to Wesley Wait, Newburgh dentist, in which the president expressed concern as to a possible clash between federal and state authorities if the repealer became law.

"I yield to no man in this country when it comes to respect for the utterances of the chief executive of the United States, but it is impossible for me to be unmindful of the fact that I am the chief executive of a sovereign state and I am entirely in accord with a statement put forth in the course of this discussion and signed by former justices Willar Bartlett, Almet F. Jenks, E. Henry Lacomb and Mr. Austin G. Fox, which dealt with the letter, and which said in part:

"'It would be a calamity to permit such fundamental conceptions of the relations between the states and the federal government as may seem to be suggested by portions of the president's letter to pass unchallenged.'"

Three Desirable Results.

Emphasizing the fact that repeal of the Mullan-Gage act did not legalize any act in New York state that was illegal during its life, and that state officers would be expected to enforce the Volstead act, the governor explained that the three desirable results which the repeal would have were:

"Do away entirely with the possibility of double jeopardy for violations of the laws enforcing the eighteenth amendment.

"Put the state in harmony with the recent decision by United States District Judge Knox (of New York City) declaring a portion of the Volstead act to be in contravention of the eighteenth amendment.

"Violation of the Volstead act will hereafter be prosecuted in the federal courts * * * desirable as it will be in the minds of offenders that thought that they have violated a federal statute intended to effectuate an amendment to the constitution of the United States rather han have them harbor the thought that they are simply standing against what a great many of them may be led to believe is merely local regulation."

Inasmuch as the repeal bill provided that it should become effective as soon as it had received executive approval, the Mullan-Gage act died at approximately six o'clock daylight saving time this evening.

No Politics in Action.

While the governor specifically disclaimed any desire to make political capital out of his action, his friends are jubilantly proclaiming that he must be considered seriously as the democratic standard bearer in the 1924 presidential election.

His comment on politics in the memorandum follows:

"Much has been said in the public prints with respect to the effect my action on this bill may have upon my own political future. I have no political future that I am willing to attain by the sacrifice of any principle or any conviction of what in my mind is for the welfare and the benefit of this state and nation."

ALL OFFICIALS BOUND TO AID FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

New York, June 1.—Declarations that every state, county and municipal enforcement official was still bound to aid federal authorities in enforcement of the Volstead act, and that prosecution of Mullan-Gage law violators would continue, were the greetings two New York officials gave tonight to the news that with a stroke of his pen Governor Smith had nullified New York's prohibition act.

Palmer Canfield, federal prohibition director for the state declared "the state is still in the Union" and it was the duty of all its officials to "enforce the national prohibition act to the same extent and in the same manner as any state law."

District Attorney Joab H. Banton of New York county, said presentation of 1200 cases of alleged state law violations to the grand jury would go on and that there would be no let up in the prosecution of those already indicted. Later, of course, he said, signing of the repealer would lessen the work of his office.

"Unquestionably," said Mr. Canfield, "the repealer of the state law will stimulate and promote prohibition violations on a much larger scale and to a greater degree. However, every effort will be made to offset and counteract this condition by increased effort on the part of the federal forces."

Mr. Canfield reiterated his assertion that he would call upon state troopers, sheriffs and chiefs of police to cooperate by direct activity with the federal agents, while such officers could arrest Volstead act violators, he said, it was necessary for them to turn their prisoners over to United States courts for prosecution.

"It is absolutely necessary for the enforcement officers to cooperate with 35,000, state, county and municipal and the 250 federal agents in the state," he said.

"It is their duty to do so under oath of office to support the constitution of the United States. * * * I presume that they will perform their duty and actively assist in enforcing the law, but if it appears that the enforcement of the law is ignored, it will be my duty to present a statement of the facts and circumstances to the governor for his consideration and action."

Mr. Banton said, "I have 1200 liquor law violations yet to be presented to the grand jury. Those cases will have to be presented for the grand jury's action. The law does not change that."

Federal prohibition agents were stationed in Broadway's white light cafe district tonight. Mr. Canfield later announced to "check any undue celebration of the repeal."

PRAISES THE ACTION OF GOVERNOR SMITH

Albany, June 1.—(By The A. P.)—"That lifts Governor Smith out of the class of politicians and puts him in the class with statesmen," was the instant comment of Col. Ranson H. Gillette, general counsel for the Association Against Prohibition, when informed by The Associated Press tonight that the governor had signed the Cuvillier bill, repealing the Mullan-Gage state prohibition statute.

"The signing of this bill is the first symptom in five years of sanity in the prohibition question," Colonel Gillette added.

NO COMMENT FROM PRESIDENT HARDING

Washington, June 1.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes withheld comment tonight on the approval given by Governor Smith to repeal of New York's prohibition enforcement law, as did President Harding after he had been informed of the governor's action by the Associated Press. At the White House it was said that the president would make no statement.

The policy of the federal government relative to enforcement of prohibition in New York is yet to be determined. Commissioner Haynes is expected to confer soon with Commissioner Blair of the internal revenue bureau and it is likely that Secretary Mellon and possibly President Harding will be consulted before a course of action is determined.

Two avenues hoch officials said tonight, appear to be open to the government. One is to make a vigorous drive for enforcement in New York state even to the extent of depleting prohibition forces in other sections of the country, to demonstrate the government's determination and power to uphold the constitution and federal law despite the refusal of New York to assist in their enforcement.

The alternative course would be to continue enforcement efforts with the present staff of federal officers in New York state with the knowledge that they probably would be unable to enforce the law rigidly alone.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, in a statement declared that "the only class to be benefited by the repeal is the bootlegger and illicit dealer."

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Belgian Loan Oversubscribed.

Brussels, June 1.—The government's billion franc loan, the money to be used for reconstruction work, had been oversubscribed several times. The exact figures have not yet been made public.

Germans Arrest Betrayer.

Berlin, June 1.—The Allgemeine Zeitung today says it learn that the German authorities have succeeded in identifying and arresting the two men who betrayed Albert Schlageter to the French. Schlageter, convicted of espionage and sabotage by a French courtmartial, was executed by a firing squad at Duesseldorf last week.

TURBULENT SESSION OF THE FRENCH DEPUTIES

Paris, June 1.—(By The A. P.)—The introduction of Fascisti methods in France by ardent royalist sympathizers Thursday night was the cause this afternoon of one of the most turbulent sessions the chamber of deputies has seen for many years. Royalists, socialists and communists, bandied epithets and launched challenges across the chamber all afternoon in an almost continual series of interruptions to the proceedings. The speakers scarcely could be heard above the turmoil.

Several invitations to "come outside and fight it out" were yelled from both sides of the house. M. Magalon, royalist, and M. Claussat, socialist, did step out into the lobby, but not quickly enough to get ahead of prudent friends who intervened so that there should be no bloodshed. The would-be antagonists were rushed back into the chamber so that neither their friends nor themselves would miss any interesting points of the melee inside.

Leon Daudet, the royalist leader, yelled himself hoarse trying to drown the socialist quips and cuties launched at his expense. In explanation of Thursday night's attack on three deputies, one a former minister, Daudet said the deputies were involved in a plan to protect revolutionists from just punishment and that his own life repeatedly had been threatened.

Germaine Berthon, the 20-year-old anarchist woman who assassinated Marius Plateau, one of Daudet's collaborates on L'Action Francaise, last January, had called at his house one morning with the evident intention of slaying him, declared Daudet. He called on the police for protection.

HAVE SECURED $3,000,000 RETURN IN WAR FRAUDS

Washington, June 1.—Attorney General Daugherty today laid before President Harding a report showing that in the last year the war frauds section of the department of justice had secured the return of $3,198,385.19 to the government, had been awarded judgments for $1,225,919 more, and had obtained 98 indictments, score of additional civil and criminal suits are now awaiting trial.

The $500,000 appropriated by congress at his request for the war fraud work, the attorney general pointed out, had been returned many times over by these recoveries despite the "most stubborn interference on the part of those personally interested and involved and on the part of those who are used, often innocently, to interfere with the efforts of the government."

The larger collections in the last twelve months included the Derby Manufacturing Company, $670,000; Lincoln Motors, $1,550,000 and Du Plain Silk Company, $1,195,000. The larger judgments secured were: Dusenberg Motors and Willys Corporation, $639,748; U. S. FFidelity and Guaranty Company, $45,710 and Cleveland Brass and Copper Mills, $515,588.

CONFIDENT GUARDIAN ANGEL SAVED CHILD

New York, June 1.—Margie O'Donnell, aged two, tumbled off the roof of a five story building today. Two hours later she was taking a nap, sleeping off the effects of her scare.

Margie climbed to the roof while her mother was busy. She disregarded the frantic shouts of two small boys on an adjoining housetop and crawled too near the edge of the roof. But pedestrians below heard the boys' cries and rushed to the spot below Margie. Margie fell, bounced off a large awning and into the arms of husky Frank La Babera.

"'And I never knew she was gone," said Mrs. O'Donnell as they carried Margie up the stairs. "Don't tell me it wasn't her guardian angel that saved her."

DAMAGE BY HURRICANE IN NORTHERN ITALY

Milan, June 1 (By the A. P.)—All of northern Italy along the Swiss frontier, has been swept by a hurricane which did a great deal of damage. The mountain towns report a number of victims, and many persons were rendered homeless.

Floods caused by cloudbursts swept away railroad tracks, causing a suspension of traffic, especially on the Simplon route, which is the main line to Constantinople.

Up to this morning the disturbance had not abated.

President Holds For Sugar Tariff Rates

Decision Reached After Discussion With Chairman Marvin of the Tariff Commission.

Washington, June 1.—President Harding will not consider a modification of the tariff rates on sugar as a means of bringing down the price of that commodity, it was said today at the White House after the executive had discussed the general tariff situation with Chairman Marvin of the tariff commission.

Modification of the sugar schedule in the opinion of the president could not affect the present situation to any considerable degree and morovr would discourage further development of the American domestic sugar industry which the president believes provides the surest way to remedy conditions that now obtain.

PRIZES AWARDED AT YALE UNIVERSITY

New Haven, June 1.—Awards of the Barge mathematical prizes open to Yale freshmen, announced tonight, show that Edward Guthrie of Buffalo won the first, William W. Sherwood of Southport, Conn., second, and Oliver Edward of Washington, D. C., third. Out of 790 freshmen 125 competed.

The Andrew D. White prize in history is awarded to Charles H. Willard, Minneapolis, Minn., for his essay on "Cesasar Borgia." John G. Elliot, '23, St. Louis, Mo., received the companion prize for an upper classman for his essay on "Italy and the World war."

The Lucius F. Robinson Latin prizes went to Stiles Burpee, '25, Hartford, Conn.; Kenneth B. Roberts, '25, Sharpsville, Pa.; Kenneth R. Evans, '25, Cincinnati; George A. Jenkins, '25, Ardmore, Pa!

The Berkeley premiums for excellence in Latin composition established by Bishop George Berkeley in 1732, went to John C. Munger, Waterbury, Conn.; Sebastino Guliano, Winsted, Conn.; George W. Pierson, New York city; John C. E. Taylor, Hartford, Conn.; Charles H. Willard, Minneapolis.

Freshman prizes in English composition are awarded to John E. Ellsworth, Simsbury, Conn.; Lewis V. Frissell, New York city; John A. Davenport, Philadelphia; Harold C.Geyer, Englewood, N. J., and Arthur Milliken, Indianapolis.

The Figli-D'Italia prizes, "given this year for the first time by the Great Lodge of the Order of the Sons of Italy in Connecticut for an essay in Italian, are awarded to A. A. Albelli, '25, New Haven, Conn.

SUGGESTSS A NATHAN HALE POSTAGE STAMP

New Haven, June 1.—George Dudley Seymour, of this city, who recently purchased the Nathan Hale birthplace at Coventry, this state, to preserve it, today made public the fact that in a letter to President Harding he had suggested that a postage stamp be issued bearing a picture of the head of Hale. Mr. Seymour said that a tribute to Hale's memory could be paid in this way and the cause of Americanization promoted. Mr. Seymour added that after reading a recent speech by President Harding he was impressed with the fact that no president had ever publicly spoken of Nathan Hale as an exemplar of American ideals and he believed it was time one of Washington's successors should do something to recognize the sacrifice of Hale who, he said, "has been adopted by our people as the national symbol of patriotism."

GOVERNMENT SUPPORTED BY FRENCH DEPUTIES

Paris, June 1 (By the A. P.)—The government received a majority of 162 on a test vote in the chamber of deputies today after interpellations on the recent royalist activites in which socialist deputies were beaten by street gangs.

The vote was on the question of giving priority to resolutions offred by Emmanuel Brousse and Edouard Herriot. M. Brousse's resolution condemned the actions of the royalists and expressed confidence in the government to repress violence, while M. Herriot's resolution was to the same effect, but without the phrase expressing confidence in the government.

ROOMMATE SAYS THAT STUDENT MONT SUICIDED

Chicago, June 1.—Roscoe Conkling Fitch, a former roommate of Leighton Mount, Northwestern University student, who died recured after a class fight in September, 1921, declared over the long distances telephone from his home in Ludington, Mich., that he had given assistant state's attorneys who interviewed him today "absolute proof and documentary evidence" that Mount committed suicide.

A Trustworthy Business Associate

A successful housekeeper these days is a business woman. She has to be. She wastes neither time nor money.

She'll tell you she is a diligent reader of newspaper advertising. She considers it a trustworthy business associate. It brings her cleaner food—improves her personal appearance—eases her daily task—helps take the humdrum out of life—tells her when, where and how to find things pleasurable and profitable — makes it possible for her to get one hundred cents worth of real value for every dollar she spends.

Everyone can profit by reading the advertisements in The Bulletin. That's the best way to keep in touch with the lowest prices, best qualities and newest commodities that stores are offering and manufacturers are putting forth for your benefit.

Remember you can depend upon advertised products. Read advertisements. Read The Bulletin's advertisements. They'll help you in lots of ways.

During the past week the following matter has appeared in The Bulletin's news columns for two cents a day:

Bulletin		Telegraph	Local	General	Total
Saturday,	May 26	155	141	420	716
Monday,	May 28	159	104	324	587
Tuesday,	May 29	146	118	320	584
Wednesday,	May 30	173	97	212	482
Thursday,	May 31	199	72	320	591
Friday,	June 1	174	106	293	567
Totals		1006	632	1889	3527

Many Towns In Alberta Flooded

Old Man River Bursts Banks After Sixteen Hours Steady Rainfall — Communication Cut Off.

Spokane, Wash., June 1.—Many towns in Crows Nest Pass, Alberta, have been flooded by the bursting of the banks of Old Man river, after 16 hours steady rainfall, according to a special despatch from Calgay, Alberta, today. Electric lights and power have been cut off and railroad and motor traffic is at a standstill.

The town of Coleman is partly under water, mines there are endangered and light and power cut off. At Blairmore six houses and the Victoria bridge weer washed away and light and power are suspended, with some streets under six feet of water. At Frank three feet of water covers some of the streets and the Canadian Pacific railway tracks.

DIRECTORS APPOINTED BY FEDERAL FARM LOAN BOARD

Washington, June 1.—Selection of the three public members of the directorates of each of the twelve intermdediate credit bank districts was announced tonight by Commissioner Lobdell, of the federal farm loan board, which supervises the new agricultural credit machinery. Twelve directors at large, one for each district, already had been chosen and indications were given that the directorates would be made complete early next week by the appointment of government members for each of the districts.

The public members were chosen by ballot of the cooperative and marketing associations in the several districts. The directors named for the Springfield territory were as follows:

Division No. 1, B. G. McIntire, Norway, Maine; No. 2, Charles R. Treat, Orange, Conn.; No. 3, George F. Warren, Ithaca, N. Y.

REDUCTION OF PERSONNEL OF THE VETERANS' BUREAU

Washington, June 1.—Reduction of administrative personnel at a number of sub-district offices of the veterans' bureau throughout the country was announced today by Director Hines in line with the policy of reducing field activities where the number of former service men is too small to warrant heavy administrative expense.

The personnel of the following offices will be reduced generally to medical units, or training officers and contract representatives: Poughkeepsie, Binghampton, Utica and Buffalo, N. Y.; Camden, N. J., New Haven, Conn., Erie, Pa., Wilmington, Del., Williamsport, Allentown and Johnstown, Penn., Raleigh, N. C., Chattanooga, Tenn., Dayton and Canton, Ohio, Polar Bluff, Missouri, Kearney, Neb., Pueblo, Colo., and Tacoma, Wash.

FOREST FIRE CHECKED BY A THUNDERSTORM

Toronto, June 1.—White River was saved from threatened destruction by a forest fire which has been raging several days by a local thunderstorm which today checked the progress of the flames, Chief Forrester Zavitz was informed by Forester Connell of Sault Ste. Marie.

Zavitz expressed the opinion that White River was now entirely out of danger because of the large quantity of fire apparatus there.

HOMESTEAD FOR MASONS AND THEIR FAMILIES

Boston, June 1.—A homestead, to be used for aged Masons and their families, and $150,000 for its maintenance were bequeathed to the Massachusetts Grand Lodge of Masons in the will of Mrs. Sarah A. Davenport, filed for probate today. If the Grand Lodge does not accept the bequest, the property is to become a home for aged men.

43 CHILDREN WERE RESCUED BY FIREMEN

New York, June 1.—Trapped in the upper floors of a West 50th street tenement house, forty-three children were rescued by firemen today. Twelve women, several of whom were badly burned, also were carried to safety.

OBITUARY.

Fred Emerson Brooks.

Berkeley, Calif., June 1.—Fred Emerson Brooks, poet and writer, died suddenly at his home here today. He was born in New York in 1850. Brooks is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Holmes Brooks and two daughters, Mrs. Albert Wheeler of New York, and Mrs. Marion Tregidgo of Vallejo.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Otto J. Thuerkuf, of Jersey City, N. J., president of the F. A. Marsily, of New York, died suddenly. He was 59.

Mrs. Amelia Kraft, 74, was burned to death in her home in an outlying district of Springfield.

Building permits issued in 24 cities in Massachusetts during April numbered 1670 for garages and 988 for residences.

Asa Nye, who was born in Chatham in 1821 and followed the sea for many years, died at the home of a daughter in the Roxbury district, Boston.

The federal authorities will undertake a full investigation of the sinking of the steamer John Dwight, rum runner, in Vineyard Sound, April 6.

Dr. Herbert Lee Constable, widely known physician of New York who devoted most of his life to treatment of poor patients, left no estate.

Imports from Latin-America and Canada showed the largest proportionate increase among March shipments into the United States.

Harold I. Smith, 59, dean of New York ship news reporters and known to his fellow workers as "Judge," died in Paris.

Under the will of Walter H. Kimball, of Providence Brown University receives the major portion of the estate which is estimated at $300,000.

Joseph Malham, 47, died in Torrington of a fractured skull sustained Wednesday when he fell down stairs at his home.

Four hundred members of the Worcester Telephone Operators' union unanimously voted in favor of a strike poll at a special meeting last night.

Of the 600 prohibition cases brought before the May grand juries in New York county there were only forty-seven indictments, or less than 8 per cent.

James M. Cox, democratic presidential candidate in 1920, has purchased the Canton News a local daily newspaper. This increased the number of newspapers owned by Mr. Cox to four.

Miss Annie Daley, walking in her sleep, plunged through a window of her home in the Roxbury district of Boston and sustained injuries from which she died a few hours later.

The 37th annual convention of the Independent order of Brith Abraham, the Jewish fraternal order, will begin three day sessions at Saratoga, N. Y. Sunday.

Nine young men were sentenced to five years in jail by magistrate Dorn, in Philadelphia, for throwing cushions during a Boston-Philadelphia American league baseball game.

Joseph Hirsch, 70, a retired merchant of New York City, was found dead in the bathroom of his suite in a Miami, Fla. hotel. Death is believed to have been caused from sheartattack.

The children's hospital of Pittsburgh was destroyed by fire. More than one hundred little patients, most of them crippled, were moved to the Magee Maternity hospital nearby.

Announcement was made that George H. Wilcox has purchased the big Meriden plant of the Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Co., of Hartford, for a price reported to be around 150,0000.

Historic Faneuil hall, the birthplace of Liberty, will not be defiled by the installation of a modern elevator, Mayor Curley decided, reversing a previous decision in deference to the protests of a large number of patriotic societies.

William Feider, 33, Pittsburgh real estate man, died at Warren, Ohio, from burns and injuries suffered when an airplane in which he was riding as a passenger, fell near here and was destroyed by fire.

Although there is little indication of any widespread movement to store up coal, bituminous production in April reached 42,000,000 tons, the largest April tonnage in recent years, except 1918.

Consolidation of the Bridger Nat'l forest and Wyoming national forest under the name of the latter by executive order of President Harding was announced by the department of agriculture.

A son and heir was born at Monte Carlo to the hereditary prince of Monaco. The child was named Rainier Louis Henri Maxence Bertrand. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired in honor of the event

Convicted of using advertising columns of New York newspapers to swindle investors out of sums said to aggregate $11,750, Edward F. Wheaton, was sentenced by Judge Crain in general sesions to two and one-half to five years in Sing Sing prison.

Fifteen working men and women, the first graduating class of Brookwood labor college of Katonah, N Y. returned to their crafts and unions, after completing a two year course of study in labor problems, sociology, labor journalism and other subjects.

George Lawton, aged 40, of Middletown, died at a hospital in Hartford. Mr. Lawton, who was an expert accountant, was a graduate of Wesleyan university, class of '02. He was a brother-in-law of Congressman P. B. O'Sullivan, of Derby.

Edward Robinson, director of the Metropolitan Museum of New York and authority on all art subjects, denied cable reports that 20 per cent. of the Gothic statuary in the museums is spurious.

While 1,700 seamen stood at attention aboard battleship Arkansas, funeral services were held in the Brooklyn Navy yard over the ashes of the late Vice Admiral S. Knapp, who died in Hartford, Conn., on April 6.

Sir A. Conan Doyle says he has had a message from Lord Northcliffe's spirit saying that only a wave of spiritual reform can save the world from plunging headlong into a catasthrope which will make the world war seem insignificant.

INTENSE EARTH TREMORS REGISTERED AT GEORGETOWN

Washington, June 1.—Earth tremors of "pronounced intensity" were recorded today between 12.42 p. m. and 2.30 p. m. on the Georgetown university heismograph. The maximum was reached between 1.20 and 1.26, Father Tondorf, director of the observatory, estimated the center of the disturbance at 3,400 miles from Washington, apparently south.

NEW BUSINESS FALLING OFF IN SEVERAL INDUSTRIES

But Many Competent Observers Cannot Forsee More Than a Temporary Setback in Business—New England Production Statistics Give Evidence of the Recent Change in Conditions—Manufacturers Are Curtailing Their Production Schedule Practically as Fast as the Falling Off in New Business Warrants.

Boston, June 1.—The monthly review of the Federal Reserve bank of Boston, issued tonight, while noting the falling off in new business in several industries in recent weeks, says that there is much underlying optimism and that many competent observers cannot foresee more than a temporary setback of business.

"New England production statistics for April," the review says, "while showing a large volume of output, give concrete evidence of the recent change in conditions, and although May production results are not definitely known, there is little doubt that they will be lower than those of April in many lines.

"Another significant factor in the present situation is the condition of retail trade. Complaints have been heard for several weeks from merchants in practically all sections of New England that trade has not been what it should be. This condition has frequently been attributed to the weather, which was undoubtedly in large measure responsible for it. Some consumers, however, have postponed certain seasonal purchases so indefinitely that they will not be made during the current selling season, and to that extent there has been an almost permanent loss to trade.

"The current setback has shown that manufacturers are determined to curtail their production schedules practically as fast as the falling off in new business warrants. They are determined not to build up stocks, if that is possible, and at the same time retain their organizations.

"Fortunately, there is a great deal of underlying optimism all through the business world which a period of fine seasonal weather should tend to stimulate to activity. Even according to the latest reports received during the last few days in May, the wave of excessive caution and fear was showing some signs of subsiding. In fact, many competent observers cannot foresee more than a temporary setback to business, while stocks of merchandise are comparatively low, credit abundant and cheap, and labor well employed at high wages, with consequently a large purchasing power."

The chief losses to New England manufacturing activity in April, the review says are due through curtailed production in the boot and shoe manufacturers, paper box and milk manufacturers. Only 65 per cent. of the boot and shoe manufacturers of Massachusetts were operating on full time in April as compared with 78 per cent. during March. The volume of production, however, when compared with a year ago, shows a gain of about 25 per cent. Net new orders received by these manufacturers in April were the largest this year.

The total value of all contracts awarded for building in New England during April was the largest of any month this year. Out of a total of $34,000,000 approximately $16,000,000 orth was involved in residential building.

Cotton spindle activity in New England during April gained about 1 per cent. over March, although the actual consumption of raw cotton was 7 per cent. less than in the previous month. Employment in both clothing and general cotton manufacturing declined from 3 to 7 per cent. in April in both New England and the total United States.

The activity of New England foundries and machine shops increased during April over 90 per cent. on a full time basis. Practically 95 per cent. of the paper manufacturers in New England were operating on full time schedules during April. Nearly 96 per cent. of woolen and worsted manufacturing concerns arae operating on full time.

MRS. RICHARD CROKER ON THE WITNESS STAND

Dublin, June 1 (By the A. P.)—Mrs. Richard Croker, widow of the former leader of Tammany Hall, today took the witness stand in the will contest case brought against her by Mr. Croker's children. Examined by her own counsel, Mrs. Croker gave a detailed account of her life. The narrative followed closely that she gave at the trial in Palm Beach, Florida, voluminous printed repots of which counsel for both sides had before them.

Mrs. Croker was composed throughout her testimony. She denied the allegations that she was married to Guy R. Marone when she married Mr. Croker. Denial also was made by the witness that she ever had visited Northampton, Mass., where her marriage to Marone is alleged by Mrs. White, daughter of Croker, to have taken place. While on the stand she related instances of alleged bitterness towad her by Mr. Croker's children. Mrs. Croker will be cross examined tomorrow.

Other witnesses today were racing associates of Mr. Croker who testified as to his mental capacity. A Carmelite priest who was a lifelong acquaintance of Mr. Croker, revealed the fact that Mr. Croker came from a Protestant family but embraced the Catholic religion on his marriage.

$3,000 HOLDUP IN FUR STORE IN BROOKLYN

New York, June 1.—Two robbers entered the fur store of Herman Lenkowsky in Brooklyn today and escaped with $2,000 after an exciting chase through the crowded shopping district.

Lenkowsky had just drawn the money to pay off his help. The police believed the robbers followed him from the bank.

Lenkowsky was alone when they entered. Both drew revolvers and backed Lenkowsky against the wall, his hands above his head. Then they took his $3,000 and fled after warning Lenkowsky he would be killed if he made any outcry.

The storekeeper waited until the bandits reached the street, and then ran out, calling for help. With a special officer stationed in a nearby department store, he pursued the robbers along Broadway, despite the crowds, the bandits turned and fired two shots, which went wild.

At DeKalb avenue, the fugitives jumped into a waiting automobile. They were lost to sight before the pursuers could commandeer a machine.

DRIVEN TO BOATS BY ADVANCING FOREST FIRES

Port Arthur, Ont., June 1.—Encircled by advancing forest fires, citizens of the small town of Graham, 104 miles west on the Canadian national lines, were forced to take to a nearby lake in boats for safety today, according to reports received here.

A temporary change of wind checked the flames at the town's edge.

CROKER'S CHILDREN RECEIVE ABOUT $200,000

New York, June 1.—Three of Richard Croker's children will receive approximately $200,000 among them, regardless of the outcome of the estate fight in Ireland, the appellate division of the supreme court ruled today. The court held that the former Tammany chief did not legally revoke a trust which he established in 1909.

FLAG PLACED HALF-MAST FOR DEAD IRISH SETTER

Augusta, Me., June 1.—Governor Percival P. Baxter ordered the flag on the state house placed at half mast today in memory of Garry, his Irish setter and for many years his constant companion. The chief executive buried the dog's body today on his Macworth Island estate near Portland.

SEARCHING FOREST FOR WIFE-SLAYER EDWARDS

Easton, Conn., June 1.—Guarding every possible forest exit in Pleasant Valley, firm in the belief that Robert Edwards, wife-slayer, is in hiding in one of the caves in the hills, state police and posses of deputy sheriffs were tonight pressing with vigor their armed man hunt.

Additional state police will be sent into the valley Saturday, according to State Police Sergeant Frank Viereli, to augment the posse searching the forests.

Although no trace of the murderer has been found since the cold blooded crime was committed Wednesday night, Sergeant Viereli believes Edwards is hiding hereabouts, and possibly is receiving subsistence from friends.

Coroner John J. Phelan of Bridgeport came to the scene of the murder this afternoon, and after a brief preliminary investigation conducted an inquest at the home of Mrs. Alvina Swenson, with whom the girl-wife was returning from a visit when Edwards appeared on the road and after a parley in which he unsuccessfully urged his wife to return to him, shot her twice through the body with a ten gauge shotgun.

Facts brought out served to indicate Edwards was possibly deranged, and that he was insanely jealous of his pretty girl-wife, whom he forbid to even visit her own parents for fear that she might meet someone visiting there whom she would like.

The crime was re-enacted at the inquest by Mrs. Alvina Swenson and her two sons.

TO ATTEMPT 20-HOUR NON-STOP COAST-TO-COAST FLIGHT

Washington, June 1.—A twenty-hour non-stop coast-to-coast flight in a home-made airplane will be attempted within the next ten days by Clare K. Vance, a Logansport, Ind., air mail pilot, the National Aeronautic Association announced today. Vance plans to go it alone, without mechanic or alternate pilot.

A request for official recognition by the contest committee of the association has been filed by A. C. Nelson, of Salt Lake City, superintendent of the Western Division of the air mail service, but it was explained that the trial would take place while Vance was on leave of absence and would not be considered as under post office department auspices.

Vance's machine, which he built himself, weighs fully loaded 4,200 pounds, has a gas capacity of 350 gallons and a maximum speed of 125 miles per hour. He plans to leave San Francisco at 10 o'clock at night and arrive in New York the following evening. Last February, in a snow storm, Vance made the first successful landing on the crest of the Sierra mountains.

BROKERS TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT THEIR INTERESTS

New York, June 1.—Creditors of Jones & Baker, leading brokerage house on the New York curb market, which was forced into involuntary receivership yesterday, today took steps to protect their interests by organizing a committee, with John L. Neyenhouse as chairman. The firm had more than 9,000 customers throughout the country, most of them with small accounts.

The liabilities have unofficially been estimated between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

Members of the firm reiterated their statement that it was solvent and that it would pay 100 cents on the dollar.

GEN WOOD NOT GOING TO CHINA THIS YEAR

Manila, June 1.—(By the A. P.)—Governor General Leonard Wood today set at rest rumors that he had been ordered to China in connection with the handling of the Chinese famine relief fund. He declared he would not go to China this year.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
31 Church Street Telephone 1068

A charge of vagrancy was entered against Robert Fitzgerald, colored, at the session of police court Friday morning. Fitzgerald, who is 21 years old and has no relatives, pleaded guilty to the charge. According to court records he has been committed to Brooklyn jail from here no less than five times during the past two years. The young man told the judge that he had a job in Norwich but left it because his employer failed to pay him any money after he had worked for two months. Judge Foss imposed a sentence of 90 days in jail.

William E. Webber, city tax collector, began his duties Friday morning at the collector's office in the town building. The taxes are payable all this month. William L. Jordan was the first man to pay his taxes and Margaret [illegible] was the first woman.

The delightful play, Come Out of Kitchen was [illegible] Friday evening on South [illegible] by the senior class of Windham High school. The play is one which scored a big hit at the annual play of the high school here some time ago. The presentation was under the [illegible] of Miss Dorothy H. Beers, [illegible] of the faculty.

Frances Kesler, 13, was discharged from the [illegible] hospital Friday and taken to [illegible] on Windham road, having [illegible] painful sustained [illegible] premature explosion of a blank [illegible] last Sunday. Kesler was one of six boys who were injured [illegible] time was thought that [illegible] would be effected. The [illegible] are not fully recovered.

Someone was a little careless Friday in the [illegible] city streets and residents of Summit street complained [illegible] sidewalks were covered [illegible] substance through which they had to walk.

Senior Day at Windham High school was observed Thursday and a great deal of merit was derived from the appearance of the future graduates in clothing [illegible] their younger days. The [illegible] were knee breeches, colored [illegible] and Buster Brown collars and [illegible] neck ties. The young ladies appeared at the Windham-Academy baseball game in their short dresses and bobbed hair.

Walter McNickle of No. 58 West Park street is recovering from a recent [illegible] appendicitis, at a Hartford hospital. Mr. McNickle has been a [illegible] figure on the pilgrimage [illegible] decorating cemeteries and has been missed in the afternoon on Memorial day and was greatly missed last Wednesday.

He acted as one of the color guards for a number of years and expressed his regret at being unable to attend. Arthur W. Sweet, the time-honored color bearer was another familiar figure absent from the ranks last Memorial day. Mr. Sweet, who was recently operated on, had not recuperated sufficiently to join the marchers.

Lieut. Ralph Barrows of Hartford, who staged aeroplane flights over Willimantic last fall will attract local eyes skyward against next Sunday when he will appear here in his famous Gold Bug, Standard J. U. S. A. biplane. Mechanic John Breen, well known here, will accompany the lieutenant. The Gold Bug, which is equipped with a 150 horse power motor will take off at Exten's field, Mansfield.

It has become very evident within the past two or three-week-ends that some regulation should be made for the parking of automobiles on city street. Even to an old driver, it takes a great deal of skill to safely manipulate an automobile through several of the side streets on a Saturday afternoon and evening, especially on Church and North streets. On all streets of the city, except a short distance on North street, the parking of automobiles is allowed on both sides.

The matter of making ordinances to allow the free flowage of traffic has been discussed a number of times, but up to the present not much has been done to overcome the "parking" menace. Something else that a number of residents are also anxious to witness, is the installation of better lighting system on some of the streets.

A new silent policeman with a flashing danger signal is being installed on Main street, opposite Mill No. 6 of the American Thread company, at the junction of Main street and the highway leading to Windham road, en route to Norwich. The new signal will be beneficial in many ways, as the junction is a dangerous one and confusing to strangers.

The automobile collision on the North Windham road which took place Wednesday night when the automobiles owned and driven by Louis Jackson of West Willington and Diodore Delage, crashed together, is under investigation by the state police department. It is thought that arrests may follow. Up to Friday afternoon the Jackson car still remained in the ditch on one side of the road, and the police were informed that one of the tires on the machine had been stolen. The Delage car was hauled to Norwich for repairs.

John M. Ryan was elected as delegate to the New Haven convention, next Sunday, at a meeting of San Jose assembly, No. 14, Knights of Columbus held recently. Faithful Navigator Patrick Connors will also attend the session.

Benjamin Larned of North street was tendered a surprise Thursday evening when he was presented a well filled May basket by twenty of his friends and fellow workers. The basket also contained a handsome watch charm with the Masonic emblem.

What a miserable little thing sting there is every time you touch that pimple! Resinol Ointment is what you want. Thousands have proved its unusual healing powers by using it for the most stubborn cases of skin affection with prompt, beneficial results. It soothes while it heals.
Resinol

Games, music and story telling constituted the entertainment for the evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

A number of friends of Mrs. Horce Geer of Greystone street, Lincoln Park, gathered at her home recently for a May-box social. The hostess was presented a Wallace Nutting picture, a cut-glass vase and several other gifts. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harris O. Eccleston, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Adams, Mrs. Mary Patten, Miss May Burgure, George Setterberg and George Geer.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Taylor, Mrs. H. C. Murray and Mrs. Otto B. Robinson will leave this Saturday on a motor trip to Maine. Mrs. Murray will go to Portland to visit relatives and the remainder of the party will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Hills in Westbrook for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Moses of South Coventry road, their guests, Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Hildreth and Mrs. Hildreth of Westfield and Miss Elizabeth Peterson of The Ridges, will motor to Westfield, Mass., this Saturday to spend the week end at the Hildreth home.

Mrs. Howard Danielson of South Coventry, recently entertained a 500 club.

Egbert A. Case and family who occupied the Mrs. Estella Young house on Windham road for some time, have stored their furniture and will be at the home of W. C. Norris on Prospect street for the present.

Mrs. Georgie Baldwin Lee of Wilmington, Del., is spending the month of June with her sister, Mrs. Bell B. Giggleman of Prospect street.

Mrs. Etta Wilson of Boston who has been the guest of Mrs. Nellie Whitney of Windham for a few weeks has gone to Thompsonville to visit.

Mrs. Susan B. Harrington of Windham is with her son, Harris Harrington of Mansfield avenue for a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Williams of Valley street have returned from a trip to Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Williams' aunt returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Hills of The Ridges are entertaining Miss Charlotte Botsford of New Haven.

Mrs. Don H. Curtis of Windham Road is entertaining Mrs. George Burkhardt of Holyoke, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Girard, Joseph Albert and Victor Girard, left here Friday night for New London on their way to Washington, D. C., where they will spend two weeks with Arthur Girard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ellsworth of Pleasant street have as guests Mrs. Ellsworth's sister, Miss Ellen Stimpson and Miss Gladys Dain of Pomfret.

The Misses Lucy A. Lee and M. Ruth Casey are in Springfield, Mass., to spend the week-end with Mrs. Frank A. Campbell and family.

Rev. A. S. Muirhead and Mrs. Muirhead of Prospect street have as guests, Mrs. Muirhead's mother, Mrs. H. Hopkins of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dr. Herman C. Little and Mrs. Little are spending the week end in Boston, Mass.

George H. Andrews of The Ridges recently entertained Arthur Perkins of New York.

Irwin Brackner of Norwich spent Friday with friends in this city.

JEWETT CITY

Pachaug Community club held a very successful meeting Thursday evening with 235 present. The committee in charge were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Terry, Wilfred Parks, George and Marian Frink. The program opened with America. There were recitations by Frank Mell and Lillian.

A mock marriage was given by young men from Norwich Town, and solos by Mrs. Herbert Richardson of Norwich, who was accompanied by her son Dwight. Emma Moncheni recited, also Ruth Burton. Fred Hicks of Canterbury gave several character songs. The program closed with singing The Battle Hymn of the Republic. Cake, cookies, cocoa and ice cream were served. The committee for June are Harold Geer, Mary Wilkinson, Alexina Peppin, Jessie Anderson and Chester Geer.

Food sale, Congregational church vestry, this p. m. at 3, D. S. T.—adv.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Pachaug church gave an entertainment this week in the town hall under the direction of Miss Bessie Burton, Mrs. W. B. Montgomery, Mrs. J. P. Richardson and Mrs. Harold Geer. There was a Maypole dance by Ethel Main, Frances Montgomery, Helen and Martha Truesdell, Grace Campbell, Emma, and Niva Mancheni, Stella Babick, Hedwig and Sophy Porucznic.

An operetta entitled Cups and Saucers was given by Mrs. Mabel Kaufman and W. B. Montgomery. Miss Gavitt of Glasgo sang and there were readings by Frank Mell of Lisbon and Mr. Montgomery. Ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Emma Raney and Miss Mildred Sweet are spending a week in Montville.

Miss Delphine Beauregard spent Wednesday and Thursday in Willimantic.

Members of Ruthie Rebekah lodge are requested to meet at lodge room Sunday at 1.45 p. m., to attend the funeral of Dr. S. H. Holmes.—adv.

Grace Gardiger has three eggs from a kiddie's nest, found on her father's farm in Griswold.

Richard Shea of Pawtucket is visiting his uncle, John Fitzgerald.

Garage space to let. Inquire Finn Bros.—adv.

Horace Dawley has removed his blacksmith shop from Anthony street to Riverview avenue. The old barn on Anthony street is being taken down, to be replaced by a building for the use of W. F. Bogue, who owns the property. It will greatly improve the street, as a new sidewalk will be laid on that side of the street in addition.

The pulpits in the Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches are to be occupied Sunday morning by speakers from the Anti-Saloon league. At the Methodist church in the evening there will be stereopticon slides with views of Northfield. The C. E. meeting at the Congregational church will be led by Miss M. A. Burdick, and at the Baptist church by Violet Harris. It is a consecration and business meeting also. Regular service at the Baptist church at 7.30.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Robinson left Friday for Holyoke to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harvey and attend the opening of the Canoe club. Monday they go to Buffalo to attend the convention of national association of mutual savings banks to be held there for four days.

BOLTON NOTCH

Mrs. Annie Morris, who has been a guest of her brother, Dr. M. M. Maine, returned to her home in Branford Saturday. Mrs. Estelle Read accompanied her home for a short stay.

Mary Cross and sons, Clarence, Heybert, Merrill and Harry Cross, were at Savin Rock Wednesday.

Arthur Blair was at Savin Rock, New Haven, Wednesday.

Mrs. Maud Woodward and Miss Mabel Howard were in Willimantic Wednesday.

JOHN ALDEN FLOUR

You'll Like This Apple Pie

Light, flaky piecrusts are not so difficult to make if you follow the recipe given here.

The best cooks are sure of good results in making pies because they keep all their materials and utensils cold, and always have enough John Alden Flour on hand for the recipe.

Because John Alden Flour is of the same whiteness, flavor and purity from year to year, you can be sure that each batch of pies you make according to these directions will be just as delicious.

Longfellow said of John Alden: "Ever of her (Priscilla) he thought, when he delved in the soil of his garden." The millers of John Alden Flour carry on every operation in its manufacture with thousands of Priscillas in mind. How well John Alden Flour embodies their ideal of a good flour is shown by its popularity in New England today.

Continental Products Company
555 North Maine Street, Norwich, Conn.

Apple Pie

It is essential to have all materials and utensils cold, and to use cold water if you wish to have crisp, flaky pie-crust. Add the water very slowly, as too much water gives a tough crust. If the shortening is warm and too little water used, the crust will crumble. Handle the dough very lightly and as little as possible.

With these usual precautions and the use of John Alden Flour you can get light, flaky pie crust.

1½ cups John Alden Flour,
½ teaspoon salt,
1 teaspoon baking powder,
⅓ cup shortening,
Cold water.

All measurements are level.

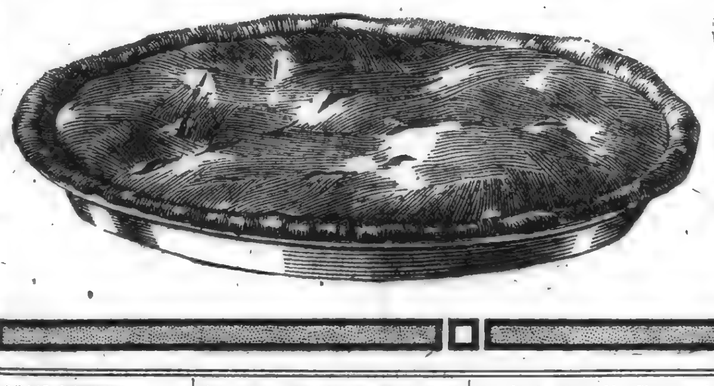
Sift the John Alden Flour once before measuring.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Cut in the shortening. Add enough cold water to make stiff dough. This amount will make one two-crust pie, or two one-crust pies.

Sprinkle the apples with sugar and cinnamon and dot over with bits of butter. With a knife or fork make openings in the top crust to let out the steam. Have the oven hot (450°) at first. Lower the temperature after about 10 minutes and let it cook more slowly. Bake about 40 minutes in all.

Look for other recipes in future advertisements

EAT MORE WHEAT



GALES FERRY

Memorial day was observed in the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the following program: Opening song, The Star Spangled Banner, by congregation; song, Battle Hymn of the Republic, Mrs. Rufus W. Hurlbutt, organist; prayer, Rev. Allen S. Bush; reading, The Volunteer, Miss Helen L. Colver; solo, with chorus, Keep the Home Fires Burning, Mrs. Monett A. Lawson, soloist; reading, The Answer, Margaret S. Colver; organ selection, Rev. W. D. Woodward.

Rev. Mr. Woodward, who acted as chairman of the program, then presented Rev. Charles H. Ricketts of Norwich as the speaker. Rev. Mr. Ricketts gave a strong and inspiring address and was listened to with close attention. He emphasized the sacrifice made by the soldiers of the Civil war, who suffered and died to maintain the right, and urged that we never fail in upholding this cause against foes manifest in the violators of law, the Ku Klux Klan and other ways. Reading, The Service Flag, Miss Em-Beth Bennett; closing song, America, congregation. The chancel table and pedestals were banked with red geraniums from the Sunday school, augmented by 38 other red geraniums, the gift of Whittlesey Berrien and his sister, Betsey Berrien, the children of Captain F. D. Berrien and Mrs. Berrien of the submarine base.

There being 38 soldiers' graves to be decorated in the village cemetery, the assembly formed in line and proceeded to the cemetery from the church, many taking the geraniums as they were given them to place on the graves. As this was done, the singing of Peaceful and Quiet Slumber the Brave closed the program, which was arranged by Mrs. Nelson Packer, fourth vice president of the Epworth league. Charles H. Comstock, G. A. R. member, attended to the placing of the flags at the graves earlier in the day.

The pupils of the village school, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Winifred Chapeau, observed Memorial day on Friday with songs and recitations and gathered flowers and made bouquets for each soldier's grave in the cemetery which they placed there.

The regular business meeting of the Village Improvement association was held Monday evening at the Country club house with the president, D. R. Povey, in the chair. Rev. W. D. Woodward acted as secretary pro tem., in the absence of Nelson Parker, secretary. The chairman of the educational department, Mrs. Walter M. Buckingham, gave a brief report of the third annual birthday party of the association. The principal business of the meeting was the vote taken on the return slips sent out by Secretary Parker as to the consensus of opinion of the residents in naming the village streets. Ninety slips were sent out and 65 returned. It was voted to accept the returns. The main street of Gales Ferry to be named Hurlbutt road. Other roads to be known, running north and south, as lanes, namely, Riverside, Cold Spring, Allyn, Ledyard, Library and Decatur Trail. Other roads, Maple Corners, Trout Brook and Christy Hill.

The Gales Ferry Pinochle club held their last progressive pinochle party of the season Tuesday evening at the Country club house with a large attendance. The first prize for ladies was won by Miss Florence Chapman of Uncasville and the second prize by Mrs. Olive Sargent. Samuel Lester won the first prize for men with a score of 3065, Fred Simpson of Quaker Hill taking the second. The consolation prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of Uncasville. Miss Clara Wheeler was official scorekeeper. Luncheon was prepared and served by Mrs. William Austin, Mrs. Olive Sargent and Miss Dorothy Lester, and was chicken salad, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee.

Miss Jennie G. Perkins, a graduate of Northfield seminary, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Dudley C. Perkins, attended a meeting of former students in this section of the state at the First Baptist church in New London Monday evening, when Miss Mary Silverthorne of the seminary facilty gave an interesting talk.

Charles H. Chapman, superintendent of the Waterbury division of the Connecticut company trolley lines, with Mrs. Chapman, made their annual pilgrimage to the Gales Ferry cemetery on Sunday last, to place flowers on the graves of Mr. Chapman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Romain A. Chapman, who formerly lived in this place. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman were accompanied by Mr. Chapman's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Chapman of New York, where Mr. Chapman is an insurance broker. The trip from New York was made in Mr. Chapman's car. The party were callers at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland E. Colver, at the submarine base for a few hours.

Edmund Stoddard and his niece, Mrs. Fred E. Richards, both of Long Cove, with a niece, Mrs. Charles B. Hoyt, of Gales Ferry, were a party that motored to Windham last Thursday and were callers on Mr. Stoddard's sister, Mrs. Jane Williams, and his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hoxie, of Lebanon.

Mrs. Andrew Meech and daughter, Miss Grace Meech, of Danielson, were recent guests for the day of their relatives, Mrs. Charles A. Satterlee and her daughter, Miss Alice Satterlee, at their home at the Ferry.

Mrs. Franklin H. Brown of Norwich was a caller at her summer cottage in this place on Monday.

Mrs. Henry W. Hurlbutt and her sister, Mrs. Lucy A. Hurlbutt, were recent guests for the day of Mrs. Alice Chapman, in Groton.

Mrs. Herbert Lawrence and sister, Miss Nancy Pitcher, with Miss Helm, all of Norwich, were callers at the Pitcher cottage on the Bluff on Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Frost and daughter Ethel and son George of Montclair, N. J., motored to their cottage below the Bluff on Memorial day and will stay over the week end.

Rev. Truman H. Woodward of Wapping and party, Miss Katherine Perry, Miss Mattie Souer and Frank Wilkes of South Manchester, with Rev. Mr. Woodward's sister, Miss Ethel Woodward, of Willimantic, motored to the M. E. parsonage and were guests of Rev. Mr. Woodward's parents, Rev. W. D. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward, on Memorial day.

Mrs. Emma Bennett was the guest of her relatives, Frank A. Davis and the Misses Davis of Norwich, on a motor trip to Watch Hill Memorial day.

Nathan A. Gibbs, cashier of the Thames National bank, Norwich, with George E. Fellows and Mr. Manning of that city, went to Fisher's Island in Mr. Gibbs' auxiliary yawl, The May, on Memorial day.

Walter M. Buckingham, a past high priest of Franklin chapter, No. 4, A. A. M., of Norwich, was a guest of Union chapter, No. 7, R. A. M., of New London, Monday evening.

Ripon, England, keeps up a custom 1,000 years old. Every night a "wakeman", attired in official costume, appears before the mayor's house and blows three solemn notes on the "horn of Ripon."

A Wise Purchase is the Best Economy
"SALADA"
TEA
is the wisest purchase you can make.
Pure, Fresh and so Delicious—Just try it.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At the Broadway.

George Melford, producer of You Can't Fool Your Wife, a splendid Paramount picture which will be on view at the Broadway theatre for three days beginning tomorrow speaks enthusiastically of the big bathing pool interior set in that picture, which it is said to be one of the best ever prepared for any picture production.

Although the picture was started in New York, it was finished at the Paramount studio in Hollywood, Cal. Humorously, it was said that "Uncle George" brought his people all the way from the east to the west to give them a bath in the bright blue Pacific. As a matter of fact, it was necessary to get beach scenes and to do this in the east during the winter season was obviously almost impossible on account of weather conditions.

"It is a picture that is sure to please, I believe," said Mr. Melford. "It has bright and snappy titles, a very melo-dramatic climax, plenty of ultra-modern action and costuming and a sort of 'vervo' and 'go' which is typical of the age in which we live. It is different from any of my previous productions, but extremely interesting. And the cast is an excellent one."

When it's remembered that Leatrice Joy, Lewis Stone, Nita Naldi, Pauline Garon and many others of note appear (these four being featured) his statement regarding the cast is verified.

The first presentation in film form of Prof. Einstein's Theory of Relativity will be at the Broadway theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The film was brought to America by Edwin Miles Fadman who presents it here as a "premier production," was adapted with reading text by Prof. Garrett P. Serviss and Max Fleischer, two of America's authorities on popular science. Manager Davidson's presentation marks a tremendous step forward in the scope of motion picture entertainment.

A comedy will also be added to this tremendous program.

At the Strand.

Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Frank Campeau and Walter Long are the principal members of the cast of The Isle of Lost Ships, a First National attraction produced by M. C. Levee and personally directed by Maurice Tourneur, which will be the feature at the Strand theatre next week. It is based on Crittenden Marriott's famous drama of the sea. The remainder of the cast likewise leaves nothing to be desired.

Milton Sills, as the escaped convict—facing death in the electric chair—who saves the life of the beautiful young society girl when the vessel on which he is being taken back to the United States is rammed by a derelict, gives his customary strong characterization.

Miss Nilsson, as the heroine who finds herself compelled to marry within twenty-four hours, has a strenuous role which she enacts with skill and finesse.

Frank Campeau, as the indomitable detective, and Alec Long as the powerful and arrogant ruler of the little community of castaways on a strange island of ships in the center of the Sargasso sea, are exceptionally well drawn roles.

Bert Woodruff and Aggie Herring, as Patrick and Mother Joyce, furnish exceedingly delightful comedy bits.

Director Tourneur, with the poetic touch that identifies all his pictures, has given this unusual story of the Sargasso Sea picturesquely beautiful settings. Getting off to a fast start The Isle of Lost Ships is replete with thrills and unusual situations galore, one of the episodes showing the little band of castaways escaping from the mysterious island in a submarine that had been washed up.

A Mermaid comedy riot. Cold Chills, and a news will complete the program.

GOSHEN

An airship was seen passing toward the northeast on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McCall, Miss Almira Kramer of Colchester and E. H. McCall and brother, Royce McCall, of this place were guests of Miss Dorothy McCall in Cambridge, Mass., Sunday.

Arthur Lathrop and Iliam Bulkeley of Hartford were with friends here Sunday.

Workmn are busy at Camp Mooween making needed improvements.

The country roads of Goshen and Exeter are receiving their annual repairs and scraping.

The old country schoolhouse in the Eleventh district that has been in disuse for many years is fast falling into decay. The teacher's desk and old-style wooden benches inside mutely tell the story of earlier years when there was an attendance of 85 pupils.

GURLEYVILLE

Arthur Harwood and son Stanley, also the former's two sisters, Misses Blanche E. and Bertha L. Harwood, of Winter street, Southbridge, Mass., were visitors at the home of E. A. Walker on Memorial day.

Mrs. Marguerite Morse is sick with pleurisy. She is under the care of Dr. White and a trained nurse.

Mrs. Rogers of New Haven, who has been spending the past ten days with Mr. and Mrs. Lee, returned home Wednesday.

Mr. Wiers and family of New Haven were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Memorial day.

Farley Succeeds Lasker As Shipping Board Chairman

Edward P. Farley, of Chicago, new chairman of the Shipping Board. Mr. Farley, who was backed by Lasker and W. C. Teagle of New York, has served as vice-president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. He will continue the policies inaugurated by Chairman Lasker.

What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Breed Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

One hundred years ago today the first Christian worship was conducted in what is now South Dakota.

One hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of John Randolph of Roanoke, for many years the most striking figure in American political life.

Delegates from many countries are expected to arrive in Atlantic City today to attend the convention of the Associated Clubs of the World.

The Polo Grounds, New York city, is to be the scene of a notable pugilistic contest today, when Johnny Kilbane defends his title of world's welterweight champion against Eugene Criqui, the European champion.

The city of Washington will be transformed with color and decoration today in welcome to the visiting delegations of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, whose imperial council meeting is to be held in the capital during the coming week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

BREED THEATRE.

If it's a thrill you're looking for you can get it when the William Fox special production, "The Village Blacksmith," opens at the Breed Theatre tomorrow. In this monster production, which critics have acclaimed as the greatest picture of American home life since "Over the Hill," William Fox has provided a thrill that will steal the hardest heart and make handkerchiefs appear in profusion. It is a real honest-to-goodness train wreck.

In line with the Fox policy of providing every element of the motion picture in each production, the train wreck was devised. New York critics have acclaimed it as one of the greatest thrill scenes ever shown on the silver screen.

Several flashes are shown of the speedy Sunset Limited traveling at a rate of sixty miles an hour. The local train which stops at way stations and others. It is apparent that the local train which stops on the crossing is certain to be hit by the express which is traveling with lightning like speed. Attempts are made to flag the express, but—too late. The trains come together with a terrific crash, and when the debris is cleared away the crushed body of the eldest of the five Blacksmith sons is found pinned under one of the wrecked cars. Although severely injured, he is given immediate medical attention and soon recovers.

The wreck is one of the most realistic ever shown on the screen. One train of six cars and another of four were used. Both trains were utterly destroyed.

Today's bill consists of Tom Mix in "Anabel" Dean Wheels in "Plunders" the Pathe news and a Lee comedy. Continuous show today from 1.30 to 10.15.

Shuffle Along.

(The Boston Traveler. Tuesday, April 3, 1923.)

There is no happier combination in the field of musical comedy writing than Sissle and Blake and Miller and Lyles, whose delightful collaboration, Shuffle Along, was admired and praised by the thousands of theatre-goers who saw it when it was given in Boston earlier this season. It came back to the Arlington theatre last night for a stay of two weeks, with popular matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and a special midnight performance on both Thursday nights during the two week engagement.

Shuffle Along possesses good music, smart comedy and true entertainment. Sissle and Lyles, Miller and Blake, with good managerial judgment, have sent an excellent company to the Arlington.

The present company at the Arlington dance the way they feel dancing should be done and they sing because they are so full of music they will "purse cent" if they don't. This company is pure Afro-American oozing melody, quivering with dance, bubbling over with fun and not syndicate or any perfunctory imitation of what goes at the theatre.

The same cast and production will go on at the Broadway theatre on Wednesday, June 6. Mail orders are now being accepted. Seat sale starts Monday.

Next Week at United Congregational Church.

The [illegible] of the church and congregation are urged to attend the forty-[illegible] annual meeting of the Eastern Connecticut Branch, W. B. F. M., held in the First Church parish house, New London, Wednesday, June 6th, with sessions at 10.30 a. m. and 2 p. m. The program includes addresses by Mrs. Theodore S. Lee, Woman's Board, Boston, and Mrs. Richard S. Emrich, New York, national director of woman's work for the Near East Relief.

Mid-week worship, Thursday at 7.45 p. m.

The Camp Fire will meet in the church school rooms at 7 o'clock, Friday evening.

Members of the church and congregation are asked to send their contributions of clothing for the Near East Relief Bundle Day to the United church school rooms on Friday or Saturday, where the Camp Fire girls will take care of them, and do them up for shipment. Boy Scouts will call for bundles if you telephone 1167-6.

CHELSEA VACATION CLUB CHECKS BEING SENT OUT

Checks will be sent out this week by the Chelsea Savings bank to all members of the Chelsea Vacation Club. Interest will be added at the rate of 3 per cent. to all Vacation Club accounts on which payments have been kept up to date.

Now that summer is here and everyone is making plans for their vacation—where they will go—what they will do and wondering where the money will come from to pay for the long looked for change, these checks will be a great help.

Vacation clubs and Christmas clubs are becoming more and more popular each year. There is no better illustration of the fruits of systematic handling of money than is demonstrated by these two methods.

The 1924 Vacation club will again be in charge of Miss May L. Bushnell, and will enroll new members from June 1st until October 1st. There will be the same classes as last year, namely, 25c, 50c, $1, $2 and $5 weekly payments.

Picture and Solos at Y. M. C. A.

An invitation is extended to both men and women to attend the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday at 4 o'clock, when an interesting program will be carried out. Moving pictures on The Priceless Gift of Health and How We Hear will be shown on the screen. These pictures deal with the fundamental problem of health, and are well worth seeing. They show the contrast between what conditions are and what they should be. During the hour Miss Mary Gray will render vocal solos and Secretary Bell will give a brief talk in line with the pictures.

KILBANE DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST CRIQUI, FRENCH CHALLENGER, TODAY

New York, June 1.—Gray-haired Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, holder of the world's featherweight boxing title for eleven years, will defend it tomorrow afternoon at the Polo Grounds in a 15-round match with Eugene Criqui, of France, champion of Europe at the weight.

Criqui, a wounded war veteran, came to the United States buoyed by 22 consecutive victories by knockouts. Twenty nine years old, rugged, a clever and stiff puncher with either hand, he has hopes of wearing down the veteran and taking the title. It was this same sort of battle campaign that carried Kilbane to victory over Abe Attel for the title in a California ring in 1912.

Attel, once the super boxer was worn down by the clever long-range fight of the challenging, taunting, stiff-punching Kilbane. Criqui today is 29 years old, at least seven years beyond the age of Kilbane when the Ohioan defeated Attell, but the gruelling test of the trenches during the war made the Frenchman a relentless fighter.

The little Frenchman suffered serious wounds at Verdun. After his recovery he returned to the ring and became a terror to featherweights all over Europe. Before the war he had been a fair boxer with no punch—after the war he was the greater. He soon became European champion.

The champion, Kilbane, has had little ring work during the last three years. In preparation for tomorrow's engagement, he has, however, shown a deal of speed and all of his old-time prowess with the gloves. If he is able to take the same form into the ring against Criqui, many of the experts believe that his title will not be taken from him.

Kilbane's long period of idleness has been due to a great extent, to the refusal of promoters to meet his demands for large purses. The champion refused to risk his title unless he was guaranteed a purse of $100,000. He will receive that amount for boxing Criqui, it is reported.

Five preliminaries including one four, two six, and two eight round contests, will precede the championship contest. The preliminaries will be started about 3.30 o'clock New York daylight saving time. Unless these are shortened by knockouts the Kilbane-Criqui encounter will start about 5.30.

Louis (Kid) Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., and Babe Herman, of Los Angeles, will meet in the semi-final of eight rounds.

Kilbane and Criqui insofar as physical makeup is concerned, are about evenly matched, Kilbane, however, is 34 years old, five years older than the challenger.

Kilbane.		Criqui
34	Age	29
124 1-4	Weight	125 1-2
5 feet 5 1-2 inches	Height	5 feet 5 1-2 inches
67 1-2 inches	Reach	68 inches
11 1-4 inches	Biceps	13 inches
10 1-4 inches	Forearm	10 inches
6 1-2 inches	Wrist	7 inches
34 1-2 inches	Chest Normal	34 1-2 inches
37 3-4 inches	Chest Expanded	37 1-2 inches
29 inches	Waist	26 1-2 inches
18 1-2 inches	Thigh	19 inches
13 inches	Calf	13 1-4 inches
8 inches	Ankle	8 inches
14 1-2 inches	Neck	14 1-2 inches

HOMER BY EAYRS IN NINTH WINS FOR WATERBURY

Worcester, Mass., June 1.—A home run by Eayrs over the right field fence in the last of the ninth gave the Coal Heavers a victory, 19 to 18, over Waterbury in a slugging game today. Worcester had three pitchers on the mound. Waterbury used up six, Bronkie pitching in the ninth when all the other twirlers had been used. He pitched two balls to Eayrs, one outside the plate, which Eayrs let pass, and the other over the plate, which Eayrs put over the fence. Score by innings:

Waterbury	5	1	0	1	1	2	3	0	5	—18
Worcester	3	0	0	1	5	0	9	0	1	—19

Two base hits, Orme, Malone, Stuvengen, Nagle, Wacha, Eayrs, Mulrennan, Donahue, Bronkie, Kane, King; three base hit, Torphy; home runs, Eayrs, Donahue, Bronkie.

O'CONNEL FEATURES AS NEW YORK SWAMPS PHILLIES

Philadelphia, June 1.—New York overwhelmed the Philadelphia team today winning by a score of 22 to 8. The Giants scored in every inning of the contest.

Jimmy O'Connell, the Giants centerfielder, was the star of the fray, getting three doubles, a homer and a single in six times at bat and accepted eight hard chances in the field.

Groh and Young, with five hits apiece, were the other hitting stars. Jonnard was hit hard but the lead piled up by his mates saved him at critical points.

Score:

New York (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Philadelphia (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Bancroft,ss	5	3	3	1	2	Meyers,lf	4	2	1	0	1
Jacobs,rs	1	0	0	1	0	Watson,2b	5	2	1	2	2
Groh,3b	7	5	3	1	0	Williams,cf	4	2	2	0	0
Frisch,2b	5	2	1	0	0	Lamar,cf	1	1	0	0	0
Meusel,rf	5	0	2	0	1	Walker,rf	4	2	1	0	0
Young,rf	2	0	1	0	0	Taylor,3b	5	0	2	4	0
O'Connell,cf	6	3	5	0	0	Rapp,2b	5	3	2	0	1
Smith,c	3	0	3	1	0	Wilson,c	3	0	5	0	0
Ryan,p	0	0	0	1	0	O'Farrell,c	1	0	0	0	0
Jonnard,p	4	0	0	0	0	Betts,p	0	0	0	0	0
						Oeschger,p	0	0	0	1	0
						Weinert,p	0	0	0	0	0
						Whitted,p	1	0	0	0	0
						Bishop,p	1	0	0	0	0
						xMisch	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	52	22	27	7	3	Totals	42	15	27	13	7

Runs by innings:

New York	4	3	1	3	5	1	0	3	2	—22
Philadelphia	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—8

Two base hits, O'Connell 2, Frisch, Groh, Meusel, Williams, Taylor, Rapp, Young. Three base hit, Young. Home run, O'Connell. Stolen bases, Bancroft, Groh, Frisch, Meusel, Young, Williams, Taylor, Rapp. Sacrifice hits, Bancroft, Jacobs, Groh, Frisch, Ryan, Jonnard, Meyers, Watson, Lamar, Betts, Oeschger, Whitted. Double plays, Bancroft, Frisch and Young; Watson, Rapp and Meyers. Left on bases, New York 7, Philadelphia 7. Bases on balls, off Ryan 1, Jonnard 1, Betts 1, Oeschger 1, Weinert 1, Whitted 1, Bishop 1. Struck out, by Ryan 1, Jonnard 1, Betts 1, Oeschger 1, Whitted 1, Bishop 1. Hits, off Betts 4 in 2 innings, Oeschger 4 in 2 innings, Weinert 2 in 1 inning, Whitted 4 in 2 innings, Bishop 4 in 2 innings. Hit by pitcher, by Betts (Young). Passed ball, Wilson. Umpires, Klem, Rigler and Quigley. Time, 2.30. Attendance, 5,000.

TIGERS EXECUTE FIRST TRIPLE PLAY IN AMERICAN

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—A triple play in the third inning, Holloway, Rigney and Blue participating, the first made in the American league this season, failed to save Detroit from the effects of poor pitching which lost today's game to Cleveland, 17 to 4. Four Detroit pitchers attempted to stop the Cleveland team, which made 16 hits and was given 11 bases on balls. The score:

Cleveland (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Jamieson,cf	5	2	1	0	0	Haney,2b	4	1	1	2	0
Wambsg,lf	4	2	1	0	0	Rue,lb	2	1	8	0	0
Speaker,rf	4	2	3	1	0	Cobb,cf	3	2	5	0	0
Hoover,1b	4	0	9	4	0	Veach,lf	4	1	1	0	1
Sewell,ss	6	0	2	0	0	Heilmann,rf	4	2	4	0	0
Lalonde,3b	6	3	1	3	0	Ozmer,3b	4	1	1	3	0
O'Neill,c	2	2	4	0	0	Rigney,ss	3	0	1	3	0
Uhle,p	4	0	0	2	0	Holloway,p	3	1	0	1	0
						Gaw,p	0	0	0	0	0
						Collins,p	0	0	0	0	0
						Ehmke,p	0	0	0	0	0
						xxBlue	1	0	0	0	0
						xxxMcInnis	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	13	27	10	0	Totals	33	11	27	13	1

(x) Batted for Uhle in 9th.
(xx) Batted for Collins in 7th.
(xxx) Batted for Ehmke in 9th.
Score by innings:

Cleveland	0	0	0	4	5	0	3	4	1	—17
Detroit	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	1	—4

Two base hits, Wambsganss 2, Speaker, Uhle 2. Three base hits, Sewell, Cobb. Home runs, Lalonde, Heilmann. Stolen bases, Jamieson, Wambsganss, Speaker, Hoover, Sewell, Lalonde, Haney, Veach, Heilmann, Ozmer, Rigney. Sacrifice hits, Hoover, Sewell, Haney, Rue, Cobb, Veach, Heilmann, Ozmer, Rigney, Holloway, Gaw, Collins, Ehmke. Double plays, Sewell and Hoover; Haney, Rigney and Rue; Rigney, Haney and Rue. Left on bases, Cleveland 9, Detroit 8. Bases on balls, off Holloway 3, Gaw 1, Collins 1, Ehmke 6. Struck out, by Holloway 1, Gaw 1, Collins 1, Ehmke 1. Hits, off Holloway 6 in 4 innings, Gaw 3 in 1 inning, Collins 2 in 1 inning, Ehmke 5 in 3 innings. Hit by pitcher, by Holloway (Hoover). Passed ball, O'Neill. Umpires, Dineen and Connolly. Time, 2.15. Attendance, 5,000.

ATHLETICS GO BACK TO SECOND PLACE

Washington, June 1.—Philadelphia took both ends of a double-header from Washington today, 7 to 4 and 4 to 2, and regained second place in the American league standing.

The visitors pounced four of the local pitchers in the first game, while Heimach twirled steadily. The second game was a pitchers' battle in which Bryan Harris had the better of Russell. Score:

(First Game.)

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Washington (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Strunk,cf	4	1	1	0	0	Rice,lf	3	2	2	0	0
Rhoads,3b	5	3	0	3	0	Leibold,cf	3	0	0	0	0
Peckinp,rf	5	1	1	0	0	Judge,1b	4	0	9	0	0
Hauser,1b	5	2	12	0	0	Rice,rf	4	0	2	0	0
Miller,lf	4	0	3	0	0	Gerber,ss	4	1	1	4	0
Galloway,ss	3	0	1	5	0	Goslin,lf	4	1	0	0	0
Welch,rf	3	0	2	1	0	Peckinp,rf	3	0	1	0	0
Scharr,2b	3	0	2	3	0	Picinich,c	3	2	3	2	0
Heimach,p	4	1	1	1	0	Ehmke,p	1	0	0	0	0
						Gharrity,c	1	0	2	0	0
						Zachary,p	2	0	0	1	0
						xBoley,p	1	0	0	0	0
						Shinault,p	0	0	0	0	0
						xxHauser,p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	10	27	13	0	Totals	35	6	27	7	0

(x) Batted for Peckinpaugh in 7th.
(xx) Batted for Zachary in 8th.
Score by innings:

Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	—4
Washington	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	—3

Two base hits, Perkins, Hauser, Three base hits, Goslin, Galloway, Peckinp and Hauser.

(Second Game).

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Washington (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Matthews,cf	3	1	2	0	0	Rice,lb	3	1	7	0	0
Rhoads,2b	2	0	1	4	0	Leibold,cf	4	1	2	1	0
Perkins,c	2	1	3	2	0	Rice,rf	4	0	0	0	0
Hauser,1b	3	0	7	0	0	Gerber,ss	4	0	2	3	0
Miller,lf	4	0	1	0	0	Judge,1b	4	0	9	0	0
Galloway,ss	3	2	2	4	0	Harris,2b	4	1	4	4	0
Welch,rf	3	1	2	0	0	Ruether,p	2	0	0	2	0
Schorr,2b	3	1	1	2	0	Picinich,c	3	0	5	0	0
B.Harris,p	4	0	0	3	0	xWade	1	0	0	0	0
						Mogridge,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	30	6	27	15	0	Totals	33	3	27	16	0

(x) Batted for Russell in 9th.
Score by innings:

Philadelphia	0	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	3	—6
Washington	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2

Two base hits, Judge, Harris. Home run, Rice.

REDS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MISPLAYS BY CUBS

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 1.—The Reds bunched hits with misplays by the Cubs today and won 5 to 3. Although outhit by the visitors, Couch pitched six innings and was hit hard but sensational fielding especially by Bohne and Caveney kept down the score. Grantham made four hits, including a home run to the flag pole in deep right center inside the grounds. It was the fifth straight victory and the fourth straight errorless game for the Reds. The score:

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Cincinnati (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Statz,rf	5	1	3	0	0	Burns,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Holke,ss	3	0	1	1	0	Daubert,1b	2	0	11	0	0
Grimm,2b	4	0	1	4	0	Duncan,lf	3	1	1	0	0
O'Farrell,c	4	2	5	2	0	Eisfeld,cf	4	2	4	0	0
Friberg,3b	3	1	1	1	0	Bohne,3b	4	2	3	3	0
Miller,lf	4	1	3	0	0	Pinel,2b	3	2	2	4	0
Grantham,rf	3	2	3	0	0	Critchley,c	4	0	4	0	0
Hargrave,c	3	0	7	0	1	Hargrave,c	1	0	0	0	0
Alexander,p	2	0	0	2	0	Couch,p	2	0	0	0	0	0
xWeis	1	0	0	0	0	Ritter	1	0	0	0	0
						Kneis,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	7	24	10	1	Totals	30	9	27	11	0

(x) Batted for Alexander in 9th.
(x) Batted for Couch in 6th.
Score by innings:

Chicago	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	—2
Cincinnati	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	2	x	—4

Three base hits, Hargrave, O'Farrell, Callaghan. Home run, Grantham.

CARDINALS WIN SECOND STRAIGHT FROM PIRATES

St. Louis, June 1.—St. Louis today won its second straight victory over Pittsburgh, 4 to 3, in 11 innings. The game was a pitching duel between Hamilton and Pfeffer after the first inning. The winning run was made by Stock on Ainsmith's fly to Carey.

In the first, Toporcer hit a home run off Kunz, scoring Flack. Hamilton thereupon relieved Kunz. Score:

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mueller,ss	3	1	1	3	0	Flack,rf	5	1	2	0	0
Carey,rf	5	0	3	0	0	Dyer,lf	4	0	3	0	0
Bigbee,lf	5	1	2	0	0	Mann,cf	4	0	0	0	0
Russell,cf	5	1	1	0	0	Toporcer,1b	3	1	8	0	0
Traynor,3b	5	0	1	2	0	Fletcher,3b	3	2	1	2	0
Gelbert,2b	3	0	4	2	0	Stock,2b	4	1	1	4	1
Rawlings,1b	5	1	7	0	0	Ainsmith,c	4	0	5	0	0
Gooch,c	4	0	1	1	0	Kunz,p	2	0	0	1	0
Kunz,p	0	0	0	0	0	Hamilton,p	2	0	0	1	0
Hamilton,p	2	0	0	0	0	Pfeffer,p	0	0	0	1	0
						xHauser	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	43	4	25	8	0	Totals	37	5	24	9	1

(x) Two out when winning run scored.
(x) Batted for Pfeffer in 11th.
Score by innings:

Pittsburgh	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—3
St. Louis	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	—4

Two base hits, Flack, Bottomley, Grimm. Three base hits, Russell. Home run, Toporcer.

QUINN HALTS WINNING STRIDE OF YANKEES

New York, June 1.—The winning stride of the New York Yankees was stopped here today by Jack Quinn, former New York spitball pitcher, Boston winning the second game of the series, 5 to 0. It was Boston's first victory of the season in New York. Quinn held the Yankees to seven hits, three of them by Ruth and also broke Pipp's batting streak after he had hit safely in twenty-one consecutive games. Boston won the game in the sixth with home run drives by Harris and Flagstead. The Score:

Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Nets,cf	5	2	2	0	0	Niron,lf	3	1	1	0	0
Johnston,2b	5	2	1	2	0	Powell,cf	3	0	0	0	0
T.G'Griffith,rf	4	1	1	0	0	Scharfer,rf	3	2	2	0	0
Wheat,lf	3	2	1	0	0	Cruise,lf	2	0	3	0	0
Fournier,2b	4	1	3	3	0	McInnis,1b	4	2	12	1	0
McCarren,3b	3	1	0	1	0	Rocheleau,3b	4	2	1	2	0
High,ss	4	1	5	1	0	Picinich,c	4	2	5	0	0
Taylor,c	4	0	6	4	0	O'Neil,2b	4	2	2	4	0
Dickerman,p	1	0	0	0	0	Smith,ss	3	1	1	3	0
Decatur,p	1	0	0	0	0	Genewich,p	0	0	0	0	0
xBailey	1	0	0	0	0
Cadore,p	0	0	0	0	0	Totals	35	12	27	11	1
xxTGriffith	1	0	0	0	0
xxxFrench	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	10	24	11	2

(x) Batted for Decatur in 7th.
(xx) Batted for Cadore in 9th.
(xxx) Ran for T. Griffith in 9th.
Score by innings:

Brooklyn	3	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	—6
Boston	0	0	0	2	1	2	0	0	x	—5

Two base hits, High, Felix, O'Neill. Three base hit, Boechel, McCarren. Home runs, Southworth, Felix, Wheat.

BROWNS SEND WHITE SOX INTO CELLAR POSITION

Chicago, June 1.—Chicago dropped into the cellar today when St. Louis defeated the Sox, 8 to 5. The visitors drove Charley Robertson off the mound in the second inning and hit Ted Blankenship opportunely. They were unable to do anything to Mack. Shocker was hit freely, but tightened up in the pinches and was backed up by good support. The score:

St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Tobin,rf	6	2	1	0	0	Hooper,rf	5	2	3	0	0
Gerber,ss	5	2	3	2	0	McMillan,ss	4	1	1	3	1
Jacobson,cf	4	1	3	0	0	Collins,2b	5	0	1	4	0
Williams,lf	4	1	0	0	0	Blank,lf	4	1	5	0	0
McManus,3b	3	1	1	2	0	Mostil,cf	4	1	0	0	0
Hazel,2b	1	0	1	1	0	Sheely,1b	4	1	9	0	0
Severeid,c	2	0	7	0	0	Kamm,3b	4	3	1	0	0
Schacht,p	0	0	0	0	0	Schalk,c	2	0	6	1	0
Blankenship,p	3	2	1	0	0	Crabtree,c	2	0	0	1	0
Hasbrook,3b	1	0	0	0	0	Robertson,p	2	0	0	0	0
Shocker,p	4	2	0	3	0	Thurston,p	0	0	0	0	0
						xxBoley	1	0	0	0	0
						yBengough,p	0	0	0	2	0
						Mack,p	0	0	0	0	0
						xxxHale	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	12	27	10	0	Totals	39	9	27	13	2

(x) Batted for Mack in 9th.
Score by innings:

St. Louis	0	3	0	0	3	2	0	0	0	—8
Chicago	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	0	0	—5

Two base hits, McManus, McGol, Hazel 2, Williams, Kamm. Three base hits, McManus. Home run, Sheely.

HARTFORD SHUTS OUT HILLIES IN EASY GAME

Pittsfield, Mass., June 1.—Hartford shut out Pittsfield 6 to 0 here today. It made the fifth defeat in a row for the locals. Shirling secured from the Philadelphia American under optional agreement reported to Hartford today. Score:

Hartford	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	2	0	—6
Pittsfield	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Two base hits, Hager, Conway, Taylor, A. Wilson; three base hits, Shirling (2).

TODAY'S SPORTS.

RACING.

Meeting of Westchester Racing Association at Belmont Park.

Meeting of Kentucky Jockey club closes at Louisville.

Meeting of Connaught Park Jockey club, at Ottawa.

Meeting at Thorncliffe Park, Toronto.

TRACK.

Western Intercollegiate conference championship, at Ann Arbor.

North Central Intercollegiate conference championships, at Sioux City.

Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference championships, at Pullman, Wash.

Northwest Intercollegiate conference championships, at Pullman, Wash.

Annual spring games of New York A. C., at Travers Island, N. Y.

TENNIS.

Indian-Irish Davis Cup matches, at Dublin, Ireland.

Bay Counties championship tournament opens at San Francisco.

BENCH SHOW.

Devon Dog Show Association, at Devon, Pa.

POLO.

Annual tournament of Bryn Mawr Polo club closes at Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Annual tournament of Whippany River club closes at Morristown, N. J.

Annual tournament of Philadelphia Country club opens at Bala, Pa.

BOXING.

Johnny Kilbane vs. Eugene Criqui, 15 rounds, at New York.

Babe Herman vs. Mike Dundee, 8 rounds, at New York.

Jack Sharkey vs. Johnny Curtin, 8 rounds, at New York.

Al Zeimer vs. Hilly Levine, 4 rounds, at New York.

Jackie McCoy vs. Davy Jones, 4 rounds, at New York.

Luis Firpo vs. Jack White, 15 rounds, at Havana (Sunday).

HARDDIGS AND JAIL HILLS PLAY TO TIES CORE IN TWILIGHT GAME

In a fast game at the Fairgrounds last evening the Harddigs and the Jail Hill A. C. battled to a 4 to 4 tie, the game being called at the end of the eighth inning because of darkness. It was one of the best games of the season and more real baseball playing was shown than in any other game so far this season. It was nip and tuck all the way through, first one team leading and then the other. Some fast fielding and good pitching kept the score down. Both Seigal, pitching for the Harddigs and Rzewski, the Jail Hill pitcher, received good support.

The Harddigs started off well getting one run in their half of the first inning but Jail Hill came back strong in the third inning and succeeded in getting 3 runs. In the next inning, however, the Harddigs added two more tying up the score. In the fifth inning Jail Hill went out one run in the lead but in the sixth inning the Harddigs scored the tying run and so the score remained until the umpire called the game.

Jail Hill threatened again in the sixth inning when Hussey walked and stole second and Hawlett hit a fast grounder to Tombari. A fast double play was the result, Tombari to Donegan to Tombari, which nipped the Hillies' rally in the bud. The score:

Jail Hill.	ab	h	po	a	e	Harddigs.	ab	h	po	a	e
Rzewski,p	4	1	0	1	0	Donegan,1b	4	1	7	1	0
Shook,c	4	1	8	0	0	Rzewski,ss	4	0	1	3	0
Boomhower,2b	4	0	3	1	0	Seigal,p	4	0	0	0	0
Reno,1b	4	1	8	1	0	Perry,lf	4	0	0	0	0
Clarke,1b	3	0	10	0	0	Mahoney,2b	3	0	2	3	0
Matthews,cf	2	1	1	0	0	Aarvig,c	3	0	3	1	0
Hussey,ss	3	1	1	0	0	Tombari,2b	3	2	2	3	0
Howell,lf	3	1	1	0	0	Tyrrell,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Shea,rf	3	1	1	0	0	Hoverson,cf	3	1	0	2	0
Totals	33	8	24	10	0	Totals	32	5	24	10	0

Score by innings:

Jail Hill	0	0	3	0	0	0	1	0	0	—4
Harddigs	0	0	3	0	0	0	1	0	0	—4

Two base hits, Howell, Donegan, Perry. Base on balls, off Seigal 1; off Rzewski 1; by Rzewski 6; by Rowell 1; by Seigal 6. Double plays, Tombari to Donegan to Tombari.

THE STANDING

National League

	W	L	Pct
New York	31	11	.738
Pittsburgh	24	17	.585
Brooklyn	21	19	.525
St. Louis	21	22	.488
Cincinnati	19	20	.487
Chicago	18	22	.450
Boston	17	23	.425
Philadelphia	12	29	.293

American League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	29	11	.725
Philadelphia	22	16	.579
Cleveland	23	17	.575
Detroit	19	22	.463
St. Louis	18	20	.474
Washington	14	23	.378
Boston	14	21	.400
Chicago	14	23	.378

International League

	W.	L.	PC
Rochester	27	17	.711
Baltimore	25	16	.610
Reading	22	17	.564
Toronto	19	17	.528
Buffalo	19	18	.514
Jersey City	16	23	.410
Newark	13	23	.361
Syracuse	12	28	.300

Eastern League.

	W	L	Pct.
Hartford	23	10	.697
New Haven	20	12	.625
Springfield	18	12	.600
Waterbury	16	17	.485
Albany	15	18	.455
Worcester	14	18	.438
Bridgeport	12	18	.400
Pittsfield	10	21	.323

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

National League.

Chicago 3, Cincinnati 5.
Brooklyn 6, Boston 11.
Pittsburgh 3, St. Louis 4.
New York 22, Philadelphia 8.

American League.

Boston 5, New York 0.
Philadelphia 7, Washington 4.
Philadelphia 4, Washington 2.
St. Louis 8, Chicago 5.
Cleveland 17, Detroit 4.

International League.

Baltimore 3, Reading 8.
Toronto 6, Buffalo 7.
Rochester 8, Syracuse 12.
Only games scheduled.

Eastern League

Bridgeport 12, Springfield 13.
Albany 14, New Haven 6.
Worcester 19, Waterbury 18.
Hartford 6, Pittsfield 0.

American Association.

Minneapolis 6, Columbus 8.
Kansas City 11, Indianapolis 7.
St. Paul 5, Toledo 3 (11 innings).
Louisville - Milwaukee postponed, races.

COLLEGE GAMES

At Newton—Mass.:
Georgetown, 10; Boston College 5.
At Burlington, Vt.:
Vermont 5, Tufts 1.

GAMES TODAY.

National League.

New York at Philadelphia.
Brooklyn at Boston.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

American League.

Boston at New York.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Cleveland at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Washington.

Eastern League.

Albany at Hartford.
Bridgeport at Springfield.
New Haven at Pittsfield.
Waterbury at Worcester.

SUNDAY GAMES.

National League.

Pittsburgh at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Boston at Brooklyn.

American League.

Boston at New York.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Cleveland at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Washington.

Eastern League.

Hartford at New Haven.
Springfield at Waterbury.
Worcester at Albany.
Pittsfield at Bridgeport.

SARAZEN BEATS OUT HAGEN AT LYTHAM

Lytham, England, June 1.—(By The A. P.)—Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen finished first and second in the northern professional golf association's championship tournament which ended here today, with scores of 290 and 292 respectively for the 72 holes. Johnny Farrell and Jim Barnes were tied with a British player for twelfth place with scores of 302.

Sarazen, the youthful American open champion, was able to claim the cup and first prize of 100 pound by his brilliant playing in the last 36 holes. He missed lowering the course record of 68 only by failing to drop a short putt in the last hole of the third round. His steady iron work throughout the day was responsible for his victory after the first half that left him but a slim chance.

Hagen's poor work on the greens was responsible for his 77 on the third round but he was able to regain his pace in the afternoon, finishing with 71, which gave him second place and a prize of 50 pound. The scores of the two leaders by rounds:

Sarazen	74	75	68	73—290
Hagen	72

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Norwich, Saturday, June 2, 1923.

CIRCULATION

WEEK ENDING MAY 26th, 1923

12,340

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

Aldermen,
E. LaRue Bliven,
EDWARD CROOKS.

Councilmen,
MARTIN ROZYCKI,
F. RUSSELL SMITH,
ALFRED G. LILLIBRIDGE,
LEE CLEGG.

City Treasurer,
STEPHEN H. REEVES.

City Clerk,
WESTON C. PULLEN.

Tax Collector,
HAROLD T. ROBINSON.

Sheriff,
CHARLES H. RAYNES,
MAURICE LOOBY.

Member of Water Board,
REUBEN S. BARTLETT.

WORTHY CANDIDATES.

As election day draws near it is well to give careful attention to the qualifications of the candidates. As the reading of the above ticket will show the republicans have named candidates whose standing in the community, whose interest in its welfare, whose integrity and whose ability are unquestioned. They are men who have not and would not dodge their duty. If elected they can be relied upon to serve the city faithfully and well and not accept an office which they would slight.

E. LaRue Bliven is a successful business man and it is a city run on a business basis that we desire. He can be relied upon if made an alderman to give such service. Edward Crooks has had several terms in the council and is well acquainted with the conduct of city affairs.

For members of the council Messrs. Rozycki, Smith, Lillibridge and Clegg are entitled to the men of affairs in the city, evidently interested in its successful administration and eager to lend their services to getting better results. It is men of such a type that are needed in our city government.

S. H. Reeves has served the city with credit as city treasurer. A man of his responsibility is needed in that office with the duties of which he is thoroughly familiar.

As city clerk Weston C. Pullen has served for several years and in a manner that warrants his reelection to an office that calls for careful attention to detail and in which experience counts.

Being on both tickets Collector Robinson's election is assured as is that of Water Commissioner Bartlett, while for city sheriffs Messrs. Raynes and Looby cannot fail to command the confidence of the citizens.

With the time ripe for a change strong and efficient candidates have been named by the republicans and they deserve support of all conscientious citizens irrespective of party.

SELLING THE FLEET.

From such statements as have been made concerning the bids for the merchant fleet of this country it doesn't appear that there is a strong market for ships, or that prospective owners are tripping over each other in an effort to acquire possession of them. Bids of various kinds have been received but for the most part they are of a type that cannot be accepted.

There still continues the desire to have the government give away its property, or the feeling that because it is owned by the government it ought to be purchased for a song. There are those who are ready to acquire them for a nominal sum but there doesn't appear a willingness to step up and pay the market price for such ships. For one reason shipping conditions do not warrant warm competition for the vessels.

One bid that arouses attention and must have made the shipping board sit up and take notice was that of $1,051,000,000 for the entire fleet. It is unusual because it seeks to obtain the whole fleet and because it would mean the payment to the government of about three times what the vessels have been appraised at. It is difficult to think that anyone wants to give the government a fair deal to such an extent. It may be based upon a far look into the future and it may be a happy dream. It cannot be turned down without investigation. It is too good to neglect, and yet it is so favorable that immediately there must be started a search for the joker, or proof of the soundness of the offer and the finances back of it. If the shipping board can be convinced that the offer is genuine and its interests can be properly safeguarded in such a deal it will be only too happy to tell the bidder that he has bought something.

SEARCHING GRAVEYARDS.

Many will follow with interest the indignation which promises to result in a protest to the British home secretary against permitting the continuance of the search through the St. George's graveyard at Gravesend, England, for the bones of the Indian princess Pocahontas.

She is believed to have died in Gravesend and to have been buried in that cemetery. Just where is not known. The desire has long been to take up the bones and bring them to this country that the burial place might be fittingly marked and due honor accorded to one who figures so prominently in the early history of the country.

Were it so that it was known approximately where she was buried there would be less opposition. That the interment was in that churchyard seems hardly sufficient to warrant the upturning of all the graves, the scattering of the bones and the selection of certain ones for museum purposes, even though those that are examined and declared not to have been hers are again buried with proper ceremony.

It is a search that may or may not result successfully. Time and again cemeteries have had to give way to developments of various kinds, and there are even instances where ancient burying places have been unearthed for the purpose of seeing what could be found and getting in touch with buried treasures of many centuries ago. But there seems to be, nevertheless, reasonable ground for the protest that is being framed in Gravesend against permitting a continuance of the underground search which means the disturbing of the bones and ashes of hundreds of others in a quest that is uncertain at best. It is only the same feeling that would be manifested at such a thing being done in some of our oldest churchyards.

DR. MAHER'S REAPPOINTMENT.

Governor Templeton has done as he said he would. He has reappointed Dr. S. J. Maher as a member of the state tuberculosis commission for a period of six years to succeed himself.

Possibly the governor made no public statement to the effect that he was going to retain the services of an acknowledged leader in tuberculosis work, but he had expressed himself and for that reason The Bulletin could not believe the rumors that were set afloat recently that the governor had other plans.

Whether or not there was a time when he had thought of changing good intentions there is no getting away from the fact that he has exercised the best kind of judgment in the appointment.

Because of his experience, his interest, the devotion of the greater part of his life to such work and the highly valuable service he has already rendered the state Dr. Maher is the man for the place, and if the governor had sought the expression of the state concerning the merits of Dr. Maher he could not have obtained them in a more emphatic manner than was disclosed following the report that another might be selected.

Dr. Maher's present term does not expire until the end of this month. It is an appointment that rests with the governor and an announcement of his decision any time within the month would have sufficed but coming at this time it sets at rest any further rumors and blocks any retaliatory measures that might have been taken in anticipation that ugly rumors might prove true.

Connecticut will approve the governor's action most heartily. It means much to it in waging that successful fight against the white plague in which the whole commonwealth is interested.

SMITH'S DECISION.

There can be no surprise felt over the action of Governor Smith of New York state in signing the repeal of the Mullan-Gage law of that state, because it is in accord with the sentiment that he has steadfastly maintained and in keeping with the purpose for which he was elected.

That he was prepared to do as he has done the day that the legislature turned the bill over to him there is good reason to believe. He has gone through the form of holding a hearing upon the matter and he has been credited with struggling with the arguments presented for his consideration. He was elected as a "wet, he has continued to be an advocate of light wines and beer and his decision makes it evident that he hasn't wavered from the course which he had long since mapped out, or which, as some are disposed to claim, Tammany has traced for him.

New York now has no prohibition enforcement law. Whatever is done in the way of stopping the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquor must be done under the federal law. And yet if the authorities of the state act under that and turn their cases over to the federal authorities there may be just as effective results as have been obtained under the act just repealed, for it is notorious that even with the state law New York has been far from dry.

By his decision Governor Smith has of course undertaken to give a further boost to his efforts for the democratic presidential nomination standing on a modification of the Volstead act.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Probably the strikes in the Ruhr are what the Germans regard as passive resistance.

June is always welcome, and it grows more and more so as we sink into it up to our knees.

The opening of June means that it will not be long before the college crews will be on the Thames.

The man on the corner says: Once in a while you'll find a fellow who likes to brag about his habits.

Butte, Mont., reports snow. That is near enough since the shovel has now been put away in blue paper for the summer.

This used to be the season when the coming of the excursion steamboats was looked for. But "them days is gone forever."

Spooding charms some people but others are more interested in getting to a destination and back again safely and without taking the life or breaking the bones of another.

Another way to look at the automobile fatalities is that unless greater safety is insisted upon a larger number can be expected to be killed by autos this year than there was last year.

It is all well enough that fashion should decree a band of pearls to hold the bridal veil, but in these days of divorces the question of keeping the wedding ring welded on seems more important.

THE MAN WHO TALKS

Someone has said that commencement is a season compounded of roses, sunlight and declamations. That may be poetically true, but isn't it considerably more—or considerably other—than this? Commencement with its bloom, sunlight and music is the forerunner of a successful life to all those who are willing to pay the price. Pessimism says: "Let the girls dress in white and wear roses, and the boys in new suits; let both declaim the rainbow arch and the cloud with the silver lining, for tomorrow the one will be dragging out a rotten existence over the washtub and the other scraping the streets." On the other hand, isn't it true that the boy graduate, whether from high school or college, who puts the spirit of the rainbow arch into everything he does, never joins the ranks of street cleaners. And the girl collegian who creates and preserves the fragrance of the rose in her life is bound to find something in life besides washtubs.

"To be or not to be" was the basis of Hamlet's profound philosophy, and, after all, wasn't it a good deal more than the mere nightmare of a brain gone "bughouse?" To cultivate a certain thought or its contradiction, to harbor a certain feeling or crush it, to think of a certain idea or its antithesis, to follow a certain line of action or its opposite—is done often enough in the thoughtful world to lift it out of the realm of insanity. Let us apply Hamlet's sage philosophy to a very seasonable idea: "Shall I take a vacation this year or not?" "Will my balance in the bank warrant such a hazardous step or not?" "Shall I go to Newport or to some farmhouse up in Vermont?" "Shall I go to Northfield with its religion or to Watch Hill with its—mosquitoes?" "Shall I plan for a vacation or not?" "I have planned and it turned out bum. I haven't planned and had a ripping good time." "To be or not to be, that's the question."

The writer wishes to lift up his feeble voice in behalf of a line of ethics that is sometimes lamentably overlooked, especially in the summertime. Now Mr. A— was a good man, he was a church official, he was never caught in a lie, he never drank—in public, and nobody ever heard him swear, for which we are "unfeignedly thankful." One summer he went to the shore for a month. He was thoughtful enough to take his wife, his daughter, and even his dog. But he locked poor little pussy cat out to live on charity or mice, as the case might be. One morning when B—, his neighbor, went to feed his hens, he heard a sweet little tenor voice, saw a beautiful pair of hazel eyes, and looked at some clean white fangs that hadn't chewed a mouse for several days. Being a tender-hearted man, he gave a portion of "his goods such as falleth to the hens" to little Tabby and she showed her gratitude by purring around his bony shanks. Moral: When you go on a vacation, don't leave little pussy without visible means of support.

We all have our work to do, or, more guardedly, we are all supposed to. Some of us do it very well, some of us do it very poorly, some of us don't do it at all, while the rest of us put up a big bluff at doing something, which is the worst of all. But somebody is doing a lot of real work in this world, and doing it very well. This is due to the fact that they are guided by two infallible principles of action. They are not metaphysical principles either; but good, homely, everyday principles, so plain and plausible that "a wayfaring man, though a fool, may not err therein." First we must go at it with the grim determination that it's got to be done, and that we're the chaps to do it. Mooning over a job never does it, and the longer we moon the less we are inclined to do it. Secondly, stick to it till it's done. Remember what that great American saint, Josh Billings, once said: "My son, take knowledge of the postage stamp, for it always sticks till it gets there."

It goes without saying that it is not the size, but the character, of the birth-rate that effects the welfare of the nation. The better the material the nation has to work on, naturally the better the nation. This is not looking at the matter through aristocratic eyes, or putting stress on class distinctions. It is not saying that, in this country, all men do not stand on a political equality, and are so regarded by the law. But it does mean to see clearly distinctions that actually exist. Nature everywhere makes distinctions that we cannot ignore. A thoroughbred horse is worth more than an old skate that you can see through. So likewise does a man of brains and character outweigh a thousand incompetents. For that reason it is serious when garbage men, street cleaners, and dance hall keepers "increase the population at a faster rate than chemists, lawyers, salesmen, preachers, doctors and social and political leaders."

Is there not something more in neatness than merely pleasing the eye? Has it not a distinctive commercial value? If a man is going to sell his property he doesn't want it covered with litter. Bits of paper, rotten leaves, piles of ashes, dead branches, and other debris of winter's wreckage have a tendency to lower the selling price. A coat of fresh paint will more than pay for itself in the price that the property will bring. A well-trimmed lawn with shrubbery, flower-beds that have received proper attention, walks swept and fences mended not only make a very pleasing appearance, but add to the value. The writer has in mind the Searles mansion at Block Island, once the show place of the island, but in recent years so dilapidated that when it was put up at auction it was bid in to meet the taxes. Its real value was assassinated, by its untidiness.

It is quite interesting to watch the robins because they sometimes display really human characteristics. They are really fond of human beings. If a man sits out on his lawn soon he will be visited by a robin or a pair of them. They seem to maintain a stated distance from you, and by no amount of coaxing, cajoling or feeding will they allow one to come nearer than twelve or fifteen feet. Robins seem at times to have disagreements of opinion; they chatter with one another in argument, and when the debate grows too hot they go for one another in a manner that is most delightfully human. Their instinct in locating worms is really uncanny. The writer has an idea that they are guided more by the sense of hearing than seeing. They will be looking straight ahead, then cock their heads to one side, then swing around in a semi-circle, and pounce upon some unfortunate crawler that has ventured too near the surface. To say the least they are interesting.

The other day I picked up a printed post card sent out by the Connecticut Anti-Saloon League which asked this question: "Should the church and the clergy permit any other organization or people to become the makers of public sentiment regarding a moral civic question like prohibition law enforcement?" One is not aware that the church and clergy stand for the sum total of knowledge even on moral issues. Even an insolent state church would not make such an assumption. The church and the clergy would hardly claim to be the only agency capable of creating public sentiment on a great moral question. One is not sure that the press has not greater influence in dealing with the question of prohibition because it is a political as well as a moral question. The church can put no gag law on the freedom of opinion.

THE SIOUX: FORMER LANDLORDS OF THE WEST

Arrows—rifles—suits-at-law.

This has been the somewhat surprising course of evolution in the weapons with which the Sioux Indians have arrayed themselves against the white man, points out a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society, in regard to the tribes which have "just brought court action against the Federal Government for hundreds of millions of dollars, claimed to be due them in payment for their "old homestead."

"It is probable that the Sioux would win easily in a vote to determine which Indian tribe is most widely known," says the bulletin. "With the possible exception of the much less generally known Ojibwa, it is the largest tribe of American Indians north of Mexico.

Keepers of the Road to the West

"But this has not been the only factor in making us familiar with the Sioux. The Sioux of today are plains Indians; and although our great-great-grandfathers knew the forest Indians of the East all too well, it is the exploits of the tribes from whom the West has hardly been won that lie freshest in the memory of the living generations.

"The main body of the Sioux, too, lay in the northern prairie regions across which led the route of the greatest westward trek of the pioneers, whether they were bound to the soil of Iowa or far beyond to Oregon and California.

Finally the unforgettable names and the dramatic incidents that the history of the Sioux has yielded, are sufficient alone to give them a prominent place whenever Indians are the subject of thought. Red Cloud, Crazy Horse, Rain-in-the-Face, and the redoubtable Sitting Bull, were Sioux. The Sioux have had a greater hand at furnishing our best known geographic names than any other division of Indians. Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, Omaha, Arkansa, Kansa, Iowa, and Missouri are a few examples, most of them the names of Siouan sub-tribes.

Made Over by Buffalo and Horse

"A number of students of the American Indian agree that the stock originated in the forest region near the Atlantic coast. Except for relatively a few in the southeastern states however, the main body of the people had been pushed west by the time the white settlers reached the New World. The French first came into contact with members of the tribe in 1640 in what is now Wisconsin. Even then western members of the tribe lived on the plains where contact with the buffalo and possession of the horse had materially altered their culture.

"The Sioux call themselves 'Dakotas.' 'Sioux' is a contraction of a French corruption of an Ojibwa word meaning 'little snakes' or 'enemies.' Until comparatively recently the Sioux have been consistent enemies of the new Americans. They assisted the English both during the American Revolutionary War and the War of 1812, and practically every advance westward which the white settlers have made since has been vigorously contested by the Sioux.

"By the first great treaty between the United States and the Sioux, made in 1825 at Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, the territory of the Sioux was defined as lying mainly to the west of the Mississippi River, and including a tremendous area covering roughly one-half of the present Minnesota, two-thirds of the Dakotas, and considerable portions of the present States of Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Wyoming.

First Big Sale in 1837

"In 1837 came the first big sale of territory by the Sioux when they disposed of all claims to territory east of the Mississippi. In 1851 they sold the greater part of their holdings in Minnesota. Delay on the part of the government in carrying out its part of the agreement aroused discontent among the Indians and in 1857 they massacred settler near the Minnesota-Iowa border. This was followed in 1862 by the terrible Minnesota massacre in which nearly 1000 settlers lost their lives. As a result of this uprising the Sioux were driven out of Minnesota and pushed farther west. For the next six years they were continually on the war path.

"A period of peace followed the treaty of 1868 which was unbroken until white miners attracted by the discovery of gold, invaded the Black Hills in the seventies. Efforts to induce the Sioux to go on reservations were resisted by Sitting Bull who with thousands of followers trekked farther westward. In 1876 his band surrounded Custer's command of several hundred United States cavalrymen on the Little Big Horn and massacred them. Sitting Bull escaped to Canada and soon after this all Sioux of the United States were living on their great reservation embracing all of South Dakota west of the Missouri River as well as areas in adjoining states.

Reservations Reduced

"The history of the Sioux from that time onward has recorded the reduction of their reservations. In 1889 a treaty was made reducing the great reservation by one-half, and dividing what remained into five smaller reservations. Sitting Bull was pardoned, returned to the United States and resumed life with his people on a reservation; but in 1890-91 he took part in disturbances of a semi-religious nature and while resisting arrest was killed by a peace officer. On this occasion a different sort of massacre took place, the victims being about 300 Sioux.

"Sioux the outbreak of 1890-91 the Sioux have not again resorted to arrows or tomahawks or rifles in their contests with white men. But that they mean to keep up the fight with the more peaceful weapons of civilization is shown by their demand for a day in court."

SUNDAY MORNING TALK

A TALK WITH HIM.

If I were asked what is the thing which the devil and the world and the flesh try hardest to prevent Christians from getting, I should reply, Conversation with Christ. I say this from my own experience and from observation of the Christians I have known. A quiet, unhurried speaking to Jesus alone and hearing His replies—that is what every Christian needs every day and what many get only once a month, or more seldom still, or never. When did you last so talk with Christ? Do stop and answer this question.

It is so easy to go to services and to listen to prayers and to join in them. It is easy to sing to Him, or to pray to Him with others, or to think that we are doing so because we "feel refreshed" by it. But what if it should turn out that we were really only talking or singing for other people and ourselves to hear! Communion services are not necessarily conversations with Christ; nor is preaching or teaching or working for Him. You may be a most religious person, busy all day long about God's matters; you may give time, money, and thought to Him, and yet never converse with Him alone, and when you and He meet you will see all your work crumble away, and suddenly walk up to the fact that you and your Saviour are strangers.

It will be a terrible surprise to you that nothing should remain of all the work on which you spent your life, for "without Me ye can do nothing," has been forgotten by you. He meant that you should have talked to Him continually about everything you did, and should have always been conscious of His sympathy and oversight; but instead of that you talk only to men and women, and makeshift with their sympathy, advice, and help. He meant to have asked His counsel, He meant you to have told Him your anxieties about your son, and He would have ended them; but you only consulted your friend, and matters got worse and worse.

He meant you to have asked Him for light about that doctrine which you could not understand, but went to books or friends to get it explained, and you became more uncertain than before. He would have satisfied you. He meant you to have confessed to Him that hidden sin, and He would have forgiven and cleansed you; but you confessed it to your clergyman, and it torments you to this hour. He meant you to have asked Him how much money you were to give away; but you settled that yourself and settled it wrong.

When you wakest in the morning,
ere you tread the untried way,
Of the lot that lies before thee, this
the coming busy day,
Whether sunbeams promise brightness, whether dim forbodings fall,
Be the dawning glad or gloomy, go to Jesus, tell it all.

In the calm of sweet communion let thy daily work be done.
In the peace of soul outpouring, care be banished, patience won.
And if earth, with its enchantments, seek thy spirit to enthrall,
Ere thou listen, ere thou answer, go to Jesus, tell Him all."

Today's Anniversaries

1820—George L. Curry, last territorial governor of Oregon, born in Philadelphia. Died in Portland, July 26, 1878.

1834—John Bell of Tennessee was elected speaker of the U. S. house of representatives in a close contest with James K. Polk.

1869—A southern immigration convention met at Montgomery, Ala.

1871—Gov. David P. Butler of Nebraska impeached for corruption in office.

1882—Guiseppe Garibaldi, famous Italian patriot, died at Caprera. Born at Nice, July 4, 1804.

1899—The French Court of Cessation decided in favor of a revision of the Dreyfus verdict.

1916—A celebration of the Indiana centennial was opened at Corydon, the old state capital.

1917—Provost Marshal General Crowder announced the completion of arrangements for the first draft registration.

1922—Harvard officials denied anti-Jewish movement in university. Premier Lenin of Russia reported to have suffered stroke of apoplexy.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Edwin B. Parker, who succeeds Judge William R. Day as umpire of the Mixed Claims Commission on the war claims of the United States Government and American citizens against Germany, is a Texas lawyer who of late years has attained a nation-wide reputation through his professional and public services. Judge Parker is a native of Missouri and received his education in that state. In early manhood he went to Texas, where he studied law and was admitted to the bar. After several years spent in railroad work he located in Houston and began the practice of his profession. In course of time he became one of the best-known lawyers in the southwest and also a leader in the business activities of that section. During the war he was called to Washington to assist in organizing the War Industries Board. Later he became a member of the United States Liquidation Commission.

Today's Birthdays

Thomas Hardy, whom England considers her greatest living novelist, born in Dorsetshire, 93 years ago today.

Sir Edward Elgar, celebrated musician and composer, born in Worcestershire, England, 66 years ago today.

Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the Chief Justice of the United States, born in Cincinnati, 62 years ago today.

Ruffin G. Pleasant, former governor of Louisiana, born in Shiloh, La., 52 years ago today.

Edward Penfield, the noted artist and illustrator who originated the poster in America, born in New York city, 57 years ago today.

FRANK ARCHER

invites you to Moxieland, the scrupulously clean and ideally modern plant, to follow a bottle of Moxie from the roots and herbs to the final sealing, with the assurance that your investigation will result in making you a life member of the constantly increasing group of Moxie drinkers. The open door to Moxieland is a guarantee with a real meaning for every family which orders a case of Moxie sent home, and for those who say "Moxie please" at the fountain.

IDEAL: To keep Moxie, which is made from the formula of the late Dr. Augustin Thompson, at the highest standard, and in a class by itself, as it has been for the past fifty years, and no effort or expense will be spared to maintain this.

There is a Moxie Display on of short duration. Every dealer is entitled to sign an order C through their Moxie Jobber to be submitted to the Moxie Company for approval.

Moxie Jobbers represent a worth of more than a hundred million dollars, with facilities and equipment for 100 per cent. service to which you are entitled.

Celebration Sale

FOR FOUR DAYS
BEGINNING WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6th

TO CELEBRATE THE OPENING OF THE NEWLY PAVED SECTION OF WATER STREET TO TRAFFIC WE ARE OFFERING

THE BIGGEST SALE
—OF—
FARM MACHINERY

EVER HELD IN THIS SECTION OF NEW ENGLAND!

Moline Lime Sowers	$62.00
Moline Disc Harrows	$36.00
Moline Peg Tooth Harrows	$ 9.25
Moline Spring Tooth Harrow (Sled Type)	$14.00
Moline Spring Tooth Harrow (Wheel Type)	$16.50
Moline One Horse Planter	$22.50
Moline Two Row Planter	$53.00

LARGE CASH DISCOUNT ALSO GIVEN
We Are Trying to Help the Farmers Buy Right — It Is Your Chance.

Connecticut Machinery & Sales Co., Inc.
93-95 WATER STREET NORWICH, CONN.
NEXT TO STRAND THEATRE

Wives of Famous Men

Judith Bayard, Wife of Peter Stuyvesant

Judith Bayard Stuyvesant's personality had a definite influence on the Dutch colony of New Amsterdam, during her husband's administration as Governor of what is now New York. His regime began in 1647 and lasted in effect through that century.

The Bayards were a family of Huguenots. Mrs. Stuyvesant's father had been a minister of that calling. And Judith had inherited all the desirable characteristics of the French. She had a sharp intellect and was keenly awake to things going on about her. Her courage was tremendous and her righteousness unfaltering. In addition she was possessed of a remarkable gift for social leadership, which made her exceedingly influential with the Dutch women, who although they were very different in temperament, were willing and anxious to follow the examples set by this charming woman.

She was possessed of exceptional beauty and graceful mien. But behind all these charms dwelt a mind both practical and artistic. She successfully tutored her children in this land where good teachers were scarce, and her husband often turned to this practicability for advice in his affairs.

Historians have dwelt much upon the irascible nature of Peter Stuyvesant and his quick temper. This temper, however, his wife was more than adequately able to handle, and had the wisdom and good sense not to combat it in kind. It is to Judith Stuyvesant that the high tone of New Amsterdam in her husband's administration was largely due.

Stories That Recall Others

Stands Up For Mother.

Martha, age 4, was playing in the room where her father and mother were having an argument along the line of "I'd be in favor of that;" "Well, I wouldn't," etc. She stopped playing, went to her father and said: "Now, daddy, I want you to understand that mamma is boss in this house."

Billy Knew.

"Petrarch," said the history teacher, "was a man of letters. Now who can tell me what is meant by 'a man of letters'?"

Billy raised his hand.

"It means he went to college and graduated, and got in a whole lot of letters after his name," he said.

Theatrical Trespassers

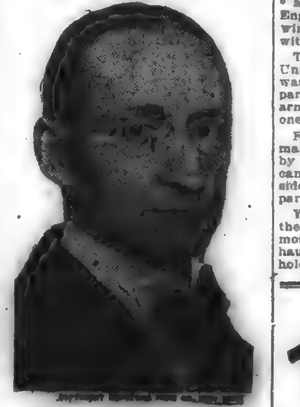
A singer of much ability who has done much traveling was asked her impression of vaudeville.

"Oh, I'm enjoying my tour immensely," she said, "but at first I found it hard to understand. You see it was different from any other experience. In my early weeks in vaudeville when I would go on for my turn I found the audiences generous with applause. It warmed my heart to get such apparently sincere plaudits. I felt that each person out there was my friend. It was my audience.

"But when I had completed and the next act came on, my pride took a terrific fall. The same audience applauded a pair of knockabout comedians with just as much enthusiasm as it had applauded me—my audience applauded somebody else. I simply couldn't understand it and was a bit crestfallen, even on the brink of tears—my audience had doubled crossed me and was applauding a knockabout act. But I soon began to realize that the audience belonged to all of us and now it delights me to hear the other act get a big hand!"

Sodas are little known in Italy.

Claims President Stopped Hunt For Slain Boy



President Walter D. Scott, of Northwestern University, who, according to reports, is said to personally have ordered the investigation into the disappearance of Leighton Mount sailed off three days after the class rush of September 21, 1921, which resulted in the death of Mount by hazing. This surprising charge was made by Allen Mills, former freshman class president, who took part in the hazing, when the missing boy was thrown into Lake Michigan.

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.

DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.

THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY
(Incorporated 1824)
Main Street, Corner Broadway

CATARRH of head or throat is usually benefited by the vapors of—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Millions Jars Used Yearly

POETRY

"WHEN."

"I would write on the Motels of the doorpost 'When.'"

When Winter lingers and his breath is chill,
When Frost blows fairies on the window pane,
When even sparrows shiver in the eaves
Of old and lonely houses; when gray cats
Creeps like a fog to hide the sun again.
Then turn from your sick brooding, bleak and grim,
To chaff with him and laugh with him—
The God of Whim!

When logic chills as only logic can,
And books, once loved, seem passionless and dead;
When friends, their kindliness ignored, have fled,
And even Love acts like some dear old mad—
Swear not by all your tarnished, crumbling creeds,
That faith and honor are but broken reeds,
He'll laugh at you, but see you through—
The God of Whim!

He knows it, too—that's why his name is Whim,
The irony of fate, the pang of love,
And passion's aftermath, and that despair
Which tortures youth, however strong and fair—
Because these things are so, and hope grows dim
He sees how desperate your need of him.
Though Love prove frail, he will not fail—
This God of Whim!
—Elizabeth Newport Hepburn, in the New York Herald.

A WISH.

Mine be a cot beside the hill;
A beehive's hum shall soothe my ear;
A willowy brook that turns a mill,
With many a fall shall linger near.

The swallow, oft beneath my thatch
Shall twitter from her clay-built nest;
Oft shall the pilgrim lift the latch,
And share my meal, a welcome guest.

Around my lived porch shall spring
Each fragrant flower that drinks the dew;
And Lucy, at her wheel, shall sing
In russet gown and apron blue.

The village church among the trees,
Where first our marriage vows were given,
With merry peals shall swell the breeze
And point with taper spire to Heaven.
—Samuel Rogers.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

A young minister, noted for his jollity, was dining at a farmhouse one Sunday, and when he received a plate heaped with roast chicken, remarked facetiously:

"Well, here's where that chicken enters the ministry."

"Hope it does better there than it did in lay work," rejoined the bright boy of the family,—Everybody's.

"Shall I propose to the girl?" "Has she given you any encouragement?" "She likes to ride in my sport car." "That doesn't mean anything, son. What is her attitude toward spending an evening with you at home?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A teacher was conducting a lesson in history.

"Tommy Jones," she said, "What was there about George Washington which distinguished him from all other famous Americans?"

"He didn't lie," was the prompt answer.—London Tit-Bits.

"You may not remember me, sir, but two years ago, at the shore, I rescued your daughter from a watery grave and you made me a present of $1,000?"

"Yes, indeed, young man, I recall you perfectly. What can I do for you?"

"I merely dropped in to inquire whether she had learned to swim yet."—Chicago Journal.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Steel nets carried by hawsers fence a the bathing beach at Googeo, New South Wales, to make it sharkproof.

Leading musicians of Germany were so jealous of Mozart, the composer, that they refused to attend his concerts.

One cubic millimeter of blood contains an average of 5,000,000 red corpuscles and about 10,000 white corpuscles.

Log rafts with more than 5,000,000 feet of timber in them are towed from Astoria to San Diego, on the Pacific coast.

Although they cover about the same area, the United States has about 250,000 miles of railroad and Australia about 26,000.

Mahogany veneer is being used in England for the surface of airplane wings, as this material sucessfully withstands all kinds of weather.

There were 1,023,000 illiterates in the United States army during the world war, or one man in four, as compared with three in 100 in the French army, one in 100 in the English and one in 500 in the German army.

For the convenience of motorists a match holder has been devised which by means of two rubber vacuum cups can be fastened to the wind shield, side door, window, wash or any other part of the car that is flat and smooth.

You can asphyxiate rats that infest the garage by giving them carbon monoxide gas from the engine exhaust pipe and put the end into the hole. The gas will kill the rats.

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST
TRY OUR HOME-MADE
SAUSAGE
THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin

The Greatest Body Builder

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

All Pure Food

Over 68 Years of Success

Hourigan Bros.

Complete Home Outfits

Remember that we specialize in complete home outfits and that by buying your entire outfit here you get the benefit of lower prices because of your large quantity purchase. Right now we have some particularly attractive combinations for complete home outfits and we know we can save you money and at the same time provide you with the kind of Furniture you will live happily with for years.

WE ARE SHOWING A LARGE SELECTION OF

COUCH HAMMOCKS
REFRIGERATORS
PORCH SCREENS
PORCH ROCKERS
CRAWFORD GAS RANGES

Hourigan Bros.

62-66 MAIN STREET

ABINGTON

Visitors at The Haven for the week were Mrs. Mary Hanks and daughter, Mildred Hanks, of Newton Center, Mass., Roy Hanks of Boston, Mrs. Rose Burrell of Wellesley and daughter, Mary Burrell, who were guests of Miss Julia Miles Standish.

Mrs. Lena Palmer of Pittsburgh, Pa., spent the week end with her sister-in-law, Miss Martha A. Palmer.

Why Move to the City

DELCO-LIGHT

"Electricity for every Farm"

Modern conveniences need no longer belong only to those who live in the city. Delco-Light transforms the farm home by making possible the most up-to-date and modern city conveniences.

Bright electric lights, dependable electric power, a complete bathroom, hot and cold water at the turn of the faucet — are all made possible by Delco-Light.

WRITE FOR CATALOG

CARL W. BROWN

UNCAS NATIONAL BANK BLDG.

NORWICH, CONN.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE or to rent, a new six-room bungalow with two enclosed porches, all oak floors, modern improvements, two-car garage, and also other desirable houses. Inquire of E. E. Prunier, on premises, at Julian Terrace. Phone 739-2. je2d

FOR SALE—Several building lots, 150,000 second hand bricks, lumber, heavy timbers 8x13, 20 feet long or over, new and old doors, blinds and bathroom outfits, water tanks and pipes. Inquire of E. E. Prunier, on premises, at Julian Terrace. Phone 739-2. je2d

1706 1923

Norwich, Saturday, June 2, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7.45 o'clock tonight (s. t.).

The steam roller has been put to work on the repairs being made on Broadway hill.

New sign boards giving directions for the various entrances and roads have been placed in Mohegan park.

Miss Margaret Mahan of New London has been chosen a member of the junior choir at Mt. Holyoke college for 1923-24.

Mrs. Margaret Chapin of Norwich was among those who took part in the annual Memorial Day Academic procession at Mt. Holyoke college.

Bank Commissioner John B. Byrne of Putnam has returned to his office at the capitol after a two weeks' vacation at Banks Falls, Novia Scotia.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for junior in cotton testing on June 6. Entrance salary is $1,200-$1,800.

Men in the employ of the park department are widening a considerable stretch of the road just inside the Washington street entrance to Mohegan park.

Herbert LeBlanc, aged 19, was instantly killed at the Shannock railroad station Thursday morning, when he was struck by the westbound express train, No. 14.

Friday a big crowd of Waterford and Montville townsfolk attended the annual field day of the Waterford and Montville schools at the Quaker Hill school grounds.

Although there has been considerable discussion as to whom Congressman E. Hart Fenn would name postmaster of Hartford, no definite decision has as yet been arrived at.

The Eastern Connecticut Power Co. minstrels gave a lively programme interspersed with magic and dancing in the Wheeler school and library hall in North Stonington Friday evening.

The spring meeting of the Connecticut Society of Colonial Dames was held at the home of Mrs. James L. Goodwin at Hartford, Thursday afternoon. After the bridge party tea was served.

About 25 members of the Barraca class of Noank Baptist church enjoyed a straw ride to Westerly and Norwich Wednesday evening. The trip was made in one of D. E. Doyle & Son's trucks.

Pawcatuck will have a post office if the present plans carry through. The post office department is advertising for a postmaster, and requests that all applications shall be filed by Thursday, June 14.

Central Baptist Young People's food sale today, 10 a. m. Pendleton's store.—adv.

The initial step toward the establishment of tennis courts for the convenience of members, was taken Thursday evening when 18 persons met in Groton and organized the Groton Tennis association.

Mrs. Imogene C. Skinner, widow of Hawley Skinner, died Wednesday at East Hampton at the age of 74, after a lingering illness. She leaves one sister, Mrs. H. J. Wadsworth, of Hockanum, and five brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weigold celebrated their golden wedding recently at Tolland. All of their children but one were present, she is Loomis F. Weigold of Panama. Mr. and Mrs. Weigold were the recipients of many gifts.

Sunday morning will be Grange Day at the Hampton Congregational church. The members of the Little River grange will gather at their hall at 10.30 standard time and go in procession, in regalia, to the church and sit in a body.

A certificate of incorporation has been filed by Syman Furniture Co., Inc., of Norwich and New London. Authorized capital $50,000. To begin with $15,000. Incorporators, Sydney Syman, H. S. Goldfaden and Ethel S. Goldfaden of Norwich.

High explosives intended for the use of the United States military forces in the World war have been rejected by the state highway department of Connecticut after an unsatisfactory trial, it is learned from Commissioner Bennett.

Armed with extradition papers issued by Gov. C. A. Templeton, Sheriff J. H. Tubbs of New London left on Thursday morning for Riverhead, L. I., to bring back Raymond F. Crandall, formerly of Groton, charged by his wife with non-support.

Harry E. Mackenzie of Bethel, retiring federal prohibition director for Connecticut was given a seventy-one piece dinner set of solid silver by the employes of the field and office force of the prohibition office on the occasion of his last day as director.

Charles Crandall of Groton will be graduated from Hebron academy, Hebron, Me., this month, second in his class in scholastic standing. He has been awarded the salutatory by Principal Ralph L. Hunt and the faculty for the 119th commencement of the institution.

Major General James G. Harboard, who has been selected by the trustees and faculty of Trinity college to deliver the address at the memorial service for the Trinity men who died in the World war June 10th, was chief of staff of the American Expeditionary Forces in France.

Eleven towns which barely miss coming under the law granting to towns with grand lists of less than four million dollars two-thirds the amount they pay in high school tuition fees, will be made eligible for state aid by a bill to be favorably reported in the legislature.

A group of young men of East Hampton met this week in the Methodist church vestry and formed a brotherhood club. The following officers were elected: President, Clifton Anderson; vice-president, Herbert Emerson; secretary, Samuel Johason; treasurer, Arthur Jacobson.

MAKING REPAIRS TO BROADWAY ABOVE HILL

Motorists who have bumped over Broadway at the top of the hill ever since the snow disappeared, hailed with delight Monday the appearance of Street Commissioner A. E. Cruthers' men there to make repairs.

The new steam road roller and scarifier was brought into use and when the job is finished the highway will be even better than before, according to the street department. A new three-inch surface will be laid to replace the broken roadway from the top of the hill to Otis street. Part of the time while the work is underway, the traffic will be diverted to Union street.

Autos Collide at Corner.

Automobiles driven by James P. Hayes of this city and Anthony Kosloski of Jewett City collided at the corner of Main street and Talman street about 9.30 Friday night. The Hayes car was coming out of Talman street into Main and the other was driving easterly on Main street.

PERSONALS

D. T. Love, from California, has been spending a few days at the home of Mrs. W. H. Cardwell.

Leroy Pierce of New Haven is the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson of 5 Clay avenue.

Neville Blicq of 233 Rockwell street, who has been confined to his home for several weeks with a severe cold and a stubborn cough, has shown much improvement in the last few days.

Mrs. A. Mayer, formerly Miss Alice V. Doyle of Willimantic, has returned to New York City after spending a few days with her sister, Miss Sally Doyle and her brother, John F. Doyle of Hamilton avenue.

Mrs. William Shea of Norwich Town, for the past few weeks a patient at the Backus hospital, is recovering favorably from a serious surgical operation, which followed an attack of the grip. Her many friends and neighbors rejoice that she is on the way to recovery.

OBITUARY.
George S. Smith
(Contributed)

In the passing of George Simon Smith we see the end of one of the oldest New England families that have lived continuously upon their original estate. There were two distinct and distinguished Smith families in East Lyme, one having its seat at Sunkipaug; the other at Oswegatchie. The founder of the former was Richard Smith, one of the signers of the "loving parting" of Lyme from Saybrook. His estate only went out of the family in the last generation and there are still living descendants among us. Charles H. Smith of Hartford, in whose memory the wall about the Old Stone Church Burialground was laid, descended from Richard Smith, as did Dr. Seth Smith, founder of the Old Ladies' home in New London.

The Oswegatchie Smith go further back in local history. When Captain Mason, after the distruction of their fort, drove the Pequot Indians westward, they passed through Nia tic. One of Mason's men, Captain Bull, asked the general assembly for the Nehantic plains as a reward for his military services and it was given him.

From Captain Bull this grant went to Nehemiah Smith of Poquonnoc, he whose family burial place at Smith lage was so ruthlessly torn up a few years ago, and from him to his son, Samuel, who in 1690 built a house at the site of the present stone house.

Samuel Smith's grant was called the Soldier's Esunt until recent years, stretched from Nehantic bar to the head of the river and from the Niantic to the Pataganset river. His descendants built their fine houses on the bluffs, where they live like river barons. Their valuable quarries furnished stone for many important structures; among them Fort Sumter. The Oswegatchie Smiths furnished many public servants, both military and civil. There was a Capt. Simon Smith in the Continental army and another in the War of 1812 and the George Simon just gone, gave three full years of service in the Civil war of which he had many interesting memories. He was at the battle of Cedar Creek and always insisted that Sheridan's famous ride was a myth; that the panic following the sudden attack had subsided and the army headed back to camp before Sheridan appeared and the outcome would have been just the same if the general had stayed on at Winchester. He was at Appomattox at the surrender and being a young cavalry man, had charge of Grant's horse while the negotiations were going on.

G. S. Smith's business career was carried on in Norwich, but upon retiring he came back to his beautiful old home at the Stone House and took up his duties as a citizen in which duties he was both intelligent and faithful. As president of the local historical society he was invaluable, not only as an accomplished presiding officer, but as an enthusiastic lover of local history and a general giver of gifts to the old Lee house. His loss, with that of our treasurer and three other valued members, makes the year past a sad one for the society.

With the exception of his sister, Mrs. Abby Scholfield of Norwich, he was the last of his father's family. He leaves a widow and two children, Isaac Bromley Smith, a commander in the navy, in the Pacific fleet, and a daughter, Mrs. Alice Smith Bromley, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Smith asked to be buried in the Old Stone Church Burialground, where he is literally gathered to his fathers—that having been the burial place of the Oswegatchie Smith for over 200 years.—New London Day.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson.

After a lengthy illness the death of Nancy Wilson, widow of Thomas Wilson, occurred in this city on Memorial day. She was born in Virginia, but came to this city when a young girl and has always resided here. She was united in marriage with Thomas Wilson, who died in this city some years ago. Mrs. Wilson was one of the oldest members of Grace Memorial Baptist church and had always taken an interest in church affairs. Her many friends in Norwich will mourn her loss.

FUNERALS.
William B. Herson.

Funeral services for William B. Herson were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the parlors of C. A. Gager, 70 Franklin street, relatives and friends attending from New London, Lyme and Norwich.

The service was conducted by Rev. David A. Pitt, D. D., pastor of the Central Baptist church, who also conducted the committal service at the grave in Maplewood cemetery. The bearers were the following members of Court Sachem, No. 94, Foresters of America: William Weldon, William Callahan, John Shannon and Carl Johnson.

Mr. Herson had long served as outer guard for the lodge of Foresters. He became blind in the latter years of his life and his death occurred this week at 241 Asylum street.

Valentine Pierson.

Funeral services for Oscar Valentine Pierson were held Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late home at 83 Fifth street, relatives and friends attending. There were many floral tributes, testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery where a committal service was held. The bearers were George Benson, Oscar Dahl, Charles Hanson, Axel Vergman, John Lindroth and Charles Ericson.

Arrangements were in charge of Church & Allen.

Mrs. John McDermott.

Funeral services for Mary O'Brien, wife of John McDermott, who died Sunday, May 27, at her home on Brownell street, New Haven, were held Memorial day from her late home. There was a mass of requiem at St. Brendon's church and Father McLoughlin officiated. Interment was in Branford, Father Murray of Branford conducting the committal service.

Mrs. McDermott was born in Norwich, the daughter of Thomas O'Brien and Nellie Doyle O'Brien. The family moved to Branford about thirty years ago. Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Helene, her parents, and a brother, Thomas W. O'Brien of Branford.

Norwich people attending the funeral were Miss Margaret M. Murphy, Miss Mary T. Hanty and Andrew McLoughlin and family.

PARK CHURCH BOY SCOUTS WIN IN CONTEST FOR FERGUSON CUP

In the competition for the Ferguson challenge cup, which was held at the annual Boy Scout inspection last week at the state armory, Troop 12, Park Congregational church, Jonathan L. Johnson, scoutmaster, won the cup on points by the decision of the judges, which was given after a meeting on Thursday.

Troop No. 6, Trinity M. E. church, Scoutmaster J. B. Stanton, and Troop No. 1, United Congregational church, Scoutmaster A. L. Peale, were second and third respectively.

Troop No. 20 of Norwich Town, Scoutmaster F. H. Wyant, was fourth. A very tight score resulted, these troops having practically 100 per cent attendance.

A marked feature of this year's inspection was an improvement in attendance and carefulness in care of uniform and details. Major Charles A. Hagberg complimented the scouts upon their fine appearance in the Memorial Day parade and the jauntiness of the gold neckerchief as a part of the official uniform. The annual inspection is planned to precede the Memorial Day parade in order to correct faults in uniform and insignia.

The cup will be presented at the June Court of Honor.

A table of the percentages of the troops follows:

ANNUAL SCOUT INSPECTION.

Troop No.	On Roll	Present	Percentage Attendance	Insignia	Number in Uniform	Department	Cleanliness	Total	Rank
1	13	13	100	99.5	9—99.8	99.1	99.7	99.82	3
3	21	5	25	99.8	5—99.9	98.8	99.3	84.66	10
4	29	25	86	97.3	17—99.7	98.8	99.8	96.32	6
5	30	24	80	99.2	15—99.7	99.1	99.8	95.56	7
6	18	18	100	99.7	14—99.9	99.4	99.9	99.78	2
7	21	14	66 2-3	99.3	5—99.7	98.6	100	92.84	9
9	14	12	86	99.5	9—99.7	99.1	99.9	96.84	5
10	32	24	75	99.8	8—99.8	99.1	99.6	94.66	8
12	18	18	100	99.8	16—99.9	100	99.9	99.92	1
20	17	16	94	99.5	5—99.7	100	99.8	96.6	4
Jewett City	15	4

Total Attendance 75 Per Cent.

UNIVERSALIST YOUNG PEOPLE PRESENT CLEVER COMEDY

Patty Makes Things Hum; a comedy in three acts, was presented on Friday evening in the church school room of the Universalist church by the Y. P. C. U. of the church, the hall being filled to capacity. The play was given to raise money to send delegates to the conventions at Munsey, Ind., and Ferry Beach, Me., and the receipts were very gratifying.

During the acts of the comedy the audience was entertained by William Mitchell who in a pleasing voice sang, Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses; and by Miss Dorothy Symonds who gave a reading, When Folks Love So.

The part of Patty was taken by Viola Boardman and she continually had her audience in laughter or held them in suspense as she darted from one thing to another. The comedy centered about Patty, the girl who was too young to "come out" but decided to come out anyway, and the methods she took in doing so formed the background of the comedy one of the best presented at the church for many months.

The play was directed by Mrs. A. N. Fosters and the scenic artists were members of the cast. Solo dancers in the play were Dorothy Simonds, Helena Crandall, Lois Bussey, Patience Norman and Letitia Parker. Music was furnished by Kyle's orchestra, Lillian Stockdale, pianist. Furniture was loaned by Schwartz Bros.

The cast and characters in order of their appearance was as follows:

Hvacinth, a loquacious colored madi, Jessie E. Hill; Mrs. Smith, a neighbor worth while, Mrs. Harold Cobb; Hope Dunbar, who is still hoping, Grace Taft; Captain Braithwaite, who wasn't so slow after all, James D. Jones; Mrs. Greene, who entertained under difficulties, Hattie M. Fowler; Helen Braithwaite, a sweet dienified English girl, Bertrice Green; Captain Little, who had a little misunderstanding, William Mitchell; Patience Little (Patty) who managed to make things hum, Viola Boardman; Mr. Green, a young business man, Edward Dyer; Mr. Smith, a neighbor with a brusque manner, J. Harold Cobb.

TRUMBULL CHAPTER DELEGATES AT MEMORIAL

Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R., of this city, was represented Friday at the annual meeting of the Ellsworth Memorial association by a delegation consisting of Mrs. A. S. Comstock, Mrs. George A. Keppler, Mrs. J. H. Whitney, Mrs. Herbert R. Kind, and Mrs. Walter A. Bussey. They made the trip in Mrs. Comstock's machine.

The programme carried out at the meeting was full of interest, having as its chief event the dedication of the memorial to Sara T. Kinney, long the state regent of the D. A. R.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER IS GIVEN MISS CASEY

A pretty miscellaneous shower for Miss Madeline Casey at 119 Cedar street was given Friday evening by her cousins, the Misses Irene and May Gallivan, at their home, 208 West Thames street, with 24 friends of Miss Casey attending. The decorations were in white and gold and the same color scheme was carried out in the large basket that contained the many pretty and useful gifts. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Casey's engagement to Gustave Josephson of Hartford has recently been announced and the wedding date has been set for June 6.

HEBREW YOUNG FOLKS ORGANIZE IN BOZRAH

Miss Edith Visman, Connecticut state worker for the Council of Jewish Women, organized a young folks' league Friday evening in the town of Bozrah. The following officers were elected: President, Samuel Pearson; vice president, Mrs. Ida Lascowitz; secretary, Irene Schatz; treasurer, Mrs. J. Pearson.

The aim of the organization is to promote the mutual interest of the members in literature, science, social and vital interests of the day. This is one of a series of young folks' leagues to be organized in this state.

Fourth Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Willey of 83 Maple street entertained Friday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock in honor of the fourth birthday of their son Francis Willey. Eight of his little friends enjoyed games and music and Master Willey received a birthday gift of a good sum of money. Shortly before six o'clock the children were invited into the dining room where refreshments awaited them on the table which was prettily decorated in cut flowers. In the center of the table was the birthday cake with four lighted candles. Mrs. Willey was assisted in serving the children and their mothers by Mrs. Charles Cross. The guests included Mary Catherine, Irene and Helen Kane, David Paul, Isabell and Winifred Tongren, and Warren Willey, Jr.

FAST EXHIBITION BOUTS BEFORE LEGION POST

Members of Robert O. Fletcher post, No. 4, American Legion, and their friends enjoyed a treat Friday evening at the state armory immediately following the regular business meeting at their Main street rooms when three boxing exhibitions were staged under the direction of Jimmy "Kid" Shenkel, who is conducting a boxing school on the West Side. The card was arranged by H. A. Bruckner, chairman of the entertainment committee of the post, and in all made one of the best attractions since the post was organized.

Owing to the conditions at the armory the bouts were purely exhibitions, but every man showed cleverness and the men at the ringside enjoyed themselves.

The first bout was between "Kid" LaRochelle and "Scottie" McCracken, both of Norwich, the kid weighing 80 pounds and McCracken 100 pounds. LaRochelle though 20 lbs. lighter, put up a fine exhibition and showed that he had the makings of a clever fighter. Both lads mixed it well and a few years more will see them among the best around this section. They handled themselves well and although the bout was purely for exhibition they showed that they could produce more in a real go.

For the second bout "Young" Peccini at 105 fought Tony Bruso at 132 pounds. Peccini, a beginner, showed some mighty clever footwork and stood up to his heavier opponent and swapped punches to the delight of the crowd. Bruso is a fighter and is slated to meet Young Bernier at Danielson soon.

Although he held back most of the way he let loose a few times and showed what he could produce against a man more his match. Both fighters received a great hand at the close of the bout, for the clever way in which they mixed it.

For the final bout Red Rankin who recently beat Young Bernier at Danielson was matched against Irish Billy Glynn and here was a pretty bout. Both men were handicapped by the smallness of the ring and because the canvass on the drill shed floor was loose. They did not extend themselves but showed up well for exhibition. Glynn landed several blows to Rankin's jaw that jolted the Norwich come-back man, but Rankin was right back for more. These men are both good and in a real mill would force their man to travel to keep awake.

The exhibitions were enjoyed by the crowd and the legion men are hoping to see more of the Norwich boys on the padded floor during the coming months.

ONE MARRIAGE ANNULLED, THREE DIVORCES GRANTED

One marriage annulled for bigamy on the part of the husband and three divorces granted was the action taken by Judge George E. Hinman here Friday in the superior court in hearing uncontested divorce cases.

Rose Anna Robarge of Norwich was given divorce on the ground of desertion since March 30, 1912 from Mederic Robarge, formerly of Hartford, now of parts unknown. They were married March 25, 1905. She was given the custody of four children three boys aged 16, 13 and 11 and a girl aged 14.

Lloyd Eugene Grant of Franklin was granted divorce from Marion Frances Beckwith Grant of Montville. They were married, Nov. 12, 1919 and he alleged desertion on Jan. 5, 1920.

Annulment of her marriage to G. L. Odlum, formerly of Norwich, now of parts unknown, was granted to Marion Hoffman Odlum of Norwich, a miner, who brought the suit through her father Lawrence Hoffman.

The couple was married, Nov. 24, 1922 and the annulment was on the ground of bigamy.

Beatrice Zeitz of Norwich, whose maiden name was Budnick, was given a divorce from Harry Zeitz of New York on the ground of intolerable cruelty. They were married in Norwich, Sept. 20, 1918. She claimed intolerable cruelty since Jan. 1, 1919. She was given the custody of a 4 year old son.

NORWICH SHRINERS GOING TO WASHINGTON EVENT

Washington will be the objective point next week for a number of Norwich Shriners who will make the trip to the capitol for the big Shriners' event there. The special Connecticut train leaves Hartford Monday night at 8 o'clock. Most of the local party will go on the special, while some will drive by auto, several having already started.

It is expected the following will be in the Norwich party:

George Helmboldt, Aubrey W. Jarvis and wife, Henry W. Lanz and wife, John A Ferguson and wife, Miss Rogers of New London, J. C. E. Leach, Dr. C. R. Chamberlain and wife, William Heywood and wife of Moosup, John A. Scott, Henry Pollenius, Allen A. White, John Kukla and wife, William R Stevens, Alexander Finlayson and wife, Andrew H. Breed, Edward A. Breed, E. Larue Bliven and wife, Wm. F. Hill and daughter, Dr. George Thompson and John Haywood of Moosup.

WEDDING.
Swanson-Stafford.

A very pretty wedding took place last Tuesday afternoon at the Baltic M. E. church, when Rev. C. W. Ruoff, the pastor, united in marriage Miss Lillian Stafford of Depot Hill and Gustavo A. Swanson of North Grosvenordale. The bride was given away by her father. The couple was attended by Miss Constance M. Ridgeway, a lifelong friend of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Berti Leroy Swanson, brother of the groom, was best man.

As the bridal party entered the church Miss Bergstresser played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. Before the ceremony Mrs. Louis Erlbeck very sweetly sang O Promise Me. The bridal party stood under an arch beautifully decorated with pink and white wild flowers. The bride was prettily gowned in white canton crepe and wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was gowned in gray springtime crepe and wore a picture hat to match and her bouquet was of pink carnations.

A buffet lunch was served at the home of the bride, about 60 guests being present, relatives and friends from Pawtucket, North Grosvenordale, Pontiac, Plainfield, Norwich and Baltic.

The bride received many beautiful gifts of silverware, linen, cut glass, china, and household articles. The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a silver bracelet with emerald stones and the groom's gift to his best man was a pair of gold cuff links.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson left about 4.30 on an automobile tour through the New England states. On their return they will reside at 51 Bumnet street, Hartford.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stafford, Depot Hill, Baltic, and was employed as a stenographer at the Vermailles Fibre Mills. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Swanson of North Grosvenordale and is in business in Hartford.

Previous to the wedding Miss Stafford was pleasantly surprised by four showers. The girl friends of Baltic had theirs on May 21st, each one with a gift of love and friendship. On Thursday, May 24th, the sewing class of which Miss Stafford was a member, surprised her at her home. They arrived in automobiles all dressed for a mock marriage. After the mock wedding was over the shower began and Miss Stafford was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The office staff of the Versailles Fibre Mills gave the next shower on May 25th at the restaurant in Versailles. Besides the handsome clock given by the office staff as a unit, there were individual gifts from each member. A supper was served.

The last shower was given by her fellow members of the Baltic M. E. church choir in the basement of the church. The choir presented Miss Stafford a chest of silver. Miss Stafford has been very active in the church and town activities and will be greatly missed by all her many friends.

THERMOS STOCKHOLDER IS PLAINTIFF AGAINST COMPANY

Alleging that stockholders have been defrauded by reason of excessive salaries and bonuses paid to officers, Lewis B. Curtis, president of the Curtis & Curtis company of Bridgeport, has filed an action in the superior court against the American Thermos Bottle company of Norwich seeking an injunction restraining directors, who are also named defendants in the action, from continuing the practices alleged, and damages of $100,000. An accounting is also sought.

Since 1917, the action alleges, the corporation and directors have caused to be paid to various officers "large salaries and bonuses which are excessive, unreasonable and not in accordance with their services." This, the plaintiff claims, is a practice of fraud upon himself and other stockholders. Mismanagement of affairs of the defendant company is also charged in the complaint, which further states that the par value of the stock of the concern has been impaired. Despite the fact that the plaintiff has requested the company to bring action against the directors, the corporation has not acted, the complaint states.

Mr. Curtis, the papers show, is the owner of 409 shares of the 10,000 shares of common stock issued, and that he owns 591 shares of the 18,111 shares of class B stock issued, or the owner of 1,000 shares of stock having a par value of $100 per share.

Directors of the defendant company named in the action are Isaac Brassford, E. P. Bennett, Henry T. Baltman, Richard Curran, John Flanigan, Ennosuki Jinuski, Patrick F. Murphy, Fred T. Murphy, Stephen F. Napes, William B. Morrison, Charles R. H. Visscher and William B. Walker.

MANY PRIESTS ATTEND FUNERAL OF DR. MAY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Westerly, June 1.—Among the clergymen who were present at the funeral of Dr. John Lawrence May in Westerly this morning were Revs. John J. Fitzgerald, John J. Kane of St. Michael's church, Pawcatuck, J. O'Brien of Stonington, W. Fitzgerald of Mystic, W. Fitzsimons of Mystic, T. M. Crowley of New London, M. P. Galvin, P. Botticelle, W. A. Keefe, F. A. Coholan, C. W. Brennan of Norwich, U. O. Bellerose of Taftville, M. O'Brien of Baltic, M. McAuliffe, W. Flynn, W. O'Shea, M. Brady, F. Nolan, P. Ledwidge of Hartford, W. Lyddy of Danbury, J. J. McCabe of Jewett City. In all, there were some 25 priests representing the dynasty of Hartford and Providence.

The fourth degree Knights of Columbus were represented by six members and Seaside council, K. of C., by four delegates from New London. At the conclusion of the services the body was taken by automobile cortege to New London, where burial was in St Mary's cemetery. A large number of relatives and friends were present.

FIFTEEN TABLES PLAY AT A. O. H. AUXILIARY WHIST

A whist was conducted Thursday evening in A. O. H. hall by Division 54, Ladies of Auxiliary, A. O. H., fifteen tables being played. The winners of the prizes were E. Sullivan, Miss Eva Hyde, Mrs. P. Hartnett, Mrs. P. Connell, Mrs. Julia Brock and Mrs. J. Breen.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge: Miss Mary Fallon, chairman, Mrs. Nellie O'Brien, Mrs. Nadonly and Mrs. Margaret Coughlin.

GAVE SHOWER TO MISS ROSANNA WHITE

Members of the Nevins-Carver circle met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Cormier and gave a shower to Miss Rosanna White in honor of her approaching marriage to Arthur Dubaine. There were Victrola selections and solos by Rosanna Cormier and Nellie Owen. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Governor Signs Bills.

Governor Templeton Friday morning signed the bill permitting Sunday concerts; the act submitting to a referendum the proposed change in the state constitution permitting the governor to veto items in an appropriations bill; the aircraft bill regulating the flight of airplanes in the state; concerning the average attendance grants for state aid for schools; concerning expenditures by school committees or boards of education; relating to co-operative market corporations; several salary increase bills, and 20 other general acts of less importance.

IRON MOULDERS REPORT GOOD CONDITIONS IN TERRITORY

The annual meeting of the Connecticut valley conference board of the Iron Moulders' union opened in A. O. H. hall in this city Friday morning for a two days' session.

The morning session opened at 9 o'clock, when various committees were appointed under the direction of President R. J. Skehan of Springfield, Mass. Twenty-five delegates from locals from New Haven to Rutland, Vt., reported.

The afternoon session was also in charge of President Skehan and various grievances of locals in the valley were taken up. Reports on wages and conditions were very favorable, all locals reporting having received raises during the past six months. The addresses of the afternoon were delivered by Eugene McCarthy of the New England conference board, Charles Anderson, secretary-treasurer of the New England conference board, the latter reporting conditions throughout New England as favorable, even better than for several years.

In the evening an entertainment was enjoyed, music being furnished by local talent. A smoker followed the entertainment.

Today (Saturday) the morning session opens with a talk by International Vice President O'Leary of Cincinnati, O., who will talk on general conditions of iron moulders throughout the country. Mr. Murphy, business agent, is to speak on the New England conference board, and Andrew Pendergast, organizer for the international moulders, is to speak on conditions in New England.

The conference closes with the afternoon session, when the election of officers takes place, and the conference votes on the meeting for 1924.

TRIED TO STRANGLE AGED WILLIMANTIC WOMAN

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Willimantic, June 1.—Milton Rogers of 17 Winter street attempted to strangled the aged mother of Louis Wilson of 95 Bridge sreet this evening at 11.30 o'clock but failed, being intercepted by Louis Wilson.

Mr. Wilson, who heard the screams of his sick mother, immediately rushed to the telephone and called up the police station. Lieutenant McArthur and Officers McLean and Leahy made a quick response and upon arriving at the Wilson homestead found the intruder had disappeared. A search was made about the premises and home of Augustus H. Johnson of 97 Bridge street where Rogers was found sitting in the kitchen with Johnson. Rogers was placed under arrest.

Rogers probably entered the Wilson home by climbing the veranda and into the house through a window, for a pillow and his top coat were found opposite Wilson's room. The house and the surroundings were thoroughly watched by the police throughout the night.

Rogers was taken to the police station where he talked wildly about his comrades double crossing him which the police were unable to understand, Rogers being in such a state of drunkenness.

Mrs. Wilson is in a very serious condition after her very unpleasant and rough handling.

FINDS NO ERROR IN THREE COUNTY CASES

Among seventeen decisions handed down at New Haven Friday by the supreme court, three were New London county cases and in each of these no error was found. These were plaintiff's appeal in Thomas J. Pfeiffer of Norwich against Luella H. Pfeiffer, Harriet S. Devereux, et al vs David F. Armstrong, executor, and defendant's appeal in Edmund P. Douglass vs. Ewald Brandt.

In the Pfeiffer case, which is a suit between husband and wife, the husband appealed from the decision of Judge Jennings, which gave the custody of their daughter Elizabeth to the mother with the stipulation that the child could visit her father during Christmas and summer school vacations. The supreme court supports Judge Jennings' decision.

In the Devereux case, the supreme court decision supports the jury verdict in sustaining the will of the late Augusta L. Luther of New London.

The Douglass vs Brandt case was the suit of a Groton physician to collect a bill for services in which a jury returned a verdict in the common pleas court for $153. The doctor attended a child named Kenneth Radmore who was hit and injured by Brandt's automobile on Oct. 23, 1921, but Brandt later refused to pay the bill. The common pleas court jury verdict is sustained by the supreme court.

Will Present Pageant

On Sunday morning, June 10, a pageant, The Secret for Children, will be presented at the morning service of worship at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

GRADUATION SPECIALS

HAMILTON, ELGIN, WALTHAM, ILLINOIS WATCHES

in gold and gold filled cases. All the new shapes and new style dials—Prices

$12.00 to $50.00

Bracelet Watches

in white, yellow and green gold. We make a specialty of American Watches, and these watches will run and give results.

La Tausca and Delta Pearl Beads

$4.00 to $50.00

The Wm. Friswell Co.

25 and 27 Franklin Street

Ye Chocolate Shoppe

49 BROADWAY

SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY

Assorted Wrapped Nougatines, lb.	59c
Toasted Marshmallows, pound	59c
After-Dinner Mints, lb.	59c
Assorted Chocolates, lb.	59c
Assorted Chocolates and Bon Bons, lb.	59c
Jumbo Nougatines, lb.	59c
Chocolate Cherries, lb.	69c
Chocolate Crackers, lb.	69c

2 Lbs. of Any of the Above

$1.00

Cream Mints, lb.	39c
Haystacks, lb.	39c
Assorted Chocolates, lb.	39c
Bitter Sweet Mints, lb.	35c
Snowballs, lb.	59c
Chocolate Peanuts, lb.	59c
Assorted Milk Chocolates, pound	70c
Assorted Hard Candy, lb.	29c
Assorted Salted Nuts, lb.	80c

Ye Chocolate Shoppe

49 BROADWAY

LACKENBACH'S

FIRST CLASS CLEANSERS AND DYERS. GOODS CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED.

STORE, 3 Washington Square
FACTORY, 204 West Main Street

SUGGESTS BUS LINE FOR LAUREL HILL

In a written communication to General Manager Samuel Anderson of the local trolley road he has been asked why the Connecticut Company could not discontinue running trolley cars on Laurel Hill and run a bus line instead. The suggestion is made by a Laurel Hill man whose idea is that if such a decision to change could be reached quickly it would save the relaying of the tracks in the street improvement that is now underway.

Mr. Anderson said Friday night that the matter was not one upon which he would have any deciding voice but that the suggestion would in all probability be passed along to the proper authorities of the Connecticut Co. One thing that might have a possible bearing upon such a change, he said, is a provision in trolley charters that no portion of a road can abandon service without abandoning all.

FITCHVILLE

Mrs. James Foley of New London was a recent guest of Mrs. P. Lynch.

Mrs. Jennie Fiske had as guests over the week end Mrs. Amos Doubleday, Rose Doubleday and Anna Mae Sullivan, all of Willimantic.

Ellen Holmes of Uncasville spent the day with her sister, Mrs. Willis Chappell recently.

Mrs. Jennie Fiske and her sister, Mrs. Amos Doubleday were in Montville, Saturday, the guests of Mrs. T. Collins.

Mrs. Sarah McGuire of Providence is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kingberger.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly of New London were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gribbins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elfstrom have returned to their home in Wethersfield after a week's visit with Mrs. Elfstrom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kingberger have returned after spending the week end in Providence.

The local baseball nine played in Colchester Memorial Day and was defeated 10 to 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Higgins and family of Providence spent Memorial Day with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kingberger. Mr. Higgins belongs to the mounted police force in Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stark who recently moved to Pomfret were in town Memorial Day.

On May 30th Rev. W. D. Hetherington addressed a large congregation at the Memorial Day exercises, in the Preston City Baptist church.

Thursday evening the Pitchville C. E. society held its weekly meeting with Alpheus Nye. M

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

What is regarded as unfortunate co-relation between statements contained in publicity matter published here this week end as a means of attracting widespread attention to a campaign for dry law enforcement has aroused the ire of substantial citizens of Danielson, regardless of their views on the prohibition question and the obligation of enforcement. Read out of different columns on a single page this propaganda leaves many with the impression that Danielson's officials have not been doing their duty in regard to dry law enforcement.

For instance: "A public mass meeting with object of focusing official attention on conditions which exist here under the prohibition laws will be held Thursday evening, June 7." And again: "We lack moral courage. We need leaders who are above bribery. Our crime is the fact that money can buy our officials and law-making is made profitable". In all fairness the latter statement must be described as a generalization applied to the nation.

The point is, however, in the opinion of many citizens who rate as high morally as any other group in town, that such a statement, taken in connection with the one preceding it as to conditions here, is being interpreted by many as meaning that Danielson's officials are subject to corruption. In their zeal for good, injudicious speech and publicity is being indulged in by ardent advocates of liquor law enforcement. It will be generally agreed that no individual, no group, no church, whatever the ardor for a cause, has a right beneath the reputations of Danielson's officials charged with the duty of law enforcement. It is also pointed out that if there is any ground for such charges, the charges should be specific and give names and facts. Getting down to cases it is not likely that any individual or group has the courage to say—and the facts to uphold such a contention—that town court officials are not doing their duty. Nor the borough police. Nor the state police, who have a barracks here.

Yet such an impression has been created in the present burst of enthusiasm for restricted enforcement. Not all the honesty and integrity rest with those of this community who are zealously planning to organize for dry law enforcement.

There are hundreds of other good citizens who are saying little, though thinking a great deal. It should be possible to do all that it is desired to do without casting aspersion, even though unintended. Danielson's official family and to obtain ample publicity for the cause without subjecting official citizens to unfounded suspicion of wrong doing or laxity of responsibility. Generalizations are dangerous in small communities, where one citizen may happen to know as much about some particular subject, yet have an entirely different viewpoint regarding it. In this particular instance the great majority of citizens here believe that their officials are honestly discharging their official duties. If this isn't true, the public would like to know—specifically—wherein they fail.

The People's Shoe Store is reopening today at a new location, 73 Main street, with a complete and up-to-date line of men's, lady's and children's footwear. We will welcome a visit.—adv.

Friday morning the funeral of Mrs. Marie A. Fitzmaurice, who died in Willimantic, was held from the home of John Fanning in Moosup with services at All Hallows church at 9 o'clock. Rev. J. E. McCarthy, Rev. J. C. Watkins and Rev. Fr. Normand were officers of the solemn high mass of requiem. Burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery at Wauregan. The bearers were Didace Rouffard, Iarence Reed, Patrick Conklin, Jeremiah Colhoan, Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the undertaking rooms of L. E. Kennedy funeral services for George Leighton who died at Dayville, were conducted by Rev. Walter B. Williams of the Westfield Congregational church. Burial was at Dayville.

Up at East Killing, where he has lived more than three score and ten years, Judge James N. Tucker keeps a dairy. As to May being backward, here is what he has to say: "The past May is not without precedent. Fifty years ago, May 1873, was more so. We remember one in particular when on Memorial day the apple blossoms were not sufficiently advanced to work into bouquets for Memorial day. So we need not pay attention to the perpetual every day pessimists, or the quasi scientists, who are predicting a summerless year. Keep right on planting. We have the promise of seed time and harvest."

There was a rumor in Putnam Friday that Isiah C. Keach may seek to recover damages from the state for the injuries sustained by himself and members of his party when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on freshly applied oil that had not been sanded, turned over and was wrecked after it went down an embankment on lower Dyer street here last Saturday morning.

Only another month to the opening of Alexander's lake to fishing! The coming of July is eagerly awaited by fishermen who have faith that the waters of the lake will yield up some great catches after having been fished but a very little for several years past. Numbers of boats will be available at the lake for fishermen and other boats will be placed on the body of water during the present month.

The Service Battery baseball team and the Attawaugan team are to try conclusions at Connecticut Mills field Sunday afternoon and the game promises to be an interesting one.

Francis X. Cote of Putnam came to the police barracks here Friday evening and obtained release of his touring car, which was found unattended and without lights on the state highway between Danielson and Wauregan late Memorial night.

The fact that there is a detour of the Chepachet highway between Putnam and Chepachet—a Providence route—is diverting a great deal of extra traffic to the Danielson-Providence route.

George C. Sellers of Syracuse was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Friday.

Mrs. F. O. Armington announced Friday afternoon that the Chautauqua guarantors are to hold a meeting on Monday evening at the rooms of the Danielson Trust company to discuss plans for Chautauqua.

June opened with a beautiful day in this territory and a sharp rise in temperature that was welcomed by growers of garden truck.

Friday was dividend day for many prudent people in Danielson and vicinity with savings bank account in one local institution.

At the law school where he is a student in Washington, D. C., Louis Woisard is to be the speaker at the commencement day exercises on June 11.

This month will be marked by the opening of the greater number of summer cottages at Alexander's lake.

Clement Flagg, who has been very dangerously ill at his home at Pleasure Beach is reported as considerably improved.

There is to be a vesper service at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Final examinations of the school year will begin Monday at St. James' parochial school.

PUTNAM

There is interest and gratification here in the announcement of the reappointment of Attorney Charles L. Torrey to be a member of the state board of education for a period of six years. Attorney Torrey has been an especially valuable member of the board ever since his original appointment and his reappointment will be welcomed by his colleagues.

He is a graduate of Yale university a classical scholar and deeply interested in educational matters. For many years he has been secretary of the Putnam town school committee. In addition to his other qualifications Mr. Torrey is particularly valuable as a member of the state board because of his legal talents, being one of the best known members of the bar in Connecticut. Putnam is honored with him in his reappointment.

The newly organized Northeastern Connecticut Fish and Game club is beginning to make its value manifest. The organization has filed applications for a sufficient supply of fingerling trout to stock 27 brooks in this section of Windham county and the fish when they are received in the early fall will be taken out by the members and distributed in all the streams listed in the applications.

The brooks are all well known as trout streams and include Barrett, Wheaton, Carpenter, Little River, Nightingale, Davis, Lyon, Dever, Hedgehog, Muddy, Peaks, Bungee, Little Dean, Torrey, Mashamoquet, Davis, Wolf Den, Bark Meadow, Beaver Dam, Healey, Quaker Meetinghouse, Abington station, Strout, Black Water, Shumway, Coman, Knight, Rhodes.

These brooks cover not only all parts of Putnam, but also Pomfret, Thompson the Woodstocks and even Chaplin.

Supt. J. W. Titcomb of the state fish and game commission has promised that there will be a more liberal supply of fingerlings than ever before from the state hatcheries this year.

At Academy hall in Woodstock Friday evening the pageant Building With India, written by George Hamilton of Woodstock, was presented by a large cast under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent society of that place. Putnam was largely represented in the audience.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Spirit of Christianity, Mr. F. B. Harrison; Faith, Mrs. Ida Masters; Hope, Miss Olga Erickson; Love, Miss Helen Bjornberg.

India, Miss Doris Lindeman.

Hinduism, Mr. McAlister; Oppression, Lester Gallup; Disease, Miss Alice Cross; Poverty, Mrs. B. R. Ritch, Superstition, Mr. Harry Wells; Ignorance, Miss Nellie Chandler.

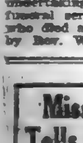
Natives and Missionaries

England, Mrs. Merritt; William Mr. William Gallup; Bishop Hebert, Mr. Hinrichs.

America, Miss Julia Johnson, John

Miss A. McClure Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"I was troubled with pimples on my face. They were hard and red and scaled over, and itched and burned so that I could not sleep at night. When I scratched them they would bleed, and were very painful. My face was disfigured.



"The trouble lasted about two years. I tried different remedies without any benefit. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and now I am completely healed." (Signed) Miss Alice McClure, The Hunting Lodge, R. F. D. 2, Biddeford, Me.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum promote and maintain skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. The Soap to cleanse and purify, the Ointment to soothe and heal, the Talcum to powder and perfume.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. N, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

DENTIST
Dr. F. C. Jackson
SPECIALIZING IN PAINLESS EXTRACTING
718 MAIN STREET, WILLIMANTIC

DANIELSON CASINO,
STARKWEATHER BLDG.
BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
FOUR ALLEYS THREE TABLES
WEDNESDAYS LADIES' DAY.
Bowling is the sport for all. Prizes given away every Saturday.

THE BROOKLYN SAVINGS BANK
DANIELSON, CONN.
STATEMENT, APRIL 21, 1923

DEPOSITS	$4,090,360.02
SURPLUS AND PROFITS	316,209.21
TOTAL ASSETS	$4,389,089.23

$1.00 OPENS AN ACCOUNT.
INTEREST RATE 4½ PER CENT. PER ANNUM.
We allow the first FIVE days of each month for money to draw interest from the first of the month.
YOU MAY DEPOSIT BY MAIL.
J. ARTHUR ATWOOD, President
WM. H. BURNHAM, Vice-Pres. SIDNEY W. BARD, Sec. and Treas.

Dolbey's
Sunday Special
Crushed Pineapple
Delightfully Delicious
NEXT SUNDAY AT DOLBEY DEALERS ONLY
ASK FOR IT

C. Lowrie, George Lyon, William Butler, Mr. Calhoun, Mary Reed, Mrs. Maurice Childs.

Germany, Mrs. George Butts, Christian Frederick Schwartz, Eric Erickson.

Denmark, Mrs. Samuel Cross; Ziegenbalg, Harry Reutlishauser.

Spain, Miss Ethel Upham; Francis Xavier, Michael White.

Native Christians

Tilak, Lester Gallup; Tagore, Mr. Hinrichs; Sundar Singh, Henry Baker; Dr. S. K. Datta, William Gallup; Harman Singh, Harry Wells; Bhaktula Abraham, Eric Erickson; Dr. Gidrabai Karmaker, Mrs. Frank Jordan; Pandita Ramabai, Mrs. George Butts; Gandhi, Mr. Johnson; Syrian Christian, Harry Reutlishauser.

Missionaries

Medical Missionary, Mrs. Samuel Cross; Agricultural Worker, Frank Anderson; First Native, Fred Wilcox.

Teacher of Village School, Maurice Childs; Pupils, Cedric Child, Wallace Child, Marcus Johnson, Donald Child, Victor Graham, John McWilliams, Lawrence McWilliams.

Teacher of Outcast Mission, Albert Williams; Natives, Frank Perrin, Milton Perrin.

Teacher in Woman's College, Mrs. Gertrude Rollins; Native Christian Women, Mrs. Sabin Spalding, Mrs. Frank Perrin, Miss Rilla Child.

The following is from a Boston newspaper and is relative to a distinguished resident of Woodstock: Arthur Shelburne Hardy, novelist and diplomatist, sends along this "In these days of drives and taxes Mr. Page's story of the Virginian who came into town without his pocketbook and asked a shabby man standing on the corner to lend him a dollar, receiving the reply: 'I ain't got no dollar but I thank you for the compliment,' appeals to me as strongly as any."

Members of the Putnam fire department are to attend the Bradley theatre in a body next Monday evening to view a firemen's picture that will hold a special appeal for them. Incidentally, the theatre management has presented them $50 to be applied to their summer outing fund.

Byron Larkin, last surviving member of a family in which four died of pneumonia at East Killingly early in the spring, is showing improvement at the Day Kimball hospital and is now able to do some work about the interior of the institution. It is anticipated that he will be discharged as a patient in the not distant future.

Dr. and Mrs. F. Grosvenor Goodridge and daughters who have been spending the winter in France, will sail for home today on the steamship France and are expected to arrive in Pomfret two weeks from today. They will stop at an inn in Pomfret before opening the Mashamoquet house for the season.

If Sunday's weather proves clear there is to be an impressive observance of Corpus Christi at St. Mary's parish grounds following the high mass. A procession of the Blessed sacrament in which hundreds of parishioners will join will be the principal feature.

At the services of the Baptist church on Sunday pledges will be asked to raise a fund of $250 required to meet the cost of painting the rectory, a work that is to be undertaken in the near future.

Judge M. H. Gessler presided at a session of the city court Friday morning. One young man, resident in a nearby village, was fined $20 for having been intoxicated and admonished to get back to work and be a good citizen. He had been celebrating since attending a wedding Sat yin a neighboring village early in the week.

The Parent-Teachers' association will elect its officers for another year when the organization meets at the Israel Putnam school Monday afternoon.

There will be no delegation from this city at the great gathering of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from every part of the United States in Washington next week.

Neri Coderre, injured North Grosvenordale officer, is making good progress toward recovery at the St. Vincent hospital in Worcester, where he has been a patient for a week.

Edgar Bourdeau of Southbridge, remains in a critical condition at the Day Kimball hospital as the result of injuries he received in an automobil accident on Woodstock avenue a week ago tonight.

CHARGE VIOLATION OF CONTRACT LABOR LAW

(Special to the Bulletin)

Putnam, June 1—An interesting event in the Manhasset Manufacturing company industrial trouble on Friday was the departure for Ellis island of Secretary John J. O'Connell, secretary of the American Federation of Textile Operatives and recently directing the strike here in an effort to interest immigration officers in a representation and allegation that the Manhasset Manufacturing company is violating the contract labor law by bringing workers into this city from Canada. This is denied by the company.

However, Mr. O'Connell's mission to New York is to interest the immigration officials in the proposition with a view to having them make a thorough examination of the representations relative to the local company.

The strikers held an enthusiastic meeting Friday morning and seemed much cheered over the announcement of Mr. O'Connell's trip to New York and the purpose of it.

A considerable gain is claimed at the mill as to the number of operatives now at work over the number that remained after the present affair developed nearly four weeks ago. Many more looms are being operated than when the workers walked out and there has been an increase in workers in other departments of the plant.

In the meantime some who left their employment at the mill have gone away from Putnam and obtained work in mills elsewhere.

Curiously enough the strike does not appear to have materially injured business in Putnam. An owner in one of the largest stores in the city states that the firm's business remains excellent and that steady gains in sales are being recorded.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Postmaay, 105 High Street, Bay City, Michigan, "I got up too soon. I made me so sick that I was tired of living and the weakness run me down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought it would break in two, and if I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, sideache or any other form of female weakness you should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.

PLAINFIELD

The Lawton fire department of the Lawton Mills corporation gave a dinner at the Lawton inn Thursday evening. Chief Howard L. Stanton of the Norwich fire department was the speaker and guest of the evening. He was accompanied by Lieut. Joseph L. Tracy of the Central station, Norwich. Other guests were Samuel T. Butterworth, Charles F. Heap, Joseph Stubbs, Rev. David Combs, Rev. William C. Prentiss and Henry W. Fontaine. After ran excellent dinner, Toastmaster Clarence Jeffers introduced Chief Stanton, who gave an instructive and inspiring address on Fire Fighting, stressing fire prevention. He spoke out of a long and varied experience, giving the local firemen many practical suggestions, and he also spoke very highly of the new chemical truck which the Lawton Mills corporation recently installed. S. T. Butterworth spoke of the local conditions and how best to meet them by the new department. Rev. David Combs also maade brief remarks.

The Lawton fire department is made up of the following officers and about 15 firemen: Chief, Thomas Flynn; assistant chief, William Wilson; secretary, C. W. Jeffers; treasurer, William Wilson.

Bishop E. C. Acheson of Middletown, accompanied by Rev. J. Eldred Brown of Norwich, archdeacon of the New London district, paid Rev. David Combs, rector of St. Paul's, a recent visit, looking over and inspecting the alterations and changes on the rectory. The bishop expressed himself as well pleased with the work.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Baker of Florence, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Baker's brother, William P. Barstow.

The court room at Central Village was crowded Monday morning when the case of Frank Lorette of Moosup came before Judge Arthur H. Mathewson, Lorette being held on three counts —intoxication, violation of the auto vehicle law, driving under the influence of liquor and assault of an officer. The total fines were $120 and costs. At the same time Wilfred Parr of Moosup appeared before Judge Mathewson, charged with intoxication and breach of the peace. He was fined $15 and costs, a total of $30.

Edward F. King left on Tuesday morning for a trip to Maine by auto, stopping at Portland and then going on to Lewiston to visit his father.

S. T. Butterworth, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Flagg and Miss Rose Beaudry visited Littleton, Mass., on Memorial day.

The Connecticut state department of health, co-operating with the physicians of the state, will give a physical examination of babies under 5 years of age in Plainfield today (Saturday) at 2 o'clock at the Community house. Mothers and guardians are asked to bring their babies and little children. A nurse from the state department will be present and a message will be given to mothers.

The local post, No. 308, Veterans of Foreign Wars, accompanied by their auxiliary, journeyed to Baltic on Memorial day to pay a very impressive tribute at the grave of Private Joseph A. Vanase, for whom the post was named. Many beautiful flowers, wreaths and sprays were placed on the grave as loving tokens of the post and auxiliary. Representatives were also sent from the post to decorate graves at Ekonk and Canterbury, as is their usual custom. Fred A. Marriott is commander of the local post.

NOANK

The meeting of the Silver Link society, was postponed this week on account of the holiday Wednesday, but will be held next week.

The True Blue society met Thursday with Mrs. Ernest Palmer, and a fine program was enjoyed. Refreshments were served and plans made for the rest of the season's work.

Many species of snakes have been noticed lying in the roads apparently having been run over by passing autom obiles.

Rev. Merill, Mr. Flynn and his secretary, who attended he conference at Atlantic City, N. J., have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cole and daughters have returned to their home in Millis, Mass., after spending a few days at their summer place on Elm street.

Mrs. Mary McCloy and son, James of Oakland, California, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzpatrick.

Mrs. Gildersleeve is confined to her home by illness.

The base ball nine had some funds left over after the season's playing, and purchased flowers with the money The flowers were put on the graves, at the cemetery on Memorial day by the members.

A public dinner was served at the fire rooms on Memorial day, and was well patronized. The menu consisted of baked beans, cold meats, salad, coffee, rolls and cake.

Altar Lights Burn 50 Years.

For 50 years seven lights have burned day and night in front of a statue of the Blessed Virgin in one of the Catholic churches in Chicago. These lights commemorate the escape of the edifice from destruction in the great fire of 1871.

That 300,000,000 people in all that continental United States can accommodate is the opinion of an expert.

Belmont Brique
Guest Ice Cream
June 2-9

Vanilla, Cherry Sherbet and Maple Nut are combined in Belmont Brique. This selection of frozen dainties from Tait Bros large assortment of French Ice Creams, Mousses, Frappes, Bisques, Sherbets and Frozen Puddings, forms one of the most delightful of the Guest Briques.

Venetian Special
Honey Fruit Salad
June 2-9

Venetian Bulk Specials have added ever-changing variety to your ice cream vocabulary. Be sure and order your supply of Honey Fruit Salad, if you do not have a regular order with your dealer.

Tait Bros Individual Forms and Decorated Moulds made up special for Dinners, Luncheons, Parties, Weddings, Showers, etc., make the occasion an event.

VENETIAN GINGER ALE IS A TAIT BROS PRODUCT

WESTERLY

Westerly fire department responded to two fire alarms at 7 and 7.05 o'clock Thursday evening. The first, Box 63, Oak and Tower streets was for a chimney fire, at No. 82 and 84 Oak street, the upper tenement being occupied by Joe Grabbo, the tomato king. The ladder was raised to the roof and the fire extinguished by the use of chemicals, no damage resulted. While the trucks were on Oak street, the second alarm was rung in, and was answered by the remaining apparatus in the engine house. This was also a chimney fire at the corner of Dayton and Pierce street, house owned by Louis Gentile. This chimney has frequently caught fire and following last night's fire the owner was warned to have the chimney cared for or prosecution will follow.

Charles J. Greene, town treasurer of the town of Richmond, was a visitor in Westerly Thursday.

William A. Wilcox of Pawcatuck has purchased eighteen acres of land on the Post road in Westerly from the estate of Charles H. Tucker and Emma D. Tucker. This property is located just beyond Dunns Corners.

Dr. Ellen H. Gladwin and S. M. Gladwin, summer residents at Haversham, of Hartford, were in Westerly on Friday.

Frank Aldrich of Norwich returned to that city on Thursday after visiting in Westerly and Watch Hill over Memorial Day.

Shriners attending the imperial council in Washington, D. C., are urged by the railroads to check their baggage under special delivery check. This will prevent a congestion of baggage in Washington and also insure prompt delivery at hotel or delegation headquarters. A Westerly young lady who returned Friday morning from Washington reported that when she left her hotel for the railroad station so great was the incoming traffic that they were forced to go in a round about way to avoid the traffic congestion.

Westerly nobles of the Mystic Shrine who are to be in attendance upon this conclave, which begins June 4th, will leave Westerly Sunday morning on the Palestine Temple Shrine special at 10.05. For the past few days the "Sons of the Desert" have been arriving at the capital city at the rate of five thousand a day. Among the Westerly wearers of the fez making the pilgrimage are Ed. N. Burdick, Charles F. Berry, Charles A. Morgan and Raymond C. Vars.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hoxie, and daughter, Mrs. Cornelius Middleton of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting at their Westerly home, 4 Elm street.

Dr. Frank Sullivan of Bridgeport, Conn., was the Memorial Day guest of his sister, Mrs. Owen Sherry of the West Side.

Harold Duncan Campbell of Spruce street is the week end guest of relatives in Norwich.

Edward J. Purtill of Hillside avenue has returned to Westerly from a vacation visit to Philadalphia and later in Providence.

James Smith, formerly of Westerly, but now of New Haven, has been a visitor in Westerly the past week.

Olcott Mills, a senior at Colgate university, Hamilton, N. Y., has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Mills of Summer street, preceding the approaching college commencement exercises.

Clayton Smith of Providence visited in Westerly on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cuttle of Westerly have gone to Atlanta, Ga., being called there by the death of Mr. Cuttle's son.

Mrs. Vinal N. Hastings of Bristol, R. I., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Mills, in Westerly.

Mrs. Mary M. Appleman, formerly of Stonington, who makes her home at 25 Highland avenue, was seized with a hysterical attack and fainted while in attendance at the funeral of Dr. John L. May, at the Chuch of the Immaculate Conception on High street Friday morning. Dr. Michael H. Scanlon accompanied her to her home where she was reported as in a semi-conscious condition in the afternoon.

The funeral services of Dr. John Lawrence May were held in the Church of the Immaculate Conception Friday morning at 10.30 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass was said by Rev. Frances E. May, celebrant, of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Mount Carmel, Conn., assisted by Rev. Fr. Michael H. May, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Norwich, as deacon; both priests being brothers of the deceased. The subdeacon was Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Larkin, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Fr. Sullivan of the Imaculate Conception church. These clergymen were assisted by numerous other priests of the diocese of Rhode Island.

The bearers were Daniel McNamara, Edward D. Murray, Edward R. May, Dr. Harold Doyle, William F. May, Jr. and Walter D. May, and a delegation representing the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Westerly lodge, No. 678. Dr. J. M. O'Connell, John J. Walsh, A. J. Twoomey, John H. Murphy, A. T. L. Ledwidge and Andrew Martin were present from Narragansett council, No. 21, Knights of Columbus. The Westerly Physicians' Association members were present in a body.

In Stonington town court Friday afternoon before Deputy Judge L. D. Fairbrother in the town court room at 1.30, Manuel Maderia of Stonington was found guilty and paid a fine of $5 and costs amounting to $16.09. Dog Officer Bricker of the town of Stonington presented Maderia on a writ made out by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney William A. Wilcox, charging the defendant with owning or keeping a certain dog of the age of six months without having caused said dog to be registered in the office of the town clerk where the said dog was owned and kept which is in violation of the statutes in such case made and provided.

This case grew out of the fact that Miss Elizabeth Browning of Stonington was bitten in the thigh by this dog which has the reputation of being vicious. As Miss Browning had seated herself in her automobile, which was kept in the neighborhood, the dog made the attack. The wound was of such a nature as to require the attention of a physician. The dog, a seven months old collie, is now in charge of Dog Officer Bricker and will probably be shot.

The regular session of the Third district court was held in the court rooms on Union street Friday morning. Clerk M. Walter Flynn read the docket and the following new case was added: Joslin-Lena Co. vs. J. C. Kebabian. The other cases either put on the nisi list or continued. The case against Frank Vitirito was then called, in which the defendant was charged with breach of the peace.

At this point Judge Turano announced that he would adjourn court at 10.15 that attendance might be made upon the funeral of Dr. John L. May. The defendant stated that he would plead nolo and changed it to say that he was not guilty as charged. After a further talk by the judge the plea of nolo was made and a fine of $10 and costs imposed.

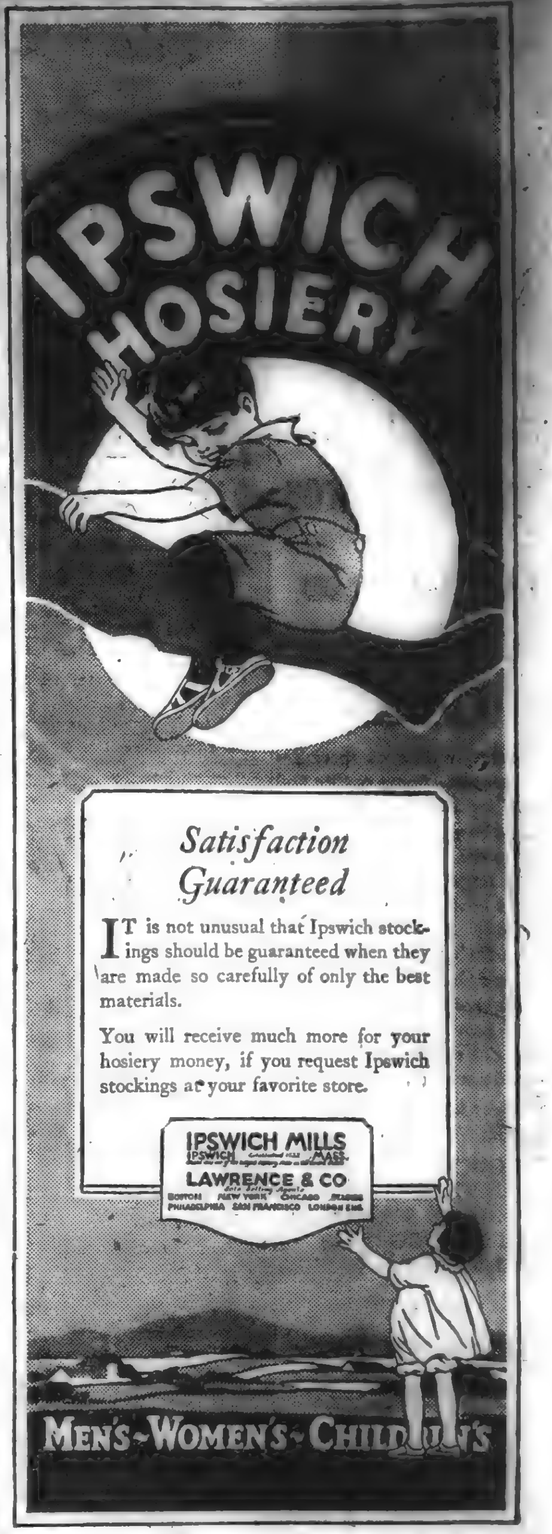
The marriage of Miss Anne Mitchell, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. S. Mitchell of Campo Bello Island, N. B., and Dr. William A. R. Chapin of Belmont avenue, will take place Tuesday noon, June 12, in St. Anne's church at Campo Bello. Miss Mitchell will have Miss Alice Hutchinson of Keene, N. H., for her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Anne Rock of Springfield, Vt., and Miss Ethyl Cummings of St. Andrew, N. B. Dr. Chapin will have Walter H. McCarthy of West Springfield for his best man. Miss Mitchell has been in charge of the Visiting Nurse Association of Westerly.

STONINGTON

It is understood that the only contest slated for the Stonington High school team is the game with Buckley of New London, which is scheduled to be played at Stonington on June 6.

Announcement has been made of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Lucretia Staplin, daughter of Mr and Mrs William H. Staplin, of Stonington, to Warren M. Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Wheeler of the Road District, which will take place on Tuesday afternoon June 12, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at Miss Staplin's home on Water street.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs.



Satisfaction Guaranteed

IT is not unusual that Ipswich stockings should be guaranteed when they are made so carefully of only the best materials.

You will receive much more for your hosiery money, if you request Ipswich stockings at your favorite store.

IPSWICH MILLS
IPSWICH MASS.
LAWRENCE & CO
BOSTON NEW YORK CHICAGO ATLANTA PHILADELPHIA SAN FRANCISCO LONDON ENG.

Napoleon Goyette, who was taken to race Hospital, at New Haven, has been operated on for the fracture of a bone in his right leg. This is the third time that the bones in this leg have been broken. The little fellow is resting comfortably.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. J. B. Prescott, which occurred at Webster, Mass. Mrs. Prescott, has spent many summers at her son's home, Bayberry Lodge, at Wamphassuc Point.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Carlyle of Springfield, Mass., spent Memorial day at his cottage at Wamphassuc Point. Mr. Carlyle, who is convalescing after a season in the hospital is taking a vacation from business duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Judkins and daughter of Lewiston, Me., are guests of Mrs. Judkins father Charles H. Cowan, far the week.

Mrs. Christopher A. Hansen of Hartford, is the guest of her sisters, the Misses Durein.

Mr. Wheeler is the mail carrier on Elm street.

Mrs. Frank James, and son's Leon and Clifford, spent Memorial day in Hope Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, of Temple street, are having a summer cottage built at Pleasant View, which will be 20 x 24.

Mrs. Annie Northrup, who has been confined to her home with a severe attack of bronchitis, is able to be about, she has had as her guest Mrs. Emma Douglas, of New York, who will leave for her summer home on Block Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Doughty, of Darling Hill, who have been spending a few days in New York, returned home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiliam A. Pike, of Pittsfield, Mass., have opened heir new cotsage, Bythesia, for the summer season.

Dr. Williams, of Mystic, was a caller here Thursday.

Miss Helen Koelb, and brother Howad Koelb, of Harristown, Pa., have arrived at their home here for the summer.

Rev. Charles F. Eldredge of Niantic has rented his cottage, Kill Kare, at Lord's Point to Mr. L. E. Downing of Worcester, Mass., and H. A. Miller of Brookline, Mass has secured Boulderview bungalow, of Mrs. Pond.

David R. Kinney, of Norwich, is completing the work on the Hanlon cottage at Lord's Point.

Joseph Silvia, was in East Lyme, Wednesday.

Mrs. William H. Jones and Miss Roberta Tener Johns of Pittsburgh, Pa., have arrived at their cottage at Lord's Point, for the season making the trip by automobile.

Dr. Leon F. La Pierre and Mrs. La Pierre, who are summer visitors here at Lord's Point, motored to Vermont, where they were guests of Mr. La Pierre's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore L. Hopkins, of Springfield are spending a short time at their cottage here.

Mrs. Eliza Stoddard and Mrs. H. H. LaPierre of Lord's Point are spending the week in Norwich.

On June 18th, the final examinations will begin at the Stonington high school and will end June 26. The subjects taken by the seniors will come first. A three hour period is allowed for each examination and they are scheduled at 8.30 a. m. and 12.30 p. m. The closing day has been announced as June 29.

Class day will take place Wednesday afternoon, June 27th, and commencement, Thursday, June 28th. The newly elected officers for the Wequequock chapel have been chosen, Clara Hall, of Westerly was chosen in the place of William Armstrong, who has resigned, as he lives in Middletown, and Mrs. Joseph Chembro, of Wequetequock, is to take the place of Charles Brightman, of Providence, as trustee. Mrs. Minnie Main, of Wequetequock was elected president. Louis Stanton, was chosen to fill the office of treasurer.

TOWN TAXES ARE NOW DUE
ARE YOU ABLE TO PAY THEM WITHOUT A GROAN?
THE CHELSEA SAVINGS BANK
NORWICH, CONN.
Has established a SPECIAL DEPARTMENT to aid in meeting TAX BILLS, COAL BILLS, REPAIRS and FIRE or LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUMS.
Call and let us explain or on receipt of coupon we will gladly send details.
Please send me details of how you can aid me in meeting my Tax Bills, etc.
Name .....
Address .....

THE SOCIAL CORNER

MEMORY MITIGATES ADVERSITY AND DELIGHTS OLD AGE.

SOCIAL CORNER PRIZE WINNERS FOR MAY

ONE DOLLAR EACH.

To LUCY ACORN, for letter entitled How to Make Calla Lilies Grow.
To KITTY LOU, for letter entitled The Value of the Fireless Cooker.
To TWICE TWENTY, for letter entitled The Last Dark Lantern Schoolhouse.
To PAULA, for letter entitled Teach Order to the Children.
To FRECKLES, for letter entitled Home Made Extracts from Flowers.

SOCIAL CORNER POETRY

Life Springs Anew

Now the snow's all gone,
The winter nearly past,
And spring will soon be calling on us,
Bringing to us the beautiful "Arbutus,"
The Flower of May that says to all:
"Spring is here."

Now the birds take on a new duty
And a song of Love they sing.
And the early flowers of Spring
Will come, peeping out of the ground,
To give us greeting.

Now eagerly we watch for
Our first Robin,
That bird that lives around our homes
And we all love so well.
And as he sits on the top-most twig
Of some nearby tree,
We all stop—and listen—and spy,
To try and find our sweet bird friend.

All, everything, has new life put on,
Or renewed the life
Which never died and knows no end,
And so, we Mortals, did I say?
No. Immortals all move on.

And when the Summer of earth life
Is passed and our Winter comes
We shall—Rest, but be assured
We shall all revive again;
For our life immortal is
And can have no end.
Do you believe this?
Yes—I do—and so shall
You some day.

By F. H. Chartier.
Sent in by Petershine.

The Revolutionary Hooked Rug
(Poem found in an old New England attic)

When Dad came back from Bunker Hill,
And flag colonies were free,
He hung his musket over the shelf
And his sword on the saddle tree,
His officers coat and his soiled buff vest,
His pants and his moutfings sewn,
He lovingly laid on Gran-ma's lap,
With his old red mitts and his woolen cap,
To be put in a grand hooked rug.

The rug was hooked on a linen ground,
With a border of russe red,
And here and there it was splashed with a tear
For her boy that had fought and bled,
Lexington, Concord and Valley Forge,
till Monmouth's bloody field,
Then there he fell in a fire of hell,
When victory was in sight.
We have cherished that rug for many a year,
No foot on its flowers would tread,
These Gran'ma's monument to her boy,
Who for liberty fought and bled.

Sent in by Pixie.

SOCIAL CORNER EVENTS

June 6—Club No. 2 meet in Buckingham Memorial.

ANSWERS AND INQUIRIES.

DELIAH DEAL:—Card forwarded as requested.

DON'T WORRY:—Letter sent as directed.

ALBERTA: Your name has been added to the Social Corner list.

PRIMROSE: Matter has been attended to.

CANTERBURY BELL: Many thanks. They were certainly most attractive.

ORANGE AND PURPLE: Your name has been added to the Social Corner list.

COUNTRY SISTER: Card sent as requested.

NORMA.

JUNE LETTER TO THE SOCIAL CORNER

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I think that as Saturday is June 2nd and my birthday, I better make a new start and get my letter for the month in early and then I'll be sure not to put it off too long or perhaps Lucy Acorn will be returning the compliment I sent her.

First I want to thank those sisters who replied so kindly to my S. O. S. call.

Grandma Gray sent me such a nice letter with a teapot holder enclosed. It was not just the kind I had reference to, but very pretty and it's nice to know how to make more than one kind. She replied first, then came the directions from Tess for the ear of corn holder which I am very glad to have and it is much like the one I was looking for. Then third came the directions from Dorcas which I also am glad to have and think it very nice of them all to take the trouble for me, Grandma Gray is the only one of the three I have ever met or have name and address as far as I know, but should be glad of their address and perhaps might find we had met or had a mutual friend somewhere.

I met at Auntie No. One's a few years ago a sister whom I have never met since or remember to have seen a letter from since and would like to inquire about. She had for her pen name Hylxet; and I hyired her and would have been glad to have known her better, and more and more, as time goes by.

I feel I am losing a great deal of enjoyment by not being able to attend these social gatherings of the sisters.

Am sorry Nellie Bly is going out of the city to live, but trust she'll not forget me and if I cannot go to see her she'll come to me.

Canterbury Bell: Not a sign of my Chinese blue bells yet; and I'm so disappointed. I thought they were so pretty.

I too have a strawberry filling for cake which I wish some of you'd try. I use it also for a pudding sauce and for my shortcakes:

One cup mashed strawberries, 1 cup confectionery sugar, white of an egg. Mix all together and with an egg beater whip as you would cream until it is stiff enough to spread. Now my June letter is written I feel like the little girl who went to school to me in the days gone by. She had a piece to speak and closed by saying: "I had a piece to speak, and I've done it now, and feel all right. So now I wish you all good night." And I say mine.

DELIAH DEAL.

BEING PRACTICAL

Dear Sisters: You have all heard much said about being practical. It is a good thing to be practical, but it doesn't pay to be too practical. Dull Jacks we shall all be if we are Gradgrinds of life. Who really would be that?

Yet some of us seem to have lost all of the vivdness of youth. We grind out the days grudgingly, mechanically, seeking neither recreation, change nor delight. It's as dangerous to do this as to be a mere pleasure seeker.

The busiest day can have a graceful fancy to enliven its labor; our thoughts are not bound, even if bodies are bent to the effort of the hour. When we find ourselves so filled with details of work and prosaic necessities of action that we cannot see the beauty of a sunset or a snowclad field, the smile of babe, the prank of a child, it's time to stop, look and listen. There's a danger signal there. It may be that we are feeling the pinch of necessities illy supplied. If there be nothing in life for us save the practicalities, we shall grow morose, rebellious, faint-hearted.

There's a hard battle for us to fight, it may be, before conditions right themselves, as they surely will. It may not be evaded; present conditions must be met. What is going to bring the victory? Just the same morale that made our soldiers invincible on the battle field—courage, determination, but also vision.

If we can enliven the dark of today with the forward vision, if we can dream and hope, along wit hthe patient endurance, our resting time will merely be a stepping stone to something better. It's well worth trying.

I noticed one slated recently sent thanks for a calendar. That reminds me that I owe similar thanks and none the less sincere though late.

S. E. D.

CANNING ASPARAGUS.

Dear Social Corner Editor and Sisters: Those who stop to think of it realize that the canning season is long. It begins with the first products of the garden and doesn't end until time for snow.

Just now is the time for asparagus and it is fine to have your own supply for winter use. For asparagus to can select young stalks, grade as to size and wash well. Tie the stalks into bundles and place the lower ends of these in boiling water for three minutes, then submerge the entire bunch in this water for two minutes longer (this is called "blanching"). Now plunge the bunch into cold water (this is called "cold-dipping") for an instant, remove, and cut the string that bound the bundle.

Have in readiness quart-size glass jars which you have "sterilized" as follows: Wash the jar and place it on its side in a deep pan; cover it with cold water and bring to a boil, allowing it to boil for 15 minutes. Drain and keep out of a draught for it may crack; it is now ready to be filled with the blanched and cold-dipped asparagus stalks. Pour into the filled jars a hot brine made by combining four ounces of salt and one gallon of water; this brine should cover the tips of the asparagus and come to within one-half inch of the jar-top. Put a clean new rubber on the jar and "partially seal" (that is, put on the glass jar-top and raise the top wire, but do not press down the side wire). Place the jar on a wire rack in the bottom of your wash boiler in hot water that covers the top of the jar, and bring this water to the boiling point. Let the water continue to boil around the jar for one hour, then remove it from the boiler and let it stand for 24 hours in ordinary room temperature. Again put it in hot water in the boiler, bring to a boil and continue to boil for one hour, and again let it stand for 24 hours. On the third day, repeat the process (that is, boiling it still another hour in the wash-boiler).

Completely seal the jar at the end of the first period of processing ("processing" is boiling the jar in the canner), but raise the side wire before placing the jar in the canner for the second processing—and do the same in the second and third processing. Cool and store.

NORMA.

USES FOR ORANGE PEEL.

Dear Cornerites: Have you ever thought of the great amount of waste from the orange peels? Most housewives regard the peel of an orange as useless and speedily consign it to the garbage pail. In so doing they are discarding a fine substitute for spices, and also a wonderful fruit extender, both of which may be conserved for future use.

Before using the pulp of oranges, take a very sharp knife and carefully pare off the yellow rind without disturbing the white part. Then remove the white part and dry each separately in a cooling oven.

When perfectly dry, the orange peel is easily powdered by using an old-fashioned coffee mill or a mortar and pestle. The yellow part makes a fine substitute for spices or other flavorings, and people who are unable to eat spices find the yellow orange powder delicious. It also makes an excellent blend with spices in puddings and cakes.

Fresh orange peel is excellent for restoring black shoes that do not look very smart. Rub well with the inside of the rind, and then polish with a soft cloth.

Mock Cherry Pie: One cup of cranberries cut in halves if large, one-half cup seedless raisins, three-fourths cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, one tablespoon cooking oil; two tablespoons water. Mix cornstarch with sugar and combine with other ingredients.

May The Corner continue its good work with better results each year and may we hear from those members who write too seldom, or not at all.

PUSSY WILLOW.

FAVORS FREE BOOKS IDEA.

Social Corner Editor: I have been a constant and interested reader of the Corner letters for a good long time. So I am going to try and write one myself for the first time and if it is accepted perhaps will try again.

There is one thing in Norwich that is a puzzle to me. and I would like to hear from the rest of the sisters on the subject. How is it that in the Norwich public schools the parents have to buy all pads, books and writing materials for the children? In Uncasville all books and everything, even transportation, is furnished free to all the pupils. In New London the schools are the same, and in nearly every other state.

Now when Mr. Davis put his piece in the paper last week about the white way, we thought he was right, and if the schools were taken care of by the town, like they are in every other place, I think it would help the people out more than the white way would.

I don't want to live in Norwich on that account. As I for one wouldn't care about buying books every year for my children, as I don't think it is right, and besides in my way of thinking the schools are not free and public when you have to do that.

Will take for pen name

ORANGE AND PURPLE.

CLEANING CARPETS WITHOUT TAKING THEM UP.

Dear Social Corner Sisters: What nice weather we are having for housecleaning! I imagine you all as busy as bees while I am sitting idly by waiting for papering and painting to be done. The modern homes of today with the many conveniences for doing work make housecleaning a time to be dreaded far less than a quarter of a century ago.

I was in a beautiful home the other day where heavy carpets are still used and had just been cleaned without being taken up. The result was so satisfactory that I want to pass the information along, hoping it may help someone. Take a bar of P&G naphtha soap and wet it in warm water. Rub it on the carpet, a breadth or less at a time, until a lather is made. Then give the carpet a good scrubbing with a brush. After that is done, wet a cloth in cold water and wash the soap all off. When dry, the carpet will look like new. Rugs may be treated in the same way. A good time to do this is before the heater fire goes out, as the floors are warm and the carpets will dry quickly.

Roberta: I was pleased to see that you received a prize. Come over some day and teach me how to patch.

Rosalind: Where are you now? Have thought of you many times since your pretty home was destroyed by fire.

Cross Roads: Glad to hear from you. I keep out of mischief all right.

Rural Delivery: Tell us more about your California trip. Did you go to Corona, "the circle city," 14 miles from Riverside? We have friends who have recently gone from New England and settled there.

Best wishes to all.

PRIMROSE.

CROCHETING RAG RUGS.

Dear Editor and Corner Friends: I have been interested in the letters which have been written concerning rug making. It is certainly delightful and fascinating work and I can appreciate how many feel they must keep at each one until it is done. Somehow it is like reading a good book—one hates to put it aside.

A square rag rug can be crocheted with a border in block design. It will require two colors, one for the background and one for the border. Use a large wooden crochet hook and start by making a chain of 61 stitches an dturn.

First Row: Skip one, ch. d. in each ch. of 60 stitches, working over the other color used in making the rug.

Next Three Rows: h. 1, 1 d. in each d., taking up both loops and working over the other color used across to the other side. Turn.

Fifth Row: Ch. 1, 4 d. * change to other color, make four d. and reverse color. * Repeat from * six times and turn.

Sixth Row: h. 1, 3 d and repeat from * in last row, ending with 5 d.

Repeat fifth and sixth rows once.

Ninth Row: h. 1, 8 d. and repeat from star in fifth row, ending with 8 d.

Tenth Row: Ch. 1, 7 d. and repeat from * in fifth row, ending with 9 d. Repeat ninth and tenth rows once. In next four rows, repeat first and last blocks with plain ds. between. Finish rug to correspond with beginning. To finish edge work all around the rug over other color d. in each st. and d. in each row on ends, three stitches in corners.

To an oval two color rug of rags crochet 27 stitches in chain stitch. Turn. Skip one st. and hook through, making a double, catching both loops and lay in the other color you intend to use and crochet over it to the end of first row. In the first chain stitch made, crochet three times in the same place. Then turn and crochet each over the single loop at the end 2 db. in st. before the last, one d. in end, 2 ds. and proceed, carrying other color by crocheting over it. When you have made about eight rows, counting across from center, change to other color by bringing the color you were using and making as many rows as desired and change as often os you wish until your rug is as large as you want it. Pink and gray make a pretty color combination to use.

Best wishes.

TESS.

SOME GOOD IDEAS.

Corner Members and Friends: I have been a reader and admirer of the Social Corner for some time and would like to join your circle.

I am sending a number of suggestions which have been tried out and used repeatedly.

When making fruit pies, put in the sugar when the dish is half full instead of on top. The pastry will be lighter. When filling gem pans, put one of the sections empty and fill it with water. The gems will never scorch.

Left-over cooked potatoes must not be piled together, as they sour quickly. Spread them out on a large dish. Honey may be used to mix with nuts for sandwiches.

To keep a cake fresh for a long time, when you take it from the oven, and it is still hot, pack the cake in brown sugar. It will keep fresh two months. Or take a hot cake, ice it lightly, then set it in a cake box with cold water to give moisture.

When using molasses and it is not as as desired for gingerbread and cookies, add a tablespoon of melted chocolate to the molasses and spice, improving the flavor.

Before heating milk in a saucepan, rinse the pan with cold water and it will not scorch so easily. A few cloves added to vegetable soup will improve its flavor.

If you are in the habit of wasting stalks of cauliflower, save them, and the next day cut them lengthwise into two or three pieces according to their thickness. Tie them in bunches and cook as asparagus, then drain and cover with a white sauce.

Save all the liquid from your mustard pickles and add it to the salad dressing in place of fresh vinegar and mustard. When making meat sandwiches, this liquid may be used with the meat.

ALBERTA.

GETTING ALONG WITH TEACHER

Dear Sisters of the Corner: Wednesday was Memorial day and what a day full of meaning it always is. Since the World war many soldiers of that war realize what suffering and hardship were endured at that time eg many years ago as well as the mothers and relatives. Few are left of the Blue and Gray and they are highly honored. Any one man or woman who has and is doing anything to make this country better is a true patriot. All the good laws are to be kept and an example of truth, kindness, mercy and love shown everyone sets a good example to the young. It is surprising how many are flocking here from other countries. Each boy and girl should treat folks of any nationality with respect and kindness. This country has got the chance to do a great missionary work just by living the Golden Rule every day, at home or in business.

I have always been thankful for good teachers in my school days. The articles written about the country schoolhouse brings back many happy hours spent in the (not red but white) school, but it good one just the same. On cold winter mornings it was sometimes quite a little while before the room was warm but we didn't mind it, and the games of "hide and seek" made us forget anything that was not pleasant.

We parents owe much to the good teachers. When my little girl came home one night, some lesson was rather hard and teacher some cross, perhaps she said, "Oh, dear, I hate my teacher and she is the first one I didn't love." I said to her "Never say you hate anyone." My mother always told me never to hate anyone but say we do not like their actions. I told her the teacher has probably had a hard day, many of the youngsters bother her and she has much to contend with. Finally I asked her to pray for teacher and all your troubles will come out all right soon. She did and went to sleep that night in a happy mood instead of anger and hatred.

This attitude will straighten out many hard feelings and start the young on a better road of understanding which will help in many a hard place in after years.

These are the answers to last week's questions:

No. 1: Light. Gen. 1:3.
No. 2. The coming of Christ. Gen. 3:15.
Question No. 3. Cain. The city of Enoch. Gen. 4:17.
No. 4. Moses. Num. 1:1.
No. 5. Moses Ex. 18:13.
No. 6. Abimelech. Judges. 9.45.
No. 7. Cave of Adullam. 1st Sam. 13:6.
No. 8. The house of the rolls, or books, the King's library. Ezra. 6:1.
When men fall you read 1st Peter, 5:7. Psalm 23.
When looking for happiness, Colossians, 3: 1-17.
Question No. 1: Who was the first gardener?
No. 2. Who was the first to weep, according to the Scriptures?
No. 3. Who first used a saddle as recorded in the Bible?
No. 4. Where were mules first found and by whom?

Best wishes to all,

SPRY BIRD.

THESE RECIPES ARE ALL TESTED.

Dear Corner Friends. When grating pineapple it is much less trouble to cut the pineapple into four lengthwise sections, cutting through the central core. Cut off the hard core and grate the pineapple with the skin intact, the pineapple can be grated until nothing is left but the rind.

I have found that adding grape juice to hard sauce gives a delicious flavor. Cream together one-third cup butter and one cup fine sugar, add gradually one-fourth cup of grape juice, alternating with another cup of the sugar. Place in the refrigerator till very cold. Serve with cottage pudding or any preferred dessert.

A Hot Weather Shortcake: I have found a way to bake shortcake without heating the oven. Make like the recipe only a little thinner and bake on a waffle iron.

This is quite a relief on a hot evening.

Nabonett: I tried your cornbread; it was delicious. I am going to send in my recipe as I promised.

Two cups buttermilk into which you stir the following ingredients: One cup flour into which you have sifted one teaspoon cream tartar, two cups corn meal with two teaspoons of soda, sifted in it, one-half cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon salt. Stir this in your two cups of buttermilk, then add one well beaten egg, beating briskly for five minutes. Have pan hot, put in the oven and bake 20 minutes. Take out of oven, cover with cloth three minutes and serve while hot.

I hope you will try my shortcake I know you will like it. It sounds rich, but it isn't too much so. Your ginger bread recipe sounds good. I sometimes bake it on a waffle iron if very warm.

ETHELYN.

ONE PRODUCT OF THE LITTLE COUNTRY SCHOOL

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I will try and help fill the Social Corner page this week, as it has been quite a while since I have written.

I had the pleasure of attending the anniversary gathering of Club No. 1 at Willimantic in March. It was the first time I had met with them, but I didn't feel as if I was a stranger there. They were all so cordial and did everything to make it pleasant for us. May 2 I met with Club No. 2, where I also had a very pleasant time.

James Louis Fiske was born not very far from the Dark Lantern school house and attended school there until prepared to enter high school. After graduating from Yale college he went to the Philippines where he taught schol for nearly four years. When he was taken ill and died there. It was through his instrumentality that the first high school was built there. He had the honor of being the first principal of the school. After his death the people there asked permission of his relatives that he might be buried in the yard of the high school building, which was granted.

They have erected a fine monument over his grave in appreciation of his services as a teacher.

He is only one of many that had their first lessons taught them in a little country school that have risen to positions of honor and trust.

Twice Twenty: I also would like to know why it was called the Dark Lantern school house.

Bonie and Snowflakes: I was pleased to meet you the 24th. Hope you both had a pleasant time and will come again.

Some one is shouting "ring off" so will give them the line.

KEZIAH DOOLITTLE.

THE PROBLEM OF THE NAUGHTY CHILD

Dear Social Corner Sisters: Most excellent advice has been given by several sisters concerning the training of children and especially in giving them to understand that they must mind.

It is a difficult matter to decide upon a punishment for a naughty child, but their need proper teaching in that direction as well as in others. Fear is certainly useless. It cows a child but once let him "feel his little wings" and he will very quickly fly away from the home nest. The reason why so many boys and girls seek their pleasures outside the home circle is because, though father and mother may be "hail-fellow-well-met" now, the memory of the days when "I must tell father" still lingers, if only in the subconscious cells of memory.

Love, alas, is not always, a satisfactory system of training. The love of a mother, the most beautiful thing on earth, can be most unwise, and should where it is intended to shield. Respect is the parents' only hope, and to win the respect of our children is the hardest task on earth.

A great teacher once said, "God speaks to us through the scorn or approval of a child's blue eyes." There is no sterner or more logical judge than a child. If you wish to teach your children to be good, you must be good yourself.

The mother who smacks her child for the slightest fault, simply because she is tired and irritable. Never wins respect. The child may love her, but he does not respect her. The mother who spoils her children wins little love and no respect.

Keep your word. In these three words lie the solution of the problem of the naughty child. Keep your word if you threaten a punishment. Once you promise a treat, keep to your word. Yours for well brought up children.

DORIS.

LIVE ONE DAY AT A TIME AND DO OUR BEST.

Dear Editor and Social Corner Friends: I am reminded by several letters in the Corner page that we are expected to do our bit to keep it full so here I come with my mite.

Hope you are all enjoying this lovely weather. Memorial day has gone for another year and none can tell who will live to see another so we can only live one day at a time and do all we can to make each other happy in the right way by following the golden rule. Mr. S. and I had the nicest Memorial day that we have had for a long time. We were invited to go and spend the day with a very dear friend in the country. We went and had a very pleasant little visit, and all nature seemed to be as happy as we were. The birds were singing and the air was invigorating.

Necia: I am through cleaning also, have read that book and will return it soon.

Black-Eyed Susie: Many thanks for the pattern. Have been so busy have not tried it yet, but will soon.

Hope to see many of you at the B. M. June as that may be the last at the hall for the summer, but there will be the out door picnics as usual.

Best wishes for the Corner.

SCOTTIE.

GOOD RESULTS IN DYEING.

Dear Corner Members: Dyeing has always interested me, but having some of my friends' experiences, I decided it was an art for professionals and not a pastime for amateurs. Then when colored crepe de chine waists became a necessity in my wardrobe, and I saw my prettiest ones grow colorless and characterless after a few washings, I realized, in self-defense, I should have to become at least a professional dyer, and so I began experimenting.

Some one recommended the use of red ink in the rinse water for faded pink waists, but I always had poor results. The color was not even, and some way every time I looked at my ink-dyed waist, I was reminded of a piano that needed tuning.

Next I tried crepe paper in water until I got the correct shade, but this meant experimenting with samples, and I had no time for such experiments as that.

So at last I got a dye that was fine. I believe that the American dyes are every bit as good as those made in Germany or that it ever thought of making.

Cottons are considered harder to dye than woolen and silks and so I begin cautiously.

First I dyed a crex rug and then several other things. It emerged one of those colors hard to classify, but thoroughly satisfactory to my color-loving soul.

This spring I took up my dining room rug. Though not a single hole in it, the carpet had faded and it was useless. My draperies at the folding doors had lost their beauty, although when new were an imported lace, and the price was fifty dollars, so I wondered if I could dye them successfully. I needed sofa pillows and scarf to match. I had pretty soisette, and silk shirts, so had enough to dye for a trial. I had my attic cleaned and laid my rug upon the floor and had it cleaned thoroughly with my electric sweeper, also washed my draperies, etc., that I thought of dyeing.

I bought two paint brushes to try on the rugs, and fixed the dye for each to fry. They were three days dyeing the rug, working an hour or so at a time and when finished it looked much better than I had anticipated. It was a 9x12 rug. Then I tried my draperies and other pieces and they were just as pretty as the carpet. Every one who sees them think it is perfectly marvelous to have them all look so clear and just like new.

The recipe called for boiling, but I poured hot water on the dye, and the result was satisfactory.

A patriotic dessert not hard to prepare: Have macaroni boiled and well seasoned with salt and pepper, also butter. While hot wind in the form of a pin wheel. In the center of pin wheel put a cranberry. Arrange on a plate in the middle of which stands mashed potato in shell in the form of Uncle Sam

KITTY LOU.

GOOD REASON FOR REJOICING

Dear Editor and Social Corner Friends: Good morning! I hope all are well and happy this beautiful morning. I feel 100 per cent. happy this morning and I guess it's because I can sit down and say my house cleaning is all done and I guess all housekeepers will agree with me, for when you have to give up right in the middle of something you want to finish it isn't very encouraging, especially when one has the inclination but not the strength.

Calla Lily: I thank you, it is mutual. Was very glad you liked my letter. I could have written a few pages more my heart is so full with love for mother, but I don't like to take up too much valuable space with my poor letters, although so far I have met only kindness from the editor. I am afraid though that some will think that Black Eyed Susie is very much in evidence lately.

Ma of Greene Gables: Went by your house a week ago Friday but although I looked hard I couldn't see anything of Ma, but did see two of the men folks. I guess those chickens keep Ma pretty busy, eh?

True Blue: Haven't had a chance before to tell you I thank you. Both were lovely and you know I was delighted to get them. Hope to see you the 6th of June and bring anything in crocheting. I love to look at pretty things.

Hope chocolate is better. Was sorry to hear she had been so sick. We all enjoyed her recitation on "Tacks." It was great.

Was pleased to hear Chelsea that you worked that sample out O.K.

I want to tell you all what a treat I had. One day Annette kindly loaned me a book with clippings from the Social Corner. Not a little book, but a nice big one full of recipes, letters and stories she had clipped from The Bulletin Social Corner Page. Was I delighted? Well you bet I was. I have read and re-read it and am going to copy a great many of those recipes. I wish I was the fortunate owner of that book, but I won't do like the party that borrowed Calla Lily's book.

Now just a few words in regards to Father's day that some of the sisters have written about.

Perhaps they think because I wrote so feelingly of mother I had no love for father. Well I am happy to tell all that we had a dear good father, one that always provided well and did all he could for us and all seven that are left behind him never forget him for he was taken from us nine years ago. We can all thank God for a good father, but as I said before there is nothing in this world that can take the place of a good mother.

Hoping to see all at the June meeting.

BLACK EYED SUSIE.

The value of products in manufacture of lumber and timber products in the United States was $962,501,000 in 1921, compared with $1,387,471,000 in 1919 and $715,310,000 in 1914, a decrease of 24 per cent. from 1919, but an increase of 26 per cent. from 1914. During 1921 many mills and logging camps were idle.

SUNDAY SUBJECTS

At Park Congregational church, sermon at morning service by the pastor, Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe. Sunday school at noon.

At Trinity Episcopal Church there will be Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30 a. m. and church school at noon. No evening service.

At St. Andrew's Episcopal church, John W. McKinley, lay reader, morning service, 10.30 a. m.; Sunday school at 12; evening service omitted.

At the Holiness Mission, 35 Shetucket Street, praise and prayer service 10 a. m. Bible class and Sunday school 3 p. m. Preaching at 3 and 7:30 p. m.

At the A. M. E. Zion church, Rev. Dixon A. Brown, pastor, 10.45 a. m. The Book Triumphant. Church school at 12.00. Evening service 7.45, subject Zion's Future Prosperity. Holy communion.

At Mt. Calvary Baptist church, Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor, 11 a. m. Theme: The Right That Christians Have to Dance. 12:30 Sunday school 6.45 p. m. B. Y. P. U. 7.45, Theme: A White Life.

At the United Congregational church, Alexander H. Abbott, minister, Morning worship at 10.30. Mr. Abbott will preach. Children's Talk: "Puppets"; sermon: "Builders of Religion". Church School at noon.

At the Greeneville Congregational Church, Sunday morning, there will be the usual preaching service conducted by the pastor at 10.30. The Sunday school will meet at 12 o'clock. Other announcements will be made later.

At the First M. E. church, Norwich Town. Morning worship at 10.30 a. m. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Aldrich, subject "The Rule of Providence". C. E. service at 6.30 p. m. Inez Edminson leader, preaching at 7.30.

At Christian Science reading room, 115 Thayer building, Sunday service 10.45 a. m. subject, Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced. Sunday school at 11.45 open to pupils up to age of 20.

At the First Congregational church, Norwich Town. The pastor, Rev. G. F. Bailey will preach at 10.30 a. m. on the theme Religion for Old and Young. Sunday school at 12 m. Young People's service at 6.30. Topic, Superlative Trust. Ps. 23.

At the Third Baptist church, Rev. Yervant Hadidian, of Hartford will speak. Morning service at 10.30 a. m. Topic "True Worship". Bible school at 12 o'clock, C. E. at 6.30. At the evening service the speaker will have for his topic "Armenia."

Seventh Day Adventist Church, meets in the Odd Fellows Hall, 332 Main St., Saturday, 2 p. m. Sabbath School 3 p. m. Preaching "The Daily Help in Christian Life". Special service Sunday night 7.30 D. S. T. Subject: "Is Bible Prophecy Fulfilling?" H. I. Pettis, pastor.

At the First Baptist church, Rev. E. C. Dunbar, pastor, 10.30, morning worship, subject, Thy Kingdom Come. Report of Atlantic City convention: 12 m., Church school; 6.30, Young People's service, Miss Lillian Crumb, leader; 7.30, evening worship, subject, Self Renunciation, The Law of Self Preservation.

At the Central Baptist church, Rev. David A. Pitt, D. D., pastor. 10.30 a. m. Message by the Pastor: noon, Sunday School—City Bible Class for men; 2.00 p. m. Sunday School at Preston Chapel; 6.30 p. m. Young People's meeting; 7.30 p. m. Evening subject "My Gospel". Mrs. Benjamin Livesey, Jr., will sing.

WINDHAM COUNTY

Wauregan—At the Wauregan Congregational church. The morning sermon will be on, "Our Lord's Companions on the Cross". Church school at 12:; Young People's meeting Thursday evening.

NEW LONDON COUNTY

Leffingwell— At the Leffingwell church there will be morning worship at eleven o'clock, (S. T.). B. Y. P. U. at seven o'clock; subject, "Lessons from the Psalms, the Shepherd Psalms, Ps. 23:1-6. This will be a consecration meeting and C. Thomas Leffingwell the leader.

Fitchville—At the Fitchville Baptist church, Edwin Hill, secretary of the Norwich Y. M. C. A. will speak in the morning.

COLUMBIA

The Columbia lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen held an open meeting at Yeomans hall on Monday evening. Field Manager John C. Trant of Hartford presided; introducing Past Grand Master Workman G. Herbert Bishop of Hartford, who spoke mainly on the life insurance feature of the order, and Past Grand Master F. J. Buckley, also of Hartford, who spoke more particularly on the fraternal benefits to the members.

Mr. Bishop stated that the society was founded 56 years ago at Meadville, Pa., and had paid $360,000,000 benefits to its members and had been operating on the new rates for 20 years, having $103 for every $100 reserve required by the state.

He said life insurance in the order costs 25 per cent. less than in the old line companies, and that $20,000,000 insurance had been written during the past year. The order has a reserve of $230,000 in Connecticut. If a brother is sick or in need, the order provides for him. The Columbia lodge has 236 members, Robert Cobb being master.

Members from the lodges in Hartford and Willimantic were present and a campaign for more members was urged.

During the evening several very brilliant piano selections were played by Mrs. Woodward, who is connected with a traveling vaudeville company, and songs were sung by Mrs. Philip Isham, accompanied by Mrs. Clayton E. Hunt. Refreshments followed, closing a very enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lyman of Plainville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James A. Utley at the Center and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lyman on Woodward Hill.

Miss Anna Dix of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Proctor for the past two weeks, is preparing to open her cottage at the lake. She made a trip to New York last week.

Mrs. Herbert Oehlers with her child Doris of Bloomfield, N. J., arrived in Columbia on Saturday and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Champlin, who are living in the old Columbia hotel on the Green.

Mrs. Curtis A. Holmes spent the past week in New London, which town was formerly her home.

Fred H. Avery and his son Kenneth of East Hartford spent Tuesday and Memorial day at his cottage on the Green.

A dance was held on Tuesday evening in Utley's hall under the management of parties from Manchester, being the same parties who held several dances there last summer.

Miss Fleurette G. Bergde of Springfield, Mass., who was teacher of the school on Chestnut Hill last year, was a visitor in town on Sunday last at the home of A. A. Latham.

Howard Yeomans of Hartford was a visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary B. Yeomans, on Memorial day.

Memorial day was fittingly observed in Columbia by a parade of the school children, with their teachers, the procession being led by three ex-service men—Raymond Lyman, Herman Brown and Philip Isham. They visited the West street cemetery, decorating 11 games, the cemetery at the Center, decorating 19 graves, and the old cemetery, where 26 graves were decorated. Graves of soldiers of the Revolutionary war, the war of 1812, the Civil war and the World war were decorated by them. After the flowers were laid upon the graves, Taps was sounded in each cemetery by Bert Lyman.

ROAD SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Seth W. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Noyes attended the union services at the Mystic Congregational church Sunday morning.

Dr. Ira H. Noyes of Providence motored to his father's home Sunday afternoon.

Clarence Shay and family of New London were at Horace Frink's on Sunday. Mr. Sanderson and friends of New London also were visitors there.

Word has been received here of the serious illness of Frank Lathrop of Norwich, who married Miss Sagne Wheeler of Stonington.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth N. Williams and Miss [illegible] D. Wheeler, attended the burial services of Reginald Hewitt of Uncasville which were held at the Mystic Elm Grove cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Phebe Ford celebrated her 83d birthday on Memorial day at her home in Mystic. Friends called and telephone calls and birthday cards were enjoyed. Ice cream and cake were served.

Amos G. Hewitt has returned from an auto trip to Virginia.

Mrs. Seth N. Williams leaves on Tuesday for a visit with friends in Providence.

Mrs. Emmeline Allyn is the guest of friends on Holyoke, Mass.

Elias Miner attended the play Patricia given in Mystic Wednesday evening.

Fred Sebastian and family have moved to Mystic to reside.

Miss Hannah Miner and friend of Mystic attended the Road church recently.

Miss Esther Billings motored to Providence Wednesday to attend the graduation exercises of her sister, Miss Priscilla Billings, as a nurse from the Homeopathic hospital.

There was no school in the rural districts on Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harris were at Joseph Hoyt's on Memorial day.

The regular grange meeting was held in the church parlors on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillyard of North Stonington were week end guests of George Wheeler.

Richard Wheeler and friend from Putnam spent the week end and Memorial day at his parents' home here.

ANDOVER

The Ladies' society met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Emily Cobb and held their annual meeting, electing officers for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Thompson and Mrs. J. C. Pelton were visitors Sunday at the former's home from Springfield.

E. M. Yeomans is having a cellar dug on which he is going to put up a new house soon.

Edward Standish has bought the Mary Brown place and is having all the buildings shingled.

At the town meeting Saturday night it was voted to buy the Baptist church and the land around it, and also a location has been selected for the Soldiers' memorial.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhoere of Waterbury were callers in town Sunday.

American aviators will pilot airplanes of the Mexican government's new air transportation lines.

Bulletin's Pattern Service

A SIMPLE SET OF HAT AND APRON.

Pattern 2285 is portrayed in this attractive model. It is cut in five sizes, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. A 4-year size will require 2 3-8 yards of 27-inch material for the apron and 1 yard for the hat.

Apron and hat may be made of the same material. Crotcola, linen, drill, gingham, chambray, percale and shantung could be used. The apron may serve as a dress and be worn with bloomers.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Send your order to The Bulletin Pattern Dept., 1148 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

HOW COOKING WAS DISCOVERED

AN OLD CHINESE LEGEND

Bo-bo, son of the swineherder Ho-ti, discovered the secret of roasting a pig.

Charles Lamb tells the story with the utmost gravity and the world is content to believe.

It was in an obscure Chinese village, centuries ago. Bo-bo was left in charge of the cottage of Ho-ti. Bo-bo was fond of playing with fire and let some sparks escape into a bundle of straw which, kindling quickly, spread the conflagration over every part of the house until it was reduced to ashes. With the house perished nine young pigs.

While Bo-bo was regarding the ruins, a tantalizing odor assailed his nostrils. Lamb says, "A premonitary moistening at the same time overflowed his nether lip." Bo-bo bent down to one of the pigs to see if there was any life left in it. In poking at it some of the hot juices burnt his finger and he straightaway put it in his mouth to relieve the pain. In this fashion he discovered that so far as eating is concerned, roasted pig is preferable to raw pig—a thing his ancestors had never discovered.

It was not long before the news spread, and the legend goes that soon fires broke out in every corner of the Chinese Empire. Fuel and pigs grew enormously dear, and the custom of firing houses continued until a sage arose who made a discovery that the flesh of swine, or any other animal might be cooked without the necessity of consuming a whole house.

It is a ludicrous and pathetic legend. Think of a primitive people, firing their homes in order that they might enjoy that roast pork which our modern range turns out, browned to just the right degree.

The modern mind laughs at the story of Bo-bo and his discovery, and the modern epicure would turn away from a roast that was accomplished amidst the debris of a dwelling, its straw, rafters and furnishings.

Thus has the world progressed. From Bo-bo and his bonfire to the twentieth century housewife and her Sterling Range.

Think of the ease with which she roasts her meats nowadays. With an efficient Sterling Range, cooking becomes a delight. Think of the economy! Whether she burns coal or gas in the Scientific Sterling, every bit of fuel is converted into heat. How different from the poor makeshift of Bo-bo, who had to destroy his entire dwelling, and then

IN NORWICH FIFTY YEARS AGO

One hundred and eleven graves were decorated in the town of Norwich on Memorial day in 1873, the work being done under the direction of Post Commander Knapp of Sedgwick post, No. 1, G. A. R.

The week was filled with many interesting events, some of which, taken from the files of The Bulletin, are in part as follows:

Monday, May 26, 1873.—George W. Fuller of this city has received the contract for laying water pipe across the basin at Toronto, a distance of one mile, by which means that city is to be furnished with pure water from Lake Ontario. Mr. Fuller receives his contract over the English, French and United States competitors, although his bids are much higher than some of the others. The pipe is to be of iron, made in England, and is three feet in inside diameter.

The latest style in hair cutting is a la Modoc—the hair being shaved off close to the head with the exception of a small tuft on the top, which is tied with a ribbon. Two of the local firemen appeared yesterday in the latest style of haircut, much to the amusement of their fellow fire fighters.

The semi-annual parade of the fire department took place Saturday and was by far the best ever seen in the city. Ten companies were in the line of march, numbering in all over 400 men, and the five bands provided all the music necessary for the parade. Visitors came in early from many cities in the state, among them foremen and fire chiefs from many of the state fire departments. Just before the parade, Chief Engineer Delaney was presented a handome silver trumpet through H. H. Osgood, foreman of the big steamer.

The thermometer stood at 90 yesterday, and it was mighty hot for everyone.

Tuesday, May 27, 1873.—Theodore Webb had a narrow escape from instant death yesterday while working on the hoisting elevator on the boat in the dock. His light overcoat became caught in the gears and he was drawn toward the gears. Throwing out his arms, he braced against the side of the gears until his two coats were ripped off and disappeared into the cog wheels.

Fifteen shares of the Norwich and Worcester railroad stock sold in Boston yesterday at 131 7-8.

Austin & Lord's variety combination gave a first class entertainment in Breed hall last evening. The singing of Mrs. Emma Austin was excellent and Charley still holds his own in his character songs and dances.

The Worcester and Nashua road proposes to build a postal car on the plan of the model postal car designed by C. R. Burdick of the Norwich and Worcester road.

There was an instance of spirit manifestations in town yesterday—a man had the delirium tremens.

Wednesday, May 28, 1873.—Charles Wormsley of Union street found a 25-pound turtle on the walk in front of his place of residence yesterday. The turtle was sent for soup later in the day and was enjoyed by Mr. Wormsley and his friends.

The steamer City of New York came up the river yesterday for the first time since she was built. She had to leave early in the afternoon, however, taking advantage of the tide to make the trip down the river.

Mr. Bitgood has already planned to start two new classes in designing and drawing. Many will be glad to secure the instruction of so capable an instructor.

In the house yesterday a petition was referred, one authorizing the city of Norwich to issue bonds of $175,000. An act was also referred making Bozrahead church bodies purchasers in law as well as ecclesiastical societies.

Thursday, May 29, 1873.—C. W. Carter has in his store a gold watch that is over 200 years old and is an exact counterpart of the watch Washington presented to Lafayette. It is small in circumference, open face, and much thicker than the watches of the present day. The case is embellished with figures in relief representing Mars crowning the goddess of peace, with attendants standing near. It is a repeater, striking the hour, half and quarter, and is of great value.

People have been appealed to by Sedgwick post, G. A. R., to bring flowers to be used to decorate the graves of veterans. The season has been backward, and there is a great scarcity of flowers this year.

At a meeting of the common council held last evening it was voted that the voters should be enrolled at the time of voting. The sum of $200 was also voted the president of the board of water commissioners for services during the past year.

In observance of Memorial day it had been requested that all flags of the city be flown at half mast during the day in honor of the dead. The parade is to start at 2 o'clock and there will be short addresses at the various local cemeteries, where the graves will be decorated.

Friday, May 30, 1873.—Last evening Maggie Mitchell was greeted with one of the largest audiences that ever filled a local hall, and thanks are due to General Coit, who has brought so many first class entertainments to our city. Maggie Mitchell surpassed everyone's expectations last night, delighting her audience, and more; she brought them to tears. The management has been untiring in its efforts to put Fanchon and Little Barefoot on the stage in this city in first class style. The scenery used last night was painted expressly for Maggie Mitchell's entertainment, and was worked as smoothly and as accurately as in the largest theatres in the country.

Mr. Smith has stated that it will cost between $8,000 and $10,000 to repair the Greeneville bridge, and then we will still have a condemned birdge on our hands. It is believed that better sense would be to erect a new bridge rather than to brace the old one for several years.

John Leighton, the artist in the Richards building, has several fine portraits of local people on exhibition at his studio.

Saturday, May 31, 1873.—Memorial day was fittingly observed by local citizens yesterday. The annual parade took place at 2 o'clock, after which the services were held in Greeneville and at other local cemeteries in charge of Commander Knapp. The line was headed by the Mechanics band, followed by Company C, Captain Lathrop, members of Sedgwick post, soldiers and sailors, mayor, city officials and carriages. Among the prominent guests were Senator Buckingham and Admiral Lanman, with Reverends Twiss and Sykes.

The Greeneville bridge question has been settled and a new bridge will soon be erected, all of iron, the cost not to exceed $8,500.

Another million dollar fire struck Boston yesterday and as reports came to this city that the fire was spreading rapidly the local department held itself in readiness to leave to aid the Boston men at first call. After burning for over four hours, the fire was brought under control and the local men sent congratulations to their Boston friends at their brave fight.

A very handsome gate on rollers is being placed at the entrance to Yantic cemetery.

One hundred and eleven graves were decorated in this town yesterday by those in charge of the Memorial day work.

ECHOES FROM THE LODGE ROOMS

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Wauregan Lodge, No. 6, still continues to show that she is very much alive in the fraternal world. Applications are being presented at every meeting from a class of young fellows who are showing great interest in the work that is being done. Last night a class of ten journeyed to Jewett City and were given the rank of knight. On Tuesday evening, another class will receive the same rank at Colchester. On Tuesday evening the 13th the election of officers will take place and an interesting evening is in store. A full attendance is expected so that all loose ends can be tied up and a clean slate presented for the new term.

A benefit whist for Wauregan lodge, No. 6, was held Thursday evening at the Buckingham Memorial in charge of Joseph Mackey, and a good sum of money was realized for the treasury of the lodge. Owing to conflicting dates many who had purchased tickets were unable to attend but nine tables were filled and an enjoyable evening spent.

The winners were as follows: White counters, first, Miss N. Baker, 2nd, Mrs. G. Kaplan; consolation, Miss J. Rochette; green counters, first, Mrs. George T. Lowman of Columbus, Neb.; 2nd, George Morse; consolation, Mrs. Harry J. Laturner.

The scorers for the play of the every were Mrs. Joseph Mackey and Mrs. Harry Salomon.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS

A delegation of six gold star war mothers recently made a pilgrimage to France to visit the graves of their soldier sons, sailing on the Volendam of the Holland-American line for Cherbourg. On Memorial day, Mrs. Brawley, a member of the Philadelphia auxiliaries to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, placed a wreath of V. F. W. poppies on the French 'Unknown Soldier's grave beneath the Arc de triomphe in Paris. Members of Franklin post of the V. F. W., in Paris, high French officials and attaches of the American embassy participated in the ceremony.

Representatives of the V. F. W. also placed wreaths on the grave of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington cemetery, at the foot of the new Danish war memorial monument at Copenhagen, and at the base of the soldiers and sailors' monument in New York city. Like exercises were held in several hundred cities, all taking place at high noon.

A special service was the dropping of a floral anchor on the waters of the Atlantic by Lieutenant Kenneth Coontz, U. S. N., sailor son of Admiral Coontz and commander of Robert E. Peary ship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. This was a tribute to United States sailors who have died at sea.

ODD FELLOWS

Uncas lodge, No. 11, met Monday evening at Odd Fellows' hall on Main street with a good attendance. Noble Grand William C. Amburn presided at the meeting and considerable routine business was transacted and plans for a busy month were discussed. On June 4th the initiation degree will be worked and it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the meeting. The memorial committee reported that the memorial service will be held June 17th and members are requested to assemble at the lodge room to go in a body to St. Andrew's church where appropriate exercises will be carried out. Details are to be announced later.

ODD FELLOWS, M. U.

After the regular meeting of Hugh H. Osgood lodge, No. 6920, in Steiner hall Friday night, with N. G. Sylvester Tarbox presiding, a social hour for the members and their lady friends was enjoyed. The program included Bros. Hollingsworth and Samuel Armitage, Scotch character songs by Fred Power and Bert Turner and songs by Miss Hartley and Mrs. Cousins. The accompanist was Bro. A. Rennard. Remarks on the good of the order were made by P. G. McNeely and J. Woolley, Sr., and Bro. Crooks. Refreshments were served. The arrangements were carried out by Bros. Finlayson and Crooks, ably assisted by the ladies of Victory lodge, with Mrs. James Johnson as chairman.

GROTTO.

Nemrod Grotto is preparing to give the New London County Home children an outing on the last Saturday in June. Grotto members will provide automobiles which will convey the children for a day of pleasure the traffic arrangements being in the hands of Prophet Raymond C. Brittin.

At the Grotto meeting next Monday evening an entertainment and smoker will follow the business and a ladies' night has been planned for the 18th with whist, entertainment and dance.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS

MARKET EGGS BY DOZENS OR POUNDS

The selling of eggs by weight is a matter which has been advocated by dealers and consumers in some of the larger cities for some time and is a practice that is quite generally followed in several European countries.

Discussion of this matter is often influenced by the price of eggs. When eggs are low priced, no one seems to bother about the weight but when eggs are high priced as in the fall and winter, discussion of this matter is often revived.

When eggs are high priced it may be an injustice to both dealer and consumer when they are sold by the dozen. The producer who sells large eggs at the same price that the nearby producer gets for his smaller eggs is not getting as much for his product because it is a well known fact that the hens laying larger eggs do no, as a rule, lay as many as those laying smaller eggs. Some breeders hatch chicks only from their producers of the largest and best eggs in order to produce a strain of fowls that will lay eggs of good size and when selling by the dozen they get practically no credit for the size except that perhaps their eggs may be a little more in demand by a local trade.

On the other hand, the consumer of eggs who will pay 50 cents to one dollar a dozen during the winter for eggs will find a great difference in the food value received for the money in eggs of different weight. On the basis of food value, some eggs at a dollar a dozen may be cheaper than others at 50 cents a dozen.

Perhaps the chief reason why eggs have almost always been sold by the dozen is because this seems to be the most handy method. Eggs must be carefully handled and cannot be thrown on the scales like potatoes, etc. Also if eggs were sold by the pound, hotel and restaurant keepers might show a preference for small eggs as these would give them more individual orders for their money.

To substantiate this idea, some breeders have made the statement that they would consider Bantam fowls the most profitable breed if eggs were sold by the pound. The argument for this is that certain buyers like the hotel and restaurant trade would want eggs that made up the largest number in the pound.

As an argument against selling by the pound, many poultry producers argue that this would not make much difference because their pullet eggs are small and eggs from mature fowls are somewhat larger and what is lost by selling larger eggs by the dozen is gained by selling the smaller ones by the dozen.

Marketable eggs should weigh not less than two ounces each. At this rate, a crate of thirty dozen eggs will weigh forty-five pounds, exclusive of the crate. In markets where quality is carefully considered such eggs will be in better demand and will often sell for somewhat better prices than eggs of smaller size.

Eggs that are much larger than two ounces each are not profitable to sell because they bring very little if any higher prices in the general market and hens do not lay many more. In special markets it is possible to get a premium on eggs that average about two and one-half ounces.

The weight of eggs depends to a large extent upon the breed of fowls that lay them and also on the peculiarities of individual fowls. The following, however, gives the average weight of fowls' eggs:

Eggs	Ounces
8 hen's eggs average	16
11 guinea eggs average	16
1 duck egg	3
1 turkey egg	4
1 goose egg	6 or 7

—S. W. Shoemaker.

PROBABLE INCREASE IN SPRING PIGS INDICATED

The number of sows bred to farrow during the first six months of 1923 will be 13 per cent more than the number of sows which actually farrowed in the spring of 1922, provided farmers carry out their intentions as indicated in the December 1, 1922, pig survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture. For the 11 corn belt states the survey shows an intention to breed 15.6 per cent more sows than a year ago. Most of the southern states show an actual decrease in prospect for 1923.

The probable increase in farrowings in the spring of 1923 over 1922 compares with an increase of 22.8 per cent in the spring of 1922 over 1921 in the 11 Corn Belt states. The spring pig crop of 1922 in the southern states was about the same as in 1921. Comparisons for other states are not available.

Whether or not the expressed intentions of farmers with regard to the number of sows to be bred to farrow next spring will be carried out will depend largely on the relative prices of hogs and corn, the department says.

An actual increase of 16 per cent in the number of spring pigs in 1922 over 1921 is shown in the December survey as compared with the estimated increase of 14.5 per cent shown in the May survey. The number of pigs saved per litter up to July 1, 1922, in the corn belt states is placed at 5.8 as compared with 5.7 saved up to May 1. This increase in number of pigs saved accounts for the revised estimate in the number of spring pigs in 1922, the department says.

EXPERIMENTS PROVE CERTAIN FACTS ABOUT CORN

The wise corn grower will look well to all the factors that tend profitably to increase his crop. Before planting time is at hand, careful plans should be made. These plans may deal with but two groups of factors—the first group having to do with seed, the second with producing a favorable environment or plant home.

Under the first head one considers such points as the selection of a variety, acclimation of the seed, selection of the seed, its curing, storage and testing for viability in the early spring. For grain, one should select a variety that will mature before frost, but that utilizes all the growing season. While for silage a variety that will produce the maximum of grain is ideal, yet it may be so large that frequently frosts might come before the grains are hard.

From the standpoint of environment the proper place in the rotation is significant as is the amount of manure and the method of its application. The time of plowing and the means of fitting the seed bed may make great difference in the total yield of grain or silage as well as to determine the profit secured from the corn crop and from the general farm operations.

The following statements prepared by Henry L. Dorsey of Connecticut Agricultural College are of interest to corn growers and may prove helpful in arranging for next year's crop or in answering troublesome questions:

1. Smooth dented ears yield better than very rough ones.
2. Shelling tests are of little significance. Trials have shown seed from ears showing a low per cent of grain to yield better than from ones with a high per cent of grain.
3. Seed from one part of the ear is as valuable as from another. However, the seed from the middle portion of the ear is preferable since a more uniform stand results when mechanical planters are used.
4. A large number of rows on the seed ear is no indication of high productive power.
5. Earliness is apparently associated with low placings of the ears on the stalk. Yet, moderate selecting for low ears has not reduced yields.
6. No change in yield has resulted from growing seed on rich or poor soil.
7. Clover is an ideal crop to precede corn.
8. Fall plowing of turf increases corn yields. It also helps to reduce grub worm and wire worm injury.
9. The seed bed should be harrowed to save water evaporation on dry, windy spring days and to destroy the weeds when small.
10. A moderate application of manure balanced with acid phosphate is the most economical fertilizer treatment.
11. The cheapest cultivation is that done with the harrow before planting. It destroys weeds cheaply reduce the yield of the most hardy corn varieties.
12. It pays to thin corn if too thick. Excessively thick corn uses plant food to produce leaf and stalk rather than to make grain.

PROF. HOLLISTER ON FUTURE FOR GRAPES

What about the future of the grape industry? Several things, admittedly, might happen in the meantime, but Prof. S. P. Hollister of Connecticut Agricultural College, expresses the opinion that the grape industry ought to be profitable for at least ten years.

For location of a vineyard, Prof. Hollister advises a hillside with a southern slope, good atmosphere and water drainage, and medium sandy loam soil, which is not inclined to fry out too much in late summer and fall.

"Grapes," says Prof. Hollister, "require a long growing season. Elevation helps prevent injury by early frosts. Heavy soils are often too cold and late for best development of the grape vine. Planting a few vines about the house is advisable only where the vines will receive sunlight and air and where they can be sprayed without damaging buildings or other plants."

Strong, one-year old plants are preferred to older ones. Before setting the young plant, prune off all broken roots and shorten the others to from six to twelve inches. Grapes should be well cultivated the first year, although other attention is not necessary.

LEGUMES AND MANURE CHEAPER THAN NITROGEN

The following information on the fertilizer situation is submitted by J. S. Owens, crops specialist for the Extension Service:

"It is apparent that bargain counters with surplus fertilizer will not be as common this season as in 1921 and 1922, yet substantial savings are in prospect for the more judicial customers.

"Recent advances in cotton prices have stimulated buying of fertilizers in the south and the south uses about 75 per cent. of the fertilizers of the country. However, the northeastern section of the country has not been favored. Potato, cabbage, hay and grain producers, all moderate users of commercial fertilizers, will be hesitant in buying this season.

"While fertilizer materials are plentiful, they are not burdensome in the hands of jobbers or manufacturers, as they were the past two seasons, consequently, they will not likely have to stimulate buying by revising prices. The organic ammoniates, cottonseed meal, tankage, and fish, are commanding high prices as animal feeds and very small amounts are being sold as fertilizer. Obviously, farmers can pay more for them as feed than for fertilizer. Chile has been able to control the exportation of nitrate of soda so that even though there are large quantities mined ready to ship, there is no surplus here. The coal strike and limited steel production kept the sulphate of ammonia production low for a long period, and now the supply is not equal to the demand and no surplus is predicted before next season's use. This situation is depicted in the following wholesale prices (New York) on December 9. A pound of ammonia in nitrate of soda cost 14.2c; in sulphate of ammonia, 16c; in fish scrap 26.2c; in tankage 23.5c.

"Both phosphorus and potash in acid phosphate and muriate of potash respectively are lower than they were last season. Present wholesale prices are 3c per pound for phosphoric acid and 36c per pound for pure potash. Phosphoric acid in bone meal is quoted at about 8.3c per pound or over two and a half times the cost in acid phosphate.

"The nitrogen (ammonia) cost makes up an unduly large proportion of the cost of a mixed fertilizer. For example, the wholesale cost of two units from nitrate of soda is $15.33 while eight units of phosphoric acid and four units of potash together cost only $6.80. That is, the nitrogen in a 4-8-4 fertilizer costs approximately two and a half times as much as the phosphorus and potash together.

Field crops do need phosphorus and potash, and nitrogen can be largely supplied by barnyard manure and legumes. Better saving and use of manure are always in keeping with economical crop production; growing legumes is always a common practice with progressive dairymen, but this year with dear nitrogen and cheap, phosphorous and potash; the place of manure and legumes becomes of greater importance than ever."

CAMPBELL'S MILLS

Invitations have been received for the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Wilcox at their home in this place on Thursday.

Miss Lottie Reynolds of Exeter, R. I., is visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox.

Mrs. B. S. Hall spent last Friday in Norwich.

John Barber and son Lloyd were recent business callers at Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tanner, Walter Tanner and Miss Margaret Tanner attended the funeral of their uncle, Henry Saunders, at Moscow, R. I., on Monday.

Recent family reunions have been held at the homes of George Tanner and Willard Gardner.

SERVICE AND COURTESY

When you bring your shoe repair work to us, you can be certain of having a good job done.

We know shoes, and we take pains to make our work neat and lasting.

You will find modern machinery and modern methods used in this shop, so that our service may be the best we can make it.

Shoe-Fix

145 State St., New London

Franklin Square, Norwich

Phone 949

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Value News of Sales and Specials

Presenting Typical Week-end Savings for Shoppers Who Appreciate the Fact That Our Standards of Quality Are Fully Maintained.

Our Men's Store

Everything in Men's Wear—Outfitters to Man and Boy

Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, Hosiery, Neckwear, Etc.

Complete showing of Men's Summer Suits, including Palm Beach, Mohairs, Gabardines, Whip Cord, Two and Three-Piece Suits, in Sport Models, Conservative Models, Stouts and Regulars, in Kuppenheimers and other good makes—at $15.00 to $30.00.

MEN'S STRAW HATS

Men's Straw Hats, Fancy Braids, Sennets and Split Straws, sizes 6 3-4 to 7 5-8—at $1.50 to $4.00.

MEN'S BATHING SUITS

Men's Bathing Suits—snappy looking, serviceable Suits, in all the latest models and leading colors—at $3.50 to $6.00.

ATHLETIC UNION SUITS

Men's Athletic Union Suits, in a full line of sizes—Nainsook at 69c a suit—Balbriggan at $1.25 a suit.

WHITE OXFORD SHIRTS

Men's White Oxford Shirts, button-down collars, sizes 14 to 18 1-2—at $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.

MEN'S SPRING PAJAMAS

New Spring line of Men's Pajamas, new models, good assortment—at $1.50 to $6.00 a suit.

Women's Full-Fashioned or "Three Seam" Pure Silk Hosiery, Sub-Standards of $2.00 and $2.50 Grades, at $1.39

These are remarkable value and will give excellent service, the imperfections being so slight that they can scarcely be noticed. They are in black, a few colors and a good assortment of white—On Sale at $1.39 a pair, regular values $2.00 and $2.50.

(ON SPECIAL TABLE—MAIN AISLE)

Children's Three-quarter Socks, with hand clox, in a good assortment of wanted colors and sizes, regular 75c value, at.... 48c

One case of Women's "Burson" Dropstitch Mercerized Hosiery, black and cordovan, sub-standards, regular 50c value, at 39c

Women's Summer-weight Vests and Bodices, regular and extra large sizes, value 39c, at 29c

Women's Summer-weight Ribbed Union Suits, all styles, value $1.00, at 69c

Women's "Munsing" Mercerized Union Suits, low neck styles, value $2.39, at..... $1.79

Women's "Forest Mills" Silk and Lisle Vests and Bodices, regular and extra large sizes, regular 50c value, at 39c

Linen Handkerchiefs, 3 for 50c

Women's Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, plain colors with embroidered corners, in pink, light blue, tan, nile and lavender — SPECIAL PRICE 3 FOR 50c, regular value 25c.

Our Apparel Section, Second Floor

Is an attractive spot for Women these June days. For Saturday we offer a number of special values in Apparel of all kinds.

Our entire stock of Women's Spring Wraps, Capes and Suits—all at reduced prices.

New Jacquettes, gray and tan knit with contrasting embroidery—$10.95 to $25.00.

Also of Flannel, with and without braid binding, in gray, red, green and navy—at $14.50.

Women's Knife-pleated Skirts, a wonderful showing in gray, tan, navy and black—at $9.95, $12.50 and $16.50.

Women's and Misses' Cotton and Linen Frocks, newest fabrics and models for summer wear — Prices are $9.95, $10.95 and up to $27.50.

Women's Summer Silk Dresses, the newest Novelty Silks, in Canton, Roshanara and Pongee —Price range $17.50 to $27.50.

Bathing costumes for Women and Misses — a comprehensive assortment that includes all the leading styles of the season, at reasonable prices —$3.50, $5.00 and up to $18.95.

SILK RATINE, 59c

36-inch Silk Ratine, one of the most desirable of this season's fabrics, in all the leading plain colors —Special price 59c a yard, regular value $1.00.

WHITE RIBBONS

A splendid showing of White Ribbons, in all widths, for all purposes, in Satin and in Taffeta, plain and moire—all at prices that are less than today's values.

Extra Special Values In Domestic Department For Saturday

150 yards of fine White Dotted Swiss, including fine "pin" dots, regular value 39c—Special price a yard 25c

150 yards of Imported Swiss Organdie, permanent luster and finish, regular value $1.25—Special price 79c

36-inch All White "Non-crushable" Dress Linen, regular value $1.25—Special price a yard..... 79c

90-inch Bleach "Pequot" quality Sheeting (at less than today's mill cost), regular value $1.00 — Special price a yard 65c

25 dozen "Booth Mills" Towels, size 18x36 inches, regular value 25c, at 19c

BOYS' WEAR

Boys' Golf Caps, all wool, light and dark mixtures, value 75c, at 50c

Boys' Navy Serge Golf Caps, value $1.00, at 69c

Boys' Straw Hats, regular value $2.50, at $1.95

Other good values in Boys' Straw Hats—at $1.50, $1.25 and 75c

Boys' Norfolk Suits, in neat mixtures, with two pairs of Knickerbockers, sizes 7 to 17, value $12.00, at $8.50

Boys' Navy Serge Norfolk Suits, with two pairs of Knickerbockers, sizes 7 to 17, value $12.00, at $9.50

Boys' Norfolk Suits, all wool, in stylish Tweeds and mixtures, sizes 8 to 18, value $16.50, at $13.00

WOMEN'S SWEATERS

Women's and Misses' Slip-on Sweaters, all colors, value $2.00, at $1.25

Women's and Misses' All-Wool Slip-on Sweaters, black, white and colors, value $4.00, at..... $1.75

Women's and Misses' Sport Sweaters, value $5.50, at..... $3.95

Women's Fibre Silk Tuxedo Sweaters, regular value $12.00, at $9.50

Extra good values in Women's Sleeveless Sweaters and Jacquettes —at $3.98 and upwards.

CANDY SPECIALS

5c Buntes' Tango Bars, 3 for.. 10c
50c Buntes' Special Gum Drops 39c
50c Buntes' Cocoanut Cakes... 39c
40c Bitter Sweet Peppermints. 29c
60c "Old Lyme" Bitter Sweet Peppermints 39c
Lewis' Milk Chocolates, sold either all one flavor or assorted, at 50c
Reputation Chocolate Covered Cherries, Pineapple Cocktails, Strawberry Cocktails, etc., at.. 50c

TOILET GOODS

50c Pebeco Tooth Paste..... 32c
50c La Blache Face Powder... 39c
60c Pompeian Beauty Powder. 39c
50c Watkins' Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo 39c
60c De Miracle Hair Remover 45c
$1.00 Dandarine 75c
$1.00 Coty's Face Powder..... 75c
$1.00 Terra Derma Lax, the English 40-minute Beauty Clay 89c
$1.50 Double Compacts, Face Powder and Rouge 98c

25c "P. & M.'s" Listerated Tooth Paste, 2 for 25c

FOR GRADUATION

Novelty Earrings, newest ideas — 25c to $2.98 a pair.
Pearl Beads ..... 50c to $10.95
Cut Stone Beads, amber, garnet, jet and combination colors—39c to $3.50.
Silk Umbrellas, all colors — $2.98 to $12.00.

Ivory Pyralin Toiletwares — slightly imperfect goods at 1-2 prices — perfect goods at one-quarter off regular prices.

GARMENT BAGS

Moth-proof Garment Bags, in these sizes:
40-inch—at 89c
56-inch—at 79c
60-inch—at 89c

LEATHER GOODS

$3.00 Black Enamel Vanity Cases, with inside tray and fillings, at $1.95
Latest Silk Pouch Bags, with pierced frames, at $2.98
$3.00 Women's Dress Suit Cases, black enamel, two locks, silk-lined with slipper pockets, length 22 inches, at $5.98

MAIN FLOOR SPECIALS

10c Socklet Garters 5c
5c Willimantic Machine Thread, 8 for 25c
10c Neck Bands, all sizes, 4 for 25c
10c Mending Tissue, 4 for.... 25c
50c Kleinert's Dress Shields.. 39c
Copyright Books, cloth bound, about 200 titles, taken from regular 75c list, at 29c

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

ANOTHER BANK STREET STORE HAS BEEN BURGLARIZED

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, June 1.—Bank street appears to have been selected by burglars as a business center that is easy to operate in, for within two weeks there have been five burglaries there and four attempts to burglarize.

At Easton & Wilson's ship chandlery store at Nos. 208-210, last night, thieves forced a rear entrance and stole a quantity of razors and about fifty pocket knives. Two attempts have been made recently to burglarize the store of James Ames and attempts were also made to force entrance to the store of Hirsch & Co., and the Cheney-Packer Co., while entrances were made to the stores of E. Grenn and Bishop's music store.

George A. Hastings of Niantic will be arraigned in the police court tomorrow morning, charged with violation of the automobile laws in passing intersecting streets without reducing the speed of his machine or sounding a signal. Hastings was ordered into court late this afternoon by Motorcycle Officer William Hancock.

T. F. Moran, a contractor, is the latest builder to complain of building material being stolen. Moran is causing a dwelling to be erected on South Ledyard street and he informed the police tonight that material used for the erection of the building is being stolen, while other material is destroyed. Moran suspects that boys are guilty of the thieving.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greenberg celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage this evening by entertaining a few of their friends at their home, No. 14 Whittlesey street. The evening was passed in a social way.

The condition of Attorney Arthur T. Keefe, who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital Thursday morning, is reported this evening as being as comfortable as could be expected.

Some of the streets about the city that are much the worse for lack of attention, are receiving the attention of the highway department. In several instances the highways are being tared and given a dressing of sand, an improvement that has been needed for some time.

Miss Elizabeth MacDougall of Main street, a patient at Home Memorial hospital, was able to return to her home today.

The body of James Andrews, a sailor at the United States Coast Guard Academy, whose death occurred Wednesday at Lawrence-Memorial, was forwarded to Andrews' former home in Portsmouth, Va., today for funeral and interment.

Mrs. Sarah K. Crandall of Westerly died at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital Memorial day. Mrs. Crandall was 83 years of age and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George Richards of Mystic and two brothers, George and Frederick B. Sprague of Westerly.

The contract for razing the Augustus Williams house at the corner of State and Huntington streets, which was recently purchased by Frederick W. Mercer, Theodore Bodenwein and J. P. Taylor Armstrong as a site for the construction of business houses, has been awarded to the Metropolitan Wrecking company of New Haven. Work on tearing down the structure will start within a few days and it is believed that the massive house can be taken away within thirty days after work is started.

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of Chapman Technical school will be delivered by Rev. Chester H. Howe, pastor of the First Baptist church in the school auditorium next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. George E. Bradford has brought suit against Thomas De Polis of Westerly for $2,000 for injuries to his person and damage to his motorcycle. The case is returnable before the next term of the superior court.

Announcement is made at Torrington of the engagement of Miss Rue Horton Lewis of that place and well known in New London, to Lieut. William E. Lawhead, a surgeon in the United States navy. Miss Lewis is the daughter of Benjamin F. Lewis, a former resident of New London and a niece of Mrs. Robert F. MacAdams and Mrs. Walter Burdick of New London.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Home Memorial hospital is in receipt of $37 more from the sale of poppies on the streets Memorial day. This amount added to yesterday's total brings the receipts up to $587.

The request of the journeymen plumbers for an increase in wages of twenty cents an hour will probably be granted at a conference of the journeymen and masters to take place Saturday evening. The matter was not settled at the conference of the two bodies last night, final adjustment being referred until tomorrow night. The journeyman now receive a minimum wage of eighty cents an hour, although the more competent of the approximate fifty journeymen have been receiving a compensation of ninety cents an hour.

The fire department was called out this morning when a two-story brick storehouse on Water street, owned by Palmer Brothers, was discovered ablaze. The roof and interior of the building was slightly damaged as were several bales of cotton.

The fire, which undoubtedly originated from a spark from a passing locomotive, was discovered by Charles Nott, a driver of Palmer Brothers, who was at the building. Nott observed smoke issuing from over the roof and investigating, discovered the blaze. A still alarm was sent to the central fire station and Namasaug Engine company and the Allen Hook and Ladder company responded.

About the time these companies arrived and had a line of hose stretched to the structure an excited person pulled an alarm from Box 34, summoning practically all of the city's fire fighting apparatus. There was no need of the services of the extra companies for the fire was subdued by the first of the firemen to reach the burning building.

The department was called out this evening at 7.40 o'clock when a fire was discovered at the Day Nursery, No. 250 Main street. An alarm was rung in from Box 25, corner of Main and Federal streets. The department made a quick run, but their services were of short duration, for the fire, which was on the roof of the building was extinguished by a stream of water played upon it by a garden hose used about the premises. Like the fire early in the day the fire probably started from a spark from a passing locomotive for no heat was in the building.

Patrolman Augustus Hay was cited in the police court this morning for violation of the motor vehicle

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales, 971,000 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged $3.86, net loss 2.17. High 1923; 106.38; low, 95.77.

Twenty railroads averaged $1.42, net loss 1.62. High 1923; 90.62; low 80.13.

SHARP SETBACK IN MARKET

New York, June 1.—Stock prices sustained a sharp setback in today's more active market. The rapidity of the declining rise to ex- ...ceed...ular commitments at current levels induced rather extensive short selling by bear traders, which was aided by heavy liquidation for the account of curb houses, which were forced to sell stock on the "big board" to meet obligations arising from the bankruptcy of the largest curb house.

The reaction covered the entire list, losses in a number of the active shares ranging from 1 to nearly 5 points. Investment railroad shares yielded with the rest despite the unusually favorable April earnings statements and the fact that car loadings for the week ending May 19, were the largest this year and within 2 1-2 per cent. of the high record for all time made on Oct. 14, 1919.

Public interest in the market is at a low ebb. Brokers' loans are now estimated at $1,270,000,000 or $300,0000,000 below those on May 1.

The sharpest breaks today were in the speculative industrials. California Petroleum, which has been one of the individual favorites all week, established a new high for all time at 117 3-4 and then slumped to 111 7-8, where it was off 4 1-8 points on the day. American Can closed 4 5-8 points lower at 97 1-8 and Baldwin was off 5 at 127 1-4.

Losses of 2 points or more also were established by Studebaker, American Woolen, American Smelting, Kelly-Springfield, American Locomotive, Corn Products, American Ice, American Tobacco B, Chandler Motor, Stewart-Warner, Speedometer, Stromberg Carburetor, Colorado Fuel, Phillips Petroleum, Houston Oil, Producers & Refiners, Republic and Gulf States Steels, Northern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Lehigh Valley, New Orleans, Teas & Meico and St. Paul preferred.

New low records for the year were made by Marine common and preferred and American International Corporation, weakness of which reflected speculativ uncertainty over the marine dividend. Bethlehem Steel, quoted ex-dividend, touched 51, its lowest price of the year.

Call money opened at 5 1-4 per cent., but eased off to 4 1-2 before the close. Time money was available at 5 per cent. for all maturities. Commercial paper was fairly active, the bulk of the prime names commanding 5 per cent.

Trading in foreign exchanges was more active with irregular changes in rates. Demand sterling improved slightly to $4.62 11-16 and French francs dropped 3 points to 6.50 cents. German marks established another new low at .0013 3-8 cents. Norwegian and Greece exchange was strong.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	High.	Low.	Close
Al Chem & D	71	69¼	69½
Allis Chalm	43	41½	41½
Am Ag Chem	19	18¾	18¾
Am Beet Sugar	39	38	38
Am Bosch Mag	40¾	40	40
Am Can	103⅝	97	97⅛
Am Car & Fdy	170	170	170
Am Cot Oil	7¾	7⅜	7⅜
Am Cot Oil pr	17½	17½	17½
Am Hide & Leath	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Am H & L pr	47⅛	47	47
Am Int Corp	25	22	22⅛
Am Tel & Tel	123	122¾	123
Am Tobacco	147½	146½	146½
Am Wool	91½	89⅛	89¾
Am Wool pr	101⅞	101⅝	101⅝
Anaconda	45⅝	44⅛	44⅛
Atlso Oil	116¼	116¼	116¼
Atchison	100⅛	99½	99½
Atchison pr	89	88¾	88¾
Balt & Ohio	49⅜	48⅛	48⅝
Beth Steel ex-di	52⅜	51	51⅛
Beth St pr new	90½	90⅛	90⅛
Brook R Tr 1 pr	17¾	17⅛	17⅛
But Cop & Z	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
But & Sup Cop	24⅛	23⅛	23⅛
Can Pacific div	152	150	150
Cent Leath	28	26⅝	27
Cent Leath pr	68	66	66
Chand Motor	61⅛	59¼	59⅝
Ches & Ohio	66	64½	64½
Ches & O pr	102½	102⅛	102⅛
Ch & Gt West	5⅝	5⅛	5⅛
Chic M & St P	21½	21	21
C M & St P pr	37⅜	36	36
C M & St P	21½	21	21
C R I & P	29¾	28¼	28¼
Chile Cop	26⅝	26¼	26¼
Chino Cop	22½	22	22
Cosden	47⅞	46⅛	47
Crucible Steel	72¾	68¾	70
Del & Hudson	112	111⅝	111⅝
Dome Mines	35⅝	33	34⅜
Erie	12	11½	11⅝
Erie 1 pr	19	18⅛	18⅛
Erie 2 pr	13⅛	13	13
Gen Electric	177	175	176
Gen Elec spl	11	11	11
Gen Motor	15⅝	15½	15⅝
Gen Mot pr	83½	83⅛	83½
Gen Mot 6 pc db	83½	83⅛	83½
Great North pr	72½	70⅛	70½
Hudson Motor	25⅞	25	25
Hupp Motor	22	21½	21½
Illinois Cent	110¾	109¼	109½
Inspir Copper	32½	31⅛	31⅛
Int Har Co	83½	82¾	82⅝
Int Mer Mar	8	7¼	7½
Int Mer M pr	30¾	28⅝	29⅛
Kennecott	37½	35⅞	36
Keystone Tire	6⅞	6⅜	6⅜
Lehigh Valley	63	60⅜	60⅜
Max Mot A	58⅝	47	47
Miami Cop	26¼	26	26
M St P SS M lei	61	61	61
Mo K & T new	13	13	13
M K & T pr new	34½	34½	34½
Nt Enam & St	65¼	63	64
N Y Air Brake	36	36	36
N Y Central	98⅞	96⅝	97⅜
N Y N H & H	17⅝	17	17
Norf South	13½	13	13
Nor & West	108¾	107½	107½
North Pacific	71⅜	71	71
Pacific Oil	37¼	36⅜	36⅝
Penn R R	44¾	44¼	44¼
Pierce Oil	3¼	3¼	3¼
Pierce O pr	30½	30½	30¼
Reading	74	73¼	73¼
Reading 1 pr	51⅜	51¼	51¼
Reading 2 pr	51⅜	51⅜	51⅜
Replogle Steel	19⅜	19½	19⅜
Rep I & St	51¾	48¼	48¾
Rep I & St pr	95¼	95¼	95¼
South Pac	88⅜	87⅝	87⅝
South Ry	34¼	32⅝	32⅝
South Ry pr	66¼	66	66
Tenn C & C	9⅞	9¾	9⅞
Tob Prod	53¼	52¾	53
Tob Prod pr A	82	81¾	81¾
Union Pac ex-div	135	133⅛	133⅜
Union Pac pr	73	72	72¼
U S Rubber	52	50⅛	50⅛
U S Rub 1 pr	100	100	100
U S Steel	97¾	95⅝	95⅞
U S Steel pr	117¾	117½	117¼
West Un Tel	108⅛	108	108
West Air B	85	85	85
West El & Mfg	56¾	55¼	55⅜
Willys O'land	62¼	58¾	59
Worth P & M	32½	32½	32½

BOND MARKET

New York, June 1.—Prices sagged in today's relatively dull trading in bonds on the New York stock exchange. The high grade investment issues, however, changed but little in the trading with the exception of the Libertys which turned reactionary. Recession in the active U. S. government bonds was expected in view of their consistent firmness of late together with the slight scarcity of time funds over the first of the month period.

Foreign government issues held firm with light trading. Serbian 8's continued to advance, gaining 1 1-8 points.

Changes among the railroad mortgages generally were limited to fractions, a drop of a point by Erie General 4's which have recently moved forward, being the only outstanding change in the group. Industrial liens also were dull with price movements confined to fractions in most cases. Sinclair Pipe line 5's dropped 1 3-8 and Cerro De Pasco Copper 8's were off 1 1-4.

Total sales (par value) were $9,604,000.

Liberty Bonds.

	High.	Low.	Close
3½s, 1947	100-24	100-20	100-20
1st 4¼s, '47	98-15	98-9	98-9
2d 4¼s, '42	98-12	98-6	98-9
3d 4¼s, '28	98-28	98-24	98-24
4th 4¼s, '38	98-17	98-11	98-12
Treas 4¼s	99-23	99-14	99-16

Quoted in thirty-seconds of a point. For example, read 98-3 as 98 3 32.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency.

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Year Ago.
Demand	$4.62⅞	$4.47⅛
Cables	4.63	4.48
Francs	6.51	9.12
Guilders	39.12	38.90
Marks	.0013¾	.37½
Lire	4.68¾	5.22
Swiss francs	18.05	10.14
Pesetas	15.20	15.82
Belgian francs	5.52	8.43
Kronen	.0014⅛	.009
Sweden	26.63	25.80
Denmark	18.45	21.82
Norway	16.83	17.82
Greece	3.25	4.21
Argentina	38.70	32.40
Brazil	10.20	13.75

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 1.—Wheat underwent a sharp break in price today chiefly as the result of an estimate that the 1923 domestic crop would total only 7,000,000 bushels less than last year's harvest. The close was heavy, 3.8-8¢ to 4 1-8c net lower with July 1.09 7-8 to 1.10 and September 1.09 3-4 to 1.09 7-8. Corn lost 1-8c a 1-4c to 1c, and oats 7-8c to 1c. In provisions, the outcome was 5c to 10c advance.

With crop conditions favorable, the wheat market started with a downward tendency, emphasized somewhat by a set back in Liverpool prices, despite an advance yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. Then came a surprise in an authoritative private estimate that the year's total wheat crop in the United States would be nearly equal to the 1922 aggregate, whereas most traders had expected that estimates today would even be less than those which had been issued a month ago.

Liquidating sales which set in on the part of holders of wheat lasted throughout the session, and the market closed at practically the lowest level of the day. Some export business took place on the decline, but the amount was insufficient to rally prices. Bulls were unable also to make capital of an official announcement that commission houses must notify the secretary of agriculture when any account is long or short 1,000,000 bushels or more. It was suggested this announcement implied that accounts of less than 1,000,000 bushels would be unobjectionable, but no apparent stimulus to buying ensued, although short selling was perhaps somewhat checked.

Corn and oats were easier in sympathy with wheat, but received better buying support than wheat did. On the other hand, rye touched a new low price record for the season

Provisions reflected firmness of hog values.

Chicago Grain Market.

Wheat:	High.	Low.	Close.
May	113⅞	119¼	110
Sept.	113¼	109½	109⅝
Dec.	114⅝	110⅞	111⅞
Corn—
July	78¾	77¾	78
Sept.	76⅞	75⅞	75⅞
Dec.	67⅝	65½	65⅞
Oats—
July	41⅛	40¼	40¼
Sept.	39	38⅛	38¼
Dec.	39¼	39⅛	39¼

MONEY

New York, June 1.—Call money easier; high 5 1-2; low 4 1-2; ruling rate 5 1-4; closing bid 4 1-2; offered at 4 3-4; last loan 4 1-2; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

METAL MARKET

New York, June 1.—Copper steady. Electrolytic, spot and futures 14 7-8 a 15. Tin easier. Spot and nearby 41.75 a 41.87; futures 41.50 a 41.62. Iron steady; prices unchanged. Lead steady; spot 7.25 a 7.37. Zinc steady. East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 6.40 a 6.45. Antimony, spot 7.00 a 7.10.

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

MATINEE 20c EVENING 20c-25c TAX PAID

TODAY—CONTINUOUS SHOW—LAST TIMES—MAT., CHILDREN 10c

WESLEY BARRY, in "HEROES OF THE STREET"

ALSO COMEDY AND NEWS—SHOW STARTS 1:30

SUNDAY NIGHT ONLY—7:00-8:45

JACK HOXIE in "Desert's Crucible"

A VIRILE ACTION STORY OF THE GREAT WEST

ANN LITTLE, in THE EAGLE'S TALONS | COMEDY SPECIAL CHICKEN FOOD

MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

C. Lovee presents A MAURICE TOURNEUR PRODUCTION "The ISLE OF LOST SHIPS"

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE IT!

With An All-Star Cast Including MILTON SILLS, ANNA Q. NILSSON, FRANK CAMPEAU, WALTER LONG

WILDWOOD PARK

DANCING TONIGHT

AT THIS BEAUTIFUL LAKESIDE RESORT

GOOD MUSIC

AMPLE PARKING SPACE

DANCE TONIGHT

HAPPYLAND CASINO

FROM 8 TO 12

MUSIC BY

Colonial Dance Orchestra

Admission: Ladies 35c — Gents 55c Including Tax

Bus Will Leave From City Hall 7:30, D. S. T. Round Trip 35c.

BROADWAY

SUNDAY — MONDAY — TUESDAY

"YOU CAN'T FOOL YOUR WIFE"

A GEORGE MELFORD PRODUCTION

PRESENTED BY JESSE L. LASKY

A PICTURE THAT HITS HOME, YOUR HOME, YOUR FRIEND'S HOME

EXTRAORDINARY ADDED FEATURE

EINSTEIN'S Theory of RELATIVITY

Einstein Claims That Only 12 Men Can Thoroughly Understand His Theory. Here Is Your Opportunity to See and Understand It. A scientific Revelation—Instructive—Entertaining.

Also BOBBY VERNON, in "TAKE YOU CHOICE"

PRICES: MATINEE 25c—EVENING 20c-25c-35c

TODAY — CONTINUOUS SHOW—MATINEE, CHILDREN 15 CENTS

KEITH VAUDEVILLE — 5 ACTS AND PICTURES

Dancing — Tonight

MOOSUP POND CASINO

MOOSUP, CONN.

MUSIC BY GOYETTE BROTHERS' NOVELTY ORCHESTRA

Dancing Wednesdays and Saturdays

DANCE TONIGHT

AT HILLTOP CASINO

MUSIC BY

CHICK'S HILLTOP ORCHESTRA

8:30 TO 12:00 P. M. (D. S. T.)

GENTS 60c — LADIES 40c

LATE CARS TO TAFTVILLE AND CITY.

A Bulletin To Let' Advertisement Will Rent It

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping trucks for hire. 11 Cliff St. or Occum. Tel. 617-11.

Est. 1874. Tel. 106.

ARTHUR E. LATHROP, Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing, Furniture and Piano Moving. Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLYN, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1582-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1341.

TRAINING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 248 Main St. Phone 792.

C. E. BROMLEY & SON, Shetucket St. Phone 336. LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet) Suite 7-8 Allee Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1368-4. jan31d

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAZ, Architect, Room 5, May Bldg. Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb16d

INSURANCE

E. H. HARRIMAN the financier once said to a stock speculator who wanted a tip on the stock market that the best time to buy copper was between 10 and 3. We say to you that the best time to INSURE is NOW, THIS MINUTE—DON'T DELAY!

B. P. Learned & Co.

No. 28 Shetucket Street

Assuring Insurers Since May 1848

J. L. LATHROP & SONS

28 Shetucket Street

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

HAIR DYED

It is no obligation to us if you come in and ask about our Hair Dyeing in any shade, and is guaranteed.

MME. LACKENBACH'S BEAUTY SALON

3 WASHINGTON SQUARE

ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE

HAROLD S. BURT

120 LAUREL HILL AVENUE

PHONE 1588-3

F. H. KENYON, General Agent. GEO. N. DELAP, Special Agent. JAS. L. FORD, Special Agent. A. N. PREMO, Special Agent. Hartford, Conn. New York, New Haven

FISHING TACKLE

The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.

SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS.

All Agate Guide Casting Reels. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD

BULLETIN BUILDING 74 FRANKLIN STREET

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS RECORDED IN NORWICH

The following real estate transfers in Norwich have been recorded at the town clerk's office in the last half of May:

May 16.—Estate of Sarah A. Gilliver to Jacob Tempchin, land, Hillside and Thermos avenue.

Leon and Pelagia Olenidewicz to Peter Asterowicz, 49 North High street.

Ruthie Fishkin to Bessie Weisinger, 234 Mt. Pleasant St.

Nettie M. Preston to Ada L. Chase, Sachem Terrace.

May 17.—Abraham Cramer to Meyer and Esther Bruckner, 64 Washington St.

Wm. H. Allen to Frances Cacarelli, 23 Washington street.

Edwin A. and Adelaide D. Tracy to Edward G. and Charles J. McKay, land Freeman avenue.

Napoleon and Marie Leblanc to Clarinda Gaystis, Taftville.

May 18.—Gracym Strelczyk to Rosa Abramson, 15 North High street.

James F. Wilber to Elizabeth P. Carey, 42-46 Lafayett St.

May 19.—Sarah F. Cochran to James K. Davis, 82 Whipple avenue.

John J. Kelly to Archibald and Sarah F. Cochrane, 56 School street.

Wm. and Alexandra Paprosky to Rose McSheffery, 344 Central avenue.

Wm. H. Jennings to Catherine H. and Nellie F. Ahearn, 32-34 McKinley avenue.

May 21.—James L. Case to Elisabeth C. Darby, 65 Warren Street.

Estate of James Dawsam to Vincenzo Annunziata Viardelle, Carter avenue.

May 22.—Louise J. W. Young and others, Hannah B. Witter and others to Nellie A. King, Salem turnpike.

Frank Mail and Dennis J. Barry to Minnie M. Campbell, Fowler avenue.

Carlo and Rose De Pucchio to Joseph Christian, 21 Ripley place.

May 23.—Nathan S. Bushnell to Augustin Paradis, land, Norwich Town.

May 24.—David Nowick to Jacob and Kate Nelkin, 41-43 High street.

May 25.—John and Mary B. Lastowski to John and Mary Gross, 314 316 Elizabeth street.

Alfred Fontaine to Elam Fontaine, Occum.

Della Shea to Oscar F. and Tekla F. Erickson, 41 Convent avenue.

May 26.—Elijah E. Wentworth to Frank E. Bobodald, land, Bedham Hill park.

John A. Rockwell to Tolley E. Babcock, land, McKinley avenue extension.

David F. Henderson to Patsy Gaeta, land Norwich Terrace.

May 28.—Maria Alfieri and Cassom

SUNDAY MONDAY TUESDAY

BREED THEATRE

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

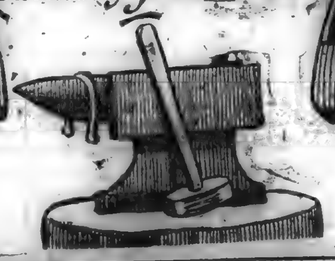
WILLIAM FOX presents

A 1923 melodrama founded on HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW'S Well-loved poem

The VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

Direct from its Broadway run

Directed by JACK FORD



TODAY—CONTINUOUS SHOW, 1:30 TO 10:15 — TOM MIX, in "ARABIA" — PEARL WHITE, in "PLUNDER" — PATHE NEWS — LEE COMEDY

BROADWAY WED. JUNE 6 MAIL ORDERS NOW SEAT SALE MONDAY

GEO. E. WINTZ presents

SHUFFLE ALONG

NEW YORK CAST AND CHORUS OF OVER 50 — A MELODIC PAGEANT

PRICES—ORCH. $1.73, $2.30—BAL. $1.15, $1.73—GAL. 58c—ALL TAXES PAID

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Saturday)

WBZ, Springfield (337 Meters)

7.30 p. m.—Baseball scores. Fairy tales.

7.45 p. m.—Ideal Conditions Between Capital and Labor, by William H. Gailey of Indianapolis.

8 p. m.—Baseball scores.

8.05 p. m.—Concert by Mme. Camille Gilberti, soprano; E. Revello, violinist; Donald Hitt, tenor.

8.25 p. m.—Laughs from Life.

8.30 p. m.—Continuation of musical program.

8.50 p. m.—Bedtime story for grown-ups prepared by Orison S. Marden.

8.55 p. m.—A few minutes with Benjamin Franklin. Baseball scores.

WJZ Central New York (455 meters)

3.15 p. m.—Book Review, by Grace Colbron.

6 p. m.—Uncle Wiggily stories by Howard Garis.

7.30 p. m.—World's Work, by French Strother.

8 p. m.—Robert Haven Schauffler, poet, essayist and lecturer.

9 p. m.—Plandome Singers.

10.15 p. m.—Joint recital by Fred W. House, violinist, accompanied by Audrey Landes and Leonard P. Goddard, pianist.

KDKA Pittsburgh (326 meters)

10 a. m.—Music.

12.30 p. m.—Music. Weather forecast. United States bureau of market report.

3 p. m.—Concert.

3.15 p. m.—Baseball scores, inning by inning, of games played today.

6 p. m.—Ball scores.

6.05 p. m.—Organ recital.

7 p. m.—Ball scores. Current events One Day Trip by Auto, courtesy Automobile Club of Pittsburgh. Talk on automobiles by Ray McNamara.

7.15 p. m.—Drama to be presented by the department of drama, Carnegie Institute.

7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8 p. m.—Ball scores. National Stockman and Farmer Market reports.

8.15 p. m.—Talk of interest to men prepared by the J. G. Bennett company.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Beaver College Department of Music.

KYW, Chicago (447 Meters)

(Central Time)

6.50 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.

8.00 to 8.58 p. m.—Musical program will be given through courtesy of the following artists: Helen Engelke, soprano; Henry E. Neiman, accompanist; Mildred Brandon, reader; Paula & Feily, an unusual parrot act; Robert G. Ball, baritone; Gertrude Grosscup Perkins, accompanist.

Program will be announced by radiophone.

8.58 p. m.—Naval Observatory time signals.

9.00 p. m.—Weather report.

9.05 to 9.25—Under the Evening Lamp Service, including stories, articles and humorous sketches.

WGI, Medford Hillside (360 Meters.)

6.00 p. m.—New England weather forecast. New England crop notes, furnished by V. A. Saunders, statistician. Late news flashes. Early sports news.

6.15 p. m.—Condition of Massachusetts highways. Amrad bulletin board.

6.45 p. m.—Code practice.

8.00 p. m.—Evening program. 1, Ninth of a series of talks on New England problems under direction of the New England Business magazine. 2, Music; 3, Barbara Makes Her Splash, a comedy drama by Eugene Hafer, presented by the Amrad players.

(Sunday)

KDKA, Pittsburgh (326 Meters)

11 a. m.—Services of Emory Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh. Rev. W. Wofford T. Duncan, minister.

2.30 p. m.—The children's Bible story told by Rev. W. A. Logan, pastor of the Alpha Lutheran church, Turtle Creek, Pa.

2.45 p. m.—Concert.

4.45 p. m.—Vesper services of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, Rev. Hugh Thomson Kerr, minister.

6.15 p. m.—Ball scores.

7 p. m.—Ball scores.

7.30 p. m.—Services of the Calvary J. Van Etten, minister. This service will dedicate the Radio Memorial Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, Rev. E. Tablet commemorating the fact that the Calvary Episcopal church was the first one whose services were broadcasted through Station KDKA.

WBZ, Springfield (337 Meters)

11.00 a. m.—Church services from the South Congregational church, Rev. James Gordon Gilkey, pastor.

8.15 p. m.—Church services conducted by Rev. John R. Chassoe, pastor of the Mittineague Methodist church.

KYW Chicago (447 meters)

(Central time.)

11.00 a. m.—Central church service broadcast from Orchestra hall, Chicago, Ill., Dr. F. F. Shannon, pastor.

Musical program under the direction of Daniel Protheros.

3.30 p. m.—Studio chapel services will be broadcast from Westinghouse Station KYW at 3.30 p. m.

Rev. W. O. Waters, D. D., rector Grace Episcopal church, will conduct this service.

WGI Medford Hillside, Mass. (360 Meters)

4.00 p. m.—Twilight program. 1, Adventure Hour; 2, Concert by the Walter Francis Vreeland Mando'n orchestra; 3, Selections by Miss C. Fay Fleetwood, pianist.

8.30 p. m.—Federation church service.

9.00 p. m.—Duo piano concert, by Henry R. Boardman and W. D. Strong.

WGY, Schenectady (380 Meters)

10.00 a. m.—Service of St. George's Episcopal church, Schenectady.

6.30 p. m.—Service St. George's Episcopal church.

One Of The "Twelve Greatest Living American Women"

Miss Martha Van Rensselaer of Ithaca, N. Y., whose specialty is home economics, who has been selected by the National League of Women Voters as one of the "Twelve greatest living American women who have contributed most of their respective kinds to the betterment of the ever l."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales, 971,000 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 95.86, net loss 2.17. High 1923, 105.38; low, 95.77.

Twenty railroads averaged 81.42, net loss 1.62. High 1923, 90.62; low $0.13.

SHARP SETBACK IN MARKET

New York, June 1.—Stock prices sustained a sharp setback in today's more active market. The rapidity of [illegible] the chilling rise to extended their commitments at current levels induced rather extensive short selling by bear traders which was aided by heavy liquidation for the account of curb houses, which were forced to sell stock on the "big board" to meet obligations arising from the bankruptcy of the largest curb house.

The reaction covered the entire list, losses in a number of the active shares ranging from 1 to nearly 5 points. Investment railroad shares yielded with the rest despite the unusually favorable April earnings statements and the fact that car loadings for the week ending May 19, were the largest this year and within 2 1-2 per cent. of the high record for all time made on Oct. 14, 1919.

Public interest in the market is at a low ebb. Brokers' loans are now estimated at $1,270,000,000 or $300,000,000 below those on May 1.

The sharpest breaks today were in the speculative industrials. California Petroleum, which has been one of the individual favorites all week, established a new high for all time at 117 3-4 and then slumped to 111 7-8, where it was off 4 1-8 points on the day. American Can closed 4 5-8 points lower at 97 1-8 and Baldwin was off 3 at 127 1-4.

Losses of 2 points or more also were established by Studebaker, American Woolen, American Smelting, Kelly-Springfield, American Locomotive, Corn Products, American Ice, American Tobacco B, Chandler Motor, Stewart-Warner Speedometer, Stromberg Carburetor, Colorado Fuel, Phillips Petroleum, Houston Oil, Producers & Refiners, Republic and Gulf States Steels, Northern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Lehigh Valley, New Orleans, Teas & Meico and St. Paul preferred.

New low records for the year were made by Marine common and preferred and American International Corporation, weakness of which reflected speculativ uncertainty over the marine dividend. Bethlehem Steel, quoted ex-dividend, touched 51, its lowest price of the year.

Call money opened at 5 1-4 per cent. but eased off to 4 1-2 before the close. Time money was available at 5 per cent. for all maturities. Commercial paper was fairly active, the bulk of the prime names commanding 5 per cent.

Trading in foreign exchanges was more active with irregular changes in rates. Demand sterling improved slightly to $4.62 11-16 and French francs dropped 3 points to 6.50 cents. German marks established another new low at .0013 2-8 cents. Norwegian and Greece exchange was strong.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	High.	Low.	Close
Al Chem & D	71	69¼	69½
Allis Chalm	43	41½	41½
Am Ag Chem	19	18¾	18¾
Am Beet Sugar	39	38	38
Am Bosch Mag	40¼	40	40
Am Can	103¾	97	97⅛
Am Car & Fdy	170	170	170
Am Cot Oil	7¾	7⅝	7¾
Am Cot Oil pr	17½	17½	17½
Am Hide & Leath	8¾	8¾	8¾
Am H & L pr	47⅛	47	47
Am Int Corp	25	23	23¼
Am Tel & Tel	123	122¾	123
Am Tobacco	147⅛	146½	146½
Am Wool	91½	89½	89¾
Am Wool pr	101⅞	101¾	101¾
Anaconda	45⅝	44½	44½
Adso Oil	116¾	116¾	116¾
Atchison	100½	99½	99½
Atchison pr	89	88¾	88¾
Balt & Ohio	49⅜	48⅛	48⅛
Beth Steel ex-di	52⅜	51	51⅜
Beth St pr new	90½	90½	90⅛
Brook R Tr 1 pr	17¾	17½	17⅛
But Cop & Z	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
But & Sup Cop	24½	23½	23½
Can Pacific div	152	150	150
Cent Leath	28	26⅝	27
Cent Leath pr	68	68	68
Chand Motor	61½	59¼	69⅜
Ches & Ohio	66	64⅛	64½
Ches & O pr	102½	102⅛	102⅛
Ch & Gt West	5⅝	5⅛	5⅛
Chic M & St P	21½	21	21
C M & St P pr	37⅝	36	36
C M & St P	21½	21	21
C R I & P	29¾	28¼	28¼
Chile Cop	26⅝	26¼	26¼
Chino Cop	22½	22	22
Cosden	47⅞	46½	47
Crucible Steel	72¾	68¾	70
Del & Hudson	112	111⅝	111⅝
Dome Mines	35⅜	33⅝	34⅜
Erie	12	11½	11⅝
Erie 1 pr	19	18⅛	18⅛
Erie 2 pr	13¼	13	13
Gen Electric	177	175	176
Gen Elec spl	11	11	11
Gen Motor	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
Gen Mot pr	83½	83½	83½
Gen Mot 6 pc db	83½	83½	83¼
Great North pr	72½	70½	70½
Hudson Motor	25⅞	25	25
Hupp Motor	22	21¼	21½
Illinois Cent	110¾	109½	109½
Inspir Copper	32¼	31¾	31¾
Int Har Co	83½	82¾	82¾
Int Mer Mar	8	7¾	7¾
Int Mer M pr	30⅝	28⅝	29½
Kennecott	37½	35¾	36
Keystone Tire	6⅞	6¾	6¾
Lehigh Valley	63	60¾	60¾
Max Mot A	58¾	47	47
Miami Cop	26¾	26	26
M St P SS M bel	61	61	61
Mo K & T new	13	13	13
M K & T pr new	34½	34½	34½
Nt Enam & St	65⅛	63	64
N Y Air Brake	36	36	36
N Y Central	98¾	96⅝	97⅜
N Y N H & H	17⅝	17	17
Norf South	13½	13	13
Nor & West	108¾	107½	107½
North Pacific	71¾	71	71
Pacific Oil	37¾	36¾	36⅝
Penn R R	44¾	44¼	44⅜
Pierce Oil	3¼	3¼	3¼
Pierce O pr	30½	30¼	30¼
Reading	74	73¼	73¼
Reading 1 pr	51¾	51½	51¾
Reading 2 pr	51¾	51⅜	51⅜
Republic Steel	19⅜	19½	19⅜
Rep I & St	51¾	48½	48⅜
Rep I & St pr	95⅛	95⅛	95⅛
South Pac	85⅜	87⅝	87⅜
South Ry	34⅛	32⅝	32⅝
South Ry pr	66⅛	66	66
Tenn C & C	9¾	9¾	9⅞
Tob Prod	53¼	52¾	53
Tob Prod pr A	82	81¼	81¼
Union Pac ex-div	135	133⅜	133⅜
Union Pac pr	73	72	72¼
U S Rubber	52	50⅛	50⅛
U S Rub 1 pr	100	100	100
U S Steel	97¾	95⅜	95⅞
U S Steel pr	117¾	117¼	117¼
West Un Tel	108⅛	108	108
West Air B	85	85	85
West El & Mfg	56⅝	55¼	55½
Willys O'land	62¼	58¼	59
Worth P & M	32½	32½	32½

BOND MARKET

New York, June 1.—Prices sagged in today's relatively dull trading in bonds on the New York stock exchange. The high grade investment issues, however, changed but little in the trading with the exception of the Libertys which turned reactionary. Recession in the active U. S. government bonds was expected in view of their consistent firmness of late together with the slight scarcity of time funds over the first of the month period.

Foreign government issues held firm with light trading. Serbian 8's continued to advance, gaining 1 1-8 points.

Changes among the railroad mortgages generally were limited to fractions, a drop of a point by Erie General 4's which have recently moved forward, being the only outstanding change in the group. Industrial liens also were dull with price movements confined to fractions in most cases. Sinclair Pipe line 5's dropped 1 3-8 and Cerro De Pasco Copper 8's were off 1 1-4.

Total sales (par value) were $9,604,000.

Liberty Bonds.

	High.	Low.	Close
3½s, 1947	100-24	100-20	100-20
1st 4¼s, '47	98-15	98-9	98-9
2d 4¼s, '42	98-12	98-6	98-9
3d 4¼s, '28	98-28	98-24	98-24
4th 4¼s, '38	98-17	98-11	98-12
Treas 4¼s	99-23	99-14	99-16

Quoted in thirty-seconds of a point. For example, read 98-3 as 98 3 32.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Today Ago
Demand	$4.62⅞	$4.47⅛
Cables	4.63	4.48
Francs	6.51	9.12
Guilders	39.12	38.90
Marks	.0013¾	.37½
Lire	4.68¾	5.22
Swiss francs	18.05	10.14
Pesetas	15.20	15.82
Belgian francs	5.52	8.43
Kronen	.0014⅛	.009
Sweden	26.63	25.80
Denmark	18.45	21.82
Norway	16.83	17.82
Greece	3.25	4.21
Argentina	78.70	82.40
Brazil	10.20	13.75

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 1.—Wheat underwent a sharp break in price today chiefly as the result of an estimate that the 1923 domestic crop would total only 7,000,000 bushels less than last year's harvest. The close was heavy, 3 3-8 to 4 1-8c net lower with July 1.09 7-8 to 1.10 and September 1.09 3-4 to 1.09 7-8. Corn lost 1-8c a 1-4c to 1c, and oats 7-8c to 1c. In provisions, the outcome was 5c to 10c advance.

With crop conditions favorable, the wheat market started with a downward tendency, emphasized somewhat by a set back in Liverpool prices, despite an advance yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. Then came a surprise—an authoritative private estimate that the year's total wheat crop in the United States would be nearly equal to the 1922 aggregate, whereas most traders had expected that estimates today would even be less than those which had been issued a month ago.

Liquidating sales which set in on the part of holders of wheat lasted throughout the session, and the market closed at practically the lowest level of the day. Some export business took place on the decline, but the amount was insufficient to rally prices. Bulls were unable also to make capital of an official announcement that commission houses must notify the secretary of agriculture when any account is long or short 1,000,000 bushels or more. It was suggested this announcement implied that accounts of less than 1,000,000 bushels would be unobjectionable, but no apparent stimulus to buying ensued, although short selling was perhaps somewhat checked.

Corn and oats were easier in sympathy with wheat, but received better buying support than wheat did. On the other hand, rye touched a new low price record for the season.

Provisions reflected firmness of hog values.

Chicago Grain Market.

Wheat:	High.	Low.	Close.
May	113⅞	119¾	110
Sept.	113¼	109½	109⅜
Dec.	114⅜	110⅞	111⅜
Corn—
July	78¾	77¾	78
Sept.	76⅞	75⅞	75⅝
Dec.	67⅜	65½	65⅞
Oats—
July	41⅛	40¼	40⅛
Sept.	39	38⅛	38¼
Dec.	39¼	39⅛	39¼

MONEY

New York, June 1.—Call money easier; high 5 1-2; low 4 1-2; ruling rate 5 1-4; closing bid 4 1-2; offered at 4 3-4; last loan 4 1-2; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

METAL MARKET

New York, June 1.—Copper steady. Electrolytic, spot and futures 14 7-8 a 15. Tin easier. Spot and nearby 41.75 a 41.87; futures 41.50 a 41.62. Iron steady; prices unchanged. Lead steady; spot 7.25 a 7.37. Zinc steady. East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 6.40 a 6.45. Antimony, spot 7.00 a 7.10.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Saturday)

WBZ, Springfield (337 Meters)

7.30 p. m.—Baseball scores. Fairy tales.

7.45 p. m.—Ideal Conditions Between Capital and Labor, by William H. Galley of Indianapolis.

8 p. m.—Baseball scores.

8.05 p. m.—Concert by Mme. Camille Gilberti, soprano; E. Revello, violinist; Donald Hitt, tenor.

8.25 p. m.—Laughs from Life.

8.30 p. m.—Continuation of musical program.

8.50 p. m.—Bedtime story for grown-ups prepared by Orison S. Marden.

8.55 p. m.—A few minutes with Benjamin Franklin. Baseball scores.

WJZ Central New York (455 meters)

3.15 p. m.—Book Review, by Grace Colbron.

6 p. m.—Uncle Wiggily stories by Howard Garis.

7.30 p. m.—World's Work, by French Strother.

8 p. m.—Robert Haven Schauffler, poet, essayist and lecturer.

9 p. m.—Plandome Singers.

10.15 p. m.—Joint recital by Fred W. House, violinist, accompanied by Audrey Landes and Leonard P. Goddard, pianist.

KDKA Pittsburgh (326 meters)

10 a. m.—Music.

12.30 p. m.—Music. Weather forecast. United States bureau of market report.

3 p. m.—Concert.

3.15 p. m.—Baseball scores, inning by inning, of games played today.

6 p. m.—Ball scores.

6.05 p. m.—Organ recital.

7 p. m.—Ball scores. Current events One Day Trip by Auto, courtesy Automobile Club of Pittsburgh. Talk on automobiles by Ray McNamara.

7.15 p. m.—Drama to be presented by the department of drama, Carnegie Institute.

7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8 p. m.—Ball scores, National Stockman and Farmer Market reports.

8.15 p. m.—Talk of interest to men prepared by the J. G. Bennett company.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Beaver College Department of Music.

KYW, Chicago (447 Meters)

(Central Time)

6.30 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.

8.00 to 8.55 p. m.—Musical program will be given through courtesy of the following artists: Helen Engelke, soprano; Henry E. Neiman, accompanist; Mildred Brandon, reader; Paula & Polli, an unusual parrot act; Robert G. Ball, baritone; Gertrude Grosscup Perkins, accompanist.

Program will be announced by radiophone.

8.58 p. m.—Naval Observatory time signals.

9.00 p. m.—Weather report.

9.05 to 9.25—Under the Evening Lamp Service, including stories, articles and humorous sketches.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 Meters.)

6.00 p. m.—New England weather forecast. New England crop notes, furnished by V. A. Saunders, statistician. Late news flashes Early sports news.

6.15 p. m.—Condition of Massachusetts highways. Amrad bulletin board.

6.45 p. m.—Code practice.

8.00 p. m.—Evening program. 1, Ninth of a series of talks on New England problems under direction of the New England Business magazine. 2, Music; 3, Barbara Makes Her Splash, a comedy drama by Eugene Hafer, presented by the Amrad players.

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

MATINEE 20c EVENING 20c-25c TAX PAID

TODAY—CONTINUOUS SHOW—LAST TIMES—MAT., CHILDREN 10c

WESLEY BARRY, in "HEROES OF THE STREET"

ALSO COMEDY AND NEWS—SHOW STARTS 1:30

SUNDAY NIGHT ONLY—7:00-8:45

JACK HOXIE in "Desert's Crucible"

A VIRILE ACTION STORY OF THE GREAT WEST

ANN LITTLE, in THE EAGLE'S TALONS | COMEDY SPECIAL CHICKEN FOOD

MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

C. Levee presents A MAURICE TOURNEUR PRODUCTION "The ISLE OF LOST SHIPS"

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE IT!

With An All-Star Cast Including MILTON SILLS, ANNA Q. NILSSON, FRANK CAMPEAU, WALTER LONG

WILDWOOD PARK

DANCING TONIGHT

AT THIS BEAUTIFUL LAKESIDE RESORT

GOOD MUSIC

AMPLE PARKING SPACE

DANCE TONIGHT

HAPPYLAND CASINO

FROM 8 TO 12

MUSIC BY

Colonial Dance Orchestra

Admission: Ladies 35c — Gents 55c Including Tax

Bus Will Leave From City Hall 7:30, D. S. T. Round Trip 35c.

BROADWAY

SUNDAY — MONDAY — TUESDAY

this picture!

WITH LEATRICE JOY NITA NALDI LEWIS STONE PAULINE GARON

YOU CAN'T FOOL YOUR WIFE"

A GEORGE MELFORD PRODUCTION

PRESENTED BY JESSE L. LASKY

A PICTURE THAT HITS HOME, YOUR HOME, YOUR FRIEND'S HOME

EXTRAORDINARY ADDED FEATURE

EINSTEIN'S Theory of RELATIVITY

Einstein Claims That Only 12 Men Can Thoroughly Understand His Theory. Here Is Your Opportunity to See and Understand It. A scientific Revelation—Instructive—Entertaining.

Also BOBBY VERNON, in "TAKE YOU CHOICE"

PRICES: MATINEE 25c—EVENING 20c-25c-35c

TODAY — CONTINUOUS SHOW—MATINEE, CHILDREN 15 CENTS

KEITH VAUDEVILLE — 5 ACTS AND PICTURES

Dancing — Tonight

MOOSUP POND CASINO

MOOSUP, CONN.

MUSIC BY GOYETTE BROTHERS' NOVELTY ORCHESTRA

Dancing Wednesdays and Saturdays

DANCE TONIGHT

AT HILLTOP CASINO

MUSIC BY

CHICK'S HILLTOP ORCHESTRA

8:30 TO 12:00 P. M. (D. S. T.)

GENTS 60c — LADIES 40c

LATE CARS TO TAFTVILLE AND CITY

SUNDAY MONDAY TUESDAY BREED THEATRE NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

WILLIAM FOX presents

A 1923 melodrama founded on

HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW'S Well-loved poem

The VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

Direct from its Broadway run

Directed by JACK FORD

TODAY—CONTINUOUS SHOW, 1:30 TO 10:15 — TOM MIX, in "ARABIA" — PEARL WHITE, in "PLUNDER" — PATHE NEWS — LEE COMEDY

BROADWAY WED. JUNE 6 MAIL ORDERS NOW SEAT SALE MONDAY

GEO. E. WINTZ PRESENTS THE SUPERB COLORED MUSICAL COMEDY

SHUFFLE ALONG

NEW YORK CAST AND CHORUS OF OVER 50 — A MELODIC PAGEANT

PRICES—ORCH. $1.73, $2.30—BAL. $1.15, $1.73—GAL. 58c—ALL TAXES PAID

Station KYW at 3.30 p. m.

Rev. W. O. Waters, D. D., rector Grace Episcopal church, will conduct this service.

WGI Medford Hillside, Mass. (360 Meters)

4.00 p. m.—Twilight program. 1, Adventure Hour; 2, Concert by the Walter Francis Vreeland Mandolin orchestra; 3, Selections by Miss C. Fay Fleetwood, pianist.

8.30 p. m.—Federation church service.

9.00 p. m.—Duo piano concert, by Henry R. Bourman and W. D. Strong.

WGY, Schenectady (380 Meters)

10.00 a. m.—Service of St. George's Episcopal church, Schenectady.

6.30 p. m.—Service St. George's Episcopal church.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS RECORDED IN NORWICH

The following real estate transfers in Norwich have been recorded at the town clerk's office in the last half of May:

May 16.—Estate of Sarah A. Gilliver to Jacob Tempchin, land, Hillside and Thermos avenue.

Leon and Pelagia Olenkiewicz to Peter Asterowicz, 49 North High street.

Ruthie Fishkin to Bessie Weisinger, 234 Mt. Pleasant St.

Nettie M. Preston to Ada L. Chase, Sachem Terrace.

May 17.—Abraham Cramer to Meyer and Esther Bruckner, 68 Washington St.

Wm. H. Allen to Frances Cecarelli, 28 Washington street.

Edwin A. and Adelaide D. Tracy to Edward G. and Charles J. McKay, land Freeman avenue.

Napoleon and Marie Leblanc to Clarinda Goyette, Taftville.

May 18.—Gracyn Strelczyk to Rosa Abramson, 15 North High street.

James F. Wilber to Elizabeth P. Carey, 42-46 Lafayett St.

May 19.—Sarah F. Cochran to James K. Davis, 83 Whipple avenue.

John J. Kelly to Archibald and Sarah F. Cochrane, 66 School street.

Wm. and Alexandra Paprosky to Rose McSheffery, 344 Central avenue.

Wm. H. Jennings to Catherine M. and Nellie F. Ahearn, 23-24 McKinley avenue.

May 21.—James L. Case to Elizabeth C. Darby, 45 Warren Street.

Estate of James Dawson to Vincenzo Annunziata Viardelle, Carter avenue.

May 22.—Louise J. W. Young and others, Hannah B. Witter and others to Nellie A. King, Salem turnpike.

Frank Mall and Dennis J. Barry to Minnie M. Campbell, Fowler avenue.

Carlo and Rose De Pucchio to Joseph Christian, 21 Ripley place.

May 23.—Nathan S. Bushnell to Augustin Paradis, land, Norwich Town.

May 24.—David Nowick to Jacob and Kate Nelkin, 41-43 High street.

May 25.—John and Mary M. Laskowski to John and Mary Gross, 218 218 Elizabeth street.

Alfred Fontaine to Elias Fontaine, Occum.

Delia Shea to Oscar E. and Tekla P. Erickson, 41 Convent avenue.

May 26.—Elijah H. Woodworth to Frank E. Schofield, land, Bonham Hill park.

John A. Rockwell to Telley E. Babcock, land, McKinley avenue extension.

David F. Henderson to Patsy Gouin, land Norwich Terrace.

May 29.—Maria Alfieri and Custom

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trunking, dumping, trucks for hire. 21 Cliff St. or Occum. Tel. 617-23.

Est. 1814. Tel. 195.

ARTHUR H. LATHROP, Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving. 4 Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLYN, 193 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1532-2.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1341.

TEAMING and moving; long distance trucking a specialty. John H. Ford, 843 Main St. Phone 792.

C. B. BROMLEY & SON, Shetucket St. Phone 335. LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S. Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8 Allen Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. jan31d

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAZ, Architect. Room 5, May Bldg. Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb16d

INSURANCE

E. H. HARRIMAN the financier once said to a stock speculator who wanted a tip on the stock market that the best time to buy copper was between 10 and 3. We say to you that the best time to INSURE is NOW, THIS MINUTE—DON'T DELAY!

B. P. Learned & Co.

No. 28 Shetucket Street

Assuring Insurers Since May 1846

J. L. LATHROP & SONS

28 Shetucket Street

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

HAIR DYED

It is no obligation to us if you come in and ask about our Hair Dyeing in any shade, and is guaranteed.

MME. LACKENBACH'S BEAUTY SALON

3 WASHINGTON SQUARE

ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE

HAROLD S. BURT

120 LAUREL HILL AVENUE

PHONE

F. H. KENYON, General Agent. GEO. N. DELAP, Special Agent. JAS. L. FOORD, Special Agent. A. N. PREMO, Special Agent, Hartford, Conn. New York, New Haven

FISHING TACKLE

The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.

SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS.

All Agate Guide Casting Rods. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD

BULLETIN BUILDING 74 FRANKLIN STREET

Real Estate Transfers

P. Pasqualini to Morris Fox, 107 Summit street.

Isaac Gelfan to Solomon Pfeister, 58 Fairmount street.

Burrill W. Lathrop to Burrill D. Lathrop, Town street.

Benjamin Alexander to Anna Counihan, 30 Spruce street.

May 21.—Frederick C. and Agnes M. Jackson to Charles W. Frink and others, 31 Lincoln avenue.

Estate of Martin D. Kiblin to Frank and Malvina Matyliwicz, 122 High street.

Dora W. Kingsley to George A. Sheldon, land, Salem turnpike.

One Of The "Twelve Greatest Living American Women"

Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, of Ithaca, N. Y., famous specialist in home economics, who has been selected by the National League of Women Voters as one of the "Twelve greatest living American women who have contributed most of their respective sexes to the betterment of the world."

INTENTIONAL SECOND EXPOSURE

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

MURRAY—In Norwich, May 26, 1923, a daughter, Mary, to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard P. Murray of Boswell avenue.

MARRIED

SWANSON—STAFFORD—In Baltic, May 29, 1923, by Rev. C. W. Ruoff, Gustave A. Swanson of North Grosvenordale and Miss Lillian Stafford of Baltic.

FUNERAL NOTICES

WILSON—In this city, May 31, 1923, Mary, widow of Thomas Wilson. Funeral services at Green Memorial Baptist church Saturday afternoon, June 2, at 3 o'clock, D. S. T.

PAIN—In Norwich, June 1, 1923, Norman, son of Aime and Delina Pain, aged 1 year, 5 months and 23 days. Funeral at the home of his parents, No. 192 Laurel Hill avenue, Saturday afternoon, June 2, at 2 o'clock, D. S. T. Burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

PELOQUIN—In Occum, June 1, 1923, suddenly, Charles Peloquin, aged 69 years. Funeral at the home of his son, Joseph Loquin, Monday, June 4, at 8:30, S. T. Requiem high mass at St. Joseph's church at 9 S. T. Burial in family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

BUCKINGHAM—Entered into rest, in this city, May 30, 1923, William Alfred Buckingham, aged 76 years. Funeral at Christ Episcopal church Saturday, June 2, at 2 o'clock, D. S. T. Kindly omit flowers.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 116-2 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 419-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

WILLIMANTIC
Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
26 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 250 Lady Assistant

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
914 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

DANIELSON
ALBERTUS F. WOOD
Funeral Director and Embalmer
PHONE 147 DANIELSON

FLORISTS
TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 986-2. Free delivery. apr1d

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO ARCHITECTS

Plans and specifications invited for the erection of buildings at Norwich State Hospital, Norwich, Conn., general design to be in harmony with existing buildings.

In conformity with the provisions of Section 64 of the General Statutes, Revision of 1918, "An Act Regulating the Employment of Architects on Public Buildings," architects are hereby invited to submit competitive plans as follows:

General Requirements:

(A). A Ward building for about 125 patients; brick, fire resistive, two stories with unfinished attic, partial basement, concrete slabs, first and second floors, slate roof, room for hydrotherapy, separate continuous baths, employes' quarters, patients' rooms with baths. Cost, complete with furniture, not to exceed $312,500.

(B). Home for Nurses; brick, fire resistive, two stories, slate roof, cellar in middle of building. First floor, lobby, rooms for married couples. Second floor, single rooms for girls. Cost, including furnishings, not to exceed $145,000.

The architect of the plans selected by the committee in charge will be employed to prepare the working drawings and specifications and to superintend the construction of the buildings. For his compensation he will receive the commission authorized by the American Institute of Architects. No compensation will be paid for plans not finally accepted.

An estimate of cost from some reliable contractor will be required to be submitted with each plan. All plans must be signed by the architect and deposited with the Comptroller of the State at his office in the Capitol, City of Hartford, not later than July 3d, 1923, at 11 o'clock a. m., standard time.

The committee in charge, in accordance with law, will give a public hearing on said plans at the Norwich State Hospital on July 10th, 1923, at 11 o'clock a. m., standard time.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Dated at Hartford, Conn., this 29th day of May, 1923.

FREDERICK H. SARGENT, Comptroller.
may31d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Distributors, quickly develop own independent business handling Scotmints Yeast Candy; new Ford automobile free; exclusive territory. Scotmints Co., 862 Scotmints Bldg., Jersey City, N. J. je2d

WANTED—Everywhere, adults, aged 15 to 70, to hack orders for trees, shrubs, vines, roses; full or spare time; commission paid weekly. Western New York Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. je2d

SALESMEN—New auto tube seals its own punctures; fully guaranteed; car owners buy on sight. Wins demonstration if shown. Harrison Mfg. Co., Hammond, Ind. je3d

MEN wanted for U. S. mail service; permanent; $1117 to $1397; experience or correspondence course unnecessary. Write E. S. Bishop, Drawer 579, Joplin, Mo. je2d

FIREMEN, brakemen, beginners $150-$260 (which position?). Railway Bulletin. je3d

WANTED—Position by educated man; any kind of light work. Write Box 845, Bulletin. je2TuTh

WANTED—Woodchopper. John Miller, R. F. D. 1, Norwich. may17TuThSM

WANTED—Vaults and cesspools to clean. H. L. Harris, R. F. D. 1, Box 139. apr2d

FIREMEN, brakemen, beginners $150-$260 (which position?). Railway Bulletin. may15SM

WANTED—Watchman; also night waiter. O'Leary's Restaurant, New London. je1d

WANTED—Farmer, experienced, by day, week or month; good pay. S. Golub. Tel. 1546-4. je1d

WANTED—Position for large, strong boy, 15 years old, to work on farm through school vacation, with Protestant family. Address Box 101, care Bulletin Office. je1d

YOUNG MAN wants position in office by June 11th; experienced and have good reference; good worker. Write Box 1930, Bulletin. may31d

WANTED—Young married men for a selling proposition; salary and commission. Mr. Lynch, 57 Broadway, second floor. Call between 8-9 and 5-6. may30d

WANTED—Good reliable man on dairy farm. W. C. Terry, R. D. No. 3, Norwich, Conn. Tel. 109-2 Jewett City. may29d

WANTED—Man to drive ice wagon in Plainfield; married man preferred; have tenement and good wages for right party. Frank A. Evans. may29d

WANTED—Lawns to clean up, floors waxed, gardening etc. O. H. Graves, 31 Walnut St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 2347. may29d

WANTED—Teamsters and laborers at sawmill. Frank A. Phillips, 183 Church St., Willimantic, Conn. Tel. 595. may26d

WANTED—A man on dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 13-4. may24d

WANTED — YOUNG MEN

For light manufacturing work

AMERICAN THERMOS BOTTLE COMPANY

WANTED

Boys To Carry Bulletin Routes.

INQUIRE AT

The Bulletin Office

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Women to do fancy work at home, spare hours; material furnished; good pay; stamped envelope brings particulars. Underwood Art Goods Co., Portsmouth, Ohio. je1d

TYPISTS—Earn $25-$100 weekly, spare time, copying authors' manuscripts. Write R. J. Cairns, Authors' Agent, C-42, Tallapoosa, Ga., for particulars. je2d

WANTED—First class cook. Brown Derby Tea Room, Westerly, R. I. je1d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to do cooking and canning; must be experienced, strong and able. Apply Mystic Oral School, Mystic, Conn. Tel. Mystic 220. je1d

WANTED—Fancy ironer; good wages to right party. Gregson's Cleaning and Dyeing. may30d

WANTED—Woman or girl for plain cooking by the day or by the week. Telephone 1423. may30d

WANTED—A chambermaid, also a table girl. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 42-2. may23d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 65 Broadway. may19d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Sellas Spa. may9d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may3d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Regas Lunch. may3d

GIRL WANTED

General Kitchen Work. Small Summer Hotel. Easy Work. Short Hours. Board and Room Furnished. Address GRISWOLD HOUSE ESSEX, CONN.

WANTED

TWO GIRLS

For Light, Clean Work

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY

POULTRY

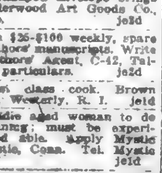
OHIO baby chix, summer prices effective May 28th; extremely low prices in all varieties, with same guarantee as earlier; catalogue free. Ohio Poultry Yards and Hatchery, Box N, East Hartford, Conn. je2d

FOR SALE—Thirty pullets, chicken coop and wire. 40 Oakridge St. je2d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. B. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec25d

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 167-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Outfits to Lend.



HELEN L. PERKINS
TEACHER OF SINGING
Phone 693-6 Studio, Allen Block

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

CATHOLICS wishing to marry, wanting introductions write C. C. Club, Grand Rapids, Mich. je2d

MAKE $25 weekly at home, furnishing names and addresses; experience unnecessary; particulars free. United Mailing Co., St. Louis. je2d

MARRY—Thousands congenial people, worth from $1,000 to $50,000, seeking early marriage; descriptions, photos, introductions free; sealed, either sex; send no money. Address Standard Cor. Club, Grayslake, Ill. je3d

HOME work, $25 weekly addressing envelopes, classifying names, clipping newspapers. Apex Mailing Co., St. Louis, Mo. je2d

GIRL, 20, worth $30,000, lonely, will marry. H-Box 35, League, Toledo, O. ja3d

ATTRACTIVE young widow, worth $40,000, will marry. Club, Box 1032, Wichita, Kansas. je2d

LEADING club, largest, most reliable for lonely people, confidential descriptions free in plain sealed envelope; thousands wealthy members; if sincere, write; established 19 years. Old Reliable Club (name copyrighted), Mrs. Wrubel, Box 34, Oakland, Calif. je2d

WANTED—Boston bull, male not over 5 years old. Call 109 Roosevelt Ave. je2d

WANTED—Men and women to know the big riding months have begun. Eighty thousand men, women and children are going to be actually killed—fourteen million are going to be injured. Not one of these knows in advance! There are more than thirty thousand persons in Greater Norwich. At least half of these take trips to some suburb, beach or other recreation place each summer week end, by auto, train, car, etc. Have you arranged with the gods to protect you? Every time you leave home, or a friend gives you a lift in his car? Every time you mix with the crowd and expose yourself to disease? If not, you'd better arrange with L. G. Smith, 29 Mt. Pleasant St., to pay you from $25 to $50 a week. Phone 542. may28MThS

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, etc., and antiques. Ward Bros., 46 Jackson St., Willimantic. Tel. 682-3. mar14TuThS

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 489, Norwich.

WANTED—Wall tent with fly, 9x12 or 11x14 preferred; state price desired. Write W. L., Bulletin. je1d

WANTED—Have you a boy from 2 to 7 years old that you wish to see in a regulation baseball uniform for 97c? You can get them for said price at The Pasnick Co. Chain Stores. apr27d

KIN YA BEET IT?—A gent from Pitchville took me he crossed a rubber plant with the regular brass 'in' and made it rainproof, but by ginks, sez he, one of our cows fell down tother day 'n' she bounded all over the meda. Sum pipes for 75c, Manila cigars, six for 25c. After Dinner cigar, mild, 5c straight. Pasnick's Smoke Shop. may23d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Cheneski, Agt., 160 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2163. feb21d

WANTED — Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. ja11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, stove fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weinberg, 32 Market St. Phone 527-2. 1y6d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-2. jan3d

IF IT'S JUNK

sell it to the Mutual Waste and Metal Co., where you get the most for Scrap Iron, Scrap Metal, Rags, Paper, Magazines, etc. We call and remove same promptly. 319 West Main Street, Telephone 2275.

WANTED

SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE. BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS

THE TIME WILL COME

When You Will Need Ready Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not

BE PREPARED

Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed note. Call, write or Phone 1470.

New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 206, THAYER BUILDING
16 FRANKLIN STREET

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Small pony, two years old; will sell cheap. 33 Pratt St. may30d

FOR SALE—One pair of team horses, weight 2500. Inquire of Thomas Meiler, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-13 Jewett City. may29d

JUST ARRIVED.

My Horses are here, and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.

ELMER B. PIERSON,
Tel. 536-3. apr23d

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 147 Maple St. Phone 603-12. jan19d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Jobbing. 58 West Main St. Phone 971. dec6d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 46 Franklin St. may19d

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Dry slab wood. Phone 1241-5. may24d

COAL, seasoned wood and kindlings in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 544 or 1325-5. R. Shapiro, Willow St. may26d

FOR SALE—Well seasoned mixed slabs; nice for burner. H. B. Beard & Son. Tel. 915-4. apr19d

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—$4,250 will buy cottage house of six rooms and bath, lot about 50x150 feet, located near lower Washington St. Phone 876. je2d

FOR SALE—Cheap, nine acres of land, near Drawbridge, on same side highway as state hospital, near Norwich, near water. Linden, 715 45d St., Brooklyn, N. Y. je2d

FOR SALE—Registered Ayrshire bull, Turnbull, Wauwecus Hill, Norwich Town. je2d

FOR SALE—Cottage of seven rooms, all improvements, in good condition, McKinley Ave. section; price low for quick sale. Frank A. Bill, Thayer Bldg. Phones 2056 and 212. je2d

FOR SALE—We are now offering some exceptionally good values in slightly used upright pianos of well known makes, including Steinway, Wasserman, Crawford and Ivers & Pond. These pianos are all in first class condition and are offered on special easy terms. The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. je2d

FOR SALE—Our entire stock of new, genuine Columbia Grafonolas now on sale at one-third less than reduced prices; savings as high as $50 on some models; terms $1 weekly. The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. je2d

FOR SALE—A new six-room modern cottage in Thamesville; price low for quick sale. Phone 1460. je2d

FOR SALE—A large house, suitable for two tenements, with garage, on Cliff St.; a seven-room modern cottage on Greene Ave.; two fine houses on Union St. Inquire 57 Cliff St., or Phone 1460. je2d

FOR SALE—If you are looking for a country home with a new set of buildings, seven-room bungalow, excellently finished, polished floors, etc., garage and barn, with five acres of cultivated land, and more land if desired, within easy access to center of borough of Danielson, here is your place. Price $5,000. Liberal terms if sold at once. Write or telephone the owner, Carl A. Carlson, Danielson, Conn. je2d

FOR SALE—Reasonable, two new milch cows. Inquire John Wischmenski, 149 Baltic St., Norwich. je2d

FOR SALE—50 clumps of choice dahlias; having lost their tags, I will sell while they last 15 tubers for $1. Write Mrs. Daniel C. Brown, R. D., Mystic. may23WSWS

FOR SALE—A small good refrigerator. Call Phone 1366-4. je1d

FOR SALE—Hay from Tibbetts barn; low price. P. A. Nawrocki. je1FMW

FOR SALE—New Wilsonian talking machine, cost $100, will sell for $45. John W. Eaton, 551 Boswell Ave. je1d

FOR SALE—One 10-room house, with store, including fixtures and stock, good will, good location, house has all modern improvements, a rare bargain; also six-room house, with improvements, in excellent condition, price $3,500; one two-tenement house, five-six rooms, all modern improvements, large lot and two-car garage, on East Side, priced for quick sale. W. F. Hill Agency, 108 Thayer Bldg. je1d

FOR SALE—Solid oak store wall case at bargain price. Perkins' Candy Store. je1d

FOR SALE—Hay, good quality, reasonable. Telephone 1708. je1d

FOR SALE—Ten rolls 2 ft. 2 inch mesh poultry wire at $3.26 per roll, f. o. b. farm. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. may31d

FOR SALE—Now milch cow, with calf. D. J. Connelly. Phone 397-14. may30d

FOR SALE—First class player-piano. Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 963-4. may26d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $10.

A slightly used $135 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.

A $160 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.

A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $60, our price $20.

An upright Fischer piano, in fine condition, $75.

Talking Machine Shop, 24-34 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Cheneski, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr10d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar26d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR QUICK SALE

7-room house, all improvements, near Backus hospital, bargain at $7,500.

3-tenement house, North Cliff St., $3,750.

A beautiful cottage on Williams St., also garage, lot 150x200.

Double house, Sachem St., large lot, 16 rooms, all improvements, garage, $12,000.

4-family brick house, High St., $7,000.

Beautiful home, Spring Garden Ave., $8,250.

3-apartment house, Spring Garden Ave., $8,000.

Many others, all sections.

210-acre farm, Jewett City, 8-room house, all necessary outbuildings, 11 head cattle, 100 hens, hay, tools, wagons, etc., for quick sale $6,500; attractive mortgage.

JAMES E. MOORE,
Thayer Bldg.
Real Estate, Insurance, Investments.

FOR SALE

No. 56 Spruce Street, 9 rooms and 2 baths. Price reasonable. Can be arranged for 2 apartments. Possession given immediately. Inquire of owner

J. J. CORKERY

FOR SALE

ATTRACTIVE SUMMER COTTAGE, AT BEST VIEW

Ideal Summer Location

Immediate Possession

House has electric lights, running water, modern plumbing, hardwood floors, and is plastered, has heating system and may be occupied the entire year.

PRICE $7,600

JAMES L. CASE

Tel. 876 46 SHETUCKET ST.

FOR SALE

A choice farm, located within five miles of Norwich, consisting of about 400 acres of land, about one-half can be put under cultivation, balance pasture and woodland, will easily cut over 6,000 cords of wood, besides a huge lot of timber. This farm must be sold and priced low. Fine large house in fine shape, as are outbuildings. All tools and machinery included. A great opportunity for someone. For further particulars, see

JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

AN IDEAL SPOT

for a summer home, 1 1-2 miles from state road, railroad station and store, new 8-room house, open fireplace, hardwood floors, running spring water, wide verandas, fine view, maple shade, also apples, pears, peaches and cherry trees. Priced only $2,300, easy terms.

TRYON'S AGENCY,
Willimantic, Conn.
je2d

FOR SALE

A modern house of two 6-room apartments, with garage for two cars, all nearly new. Hardwood floors throughout, cemented cellar, large level lot, finely located—all in perfect order. Immediate possession.

THOS. H. BECKLEY
278 MAIN STREET
PHONES

OUR FINEST SERGES

Dark Navy Blue

$4.45 — $5.89

Our very finest quality, 100 per cent. Virgin Wool, Fine Weave Serge Trousers. Every young fellow should have a pair of Blue Serge Trousers in his wardrobe. Here's your opportunity to secure a good pair that are carefully tailored to fit comfortably, with cuffs and bell bottoms.

L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
Opposite Post Office

RED CEDAR CHESTS

H. Pukallus

$750 Cash Payment

BUYS A TEN-ACRE FARM, 7-ROOM COTTAGE HOUSE, BARN, 5 HENNERIES, FRUIT. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. SEND FOR FARM BULLETIN—CHOICE OF 400.

WILLIAM A. WILCOX
FARM SPECIALIST
WESTERLY, R. I.

FOR SALE

6-room cottage, all improvements, 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. Today, $3,800.

7-room bungalow, new. An expensive house for less than cost.

10-room bungalow. No better built in Norwich. Located central. Price right.

2-apartment house near Chelsea Parade. First class condition. Large lot and garage. Good investment at price, $8,000.

Beautiful estate with large grounds. First class condition. Fine residential property. Price $20,000.

GROVER & BURDICK
2 MARKET STREET Phone 1525-2

MEAT MARKET FOR SALE

Long established business of John B. Lucas, Main St., Danielson. I am retiring on account of my health and am prepared to sell my entire stock and business at a sacrifice. Business established 35 years in one location. Inquire of

JOHN B. LUCAS,
feld Danielson, Conn.

REMOVAL

Archa W. Coit

Formerly of 227 MAIN STREET

Will open his office in the Disco Building, June first.

Desirable residential property in all sections of Norwich.

New 5-room Bungalow, near business district at reasonable price.

TELEPHONES 2283 AND 1596

FOR SALE

AT CRESCENT BEACH

Eight-room furnished modern cottage, with one-car garage and three bathing houses, in one of the choicest locations on the waterfront; house has recently been finished in stucco and is a great chance for someone to get a choice summer home at a very reasonable price.

For further particulars, see

JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
NORWICH.

FOR SALE

A tenement block, with improvements; always well rented, and centrally located; price right if sold at once.

Six-room cottage; all improvements, including heat, in excellent condition, built about 10 years, will sell for $4,000, same is located 15 minutes' walk from Franklin Square.

Brick block on West Side, with two stores and two tenements; good investment; price $7,500; will arrange liberal loan.

FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones. Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE

$9,500 will buy five-apartment house, with some store, rent for $110 monthly, with gas and electric light, large lot, on Main St., five minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see

A. V. COVELLO,
Tel. 1527-5. 196 CHURCH ST.

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

VERMONT COWS

CARLOAD JUST ARRIVED — NEW MILCH AND SPRINGERS.

FRED W. HOSKIE,
North Franklin.
Telephone 32-3 Lebanon. je2d

LEGAL NOTICE

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF NORWICH, CONN.

To either Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn., GREETING:

You are hereby directed to warn the electors of the City of Norwich to assemble in CITY MEETING in the several voting districts in said City as by law provided, to wit:

FIRST VOTING DISTRICT—At the Town Hall in the Court House Building.

SECOND VOTING DISTRICT—At 12 Thames Street, in the P. J. O'Connell Block.

THIRD VOTING DISTRICT—At 220 Central Avenue.

SIXTH VOTING DISTRICT—At No. 1 Hamilton Avenue.

on MONDAY, JUNE 4th, 1923, at 6 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6.30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), to choose by ballot two Aldermen, four Common Councilmen, a Clerk, a Collector, and one Water Commissioners for the term of two years each, and also a Treasurer and two Sheriffs for the term of one year each. Voting machines will be used under the provisions of the laws of the State of Connecticut.

Said meeting will be open in each of the districts at 5:30 o'clock in the forenoon, standard time (6:30 o'clock in the forenoon, daylight saving time), for the purpose of voting for said City Officers, and shall continue open until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), for said purposes, when the polls in each of the several Districts shall be closed.

And at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, standard time (6 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight saving time), in said Town Hall, the estimates of the City's expenses for the current fiscal year as made by the Court of Common Council of said City at a meeting held on May 21st, 1923, will be submitted to said City Meeting for action thereon, and there will also be submitted to said meeting for action the estimates for special matters presented to said Court of Common Council in the report of the Committee on Finance at said meeting held May 21st, 1923, viz.:

1—Equipment, street department		$5,000.00
2—Concrete paving, Rose place		1,000.00
3—Macadamizing Central avenue		10,000.00
4—Macadamizing West Main street, Thames square to		10,000.00
5—Macadamizing Elmwood avenue		4,000.00
6—Improvement Geer avenue		1,500.00
7—Sewer in Roath street from Cliff street to North Cliff street		2,500.00
8—Sewer in Brook street, North street from Hickory street to East Baltic street, Hickory street from Baltic street to North street, and from Hickory street to end of present sewer in Lake street playground		27,000.00
9—Extra street lighting (White Way)		3,000.00
10—Sewer in Broadway avenue from Mowry avenue to Smith avenue		1,000.00
		$65,000.00

Also at said time and place to lay a tax on the City Grand List last made and perfected to meet the expenses of the City upon the estimates approved and the appropriations authorized by said City Meeting to be funds from the City Treasury; also to fix the compensation of the Collector of said tax; also to act upon the list of abatements of taxes made by the Mayor and Aldermen of said City to be presented at said meeting; also to authorize and sanction the temporary borrowing for the Gas and Electric Department of the City, in anticipation of its ordinary revenue of such sum or sums not exceeding in the aggregate $25,000 as may be necessary from time to time to pay the running expenses of said department; said sum or sums so to be borrowed to be repaid, principal and interest, before the end of the present fiscal year from the revenues of said department; also to determine whether or not the assessments made by the Court of Common Council on the 4th day of December, 1922, for street sprinkling shall be shared; also to authorize and sanction the borrowing by the City of such sum or sums of money not exceeding $225,000 as may be needed from time to time to make the improvements and discharge the obligations and expenses authorized by said meeting, and to determine the time within which repayment shall be made of the sum or sums of money so to be borrowed.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 24th day of May, A. D. 1923.

MILO R. WATERS,
Mayor of the City of Norwich, Conn.

State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., Norwich, May 24th, 1923.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is the warrant and warning directed to me for service by publication.

Attest: ABRAHAM STOCKEL,
A Sheriff of the City of Norwich, Conn.
may28MWThFS

NOTICE TO BUILDERS

Sealed proposals to build a wooden addition to the Oneco School Building, 24x34, one story, will be received until Saturday, June 9th, 1923. Plans and specifications may be seen by applying to A. J. Dixon, Oneco, Conn. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Address all bids to A. J. DIXON, Chairman, Oneco, Conn. may30d

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of make. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. jan21d

TRANSPORTATION

JOSHUA TAYLOR, Cunard and International S. S. Agent, 193 High St., Baltic, Conn. Phone 1925-4. may30d

BUS LINE
Norwich-Westerly—Nick Mooney, Proprietor
Telephone Westerly 2467.

Leave Westerly 8 a. m., 11 a. m., 2 p. m., 5 p. m., 7 p. m., 9 p. m.

Arrive North Stonington 8.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 5.30 p. m., 7.30 p. m., 9.30 p. m.

Leave Norwich 8 a. m., 9.30 a. m., 12.30 p. m., 3.30 p. m., 6.30 p. m., 9 p. m.

Arrive North Stonington 8.45 a. m., 10.15 a. m., 1.15 p. m., 4.15 p. m., 7.15 p. m., 9.45 p. m.

FARES: Westerly-Norwich 75c; Westerly-North Stonington 35c; Norwich-North Stonington 40c. may30d

BEAUTY PARLOR

PERMANENT HAIR WAVE

AND ALL KINDS OF HAIR COLORING — DONE BY

MME. LACKENBACH
3 WASHINGTON SQUARE

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand. S. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Gold watch, at Fairgrounds, Monday night; name in back of case. Apply at Box 62, Bulletin, and receive reward. je2d

FOUND—Wednesday, collie dog. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. 10 Summer St. je1d

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Store, 12 Thames St. Apply Thames Coal Co. je2d

FOR RENT—Long established Bowman tobacco store, West Main St. Apply Thames Coal Co. je2d

TO RENT—Twenty-five acres of upland pasture, well fed. George Mattern. Tel. 1864-21. je2d

TO RENT—Modern apartment, all improvements. Inquire 346 West Main St. je2d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms, furnished. Tel. 799-3. je1d

FOR RENT—A very desirable six-room house, modern improvements, bath, electric lights, steam heat. For particulars, Phone 2225. je28MW

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, 40 Church St. je2d

TO RENT—Furnished room, 61 Park Street. je2d

TO RENT or for sale, six-room cottage at beach. Write or inquire Ocean View Hotel, Quonochontaug, R. I. may26d

TO RENT—Store, good location. Inquire Joseph Cooper, 98 Thames St. Tel. 1041. je1d

TO RENT—Tenement at No. 61 Fountain St. je1d

TO RENT—Cottage house, six rooms, all improvements. Inquire 19 High St. je1d

TO RENT—Five-room tenement, all modern conveniences. Inquire 41 89 Mt. Pleasant St. je1d

TO RENT—Tenement with modern improvements. Inquire 16 West Town St., Norwich Town. je1d

FOR RENT—Furnished, for season, at Pleasant View, west end of beach, a five-room bungalow, fireplace, wide verandas. For particulars, apply to M. S. Dawerel, 84 Elm St., Westerly, R. I. je1d

TO RENT—Front room, reasonable. 166 School St. je1d

TO RENT—Furnished apartment of five rooms, centrally located, with heat and all modern improvements; garage if needed. Phone 930. may31d

TO LET—Pasture in Canterbury. Apply Box 190, Willimantic, Conn. James Kane. may31d

TO RENT—Seven-room cottage at Groton Long Point; all improvements; $360 for season. A. H. Disco, 11 Oak St., Norwich, Conn. may29d

TO RENT—Tenement, five rooms, 36 Cliff St. Apply 9 Elm St. may29d

TO RENT—One store, 22x40, on Main St., Plainfield. Inquire Theodore Rollins, Plainfield. may28d

TO RENT — Apartment, lower floor, three rooms and bath, 175 Broadway. may23d

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement, upstairs, steam heat, bath, gas and electricity. Inquire 79 Hamilton Ave. may22d

TO RENT—Beautiful modern apartment at 50 Broad St., steam heat furnished and hot water supplied all year round. Inquire Talking Machine Shop, or your agent. may21d

TO RENT—Store on Main St., Moosup, Conn. Apply to Nathan Nulman, Moosup. may5d

TO RENT

221 BROADWAY

15-ROOM RESIDENCE

AND 2-CAR GARAGE

Steam Heated.

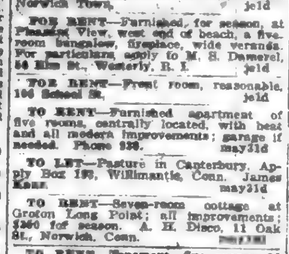
Apply on the Premises.

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

AUTO TOPS and painting; up-to-date shop and skilled help; if you need our services, come to see us. Norwich Auto Trimming and Paint Shop, Majestic Bldg., top floor. Tel. 2114. may4d

NORWICH AUTO and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct13

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Joe Amaranos, Pond St. Phone 1298. may16d



This is the time to have us put the radiator in A-1 shape for the coming season. Have us clean the radiator, stop all leaks, strengthen where vibration is affecting it, remove dents and other injuries.

Skilled service in every phase of radiator service, at moderate cost.

WILLIAM E. SHANLEY

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK

OF ALL KINDS

Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts

Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches

Scott & Clark Corp.

267 TO 315 NORTH MAIN STREET

SHOE REPAIRING

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIRING CO., 26 Franklin St. Be wise and have your work done by hand, not machinery, as it is better and will last longer. Shoes made for all deformities. may7d apr19d

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUCTIONS

C. E. MACFARLANE.....Auctioneer

AUCTION

I will sell at public auction on

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1923,

at 9 o'clock a. m., standard time,

LATHAM & CRANE'S YARD,

160 Valley St., Willimantic,

LUMBER AS FOLLOWS:

1250 ft. 3x5 Oak, 620 ft. 3 in. Oak, 1203 ft. 1 in. Shop Cypress, old grading, 1172 ft. 2 in. R. E. Pine, Maine butts, etc., 2038 ft. 2 in. Ash R. E., 2781 ft. 2 in. Oak R. E. clear, 3404 ft. 3 in. Oak R. E. clear, 1423 ft. 2 in. Ash R. E., 1243 ft. 1 1-4 in. Select Cypress Strip, 134 ft. 1 in. M. C. Pine, 1837 ft. 1 in. S. E. Pine, 742 ft. 6 in. S. E. Pine, 528 ft. 1 in. Chestnut, 1005 ft. 1 1-4 in. Oak S. E., 5049 ft. 3 in. S. E. Pine, 1200 ft. 4x4 Chestnut, 400 lin. ft. Chestnut Frame Stock, 2750 ft. No. 2 Common, 575 ft. 1 in. Eastern Pine, 425 ft. 1 1-4 in. R. E. Pine, 300 ft. Ash, 250 ft. Cyp. D. 2 S., Engine and Boiler, Reo Truck, two set Chain Falls, one Heavy Winch, one Wagon, Miscellaneous Machinery, Tools, too numerous to mention.

may31d

STANTON L. BRIGGS.....Auctioneer
Telephone Willimantic 1360.

AUCTION

I will sell at public auction at my farm, known as the King farm, in the Town of Franklin, on the road leading from Yantic to Lebanon, at what is known as Mason Hill, on

MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1923,

at 9 a. m., standard time,

the following property, without reserve or limit:

One 1918 Cadillac touring car, 4 new cord tires, this car is just overhauled and in fine condition.

LIVESTOCK, TOOLS,

FAIR TODAY AND PROBABLY TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Saturday, June 2, 1923.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

Quite warm weather prevailed during Friday over all districts east of the Rocky mountains.

The outlook is for generally fair weather Saturday and Sunday throughout the eastern states. Temperatures will continue above the normal generally east of the Mississippi river Saturday and Sunday, but with a probability of slightly lower temperature Sunday in New England and eastern New York.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook: Fresh westerly and fair weather Saturday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Moderate to fresh southwest and weather fair Saturday.

Forecast.

For Southern New England: Fair Saturday and probably Sunday; slightly lower temperature on mainland Sunday.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Friday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	60	29.76
12 m.	78	29.66
6 p. m.	64	29.90

Highest 78, lowest 60.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Friday: Fair and warmer.

Friday's weather: Fair; warmer; southwest wind.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	(Standard Time.)
23	4.19	7.11	8.08	8.33
25	4.18	7.12	9.01	4.07
26	4.18	7.12	9.55	Rises.
27	4.17	7.13	10.49	5.44
28	4.17	7.14	11.41	6.38
31	4.17	7.15	12.27	10.34
1	4.16	7.15	13.50	11.05

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Henry Peltier of Norwich avenue has returned from Fall River, Mass., where he has been visiting his two sons, Lionel and Lucien Peltier.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan of Boston, Mass., are the guests over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trohand of Providence street.

The Occoxsain Camp Fire Girls held a rehearsal Friday evening in the Pomeroy hall of their play "Lost and Found", which they are planning to present next week.

Notice, members of Court Wequonnoc, F. of A., get busy, 30 day drive now on for membership. Per order William Smith, Chief Ranger.—adv.

NORWICH TOWN

Rev. Henry T. Arnold of Williams street will be the officiating clergyman at the Sheltering Arms service on Sunday afternoon. The music at this service will be furnished by the pupils of Miss Elizabeth Lane, violinist.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter C. Collins of Ledyard, were guests for a few days this week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Turnbull, of Wauwecus Hill.

Miss Viola Turnbull, a member of the Nurses' training class at the Backus hospital, spent an afternoon recently at her home.

Mrs. Charles F. Gear of West Town street entertained a party of relatives from Waterbury over Memorial Day. During the day Mrs. Geer was a motor guest of her relatives to New London, where the entire party enjoyed a fine dinner at a hotel.

Miss Minnie Palmer of Washington street, was a motor guest Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Strong, of Town street. A trip was made to Colchester, where they were luncheon guests of Mrs. Willard Burpee.

L. Stanley Gay, draughtsman for the Sea-Sled Co., of West Mystic, who spent Memorial Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Gay, of Julian terrace, will again visit his home to remain over the week-end.

DECLINES APPOINTMENT AS SPRAGUE DEPUTY JUDGE

Charles E. Barnes of Baltic, who had been given an appointment as deputy judge of the town court of Sprague, had declined the appointment.

Mr. Barnes said Friday night that he had resigned because he felt that his employment in a mill would make it impossible for him to discharge the duties of the office satisfactorily and he felt that he was disqualified from accepting the appointment under these circumstances.

The Personal Gift Pleases Most

We invite your inspection of many exquisite designs in dinner rings—mounted in red, green and white gold, platinum and diamonds.

Now models in the fashionable, flexible Bracelets.

SUITABLE GRADUATION GIFTS

FERGUSON'S

FRANKLIN SQUARE

Where All Cars Stop

SENATE AND HOUSE IN FIGHT OVER PASSING POLLUTION BILL

Senate and house at Hartford are still waging battle over the pollution bill that is designed to protect streams of the state. The house has a "strong" bill as opposed to the "modified" one that has been passed by the senate. Both were in the balance Friday when the committee on conference failed to come to a compromise and advised each branch to adhere to its original action.

The report was made to the senate and the motion to adhere had been made when Senator Trumbull led the fight in favor of conference with the house and after more than an hour's spirited debate succeeded in having the senate reject the committee's report by a vote of 16 to 16. The house bill was then tabled for printing in the journal in order that it might be studied more carefully before final action is taken.

Had the senate voted to adhere to its action in passing the modified bill, the entire measure would have been killed, since the house was definitely opposed to passing any pollution bill that had no "teeth" in it. While the senate refused to kill the house bill today, it is by no means certain that the bill will be passed finally. Several of those voting against adherence announced that they did so in order that they might study the house bill more carefully.

Proponents of the house bill contend that conditions concerning the pollution of streams have reached a state where some action must be taken. They also maintain that the house bill is not drastic and does not carry any more authority with it than enough to provide for a certain degree of relief. They declare that the senate bill gives the commission no power to enforce its orders adequately and is at best a "weak bill."

Those in support of the senate bill, however, declare that it is a long step in advance and is as far as the state can go at this time. They declare that the house is entirely too drastic and would injure the manufacturers of the state to such an extent that Connecticut would suffer in the long run.

The senate vote was as follows:

For adherence, thus killing the bill: Bidwell, Covert, Golden, Ells, McGrath, Johnson, Gibbs, Brooks Rudd and French.

Against adherence, thus giving the senate a chance to study the house bill: Sullivan, Dignam, Trumbull, Tone, Clyne, Beers, Beiselegel, Rogers, Wilder, Harter, Challenger, Atchison, Platt, Ash, Pierson and De Peyster.

LEGISLATORS TO HOLD SATURDAY "DUMMY" SESSION

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, June 1.—The house was called to order with Representative Edward L. Kelly of Colchester in the chair.

Prayer was offered by the chaplain.

The commission to investigate the ballot law was continued by special resolution as the commission have not been able to finish the work contemplated.

A communication was received from the governor transmitting a letter from Charles B. Barnes declining the deputy judgship of the town court of Sprague.

The communication was referred to the judiciary committee and under suspension of the rules was transmitted to the senate.

From the calendar was passed the bill amending the charter of the city of Waterbury, relating to the collection of trees and the taking of office.

An act concerning zoning in certain cities and towns was passed. It affects the cities of Bridgeport, Norwalk, Waterbury and Stamford, the towns of Fairfield, Greenwich, Enfield and West Hartford.

According to the act any zoning commission may adopt regulations defining boundaries of districts, and the size, height, number of stories of buildings and other structures within such districts and the plans of the materials used in the construction, alteration or repair of such buildings or structures, the location of any building or structure upon any lot in such district, the percentage of lot which may be occupied by buildings or structures, the size of courts or other open spaces and the use which may be made of such buildings or structures.

Provision is made for appeal to the courts from decisions of the commission.

The bill consolidating the fire districts in East Hartford was taken from the table and passed.

City of Milford.

At 11.05 a recess was taken for ten minutes but it lasted till 11.55.

After recess the bill creating the city of Milford which was recalled was taken up and slightly amended and repassed and under suspension of the rules was transmitted to the senate.

The bill proposing an amendment to the constitution was taken from the table. The passing of the bill was favored by Shepherd of Portland, Hill of Shelton and Buckley of Union. It was approved by Schatz of Hartford. The bill provides that article eighteen of the amendments to the constitution be amended to read as follows: Representation of the several towns in the house of representatives shall be determined as now provided by law, provided, each town shall have at least one representative.

The bill on motion of Leader Buckley was tabled.

The bill authorizing the county commissioners to appropriate the cost of the bridge between Warehouse Point and Windsam at Enfield was taken from the senate and amended by providing that the expense should not exceed the sum of $250,000 on the part of the state.

Hartford School Consolidation

The bill concerning a vote on consolidation of the school districts of Hartford was taken from the table and an amendment was offered that would allow a vote to be taken on the question at intervals of three years as the original bill provided. Schatz of Hartford said that in twenty years this question has been before the people fourteen times and each time consolidation has been voted down. In April in a vote of over 13,000 there was a majority of over 4,000 against consolidation. It was a good bill and should pass.

Eddy of Canton who formerly lived in Hartford, was of the opinion that the bill should pass. Darbie of Killingly said that it was desirable that the three years provided for in the bill should be spent in a discussion and he moved the previous question. The bill as amended was passed and transmitted to the senate.

The bill concerning air craft was indefinitely postponed.

McCook Property at Niantic

The bill concerning the condemnation of the McCook property at Niantic was indefinitely postponed. It has been decided that the comptroller has power to purchase such land as may be needed with the approval of the board of control.

Standard Time Bill Signed

Among the bills signed by Governor Templeton today was the one codifying the fish and game laws. Also the standard time bill. The bill which becomes effective at once provides that "No person, firm or corporation, organization or association, shall willfully display in or on any public building or on any street, avenue or public highway any time-measuring instrument or device, which is calculated or intended to furnish time to the general public, set or running so as to indicate intentionally, or indicating intentionally, any time other than the standard of time as defined by chapter 57 of the public acts of 1921. Any person or any officer of any corporation or organization or association violating any provision of this act shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars.

This act shall take effect from its passage.

Governor Templeton has sent the pen with which he used in signing the bill to G. Warren Davis of Norwich. Mr. Davis is secretary of the Connecticut standard time league.

At 1 p. m. (s. T.) the house adjourned to Saturday at 10.15. This will also be a "dummy" session as will be the session on Monday. The house and senate will be called to order and then adjourn each day without doing any business.

COMMUNITY PICNIC ENJOYED AT LOWTHORPE MEADOWS

In response to the general invitation sent out by Governor Ely, president of the Norwich Rural association, under whose auspices the annual community picnic was given, a large gathering representing all walks of life took advantage of the beautiful Lowthorpe Meadows on Friday evening for an out-of-doors luncheon.

At six o'clock, those attending chose their own location, forming various groups on the hillside, where baskets and boxes filled with tempting lunches were thrown open.

Following this the younger element of this gathering enjoyed several out-of-door games.

Long before the appointed hour young and old began to arrive. Some came in automobiles, while several reached the meadows from the Washington street entrance, having arrived on the trolley, and there were many pedestrians.

A pleasant feature was the community singing of popular and familiar songs, which took place just as the sun was setting.

The chorus singing was in charge of President Ely, who with Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, Dr. Charles H. Lamb and Joseph C. Worth, Jr., made up a quartette of male voices and led the group of 19 in the following selections: Love's Old Sweet Song, The Soldier's Farewell, The Old Oaken Bucket, Lead Kindly Light, Junita, Dixie Land, Old Black Joe, Old Folks at Home, Battle Hymn of the Republic, Sweet and Low, Good Night Ladies, The Star Spangled Banner.

President Ely announced that the song books were loaned by the Plaut-Cadden company.

This scene is particularly attractive in its beautiful setting which at that time of day and at this season of the year is at its best.

RAINBOW CIRCLE HELD SECOND ANNUAL BANQUET

Rainbow Circle of the King's Daughters and invited friends numbering 22, gathered at the Greeneville Congregational church, Thursday evening for the second annual banquet of the circle.

The affair was in charge of Mrs. John W. Atterbury, assisted by Mrs. William Pitcher.

At 7.30 the following menu was served: Potato salad, cold ham, pickles, rolls, cake and coffee.

Mrs. George H. Prior, of Jewett City, state president of the King's Daughters, was the guest of honor.

At the conclusion of the banquet, Mrs. Prior addressed the circle and friends in a most inspiring manner, taking for her theme The Rainbow. A full explanation of this was given by alluding to the many beautiful colorings in which the speaker defined each one. The address was listened to with profound interest after which Miss Marie Louise Atterbury, leader of the entertaining circle, called upon her officers and others for brief remarks. In turn, Miss Atterbury was requested to do her part in regard to speech-making, having responded very efficiently.

The latter part of the evening was devoted to various games, also chorus singing with Miss Viola Levitzky at the piano.

ASSIGNMENTS FOR TRIAL IN SUPERIOR COURT

The following superior court assignments for trial of court cases before Judge George E. Hinman in Norwich have been made:

Wednesday, June 6th, standard time, (special), Gillette vs Town of Lyme, appeal from board of relief; (special) Davis, Admx. vs Mystic Power Co.; Chapman vs Cruttenden, et al; Buddington vs City of New London; Burnap vs City of Norwich, et al.

Thursday, June 7th—Topliff vs Brady, Hendel vs Ducy, et al; Piel Bros., Inc. vs Desario; Contino vs Turello, et al; Gordon et al vs P. Schwartz Co.; Naisel vs Huntington.

Friday, June 8th, annual calling of the docket at 9 a. m., sharp standard time. Short calendar, bar meeting, and assignment of cases.

Tuesday, June 12th, (special), Louis Soloway vs Fishkin; (special) Bessie Soloway vs Fishkin; (special) Beyer vs Fishkin; Van Keuren, Jr., vs Kuhn, et al; Schmidt, et al vs Reynolds; Schmidt et al, vs Reynolds, et al.

FIND NO ELECTRICITY LEAKING INTO PIPES

For some time past members of a company secured by the gas and electrical department have been conducting a survey of the gas and water pipes in the city with a view to ascertaining whether or not straight electric current is leaking to them. The survey thus far has failed to show any such leakage that would destroy the mains in the city.

The department has also been working laying about 1,000 feet of gas pipes on Laurel Hill avenue from Center street along the park. This section of pipe is old and the new pipe was needed.

Unclaimed Letters

Unclaimed letters at the Norwich, Conn., post office for week ending June 2, 1923; Albert G. Brewster, Mr. D. C. Ross, Mr. William Davis, Mrs. May Getchell, Mr. W. F. Sibley.

MONEY DEPOSITED AS LATE AS

JUNE 5th

WILL DRAW INTEREST FROM

JUNE 1st

The Chelsea Savings Bank

FRANKLIN SQUARE NORWICH, CONN.

THE BANK OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

ENTERTAINMENT FOR TRINITY MEN'S CLUB

A most enjoyable entertainment was given at Trinity Episcopal church Thursday evening under the auspices of the Men's club, in the church school room. A short business session was held and at 8 o'clock a short recess was declared and the members of the club welcomed their guests.

The program was in charge of the rector, Rev. J. Eldred Brown. Miss Jennie B. Stanton of Westerly was the reader and Henry LaFontaine the soloist.

The program of Miss Stanton was as follows: The Transfiguration of Miss Philura, by Kirgsley; De Oak and De Vine, a group of negro selections: Lovers Lane Dunbar; Blow Lil' Breezes, Grelow; Theology in the Quarters, Huntin' Season, Death of Steerforth, Dickens; Legend Beautiful, Longfellow; Me Darlint the Wars.

Mr. LaFontaine in his usual manner completely captivated his hearers as he rendered his musical numbers. Possessed with a rich baritone voice his selections were with a finish which was all that could be desired.

His program included: Tired Hands, Sanderson; There Is No Death, O'Hara; Duna, McGell; The Crescent Moon, Sanderson; Tommy Lad, Margetson; The Great Awakening, Kramer.

The accompanist was Miss Mary Woods and her piano interpretations were charming. The program concluded with a playlet given by the members of St. Margaret's Guild.

Following the entertainment a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. This program completed the formal work of the Men's club for the year. The church is to be congratulated on the work of the men of the parish who have been the means of providing several opportunities for enjoyment.

SEVERAL SHIFTS MADE IN POLICE BEATS

Several shifts in police beats became effective Friday night under orders issued by Chief George Linton and are occasioned through the change made in putting Officer Myron O. Morgan on traffic duty during the day at Shannon corner.

Officer P. Driscoll is brought from Greeneville to cover Officer Morgan's lower Broadway beat, reporting at 6 p. m.

Officer John Carroll, who has been on the Greeneville beat, reporting at 3 p. m., will hereafter report at 6 p. m.

Officer Michael Dowire will report on the Greeneville beat at 3 p. m.

PROPOSING HALF HOLIDAY THURSDAY THROUGH SUMMER

Report of a canvass of the business houses to find out their attitude on the proposal for a Thursday half-holiday through the summer is to be made Monday at a meeting of the Retail Merchants association.

The matter came up at a meeting early this week and a committee was appointed to find out the sentiment and report at the meeting Monday.

Noah was the original weather prognosticator.

MOTION LIST MATTERS BEFORE JUDGE HINMAN

Motion list matters on the short calendar session of the superior court before Judge George E. Hinman here Friday were disposed of as follows:

Foran, et al., Exrs., vs. Philbrick, et al., judgment off; Ziminski vs Kelley, hearing on remonstrance off; The Federal Land Bank of Springfield vs. Tillie Becker, alias, et al., 1, acceptance of report of committee accepted, 2, approval of deed, approved, 3, supplemental judgment, judgment; Lapointe vs. Arnold Electric Tool Co., 1, approval of receiver's statement of operation of business from February 6, 1923, to April 30, 1923, 2, approval of receiver's statement of operation of business from June 21, 1922, date of appointment, to April 30, 1923, accepted; 3, order for sale of real estate, granted; Mrkirott vs. Posneck, judgment.

The following have been placed on the short calendar by order of court: Shalett vs Shalett's Cleaning & Dyeing, Inc., final report and discharge, postponed; S. di Francesca, et al., vs. Amantia, Admr., et al. final report and discharge, postponed; Shay vs. Niantic Menhaden Oil and Guano Co., semi-annual statements, off; McNally, et al., Mystic and District Cooperative Association, Inc., return of final distribution, accepted; LaPointe vs Arnold Electric Tool Co., semi-annual statement, (Conn. State, Sec. 6084. Rules, Practice Book, Sections 58-59, page 254). Monthly reports (Practice Book, Sec. 57) off. Gallup et al vs Thames River Lumber Company, final report and discharge, postponed.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL CHILDREN OBSERVED MEMORIAL DAY

As has been the custom for 15 years the pupils in the various schools of the town of Franklin with residents of the town gathered Memorial Day at the Franklin Hill church. The school children gathered outside the church and formed in a double line on the steps, remaining so until the veterans had marched into the edifice.

The services opened with the salute to the flag, all standing at attention until the Star Spangled Banner had been sung in unison. Pupils of the schools then recited in concert, Lincoln's Gettysburg address and the welcoming address was delivered by F. S. Armstrong who was directing the services. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. J. Tate. The remainder of the programme was as follows: recitations, Salute to the flag, Louis Kashgam; In Flanders Field, Richard and Burton Smith; song, Columbia the Gem of the Ocean, assemblage; recitation, Memorial Day, Nelson Ronnson; recitations, The Flag Goes By, Henry Mona and John Straus; song, Salutation of Stars and Stripes, Tonigo, Annie Lamb, We Shall Not Forget, Florence Terrington; We Talk of the Flag, Joseph Wisneski; song, America the Beautiful, schools; recitations, Blue and Gray, Walter Miller; In Flanders Field, Arnold Manning and Stephen Armstrong; song, Rally Round the Flag Boys, schools; Memorial Day address, by Rev. Otis W. Parker, D. D. of Hartford song America assemblage.

At the close of the exercises a march was played on the piano while the school children and veterans marched from the church followed by the audience. The services were largely attended and was one of the best held in several years.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ASKS CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM

The Connecticut Chamber of Commerce asks for the constructive criticism of the members of the General Assembly and State officers as to what mistakes in practice and policy the State Chamber has made in connection with measures before the present session of the General Assembly in a questionnaire received by them today. The questionnaire also contains a statement of existing practices and policy of the Chamber during the 1923 session of the legislature and gives a detailed analysis of the bills which that organization reported and the names of those who represented the Chamber at hearings.

The request of the State Chamber of Commerce is significant because of the fact that this state and at every session maintains a legislative service bureau and is represented at hearings by men experienced in legislative procedure.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR MISS FIRTH AT BALTIC

A number of friends gathered at the home of Miss Ethel Firth of Main street, Baltic ,Thursday evening and surprised her with a shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Robert A. Tefft of Oakdale.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games and enjoying vocal and instrumental selections after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Fremont Firth assisted by Mrs. Luther Tefft, Sr. of Oakdale.

Miss Firth received many beautiful presents of linen, cut glass, china and household articles.

WILL CELEBRATE PASTOR'S SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Rev. David A. Pitt, pastor of the Central Baptist church, celebrates his second anniversary as pastor of the church Sunday in honor of the occasion members of the church have planned a celebration and social to take place next Thursday evening following the weekly prayer service. The celebration is to be in charge of the women's organization of the church and although they have not yet announced their plans they hint that the social will be well worth attending. Invitations have been received since Rev. Dr. Pitt assumed the pastorate of the church, to come as guests of honor.

Since arriving in Norwich two years ago Rev. Dr. Pitt has made many friends not only in his own congregation but throughout the city, and it is expected that many of these will come to Bushnell Chapel on Thursday evening to take part in the celebration.

STONINGTON MAN HAS BROUGHT DIVORCE SUIT

George H. Clark of Stonington has brought suit in the superior court, returnable in September, for divorce from Julia A. Clark, who was last heard from in Springfield and is now of parts unknown. Desertion since April 26, 1920 is alleged. They were married Oct. 25, 1915. He asks the custody of two children, a girl aged 8 and a boy aged 7.

Workmen's Compensation

Four workmen's compensation agreements as follows have been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue.

J. E. Fitzgerald Co., of New London, employer, and Harry Carter, Montville; employe, blood poisoning in hand, at rate of $18.

Ponemah Mills, Taftville, employer, and Hormisdas Forget, Taftville, employe, laceration of scalp, arm and hand at rate of $10.43.

T. A. Scott Co., Inc., New London, employer, and Gerald Chester, employe, bruises of hip, thigh and leg at rate of $8.18.

U. S. Finishing Co., Norwich, employer, and Anthony Leblanc, employe, bruised foot at rate of $11.08.

SUIT FOR FORECLOSURE ON FARM IN LEBANON

Suit for foreclosure of a $1,000 mortgage on a 65 acre farm in Lebanon has been brought in the superior court by Nicola and Anastasie Steshke of Lebanon against Anthony Bogdanchik of that town. The mortgage is dated, Nov. 11, 1922. The suit is returnable in September.

The older a man grows the less he thinks he knows.

"OSTEO-TARSAL" DEMONSTRATION

Monday, June 4th — Tuesday, June 5th — Wednesday, June 6th

MR. MURDOFF, Shoe Specialist, will give a Demonstration at our Store, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, on Queen Quality Osteo-Tarsal Shoes. May we have the pleasure of a call on one of these days.

The Geo. W. Kies Co.

Phone 1442 — 118-120 MAIN STREET — Established 1866

MR. AND MRS. GOOD CITIZEN

Are you interested in the Salvation Army?

Do you want to help in its great task?

READ THE WAR CRY!

Sincerely,

Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin

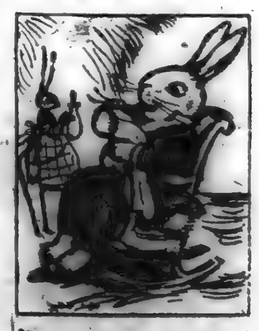
LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

SANG THE GRASSHOPPER TO SLEEP.

Now, as soon as the little baby grasshopper saw Uncle Lucky, she sat right up in her little straw cradle and began to laugh. The next minute, the dear old gentleman rabbit who was very fond of children took the baby grasshopper on his lap and sang a little song to her and if you'll listen, I'll sing it to you on my typewriter, only it won't sound half as nice without the dear old gentleman rabbit's soft tenor voice:

"Rockabye, baby, don't wiggle or cry,
Your dear old Uncle Lucky has on his pink tie.



"I always wanted to sing a baby to sleep.

When you have grown older he'll give you a doll
And a carriage that is topped with a pink parasol.
So hush, baby bunting, close both your eyes,
The Twinkle Stars shining, up there in the skies."

And would you believe it? In less than five hundred short seconds, that baby grasshopper was sound asleep!

"You're a wonderful old rabbit!" whispered Mrs. Grasshopper, "I never knew baby to go to sleep so quickly and to think you've never had any children of your own!"

"Perhaps that's the reason," answered the old gentleman rabbit. "I always wanted to sing a baby to sleep."

After that Mr. Grasshopper gave a nice cabbage leaf cigar to Uncle Lucky and Mrs. Grasshopper brought in a plate of wild strawberries for Little Jack Rabbit.

By and by, the two little rabbits said goodbye for it was growing dark and after lighting the lamps of the Luckymobile, they started off for home. But when it's dark and you're on a strange road, it's easy to lose the way and just as they were beginning to feel dreadfully anxious a little treetoad chirped:

"Come over to my leafy house,
And spend the night with me.
You'll find a little door below
And the stairs inside the tree."

"You're very kind," said Uncle Lucky and he and Little Jack Rabbit hopped out of the Luckymobile and opened the little door at the foot of the tree. Sure enough, there was a flight of stairs leading up to the branches, so up they hopped till they came to a nice room where the tree toad sat in a little walnut rocking chair.

"Make yourselves comfortable" she said, while I get you an apple pie and a lemon stew." And off she went to the pantry.

"I'm so glad you came," she chirped, after the feast was over. "I'm dreadfully lonely for my little boy has gone to a boarding school in Toadtown."

And in the next story, I'll tell you what the little rabbits did when they woke up in the morning.

(Copyright 1923, by David Cory.)

JUNE WHITE SALE

EVERYTHING IN WHITE IS IDEALLY COMBINED WITH ECONOMY PRICES IN THIS SALE OF REMARKABLE VALUE GIVING

SUMMER, THE WHITE SEASON OF THE YEAR, WITH ITS MANY AND VARIED NEEDS, FINDS BEST SOLUTIONS AT THIS ANNUAL EVENT.

Lace and embroidery trimmed Envelope Chemise, built up and strap shoulders. A large variety at $1.00 each. Other special values at $1.45 up to $2.98.

Muslin Gowns, plain tailored and fancy trimmed, in both embroidery and lace at $1.00. We also show a large variety at $1.69 and $1.98 and many good styles in extra sizes.

STEP-IN BLOOMERS at 50c, 98c and $1.45, values unsurpassed.

PRINCESS SLIPS—It is almost impossible to get through the summer season without one or more of these garments. We have them in white, flesh, black, navy and brown. A large variety at special sale prices.

White Sateen Skirts, double panel and shadow proof at $1.19, $1.45 and $1.85.

Extra Special Wash Satin Bloomers, in flesh only, value $4.00 at $2.98.

B. GOTTHELF & CO.

"THE STORE OF GOOD VALUES"

94-100 MAIN STREET

Norwich Bulletin.

1758 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 133 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH, CONN., MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1923 | TEN PAGES—74 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

MARINE DRY RULING IS TO BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED JUNE 10

Treasury Has Issued Its New Regulations Carrying Out the Supreme Court Decision—Officials Unable to Correct a Situation Embarrassing to International Commerce—Only Hope Lies in Remedial Legislation From the Next Congress.

Washington, June 3.—The treasury tossed on the international doorstep tonight its new regulations carrying out the supreme court decision barring all beverage liquors from territorial waters of the United States after 12.01 a. m., June 10. No loop-holes have been left, according to a treasury spokesman, and the court's recent construction of the dry law will be rigidly applied.

Having failed to find any way by which conflict with foreign laws could be avoided, the treasury based its new ship liquor rules on a literal reading of the court's opinion and prepared to let come what may. Its only hope of alleviating a situation, which most officials agreed will be embarrassing to international commerce, was said to lie in remedial legislation from the next congress.

Except for the exemption granted medicinal liquor, the usual immunity accorded diplomats and the privileges allowed foreign vessels of war, the regulations permit of no in-bound passage of alcoholic beverages. Consideration is given, however, to ships forced by extremity of distress to put into an American harbor. But even such vessels, it is said, may have liquor aboard must show that the necessity was grave and the proof must be "convincing" after which they will be required to give bond for faithful observance of the American dry law.

Concerning the hope among foreign maritime powers of relief from what is regarded as one of the most drastic interpretations ever given by the supreme court, some treasury officials felt tonight that congress might find a way of circumventing the import deadline. Others were convinced that the barred zone was due to remain until a change was made in the eighteenth amendment.

In this connection it was pointed out by the latter that the decision of the supreme court was based fundamentally on the sweeping provisions of the amendment rather than on the enforcement act and that the court held, regardless of whether liquor for beverage uses was being imported, its being carried for any such purpose within the three mile limit constituted transportation which is specifically forbidden by the amendment. Legislation to relieve the situation, from the foreign viewpoint, it was contended, could scarcely be other than in contravention of the constitution and therefore invalid.

Specifically the regulations provide:

"No merchant vessel, domestic or foreign, may lawfully carry as cargo within the territorial waters of the United States any liquor for use for beverage purposes; liquor for non-beverage purposes may be transported within the territorial waters of the United States under permit in accordance with the provisions of Section 93 of regulations 60 (medicinal and sacramental).

It is unlawful for any United States or foreign vessel within the territorial waters of the United States to carry or possess stores any liquor which [illegible] beverage use."

As to the exemptions accorded, the regulations have set down restrictions to which permits and reports of a character and quantity sufficient to give the government a complete check of all liquor thus brought into the barred zone or landed on American soil. Provision has been made, however, that the seizures directed and the fines allowed to be imposed may not apply to vessels which have left a foreign port prior to June 10 and which reach a port of the United States after the ban is operative.

No limitation is prescribed for the amount of medicinal liquor which any craft may possess in American waters, the regulations stating only that "reasonable" quantity may be so retained for such non-beverage purposes until the master of the vessel has had "a fair opportunity to obtain either a permit or certificate of medicinal need." The permits or certificates which may be had for medicinal officers of the public health service expire at the end of the year in which they are supplied, unless they are dated subsequent to September 1 when they are valid until the end of the succeeding year.

The regulations, treasury officials explained, place many duties on the medical officers of the federal health service in connection with the evident intention of compelling strict adherence to the dry law with respect to medicinal liquor. In fact, it was declared, this branch of the government service will have in its control after June 10 almost complete supervision of the use of medicinal liquor aboard vessels in American waters, although every function those medical officers exercise finally reaches the prohibition commissioner in Washington for review.

Although the Washington diplomatic representatives of the maritime powers here have been in frequent consultation for several weeks in connection with the liquor question and have acted concurrently they have at the same time presented their views separately to the state department and any action which may follow application of the court's decision through the treasury regulations is likewise expected to be taken individually. It is not believed that these countries contemplate at present any retaliatory action in their own ports against American vessels.

The situation which will arise from a strict application of the decision has been officially called to the attention of the state department by Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Portugal, Spain and the Netherlands. They, as well as other governments, affected, are understood to be hopeful of relief before long through some remedial move which will afford them more liberty of action within the limits of their own ships when in American territorial waters.

The possibility of some lines cancelling their sailings to American ports, however, is regarded as far from remote. The Spanish Royal Mail Steamship Company is said already to be on the point of cancelling the monthly sailings of its liners to New York as ports to Havana and Vera Cruz with cargoes of the liquor. On the other hand there are indications that both the British and the Japanese companies will conform to the regulations in the hope that a solution of their difficulties will be found in due time.

GOVERNOR SMITH HAS NOT WEAKENED PROHIBITION

Texarkana, Tex., June 3.—The action of Governor Smith "will in no way arrest or weaken the cause of prohibition," Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, author of the eighteenth amendment, declared in discussing the signing of the bill repealing the New York state prohibition enforcement act.

"The majesty of the constitution and the law will be vigorously upheld both in New York and throughout the union," said Governor Sheppard. "The bootleggers and those in so-called high society, who furnish the chief source of revenue for the bootleggers, will obtain little comfort from the action of Governor Smith and the New York legislature."

GOVERNOR TEMPLETON NOT INCLINED TO MEDDLE

Hartford, June 3.—Governor Templeton yesterday received many telegrams inquiring as to his attitude on the decision of Governor Smith of New York to sign the repeal of the prohibition enforcement law in that state. He replied as follows to all of them:

"This is a New York state bill and is, therefore, New York's affair only. It would not be proper for me to comment."

SHRINERS IN WASHINGTON FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Washington, June 3.—The Temperature rose to the occasion today for the first big influx of Shriners for their annual convention, reaching 93 degrees, while velvet-clad delegations representing more than thirty temples marched from their trains to rooms reserved for them.

Many churches put on special programs today for the visitors, and tonight President Harding, who is a Shriner, attended the service at Calvary Baptist church, at which the band and the "chanters" of Zuhrah temple, Minneapolis, appeared.

Marine corps headquarters, it was announced today, has assembled twenty-five officers and one hundred drill sergeants at the request of the Shrine to act as marshals in the convention parades.

President Harding will take part tomorrow in two ceremonies, both incident to the Shrine convention but neither directly connected with the conclave.

The first of the ceremonies will be the dedication of a "Zero Milestone" which has been erected on the mall south of the White House and will be used as the base for measuring road distances throughout the United States. The other ceremony will be in connection with the opening in Potomac park of a reproduction of the boyhood home of John Howard Payne, composer of "Home, Sweet Home."

THUNDERSTORM FORCED AVIATOR TO RETURN

Mineola, N. Y., June 3.—Encountering a thunderstorm while attempting a night from Roosevelt field to West Point, Georges Barbot, French aviator, was compelled to return to his starting point today.

Barbot took off from the field with three gallons of gasoline in the fuel tank of his tiny aerial "flivver," although he explained he would not require more than half a gallon for the flight. Piloted by a larger plane, he started up the Hudson. Upon reaching the vicinity of Tarrytown, however, the storm forced him back, but he was officially credited with a speed of sixty miles an hour for the flight.

Plans for a New York to Chicago flight at a fuel cost of less than $5, for which he came to the United States, were said to have been abandoned. In its place, he will make a New York to Washington jaunt, it was said. His flight today was made in the same plane in which he piloted across the English channel twice in a day recently, winning a 25,000 franc prize.

FOUND BODY OF CAPTAIN OF MISSING SHIP NATALIE

Vineyard Haven, Mass., June 3.—The body of Captain Patrick Kelley of the sloop Natalie, which has been missing since February, was discovered today off Oak Bluffs.

With the finding of the body father folk of the Vineyard gave up all hope that the sloop, with her crew of four, was still afloat.

The loss of the Natalie ranks as one of the unexplained mysteries of the deep. She left Edgartown on Jan. 20 to trawl for flounders off the south coast of Martha's Vineyard. The usual fishing trip requires eight days—two to make the catch and six to take it to the market at Newport, R. I., or New York, and return to Edgartown. The vessel was never seen after leaving Newport, where she landed her catch.

DEATH WAS CAUSED BY TWELVE-FOOT FALL

Danbury, June 3.—A twelve-foot fall caused the death late last night of Michael Brasts, 51 years old, whose body was found at the foot of a veranda, from which he had apparently tumbled. His neck was broken. No one was present when the accident occurred and it is not known just how Brasts fell. He death is believed to have been almost instantaneous.

Fire destroyed the covered bridge across the Susquehanna river between Northumberland and Blue Hill, Pa., causing an estimated damage of $250,000.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

"King's Camelots" Arrested.

Paris, June 3.—Two members of the "King's Camelots" were arrested today for selling copies of L'Action Francaise outside churches here. One of those arrested, whose name is Devolve, was identified as one of the assailants last week of Deputy Sangnier, socialist, who was beaten by a band of men who also tried to pour tar on his head and administer a dose of castor oil in true fascisti style.

Prize Fight Ended in Battle.

Rio Janeiro, June 3.—Several persons were wounded in a battle last night between spectators at a prize fight and the police and cavalry. The trouble started when one of the fighters, Goes Netto, refused to answer the bell for the third round. The 5,000 spectators immediately began rioting and wrecked the Coliseum in which the battle had been staged.

GENERAL SITUATION IN EUROPE IS IMPROVING

New York, June 3—(By the A. P.)—With the domestic markets somewhat restrained by the holiday and lack of speculative enterprise, more than the usual attention was paid in financial quarters during the last week to foreign developments. Renewed weakness in the German mark was perhaps the most spectacular feature, fresh selling abroad carrying the quotation down to a new low record of .0013 1-2 of a cent. In most quarters this was taken as indicating that Germany is nearing the end of her financial resources, a conclusion confirmed by reports that she has suspended purchases of Argentina wheat.

There was a disposition, however, to take the collapse philosophically, or even cheerfully. It was pointed out that such a result is the inevitable sequel to the inflationary policy which has been followed, some observers taking the position that the sooner this is recognized the better.

Although it was believed that the Ruhr difficulty is approaching a crisis, it was maintained in well-posted quarters that the general situation in Europe gradually is improving. In confirmation of this opinion it was emphasized that a number of the exchanges of the smaller European countries, such as Greece and Czecho-Slovakia, have been showing strength, and that firmness has turned to Sterling.

MONUMENT TO FRANCO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP

Chaumont, France, June 3 (By the A. P.)—A monument to Franco-American friendship was unveiled here today in the presence of President Millerand, Premier Poincare, M. Colrat, minister of justice, Marshal Joffre, Marshal Petain, Generals Gouraid, Mangin and Bust and numerous peasants and residents of the city.

Chaumont was at one time general headquarters of the American expeditionary forces, on the banks of the river Marne.

It was here that Marshal Joffre in 1914 stayed the onslaught of the invaders, and from this place General Pershing in 1918 sent forth his American legions to dislodge the enemy. The American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, and General Wright represented General Pershing as honored guests today.

Silhouetted against the clear blue sky on a little hill overlooking the now historic river, and gazing steadfastly towards the northeast, three figures of heroic size stand as an emblem, as M. Poincare expressed it, "France's security against further aggression."

Preceded by martial music and clattering cavalry, President Millerand reached Monument Hill first Bareheaded, with his white hair tossed by the summer breeze, the president with Ambassador Herrick on his right and Premier Poincare on his left stood throughout the ceremony, which lasted two hours.

CLOSE OF THE AFRICAN METHODIST CONFERENCE

Greenwich, Conn., June 3.—The 72d session of the New England conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church closed here this afternoon after a four-day convention. Bishop William H. Heard of Philadelphia made the closing address and announced that the next convention will be held in Hartford, Conn.

The two presiding elders, Rev. M. H. Jones of Boston and Rev. William Bird of New Haven, will remain in their respective districts.

The following were the only changes in pastorates announced: Rev. Dr. C. B. Lawyer of Boston to Hartford, Rev. E. K. Nichols of Hartford to New Bedford, Mass., Rev. W. H. Lacey of Lynn, Mass., to Providence, R. I., and Rev. L. A. McCoy of Providence to Lynn.

FOREST FIRE THREATENS A VILLAGE IN MAINE

Dennysville, Me., June 3.—A forest fire is raging two miles from this village on the property of the Dead River Lumber Company, and men are being rushed to the scene to fight it as this village lies in the path of the flames.

Another fire is raging on Campobello Island in New Brunswick. The flames are plainly visible from here.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

New York, June 3.—Mrs. Gladys McElrath of Staten Island and her mother, Mrs. Louis Ryder, were killed and three others were seriously injured at Oakwood, Staten Island, today, when an automobile in which they were riding, skidded and crashed into a tree. Mrs. Margaret McClatchy, one of the injured, is not expected to live.

ITALIAN CABINET TO DISCUSS ELECTORAL REFORM BILL

Rome, June 3.—Premier Mussolini has approved the draft of the new electoral reform bill which will be discussed by the cabinet Tuesday and introduced in the chamber immediately afterwards.

The bill provides for the extension of the vote to women in municipal elections and will apply proportional representation.

POISONED FIVE TRAINED DOGS VALUED AT $1,000

Fall River, Mass., June 3.—Holding a grudge against their foreman because they claim he abused them, Garfield Anderson, of Baltimore, and George Thomas, of Washington, admitted to the police today that they had poisoned five trained dogs valued at $1,000, owned by a circus by which they were employed.

Propaganda Fostered By School Histories

Finds Text Books Used in Public Schools Besmirch American Traditions.

New York, June 3.—David Hirshfield, commissioner of accounts, who was delegated by Mayor Hylan in December, 1921, to investigate charges that American history text books used in the public schools contained anti-American propaganda and besmirched American traditions, tonight made public his report in which he specifically condemned eight histories selected by the superintendent of schools and took to task a number of well known persons and societies.

"It would seem," said the commissioner, "as if these authors wanted to convey the impression that our history, our government, and everything else American is all wrong and that the sole hope for American progress lies in our renouncing our American traditions, surrendering our American spirit and becoming again an integral part of the British empire, as Cecil Rhodes directed in the first draft of his will."

He recommended that "any history which, after 15 years, attempts to teach our children that the War of Independence was an unnecessary war and that it is still a problem as to who was right and who was wrong, should be fed to the furnace and those responsible for those books be branded as un-American."

Individuals and societies criticized by the commissioner "for fostering propaganda" include Carnegie, Elihu Root, chairman of the Carnegie council, the American History Teacher' Association, Sir Gilbert Parker, Lord Northcliffe, Owen Wister, George Haven Putnam, the English-Speaking Union, the Sons of St. George, John W. Davis, "a lawyer for J. P. Morgan and the international banking interests," George W. Wickersham, "another Morgan lawyer," Prof. Matthew Page Andrews of Baltimore, the Sulgrave institute, "another 'hands-Across-the Sea' organization composed of British and pro-British," the Pilgrim society, the Church Peace society, the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship through the Churches; Bishop James Cannon, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, Hamilton Holt, the American Association for International Cooperation, the Magna Charta Day Association, Lady Astor, and the National Security League.

The commissioner said he found, during his length investigation, that school children were being taught such misrepresentations as the following:

"That the American Revolution was merely a civil war between the English people on both sides of the sea and their German king;

"That the Magna Charta is the real source of our liberties, while the Declaration of Independence exerted no vital force;

"That such patriots as Samuel Adams, John Hancock and Patrick Henry were mere disreputable characters;

"That Thomas Jefferson deserved a halter;

"That Alexander Hamilton denounced the people as "a great beast."

"That the United States Constitution and most of our free institutions were borrowed from England;

"That the War of 1812 was 'a mistake,' 'disgraceful' and 'unfortunate';

"That the Mexican war was a grab of territory;

"That the North saved the Union only through England's 'heroic support';

"That our war with Spain was won because England prevented Germany and all Europe from taking sides against us."

Faneuil hall, "the Cradle of Liberty" is of no consequence in the histories condemned, the commissioner found, nor is the mutiny act, the stamp act, or the Boston massacre.

Other faults found in the histories by the commissioner included that "French aid in the Revolution is by all, but one, of the authors attributed to shameful motives" and that "the inspiring slogans 'We Have Met the Enemy and They are Ours,' 'Don't Give Up the Ship' and 'I've Not Yet Begun to Fight' are either omitted or discredited. He said also that such decisive battle at Ticonderoga, Saratoga, New Orleans and the capture of the Serapis were belittled.

Of Andrew Carnegie, the commissioner has this to say: "Andrew Carnegie was a Britisher through and through, who would dream grandly and had power to make dreams come true. He endowed the multiform Carnegie institutions for motives which he never sought to conceal. His fondest dream was to bring about a "reunited state, the British-American Union."

The commissioner declared that to his mind the gravest menace to the friendship betwee n merica and Great Britain lies "in the pernicious and persistent British propaganda in the United States."

He recommended a return to the admonitions of George Washington who "advised the observance of good faith and justice towards all nations and the cultivation of peace and harmony with all.

PRESIDENT HAS CREATED A NEW NATIONAL PARK

Washington, June 3—Another national park, preserving a portion of the old west, has been created by President Harding who by proclamation has established the Pipe Spring national monument, in Arizona.

First settled in 1863 by Or. James M. Whitmore, the land later was purchased by Brigham Young, of the Mormon church who built on it what came to be known as Windsor Castle, a stone structure with pork holes in its walls and turrets at its top, as a refuge from the Indians. The castle was used as headquarters for ranchers in charge of cattle belonging to the Mormon church.

It is the intention of public spirited citizens, the announcement added, to re-construct the building around which history has revolved and to preserve other features of the pioneer life of the place.

VIOLENT WIND AND RAIN STORM AT CONEY ISLAND

New York, June 3.—Coney Island's pleasure-seeking thousands were driven away this afternoon by a violent wind and rain storm which tore down signs and banners and wrought havoc generally among the concession stands. No one was injured. More than 250,000 persons were at the resort.

Wife Slayer Edwards Took His Own Life

Blew Off the Top of His Head —Body Found in the Woods.

Easton, Conn., June 3.—The body of Robert Edwards, slayer of his pretty 19-year-old wife, Ruby Wells Edwards, was found by a volunteer searching posse shortly after noon today high up in Wintergreen mountain at a point to which the murderer fled directly after he had killed the woman Tuesday night. Edwards, from the signs available almost directly after he had reached the place fired three shots in the air to direct his pursuers to his hiding place, and then bent over the muzzle of the gun and blew the upper part of his head off.

No letter to relatives or friends explaining the cause of his actions was found by Coroner John J. Phelan or Medical Examiner Smith when they investigated the case this afternoon.

The empty shells strewn about the scene proved the theory that four shots were fired a half hour after Ruby Wells Edwards had been slain. Since search for the murderer was started many claimed his body would be found in the vicinity of Wintergreen mountain, and believed the first three shots were fired by Edwards to permit pursuers to more easily locate his body.

Coroner John J. Phelan and Medical Examiner Ernest H. Smith this afternoon viewed the body, and ordered its removal to a Bridgeport undertaking parlor to be prepared for burial. The medical examiner declared it was evident that Edwards had taken his own life and gave a verdict of suicide.

The belief of the police is that Edwards, after laying his plans for the murder during spells of melancholy and crazed jealousy when he sought solitude and quietness in the dark recesses of a large wooden barn on his father's farm, decided that his knowledge of the forest fastness would prevent his capture by authorities. He evidently knew full well that once he had reached Fox Ledge and had hidden in the rockbound chasm no posse could rout him out until he had done considerable damage.

Banked on all sides with solid rocks and huge trees the spot afforded the safest refuge possible. Hidden there, he was able to watch the approach of anyone from a distance, and at the same time be securely covered by the great stones in the crevices.

After brooding over his ill fortune and troubles alone on the farm Memorial day he, it is believed, decided to put his wife out of the way at the first opportunity and neglected to store away provisions for a long holdup in the woods.

Funeral services for Robert G. Edwards will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Henry Blatz of the Stepney Methodist church will conduct the services at the burial to be held in the Stepney cemetery. The body was taken from its resting place in the room this afternoon and carried to the undertaking parlors of Hawley & Wilmot at Bridgeport.

Edwards is survived by a sister, Mrs. Agnes Sharp, living in Bridgeport, one brother, Howard A. Edwards, of Gaylordsville and his parents, Daniel W. and Julia Rowland Edwards of Stepney.

SUBSTITUTED MODERN STATUE FOR 13TH CENTURY STATUE

Paris, June 3—(By the A. C.)—The antique dealers involved in the alleged substitution of a modern copy for the genuine thirteenth century statue of the virgin and the child in the church of St. Sauveus-sur-Ecole, near the forest of Fontainebleau, now are endeavoring to throw the blame on the village priest, and the priest, Abbe Henri Rotte, according to the Matin, has come forward with the admission that he succumbed to the temptation of selling the statue for 2,500 francs. He is alleged to have said he disposed of the statue to aid in church welfare work, hoping the manufactured substitute would not be discovered by his country parishioners.

The Matin reproduces a written report from the Duc de Trevise giving an account of the abbe's statement, in which the abbe tells of his desire to build up his struggling church, but declares that now he must make known "the cruel truth."

The question of the originality of the statue of the Virgin and the Child in the church of St. Sauveur-sur-Ecole was brought up last week when an examining magistrate in Paris was instructed to investigate the matter. M. Malgorotto, an expert restorer of statuary, made a deposition to the police inspector that the statue had been brought to his workshop for repairs and that an exact copy of it also had been ordered. When the work was completed the antiquary who ordered the repairs and the copy made took both away. Paying Malgorotto 1,000 francs.

WAYNE B. WHEELER'S VIEW OF MULLAN-GAGE REPEAL

Washington, D. C., June 3—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the anti-saloon league, in a statement tonight, declared Governor Smith's "memorandum explaining his approval of the repeal of the state enforcement code" was a "weak excuse for an indefensible act."

The New York governor, said Mr. Wheeler, "says that the repeal of this statute in no way nullifies the enforcement of the Volstead act. True, it does not nullify the Volstead act. It is worse. It is an attempted nullification of the constitution by the repudiation of the obligation to enforce it and the withdrawal of 80 per cent. of the agencies by which it can be made effective."

RAIN CHECKS FOREST FIRES IN THE ADIRONDACKS

Saranac Lake, N. Y., June 3.—Forest fires which have threatened timber land in this vicinity [illegible] days, tonight were regarded as being under control, according to Forest Ranger James H. Hopkins. Local indications pointed to a long looked-for rain some time during tonight, setting at rest fears of further fires breaking out in the tinder-dry forests.

Old Forge, N. Y., June 3.—Forest fires in the central section of the Adirondack Mountains were checked today by heavy rains.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Henry M. Jewett, formerly an American consul in Turkey and associate editor of the Everett Gazette, died in Everett, Mass, after a short illness.

Owing to the absence of a quorum the meeting of the national assembly at Angora has again been postponed —until June 30.

The election to the house of commons of Miss Mabel Russell, a former musical comedy actress is the leading story in London newspapers.

Captain John F. Streeter, past commander of the William A. Streeter Post, G. A. R., of Attleboro, Mass., died after a brief illness.

Greek drachmas Saturday jumped 70 points to 4.20 cents in New York, a new high for the year and double the rate a week ago.

The college body of Wesleyan university, Middletown, has elected Marshall L. Umpleby of Uxbridge, Mass., as its president for the next school year.

Police and boy scouts today began a search for ten year old John Wesley Moreton, whose childish fears of parental punishment for disobedience caused him to disappear.

John Edgar Rhode, secretary-manager of the Southern Pine association and one of the best known trade executives in the country, died in New Orleans.

Anna Elizabeth Opsal, 16, who claims she was born in the United States, and her father, were deported to Norway because the Norwegian immigration quota has been exhausted.

A bit tired, but well pleased with his month's visit to the United States, Joseph Conrad, author of classic sea yarns sailed for England Saturday on the liner Majestic.

Members of repair shop forces of fire departments in Massachusetts are not entitled to receive pensions under the acts of 1890 and 1913 according to an opinion of the supreme court.

Four hundred and nineteen commercial vessels passed through the Panama canal in May, exceeding by ten the previous record for a month. The May tolls were $1,972,000.

Mrs. Robert E. Barry, 26 of Marietta, O., a bride of only a few weeks, reported to the police that her husband took all her jewels and left her penniless in a fashionable hotel in Chicago.

As the result of a collision between an automobile driven at a high rate of speed and an electric car in Woonsocket, R. I., three of five men in the machine are dead.

One man was killed and a property damage estimated at $200,000 was caused yesterday in the Mahanoy Valley (Pa.) by a severe electrical storm.

The Massachusetts letter carriers association in convention in Worcester yesterday adopted resolutions favoring an increase in the rate for special delivery letters and packages.

Harry Ledley and John Roose, both seventeen, members of the Ariel Rowing club, Baltimore, were drowned yesterday afternoon when a row boat turned over. Three others in the boat were saved.

John T. Adams, chairman of the republican national committee, declares there was "no basis whatever" for the report that Fred W. Upham of Chicago would resign as treasurer of the committee.

The list of the king's birthday honors, just made public, Harry Gloster Armstrong, British consul general in New York city, is made knight commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Official circles in Hastings were shocked when F. G. Zinner, head of the Zinner Chemical Works, requested the village board of trustees to increase the assessment of his real estate by $70,000.

Invention of a rapid-firing automatic cannon, capable of firing one and one-quarter pound shells at the rate of 120 minute, has been perfected by John M. Browning of Ogden, Utah, noted inventor of firearms.

"Peeping Toms" who annoy the girls at William Smith college in Geneva, N. Y., will be greeted with buckshot from the double barreled shotgun of Dean Barbara Walker of the college.

Miss Harriet Webb James, aged 58, daughter of the late Hon. Thomas L. James, former postmaster general of Utica, N. Y., died. Miss Jabes was Prominent in New York and Washington Society Circles.

Sidney G. Gilbreath, president of the East Tennessee state normal school was exonerated of charges that immoral conditions existed at the school in a report made public yesterday by the state board of education.

George Conners died at a hospital in Bellows Falls, Vt., as a result of injuries sustained when an automobile ran into a railway embankment in Charlestown, N. H. Seven persons were riding in the automobile.

Dr. C. K. Mills of Philadelphia was elected president of the American Neurological Association. He will preside at the jubilee celebration in Philadelphia next year on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the society.

The Yale divinity school will hold the closing exercises of its 101st year here today when 41 students will be graduated. Twenty states and five foreign countries, including China, Japan, British West Indies, Australia and Canada, are represented in the class.

Dr. Andrew M. Ewing, 58, physician, was sentenced to four months in jail in city court in Bridgeport, when found guilty of a statutory offense with Mrs. Mary Kerrigan, 26, a graduate nurse, who was found dead in his office last Wednesday.

If Canada cuts off the exportation to this country of pulp wood, congress will be asked by the American Pulps and Paper Mill Superintendents' association to retaliate by placing export duties on coal and other commodities obtained by Canada from the states.

Sea waves off the north coast of Spain sometimes measure 34 feet from crest to base.

RUM SLOOP RAMMED AND SUNK OFF VIRGINIA COAST

The Ship Sank 15 Minutes After Being Struck by an Unidentified Steamer—Nine Men of the Sloop's Crew Were Rescued by the Coast Guard Cutter Yamacraw—Coast Guard Officers Believe the Ship That Rammed the Sloop Was Another Rum Runner.

Norfolk, Va., June 3.—The 50-ton sloop Glen Beulah of British registry, with a cargo of liquor was sunk late Saturday night when she was rammed by an unidentified steamer ten miles southeast of the Cape Charles lightship. The nine men of the Glen Beulah's crew were rescued by the coast guard cutter Yamacraw which was anchored about 200 yards from the rum runner when the collision occurred. The sloop sank 15 minutes after the crash.

Members of the sloop's crew were brought to Norfolk and committed to jail, technically as a shipwrecked crew of a foreign craft, to be held for the immigration authorities.

Coast guard officers believe the ship that rammed the sloop was another rum runner, pulling alongside to take over the sloop's cargo. Soon in the glare of the cutter's searchlights the steamer was said to bear a striking resemblance to the Istar, the celebrated rum runner which has been operating off the Virginia capes of late.

None of the Glen Beulah's crew had time to dress after the crash. They reached the Yamacraw in a skiff, with a single oar, clad only in underclothes.

The Glen Beulah dropped anchor off the capes Saturday morning arriving from the south, probably Nassau. She is laid to have had 1,500 cases of liquor aboard.

The master of the sloop, which carried a crew of ten men, said he was Captain George Kelly of Miami, Fla. He and all members of the crew except a negro cook claimed American citizenship. The cook said he was a British subject.

Captain Kelly said he believed a government boat had run down the sloop. Coast guard officials, however, denied this.

BRITISH STEAMER GRAPHIC BEACHED AFTER COLLISION

London, June 3 (By the A. P.)—The British steamer Graphic was beached today off Belfast Lough after a collision with the American steamer Balsam.

The passengers and crew of the Graphic were transferred to another vessel after the collision, and there was no loss of life.

The Graphic had on board 200 passengers from Liverpool. The collision occurred early this morning and the Graphic was so badly damaged that she had to be grounded off Carrick Fergus, on Belfast Lough, nine miles northeast of Belfast. Her passengers and crew took to the small boats, from which they boarded a steamer and a tug bound for Belfast. The Graphic is blocking the channel.

The Balsam, with her forepeak filled with water, anchored in the Lough. Tugs were sent out to tow her to Belfast, but this was deemed inadvisable owing to the damage she had sustained.

200 PERSONS MADE HOMELESS BY CONFLAGRATION IN CANAAN

Canaan, N. H., June 3—Wide open debris, skirts by a few houses and buildings which escaped the fire which aid waste two thirds of this town and cost two lives yesterday, today remained of what was yesterday morning a thriving and prosperous community.

The more than 200 persons who were made homeless by the conflagration were quartered temporarily in houses still standing and in neighboring towns while relief organizations were rushing supplies of food and clothing to those in want.

Meanwhile an investigation was in progress concerning the cause of the fire. The report that three children were seen playing in a loft in the stable where the fire started a short time before the flames were noticed was being checked up.

The dead men were Sidney B. Gilman, storekeeper, and his father, Horatio A. Gilman, 80 years old. The body of the former was found in a field near his home while the flames were still in progress yesterday. It was believed that his clothing caught fire and that before he could reach aid he was overcome. The second victim died in a hospital late last night as a result of burns he received in attempting to escape from his burning home. William Foxhall principal of the high school here, was painfully burned in attempting to save the latter. Napoleon J. Hill, a barber, also sustained severe burns and was taken to a hospital at Hanover.

Of the business section of the town nothing remained.

In response to queries as to what was most needed by the townspeople who lost their homes and all their personal belongings the committee replied that what was needed most was "bed clothes".

The loss will total more than $500,000, it is estimated. Most of those whose places of business or homes were destroyed are already planning to rebuild. An example of the spirit in which the townsfolk met their losses was exhibited by William Worcester whose ankle was broken while fighting the fire yesterday and lost both his home and harness shop, surrounded by his wife and four children he appeared on crutches, planning the rebuilding of both home and shop.

Sections of the fire-swept district were still smouldering and firemen were kept on guard continually to prevent another outbreak.

Proprietors of business places destroyed today had some consolation when they found the money and valuables in their safes intact.

WOMAN SMOKED DURING SERVICE IN CHURCH

New Haven, June 3.—A special service for deaf mutes in St. John's Roman Catholic church here tonight was disturbed for some minutes when a well dressed middle aged woman lit a cigarette after scratching a match on a church bench. Members of the congregation attempted to ask her to leave the edifice but gave up when they found she could not understand their sign language.

While smoking several cigarettes, the woman remained seated quietly. She left after the service in which she took no part. Father M. A. Purtell of Baltimore, who is conducting a mission here, paid no attention to the woman, who refused to discuss the incident. She was not a deaf mute.

BORDEN HARRIMAN AS MOTION PICTURE ACTOR

New York, June 3.—Borden Harriman, son of Mrs. Oliver Harriman and nephew of the late E. H. Harriman, has become a motion picture actor, it was learned today. His first role is that of a bartender in a production staged by the Film guild, a co-operative organization founded by Dwight Jiman of the John Deere Plow company and his associates.

200 NEW YORK FIREMEN WERE OVERCOME BY ACID FUMES

New York, June 3.—Two hundred firemen were overcome by acid fumes while fighting a blaze in a six-story warehouse today. Twenty were taken to hospitals for medical treatment, but none was injured seriously. Residents of adjoining tenements were forced to flee from the fumes.

GERMAN CABINET AT WORK ON NEW REPARATIONS NOTE

Berlin, June 3 (By the A. P.)—No date has yet been fixed for the official despatch of Germany's amendatory reparations note to the entente powers. At government headquarters it is announced that the cabinet has not reached its final deliberations on this subject.

It is generally assumed that the note will be ready about the middle of the week and that its cardinal feature will consist of a definite offer of a fixed number of annuities, for which tangible guarantees secured by stringent legislation will be pledged.

The financial writers are led far afield in their contemplation of the mark's catastrophic slump and its possible bearing on any reparations programme. The nation's floating debt, budgetary chaos, unending currency inflation and the devastating effect of the Ruhr occupation are freely cited as some of the more obvious storm signals. Augmenting these are a precipitate upsetting of wage schedules and a growing practice of fixing prices of all commodities on a gold level—both designated as menacing contributary factors. In a situation which is anything but auspicious for the projection of a tangible reparations offer.

The experts seem to concur in declaring that a moratorium is inevitable, as Germany must be given time to adjust her affairs so that she will be enabled to construct a logical foundation for her pyramid of reparations annuities.

HAS FOUND NEW MIXTURE FOR REPAVING STREETS

New York, June 3.—A new mixture for repaving streets, making them ready for traffic a few hours after having been torn up, is believed to have been found by Arthur H. Hall, superintendent of distribution of the Consolidated Gas company, he said on his return on the Adriatic today from the Fourth International road congress at Seville, Spain. He said he wanted to try it out before going into details.

"Asphalt is the favorite road material used in Europe," he said. "Concrete is being used as a base. But they have yet to come to a recognition of cement roads. I am really a destroyer of roads, rather than a builder, as we are eternally ripping up streets to lay gas mains. I wanted to find a quick way of doing this and then refilling, and believe I have found something approaching a solution. The new process would make it possible to repave the streets within a day of their being torn up."

GOT BOOZE BY POSING AS PROHIBITION AGENTS

Providence, R. I., June 3.—Representing themselves as prohibition agents, three men, accompanied by a woman in a high powered touring car shortly after midnight this morning held up a rum-laden truck at Huntington and Calhoun avenues, ordered the driver out of the car at the point of a revolver and drove away with the booze. Today East Providence police recovered the empty truck in Seekonk and turned it over to the Providence police.

ELDERLY ANSONIA MAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Ansonia, June 3.—The body of William Earl, 65 years old, a machinist, in a local factory, was found in the attic of his home late last night with the to pof his head shattered by a charge from a shotgun. It is believed that Earl committed suicide because of grief at the death of his wife a year ago. He had been melancholy since that time.

He leaves two daughters. He was well known as a member of many German societies here.

A NEW RULING MADE ON PARCEL POST MATTER

Washington, June 3. — Additional postage at the local rate will be required hereafter under a ruling by Assistant Postmaster General Glover, made public today, on second attempts to deliver or collect on delivery parcels. The announcement said also that a second refusal by the addressee to accept the mail must be followed with receipt from the local postmaster of postage for its return to the sender.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
50 Church Street Telephone 1048

Local 631, consisting of the spool-boy, dressing, dyeing and box shop department of the American Thread company mills of this city will call a strike this (Monday) evening if favorable settlement has not been reached with the New York office of the company. A union meeting Monday will be held at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Sunday afternoon a [illegible] attended meeting was held with Organizer Powell of Fall River in charge.

Mr. Powell asked those present to act rationally on the matter, taking all steps with discretion and allowing time for settlement before striking. The 800 or more employes whom the strike would affect will return to work this (Monday) morning. Efforts will be made during the day to get in touch with the New York office and arrive at some agreement.

There is little doubt that failure to have their demands complied with will mean a general walkout by these united members, including men and women. The dissatisfaction incurred is the result of the repealing of averages, granted the employes on work done and which constitutes a decrease in wages.

The local painters' union, No. 537, met Saturday afternoon and in reply to their recent demands they received notification from the master workmen that they had been granted a wage increase from 75 cents to 80 cents per hour, to go into effect on June 4.

To appear on the local police court this (Monday) morning are: Edward Nichols of 160 Valley street, this city, charged with speeding his automobile. Nichols was arrested at 8 o'clock Saturday evening by Motorcycle Officer Grant Bombria. Officer Bombria also arrested Walter Madden of 30 Laurel street, Manchester, who will be charged with speeding at the session of police court Tuesday morning. Madden was apprehended about midnight Saturday evening.

James Dannhey of this city was taken into custody at 11 o'clock Saturday evening by Officer William Hurley and this (Monday) morning he will be charged with intoxication. Two three ounce bottles of Jamaica ginger will be displayed as evidence.

Henry Barrows of this city will answer to two charges when arraigned before the police tribunal this (Monday), when intoxication and breach of the peace charges will be prefered against him. Barrows was placed under arrest while engaged in creating a disturbance on West Main street. Motorcycle Officer Bombria will testify in the case.

J. F. Stoughton of Pleasant street, this city, reported to the police department that by backing his car against a pole at the corner of Union and Center streets he had broken a chain on which was attached a street light and the fixture and the lamp had dropped into his car and had been broken.

Mr. Stoughton said that he would settle for the damages to the light, which is the property of the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Company.

John Wheeler of 20 Farmington avenue, Hartford, called at the local police headquarters Sunday morning and reported that about 4 o'clock that morning an [illegible] which he was driving had struck and demolished a gasoline pump opposite Mrs. Chaser's grocery store on Union street.

Wheeler said that he carried insurance and had agreed with Mrs. Chaser to settle for all damages. His machine bore the Connecticut registry number 71-539.

A Maxwell car owned and driven by R. Ernest Melody of 24 Lebanon avenue, this city, and a Buick coupe bearing the Massachusetts registry number 13-925 D, collided shortly before six o'clock Saturday afternoon when both machines came to the junction of North and Valley streets at that time. The Bay State driver had the right of way, as he was going north on North street and Melody was coming from the left, traveling east on Valley street. Both drivers swung off in opposite directions to avoid a collision and Mr. Melody's machine sustained a bent bumper and fender.

The coupe was undamaged. The men settled the affair between themselves.

The body of Francis W. Chapman was conveyed from his late home on Windham road Saturday morning to St. Joseph's church where a requiem high mass was sung at nine o'clock by Rev. John E. Clark. The organ music was by Mrs. E. R. Portelance. Miss Monica McKeon rendered several beautiful selections. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where Rev. Father Clark read a committal service. The bearers were, Marvin Hall, Jr., George, William and Fred Heather, George Monty and Adolph Montigney. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Kilbourey Brothers.

The floral remembrances were numerous and most beautiful.

The funeral services for Louis Chevrette were held at his late home, No. 1198 Main street Saturday morning followed by a requiem high mass at St. Mary's church at ten o'clock. The official was Rev. E. A. Maddeau. Mrs. Joseph F. Gaudreau presided at the organ and the choir rendered special music. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery. A committal service was conducted by Rev. Father Mathieu. The bearers were Georges, Arthur, Raymond, Theodore, Harry and Henry Genereux, all grandsons of the deceased. A large number of friends and relatives attended the services and the casket was covered with floral tributes. The Harteau-Bosse Corp. was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

The funeral of Thomas Lyeman was held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the late home on Lebanon Green, Lebanon. The services were in charge of Rev. Edward Nield. Burial took place in the New cemetery, Lebanon. Arrangements were in charge of Avery and Van Zandt.

Mrs. Mary Kilman died Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louis Walmar of Ashford. Death occurred at the age of 53. The deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. Walmar. The remains were sent to Perth Amboy, N. J., Saturday morning for burial in the Reformed cemetery. Avery and Van Zant were in charge of the local arrangements.

A second attachment was placed on the five-ton truck, belonging to Julius Radum of New Britain, by Deputy Sheriff Addison J. Greenslit, Saturday afternoon for Emil Linderman, also of New Britain, through his attorney. The case is returnable before the New Britain city court the third Monday in June. The plaintiff claims damages of $400.

Louis Ellis of Mansfield avenue was injured at the Vanderman foundry recently when a shank of a ladle fell on his foot. He will be confined to the house for several days.

An alleged automobile theft and three companions were captured and the machine recovered Sunday morning by County Investigator William E. Jackson of this city. About eight o'clock Sunday morning the local police department received word from Scotland that a Ford coupe bearing the Massachusetts registry number 37-629 had turned turtle on the Scotland highway opposite the home of L. O. Haskins and had been abandoned there. Four young men were seen to leave the car and start walking in the direction of Westminster. Investigator Jackson was notified and he immediately gave chase in his automobile and the night raiders were caught in the vicinity of Westminster. All were placed under arrest and returned to the police station here where they gave their names as William Walsh, 25 North Main street, Attleboro, Mass.; James R. Durning, 29, Hayward street, Pawtucket, R. I.; John Duffy, 36, Parker street, Central Falls, R. I.; and John McDade of 80 Long avenue, Pawtucket, R. I. Walsh claimed that he had stolen the car in Attleboro and that his companions knew nothing of the theft. When apprehended, the switch which had been removed from the Ford was found in Walsh's coat pocket. Leonard Bros. garage were sent to haul the damaged machine to this city to await the owner. In a pocket of the car was found a large envelope addressed to W. P. Fiske, 1249 River street, Hyde Park, Mass., care Edison Electric Co. An investigation revealed that Fiske had moved from Hyde Park to Sharon, Mass., and Sunday afternoon efforts were being made to locate the man. All but Walsh were later released. Officers from Sharon are to come here Monday after Walsh.

Some hours after the arrest of the four men, L. O. Haskins of Scotland telephoned the local police and said that he had just discovered that someone had attempted to make away with his own car which was in a garage near his home. Entrance had been made into the building and the wires on the machine had been tinkered with but the thieves were not successful in making a get-away. Mr. Haskins will appear in court this (Monday) morning to testify against the intruders.

The session of police court Saturday morning was as exceptionally long one there being a total of ten cases on the docket.

The cases of Deodore Delage of this city and Louis Jackson of West Willington, charged with violation of the automobile laws, were continued until Saturday next week. Automobiles owned by the defendants figured in a collision on the North Windham road, Wednesday night. The arrest of the parties concerned is the result of an investigation conducted by the state police.

A continuance until next Saturday morning was granted in the case of Raymond Desrosier of No. 131 Main street, charged with violation of the liquor law on May 29. A rigid campaign being conducted locally by the state police to end liquor law violations, led up to the arrest of Desrosier.

The case of Joseph Arson, charged with breach of the peace and intoxication was nolled. Arson is the man who sustained three broken ribs when assaulted a few weeks ago at an alleged drinking party at the Bashura home in lower village. Harry Bashura, charged with assault on Arson and Peter Lindahl charged with breach of the peace were also given a hearing Saturday morning. Judge Foss fined Bashura $25 and costs and discharged Lindahl.

Leandro Mithomme drew a fine of $50 and costs on the charge of violation of the liquor law, to which he pleaded not guilty. Arthur LeClair of Vernon testified that he went into Mithomme's lunch cart on Union street and purchased a pint of moonshine which he then turned over to the state police. Officer Fred T. Caron of the state department stated that he had given LeClair the money with which the liquor was bought.

Mithomme, his wife and his little daughter testified that LeClair did not buy any liquor, but rather came in with a bottle and offered some to Mithomme, which the latter refused to take.

The cases of Clifford Bailey of Windham Center, charged with assault on Elias Palmer, was not called. One day last week, Bailey, his brother Edward and their wives and Mrs. Palmer were standing near a well and arguing over its ownership. A heated discussion was taking place when Bailey cooled things off by dumping two buckets of the water on Mrs. Palmer. George J. Rood, one of the witnesses did not appear Saturday and at a suggestion, by Prosecuting Attorney Samuel R. Harvey, the case was continued until Saturday morning, June 9.

A continuance until Saturday was also granted in th ecase of John Conway of Baltic charged with failure to report an automobile accident which occurred on the South Windham road on the night of December 3, 1922 when Conway's machine is alleged to have struck and injured Elmer E. Hoffman of this city.

Milton Reams, 18, of No. 17 Windsor street was charged with breaking and entering and at the request of his counsel the case was laid over to Saturday, June 9. The accused was given an [illegible] under bonds of $500.

Milton Reams was notified Monday to appear in police court this (Monday) morning when a charge of assault will be preferred against him.

The complaint was made to Lieut. E. Wilson on behalf of his aged mother, whose lungs attempted to choke after finding an entrance into the Wilson home last Friday evening. A jacket stain which the elderly lady wore around her neck was broken by the intruder and will probably be presented at the trial. Other marks of the assault are finger marks on Mrs. Wilson's neck and shoulder and the assailant's footprints on the white bedspread.

The following friends of Miss Rose Berthaud called at the home of her parents, No. 139 Main street recently and tendered her a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Romeo Ganvin of Taftville: The Misses Viola Sullivan, Stella Sullivan, Mary Sullivan of Taftville, Eva Chabot, Olivine Chabot, Yvonne Baillargeon, Dora Baillargeon, Carrie Plain, Celenise Corte, Bertha Gaudreau, Saphire Sdeski, Katherine Faircloth, Aurore Marcoux, Marie Rose Bertrand, Evelina Bertran, Mrs. Aldea La Pointe, all of Willimantic, and Mrs. Victor Ganvin, Mrs. Philemon Ganvin and Mrs. Eva Larocche of Taftville. A delightful evening was enjoyed and the future bride received a large number of handsome and useful gifts.

At a meeting of Mary Todd Lincoln tent, No. 15, Daughters of Veterans, held in G. A. R. rooms, town building, Past Department President Louise A. Atterbury of Norwich was present and the formal presentation of the silk flag from the Norwich tent to the local tent for the color bearers was made. One new member was obligated.

That good news travels was evident Saturday when Rev. O. S. Beaumister received a picture card of a Boy Scout Patrol called the Lion Patrol of Hyedrau-Bad-Tasmul, organized by the Rev. Voll'Agnol of Balaru, British India, in which the senders extended greetings from the Indian patrol to the Boy Scouts Troop band of Willimantic of whose good work they had heard.

Mrs. George H. Hyne of Portland will address the members of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Paul's church this (Monday) evening at a meeting which will commence at 7.30 o'clock.

The members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. had a great deal of fun last Satrday when they hiked from the association building to Wolfe Rock in Mansfield, returning later in the afternoon.

The "legislative train" which has been leaving Willimantic on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursday at 9.46 a. m. for Hartford, running from Hartford on the same days, leaving at 4.15 p. m., will be operated Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4, 5 and 6 after which date it will be discontinued.

A number of young people were entertained at the home of Nathan Gathell in Andover Saturday evening and Sunday. The young women are guests of Miss Alice Yomans of Andover. Guests from here were the Misses Margaret Parsons, Helen Stiles, Doris Willard and Avis Thompson.

Rev. Harry S. McCready and Miss Sadie McCready have returned from a motor trip to York, Maine, where Mr. McCready delivered the Memorial Day address.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sadd of Jackson street were in Groton Long Point Sunday where they opened their cottage for the season.

Mrs. Fred D. Jordan of North street is entertaining her cousin, Mrs. Sabrina P. Champlin and daughter, Miss Carrie Champlin of Providence, R. I.

JEWETT CITY

The funeral service for Dr. S. H. Holmes was held at his home in Tracy avenue on Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. W. Payne conducted the service. He spoke particularly of the doctor's great love for dumb animals, and his compassion for anyone in distress. The numberless times he had assisted needy cases have never been known to the general public. The last time he was able to walk down the went for the purpose of giving a sum of money, unsolicited to an organization whose aim is helping the sorrowing and needy ones. The Masonic burial service was conducted by Worshipful Master Norman Parkhurst at the house on account of the rain. The burial was in the Jewett City cemetery, and the bearers were Dr. George H. Jennings, Walter Fields, Arba Browning, G. H. Prior, Morris Anderson and H. F. Clement. Delegations from the Ruthie Rebekah lodge of Jewett City and Past Noble Grands from Norwich, New London and Mystic were present, as well as many Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias. The relatives from out of town included Ralph Nickerson of College Point, L. I., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bracken of New Haven. Other friends came from Putnam, Brooklyn, Plainfield and New Haven. There were very many beautiful floral forms.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howes and daughter Cecile have returned from a two weeks visit with their daughter.

Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Browning are at Mrs. Browning's home in Boston for two days.

The conference of six churches is to be held at Pachaug church on Wednesday.

The Jewett City Textile Novelty Co., has by special arrangement with the Aetna Life Insurance Co., given their employes life insurance upon a cooperative basis. This enables the company's employes, regardless of age and physical condition to obtain life insurance without medical examination, at a cost substantially lower than they could obtain it individually. This insurance does not, in any manner, take the place of compensation, or any insurance the employe may carry, but is in addition. Besides being life insurance, a provision is made for total disability, from other to accident or sickness. Nursing service is also provided for the employes without additional cost. Following in the steps of all the leading manufacturers, the Novelty Co. has taken this method of showing their appreciation to their employes of conscientious and faithful service.

STAFFORD

Mrs. Finderson and Miss Cheverlin-derson of Springfield are the guests of Mrs. J. F. Brown and Mrs. F. W. Bean.

Mrs. F. Jones of Northfield, Vt., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Finney.

Mrs. Fenton of Warwick is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Hough.

Mrs. J. Heath and daughter, Miss Mildred Heath of Montpelier, Vt., are guests at the Heath home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Putok and Mr. and Mrs. Max Bernstein have moved into their new home which they purchased of George Gelsomin.

Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Batchelder are spending a few days at the Batchelder homestead, William Batchelder spent Memorial Day in Stafford.

William Leachman of Phoenix, N. Y., has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leachman.

Theodore Chaves has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Agnew of Norwich.

Miss Ida B. Heath and Ralph Heath have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler of Poquonock.

One pound of dehydrated spinach is equal in food value to 5 pounds of the canned vegetable.

WESTERLY

Palestine Temple Shrine special train made up of twelve Pullman cars en route for Washington, D. C., and the Imperial Council taking place June 4-8 came into the Westerly station Sunday as the second section of the Colonial Express at 11.15. The first cars were taken up by the drum corps, band and patrol with Palestine officials and "Nobility." The sides of the cars bore canvas banners with the wording "Palestine Temple, Providence, R. I." As the train made the station stop a saxophone impromptu band left the rear car and playing marched up the station platform but only had time to go half the length of the long train. Westerly Shriners party who boarded the train were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Berry, Charles A. Morgan, Edward N. Burdick, C. E. Goxe, Jr., and Raymond C. Vars. The Westerly party expect to make the Ebbets hotel their headquarters while in Washington.

Victorious the Westerly High school baseball nine returned from their game with Chapman Technical High at New London Saturday evening, having defeated their opponents by the close margin of three to two. With them came not only the championship of the Eastern Connecticut Interscholastic Baseball League, but also the trophy cup, which was placed on the silent policeman in Dixon square, where the successful outcome was heralded by the cheers of the returning victors and their admirers. Eighteen of the baseball team were guests of the Athletic Association at a chicken dinner at the Colonial club following this repast a parade was held with drums and horns as well as lighted candles, colored fire crackers and torches, which amid crowded sidewalks paraded up and down High street, stopping in the square to cheer the players and team. Arrangements have been completed whereby the W. H. S. will play the Rogers High baseball nine of Newport, which team bears an enviable reputation for its season's work on Tuesday, June 5 at Newport. A telegram has been sent to Hope High of Providence for a baseball game next Saturday on the new Playground Field.

In honor of their ninth wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. L. Ward Alger entertained at their residence, 13 Dixon street Saturday evening. Bridge was played, first prize for the ladies being won by Mrs. Harry H. Coleman, for the gentlemen, William J. Bell, consolation prize went to William P. Griffen and punch. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Mason Manning of Mystic, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Griffen of Stonington; Mr. and Mrs. George Greeman Stillman, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Culley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers E. Trainer, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gourlay and Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell.

Saturday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs Nellie Peckham, 22 Rocket street, took place the marriage of Miss Mary Emily Davis, daughter of Thomas R. Davis and Mary J. (Smith) Davis of Utica, New York to Clifford Richard Rathbun, son of the late George D. Rathbun and Hannah L. (Culver) Rathbun. The bride was born in England, was becomingly gowned and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Louis Peckham as bridesmaid, who also carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The best man was Edwin R. Cotter. Rev. Marvin S. Stocking performed the wedding ceremony following which the bride and groom departed on their wedding journey to Utica, N. Y. The bride has been in the employ of the George C. Moore company and the groom employed as a clerk at the Midway station of the New Haven R. R.

At the First Baptist church Saturday afternoon, occurred the funeral of Sarah K. Crandall, wife of the late Beal Crandall, who died in New London, May 30th. The services were in charge of the church pastor, Rev. B. D. Hafnefer and the bearers were C. E. Larkin, Westerly; James Richards, John Greenhalgh and Harry Benson of Mystic. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery, Ashaway.

William A. Wilcox today (Monday) assumes his duties for a term of two years as judge of the Stonington town court. Mr. Wilcox resides at 187 West Broad street and has an office on the second floor of the new Walton block on West Broad street. The other officials of the Stonington town court to take up their duties are Lorenzo D. Fairbrother of Stonington borough, deputy judge; George R. McKenna, Pawcatuck, prosecuting attorney; Albert Dennison, Mystic, assistant prosecuting attorney; Frank O. Grandy, Stonington borough, probation officer; and Albert G. Martin, Pawcatuck, clerk.

Mr. Wilcox has been connected with the Stonington town court for the past ten years, his first office being that of assistant prosecuting attorney, while prosecuting attorney Benjamin H. Hewitt (now a resident of the town of Groton) was in office. Judge Fairbrother, the deputy, has been associated with the court when it was first established in 1921. Attorney George R. McKenna at one time acted as prosecuting attorney under the late Judge Breed. Frank O. Grandy has been probation officer for six years and Albert G. Martin, the clerk, for eight years, this being the fourth term. Albert Dennison, a native of Stonington is a Mystic lawyer, who has practiced law for thirty years.

Mission Sunday, as directed by the bishop of the diocese, was observed at Christ Episcopal church on Sunday. The subject of Rev. G. E. Tobin's sermon was "Missions and Other People's Responsibility to Them. Holy communion was held at the early morning service and the subject of the evening's sermon along missionary lines. The annual meeting and election of the Mother's club will take place Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Taylor, 12 Spring street. The Boys' club meets on Tuesday evening. In the near future a meeting of delegates from the church societies will be held to consider ways and means to save for church expenses.

Rev. Byron U. Rastedt, pastor of the First Baptist church, had for his morning subject "A Word that Rebounded." The conference of the Lord's Supper and the reception of new members was held. The Parting of the Way was the subject of the evening sermon. Girls' club will meet on Monday night and the Women's society in the church vestry on Wednesday. Baptist ministers anticipate attendance upon the Thames River Ministers' conference, which will meet in Lebanon on Monday, among the interesting features will be one a paper by Rev. H. M. Scarrgood, D. D., pastor of the first church in New London, his subject being "The Christian and His Bank." Rev. Mr. Dargo will give Bakers from the Northern Baptist Conference, a convention recently held at Atlantic City, N. J.

At the Pawcatuck Congregational church, Rev. Charles R. Brush of Yale Divinity school, New Haven, Conn., preached at the morning and evening services. A call has been recently extended to Rev. Ernest H. Morrill, Amesbury, Mass., and his acceptance is now awaited by the church congregation.

Subject of Rev. Marvin S. Stocking's sermon at Grace Methodist Episcopal church was the Will of God, Man's Greatest Good. Following the morning service sacrament of the Lord's Supper was held.

The officers of the Rhode Island and Massachusetts conference will be in Westerly on Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 20th, at the Broad Street Christian church, when the ordination of the newly called pastor, A. L. Schoning will take place. The topic of Mr. Schoning's morning sermon was "Fatherhood of God," and in the evening "Beginning at Jerusalem." Wednesday evening will take place the regular mid week prayer service.

Rev. Lewis A. Walker, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, had for the subject of his morning sermon, "The Revise of the Balance Sheet." Mr. and Mrs. Walker returned Saturday night from a visit to the Northern Baptist conference, Atlantic City, N. J., and Washington, D. C. World Wide Guild on Tuesday night will present a pageant "Lightened to Lighten."

Quarterly social of the local union of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Societies will be held at the Hopkinton Seventh Day Baptist church, Ashaway, on Tuesday evening. The subject of the social will be, Musical Mixup."

The regular meeting of the S. D. B. society of the Seventh Day Baptist church was held Sunday evening at the home of Miss Lucinda Barber, 97 High street. This was the last meeting of the season, regular sessions again being resumed in October.

The regular May conclave of Narragansett commandery will be held in the commandery asylum on High street, Wednesday evening. The matter to come before the conclave will be the question of returning in the near future some of the courtesies extended to the commandery by sister commanderies in neighboring jurisdictions.

On June 14th it is planned to give the first of the summer series of band concerts in Wilcox park. Added to the $100, appropriated by the town to insure the full series it will be necessary for the Westerly band committee, Charles O. Gavitt, William A. Burk and Lewis Soloman to obtain by subscription $400. Generous public cooperation is requested.

The tug Westerly, Capt. Frank H. Robinson, brought the McCaffery barge, Laura May, up Pawcatuck river Friday noon. It was loaded with hard coal.

Dr. Frank Sullivan of Staten Island, N. Y., has been the guest of relatives and friends in Westerly having come to attend the funeral of Dr. John L. May.

Rev. C. A. Burdick left Saturday night to attend the commencement exercises of Alfred college, Alfred, N. Y.

John M. Laing of 9 1-2 Hebart street has entered the employ of the Westerly branch of the American Railway Express as a driver.

Mrs. Walter E. Hope of New York is now occupying her summer home, The Arches cottage at Watch Hill.

William W. Grant, Allentown, Pa., returned to his work Sunday, after being called here by the death of his mother, Mrs. John Grant of 49 Spruce street.

Noah L. Ashworth of Worcester, Mass., visited the past week with West Side relatives.

Alphonso Capron was taken recently in the ambulance of the Westerly Sanitary corps to the Backus hospital in Norwich.

Joseph K. Barber of Boston visited Westerly relatives on Saturday.

George Clark of Shannock visited with West Side relatives on Saturday.

Miss Ruth G. Wilcox of Boston, Mass., is the week end guest of her parents, 187 West Broad street.

Rodman E. Griscom of Haverford, Pa., arrived in Westerly Sunday morning for Watch Hill.

Byron E. Wilcox of Atlantic City, N. J., employed by the Western Electric Company, visited his father William A. Wilcox over the week end.

Miss Elizabeth M. Grant, stenographer at C. B. Cottrell & Sons Co., is suffering from an attack of tonsilitis.

Mrs. Anfie A. Noble, 2 High street, was a visitor in Providence on Sunday.

Clarence Carr, 32 Greenmanville avenue, a graduate of Bliss Electrical school, Tacoma Park, Pa., is visiting in Westerly previous to his accepting a position with the Western Electric Company in New York.

Emily Dixon, 24 Greenman Heights, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Austin Matthews in Pawtucket, R. I.

William White, who has been the manager for Samuel Grand of the Elliven Opera House, has severed his connection and after a short rest will go to Waterford, N. Y., to further engage in the picture business. Frank Vennette of Montreal, Canada, former manager of the Elliven Opera house will return shortly from that city to again assume the theatre management.

Beginning Saturday the Westerly post office began a Saturday holiday schedule for its letter carriers. This is inaugurating a system similar to one at present operative in some of the cities where the carrier makes but one delivery in the morning.

Fred York, former Westerly resident, was a week end visitor here. Mr. York now resides with his family in Duxbury, Mass.

William S. Nichols of Riverside, R. I., engineer in the employ of the bridge department of the New Haven railroad, visited relatives in Westerly on Sunday. Mr. Nichols will shortly remove with his family to his summer home at Tesuisset, Mass.

The American Railway express have begun their summer service, two trips daily, from the Westerly station to Watch Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bell of Glasgo, Scotland, returned to New York city Sunday noon after being the guests of Mrs. C. Byron Cottrell, 11 Elm street.

STONINGTON

Frank Stanton of Elm street is being mentioned for appointment as postmaster here. It is also understood that Postmaster Lesby, who has served under the democratic administration, would accept the position should he again be appointed.

Old time fishermen who have watched the seasons for years, state that a hot summer may be looked for. They give as their reason for it that scup, better known as porgies, have struck on in full force at this time of season which is a sure indication of warm summer weather. Just at present one can secure almost any kind of fish for the table as porgies, bluefish and flounders are now being brought in daily and pole at the local markets.

The ladies of the World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church, held a cake sale Friday afternoon in the church parlors and the sum of eleven dollars was realized. [illegible]

The Irish Baldness is a sackful kid—every bottle he brings you has enough ginger ale for two friendly glassfuls. People always want lots of Cliquot Club—It's the best ginger ale they know, and they all like it.

Your grocer or druggist sells it. Ask by the case

The Cliquot Club Company, Hills, Mass., U.S.A.

Cliquot Club GINGER ALE

SARSAPARILLA BIRCH BEER ROOT BEER

Top off your outing with

White Rose

The all Ceylon Tea

Suffered Breakdown After Husband's Death

Was in a Serious Condition Until She Began Taking Wineard

"During my husband's illness I had practically worn myself out through work and worry, and when he passed away, I had almost reached a state of collapse. I found that in order to get ahead and get my affairs in order I would do to get ahead and get what needed done. I would get no sleep. I was absolutely nervous, the least little thing would make me cry.

"I read one day about Wineard and decided to try it. I began taking it and in a few weeks I felt like a new woman. I was able to get about my housework and my children noticed the change in me. I am now in good health and can highly recommend Wineard to all suffering women."

WINCHARDS

WHAT'S GOING ON TONIGHT

Common Council Meeting in Council Chamber.

Uncas Lodge, No. 11, I. O. O. F., meets in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Thames Union, No. 167, K. P. of C. and I. of A., meets in Shetucket Hall.

Hartley B, Incl. F. A., meets at State Armory.

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.

Movies at Strand Theatre.

Moving Pictures at Bond Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Norwich city election.

One thousand American cities will observe this as "Better Homes" week.

The city of Victoria, B. C., today observes its 56th anniversary.

Canada observes today as a national holiday in honor of the birthday of King George.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Massachusetts, oldest of American military organizations, today observes its 285th anniversary.

Twenty years ago today Warren G. Harding, now president of the United States, was nominated for the office of lieutenant governor of Ohio.

Today begins the annual "June week" festivities and graduation exercises at the United States Naval academy at Annapolis.

Eminent Catholic priests and educators will take part today in the exercises of the laying of the cornerstone for the new buildings of Trinity college at Toronto.

American and other master printers from all over the world will assemble today in Gothenburg, Sweden, for an international congress of master printers.

The Zero Milestone monument erected in the "President's park," Washington, D. C., by the Lee Highway association, is to be dedicated today with interesting ceremonies.

Secretary of State Hughes is to deliver the address at the Kent centennial celebration at Columbia university today to commemorate the return, in 1823, of James Kent to the professorship of law in Columbia college.

A special election is to be held today in the Eighth congressional district of Iowa to choose a successor to H. M. Towner, who resigned to become governor of Porto Rico. Hiram K. Evans, republican, and J. P. Danehrion, democrat, are the rival candidates.

Conventions Opening Today.

Washington, D. C., Imperial Council Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Atlantic City, Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

New York, National Electric Light Association.

Chicago, Music Industries Chamber of Commerce.

Detroit, National Leather and Shoe Finders' Association.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Radiator Nook Meeting Tuesday.

Rev. C. H. Ricketts will address the Y. M. C. A. noon meeting at the Radiator plant on Tuesday noon this week at 12.30 o'clock.

Men's Bible Study.

Wednesday this week at 6.15 p. m. the Men's Bible class of the Y. M. C. A. will hold its weekly session, and all men interested are cordially invited.

BREED THEATRE.

The Village Blacksmith Experiences Tribulations That Stimulate the Tear Glands.

If you think you are thrill-proof or think your tear-well has gone prolific, just take a trip up to the Breed theatre today or tomorrow and go through a showing of The Village Blacksmith, the latest William Fox melodrama.

In presenting The Village Blacksmith the manager is giving the movie-goers just about everything in the way of pathos and human touches that can be crowded into an hour and a half.

Will Walling as the smithy is a big, strong, husky lad with a strong, manly chest. He'd have to be to stand all the misfortune that drapes itself about his manly shoulders. No frail weakling could live through all the terror of the first half of the first reel. But the smithy stands his punishment like the heroic figure the film makes him and along toward the end he reaps his just reward of happiness.

There is a railroad wreck, his youngest son is crippled for life by falling from a tree, he thinks his daughter goes wrong, his oldest son is almost killed, his daughter is struck by lightning, his wife dies and then his daughter is accused of stealing a church fund. Aside from that the smithy has an easy time of it doing the work about his shop.

Tully Marshall gives a good and mean performance as the squire. Virginia Valli is good as the daughter, Ralph Yearsley is sufficiently cowardly as the squire's son, but the best bit of acting in the picture is done by George Hackathorne as the cripple. Francis Ford, who used to be a dashing hero, is very good as a half-witted country lout who causes much of the trouble.

Yes, if you are in need of good entertainment, by all means see The Village Blacksmith.

The Pathe news and a roaring comedy entitled When Nights Are Cold make up the remainder of the bill.

"You Can't Feel Your Wife" Wins.

Proving itself to be a genuinely entertaining production, the Paramount picture You Can't Feel Your Wife was given a successful premier at the Broadway theatre last evening and will be the attraction until Tuesday.

Lewis Stone as Garth McBride, a Wall street magnate, is in love with his wife, played by Leatrice Joy. McBride has the fight of his life on the floor of the stock exchange with a certain Russell Fenton. Fenton attempts to murder McBride when the latter ruins him financially and is arrested and imprisoned. At McBride's request, he is pardoned by the governor.

On a pleasure trip to the south Garth starts a flirtation with one of the guests in his party. His wife resents this and returns to New York to resume nursing, the vocation she had followed before her marriage. The happy ending of the picture comes when Garth and his wife are reunited in the home of Dr. Banock, where McBride has been taken after he has been seriously beaten by thugs and whose his wife is attendant nurse.

Humans are equally divided among the four leading players, for each portrays to perfection the role assigned to him or her. The work of Miss Dahl as a different kind of a vamp, however, deserves special mention. George Melford, of The Sheik fame, and one of the directorial geniuses of the screen, supervised the production.

It will be pleasant to say that there are distinct classes of motion picture patrons and that one class will attend one kind of picture and that another class will patronize something distinctly different. Manager Davidson has proven that the tastes of motion picture patrons are familiar. He discovered that when he presented what is probably the most varied program ever created by a motion picture manager—this week's entertainment at the Broadway theatre.

A Mermaid comedy is also included in this fine program.

Vocabulary of the human dictionary of the English language [illegible] grind expressions [illegible]

Point of View.

One of the most curious things about American politics is that without a single historical exception a partisan is invariably a member of the other party.—Washington Post.

Coal treated to make it more effective in dealing will be common in a few years, says an expert.

YALE AND HARVARD CREWS ARRIVE AT GALES FERRY FOR BIG REGATTA

Red Top, Groton, June 3.—Harvard's rowing squad that will go into intensive practice in preparation for the annual regatta with Yale June 23 arrived here shortly after 6 o'clock tonight and immediately proceeded to their quarters. There were 16 men in the squad, representing the varsity, freshmen, second and combination crews. Complete arrangements had been made in advance to receive them.

The shells, six in number, arrived early this morning, the home-made shell built by Bill Lutz, the Harvard rigger, being among their number. As an innovation Coach Frank Muller had two rowing machines installed in the boathouse for emergency use.

Although no definite changes have been made in the boating of the men, it is known that the crews will be somewhat changed when the first practice spin takes place on the Thames tomorrow morning.

Yale Arrives

In a drizzling rain, Yale's four Blue crews arrived here late this afternoon and pitched camp a short half mile from the Crimson training quarters at Red Top where the Harvard crews were arriving about the same time.

The Blue training quarters had been prepared in advance and were inspected by Coach Ed Leader, who was seeing them for the first time. He expressed complete satisfaction with the equipment at his disposal, and later looked over the course on the Thames river over which the rival crews will row June 23 in the annual regatta.

The varsity crew proceeded from New London by motorboat, while the junior varsity, the freshman and the combination crew came by train. The five shells had arrived earlier in the day and were uncrated in preparation for opening practice tomorrow morning.

It was announced at training quarters that standard time would be used in order that there might be no confusion with Yale time.

SPEAKER'S PLAYING FEATURES DETROIT-CLEVELAND GAME

Detroit, Mich., June 3.—A one-hand catch by Speaker of Rigney's long fly to deep center field, for the second out in the ninth inning, which permitted Heilmann to score the winning run from third base, was the only feature of an 8 to 7 victory by Detroit over Cleveland here today. Four Detroit pitchers and three Cleveland moundsmen were touched for a total of 30 hits during the game. Detroit tied the score in the sixth, gained two runs on their opponents in the seventh, only to permit Cleveland to tie the count again in the eighth. Score:

Cleveland (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Jamieson,lf	4	1	1	0	0	Heilmann,rf	5	3	2	0	0
Wambsganss,2b	4	2	3	5	0	Rigney,2b	3	2	2	3	0
Speaker,cf	5	2	2	0	0	Cobb,lf	4	2	1	0	0
Turner,3b	5	0	2	1	0	Veach,cf	4	1	1	0	0
Burnham,rf	4	2	2	0	1	Bassler,c	4	2	7	1	0
Sewell,c	4	2	8	2	0	Woodall,3b	4	1	1	2	0
Little,1b	5	0	9	1	0	Ehmke,p	3	0	0	2	0
Gardner,3b	4	0	1	2	0	Ainsmith,c	1	0	3	0	0
Myatt,c	1	0	0	0	0	Dauss,p	0	0	0	0	0
Bagby,p	2	0	0	2	0	Holloway,x	1	0	0	0	0
Edwards,p	0	0	0	0	0	Leibold,p	0	0	0	0	0
Mitchell,p	0	0	0	0	0	Boley,y	1	0	0	0	0
Hasty,x	0	0	0	0	0	Totals	34	11	27	11	1
Totals	40	8	30	13	1

(x) Batted for Edwards in 9th.
(y) Batted for Dauss in 9th.
Score by innings:
Cleveland ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—2
Detroit ..... 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 1 0—3
Two base hits, Jamieson, Burnham, Sewell, Gardner, Bagby, Rigney, Cobb, Veach, Bassler, Woodall. Three base hits, Speaker, Myatt. Home run, Heilmann. Sacrifice hits, Wambsganss, Speaker, Little, Gardner, Bagby, Rigney, Cobb, Veach, Bassler, Woodall, Ehmke. Stolen bases, Wambsganss, Speaker, Burnham, Sewell, Little, Gardner, Rigney, Cobb, Veach, Bassler, Woodall. Double plays, Wambsganss, Sewell and Little; Rigney, Woodall and Bassler. Left on bases, Cleveland 7, Detroit 8. Bases on balls, off Bagby 1, off Ehmke 1. Struck out, by Bagby 2, by Ehmke 3, by Dauss 1, by Leibold 1. Hit by pitcher, by Ehmke (Gardner). Passed ball, Sewell. Umpires, Messrs. Connolly and Hildebrand. Time, 2:00. Attendance, 10,000.

DODGERS TAKE SHORT GAME FROM BRAVES

Brooklyn, June 3.—Brooklyn won a six inning game from Boston 7 to 6 today after a race with a heavy shower that fell during the fifth. Play was resumed after a half hour's delay but after the Braves had completed their half of the sixth Umpire Finneran was compelled to call the game. Watson started pitching for Boston, but after the first four batters had hit safely he was replaced by Oeschger. The Dodgers scored five runs in that inning. In the fifth the Braves jumped on Ruether for seven hits, which with two errors gave them six runs and a one-run lead. Griffith walked to start Brooklyn's half and Wheat followed with a drive that bounced into the bleachers in left center for a home run. Score:

Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Maranville,ss	3	0	0	0	0	Kelly,rf	2	1	1	0	0
Powell,lf	3	0	2	1	0	Henline,3b	3	1	0	1	0
O'Doul,rf	4	1	0	0	0	O'Farrell,ss	2	0	1	2	0
McInnis,1b	3	2	8	0	0	Griffith,2b	2	1	2	1	0
Boley,2b	3	0	2	3	0	Wheat,lf	3	2	2	0	0
Hale,cf	3	1	2	0	0	Konetchy,1b	3	2	8	0	0
Gowdy,c	3	0	6	2	0	Hargrave,c	3	0	6	0	0
Watson,p	0	0	0	0	0	Ruether,p	3	0	1	0	0
Oeschger,p	2	2	0	1	0	Deberry,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	27	6	20	7	0	Total	22	7	21	4	0

Score by innings:
Boston ..... 0 0 0 0 0 6 0 0 0—6
Brooklyn ..... 0 0 0 0 0 5 0 2 x—7
Three base hits, Griffith. Home runs, Wheat.

RIVERVIEW TAKES LISTLESS GAME FROM QUINEBAUG

In a listless and one-sided game at the State hospital diamond on Saturday afternoon the Riverview club slaughtered the Quinebaug team 13 to 2 in eight innings. The Quinebaug team fielded in ragged style and the game soon developed into a farce as far as the visitors were concerned. West was in fine form, fanning 15 of the opposing batsmen, and allowing only six hits. Mason, the pitcher for the Quinebaug team, pitched a good game, but his support was such that he did not show well. The score:

Riverview.	ab	h	po	a	e	Quinebaug.	ab	h	po	a	e
Hart,3b	3	1	0	1	1	Lonergan,3b	3	1	1	2	1
Miller,ss	3	4	2	0	0	Donaldson,ss	4	1	1	3	1
Sullivan,2b	4	3	1	2	0	Pound,2b	4	1	2	1	2
Wentz,p	5	0	3	5	0	Mason,p	4	0	0	0	0
Lavoie,1b	5	0	5	0	0	Beaudin,c	4	0	7	0	0
Reddy,c	4	3	14	1	0	Willett,rf	3	0	0	0	0
Talbot,cf	5	1	1	0	0	Mangum,1b	3	0	11	1	1
Reardon,rf	4	1	1	0	0	Brazeau,lf	3	1	1	0	0
Walsh,rf	3	2	0	0	0	Mack,cf	3	1	0	0	0
Totals	40	15	27	9	0	Totals	33	6	27	10	5

Score by innings:
Riverview ..... 1 2 0 3 3 2 2 x—13
Quinebaug ..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0—2
Two base hits, Dowd, Mills, Three base hit, Lonergan. Struck out, by Wentz 15; by Mason 4.

SUMMARY OF TODAY'S GAMES

RACING.

Meeting of Westchester Racing association at Belmont Park.

Meeting of Connaught Park Jockey club at Ottawa.

GOLF.

Women's eastern championship tournament at Chestnut Hill, Pa.

Women's Ontario championship tournament at Brantford, Ont.

TENNIS.

Indian-Irish Davis cup matches conclude at Dublin.

Connecticut championship tournament opens at New Haven.

SHOOTING.

Utah state trapshooting tournament at Ogden.

POLO.

Annual tournament of Philadelphia Country club at Bala, Pa.

BOXING.

Augie Ratner vs. Roland Todd, 10 rounds, at London.

Frankie Genaro vs. Joe Lynch, 12 rounds, at Harrison, N. J.

Charley Beecher vs. Terry Martin, 10 rounds, at New Haven.

Jimmy Darcy vs. Young Stribling, 10 rounds, at Columbus, Ga.

Andy Palmer vs. Joe Libby, 12 rounds, at Atlantic City.

Johnny Leonard vs. Georgie Brown, 10 rounds, at Allentown.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

National League.

Boston 6, Brooklyn 7.
Chicago 4, Cincinnati 3.
Pittsburgh 3, St. Louis 4.
No other games scheduled.

American League.

Philadelphia 2, Washington 4.
St. Louis 1, Chicago 7.
Cleveland 7, Detroit 8.
New York-Boston game (rain).

International League.

Jersey City 5, Baltimore 2.
Reading 3, Newark 7.
Other games postponed.

Eastern League.

Springfield 4, Waterbury 8.
Worcester 5, Albany 7.
Other games postponed.

American Association.

Louisville 5, Milwaukee 3 (1st game)
Louisville 9, Milwaukee 2 (2d game).
St. Paul 5, Toledo 1.
Minneapolis 3, Columbus 11.
Kansas City 1, Indianapolis (1st game).
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 1 (2d game).

THE STANDING

National League

	W	L	Pct.
New York	32	11	.744
Pittsburgh	24	18	.571
Brooklyn	23	19	.548
St. Louis	22	22	.500
Cincinnati	20	21	.488
Chicago	18	24	.429
Boston	17	25	.405
Philadelphia	12	30	.286

American League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	29	12	.707
Philadelphia	23	18	.575
Cleveland	23	19	.548
Detroit	21	22	.488
St. Louis	19	21	.475
Boston	15	21	.417
Washington	16	24	.400
Chicago	15	24	.385

Eastern League.

	W	L	Pct.
Hartford	24	10	.706
New Haven	20	13	.606
Springfield	19	13	.594
Waterbury	17	18	.486
Albany	16	18	.457
Worcester	15	19	.441
Bridgeport	11	20	.355
Pittsfield	11	21	.344

International League

	W.	L.	PC
Rochester	28	11	.718
Baltimore	27	15	.614
Toronto	21	17	.528
Reading	22	19	.537
Buffalo	19	19	.500
Jersey City	17	25	.405
Newark	15	23	.395
Syracuse	12	30	.286

GAMES TODAY.

National League.

Chicago at Cincinnati.
Brooklyn at Pittsburgh.
Boston at Philadelphia.

American League.

Philadelphia at Washington.
Cleveland at Boston.
New York at Washington.

Eastern League.

Hartford at New Haven.
Springfield at Waterbury.
Worcester at Albany.
Pittsfield at Bridgeport.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

National League.

Brooklyn 4, Boston 2.
New York 9, Philadelphia 8.
Cincinnati 2, Chicago 1.
Pittsburgh-St. Louis, rain.

American League.

Boston 7, New York 2.
Philadelphia 7, Washington 5 (first game.)
Washington 5, Philadelphia 3 (second game.)
Detroit 9, Cleveland 1.
St. Louis 8, Chicago 5.

Eastern League

Springfield 11, Bridgeport 10 (14 innings.)
Pittsfield 5, New Haven 3.
Hartford 6, Albany 1.
Worcester 5, Waterbury 3.

International League.

Rochester 6, Buffalo 3.
Toronto 3-3, Syracuse 2-8.
Newark 8, Reading 6.
Baltimore 7-6, Jersey City 4-1.

COLLEGE GAMES

Worcester—Holy Cross 9, Georgetown 0.
New Haven—Princeton 14, Yale 5.
Amherst—Amherst 4, Wesleyan 1.
Newton—Boston College 14, Springfield college 0.
Cambridge—Brown 7, Harvard 4.
Williamstown—William 4, Massachusetts Agricultural 3.
Hamilton, N. Y.—Colgate 14, Niagara 1.
Hanover, N. H.—Dartmouth 11, Tufts 10.
Marshall 2, Haverford 1.
West Point, N. Y.—Franklin and State College, Pa.—Penn State 12, Waynesburg 6.
Waterville, Me.—Colby 6, Maine 0.
Easton, Pa.—Lafayette 5, Bucknell 4 (10 innings.)
Ithaca, N. Y.—Cornell 10, Syracuse 8.
Troy, N. Y.—Rensselaer Polytechnic 4, City College of New York 3.
Collegeville, Pa.—Ursinus 8, Muhlenburg 2.
Cambridge—Yale Freshmen 17, Harvard Freshmen 0.

If the list of heavy stickers continues to grow, the pitcher who can go the distance will be a rare birds.

CUBS TURN BACK REDS IN EXCITING CONTEST

Cincinnati, O., June 3.—The Cubs broke the winning streak of the Reds, which had extended over six games, by taking an exciting contest today, 4 to 3. Osborne held the Reds hitless until after one man was out in the last half of the ninth, when an error by Grantham, a single by Duncan and triples by Daubert and Roush yielded three runs. The Cubs bunched three hits off Benton with an error by Cavency for three runs in the fifth and scored the winning run in the eighth. Score:

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Cincinnati (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Flack,cf	4	1	2	0	0	Rousch,cf	3	2	1	0	0
Holocher,rf	4	1	2	1	0	Grantham,2b	4	1	6	1	0
Deal,3b	4	0	1	2	0	Duncan,rf	4	1	2	0	0
O'Farrell,ss	4	0	1	3	0	Daubert,1b	4	1	12	0	0
Fonseca,1b	4	1	11	0	0	Roush,lf	4	1	2	0	0
Mayer,c	4	0	4	0	0	Wilson,3b	4	0	0	2	0
Bentley,p	3	0	0	2	0	Gooch,ss	4	0	1	3	0
Cavarretta,x	1	0	0	0	0	Hargrave,c	3	0	4	0	0
Osborne,p	2	0	0	1	0	Benton,p	2	0	0	1	0
Totals	32	3	24	9	0	Totals	32	6	27	7	0

(x) Batted for Benton in 9th.
Score by innings:
Chicago ..... 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 1—3
Cincinnati ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—3
Two base hits, Deal, Daubert. Three base hits, Daubert, Roush.

SENATORS HUMBLE ATHLETICS IN FINAL SERIES GAME

Washington, June 3.—Washington outbatted Philadelphia two to one and took the final game today 6 to 2. Hollingsworth yielded only two hits after the second inning, while Washington hit both Hasty and Ogden. The visitors took three of the five-game series. Score:

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Washington (A.)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mathewson,rf	4	2	1	0	0	Rice,lf	4	2	3	1	0
Rommel,lb	3	0	7	1	0	Judnich,rf	3	0	1	4	0
Perkins,c	4	0	6	5	0	Goslin,lf	4	2	3	0	0
Hauser,1b	4	1	7	0	0	Judge,1b	3	0	14	1	0
Miller,cf	3	1	2	0	0	Ruether,2b	4	2	1	2	0
Galloway,ss	4	1	2	3	1	Leibold,cf	3	1	2	0	0
Welch,rf	2	0	1	0	0	Harris,2b	3	1	3	3	0
Schang,2b	2	0	3	2	0	Ruel,c	4	2	9	0	0
Hasty,p	2	0	0	2	0	Hollingsworth,p	3	0	0	2	0
Ogden,p	2	0	0	2	0
Totals	29	5	29	15	1	Totals	35	10	27	11	0

Score by innings:
Philadelphia ..... 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2
Washington ..... 0 0 2 0 1 3 0 1 x—6
Two base hits, Galloway, Leibold, Bicondo, Harris.

CARDINALS CLIMB INTO FOURTH PLACE OVER PIRATES

St. Louis, June 3.—St. Louis went into fourth place by defeating Pittsburgh for the third consecutive time, 4 to 3, here today. It was a pitchers' battle, in which Haines, who struck out seven batters, had the better of Cooper. The Cardinals scored the winning run in the eighth inning on a single by Mann, a hit batsman, a walk and Stock's sacrifice. Toporcer made three hits in three times at bat. The

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Carey,cf	4	1	2	0	0	Hafey,lf	3	1	0	0	0
Bigbee,lf	4	1	2	0	0	Mann,rf	4	2	1	0	0
Rawlings,2b	4	1	2	3	0	Toporcer,3b	3	2	1	4	0
Grimm,1b	3	1	9	1	0	Bottomley,1b	3	1	8	0	0
Barbare,3b	3	0	1	2	0	Stock,2b	3	0	1	4	0
Schmidt,c	3	0	7	0	0	Wilson,c	4	0	4	0	0
Cooper,p	3	1	1	3	0	Haines,p	3	0	0	3	0
Totals	30	5	24	9	0	Totals	28	6	27	11	1

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1
St. Louis ..... 0 0 0 1 0 2 0 1 x—4
Two base hits, Bigbee, Toporcer. Three base hits, Barbare. Home runs, Mann. Sacrifice hits, Carey, Rawlings, Grimm, Barbare, Schmidt, Cooper, Hafey, Mann, Stock, Wilson, Haines. Stolen bases, Carey, Bigbee, Rawlings, Grimm, Barbare, Schmidt, Cooper, Hafey, Mann, Toporcer, Bottomley, Stock, Wilson, Haines. Double plays, Rawlings, Barbare and Grimm; Stock, Toporcer and Bottomley. Left on bases, Pittsburgh 6, St. Louis 6. Bases on balls, off Cooper 2, off Haines 3. Struck out, by Cooper 7, by Haines 3. Hit by pitcher, by Haines (Carey). Passed ball, Schmidt. Umpires, Messrs. Klem and Rigler. Time, 2:00. Attendance, 10,000.

CHISOX TAKE EASY GAME FROM BROWNS

Chicago, June 3.—Chicago concentrated its attack in two innings today, driving both Pruett and Wright off the mound, and defeated St. Louis 7 to 1 in the final game of the series. "Dixie" Leverette pitched in fine form and the visitors were saved from a shutout only when he eased up in the latter innings.

The fielding of Mann and the base running of Eddie Collins were features. Score:

St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Tobin,rf	4	1	1	0	0	Hooper,rf	3	1	2	0	0
Sheehan,cf	4	0	2	0	0	McCarthy,rf	1	0	0	0	0
Severeid,c	4	0	7	0	0	E. Collins,2b	4	1	2	3	0
Williams,lf	4	0	3	0	0	Mostil,cf	4	1	2	0	0
McManus,3b	4	0	1	2	0	Mancuso,c	3	1	7	0	0
Pratt,ss	4	0	1	3	0	Falk,ss	4	1	1	3	0
Ward,2b	4	0	1	3	0	Blankenship,3b	4	0	0	1	0
Wingard,1b	3	0	9	0	0	Lamar,lf	4	0	1	0	0
Pruett,p	1	0	0	1	0
Wright,p	0	0	0	0	0
Hasty,p	0	0	0	0	0
Ogden,p	0	0	0	0	0
Gallivan,x	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	1	24	9	0	Totals	31	5	15	7	0

(x) Batted for Ogden in 9th.
Score by innings:
St. Louis ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1
Chicago ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 5 x—7
Two base hits, Mostil. Three base hits, Falk. Home runs, Hooper, Falk. Sacrifice hits, Tobin, Severeid, Williams, Pratt, Ward, Wingard, Pruett, Wright, Hooper, Mostil, Mancuso, Falk, Blankenship, Lamar. Stolen bases, Tobin, Sheehan, Severeid, Williams, Pratt, Ward, Wingard, Hooper, E. Collins, Mostil, Falk, Blankenship, Lamar. Double plays, Pratt, Ward and Wingard; E. Collins and Falk. Left on bases, St. Louis 6, Chicago 5. Bases on balls, off Pruett 1, off Wright 1, off Hasty 1, off Ogden 1. Struck out, by Pruett 1, by Wright 1, by Hasty 1, by Ogden 1. Hit by pitcher, by Pruett (Falk). Passed ball, Severeid. Umpires, Messrs. Owens and Nallin. Time, 1:45. Attendance, 2,000.

CRIQUI WINS TITLE FROM JOHNNY KILBANE

New York, June 3.— A lithe-limbed, panther-like warrior of France, bearing the scars of the fight of fights, boxed and punched his way to dramatic victory and a world championship here Saturday. Eugene Criqui, ex-poilu, who came back to the ring after his jaw had stopped a German bullet at Verdun seven years ago rose to the greatest heights of his pugilistic career when he knocked out Johnny Kilbane, veteran American holder of the world's weatherweight crown, in the sixth round of an international battle before a crowd estimated at 25,000 in the Polo grounds.

It was a battle between master ringmen, veterans of two continents, but in the end Criqui's greater stamina and punching ability carried him to triumph. Kilbane, who had held the world title for 11 years, had a shade the best of the defensive fighting, but at critical moments he was unable to stem the tide of Criqui's cyclonic attack.

The finish came with sensational suddenness in the sixth round and when Kilbane's generalship appeared to have baffled the former poilu's fiery onslaught. Time after time he had weathered a storm of rights and lefts to the head and body, but Criqui was not to be denied. Starting from his corner in the sixth round with determination in his features, he feinted, then whipped in a terrific left to the body that staggered the champion.

Kilbane drew away, expecting another left, but Criqui shot in a right cross to the jaw and sent the American back on his heels, and toppling to the canvas. At the count of six, Kilbane tried to rise and succeeded in getting to one knee, but, groggy and weak, he fell back as Referee Jack Appel tolled off the count of 10.

It was only the second time in his long ring career that Kilbane had been counted out. In 1917, when at the height of his career as featherweight king, he went out of his class to meet Benny Leonard, lightweight champion and was knocked out in the third round.

The Preliminaries

Five other bouts, all among "little fellows," were on the card. Two eight-round encounters were the star attractions of these, "Irish" Johnny Curtin, Jersey City bantamweight, receiving a judge's decision over Jack Sharkey of New York, in one, which preceded the main contest, and Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., and Babe Herman of Los Angeles, battling to a draw in the other, staged after the championship.

In the others, Al Ziemer of Cleveland won a judges' decision over Hilly Levine of New York in six rounds; Jimmy Mars of New York received a decision over Micked Brown of New York in 6 rounds, and Davey Jones of New York and Jackie McCoy of Jersey City boxed a four-round draw.

leotwalmfmEpteedeocdftce6o th th

NORWICH-FORSYTHE GAME POSTPONED BECAUSE OF RAIN

The game between the local Norwich club and the Forsythe team of New Haven, scheduled for the Fairgrounds Sunday, was called off just before 3 o'clock owing to the heavy rainfall. The rain started shortly after 2 o'clock and continued until late in the afternoon, making it impossible to play the game. A fair sized crowd had assembled for the game, as the Forsythes were reported as having a very fast semi-pro team.

The polls will be open for the city election today in the four city districts at 5:30 a. m., and close at 5 p. m., standard time, or 6:30 a. m. and 6 p. m. daylight saving time.

CINCINNATI TEAM FURNISHES THE SENSATION OF THE WEEK IN MAJORS

New York, June 4.—The climb of the Cincinnati team in the National league race featured the week's major league games. The Reds were halted in their heavy hitting scramble today by Osborne of the Cubs, who held them to three hits. Moran's men won 7 of their last nine contests.

Osborne' fine pitching today also broke the Cubs' long losing streak. They captured but two of their last nine games. Brooklyn's team continued its upward march behind excellent pitching and is now within a game of Pittsburgh in second place. By defeating Pittsburgh today the Cardinals moved into fifth division again, just a few percentage figures above the Reds.

In the American league the Red Sox developed a punch, especially against the leading Yankees. The Browns and Detroit have been fighting for fourth place. Cleveland Indians lost a chance to take second place from the Athletics today, losing to Detroit while Mack's men dropped a game to Washington.

The week's record in both Major leagues of games won and lost with runs, hits, errors including games of Saturday, June 2, follows:

American

	W	L	R	H	E
New York	5	2	38	66	5
Philadelphia	4	4	37	79	13
Cleveland	5	2	44	71	9
Detroit	3	4	33	70	13
Washington	7	2	28	67	11
Chicago	1	6	31	73	11
St. Louis	5	2	45	80	8
Boston	5	2	34	68	14

National League

New York	5	3	65	92	18
Pittsburgh	4	3	34	75	3
Chicago	1	7	26	74	10
Brooklyn	6	2	43	83	13
St. Louis	3	4	18	53	11
Boston	3	7	43	91	20
Cincinnati	7	1	28	67	7
Philadelphia	4	6	58	114	24

WILLIAMS STILL LEADS HOME RUN HITTERS

Chicago, June 3—Joe Hauser, Philadelphia Americans first baseman, whose hitting is a big factor in the rush of the Athletics toward the top of the league pennant chasers, made a strong bid last week for the home run honors of his league when he hit four circuit clouts.

Hauser's performance puts him only one behind Ken Williams, and three less than Babe Ruth, who is leading the league with eleven.

Cy Williams, veterans of the Phillies, cracked out his nineteenth four bagger last week in the National league and his leading all the home run sluggers.

National League

Williams, Philadelphia	19
Hartnett, Chicago	5
Mokan, Philadelphia	5
Traynor, Pittsburgh	5
Kelleher, Chicago	5
Miller, Chicago	5
Wheat, Brooklyn	5

American League

Ruth, New York	11
Williams, St. Louis	9
Hauser, Philadelphia	8

PROMOTERS MUST STAND LOSS OF $50,000 OR FIGHT

New York, June 3—Promoters of the Eugene Criqui-Johnny Kilbane bout at the Polo Grounds yesterday, resulting in the winning of the world's featherweight championship by the Frenchman, will lose approximately $50,000 on the match, it was estimated tonight. The attendance was given as about 20,000 with receipts of $61,000.

Kilbane was said to have received $65,000 and $10,000 for training expenses Criqui received $25,000 and $5,000 for training. Other expenses were estimated to have brought the total outlay of Tom O'Rourke and associates to $140,000.

ALBANY TAKES GAME IN THE FIRST INNING

Albany, N. Y., June 3.—Albany scored six runs on five hits, including three doubles and a home run, and a pass in the first inning today and defeated Worcester 7 to 5. Emmer hit his ninth home run of the season off Roberts in the first inning. Two men were on at the time. Poor base running deprived Worcester of a chance to tie in a ninth inning rally. Score by innings:

Worcester .. ..2 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—5
Albany ....6 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 *—7

Two base hits, Eayrs, Altenburg, Rodgers, Schinkel; home run, Emmer.

FOURTH INNING RALLY WINS FOR WATERBURY

Waterbury, June 3.—Waterbury beat Springfield 8 to 4 by hitting hard in the fourth inning, in which the winners scored six runs on four straight singles, a sacrifice, two successive singles and a double. Howe, Waterbury, struck out Damrau, leading home run hitter of the league, with the bases full in the next inning. Score by innings:

Springfield .. ..0 0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0—4
Waterbury .. ..0 0 2 1 0 0 0 0 *—8

Two base hits, King, Donahue, Simpson, Brenkle; three base hit, Herrara.

WESTERN ATHLETES BETTER FIVE EASTERN MARKS

New York, June 3.—(By the A. P.)—Western conference athletes, in the track and field championships at Ann Arbor, Michigan, Friday and Saturday bettered five of the performances in the intercollegiates, held recently at Philadelphia, and equalled two. They fell behind intercollegiate marks, however, in seven other events.

BILLIARD DIES

Wooster, Ohio, June 3—Harry Billard, 39, for fifteen years a pitcher in various baseball leagues, died here today of typhoid fever. Billiard played with Birmingham in the southern league, the Indianapolis federals and part of one season with the New York Americans.

Firpo-Herman Bout Postponed.

Havana, June 3 (By the A. P.).—The fight between Luis Angel Firpo and "Italian Jack" Herman, which was to have taken place this afternoon at 5 o'clock, was postponed on account of rain.

The weather began clearing late this afternoon and the promoters hoped to stage the bout at 9 o'clock this evening.

"Snooks" Dowd Bought by New Haven

New Haven, June 1. — Raymond "Snooks" Dowd of Springfield, Mass., second baseman of the Atlanta baseball team of the Southern Association, has been purchased by the New Haven Eastern League team according to announcement made tonight. He will report to the team at Pittsfield tomorrow.

Weiner and Tilden Win.

Philadelphia, June 3.—William T. Tilden and Sandy Weiner successfully defended their doubles tennis championship of eastern Pennsylvania today, winning the final round of the tournament from Herman Dornheim and Watson Knight, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5.

Holland Leads Over Italy.

Noordwijk, Holland, June 1.—(By The A. P.)— In the first round of the lawn tennis singles in the Davis Cup ite between Holland, Italy, Van Lennep of Holland defeated Baron De Morpurgo of Italy 6-1, 0-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Gibbons to Begin Training.

St. Paul, Minn., June 1.—Tommy Gibons, challenger of Jack Dempsey world's heavyweight champion, will begin active training about the middle of next week for his bout with Dempsey at Shelby, Mont., on July 4, the St. Paul boxer said here tonight.

Miss Townsend Wins Title

Philadelphia, June 1.—Miss Anne B. Townsend, of Merion, today won the Pennsylvania and Eastern States Woman's tennis title by defeating Miss Molly Thayer in the final round. The scores were 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

A Correction.

The game scheduled in the Twilight league for June 14th is between the Duwells and Jail Hill instead of the Nuggets and East Ends. The two last mentioned teams will play on June 12.

Baltic-Sterling Game Called Off.

The game between Baltic and Sterling scheduled for Sunday afternoon was called off because of rain. The Baltic team will go to Sterling on the 17th of this month.

Baltic Looking for Games.

Manager Collins of the Baltic A. A. is looking for an out of town game for next Saturday and also a home game for next Sunday.

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

Strange as it may seem, the ancient hidden ball trick still bobs up occasionally in major league circles.

Manager Ty Cobb has been compelled to nick some of his Tigers lately for $100 fines for not observing training rules.

"Baby Doll" Jacobson of the Browns is gaining on the batting leaders and should be among the top-notchers before long.

In trying to boost the Phillies up the pennant ladder Art Fletcher has about the toughest baseball job he has ever tackled.

Catcher Gharrity of the Senators, rated as one of the best hitting backstops, has been in a batting slump a good part of the season.

Captain Billy Southworth is going fine for the Braves this season, following his long lay-off because of injuries last year.

After several years of cellar teams in Philadelphia the great work of the Athletics has brought the Quaker City fans up on their toes.

The struggle of the Reds to keep out of the cellar recalls the pre-season predictions that the Moran crowd would give the Giants a run for the pennant.

Dick Reichle of the Red Sox is crowding Harry Heilman for batting honors. This college boy may not be a star in the field, but how he can swat the ball!

Major league club owners as well as the Baseball Writers' association are opposed to radio broadcasting of play-by-play accounts of big league games.

"King John" McGraw says he is satisfied with the Giants' showing so far, and well he may be. A team traveling at their gait is well-nigh unbeatable.

Already Pittsburgh looks to be a stronger outfit with Johnny Rawlins in the lineup. The old Giants' second baseman got away to a good start with the Buccaneers.

Will National league pitchers

1790 1923

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Published every day in the year except Sunday, Independence Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day, at Norwich, Conn., by the Bulletin Company.

Telephone Calls.
Business Office, 35.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-2.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-3.
Willimantic Office, 21 Church St. Telephone 210.

Norwich, Monday, June 4, 1923.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING JUNE 2nd, 1923
12,313

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

Aldermen,
H. LABUE BLAVEN,
EDWARD CROOKS.

Councilmen,
MARTIN BOSCHKE,
F. RUSSELL SMITH,
ALFRED G. LILLIBRIDGE,
LEE CLEGG.

City Treasurer,
STEPHEN H. REEVES.

City Clerk,
WESTON C. PULLEN.

Tax Collector,
HAROLD T. ROBINSON.

Sheriff,
CHARLES H. RAYNER.
MAURICE LOOBY.

Member of Water Board,
REUBEN S. BARTLETT.

ELECTION TODAY.

This is the day when the voters of Norwich are entitled to go to the polls and pick out those they would have fill a portion of the city offices for the next year or two. This is not only a privilege but a duty, and every man and woman able to get there should take pride in seeing that that duty is properly discharged.

This opportunity for the voters to have a say regarding the conduct of city affairs should not be neglected. It is a time for the correction of unsatisfactory conditions, a time for letting the voice of public welfare be heard and a time for insisting upon new influences in our city government in behalf of those who pay the bills. Even though a complete change in control of the city government isn't possible at this time it is possible to register the sentiment of the people in so emphatic a manner that it will not be disregarded.

That, however, isn't going to be accomplished by staying at home. The place to let it be known is at the ballot box and the time is today, and today alone. Do it by supporting the republican ticket.

Additional time has been permitted for the voting this year, but it is important that the voting should be done as early as possible that the congestion which has prevailed at some elections during the last half hour may be prevented. Facilities are adequate, provided efforts are made to keep the machines in steady operation and not contribute to the congestion that can easily occur at the noon hour or during the closing hours.

With the getting out of the republican vote and the conscientious use of their ballot by the supporters of good government there are good reasons for anticipating a republican victory. It will not be the result if the fuzy of the day is slighted and the disposition prevails to "let George do it."

The polls will be open for the city election today in the four city districts at 5.30 a. m., and close, at 5 p. m., standard time, or 6.30 a. m. and 6 p. m. daylight saving time.

CHANGING THE FLAG.

Changing the flag is not a new move. It has been done before in various ways, but nothing as radical as most of them is intended in the alteration of the size that has been decided upon as the result of the recommendation by the fine arts commission.

It should be understood in the first place that there is no thought of altering the design. It is a change in the size that has been receiving consideration, and by the proposed shortening it is intended to bring it back more nearly to the size it was as made by the careful planning of Betsy Ross.

Less than ten years ago the size of the flag was increased. For each unit of width it was to be 1.9 units long. That established a standard that has been adhered to since 1825. For the sake of proper proportions a modification of the length is now planned. Instead of the units of length being 1.9 to each of the units of width it is believed that they should be 1.67 and thus give a better balance and appearance. To the casual observer this might not be noticeable. To many it would probably have to be pointed out, or flags would have to be compared to distinguish the change.

What seems to be of the most importance in connection with this recommended change is that it has nothing whatever to do with the design. The stars on the field of blue and stripes will continue as they are. Old Glory will lose none of its distinguishing and inspiring features. It apparently is one of those changes which, had it been put into effect without publicity (though no such action would be thought of) few would probably have known the difference.

FRAUDULENT DEALERS.

There are fakes in all lines so that when the assertion is made that much of the Gothic art of the Metropolitan art museum in New York is of modern manufacture it may call for a thorough investigation before any positive denial is made. Whether the person making the claim is actually in touch with the facts to back up his charges, or whether he is making a general statement based upon his knowledge of the manner in which a certain amount of Gothic statuary is produced remains to be seen.

A French art dealer is the one who is responsible for the claim, and it is because of what he knows about the methods of an artist who restores Gothic statuary that he makes his claims. He points out that this artist makes it his business to get pieces of statuary and build the completed figures about them, so that the completed work is not what he represents it to be. It is not even a mended piece of statuary. So much of it is reproduced that it cannot be regarded as original.

Recognized art experts should be able to authoritatively answer this French art dealer. Unquestionably it will be found that there are instances where such rebuilt statuary is bought with that understanding and with the price fixed accordingly, but if statuary built around pieces is being palmed off by those engaged in such business as the original, even though experts cannot tell the difference, it is time it was known and the fakers properly shunned. There is no good reason why misrepresentation of Gothic art should be countenanced any more than the selling of fraudulent oil stocks or salted gold mines. The fraud who claims to deal in genuine stuff is entitled to no leniency.

BETTER HOMES.

All kinds of special weeks have been arranged and yet in its possibilities and needs there is probably none that has greater possibilities than Better Homes week, arranged for June 4 to 10.

Better Homes week observance can be restricted to a narrow, commercial view or it can be observed in its broadest sense, and it is in the latter that the greatest benefit is bound to be obtained. Demonstration houses furnished in the best taste, equipped with the latest labor saving devices and arranged according to modern ideas will unquestionably make their appeal to a very large number and yet the need of better places to live, the need of better conditions in the home, the need of greater responsibility on the part of parents in order to provide better homes and through the influence thereof exercise the proper guidance upon the coming generations.

Home is said to be what you make it, but there are too many instances where the disposition isn't to make, where it is only a sleeping place, where the influences are just the opposite to what they should be and where the conduct of the children is frequently attributable thereto.

There is no danger that any movement in behalf of better homes, if it is aimed at the problem in the broadest sense, will lack for opportunity. Whatever can be done in behalf of better homes is certainly most commendable. There can be no such thing as too much of the better homes influence spread abroad. It means much to any nation.

THROWING MONEY AWAY.

When it is possible to present a report to the effect that there was a loss of $400,000,000 experienced by residents of Iowa during last year through putting their money into what proved to be worthless oil stock it sheds new light upon the enormous amount of money that is thrown away by those who are invariably obliged to work hard to get it.

Strange as it may be there are those who seem to put implicit faith into any proposition that promises to return them large profits. They like to speculate, quite the same as they like to take chances in raffles or other forms of lottery. They do not let the possibility that the proposition that interests them may be crooked serve to stop their ears. They seem to think that their chances of getting something fabulous are as good as those of losing all they put into the scheme. Even the experiences of others who have experienced heavy losses are not sufficient to deter them. They are unwilling to let good judgment sway them, or to permit themselves to reason it out along the line of common sense.

There is a fascination about a scheme that promises big returns that cannot be brushed aside. It lingers in the system and the thought of missing something big by not buying eclipses all others.

Protect such individuals by legislation, advice and the experiences of others, but they yield more easily to the force of bad example than they do to self protection. They are bound to take chances even though they kick themselves later on. But the worst of it is that many who find it necessary to resort to self chastisement are too frequently found going all through it again.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

June is a merry month with the coming of roses and brides.

Election day presents a duty for every voter. Don't neglect yours.

Get to the polls early and for good government pull the republican lever.

The man on the corner says: The worst of spring fever is to have it continued way along into the summer.

With Hearst giving support to the Ford presidency boom, Henry will probably find he's got water in his gasoline.

An actress has been elected to the British house of commons. What is her specialty, tragedy, comedy or vaudeville?

It is possible to get the biggest ship in dry dock, but it is a long way before it will be possible to tie up the biggest prohibition nation that way.

Chairman Lasker declares five billion dollar offer for our merchant ships to be a "summer dream," but it can hardly be attributed to the heat.

If the Mullan-Gage enforcement law in New York was a farce, why should Governor Smith in signing its repeal consider it necessary to warn the vets? Was it another empty flourish?

Through a powerful telescope it is claimed that canals on Mars can be seen. And Mars is probably able to note the havoc that is being wrought by the removal of the trees along Laurel Hill avenue.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Clean your vegetables, fowls or fish on a paper and burn the paper.

Baked apples stuffed with chopped nuts and raisins make a very acceptable dessert.

Rosary powder and sweet oil will keep your steel kitchenware in excellent condition.

Shut a boiler of steaming water in a room from which the paper is to be removed.

A small piece of gum camphor put inside the piano will keep moths from the felt.

Rub streaks on polished tables with a little camphorated oil. Rub hard and they will disappear.

Don't melt the butter you intend using for cake. Melted butter does not make good cake.

If coffee or tea is spilled on your table linen, pour boiling water over the stains repeatedly and place on the grass in the sun.

You can remove moths from the carpets by wringing a coarse towel out of water, spreading smoothly on the carpet and then ironing over it with a hot iron. Steam kills moths.

Ivory-handled knives can have their discolored ivory made as new if cleaned with lemon juice and salt.

Turps whitens clothes. Add it to the hot washing water in about the same proportion of a dessert spoonful to a couple of gallons of water.

If a solution of strong soda and water is thrown over coal just before it is put on the fire a considerable economy in fuel will be affected.

Paper bags, smoothed out, cut into rounds and brushed over with white of egg, make excellent covers for the pots in which home-made jam is placed, doing away with the awkward operation of trying down.

A little pipeclay dissolved in the water used for washing clothes improves the color of the linen; saves time and labor, and though it is particularly useful for kitchen cloths and other coarse and much soiled articles, it will do no damage to the finest fabrics.

GETTING RID OF INSECTS

Shearing insects are readily recognized by gardeners as the results of their work are at once visible. Pieces of the leaf or stems are eaten out, leaving holes, says Nature Magazine. The insects include grasshoppers, slugs caterpillars, potato beetles and cabbage worms. These are best destroyed with arsenate of lead. Mix one part of the lead with 15 of the flour and sprinkle the mixture on the leaves of the plants. When the insects eat on the leaves they will be poisoned by the arsenate of lead. There is no danger of poisoning those who eat the crop if it is washed before using.

Sucking insects have a beak which they push through the outer layers of the leaf tissue and through which they suck out the sap. The action is similar to that of the mosquito. They include plant lice, scales, and the young of some of the other insects. If you have no sprayer, sprinkle the tops and bottoms of the leaves with tobacco dust. If you have a sprayer, get some nicotine sulphate at a drug store and use it as recommended on the container.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

To prevent chilblains, rub the hands and feet with damp salt.

A warm bath is one of the most soothing and refreshing tonics for the nerves and after physical exertion. After a worrying day, or one of some exertion, a warm bath should always be taken before bedtime.

If you have been neglecting the nails you had better start with a thorough manicure, for this two minute a day treatment is to keep the nails in good condition. The best time for the two minute manicure is immediately after your bath or after you have washed your hands with hot water and soap. The nails are easily cleansed then and the cuticle is soft.

To make rose complexion soap take white castile soap, one and one half pounds; white curd soap, one pound; rain water, one sixth of a pint. Melt these very slowly together then add one eighth ounce of powdered vermillion. As the mixture cools, stir in one dram oil of rose geranium, one dram oil of bergamot, one dram attar of roses. Let it cool and set in a thick slab and cut into pieces.

EXERCISE FOR LOSING OR GAINING WEIGHT

The adult who has brought his body to a proper development during the formative stage and who has strong and normal organs can not expect to retain health, even upon this excellent foundation, without continuing to exercise. The young man or young woman who is athletic up to the time that bodily growth ceases and then stops exercising altogether is often disposed to accumulate fat rapidly. This is explained by the fact that fat is poorer and less complex tissue than muscle and is more easily stored. There are some persons who are just naturally inclined to be fat, or bulky, and their excess of adipose tissue is not due entirely to lack of exercise. But in almost every case a tendency to become fat can be partially offset by physical training and careful supervision of diet.

Diametrically opposed to the extremely fat are the extremely thin types who take no exercise. Their lack of flesh is due to the fact that they consume tissue as rapidly as they manufacture it. This may be due either to an excess of nervous energy or to a lack of ability to take enough nourishment to keep the supply ahead of the demands on it. Exercise will often result in a gain in weight for such persons, because the digestive system will be sufficiently strengthened to catch up to the schedule imposed by the nervous system.—Delineator.

QUICK AND SIMPLE

One clever housewife and cook has evolved a quick and simple way to prepare chicken for frying. She says to "place flour, salt and pepper in a small tin pail which has a tightly fitting lid. Then put several pieces of chicken into it, set the lid in place and shake the pail. The chicken will be floured evenly and seasoned without the hands getting sticky or wasting flour.

LAST YEAR'S PARASOL

Last summer's parasols are going to look old-fashioned this year, as the new parasol is unique, piquant, different, with its ribbon embroidery, ribbon ruffles, ribbon flowers and ribbon fringe. However, one may have a parasol that is in perfect condition save for its lack of style. In this case, it would be foolish to discard it, when ribbons can be appliqued on it so easily. A few yards of narrow picot ribbon will work wonders. Outline a simple design and embroider or applique it with ribbons. Use a stitch that will be attractive on the under side of the parasol, such as a briar stitch.

DICTATES OF FASHION

Flowers, lace and the sheerest of fabrics combine in the daintiest of interpretations for summer frocks.

Hand painting is an item which is seen more and more on summer straws and fabrics.

Veils of brown and taupe ornamented with vividly colored birds and flowers have made their appearance in Paris.

Mannish sweaters with or without sleeves, and often having a fussy front are much worn for golf. They are worn with pleated skirts.

Girdles for summer lingerie frocks consist of cocardes of appliqued flowers arranged in groups of three and showing a tiny edging of corn lace.

The name Byzantine has been given to one of the medium tones of green. Other shades are seabab, a bluish green, confetti and clair de lune.

First showings of fall hats show quite a little of the double brim effect. Not actual double brims, but upstanding flares that are put on in addition to the regular small brim.

Felt, which was one of the most sought after materials for spring hats, is promising to continue its popularity through the summer and fall. White is being most used and after this the tans and taupes.

A sport suit of mixed blue wool is trimmed with gay bands of different colored leather.

Lovely ruffled blouses have touches of real lace or tiny edgings of color.

For dancing there are the most charming frocks for a young girl. They are fashioned of rose faille with appliques of satin and metal cloth and sashes of old blue moire ribbon.

The fashion for short sleeves increases the importance of bracelets as accessories. At the moment it is the fad to wear several flexible bracelets indifferent colored stones. Charming novelty bracelets, set with red, blue or green stones may be bought for a reasonable price.

As new as they are unusual are little waist-length coats of chiffon stenciled in gold and colors. The patterns are distinctly Egyptian.

INTRIGUING RIBBON BOWS FOR FROCK AND HAIR

Dressed for the children's party, little Miss Fashion prefers to carry her organdie hat by the ribbon streamers, so that she can display to greater advantage her intriguing hair bows of sombre ribbon.

In imitation of her elders she shows preference for organdie frocks trimmed with love knots of ombre picot ribbon and tiny clusters of ribbon roses. The wide ombre ribbon, with its exquisite shadings, is especially adapted to the sash for light summer frocks.

REMOVING INK

Fresh ink stains may be removed by soaking in milk. Old ink stains that have dried may be removed by washing in hot lard. Wash as one would with water, using again and again, finally washing out the lard in soapy water.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES

Sew together the legs of your discarded stockings and make good serviceable dusters.

A tan linen lunch set of thirteen pieces is simply finished with two rows of hemstitching and is most attractive.

Many women find they save their silk hosiery by sewing several rows of machine stitching about the top just below the reach of the supporter. This prevents runs.

Women who like to embroider will be interested in a lunch set of blue and white checked gingham fringed at the edges and stamped in the corner for embroidery in gay colors.

When a hammock gets precariously thin in the center, its use may sometimes be extended over two seasons with two burlap sugar-sacks. Stitch the sacks together several times with thread and then baste the burlap carefully to the under side of the hammock and stitch across the hammock every two inches each way. Finish the ends by hand. The valance completely conceals the burlap, so the hammock looks quite as well as it would if the burlap were not there.

DELICIOUS SWEET PICKLE

The tiny string bean makes a delicious sweet pickle, which is particularly good with lamb or veal. The bean should not be over an inch or an inch and a half in length. Put the vinegar into an enameled ware preserving kettle. Bring to a boil. Skim carefully. Add sugar in the proportion of one cup of sugar to one of vinegar. Add also whole cloves, a tablespoonful to each two cups of vinegar, and broken up stick cinnamon in the same proportion. Bring all to boil again and then add the beans. Let the whole boil for five minutes and put at ones into jars.

WINDOW SHADES

White window shades may be cleaned by the following process. Remove them from their fixtures and spread out on a flat surface, holding in place with thumbtacks. Then rub with a pad of coarse flannel in starch that has been finely powdered. Change the pad as frequently as it becomes necessary. When the curtains seem clean, sprinkle the starch well over them and roll up and lay aside for a day or two. Then shake out the starch. They should look almost like new.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

More than 5,000 women have passed successfully the Red Cross lifesaving corps' test.

The women of Canada first exercised the Federal franchise in the Dominion election in 1921.

Illinois has a woman horseshoe pitcher in Mrs. C. Lanham, who issues a defi to the world's best.

Maria Conesa, Mexico's popular actress, has had a run of nearly five years of continuous performances.

Notwithstanding the services of highly placed ladies of the household Queen Mary insists upon supervising the care of her wardrobe, which includes a wonderful array of state dresses, uniforms, regalia, and jewelry.

Fifteen years of faithful and efficient service as a stenographer has brought its reward to Miss Emma S. Rodell, in the shape of promotion to the important position of assistant secretary of the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad.

BOILING CORNED BEEF.

When you are boiling corned beef you can improve the flavor greatly if you will add a pinch of ginger, a few cloves, a small onion and a few bay leaves.

SOFA CUSHIONS.

Use figured cushions on plain sofas, and on a figured sofa use plain cushions of the predominating tone.

RECIPES.

Stand White Layer Cake: Cream one-half cup of butter; gradually add one cup of sugar, stirring constantly. Sift together two cups of pastry flour, three teaspoons of baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon of salt, add to the first mixture alternately with one-half cup of milk. Lastly fold in the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs. Beat one minute vigorously. Bake in two-layer cake pans that have been buttered and floured. Put together with chocolate butter frosting.

Chocolate Butter Frosting: Cream two tablespoons of unsalted butter (or wash the salt from table butter) and gradually add sifted confectioner's sugar, stirring constantly until the mixture is of the right consistency to spread; then add one teaspoon of cocoa and one-half tablespoon of boiling water and one-fourth teaspoon of vanilla. If the recipe is doubled there will be sufficient to spread over top and sides of a two-layer cake.

Orange Frosting: Boil two cups of sugar, and one cup of water until the syrup spins a thread or to 238 degrees Fahrenheit on the sugar thermometer. Pour slowly, in a fine stream, while beating constantly, on the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs; then add one-fourth teaspoon of tartaric acid. Continue beating until of the right consistency to spread. Spread over cakes and sprinkle tops with finely chopped crystallized orange peel.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

This is the 46th birthday of Thomas D. Schall, the first blind man to be elected to a seat in the lower house of Congress, and who has now become a candidate for nomination as United States senator from Minnesota. Serving in Congress without vision is a disadvantage, but Mr. Schall's life has been one of constant battle against circumstances. Orphaned when an infant, he ran away with a circus when 9 years old. He blacked boots and sold papers on Chicago's streets, and later was a bareback rider in a circus. While still a young man he returned to Minnesota and by sheer pluck and hard work succeeded in gaining a high school and university education. He became a lawyer and soon forged to the front of the Minneapolis bar. He was fast acquiring the means of a livelihood for himself and wife when an accident deprived him of his sight. At this juncture Mrs. Schall obtained work as a school teacher and at the same time studied law, proving such a help to her husband that he was enabled to continue on the road to success almost without interruption.

Today's Anniversaries

1738—King George III, who was chiefly responsible for the bitter feelings of the American colonies toward the British crown, born. Died Jan. 29, 1820.

1812—Act of Congress changing the name of the Territory of Louisiana to the Territory of Missouri.

1833—Field Marsh Viscount Wolseley, who rose from ensign to commander-in-chief of the British army, born in Ireland. Died in France, March 25, 1913.

1873—Gen. Justo R. Barrios became president of Guatemala.

1904—England celebrated the centenary of Richard Cobden, the great statesman.

1905—Jury disagreed on the fourth trial of Caleb Powers for the alleged murder of Governor Goebel of Kentucky.

1816—Louis D. Brandeis, the first Jew ever appointed an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, took his seat as a member of that tribunal.

1918—Charles W. Fairbanks, former Vice-President of the United States, died at Indianapolis. Born at Unionville, O., May 11, 1852.

1923—British troops began an offensive on the Ulster borderland.
—President Harding spoke at Confederate Memorial Day exercises at Arlington.

Today's Birthdays

Brig. Gen. Harry Lee, U. S. Marine Corps, the new Military Governor of San Domingo, born at Georgetown, D. C., 51 years ago today.

Victor C. Alderson, president of the Colorado School of Mines, born at Plymouth, Mass., 61 years ago today.

Representatives Thomas D. Schall, who aspires to succeed the late Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota, born at Reed City, Mich., 46 years ago today.

William R. George, founder of the George Junior Republic, born at West Dryden, N. Y., 57 years ago today.

Peter F. Tague, representative in Congress of the Tenth Massachusetts district, born in Boston, 52 years ago today.

The Boston Store Reid Ghughes Co.

MOTH K-L

Destroys the Moth and the Eggs

Protect your winter clothing when you hang it away for the summer. Protect the wool clothing which must be kept in your clothes press for occasional use.

DO IT WITH MOTH K-L

MOTH K-L IS A LIQUID, and the outfit consists of one bottle of it and a sprayer for applying it.

First—Brush fabric surfaces to remove dust.

Second—Spray with atomizer or with hand-spray, seeing that the entire surface of the garment, rug, etc. has a "misty" appearance but is not too wet.

If properly applied the fabrics will be protected for long periods, but twice a year treatments will bring the best results.

PINT BOTTLE AND SPRAYER
VALUE $1.25 — SPECIAL $1.10

HALF-PINT—Value 55c—SPECIAL 47c

THE HAMMERSLEY ROLL OF HEAVY WAXED PAPER—125 feet—12 inches wide—
SPECIAL 45c

The continuous roll of picnic or lunch paper, with a cutter in the box. Convenient and always ready. Value 50c.

LADIES CAN WEAR SHOES

one size smaller and walk in comfort by using Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic healing powder for the feet. Shaken into the shoes, Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy; gives instant relief to corns, bunions and callouses, prevents blisters, callous and sore spots and gives rest to tired, aching, swollen feet. 1,500,000 pounds of powder for the feet were used by our army and navy during the war. Sold everywhere. For free sample and a Foot-Ease Walking Doll, address ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE Le Roy, N. Y.

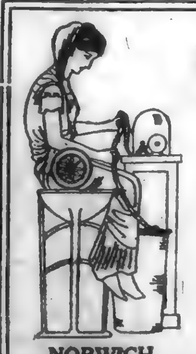
No Corns

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. Stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in clear liquid and in thin plasters. The action is the same.
As your druggist
Blue-jay

Bromo Seltzer

"The children are fond of it," writes Mrs. [illegible], "and it is so good for them." Mrs. [illegible] writes that Bromo Seltzer is a wonderful remedy for [illegible] and sour stomach. Mrs. [illegible] says: "I have used it myself when I have had a headache, and it relieved me in a few minutes." Mrs. [illegible] writes that Bromo Seltzer is a wonderful remedy for [illegible] and sour stomach. Mrs. [illegible] says: "I have used it myself when I have had a headache, and it relieved me in a few minutes." Sold at [illegible] or by mail. Send 10c. for trial bottle.

Mrs. C. A. Voorhees, M. D., Philadelphia



WM. S. PAPPAS & CO.

STOCKS AND BONDS

NO MARGIN CALLS

Circular on Request
Also
Weekly Market Letter Service

NORWICH 28 Shetucket St. | BOSTON 251 Washington St. | PROVIDENCE 86 Weybosset St.

POETRY

ADORNMENTS.

We planned the blade; in exuberant repetition
Thou gavest cilia, our crown of life to be!
We planned the Tree; they climb the height of Heaven.
That where Thou art, there may we dwell with Thee.

Lift up your head, frail gate of human nature,
By which He passed to glory and a throne!
The Sinless wraps the sinful in His Vesture,
And grants the promised kingdom to His own.

Not yet with lowly crowns nor wreaths for victors,
We watch beside those doors Love opened wide;
Still, though we faint, the Strong Hands of Intercession
Assemble for all for whom He lived and died.

And through those portals are forever sweeping
The count of those whose vigil-wards have run;
Above the storms that howl, the strokes that shiver,
Floats back the welcome of their glad "Well done!"

"Fear not!" they say; the Master bids us fear not;
The little hour of our watch is fleet;
Yet once again not only earth, but Heaven,
Shall shake beneath the white fall of His Feet.

—Ethel May Hewitt, in The Churchman.

ROADS.

Oh, you may take the smooth paved road,
The highway, if you will;
But I will take the country road
That straggles up the hill.

What fun is there in wandering
If you must always know
Where every road will take you to
And where you want to go?

Give me the road where every turn
Will bring a fresh surprise
Of cosy farms and apple trees
And shade to rest the eyes;

The dusty road, the country road
Where friendly birds fly low,
Where lazy carters ramble past,
And scented breezes blow;

Where ruts are grown with tufts of grass
And daisies spring between;
On either side long fields of grain
That billow gold and green.

So take the highway if you will
From town to smoky town,
And rest you in a stuffy inn
When velvet night comes down;

But think of me beneath the stars,
All pillowed in the hay,
With song of birds to waken me
And send me on my way.

—Abigail Cresson, in New York Herald.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Professor Matteosian—My assistant must be a sound healthy man with good rich blood.

Job Seeker—What's the idea?

Professor Matteosian—Part of his duties will be to feed my troupe of trained fleas.—Judge.

"You say she has engaged a dramatic instructor. Does she intend to go upon the stage?"

"Oh, no. She has sued her husband for divorce and is preparing for her appearance in court."—Boston Transcript.

Old Lady (to druggist)—I want a box of canine pills.

Druggist—What's the matter with the dog?

Old Lady (indignantly)—I want you to know, sir, that my husband is a gentleman.

The druggist put up some quinine pills in profound silence.—Congregationalist.

"Your prizefighters must be very wicked men," chided the Sweet Young Thing. "It is impossible for you to follow the Golden Rule in your profession."

"Aw, I dunno," retorted Slugging Tom McCarthy. "Of course, we try to do onto others more than they do onto us; but, then, we always believe that it is more blessed to give than to receive."—American Legion Weekly.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Owls can not move their eyes.

There are 40,000 muscles in an elephant's trunk.

A large steamship may have as many as 165 furnaces.

Seventy-five per cent. of all fires are said to be preventable.

Firemen fighting oil well blazes frequently resort to asbestos clothing.

There were 346 forest fires in Oregon's national forests during the season of 1922.

Sixty-three million dollars is spent monthly in the United States for amusements.

C. C. Dill, from Washington, thirty-eight years old, is the youngest man in the senate.

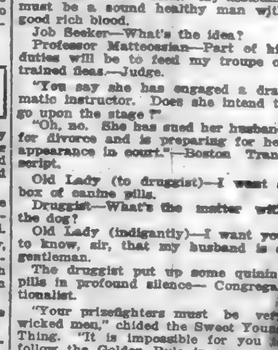
Cancer took the lives of 1,300,000 people in the United States between 1920 and 1922.

Failure of the French prune crop in 1922 made an excellent demand for American prunes.

Marie Louise, wife of Napoleon, never saw the emperor again after his exile to Elba.

Margaret Goldman, four feet four inches tall, is one of the best deep-sea divers in America.

Mrs. Emma Fall Schofield, lawyer and social worker, has been appointed by the Governor of Massachusetts a member of the state industrial accident board.



FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST
TRY OUR
HOME-MADE SAUSAGE
THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

THE Porteous & Mitchell
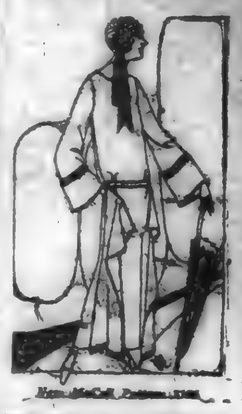
COMPANY

FASHIONGRAMS
FROM PARIS



Here's another new drape! Perhaps you thought there couldn't be another, but the odds are against your ever having seen this. That's because even the clever designers in Paris only thought of it recently. Notice how it's done. The back of the skirt is brought around and left to hang in folds over an underskirt of the same material as the dress.

Made from McCall Printed Pattern, 9288, 45c.

McCall Printed Patterns, 15c to 45c.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

WEEK'S AUTO ACCIDENTS AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Last week's automobile accidents in the seven larger Connecticut cities resulted in a loss of nearly $134,084 according to the figures just issued by the department of motor vehicles.

A total of 157 accidents of a major nature have already been reported to the accident division of the department for the week ending May 26. A startling comparison is one that shows Hartford with four times as many accidents as the city had during the same week last year. The total for the seven cities is nearly twice as large as last year's figure. New London and Bridgeport are leaded for showing a decrease in accidents in spite of a continually growing increase in population and automobile registration.

The 157 accidents resulted in four fatalities, three serious injuries (fractured skulls and internal injuries), seventeen medium injuries (broken bones), and thirty-four slight injuries (bruises and sprains). The breaking parts and wrecked automobiles that were ascribed to the junk heap brought the actual property damage to about $14,084. Adding to this, the figure of $25,000 for each fatality, the department gives the $116,084 figure as the total loss for the week, in the seven cities. The figure for the entire state is estimated to be about twice that of the seven cities.

Detailed report for last week:

	1923	1922
Hartford	14 and 2 fatalities	16
Bridgeport	16 and 1 fatality	19
Waterbury	12 and 1 fatality	9
New Britain	13	5
New Haven	24	23
Meriden	9	7
New London ...	8	10

Sister-In-Law of J. D., Jr., Captured By Chinese Bandits

Miss Lucy Aldrich, sister of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who was captured by Chinese bandits near Linchwan, China, and later released. Five thousand troops are on the trail of the bandits, estimated at 1,000. They wrecked a train, kidnapped many Americans and retreated to the Shantung wilderness, making a demand for $1,000,000 ransom.

DIED

HAFNER—In this city, June 4, 1923, Jacob Hafner of 28 Tanner avenue, Norwich Town.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—One four-ton truck, one thick roadster, one special six Studebaker. Bailey's Garage, Bath St. jedd

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

1704 1923

Norwich, Monday, June 4, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 9.46 o'clock tonight (S. T.).

Good progress is being made on the new road on Water street. One half of the new road is practically completed.

Of 790 Yale freshmen, 385 took the examination for the berge mathematical prizes for the solution of original problems.

Captain Howard Ortgies of the Trinity College tennis team, is the only man eligible to receive a tennis letter this year at Trinity.

The exercises attending the sixty-seventh commencement of the Berkeley Divinity School will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Nightingale and daughters Caroline and Elsie of Moosup were Memorial day guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thayer in Enfield.

A number of eastern Connecticut Shriners left for Washington Sunday and others will leave today (Monday) for the Shrine convention to be held this week.

The points won by the several Bolton schools in the athletic sports field day were North School 109, Center 66, Birch Mountain 56, and South School 33 points.

Work is progressing on the construction of the state aid highway on the Monson road at Stafford Springs, a portion of which will be completed this summer.

Nevins-Carver whist tonight at Buckingham Memorial.—adv.

... service commissioner announces an open competitive examination for computer, coast and geodetic survey, on June 6. Entrance salary is $1440-$2000.

Sterling Van Winkle and son, Master Bobbie, after spending a few days at the Van Winkle cottage at Mason's Island, have returned to their home in New York.

The commencement exercises at Mt. Holyoke College will be held on Tuesday, June 12. President Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst College will deliver the commencement address.

Last week's automobile accidents in the seven larger Connecticut cities resulted in a loss of nearly $134,084, according to the figures just issued by the department of motor vehicles.

Eighteen liquor cases, all of them recent, will occupy the time of the United States district court at a session in Hartford Tuesday. The cases include that of Angelo Anferio, Norwich.

Early Sunday afternoon vivid flashes of lightning were seen northwest of Norwich. The electrical storm passed around Norwich but the city was visited by a heavy shower about three o'clock.

Harry Hayden Clark of Waterbury '23, is the winner of two literary prizes offered at Trinity College, the Ferguson prize in history and political science, and the alumni prize in English composition.

A Tait Hope succeeds his brother, Thomas Hope, as agent of the Pawcatuck Woolen mills, Westerly. Thomas Hope has become agent of the Moosup (Conn.) mills of the American Woolen company.

Twelve people are now employed at the new Fiskal Caver and Dorian Pearl Button Manufactory at Willington. When the new building with equipment is completed the force of workers will be increased.

Vice-president Albertus O. Jones of the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts is recovering from an operation for appendicitis performed in the Hartford Hospital May 21. His progress toward recovery is rapid.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Dana of West Mystic have announced that their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Ann Dana, and Joseph Harrington of New London will be married at St. Patrick's church in Mystic June 11.

Poultrymen in several places report that they are experiencing a higher rate of mortality in baby chicks than last year, and the bulk of the mid-summer broiler crop is likely to be delayed. The broiler season has just started.

Plans are being made to open Camp Forbes, the disabled veterans camp at Niantic, again this year. The camp is supported by voluntary contributions from the people of Hartford and towns and villages in northern Connecticut.

Frank T. Putney of Guilford, new federal prohibition director for the district of Connecticut, was at his desk at Hartford Saturday for the first time in his new position, although he has been acting director for the past three weeks.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Lavina Phinette Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonis A. Mason of Washington, to William B. Mason of Waterbury. Miss Mason is a senior at Connecticut College for Women, New London.

Due to the fact that the Trinity Centennial celebration will this year be coincident with the commencement exercises, honorary degrees will be given only to Trinity men at the ninety-seventh annual commencement of the college, which will be held June 8-11.

At Coventry memorial services were held Sunday by Coventry Grange, No. 75, P. of H. The programme was in charge of Worthy Chaplain Mrs. Emil J. Koehler. The graves of the patrons were decorated immediately after the service which was held during the afternoon.

The steady flow of bills from the Legislature to the engrossing clerk, to the secretary of the state, to the governor was halted when Executive Secretary Anson T. McCook refused to receive on behalf of Governor Templeton a bill the last leaf of which he considered mutilated.

As part of its summer safety campaign, the Department of Motor Vehicles has started a campaign against the recklessness of motorcycle drivers. In order to end the deaths and injuries that these vehicles are causing, the department has promised to inflict the maximum punishment.

The Sunday evening vesper service at the Central Baptist church will be discontinued for the summer months. During June, or until work on the new organ has started, special soloists will be heard at the evening services. Mrs. Benjamin Livesey, Jr., soprano, was the soloist Sunday evening.

Ran Out of Gasoline.

A Ford touring car that had been seen standing overnight and all day Sunday on Oakridge street near Golden brought a report to police headquarters Sunday evening that the car had been abandoned and ought to be taken care of. After a little investigation the police learned that the car belonged to a resident of Oakridge street who had run out of gas when within a short distance of his home and he had left the car standing there until he got ready to go after it.

The individual who repeats a slander stamps it with his approval.

PERSONALS

Albert J. Friswell is to be one of the Norwich party to attend the Shriners' celebration in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Clark of Niantic entertained recently Mr. and Mrs. George Howard and daughter, Miss Elinor, of this city.

Mrs. Mary Boglisch of Mansfield Hanks Hill, spent Friday in South Coventry. Her son, Myron, spent Sunday in Scotland with friends from Jewettville.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Avery N. Miller.

The death of Mrs. Hannah C. Miller, who resided with her daughter, Mrs. Leonora Rose of 10 Sherman street, occurred Sunday afternoon after a very brief illness and brought sorrow to many friends in this city. Mrs. Miller, who was the widow of Avery N. Miller, was born in Griswold, but had spent the larger part of her life in this city. She was a member of the Norwich Town Methodist church and will be held in affectionate remembrance for her beautiful Christian character. Since the death of her husband about twenty-five years ago, her home has been with her daughter.

FUNERALS

William Alfred Buckingham

With a large attendance of relatives and friends the funeral of William Alfred Buckingham was held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from Christ Episcopal church. Rev. Richard R. Graham, rector of the church conducted the funeral service.

The honorary bearers were Gen. William A. Aiken, Arthur H. Brewer, Judge Gardiner Greene, Henry L. Bennett, Oliver L. Johnson, and Frederick J. Huntington. The active bearers were William Alfred Buckingham, Jr., Walter Matson Buckingham of this city and Lloyd D. Buckingham of Jewett City, sons, Frank D. Crooker, A. L. Reynolds and Dr. William W. Leonard.

Burial took place in the Buckingham plot at Yantic cemetery, the committal service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Graham. Relatives and friends were present from New York, Jewett City and other places and there were a number of beautiful floral forms.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson

The funeral of Nancy Wilson, wife of the late Thomas Wilson was held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock from Grace Memorial Baptist church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and there were many floral tributes.

The service was conducted by Rev. D. A. Brown, pastor of the church. The bearers were Harrison Payne, Thomas E. Wormsley, James A. Hackley and Richard Hackley and burial was in the family plot at Yantic cemetery. A committal service was conducted at the grave by Rev. Mr. Brown.

The Henry Allen and Son company had charge of the funeral.

The polls will be open for the city election today in the four city districts at 5.30 a. m., and close at 5 p. m., standard time, or 6.30 a. m. and 6 p. m. daylight saving time.

WEDDINGS

Henderson—Kendall

The marriage of Miss Irene T. Kendall of 10 Page street to William R. Henderson of Detroit, Michigan, took place in Christ Episcopal church on Saturday evening, Rev. R. R. Graham, rector of the church, officiating. The bride's gown was of canton crepe, with lace drapery. She wore a picture hat to match and her flowers were lilies of the valley and sweet peas. Mrs. Edward Kendall, was matron of honor, wearing a most becoming costume of the same material and her bouquet being of roses and carnations. Edward Kendall, the bride's brother, accompanied Mr. Henderson as best man.

Relatives and a few close friends attended the ceremony, including the Girl Scouts of Christ church. Dinner was served at the home of the bride's father, Peter Kendall, 10 Page street, after which the happy couple left on a tour which includes New York, Albany, Niagar Falls, across Lake Erie to Detroit, followed by the good wishes of hosts of friends.

There were many gifts for the bride, very noticeable were ones from Canada, Philadelphia, the St. Agnes Guild, and the Girls Scouts of Christ church.

Payne—Tillinghast.

A pretty May wedding took place last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Tillinghast of Plainfield when their daughter, Dorothy Elizabeth Tillinghast, became the bride of Wallace Arthur Payne. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Payne of Jewett City, father of the groom, the single ring service being used. Miss Helen Tillinghast of Central Village was the bridesmaid and the best man was Edward F. Blake of Jewett City. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was gowned in lavender and carried pink roses. The bride's gift to her maid was a bead necklace, the groom's gift to his best man being a set of Masonic cuff links.

There were many beautiful and suitable gifts of cut glass, china, silver, pictures and money. The wedding party left immediately after the service on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a traveling dress of gray with hat to match. Mr and Mrs. Payne will visit points of interest in the Berkshires, returning to reside in Jewett City where Mr. Payne is a successful printer and publisher. Delegations from the M. M. Girls and the C. J. S. gathered in automobiles to serenade the wedding party, the Plainfield band accompanying them as far as Jewett City and others of the party to Norwich Town.

MADE TRUST OFFICER AT THAMES NATIONAL BANK

The directors of the Thames National bank elected George R. Fellows trust officer at the weekly meeting held at noon Saturday. Mr. Fellows succeeds Leonard P. Church who resigned the first of the year.

Mr. Fellows had been with the bank since May, 1912, working in the various departments and for the past two years had been employed in the trust officer's work under Mr. Church, gaining experience that qualifies him to have charge of this department. Along with the trust officers' work Mr. Fellows is also note and discount teller at the bank. News of his promotion will be pleasing to his many friends.

Upset on Colchester-Hartford Road

Norwich auto parties who went to Hartford Sunday reported that a heavy touring car turned over while making a grade on the Hartford-Colchester highway a short distance this side of Hartford about three o'clock Sunday afternoon. Several people were hurt and were taken to a Hartford hospital. State police were on duty, directing traffic around the wrecked car.

Gunpowder, Engines.

Before 1860, when gasoline was discovered to have power possibilities, gas engines were operated by gunpowder and turpentine.

RAISE $1,800.50 IN MASS MEETING FOR PALESTINE FOUNDATION FUND

A total of $1,800.50 was raised in cash and pledges, for the Keren Hayesod, or Palestine Foundation fund, at a mass meeting of the Hebrew residents of Norwich Sunday evening at the Community House. The attendance numbered 350 men and women.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Keren Hayesod committee of Norwich of which Rabbi Joseph N. Rosenberg is the chairman. Rabbi Rosenberg opened the meeting shortly after 8 o'clock. The first number on the evening's programme was The Star Spangled Banner, played by T. Christopher, violin, Miss Cipa Rosenberg accompanying on the piano. This was followed by the Hebrew national song, Hatikvah, after which there was a violin solo by Mr. Christopher, Kol Nivra. Miss Cipa Rosenberg then gave a vocal selection, Rachem, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Christopher.

Rabbi Rosenberg then introduced Rabbi Max Stamm, who spoke briefly on Zionism. Following Rabbi Stamm's talk the chairman introduced Dr. Jacob Sonderling of Hamburg, Germany, who spoke in German at some length on Zionism.

Dr. Sonderling was field rabbi for the German army during the World war and was head of the Hebrew chaplains. During the course of his address he said there was no difference between the Hebrew people of the east as compared with those of the west. Their customs, ways of living and religion are the same.

Dr. Sonderling told of some of his experiences in Poland, Russia and Baltic countries. He said that wherever he went he had no difficulty in distinguishing the Hebrews from the Gentiles. He appealed to the audience to help unite their people as a whole by establishing the national Hebrew center at Palestine.

This, he said, will render a great relief to both the Hebrew world and the non-Hebrew world, as it will stimulate in the Hebrew a self respect for his race. The longing of the Hebrews the whole world over is for a union of their people in their own country and under their own flag in Palestine. Finally he appealed to his audience for the support of the Hebrew institutions, schools, colleges, etc., in Palestine.

The last speaker of the evening was Louis Lipsky of New York, president of the Zionist organization of America and editor of the New Palestine, the Zionist Weekly. Mr. Lipsky spoke on length on the history of the Zionist movement and told of what the Zionists have accomplished for the 14 million people of the Hebrew race. The speaker described the work that is being done in Palestine in the line of farming, etc. He said that wherever the accomplishments of the Zionists in Palestine are spoken of the Hebrew people applaud. They are proud of the results attained in Palestine, proud of the flag, and proud of their national song.

He said that the Zionist organization, which has accomplished so much in Palestine, is now asking the Hebrew people to back them up by helping to meet the enormous expense of carrying on the work. Mr. Lipsky said that last year Norwich had done its part and that it will do its part again this year.

Chairman Rosenberg, at the close of Mr. Lipsky's address, asked for pledges and contributions. When the pledges and cash contributions had been counted up, just before midnight, the total showed that $1,800.50 had been raised as a result of the meeting.

So far this year the Hebrew people of Norwich have raised in pledges and cash, $3,400. Of this amount $5,-500 is in cash. To date this year $10,000 has been paid over to the national organization and it is expected that the difference, $1,600, will be raised within the next few days.

The secretary, M. L. Silverman, was assisted in taking care of the pledges and cash contributions by Miss Sarah Stamm and Miss Lena Krueger.

Among the larger contributions were the following:

F. Strom & Sons; Aaron Gordon, $500 this year, last year $200; Kadimah club, $50; Ben Yehuda club, $20; I. Weinstein, N. Belt, L. Chasen, L. Kadish, Max Mindell, Dr. B. J. Sohn, A. Alexander, Max Sadinsky, S. Schatz, Bozrahville Community, B. Goldfarb, Mrs. D. Shereshevsky, Samuel Goldstein, Bozrahville Council of Jewish Women, $50; Miss Augustus Shereshevsky, Mr. and Mrs. L. Saahner, Rev. Max Stamm, Mrs. B. R. Seigel.

The local Zionist committee comprises Rabbi Joseph N. Rosenberg chairman, Rabbi Barnet Davidson, treasurer; M. L. Silverman, secretary; executive committee, Samuel Taylor, M. Levine, Rabbi Max Stamm, A. Strom, Max Hanover, P. Strom, S. Kadish, B. Kadish, A. J. Kadish, D. N. Gordon, Charles M. Gordon, Aaron Gordon, Morris Sussman, Simon Bloom, A. . Silverberg, Abner Schwartz, Alex Pasnik, George Greenberger, Harry M. Land, Sydney Symon, Dr. Joseph S. Tennen, A. Goldblatt, L. Nelkin, N. Norwick, Jacob Beckoff, S. Wilner, A. Abelman, Jacob Grabitsky, I. H. Mandel, S. Ronober, J. B. Steinberg, A. Alexander, I. Beckenstein, Joseph M. Lahn, Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Mrs. M. Levine, Mrs. J. N. Bessenberg, Mrs. J. M. Lahn, Mrs. H. M Land, Miss Minnie Greenberger, A Cramer, L. Sachner, E. R. Siff, Joseph Richman, Simon Rosano.

During the early afternoon there was an automobile parade in which a score of machines took part. The line was through the center of the city as far as Preston bridge and back to the West Side. The arrangements for the auto parade were in charge of Mrs. M. L. Taylor.

COLORED RESIDENTS DISCLAIM SPEECH OF REV. JACKSON

After a meeting of colored residents of the city Sunday to discuss the reported address of Rev. E. Elias Jackson at the memorial service on Falls avenue on Memorial day, two spokesmen for the meeting stated that it had been the vote of the meeting that they did not endorse, but in fact wished to disclaim emphatically any support of what he had said.

In his address the pastor had claimed mental, moral and intellectual superiority for the black race over the white race.

The two spokesmen, who said they represented William Spivery, Thomas Spivery, Sr., Gerald Harris, Charles E. Hill, Mrs. Louise P. Hall, Miss Ella King, W. E. Geary, William Fields and others, who attended the meeting declared that they considered that Rev. Mr. Jackson had been giving only his own personal opinion in whatever he had said in his Memorial day speech and that it did not represent the opinion of the 500 colored people in Norwich who were living in peace and harmony with their white neighbors and expected and desired to continue that way.

PREPARING FOR SEASON AT STATE Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Enrollments for the state Y. M. C. A. camp at Cedar lake, in the town of Chester, are being made, and the season promises to be fully as successful as any since its establishment three years ago. The camp was made possible because of the generosity of Senator Edward W. Buzen of Haddam, who presented the site and the greater part of its buildings and equipment.

The camp is accessible to all sections of Connecticut. It is located in Chester, four miles west of the Connecticut river, on the east shore of beautiful Cedar lake. The camp site includes 30 acres of farm and woodland, a wooded hill several hundred feet above the level of the lake, and plenty of spaces for campus, playgrounds and garden. The camp has a lake frontage of one-quarter of a mile, and the water is clear, cool and clean.

The camp director, F. A. Stanley, the boys' work secretary of the state Y. M. C. A., has had 20 years' experience as a boys' camper, tent leader and camp director, including five years at Camp Becket and nine years at Camp Jewell, the boys' camp of the Hartford Y. M. C. A.

The associate camp director is Clifford C. Hatfield, state county work secretary. Mr. Hatfield's experience with young men and boys covers a period of 23 years. He has served in international, state and overseas work.

The assistant camp director is J. C. Neff, instructor in history, New Haven High school. Mr. Neff's training for camp work with boys was gained at Camp Wyanda, the state Y. M. C. A. of New Jersey.

The department directors are: Educational work, C. F. Savage, county secretary, Middlesex county; social work, A. P. LaRosa, boys' work secretary, Greenwich honor system, William B. Abbett, city boys' secretary, Bridgeport; physical work, Joseph Hergstrom, physical director, New Britain; religious work, H. E. Hamilton, city boys' secretary, New Haven. The tent leaders are boys' and county work secretaries, physical directors and other employed officers of the Y. M. C. A.

Boys' Secretary F. H. Davis of the Norwich association will have charge of the physical department during the first period.

Equipment.

Twenty-five new 14x16 tent houses, with board roof and floors and canvas sides, supply sleeping quarters, well ventilated and dry even in the stormiest weather. The campers sleep on canvas cots, seven boys and one leader in each tent house.

The dining and recreation hall, 40x80 is ideal, not only as a place in which to feed a large group of hungry boys but also as a center for social events, educational talks and religious services, when it is practical to hold such events out of doors. The building with its 84 windows in reality provides an open air dining space which can be quickly closed against driving rains.

The farmhouse provides accommodations for the directors and quarters for the caretaker.

The lodge, a building 32x60, allows space for the camp store, bank, library and camp headquarters.

The camp electric light plant supplies light for all buildings except the tent houses.

The camp program, called the honor system, is an adaptation of the Christian citizenship training program. It provides for a graded series of physical, educational, religious and service activities, with honor emblems for progress attained.

Frequent athletic meets are conducted, the campers being graded to assure even competition. The object is to engage and improve all campers in athletics rather than to more highly develop the few.

The aquatic competitive events are the most interesting activities of the camp. Swimming and diving contests, boat and canoe races, have an important place in the program. A daily instruction class is held for the non-swimmers. Life saving is also taught.

Baseball is given a large place in the camp program. Camp leagues are conducted for both younger and older boys. Occasional games are played with representative teams from other towns and camps.

Education and Duties.

Travel, first aid, nature study and character talks are features of the program. Many of these are given by the camp leaders and frequently specialists are secured from the outside.

Camp furnishes an ideal opportunity for helpful interviews with purposeful men of many vocations. Boys not only gain much valuable information of a vocational nature but have the determination strengthened to succeed. Friendships formed between the leaders and boys as well as between the boys themselves prove one of the strongest assets of camp life.

No camping period is complete without one or more campfires. Happy boys gather around. The fire is lighted and the flames reach high into the air as the campers join in songs and yells. The popular story tellers are called upon. fire dies down and the boys are thoughtful as they look into the dying embers. A short talk follows with a straight from the shoulder appeal to every boy to pattern his life after the "Man of Galilee." Then the boys separate for tent devotions and restful sleep.

All campers are expected, on arrival, to deposit their spending money at the camp bank, where a careful record is kept of deposits and withdrawals. This prevents loss and unwise use of spending money.

Each camper takes his turn in doing camp chores, such as sweeping, policing grounds, carrying wood and coal, etc., under the guidance of his tent leader. Each boy takes care of his own bed. Campers, through the honor system, are encouraged to do these duties cheerfully and thoroughly. Many boys volunteer for work on camp improvements, such as grading, carpentry, etc. Eleven of the tent houses were elected by the campers.

Dates of Camp.

The camp opens Wednesday, June 27, and closes Wednesday, Aug. 29. The season will be divided into four periods:

First (two-week period), June 27 to July 11.

Second (two-week period), July 11 to July 25th.

Third (two-week period), July 25 to Aug. 8.

Fourth (three-week period), Aug. 8 to Aug. 29.

Boys should apply for one or more full periods and arrive before dinner (noon) on the first day of the period and leave before dinner on the last day of the period. Only by special arrangement with the camp directors will boys be received on other than regular period dates.

For further particulars, apply to the camp directors, State Y. M. C. A., New Haven, or any town, city or county Y. M. C. A. secretary.

The camp booklet states the eligibility requirements as follows:

Boys between 12 and 18 years of age, whose applications have been approved by a Y. M. C. A. secretary or church pastor, will be received. Eleven year old boys who have previously proven themselves "good campers" should apply to the camp director for admission. No boy under 11 years of age will be taken. No cigarette smokers, either boys or leaders, need apply. Each boy must have a physical examination by registered physician, who must also vouch that the boy is fully protected by vaccination for smallpox. Apply for special blank. ADD DIED . ser)

CONFERENCE OF SIX CHURCHES AT GRISWOLD

The June meeting of the Conference of Six Churches, which will be held at Griswold Wednesday, will have the following programme; all time standard time:

Order of service: 11 a. m. organ voluntary, Doxology, Invocation, with the Lord's Prayer, 96th responsive reading, hymn 530, Philippians IV, prayer, singing, sermon by Rev. Edwin G. Crowdis, announcements, hymn 448, benediction, dinner and social hour.

Afternoon session, 2 p. m., praise service, report of May meeting, resolution, roll call, conference offering, other business, male quartet, patriot address by Rev. Charles H. Ricketts, hymn 551, benediction.

FOREST FIRES SMOKE BRINGS "YELLOW DAY"

Smoke, drifting all the way from Ontario, caused the peculiar yellow tinge to the sky early Saturday morning, that reminded many of the famous "Yellow Day" of September 6, 1881, according to officials at the United States weather bureau. The phenomenon, which created so much comment in 1881 was of much shorter duration Saturday.

The effect passed off by the early part of the morning, whereas in 1881 it lasted throughout the day, gaining intensity during the afternoon. That was the day on which the Groton centennial was held with the dedication of the Groton monument and a sham battle.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAD 21 CALLS DURING MAY

During the month of May the Norwich fire department received a total of 21 calls, three of which were bell alarms. One of the bell alarms proved to be a false alarm, and two of the telephone calls were for small fires outside the city which were taken care of by the Yantic department.

There were no fires over this week end.

Had Rear Fender Damaged.

An automobile belonging to H. A. Wolf of 195 Laurel Hill avenue had a rear fender damaged Sunday morning at the corner of Spruce and Talman streets when it was hit by a car driven by Edwin Holmberg of R. F. D. 6.

Special
VICTOR
Hits
Just out

Raleigh Rose—Fox Trot
The Grand White Way Orchestra
Broken Hearted Rose—Fox Trot
The Grand White Way Orchestra
Victor Record No. 19056

Bonny Gaugh — Campfire Price
I Love Me — Billy Murray
Victor Record No. 19066

Don't We Have Fun Sometimes—Fox Trot
(Vocal refrain, Billy Murray)
The Grand White Way Orchestra
Rocking Bird Dance—Fox Trot (From "Rosalie")
Jan Cradley and His Orchestra
Victor Record No. 19068

You've Got to See Mamma Every Night—
Fox Trot — Tennessee Tea
Rockin' Rose—Fox Trot
Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra
Victor Record No. 19073

AT THE TALKING MACHINE SHOP
24 FRANKLIN SQUARE

SPRINGFIELD MAN HEADS MOLDERS' CONFERENCE BOARD

R. J. Sheehan of local 167, Springfield, Mass., was elected president of the Connecticut Valley Conference Board of Molders at the closing session of its annual meeting here Saturday afternoon in A. O. H. hall.

Other officers elected were the following:

First vice president, James Hearing, local 161, Stamford; second vice president, John Brew, local 95, Westfield, Mass.; third vice president, J. T. Winters, local 126, Norwich; business agent, John Dunn, New Haven; secretary-treasurer, Michael Conner, Holyoke, Mass.

The next convention is to be held at Holyoke.

ARRIVED TOO LATE WITH HABEAS CORPUS

A Hartford attorney with a habeas corpus writ was just too late Saturday at New York to prevent the deportation of Amelia Cacka, a Czecho-Slovakian, who had been a patient at the Norwich state hospital. He arrived at the pier just as the liner New Amsterdam with the woman aboard was pulling out into the stream.

The woman had been committed to the Norwich institution on Oct. 23rd last and had remained there until May 31 when she was taken to New York for deportation as an alien. Her case is one that will respond to curative treatment, according to officials of the state hospital.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Agnew spent the week end in New Haven.

Mrs. Allyn L. Brown of Broadway was a visitor in New Haven last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Russell Smith of Carroll avenue, spent several days last week in the Berkshires.

The Norwich College club members held their annual meeting Saturday noon with a luncheon at the Norwich Golf club.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Parker and daughters, Deborah and Letitia of McKinley avenue, are spending some time in Poughkeepsie.

After spending several days in Winchester and Wellesley Hills, Mass., Miss Elizabeth F. Pullen has returned to her home on Lincoln avenue.

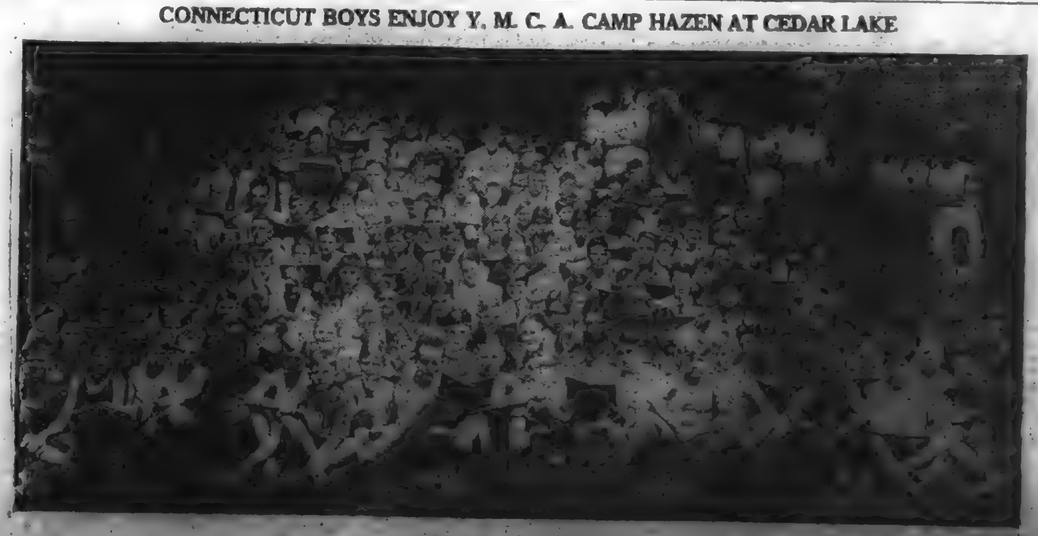
Antiquities of the Thames.

The ancient level of the Thames in England was once 120 feet above the present level. Recent discoveries in the gravel terraces have shown that men differing little from the modern type lived on the island 4,000 years ago.

Spring Wooing Brings Joy.

Students of psychology of sex say that the really happy marriages, in which love is a lasting factor, are those which have followed a springtime love-making.

CONNECTICUT BOYS ENJOY Y. M. C. A. CAMP HAZEN AT CEDAR LAKE



DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Guests sleeping in rooms in the Attawaugan hotel were aroused in startled state at 4.15 Saturday morning when a mattress was found to be blazing in a room on the fourth floor of the building. There was no panic, but the situation was instantly regarded as being a serious one, as it imperiled such a large frame structure in the heart of the business section, and a double alarm was at once pulled in by Officer Christopher Andrews of the night force from Box 13. In the meantime John Gordon, an employe at the hotel, had thrown the blazing mattress out the window into the court in the rear of the hotel thereby completely eliminating danger to the big building and adjoining structures. The firemen made a surprisingly fast response to the alarm —recognized at once as coming from the borough's greatest danger zone —but there was nothing for them to do upon their arrival and they were back at their stations with their apparatus by 4.30.

A guest who may have smoked in bed is believed to have been responsible for the fire. He came out of the hotel about 3 a. m., saying that his bed had been afire and Officers Andrews and DeForest went into the hotel and up through the corridor to investigate. Not smelling any smoke or finding other signs of fire they retired from the building, but about an hour afterwards the mattress began to blaze and resulted in the alarm being pulled in. The hotel was not damaged in the least and guests were back in their roms again within half an hour after the first cry of fire.

The body of Albertus Card, 70, father of Frederick Card and Walter Card, both well known here, is to be brought to Danielson for funeral services and burial from Pawtuxet, R. I., where Mr. Card died Friday evening just before 10 o'clock.

Mr. Card was a native of Danielson, born in what is known as the Christian Hill section, near Broad and Franklin streets, a son of Henry S. and Abby Matthews Card. His father was engaged here for years in the shoe manufacturing business and at one time was the local chief of police.

Mr. Card spent his early years in Danielson and was a pupil in what is still remembered as the Warren district school, a little more than a mile down the Green Hollow road. He remained in Danielson until he was about 20 years of age and then went to Providence, where he had since lived and for 30 years had a place of business in the Arcade, one of the best known locations in the business section of Rhode Island capital. Early in life Mr. Card learned the photographer's business and had followed it up to the time his health began to fail, enlarging his activities along art lines in the development of landscapes and other work allied with photography.

In 1879 he was united in marriage with Miss Ella Hall, of Providence, who survives him. He also leaves his two sons, resident in this town.

Societies of the church and large numbers of other parishioners joined Sunday after the high mass at St. James' church in an impressive demonstration in honor of the institution of the Blessed Sacrament in a Corpus Christi procession along the walks of the church property and through the church grounds. Hundreds knelt as solemn benediction was offered at a repository erected on the grounds near the church and beautifully decorated with flowers and at the end benediction within the church after the procession. A sprinkle of rain fell as benediction was being offered out of doors, but this did not interfere at all with the arrangements for the observance of the day, a feature each year of the religious functions in the parish.

Following a prayer service at his home in East Killingly at 1.30 Sunday afternoon there was a funeral service at the United Baptist church in that place for Frank B. Morse, Rev. J. W. Carpenter, the pastor, officiating. Burial was in Bartlett cemetery at East Killingly, members of Moriah lodge, No. 14, A. F. and A. M., officiating. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements. Mr. Morse, for 40 years an acter who toured the United States, died suddenly at his home in East Killingly during the past week.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock the funeral of Joseph Barriere was held from his home in Moosup, with services at All Hallows church in that place, Rev. Fathers Norman Normand, Morrissey and McCarthy being officers of the solemn high mass of requiem. Many attended the service. Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery at Wauregan, where Mr. Barriere visited the grave of his wife Memorial Day and became dangerously ill soon after returning to his home, dying within a few hours. The bearers were Peter Lavallee, Alexander Lavallee, Felix Lavallee, Joseph Lavallee, Frederick Gagne and Joseph Tetreault. Louis E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

At the home of his brother, Adelbert Mitchell, in Foster, funeral services for Wesley Mitchell were conducted by Rev. J. W. Carpenter of East Killingly. The bearers were Henry Mason, Clinton Shippee, Willoughby Young, Howard Perkins, Silas Spink and Frank Groener. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Saturday morning from her home in Wauregan the funeral of Mrs. Esther Boucher was held with a high mass of requiem at Sacred Heart church, Rev. J. C. Mathieu being celebrant of the mass. Burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery. The bearers were Louis Boucher, Lionel Boucher, Arthur Boucher and Sylvio Cloutier. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

Three cars—a Ford, an Overland and a Hudson—figured in a mixup on steep, Dark Lantern Schoolhouse hill, over near the Rhode Island border on the new route to Providence, just before one o'clock Sunday afternoon. When State Officer A. W. Williams arrived within a few minutes to check up the accident the Ford and Hudson drivers and their cars had vanished and the Overland driver was figuring how to get his machine home with a broken wheel. It appears that the Hudson skidded and rolled over once or twice and that the Ford also figured in a loop the loop stunt, but neither car was badly damaged and the drivers got away before the matter could be officially investigated. No one was hurt in the acident. The Overland driver sustained injuries to his car trying to avoid becoming entangled with the machines that were doing acrobatics when he happened along. The light rain that was falling was held accountable for the accident.

At their home in the Allan Hill section of the town of Brooklyn Sunday morning the death of Benoit Boutbillier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bothillier, occurred. The child was two years of age.

Charles Seefeld, proof reader on the staff of a Boston morning newspaper, has been a visitor with relatives in Danielson, his former home.

Postmaster E. H. Keach is receiving numerous compliments on the spic and span appearance of the post office lobby and entrance.

That dancing is more popular than ever was indicated by the very large attendance at the week end dance at the pavilion at Alexander's lake on Saturday evening.

Forest fires raged over the border of the northwest section of the town of Killingly Saturday afternoon and fire wardens were calling for help to check the spread of the flames. Up to the time that the rain began to fall just before noon Sunday, this section was as dry as a tinder box.

Pupils in St. James' school will begin work on their final examinations of the year this morning.

Rev. W. B. Green, M. S., formerly an assistant at St. James' church, has been spending a few days in Danielson.

John B. Mullen of Providence was a visitor with friends in Danielson over Sunday.

Chief John McFarland mentioned Sunday morning, that aside from a juvenile case, there was not an arrest made in Danielson during the entire month of May. Not so bad for a town that Gene is "great" commotion ever cleaning up.

PUTNAM

Otis Fox, John A. Daly, Dr. E. A. Morrell and A. Newton Vaughan will leave today (Monday) for the Rangeley lakes, Maine, where they will enjoy a week's fishing.

Hiram F. Oatley has removed from Providence street to his new bungalow on Killingly avenue. The house Mr. Oatley vacates will be occupied by Peter E. Belair.

Representatives of an insurance company held a banquet at Pomfret Manor inn Saturday evening. All of the agents from this section of the state attended.

Several new houses are nearing completion in the Mechanics street section of the city.

William Dragon has purchased a house on Bullock street from William St. Onge.

The new sun parlors on the Putnam Country club house are nearly completed. The club has bought a tractor to be used in pulling lawn mowers on the fairways and greens.

Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., held a supper in Odd Fellows' hall Saturday evening.

Among the graduates of the Rhode Island College of Pharmacy to finish their course next Thursday is Clarence H. Brousseau, son of Mrs. Cora S. Brousseau of this city. Mr. Brousseau is employed in a Main street pharmacy and has attended the college two days a week. Mr. Brousseau will be in Providence all next week for the commencement exercises.

Plans are already under way to entertain between 150 and 200 delegates in Putnam next fall when the Union of French societies of the state will hold its state convention here. The convention will formally open on labor day, but the preceding Sunday there will be an elaborate entertainment. Napoleon Jette is chairman of the committee of arrangements. A. A. Brodeur of Putnam is chairman of the state organization and Dr. G. T. Lamarche of this city is secretary. The Federation of French societies which will entertain the convention is comprised of ten local organizations.

Silas M. Wheelock returned Sunday night from a fishing trip in Maine. Mrs. Wheelock and her son, Silas, Jr., returned the same evening from a visit with relatives in Uxbridge, Mass.

The week end aces the nurses' home fund of the Day Kimball hospital totaling nearly $4,000. The goal set is $20,000, and as the campaign has been under way but a week and a fifth of the amount raised, the committees feel greatly encouraged. Various affairs are being held in all of the towns in eastern Windham county, each adding greater or less amounts to the fund. Units of $50 each are being taken, and these coming in slowly one by one all add to the grand total.

The building of a nurses' home is imperative for, although a new wing is now in use, there are times when the hospital is crowded and the rooms now necessary for the use of nurses could well be used for patients. A nurses' home would also make the hospital a more attractive place for nurses to work, giving them opportunity during time off to be away from the hospital proper and be by themselves.

Henry Dubois and wife and Joseph Dubois left Friday night for Washington, where they will remain during the Shriners' convention. Their uncle lives in the Capital City.

Mrs. William F. Rafferty and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Rafferty, have gone to Annapolis to attend the commencement exercises of the U. S. Naval academy. Mr. Rafferty will go on this week. William Rafferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rafferty, is among the graduates of the academy and after graduation will be stationed at Charlestown, Mass.

A large bronze tablet has been hung in the reading room of the public library on Church street, commemorating the gift to the town made by the late Mrs. Mary Gardner, who left her homestead property on South Main street to the town for library purposes. The sale of this property made available a fund of $8,500, the income from which will be used for library purposes. The tablet is inscribed as follows:

"This tablet is erected by the town of Putnam in grateful recognition of the gift by Mary Wadsworth Gardner of a permanent library fund of $8,500 as a memorial to John Horace Gardner and Mary Wadsworth Gardner, MCMXX."

Mrs. Gardner left her property to the town for library purposes. Arrangements were made with the only heir whereby the property could be sold, and this was done, the money to be used for library purposes. The property was purchased by the Arcanum club and has been remodeled for club purposes.

Joseph Kovalsky, Frank Priski and Stanley Zajac, all of Southbridge, were brought to the Day Kimball hospital at an early hour Saturday morning, all in an unconscious condition. They were found in the road at Wheelock's corner, Quinebaug, after an automobile in which they were returning home from a party hit a tree and was badly demolished. After examination of the three unconscious men it was found that they had received only minor injuries and Kovalsky and Priski were discharged shortly after the breakfast hour and Zajac, who was longer in regaining his senses, was discharged later in the day. The crash of the car when it struck the tree was heard in a house near the scene of the accident. Upon investigation the three men were found and Dr. E. R. Pike of East Woodstock summoned to give them aid. He immediately ordered them sent to the hospital.

Putnam's youngest philanthropist is 9 year old Harold Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes, Water street. The lad was recently operated on at the Day Kimball hospital for appendicitis. As soon as he was strong enough he went to work doing all sorts of odd jobs and errands and by the earning of pennies, pickels and dimes accumulated two dollars. Holding his capital tightly in his fist, he went to the hospital and presented the money for the benefit of that institution. As he is no longer a baby, he said, he thought he should donate more than the usual dollar that is given to the baby fund. In this way the boy showed his appreciation of what was done for him and of the kindnesses of hospital officials and nurses while he was a patient.

Thursday, Aug. 16, is the date chosen for the annual field trip of the Windham County Farmers' association with the county branch of the New England Milk Producers' association. The committee of arrangements is composed of John R. Stromberg, Andrew Amidon, Peter Chabot, George Cook, A. H. Williams and Samuel Cross.

PUTNAM FAMILY EVICTED BY MANHASSET CO.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Putnam, June 3.—As the fourth week of the strike at the mill of the Manhasset Manufacturing company draws to a close, the only unusual activity occurred Saturday morning, when the family of Albert Manoche had their household goods set into the street by Charles E. Ayer, deputy sheriff, and other officers who have been on duty at the mill since the trouble began. The eviction was on a writ of ejectment signed by Justice of the Peace Archibald Macdonald, Jr., before whom the summary process cases were tried.

It was understood at that time that those who appeared would vacate within 48 hours. Some of the defendants did this, but several remained in possession of the mill tenements. The officers went to the Manoche home about 10 o'clock and personally removed the furniture. Mr. Manoche has been in Fall River over since early in the strike and the family was composed of Mrs. Manoche, her sister and her two children. No resistance was made and while a few strikers gathered and watched proceedings, as did tenants in nearby homes, all was peaceful.

Just as the last piece of furniture was removed, and Deputy Ayer went to lock the front door, a little boy, the last to leave, came through the doorway carrying a kitten tightly clasped in his arms. The local union has provided storage quarters to which household goods may be removed.

It was the intent of the officers to continue with evictions in the afternoon, but when the two selected for eviction, Romeo Bergeli and George Gadi, saw that it was useless to resist the law further, they decided that they would save the officers the trouble of setting them out and were given time to procure trucks and to remove their own goods.

Regarding the employment of Canadian help, contrary to the contract labor law of the United States, which it is alleged by the strikers has been done by the company, the company denies such is the fact.

Both sides remain firm in their determination of holding out and both are claiming to be well satisfied with the progress of events. The mill officials claim that help is gradually coming to them, while the strikers still maintain that the productive capacity of the mill is badly crippled.

G. F. HOLBROOK REAPPOINTED WINDHAM COUNTY SHERIFF

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Putnam, June 3.—George F. Holbrook, a deputy sheriff in Windham county since 1894, when he received his first appointment at the hands of Sheriff Pomeroy, received a reappointment for the term of four years from Sheriff Charles A. Gates of Willimantic Saturday. Deputy Holbrook will be 80 years old in August, and for the past three years has been confined to his bed. During the later years of his activity in office he was often heard to say that when he passed on he hoped to still retain the office which he had held for over a quarter of a century. His personality is such that he has made many friends, and Sheriff Gates is numbered among the closest.

It was due to this that his wishes in the matter of continuing in office have been respected and carried out to the present and beyond in this latest reappointment. Deputy Holbrook, through his long term in office, has been heard to say that never in his long term as an officer has he found it necessary to draw a pistol or to strike a prisoner and he has never had one escape from him. He has found that criminals had be handled humanely with perfect results. A veteran of the Civil war, Deputy Holbrook was severely wounded at the charge on Fort Wagner and his wound has been troublesome all of his life. Three years ago he was taken with a chill while taking a prisoner to a state institution. He kept on, performed his duty and returned home, where he collapsed and has been practically helpless ever since.

"Ah," said the old countryman sadly, somewhat muddled by conventional grief and the beer he was sipping. "I be just come from burryin' my poor old fayther; he were 95, he were—I only be 74 last Christmas. We don't live them old ages nowadays."—London Morning Post.

PILLS ON A PULLMAN

WHO put the "sleep" in Sleeping Car?

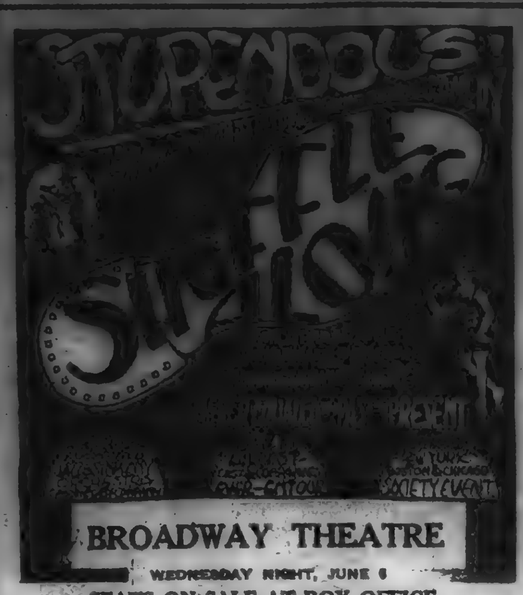
Nobody!

It was a PILL.

A pill made it possible to sleep restfully in a Pullman, and leave the train next morning with clear head, bright eyes—full of enthusiasm for breakfast and "pep" for the new day.

Here's how: Just before you peel down the sheets, take two Beecham's Pills. This is the pleasant, sure way to attune the organs of digestion and elimination to normalcy, and thus assure a night of tranquil repose.

At All Druggists—25c and 50c



WEDNESDAY NIGHT, JUNE 6

SEATS ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE

Prices—Orch. $1.73, $2.30; Bal. $1.15, $1.73; Gal. 58c

BROADWAY

TODAY AND TUESDAY

WHAT EVERY WIFE KNOWS

TO BE OR NOT TO BE A TRUTHFUL HUSBAND, THAT IS THE QUESTION AND WHAT HAPPENS WHEN HUBBY DECIDES NOT TO BE, THAT IS THE PICTURE. IT'S MAGNIFICENT, SPARKLING WITH DRAMA AND HUMOR.

ADDED ATTRACTION

EINSTEIN'S THEORY OF Relativity

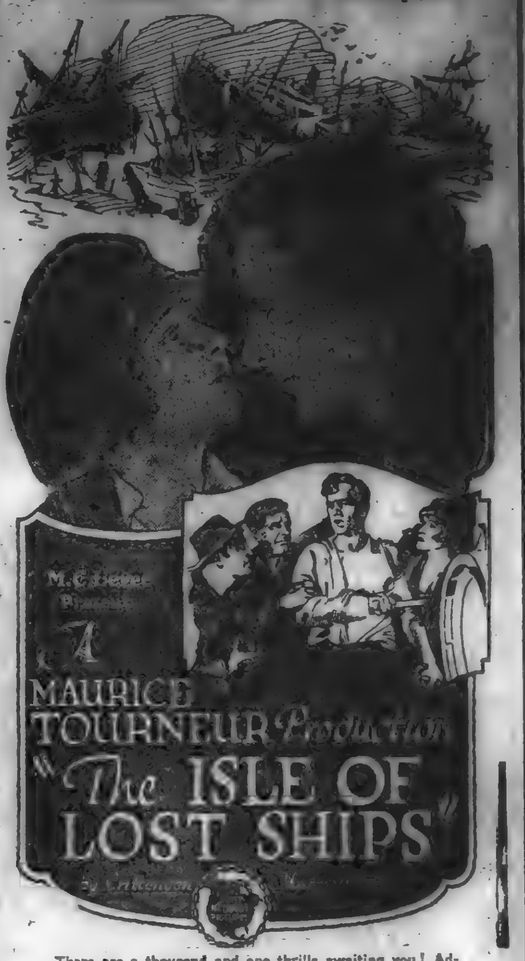
Instructive — Entertaining

Mat. 2:15, Eve. 7:00, 8:45—Mat. 25c, Eve. 25c, 35

—Just Imagine!

—a beautiful girl, shipwrecked, cast away on a weird island of derelict ships in the Sargasso Sea, where a woman has but twenty-four hours to choose a mate.

—Doesn't It Get You Excited?



There are a thousand and one thrills awaiting you! Adventure and romance that you've never seen before! A story to conjure up dreams of pirate days and treasure chests! Daring that makes the blood pound through your veins! Forget the humdrum world for an hour or so and see the strangest setting a drama ever knew.

An All-Star Cast Including

MILTON SILLS — ANNA Q. NILSSON

FRANK CAMPEAU — WALTER LONG

Also Mermaid Comedy — News Weekly

STRAND

Today, Tues., Wed.

Mat. 2:15, Eve. 7, 8:45—Prices, Mat. 25, Eve. 25c, 35c

BREED THEATRE

TODAY AND TUESDAY

"Toiling, Rejoicing, Sorrowing." The Well Beloved Village Blacksmith of Longfellow's Poem Comes To Life In This Realistic Screen Drama

Cast of Notable Screen Artists Including David Butler, Bessie Love, Tully Marshall, William Walling, Virginia Valli, George Mackathorn

Pathe News — When Nights Are Cold—Comedy

Special School Children's Matinee Tuesday at 4 p. m.—All Children 10c

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

The Crow With a Signboard.

The next morning, Mrs. Treetoad had a nice little breakfast for the two bunnies, and after Uncle Lucky had smoked his cabbage leaf cigar, they said goodbye and drove off in the Luckymobile.

By and by, they came to a place where the road branched out like the letter Y.

"Which way shall we go", asked Uncle Lucky, "to the left or to the right?"

"I'm sure I don't know," answered the little rabbit.

All of a sudden, a big black crow with a signboard in his bill perched on the windshield.

"Goodness, gracious meebus!" shouted Uncle Lucky, "You're stealing polish privately!"

"No, I'm not," replied the old crow, "I'm looking for a good place to hang up my sign."

Now, I suppose you're as anxious to know what was written on it as were the two little rabbits, so, taking off his goggles and placing his gold-rimmed spectacles on his nose, dear Uncle Lucky read, "TO CARROT CITY, 1,000 hops."

"That won't take the Luckymobile long!" laughed the little bunny and just then the old crow turned the sign around and Uncle Lucky read: "To LETTUCEVILLE, 2,000 hops."

"Dearest me!" sighed the old gentleman rabbit, "which is which?"

All of a sudden, the Luckymobile started off and pretty soon, not so very far, it stopped at Carrot City and wasn't it a pretty place! Well, I just guess it was. The lamp-posts and telegraph poles were carrots and so were the chimneys on the houses, only hollowed out to let the smoke go through. On the front of the City Hall stood tall carrot pillars and on the roof of the church was an immense carrot for a steeple with a little bell hung at the top.

Well sir, if you ever saw a lot of bunnies, you saw them in Carrot City! Why there was nothing but bunnies—policeman bunnies, postman bunnies, messenger rabbits, baker, butcher and candy store rabbits. Even the street car conductors were lady bunnies with blue uniforms.

"Goodness, gracious meebus!", said Uncle Lucky, "this is the best little town I've ever seen."

"I like Rabbitville better," answered his little nephew. "There's no Three-in-one-cent store here with nice lady ducks to wait on you and the postmaistre is a black rabbit instead of a grasshopper."

"I like our own little town the best, Rabbitville, U. S. A.
Where the clover tops and the jolly-pops
Are blooming ever-so-gay.
It's rather in there they say old where,
Rabbitville, U. S. A.

Copyright, 1923—David Cory

Gentleman in His Heart.

Tom, with apparently a strong sense of chivalry, was invited to luncheon one day with a party of college girls. He reported with contempt that night at dinner that one of the girls had kissed him; but when his father asked who she was, Tom scornfully replied: "Mama don't tell."

Dividends Always Paid.

Sin, Incorporated, Unlimited, is at least one concern that never passed its dividends.—Boston Transcript.

Fifty Thousand Winks a Day.

A nervous person may wink as often, perhaps, as 50,000 times during the 16 waking hours of the day.

We will accept on DEPOSIT as CASH LIBERTY BOND COUPONS due June 15, 1923.

DEPOSITS made on or before Tuesday, JUNE FIFTH, will be entitled to INTEREST or DIVIDENDS from JUNE FIRST.

THE NORWICH SAVINGS SOCIETY

(Incorporated 1824)

Main Street, Corner Broadway

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

THE WIDE-AWAKE CIRCLE

Boys' and Girls' Department

Rules For Young Writers.

1—Write plainly on one side of the paper only, and number the pages.

2—Use pen and ink, not pencil.

3—Short and pointed articles will be given preference. Do not use over 300 words.

4—Original stories or letters only will be used.

5—Write your name, age and address plainly at the bottom of the story.

POETRY FOR THE WIDE-AWAKES

The Price of Prominence.

Some day, if you will study hard, oh, little barefoot boy,
And go without the pleasures youth's accustomed to enjoy;
If you will not go swimming or attempt to catch a fish,
But carefully refrain from gratifying every wish,
Perhaps you may be President, or, more exalted still,
A hero at whose name a grateful populace will thrill,
Although your bill of fare be scant and from a kitchen crude,
Fame may bring compensation for a lack of fun and food.

Perhaps they'll put up statues to preserve your counterpart,
And critics will regard you as a menace to true art.
The children at their books of fear will never quite be rid;
They can't remember how you spelled your name and what you did.
The mortal who performs his simple duty day by day
May live in sweet contentment, missing neither work nor play.
Though books and statuary may not celebrate his fame,
He'll get his little tombstone and be happy just the same.

—Philander Johnson, in Washington Star.

Conscience.

I do my best, day after day,
My duties to perform,
Pursuing a calm, even way,
Heedless of stress or storm;
But one thing troubles me at night,
I will confess to you,
The many things I have not done,
The things I meant to do!

The things I've done are soon forgot;
The others stay in mind,
Both tasks I took upon myself,
And those to me assigned.
The thought of them keeps me awake,
When sleep I try to woo,
The many things I have not done,
The things I ought to do!

—Somerville Journal.

UNCLE JED'S TALK TO THE WIDE-AWAKES.

Ten days from today will occur what is known as Flag day. Flags will be flown from public buildings, schools, stores and homes, and in most of the schools special exercises will be carried out in recognition of the day. The story of the origin of the Stars and Stripes is an interesting one and should be known by all boys and girls.

To begin with, the word "flag" means a piece of bunting or similar material, so arranged that it will wave in the wind from a staff or cord for use in display as a standard, ensign or signal.

The history of Old Glory shows that before the Declaration of Independence the flags of the colonies which now form the United States of America were very various. During the early part of the Revolutionary war each state adopted a flag of its own. Thus the flag of Massachusetts, for instance, bore a pine tree, South Carolina had a flag with a rattlesnake, while Rhode Island had a white flag with a blue anchor on it.

During the year 1775 the people of the 13 states felt that they should have but one flag for all the states and a committee was appointed to take this matter up for consideration. About two years later, June 14, 1777, to be exact, congress passed a resolution that the flag of the United States should consist of 13 stripes, red and white, with 13 white stars in a blue field. This was the origin of the Stars and Stripes. The first official flag, as you all know, was made by Betsy Ross.

The original idea was that each state in the union should be entitled to one star and one stripe on the flag. But as new states were taken into the union the number of stars and stripes on the flag increased so that at one time there were 20 stars and 20 stripes on Old Glory.

Later on, in the year 1818, it was decided that there be only 13 stripes and that each state be represented by one star. Thus it will be seen that the stripes represent the 13 original states and that the stars show the exact number of states in the union.

WINNERS OF PRIZE BOOKS.

1—Herman C. Slater, Willimantic—The Young Inventor's Pluck.

2—Marjorie Gates, Gales Ferry—The Campfire Girls Do Their Bit.

3—Mary L. Maynard, Norwich Town—The Girl Scouts' Good Turn.

4—Ruth Sakowitz, Norwich—Dangerous Deeds.

5—M. Alice Copeland, Willimantic—The Tale of Peter Mink.

6—Marion Brand, Preston—Little Jack Rabbit and the Big Brown Bear.

Winners of prize books living in Norwich may obtain them by calling at The Bulletin business office after 10 o'clock Monday morning.

LETTERS OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Helen Lewitt, Fitchville—I received my book, which I find very interesting, and I thank you very much for it.

William Mesht, Columbia—I thank you very much for the book, Slow and Sure, which you sent me for my letter on How Pens Are Made.

James McGee, Gales Ferry—I want to thank you for the prize book you sent me.

LETTERS WRITTEN BY WIDE-AWAKES.

Coffee Blossoms.

Dear Uncle Jed: The coffee tree may grow as high as 20 feet, but it is cut down to the height of six feet, that the harvest may be picked within easy reach. When the coffee grove is in full bloom there is hardly anything so beautiful. From these blossoms the air is filled with sweetness.

When it is time to pick the coffee beans, men, women and children strip the coffee beans from the branches. On an average one man picks about 30 pounds a day. From the basket the coffee is placed in heaps and then the sticks and leaves are separated from the coffee. From there it is transported to the drying ground.

When it is to be dried it is spread upon cement floors. Every morning after the dew is dried it is raked lightly so the sun may shine on it.

If the coffee is not roasted properly it is not apt to have its proper flavor. While roasting it loses 16 per cent. of its strength. It must have a good cleaning before it is put into the roaster. After the coffee is roasted it is ground and then put into pound packages or sold in bulk.

The coffee bean thrives best in a warm, moist climate where there is no frost. The tree yields in its third year. A full grown tree bears about a pound of coffee beans. Three gatherings are made each year.

HERMAN C. SLATER.
Willimantic.

Where Spices Are Found.

Dear Uncle Jed: Spices are vegetable substances, used for flavoring food. They are the product of tropical countries, and are brought mainly from the east, though some are found in the tropical regions of America. They come from different parts of the plant. The ginger comes from the root, pepper and nutmeg from the fruit, cinnamon from the bark and cloves from the bud.

Ginger cultivated in the East and West Indies is prepared by scalding the roots and then washing them. The first process makes white ginger and the last black ginger.

Nutmeg and mace are obtained from the fruits of trees or shrubs. The nutmeg is a kernel or seed of a fruit, which is yellow and looks like a pear, that is somewhat round and has rather hard flesh. The mace is blood-red when fresh but when dried the sun turns it into light brown.

The cinnamon is the inner bark of a tree which grows in Ceylon and Asia. The bark is taken from the tree in stripe about forty inches long. The best cinnamon comes from Ceylon.

VICTORIA GOLOB, Age 12.
Columbia.

Saved Her Uncle's Life.

Dear Uncle Jed: One night as Mary was sitting in the sitting room rocking her little brother to sleep, she heard a noise outside. It was a very cold winter night late in January. The wind was steadily blowing and the snow was fast falling. The windows were rattling and the house was shaken once in a while by gusts of wind. Mary was alone with her brother and pet dog. She stood up, laid her brother on a lounge and went to the door. Everywhere outside it was dark but she could just distinguish the form of a man.

Mary put on her coat, cap and rubbers and went to where the man lay. She found out that he had fallen because he was cold and needed food very badly. She helped him to get in the house and after he was warm gave him some food. She gave him a room to sleep in and let him take some of her father's clothes. After her brother went to sleep she laid him down in bed and she, too, fell asleep to dream pleasant dreams.

Next morning when Mary's father came home she told him what happened. When he saw the stranger he was very much surprised to find that it was his brother from Florida.

Mary did right in doing what she did and also saved a life. Don't you think she was brave? How many of us would have done what Mary did? Some of us might have been told stories that very night about fierce animals and perhaps we would have thought it was some animal that would kill us. Therefore don't you think she was a true heroine?

ESTELLA A. BRAND, Age 12.
Preston.

Value of Reading.

Dear Uncle Jed: Reading serves toward a better education. If you read a good deal it also takes up a lot of time that might be spent in doing nothing. I am one of the many people who enjoy reading.

I think the world would be pretty dull if you didn't have a good book to pass away the time. When I am at home I like to curl up on the couch and read to my heart's content.

Reading does a great deal for many people. Some of our greatest men would never have been so famous if they had not had a good education and had not been very good readers.

There is every kind of reading imaginable, but all reading is not good. Such reading as novels will sometimes lead girls and boys or even grownups into trouble. I do not care for history books but I do like nature books. I have read all of Gene Stratton Porter's books. I like her books very much because they are nature stories.

I also like Louise Alcott's books. I have read several of them and have enjoyed them all.

Some other books I have read are The Swiss Family, Robinson Crusoe, Being a Boy, The Story of a Bad Boy, Friends in Feathers and ever and ever so many more. It would take quite a little while to name all of them.

MARJORIE GATES, Age 12.
Gales Ferry.

The Cardinal Flower.

Dear Uncle Jed: I thought I would write about the history of the cardinal flower as I am interested in flowers. As the scarlet tanager is among the brightest and most glorious of our birds, so is the cardinal flower among our wild flowers. The pretty red flowers are so attractive that few can pass them by. The tall straight stem is rather closely set with toothed-edged leaves and the summit is during August and September, topped with the beautiful spike of flowers.

The cardinal flower likes a low, moist ground and is seen along small streams. The ruby-throated hummingbird visits this flower. He easily sips the nectar from the very base of the long slender tube and at the same time fulfills the life mission of the flower by setting its seed. This flower is also found along ponds and the country roadside.

This is all I know about the cardinal flower. I will write some time again.

MARY L. MAYNARD, Age 11.
Norwich Town.

Wrote Letter to Deadwood, S. D.

Dear Uncle Jed: One day the teacher told us all to bring some writing paper, an envelope and a stamp. She told us to look in our geography and choose a city and a state. I chose Deadwood, South Dakota. When we had written the letter she told us to put on the envelope, "Any Public School," and our city and state. When the letter reached the city it was delivered to a school in Deadwood. The teacher in Deadwood chose a girl to answer my letter.

The girl's name was Barbara Lampman. She is eight years old and in the fourth grade. In the first answer she wrote that the largest gold mine in the world was only a little way from there. She sent me some post cards in the letter. I answered her letter and sent her back three post cards. The second answer I got said she was going to send her picture soon. She said her father made gold jewelry and she was sending me a ring that her father made. The ring has in place of a stone two bunches of grapes and a red and green leaf.

M. ALICE COPELAND, Age 10.
Willimantic.

Care of the Teeth.

Dear Uncle Jed: The temporary teeth come when the child is seven to eight months of age, and continues to appear from two to three years. There are 20 temporary teeth,—10 upper and 10 lower ones.

The six year molars appear before any of the temporary teeth come out. Many people neglect these, believing that they will be replaced. The first teeth are important teeth. In a sense they are guides to the permanent teeth. Our last or permanent teeth get out of place because the first ones are not cared for.

Two six year molars appear in the upper jaw. Because of their importance they should be given good care as well as the other teeth, and we should visit a dentist twice a year or more.

We should brush our teeth twice a day—oftener if possible. Brush the teeth from the gums downward on the upper jaw. The lower teeth should be brushed upward. Never brush the teeth crosswise. Brush the back teeth as well as the front teeth when you are young, for then you will have good teeth when you are old.

LAURA MATHIEU, Age 10.
Willimantic.

Take Care of Your Teeth.

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to the Wide-Awake Circle. I read the stories in the paper every Monday.

Teeth should have proper care. If you do not take care of your teeth pieces of food will get in the crevices and cause many a toothache.

You should go to the dentist once or twice a year to have your teeth examined because if you think that your teeth are alright sometimes they may not be alright. If you are not pretty, but have nice teeth it counts more than pretty if you are pretty but have not nice teeth.

RUTH SAKOWITZ, Age 11.
Norwich.

Hawk Stole Chickens.

Dear Uncle Jed: Sunday I went to my uncle's house. He had a lot of little chickens. After a little while a great big hawk came out of the woods and took one of the little chickens. My uncle said he would shoot the hawk. The next day the hawk came back after another chicken. My uncle saw it and shot it.

EARL CHANDLER, Age 9.
Danielson.

A Boy and His Hen.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you about a little boy named Tommy Greene and his little brown hen. Her name was Biddy. Tommy was very fond of Biddy and fed her every morning, noon and night. One morning he went to feed her but he could not find her. He hunted all around and asked everyone he met if they had seen his little brown hen. Every one he asked said "no." Three weeks after Biddy came down the lane clucking importantly with six downy, yellow chicks following her.

VIVIAN RICHARDSON.
Norwich.

Tapioca.

Dear Uncle Jed: Tapioca is a root of a tree. It is in the shape of a sweet potato. When it is planted it is cut into pieces from six to eight inches long for the start of a new crop. When it is ripe the roots are pulled up from the ground. The roots are carried to the factory by wagons. The tapioca is then put in a washer to wash the dirt off. After it is given a good washing it is carried to a pump to an elevator in large tanks. The tapioca goes to the bottom and the water is at the top. After it is settled good the water is drained off. It is then dried and is ready for market.

THEODORA MATHIEU, Age 12.
Willimantic R. F. D.

Rogue Charlie.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you about a dog named Rogue Charlie. One day I asked my brother, "What is Rogue doing with that glove?" His master gave him his glove to hold, and he thought it a nice joke to run away with it. See how saucily he looks over his shoulder as if he would say, Catch me if you can. Wouldn't you like to be in this game of tag? I'm very much afraid Rogue will get his ears twitched when his master does come up with him.

Rogue Charlie is a very knowing dog. Perhaps you would like to hear of some of his tricks. Well, to begin! What do you think of a dog that wakes his master regularly at five o'clock every morning?

"O, dear!" says some lazy Lawrence, "I shouldn't like such a dog as that!"

Let me tell you how his master trained him.

For five mornings he called Rogue at five o'clock, and when Rogue came into his room, he gave him a piece of meat, and called him "Good Fellow!" After that he came at five o'clock, scratching outside the door.

He can walk on his hind legs, jump through a hoop, hold meat on his nose until he is told to eat it, and a dozen other things. Isn't he a wonderful dog!

HELEN LEWITT, Age 9.
Fitchville.

An Unexpected Guest.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell the Wide-Awakes the story about the unexpected guest. While I was driving along a narrow country road I heard a funny noise.

I said to my mother, "I hope we will not meet anybody on this road because I can never let them by."

As I was turning the corner I heard the same noise again. To my surprise there was a cow in the middle of the road. I stopped and said, "You are an unexpected guest."

ELIZABETH H. ROGERS.
New London.

My Visit to the Farm.

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to the Wide-Awakes. Last Sunday my parents and I went to visit my uncle who lives on a farm. I fed the chickens and gave each of the horses a lump of sugar. After dinner I picked flowers in the meadow. I spent a very enjoyible day on the farm.

HANNAH OGULNICK, Age 9.
Norwich.

Likes Prize Books.

Dear Uncle Jed: It is a great pleasure to write letters to you and get a prize book because you select very nice books. This is the second prize book I have received and both of them are very nice. I want to thank you for them.

DORIS ANDERSON, Age 10.
Danielson.

My Adventure.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you about the scare I had. My schoolmate and I were out doors and we saw something running in the lot so I said, "Let's go and see what it is." So we went up and we were afraid to go any further.

There was another of my schoolmates there, too. He and I went up there. He took some stones up in his hands. I said it looked like a calf. We went nearer and nearer, but we were a little afraid.

After a while we went up where it was but it did not move. So we went up to it and we saw it was only a big piece of paper.

[illegible] I [illegible]

THE LITTLE JACK RABBIT PICTURE FOR COLORING

Little Jack Rabbit sat by the window of his little white bungalow in the Old Bramble Patch. It was raining hard and the Sunny Meadow wasn't the least bit sunny, no indeed, it was quite musty and very damp. The Bubbling Brook was making a great fuss as it rushed along, sometimes overflowing its banks and making little lakes in the hollow space.

"Ker dunk; ker dunk!" went Granddaddy Bullfrog from his log in the Old Duck Pond. He didn't mind the rain. His rubber coat kept him nice nad dry. As for his feet, I guess he'd never outgrow his boyhood's delight to wade in bare feet.

Down from the Farmyard waddled Duckey Waddles on his big wide, wabbly yellow feet. He loved the wet weather, Oh my yes. Pretty soon, he went in for a swim; now and then and sometimes oftener standing on his head in the water as he fished for little minnows.

Up at the Farmyard, Cocky Doodles and Henny Jenny with Goosey Lucy and Turkey Tim, stood out of the wet, under the old cowshed, wondering how long Mr. Merry Sun meant to hide behind the gray rain clouds.

On the top of the big red barn, the weathercock turned to and fro, first this way and then that way on his gilded toe, for Billy Breeze was blowing steadily across the open spaces, now sending the clouds helter-skelter over the sky—now bending the dripping bushes or shaking the rain drops from the apple trees.

"I wish you'd let me point to the west," said the weathercock. "Then it would clear up."

"Maybe, I will," answered Billy Breeze, and all of a sudden, he blew away some dark clouds, and out came Mr. Merry Sun, with a smile.

"Hurray!" shouted the Weathercock, twisting about on his toe till he pointed to the West. "Now we'll have a beautiful day."

"I think so," laughed Little Jack Rabbit, and he hopped out of his pretty white bungalow, down the narrow path, through the rough brambles till he found myself out in the Sunny Meadow.

"Just then, who should come along, but Timmy Meadowmouse. My, but he was glad to see the lovely sunshine.

"Howdy!" he said to the little rabbit bunny boy. "Have you heard the news?"

"What news?" asked Little Jack Rabbit curiously, and he thought to himself "Goodness me! Something dreadful has happened," and he twinkled his little pink nose and winked his two big pink eyes till the tiny meadowmouse almost grew dizzy.

"Stop!" he cried, "or I won't tell you the news."

"All right," replied the little rabbit "but hurry for I'm afraid something has happened to Chippy Chipmunk or the Big Brown Bear."

"Not a bit of it," answered Timmy, taking off his little fur cap—but just then, quick as a flash, down from the sky came Hungry Hawk.

"Look out!" shouted the little rabbit, hopping under a bush, but dear me again, the tiny meadowmouse was just a second too slow. The next minute, up in the air he went, held tightly in the cruel claw of the old hawk.

"Help! help!" shouted poor, frightened Timmy Meadowmouse, as higher and higher flew the big feathered robber. By and by they both looked like a tiny speck in the sky.

"What shall I do to save my little friend?" thought the poor, frightened bunny boy, but nobody answered him, not even Billy Breeze who is such a good friend to all the little people of the Shady Forest and the Sunny Meadow.

Yours for a story,
DAVID CORY,
The Jack Rabbit Man.

MANSFIELD CENTRE

At the morning worship Sunday the sermon was delivered by Dr. H. K. Denlinger who after this will be absent for a number of weeks. The Christian Endeavor service was led by Stedman Storrs. The topic was The Shepherd Psalm. This is the consecration meeting.

The Mansfield Center school under the direction of Mrs. G. H. Allen will hold public exercises at the church on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This will give an opportunity for the friends of the children to hear the graduation essays and music and recitations. The graduates are Ruth Oden, Alice Jenner, Hoard Eaton, Stanley Storrs, Paul Jansen and Fred Prater. Commencement exercises for the schools of the town will be held at the armory at Storrs on Thursday evening.

The Ladies' Aid will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. N. Jacobson.

Memorial day exercises were held at the cemeteries at Atwoodville and Spring Hill Wednesday morning. Shortly after ten o'clock a procession of soldiers of the World war, citizens and school children marched to the old cemetery where the graves of five soldiers of the Revolution and two of the Civil war were decorated. At the new cemetery a brief service was held and the graves of 14 soldiers of the Civil war, and one of the Spanish-American were were decorated. Mansfield Center has only one veteran of the Civil war living, H. Edwin Hall, who was unable to attend the services. Mr. Hall was for six months a prisoner of war at Andersonville.

After returning to the church an eloquent address was given by Dr. H. K. Denlinger. There was special music by the choir, a violin solo, and a medley of national songs, by Rexford Crane. The decorations in the church were in pink and white.

CANTERBURY GREEN

Memorial day was observed here by marking and decorating the soldiers' graves in Carey cemetery. There was no general town celebration. A number of out of town people have visited the cemetery this week, cleaning up and decorating the family lots.

Much interest has been shown of late in improving this cemetery, the largest in town, and where many of the Canterbury families are buried.

Last fall the Canterbury Cemetery association was incorporated with Frank Miller president and Milo Appley vice president. The town has also appropriated a sum for the work. A handsome iron gate presented by Mr. Miller has lately been put in place and a number of citizens have joined in the general work of improving the condition of the grounds.

An agricultural demonstration participated in by all the schools in town is scheduled for next Wednesday evening at Grange hall. The grange has offered three prizes, the largest being $5. The affair is under the management of the teachers and Mr. Lund, one of the state officials.

Horace G. Brown of Worcester spent Sunday with his brother, H. B. Brown.

WESTMINSTER

The church received its second coat of paint last week, having had its first coat in the fall, and looks very much like a new building. It was reshingled two years ago.

The topic for the circles for home prayer and study next Wednesday evening is Some of the Parables of Jesus, a topic to be continued several weeks. Topics for this meeting include The House on the Rock, Matt. 7: 5-27, The Two Debtors, Luke 7: 40-48; The Sower, St. Matt. 3: 1-23; The Tares, Matt. 13: 24-30; The Mustard Seed, Matt. 11: 24-32, Leaven, Matt 13:33.

YOU, TOO, CAN MAKE Beautiful Objects of Art
WITH REAL BUTTERFLIES

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN IN BUTTERFLY ART WORK ALL THIS WEEK

By special arrangement with the Butterfly Box of Boston we have secured the services of the leading artist in this work in America, to give lessons to our customers in this interesting art, interesting and instructive, no charge for this service.

We are showing real butterflies properly prepared, also grasses, flowers, milkweed and a charming variety of articles to be decorated therewith. Come early and receive individual attention. Many beautiful gifts for parties, weddings, etc.

DEMONSTRATION STARTS TODAY
SEE OUR ELABORATE WINDOW DISPLAY

The Cranston Co.

Cuticura Soap
SHAVES
Without Mug
Cuticura Soap is the favorite for shaving as well as toilet use.

MONEY DEPOSITED AS LATE AS
JUNE 5th
WILL DRAW INTEREST FROM JUNE 1st

The Chelsea Savings Bank
FRANKLIN SQUARE NORWICH, CONN.
THE BANK OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW WITH MAX GORDON & SON CORP.
FOR YOUR WINTER'S SUPPLY OF LEHIGH WELL SCREENED COAL
CAN MAKE PROMPT DELIVERY
EGG
STOVE
NUT
$15.25
PER TON
50c EXTRA IF CARRIED IN
S. GOLDBERG, Manager
TELEPHONE 625 10-20 WEST MAIN STREET

JOHN LONGO DIES FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, June 4.—John Longo of Shaw street, the victim of an automobile accident on Pequot avenue two weeks ago, when the automobile in which he was riding and which was owned by Joseph Contino of No. 185 and operated by the latter, crashed into a telephone pole, died at Home Memorial hospital Sunday morning. Longo sustained terrible injuries and it was feared that when he was admitted to the institution that his death would occur daily, for the victim received among other injuries a fractured pelvic bone, five fractured ribs and the puncturing of his lungs. He showed some improvement of late and it was believed that he might recover, but during late Saturday and Saturday night, Longo's condition became worse and he gradually succumbed.

Contino was taken into custody, following the accident on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. When presented in the police court last Monday Contino was convicted and was fined $100.

The accident, which has now resulted in a fatality, occurred while Contino was operating the car to go to their homes. When opposite the plant of the New Haven Dairy company, Contino lost control of the machine, which was traveling at a fast rate of speed. The car plunged across the highway and crashed against the pole, throwing the occupants out. Contino escaped injury, but Longo apparently was wedged between the car and the pole for he received such injuries as are sustained through being crushed.

The condition of Attorney Arthur P. Keefe, of Bentley avenue, Ocean Beach, who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital several days ago, continues to improve.

There was a drop in the number of cases of a contagious nature in New London the past week. The cases reported to the health department were five of measles, and one each of bronchitis, mumps and pneumonia.

Thomas Hamrih of No. 152 Main street reported to the police Saturday that a lodger at his place, Bamin Orbey was missing, the latter having disappeared suddenly the day before. A search for Orbey was made, but hardly had it been started that Orbey appeared at his home, he having visited with friends.

H. H. Bennett, a chief petty officer attached to the U. S. Pequot, reported to the police on April 17th that his watch had been stolen on April 15th. The police made a search for the stolen timepiece, but were not successful in locating it. Saturday Bennett appeared at the police station and reported that he had recovered the watch in New York.

Lawrence Olson, of No. 6 Catherine street, is under treatment at Home Memorial hospital, suffering from a fractured collarbone and numerous abrasions and bruises he sustained Saturday by being run down by an automobile, owned and operated by Edward H. Lamb of Ledyard, on Pequot avenue. The victim will be under treatment at the institution some time.

The accident occurred when Lamb was operating his machine in a northerly direction. When the car reached a point about 500 feet north of Thames street, Olson was in the act of attempting to cross the highway. Before the pedestrian could get out of the path of the approaching auto and before Lamb could materially reduce the speed of his machine, Olson was struck with considerable force, being thrown violently to the highway. It was readily observed that Olson had sustained painful injuries and he was placed in the automobile and conveyed to the hospital. Lamb later reported the accident at the police station.

Mrs. Annie Farnam of Howard street, Mrs. Hugh Francis of Groton, Mrs. Herbert Newberry of Willis avenue, John Grain of West Hartford, Stephen Chop of Mostville and Miss Henrietta Decker of Mystic, patients at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, were able to return to their respective abodes Saturday.

Mrs. Kelsey of No. 254 Broad street complained to the police Saturday afternoon that four letters, three of which contained checks and the other a personal letter addressed to her husband in Washington, had been stolen from a table in the kitchen of her home. Detective Sergeant Hammond was assigned to the case and, going to the Kelsey home, the missing letters were discovered in another room, Mrs. Kelsey or some member of the household having transferred them from one room to the other.

Private John E. Kennedy of Fort Wright was taken into custody Saturday by Detective Sergeant Charles Hammond at the request of the fort commandant. Kennedy is charged with overstaying his leave and will be given a court martial. He was escorted back to the post last evening by a guard.

As a result of violating the automobile laws in New London recently, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoddal has suspended the operator's license of Lieut. R. P. Erdman, stationed at the submarine base. Erdman was arrested recently when he was discovered driving his machine without having a license to do so. He was fined in the police court. When arrested Erdman had in his possession licenses to drive a machine in the states of Virginia and Pennsylvania, but these did not give him authority to operate an automobile in Connecticut.

Edward Holowchak of Hartford, administrator of the estate of Jacob Unger, formerly of Hartford, has sold a dwelling at No. 181 Bentley avenue, Ocean Beach, to Celia Rogoff of New London.

An automobile owned and operated by Edward W. Hopkins of No. 186 Connecticut avenue backed against a machine owned by James G. Ringland of High street, Noank, on Water street Saturday, the accident resulting in Ringland's car being damaged.

An automobile, operated by Mrs. John H. Rose of No. 169 Hempstead street, and an unidentified automobile were in collision Saturday afternoon at the corner of State and Meridian streets. The damage was slight.

Louis Caminski of No. 171 North Bank street, reported to the police Saturday that his wife, Olga, had deserted him and two of their three children. Caminski stated that his wife disappeared last Tuesday, taking with her a child of four years, and leaving two older children behind. No trace of the woman was found.

The mail service at Ocean Beach and Eastern Point, Groton, was resumed Friday when carriers made collections and delivery of mail to both summer resorts. The service, which will not end until Oct. 1, is made possible by an additional appropriation for the New London office having been made by the treasury department at Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Plant and their two children arrived yesterday and opened their summer home at the Branford house, Eastern Point. During July Mr. Plant will participate in the boat races to be held in European waters and where he has entered his yacht, Ingomar, in the races.

Charles Joseph Rieger, U. S. N., of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Rose Madrick of New York, were married Friday in New London, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. Hennyon Danforth, pastor of the First Church of Christ, at the home of the clergyman.

The police run down a clue Friday night that it was believed would result in the apprehension of some of the thieves that have been operating in Bank street stores of late, but the investigation by Motorcycle Officer John J. Cavanaugh did not reveal that the suspected parties had been guilty of entering any of the stores. During the evening Capt. Fred Dabell of No. 6 Catt street, had warned boys with several knives in their possession and he suspected the knives as being a part of the plunder that was stolen from the ship chandlery store of Bates & Wilson the night before. Capt. Dabell obtained the names of one of the boys and imparted his information to Patrolman Patrick Sheehan, upon whose beats some of the burglaries have taken place. Patrolman Sheehan reported the information at the police station and Officer Cavanaugh was assigned to the case. He interrogated the boy, whose identity had been revealed and it was ascertained that the youths obtained the knives legitimately.

The condition of Louis Petrini of No. 90 Trumbull street, and employed as a barber at the United States Coast Guard academy, who attempted to end his life by cutting his throat with a razor at his home Friday afternoon, is reported today at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, as being slightly improved, although the victim is not yet out of danger. The cause assigned by relatives of Petrini for his rash act is despondency over ill health, but it is known that the would-be-suicide has not been incapacitated of late.

Peter Green, master of the barge Blue Coat, will be arraigned in the police court Monday morning, charged with the theft of 250 pounds of copper wire from the Connecticut Power Company. Green was arrested by Detective Sergeant Charles Hammond Saturday, following information lodged with Prosecuting Attorney Daniel M. Cronin that Green had stolen the wire, which had been temporarily stored at the company's wharf on Water street and where the barge was moored. Green denies his guilt and in default of a surety on his bond for appearance in court, he is being held a prisoner at the police station.

The wire was in two rolls and one of them was recovered aboard the barge, while the other was on the wharf, but with a rope attached to it that it might be hauled to the deck of the barge.

In the police court tomorrow morning, Paul DuBrow of Hartford will be charged with the reckless operation of his automobile in the streets of New London two weeks ago. Since that time DuBrow has been at liberty on bail. DuBrow was driving through Broad street on his way to New London from Hartford. At the corner of Broad and Center streets and as a team, owned and driven by N. Elbert Geer, a well known contractor and with his son as an occupant of the vehicle, was turning from Broad street into Center street, DuBrow attempted to pass around the team with the result that the Geer team was struck with great force. Geer was hurled from the team and sustained injuries that has since kept him under medical care. His son was also thrown from the vehicle, but landing on the lawn of his home, while the wagon the father and son occupied was wrecked.

Myra, a sixty-four feet steamboat, is at the wharf of the New London Ship & Engine company and will be hauled out next week. The craft is registered as a New York steamer, but has been engaged in plying on the Connecticut river in the vicinity of Hartford until yesterday when Charles T. Willard, supervising the operating of the ferryboat Mohican, plying between New London and Groton, for the town of Groton, caused the craft to be brought to this port to take the place of the Mohican while that craft is undergoing annual inspection. Supt. Willard stated that the Mohican would not be inspected until after the rowing of the annual Yale-Harvard race on the Thames on the 22nd inst. The ferry management intended to haul the Mohican off the route during the spring, but because of the continued wet weather and the uncertainty of securing a boat to substitute for the Mohican, the work has been postponed until probably after the Fourth of July.

The new police woman, Alice Hunt of East Lyme, who started her police activities Friday, found herself in a serious predicament yesterday, when she discovered she was without authority to make an arrest for she had not been supplied with a police badge and neither had Captain Pinney been instructed by City Manager Barlow, who obtained the woman's appointment, to provide the policewoman with the badge of authority. As City Manager Barlow is absent from the city, being in Washington in attendance at a Shriners' convention, Mrs. Hunt yesterday afternoon laid her case before Capt. Pinney and after a lengthy conference on the matter, the woman was given a badge, which she donned for the first time last evening when she visited Ocean Beach, where a dance was in progress. The badge given the police woman is No. 57 and the appointee is now known as "No. 57" among the members of the police force.

Thomas Manning of No. 37 Coleman street reported to the police last night that a small traveling bag had been stolen from him on State street. Manning stated that he deposited the bag on the sidewalk while he made a purchase at a store and when he returned the bag was missing. The bag contained, principally, children's clothing.

Dana Medling of No. 40 Pearl street reported to the police last night that earlier in the day his automobile was struck by a machine, owned and operated by Dr. S. J. Lawson on Pearl street. Medling's car was damaged. Medling stated that the cause of the collision was the physician's machine skidding on the surface of the highway on Pearl street that had recently been oiled by the city.

Lewis Kenyon, proprietor of the Mohican Wrecking Company, complained to the police last night that his garage on Howard street had been broken into during the day and that tires were stolen and the windows of a Sedan automobile smashed.

P. D. Dingwell was ordered last night to appear in the police court Monday morning and answer the charge of operating an automobile with a license to do so.

Joseph Alfierio of No. 862 Bank street evidently believes that he can operate his automobile in a manner to suit himself and not conform to the rules and regulations of the state regarding the requisites required for the driving of cars. Two weeks ago Alfierio was arrested by Motorcycle Officer William Babcock, charged with reckless driving when he was detected operating this car past intersecting streets at a reckless rate and without giving a signal. He was fined $25 at that time. Last night Motorcycle Officer John Cavanaugh ordered Alfierio to appear in the police court tomorrow morning and answer the charge of operating his machine without being possessed of an operator's license, without a registration in the auto and passing an intersecting street at a high rate of speed and failing to give a signal.

Late Saturday afternoon, Edward Hickey and John Moriarty, the latter of Westerly, but who has been residing of late on the Pequonoc road, Groton, went to the municipal pier and much the worse for overindulgence in drink. While there Hickey and Moriarty are said to have become engaged in a brawl and which terminated when Moriarty either fell or was thrown into the Thames river. There was ample assistance at hand and Moriarty was quickly rescued, but not before he had swallowed nearly as much salt water as he had "hootch." Both Hickey and Moriarty were taken into custody by Detective Sergeant Charles Hammond, Sergeant Hick and Patrolman William Corcoran. After being locked up, Moriarty complained of pains about his chest and appeared to be in suffering. He was treated by City Physician Cheney and this morning when the pains continued, Dr. Cheney ordered Moriarty transferred to the Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital. At the institution it was stated that Moriarty was under observation and was resting fairly comfortable. It is possible that in falling overboard, Moriarty's chest came in contact with the piling or strangers and that he may be internally injured.

The semi-centennial of the alumni of Bulkeley school, which event is to be celebrated June 29-30 at the Griswold hotel Eastern Point will probably witness the largest number of former school students ever gathered to renewed boyhood activities in this locality. A ball game and miscellaneous sports will be on the program for the 29th and on the 30th will come the big dinner at the famous dining room of the hotel. Judge C. C. Costello is chairman and Alfred Ligouri is secretary of the Bulkeley alumni.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

George Flanagan of South Bend is spending a few days at his old home on Benton street.

Mrs. Ethel M. Strong and son of East Hampton are visiting Mrs. Edith Davis in West Stafford.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Foltz of Reading, Pa., are guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Puffer in the Hollow.

The local Congregational and Methodist churches will unite for service during the month of July, Rev. E. A. Legg of the Methodist church will preach beginning the second Sunday in July. Rev. Levi Rees will be absent during July and August and the pulpit will be supplied by other preachers in August and early September.

The Stafford Building and Loan Association have had an unusually large number of requests for loans this spring by people who are building houses.

Max Lohse, aged 77, died at his home on West Main street early Saturday morning after a complicated illness of several days. Mr. Lohse was born in Germany and came to America when a young man. For several years he lived on Village Hill in the town of Willington where he owned a large farm.

About two years ago his health began to fail and he moved with his family to Stafford Springs. Besides his widow, Mrs. Linda Sehse, he is survived by six children, Mrs. Clara S. Miller of Greenwich, R. I., Mrs. Anni S. Dio of Bristol, R. I., Mrs. John McCrohan of Stafford Springs, Richard of New Boston, Charles Sehse of Stafford Springs.

100% Pure Complete Package Ready for Use

Genuine

BUCKEYE MALT SYRUP

In the orange and black sanitary container—results guaranteed.

The Burger Bros., Co.
CINCINNATI, O.

MR. AND MRS. GOOD CITIZEN

Are you interested in the Salvation Army?

Do you want to help in its great task?

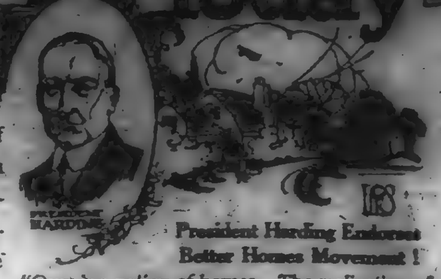
READ THE WAR CRY!

Sincerely,

Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

National Better Homes Week Starts Today



Better Homes Week is the National effort of the Furniture and Music Industries of America to bring back to public consciousness the importance of maintaining proper home environment for the rearing of our children and the sustaining of American citizenship and to offer more effective means of promoting the happiness and contentment of our present and coming generations.

President Harding Endorses Better Homes Movement!

"Ours is a nation of homes. The realization of our highest hopes lies in the continued construction and improved character of our homes, because they have the first influence in the standard of American living."

WARREN G. HARDING.

The Plaut-Cadden Co. Dedicates Itself to Forwarding the Idea For the Observance In This Community of the National Better Homes Movement and Announces

OPEN HOUSE ALL THIS WEEK WITH MAGNIFICENT DISPLAYS OF THE NEW AND BEAUTIFUL IN HOME FURNISHINGS

If you are a lover of beautiful furniture and are striving to have a beautiful and better home you will be interested in our wonderful displays of all that is newest and best in furniture. You will find it the kind of furniture you want in your home — furniture of merit, of true beauty and authentic designs in the widest opportunities for selection.

A visit through either or both of our great home furnishing establishments in Norwich and New London will provide a wonderful opportunity for comparison, study and mental selection. It will prove to you that a better home is within your reach for here you will find everything to satisfy your quest for comfort and beauty at prices and on terms you can easily afford.

WE CORDIALLY INVITE YOU TO COME IN AND ENJOY THESE BEAUTIFUL, INTERESTING DISPLAYS — MAKE USE OF OUR EXCEPTIONAL HOME FURNISHING FACILITIES AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS EFFECTIVE DURING THIS WEEK.

Three Reasons Why We Can Help You To a Better Home

READ EACH ONE CAREFULLY — THEY TELL WHY WE HAVE GROWN TO OUR PRESENT GREAT PROPORTIONS.

COMPLETE SATISFYING SERVICE

Service means more to us than prompt and courteous attention when you are in our stores. It extends to every person in our organizations and further—to every article of merchandise we sell. We are here to give you complete, satisfying service—and what is still more—se is everything you buy from us.

GUARANTEED LOWEST PRICES

Our policy of guaranteed lowest prices always has been a most attractive feature of this company. These prices are made possible through the exceptional price concessions granted us by manufacturers because of our immense combined purchasing power for our two great stores, which reserves you every possible advantage in price.

MOST LIBERAL CREDIT TERMS

Another attractive feature of this company is our liberal credit policy. It is the sort of credit that fits everybody's purse. It will help you to surround your family with the comforts and beauty that is really due them in a way that is easy and dignified. It will pay you to investigate this liberal credit plan.

SINCE MUSIC PLAYS SUCH AN IMPORTANT PART IN MAKING BETTER HOMES, WE INVITE YOU ALSO TO VISIT OUR EXTENSIVE PIANO AND VICTROLA WAREROOMS — ENJOY TO YOUR HEART'S CONTENT THE WORLD'S BEST MUSIC AND LEARN HOW EASY IT IS TO MAKE YOUR HOME BETTER AND HAPPIER WITH GOOD MUSIC.

NORWICH — TWO BIG STORES LINKING ONE BIG BUYING ORGANIZATION! — NEW LONDON

The Plaut-Cadden Company

EST. 1872

135-143 MAIN ST. — EVERYTHING FOR THE HOME AND EVERYTHING IN MUSIC — 224-236 BANK ST.

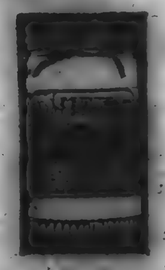
I-CAR-DE

THE

MAYONNAISE

THAT'S

"POSITIVELY" DIFFERENT



A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

FLEMING—In Norwich, June 1, 1923, a son, William Albert, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. William Albert Fleming of 205 Central avenue.

MARRIED

HENDERSON-KENDALL—In Norwich, June 1, 1923, by Rev. R. R. Graham, William R. Henderson of Hazardville, Mich., and Miss Irene T. Kendall of 10 Page street.

HUTTSON—STEWART—In Norwich, June 2, 1923, by Rev. A. M. Foster, Henry J. Hutton of Hartford and Anatenia M. Stewart of Norwich.

DIED

MILLER—In Gale city, June 2, 1923, suddenly, Hannah C. Main, wife of the late Avery M. Miller.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MILLER—In Pawcatuck, Conn., Jeremiah Healey, formerly of Norwich. Funeral at Hourigan Bros.' funeral parlors Tuesday morning at 9.30. Burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

CARD—In Pawtucket, R. I., June 1, 1923, Absalom Card, aged 79 years, formerly of Danielson.
Funeral services at A. F. Wood's undertaking rooms, Danielson, Tuesday, June 5, at 2.30, standard time.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMYTH ALLEN
Telephone 328-4

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
122 Main Street
Phone 388-4 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 430-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Cor. Elm Providence St., Westerly

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

WILLIMANTIC
Avery & Van Zandt
Successors to
Jay M. Shepard
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-two North Street
Willimantic, Conn.

Kilkenny Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
26 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 388 Lady Assistant

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
914 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

DANIELSON

F. W. TILLINGHAST & SONS,
Successors to
E. H. & F. W. Tillinghast,
Central Village, Conn.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
and
EMBALMERS.
Tel. Moosup 61-5. Night Call—Danielson 53-4.

FLORISTS

TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 904-2. Free delivery. apr6d

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Essex coach, 1923, excellent shape, extra equipment, including Lovejoy shock absorbers. Tel. 1056. jeld

FOR SALE—A new 1923 five-passenger Chevrolet sedan. Phone 1064. jeld

FOR SALE—Practically new Dodge touring car, run only 500 miles, A-1 condition. The Danielson Garage, Danielson, Conn. Tel. 110. jeld

FOR SALE—1921 Ford touring car, in A-1 condition, new tires, new tubes; will demonstrate. Call 25-2 Lebanon Div. after 6.30 p. m., standard time. jeld

FOR SALE—1921 Paige touring, reasonable. Tel. 1510. jeld

FOR SALE—Ford touring car, 1916, first class condition, paint, tires, $175 cash; private party. P. W. Pelham, Central Village, Conn. may30d

FOR SALE—1919 Cadillac coupe, fine condition, price reasonable. Phone 965. may5d

AUTO PARTS
FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
USED CARS
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
We tear them down and sell the pieces
371-373 N. Main Street Phone 2170

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.

THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 618-13

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Boys between 16 and 21 years. $30-$35 weekly; get our 50-50 proposition; high quality, lowest prices; exclusive territory. Newsy Brand Co., Hartford, Conn. jeld

WANTED—Middle aged man of good character with ambition and energy; selling and delivering groceries; pay weekly; no cash deposit; write today stating territory you can cover. Health Magazine, Manchester, Conn. 24-GEW3

WANTED—At the Connecticut Agricultural College during fall, one kitchen boy and one vegetable boy. Apply to Miss M. M. Carr, Connecting Agricultural College, Storrs, Conn. jeld

WANTED—Position by young man, Protestant, married; have had ten years' experience in general office work, three years outside; any position paying a living considered. Write G. C., Bulletin. jeld

WANTED—Salesman with car to work in New London county; excellent position; earn from $30 to $40 per week; commission and bonus. Interviewer. Telephone New London 2496-2 for interview. jeld

WANTED—Woodchopper. John Miller, R. F. D. 1, Norwich. may30d

WANTED—Dishwasher; also night waiter. O'Leary's Restaurant, New London. jeld

WANTED—Painter, experienced, by day, week or month; good pay. S. Gadek, Tel. 1346-4. jeld

WANTED—Position by boy, 16 years old, to work on farm through school vacation; will work for room and board cheap. Address Box 191, care Bulletin Office. jeld

WANTED—Young married men for a milling proposition; salary and commission. Mr. Lynch, 57 Broadway, second floor. Call between 1-3 and 1-4, sunday.

WANTED—Man to drive to routes in Putnam; must be man desired; have automobile and good wagon for right party. Frank A. Dexter. may29d

WANTED—A man at dairy farm. Phone Lebanon 32-4. may24d

WANTED — YOUNG MEN

For light manufacturing work

AMERICAN THERMOS BOTTLE COMPANY

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Maid, plain cook. Brown Betty Tea Room, Westerly, R. I. jaid

WANTED—Middle aged woman to do cooking and canning; must be experienced, strong and able. Apply Mystic Trail School, Mystic, Conn. Tel. Mystic 220. jeld

WANTED—Pastry baker; good wages to right party. Gregson's Cleaning and Dyeing. may29d

WANTED—A dishwasher, also a table girl. Apply Lunch Inn, Plainfield, or Phone Moosup 43-4. may23d

WANTED—A cook for The Tea Room, 65 Broadway. may7d

WANTED—Young lady for position on candy counter. Apply Sellas Spa. may5d

WANTED—Girls; steady work; good pay. Turner & Stanton Co., Broad St. may5d

WANTED — At once, experienced waitresses. Sellas Lunch. may5d

GIRL WANTED

General Kitchen Work. Small Summer Hotel. Easy Work. Short Season. Board and Room Furnished. Address

GRISWOLD HOUSE
ESSEX, CONN.

WANTED

TWO GIRLS
For Light, Clean Work
TROY STEAM LAUNDRY

POULTRY

FOR SALE—White Leghorn chicks from 2 and 3 year old hens, extra heavy layers, last hatch June 11; $3 per 50, $5 per 100, $70 per 500; parcel post guaranteed. Paul Jaques, Stonebridge Corner, Conn. jeld

FOR SALE—Chevy pullets, also one coop and wire. 49 Cambridge St. jeld

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains prepaid; catalogue free. E. H. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. jeld

AUCTIONS

C. H. MACY (SEAL) ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION

I will sell at public auction on

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1923,

at 9 o'clock a. m., standard time,

LATHAM & CRANE'S YARD,

139 Valley St., Willimantic,

LUMBER AS FOLLOWS:

1150 ft. 2x6 Oak, 630 ft. 3 in. Oak, 2000 ft. 1 in. Shop Cypress, 1st grading; 7773 ft. 2 in. R. E. Pine, Maine boat stock, 2065 ft. 3 in. Ash R. E., 1262 ft. 4 in. Oak R. E. clear, 2494 ft. 5 in. Oak R. E. clear, 1428 ft. 2 in. Ash R. E., 1241 ft. 1 1-4 in. Select Cypress Stock, 195 ft. 1 in. N. C. Pine, 1827 ft. 1 in. S. E. Pine, 742 ft. 12 in. S. E. Pine, 823 ft. 1 in. S. E. Pine, 1666 ft. 1 1-4 in. Oak S. E., 5349 ft. 2 in. S. E. Pine, 1200 ft. 4x4 Chestnut, 600 lin. ft. Chestnut Frame Stock, 2950 lb. No. 2 Common, 576 ft. 3 in. Eastern Pine, 695 ft. 1 1-4 in. S. E. Pine, 960 ft. Ash, 250 ft. Cyp. D. S. S., Engine and Boiler, Box Truck, two set Chain Falls, one Gasoline Winch, one Wagon, Miscellaneous Machinery, Tools, too numerous to mention.

may23d

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—One pair of team horses, weight 2800. Inquire of Thomas Mullen, Canterbury, Conn. Tel. 57-12 Jewett City. may23d

JUST ARRIVED,

My Horses are here, and they are a nice lot. Some matched pairs that are extra good. All are rugged and ready for work. Come and see them. Prices are right.

KLEBER B. PIERSON.
Tel. 826-3. apr26d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—May 21, came to my house, a Holstein cow. Owner call at Dwayne Krop's, R. D. No. 2, Colchester, Conn., Box 53. jeld

LOST—Thursday afternoon, shell-rimmed glasses in case. Reward if returned to this office. jeld

FOUND—Medium size black and white Holstein cow, about 5 years old, tips of horns cut off, came to my place on May 30. Owner can have same by paying for adv. and expenses. A. B. Keayes, Lebanon and Bridge, Conn. Phone Lebanon Div. 04-12. jeld

LOST—Gold watch, at Fairgrounds Monday night; name in back of case. Alice at Box 61, Bozrah, and reward. jeld

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—To buy a second hand car, Buick model Dodge, Oakland or Chevrolet sedan; must be used car of late models. Fulton Durick, care Inland Paper Box Co., Yantic, Conn. jeld

WANTED—Second hand furniture and carpets. Louis D. Ward, Bell Tel., Norwich. jan5FMW

WANTED—Boston bull, male not over 5 years old. Call 109 Reservoir Ave. jeld

WANTED—Men and women to know the big riding months have begun. Eighty thousand men, women and children are going to be actually killed—fourteen million are going to be injured. Are you one of those known in advance? There are more than thirty thousand persons in Greater Norwich. At least half of these take trips to or some suburb, beach or other recreation place each summer week end, by auto, train, car, etc. Have you arranged with the code to protect you? Every time you leave home, or a friend gives you a lift in his car? Every time you mix with the crowd and expose yourself to disease? If not, you'd better arrange with L. G. Smith, 29 Mt. Pleasant St., to pay you from $25 to $50 a week. Phone 542. may23MTuTh

WANTED—Well kept with fly, 9x12 or 11x14 preferred; state price desired. Write W. L., Bulletin. jeld

WANTED—Have you a boy from 5 to 7 years old that you wish to see in a reputable baseball uniform for 97c? You can get them for said price at The Peacock Co. Chain Stores. apr23d

KEN YA BEET FIT?—A seat from Pinchville told me he crossed a rubber plant with the regular grass 'n' R made it rainproof, but by gimics, sez he, one of our cows fell down tother day 'n' she bounded all over the meds. Stem pipes for 75c, Manila cigars 6fr for 25c. After Dinner cigar, mild, 5c straight. Fagan's Smoke Shop. may22d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chesebro, Agt., 160 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2182. feb23d

WANTED—Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1314-2. jan11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weissinger, 12 Market St. Phone 527-2. jly6

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 719-2. jan30d

IF IT'S JUNK

sell it to the Mutual Waste and Metal Co., where you get the most for Scrap Iron, Scrap Metal, Rags, Paper, Magazines, etc. We call and remove same promptly. 319 West Main Street, Telephone 2275.

WANTED

SECOND HAND ANTIQUE FURNITURE. BEST PRICES PAID. A. BRUCKNER, 102 FRANKLIN ST. PHONE 712-5. may7d

MONEYS TO LOAN

LOANS

THE TIME WILL COME
When You Will Need Realty Cash to Meet Some Unlooked-for Emergency—Why Not
BE PREPARED
Investigate our system of quick loans NOW. We give prompt, private and confidential service. Easy monthly payments, legal interest, no bonus or fees, rates fixed by State law, and are supervised by State Banking Commissioner. We make loans on home furniture, personal property, real estate, or guaranteed note. Call, write or Phone 1470.

New England Equity Corp.
ROOM 206, THAYER BUILDING
16 FRANKLIN STREET

TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE

FARE $3.38 — Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:30 P. M.

Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 21 P. M.

Due N. Y. Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.

Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.

The New England Steamship Co.

BUS LINE
Norwich-Westerly—Nick Mooney, Proprietor
Telephone Westerly 2407.

Leave Westerly 8 a. m., 11 a. m., 2 p. m., 5 p. m., 7 p. m., 9 p. m.
Leave Beach, Stonington 8.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 3.30 p. m., 6.30 p. m., 7.30 a. m., 9.30 p. m.
Leave Norwich 9 a. m., 3.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 3.30 p. m., 6.30 p. m., 9 p. m.
Leave Beach, Stonington 9.45 a. m., 10.15 a. m., 1.15 p. m., 4.15 p. m., 7.15 p. m.
FARES: Westerly-Norwich 75c; Westerly-North Stonington 45c; Norwich-North Stonington 45c. may30d

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping, trucks for hire. 31 Cliff St. or Occum. Tel. 617-12.

Res. 1924. Tel. 178.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing, Furniture and Piano Moving.
Shetucket St.

C. D. JOSLIN, 826 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Tel. 1568-4.

Long Distance Moving and Repairing, Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1941.

TRADING and moving; long distance hauling a specialty. John H. Ford, 243 Main St. Phone 178.

G. H. BROOKLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 335.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (perfect your feet). Suite 1-6 Allen Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1566-6. jan31d

ARCHITECTS

W. S. MEAD, Architect, Room 5, May White Building, Supervising, Appraising. Tel. 1454-2.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Four-row Iron Age beet sprayer, good condition. Phone 1351-4. jelFM

FOR SALE—Thirty tons of hay, in barn or delivered, at right price. Call 1484. jelFMW

FOR SALE—$4,250 will buy cottage home of six rooms and bath, lot about 50x260 feet, located near lower Washington St. Phone 576. je2d

FOR SALE—Cheap, nine acres of land, near Drawbridge, on same side highway as state hospital, near Norwich, near Water. Lindell, 718 43d St., Brooklyn, N. Y. jeld

FOR SALE—Registered Ayrshire bull, Thornbell, Wauwecus Hill, Norwich Town. je2d

FOR SALE—Cottage of seven rooms, all improvements, in good condition, McKinley Ave. section; price low for quick sale. Frank A. Bill, Tilsyer Bldg. Phones 2068 and 213. je2d

FOR SALE—We are now offering some exceptionally good values in slightly used upright pianos of well known makes, including Steinway, Wissenman, Crawford and Ivers & Pond. These pianos are all in first class condition and are offered on special easy terms. The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. je2d

FOR SALE—Our entire stock of new, genuine Columbia Grafonolas now on sale at one-third less than reduced prices; savings as high as $50 on some models; terms $1 weekly. The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. je2d

FOR SALE—Hay from Tibbetts barn; low price. F. A. Nawrocki. jelFKW

FOR SALE—Solid oak store wall case, at bargain price. Perkins' Candy Store. jeld

FOR SALE—First class player-piano. Allen Latham, Norwich Town. Tel. 963-4. may26d

FOR SALE—An Edison diamond point phonograph, $30.
A slightly used $235 Brunswick phonograph at $75; easy terms.
A $190 Edison diamond disc phonograph, like new, $75.
A beautiful mahogany portable phonograph, value $60, our price $30.
An upright Fischer piano, in fine condition, $75.
Talking Machine Shop, 24-24 Franklin Square. may21d

FOR SALE—Farms of all descriptions, large or small, buildings, lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chesebro, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. apr10d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer. $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

